HOLOCAUST NEAR BEAconsfield, Que., on Thursday Night—Ten Victims Young Girls—4 Aged Women.

Montreal, April 21.—(Special)—The fatality at St. Anne de la Poestiere, where seven of a family were wiped out by fire, was followed this morning by an awful disaster near this city. Five girls, out at an early hour and reduced to ashes the converted into the beautiful little Village of St. Genevieve. One hundred children and four old people occupied an adjoining hospital period in the street. As soon as the fire was discovered bucket brigades were formed, but the fire was too much for them. The inmates, aroused by the noise, attempted to grope their way out of the building. An effort was made to save the lives of the children in her charge, succumbed. The pupils who were lost were a portion of the building where the fire had originated. The cause of the fire was traced to a defective chimney which responded to effect a rescue.

"A SORE TOUCH"

Some mean folks say that the shortest road to a man's heart is via his pocket. If that's so you should certainly be interested in this. Do you remember the experience you had yesterday when you sent the boy after Jones' letters? You waited, and waited, and then waited some more, but no boy, then you discovered him almost knee-deep in letter-files drawers—the picture of despair. After searching through flat-file drawers, transfer cases and copy books you located the letters at a cost of 15 minutes of your valuable time—which is money out of your pocket. If you had had a "Macey" Vertical File Cabinet the boy would have had Jones' folder with all his letters (and the answers you wrote) on your desk in twenty seconds. Can you afford to be without one for the trifling outlay they occasion? Look into this today.

Hyde Issues Statement to Equitable Agents—Insurgent of the Truth.

New York, April 21.—James H. Hyde to-night issued a statement in reply to the committee of agents which waited on him yesterday, saying:

"In view of the concessions I have been willing to make for the welfare of the society, I resent your misguided action, taken in utter ignorance of the true situation, of which you cannot possibly have accurate knowledge. Your request perhaps unwittingly on your part, is merely another move in the campaign of attack originally devised. When the real facts are known to the policyholders, I believe that all right-minded men among them will be as indignant as I am with the methods that have been employed by my enemies for their own ends, in pursuing which they have not hesitated to sacrifice the best interests of the society and to disregard the proper protection of the policyholders."

"The plea of mutualization was a mere sham under cover of which I have been able to carry out my designs, and I do not now believe, and I do not now believe, that a system of control, which virtually places the agents over the directors and officers is sound in principle."

GOVERNOR GENERAL OF WARSAW RUMORED TO HAVE RESIGNED
Will Seriously Affect Situation—Resolves Freely Used

Warsaw, April 21.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says that General Macdonald has resigned the governor-generalship of Warsaw owing to differences between the general and the ministers regarding Polish concessions. The report appears to be well founded, and it will seriously affect the situation in Warsaw.

A drunken soldier at 8 o'clock tonight fired his revolver, wounding a man in the chest, killing one person and wounding six others, one of whom was a woman. The man who fired the shot was arrested, and a woman was also arrested. A workman finally captured the miscreant.

POPE SENDS A MESSAGE TO MAINTAIN REP. SCHOOLS
The Chicago Tribune prints the following:

Vancouver, B.C., April 21.—At the close of mass in the Catholic Church here Bishop Domett said that the Pope had sent a message by him to the people of the Dominion to maintain separate schools and to have their children educated in separate schools. The statement caused much comment among the laity, and was particularly interesting to the laity of the various denominations.

THE PARISH PRIEST OF St. Genevieve is Rev. J. B. Bourget, who was on the ground early and did splendid work in tending to the wounded. Early this morning he received the following despatch from the Archbishop of Montreal: "Stricken down by the terrible catastrophe which has brought mourning to so many families in the parish of St. Anne, and to the whole parish, I pray that God may console and fortify the afflicted. Tomorrow I will refer to your village in order to extend my profound sympathy."—Paul, Arch. de Montreal.

BARS ABOLISHED IN CALIFORNIA.

E. B. Sheppard speaks of Pleasant Social Conditions in Golden West.

Edmund E. Sheppard, proprietor of Saturday night, has returned from California, much improved in health, after spending his fifteenth winter there. Speaking of social conditions there, Mr. Sheppard says: "There is not much drinking. No hotels, or very few of them, have bars. Public sentiment is against them, and the proprietors are so cognizant of this fact that where they have bars they will not serve guests at the table for fear of offending those who do not drink. Automobile parties sometimes carry their liquor with them, and have the greatest difficulty in getting it served to them at the hotels. At the winter resorts a nutritious wine containing about six or eight per cent. of alcohol, the same as lager beer, is sold. This wine is served in a four or six course meal

LOST NERVE STRENGTH

What It Is, and How to Restore It.

Millions of people, especially in Canada, live on indifferent to a loss of power more serious even than loss of blood--THE LOSS OF NERVE STRENGTH. A man who suffers with nervous breakdown or nervous prostration is like one of those electric automobiles that you may see stranded because the battery has given out. The Canadian citizen, man or woman, goes ahead using up nerve force regardless of consequences, until the battery is exhausted. At last the end comes--the battery is exhausted. There is no more nerve electricity, or so little as to make an attempt at labor painful and useless. Try to show at least as much intelligence in caring for the body as you would in caring for an electric "runabout."

A loss of nerve strength means a great deal more than is generally known. Weak Back, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuritis, Stomach, Liver, Bowel, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Nervousness, Poor Memory, Lack of Ambition, and a run-down condition--that which makes a man feel as if he were only half a man--are all evidences that the animal electricity, or nerve force and power, has been or is being drained from the nervous system.

The nerve system of the body depends upon the nerves which control it. If the nerves are weak, then the organs become weak, and the patient resorts to the doctor. The old-fashioned treatment was to give frequent doses of poisonous drugs. Just fancy putting poisons into the body to build up strength! What the nerves require to restore lost power is nourishment--nerve food. When that is supplied the weakness and ailments caused by the weak nerves disappear. This is the secret of the success of my methods of restoring vigor and general good health to the weak of the lack of electricity, which is its natural food and refreshment. Electricity, as I apply it, saturates every nerve center of the body, and revitalizes and strengthens every nerve and every organ controlled by the nerves.

The base of all strength in the human body, the actual animal life of the heart, stomach, kidneys and all organs, is ELECTRICITY. When you lack that strength, which is the foundation of youth, you simply lack ELECTRICITY, and this I can restore to you with my improved

ERNEST MADE PROMISE FROM GENEROUS IMPULSE

Says Counsel for Defence--Made Mother a Slave, Says Johnston--Judgment Reserved.

Chief Justice Mague spent Good Friday listening to the argument of counsel in the McConkey case. When both sides had finished his lordship asked E. F. B. Johnston, counsel for the plaintiffs, what, in his opinion, his clients should receive. The answer was, "I think Maud, the sister, is entitled to the $3000, and Mrs. McConkey, the mother, to $100 a month, whether she devotes her time to the business or not."

"And the furniture?" asked his lordship.

"Oh, that belongs to her and she can select what she requires," the evidence before giving judgment, were his lordship's closing remarks, and the case was adjourned.

In his argument Mr. Johnston said E. T. Malone's contention that the $3000 was in agreement between the four parties concerned was inconsistent. Mr. Bicknell's letter, written on Dec. 3, demanding a formal ratification of the agreement which he maintained had been reached by members of the family, was in evidence. Mr. Malone, disclaiming the agreement, supported Mr. Bicknell's contention. If Mr. Malone is an all evidence that the agreement was given for the withdrawal of the charge of mental incapacity and undue influence, which might have been argued by plaintiffs against the will.

The letter written by Mr. Malone in reply to Mr. Bicknell was to the effect that the agreement was an evasion and avoidance of Mr. Bicknell's demand, that the agreement should be put in writing. Mr. Malone wrote that he did not wish to be mixed up in the private affairs of the family. Mr. Bicknell's letter was the result of an agreement and arrangement which was to have been put in writing after the probable intention to arrange a settlement necessary to have left a family conference, had it not been that it was in writing. Mr. Malone wrote that he did not wish to be mixed up in the private affairs of the family. Mr. Bicknell's letter was the result of an agreement and arrangement which was to have been put in writing after the probable intention to arrange a settlement necessary to have left a family conference, had it not been that it was in writing. Mr. Malone wrote that he did not wish to be mixed up in the private affairs of the family.

er bound to remain from month to month like a slavey. The whole case was left in the hands of Malone, the executor of the estate, the intimate friend of the family for years. There is no doubt but that three people went to bed that night, fully under the impression the estate had been disposed of and all differences settled.

Promises Out of Generosity.

Mr. Watson's main contention was that there had been no formal business agreement. Whatever promises had been made by Ernest were made out of generosity and goodness of heart. That was the reason the offer of $100 was made to Mrs. McConkey.

His lordship took exception to this statement. He said he thought they were worth a great deal more. He could not shut his eyes to signs. He had been told the business was the largest of its kind in the city. Had she left and started another business, her services would have been worth more.

Continuing, Mr. Watson said, the $100 a month was for services, the $50 for an entirely different object. She is in the same position as an employee. Ernest's evidence was consistent with that of the mother and sister. Both of them were satisfied at the time. It was said to talk about an agreement having been made with Mrs. and Miss McConkey. Mrs. McConkey got offended at the word "wages," written on her cheque. She began to talk about breaking the will, and the result is the lawsuit.

Mr. Watson then compared the evidence of the two brothers. That of Ernest was given in a modest manner, and with truth and candor, and must have met with his lordship's approval. It was not difficult for Mr. Johnston to confuse a witness. Regarding Fred's evidence, it should be wholly disregarded. He was satisfied with what Ernest had done for him until the sister left the city; then he turned and wanted to grab everything he could get, and said he would have $25,000. His evidence was untrue in many respects.

To Destroy Impulses.

The mother and daughter, continued Mr. Watson, have set about to destroy the generous impulses of the brother by bringing this action, which has destroyed the former relations, relations which can never be renewed. It was an attempt to construe an act of kindness into a binding agreement. Mrs. McConkey, Mrs. Wood, Maud, Fred and Ernest were present during the argument.

Can Eat Anything Now.

How many Dyspeptics can say that? Or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or any you gloomy and miserable! These you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; avoid stimulants and narcotics; do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Nature's specific for Dyspepsia.

Miss Laura Chichester, Belle Assis, Que., says of its wonderful curative powers:--"Last winter I was very thin, and was fast losing flesh owing to the run-down state of my system. I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine, and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

Why Don't You Do It?

Why don't you answer your friend's letter once? It will have double value if written promptly and will take no more time now than by and by, says The Indianapolis News.

Why don't you make the promised visit to that invalid? She looks better for you day after day, and "hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

Why don't you send away that little girl you've been planning to send? Mere kind intentions never accomplish any good.

Why don't you speak out the encouraging words that you have in your thoughts? Unless you express them they are of no use to others.

Why don't you take more pains to be self-sacrificing and loving? Time is rapidly passing. Your dear ones will not be with you always.

Why don't you create around you an atmosphere of happiness and helpfulness, so that all who come in touch with you may be made better? Is not this possible?

EASTERN. At the sound of the joy-bells that hail the Easter morn, Christian nations unite in commemorating the day which, more than ever, is recognized as holding within itself the key to the history of the world.

Something then happened which profoundly modified not only individual lives, but the whole course and current of human development.

That the ultimate truth of the Christian religion rests upon a fact of the resurrection, the battle still rages more clearly than the first great missionary apostle.

But it is difficult to destroy a conviction which finds its strongest support in its consonance with the most cherished instincts of the human heart.

NOT A GOOD LOSER. TORONTO RAILWAY. On and after the 20th day of April, 1905, and until further order, the following orders will be in operation:

AVENUE ROAD ROUTE. All cars on this route will be short at Avenue road and Dupont street, and will not run further north as heretofore.

QUEEN STREET ROUTE. The cars on this route will be short at Sunnyside-avenue and will not be run down to the western limit at the Grand Trunk crossing as heretofore.

YONGE STREET ROUTE. The cars on this route will be short at Yonge and Pricestreet and will not be run to the northern limit at the C.P.R. crossing as heretofore.

By order, JAMES GUNN, Superintendent.

The Street Railway Co. thus formally communicates to the public its answer to the adverse decision rendered against it in the courts.

It indicates the adoption on the part of the Street Railway Company of a policy of retaliation. The city is given to understand that it can appeal to the courts for the determination of its rights only at the risk of inviting recrimination which will cause inconvenience to the people.

It is to take up the challenge that the company has thrown down. There should be no negotiation of any kind on any subject with the company until it abandons its policy of threat and intimidation.

It is to be expected from the judgment which was secured through the activity of Crown Attorney Drayton further successes from appeals to the courts. Important litigation between the city and the company is now pending, and this should now be pressed all along the line.

The city must teach the company that it cannot place itself beyond the reach of the law by threats and retaliatory measures.

POWER FRANCHISES. The Globe pretends to be in hearty sympathy with Premier Whitney's policy of preserving the water powers of Ontario for the people of Ontario.

It commends him for the principles he has enunciated, but strangely enough its chief point of interest is not in the waterfalls. It directs the premier's attention to the waterpower on the Kaministiquia River and insists that this power should be kept free from private control.

It suggests furthermore that the Ontario government should not only own the Kaministiquia waterpower, but that it should also develop and distribute the electrical energy.

All this is very good, and The World heartily endorses The Globe's theory that Fort William and Port Arthur are entitled to the benefits of government ownership, development and transmission of Kaministiquia power.

What of the Niagara Falls power franchises which were the product of corrupt deals between politicians and promoters? What of the concessions that were granted without the consent of the legislature? What of the privileges extended to one of the companies just nine days before the last general election?

The Globe knows all about these franchises, since its president, Robert J. Fray, was a member of the board that recommended them to the government.

When The Globe can see the Ontario government's opportunity arising up at Kaministiquia, it can surely discern the opening for free state-ownership that looms up at Niagara Falls. Kaministiquia power concerns a few thousand people. Niagara Falls power vitally affects the interests of tens of thousands of thousands of people.

Will The Globe not tell us upon what grounds Mr. J. Fray recommended the granting to a private company of the public's remaining equity at Niagara Falls a few days before the late election? This information should be accorded to what, on the surface, appears a corrupt transaction.

ECONOMIC EXPANSION. Yet another international congress has been invited to assemble at Meaux, Belgium, on Sept. 24, and the five following days on the initiative of the Belgian government.

The project was originally mooted in a report laid before King Leopold by the ministers of finance and public works, foreign affairs, the interior and public instruction, industry and work and railways, posts and telegraphs.

These ministers suggested that economic questions had assumed such importance for all the governments of the world that the time was ripe for the meeting of an international congress for their discussion.

It is proposed that Belgium should take the steps necessary for that purpose. A commission was then named under the presidency of M. Beaumont, minister of state, to undertake the task of organization.

The subjects proposed for discussion cover a very wide field, and will be grouped under six heads—education, international statistics, fiscal questions and political economy; maritime questions; the expansion of civilization in new countries and the means and agents of expansion.

Among the particular topics on which papers are invited are the best methods of training for colonists, colonial officials and traders; the possibility of establishing a uniform system for tabulating statistical information relating to different countries; the best methods of securing the adoption of calculating the values of exports and imports.

Other questions suggested for discussion are the right of the state to regulate or repress trusts, whether "the exploitation of industrial monopolies by the state is compatible with the public interest," reciprocity, colonial preferences and the settlement of international disputes on tariff questions.

International agreement on maritime legislation and the encouragement of national mercantile marines are also set down, while another section of commerce and private industry who may register as members either before or during the congress on payment of a small fee.

Subjects are to be discussed in their respective sections and plenary meetings of the whole congress will then discuss the sectional resolutions. Papers for presentation may be written in English, German, Spanish, French, Italian or Russian.

The Globe will no longer be impressed by exalted rank now that the governor of the Yukon is the man it denounced as a liar and a slanderer.

Illinois is legislating against the cigar evildoer, apparently without thought of the rude snub it is likely to get from Armand Lavergne, M.P.

St. Petersburg understands that Romanoff's half in Kamrah Bay is prompted by a humane desire to give Togo time to prepare for another world.

THE SLATER SHOE

THE "Sign of the Slate," hung in front of any Shoe Store is sure testimony to four significant facts.

1st—that store is the most reliable in that town or it couldn't get the agency for "The Slater Shoe."

2nd—that it pays its bills promptly, in cash every thirty days, or it couldn't hold "The Slater Shoe" Agency.

3d—that it is satisfied with a reasonable profit on goods or it wouldn't be selling "The Slater Shoe," which is price-controlled by the Makers.

4th—that it sincerely intends to give the best value possible, and to deal "squarely" with its customers every time, or it wouldn't have signed such a contract as must be signed to control "The Slater Shoe."

Whether you buy Slater Shoes or not, a safe place to trade is at the store where swings "The Sign of the Slate"—for the four reasons given.

The genuine Slater Shoe has the slate frame brand stamped, with the Makers' price ($3.50 or $5.00) on the lining.

2nd—that it pays its bills promptly, in cash every thirty days, or it couldn't hold "The Slater Shoe" Agency.

3d—that it is satisfied with a reasonable profit on goods or it wouldn't be selling "The Slater Shoe," which is price-controlled by the Makers.

4th—that it sincerely intends to give the best value possible, and to deal "squarely" with its customers every time, or it wouldn't have signed such a contract as must be signed to control "The Slater Shoe."

Whether you buy Slater Shoes or not, a safe place to trade is at the store where swings "The Sign of the Slate"—for the four reasons given.

The genuine Slater Shoe has the slate frame brand stamped, with the Makers' price ($3.50 or $5.00) on the lining.

CHICAGO POLICYHOLDERS HAVE ASKED FOR RECEIVER

Want an Accounting of Surplus for Distribution—Illinois Insurance Law Has Been Violated.

Chicago, April 21.—A bill for the appointment of a receiver for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, and seeking an accounting of the surplus of the company, was filed in the United States circuit court here today by Attorney Schuyler.

The paper is filed in the name of Abraham Sitron and others, policyholders in the society. Sitron says he holds a $5000 policy in the society, and that his interests are being dissipated by the officers and directors of the society.

He names specifically President J. W. Alexander and Vice-President James H. Hyde, and relates in detail the alleged mismanagement and misuse of funds, as have already been alleged.

The petitioners allege fear on their part that the controversy may result in the dissolution of the corporation, and that they are unable to get an accounting of the surplus and assets in order to determine the amount of surplus to which they are entitled.

Attention is called to the statutes of the state of Illinois, which require that such insurance companies doing business in Illinois may make distribution of their surplus funds either annually or only in two, three, four or five years, as the directors may determine.

Complaints allege that the Equitable has failed for the past ten years and upward, and still refuses to distribute the surplus profits and assets, and to declare a dividend thereon.

AGENTS SEE HENDRICKS. Syracuse, April 21.—The delegation appointed to represent the Equitable agents waited on State Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks today who said that if Judge Maddox decides that he has no power to put in force the amended charter, an appeal will be made to the court of appeals.

He expressed himself in favor of the directors' representation upon the policyholders, making it only a question of time when the policyholders will be in control.

HOW "CAESAR" YOUNG DIED. Alleged Eyewitness Gives Account of Tragedy as It Occurred.

Chicago, April 21.—Samuel Eisenberg, the Russian Jewish costumer who has told of seeing a man kill himself while in a cab with a woman on June 4, 1904, on West Broadway, New York, expressed willingness today to go to New York and testify on the witness stand in the case of Nan Patterson.

The cab in which Young and Nan Patterson met passed within five feet of me, said Eisenberg today.

The man appeared drunk, and he appeared to be fighting with the woman. She was clinging tightly to his hands. The cab was moving very slowly and as if to tell him to get out of the driver, he cracked his whip and the horse went faster.

He pulled a revolver from his pocket, held it toward the woman, and she fled. The man followed her, and she fell forward, the revolver fell from his hand and he fell over on the woman's back. She was killed. He was not hurt.

MUST LOOK TO CANADA. New York Sun. At a time perhaps not far distant the United States will be dependent upon the forests of Canada for a large part of its supply of certain woods products in its industrial processes.

A large measure of this dependence might be avoided by energetic activity in reforestation in this country, but the signs of that activity are not yet visible, and the day will come when we must look to Canada.

Our neighbor is even now setting a pace for us in the preservation and extension of her forest areas. She has hundreds of thousands of acres of woodland, and she is far more alive than we are in regard to the proper conservation of timber resources.

The superintendent of the Canadian forestry department recently reported that the agricultural committee of the Dominion parliament had distributed in 1904, and that 60,000 seedlings had been distributed during the three days' celebration of the golden anniversary of the Ontario constitution.

High Masons from all parts of the country and visitors from England, Scotland, Ireland and Turkey were present.

WHAT CAUSES SNORING. When asleep, people that snore breathe through the mouth instead of the nostrils, which is a choked with catarrh. Just as "catarrh" is the cause of snoring, and you'll quickly cure the snoring habit. By destroying the cause of catarrh and healing the membrane, Catarrhose makes a complete cure in every case; it cleans the nostrils, stops the discharge and prevents dripping in the throat in a few minutes. Nothing so pleasant or certain to cure snoring, catarrh, colds and croup as Catarrhose—has worth remembering.

2000 "Sublime Princess" Banquet. Chicago, April 21.—More than 2000 Sublime Princesses of the Royal Society gathered at the banquet that celebrated the three days' celebration of the golden anniversary of the Ontario constitution.

High Masons from all parts of the country and visitors from England, Scotland, Ireland and Turkey were present.

Strike Is Ended. Rome, April 21.—The strike may be considered to have ended. A committee of Socialist deputies has obtained from Premier Fortis a promise to study a scheme for arbitration to be adopted in the case of differences between railroad men and the government.

Killed for Minneapolis. Minneapolis, April 21.—Minneapolis is to have a crack company of "kitties," says George Sinton, of the police department has taken up the project and already has enough men interested to organize as soon as the reorganization of the state department is secured.

To Make Pure

Biscuit, cake, rolls, muffins, dumplings, etc., a pure leavening agent is indispensable.

While the Royal Baking Powder is reported absolutely pure and healthful, the official reports show most other baking powders, as well as the cream of tartar of the market depended upon by many housekeepers for raising biscuit and cake, to contain either alum, ammonia or sulphuric acid.

The Government Analyst of Ontario says: "As a result of my investigation, I find the Royal Baking Powder far superior to the others. It is pure, contains none but wholesome ingredients, and is of greatest strength."

Extracts from Expert Reports from One of the Best Fruit Growers of Cuba.

I rode over this property and made several investigations of the soil, digging about five feet deep in each instance. I found nothing that would even to the slightest degree change my opinion regarding the suitability of the land for the successful cultivation and growing of all kinds of citrus fruits. I found the duplication of the Florida soil, on appearance of the land, or top soil, but also in the subsoil, except in no case did I find any hard pan or even any evidence of hard pan.
The land and the subsoil underlying it is in every way perfectly adapted to profitable growing of Oranges.

The soil, as you know, is a sandy, loose earth, easy to cultivate and in this respect much more desirable than any other land to be found in Cuba, because, while it is economical to cultivate, it is the best land in the world for oranges.

LAND OWNERSHIP is an almost certain safeguard against adversity.

HARD TIMES, sickness and old age may come, but he who owns his home is certain, in the least of a port in which to ride out the gale or end his days peacefully in this sailors' "snug harbor."

FORTUNATE, indeed, is the man, or woman, whose ownership of land includes both a home and a living, or means of support. Such land-ownership carries with it not only a place of abode, but also food, rest, and the comforts of life. As a heritage for one's family it is better than life insurance or a bank account. In short it does what a farm should do.

"Oranges of delicious flavor grow spontaneously in all parts of the island."—Robert T. Hill, U. S. Geological Survey.

Soil

The soil of Cuba grows everything that can be raised in Florida or California. Frost is unknown, as the thermometer never falls below 40 degrees in mid-winter. In summer the maximum temperature is 85, though the nights are cool, and even on the hottest days there is always a breeze from the sea.

Resources

Citrus fruits, such as oranges, grape-fruit, pineapples, lemons and limes, grow almost without care, while early vegetables—potatoes, beans, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, onions, corn etc. can be grown and shipped in December and January, when they bring the highest prices in the Northern markets.

The Light Soil of the Island—a rich loam—is loose and easily worked. Its fertility is marvelous. In fact, the climatic and agricultural conditions make it a natural fruit orchard and a huge winter vegetable garden, requiring only ordinary effort to yield a rich harvest, its position below the "frost line" insuring to the orange grower the permanency and safety of his investment and far larger returns than can be obtained in Florida or California, since in those localities enormous sums must be expended to protect the orange groves from the killing frosts which frequently prevail.

Profits on Oranges and Other Citrus Fruits

As an indication of the profits to be derived from raising oranges and other citrus fruits, I quote from an official work on Cuba, recently published. "The person owning an orange grove in a country free from frosts is the most independent and happiest person on earth. A full-grown orange tree will yield from 1,000 to 5,000 oranges yearly, and, like the lemon tree, begins to bear the third year. Before Cuba got its setback during the war, orange lands were selling for from $150 to $200 per acre, and a three-year-old grove was worth $1,000 per acre. The oldest trees in Cuba are some 100 years old and each year the crop is greater than the previous year. No limit is placed upon the age of the orange tree; so in beginning an orange grove, remember, if four or five years are required to bring it into bearing, it will then continue to yield its golden harvest for generations to come, and when once in fruit you can sit beneath its shade almost in idleness and have an abundant competency."

Oranges

It is claimed by the best authorities on citrus fruits that if all the available land suited for the purpose in this part of the world were put into cultivation it would be more than twenty years before the market would be supplied to the same extent that it was previous to the freezes in Florida and California.

It must be remembered that an orange grove will mature here in one-third less time than in California or Florida.

Governor-General Charles H. Allen says: "A ten-acre orange grove, once in bearing, gives a comfortable income, sufficient to support a family in the best country style."

"A population of several millions could be profitably employed in agriculture alone."—Victor S. Clark, Ph.D., U. S. Government Report.

Grape Fruit

This luscious fruit has become very popular in the North. It is one of the most delicious and healthful of all citrus fruits. It commands very high prices, as the demand has never been fairly supplied. It is a good shipper and can be sent as far as the European markets in good condition. The profit from a grove of grape fruit is larger than from either oranges or lemons. When budded in the rough lemon stocks of Cuba it bears well and produces fruit of the finest quality, the flavor and color being superior to that grown either in Florida or California.
The Pomelo, or Grape Fruit, as it is more familiarly called, is fast taking a prominent place in the fruit world. In the eastern markets it brings a large price, selling as high as 25 cents each; and as it is very productive it is a very profitable fruit to grow. This year they were as high as $12 per box.
"Grape Fruit will grow at least 50 per cent more to the acre than oranges."—Thomas R. Towns, Nurseryman.

Winter Visitor's Paradise

Even if you don't want to go to Cuba to practice your profession or engage in business, you would, no doubt, like to go down for two or three months in winter.

The scenery, climate and surroundings are charming and as a winter and health resort it far surpasses Florida or California. Thousands of Americans visit this region every winter and it is fast becoming the Riviera of America.

..... the future of Cuba presents a possibility of wealth that is incalculable."—General Robert P. Porter.

The Orange Crop is dealt in on a cash basis, and there will be no losses from bad debts or delays in collections. Buyers from the large produce and commission houses in New York visit Cuba every season, and whole crops of fruits and vegetables are often bought as they stand in the field. This method of selling is followed to some extent by California and Florida growers, in which event a price of $1 to $1.25 a box for fruit is usually obtained, the buyer doing the picking, packing and shipping.

Other growers prefer to do their own shipping, in the hope of making an additional profit.

"I just wanted to sit down on a ten-acre tract within sight of the river, sea and mountains, surrounded by stately royal palms, bananas, oranges and mango groves and stop for the rest of my natural life."—Professor T. C. Haller, Albany, N.Y.

Exchange of Land

Pick out your plantation tract to-day while you still have a choice of the best locations.

Read our Prospectus as to quality of land, fertility, etc., but remember that if you select your property NOW and are not satisfied with it when you see it for any reason, we will cheerfully exchange it for another tract in our surveyed portion not already taken up, which will be satisfactory. We want everybody satisfied with land allotted. It is also to our interest to give every applicant the very best land on our estate. It means a direct advertisement by the recommendation of their friends and puts great value on our other property.

TEN ACRES planted in pineapples will yield any man who will look after it properly from $2500 to $3000 a year returns from fruit and suckers, out of which must come the cost of the actual cultivation, which is not large when once the tract is planted.

How does this compare with farming profits in this country?

EVERY INFORMATION FREELY GIVEN

Vegetable Raising

Next in importance and profit to the raising of tropical fruits is the raising of vegetables and small fruits for early market. The Cuban farmer has no expense to incur for commercial fertilizers, as the land is sufficiently rich without them. He requires no cold frames, hot-beds or other expensive system of forcing plants. The climate does more than the best artificial system in northern climates can attain. Three or more crops of vegetables can be raised in a year. While the Canadian farmer is sitting idle by his fire-side, because his farm is covered with a mantle of snow, the Cuban farmer is gathering a crop of vegetables ready to be placed on our market during the month of February, when they will bring the highest price. New potatoes, for instance, shipped from Florida, bring about seven dollars per barrel in the New York market. Vegetables from Cuba can be marketed at least two months earlier than from Florida. The sweet potato grows everywhere and anywhere, which is not only of great quantity, but of good quality. Beans of every variety are produced, while asparagus, beets, radishes, spinach and cabbages grow all the year round. Onions grow to the size and in the quantities they do on the Bermuda Islands. Strawberries can be raised the larger part of the year. Tomatoes and cucumbers grow abundantly in Cuba, and by regulating the time of planting, they can be placed on the northern markets at a time when they will command a high price and give a large profit to the grower. The growing of vegetables for the northern markets in winter, in connection with the growing of fruit, should be a very profitable branch of farming on our property.

..... titles in Cuba are easily traced and are, if anything, more secure than in the United States."—C. M. Pepper, in To-morrow in Cuba.

The Sportsman's Delight

U. S. Consul Hyatt, in his book on Cuba, under this heading, writes: "Cuba is a paradise for the sportsman, as wild game and fish of all kinds abound in endless variety and abundance. Fowls are in great numbers. Wild guinea hens and turkeys are found in flocks of from twenty-five to one hundred. The whistle of the quail and the flutter of the pheasant and partridge are heard on all sides. In the rural and mountain regions. Ducks in abundance come over from Florida in the winter, and return with the spring. Mocking and blue birds, orioles, negroes, parrots and a thousand kinds of songsters and birds of brilliant plumage flit from tree to tree."

"Game is abundant, such as deer, rabbits, wild boars, wild turkeys, pheasants, snipes, etc., and there are more than two hundred species of native birds many of them wearing gorgeous plumage. None of the snakes on the island are venomous, and there are no dangerous wild beasts."—United States Government Report, page 1202.

"It" (the Republic of Cuba) "is among the most fertile lands in the world."—Commercial Cuba in 1903, U. S. Government.

"Foultry flourish everywhere."—Robert T. Hill, U. S. Geological Survey.

The yield of an average tree in Cuba begins earlier and is much more prolific than in California or Florida. The reason for this is that the soil, climate and rainfall all tend to earlier growth.

Every day is a growing day in Cuba, and orange trees don't lie dormant for four months, as they do in California and Florida.

Hon. M. E. Gillette, ex-Mayor of Tampa, Fla., and an experienced orange grower, says that in Cuba an orange tree four years old will yield one and one-half boxes of oranges.

A four-year-old tree will yield an average of one hundred and seventy-five oranges, or, say, one box of one hundred and twenty-six oranges.

We know this to be the fact. Now, it is customary to plant ninety trees to each acre (the approved style of planting in California), each tree being placed twenty-two feet from its neighbors. This will give ninety boxes of fruit per acre the fourth year.

The yield of an orange tree increases at the rate of a box a year until the tree is full bearing at the age of ten years, yielding from six to ten boxes (900 to 1,500 oranges) a year. Often the yield is much greater, and trees are frequently seen in California with their branches so loaded with fruit that they are propped up to keep them from breaking beneath their golden burden.

These statements are conservative and can easily be verified. They are proven by the United States Consular reports and by the testimony of hundreds of experienced people in California, Florida and Cuba.

The wholesale selling price of oranges varies from $5 per box in the early fall and late winter, to $17.75 per box—a very conservative estimate being an average of $2.75 per box. As the fruit in Cuba ripens and sweetens earlier than California or Florida fruit, it will not have to be picked and shipped when green and unripe—a thing that has badly injured the reputation of Florida oranges in recent years. Cuba fruit can be permitted to hang on our trees till late in the season without fear of frosts. Much of the Florida fruit is rushed to market early to avoid frost, and is shipped unripe, thereby bringing a lower price, as before stated.

The average prices quoted there are as follows:

Oranges	$2.50 per box
Grape fruit (boxes of 50)	5.00 per box
Pineapples	2.93 per box

"Market gardening and the raising of food crops could engage the population of a good-sized State in Cuba."—Victor S. Clark, Ph.D., U. S. Government Report.

The profits from orange growing are large. Once an orange grove is in bearing it will continue to yield fruit for a lifetime.

The labor is light, as there is no replanting every year. Many of the finest groves in California are owned and managed by ladies.

Add to these the fact that life in an orange-growing region is made beautiful by blue skies and plenty of sunshine, that flowers riot everywhere and Nature is always seen at her best, and it is easy to understand why the owner of a grove of even ten acres is regarded as a very lucky individual.
