Social Toronto will have but little opportunity to see General Sir John French during his visit here. General French is going to have a quiet time as he possibly can, therefore he is refusing most of the invitations being sent to him.

IN THE DON VALLEY

It is many a day since there was such a stir among the Don Valleydancers. They have three contestants in the King's Plate, and everyone on the Don road or in the Valley knows the steeple, the dams and the quilts, and everyone is at fever pitch—not quite as to who will get the quilts, for that is not an important matter as that of the quilts that they know so well. Fred, Valdyon, or Parade, will show best in the race. Parade was bred by Mick Meagher, who lives between Thorncliffe and Donlands, and the Meaghers are the ideal racing family in these parts (the old patriarch father has lived on the Don since the year forty-nine, and is still a judge of a horse), and Procester, the sire of Mick's colt, was probably the best young scribe that ever came to Canada. At least, T. C. P. thought so, and the day he ran first in Canada he came up to the M. P. for East York at the Woodbine and said: "We officials don't bet; but there's a mutual betting stand (or something of that kind) against the wall of the present grand stand; put this five on Procester for me and not one for yourself. He did, and the young and big-headed colt won them each about $14 on that day. And Procester came soon after to live up the Don. So did V. R. Customs, and the great English horse Allie O'Or, and the Don Valleydancers are most interested in the colts of these three sires. Allie O'Or and his colt and the dam are of the Thorncliffe Farm, and Mr. Davies, if he is not as much as a Valleydancer as Mick, married into the Don many years ago, and is the king of the valley. Valdyon comes from Donlands, and the people up that way have known the member for South York politically for nearly twenty years, and for ten or more years before that as a frequenter of the valley and an intimate of the mysteries of the Don road. Fifty years ago and more good old Chas. Boyle lived up the Don road, a lot above Donlands. So that the Valleydancers are not new to the thoroughbred horse. But they've never yet had the quilts come up their way, they hardly expect them this year, but they are quite certain that of the three horses from the Don road one is to be in front of the other two, and that is the problem they have up at night for settlement. They discuss it and water it in York shilling bets (they will talk in York shilling up the valley), and the wagering is pretty even. Mr. Davies has, perhaps, the lead. Valdyon is strong among Mr. Davies' own five hundred men in the Valley brick works because of his name. But Mr. Davies says to Mick, and the M. P. for South York says to Mick, "Mick, if it isn't true, I hope it's you." And Mick says in reply: "I wish it was one of us that got the quilts. So the Valdyon that he said in the little white to-morrow afternoon; then it will fall back to its usual peacefulness. The smell of the Balm of Gilead tree with still in the air, the violets will still strew the grass on the river bank, the king birds will make their peculiar side flights from limb or fence, the water will pass singing over the little rapids in the river, and the neighborhood feeling and the early simplicity will still remain among all the people of these parts. For the people of the Valley are simple folk, good neighbors, and rather addicted to a horse race.

DE LESSEPS THE SECOND TRANS-CHANNEL AVIATOR

Flew From Calais to Deal in a Fog With Dim Rays of Sun as Only Guide.

DOVER, Eng., May 22.—For the second time within a year the English Channel was crossed Saturday by an aeroplane, and again the honor rests upon France.

Count Jacques de Lesseps, a grandson of the late Ferdinand de Lesseps, the famous French engineer, driving a monoplane of the same model as that with which Louis Blériot first conquered the strait July 25 last, duplicated his countryman's feat in a dense fog, starting at Calais and landing safely at Deal in a fog in which he was completely lost.

De Lesseps intended making the trip from Calais to Dover and return without alighting in an effort to win the Ruhlart prize of $2500, but the mist compelled him to descend. Leaving Calais amid the cheers of an immense crowd, M. de Lesseps sent his monoplane up to a height of four hundred feet and then headed it in the direction of Dover.

When scarcely a mile out from the French coast, the Scarabe, as the monoplane was known, was lost to sight from the torpedo boat destroyer Escopette, which was racing underneath to render aid, should the machine fall.

De Lesseps' only means of reckoning his whereabouts were the rays of the sun, which dimly penetrated the banks of fog in which he was enshrouded. He determined to keep on, however, and in order to avoid the possibility of colliding with the cliffs of Dover, he sent the monoplane to a height of a thousand feet.

De Lesseps landed without mishap at the Winston Court farm, one mile inland and midway between Dover and Deal.

On account of the high winds Count de Lesseps abandoned his intention of flying back to Calais this morning.

50 MILES WITH A PASSENGER.

PARIS, May 22.—Maurice Farman broke the world's record for flying across country with a passenger last evening. He flew from Beauve to Etangues, a distance of eighty kilometres, or about fifty miles, where he inaugurated an aerodrome.

BANK CONSOLIDATION

Big Combination Reported to Be Effected by J. P. Morgan.

CHICAGO, May 22.—George E. Roberts, president of the Continental Bank of Chicago, at a luncheon of the Hawkeye Fellowship Club here yesterday, said that J. P. Morgan had obtained control of many banks preparatory to the formation of a great central institution.

"Among the cities that probably will be represented," said Mr. Roberts, "are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, New Orleans, Buffalo, Atlanta and Detroit."

"As a result, dangers of a repetition of what occurred in the panic of 1897 will be obviated."

"NO TURNING BACK," SAYS REDMOND.

LONDON, May 22.—Redmondites and O'Brienites both held meetings at Cork to-day, and as a result many cracked pipes had to be repaired at the local hospitals. Redmond said that the King's death had postponed the constitutional crisis, but not indefinitely. The Liberal Government and the British democracy had burnt their boats. To turn back now was impossible. Snowden Blackburn said that an election this year was impossible.

Belgian Elections.

BRUSSELS, May 22.—Incomplete returns from to-day's elections in various districts show the re-election of the Schollert ministry. The clericals lost one seat. The present representation of the five provinces, in: Clericals 50, Liberals 23, Socialists 12.

KAISER'S VISIT MAY END IN ENTENTE

German Emperor Has Shown Every Evidence While in London of Friendly Feeling for Britain—Very Attentive to the Queen Mother.

LONDON, May 22.—(New York Tribune Cable.)—Departures of royal guests have been in progress throughout the day. The German Emperor, who has been unremitting in his attention to Queen Alexandra, has remained over Sunday and has been in close consultation with King George.

Something like an entente with Germany will undoubtedly be the result of his visit and his considerate conduct towards the members of the royal family.

The relations between England and Germany improved from a similar cause after the funeral of Queen Victoria, and there will be an even better feeling now that Lord Kitchener, M. Pichon and Mr. Roosevelt have been marked out by him for special attentions.

GERMAN EYES ON PERSIA

Halt May Be Called on Britain and Russia.

BERLIN, May 22.—(N.Y. Times Cable.)—Unless all indications fail Europe will very shortly be faced with another international political situation of the same grave character as the Moroccan crisis of 1905-6. The apple of discord is Persia, and the stormy petrel is Germany.

It became known this week that the Kaiser's ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich sur Gracht, had been instructed to register a most vigorous protest to the British foreign office against the Anglo-Russian attempt to monopolize the economic and financial opportunities of Persia. Count Pourtales, a competent engineer is authorized to represent the Kaiser's position.

German diplomatic strategists figure that the domestic political crisis in England, as well as the situation consequent upon the death of King Edward, makes it impossible for Great Britain on this occasion to assert herself as forcibly or resolutely as she was prepared to do during the Balkan crisis.

PEACE TALK BY KAISER

Told French Envoy Pichon Powers Should Form Pacific Confederation.

PARIS, May 22.—A report of a conversation which the Kaiser had with M. Pichon in London, reproduced here, states that the Kaiser was exceedingly cordial toward the French foreign minister.

The German ruler is quoted as telling M. Pichon that the great powers that the interest of humanity should remain closely united and form a pacific confederation.

Where Roosevelt Failed.

LONDON, May 22.—(N.Y. Sun Cable.)—There is much gossip in diplomatic quarters about the great ambition cherished by Co. Roosevelt before he visited Berlin to act as peace-maker between Germany and Great Britain.

But the denouement was disappointing. Co. Roosevelt found the Kaiser the personification of frankness and cordiality on nearly all subjects, but he refused to be drawn into a discussion of Anglo-German relations.

NASTY CHARGE THIS

Young Traveler Accused of Ruining and Abandoning Little Girl.

The charge of seducing a 14-year-old orphan girl and abandoning her, a stranger, on the streets of Detroit, with nothing to tide her over her serious trouble but a $1 bill, hangs over Roy Robson, a traveler, 21 years old, of 28 Wellesley-street, was arrested last night by Detective Wallace, while conversing with a lady friend in a Jarvis-street boarding house.

The little girl, whose parents have been dead for years, was employed as a domestic on Lakeview Farm, near Flossing, which is owned by the prisoner's father. It is alleged that young Robson became intimate with her while visiting his parents, and upon learning that her condition was serious, endeavored to induce his sister-in-law to take her to the bay to the middle of the Grand Manan Channel.

The treaty, it is expected, will be submitted to the senate to-morrow for approval.

The line was located without resort to the arbitration provided for in the treaty of 1898, between Great Britain and the United States. The true location of the line has been a subject of contention for more than a century.

ALMOST A DROWNING.

Two young men in a dinghy were upset in the bay about 100 yards from Hanlan's Point Sunday morning. Observers on shore ran for a boat and in the meantime a launch came along and picked them up.

The dinghy and the disappearance of rescuer and rescued gave rise to a report of a double drowning that took sometime to disprove.

COST OF QUEBEC BRIDGE WILL STAGGER COUNTRY

Competent Engineers Place It at From Twelve to Fourteen Million Dollars.

MONTREAL, May 22.—(Special.)—Now that the tenders for the superstructure of the new Quebec Bridge are to be asked for, the question of the total cost of this immense bridge is occupying attention.

It now looks as if no tender less than ten millions will be sent in for the steel work.

This information comes from engineers who have given close attention to the enterprise. The sub-structure will cost about $1,000,000 when completed, and a competent engineer is authorized to state that the cost of the completed bridge will cost from twelve to fourteen million dollars.

It appears to be quite decided that nickel steel will be wholly used for the construction of the bridge, all of which will be done in the United States, as there are no mills in this country of sufficient magnitude. The superstructure will weigh 75,000 tons, or 150,000,000 lbs.

If this steel goes in at the rate of six cents per pound, the cost price would be $9,000,000 for the superstructure alone, but there are experts in Montreal and Ottawa who believe that the metal in position will cost nearer seven and a half cents per pound. If so, the cost will be $11,250,000.

It is also said that the designs have already cost $200,000, and that by the time they are finished, $250,000 will have been expended.

BOUNDARY FIXED

Line Between Maine and Eastern Provinces Located and Treaty Signed.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The international boundary between Canada and the United States along the southeast coast of Maine has been fixed, according to a treaty signed yesterday by Ambassador Bryce and Secretary of State Knox, as running from a point in Passamaquoddy Bay, between Trest Island and Friarhead, and extending thence by the bay to the middle of the Grand Manan Channel.

The treaty, it is expected, will be submitted to the senate to-morrow for approval.

The line was located without resort to the arbitration provided for in the treaty of 1898, between Great Britain and the United States. The true location of the line has been a subject of contention for more than a century.

Spanish Elections.

MADRID, May 22.—The elections for senators held to-day resulted in no change in the conservative character of the senate, as 41 of the members sit by virtue of their positions as grandees of Spain, captain-general and archbishops, and 121 are re-appointed for life. Returns received late last night show the election of senators as follows: Liberals 87, Conservatives 30, Catholics 14, Republicans 3, Carlists 2, other parties 4.

GEORGE V. PROVES ABILITY UNDER STRAIN

Wrought Order Out of Official Confusion Arising From King Edward's Unexpected Death — Directed Details of the Funeral Proceedings.

"Trusting My People"

LONDON, May 22.—King George has begun his reign with an act of clemency, granting remission of short sentences and reduction of others throughout the kingdom, these including the army and navy. He has also issued a gracious letter, "To My People," expressing grateful appreciation of the affection and loving devotion of the nation has shown in the face of a sorrow so sudden and unlooked for that it might well have been overwhelming.

"But the sentiment it has invoked," continues the King, "have made me realize that it is a loss common to me and my people. They share it with me. I do not stand alone. With such thoughts I take courage and, hopefully, look to the future, trusting my people and cherishing the laws and constitution of my beloved country."

NEW YORK, May 22.—The London correspondent of The Times cables: The Times correspondent was, at the time of the King's accession, able to quote a high authority for the statement that George V. was a man of the kind that would surprise the world, which had, to some extent, looked upon him as a rather colorless person whose domestic virtues were his greatest recommendation.

These two past weeks have revealed him in an unexpectedly favorable light. In fact, he is declared on responsible authority to have evolved out of the chaos which followed his father's sudden death. For a time something very like confusion prevailed. The public had an inkling of this fact from the many changes that were made in the arrangements from day to day—the three-fold postponement of the proclamation of the last minute, the extraordinary typographical errors that crept into its text, the uncertainty as to the date and route of the funeral, the delay in the issue of the order for public mourning, the absence of a fixed period in the first order, necessitating the issue of a second, and the strain imposed on the official world.

It was King George alone who defied the chaos that would be a public lying in state for King Edward's body. In that he certainly gauged the public feeling better than the official world, he was, as the King's biographer has said, a man of the kind that would surprise the world, which had, to some extent, looked upon him as a rather colorless person whose domestic virtues were his greatest recommendation.

He directly supervised all the arrangements of the funeral, and he was, as the King's biographer has said, a man of the kind that would surprise the world, which had, to some extent, looked upon him as a rather colorless person whose domestic virtues were his greatest recommendation.

Cares of State.

In the midst of these activities the business of state claimed a not inconsiderable portion of the King's time. The swearing in of the ministers, for instance, involved interviews of no trifling character. Then there was the mine disaster at Whitehaven, and both the King and Queen, amid their own grief and urgent preoccupations, found time for repeated inquiries about the stricken men, and were accompanied with both sympathy and practical help for the sufferers.

The reception of foreign monarchs entailed no little expenditure of time and energy on the part of the King, who also received the heads of the government, foreign ministers, and the House of Commons. He is understood to have made a deep impression on Mr. Roosevelt.

Not the least among King George's anxieties must have been the anxiety that he felt for his mother, Queen Alexandra. King George has been in constant communication with his mother regarding the details which he felt she had the best right, as the

TORONTO DRIVING CLUB

Belle Mason and Charles B. the Winner at Matinee.

The Toronto Driving Club had ideal weather and a good attendance at their matinee at the Dufferin Park track Saturday. There were two races on the card, one a special race for green trotters. There was a good field, six drivers for positions. Belle Mason, Mr. Cuthbert's big mare from California, broke out of the maiden class. She was on her good behavior and getting a good drive from James McPhee she marched off with the race in straight heats, never being strung out to the limit in any heat. Royal Wilkes and Shaun Rhue had a battle royal for second prize, the former being a little the best. Lady Brant, the alderman's new one, was a little short of work. With a little more work she will be a factor the next time out.

In the first heat, John Meade, with Belmont Wilkes, rushed his horse to the front at the second break given by the starter, and he set his field a merry clip, going down to the quarter in 23 seconds; the rest of the field was strung out. He kept on going, never letting his field get to him at any time during the heat. In the second heat Belmont Wilkes set off at a terrific clip again, but the fast pace told on him, Harry Lee getting him after the half mile pole was reached, then Charles B. set sail and caught Harry at the 7-8 pole, beating him thru the stretch to the wire in 2:26 1-2. In the third heat little Harry sailed to the front, the trotter making a bad break, which cost him a lot of ground. He came fast thru the stretch, but could not get the little horse, who won by half a length. In the fourth heat Harry Lee beat his field all the way in 2:30. In the fifth heat Charles B.

Boxed on Sunday. May 22—J. J. Whelan, at his best quarters before just as big a crowd as the one at the track, had a faster work than the one at the track, and a Marty Cutler, who hit in better trim, and made a better show, and a negro warmed well to his end on boxing four rounds.

THE RACE HORSE, RACING AND THE WOODBINE.

To-morrow the annual spring race meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club opens at the Woodbine in this city. It ought to be the best seven days' racing ever held in Toronto.

Notwithstanding what may have been said by his enemies, the racehorse is an important factor in animal economy, and the thoroughbred sire does reproduce a half-bred horse that is one of the most useful animals we have for saddle or vehicle purposes. Nor is there any reason why the thoroughbred horse in his purity should not be developed into the best general purpose horse that we have as well as being a racehorse pure and simple.

As for racing and betting at race tracks we are about to make a new experiment by regulating betting to the smallest proportions. We think the action of parliament was wise and ought to be strictly carried out, as we believe it will be. Probably the time is coming when the bookmaker is to disappear from the race meeting, and if betting is to be allowed, then it will be limited to betting machines, which can be tried and probably will be tried in Canada some time this fall or next year. Bookmakers are not so bad as they are painted, but they are an unnecessary part of racing or ought not to be. One way to make racing without betting is to have the spectacle, including its appointments, organized and conducted on such a scale that the gate money will be sufficient to pay all expenses and big purses.

The World has said before, and it says again, that the only way to get a big crowd at the racetrack is to have large stands and have the meeting located on a steam railway fed by local street cars. Such a track in the neighborhood of the Humber or of Leaside, with big special trains served by the Canadian Pacific and these fed by the north and south street railway lines, would easily handle twenty or thirty thousand people, and at a very small fare, and move them rapidly to and from the track. Thirty thousand people at a race spectacle at Leaside, with big special trains served by the Canadian Pacific and these fed by the north and south street railway lines, would easily handle twenty or thirty thousand people, and at a very small fare, and move them rapidly to and from the track. Thirty thousand people at a race spectacle at Leaside, with big special trains served by the Canadian Pacific and these fed by the north and south street railway lines, would easily handle twenty or thirty thousand people, and at a very small fare, and move them rapidly to and from the track.

Racing, as conducted at the Woodbine, is a clean sport, a brilliant social function, and a healthful spectacle for the people—it is too dear a one, is the worst that can be said against it. A new track on the lines suggested above would let more people enjoy a sport that the late King Edward thought was the best in all the world, and that in some way amid all its garish objections, preserved some of the traditions of horsemanship, military service, chivalry and established and forced the recognition of the dictum that all men were at least on an equality on the turf and under it.

BRITISH POLITICAL SITUATION.

Now that the late King has been laid to rest, the British people turn again to the great affairs of state and to the ordinary business of life. Parliament will resume on June 8, a date which but for the untoward event the empire mourns, would have seen the historic combat between lords and commons at or approaching its acutest stage. What under present circumstances the course of politics will be is just now problematical. The government has kept its own counsel and will probably not come to any decision until Liberal and Nationalist opinion has crystallized. In the meantime moderate Liberals incline to a suspension of hostilities while the Radicals insist that the one supreme issue must not be evaded or intermitted. All are agreed, however, that there must be no truce such as that discussed immediately after King Edward's death or any compromise except on the basis of concessions from the side of the Conservatives and the lords.

The London Chronicle, which is commonly supposed to represent more closely than other London Liberal newspapers the view of the government, concedes it to be "in accord with the universal desire, which the fiercer political controversies, which the action of the house of lords has necessitated, should not be resumed in the early days of the national mourning or in the first weeks of a new reign," and adds that "when parliament reassembles, the necessities of the state will impose some further period of pause so far as the question of the veto is concerned." It points out that the civil lists of the new reign must be settled, and a regency bill passed, and refers to the proposed bill for amending the royal declaration as one which it is to be hoped may be introduced and receive some measure of general assent. Then if another general election is to be delayed, the matter of the budget for the current year would become urgent. Much will depend on the attitude of the house of lords and the simple fact is that at this juncture it is impossible to forecast what direction British politics will take.

THE TUBES AND NOTHING BUT TUBES.

Toronto's whole policy in regard to local traction is to get on with the tubes and nothing but the tubes. We tied up ourselves to the street railways, we are sewed up for twelve years more as regards surface lines, and at last we have come to realize the mis-policy of ever again being at mercy of a private concern holding a public franchise. To effect our freedom in traction, in electric energy distribution, in telephones, in gas, is the only goal ahead.

SIMPLIFIED DUTCH VS. COMPLICATED ENGLISH.

Among the problems awaiting consideration by the government of United South Africa, not the least difficult are those connected with language and education. More particularly in the Orange River State have they become serious since, under the leadership of General Hertzog, a strong and insistent effort is being made to secure the predominance of the Dutch language in the schools. A pamphlet having an important bearing on this vexed question has just been issued by the Simplified Spelling Society of London, England, having been written at its request by Mr. Joseph Hogarth of Johannesburg. Its caption is "Simplified Dutch v. Complicated English in South Africa," and it proves by the most conclusive evidence how heavily the spread of the English language is handicapped by its inconsistent system of spelling.

Recognizing the difficulty of preserving their own tongue against the advance of a language possessing so many and great advantages as English does, the Dutch completed the simplification of their own spelling by adopting in 1905 the system invented by Dr. W. J. Viljoen, and it was at once taken up by the Dutch Language Union, by teachers and by editors of Dutch newspapers. This, Mr. Hogarth says, was at bottom a political move to preserve their nationality and to resist the process of becoming entirely English-speaking.

In the Transvaal schools both the Dutch and English languages are taught. In Dutch schools English is taught as a lesson and in English schools Dutch is taught. This affords a splendid comparative test of the progress made by the scholars in acquiring either language, and the difference in the results, as reported by the inspectors of schools, is certainly very striking. Remarkable progress was made in knowledge of Dutch, but the teaching of English to sub-standard is frankly described by Mr. Maurice White, M.A., Cantab, one of the inspectors, as a failure. Another inspector, Mr. Corbett, reports no improvement in English, but many evidences of deterioration. The marked contrast is ascribed to the phonetic spelling of Dutch enabling the scholar to overcome all difficulties of spelling during the first two years of school life, while contrariwise in learning English, the scholar struggles with fresh difficulties throughout his school career.

NORTH TORONTO AND ANNEXATION.

Editor World: If the mayor and council and the electors of North Toronto would spend a little money on gravel for Yonge-street instead of running into debt for more park would go to better with the town. The Metropolitan Railway is the only concern that profits by the bad road and perhaps the council thinks its main job is to help the railway by handing off parallel streets and a decent road for horse vehicles and motors. If the mayor and his colleagues do not do better there will be only one issue next election and that will be annexation.

FAMOUS SOLDIER COMES TO THIS CITY TO-DAY

ed at Stanley Barracks. In the afternoon the mayor and city council will probably take him for an automobile trip around the city and show him the sights.

June 5 to 7—Halifax.
June 11 to 13—St. John, N.B.

June 29 to 30—Brandon.
June 30 to July 4—Winnipeg.

His Career as a Soldier.

Admiration for Sir John French fills one after another examining his career as a soldier. It is as a soldier that he is especially noted. His reputation as a soldier was made on the battlefield. He was severely tried and found himself equal to the occasion. He went to South Africa with great reputations and returned with them badly tarnished. General French went and returned with great honors. He "made good," to use an expressive slang term. His conduct was lauded in despatches from the front.

General French's first achievement in the Anglo-Boer war was to win the battle of Blanchebaag on Oct. 27, 1899. With a force of 5500 cavalry, he moved out of Ladysmith at 4 a.m. He captured a station, but upon being shelled by a large force of Boers withdrew and called for reinforcements. After receiving orders to drive the enemy from the kopjes from Sir George White, in command of Ladysmith, and before getting reinforcements General French advanced. White arrived soon after and looked over the scene. Recognizing the excellence of French's plans White immediately returned to Ladysmith. After they had been fighting for some time the Boers hoisted the white flag. The British ceased fire. Then, to their consternation, they were charged and secured a good position. The British were confounded for a time, but in the brilliant charge the Boers were swept from the position. Three officers and a sergeant-major received the V.C. for conduct in the charge.

In the official history of the war, compiled by Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice, K.C.B., and a staff of officers, General Maurice says: "It was swiftly planned, carried out with determination and complete success. The day was gained exactly as designed."

Protected Methuen's Force.

General French's brilliant victory column at Naauport to manoeuvre and worry the enemy with, and to check any invasion of the central districts of the Orange River State, appeared before Barberton so suddenly that the defenders of the place were taken by surprise and they ran out of the town while he went in at the end.

Began in the Navy.

When 14 years of age General French joined H.M.S. Britannia as a naval cadet and served as such for five years. He then entered the army, joining the 8th Hussars. Later he transferred to the 15th Hussars, which regiment he served with in the Sudan Campaign, 1898. In the action of Abu Klea, in which General French took part as a junior lieutenant, he was severely wounded. He was promoted to captain in 1900, and served as such until 1907. He was then promoted to major-general in 1907.

Placed by "Boers."

Field-Marshal Lord Roberts, in a despatch to General French on January 12, 1900, said: "You have been able to leave Cape Town at present and cannot therefore offer your congratulations in person. I want to let you know the satisfaction I have given me to hear of the good work you have been doing in the neighborhood of Colberg."

In February, 1900, Lord Roberts placed General French in command of the cavalry division mobilized at Modder River. French went with the force to the relief of Kimberley. By feeling at Klip Krail drift, French ward off an attack on his flank and secured that drift and the surrounding area. When near Kimberley he cleared the enemy from the south side of the town. Lord Roberts again congratulated him and his rapid movements. After that he joined in the chase of General Cronje. In an engagement with De Beer, near Ventdrie drift, Gen. French secured a good position from which the Boers were unable to dislodge him. He arrested Cronje's retreat at that drift. During the battle of Paardeberg, held the drift, effectively cutting off Cronje's retreat. After the battle, he strengthened the general, but the engagement at Seven Kopjes, General French turned the enemy's flank.

On March 3, 1900, he issued orders to guard the flank of the army on the march to Bloemfontein.

Telling of the fall of Bloemfontein, General Maurice says: "The audacity of the forward movement of French's cavalry on the previous afternoon had its effect on De Wet's commando."

Returning to the story, French's work around Colberg in December, 1899, General Maurice says: "Only at Colberg was French's skill in his incessant and skilful manoeuvring was Re Han and Cameron.—H. J. Martin for vendor. MacGregor for purchaser. Motion by vendor under Vendor's and Purchaser's Act, for a declaration that the said J. G. Mary O'Hara does not now own a foot of land on Roseneaves-avenue, but is not in a condition to give a release, and a whether this building restriction is valid.

Judgment: The covenant, according to the terms of the lands, the force, he is, the grantee of the lands, and those claiming under him during the ten years for which the covenant operates, undertake not to build upon the land save in conformity with the provision of the covenant. The purchase is content to assume the risk of a personal action against him by Mary O'Hara for damages for breach of the covenant, which must, I think, be merely nominal, or if the vendor can arrange to indemnify him, he may well accept the title, but I cannot compel him to accept any risk, no matter how nominal, or to accept the title, no matter how substantial; but, as the parties appear to be acting reasonably, the expression of this opinion may induce them to arrange to carry the sale out.

At the trial the action was dismissed, without costs.

Appeal allowed, and the conveyance as to the plaintiff, so far as it bars her dowry, should be set aside.

Was Weak and Nervous.

Mr. Paul Poull, of Casapedia, Que., writes: "About five years ago I gave up all hope of getting better of heart trouble. I would nearly choke, and then my heart would stop beating. I could not get on my left side, and became so nervous and weak I could not work. A friend told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before the first box was taken I was almost well, and the second box completed the cure. I have advised many others to try them, and they have all been cured of heart trouble. I have offered to pay for a box for anybody they do not cure."

VETERANS AT CHURCH

Old-Time Warriors of British Service

Attend St. James' Cathedral.

His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans held their annual church parade to St. James' Cathedral last night, under command of Major W. A. Collins, president of the South African Veterans' Association. George Pearce, who took part in the charge of the light brigade at Balaklava in the Crimean war, and the only man in Canada who was in the charge, was there. Sergt. Charles

Ellingsworth, who was in "the thin red line" at the battle of the Alma, and the Crimea, was also on parade. Several Indian Mutiny men turned out.

Rev. Gore M. Barrow, chaplain of the association, and who fought in the South African war as an officer in the Scottish Borderers, preached the sermon. The text was the 33rd verse of the 13th chapter of St. Mark: "Take ye heed, watch and pray, for ye know not when the time is." Referring to the death of his late majesty, Rev. Mr.

Barrow hoped the son would follow the example the father had given.

The life and drum band of the association played their music. The British "Welcome League Band" had volunteered to do this, but did not materialize, altho the veterans waited fifteen minutes for their appearance.

The association was assisted in the unfolding of the change in the band's program. The veterans met at the corner of Queen-street and University-avenue. The association will assist in the unveiling to-morrow of the monument to the Canadians who fell in Africa.

SCARBORO BEACH POPULAR

Ten Thousand Visited Amusement Resort on Opening Day.

Scarboro Beach Park never looked more beautiful than at the opening of its season on Saturday afternoon. The flower beds were aglow with color, the lawn smooth as roller could make them, and the buildings spick and span. In thousands visitors swarmed over the grounds, patronizing the attractions. Saturday's attendance was just about three times as great as that of last year's opening, while it broke the record for the first opening day.

It is estimated that by p.m. there was 10,000 on the grounds. A representative party of newspaper men with their families were conveyed to the park by special car in the afternoon, and made a complete tour of the attractions. The only building not ready was the new Midway, whose completion has been delayed for a few days by the non-arrival of some necessary material ordered from New York for the new trick devices being installed. The new Midway was broken into at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and the safe, which was open, was ransacked.

Boys are suspected. Entrance was ef-fectly by a rear window.

SET YOUR HOME IN ST. CLAIR GARDENS

Where There Are Gardens Within Gardens

Location St. Clair Gardens, beautifully situated at the northwest corner of St. Clair avenue and Dufferin street, is an admirable location for homes. This charming and healthful site originally attracted people of wealth who built splendid homes thereabout; but Robins, Limited, are now opening up this select district at such low prices that lots in the Gardens are within reach of all. The Gardens are high above Lake Ontario, and here the air is always pure and invigorating. The Gardens are within City Limits, save about 300 feet, and on the verge of the property are many pretty little homes with little garden plots. To one who has long dreamed of a "home and a little piece of land to till" the Gardens now offer a long-sought opportunity.

Car Service The district is well served by the Carlton-Lansdowne, Davenport and Davenport road cars, and a car line is proposed for St. Clair avenue. To reach the Gardens from the city, take a Carlton or Davenport car to the end of the line, walk over to Davenport road, then north on Dufferin street to the property adjoining FOSTER PARK.

MUST BE NO CHANGES IN CORONATION OATH

Rev. John Coburn's Address to the Orangemen of the West District of Toronto Yesterday.

"Liberty is one of the most precious things men enjoy, and I want to talk to you about our civil liberty, our intellectual liberty, our religious liberty and our spiritual liberty. The Church of Rome is the foe of them all, and it is our duty to stand fast and defend all these forms of liberty."

Such were the introductory remarks of Rev. John Coburn, grand chaplain of Ontario West, at the annual service of the western district, L.O.L., yesterday in St. Andrew's Hall.

Tracing the growth of civil liberty from the time the Israelites were led out of the land of bondage, down to the present, he said that the one clause in the British constitution which made British people free was that which insisted that the man who sits upon the throne must be a Protestant.

"We must insist," he said, "that there shall be no doubt as to the religious belief of the man who occupies the throne. If they want to abandon the oath taken by the King, let them abandon the foolish and silly old claim of the Pope of Rome. When we want a priest of Rome to rule over the British Empire, we will make him king. When the Pope ceases to be the universal 'papa' then we Orangemen will be ready to abandon the coronation oath, and when Rome does that, she will be no longer Rome."

There was an attendance of about 350. J. D. Morrow assisted in the service, and among the officers present were: County Master Wm. Bush, Deputy County Master Wm. Crawford, Grand Lodge Officer A. A. Gray, District Master Robert Thornton, D. D. M. J. W. Bates, D. Chap. W. H. Tuck, D.R.S. Fred Dolson, D.F.S. W. C. McBrien, D. Treas. W. B. Daniels, D.D. of C. Isaac Mulholland, and D. Lect. W. C. Reid.

Light Sentences for Murderers. VENECE, May 22.—Severe criticism is heard on every hand of the light sentences inflicted on the Countess Maria Tarnowska and her accomplices, Lawless, Prilukoff and Dr. Nikolas Naumoff, for the murder of the Countess's husband. The two years that the trio have been in prison awaiting trial will be deducted from the sentences imposed yesterday, which will make the Countess's term at solitary imprisonment six years and four months, Prilukoff's eight years, and Naumoff's six years and one month.
