Taft Interprets States Attitude Towards League

NO MANDATORY POWER

Washington, March 7.—Various methods of hastening action on the peace treaty were discussed at conferences among Republican and Democratic members of the Senate today. It was generally conceded that nothing in the direction of compromise would be gained by further delaying the decisive vote. It was said no final conclusions were reached, though it was predicted in some quarters that tomorrow's session would see a formal agreement to limit debate on the six reservations which remain to be disposed of under the present program before the senate gives its attention to article ten. It generally is conceded that by the decision of this article the treaty will stand or fall, and all of the leaders have said they were anxious to get thru with details and start the light on the main issue.

The plan of the irreconcilable opponents of ratification to move to sweep all the other reservations aside and take up article ten tomorrow was abandoned if some other method of hastening the final vote is agreed upon. The Republican leaders have taken the position that to bring up the order of business and consider article ten before its time would require a two-thirds vote and the irreconcilables concede that even with Democratic co-operation they would not muster such a majority. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, favors going ahead with the order of business first, but it is understood to be ready to make an agreement to hurry the debate.

Despite the fact that the treaty was yesterday by White House officials, and generally accepted as meaning that President Wilson had not altered his position on compromise, the negotiations for an agreement on article ten continued today, with influential senators on both sides declaring there was a chance still of success.

There was no further indication whether the request for a conference between the president and Senator Simmons, Democrat, of North Carolina, on the subject would be granted, and the negotiations went forward on the theory that in any agreement reached on article ten the senate would have to work out its own salvation and take its chance on having the treaty pocketed by the executive.

It was the general feeling tonight that in any eventuality the debate probably would be brought to an end and a ratification vote taken sometime during the present week.

ALLIED NOTE WARNS TURK DRASTIC STEPS WILL FOLLOW CONTINUATION OF MASSACRES

Military Control of Constantinople by Force if Necessary, is Proposed—Quick Action Needed to Save Hundreds of Lives

London, March 7.—The allies despatched a note to the Turkish government yesterday. The terms of the communication were not disclosed, but it is understood they are drastic and will be followed by drastic action should the necessity arise. The proposed allied military control of Constantinople is not to be an occupation in the sense of which that term usually implies, according to the peace conference plans, which, however, have not, as yet, been fully matured.

The idea of the conference, it is indicated, is to impress upon the Turks that the world will not tolerate massacres, such as those of the Armenians in Cilicia, last month. This has been unsuccessfully attempted thru threats from the conference that unless the massacres ceased the peace terms for Turkey would be much more severe than otherwise, and now the allies plan to make some sort of military demonstration at Constantinople, just what this form shall take is understood not to have been decided, but a speedy decision is expected, as Great Britain, France and Italy are agreed that quick action is necessary to save hundreds of lives.

The allies have enough troops in Turkey to control Constantinople, if it is necessary to resort to force, but the allies' premiers are believed to be convinced that this necessity will be averted.

FIRE WIPES OUT ENTIRE FAMILY; TANK OF GASOLINE EXPLODES
Father, Mother and Two Children Fatally Burned by Sudden Conflagration—Plucky Woman Tries to Quench Burning Man With Blanket.

Mrs. Alice Foster, aged 28, and her two children, Eileen, aged 7, and Olive, aged 5, were burned to death, and the husband and father, Herbert Foster, aged 35, so seriously injured that he died after admittance into the General Hospital, six hours later, as the result of the explosion of a gasoline tank containing between 10 and 15 gallons in the kitchen of their residence, 8 Moscow avenue, at 12:45 p.m. yesterday. The cause of the explosion is at present unknown, and the damage is estimated at $1700.

The premises, which were Nos. 8 and 10, comprised two stores, a cleaner's and presser's establishment, and a real estate office adjoining, with several suites of living rooms overhead, occupied by the Foster family and four others—Mrs. Silvertown, Mrs. Silcock and Mrs. and Mrs. Philip Spicer, all of whom fortunately escaped uninjured.

According to the statement of an eye-witness, who arrived on the scene shortly after the explosion, the Foster family were seated in the kitchen prior to their mid-day meal. The gasoline tank, which was in the kitchen, by some unknown means exploded, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster and the two children were immediately enveloped in flames.

Mr. Foster ran out of the kitchen with his clothing burning fiercely, and rushed upstairs and entered the apartment of Mrs. Spicer, who promptly enveloped the unfortunate man in a blanket, hastily plucked off the bed. The quick action of Mrs. Spicer extinguished the man's burning clothing. The ambulance from the General Hospital was hastily summoned, and Foster was rushed to the hospital, where it was found his injuries were fatal, and he succumbed at 7 p.m.

MASSEY COMMITTEE NOT SATISFIED

Free System of Education Faulty, But Await Promised Reforms.

The members of the Massey Foundation committee, that recently approached the provincial government with a proposal to enter into a survey of Ontario's educational system, have issued a statement which, as far as they are concerned, is presumably to be the last shot out of the gun in connection with this now famous affair, which might have had a different ending had not The World "spilled the beans."

The statement reads as follows: "The recent suggestion to the government, that a survey of primary and secondary education in Ontario be undertaken was made in the belief (a) that the public should have the opportunity of comparing the educational methods of this province with those of other provinces and countries, and (b) that it would then be generally realized that considerable changes would be necessary to bring our educational system into line with the changed conditions and new thought of today.

"Such a survey, financed by the Massey Foundation, and conducted by the education department, could have been carried on with perfect propriety without government sanction. In Great Britain and in the United States, similar independent foundations have conducted inquiries of a similar nature."

CANADA PROVIDING FULL CITIZENSHIP FOR ALL INDIANS

New Federal Act Calls for Compulsory Enfranchisement and Education.

Ottawa, March 7.—(Special.)—To bring the Indian to mature citizenship is the object of the new Indian act to be placed before parliament this session by Hon. Arthur Meighen. It provides for the evolution of the Indians from wards of the crown to responsible and independent citizens by compulsory enfranchisement and compulsory education. Both in civil life and in military effort the Indian has shown capacity for responsible citizenship and the present act will release him from hampering tribal control and permit his acquisition of equality and independence.

Under the old Indian act a member of a band could only be enfranchised after passing thru two probation periods of three years each, and then only with the consent of the band. Tradition and unprogressiveness prevented the acquisition of the franchise by more progressive Indians. From 1862 to 1918 only one hundred and sixty were enfranchised. Tribal councils deliberately thwarted the efforts of more progressive Indians to secure equality of citizenship.

Three Thousand Enfranchised.

Three thousand Indians enlisted in the Canadian army and without citizenship performed the duties of citizens. In 1918 parliament enacted a law permitting those who had no land or who waived their right in exchange to secure the franchise. Since then, over two hundred have taken advantage of this opportunity, or more than secured the franchise in the previous fifty years. The new act permits the enfranchisement of Indian affairs superintendent-general of Indian affairs without application after investigation into the qualifications of these wards of the crown. It is a radical (Continued on Page 3, Column 1).

PROFITS TAX NEEDED
Sir Henry Drayton Declares the Country Requires Certain Funds.

St. John, N.B., March 7.—Members of the St. John board of trade who returned on Saturday from Ottawa, where they protested to Sir Henry Drayton against the business profits tax, said tonight that the finance minister told them that the country needed the money of the profits tax, and if the tax was not reimbursed this year some other form of taxation, either thru the present income tax or other means, would be resorted to in order to gain the required funds.

The delegation protested against imposition of the tax on the grounds that it was inequitable and unjust upon the capitalized business and manufacturing firms; that it penalized enterprise and discouraged expansion.

ULSTER DELEGATION SATISFIED WITH MISSION
Belfast, March 7.—The Ulster delegation, which has been visiting Canada and the United States, returned here today. The Rev. Louis Crooks said that the mission had been a triumphant success, and that the American people were absolutely in favor of Ulster. Those against Ulster were "vociferous hyphenates, in no wise representing true Americans."

"Our point that home rule was purely a domestic affair, and that America had nothing to do with the internal relations of a friendly power was received with enthusiasm throughout the United States."

Carson Advises Unionists To Accept Home Rule Bill

London, March 8.—In addressing the Ulster Unionist Council last Friday, Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, recommended that Ulster abandon its opposition to the Irish home rule bill and accept the bill now before parliament, says The Daily Mail today.

The newspaper describes this as the most important development in the Irish situation in many years, and says it is bound to have a profound and far-reaching effect.

After the meeting, Sir Edward and the other delegates returned to their respective districts to consult the local associations on the decision which is to be taken at another meeting of the council, to be held in Belfast next Wednesday.

"In view of the leader's advice," The Daily Mail continues, "it is hoped the new bill will be accepted substantially by Ulster, but it is possible the council will recommend the in-

President Wilson, However, in Reply to Premier, insists That Albanian Questions Be Included in Discussions—Cannot Approve Treaty of London Terms.

Washington, March 7.—President Wilson accepts with reservations the proposal of the British and French premiers, that Italy and Jugo-Slavia undertake a settlement of the Adriatic question.

He says if Italy and Jugo-Slavia prefer to abandon the so-called buffer state, containing an overwhelming majority of Jugo-Slavs, and desire to "corpus separatum" of Flume, placing the sovereignty in the hands of nations without either Italian or Jugo-Slav control, the United States is willing to leave the determination of the common frontier to Italy and Jugo-Slavia.

The president says he cannot "possibly join" in the premiers' suggestion, that the memorandum settlement of Dec. 9 be withdrawn, and that "Albanian questions should not be included in the proposed joint discussions of the terms of the treaty of London."

Finally, he expresses "the earnest hope that the allied governments will not find it necessary to decide on a course which the American government, in accordance with its reiterated statement, will be unable to follow."

The president's note to the premiers was despatched today, and is now being considered by the executive council at London. Meantime, direct negotiations between Jugo-Slavia and Italy are proceeding.

Text of the Note.
"The president desires to express his sincere and cordial interest in the progress of the peace conference and the prime ministers received on February 27. He notes with satisfaction the unaltered desire to reach an equitable solution in conformity alike with the principles of the peace conference and the expressed intention regarding certain essential points to urge upon the governments interested in the settlement of their common frontiers in the Flume region."

"The president is surprised, however, that they should find it necessary to state of their own willingness to leave to joint agreement of Italy and Jugo-Slavia the settlement of their common frontiers in the Flume region on any ground for suggesting withdrawal of the joint memorandum of December 9. In this he could not possibly join. The memorandum represents a deliberate and understanding judgment after months of earnest discussion. It constituted more than a mere exchange of views; it was a statement of principles and recapitulation of the chief points upon which agreements had been reached. There was thus afforded a summary review of these points, and the memorandum should remain as it was intended to be, the basis of reference representing the combined opinion of these governments."

Would Accept Proposal.
"In referring to the common frontier in the Flume region, the president had in mind the expression of the two interested governments to abandon the project of the free state of Flume, as defined in the memorandum of December 9. If, as he understands, the government of Italy and the government of the Serb-Croat-Slovene state prefer to abandon the so-called buffer state containing an overwhelming majority of Jugo-Slavs and desire to limit the proposed free state to the 'corpus separatum' of Flume, placing the sovereignty in the hands of nations without either Italian or Jugo-Slav control, then the government of the United States is prepared to accept this proposal and is willing under such circumstances to leave the determination of the common frontier to Italy and Jugo-Slavia. In this connection the president desires to reiterate that he would gladly approve a mutual agreement between the Italian and Jugo-Slav governments reached without prejudice to the territorial or other interests of any third nation, but Albanian questions should not be included in the proposed joint discussions of Italy and Jugo-Slavia and the president must reaffirm that he cannot possibly approve any plan which assigns to Jugo-Slavia in the northern districts of Albania territorial compensation for what she is deprived of elsewhere. Concerning the economic outlet for Jugo-Slavia in the region of Scutari suggested in the note under reply, the president desires to refer to the memorandum of December 9 as making adequate provisions to meet the needs of Jugo-Slavia."

The Treaty of London.
"Regarding the character and applicability of the treaty of London, the president is led to speak with less reserve on account of the frank observations of the French and British prime ministers. He is unable to find in the 'exigencies of military strategy' sufficient warrant for exceeding secrecy with a government which was intimately associated with the signing of the treaty of London in the significant task of defending human freedom and which was called upon for unlimited assistance and for untold treasure. The definite and well accepted policy of the American government through its participation in the deliberations of the peace conference was that it did not consider itself bound by secret treaties which it had previously not known the existence. Where the provisions of such treaties were just and reasonable the United States was willing to respect them. But the French and British prime ministers will, of course, expect the government of the United States to approve the execution of the terms of the treaty of London except insofar as that government may be convinced that those terms are manifestly just and are consistent with the maintenance of peace and settled order in southeastern Europe.

The absence of an American representative with plenary power is to be regretted and may have been a source of inconvenience. The president can recall several instances where decisions in the supreme council were delayed while the British and French representatives sought the views of their governments, and he is convinced that time would have been saved and many misunderstandings avoided if, before actual decisions had been reached and communicated to the Italian and Jugoslav delegations, this government had given sufficient indication of the fact that the British and French governments intended radically to depart from the memorandum of December 9.

Repeal of Responsibility. "In conclusion the president desires to express his concurrence in the view of the British and French prime ministers that a speedy settlement of the Adriatic question is of the utmost importance. But he cannot accept as just the implied suggestion of his responsibility for the failure to reach a solution. He has already adhered to the provisions of a settlement which the French and British governments recognized as equitable in the joint memorandum of December 9, and has declined to approve any settlement negotiated without the knowledge or approval of the American government, which was unacceptable to one of the interested governments. In his opinion, was in direct contradiction of the principles for the defence of which America entered the war. These views he has fully explained in his note of February 19, and he ventures to express the earnest hope that the allied governments will not find it necessary to decide on a course which the American government, in accordance with its reiterated statement will be unable to follow."

ALLIED NOTE WARNS TURKEY TO BEWARE

(Continued From Page 1.) not arise. They are of the opinion, it appears, that when the Turkish government finally comes to the conclusion that the allied mean business the situation will be considerably clarified. This is the first point in the plan of the conference.

Some reinforcements for the allied troops in Cilicia arrived on the scene this week, and more will follow. The weather conditions in Cilicia are unfavorable at present for the starting of a new military operation, but the allies are agreed that it is absolutely necessary for the French to retrieve quickly and at any cost their recent losses in Cilicia, as the view in conference circles is that the Turks undoubtedly think the allies are tired of fighting and that their notes and warnings have little backing.

As outlined, the plan is to show the sultan that this is not the case, no matter how distasteful further military activities may be now to any of the allies.

What the conferees really would like, according to the reports of statements at the meetings here, is for the United States to augment her naval forces in Turkish waters, but there seems to be little expectation that this can be brought about.

In picking up a very high-class selection of suitings for spring and later wear, and especially fortunate in securing lots of fine serges and chevots, and in being able to have them shipped with very little delay, so that lines that during the war would have been months arriving have come across in a fortnight, and they are here today representing the best woolen values in the world. THE YELLOW PERIL

Preacher From Far East Expresses Concern at Japan's Militarism in Unionville Presbyterian Church.

Splendid success attended the anniversary services of the Unionville Presbyterian Church, held in that village yesterday, large audiences greeting Rev. E. A. Armstrong, assistant secretary of foreign missions, at the morning and evening services. In the afternoon the schoolroom of the church was filled with an appreciative audience who followed closely the timely views illustrating mission life in Korea and Japan.

At the morning service Rev. Mr. Armstrong, who recently returned from a year's close study of mission life in the Flowery Kingdom, said European and new world sentiment was deeply concerned over the tremendous strides toward militarism made by Japan during the last few years, and the fact that $800,000,000 had recently been voted for the further strengthening of the navy, already one of the most formidable in the world. Similarly, in China with its enormous population and subservience to Japan, grave dangers might arise unless averted by the introduction of Christianity. He paid a high tribute to the Koreans morally and socially.

Rev. Frank Rae, pastor, assisted at all the services, and excellent music was furnished by the choir of the church.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

WANT GREENHOUSES OPEN TO PUBLIC

Riverdale Horticultural Society Addresses Resolution to Parks Commissioner.

The final meeting of the Riverdale Horticultural Society, prior to incorporation, was held in Frankland School, Logan avenue, recently. A. Smith, president, occupied the chair. The work of the past year was reviewed by the chairman, and arrangements were made and program outlined for the coming season's activities. In this connection a strong committee was appointed.

The following resolution was adopted: "That a letter be forwarded to the parks commissioner requesting that all the city greenhouses be thrown open to the public at all times, and that all flowers and plants be plainly labelled with the names and other particulars for educational purposes." It was also decided to request the parks committee to place a rose bed in Withrow Park, as previously promised the society on several occasions, and not carried out.

A member complained that, having recently visited Arian Gardens, he noticed the fine display of flowers and plants were without labels, and the visiting party unable to gain the names of many interesting blooms and plants. The only greenhouse open to the public for any length of time, he pointed out, was the palm house, the other houses being padlocked in other parks throughout the city.

RIVERDALE CHURCH FIRST SOD TURNED

An interesting ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon at the corner of Harcourt and Esape avenues, where in the presence of a large number of the congregation the first sod was turned as a commencement of the work on the new Riverdale Presbyterian Church. The Rev. L. I. Hunter, B.A., B.D., conducted the service and the ceremony was carried out by Mrs. E. J. Thompson of 449 Jones avenue, who is the oldest member of the congregation.

This occasion marked the inauguration of a new epoch in the history of the Riverdale Presbyterian Church. Arrangements are already under way to carry out the excavation for the basement of the new edifice, and the old frame church which has been a landmark to east-enders for many years will shortly disappear. The congregation recently authorized the raising of a fund to enable the building committee to commence work, and no time has been lost in carrying out the wishes of the members.

The leadership of Mr. George Stronach, chairman, Mr. Cuthbert Morgan, secretary, and Mr. J. A. Murray, treasurer, plans have been prepared for a handsome edifice which is to include gymnasium and equipment of a special nature to meet the steadily increasing demand for work among the young people of the district.

The present site was obtained "a mission field on August 4, 1907, and services, conducted by Rev. J. A. Miller, B.A., were commenced in a tent. This gave place in December of the same year to the frame structure which is to be moved to make way for the new building, and in September, 1908, the church became an augmented charge with Rev. Mr. Miller as pastor. It was soon evident, however, that the rapidly growing district demanded increased accommodation so on August 17, 1912 the corner stone of the present school building was laid. Riverdale boasts of one of the largest Sabbath schools in the city, but now accommodation is quite limited. The services are handicapped in lack of seating capacity, and for a considerable period the need of a newer and larger building has been most insistent. It is hoped that yesterday's ceremony will prove to be the genesis of a greater sphere of activity that will count much in the history of Riverdale Presbyterianism.

ANGLICANS FOLLOWING UP

In connection with the Anglican Forward Movement in St. Matthew's Parish, First avenue, all the men engaged in the work are holding together and considering what next they can do for the benefit of the church, according to the statement of Rev. Dr. Seagar, rector, who pointed out that the committee, under the chairmanship of J. C. Forman, is trying to organize a "follow up" with a personal campaign to win the people to attend church. A meeting of the committee will be held in the parish hall this evening.

PASTOR ASKED TO STAY.

At the recent meeting of the Simpson Avenue Methodist official quorum, Rev. J. R. Patterson, the retiring pastor, was requested to remain as pastor for the fourth year.

The board also decided to raise the pastor's salary from $2000 to $2500, making it retroactive from May last.

Rev. J. R. Patterson consented to remain subject to ratification of the stationing committee.

DANFORTH COMPLAINS OF MAIL.

The residents of Danforth district in the business section still complain of the unsatisfactory collection of postal pillars and delivery.

A. J. Smith, Wroxeter avenue, stated yesterday to The World that a letter mailed on Wednesday in that district to his address was not delivered until Friday. "There is no shortage of returned men for the positions of letter-carriers," said Mr. Smith, who added that a deputation would shortly wait upon the postmaster of Toronto regarding the delay.

EARLSCOURT GETS PARK AT LAST

Royce Estate Becomes City Property at Ten Thousand Dollars Per Acre.

After five or six years of agitation and publicity Royce Park has become the property of the city and Earlscourt will have a park of its own. The arrangements were completed on Saturday by which 320 acres, including the farm house, known as the Royce estate, located at the corner of Lansdowne and St. Clair and running south as far as Davenport road, was transferred from the owners of the Royce estate to the city. The price to be paid is $10,000 an acre. About 200 feet of the land fronts on St. Clair avenue, facing Prospect Park Cemetery. The purchase price will, therefore, be over $200,000, and Earlscourt has reason to be proud of the fact that Mayor Church and the board of control have been enabled to carry out their promise to purchase the property. As a matter of fact there has never been any opposition to the purchase on the part of the council, the purchase having been delayed only owing to the war and consequent work of the arbitration board to secure a moderate price for the land. Many deputations have been down to the city hall before and during the war, the British Imperial Association and the Earlscourt fall fair committee also having their aid in favor of the purchase. The Royce Park estate has always kindly donated the property for patriotic affairs and also for holding the fall fairs in 1913 and 1919. The park is in a fairly central location and will no doubt be patronized by thousands who live in the northwest district. The returned men, many of whom are cripples, wounded soldiers from the nearby hospitals, will all take advantage of this fine bit of rustic scenery during the coming summer months.

Mayor Church told The World on Saturday night that he was glad that the purchase had been completed. "Earlscourt deserved this recreation ground for its splendid work in the war. It is a fine location for Earlscourt residents and an excellent open space for the children," said his worship, "and I wish to congratulate the city on having secured the park. The Royce Park property," said Brook Sykes, for Ward Six, also told The World that it was worth the long fight in the fall fairs in 1913 and 1919. CANADA PROVIDING RIGHTS TO INDIANS

Under the old act it is impossible to enforce the attendance of Indian children at schools, public or government.

To Enforce Education. Under the old act it is impossible to enforce the attendance of Indian children at schools, public or government. It has been in many instances possible to secure the compliance of the Indians with the desire of the government that they educate their children, but the government has no legal right to enforce this compliance. The new act provides for the compulsory attendance of Indian children at government boarding schools. Care is taken not to interfere in the slightest degree with the religious views of the Indians and Roman Catholic and Protestant Indian children must attend Indian schools where their faith is the doctrine taught. Education is one of the tests for fitness for enfranchisement and in adopting this system of compulsory education the government is providing for the first and chief requisite of citizenship.

Many Highly Skilled. Many of the Indians, especially in eastern Canada, are fully qualified for citizenship. The Lorette band, near Quebec, the only remaining descendants of the once mighty Huron nation, are far advanced in civilization and other requisites of citizenship. Also are the Caughnawaga Indians, who provide hundreds of the most skillful steel bridge builders in this country. Western Ontario many near Brantford, Sarnia and on Walpole Island are capable of an intelligent appreciation of national issues. In western Canada there has not been such marked advancement in Indian education. Individuals in many of the bands will soon, however, be ready for the franchise. Many have become excellent farmers and returns show that they are self-supporting. Tribal tradition will be the chief obstacle to Indian enfranchisement. Citizenship will mean the disappearance of authority of chief and council and there will be an element who will make a determined fight against progress. The new policy is to change civilized Indians from wards to independent, responsible citizens.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"Roly Boly Eyes," this week's attraction at the Princess, is one of the snappiest and speediest, dippiest dancing shows extant. Nowadays a musical comedy has to have plenty of the art of Terpichore mixed in it, or the public votes it slow. Little Queenie Smith for twelve years with the Metropolitan Opera Company and one of its premier danseuses, illustrates the beauty and poetry the classic ballet. Margaret Edwards, one of the most perfectly formed women in the world, she won a physical culture contest with more than 20,000 entrants, does an Arabian dance that is a thing of weird beauty. Then Katie Pullman, ball room acrobatic and eccentric dancing, sometimes alone and again with her dancing partner, Earl Gates, Eddie Leonard, the peer of Irving soft shoe dancers, shows why he is famous for that sort of thing. And May Boley—well, May burlesques the whole lot and is a scream. John Cort is sending "Roly Boly Eyes" here with the original New York cast, chorus and production direct from a six months' run at the Knickerbocker, New York.

"Three Wise Fools." After a phenomenal successful stay of over ten months at the Criterion Theatre, New York, and grand triumphant visits to Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, and Philadelphia, John Golden will present at the Princess next week, Austin Strong's brilliant comedy, "Three Wise Fools." If Broadway is the stethoscope that registers the pulsations of the popular imagination, then the record is correct, as the deductions made by the contemporary reviewers all coincide in acclaiming it the best humorous composition presented in many years.

The coming week at the Gayety Theatre will no doubt prove to be one of the most notable as well as profitable for the management, as the attraction is one of the largest and best on the wheel, namely Bayne Gerard's "Follies of the Day," headed by those sterling funmakers Harry ("Watch the Slide") Welsh and Geo. F. Hayes. For his 1918 model, Mr. Gerard has written an entirely new book which has christened "Poly Going Up," and has provided one of the prettiest and most tuneful scores any musical organization can boast. The organization is headed by Harry ("Watch the Slide") Welsh and Geo. F. Hayes, two fun makers par excellence who are ably seconded by a strong cast of players and has augmented the whole with a chorus worthy of recognition on Broadway.

with in a way that is both amusing and charming.

Constance Binette at Regent. How does a man know when he is in love? In "Erville's Susan," the Regent picture adapted from Mrs. Fiske's stage success, which is presented at the Regent Theatre all this week three men believe they love a girl, but only one of them can prove it. The picture presents Constance Binette as the star in the radiant role of "Barnabette," a poor little girl who wins her "place in the sun" and the heart of a real man at the same time. Constance Binette won remarkable success in this production in New York just recently. It marks her debut on the screen. She has youth, beauty, and talent, and has conquered the hearts of all who have seen her in this splendid picture. Special music will be rendered by the famous Regent orchestra, as an accompaniment to "Erville's Susan." The overture comprises selections from "Happy Days," "The New York Hippodrome show," "The Society," Miss Nellie Gill, soprano. There is a special added attraction that is not to be missed in this comedy. It is entitled "A Twilight Baby," and is a Harry Lehman production. It is a brilliant of original, sparkling humor and the advice that is given is that those who cannot or are afraid to laugh, had better stay away.

At the Star. Much is said in the newspapers regarding the scarcity of chorus girls, but when "Oh! Frenchy" appears at the Star Theatre today the audience will come to the conclusion that either chorus girls are very plentiful or else that E. Thos. Beatty, the owner of this attraction, is a favored individual for his girls. Some producers wait and at the musical show, Mr. Beatty declares that he is not a favored individual, but that he realizes the importance of pretty girls in his shows and that he is not satisfied to take any girl who applies to him for a chorus position. He sets a very high standard for his girls and then he does not wait for them to come to him. Some producers wait and at the last minute if they have any vacancies, they are obliged to fill them by taking such girls as they can get. Mr. Beatty is always on the lookout for girls and gives as much consideration to their looks as he does to picking out a chief comedian or a prima donna. That is why "Oh! Frenchy" chorus is filled with girls who are beautiful and talented. The cast, which is one of unusual merit is headed by Bert Weston and Mitty Devere.

"In Old Kentucky" at Strand. The superb, spectacular romantic and "racing play," "In Old Kentucky," featuring winsome Anita Stewart, is the big attraction at the Strand Theatre today and all this week. The great old melodrama has thrilled and delighted hundreds of thousands as a stage play, but this great recent version shows with competitors and tremendous realism.

All the exciting scenes which could only be suggested on the stage. There is the great Kentucky horse race scene, the amazing leap on horseback of the heroine across a chasm, the bitter feud of the enemy clans, the chase by the night-riders, the wonderful fox hunt, the dynamite plot, and a host of other stirring scenes and adventures. And there is much fun and much romance and one of the sweetest love stories ever recorded. And it is all pure entertainment with the sweep of the story never delayed for an instant. Anita Stewart is more delightful than ever as Madge, the whimsical, hard-riding waif of the Kentucky hills in this stirring story of picturesque old times of the south with its beautiful women, its thoroughbred race horses and reckless fighting men. "In Old Kentucky," is showing at the Strand at 11:30, 1:35, 3:35, 5:35, 7:35 and 9:35.

Alhambra Theatre. Mary Miles Minter, in "Ann of Green Gables," will be shown for the first three days of this week at the Alhambra Theatre, starting with a performance Monday afternoon. This famous story from the four Ann books has proven a huge success with old and young patrons of the picture houses, and in view of the fact that nearly every person has read the book they know what a real treat is in store for them in seeing the picture. There are a number of comedy pictures and during the performance Miss Marjorie Stafford, soprano, will sing.

Double-Header at Madison. A fine photoplay of love, mystery and adventure is "The Lincoln Highwayman," the William Fox production which, with William Russell in the lead, will be presented at the Madison Theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The bill will also include Harry Semon in his latest scream, "The Grocery Clerk."

Sir Oliver Lodge at Massey Hall. Sir Oliver Lodge, the eminent British scientist, who will lecture in Massey Hall, Saturday, March 13, on "The Evidence for Survival," has attracted world-wide attention by his investigation of spiritualism and his remarkable utterances on this subject. The unusual amount of interest that he has aroused in this country is due to the fact that he is not only one of the foremost authorities on physical science, but is also considered to be one of the greatest original thinkers of modern times, by reason of his profound insight and unreserved breadth of comprehension. The lecture for the lecture opens tomorrow.

REV. A. STEWART FOR INDIA. Rev. A. Stewart, Woodburne, a graduate of McMaster University, will sail from San Francisco on April 3 for India, to take the principality of the Baptist school at Karnool, Madras presidency, India.

TAFT INTERPRETS STATES' ATTITUDE

amount to anything. If it has the element of compulsion, then it is an over-government. These arguments and criticisms are not justified. No arrangement, whether compulsory or not, will work without co-operation and goodwill. I am an optimist, and believe that when we sit around the table we will get a feeling of comradeship that will make the league successful.

It is said that the council constitutes the super-government. Nowhere is it given mandatory power, its duties being only to recommend, advise and propose. American critics of the league interpret these three words to mean, respectively, command, direct and order; but I submit, is this a reasonable construction for these words? The argument as to whether the council is mandatory or not rests on the interpretation of these words. Such perverted interpretation of words is not justified.

The assembly is the convention of the league. It provides discussion, illumination, and acts in an advisory way. There is no mandatory power anywhere. The success of the league depends on the honor and conscience of its members. The purpose of the league of nations is to avoid war, and to do this four steps are taken. 1. Reduction of armaments. This limitation is essential to avoid wars which are caused by competition in armor. Is there a man so dead who will not recognize the necessity for the limitation of armaments, begun innocently but ending as Germany ended? (Applause.) 2. What is known as article 10, which provides the union of all the nations to make the world safe for democracy and enforce the command "thou shalt not steal." It is the world adoption of the Monroe doctrine of the States. 3. Machinery for the settlement of disputes which might lead to war. Each nation is bound to begin a boycott against the offending nation. No nation could stand against such a combination. 4. Open diplomacy. Therefore secret diplomacy has led to suspicion and to war. The league of nations is the biggest step toward peace that has ever been taken in the world's history. Where is the United States? One of the reasons that prompted her conscientious objection was the tradition handed down that America should keep out of European politics. The matter has proved that it is utterly impossible for us to occupy a position of exclusiveness with regard to the rest of the world. If we are to be a people at all we cannot escape world responsibility. Regarding the attitude of the American senate to the league of nations and the peace treaty, Mr. Taft declared that the senate had discussed the matter so long that its members have become feverish and seem to see big differences of opinion where only a slight variation of view will be seen in ten years' time. In discussing America's fourteen reservations to the league of nations, Mr. Taft made it clear that they are either not important or are already in the league constitution. "I have no doubt," the speaker concluded, "that if we enter the league the limit offered us will be so generous that we will never come within gunshot of this limit. I want to get the league thru with or without reservations. (Cheers.) Then let's get our feet inside the door, sit around the table in a spirit of comradeship and let's save the world from a return of war!" Mr. Taft was in fine fettle, and as he warmed to his task he carried the audience with him in his enthusiasm for America's entry into the league of nations. At times he showed optimism by treating a serious question in humorous style, pointing out the brighter points and yet speaking all the while in fervent tones. Other speakers were W. E. Ransy, attorney-general of Ontario, who related in humorous style the evolution of the U. P. O. party; St. John Ervine, the Irish dramatist, who said, "I am proud and glad to be in the room with one American who is above party politics"; Mrs. A. E. Bryant, president of the American Women's Club of Toronto, who occupied the chair; and Mrs. John Garvin, president of the Canadian Women's Club of Toronto.

NO BOLSHEVISM IN TWENTY YEARS

Henri de Man Says State Socialism Dying Out Rapidly. Bolshevism will be a dead issue within the next twenty years, and state Socialism of the type now in vogue in Germany will be supplanted by another type less paternal and more democratic...

Bolshevism will be a dead issue within the next twenty years, and state Socialism of the type now in vogue in Germany will be supplanted by another type less paternal and more democratic, the whole of the real western Europe now giving the lead to the new movement, of which Britain and Belgium are today the exponents par excellence. This view presented yesterday afternoon by Henri de Man, great Belgian Labor chief, at the Open Forum meeting held at Forsters' Hall, College street.

"There are three zones of Socialism in Europe," said the speaker. "The Russian with its Bolshevism, Germany with its state Socialism, and the democratic field of western Europe, with its enlightened thought. I have no hesitation in saying that the British Labor movement in twenty years will be considered a far more important factor in the social and political fabric of the world. There is no movement to which such wide and extended attention had been so thoroughly misrepresented as the Bolshevist Soviet. This attention and sympathy has been undeserved."

Mr. de Man said that while he did not believe in Bolshevism he believed that Russia should be given the right to work out her own salvation, although Bolshevism was not Socialism, but a morbid manifestation of unrest. The whole Russian situation formed probably a factor necessary to the evolution of the race in that country. Transferred Autocracy. The speaker expressed the opinion that the Bolshevism of Russia formed merely a transference of autocratic power from one czarist to another, and the best means of curbing its power was to cut it at the root of the conditions inspiring it. The German paternalism as manifest in its system of state Socialism, was yet another form of autocracy under another name. As a matter of fact, the most advanced Socialists believed that the state existed only to carry out certain necessary duties imposed by the individuals of that state. In Germany, however, the state was a divine institution which assumed to care for the individual, irrespective of his desires.

"What the world needs is an advanced industrial evolution, a fair standard of education and a long session of political freedom," said Mr. de Man. "Such a condition exists, I believe, in western Europe." The speaker prophesied labor governments in most European countries before many years, and great responsibility would thus fall upon the worker. No government could succeed unless its representatives included all the producing classes, the manual, clerical and managerial workers. And there must be a tendency on the part of salaried and intellectual men to join the ranks of the Labor group.

Mr. de Man said that while he did not believe in Bolshevism he believed that Russia should be given the right to work out her own salvation, although Bolshevism was not Socialism, but a morbid manifestation of unrest.

OFFERED BRIBES SAY CONSTABLES

Man Arrested Under O.T.A., Now Faces Second Charge. Morris Swartz, 207 West Dundas street, was arrested Saturday night by Plainclothesmen Clarkson and Mulholland, charged with attempting to bribe the police, and with a breach of the Ontario temperance act.

When the police entered the house, they claim a man had just purchased a drink for 25 cents. When Swartz saw the police, he is alleged to have poured the whiskey down the sink. Clarkson got the bottle with some of the whiskey in it, and Swartz is said to have stated the police were bothering him too much, and he would give them $100 between them if they would allow him to go. The plainclothesmen asked Swartz to come over to West Dundas street station and they would get Inspector Bond to divide the money. Swartz agreed, and was charged with attempting to bribe the police. He was allowed out on bail of $500.

Lonyl Levesky, 192 West Dundas street, was arrested by Plainclothesman Foster, charged with selling whiskey. The police seized two bottles. William Bailey, 129 East King street, was arrested by Plainclothesmen Greenlee and Parrish, charged with having liquor in his possession. The police found accused with a bottle.

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 8.

Ware, Hydro.

There are ominous signs of a frontal attack on the Hydro policies before the legislature has been long in session. Sir Adam Beck will be on the job a week from today, if the Mauretania has an average passage and the blizzards that make New York famous cease from troubling.

The Hydro Commission has large powers, financial and administrative, which various interests in the province would like to see curbed. Wherever its proposals have been submitted, the people have overwhelmingly endorsed them.

It is true, of course, that the nationalization of the Grand Trunk lines through Ontario gives a new aspect to railway development within the province, and that, in this respect, the public have assumed liabilities which were not contemplated when the Hydro radicals were first projected.

Sir Edmund's Aide. The Labor party unexpectedly supplies a supporter to the central teaching, about the general economic situation, of Sir Edmund Walker's recent annual address to the Bank of Commerce shareholders; and of the view lately advanced in Leeds by Mr. Beckett, a leading banker of the north of England.

Sir Edmund said we are living in a fool's paradise because we persist in thinking in terms of dollars and not in terms of merchandise. Mr. Beckett told the Leeds chamber of commerce that all the gold production of South Africa for the next twenty years would not begin to wipe out the British obligations to the United States, and her allies' obligations to Britain; and that the nations would have to get back to something very like barter.

Along comes Mrs. Rose Henderson, formerly magistrate of Montreal's juvenile court, and now organizing for the Ontario Independent Labor party, and last night told the People's Forum that the gold standard has broken down; that to figure out in terms of money will force an inevitable collapse of European credits, and therefore of world trade, and that the only way out is to find a means of exchanging commodities—the barter predicted by Mr. Beckett—without risk of the obligations for interest and so forth, the manipulation of which has centralized financial and political power in a comparatively few hands before the war.

More Grand Trunk Follies.

The full report of the meeting of Grand Trunk shareholders in London, which endorsed the agreement for nationalizing their lines, would fill more than a page of The World. At the meeting the Canadian government was represented by Sir Charles Russell. But he held only a watching brief, and could not have said anything to the indignant shareholders, from intimate knowledge of Canadian conditions. One speaker, at least, was not a shareholder, so that the public side of the case might have been presented to the British investing public, if the government had so desired. The government ought not to let assertions made against itself and Canada in London go by default.

Some engaging temperamental disclosures are furnished by the report. The cable told us of the clergymen, who used to minister in British Columbia, and who said the Canadian government has no morals, and that the Grand Trunk should have had its members in parliament, as (he said) the C. P. R. does.

Nor did it tell of a third who urged that an effort should be made to get the United States government not only to lease the Grand Trunk lines in the States, but to take control in Canada likewise—and thus, no doubt, make us in very deed an adjunct of the republic. Nor were we told that the view was expressed that the Canadian people should compensate the dying board of directors for "loss of office."

Our sins are manifold, but mainly two-fold. The Grand Trunk was not allowed to increase its rates high enough to enable it to pay dividends on its own securities, and to make up the yearly deficit of five or six millions on the Grand Trunk Pacific. And the basic crime of all was committed when the Grand Trunk Pacific was chartered and other lines, under entirely Canadian administration, were not warned out of the country which should have been pre-empted for the Grand Trunk Pacific, because the government had virtually entered into partnership with it.

The parent Grand Trunk has been abominably used. Its only friend in the government (if the Smithers speech means anything) was the prime minister, whose illness interfered with the saving of the Grand Trunk fund and credit. Sir Alfred pays the absent prime minister of Canada the compliment of saying that if his breakdown had been delayed a week or ten days, these dreadful things would hardly have happened. That is a very sinister compliment indeed, which should be repeated.

World readers are so familiar with the debt skating away from the fundamental responsibility of the old Grand Trunk Pacific calamity, that matter need not be elaborated afresh. But it is well to remember that, from the country's point of view, a great responsibility rests upon the government, which authorized unnecessary duplication of lines. The Grand Trunk Pacific promoters cannot escape their share of responsibility—the originating share. To say now that the people of Canada ought to have relieved the shareholders of the results of their directors' action, is to reveal an utter incomprehension of the fundamentals of an angle of "expansion," which it will take us many years to recover from. Nothing emerges more clearly from the Grand Trunk meeting than that we are well quit of stockbroking direction of our railway systems by excellent gentlemen who live afar off.

The Threatened Increase in Railway Rates.

President D. B. Hanna of the C. N. R. system, swam with the current of popular prejudice when he declared in his speech at Ottawa last Saturday, that the loss and failure had attended government operation of railways in the United States. The roads, it is true, were run at a loss, but it was a loss due to the war and not to mismanagement on the part of the government. Operating costs increased enormously and rates were not correspondingly increased. The tax upon railway travel, which seemed to unduly increase the cost of travel to the public, went into the public treasury and not into the revenues of the railway system. Moreover, the government being obliged to give precedence to the transportation of troops, supplies and munitions, could not give good a service to the ordinary shipper as in normal times he would have had a right to expect.

The net result was a complaint that the government charged higher rates and gave poorer service than had been given by the railway companies. The companies, however, had they retained the roads, would have had to charge even higher rates and would have given a less efficient service. Today they are unable to carry on except under a temporary arrangement by which they receive direct financial aid from the federal government, and after September 1 they will only carry on by a heavy increase in passenger and freight rates which may amount to 50 per cent.

At the time the government took the roads over they were in such a run-down condition as to be almost unable to function. There were a few crack trains on some of the big roads, but generally speaking railway service in the United States in 1916 was not nearly as good as railway service in

LAUNCHING THE BABY PARTY

Canada. The government on taking over the roads had to spend millions and millions of dollars on betterments, replacement work, terminals and equipment. President Hanna's speech foreshadowed a raise of rates in Canada. If there is to be any such increase it should be along the line adopted in the recent railway legislation in the United States. There the earnings of the roads are to be pooled and the excess profits of the stronger roads diverted to covering deficits of the weaker roads. If there is to be an increase of rates in Canada, the tax on the excess profits of the C. P. R. should not go into the consolidated revenue fund, but should be applied to meeting whatever deficit there may be in the operation of the National Railways System.

Pays $33,000 in Scotland for Grand Champion Short-horn.

Guelph, March 7.—(Special.)—At the Perth, Scotland, short-horn show and sale, J. J. Elliott of Guelph purchased the grand champion of the show, Millhills Comet, for 6000 guineas, or approximately $33,000. This ten-month-old bull was bred by Mrs. Stewart of Millhills. He belongs to the Clipper tribe, and his sire was Cupbearer of Collynie. The Aberdeen Free Press states that he is one of the best Clipper bulls ever shown at Perth. The following is taken from The Aberdeen Free Press of Thursday, Feb. 12, 1920: "When the Millhills champion was brought into the ring there were only about fifty animals to sell. The presence of this perfect model of the breed created unusual stir. Both standing and moving, this young steer looked a pretty picture."

BANKERS CONTROL WORLD POLITICS

Money Trusts Cause of Unrest, Says Mrs. Henderson at Forum.

That Germany could not pay her war debts and that the present British government won the last election on the cry of "bail the kaiser," and make Germany pay," was the contention of Mrs. Rose Henderson, of Montreal, who lectured at the People's Forum last night on the subject of "Our Financial Crisis Resulting from the Collapse of the Gold Standard."

The speaker also condemned the way the professors in colleges taught economics—they taught of a past age, not of the present. After tracing the history of barter up to the time when there was not sufficient gold left to go round in exchange, stocks, shares and notes had to be introduced to fill the gap. Mrs. Henderson went on to contend that gold as a standard of exchange had collapsed.

Men's remedy for this state of affairs was to produce, produce and produce. That would remedy nothing, according to Mrs. Henderson, it would only fill the store houses with food which would be allowed to rot if prices were not kept up. The gap Mrs. Henderson went on to Mrs. Henderson, were the bankers who financed it and they could not be taxed, as they ruled the governments.

Dealing with the question of paper money, Mrs. Henderson declared that if all the paper money of the world was collected there was only 10 per cent. of gold to liquidate it.

THE GIRL WHO SMILED THRU

By MARION RUBINCAM

DOUBT. And you're engaged to him. Do you mean to tell me you are jealous? Alice said nothing—could say nothing, in fact. After all, what had she to be jealous of? David was at the farm; his duties lay there; Lois might really have gone for a walk—and even if she had gone with David, that signified nothing.

CHAPTER 25. Mrs. Fairbanks, sensitive to a superlative degree as are most invalids, spent the next few days in bed. Alice, thinking her mother needed to be quiet and away from everyone, moved her upstairs to her room, and herself slept in the little living-room. This little downstairs room was ordinarily Mrs. Fairbanks' favorite spot. Such life as they had passed thru it, and here she was in touch with household affairs and convenient for neighbors' visits. But this sudden change in condition made it desirable to keep her away from everything.

There was a light step on the porch, and looking up, Alice saw Clara coming in. She was profoundly grateful for the interruption. "How's your mother?" Clara asked. "I heard she was ill again and came to see her. I brought along some sewing." She unrolled a beautiful scarf she was making and settled herself to talk.

They chatted of various things for an hour; then, girl-like, drifted into talk of boys and love affairs. "Were you ever jealous?" Alice asked. "Yes, often. Remember Eddie Howe? I used to be mad about him, and when that little Lipton girl came along and took him away from me I was most awfully jealous," Clara confessed, frankly.

"It's the worst feeling in the world, isn't it?" sympathized Alice. "It is, and it's such an unworthy feeling, and such a hopeless one," Clara philosophized. Then, pursuing the line of thought that Alice had suggested, she asked, presently: "What made you say that? You've never been jealous. You never even looked at a man until you met David."

And you're engaged to him. Do you mean to tell me you are jealous? Alice said nothing—could say nothing, in fact. After all, what had she to be jealous of? David was at the farm; his duties lay there; Lois might really have gone for a walk—and even if she had gone with David, that signified nothing.

MOTORS STRONG IN NEW YORK MARKET

Metals, Food Shares and Certain Specialties Also Prominent in Upturn.

New York, March 8.—Business on the stock exchange today witnessed an upturn, with many of the leading specialties showing gains. The uptick in the market was due to a combination of factors, including a general recovery in the economy and a renewed interest in the automobile industry.

The automobile market was particularly strong, with shares of major manufacturers like General Motors and Ford showing significant gains. Investors were optimistic about the prospects for the industry, citing strong demand and the potential for further expansion.

In addition to automobiles, other sectors like metals and food shares also showed signs of recovery. The price of gold and silver rose, reflecting a renewed confidence in the precious metals market. Food stocks, particularly those of major processors, also saw gains, likely due to concerns about supply and demand.

Overall, the market was characterized by a sense of optimism and a general upward trend. While some volatility remained, the overall sentiment was positive, with many investors looking for long-term growth opportunities.

MINING CALLS FOR EFFICIENT METHODS

Management of Herrick Ensures That Property Will Have Fullest Opportunity.

In these later days we use Hydro-Electric power, improved machinery, cyanide of potassium and other chemicals in the gold mining industry. We have learned something as to ore deposits, the methods of their occurrence and how to develop a property. But all this knowledge amounts to nothing unless it is put into the hands of the man who is managing the property, and thus the question of management and the knowledge of the particular manager become very important.

A mine should be run with the same care and skill as any other business. Efficiency and economy mean reduced costs and increased profits.

Then the size and position of the ore body exploited has much to do with profits. There must be quantity as well as quality. No one is so rich in the ore, if the quantity is insufficient to meet all expenses of mining, as to leave a surplus for dividends. A mine is not necessarily profitable if it is almost a truism to say that the big output of gold comes from the big ore bodies. Gold does not occur in such large quantities in the iron or copper. Three feet is the average width of gold-bearing veins. Five feet is large, and in fact the great "reef" in the Rand is barely five feet thick. Porcupine and West Shining Creeks in the southern extension are noted for large ore bodies. On the Herrick gold mines owning 275 acres in the camp, there is one ore shoot proved to a depth of 300 feet. The ore body is 10 feet wide on the surface by 22 feet wide at the 800-foot level. When an ore body is wider than the workings which are necessary to remove it means a great saving in expense. A very narrow vein involves large amounts of country rock simply because the drifts and cross-cuts must be large enough to admit of free passage for ore cars and miners.

Compact and Continuous.

Another point greatly in favor of the Herrick is the fact that the large compact continuous ore body. This has been established by diamond drilling. When faults or displacements occur it is sometimes difficult to find the continuation of the ore and this necessarily adds to the cost of development.

From the beginning the management of the Herrick has been not only efficient but economical. The preliminary shaft sinking revealed an ore body so regular and symmetrical it became very apparent that it could be satisfactorily tested by diamond drilling, a much cheaper process than shaft sinking. The drill was then employed and now the company know that they have in this part of their property an ore shoot that will be profitable for a long time. It is likely that before the end of the year the erection of large modern reduction machinery will have to be considered. Efficiency pays. Big ore bodies give results. Porcupine has produced 81 per cent of the gold of Ontario, because the ore occurs in quantity, but they are not nearly as rich as some of the ores at Kirkland Lake.

NEW HIGH-GRADE VEIN FOUND IN UNIVERSITY

A Cobalt vein to Howard Graham & Co. on Saturday, said: Another inch and a half high-grade vein was encountered at the University body every day, installing additional hoisting facilities, constructing a load-haul station and preparing equipment for the start of ore before shipment to the mill. They have asked for additional stamps at northern customs contractor, now treating 150 tons of La Rose ore per day.

Mill heads from University ore are expected to be the highest in Cobalt camp and rich in the ore body. A tremendous increase in production is assured.

HUDSON BAY IS STILL BACKING DOME LAKE

A Cobalt wire Saturday to Howard Graham & Co. said: Reports that Hudson Bay had withdrawn support from the Dome Lake are officially denied by both companies. Unbroken development work has been going on during the time the mill was closed, running thirty tons per day. Next annual report of Hudson Bay will be out this month, showing an operating deficit totaling over $300,000.

RESULTS IN GOWGANDA

Cobalt, March 6.—The Trettheway management are taking on carpenters and miners at Gowganda as fast as they can get them and speeding up development and construction work at the Castle. The vein continued of excellent width, and very high grade in their drift at the 108-foot level, and high grade is being bagged right along. They expect to cut the new vein with any amount of shots.

THOMPSONITE LIKED BY MINE MANAGERS

The Thompson Powder Company of Deseronto, which will manufacture the new explosive, Thompsonite, is disposing of a small amount of its capital stock at $10 a share. Many and important advantages are claimed for Thompsonite, and tests made in the important mines of Cobalt and Porcupine have resulted in excellent recommendations from the mine managers. Thompsonite is non-freezing, waterproof, and its use avoids the tedious delays from gas, in other explosives. The company's office is at 206 Dominion Bank building.

FRESH ADVANCE IN CORN PRICES

Chicago, March 6.—Sharp new upturn in the value of corn took place today, largely as a result of proposed huge flour sales to Europe on credit. The market closed strong, 2 1/2c to 3 1/2c net. July 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c. Out gained 3/4c to 1 1/4c. In provisions, the outcome was a setback of 7/8c to 1c.

Commission houses were persistent buyers, and there was no one selling other than from long receipts here totaled only 100,000 bushels. Director Barnes that flour sales to Europe to the extent of $50,000,000 would not even the congress did not authorize a loan to finance the drop of five points in sterling led to a little hesitancy in the corn market at the opening, but then was quickly lost sight of.

 The outstanding feature of Saturday's trade at the St. Lawrence farmers' market on Saturday was the slump in egg values, while all other kinds of farm produce was a slow trade.

The attendance of buyers was not so large as usual, which partly accounted for the weakness in most lines.

Dominion Cannery Sells Up Two Points—Black Lake Advances Again.

Crippled wire service between New York and Toronto did not tend toward activity on the Toronto Exchange on Saturday morning. Dominion Cannery, in which transactions reached 2 1/2 shares, was the only member of the listed group in which dealings crossed the hundred-share mark. In the unlisted section Black Lake issues enjoyed practically a monopoly of the trading. Black Lake common attained a high point for the movement and for the year to date at 12, the closing sale being at 11 1/2, a net gain of 1/2. The final bid amounted to 12 with 1/2 asked. The preferred stock at 2 1/2 was up 1/2. The first transactions in the company's bonds in several days were between 4 1/2 and 4 3/4, showing a net decline of 2 points.

WAGES INCREASED IN KIRKLAND LAKE

Mine Managers Make Concession Voluntarily—Hollinger Shows a Fair Recovery

Hollinger's fair recovery, Wasapika's fresh advance and strength in Lake Shore and Kirkland Lake were features on the constructive side in the mining market on Saturday. Hollinger, for which only $6.40 was bid at the close on Friday, came out at this figure on Saturday morning, but the closing bid rose 7 points to $6.47, with no stock on offer under $6.47. Wasapika, which has been responding for some days to reports that financial arrangements were under way which would permit operations to be carried on at a larger scale, advanced another point to 22 1/2. Wasapika has nearly doubled in price in the past week or ten days, and bullish sentiment has been given new life.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Coleman and Reitzel, New York, say: The treasury department and a prominent New York international bank insist that there is no necessity for restrictions on gold exports; that present shipments are the "evidence of a return of international confidence in our normal business." In one year we have lost more than $350,000,000 gold, shipments for the past two months have averaged $100,000,000 yearly. Federal reserve ratio of gold reserves against liabilities has fallen to 35 per cent. The great world problem is the gigantic war debt, the insupportable task of trying to place some backing behind seventy billion paper money. The country will struggle to create and maintain values for their separate money, but practically only one country possesses the gold to back up its money.

CANADA NEEDS MORE GOLD

The disturbing exchange situation brings us sharply the need of mining more Canadian gold. More manufacturing, more exports are vital, necessary, by which we can scarcely export enough to offset U. S. imports. We urgently require larger gold production.
