

CROSSBY HOME AT HEBRON WRECKED IN MIDST OF DANCE

Yarmouth, N. S., Aug. 7.—Knowles E. Crosby, Conservative candidate in 1911, his son Alban and a guest, F. Bourneff Lovitt, of Yarmouth, were badly hurt in an explosion and fire which destroyed Knowles Crosby's beautiful home in Hebron last night.

A dance was being given in honor of his daughter. In the midst of a waltz the lighting plant exploded, wrecking the house and throwing the dancers in all directions. Flames broke out and Mr. Crosby and son were caught and badly burned. The top of Mr. Crosby's head was badly burned.

Lovitt and Harry Dain, a Hebron fireman, were on the roof adjoining when the chimney fell, carrying them to the ground and crushing Lovitt's arm. The loss will reach $8,000 with insurance of $1,500. Mr. Crosby is the head of the H. H. Crosby Co., Ltd., boot and shoe manufacturers.

EXTRAVAGANT DRESS In No Other Country Than States Do Women Buy So Far Beyond Their Means

Women—and also their husbands—suffer from feminine slavery to fashions that other women wear. We need clothes. We need useful clothes for comfort. We need beautiful clothes to develop and satisfy our love of beauty. But we need to learn how to select clothes that are reasonable in price and that do not require much time to put on and take off, and that can be worn acceptably as long as the material lasts.

American women are more extravagant in the matter of dress than women anywhere else in the world. The "ultra-stylish" fashions of other countries are worn only by comparatively few women, and the majority do not trouble their heads about them.

In this country we see other people far too much. American women seem to lack strength of mind enough to buy what they can afford. They buy what they think that somebody else will think is the proper thing to have.

Some of the men in America are trying to help us women. They are turning out good values in moderate priced street clothes, such as the women of no other country can find unless they come to America. But instead of simplifying our wardrobes by making more use of seasonable, sensible, good-looking, economical tailored suits, and less of other styles, we have merely added to our already overcrowded wardrobes—Good Health.

"Before my marriage I told her all my past life. Don't you think I showed a wonderful courage?" "Yes, and a still more wonderful memory."

Good vision is important to the young at play or at school. Good vision is important to the youth seeking employment. Good vision is a source of comfort to the aged. Good vision is essential to health, happiness and general well-being.

If you have it, take such care of your eyes as will prolong it. If you haven't it, GET IT IF YOU CAN. We are here to help you.

REFUSE $2 A WEEK TO SUPPORT MOTHER

Boston, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Mary Dwyer of Attleboro and her sister, Mrs. Nellie Carney, of 240 West 2nd street, South Boston, insisted in the South Boston court that they would not give toward the support of their aged mother, Mrs. Rose Garland, more than $1 a week. When Judge Logan endeavored to dispose of the case by urging the women each to pay $2 toward the support of their mother they refused.

"I refuse, too," said Mrs. Carney. "Yes, I own two houses and I have money," said Mrs. Dwyer, quite decidedly, "but I won't pay more than $1 a week for her."

According to law you are both obliged to help your mother, said Judge Logan. "You are guilty for not willing to give me before now the money to give you a chance, however and if you will each promise to pay $2 a week toward the support of your mother, I will dispose of the case so that you may go free and hereafter look after your mother as you ought to do."

"I refuse, too," said Mrs. Dwyer. "I refuse, too," said Mrs. Carney. Judge Logan then sentenced them to the House of Correction for one month and they appealed.

CARS FOR FOREIGN MARKET TO BE BUILT IN CANADA

Walkerville, Aug 5—Canada's automobile industry will develop a decided impetus through the decision of the Studebaker Corporation, just announced, to build all its cars for the foreign market in the Canadian factory in Walkerville.

This decision means the employment of several hundred skilled workmen and the operation of the Canadian plant to full capacity during the entire year.

Hitherto Studebaker cars for the foreign trade have been built in Detroit, but an investigation proved that this branch of the business could be carried on more economically and efficiently from Canada, and as a result, the output of the Studebaker factory in this town will be multiplied several times.

Already work has started on fitting up the Canadian plant to meet the increased demand, and in a short time upwards of 800 men will be employed. New and modern machinery is being placed in position, traveling cranes and air compressors installed, rubber decks and finishing rooms built and railway sidings rearranged and increased.

The foreign market consumes from twelve to fifteen per cent. of the Studebaker output, and highly successful agencies are maintained in practically every country in Europe, in South America, South Africa, Australia, China, and Japan. While the war has interfered with exports in certain countries, Studebaker sales in all parts of the British Empire, South America and the Far East show a healthy increase.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional medicine. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is closed, deafness is the result. Hearing will be restored forever, and you will be cured by the use of the "Cure for Deafness," which is a scientific preparation of the most powerful medicines, and is guaranteed to cure deafness. Write for particulars to "Cure for Deafness," 67 Hill's Corners, Canada. Send for circulars, free.

PLAYGROUND WORK

The executive of the Playgrounds Association met last night at the Y. M. C. A., Walter C. Allison in the chair, when reports of Supt. Howard, for the supervised playgrounds and the boys' work, and of Miss PHU, Miss Hoyt and Miss Heffer, for the Girls' Club and the Travellers' Aid, for the months of June and July, were submitted. These showed that the whole of the work was being carried on successfully. The attendance at the playgrounds this year was reported to be larger than it was last year and despite the more limited means at their disposal the teachers and supervisors are doing splendid work.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 7, 1915.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Cassebury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE VOICE OF MANITOBA

By an overwhelming majority the people of Manitoba have declared against the grafters. The attempt of the tory machine to organize under the leadership of Sir James Aikins, and get control of the public treasury once more, was not only defeated, but Sir James himself went down to defeat, a very proper fate for any man who would consent to play for any man who would consent to play in Manitoba and attempt to throw around their political deeds the mantle of honesty and respectability.

education is one great cause of unemployment. Well done, Manitoba. But watch New Brunswick when the time comes. The week closes with negotiations which may mean the early entry of the Balkan states into the war on the side of the Allies. When is the fine armory in St. John to be made once more a centre of military activity? Who is responsible for its idleness at a time when the development of the military spirit is the great need?

Are all the young men who are staying home from the war contributing to the machine gun and other funds to help the other young men who are doing the actual fighting? It is a personal matter and also a plain duty. The Germans have got Warsaw and Lvovgorod, and nearly the whole line of the Vistula River, but they have not got the Russian armies, which must be decisively defeated before Germany can hope to be able to transfer large armies to the western front.

An American doctor tells of a rich French merchant who had one of his sons killed on the German border and the other at the Dardanelles, but who at seventy years of age is himself eager to be given a place at the front. This man typifies the spirit of the French nation. The Kennebec Journal says that if the conditions in central Maine are duplicated all over the state there will be a loss of $7,000,000 in the hay crop, compared with a good year, while the apple crop, which should yield $1,500,000, will probably not be worth more than $250,000. Potatoes and oats promise a large yield.

The Halifax Echo says that the number of deaths from tuberculosis in Halifax has in recent years declined from 180 to between 80 and 100, and in the whole province from about 800 to 600, as a result of education and the work of the sanatoria. This news will encourage every worker for improved conditions and a more vigorous fight against the white plague. President Lively makes a strong defence of the council of the board of trade in his letter to the Times, which is published today. He says the apathy is not to be found there. The fact remains, however, that there is need of a popular agitation to insist upon full information about the Valley Railway and the National Transcontinental, and there are many who think the board of trade should take the lead. The question involves the future of the port, and the citizens need to be aroused to a full sense of the seriousness of the situation.

HIS FATHER'S RIFLE BESIDE DEAD BODY

Story of Jungle at Gem Next Week—Good Show Today—News of New Bills. A big three act special feature released recently by the Sells Co., is the bill announced for presentation at the Gem Theatre for Monday and Tuesday next, a story entitled "His Father's Rifle." It deals with the romance of a young man in the jungle wherein his servant kills a man with a rifle marked with the initials of our hero's father. Naturally the blame falls upon him, since the rifle is found nearby the body and it is a serious situation. The scenes of the story are laid in a jungle wilderness and it is most capably enacted, with stirring love touches.

THE PALACE THEATRE OPENS TONIGHT

The citizens of the North End can now boast of its new theatre which is the second for that section of the city. The Temple Hall has been remodelled and transformed into an up-to-date picture theatre. It has many good points in its favor, plenty of exits, good ventilation and the proper equipment for picture projection. The picture machine is of the latest style and the operating room resembles a bank vault, and in fact it is just about as fire proof. It is constructed of reinforced concrete and all apertures covered with heavy steel slides which can be closed immediately in case of fire, thereby cutting out all danger from the audience. The projection is in charge of Mr. Prince, a well-known motion picture operator, who supervised the installation of the equipment and will endeavor to fulfill his assertion that the picture show will be bright as day and clear as a bell and with the assistance of the manager, J. T. Vincent, a well-known resident of North End, endeavor to uphold the standard of good, clean entertainment.

The collection taken up by the Daughters of the Empire in King Square and at the theatres on Wednesday evening, amounted to $800. All Chapters of the Daughters of the Empire will meet on Monday at 8 p. m. at the Girls' Club rooms.

MORNING NOTES OF THE WAR. The Canadian community in England yesterday tendered a luncheon to Sir R. L. Borden. Another romance of war is made known in the announcement that Frederick soldier, Corporal Harold Hatheway, is engaged to Miss Constance Smith of London, England, who nursed him during his illness after wounds. He will be unable to return to the front, so the belief is that they will be married soon and come to New Brunswick to live. "Jack's Wife" was given by Woodstock amateurs last night in aid of the Red Cross Society, under the direction of T. H. Bird. It was a successful presentation. The British steamer Midland Queen which left Sydney, N.S., on July 21 for Glasgow, was sunk on last Tuesday. The officers and crew with the chief officer's wife and child were rescued after 72 hours in open boats. Dr. H. A. Jones of Salisbury, N. B., has been accepted for military service overseas. Lieut. Col. S. H. McKee, formerly of Fredericton, has command of No. 1 Canadian Stationary Hospital, gone to the Dardanelles. Later word from Dr. J. H. MacDonald formerly of St. John, who left as chaplain to the D. A. C., is that he is not certain as to whether or not he is going to the Dardanelles. Rev. Dr. Burke, L. D., of Toronto, president and founder of the Catholic Church Extension Society, is soon to go to the front as an army chaplain. He is well known in St. John. A stick of dynamite was found aboard the steamer Arabic, at the time she sailed for England. The steamer reached Liverpool yesterday. An Italian dirigible was lost yesterday and its crew taken prisoners by the Austrians, after an attempt to break the Austrian fortress of Pola. At Novo Georgievsk, a strongly fortified center it is believed the Russians will make a stand against the Germans. A happy reunion is taking place today at the home of J. Titus Barnes, at Studholm. Among those present are relatives and friends from New York, Boston, Edinonton and other places.

At a meeting of residents of East St. John last evening at the residence of H. B. A White Rug made Black— with Mosquitoes

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from the wife of an army officer in India: "Our home was simply awarming with millions of mosquitoes last hot weather, and after burning a handful, or tin, of the powder on an open stove and shutting up the entire room, thousands literally fell down on the floors and tables. In the drawing room alone we had a white felt rug which became black in a few hours, the insects by hundreds laying dead on it."

To separate the yolk of an egg from the white make a hole in both ends of the egg. Then hold it upright, giving it a gentle shake, and the white will run out, leaving the yolk unbroken in the shell.

The experts are unanimous in their opinion that one free from any appearance of artificiality obtain an entire new complexion with your own hands and try to remove wrinkles, blemishes, freckles or two, washing it off morning and evening. Apply liberally. Disinfect 40c. powdered exfoliant in 1/2 pt. which acts as a wash lotion.

CONSTIPATIONS

Read This— It must be remembered that the bowels should move freely once a day to ensure perfect health.

It is not the case the poisonous waste material is absorbed into the system, thus producing a self-poisoning. The causes of Constipation are many and varied. Abnormalities of the bowels may be mentioned here stomach distention, a deficiency of bile in the intestines, a lack of secretion in the bowels, and a want of the natural muscular contraction of the intestines from above downward.

Abby's Effervescent Salt, sold everywhere at 25c and 50c, stimulates and restores the stomach, increases the flow of bile into the intestines, causes a flow from the intestinal glands, and restores the natural downward action of the intestines, rendering it easy to secure a free action of the bowels, which is one of the most important requisites to health.

VICTORY OF ED. HANLON OVER WALLACE ROSS

A Stirring Story of Old Time Sporting Days

ST. JOHN GREATLY EXCITED

First Reports Here Gave Ross as Winner and There Was Jubilation—Accounts of the Contest of Sturdy Oarsmen

The following is a detailed account of the great race between Wallace Ross, of this city, and Edward Hanlon of Toronto, for the professional sculling championship of the world. The race, which was held at Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 18, 1877, was won by Hanlon. The particulars follow as reported in the Daily Telegraph of the time.

Ogdensburg, July 18.—The result of today's race will leave no doubt in anyone's mind that Hanlon possesses an undisputed right to the title of the world's aquatic champion, a title which has been in dispute for some time, as many were disposed to think the stout New Brunswick sculler could show him the way over any course. Hanlon's wonderful succession of victories this year, beginning with that with Kennedy at Point of Pine, and his subsequent triumphs at Pullman and Lowell, at both of which places he defeated the leading scullers of America and lowered the record in each instance, gave his friends increased confidence in his abilities, and notwithstanding the acknowledged prowess of Ross, they were prepared to back and did back the champion at great odds. Ross's reputation was, in some respects, equal to that of his famous rival, as he had defeated all the best oarsmen in England, and nearly everybody else of note, not even excepting Hanlon. The fact that he had won every body else of note, not even excepting Hanlon, was a guarantee that he had faith in himself and was determined to spare no effort to win the coveted championship.

An Immense Crowd

An immense crowd gathered here today to witness the race. For several days past strangers have been flocking into the city from all directions, and fully ten thousand visitors must have been present by noon, who, with the throng of people from this city, made a vast and deeply interested assemblage. Late trains last night brought hundreds who in vain sought accommodation at the already crowded hotels of Prescott, as well as those of this city, and had to make shift as best they could for some place to rest during the night. The interest in the dying reports that had gone abroad as to difficulties having arisen over the choice of a judge by Ross, who insisted on Courtney, which was everything but satisfactory to Hanlon. It seemed at first that there would be no race, and when it was reported that the champion and Courtney had quarrelled, and the former had been more forcible than polite in his references to the latter, a great many of those present thought that a reconciliation was impossible. Opinions were freely expressed that Hanlon was unreasonable in his objections, and not a few persons attributed them to cowardice or an uncalculated suspicion that Courtney would secure Ross some unfair advantage.

The Difficulty was Bridged Over

At last by Hanlon doing as he ought to have done at first, that in accepting the selection of his adversary and crediting others with the same disposition to act fairly as he claimed for himself. The announcement of peace did not remove all the anxiety under which the visitors were laboring. The morning had dawned inauspiciously. The sky was dark and lowering and a strong breeze blew straight up the course, making the water altogether too lumpy for frail shells. Many anxious looks were cast upon the broad St. Lawrence by the oarsmen and their friends. The headquarters of the men were the centres of attraction and were besieged by visitors seeking to catch a glimpse of the two great Canadian oarsmen who were soon to meet and, before the eyes of two continents, contend for the highest honors in the aquatic field. The excursionists who came by rail were not the only ones present, but a whole fleet of steam craft of all sizes and patterns, from the large and unwieldy iron steamers to light and graceful yachts, passed up and down the stream. Finally taking a position near the starting buoys, while a boat of lesser craft threaded their way in and out of the mass of vessels. As the time wore on and the water showed no signs of improvement, the crowd became impatient and wended their way to the wharves and other points favorable to observation. At three o'clock tators ashore was supplemented by those aloft, who seemed to take a fierce delight in the unearthly shrieks of steam whistles and every other noise which their ingenuity could suggest. About six o'clock the referee went over the course a second time in his boat, and on his return notified the scullers to come to the starting line.

Both men appeared on the course after they had been signalled to the and came into line about 6.30. Ross won the toss and chose the outside position. Hanlon wore his colors, a red cap and blue shirt, and Ross was in white. The disparity in the size of the men was noticeable, Ross being much the larger and heavier. Both men rowed in shells built in Boston, which they had used in other races this season. John E. Rustis, of the Atlanta Boat Club of New York, was referee; John H. Davis, judge for Hanlon, and C. E. Courtney, judge for Ross. It was just 6.50 o'clock when the word "Go" was given. The water was in fair rowing condition, but could not be considered fast. Both men caught the water together and rowed along almost even of the quarter. Hanlon's bow tip being a few feet ahead. Hanlon made the first half mile in 8 minutes and 15 seconds, and was evidently slowly, but surely forging ahead of the St. John man. The stroke, which was 22 for Hanlon and 30 for Ross, was lowered to 29 and 28 at the three-quarters, at which point Hanlon had nearly a length of a lead. Hanlon made the first mile in 7 minutes and 2 seconds and was a length and clear water ahead at that point. The mile and a half was made by him in 10 minutes and 58 seconds, with over three lengths to the good, about here Hanlon stopped for a second and then skinned along swiftly to the turn.

Increasing His Lead at Every Stroke

Both rowed about 28 up to the turning point. Hanlon took seven seconds to make a very pretty turn, while Ross took about 24 seconds to get around his buoy. Hanlon made the two miles in 14 minutes, 18 seconds, Ross taking 14 minutes 51 seconds to cover the distance. The return trip was a mere procession. When Ross finally straightened out Hanlon was very nearly an eighth of a mile ahead. Hanlon's rowing was a steady, unflinching effort, and his referee's boat to come nearer, that he was getting lonesome. Hanlon made the two miles in 17 minutes and 17 seconds, and allowed up at the flag to take a drink. He covered the three miles in 20 minutes 28 seconds and rowed on with an easy stroke of 28; gaining constantly. At the point Ross appeared to be a trifle pumped, while Hanlon was as fresh as a daisy. The fourth mile was made in a repetition of the third. Hanlon made three and a half miles in 26 minutes, 38 seconds and slipped the buoy a mile in the quick time of 37 minutes 1-9 seconds. Ross's time was 28 minutes 46 seconds.

Another Account

Prescott, Ont. July 18. Contrary to general expectation, Referee Rustis called out the oarsmen about half past six, the water at the time was in a rather rough condition. The vast assemblage on the shore in boats and at every point of vantage, who had been waiting in great anxiety throughout the afternoon, at once had their spirits enlivened, and a general rush was made for the grand stand. The sky overhead was gloomy looking, being covered with fast moving wind clouds. The referee went over the course at 6.30 and returned to Hanlon's headquarters reported the condition of affairs. The champion expressed his willingness to row. Ross was next visited and he also agreed with both oarsmen started out from their boat houses to the starting point amid great excitement; the oarsmen on the river whistling at a lively rate. At 6.55 the word "Go" was given. Hanlon at once forged ahead being pushed very hard by his opponent. A big effort was made by both men to gain the lead, but when the quarter mile flag was reached Hanlon still retained his lead, Ross being nearly a both length in the rear. Hanlon's stroke for the first quarter was 30 to the minute and Ross' a few less. After passing the quarter Ross settled down and gained a little, but Hanlon kept his sharp powerful stroke doing his work beautifully. The half mile flag was reached first by the champion. Ross was reached first by the champion. Ross was reached first by the champion. Ross was reached first by the champion.

pull of 32. Hanlon led Ross across this flag and gained perceptibly. Ross again spurred and only half a length divided them when they passed the first mile; Time 7.07. The race was most exciting. Cheers after cheer for the two men floated over the water, while along the shore and on the grand stand innumerable handkerchiefs were waved.

After the first mile the distance between the men was gradually widened until Hanlon was five or six lengths ahead. Ross struggled hard, but failed to close the gap much. Hanlon stored for the shore and after passing the first quarter of the second mile, had a nice sheet of water to aid him. Ross maintained a straight course, being thus compelled to battle with a pretty stiff breeze. This hindered his progress considerably and he fell far behind Hanlon. At the first half of the second mile Hanlon was pulling a beautifully steady stroke of 30 to the minute, time 10.58. Now followed the dash for the turning buoys, both men taxing their muscles to the utmost to make a good turn. Hanlon steadily increased his lead, and in seven seconds. Ross did not reach his buoy for fully 80 seconds after Hanlon. Hanlon took him 94 seconds to get around. The time for the two miles was Hanlon 14m. 12 1-2s; Ross 14m. 51s. The champion now straightened out and started for the finish. He crossed the course, taking Ross' side towards the buoys and returning to the stream. From the first quarter at the third mile it was plainly noticeable that Hanlon had everything his own way.

Ross pulled pluckily on starting down the course, but his long stroke did not seem as effective as when going up the course. He appeared to have greatly weakened, but pulled 90 to the minute. The time at the second quarter of the third mile was Hanlon 17m. 24s; Ross 18m. 15s. As the oarsmen neared the course of stationed boats and the grand stand the excitement ran high. As Hanlon rowed past the press boat he took a handful of water and drinking it he wished his applauding friends on the shore a very good health. A loud cheer went up when the spectators saw him take the drink. Ross pulled down at the rate of 28. Hanlon took it easy pulling 28 and gradually increased his lead, crossing the third mile flag in 20m. 58s. As to the finish the boy in blue was in the midst of the fleet of crafts of all description pulling along with a pleasant smile on his face. Hanlon spurred for a short distance and passed the winning post amid unbounded excitement. The official time for the fourth mile was Hanlon 27m. 57 1/2s; Ross 28m., 46s.

(Associated Press Report)

Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 18.—The Hanlon-Ross race was started by the referee, John E. Rustis of New York, at 6.50, after many had departed for the race on account of the high winds which prevailed all day. Ross won the choice of positions, and started at the outside of the course, explaining that he was afraid that small boats would interfere with him in the inside position.

Hanlon Led Off Easily

and kept a length ahead for the first mile, rowing thirty-one strokes to Ross' thirty. At the mile and three quarters flag Hanlon stopped rowing. On starting again, he pulled twenty-nine strokes to Ross' twenty-eight, and was soon three lengths ahead. Hanlon made the turn twelve lengths ahead of Ross. On the third mile Hanlon slowed up and took a drink of water. In response to cheers from the grand stand, Hanlon cried out, "It's lonesome out here." Ross appeared blown at this time, and George Lee pulled alongside Hanlon was fully a quarter of a mile ahead, making the fastest time on record for the distance with a turn. The previous fastest four miles and turn record was made by Miles F. Davis, of Portland, Me., against Patsy Regan, at Silver Lake, Mass., Oct. 8th 1878, his time being 26m. 5 1/2 sec.

The Officials of the Race.

John Davis of Toronto, was judge for Hanlon and Charles E. Courtney for Ross. Hanlon asked as a favor that Ross choose some other Judge, but he declined to do so. The judges at the time were T. R. Metcalf for Hanlon and J. W. Firth for Ross; the official judge was W. H. Murphy; the time-keeper was F. W. Metcalf of Auburn and A. G. McVey of Boston. Col. Metcalf was official judge at the finish.

The official signals were wrongly given for the same reason.

Speech of the Victorious Sculler.

As Hanlon drew up to the referee's boat and heard the official announcement he exclaimed, pointing to Courtney: "Send out that big fellow and I'll make an exhibition of him." Hanlon then rowed over to Ross and shook hands with him.

The Associated Press time-keeper made Hanlon's time 27m. 57 1/2s; Ross 28m. 46s. Courtney made Hanlon's time 27m. 28s. Hanlon says the Associated Press time is correct.

Hanlon was introduced to a large crowd in front of his headquarters. He made a brief speech, saying that he had rowed to win and did the best he could, as he had always done, and felt proud of having made the best four-mile time on record.

Pools averaged four to one on Hanlon throughout the day. The race was an easy victory for Hanlon.

Nothing is heard of a challenge from Courtney.

The water was quite rough, and at times the swell from the police boat was shed over Hanlon's boat, causing a loss of 50 seconds.

The race was admirably managed throughout, and the crowd, which were half Canadian, behaved excellently.

THE FEELING IN THE CITY

That St. John has not lost interest in boat racing—at least when one of her own oarsmen is contending for the championship of the world—was very evident yesterday. Shortly after three o'clock men began to gather at the foot of King street, and as the various bulletins were kindly issued by the Western Union offices, the scanty news was eagerly discussed. There seemed to be a growing feeling of confidence in Ross, and when the report came that Hanlon had declared he would not row if Courtney was to be Ross' judge, the opinion was quite general that he was only looking for an excuse to avoid meeting his rival. An evening drew on the crowd grew denser, and about 7.30, when word came that the men had started, hundreds were waiting eagerly for the first report.

After a time news came that Ross had won by four lengths, in the unprecedented time of 29.58. The scene on the streets when this was announced, but description. The mass of people, which by this time had been increased hundreds, cheered to the echo, and a ed up King street in a state of the excitement. Knots of men collected every corner and gazed over the tory of the St. John man. At the lity the victory of Ross was announ from the platform amid rounds of plause from the audience. Flags y thrown to the breeze in one or localities, and every one began to of the reception which awaited the champion. In the midst of the excitement there came a message to th saying that Hanlon had won. W this was told out it was near credited; but scores of anxious inq found their way to the counting r only to have their fears confir Meanwhile the News, with conr able enterprise, had issued a fourth giving the account of Ross' vic which was eagerly bought up. W the correction got on the street inq were many as to how the mistake cured, and many persons loudly c plained of the Western Union offe but they were entirely free from reas sibility in the matter.

How the Mistake Occurred

A despatch to T. M. Robinson, m ger of the Western Union office i from Montreal, says—Ogdensburg plains the mistake as follows:—T was an error in reporting the r of the Hanlon-Ross race, owing to o mistaken signals being given f the signal boat. The course was tween two lines of boats at the lin Hanlon came down outside the fir boats and was not observed by five men at the signals. Sculler f lowered Ross down the regular ou and Lee was taken for Hanlon. H the mistake in the first report.

BOARD OF TRADE HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN THE RAILWAY MATTER

Letter From President J. A. Likely Relative to the Transcontinental Railway

To the Editor of the Times:—

Sir:—In the Times of last evening, the statement was made in the editorial columns that the Board of Trade seemed to be apathetic, so far as Transcontinental matters was concerned. The opinion does not seem to be at all just.

The board of trade has been very much alive on this important subject, so much so that some of its members have been accused of being actuated by partisan motives.

Ever since the destruction of the I. C. R. grain elevator, twelve months ago, the board has been appealing to the railway department, either through Mr. Gutelius, or through Hon. Mr. Cochrane, to have it rebuilt.

When the Quebec board of trade asked the St. John board to stand behind it in its appeal to the government for a special rate on export grain that would attract shipments to maritime provinces this board not only agreed to do so, but wired the Quebec board that if necessary a delegation would be sent to Ottawa at the board's expense to support its appeal.

When it was stated in the local press that the work on Courtenay Bay—the proposed Transcontinental harbor—was stopped, a telegraphic protest was promptly sent to our representative at Ottawa and a satisfactory assurance received from him in reply.

The council of the board secured the opinion of a leading provincial engineer with respect to alternative routes to St. John.

On at least three occasions, a special committee of the board waited upon the local government with respect to the bridge crossings on the St. John river, urging that complete surveys and data with respect to the several sites suggested, should be procured and a start made on the bridges as speedily as possible.

More recently strong resolutions, approved by the full board, were sent to the Ottawa and Fredericton governments with respect to the Transcontinental situation.

Conferences have been obtained with Hon. Mr. Hazen, Hon. Mr. Clarke, the provincial premier; Hon. Attorney General Baxter; Hon. Frank Cochrane and Mr. F. P. Gutelius for the purpose of ascertaining their views and the reasons for delay, and urging the prosecution of the enterprise. The co-operation of the city council has also been requested in this connection.

In view of all this patient and determined effort to improve the Transcontinental situation and hasten connection with this port, does it not seem a little unfair to the board of trade that it should be accused of apathy? Apathy there may be, but it is not the board of trade that is the guilty party.

Yours truly,
J. A. LIKELY,
President Board of Trade.

HAD BEEN SIXTY THREE YEARS AN ORANGEMAN

Isaac W. Pitt of Greenwich Dead at Age of Eighty Three

The death of a lifelong resident of Greenwich, N. B., occurred this morning when Isaac W. Pitt passed away at his home there after a short illness, aged eighty-three years. He was one of the oldest members of the Orange order in Eastern Canada, having been on its roll for sixty-three years. He belonged to Royal Scots Chapter, King's West, and was an honorary member of the grand lodge of the province.

Mr. Pitt, who was of Loyalist descent, was well known about St. John. He was engaged in farming at Greenwich all his life. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Wilmet, engineer on the steamer "May Queen," and Frederick, residing in St. John, and three daughters, Mrs. F. E. H. McKel of Greenwich; Mrs. Worden of St. John, and Miss Minto at home. The funeral will be held on Monday at 3 p.m., from his late home, with interment at Brown's Plains.

THE ONONETTE FAIR

With the continuance of fine weather today there is every reason to expect very large crowds at the patriotic fair on the grounds of Mrs. O. H. Warwick at Ononette. The lighting plant at the grounds was tried last night, and worked with excellent success. The decorations with the special lighting effects are attractive.

All the attractions along the "pike," the various games and booths about the grounds, the refreshment and supper centres are in readiness for the big event, while a supply of tempting, delicious home-made pies, stacked seven feet high, is awaiting disposal to different bidders. The St. Mary's band will give a good programme of music. In fact, nothing within reason has been left undone to make the affair a success, and a real, old-fashioned, good time is guaranteed all who attend.

A Race of Athletes

Surely we are becoming an athletic people.

Look at the tennis courts, the golf links, the ball grounds on every side and consider how few there were ten years ago.

It is a healthy sign of the times. It means greater things ahead—with stronger men and women to do the world's work.

These sports have, of course, developed specialized breeds in dress and equipment, but they are needs easily supplied.

A glance through the advertising columns of the Telegraph and Times will nine times out of ten answer the questions of the athletic man or woman.

HAS CHARGE OF ALL THE MAIL AT BIG CAMP IN ENGLAND

Times' Correspondent Sends Tribute to Lieut. Bruce Caldwell

ANOTHER ST. JOHN MAN

Elmer Ingraham Has Important Part in the Distribution—How the Letters and Parcels Are Handled—A Suggestion to Those at Home

(Written for The Times.)

Shorncliffe Camp, July 22.

To a St. John man has fallen the responsibility for the delivery of all mail addressed to the some 40,000 Canadian soldiers encamped in Kent county, and Lieut. Bruce Caldwell, a former member of the staff of the railway mail service, is the person to whom the credit for the safe delivery of mail to the men should be given.

Under him is Elmer Ingraham, a former postal employe at St. John, who now looks after the delivery of mail matter from the general post office to the units in and about Shorncliffe Camp. When one considers the number of men receiving mail, there is reason to congratulate Mr. Caldwell and his staff for the efficient manner in which their work is carried out. This undertaking, even under the most favorable circumstances, would be arduous enough, but with the moving about of brigades and battalions, as well as the perplexing methods adopted by some people (in good faith, no doubt), in addressing mail, the job is no light one. Nevertheless, but very few complaints of non-delivery or even delays of mail matter have been made. In this regard, conditions are greatly in contrast to those existing in the case of the First Contingent on Salisbury Plain.

If one would follow the route of a letter, parcel or paper, after it reaches England, he would realize that the delivery is exceptionally rapid. The mail is first sorted in the general post office and then turned over to the Canadian G. P. O. for distribution. Here it is divided and forwarded, some to France, some here and some to other places where there may be Canadian stations. Then comes the sorting into camps and finally into units. And all this is done with remarkable dispatch.

It would be of great assistance to the men who have the task of sorting and distributing mail, if their friends would put a full and correct address on all packages of mail matter. This should include regimental number, rank, name, company (battery or squadron), brigade and camp. It is reasonable to suppose that an average of at least one letter per man arrives every mail, and this, together with the avalanche of newspapers and parcels, makes the distribution of mail something that requires consideration and time.
