TERRIBLE EXPLOSION OF OIL TANK STEAMER

Carelessness of Machinist's
Helper Caused Explosion
Which Killed Five.
MEN AND BOATS WERE HURLED INTO THE SEA.

Six Men Badly Hurt and Several More Unaccounted For—Lighted Candle Taken Into Hold Did All Damage.

New York, June 27.—Two hundred tons of fuel oil on board the steamer tank steamer Mohawk, owned by the Standard Oil Company, exploded with a terrific roar and a burst of flames, this afternoon, while the vessel was at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, in New York Bay, killing five persons and injuring six others. A dozen more are unaccounted for, but are believed to have escaped on crafts that came to the Mohawk's aid, or by swimming ashore. Two bodies were seen floating in the hold while fire boats were still pouring streams of water into the wrecked after-end of the steamer late tonight. The other three victims probably were blown to pieces. The dead are: Edward Donahue, 35, steam fitter, Brooklyn.

John Donovan, 26, a machinist's helper, Brooklyn.
Two unidentified sailors, members of the Mohawk's crew.
Fourth engineer of the Mohawk, a foreigner, name not obtainable.
Three of the injured, Gustave Elmren forty, pipe fitter; Phillip Lepic, 32, sailor, and Herman Welsmann, thirty-one, sailor, were taken to hospitals on Staten Island. Elmren was probably fatally burned. Percy Payne, a machinist, and third engineer Vandergrief, of the Mohawk, were slightly burned.

Carelessness Caused It.
Carelessness of a machinist's helper was reported to have caused the explosion. Fifty men, including the crew and twenty machinists, who were making repairs preparatory to the Mohawk's departure for Texpan, Mexico, tomorrow morning, were on board. Perhaps a dozen of them were in the boiler and fire rooms.

A helper was declared to have dropped a washer into the hold below the fire room. Seeking to recover it, he is believed to have carried a lighter candle, which caused combustion among generated gases in the hold. The explosion, a volcano of smoke, the detonation, a volcano of debris, and the Mohawk settled while the fire boat, tugs, Standard Oil wrecking tugs and other harbor boats came to the scene.

Men Blown Overboard.
The Mohawk's life boat was tossed a hundred yards and a score of men were blown overboard. These men were rescued and taken to hospitals or were hurled in the bow, whence they were dragged to safety by pulling lines from the first boat that ventured near.
The Mohawk's crew was getting up steam to start the second half of her maiden voyage from Mexico and return. She was without cargo.
Shortly after nine o'clock tonight the fire was under control, and the crew returned on board and began pumping the vessel out. The stern was completely under water, but it is believed the rest of the hull is practically intact and that the steamer can be readily gotten into dry dock for repairs.

PREPARING TO CELEBRATE HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE

Canadian Peace Centenary Association Appoints Organizing Secretary and Starts on Active Work—Two Recommendations Taken Under Consideration.

Ottawa, June 27.—E. R. Scammell, of the E. C. I. and P. C. I. S., of Toronto, has been appointed organizing secretary of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association, and has already actively upon his duties. Active organizing work to forward the objects of the association will now be set on foot and it is expected that at an early date Mr. Scammell will visit the Maritime Provinces and the United States.
The Canadian association is now in a position to prosecute with vigor the program recommended to it by its delegates to the recent international conference at New York for the discussion of methods of celebrating the hundred years of peace between the peoples of the British Empire and the United States.
These recommendations chiefly have relation to two important aspects of the commemoration, the erection of visible monuments and the establishment of educational interests looking

PREMIER WILL COME EAST FOR LONG HOLIDAY

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden Will Spend Some Weeks on Atlantic Coast—Hon. Dr. Roche Much Improved.

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, June 27.—Hon. R. L. Borden leaves the capital tomorrow for the Atlantic coast for an extended holiday. Mr. Borden has not enjoyed any but very brief vacations during the somewhat strenuous political work of the last 4 years. He will probably be away until the latter part of August. A. E. Blount, the premier's secretary, also leaves tomorrow for Banff where he will spend the summer with his family.
Hon. T. W. White and Hon. Martin Burrell are leaving for England. With most of the cabinet away there will be no council meetings. Hon. George Perley, acting minister of trade and commerce, Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of customs, and Hon. Bruno Nassef will probably remain in Ottawa during the summer.
Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, who has been on a visit to the old country in search of health since his recent operation, is expected back in Ottawa by the first of the week. Dr. Roche has so far benefited by his trip that it is likely he will be able to remain at the head of the interior department for the present at least.
K. K. Bennett, assistant clerk of the Privy Council, is sailing for England and will visit the offices of the ministerial Privy Council with a view to possible changes in the organization of the office here.

FIND BED OF SMALLPOX GERMS IN TOWNSHIP

Disease Rampant for Days and Source Could Not Be Located—Chairman of Board of Health a Victim.

North Bay, Ont., June 27.—Provincial Health Inspector Young has been trying to trace the source of the smallpox cases which have appeared in various places in the township, principally in lumber mill towns and lumber and construction camps. His quest led him to an outlying township ten miles north of the C. P. R. main line, where he found a veritable breeding bed of smallpox germs which all sanitary regulations totally disregarded.
Almost everybody in the settlement had been affected with smallpox, even the reeve, the chairman of the Board of Health and the school teacher. The disease had been concealed and no physician called in until one man who contracted it thought he was going to die and called in a doctor.
Inspector Young established a quarantine, arranged for disinfection and has the cases well in hand.

SWEET CHARITY COMES TO RESCUE OF HEAT SUFFERERS.

With the thermometer flirting near the one hundred degree mark in New York these days and hospital records showing deaths and suffering by heat, charity workers of that city are bending every effort to relieve the suffering among the poor by pouring money into various funds for the distribution of free ice. Eager applicants appear early every morning at the various free ice stations scattered throughout the city and receive a sufficient portion for the day's needs.

WATERWAYS COMMISSION MAKES RECOMMENDATION OF SUBMERGED DAM TO RAISE LAKE ERIE LEVELS

Investigation Into Case Has Occupied More Than Ten Years—Outlines Practical Control of Lake Erie Water—To Offset Effect of Water Diversion to Chicago Drainage Canal.

Washington, June 27.—After more than ten years investigation, the International Waterways Commission today, through the President, recommended to Congress the construction of a submerged dam, or weir, in the Niagara river, to raise the level of Lake Erie and its upper waters. The commission stated the value of the proposed work to "Lake Erie ports could hardly be estimated and that it would result in extensive improvements to harbors and locks.
Several years ago the commission reported against the advisability of constructing an ordinary dam across the Niagara because of frequent damage to property below it. The level of the bars canal at Tonawanda, N. Y., would be affected by the change, but the commission suggested the construction of a submerged dam as a remedy for this.
The commission also reported that the weir would eliminate any injury to the level of the Erie canal and for power plant purposes, and would reduce the range of oscillation on Lake Erie four and one-half feet. The report pointed out that diversion of water to the Chicago drainage canal to the Erie canal and for power plant purposes at Niagara Falls had considerably reduced the level of Lake Erie.

JUDGE DECIDES SENATOR CLORAN MUST PAY BILL

Liberal Member of Upper House Must Pay $213 for Dress and Cloak Which, He Claimed, Was Gift to Wife—An Interesting Story.

Montreal, June 27.—Senator H. J. Cloran, an Irish lace dress and cloak, which was instituted by a French firm of silk merchants, from whose representative the dress and cloak had been purchased.
The suit was that of Messrs. Havas, Paris, and Louis Hamon, and Ernest Hess, Intervants. Plaintiffs claim $213, the price of an Irish lace dress and cloak, which they represented, had been purchased by Senator Cloran.
Mr. Justice St. Pierre, who disposed of the case in the court of first instance, Sept. 29th, 1911, pointed out that it was the senator himself who went and met the representative of the plaintiffs at the Russell House. It was to the senator that the sale had been made, to him delivery had been made. As to the understanding between the senator and Hess, neither plaintiff themselves appeared to have had any knowledge of it. Under the circumstances, judgment was handed down for the full amount claimed, with interest and costs. This ruling has now been confirmed in review.

ARRESTED FOR BOMB MYSTERY EVIDENCE FOR DEFENCE IN WREN CASE

Civil Engineer Taken in Charge Sending Infernal Machine Through Mail.
SHOWS NO SURPRISE WHEN CAPTURED.
His Name Connected With the Affair for Several Days—Takes Matter Calmly and Says Very Little.
Sherbrooke, June 27.—On a charge of having caused the death of Mrs. Alphonsine O. Bilodeau, by sending an infernal machine through the mails, L. A. Dufresne, civil engineer, of this city, was today arrested on a warrant sworn out by Kenneth P. McClellan, chief of the provincial detective department. The arrest was made by Chief McClellan and High Constable Moe, assisted by Detective Lapointe.
Dufresne is "the man whose name has been on many lips during the past ten days, and as this fact was well known by him, he was evidently not surprised at being so charged.
After reading the warrant he accompanied the officers to court. All he would say was:
"I expected the arrest, and it is just as well that it should be so, as I wish to clear myself of these suspicions."
Upon the arrival of Magistrate Mulveyne, the warrant was read to Dufresne.
Control for the accused, J. A. LeBlanc, K. C. asked permission to have a consultation with the crown prosecutor, Jacob Nicol, K. C. This was granted and the court adjourned for half an hour.
At five o'clock the court reassembled and counsel of the defence then made a request for adjournment until tomorrow, Saturday.
SERBIA IS WAITING FOR ROUMANIANS TO DECLARE POSITION
London, June 27.—The Serbian parliament reached no decision on the question of the projected arbitration between Serbia and Bulgaria. The debate was adjourned until Monday, and the situation remains uncertain and critical. It is reported that Premier Paichich is waiting to see what the Roumanians will take.

UNIONISTS ARE ON ROAD TO VICTORY

Liberal Majority in Leicester Cut from 5,691 in 1910 to 2,584 in Bye-election Yesterday.
London, June 27.—The flow of the election tide in the direction of the Unionists, which was exhibited at Altrincham, May 25, when the Unionist candidate defeated his Liberal opponent in a bye-election at Leicester, increased majority, was again shown today in a bye-election at Leicester, held necessary by the retirement of Commons, Elliot Crawshaw-Williams, having become involved as a respondent in a divorce suit. The Liberal reduced majority, the vote being, Hewart, Liberal, 10,683; Withers, Unionist, 8,278; Hartley Socialist, 2,580.
In the general election in December, 1910, Crawshaw-Williams majority was 5,691 over the Unionist candidate.

St. Stephen, June 27.—While exercising his mare Lady Fondly on the track this afternoon, Hugh Love was thrown from his sulky and rendered unconscious for several hours, but is believed to have escaped more serious injury.
The accident was caused by the mare bucking the hobbles. Mr. Love being thrown over her head, and alighting on his shoulder, Lady Fondly was unharmed and made no attempt to get away.

MIRACULOUSLY CURED AT ST. ANNE DE BEAUPRE SHRINE

Miss Margaret Turner, of this City, ill for Long Time, Returning Home in Perfect Health — Had been ill Several Months—Eye Witness of Other Cures.

Completely cured of an infirmity from which she had suffered for several months, Miss Margaret Turner returned to the city yesterday from St. Anne de Beaupre. Miss Turner, who resides at 90 Princess street, and who was among those who accompanied the pilgrims from here to St. Anne's this week, has for a number of years been suffering from rheumatism, but during the last half year her condition had become worse and so serious was her condition that for some weeks she was confined to her bed. Since last December she has been unable to carry on her household duties and sharp rheumatic pains shooting through her hands and limbs prevented her from using these parts of her body. So crippled was she with this illness she was not able to dress herself unaided, her condition became worse and she was advised by her physicians to try a change of climate. She went away and on returning she felt even greater effects of her illness. For months Miss Turner has not been able to prepare a meal at her home, and other duties she could not perform, but, although she can make no explanation as to how the cure was effected, Miss Turner is convinced that

LADY CONSTANCE STEWART RICHARDSON

Lady Constance Stewart Richardson, renowned as a barefoot dancer, is now in New York, where she is giving a demonstration of her art. She has a new dance, one of the classical order, which she herself arranged. She calls it "Before Dawn" and asserts that it represents the spirit of the woodland.

Speaking of modern dances Lady Constance said:— "While they are most artistic if performed by skilled dancers, they can be made most vulgar and suggestive when done by those who have neither grace nor training." Lady Constance wore a costume of Japanese crepe, brown, trimmed with white and split at the sides, with brown silk stockings and brown sandals.

EGG DEALERS' SUIT AGAINST RAILROADS

Plaintiffs Claim "No Inspection" Rule Not Sanctioned by Inter-state Commission and Causes them Heavy Loss.

New York, June 27.—As a sequel of yesterday's indictment here of three wholesale firms and eight individuals for alleged padding of egg breakage claims against common carriers, a dozen egg dealers of the Merchants Refrigerating Company today instituted an omnibus suit in the federal district court against the Baltimore and Ohio, the Erie, the Pennsylvania, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the New York Central, and several other railroads and the trunk line association.

The complaint says that the defendant carriers since May 15, however, have refused to consign the privilege of examining eggs before acceptance, and the railroads demand receipts reading "in good order," although many of the shipments are billed "subject to inspection." The plaintiffs allege that they handle annually from other states approximately 4,000,000 cases of eggs, valued at $28,000,000, that the new "no inspection" rule of the carriers is without sanction by the Interstate Commerce Commission and that the consignees are suffering heavy loss from breakage in transit.

Circuit Court. In the Circuit Court last evening the jury in the case of Mrs. Ida Brown vs. Harry J. Garson, awarded the plaintiff $210 damages. The plaintiff sued for $500, for damage to her stock of military supplies, resulting from leakage from water and sewer pipes and blasting operations. The defendant was the plaintiff's landlord. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Barry and jury, Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff and J. King Kelley, K. C., for the defense.

Australian Trade. (Toronto Mail and Empire.) About 500 tons of Australian beef and mutton having been imported into San Francisco, and sold about three cents below the price of native meats, the Department of Agriculture at Washington issued an order requiring the inspection of every piece of imported meat instead of the sampling of shipments. As the American Meat Trust has a million acres in Australia for producing meat for the American trade, perhaps this is just a Democratic way of further regulating the trusts, and not a bit of concealed protection. But it would not be surprising if it foreshadowed the joker in the free food programme.

MR. CARVELL AND THE TRUTH.

Editor of The Standard: Sir: On the first page of your issue of yesterday you had the following heading: "When Frank Carvell did not tell the truth." Would you be good enough to tell us when he did tell the truth. It has been so long since that few of us can recall it. Truth and Frank Carvell have not been on speaking terms for a good many years. Verily we believe if he found the truth, by some mistake, in his wrath he could not speak it, but would spit it out. To use the words of Hon. J. K. Flemming in his debate with Carvell at Meductic, "that man will say anything." His foolish yarns have become a joke all over Carleton county. His malicious, vicious, brutal attacks upon everybody and everything who does not agree with him have become a pain and shame to scores of the Liberal party in this county. Watch Carleton county bury Frank B. Carvell under 1000 majority at the next election.

HARTLAND CITIZEN. Hartland, N. B., June 26, 1913. Starting News. (Vancouver News-Advertiser.) The startling statement is made in the London parliamentary reports that Mr. Joseph Martin made a long, wearisome and dull speech. Mr. Martin should come home. He sometimes made long speeches in Canada, but his addresses were usually far from dull. Often they were quite the contrary.

The C. P. R. Line steamer Empress of Japan, from Vancouver, arrived at Hong Kong June 26th, between 7 and 8 o'clock a. m.

BRITISH CAPTAIN FINED.

Portland, June 27.—For violation of the United States Immigration laws a fine of $100 was imposed by the customs authorities on Wednesday on Captain Evans of the British steamer Appenize, which arrived here Tuesday from Chatham, N. B. The offence which occurred about a year ago while the steamer was lying at one of the Gulf ports, was the landing of one of her crew, an alien sailor named Richard Kohler, he being at the time in a diseased condition and in danger of becoming a public charge. The United States laws are very strict in such cases, and the department at Washington had ordered that the penalty provided in such cases be imposed, which was accordingly done as soon as the steamer reached here, this being the first time she has been in an American port for some time. Captain Evans has the privilege of appealing to the department at Washington, and it is possible that his statement concerning the matter may result in a partial or total remission of the fine.

STEAMER HAVING TROUBLE.

Halifax, June 27.—Stmr Gryfevalle (Br) is having trouble repairing damaged steering apparatus. A new stern post was moulded and when attempts were made to put it in place it was discovered that the rudder itself was twisted. The rudder is being repaired and sent to New Glasgow, where its defects will be remedied.

DANGERS TO NAVIGATION.

Boston, June 26.—Stmr Cambrian (Br), from London reports June 21, at 44 25, on 45 34, passed a berg 120 feet high, drifting SSE and breaking up.
New York, June 26.—Stmr Calabria (Br), reports May 26, lat 40 N, lon 48 W, passed a large spar about 60 feet long and 4 feet in diameter, covered with marine growth and nearly submerged; same date, lat 40, lon 46 52, a spar about 50 feet long covered with barnacles.

TWO STEAMERS ASHORE.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., June 27.—Two steamers are aground as a result of the dense fog which hung over the upper lake region last night. The J. H. Sheaf is held fast one mile west of Whitefish Point in Lake Superior. She is out one foot forward. The Corolla, with a barge in tow, ran aground on Crab Island, near Detroit. She is out three feet and leaking on the starboard side. The barge was not damaged. Tugs have gone to the assistance of both vessels.

BOUND FOR HUDSON BAY.

North Sydney, June 27.—The auxiliary sailing vessel Neophyte is now in port with a cargo of gasoline. She will sail in a day or two for Labrador, thence to Hudson Bay on a fur trading expedition. The Neophyte has been chartered by a company of fur dealers some of whom are local parties.

CRIMINAL CAREER OF A FRENCH CONVICT CHECKED BY NEW YORK WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

Revelations of a white slave club in New York, the importation of girls from France, and of romantic facts of some of the prisoners have been made public by Albert C. Fach, District Attorney of Richmond county, as the Grand Jury continued its investigation into the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Dier and the burning of their home on Staten Island. Albert Pleuchot, the leader of this white slave band, who is accused of setting fire to the Dier home, has had an interesting career.

According to Pleuchot's tale, his repeated crimes in France led to his deportation to French Guiana at the age of thirty-three. Soon after his arrival he and eleven others went by night to a creek in the forest and built a boat. For six days the guards sought them in vain. Then they dropped down the river at night and drifted out to sea. For six days they drifted, with only scraps of food and almost no water. Then the boat collapsed in a storm. Judgmented, Pleuchot and his friends built two other boats. In the third boat they escaped to British Guiana, where the Governor assisted them to get away. Pleuchot has now lived for six years in this country. He will probably be deported to France and then sent back to the penal settlement.

Party to Develop Oil Fields in Ecuador—Boy of Nine Murdered by Girl of Twelve

TWELVE YEAR OLD MURDERER.

Saskatoon, Sask., June 27.—Meagre reports came into Saskatoon Thursday of the murder at Walker, Sask., one hundred miles west of here, of Julian Genek, a nine year old child, by Kats' Hamon, twelve years old. It is said that the Hamon girl confessed to the murder when the body was found. The crime was committed on June 21, but was not discovered until last Monday.

THE ECUADOR OIL FIELDS.

Washington, June 27.—S. Pearson and Son, Limited, the British engineering concern, which has developed oil lands in Mexico on a mammoth scale, is going into Ecuador for the same purpose. News is received here that Lord Murray of Elibank, a director of the firm, has just signed a contract with the Ecuadorian government for the exploration and development of the republic's oil lands. A similar contract recently was signed with Colombia.

VICEROY OF IRELAND.

Ottawa, June 27.—It is reported in Ottawa that the Duke of Connaught will only remain a short time in Canada, if he returns. There is little likelihood of his Canadian term being extended as he will probably go to Ireland as the first Viceroys under Home Rule. The rather delicate condition of the Duchess makes this course more desirable for the Duke of Connaught than to have his Canadian term enlarged.

CROSSES ENGLISH CHANNEL.

London, June 27.—Claude Grahame White made his first hydroplane journey from Paris to London yesterday. He started from the French capital at 5.50 in the morning, following the course of the Seine. He arrived at Havre at 9.25 and at Boulogne at 10.55. He crossed the Channel and reached Dover at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Thence he followed the Thames from

AN UNJUSTIFIABLE ATTACK.

Western municipalities and Boards of Trade are making a vigorous protest against certain statements made in London by Mr. R. M. Horne-Payne, president of the British Empire Trust Company. He is reported to have expressed the opinion that the bonds of Canadian municipalities, particularly in the West, are not a safe investment, and to have advised the British investor to lend his money on industrial issues. Combined action by Canadian municipalities is suggested. As a first step Mr. Deacon, mayor of Winnipeg, has cabled to the Financial Times, London, a complete contradiction of Mr. Horne-Payne's statements, with the intimation that full particulars in regard to the financial condition of Canadian municipalities would be made later.

The Board of Trade of Saskatoon also took this criticism up and, as reported in a previous issue, wired Hon. Robert Rogers calling attention to Mr. Horne-Payne's statements. The Minister of Public Works, who was in Winnipeg, made a prompt and effective reply, entirely agreeing with the protest which has been registered. "What surprises me," wired Mr. Rogers, "is that a man like Horne-Payne, who claims to have some standing as a financier, should be so utterly ignorant of conditions in Western Canada. Western municipal bonds are deservedly popular in money markets wherever they are known, and it will take a great deal more than the statement of a man like Horne-Payne to affect their good standing. However, this does not excuse him from attempting to misrepresent the business and credit of others when he might better be attending to his own."

It is satisfactory to note from a recent despatch from London that no evidence in support of Mr. Horne-Payne's criticisms is forthcoming. They are regarded as unwarranted and biased. It is pointed out that two Canadian cities of secondary rank have created larger floating indebtedness than other cities of the same class outside of Great Britain, but that London has practically never lost money by investments in municipal securities, and there is no Canadian city today, in the opinion of those best qualified to know, which is not perfectly good for its obligations.

Mr. Horne-Payne is interested in railways and industrialists and his advice to English investors to avoid Canadian municipal securities is not likely to carry weight. An effective answer to his unfounded criticisms appears in the Vancouver News-Advertiser, which points out that Canadian public securities have been handled in the British market for a good many years. Many financiers in the City of London, of ample authority and influence, know as much as the people in this country about Canadian cities, the way they have met their obligations, and the purposes for which they borrow. Those interested in this matter will not have to wait to hear from Canada. They can get the information at home.

Cities in Canada, and especially in the West, need capital for the same reason that a railway or an industrial enterprise needs it. It is impossible to tax the people of a new city to provide the money for streets, waterworks, sewers and other utilities. If that could be done it would be grossly unfair for the first residents to pay for services to be rendered to the greatly larger number of their successors. It might as well be claimed that the traffic of a railway or the profits of a factory should pay for the plant as fast as it is provided. This is so simple and plain a proposition that Canada does not need to explain it to London.

As has already been stated, Canadian cities always meet their obligations. Mr. Horne-Payne may have heard of financial enterprises of the class he favors which have failed to pay interest on their bonds and dividends on their stocks. He has no such record of Canadian cities. They will continue to grow and will need capital for their permanent works. Wherever there is money available, wise and careful persons, desiring a safe investment at moderate interest, will always take the bonds of a solid Canadian city, whoever may try to disparage these substantial securities and press upon them other and more speculative offerings.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND!
 A discussion of some interest took place in the British House of Commons recently on the second reading of a private bill by which it was proposed to give Home Rule to Scotland. A group of Scottish Liberals were responsible for it. The second reading was moved by Mr. Cowan. He expressed his confidence in the fortunes of the Irish Home Rule Bill, and said it was now the turn of Scotland, where, he declared, devolution was a burning question. The provisions of the bill are to a great extent modeled on those of the Irish bill. Mr. Murray Macdonald, who seconded the motion, put forward as his chief argument that it was absolutely necessary to relieve the congestion of business in the Imperial Parliament.

Mr. Balfour mercilessly dissected the measure, and showed that it was not to serve any good purpose. The congestion of business in the Imperial Parliament, he said, was an administrative problem, and if it was to be solved by devolution, it would be better to proceed on the plan of cutting Great Britain into districts, and of creating glorified County Councils.

He asked what justification there could be for calling upon the taxpayers of the kingdom to give Scotland £100,000 a year, and commented sarcastically on the proposal to confine the Scottish Parliament's taxing power to taxation upon property in land and houses. What would have been thought by the Irish members if it had been proposed in the Home Rule bill that they should only be allowed to tax the property of the peasant owners of land? He criticized severely a provision for the retention of the seventy-two Scottish members in the Imperial Parliament after the Local Legislature had been established, as well as a recommendation that England should also have a local Parliament.

Such a Parliament, he said, could hardly exist side by side with an Imperial Assembly in a position of admitted inferiority. Collision between the Imperial Parliament and an Irish Parliament would be bad enough, not to mention a Scottish Parliament being a desirable thing; but let them picture the consequences of collision with an English Parliament! He warned the House that the effect of legislation such as was now proposed would be to arouse jealousy in England. Mr. Balfour's survey of the situation led him to the conclusion that what was proposed would result in great injury to Scotland; hence as a Scot he protested against it. There is no prospect of Scotland getting Home Rule. The second reading was carried by 204 votes to 153, but being a private bill the Government accepted no responsibility for its details and it is not likely to be heard of again at the present session. The interesting feature of the debate was Mr. Balfour's trenchant criticism of the idea of three parliaments in the British Isles.

JAMAICA AND THE U. S. TARIFF.

Jamaica, the largest British island in the West Indies, it is reported, did not join in the trade reciprocity agreement last year, mainly on account of the large trade in bananas with the United States. It is well known that a campaign was carried on in several of the islands by United States importers against the agreement, and in Jamaica the threats of tariff retaliatory measures apparently proved successful. From a recent despatch from Kingston it appears that as far as bananas are concerned the trade of Jamaica will be seriously menaced by the new tariff in the United States as the Underwood Bill includes bananas, which are to be taxed five cents a bunch. This tax, which on the face appears small, will, it is claimed, severely affect Jamaica's most important output. If the measure is made law and the duty of five cents is exacted on bunches or items regarded less of the sizes and weights, it would be a serious discrimination against Jamaica, estimated at from 40 to 50 cents, owing to the fact that the greater number of items produced and shipped from the island are smaller than those exported from Central American points. The opinion is generally held on the island that the tax is aimed at the American fruit companies controlling the banana trade who are regarded as monopolists, and not intended to discriminate against Jamaica. This, however, will not improve the situation in Jamaica unless there are modifications in the proposed tax. The total export of bananas from Jamaica to the United States now exceeds 17,000,000 bunches per annum.

A Dangerous Practice.

(Montreal Gazette.)
 The killing of a man at Fort Union, Ont., by being drawn against an express train by the rush of wind it created should be headed by people waiting at railway stations on main lines and who make a practice of standing near the edge of the platforms as expresses fly past. This form of recklessness is as common as it is dangerous.

A Scottish Opinion.

(Glasgow Evening Times.)
 It must be confessed that the Canadian senate, in passing the Liberal amendment, thus hanging up indefinitely the proposals of Mr. Borden to contribute three battalions to the British navy, is not acting up to the patriotic role hitherto assigned to the Dominion.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

C. P. R.'S FIRST THROUGH TRAIN.
 A through passenger service on the Canadian Pacific Railway between Montreal and Vancouver was inaugurated twenty-seven years ago today, June 28, 1886. This line, first of the great continental systems that now cover the Dominion with a network of steel, was built in four and a half years, an average of 2.6 miles per day. Enormous engineering difficulties had to be overcome in constructing the road through the rocky barriers thrown up by nature along the shores of Lake Superior and over the snow-dusted peaks of the Rockies. More than 300 miles of line were cut through the solid rock. An army of workmen, at one time as many as 25,000, were engaged in this gigantic battle of civilization against the wild forces of nature. By the latter part of 1885 the last mountain had been crossed, the last tunnel had been bored, the last bridge built, the last rail laid, the last spike driven, and on June 28 of the following year a train conductor in Montreal cried, "All aboard for Vancouver!"

FIRST THINGS

BRAZIL'S COFFEE INDUSTRY.

The first coffee shipment from Brazil was made 150 years ago today, and consisted of a consignment of some ten bags, sent to Europe. Brazil now produces over 85 per cent. of the world's coffee supply, and a large part of this is grown in the one state of Sao Paulo. Coffee was introduced into Brazil in 1714 by Padre Veloso, a Franciscan monk, and nine years later began the export of the beans that are Brazil's principal source of wealth. Over half of all the coffee grown is consumed in the United States, and Uncle Sam's annual coffee bill, at the wholesale valuation, is about eighty million dollars a year. The annual consumption averages fifteen pounds per person. The Danes are next to Americans as coffee drinkers, with an average of 8 1/2 pounds, while the Germans come third, with 6 1/2 pounds. Tea is the great beverage of the British Empire, but in Canada coffee has become increasingly popular.

THE PASSING DAY

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Today may be said to be the eleven hundredth anniversary of the Panama Canal, for it was on June 28, 1902, that the United States Act was approved. This measure authorized the President of the United States to accept the offer to sell his absolute ownership of the isthmus, together with all its rights and titles to land and harbor privileges for $40,000,000. Col. George W. Goethals, who has carried the "big ditch" between Atlantic and Pacific to the point of completion, will celebrate his fifty-fifth birthday tomorrow.

Now that the canal is almost ready to fulfill its mission, a thousand questions concerning its management and its possible benefits have come up for discussion. While Atlantic coast shipping has been benefited by the canal, the Pacific ports from Diego to British Columbia and Alaska are in a fever of anticipation and preparation, and to a lesser degree the same is true of the cities along the Gulf of Mexico.

A Club Man.

"Does your husband belong to many clubs?"
 "Yes; by the way he acts these afternoons he belongs to his driver, his putter, his brassie and as many more clubs as there are."

A Milder Brand.

Woman (in clear store)—I wish to get a box of cigars for my husband.
 Clerk—Here's a new brand I think would suit him—"The Suffragette."
 Woman—Oh dear, no! He prefers something milder than that.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

DR. ALEXIS CARREL.

Some eight years ago a young French surgeon, fresh from his native land, arrived in Montreal. He was qualified and renowned, and in Lyon, France, he had achieved a local reputation as a daring and skillful operator and a man of original ideas, but he was young—impossibly young. So Montreal didn't enthuse over the arrival of Dr. Alexis Carrel, who quietly engaged in laboratory work in McGill University. From the Canadian metropolis the young Frenchman went to the University of Chicago. Then, four years ago, he was engaged as an associate member of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and things began to happen.

"The wizard of surgery is no venerable graybeard, for he will celebrate his fortieth birthday today. He was born in Sainte Foy les Lyon, France, June 28, 1874, and was educated at the University of Lyon. For some time he was an interne in a Lyon hospital, and later a member of the medical faculty of his alma mater. His surgical skill was manifested early in his career, but when he left Lyon for Montreal none of his associates dreamed that he would soon be famous throughout the world as the recipient of a Nobel prize for the most notable discoveries in medicine and surgery.

When the news of his achievements reached France, the physicians of that country were amazed and sceptical, and one great French surgeon denounced him as an "impostor." Since then Dr. Carrel has lectured before the leading medical organizations of his native land, and has convinced the doubting Thomases that his honours showered upon him were not unearned. The French Academy of Medicine recently made the amende honorable for its earlier hesitations in declining the French government to make Dr. Carrel a Knight of the Legion of Honor.

Eye Strains and Eye Troubles.

Eye-strain is the secret of nearly all eye troubles. It is not a disease to be overcome by the use of drugs, but is due to a mechanical defect in the eyes which can be corrected only by the use of glasses.

If you have any trouble do not neglect it, for neglecting means not only added suffering but added expense in correcting later on.

Come in and talk over your eye troubles with us.

Large Classes Graduate from St. Vincent's and High Schools - Interesting Programme Carried Out.

The address to the graduating class was made by Rev. F. S. Porter.

Principal Nyles presented honor diplomas to ten members of the class and Chairman Emerson of the School Board presented diplomas to seven members of Grade XII.

At St. Vincent's High School diplomas were presented to the graduating class by Dr. Bridges. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc presided.

While we try to furnish the facts in the most condensed form consistent with clearness, when speaking of securities in this column, yet of necessity we are prevented by space limitations from treating them as fully as we would like. These little talks serve their function in introducing you to some certain security in our list, but they can not present all the facts.

Therefore, to properly judge whether any security we mention is just the one you want, you should let us send you the complete information at all ways available, and which we would consider pleasure to mail you on request.

We have reference now particularly to the Maritime National Cumulative Preferred Stock, about which we have been speaking in this column for the past fortnight.

On its own merits this active issue is well worthy of your selection, and from a 50 per cent Common Stock point of view we are confident that you will now realize that in giving a copy of our circular which presents all the facts of this most unusual investment opportunity.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

M'CURDY & CO'S FINANCIAL LETTER

(F. B. M'CURDY & CO.)
Montreal, June 27.—The news of the past week has been mostly of a favorable character, so far as the stock market is concerned. The bears, as is only natural, continue to make the most of their opportunity and it is not surprising that the situation in the Balkans has been presented in a most menacing light.

With the exception of this the news has been very good. This is more particularly the case when the Canadian crop situation is taken into consideration. The outlook for the crops is now all that could be asked for. The weather is perhaps a little cool, but rains have fallen and the growth is reported excellent.

Neither in Montreal nor Toronto nor anywhere else in Canada is there any money to spare. That real estate men have got themselves into a bad fix and that payments are coming due which there is no possibility of meeting is shown by the fact that as high as twelve per cent has been offered by some of them for money. The statement is reiterated that the banks have absolutely closed down on the real estate business and that wherever possible they will follow up money which has been diverted into channels other than those for which it was claimed the money was required.

Probably the feature of the week has been the feature of the week which has been the feature of the week. The stock exchange closes at noon on Saturday and will remain closed until Wednesday morning owing to the occurrence of Dominion Day on Tuesday. This will simply mean that Monday will be the extra holiday. These extended holidays were preceded by exceptional dullness on the exchange. Quite possible the lack of interest may be due to the hot weather. Generally, however, there would be buying in anticipation of the larger supply of money which will be available early next week because of the disbursement which will be made in interest and dividends for the first half of the calendar year.

ASCENDED MOUNT M'KINLEY.
Rough on Cholly.
Jack—So Kitty gave you a flat refusal?
Cholly—Yes; she said she wouldn't live in one with me.

ARCHDEACON HUDSON STUCK
Mount McKinley, the highest peak in the North American continent, has been completely ascended for the first time. The person who so distinguished himself is Dr. Hudson Stuck, Episcopal Archdeacon of Alaska. He reached the top June 24 and he and his four companions erected a cross and threw the American flag to the breeze.

DOW JONES CO'S SUMMARY OF NEWS

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
New York, June 27.—Edward W. Lauterbach testified before the lobby investigating committee in the United States House of Representatives today that the Pacific-Southern Pacific matter. Corporation commission of Arizona denies permission to Southern Pacific to issue $30,000,000 notes on the ground that the company has not sufficiently explained its purpose.

As a matter of fact, the course of the market at present is entirely in line with precedent. It takes time to recover from the effects of the last prolonged decline, and the process is often a tedious one, entailing much patience on the part of the holder of securities. The amendments to the currency bill have strengthened that measure from a banking viewpoint and the assurance that there will be no recurrence of the panics which have marked the past decade, is a matter which is being given due weight in pronouncements for the next six months. It is possible that this measure will considerably lessen the force of any business reaction which might occur during that period.

STOCK NOTES OF NEW YORK MARKET

(F. B. M'CURDY & CO.)
New York, June 27.—Investment institutions are reported to continue the short term note issue of Con. Gas as reflecting a belief that considerable better market conditions are expected later on.

Conservative affluents are reported to be reported to constitute the bulk of the market. The market is reported to be a good deal of C. & O. has recently been liquidated for account of an interest which was in difficulties some time ago.

Well informed sources are understood to expect that the dissolution plan will include no proposal to offer any large portion of the Union Pacific holdings of Southern Pacific for subscription for a considerable time to come.

AGRICULTURE
SHOULD CALVES BE TURNED OUT FOR THE SUMMER?

If we were to answer this question by the general practice, the answer would be very decisive. One of the most common sights on the average farm in the summer time is a bunch of starved calves huddled in the fence corner in search of shade from the blazing sun, where they may be chance scrape off some of the tormenting flies that swarm about them. There are so many factors at work, however, in most cases that pasturing in itself may be easily misjudged. The practice of turning calves out in the spring, when they may be of any age from a day to six months, simplifies their care, and the fact that so much can be expected of pasture, sometimes whether there is grass present or not, amply satisfies the farmer in the matter of feed provision. The calves should grow and do all right whether they do or not, and in any case eventually they will make cows.

At present there seems to be an ambition among many to obtain better cows, and frequently we have extravagant prices paid for both bulls and cows to improve the herd. Yet in the amount of feed and the calves will do well, the flies and the sun both being not too severe. After this period, unless under especially favorable conditions for grass, it should not be depended upon. Calves that were dropped in the fall or early winter, will do well on grass soon as it is ready for them. They will have become accustomed to it and be doing well, when conditions commence to become more severe and they will suffer less check than if turned out later.

Calves that have been dropped in late winter or early spring will do best in the barn. If a fresh grass paddock is in close connection with a building to which they have free access, they will be somewhat more easily kept inside. When the after grass is abundant and after the most severe season for sun and flies has passed, the early calves can be put out, but still fed at least a grain allowance. They will be checked in the growth but will feed well through the next spring, as a result of having had a fall run. Calves that were dropped in late winter or early spring should not be turned out, invariably the late calf inside and allowed a little extra attention because of its late arrival will surpass those that are much earlier and will do so in the first year of its life.

WORK AT OTTAWA FOR THE LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY.

For a number of years until a few months ago, the work of the Live Stock and Health of Animals Branches of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa was carried on under one head. The work embraced a very extensive field, involving an expenditure of a sum annually of considerably more than half a million of dollars. According to the annual report of the United Branches for the year ending March 31st, the just issued, three more or less distinct lines of effort are carried on. A well organized system is in operation to protect the live stock of the country from disease, not only by guarding against its introduction from abroad, but by preventing the spread of infectious diseases existing among Canadian herds and flocks. In this division regulations are enforced to deal with such diseases as cholera, tuberculosis, glanders, dourine, mange, anthrax, sheep scab and rabies, any of which uncontrolled might cause very serious losses to the farming industry.

The meat inspection division seeks by wise regulations, carried out by an extensive, well trained staff, to prevent diseased or otherwise unwholesome meats from being sent from the country. It also compels operators of food canning establishments to maintain their factories in a sanitary condition and to put up only sound goods. During the year reported it is shown that 6,151 carcasses of cattle, 241 sheep, and 2,822 hogs, as well as many portions of carcasses and 12,702 lbs. of poultry were condemned. The report names the different conditions responsible for these losses.

The work of the Live Stock Branch is shown to be of an entirely different character. In a number of ways efforts are made to throw light upon the paths of stock raisers and to encourage the extension and improvement of the live stock industry. Reference is made to a comprehensive investigation of the market conditions affecting wool and mutton carried on by the commission. To improve the light horse stock of the country, bonuses are paid to owners of Thoroughbred stallions used for service. To assist dairy farmers in ascertaining where high产乳性 breeds of stock may be secured, a Record of Performance has been established for purebred dairy cattle. The report just issued shows that 801 cows entered for test for this record during the year. In addition to the report of the Veterinary Director, the Record of Live Stock Commissioner, the volume which contains almost 500 pages, including many illustrations, embodies 24 appendices, the work of 24 officers, and a number of publications that have appeared as separate work, including Report No. 4 of the Record of Performance, Bulletin No. 15 of the Live Stock Branch, the Report of the Third General Convention of the National Live Stock Association, the Report of the National Record Committee, and others. The selling price of this blue book is fixed at forty cents, but provision has been made for supplying copies free to those who apply for them to the Chief Officer of the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

DIRT THE CHIEF CAUSE OF FATAL CALF SCOURS.

Dirt is the chief cause of calf scours, as filthy, poorly lighted and badly ventilated quarters, harbor the disease germs in great numbers. Sometimes calf scours occur in contagious form, and are spread from one calf to another. The most prompt measures will prevent serious losses. At the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, a lecture on calf scours was given, in which the following facts were stated: Not only are the calves kept in well lighted and otherwise sanitary quarters, but they are fed regularly until four weeks old on two to six pounds of their mothers' milk, three times daily. Care is taken to have the temperature of the milk as near that of freshly drawn milk as possible, and to keep the feeding pails clean.

In spite of all precautions," states Professor G. C. Humphrey, "we now and then have cases of scours among our calves. For the past two years we have successfully treated such cases as follows: As soon as symptoms appear, two to four tablespoonfuls of castor oil are mixed with one half pint of milk, and given to the calf. This is followed in four to six hours by one teaspoonful of a mixture of one part salol and two parts subnitrate of bismuth. This dose can also be given with one-half pint of new milk, or the powder can be placed on the tongue and washed down by a small amount of milk.

The salol and subnitrate of bismuth can be used from any drugist, and can now be got by application at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa Horticultural Department. There was nothing new in Professor said, that so quickly added to the beauty and homelike appearance of the house as a creeping plant and the common Virginia creeper, which required no fasteners, was about the best. It was vigorous, of luxuriant foliage, clean, grew quickly and would not damage brick in a dry climate like that of Canada. Beautiful groupings of trees, allotment gardens where the poor grew vegetables, rock and fern gardens, waterily ponds, aridic avenues were thrown on the canvas. It was suggested that trees would grow on the prairie and that the prairie home could be thus relieved of its bareness. If the right kind of trees were planted there.

IMPROVEMENT OF HOME SURROUNDINGS

The improvement of the home surroundings formed the subject of an interesting illustrated lecture at the Macdonald college short course, by Prof. W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist. Prof. Macoun contrasted Canada with the old countries and had much to say in praise of the latter in respect to the beautifying of the home by its surroundings. He said that, although Canada was yet a young country, the time had arrived to make the rural homes more attractive than they generally are found to be. There was also a marked contrast, generally speaking, in Canada between the home in the country and the home in the city, and yet improvement and beautification in the country than in the city. Canadian farmers, the professor said, had so far done very little to improve their homes. Most of the farm houses were without trees and looked bare and unprotected. He thought that one of the reasons why so many farmers' sons and daughters left the farms for the city was because when once they had seen the city they felt that their own homes in the country were so inferior and unattractive. Yet in Canada they had a better outfit and selection of ornamental and shade trees than in England—trees that were more graceful and productive of finer effects. In Canada, too, there is a big outburst of bloom all at the one time and not so thin and lingering as in the old country. Can- ada has plenty of ornamental trees and shrubs, beautiful for their flowers, foliage or bark.

Prof. Macoun said that he would like to see a Day of the Home, which would furnish the right kind of work for the consideration and activities of Women's Institutes. The lecturer said that he would be followed by Mr. F. E. Blonger, of the Experimental Farm, who would through the lantern slides, show and explain plans for improving and making the farm home more homelike. Prof. Macoun then gave a series of pictures illustrating the attention paid to home ornamentation in England, and the various shade and ornamental trees and shrubs, some of which were generally peculiar to Canada, and others which were cultivated at the Experimental Farm with a view to their propagation throughout Canada. They had, he said, about 3,000 varieties of trees and shrubs at the Farm, a list of which would be available to applicants within the next two or three months. Lists of 25 to 100 of the best trees to be grown in Canada can now be got by application at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa Horticultural Department.

There was nothing new in Professor said, that so quickly added to the beauty and homelike appearance of the house as a creeping plant and the common Virginia creeper, which required no fasteners, was about the best. It was vigorous, of luxuriant foliage, clean, grew quickly and would not damage brick in a dry climate like that of Canada. Beautiful groupings of trees, allotment gardens where the poor grew vegetables, rock and fern gardens, waterily ponds, aridic avenues were thrown on the canvas. It was suggested that trees would grow on the prairie and that the prairie home could be thus relieved of its bareness. If the right kind of trees were planted there.

THE REPAIR SHOP ON THE FARM

One of the greatest time and money saving investments that the farmer can make is a repair shop, furnished with the necessary tools for repairing farm machinery and equipment. For the average sized farm the shop need not be an expensive building, and in some instances an old building may be made over into a very good shop. Often the cost of the building and tools may be saved in one or two years' work on the repairing and renewing parts of wagons and machinery which would otherwise have to be done by the local blacksmith. It is often the case that a slight breakdown, even the loss of a bolt or nut, will suspend all work on the farm while we are getting repairs at the village shop. We thus lose from an hour to a half day, when the repairs could have been made on the farm in a few minutes, if we had access to the necessary tools.

Many farmers object to trying this kind of work on the grounds that it is difficult to do; but a little practice will enable anyone to do the greater part of the repair work that may be needed on the farm. Now some trees and double trees may be made out of tough, dry hickory and several should be kept on hand to replace old ones which break. The clips and hooks for single trees and double trees may be bought at slight cost. Also bolts, nuts and washers should always be kept on hand in different sizes. A few rods of round iron, about 3-8, 2, and 2-1/2 inch diameter, should also be kept, from which to make links for chains, and a supply of open rings and clevises. These articles often break in the busy season, and many expensive delays may be saved by having them handy. It is not a difficult job to put in a new buggy shaft or wagon tongue, and if a supply of lumber is kept on hand, the farmers may take advantage of stormy weather in winter, when no work can be done outdoors, and make gates, doors, ladders, and the other equipment which may be needed on the farm.

The shop should be furnished with a good forge and blower for doing blacksmith work, and a stove will be found necessary to make the place comfortable in winter. In addition to the forge and blower, the following tools will be needed for doing iron work: a blacksmith's vice, a medium sized anvil, a blacksmith's hammer, a light hammer, a set of twist drill bits, a set of taps and dies for cutting threads, two or three cold chisels, and several sizes of punches.

KILLING WEEDS IN CORN.

Three-fourths of the weeds in a corn field may be killed before the corn is planted. In order to accomplish this it will be necessary to work the ground as early as possible. To conserve moisture and kill the weeds, disk the ground as soon as possible, and then run a fine tooth harrow over the surface. This fining of the soil warms it up so that the weeds start to grow. If the harrow is run across the field frequently, these germinating weeds are dragged to the surface and soon die.

Cravenette Regd. If You Are Planning A New Spring Coat or Suit or Skirt, be sure to have it of "Cravenette" (Regd) Showerproofed Cloth. "Cravenette" (Regd) Showerproofed fabrics have two advantages possessed by no other cloth. First—they are absolutely showerproof—proofed for the bathing suits are more elaborate than usual this season. Satis, trefra, mohair and serge are all used for making these suits, as they have been for several seasons, but the unusual feature this year is the colors in vogue. The dark blues and blacks are not relieved with white alone, as in previous years, but now a frivolous touch of color is given to the bathing suit, and when the bathing suit, the oriental colors and the silk handkerchief, tied turbanwise, with its two knotted ends, and the bright colored bands, sashes, collars, cuffs and bathing caps made to match of the Bulgarian, cubian or futuristic styling, the pipes of these colors may be used and give a dash of smartness to what might otherwise be a dull costume. The lines of the suits are straight without much fullness, and they are made with sleeves to the elbow or with no sleeves at all, and with either square or round neck.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN BATHING SUITS GAY THIS YEAR They Too Have Taken On Oriental Colors

With the arrival of the summer days, one begins to think of the seashore and the water and that leads naturally to the important costume—the bathing suit. According to many of those shown in the stores, one would think that the summer girl was going to dress for promenade on the sands rather than for the rest pleasure of splashing and floating and swimming. Many of the caps are elaborate and look very attractive in the showcase or on the fair head of the woman as she strolls along the sand, but the question arises, How would one appear after her owner had worn it a few times when, again, they are frequently made of the same bright silk or satin with which the suit is trimmed, and made up by the buyers of this line of good to shed the water and to look well, particularly those made of satin. If one does not care for so much of the bright colors, as are shown in the bands, sashes, collars, cuffs and bathing caps made to match of the Bulgarian, cubian or futuristic styling, the pipes of these colors may be used and give a dash of smartness to what might otherwise be a dull costume. The lines of the suits are straight without much fullness, and they are made with sleeves to the elbow or with no sleeves at all, and with either square or round neck.

HOW THEY WOO AND WED IN GERMANY

Human hearts do not vary the whole world over, and when Cupid calls he must be obeyed. The only thing that varies is the way in which the call is answered, and thus each country has its own customs in the matter of wooing and wedding. In Germany there are many Jews, and among them it is the custom for a marriage broker to propose, in the name of a young man who has found a maid sufficiently well endowed with this world's goods. Even when the broker's services are not required, it is quite usual for the match to be arranged by the relatives of both parties. With other Germans, love is supposed to be the motive of the marriages made, but could we peep into the heart of each, we should find that the modern German is inclined to act on the precept of Tennyson's "Northern Farmer," and "to love where money is." Certain it is that in Germany the maid who has most money has the best chance of being married, and many charming girls are left single simply because they are dowless. The form of proposal has undergone great changes during the past few years. At one time any young man who proposed marriage uttered himself in his dress suit and carried a bouquet as an offering to his chosen one. We must not seek to pry into the intimacy of such proposals, but if the disconsolate lover left the house carrying his bouquet with him it was a sure sign that he was rejected. Nowadays proposals are less formal, but engagements are no less binding. With us a betrothal is often lightly entered upon, but not so in Germany, where so much publicity is given to an engagement that it is regarded almost as solemn and binding as the wedding itself. As soon as the lover has declared himself and has been accepted, the lover gives to the other a plain gold ring, which is worn on the fourth finger of the left hand until the marriage takes place, when the same ring is changed over to the corresponding finger of the right hand. The engagement is announced in the local paper, and to each friend of the bride and groom there is a printed notice sent by post. On the first page the parents of the bride-elect announce that their daughter is engaged to So-and-so, while on the opposite page the bridegroom-elect makes a similar announcement. Then everyone who has received an announcement is supposed to call on the engaged girl and to offer her congratulations, each call being returned by the bride-elect, and if her lover resides in the same town he is supposed to be with her when she makes the return call. An engagement makes a good excuse for an offering of flowers, and until the wedding the bride-elect, can depend upon her rooms being perfect bowers of flowers. The lovers have plenty of chances of seeing each other, but most of the billing and cooing has to be done in public, for it is not considered "proper" for an engaged couple to be left much alone. Still, it must be confessed that the German lover is not bashful and sometimes the lovelocks in his sweet and delightful that it would seem a pity to reverse it for the edification of one person only. On every possible occasion German lovers appear arm-in-arm, and the custom is not confined to one class alone. Peasants walk thus, and the recently published charming snapshots of the Kaiser's only daughter, show that princes and princesses follow the popular custom. Any spare time that the bride-elect has is devoted to the preparation of the trousseau, and perhaps no bride in any country goes to her husband with so much of a chest of linen. Six dozen of everything is quite an ordinary allowance, and generally lasts an average of three hours. Most of the articles are of good plain linen, but they are all marked with elaborate monograms. The bride's friends are always invited to see the trousseau, and various things for the adornment of

The square corners of the eraser clean well in the stair corners and it is a quick and easy way to keep the stairs in good condition.

JUDAS SAW HIS OWN DEATH

Failed to Realize that Friendly Service Alone Makes a Great Man.

NEVER GOT BEYOND THE MATERIAL SIDE.

Made no Friends and in His Last Despairing Hours He Had No Kindly Memory to Console Him.

New York, June 23.—Dr. N. McGee Waters, pastor of the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, some what impaired in health, went away a week earlier than he expected, going to his home on Lake George on Friday to recover. Yesterday morning the assistant pastor, the Rev. B. F. Wyland, preached on "The One Way Out." The text was from John xiii: 39: "He went away and it was night."

It is night for anyone who turns his back on Jesus Christ. Judas turned his back on Christ and went out to betray Him. When he turned from truth he faced darkness. When he turned from freedom he faced slavery. When he turned from service of humanity he became the slave of an aristocratic few. When the man's life is filled with darkness or light depends upon whether he turns his face or his back to Jesus Christ. Christ is the pivotal point of character both personal and national. Tell me whether a young man is facing or has turned his back on Christ and I'll tell you whether he is composing an epiphany or a history.

The sinister nature of this personal tragedy developing in the life of Judas is depicted in the Last Supper. He can imagine no fearful results. His mind is in a different zone. Wealth serves fraternally with powerful men; their promises of preferment supplement his own wistful anticipations. On the eve of greater honors he permits himself a certain essential familiarity at the table. He hears his best friend say, "Verily one of you shall betray Him." His hands touch. Jesus bends over and quietly says, "What thou does, do quickly." Judas arises. The future beckons. He comes. "He went out and it was night." Behind his best friend, ahead is the darkness. It is night within. For two days he seeks to retrieve him self. Half hoping, moodily despairing he fights with his realizations. In the darkness he sees no light. Despairingly he lays the murderer's knife on his heart. Believing himself no longer worthy of human consideration or God's forgiveness, he takes his life and passes into eternal darkness. Christ never some better way out of these experiences that find their desperate and moral failure? Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life. Whosoever cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

Charles Lamb returns from the border land to make his reply. Our country at twenty he succumbs to the family malady and passes six weeks in a madhouse at Foxton. The night envelops him. They poverty meet tragedy and he has the support of the entire family thrown upon his young shoulders. His mad and murderer become his companions. He is evicted from dwelling after dwelling. One wonders how this young man ever had the courage to lift up his head again. Were it not for his inextinguishable magnanimity, which even the greatest might envy, he could not have lived. Upon recovering he inquires of Coleridge in a letter: "Is it folly or sin to me to say that it was a religious principle that most supported me?" Does it not appear wonderful to hear this great English essayist spoken of as possessing an "Infinite kindness of heart?" He found the one way out into the fuller day.

He fought his doubts and gathered strength. He would not make his judgment blind. He faced the spectres of the mind. And laid them; thus he came at length. To find a stronger faith his own. And power was with him in the night. A careful survey of the bitter experiences of Judas points the one way out.

1. The protective power of humanitarian impulses in moments of discouragement and bitterness. Judas could not see that there is healing in loving kindness and magnanimity. The greetings of a friend are like water to the thirsty in the hour of need. His visitation and gentle words heal like medicine. We say of him, "He restored my soul. My cup runneth over."

The tragedy of Judas and the miserableness of all human bitterness is isolation and apparent insulation in the hour of need. He made no friends who in the night would remember his sorrow. The majesty of humanity sang no song in his heart. He never wept over the sins, sorrows and weakness of others. Therefore he left none to weep over him. His isolation was self-inflicted. No moments of compensation came to ease him. The only treatment that would have saved him could not respond to the organs and affections of a generous nature had withered away through inactivity and negligence.

Judas' position as treasurer for the disciples indicates not only his ability, but his limitation. He never got beyond the mechanical side of discipleship. Inside this relationship he lived as he had lived outside it. His time was taken up largely with buying and selling. The language of the market-place was most naturally his speech. Fity, tears, great, warm, embracing sympathies were only secondary to his calculations. These came in after his main duties were attended to. He was honest. The moment that he was always a petty thief are suspicious rather than facts. The evidence is that proper inference portray him as gets him nothing. His appeal even

DEPOSED FOR A KISS.

THE REV. DAVID FRANCIS

The Rev. David Francis, who was deposed as pastor of the Third Christian Church at Richmond, Va., because he kissed Mrs. Francis's face, a member of his flock, says he will continue to reside in Richmond, although with no pastoral charge. "My enemies," he says, "thought I would run away, but I won't gratify them. I propose to stay in Richmond to live down the slur which has been cast upon my name and character by reason of the kissing incident. I don't think the offense was sufficiently grave to warrant the severe punishment that was meted out to me, but I am prepared to abide by the official action of the Church Board."

has no weight before the Sanhedrin. The man whose health is so good that he is free to face with the cold and infectious spirit of his own cramped life and he realizes its weakness. His purse is full but his heart is empty. Self-accusation takes him to the temple. An unattractive fever and frantic unrest hinders his return. The bargain had not satisfied him. He goes back to make a different arrangement. He then discovers the finality of the former decision. The destiny of man is no package that can be handed back and forth like goods in a barter. The blind expression of his own commercial training, however, at this point. The wheel of fate cannot be turned back. He has dealt in tragic forces. Things cannot be unaccomplished. He is not a man who can have betrayed innocent blood." Their hand, indifferent reply stuns him. "What is that to you? See that to their hands of all implication or conspiracy and then lead on him the destiny and tragedy of his bargain. See that to that." It is too late. In a wild fury that mocked at decency he hurks the three pieces of silver from him. They roll toward the Holy of Holies. This violation of the temple of prayer and another nervous breakdown, and is at present in the St. Barnabas Homes, in Kent.

On Sunday, July 6th, the Rev. Craig Nichols will be inducted by the Bishop of the Diocese, at 7 p. m. at the Methodist Episcopal Church, St. John. Mr. Nichols has been doing active work, and his operations as a pastor of the church along the river cannot fail to be of much benefit. Yachtsmen and motor boat people are especially invited to attend these services. The Maritime conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held in St. John, Sunday, July 27, and 28. Mr. Nichols is chairman of the executive committee in charge of the conference. It is believed that this Conference will enable the members to meet together for study and discussion. There will be able speakers present, and many are looking forward to this event.

At a recent meeting of the Deacons of Kingston, held in Gagetown, the Rev. A. W. Daniel, of Rothesay, was elected Rural Dean in the place of the Rev. C. P. Hanington, who resigned. Mr. Hanington has been Rural Dean for seventeen years, and during the whole of that time faithfully performed the many duties of his somewhat exacting position.

On Sunday, July 6th, a new window will be unveiled in St. James' Church, St. John, in memory of Mrs. George Bridges, for long years a faithful member of the church. The window is erected by her husband, and the subject is "Mary at the feet of Jesus." The work was done by the N. T. Lyon Glass Company, of Toronto.

Most successful Diocesan Synods have been held in Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver, and the reports in the various church papers reveal interesting information of the activity and progress in every line of work. The Bishop of Toronto in his charge, was most emphatic in pressing upon his clergy the importance of publishing the banns of marriage three times as required by the rubric of the Prayer Book, and requested that "no priest in this diocese will stultify himself by consenting to publish the banns only once," as required by the State.

Many will regret the abandonment of the Summer School at Rothesay, shelter and something to eat. Since then she calls him her father, his wife her mother, and the children her brothers and sisters, and the relation that has ever since existed between the grown-up daughter has been good to see. David and Jonathan could not have been more tender with each other than they are.

Presbyterian Notes

Tomorrow, June 29th, is "Patriotic Sunday" in the Sunday Schools of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A special programme of service has been prepared by the Assembly's S. S. Committee, which is attractive both in appearance and in subject matter. The observance of the day is "Temperance."

On Tuesday, July 1st, the Presbytery of St. John will hold its quarterly meeting in St. Andrew's Church, St. John, at 10 o'clock. Several important items of business are on the docket, including the licensure of Mr. Jesse P. E. L. for sixteen months, a call from Fort Kent, Me., to Rev. C. G. Townsend, Home Mission matters will also be taken up, and the assembly Commissioners will give their report.

Harry Somers, catechist at Grand Bay and South Bay, is in attendance as the Students' Conference at present being held in Northville, Mass. This Conference of students from all over the continent is an annual religious gathering of great importance, and is held in connection with the educational institutions established by the late Dr. L. Moody.

In the death of Rev. George McMillan, late of Kentville, N. S., the Synod of the Maritime Provinces loses one of its best ministers. He was ordained in 1880. He was minister at Malpass, P. E. I., for sixteen years, coming to St. Paul's Church, Kentville, N. S., in 1897, he continued in the pastorate there until his death, which occurred when he was obliged to resign on account of ill health. His death took place on July 1st, at his residence, the place of his birth, on June 23rd. As a man he was ever the Christian gentleman, genial and kindly, as a theologian, he was sympathetic and faithful; as a preacher he was scholarly and inspiring. Rev. John McMillan, D. D., of Halifax, is his brother.

Rev. Henry van Dyke, D. D., of New York, has been appointed by President Wilson, United States ambassador, to the court of Queen Wilhelmina at The Hague, New York City, for several years. He was minister of the Presbyterian Church, New York City. From here he accepted the Professorship of English Literature in Princeton University, discharging the duties of this chair with ability and distinction, until he resigned a little over a year ago. He is well known among a wide constituency, and religious writers of the present day.

It is of interest to note, in the Toronto Presbyterian, the kindly and favorable reference to the success of Rev. L. A. Maclean, formerly of Calvin Church, St. John, who accepted a call last February, to the "Federated Church" of Davyville, Que. In that town of about 2,000 people the Presbyterian Church was closed, and both Congregationalists and Presbyterians worship together, in what was formerly the Congregational Church, but under a Presbyterian pastor induced by the Presbytery of Quebec. Members are received and entered on the church roll as either Presbyterian or Congregational, by a Session formed of a board of deacons and a board of elders, representing both denominations. In the report presented to the Congregational Union a fortnight ago, in Toronto, the pastor Rev. L. A. Maclean, was able to say, "The attendance now in the Federated Church is fully 50 per cent, better than the total attendance at both churches before the union. The church is now prospering immensely and is the largest in the town."

Some changes have recently taken place in connection with the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in Trinidad. Miss Blackadder, who has been a teacher to the Hindu children in the school at Teague, for thirty-seven years has resigned. Her retirement was marked by a splendid expression of the goodwill of her friends, who at a public meeting called for the purpose, presented her with an address, a purse of money and a travelling bag. No less than thirty of her pupils now hold forth the passage of the stones through the gall duct—and thus cure the disease.

Rev. Charles Cumming, graduate of two years' standing from Union Theological Seminary, and who has been studying in Germany, has accepted an appointment as professor in Theological College in San Fernando, Trinidad, and will enter upon his duties this year. Dr. F. J. Gifford, of the college, is spending the summer months at Bournemouth, England. He was present at the council of the Pan Presbyterian Alliance in Aberdeen, and will later attend the World Sunday School Convention at Zurich, Switzerland.

The Diocese is losing an earnest clergyman, in the departure of the Rev. A. W. Daniel, of Rothesay, who has recently been elected rector of Sydney Mines, C. B.

It is too late. In a wild fury that mocked at decency he hurks the three pieces of silver from him. They roll toward the Holy of Holies. This violation of the temple of prayer and another nervous breakdown, and is at present in the St. Barnabas Homes, in Kent.

On Sunday, July 6th, a new window will be unveiled in St. James' Church, St. John, in memory of Mrs. George Bridges, for long years a faithful member of the church. The window is erected by her husband, and the subject is "Mary at the feet of Jesus." The work was done by the N. T. Lyon Glass Company, of Toronto.

Most successful Diocesan Synods have been held in Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver, and the reports in the various church papers reveal interesting information of the activity and progress in every line of work. The Bishop of Toronto in his charge, was most emphatic in pressing upon his clergy the importance of publishing the banns of marriage three times as required by the rubric of the Prayer Book, and requested that "no priest in this diocese will stultify himself by consenting to publish the banns only once," as required by the State.

Many will regret the abandonment of the Summer School at Rothesay, shelter and something to eat. Since then she calls him her father, his wife her mother, and the children her brothers and sisters, and the relation that has ever since existed between the grown-up daughter has been good to see. David and Jonathan could not have been more tender with each other than they are.

DRIVING FROM GALL-STONES

Doctors Said Only an Operation Could Save His Life—"Fruit-a-tives" Enabled Him to Pass Nearly 200 Gall Stones.

J. B. HARDING, Esq., 46 Grove Ave., Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10th, 1913.

"I suffered untold agony from GALL-STONES for the past three years, and tried many doctors without getting relief. I also paid $5.00 for one bottle of medicine which was useless. At times the pain from these gall-stones was so great that I lost consciousness, and my condition was desperate. It was quite satisfied that I was dying and the doctors said I must be operated upon."

"During one of these very severe, acute attacks, I was given some 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and after taking a short treatment of this remedy, I passed gall-stones over an inch in length, and as many as one hundred and fifty or two hundred in number. 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' was the only thing that would relieve my pain. They are the greatest medicine in the world, and if there is anyone in Canada, or anywhere else, that suffers from gall-stones, I say, 'Let them take 'Fruit-a-tives' and be cured.'"

"If this testimonial will further the good work of 'Fruit-a-tives', publish it with my full authority."

J. B. HARDING.

Are you wondering how 'Fruit-a-tives'—a medicine made from fruit juices can cure gall-stones? We will tell you. The Gall bladder is the reservoir for holding the Gall, or bile, secreted by the liver. If there is insufficient bile, then the bile in the Gall bladder is thick and easily forms stones. When the liver is weak, it secretes very little bile and thus the Gall bladder is partially filled with a thick jelly-like mass of bile and thus forms into lumps or stones. 'Fruit-a-tives' stimulates the liver to secrete more bile, and this increased bile softens the Gall-stones and by overfilling the Gall bladder, forces the passage of the stones through the gall duct—and thus cures the disease.

'Fruit-a-tives' is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. A wonderful process, the medicinal properties of certain fruits are greatly intensified—then valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into the pleasant tasting tablets known in every section of Canada as 'Fruit-a-tives'.

this she did with a smiling face. When membership means so little? To have your name on the church book as a member of the church is a mark of respectability, when you rarely attend a service, when you neglect to God to lead her and left the house, and the Lord guided her to our compound. When she reached our compound the Lord had my servant at the gate, who, seeing the anxious expression on her face, asked her if she was in trouble. She then told him she was seeking the Christians to join them, and asked him if he could tell her where they lived. She was happy when she found out that she had been led to us. Although formerly she would have considered it an insult to be invited to come in and eat with such a man servant, she gladly accepted his offer of shelter and something to eat. Since then she calls him her father, his wife her mother, and the children her brothers and sisters, and the relation that has ever since existed between the grown-up daughter has been good to see. David and Jonathan could not have been more tender with each other than they are.

There are on the continent of America 53,033 baptist churches, 33,128 ordained ministers and 5,913,008 church members. In the year 1912, 238,101 new members were added to the ranks. Dr. W. C. Kelrstead, of U. N. B., who is in the west for the summer, is supplying the pulpit at St. John's, Regina, for two Sundays.

Hd Rheumatism

WAS CONFINED TO HIS BED FOR FOUR MONTHS.

Mr. W. H. Riley, Ruddell, Sask., writes—"It is with the greatest pleasure that I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all suffering with rheumatism. I was so bad with this terrible disease, I was unable to get up from my bed for four months, and nothing seemed to relieve me until a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I had my doubts about them, but was so desperate I would try anything suggested to me. After taking half a dozen I was up, and after taking two boxes could get around quite well. After taking six boxes I was completely cured and have not had a touch of rheumatism since. Anyone who saw me then, do not know me now, as I am strong and active since taking your valuable medicine."

Rheumatism is caused by the presence in the blood of uric acid, and the kidneys not working properly is the sole cause of this, and unless you remove the acid by flushing the kidneys, there is no possible chance of getting rid of rheumatism.

Doan's Kidney Pills help the kidneys to wash out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, and thus clean out the kidneys, and dispel the rheumatism from the system.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers. Sold direct on receipt of price to The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Beauty-Destroying Hairs Quickly Banished

(The Modern Beauty.)

It is now an easy matter to quickly and permanently rid the skin of ugly hairy growths without resorting to the painful and expensive electric treatment, merely by using a delicate paste, made by mixing enough deltona with water to cover the hairy surface. This paste should remain on the skin 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. After using deltona the skin will be entirely free from hair or blemish.

Beautiful, lustrous eyebrows will result if proxiol be rubbed on occasionally, and short, straggling eyelashes will come in long, silky and have a delightful curl by applying proxiol at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. Use care and don't get any proxiol where no hair is wanted.
