Met at New York to Debate the Merits of Recently Enacted Kansas Industrial Court Law.

GOMPERS ARGUES RIGHT OF STRIKE
Kansas Law Does Not Say Men Shall Not Quit Work; Shall Not be Ordered to Quit.

New York, May 28.—Carnegie Hall was packed to the doors tonight when Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, and Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, met to debate the merits of the recently enacted Kansas Industrial Court Law and kindred subjects. Judge Alton B. Parker, of this city, presided and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Gompers and Governor Allen walked on the stage shortly after eight o'clock while the audience arose and cheered. Each was followed by a large body of supporters. When the first wave of cheering had subsided the organist played—"There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," and the applause was renewed.

COAL SITUATION BECOMES MORE SERIOUS

Coal Year Started With Practically No Reserve Stocks.

Montreal, May 28.—Following up previous efforts with regard to the crisis that is threatening in the bituminous coal situation, it was stated today by leading manufacturers and other heavy users of steam coal that warning circulars had been issued for their guidance. This sets forth that the coal year, commencing April 1, had started with practically no reserve stocks, a condition without parallel in the history of the continent. To meet this state of affairs the circular asks that the manufacturers and others within the area of distribution of the Maritime Provinces and Alberta and British Columbia procure their supplies from these sources so as to avoid overloading transportation.

State Troops Ordered There to Take Charge of Situation Caused by Strike.

No disorders occurred after the quelling of the fifteen-minute disturbance. The military was in entire control of the town tonight.

PENNA. RAILROAD AFTER G. T. LINES

Montreal, May 28.—The Pennsylvania Railroad has been in negotiation with the Dominion Government for the purchase of the American lines of the Grand Trunk Railway. These lines have always been regarded as perhaps the most valuable of the entire Grand Trunk Railway system. From the outset the Dominion Government has recognized the difficulty of it being able to hold and operate lines in the United States. Some time ago it was thought that group of Canadian capitalists might form a new company to take over the American lines from the Government and operate them in connection with the Government system. The Pennsylvania Railroad has now loomed up as a strong competitor for any Canadian group and it is thought it would be in a position to pay more for the American lines than would the Canadian group.

THE DIVIDEND ON BRAZILIAN

Toronto, May 28.—Sir Alexander MacKenzie, President of the Dominion Traction Light and Power Company, has arrived in the city from London. Sir Alexander intimated that no special significance was attached to his visit at this time. The annual meeting of the company would be held shortly and he intended to be present at it. Being asked if any special extension plans are under way for his company, President MacKenzie replied that extensions were always being made, though, of course, with regard to the dividend on Brazilian rumors of the early resumption of which have been heard from time to time, Sir Alexander said that this would be a matter for decision by the Board rather than by one person. The directors were going into the affairs of the company now and the dividend question would be one of the things to come up for discussion.

MILL OPERATIVES IN DEMONSTRATION

Lawrence, Mass., May 28.—Three thousand of the operatives employed in the four mills of the American Woollen Company in this city, paraded late today to the summer home of Andrew of William M. Wood, President of the Company, to express their confidence in Mr. Wood, who is under Federal indictment in New York for alleged profiteering. The mills were closed at 3 o'clock to permit the demonstration.

GENL. CURRIE SINGS PRAISES OF CAN. CORPS

Tells Halifax Audience the Work Accomplished by Them Overseas Should Not be Forgotten.

REFERS TO EPISODE AT PASCHENDAELE
Saying it Had Been Well Worth Its Cost in Casualties to Morale of Allies.

Halifax, N. S., May 28.—(By Canadian Press)—That the story of the Canadian Corps accomplished overseas should not be forgotten, was the message of Sir Arthur Currie, who addressed the Canadian Club at the school for the Blind tonight. He urged the preservation of the Empire, Christianity and honor, both public and private, and the defeat of selfishness through duty to the men who had sacrificed their lives and asked for generous and full support for the Dalhousie Campaign since the University were strategic points in the life of modern life. Sir Arthur reviewed the campaign of 1917, speaking of the Paschendaele episode at considerable length, and saying it had been well worth its cost in casualties through the stimulus it gave to the Allied morale. He also thanked the women of the province for the work they had done in the war, praised the Nova Scotia regiments and made individual mention of the work of Colonel Allison Borden, of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade. The audience was large and intensely patriotic from the volume of the frequent outburst of applause.

Sir Arthur Currie commenced his address by touching upon current conditions. No nation, he said, could live unto itself, and the duty of a citizen to his homeland was coupled with his duty to the world. He had no doubt but that Canada would fulfill her responsibilities with the same resolute purpose and unselfish sacrifice she had shown during the war.

GREAT DESTRUCTION BY FOREST FIRES

Valuable Timber Lands Laid in Waste, and Villages Threatened.

Special to The Standard. Amherst, N. S., May 28.—Thousands of acres in valuable timber land are this morning merely a desolate and blackened area of smoking and fire-blasted stumps. The forest fires that commenced in Two Rivers on Sunday opened up with violence yesterday, and today backed by a strong wind continued and now the vast timber areas, surrounding River Herbert, are in waste and still the fire continues to sweep onward unchecked. The village of River Herbert would be wiped out by the flames, and the population of the district were out in an endeavor to safeguard their homes. At ten o'clock the wind changed and the flames were turned in their course. Sweeping up the Marren Valley, the fire hurled the wide river and a half mile stretch of green meadow, and before the three hundred fire fighters had a chance, was raging on ahead of them. The county of Cumberland has lost hundreds of thousands of dollars through this fire. The lumber area owned by James Porter, was wiped out of existence. The Christie property was badly scarred by the flames, and others smaller holdings, including the Shipley lands were crossed by the devastating element.

Father Inflicts Many Cruelties Upon His Nineteen Year Old Daughter.

New York, May 28.—The jury in the case of John Gallander, of Brooklyn, a vandeville sculptor, charged with producing his six year old daughter, Minnie, by striking her with a stick from which a nail protruded, tonight returned a verdict of assault in the third degree. Evidence also was introduced that a red hot knife was plunged into the girl's arm; that needles were driven into her flesh and that dishes and other missiles were thrown at her by her father.

SIR SAM HUGHES GIVES NOTICE OF RESOLUTION

Aimed at the Interference of the United States Congress in British Affairs.

CALLS ATTENTION TO HOME QUESTIONS
Thinks States Would Do Well to Devote Some Study to the Negro Situation.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 28.—Sir Sam Hughes has given notice of a resolution which, if passed this session, will precipitate a debate on the Irish question. The resolution is aimed at the interference of the United States Congress in British domestic affairs. It is hardly possible, in one life time remaining, that the resolution will be before parliament. It is as follows: "That, in view of the facts that for generations past, the British Empire, largely by Sir John Lubbock, and the Chamber gave the Premier, by its vote, the mandate to go to the approaching conference in Spa between the Allies and the Germans, and demand application in full of the terms of the Versailles Treaty and to accept no compromise on the question of a fixed sum of indemnity to be paid by Germany.

FOREST FIRES ARE UNDER CONTROL

Stream Drivers Joined With Forestry Men in Subduing Blaze at Boiestown.

Special to The Standard. Chatham, May 28.—The forest fires that have been raging for the past few days in the vicinity of Boiestown with serious results to the timber lands, are now under control, according to latest reports. A large number of fire-fighters had been engaged by the Miramichi Lumber Company in that section, the fire was practically surrounded and its further progress cut off. A brush fire in the vicinity of Douglassfield, about one and a half miles from Chatham, caused great anxiety for a time. The fire had gained great headway before effective measures could be taken to combat it. The efforts of the residents of that section, with the assistance of a number of men from town, were finally successful in stopping the fire before damage had been done to any buildings.

SHIPPERS MUST DO THEIR PART

Ordered to Cooperate With Railroads and U. S. Gov't in Breaking the Freight Jam.

Washington, May 28.—Shippers were warned by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, today, that they must cooperate with the railroads and the government in breaking the freight jam. The notice was served in the form of an order directing five railroads, entering Galveston, Texas, to immediately unload 2,700 cars of grain in the yards there and to restore the cars to service. Although there was no official announcement by the Commission that it would proceed along the same course in other cities, such suggestions have been made by railroad officials in objections to the use of freight equipment in the yards at the Boston and Galveston. Conditions prevailing in Galveston, railroad officials said, are duplicated in several other cities.

FRENCH GOV'T GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Premier Given Mandate to go to Spa Conference and Demand Full Indemnity from Germans.

NO AGREEMENT AS TO FIXED SUM
Millerand Tells Chamber Germany Should be Made to Pay in Full.

Paris, May 28.—Premier Millerand today, obtained for his government the largest vote of confidence it had received since its formation. This was 232 to 88, the united Socialists voting solidly against the Government. The question was Premier Millerand's interpretation of France's foreign policy, and the Chamber gave the Premier, by its vote, the mandate to go to the approaching conference in Spa between the Allies and the Germans, and demand application in full of the terms of the Versailles Treaty and to accept no compromise on the question of a fixed sum of indemnity to be paid by Germany.

MURDERS STILL CONTINUE IN IRELAND

Many Private and Public Buildings Burned Yesterday—Awaiting Troop Arrivals

London, May 28.—Burning of private and public buildings and shooting of citizens continued in various parts of Ireland last night. The coast guard station on Spyll Head, in County Kerry, was burned. The Castle Canfield Barracks, in the same county, were likewise destroyed by fire. In County Clare, a farmer living near Ennis, on the River Fergus, was attacked and seriously wounded. A civilian near Lisdonnana, in the northwest part of the county, was attacked and shot. The whole of Ireland is reported to be awaiting tensely the arrival of the military reinforcements now en route from Aldershot. The second Chamber of the Reparation Commission, M. Barthelemy and M. Loucheur that the Versailles Treaty be completely applied to which M. Millerand rallied, was much greater.

NOT SATISFIED WITH PIT BOXES

Springhill Miners Refuse to Work Until They Get What They Want.

Sydney, N. S., May 28.—(Canadian Press)—Robert Baxter, President of the United Mine Workers, left tonight for Springhill to effect an adjustment between the miners and officials. The men employed there have refused to fill the new pit boxes, which are of a larger type than the ones used in the past. The men insist upon the smaller boxes, which, they contend, are easier to load and better adapted to the requirements of the mines.

SOLD SUGAR AT THIRTY-SIX CENTS

Ottawa Grocery Men Exact Outrageous Price from Returned Man.

Ottawa, May 28.—(By Canadian Press)—The sale of sugar in an Ottawa grocery at 36 cents per pound will be investigated by the Board of Commerce through all its stages back to the shipment from the refinery, that they were informed that day by a wholesaler's traveler that sugar prices had advanced. They raised their price on stocks on hand from 22 cents to 26 cents, and the sales at 36 cents, which is complained of, was afterwards adjusted through a refund to bring the price to 30 cents, the 36 cents price having been charged by mistake.

The hearing will continue next Tuesday when the wholesalers will be asked why they caused increased prices by quoting ahead when no sales were made. If necessary, sittings of the Board will be held in every province in which this commodity of sugar was handled from refinery to consumer, to establish, Chairman O'Connor stated, why sugar was sold at this outrageous price.

DRURY GOV'T HAD SESSION FULL OF WORK

Heralded as Agrarian Government it Announced Its Intention of Producing Advanced Legislation.

ONE CONTEST ON GOV'T MEASURE

Quantity of Legislation Handled During Session Has Been Much Above the Ordinary.

Toronto, May 28.—(By Canadian Press)—In the first parliament of Ontario, which consists of three Liberals and two Conservatives, a session may have been held without a division, but the provincial legislature, which wound up its first session tonight is believed to be the only one since which has escaped with only one division on a Government measure being forced by the Opposition. The Drury regime was original in every sense. It was heralded as the first Agrarian government, with Labor men and Farmers as the composition. It announced its intention of producing legislation of the most advanced type at the outset, and on the whole, its announcements have been carried out.

ONE CONTEST

But the fact that the Opposition gave it only one contest on a Government measure indicates that the Opposition was both divided in its composition, and united in its desire to give the new rulers a chance. There were only four divisions in the whole eleven weeks of the session. The first of these was called for by Conservatives on the Minister of Labor's bill to simplify property qualifications in elections. The Government won by 54 votes. Two others were on private bills, the McCreary resolutions to request a referendum on liquor importation and the Sandy bill to stop short-circuiting in the liquor traffic in Ontario. The fourth was on a Government measure, the Premier's resolution to request a referendum on liquor importation and the Sandy bill to stop short-circuiting in the liquor traffic in Ontario. The fourth was on a Government measure, the Premier's resolution to request a referendum on liquor importation and the Sandy bill to stop short-circuiting in the liquor traffic in Ontario.

London, May 28.—The question of renewing the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is not yet the subject of conversations between London and Tokio, although the time limit, wherein notice is to be given to amend or abrogate it, expires in July, the London Times learns from the Japanese Foreign Office. Renewal of the Alliance was announced in 1913 generally in taken for granted, the newspaper says.

Brooklyn (N. Y.) Woman Says He Deserted Her About a Month Ago.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, May 28.—A dashing looking young woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Daniel Waller, of Brooklyn, N. Y., sought the aid of the Moncton police, today, in an effort to locate her husband, who, she alleged, had deserted her about a month ago. Mrs. Waller came to the Province in search of her husband, because he was a native of Rexton, Kent County, and she had reason to believe he would be found there. Inquiry made by the police elicited the fact that the name of the Brooklyn woman looking for has been at Rexton some weeks, and it is the intention of the alleged deserted wife to go to Rexton tomorrow.

GRAY BANKS INVADE GAY PARIS STREETS

Bright Shop Windows Familiar to Promenaders Replaced by Stern Stone Buildings.

DREAMERS PAUSE NO MORE

Foreign Banks as Well as French Are Picking Out All the Beauty Spots.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Paris, May 22.—The Figaro recently published a column editorial protesting about the invasion of numerous domestic and foreign banking establishments along the famous points of the principal streets of Paris. Since the war, it was pointed out, the numerous shops, each with an exhibition of beautiful objects vying with each other in the color, charm and fascination of their wares, were being crowded out by the formal business like fronts of banking houses. They lament that the charm of the boulevards is likely to pass as these stern countenances usurp the corners held for years by the cafes and bright shop windows familiar to the promenaders. The Credit Lyonnais and the Banque Nationale de Credit are already familiar signs, but it is also the foreign bank that is the aggressor. At the corner of the Rue des Capucines a tailor's establishment has been displaced by an English bank, the interesting window of a print seller is to be displaced at the corner of the Rue Edouard VII. by the Credit Commercial de France; a Swedish bank is cutting Paillard's restaurant, near the Vaudreuil, and the Banque Privee has taken the place of the old Durand restaurant, in the Place de la Madeleine. Adjacent to the grand boulevard the Maison des Bambous, where the wealth of oriental art causes many to ponder and dream before the windows, has been dislodged by an English bank. Morgan & Harjes is in the Place Vendome, and a bank is being installed in the old Hotel Bristol. The financial expansion has not even respected the monumental Place de la Concord, for near the embowered entrance of the Champs Elysees a Dutch bank is settling down to business in the old Hotel de Ostein. A new bank is taking up residence at the corner of the Boulevard Hausmann and the Rue des Mathurins and Mammion has even invaded the sacred left bank, the former mansion of Prince Orloff. In the Rue Saint Dominique across the Seine, has been transformed into an elegant banking office. The encroachments of finance upon the smaller shops and restaurants may indicate that France is to take a more important role in the commercial world than she has in the past, but Parisians who love the old haunts and hold dear the indefinable charm of their capital regard this sign of prosperity with not a little regret. The Figaro asks why the banks cannot be satisfied with corners conveniently near the famous thoroughfares instead of driving away the beautiful shop windows at which one may dream and muse even though the purse may not allow a purchase.

WANTS ADVISORY TARIFF BOARD

Canadian Railroader Warmly Supports Movement for Appointment of Experts to Deal With Fiscal Matters.

Urging the appointment of a Tariff Board, Mr. George Pierce, writing in The Canadian Railroader Weekly, of May 15, warmly endorses the Government's decision to establish a Bureau of Scientific Research and continue. "To begin the development of the wonderful natural resources of the richest domain on earth, is worthy of the mettle of real men. It is, however, perfectly logical that similar methods should be applied to handle the products when they have been discovered, developed or reclaimed, in the intricate processes which are necessary before the raw products can be delivered to the final consumer, the question of properly protecting the new-born industries is of paramount importance. If a free trade policy were adopted, how would these infant industries be made to prosper, and does it not appear to be logical that if so much research and science is needed to discover and develop our natural resources, that the same scientific methods should be applied in formulating the tariffs that will determine the future destiny of embryonic industries. The establishment of a permanent scientific Tariff Board to fix the tariff regulations along scientific economic lines is the logical twin-brother of the research department. One is the natural outgrowth of the other. One cannot succeed without the other. It is undeniable that if reasons exist to constitute the one, then the same reasons demand the establishment of the other. The Americans have already carried this line into execution. If we hope to compete with them, then we must keep pace with them when we find their experiential experiences have met with success. "We respectfully request from this Government, and the request is earnestly backed by many hundreds of resolutions from the trade unions, by the combined sentiments of hundreds of

AMENDMENT TO IMMIGRATION ACT UNPOPULAR

Debate of Senator Robertson's Proposal Adjourned Until Fuller Attendance is Assured.

SENATE CONSIDERS SUPREME COURT ACT

Which is Designed to Secure Consolidation of Previous Amendments and Secure Uniformity.

OTTAWA, May 28.—(Canadian Press)—The debate on Senator Robertson's bill, amending the Immigration Act, by repealing its British-born deportation clauses, was today adjourned at the request of Senator Crosby (Halifax) until Tuesday. In asking for adjournment Senator Crosby said that the question was one of such urgent importance that he desired a fuller attendance of Senators before proceeding with his address. Senator Robertson agreed to postpone consideration of the measure until after the weekend. The bill to incorporate the Western Canadian Union of Seventh Day Adventists was given a second reading. Second reading was given to the bill to amend the Supreme Court Act. Sir James Loughheed, explaining the amendment, said the object of the bill was to consolidate previous amendments to the Supreme Court Act and to secure uniformity in practice. It also proposed to prevent appeals in certain cases. The bill to provide for the settlement of Indian Lands and Indian Affairs in British Columbia received a second reading. Sir James Loughheed said he felt the interests of the Indian would be safeguarded by the two governments and the object of the bill before the House was to settle a dispute that had existed for fifty years. Senator Bostock said the question was a serious one. The measure before the House was a radical departure, in that it abolished the principle that the consent of the Indians had to be obtained before their lands could be sold or diminished. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had expressed the opinion that the matter should be settled by reference to the Privy Council. The Indians felt that if this bill became law they would be precluded from further action to justify their title to property. Senator Bostock urged that a special committee be appointed to review the bill and to hear the representations of the Indians. The Senate adjourned until Tuesday.

Debate of Senator Robertson's Proposal Adjourned Until Fuller Attendance is Assured.

SENATE CONSIDERS SUPREME COURT ACT

Which is Designed to Secure Consolidation of Previous Amendments and Secure Uniformity.

OTTAWA, May 28.—(Canadian Press)—The debate on Senator Robertson's bill, amending the Immigration Act by repealing its British-born deportation clauses, was today adjourned at the request of Senator Crosby (Halifax) until Tuesday.

The bill to incorporate the Western Canadian Union of Seventh Day Adventists was given a second reading. Second reading was given to the bill to amend the Supreme Court Act.

The bill to provide for the settlement of Indian Lands and Indian Affairs in British Columbia received a second reading. Sir James Loughheed said he felt the interests of the Indian would be safeguarded by the two governments and the object of the bill before the House was to settle a dispute that had existed for fifty years.

Senator Bostock said the question was a serious one. The measure before the House was a radical departure. In that it abolished the principle that the consent of the Indians had to be obtained before their lands could be sold or diminished.

Sails 7,000 Miles Without Rudder

Former Battle Line Skipper Performs Remarkable Feat of Seamanship on Voyage from St. John to South Africa.

To navigate a ship for seven thousand miles with an improvised rudder is no boy's job. To "steer" that improvised rudder at sea in the month of January is a big man's job, but it is one of those jobs which fall to daunt our Nova Scotia mariners.

Capt. Ryder, who has sailed the ocean when it was blue and when it was any old color or no color at all, modestly told of the eventual voyage from St. John, N. B., to Durban, South Africa, the loss of the rudder, the making of a new one and the placing of it in position in which to continue the long journey.

The Hog left St. John on January 15th last with a crew of eight all told. The only certified officer on board was the captain himself. After clearing the Bay of Fundy a gale came on and the ship was compelled to shorten sail.

Capt. Ryder had taken his ship's rudder with him and he set about building a rudder from the deck cargo. A keedge anchor and all available iron was used to give it weight.

This improvised rudder was put in position with great difficulty and with this makeshift gear the vessel was able to navigate seven thousand miles.

Capt. W. E. Ryder belongs to Port Wade, Annapolis county. He has sailed "foreign" for over 20 years. During the war he was "working" in the North Sea, making in all some 63 voyages between Newcastle-on-Tyne and Havre. He was employed for nearly eight years on ships belonging to the Battle Line, of St. John and in his younger days sailed on such "windjammers" as the barque Arcturus, of Annapolis. He is now at 27 Tobin street, Halifax, and hopes to soon again be on the ocean blue.

Automobile Owner Fined For Speeding

Magistrate Adams Imposes Fine of $40 on Watson J. Hill for Racing Motor Truck — Test of Truck Showed Speed of 23 Miles.

At Brookville on Thursday evening Watson J. Hill was fined $10 for speeding by Magistrate Adams on the evidence of Messrs. Crawford and Moran. These men testified that in their best judgment Mr. Hill's car was travelling at a rate of not less than 35 miles per hour, and kept pace with McAvity's motor truck.

Last evening Percy B. McAvity with the driver of the truck and accompanied by O. J. Killam, Ford Distributor for this territory, and the foreman of the Ford Service Station, went out the Marsh Road with the truck, which had been put in perfect condition for the test, and with two other accurately adjusted pleasure cars.

The truck was opened wide on a level stretch, and on down grades and the maximum speed which could be obtained from it on any portion of the road was found to be between 22 and 23 miles per hour.

THE PROFITS OF RACING ASSN. ARE LIMITED

Amendments to the Criminal Code Proved Sliding Scale of Percentages.

FURTHER RESTRICTION ON FIRE ARMS

Offense for an Unauthorized Person to Wear Military or Naval Uniform.

Ottawa, May 28.—(By Canadian Press)—Fruits of racing associations are limited, according to the amount bet on each race, by a provision of the amendments to the Criminal Code introduced in the Commons this afternoon by Hon. C. J. Doherty.

These amendments provide that betting shall be by the pari-mutuel system only, and that profits of race-track owners shall be limited to seven per cent of the amount bet on each race where that amount is under $20,000.

Over $40,000 and up to $50,000 four per cent and all amounts over $50,000 three per cent.

In each case the percentage of the racing club or association is to be gauged by the total amount of money bet on the race by the pari-mutuel system.

There is also a change in regard to the "breaks" which the association is allowed to retain. Provision is made for the racing association retaining the odd cents, which are less than any multiple of five cents.

Part-mutuel machines, operated under the new amendments, are to be inspected, and operated under supervision of government officials appointed by the Department of Agriculture.

There will be an official at each track to see that no bets are accepted after the horses come to the post in each race, when the machines must be locked, and in that way it is aimed to check any attempt at fraud.

All the present conditions regarding the operation of betting on race tracks with regard to the number of days of racing, etc., are continued in force, and the provisions that pari-mutuel signs shall be used, and that profits shall be restricted as above are added to the present regulations.

Further amendments to the Criminal Code, submitted by Mr. Doherty, extend the number of kinds of fire arms, the carrying of which is forbidden; they provide for increasing the age of consent; they make it an offence for an unauthorized person to wear military or naval uniforms; they provide that a summons issued in one province for the appearance of a person in another shall be issued only under the authorization of the Attorney General of the province in which the summons is issued, and they provide for more severe penalties for keeping disorderly houses.

First reading was given to three bills introduced by the Minister of Justice, amending the Penitentiary Act, the Admiralty Act and the Juvenile Delinquents Act.

An extension of time of the remand which may be granted by a judge of the juvenile court is provided in the third measure, and certain definitions are made for the application of juvenile delinquents law.

The Minister of Justice announced that a proposed measure which has been on the order paper for some time to amend the Act respecting prison and reformatories in Nova Scotia is dropped.

OPPOSITION CONVENTION CALLED

A well attended and most enthusiastic meeting of the executive of the Provincial Opposition party in this city was held at the Seaman's Institute last evening, and it was decided to call a convention of the party supporters to nominate a candidate to contest the vacant seat in the Legislative Assembly, the election of which is to be held on the 14th prox.

The Convention will be open to voters of both sexes, and it is hoped that there will be a large audience, representative of all the wards in the city, present. As will be seen from the advertisement elsewhere in this issue, the Convention will be held in the Seaman's Institute, at eight o'clock on Wednesday evening next.

ABOUT 250 CANADIAN EMPLOYERS HAVE ADOPTED GROUP INSURANCE INSIDE OF FIVE OR SIX MONTHS

Now a Million and a Half People Covered by Blanket Policies in the United States and Canada.

MINIMIZES TURNOVER OF LABOR

The Many Advantages of This Method of Stimulating Interest of Workers Have Been Rapidly Recognized by Canadian Employers.

One of the most recent developments in life insurance in Canada has been the adoption of the group insurance scheme, which has been in operation in the United States for the past eight years. Although the introduction of group insurance was advocated for a number of years it was not until last fall that the Superintendent of Insurance at Ottawa gave a definite ruling that such insurance could be written in Canada. Since then four of the largest Canadian companies have availed themselves of the privilege of writing this form of insurance, the smaller firms preferring to devote their energies toward some more assured and more remunerative form of enterprise until the operation of the scheme in Canada has proven itself successful financially.

Profiting by the experience of the American industrial leaders, Canadian employers of labor are adopting the idea as a simple means of fulfilling their obligations to their employees and as a preventive of labor unrest. Already about 250 Canadian employers have adopted the group insurance scheme on behalf of their employees, and although figures for the total number of workers in Canada affected could not be obtained, it is estimated that approximately 1,500,000 workmen in both the United States and Canada have had their lives insured under this plan.

Stimulates Workers' Interest.

The unrest in labor circles arising out of the advanced cost of living, together with a growing appreciation on the part of employers of labor of the responsibility to those in their employ and their dependents, are the prime motives for the adoption of the scheme. Group insurance tends to stimulate a greater interest on the part of the worker in the operations of the firm with which he is connected. He feels that the management take a personal interest in his welfare and he is therefore more likely to bring his connection with the firm than would otherwise be the case.

It is over the endeavor of industrial leaders to minimize labor turnover to the greatest possible extent. The training of new men is a costly process, and when this training is applied to a large number of new employees it involves a substantial sum during the course of the year's operations. Careful investigations have been made on this point, and it is estimated that it costs a sum varying from $20 to $300, according to the nature of the firm to train a new man. This expense arises out of the time wasted by the older men engaged in the training of the new man; the decrease in output; the increased wear and tear of machinery; and the waste of materials. Group insurance has been adopted by a great many firms for the purpose of reducing labor turnover, to create a spirit of co-operation between employer and worker, and to interest the man's family as well in the industry.

It is contended that group insurance develops a spirit of goodwill toward the management of the firm which tends toward the elimination of labor disputes, and speeds up the process of production. It also attracts the most desirable class of employees and retains him in the service of the company a longer period than would otherwise be possible.

Under the scheme all employees of a firm are insured without individual medical examination and thereby a great many men are able to insure their lives who would be unable to pass the rigid examination imposed by insurance companies in the case of individual prospects. There are three general plans of insurance under this scheme adopted by Canadian firms. The first provides a flat amount for each employee, say $1,000; another an amount based on the man's salary and increasing as his salary increases, and third, a policy varying according to length of service. This latter is the more popular and is that which has been adopted by the majority of industrial firms. The contracts are essentially made in order to suit the requirements of the individual firms, but the amount of the policies usually varies from a minimum of $500 to a maximum of $2,500 to $3,000. An employer usually requires the worker to go through a probationary period of three to six months before being insured under the scheme, and the usual rate of increase is $100 per year.

Under this plan it is estimated that the cost to the employer, who pays all premiums, varies from 1 to 1.2 per cent of the payroll, and it is contended that in no other way would the expenditure of a similar amount of money bring the same result in appreciation.

The form of policy usually adopted is a yearly renewable term policy which expires when the employee leaves the service of the company which has placed the insurance on his life. Under the scheme he has the power to name his own beneficiary. The policies provide for assurance against death, and permanent and total disability before the age of sixty. In the event of total and permanent disability before the age of sixty has been attained the assured is entitled to the full amount of his policy. The schedule of rates imposed by the insurance companies are usually fixed for a period of five years, at the end of which time they may be adjusted if necessary.

Opposition Develops.

A feeling of opposition has developed in some quarters toward group insurance on the part of both the employer and employee. The former regarding it as another scheme of insurance companies to cause them to part with more money, and the latter believing that insurance is being foisted upon them by order to enable

THE MANUFACTURE OF CLOVER SILAGE.

(Experimental Farms Note.)
We are beginning to appreciate the value of clover silage in modern stock feeding. When properly made, clover silage is an excellent feed for nearly all classes of live stock. Aside from its higher protein content, it has an advantage over corn silage in point of lower point of production. The yields of clover compare favorably with those of corn when the land is first planted and the crop is cut in the mixture the higher the feeding value, and the easier it is to make a silage of good quality. The grasses are inclined to be more wiry, stiff and dry, thus requiring more weight to press the mass firmly into the silo to exclude the air.

The most common practice is to cut the clover for the silo when in full bloom, that is, when right for hay making. Care must be taken not to leave the harvesting period too late. It is better to err on the early side rather than postpone the cutting too long. While the plants are young the stalks and leaves are more tender and break up more easily. There is also the advantage of obtaining an earlier second crop. Only as much should be cut at one time as may be placed in the silo during the day. The mower should be started early in the morning while the dew is on and following at once by the rake. The clover should not be left to wilt between cutting and silaging. If severe wilting does take place, better results are obtained by adding water. The clover ought to feel wet as it drops in the silo. Frequently attempts are made to make silage out of clover after it is spoiled for hay. This is a poor policy. Partly spoiled clover makes very inferior silage, as it loses its color and likely decay has begun.

Clover silage has been made with

TO STANDARDIZE WORK IN FACTORIES

Clothing Workers of America in Cooperation with Manufacturers to Better Working Conditions.

Boston, May 28.—Standardization of quantity and quality of work in the clothing industry with a view to checking lateness as well as undue speed of production is one of the aims of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and the cooperation of the manufacturers is hoped for by the union, according to the general secretary of the clothing workers, Joseph Schlossberg. The plan which is in the hands of the general executive board of the organization is regarded as a new departure in the management of labor.

The general executive board will make a study of the market conditions in each large city and then invite a conference with the clothing manufacturers for the purpose of agreeing upon a scale of work. It is planned to establish a standard of quantity and quality that must be performed for the maximum pay, and there is to be a honest amount of work for the pay. Piece work tended to drive the workers too fast, according to their own view of it, and was everywhere discouraged by the unions; pay by the work regardless of the amount of work performed, has not been satisfactory to the manufacturers.

In the past the workers have claimed that they have been speeded up too much by the manufacturers and have met that speed by fixing an arbitrary limit upon production in certain places while some manufacturers have been contending that the men and women in the trade have not been doing an honest amount of work for the pay. Piece work tended to drive the workers too fast, according to their own view of it, and was everywhere discouraged by the unions; pay by the work regardless of the amount of work performed, has not been satisfactory to the manufacturers.

Some degree of success by placing in the silo without cutting. This should not be done if it can be avoided. Not only is there less liability of the clover spoiling when cut into short lengths, but it can be placed in the silo and also removed with much greater ease. The knife on the cutter must be kept sharp and set to cut approximately half-inch lengths. It is a good plan, where possible when silaging clover, to put a layer of corn on top to weight down the clover and secure a more thorough packing silage.

and thereby also a better quality of

You gain in Prestige when you own a Waltham

To be well-dressed induces self-respect. It also commands the respect of others. In the same way one's prestige is increased by carrying a Waltham Watch.

The name "Waltham" itself possesses the prestige that comes from being the world's standard of watch value for more than sixty-five years.

And this name is more than a mere tradition. It signifies progress as well as long establishment.

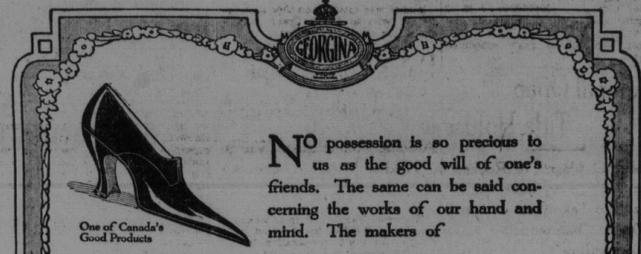

Waltham was the world's first factory to produce complete watch movements. At Waltham to-day the specially-designed mechanical equipment and the large staff of skilled watchmakers combine to make every Waltham Watch a perfected piece of mechanism.

Carry a Waltham for time-accuracy and justifiable pride of possession.

National Open Title Holder

Walter C. Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., Has Gone to England to Take Part in British Open Championship Golf Competition.

New York, May 28.—(The Associated Press.) Walter C. Hagen, of Rochester, N. Y., the national open title holder, who has gone to England to take part in the British open championship competition, which will begin at Deal, England, on June 28. The Kentish course is laid out over the sand dunes bordering the North Sea. The pick of the best British professional talent and half a score of first-class amateurs will make up the field of contestants against whom the small team of American professionals headed by Hagen will have to compete.

In Hagen the United States has a real home-bred professional golfer, who has learned everything he knows about the game on this side of the Atlantic Ocean. Born in Rochester, N. Y., 28 years ago, Hagen was first attracted to the ancient game when as a schoolboy he spent his evenings on the local club's course working as a caddy. Although from his earliest efforts to master the intricacies of the links game Hagen gave promise of unusual proficiency, it was not until the fall of 1913 that he jumped into public notice. That was the year in which Francis Ouimet tied with and subsequently defeated the British experts, Vardon and Ray, in the national open championship tournament at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass. This famous triumph scored of 94 each, while there was a quadruple tie for fourth place between Hagen, Jim Barnes, Macdonald Smith and Louis Tullier, the French professional, with scores of 307 each.

In August of the following year 1914, Hagen won the open title from a great field of players at the Midlothian Country Club, Blue Island, Ill., with a score of 280. Just one stroke under the famous amateur Charles "Chick" Evans, of Chicago, who took second honors, while Ouimet finished in a triple tie with the professional M. J. Brady and James A. Donaldson, for fifth place, with scores of 283 each.

After finishing in seventeenth and seventh places for the open championship in 1915 and 1916, Hagen won the title again last year, after a tie with M. J. Brady at Boston. Each had a score of 301, and in the 18-hole playoff off Hagen won with 77 to Brady's 73. A short time ago at New Orleans Hagen gave a very fine exhibition of his prowess, when he defeated Jim Barnes in a sensational match over the Country Club's link there. He is possessed of wonderful nerve and game sense, and when in a close race he can be depended upon to do the right thing at the right time, always having enough in reserve for a supreme effort.

After his arrival in England, Hagen will have about three weeks in which to get into shape for the big event. On June 21 and 22 the entrance for the open will have a test over the St. George's Hill course near Weymouth, Surrey, when it is hoped Hagen will be one of the 72 professional players who will qualify for the championship in this two day play.

Sensational Baseball Star

Young Player Who Has Made Good in Position Played by Frank Baker.

A baseball fan's heart is a sort of barometer. It shoots up and down, registering his likes and dislikes. This spring there were two big reasons why Aaron Ward would never be a regular with the New York Yankees.

The chief one was the possible return of Home-run Baker, long an idol of the New York fans. The other was the phenomenal showing of another recruit, Chick Fewster.

Both were lost to the Yankees through misfortune's hand. The death of Baker's wife has kept him out of baseball so far this year and the recent accident to Fewster has made his future very uncertain.

But it gave Ward his chance. He was the sort to make the most of it. Baker's shoes were a good many sizes too big for him when he suited into them. He stuck to the task, big as it was, and shot to the front.

And right now he is more than filling that pair of shoes. Weak-hearted Yankee fans are rallying round the youngster who took a tough assignment and made good. His brilliance won them over.

Ward is considered one of the finds of the year. He is full of dash and pep. He also has the happy knack of figuring in sensational plays. That's what it takes to appease the Polo Ground fans. They go there to be thrilled. Ward is doing it to them.

His noodle works at the same rate of speed as the rest of the baseball apparatus. His batting eye is getting keener and surer as the season progresses. He hits all kinds of pitching and isn't partial to any particular part of the field so they can lay for him.

To Aron Ward is due a good share of the credit of helping the Yankees swing round from a hard luck ball club into a fast clicking fighting machine.

And it was misfortune that gave the follow-up who is filling Frank Baker's shoes, his chance to blossom.

SEARCHING FOR A BRITISH HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

Tommy Burns, Former World's Heavyweight Champion, Has Propounded a Scheme for Discovering a Britisher Who Can Capture That Title—Has Located Thirty Boys Who Possess These Qualifications.

By Tommy Burns, former World's Heavyweight Champion.

London, May 25.—I have been warned that I must write about things which will interest you and not what merely interests me. All right.

I have proposed a scheme for discovering a British, world's heavyweight champion. I believe I shall find him, and when I have developed him I shall take him round the world to meet the best of all countries.

The search has thus far succeeded beyond my expectations. I have to date come into touch with thirty boys who possess these qualifications: Under 20 years of age, 182 lbs. and over, 6 feet and over. They hail from Greenore (Ireland), Liverpool, King Lynn, Edinburgh, Alverstoke, Mountain Ash (Wales), Kingston-on-Thames, Winchester, Leytonstone, Bromley, Feltham, West Ham, Loughborough, Lewisham, Harrow, Wimbledon, Walsingham, East Sheen, Brixton, Cambridge, Lower Tottenham, Comber, County Down (Ireland), Newport, Dulwich, Shrewsbury, Newmarket, New Vale (Ireland), and Fort George (Ireland, Scotland).

They are a hefty lot and I feel confident I shall find in one of them the attributes I am looking for—size, activity, gameness and adaptability, and I have seen all the best big men who are performing at present, but none of them has a hope of becoming a world's champion. I watched some amateurship, Army and Navy championships, but nowhere in the ring have I seen material of sufficient promise to warrant my attention. I am looking to the untaught for my ideal—the raw material which can be moulded and welded into the exact type of fighting machine I have in mind.

By taking the raw youth I get the pupil who has not contracted bad habits and habits, it is much easier to unlearn a fault in boxing, or any other sport, than it is to teach a correct, if difficult, system.

In such areas of which Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow, Birmingham, Cardiff, Leeds, Sheffield, Newcastle-on-Tyne are the centre, there are immense populations of workers, such as miners, iron-works, dockers, and the like, all keenly athletic and hard-sinewed. These men have to out-sprint their own feet in the work they do, so I am more likely to find the keen, hard-battler in the industrial districts than in the country where everything is softer and slower.

Among those selected for preliminary tests are: Mitchell McDermott of Greenore, Ireland, who is 6 feet 1 1/2 in., weighs 180 lbs. and is 19 years of age. He has won a 100 yards dash from scratch in 11 seconds, a 200 yards race from scratch in 27 seconds, and finished first in a 10 miles cross-country race. He has speed and endurance, and being Irish I have no doubt he is made of the fighting stuff.

Another promising candidate is a Scotch Highlander, Bandsman Piggie. He is 6 ft. 2 in., and 19 years of age. A third is Fred Stuet, of Queen Mary's Club for Officers. He is but 18 years of age, yet weighs 203 lbs. and stands 6 ft. 11 in.

The boxing fever is at its height here and the youth of the country is simply dying to see the sport. There never was a time in history when boxing had such a hold on the people. At the big fights you may always be sure of one or two of King George's sons being present.

Several of the chief promoters here have made me big offers to return to the ring, but I hold them all off till I had convinced myself that I would be able to stand the strain. I had no desire to come back for the simple purpose of making a few hundred pounds. It happened that I had a slight thickening of the tissue in my arteries, and I was a little out of condition. Dr. William Lloyd. It was a slump matter for him to put my nose right and I am now able to breathe better than at any time in my life.

The Daily Mail Sports Editor, John Crockett, who had been informed of my visit to Dr. Lloyd, saw a good news story in it and got the Doctor to give a pronouncement on my general condition. I would hate to tell you all the wonderful things he said about me, but perhaps an extract from his report will give some idea of what my present physical state is. He says: "The most remarkable discovery I made in regard to his physique was the unmarked condition of his nose. The bridge is perfectly straight and had I not known he was a champion boxer I should have said he had never been hit in his life. Not one boxer in 500 has a perfectly straight nose, because that organ is so delicate as to be susceptible to the slightest knock. In the case of Burns there is no evidence that the nose has ever been struck. . . . I tested his pulse and blood pressure, and could not discover any mark of degeneration. The tone of his arteries is that of a young man. . . . I would say that as far as the elasticity of his blood-vessels is concerned he might be 35 or 34 years younger than his actual age (38 years). I have seldom come across a man so well preserved and so free from all signs of bodily wear and tear. At the present time I believe he is carrying about 14 lbs. of excess weight, but as he is so solidly built and has very little soft fat, I suppose a month of steady training would bring him into splendid condition. Whatever overweight he carries now is distributed over the whole of his frame. . . . Very faintly, you'll admit, but the doctor says it's all too true. That report helped me to make up my mind. I determined to go back into the game and made the first move by challenging Joe Beckett, who has been credited with holding the British Empire championship title. It seems highly probable that we shall clash, though the Englishman has to meet Bombardier Wells and Frank Goddard or Frank Moran before he can give me a match. By that time I will be as fit as a man can be. I expect I shall enter the ring about 160 lbs. ever since I landed in England I have been doing roadwork—from 7 to 10 miles a day. Lately I started work in the private gymnasium which has been put into the basement of Jack Straw's Castle, at Hampstead Heath. From my bedroom window I can look down upon the greater part of London. It is a wonderful panorama. My daily walks are along the roads which Dick Turpin and his fellow highwaymen used in the olden days. Every morning I pass the Spaniards Inn where the "hold-ups" used to foregather to make their plans and later to count out and divide the spoil of the night's dirty work.

My gymnasium will rank, I think, with the best in the world. It contains all the things which a boxer requires, among others, two large punching ball platforms, a 16 ft boxing ring, a 12 ft wrestling mat, exercisers, snowshoes, rowing contrivances, and a variety of other exercise devices. The walls have been adorned with futuristic sports frescoes, by Will Scott, the artist.

It doesn't really matter here where you come from, as long as you can deliver the goods. They are just as generous with their applause for a stranger as for the home-grown product. The way they cheered Journe, the Frenchman, for staying 13 rounds with their idol Bombardier Wells was a revelation of the sporting spirit.

WEST SIDE BASEBALL. In an interesting game of ball the Blue Rock Fives, of the City Intermediate League, West Side, defeated the Phantoms, of the North End, by a score of 3 to 0. The game took place at the Queen's Square diamond. The batteries were: For the winners, Hammond and Keebles; and for the Phantoms, Moore and McCroosen.

Good Start On Olympic Trials

Maritime Trials and Field Day Will Be Held Here June 26—Y.M.C.A. Physical Committee Held Meeting Yesterday.

A good beginning was made towards ensuring the success of the Maritime Olympic trials and Field Day, which will be held on the East End League's grounds on June 26th, when at a meeting held at yesterday's noon hour, the Y. M. C. A. physical committee decided to push out door athletics by organizing a track team to enter in the meet.

George A. Margets, the well-known local sprinter and athlete, has consented to coach the team which will immediately get in training and hold workouts in the evenings on the Parrock Green from now on. The track will be on hand, commencing next Friday and on every Friday and Monday evening.

By immediately starting to get in shape a promising bunch of men should be ready for all events on the day of the trials.

The following men have been asked to be on hand Friday, as well as any others who would like to work out: W. Swetko, L. Ryan, E. Dykeman, W. Latham, M. Latham, A. Gillen, R. B. Turner, A. Bridges, A. Malcolm, I. Kerr, G. Logan, A. McGowan, C. Milidge, C. Urquhart and B. Winchester.

The Y. M. C. A. are planning to enter a relay team of four men and to take part in all events.

Will Not Defend Its Possession

Harvard University Will Not Defend Grand Challenge Cup Won at English Henley Regatta of 1914—Union Club Will Try.

Boston, May 28.—Harvard University will not defend its possession of the Grand Challenge Cup, won at the English Henley regatta of 1914, but the Harvard crew rowing under the colors of the Union Boat Club of this city is training for an attempt to keep the trophy in this country. All indications now are that this crew will be America's only representatives at the classic English aquatic meeting to be held July 13 except for possible entries in individual and doubles events. Financing of the trip is assured, it is understood, and only an upset in form at the last moment would prevent the participation of the Americans.

To comply with the Henley conditions requiring that no professional coaching for candidate crews be employed for three months prior to the race, the directors of the crews preparation has been placed in the hands of Robert F. Herrick, chairman of the Harvard graduate rowing committee. Mr. Herrick was the coach of the Harvard crew which won at Henley in 1914.

In material for the eight he has 18 oarsmen of college experience, all but one of whom are former Harvard athletes. The prospective Henley crew as now seated is exclusively a Harvard graduate combination. Its substitutes, forming a second eight, include Arthur Pew, who rowed bow on the winning eight of last year.

The Henley candidate eight is now boated as follows: Stroke—C. C. Lund, Harvard '18, weight 152 pounds. Harvard 1914 junior crew which won Grand Challenge Cup. Member of varsity crews of 1915, 1916. Now in Harvard Medical College.

No. 7.—Amory Jeffries, Harvard '16, weight 174. Rowed on class crews at Harvard and on Union Boat Club eight which won at American Henley in 1915. Rowed on A. E. F. crew at Paris and Henley.

No. 6.—Henry Parkman, Harvard '15, weight 188. Rowed on freshman weight in college.

No. 5.—Amory Coolidge, Harvard '17, weight 178. On 1915 class crew and 1916 varsity.

No. 4.—Barclott Harwood, Harvard '15, weight 170. Rowed on freshman and 1915, 1914 and 1915 varsity crews. Stroked Union eight which won American Henley in 1916.

No. 3.—Captain Henry A. Murray, Jr., Harvard '15, weight 168. Varsity eight in 1914, captain in 1915.

No. 2.—James A. White, Harvard '17, weight 149. Rowed on class crews and 1916 varsity.

Row—Robert F. Herrick, Jr., Harvard '16, weight 161. Harvard junior crew, 1916.

Coxswain—H. L. F. Kreger, Harvard '16, weight 118. Coxswain 1914 Harvard junior crew which won at English Henley. Coxswain 1915, 1916 varsity crews.

T. H. Bullock said St. John could not stand still. However, he thought the city was going ahead—people in doors and out were ready to stand up for St. John. The city was a very good place to live in. It had good schools, churches, hospitals, parks, and also drinking water.

HOSPITAL REQUIREMENTS OF ST. JOHN DEMAND ATTENTION

Interesting Speeches Made Before Commercial Club—Dr. Bowman on the Right to be Well—J. King Kelley Makes Arresting Revelations of Hospital Conditions—City Fathers Eager to Spend Money to Make City a Better Place to Live in.

Speeches by Dr. Bowman, an apostle of the new conception of the work of hospitals, and by city commissioners were the features of a largely attended meeting of the Commercial Club last evening.

Dr. Bowman claimed that it was as much the business of hospitals and doctors to protect people in the right to be well, as it was of the courts to protect them in the rights of personal safety, and the execution of contracts. The commissioners said they were ready to do anything to provide public improvements, if they could obtain the money, and that was up to the citizens.

After the routine business was dealt with, the executive and members of the Ladies' Hospital Aid appeared to hear the speeches.

Dr. J. H. Frink said for a long time it had been the habit to make derogatory remarks about the streets of St. John. He might desire to pave streets and open new streets, but at present the backbone of the situation in their hands. His ambition was to improve the streets but nothing could be done without the consent of the money power. A million dollar paving programme had been discussed for some time. He thought the main arteries should be improved first; the state of streets, as well as the appearance of the houses, along the main arteries determined the visitors' impression of the city.

Leaving Today For Toronto

T. C. Armour, Physical Director of Y.M.C.A., With Mrs. Armour Leaves City—Y.M.C.A. Loses the Very Best—Real Worker Will be Missed.

T. C. Armour, the popular physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and Mrs. Armour leave today for their home in Toronto, where Mr. Armour will, after the summer vacation, take up his work at the Broadview "Y" where he has been appointed chief of the physical department.

The many friends whom Mr. Armour made in St. John since taking up his work here last October, will regret to hear of his departure, but will, no doubt, be pleased to hear of his promotion.

The Y. M. C. A. Leaders Class and Basketball team at a reception held in the studio some few weeks ago took occasion to express the esteem in which they held their director by presenting Mr. and Mrs. Armour with a handsome silver service.

Captain Bowen has been appointed Mr. Armour's successor. The captain went over with the Princess Pats in 1914 and served in France with the 1st Battalion during its most trying days, being one of the one hundred and fifty-three who alone of six hundred came out of the line after one particularly heavy engagement.

The captain was subsequently given a commission with a Scottish regiment and served in Egypt, Palestine and Salonica, returning to France for the last two months of the war. Since his return to Canada he has been attached to the Princess Pats of the permanent force, as Y. M. C. A. instructor.

The captain will find the work of the local Y. M. C. A.'s physical department, thanks to Mr. Armour's zealous efforts in A1 condition. Although here for scarcely a year, Mr. Armour has brought the Y. M. C. A. physical department up to a standard of excellence which has never been equaled since the war period, if ever excelled before.

Dr. Chase's treatment will relieve you of all your suffering. It is a sure cure for all cases of PILES. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 10c return to Dr. Chase, 1112 St. John St., St. John, N. B.

Inspection of Fermhill Made

The Let Committee of Fermhill Cemetery Directors made an inspection of the ground yesterday afternoon and saw the new power lawn mower in operation. The machine is driven by gasoline and has a wide cutting knife which may be removed and the large rollers used to roll out newly made lots. Where the lots are laid out after the lawn section plan, the new machine can cut over in two hours what it has formerly taken two men three days to do by hand. The directors were much pleased with their purchase and considered it money well spent.

In order to make use of this machine on the new lot plot between the Naval and Military Plot and the Shelter house on Central Avenue, as well as to preserve the appearance of the grounds in this locality, it was decided to sell all lots between Fourth Path and the Avenue under perpetual care, and to adopt the low rolling mound for all graves so that the machine can run over them and save the hand trimming necessitated by the higher mounds. It was also decided to open up another section for lower priced lots.

The Committee inspected several monuments to set rates for their perpetual care, and also authorized the painting of the superintendent's house and the Shelter house.

C. G. I. T. Rally Held Last Evening

Closing Meeting of Season at Y. W. C. A. Recreational Centre—Successful Winter Reported.

The final gathering for this season of the Canadian Girls in Training Classes was held at the Y. W. C. A. Recreational Centre last evening with about two hundred girls and leaders present. Mrs. J. B. Hunter presided and with Miss Matheson assisted in the serving of refreshments.

Miss Mary Allison, Y. W. C. A. Girls' Work Secretary for the Province, gave a splendid talk to the girls telling them not to think that the program was completed, and that they had accomplished this winter but to make good use of their leisure time. The summer offered, she said, excellent opportunities for improvement and advancement in all lines of work.

Good reports of the winter's work were presented by the secretaries of the groups, all groups in the city being represented. The prizes won for the novelty table at the Shamrock Tea were presented to the Fairville Baptist Church group and St. Mary's group.

Each class then gave their yell and the C. G. I. T. song was sung. Three cheers were given for the leaders, those for Miss Allison and three for the C. G. I. T. Programme. The meeting closed with a resolve on the part of all members to make next year even more successful than this had been.

St. John Art Club Ask Money Grant

Decide to Ask Exhibition Association for Grant to Assist in Obtaining Loan Collection of Paintings and Other Forms of Art.

At a meeting of the St. John Art Club yesterday afternoon, at which W. S. Fisher presided, it was decided to ask the Exhibition Association for a grant of money to assist in the obtaining of a loan collection of paintings and other forms of art work to be displayed at the Fall Exhibition. A committee of fifteen with powers to add to their numbers was appointed to attend to the work of preparing and supervising the club's work during the exhibition in the Fall.

From one hundred and fifty to two hundred dollars are to be donated in prizes for the best paintings, sketches and drawings which will be exhibited, as well as for wood carving, china painting, modeling and similar classes of art work. The prizes will range from two to ten dollars each.

The meeting adjourned to meet Monday next at 2:30 in the afternoon at the Exhibition buildings to decide on the best location for the club's exhibit. The meeting expressed a desire to cooperate with the Women's Council in making the Applied Art night, which will be held during their coming convention in this city some time in June, a success.

Miss Alice Estey reported that there is a balance of $34.00 in the general fund, $11 in the emergency fund, and in the entertainment fund, $335. Mrs. J. L. McAvity announced that Mrs. L. G. Crosby had become a donor. Mrs. W. B. Tennant reported one donor, Mrs. F. E. Hartley. Miss Grace Leavitt reported Mrs. E. A. Cobbett as a life member and it was stated that this is the seventh Miss Leavitt has obtained before the Council. This resolution was carried by a vote of 10 to 0.

Mrs. James F. Robertson, president of the United Women's Missionary Society was appointed as convener of the devotional meetings to be held each morning at the National Council and the attention of the clergy is to be drawn to Women's Day, June 20, which is the National Council of Women's day. THE GREAT SHADOW Made in Canada Film

Has Proved Very Successful—St. John Man, Colonel Donald F. Pigeon, Responsible for Production of This Motion Picture.

While Canadians have not been backward in entering into competition with manufacturers in various lines, it is not until lately that they have seriously considered the making of motion pictures, the fifth great industry in the world at the present time. Now, however, such an attempt has been successfully made, and St. John citizens should feel very proud that not only has a splendidly photographed picture, "The Great Shadow," been produced, written by a Canadian and filmed in Toronto, Ontario, but that the man who is responsible for the picture is a St. John man, Colonel Donald F. Pigeon.

The Exhibition.
Mrs. Lawrence told of the appointment of four women on the Board of Directors of the Exhibition Association and referred to the fact that the Council had always endorsed women on boards for organization interested in women's work. Those appointed six years ago were Mrs. G. A. Kubring and Mrs. Lawrence. Later Miss Grace Leavitt and Miss Clara McQuiver were added. Miss McQuiver will look after the Art exhibit with the co-operation of the St. John Art Club, Mrs. Kubring working with the Ministry of Health in charge of the Health and Welfare Department. The Directors offered to the Women's Council the catering for the tea room on fifty-fifty basis. It is felt by the Exhibition Association that profits from the Exhibition should go towards lessening the general deficit and towards making a better exhibition possible each year. Societies should, Mrs. Lawrence said, look at the matter patriotically and work together for the general good of St. John and the Province. Appreciation of the good work of the Council in former years was expressed.

Mrs. McLellan, Miss Leavitt, Mrs. H. H. Pickett, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. R. J. Hooper and Mrs. W. C. Good spoke on the subject and a resolution was passed that the Local Council will not undertake the tea room but will centralize on Health work, co-operating with the Minister of Public Health and with other organizations interested in such measures. It was stated that a Baby Week was originated by the subject and a resolution was passed that the Local Council in Vancouver and Mrs. E. A. Young spoke strongly in urging that this should be undertaken, pointing out that it had been successfully carried out in many cities. Mrs. J. Willard Smith told of a conversation she had had with Hon. Dr. Roberts and of being called to attend a conference of Health workers in connection with Exhibition work to be held shortly. Dr. Roberts was greatly pleased with the interest being taken by the Council in Health measures. Hon. Dr. Roberts is to address the National Council one evening during the sessions.

Arrangements were completed for the presentation of the Fountain at Union Square to the City. Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond gave a report for the Hospitality committee stating that hostesses for thirty-five delegates had been found but that there remains at least sixty-five to be entertained. Mrs. David Scott of Oshawa, Quebec will be the guest of the County W. C. T. U.

The invitation of the Moncton Local Council asking the National Council delegates to visit Moncton was regretfully declined as there will not be time during the sessions.

Has Proved Very Successful—St. John Man, Colonel Donald F. Pigeon, Responsible for Production of This Motion Picture.

While Canadians have not been backward in entering into competition with manufacturers in various lines, it is not until lately that they have seriously considered the making of motion pictures, the fifth great industry in the world at the present time. Now, however, such an attempt has been successfully made, and St. John citizens should feel very proud that not only has a splendidly photographed picture, "The Great Shadow," been produced, written by a Canadian and filmed in Toronto, Ontario, but that the man who is responsible for the picture is a St. John man, Colonel Donald F. Pigeon.

The Exhibition.
Mrs. Lawrence told of the appointment of four women on the Board of Directors of the Exhibition Association and referred to the fact that the Council had always endorsed women on boards for organization interested in women's work. Those appointed six years ago were Mrs. G. A. Kubring and Mrs. Lawrence. Later Miss Grace Leavitt and Miss Clara McQuiver were added. Miss McQuiver will look after the Art exhibit with the co-operation of the St. John Art Club, Mrs. Kubring working with the Ministry of Health in charge of the Health and Welfare Department. The Directors offered to the Women's Council the catering for the tea room on fifty-fifty basis. It is felt by the Exhibition Association that profits from the Exhibition should go towards lessening the general deficit and towards making a better exhibition possible each year. Societies should, Mrs. Lawrence said, look at the matter patriotically and work together for the general good of St. John and the Province. Appreciation of the good work of the Council in former years was expressed.

Mrs. McLellan, Miss Leavitt, Mrs. H. H. Pickett, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. R. J. Hooper and Mrs. W. C. Good spoke on the subject and a resolution was passed that the Local Council will not undertake the tea room but will centralize on Health work, co-operating with the Minister of Public Health and with other organizations interested in such measures. It was stated that a Baby Week was originated by the subject and a resolution was passed that the Local Council in Vancouver and Mrs. E. A. Young spoke strongly in urging that this should be undertaken, pointing out that it had been successfully carried out in many cities. Mrs. J. Willard Smith told of a conversation she had had with Hon. Dr. Roberts and of being called to attend a conference of Health workers in connection with Exhibition work to be held shortly. Dr. Roberts was greatly pleased with the interest being taken by the Council in Health measures. Hon. Dr. Roberts is to address the National Council one evening during the sessions.

Arrangements were completed for the presentation of the Fountain at Union Square to the City. Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond gave a report for the Hospitality committee stating that hostesses for thirty-five delegates had been found but that there remains at least sixty-five to be entertained. Mrs. David Scott of Oshawa, Quebec will be the guest of the County W. C. T. U.

The invitation of the Moncton Local Council asking the National Council delegates to visit Moncton was regretfully declined as there will not be time during the sessions.

EXPECTS THE HOME RULE BILL TO BECOME LAW

Arrival of New Chief Secretary Banished Dublin's Hopes for Revision.

THOSE WHO OPPOSE
IT LACK POWER
Victory for Coalition Foreseen—Bill Will Effect Division of Ireland.

By C. H. Brereton.
(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Dublin, May 28.—Simultaneously with the arrival of Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new chief secretary, Dublin awoke to the fact that the home rule bill is going to become law practically as it stands. A month ago Dublin was still doing the ostrich act. The well-informed of all political parties were hiding their heads in the sands of platitudinous criticism and press abuse that halted the coming of the bill by saying: "Nobody in Ireland wants this bill, therefore it cannot pass. Even the sagacious and cautious organ, the Irish Times, did not hesitate to tell its readers explicitly what the precise fate of the bill would be. So many amendments, unacceptable to Ulster, would be accepted by the House of Commons. It was said, that the measure would be killed finally by Sir Edward Carson himself. Now it becomes evident that the amendments will not be forthcoming.

The Nationalist sentiment, in a resolution slightly out of keeping with the significance of the forces, refused to participate in any further discussion on the bill. The Labor party proposes to be content with tabling a formal protest. The "Die-Hard" Unionists Alliance likewise refuse to bow before the storm. The anti-Partition League, claiming the allegiance of two or three members of Parliament, will offer amendments aiming at the enlargement of the bill into something like a dominion home rule scheme.

Opponents Lack Prestige.
Unfortunately these men have neither ability in debate nor political prestige and without the active support of labor or the independent Liberals, which they are not likely to get, they will be steam-rollered into oblivion by the coalition machine in less than a week. It takes to pass the matter in a nut-shell, Parliament is either determined or resigned to the fact that the home rule bill must go through "according to plan."

"Then," says the critic, "it can never be enforced." But that is nonsense. The whole aim and object of the measure is the division of Ireland into its component parts, Protestant, industrial, Ulster, Catholic, agricultural and Gaelic Ireland. There is one thing only that the British Parliament can do at the present time—it can force the issue. There is no other alternative. The home rule bill does that. As far as the rest of the bill is concerned nobody cares a rap about it because Ulster is not to be divided. Ireland will alike accept just as much or as little of it as they please, all the king's men notwithstanding.

All is Step Forward.
To that extent, however, the bill is a tremendous step forward. For a century unwillingness to accept the temporary evils of partition has stood in the way of Irish progress and played into the hands of those who desired to maintain the unworkable union. It ruined the Nationalist party. It compelled Sinn Fein to abandon political terrorism methods. Now the English politicians, having for the first time in a century nothing to gain or lose by them from Irish politics, have done the far-sighted and firm thing. They have unscrambled the Irish eggs, had and otherwise. They will make a promise of interest to those who have the details, but the details are really not their business.

A recital of the arguments for and against the measure is at an end, and the continental myths, the religious, economic and racial aspects of the problem of North and South would all be a book. Some claim to have some preparation coming for fifty years. Others say: "If only this had been done five years ago or in Mr. Gladstone's time, and so on. This last is a feeble argument. The forces that direct the destinies of people and the broad course of history are unchangeable by the blunders of statesmen or the bargains of politicians.

Effect of Bill Discussed.
What will be the effect of the partition?

SUFFERED WITH BOILS
LAST 5 YEARS

Boils are simply a breaking out of the blood, and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the politicking and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood, and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble. When the blood is purified, cleaned and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered very much during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after using just one bottle I have had no more boils."

THOSE WHO OPPOSE IT LACK POWER

Victory for Coalition Foreseen—Bill Will Effect Division of Ireland.

By C. H. Bretherton. (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Dublin, May 28.—Simultaneously with the arrival of Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new chief secretary, Dublin awoke to the fact that the home rule bill is going to become law, gradually as it stands. A month ago Dublin was still doing the ostrich act. The well-informed of all political parties were hiding their heads in the sands of platform criticism and press abuse that hailed the coming of the bill by saying: "Nobody in Ireland wants this bill, therefore it cannot pass. Even that suspicious and cautious organ, the Irish Times, did not hesitate to tell its readers explicitly what the precise fate of the bill would be. Now it becomes evident that the amendments will not be forthcoming.

The Nationalist remnant, in a resolution slightly out of keeping with the insignificance of its forces, refuses to participate in any further discussions on the bill. The Labor party proposes to be content with tabling a formal protest. The "Die-hard" Ulster Alliance likewise refuses to bow before the storm. The anti-Partition League, claiming the allegiance of two or three members of parliament, will offer amendments stalling at the enlargement of the bill into something like a dominion home rule scheme.

Opponents Lack Prestige.

Unfortunately these men have neither ability in debate nor political prestige and without the active support of labor or the independent Liberals, which they are likely to get, they will be steam-rollered in less time than it takes to tell it. To put the matter in a nut-shell, Parliament is either determined or resigned to the fact that the home rule bill must go through "according to plan."

"Then," says the critics, "it can never be enforced. But that is nonsense. The whole nut and kernel of the measure is the division of Ireland into its component parts, Protestant, industrial, Ulster, Ulster, Catholic, agricultural and Down Ireland. There is one thing that the British Parliament can do at the present time. It can force Ulster to accept the bill. The home rule bill does that. For a century unwillingness to accept the temporary evils of partition has stood in the way of Irish progress and played into the hands of the king who desired to maintain the unworkable union. It ruined the Nationalist party. It compelled Sinn Fein to abandon political terrorism methods. Now the English politicians, having for the first time in a century nothing to gain or lose by them from Irish politics, have done the far-sighted and firm thing. They have unscrambled the Irish eggs, bad and otherwise. They will make a pretense of intervening themselves in the details, but the details are really not their business.

A recital of the arguments for and against, the historical facts and the continental myths, the religious, economic and racial aspects of the problem of North and South would fill a book. Some claim to have seen transportation coming for fifty years. Others say: "If only this had been done five years ago or in Mr. Gladstone's time," and so on. This is a noble sentiment. SUFFERED WITH BOILS LAST 5 YEARS ing of the home rule bill in its present form? The Irish Times says that as far as southern Ireland is concerned the only choice will be between governing the country as a crown colony under martial law and a republic. In a sense this is correct, but it fails to take into consideration two things, first, that the setting up of a Parliament in Dublin, with England and Ireland at arm's length for the first time and forcing the abandonment of the fiction that tanks and tin hats are presiding over the destinies of the Irish people; secondly, that England has never even threatened to take up to the present with her tremendously powerful economic weapon.

The British Parliament might be prepared to deal leniently or unjustly with the Irish people. It would never consent to deal ridiculously with them and to set up a parliament in Dublin and give it 1,000,000 pounds to buy furniture with and then send soldiers in tin hats to arrest the members, because they voted the demands of their constituents, would be ridiculous to the point of pantomime. On the other hand, whatever it may do in its roll of rebel, Sinn Fein as the party constitutionally in power in Ireland is in no position to defy the British empire. By the simple process of prohibiting the export of coal to Ireland the British Government can in two weeks send half the adult population of Ireland into the bogs to dig peat. By refusing to allow Irish products to be unloaded in British ports or carried on British bottoms the British Government could in a month ruin every farmer in Ireland. Such proceedings would be in the nature of acts of war, but Sinn Fein claims that it is at war with the British empire, and Mr. de Valera even goes so far as to declare that in refusing to recognize the Irish republic the United States is acting in a highly unneutral manner.

Compromise Predicted.

The result, of course, will be a compromise. Southern Ireland will be permitted to assume the outward show of complete self-determination, army, flag, trade representatives, etc., that have all things for. She will be permitted to sever all connections with Westminster, to raise her own taxes and apply her own tariffs. On the other hand, she will recognize the suzerainty of the British empire and the right of the British Parliament to settle the foreign policy of Ireland and to control, in case of war, its naval and military forces. In short, southern Ireland will get for itself the Dominion home rule that all Ireland would not accept.

It would be mere speculation to try to suggest the actual steps by which this will come about. Its coming in one way or another is inevitable. The Irish question, in so far as it concerns the relations of Ireland and the rest of the United Kingdom, will be settled. Ireland's internal questions—the fight between law and anarchy, between church and the progressive educationists, these fights will remain to be fought. For the next twenty years the self-governing southern Ireland will be learning the difficult lesson that it cannot run until it has learned how to walk. As a subject of political observation it will be the most interesting thing in Europe.

Nothing Like That.

SABOT-SHAPED AUTO NEWEST MOTOR MODEL

All Paris Amused at Car Made Like Mother Hubbard's Wooden Shoe.

Paris, May 28.—Parisians were amused recently with the trial run of a new shoe-shaped automobile just recently large enough to hold the driver and resembling old Mother Hubbard's wooden shoe propelled by a small motor. Several of these little cars got away to a good start and they passed through the boulevards and parks, attracting so great a crowd in many places that their path was blocked. They were painted different colors and were mounted on low-bung tricycles worked by a motor in the rear and driven with a little steering wheel. The machinery makes comparatively little noise and the flock of shoe cars running over the vast spaces of the Place de la Concorde appeared like a herd of super rabbits.

EXTENDING BOUNDARIES.

Tientsin, China, May 27.—Enlargement of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association in China is planned as an outcome of the international convention of the association just held in Tientsin. A large number of new branches are to be established and 100 more secretaries are to be recruited.

The Board of Directors are authorized to fix from time to time such rates for Railway Transportation, and Electric and Gas services, which may be necessary, after providing for operating expenses, depreciation, sinking funds and all other charges, to give them a net return of 8 p.c. on the rate base.

On the present rate base of $3,100,000, the net earnings will be at least $248,000 per annum. After providing for bond interest, $87,500, this would leave $160,500, or over 2 1/2 times the amount required to pay the dividends on the First Preferred Stock.

ON THE JOB

When the man at the head of a business is always on the job, keenly alive to business opportunities and the chance to do shrewd buying and profitable selling he keeps up every man in his employ. And the "boss" must be prepared to act with swift decision on information supplied him.

As an example: A cargo of leather was recently lying at Halifax subject to forced sale. A traveller for Clark Bros., Ltd., St. Stephen, N. B., so informed the firm and as a result Mr. John F. Clark, general manager, paid a visit to Halifax. He bought the entire cargo at far below the market price, shipped it to St. Stephen, then journeyed to Toronto where he placed an order with ONE firm for $60,000 worth of shoes to be made from this happy purchase of leather.

We will be pleased to tell you more of this enterprising firm and of their new issue of eight per cent. preferred stock which we are undertaking to sell after a thorough investigation of the values, purpose, products and people behind the investment. Free from normal income tax and fully protected by insurance on lives of the principals.

While the services of appraisal companies are in demand for a great variety of purposes, their origin as constituted today was in connection with the insurance industry.

The special field in which the appraisal company operates has been too broad to be a new value as a result of the heavy advances that have taken place in the cost of labor, materials, building materials, and machinery, in the last few years.

The insurance company shall not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the property at the time any loss or damage occurs, and the loss or damage shall be ascertained or estimated according to such value.

Much has been written of late and many warnings given in reference to the "no-insurance" clause in insurance contracts.

Value of property $200,000. Should be insured for 90 p.c. 180,000. Actual insurance 125,000. Under-insurance 55,000. Fire caused loss of 25,000. Company paid only 125,000, or 25,000 less by failure to keep up insurance.

NEURALGIA AND SCIATICA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak, Watery Blood.

APPRAISAL AN INVESTMENT THAT YIELDS BIG RETURNS ULTIMATELY

Saves Money to Concern Using it on Co-insurance and Business Profits Tax—Its Other Advantages.

While the criticism of appraisal companies are in demand for a great variety of purposes, their origin as constituted today was in connection with fire insurance to provide some definite basis of settlement in place of the growing litigation that often brought insurance companies into the courts.

Even amongst the larger concerns detailed lists of property were often lacking, and the need for some business-like records to consult in the case of serious fires resulted in the formation of the appraisal company. It was realized that a valuation made by an independent company before a fire was more likely to be impartial as well as complete than an after-the-fact attempt by one of the interested parties.

The special field in which the appraisal company operates has had as much to do with its success as the fact that it has a new value as a result of the heavy advances that have taken place in the cost of labor, all kinds of building materials and machinery, in the last few years. The "cost" valuation that was once a fairly equitable one in the case of buildings, equipment or merchandise, is no longer dependable. The 100 per cent. figure of two or three years ago can be raised today in the majority of instances to 200 per cent., or even 300 per cent., and still be well within the "current market value".

The appraisal company, as one of the cardinal principles of operation, marks down the present value not the cost; sets underneath a fair depreciation figure, and subtracts, giving the real valuation of today, namely, current price less depreciation. And that is the exact principle of the appraisal company in the settlement of claims at any time. Indeed this policy is stated by one company thus:

"The insurance company shall not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the property at the time any loss or damage occurs, and the loss or damage shall be ascertained or estimated according to such cash value, with proper deduction for depreciation."

Working of Co-insurance Clause.

Much has been written of late and many warnings given in reference to the "co-insurance" clause in insurance. The appraisal company has a vital relation to this. In brief, this means that the assured, in return for a substantial discount in rates that runs about 20 to 25 per cent., agrees to keep his property insured up to 80 per cent. (or 90 per cent.) of the actual value, thus giving the insurance company the maximum premium under the reduced rate. If he fails to do this, he is penalized to the proportion he had failed to keep his property insured up to 90 per cent. of the value, and he was penalized by being made a co-insurer with the insurance company to the extent of some $10,000 or $11,000. It worked out in this way:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Value of property $200,000. Should be insured for 90 p.c. $180,000. Actual insurance $125,000. Under-insurance $55,000. Fire caused loss of $30,000. Company paid only $25,000. Assured bore $5,000, or 11,000. Loss by failure to keep up insurance $11,000.

In the other words, had the property been insured for $180,000 the company would have paid the full loss of $30,000.

Buildings Are Important.

The average manufacturer or wholesaler or retailer is in such close touch with merchandise values that he is likely to keep his insurance up to the new cost standard, and so avoid serious loss in this respect, but it has been found a different experience with buildings and equipment, such as machinery. The ideas that prevailed, and rightly so, in normal times, have continued to be applied, and in probably the majority of cases values of equipment have been taken in at a depreciated value, and when a fire loss has occurred the assured found himself "contributing" for under-insurance.

So determined are some appraisers to set down the current value (less depreciation) in their estimates, that they do not, in many cases, bother to inquire the cost of the equipment, or building, it may be.

Usually, in appraisals there are two experts sent out, one to cover the "mechanical" work, and the other the "structural" work. The results of the investigation are given in an extended detail, and include the element of labor, as well as materials, and under headings of replacement cost, depreciations, and deductions for portions that need not be insured, such as foundations, underground pipes or wires, etc., leaving as a balance what might be termed the "insurable portion."

A question has been raised as to what extent an appraisal made several years before is trustworthy in case of fire. Generally the appraisal company can readily bring the list up to date in valuation, as it has current data; the most important point is the record in detail, which can easily be reviewed. Indeed, some companies arrange for a yearly revision, some appraisal concerns go even further, and supply an appraiser to assist in the adjustment of the loss.

Compiling Excess Profits Tax.

There is another important sphere in which the appraisal company proves of advantage; the compilation of excess profits tax returns to the government. The allowance for "depreciation" in plant or merchandise makes a considerable difference in the amount of net profits for the fiscal period that are taxable. This works out in a revised form owing to the abnormal increases in values since the close of the last year or two. Suppose in the ordinary course of events plant were worth $250,000, less 10 per cent. for depreciation, that is $225,000. This latter amount could reasonably be deducted from profits. If, however, the plant has increased in value to $375,000, and $50,000 were deducted from profits, that is $325,000, the profit would be $275,000, from this the regular 10 per cent. depreciation could fairly be allowed, or $32,500; the profits that would be taxable would be reduced now by $32,500, not $25,000 as under the old-time basis.

Hence, alike in the case of fire, and in government taxation, an appraisal is a profitable asset.

Other Uses for Appraisal.

Among other uses that readily suggest themselves are: The compiling of exact financial statements; the purchase or sale of plants; the issue of securities; the securing of loans; the apportioning of overhead costs for a department; increase of capitalization; partnership arrangements; mergers, or other business associations, etc.

Duly Obeyed.

A country schoolmaster, after giving one of his pupils a sound drubbing for speaking ungrammatically, sent him to the other end of the room to inform another boy that he wished to speak to him at the same time promising to repeat the punishment if he spoke to him ungrammatically.

The youngster being quite satisfied with what he had just received determined to be exact, and addressed his fellow-pupil in the following terms: "There is a common substantive of masculine gender, singular number, nominative case, and in an angry mood, that sits perched upon the eminence at the other end of the room, wishes to articulate a few sentences to you in the present tense."

And then he seemed surprised when the schoolmaster again pounced on him.

Wood production in the United States increased 10 per cent last year, in the Philippines in cultivation of rice.

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak, Watery Blood.

People generally think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same. The cause is the same, and the remedy to be effective must be the same. The pain of sciatica, whether it takes the form of sciatica, or whether it affects the face and head, is caused by starved nerves. The blood which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excruciating pain you feel is the cry of the starved nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

Police Court Cases Yesterday

Full House Dealt up to the Magistrate—As Prisoners Were Dealt With Others Arrived—Police Constable Charged With Selling Liquor.

The proceedings in the police court yesterday afternoon were often interrupted by the siren of the police patrol announcing its arrival at the doors of the 'lock-up, six drunks being brought in within the space of half an hour.

"I claim to be no prophet," remarked Magistrate Ritchie, "but I said how it would turn out. We lift our hands in holy horror at the crime of drunkenness, but no notice is taken of the wave of immorality and vice that is sweeping over the land. A man can leave his wife and live with another woman, and a woman can have three or four husbands. It is all right to break in and steal, as long as you don't get drunk. That is the greatest crime of all."

Richard Hoag, police constable, was charged with selling liquor to two women. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and the case was allowed to stand over to next Wednesday.

In the case of Frank Murphy charged with stealing a number of articles from the home of John Murphy, Max Williams, clerk in a second hand store on Dock Street identified two rubber coats which he bought from Frank Murphy for a dollar and a half on the 15th of May.

John Murphy took the stand and said that the coats were taken from his house between the 15th and 19th of May while he and his wife were absent. In addition to the coats, which he identified, a hand saw and ripping saw, small plane, and some bedding were also taken. The house showed signs of having been ransacked from top to bottom. The value of the goods was between $25 and $30. He did not know the defendant, who was no relation of his.

Detective Biddiscombe said he located the missing articles in Williams pawn shop after being notified of the burglary. The prisoner was remanded.

In the case of Patrick Mallory charged with a serious offence, evidence was given by a little girl and the prisoner was remanded.

Seventeen prisoners were charged in the morning court. Fourteen pleaded guilty to drunkenness and were remanded. One was taken to the hospital.

A charge of furiously driving a horse while under the influence of liquor and damaging property to the value of $10, was preferred against John Griffin. F. C. Wesley preferred an additional charge of damaging his car.

The complainant said that his wife was driving the car and he told her to give a team, which was coming at a furious rate, lots of room. Despite this precaution, the shaft of the carriage struck the hood of the car and damaged it. Police constable Totten stated that the accused was under the influence of liquor when arrested by him. The case will be taken up next week.

John C. Berry, charged with being drunk and impeding pedestrians, was fined $108 or eleven months in jail.

Frank Murphy, arrested on Wednesday night and held for investigation, was charged with stealing two pairs of rubber boots. The case was postponed until Monday.

Walter Straight, charged with wandering about in Prince William street and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself, was remanded.

A youth was returned to his quarters in the Boys' Industrial Home from which he had escaped.

THE BOY SCOUT QUESTION SETTLED

Matters Pertaining to the Winning of the Thorne Trophy by Trinity Troop and Centenary as a Close Runner-up is Explained.

To the Editor of The Standard: Dear Sir:—The article which appeared in your issue of the 27th was unintentionally misleading.

The Thorne Cup was unquestionably won by Trinity Troop on its merits, as they clearly made the highest marks.

While the information in your article of the 27th was obtained from a reliable scout official, a wrong impression was conveyed on certain points and there was no intention to belittle the work and success of Trinity, but to give encouragement to the other Troops who were runners-up.

Biggest Gathering of Boys' Work Men There is in session this week at Blue Ridge, North Carolina the Second Assembly of Association Workers with Boys.

This conference began on May 19th and will close tomorrow. There are about 85 delegates from all parts of the world, but the most of them, of course, are from the United States and Canada.

Nearly all of the delegates are Boy's Work Secretaries in connection with the Y. M. C. A.

The First General Assembly was held at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Indiana, in May 1913. It was so successful and marked such a definite advance in Boy's Work that it was unanimously decided to hold such a gathering once every five years.

The Second General Assembly was to have been held in 1918, but was postponed on account of the war. The purpose of this assembly is as follows:

(1) In the light of the world conditions of today to re-educate and define the task of the Y. M. C. A. in its work with boys.

(2) To define the proper principles and the most effective methods of accomplishing the task.

(3) To stimulate, strengthen and enrich the mental and spiritual resources of Association workers with boys.

The Assembly is to be held in the buildings and grounds of the Y. M. C. A. used for its various summer schools in the whole southern territory. These are located in the Blue Ridge Mountains, far from the noise and tumult of the city, with beautiful buildings, well laid-out grounds, superb natural scenery and all at an elevation of 2700 feet.

Under these surroundings for twelve days the Boy's Work leaders of the continent will gather for fellowship, conference one with the other, inspiration to face the tasks in a large way and the enrichment of their personal lives.

The following men from Canada are in attendance at the Assembly: D. R. Poole, E. B. Reynolds and G. F. Fievwong, of Winnipeg; W. A. Miles, of Ottawa; Frank Weston, of Hamilton; Taylor Statten, W. H. Vaughan, J. P. Hagerman, W. Fongie, Geo. Patterson, P. R. Hayward, Chas. Schell, W. R. Cooke, of Toronto; G. P. Brand, Don McLeod, John Birdford, J. G. McKinnon, of Montreal.

FIRELIGHTER For a Traveller. When a traveller returns home, let him not leave the countries where he hath travelled altogether behind him; but maintain a correspondence by letters with those of his acquaintances, which are of most worth.

And let his travel appear rather in his discourse than in his apparel or gesture; and in his discourse let him be rather advised in his answers than forward to tell stories; and let it appear that he doth not change his country manners for those of foreign parts; but only prick in some flowers of that he hath learned abroad into the customs of his own country.—Lord Bacon.

An Orchestral Performance. (Manchester Guardian.) The return of Richard Strauss' music to our concert rooms recalls a story of the days of its first coming. Strauss' composition in the beginning years of course, had not even for advanced musicians to crack; the average man and woman regarded them as unintelligible. The story goes that at a concert devoted to Strauss' works, the conductor, after the performance of one piece, tapped the desk with his hand and said:

As a matter of fact, Trinity Troop is not older than many other Troops, and the number of badges won by them in the previous year would not be in their favor, as it left them fewer badges to compete for last year.

At a meeting held last night between officials of the Local Association and the Court of Honor of Trinity Troop, the whole matter was satisfactorily adjusted, and Trinity Troop Court of Honor, after hearing the explanations, passed a resolution to the effect that they would accept the Thorne Cup.

The number of the first four Troops were as follows: Trinity, 20 p. c.; Centenary, 65 p. c.; St. Luke's, 76 p. c.; Mission, 76 p. c. (Signed) D. H. LOWETH, Scoutmaster, On behalf of Trinity Troop, A. O. SKELTON, President, On behalf of the Local Association.

"Commit thy way unto the Lord, and He will bring it to pass." Truly, today the Philistines are upon us; they have subdued the children of God, the heirs of faith. On every side they seem to possess the strongholds of earth. What is still alive, and that He designs will greater things for His world? Suppose every student of this simple Lesson should resolve to venture upon some larger, more daring, more dangerous exploit of faith in the week to come? That way lies salvation for our land and for the world. God is in the text, "He strong and of good courage!"

TO MEN Something New

weakened nerves and blood. The little VITALIZER mentioned above was designed by me to render aid to the man who really is willing to make a reasonable WANTS to get strong, and who effort to regain his many vigors. To the man who persists in living an unnatural life of excess and dissipation, no hope can be offered, but for the other kind there is every hope and encouragement, because in regulating his habits he has taken the first, grand and necessary step, which prepares the way for the action of any natural treatment which may resupply his body with the FORCE which it has been drained of.

With respect to my VITALIZER, you simply tickle it on your body when you go to bed. Thus, while you sleep, it sends a great, mysterious power (which I call VIGOR) into your blood, nerves, organs and muscles while you sleep. Men have said it takes pain or weakness out of the back from one application; that 60 to 90 days' use is sufficient to restore normal, manly strength.

With special attachments which carry the FORCE to any parts of the body, my VITALIZER is used by women as well as men, for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. and I have had some most remarkable testimony in respect to its almost miraculous effects upon individual cases, where every known treatment had failed.

Therefore, first get the free book of general advice to men, which also describes my VITALIZER. Then, if in the future you feel you would like to use one of these little appliances in your own case, I will make some special proposition whereby you may have one to wear. If you happen to live in or near this city, I would be pleased to have you call. Otherwise, just use the coupon and get the free book by return mail. Office hours, 9 to 6.

INDIANTOWN NOTES; STEAMERS AND RIVER

Steamers Carrying Good Freight—Water Dropping in River—Prices of Produce—Carross of Bear Weighing 200 Pounds Arrives.

The river boats brought down large cargoes of country produce yesterday afternoon, as well as fair lists of passengers. Good prices prevailed for the different kinds of produce. Eggs were sold at the landing at 50 cents a dozen; butter at 60 cents per pound; potatoes at $9.50 a barrel and turnips at $2.25, veal at from 15 cts. to 20 cents; pork, light, 27 cents to 28 cents; heavy, 25 cents. A quantity of beef and fowl also brought down commended good prices.

Included in the steamer Hampton's large cargo of freight, was a carcass of bear meat, weighing about 200 pounds. The bear had been shot by Joe Middleton of Hatfield's Point and this is probably the first arrival of bear meat on the boats this season. The skin is a beauty.

The water in the upper St. John river is falling considerably, and the boats will soon be able to make proper landings at the wharves. The farmers are taking every advantage of the beautiful weather of the past week and seeding is going on apace. The forest fires are causing much concern up country and rain is badly needed.

Police Cells Are Being Overtaxed

Since a Week Ago Yesterday No Less Than Sixty-Eight Persons Have Been Arrested—Drunkenness Alone Accounted for 43 Prisoners

The police headquarters cells have been overflowing during the past seven days, and the police magistrate has had many visitors, not only the men arrested during the time mentioned, but those who have been in jail on remand. If the record of arrests keeps up, and prisoners can't find their way to pay fines and are sent into the county jail, it may be found necessary to find some other place than King street east to lodge the boarders, who for the time are guests of the city and county of St. John. At the present time cells in the jail have almost a capacity number of boarders, and no one prisoner is without company, as all cells are occupied.

In looking over the newspapers since a week ago yesterday it is seen that there has been no less than sixty-eight arrests, up to last night. The prisoners, in some cases, have had more than one charge against them, and while in the majority of cases, whiskey and gin has been the downfall of the majority, lemon extract has played an important part in landing a great number of the unfortunates behind the bars. Even in the cases of more serious charges than that of drunkenness the additional charges have been the result of the prisoner being under the influence of some sort of intoxicating liquor when the crime has been committed.

What is termed the common drunk has numbered for the week forty-three and it is safe to say that there has been double that number of men about the streets under the influence that have escaped the eyes of the police constables. Also, for the week five men have been arrested under the charge of having liquor in their possession, two thieves have been added to the list, three men on the charge of assault; two stowaways from steamships in port; one keeper of bawdy house; one for wandering about and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself, and still another man for stabbing a policeman with a knife. There might possibly be other charges that have not been mentioned above, but at all events it is safe in saying that never in the history of the city of St. John has the police court presented a more busy appearance than during the last seven days.

CRIME IN ALL STAGES HAS FACED THE POLICE MAGISTRATE, AND INSTEAD OF THERE BEING AN ABATEMENT IT APPEARS TO BE INCREASING.

In addition to the half dozen drunks arrested yesterday afternoon, to add to the dozen or more the day previous there were seen on the streets many others who fortunately for themselves escaped the police, otherwise the police court would be filled this morning with sad looking men tired and sick from the result of an appetite for some kind of liquor which would give them the sensation of intoxication. In many cases it is not whiskey, gin, brandy or beer that places these unfortunates in a position where they become intoxicated, but the lemon extract and other things that is taken of puts them in a condition where they can not take care of themselves, they finally fall into the hands of the police officers.

When the "large array of talents" faced the police court magistrate yesterday morning one of the prisoners was so shaky that he had to receive medical attention before he could be dealt with on the charge of drunkenness, while a second man was in such a bad state that it was found necessary to send him to the hospital for treatment, and when he is strong enough to leave that institution he will be brought back to the court and receive a sentence that might send him to jail where he will for a time be kept clear of the chance of obtaining intoxicating liquors.

The state of affairs is growing worse every day, and although prohibition inspectors and police are working hard with great results the number of drunken persons and those for other crimes in St. John is on the increase.

GOING UP

It was announced yesterday that there was an increase in the whole sale price of gasoline and oil. Gasoline rose from 28 cents to 29 1/2, while paraffin oil went from 27 to 29. The increase is attributed, among other things, to the difficulty in obtaining crude oil, the rate of American exchange and the increased consumption.

A GOOD SWIMMER.

If any Olympic Swimming trials are to be held in the Maritime Provinces, something good may be expected from Leslie Kerr of the St. John Y. M. C. A., who is possibly the best swimmer in New Brunswick, and the winner of five firsts, and one second, in the six events in which he competed during the Provincial Swimming Championships held in April last.

COMMISSIONER IS COMING

As a result of the efforts of the delegation from St. John and Charlotte Counties that visited Ottawa two weeks ago, the department of marine and fisheries has notified the representatives of the weir fishermen that a commissioner will be sent to Charlotte county during the first week in June to investigate all the conditions connected with the sardine industry. The first meeting will be held at St. Andrews on the second of June.

LEFT PORT WITH RECORD CARGO

The Steamer Truenfels Which Was Scheduled to Sail for London Last Night Has on Board 9,835 Tons of Flour.

The steamer Truenfels, which was to sail from this port last night with flour took the largest complete cargo of flour that ever went out of a Canadian port. She had on board a total of 9,835 tons, and this flour made into bread would be sufficient to feed the entire population of St. John for over one year. Figuring the population of the city at 60,000 it would allow each one to have a loaf of bread every day for three hundred and sixty-seven days.

Milk Producers Met Superintendent

Want Suburban Train Changed to Old Time—Decision Will be Given Them on Week from Monday.

In an effort to have the present daylight time schedule of the Sussex suburban train abolished, and the original reinstated, a delegation of milk producers met W. R. Devenish, Divisional Superintendent of the C. N. R., yesterday afternoon. The delegation was headed by H. N. Flewelling of Apohaqui and included representatives from the Milk Producers' Association of Kings County, the Sussex Cheese and Butter Co., the country commission merchants as well as a delegation from Hampton. After hearing the different arguments advanced by the farmers, Mr. Devenish informed them that he would give his decision Monday week.

The Kings County farmers are very determined in this matter. It is their contention that the break was inaugurated for their benefit and that it should serve its original purpose. Moreover, the "suburbanites" have a special train of their own and the farmers argue that they should use it. Again the present schedule necessitates farmers at some points along the line—or at least their help—getting up as early as 3.30 a.m. in order to ship their milk on this train. While the present state of affairs is not enough, they say, it will be much worse during the harvest time, when, on account of the hours that the help has to work in the early morning, the best time of the day for harvesting will be sacrificed.

Some time ago a census was taken along the line to determine the feeling in regard to the operation of the train on daylight time. The result of this census showed that 90 per cent. of those who voted favored daylight time. When the Standard reporter remarked on this to a milk producer last evening he said that it does not accurately indicate the feeling. Moreover, he said, those who circulated the petition chose time when the farmers would have very little chance of voting on it.

Robbers Enter Clergyman's House

City Detectives Working Hard and Making Results—North End a Centre for Crooks—Minister's House Was Ransacked by Daring Thieves.

While the detective department of the city is clearing up considerable crime, there is a wave of home breaking that is undoubtedly causing Sergeant Detective Power and his assistants great loss sleep by working overtime in their efforts to gather in the guilty persons, and there is undoubtedly many cases which citizens fail to report to this most efficient department.

The house breaking is not alone confined to the city, but there is a report of a number of summer camps having been entered, and in some cases, where articles have not been stolen, the camps have been ransacked and left in most disorderly manner, but considerable damage having been caused. In the city the detectives have arrested quite a few thieves lately, but there are other cases that have not yet been cleared up.

It is reported to The Standard that there has been quite a lot of thieving done in the North End of the city during the past few weeks. One instance reported is a break that was made in the residence of a North End clergyman. It is stated that the break was made a few days ago while the clergyman was away from the city. It is further stated that on the night in question the clergyman's daughter, and called up friends on the telephone and accepted their invitation to spend the remainder of the night at their home, which she did. A man who had been passing the clergyman's house about that time noticed two men rushing up a nearby alley.

The next morning when the minister's daughter returned to the residence she found that the dwelling had been entered during her absence and that the rooms had been left in considerable disorder. There were also signs showing where the house breakers had partaken of a lunch. It is further said that it was not the high cost of living that caused the thieves to enter the house, even if it was food, for it appears that they had brought their lunch with them and were held soon to partake of their own food without partaking of that in the household.
