TORY HOPES BLASTED IN MARCONI "SCANDAL"

the higher. In the circumstances the claim was not altogether appropriate.
"The charge the opposition makes is that two ministers have done things which in their position they ought not to have done, and have shown a lack of moral courage in attempting to conceal from the house what they have done."
Sir Edward Grey concluded the debate. He said:
"If the motion of the opposition were passed it would mean that the political career of these two ministers is ended forever. If there was corrupt or dishonorable conduct they ought to go, but there has been only carelessness. This house ought not to pass any motion that could be regarded as a vote of censure. Everyone admits that a fair and complete acknowledgment should have been made of these transactions."
The secretary, continuing, said that the house should do everything in its power to relieve the ministers of the duty done them by the charges of corruption bandied about the country, although, he declared, nothing that it did could right all the wrongs they had suffered.

Charges Collapse.
London, June 19.—It is already clear that the opposition can expect no more kudos from the Marconi affair. The liberals are exultant at the change in the situation. The speeches of the accused ministers, who had necessarily been silent while every idle tongue was wagging, proved more effective as a reminder that there is another side to the case than even their friends had hoped.

The changed tone of the conservative press this morning makes this evident even more than the speeches of the organs. The less responsible sheets are much more ready to play with the apology and omit to point out the probably unnecessary moral that an apology is the usual penalty for ministers who are "found with their hands in the till."
The more solid newspapers somewhat belatedly give great credit to the complete collapse of the ground, and admit that the bottom has fallen out of the vote of censure. The Daily Mail, Conservative, goes so far as to express surprise that the Unionist press should not have withdrawn last night. Some journals, using considerable emphasis to make it clear that the scandalous charges were always confined to one or two obscure organs.

ST. JOHN DRY DOCK TO BE A SECOND-RATER

Quebec to Have One 1150 Long Government Plans a Similar Structure On the Pacific

Failure to Pass Legislation Leaves This Port with Only a 900 Foot Basin—Hard Times Abroad Will Affect Attendance at Geological Congress at Ottawa.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Ottawa, June 23.—Plans are being prepared for dry docks, which the Canadian government will build at Quebec and on the Pacific coast. They will be a length of 1,150 feet each.
The St. John dry dock will have a length of only 900 feet, owing to the fact that legislation was not brought forward by the government last session to enable it to be built on a larger scale.
It is understood that provision will be made next session for the enlargement of the Halifax dry dock.

Hard times here hit the geologists. This is a matter of some moment to Canada, for the International Geological Congress is due here in a few weeks and the dominion authorities have reason to fear that it will not come in full strength.

An International Geological Congress is a good thing for a country. It brings about its membership the leading geologists of the world. Many of them are in close touch with investing interests and are regularly consulted by them. The geologists, whenever they travel, and especially in such a comparatively unexplored field as Canada, collect information and photographs which they make use of in lectures to their classes at universities and in preparing articles for scientific periodicals. These are largely made use of by writers for newspapers and popular magazines. In this way a country gets a large amount of valuable advertising.

Canada with its coal areas, gold, silver, nickel, asbestos, mica and other mineral deposits, offers an especially attractive field to men of the class who are expected to have arrived in large numbers, but owing to hard times the government and the universities of Europe are not sending geologists to Canada this summer in as large numbers as they would if times had been good and ready money abundant throughout the world.
The congress will be deprived of a number of geologists from eastern European countries, such as Austria, because they are military reservists and will not be allowed to leave their countries at the present juncture.

However, there will be some hundreds of them. They will be taken over Canada from Nova Scotia to British Columbia, and much good is expected to result from their visit.

SOME DEMOCRATS MAY BOLT ON FREE SUGAR

Lively Opposition From Louisiana Senators Develops at Caucus and They May Be Released From Unit Rule—Wood Schedules Stand as Committee Framed Them—Good Progress Made On the Items.

Washington, June 23.—Democratic senators opposed to free sugar, calveled the senatorial caucus late today, and began their final effort to change the schedule before the tariff bill reaches the senate for general debate. Western and Louisiana senators were pitted against a strong fight against the provision approved and urged by President Wilson, which provides that sugar shall be free of duty in 1916.

Senators Shafter, of Colorado, and Walsh, of Montana, took up the contest when the schedule was reached suddenly late in the afternoon. It had not been expected that the caucus would reach sugar before tomorrow, but the metal and wood schedules were rushed through with little discussion, and before 5 o'clock the decks were cleared for the first and most determined intervention party tariff struggle. This will be the acid test for free sugar. To the decision of the caucus, the Democratic senators will be pledged, and the prospect is that only Senators Thornton and Randall, of Louisiana, will be released from the binding resolution that is to be adopted. There is a possibility of one other senator asking for release.

The amendment would provide, however, that when cotton thus sold for future delivery actually was delivered in good faith, the tax levied should be reduced to the person or corporation which paid it under regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury.

The measure is designed to prevent stock jobbing and gambling in cotton futures. The secretary of the treasury, under the amendment proposed, would be authorized to appoint agents to conduct inspections necessary to collect the cotton future tax. Exchanges, persons, or corporations who failed to pay or attempt to evade the tax would be liable to a fine of from $1,000 to $20,000 for each offence, and in the case of individuals or unincorporated associations of one-tenth of one cent a pound on all cotton sold, agreed to be sold or agreed to be purchased, for future delivery upon any cotton exchange, board of trade, or other similar place.

Eighteen Year Old Youth Opened Fusilade On Judge and Lawyers and Crowd Was Terrorized—Witness Finally Choked Young Fellow Insensible.

(Canadian Press.)
Washington, June 23.—Judge, lawyers, policemen and spectators were sent scurrying to cover in the criminal court here late today when Ray M. Stewart, aged eighteen, fired three wild shots in an attempt to "shoot up" the court. At the first crack Justice Wendell P. Stafford, disappeared beneath his desk, and out in the court room there was a wild scramble for places of safety. Some sought refuge under tables or behind heavy chairs and others crouched by fear, leaped out of windows and dropped to the ground, some fifteen or twenty feet below.

Justice Stafford had just refused to release Stewart on probation, after conviction for attempted highway robbery, armed with a 32-calibre automatic pistol and fired three shots, two of which narrowly missed Assistant United States Attorneys Samuel DeComas Hawken and Hervey Given and Policeman Moffatt. He was in the attitude of turning towards the judge, as if to shoot, when a witness sprang upon him and choked him into insensibility.

In the confusion that followed many thought that Justice Stafford had been struck by a bullet, but the judge emerged from his haven without a scratch.

Stewart had been convicted recently of holding up a negro in a Washington suburb last December. He had applied for probation on June 7, and the testimony of witnesses for and against the application.

Countries Imposing a Tariff on Those Articles from United States—Likely to Reach Senate Next Week.

Washington, June 20.—Important reductions in the Underwood tariff bills rates on iron, steel and other metal products, the addition of cattle, wheat, pig iron, Angola wool, and many other articles to the free list, and an increase in rates on many classes of cotton goods, and some silk products, were the chief features of the revised tariff bill as it was laid before the senate Democrats today by Chairman Simmons of the finance committee.

After weeks of work in which every item of the bill had undergone close scrutiny by sub-committees of the majority membership of the finance committee, the re-drafted measure was brought into the Democratic caucus today. For two hours the important changes were explained to Democrats, and the bill was then made public. Reports of the committee at once began work on a comprehensive summary of the changes.

President Wilson's desire as to free sugar in 1916 and free wool, at once prevailed in the re-draft of the bill. To the list of "market basket" reductions the Underwood bill contained, the senate committee added many important items. In the general level of its rates, the "Simmons bill" represents a heavier cut from existing rates in the Payne-Aldrich law than did the bill as it passed the house some time ago.

The senate caucus adjourned early and members spent the afternoon working out private analysis of the measure. The caucus will re-convene tomorrow morning. Senate leaders believe the bill will reach the senate floor late next week.

The principal changes made by the senate finance committee in the case of the house tariff bill and presented today to the Democratic senate caucus follow:
