Farms and city property for sale. You will make a mistake if you buy a farm without first seeing our list of farms in Ontario for sale and exchange. Your future happiness and prosperity may depend upon the choice of farm you make. Get full particulars of as many farms as possible that are for sale in Ontario before you buy. Compare soils, conditions, locations and other advantages, and then make your choice. Drop us a postcard and get our lists.

You will make a mistake if you try to sell your farm without giving every prospective purchaser in Ontario a chance to buy by placing before him a full and accurate description of its soil, buildings, location, etc. We bring buyers and sellers of real estate from the most distant parts of Ontario together.

Our plan of advertising is the only one which does this successfully. Nothing to pay except the usual commission if the property is sold at any time within two years. We can sell your property if you place it in our hands at once at a fair price.

Over 100 farms were sold off our list last year. We expect to sell between two and three hundred during the coming spring and summer. We will have nearly 200 local agents in different parts of Ontario to assist us in distributing our circulars and printed lists of farms for sale and exchange, and in finding purchasers and in making sales of the farms that are in our hands.

Last year we advertised in a number of daily and over 225 weekly newspapers in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba. This year our advertising will be more extensive than ever. An advertisement by a board, with the words "For Sale" on it, put up on your farm, or even an advertisement in a local paper, reaches a very limited number of probable buyers. Why not try and let every man in Ontario who really wants to buy know about your farm by placing it in our hands for sale?

Drop us a postcard and get our terms.

IDENTICAL IN ITS FORM

With the Measure of Last Session.

Perennial Wife's Sister Bill Read Second Time in the Commons.

King Edward Is a Fond Grandfather—Salisbury in Splendid Health.

London, Feb. 6.—The perennial deceased wife's sister bill reappeared in the House of Commons yesterday in a form identical with that of last year. After some discussion the house voted in favor of the second reading of the bill, 249 ayes and 124 noes.

Lord Hugh Cecil and Evelyn Cecil (Conservatives), who opposed the bill, used every parliamentary trick to delay reaching a vote within the time limits of Wednesday, and when they returned to the house from the lobbies, both of Lord Salisbury's relatives were greeted with angry cries of "Shame," "Churlish," and similar epithets.

THE KING A FOND GRANDPA.

King Edward is an exceedingly fond grandpa. This is an inherited form of affection, the late Queen Victoria having been bound up with her strongly family ties.

Last week the public was allowed a glimpse of one evidence of King Edward's love for his son's children. It is a collection of four miniatures of the Prince of Wales' little ones and formed the Kings gift to his son and daughter-in-law. The portraits were painted by Mrs. Gertrude Massey and are exquisite examples of miniatures.

The four children are, in the order of their ages: Prince Edward, born June 23, 1894; Prince Albert George, born Dec. 14, 1895; Princess Victoria Alexandra, born April 25, 1897; and little Prince Henry William Frederick Albert, born in 1900.

It is, of course, in Prince Edward that the greatest public interest lies, for he is in direct line of succession to the crown, and, if he lives, will reign over Britain as Edward VIII. Little Prince Edward is a healthy child, as indeed are his little royal brothers and sisters.

SALISBURY HALE AT 72.

There is no confirmation of the report that Lord Salisbury is to retire. The truth of the matter is that Lord Salisbury is in excellent health. It was generally remarked how well he looked on Monday, his 72nd birthday.

ITALY SATISFIED.

A Rome correspondent says the Italian press comment on Chamberlain's speech regarding Malta confirms the opinion that by his announcement of the withdrawal of the language proclamation, accompanied by his frank declarations of friendship and esteem for Italy, he has removed the feeling of soreness that had grown up among Italians. This feeling was in part spontaneous, and in part due to misrepresentations of Radical and Clerical Anglophobes.

ARCHDUKE FERDINAND'S VISIT.

The Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-presumptive to the thrones of Austria and Hungary, started yesterfor St. Petersburg. The czar's private train will meet him at the frontier. The visit of the Archduke to the Russian capital is regarded as being of great political significance.

ASSERTION AND DENIAL.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The German foreign office confirms the substantial accuracy of the statement on the subject of Germany's course toward the United States during the war with Spain, which the Kreuz Zeitung printed.

London, Feb. 5.—The Associated Press has the highest official authority for denying the story printed by the Kreuz Zeitung of Berlin, as to the part said to have been taken by Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador at Washington, in the Spanish-American war intervention, in spite of the confirmation of the story by the German foreign office.

SENTENCED TO DEATH BY THE SULTAN.

Constantinople, Feb. 6.—The sultan's brother-in-law, Damad Mahmud Pasha has been sentenced to death. Mahmud has long been prominent in the Young Turk movement and was recently expelled from Greece at the behest of the sultan. Mahmud went to Rome and the sultan requested his expulsion from Italy. It was refused, but Mahmud proceeded to Paris where he remains in safety. All the sultan's blandishments have failed to induce him to return to Constantinople, so the criminal court was instructed to issue a warrant for Mahmud's arrest, and to try the fugitive by default, with the result that he was condemned to death.

CHARLES DICKENS' GRANDDAUGHTER MARRIED.

London, Feb. 6.—Miss Enid Dickens, a grand-daughter of Charles Dickens, has just married Ernest Bourchier Hawksley, son of the solicitor for Cecil Rhodes and the Chartered Company. She is a favorite in literary and art circles; and the wedding was attended by many actors and artists.

CABLE NOTES.

The rate of discount of the Bank of England was today reduced from 3½ to 3 per cent.

At a Protestant demonstration held in London resolutions were passed against the confessional and the celebration of mass within the Church of England. They also urge the government to enforce the law concerning exclusion of monks and Jesuits from Great Britain.

In an imperial rescript thanking the German people for their birthday congratulations Emperor William refers to the particular pleasure which he experienced as a result of the receipt of telegraphic messages from the Germans in all quarters of the globe.

At the opening of the Colonial Legislature in Kingston, Ja., the governor of Jamaica, Sir Augustus Hemming, announced for the first time in many years a slight surplus in the transactions of the year. He attributes it partly to the growth of the fruit trade with the United States.

SALISBURY ON HOLLAND'S NOTE.

Noteworthy Speech by British Prime Minister.

Unable to Imagine the Precise Object of the Dutch—No Encouragement That Peace Will Result.

London, Feb. 5.—Prime Minister Salisbury attended a banquet at the Junior Constitutional Club tonight, and devoted a considerable part of a noteworthy speech to comments on Holland's overture in the direction of peace in South Africa, which he describes as having filled the newspapers for a few days with a species of abortive crisis. His remarks, although delicately framed, betrayed that he regards the step taken by the Netherlands Government with a sort of amused cynicism as a harmless diplomatic solecism, and he did not encourage his hearers to hope that peace would result from the step.

"I suppose," he said, "that every important step taken by an important people is dictated by some motive or another, but I am really unable to imagine what the precise object of the Dutch Government, to whose friendly feeling I desire to pay every homage, hoped to gain by the step taken."

Emphasizing the statement that the Boers on the continent not only did not authorize, but disavowed the action of the Netherlands Government, Lord Salisbury reaffirmed his inability to imagine upon what ground, with what motive, and with what object this curious step was taken. He could only surmise that the English pro-Boers were responsible, but he doubted very much whether it would have the effect they expected.

SUCH THINGS ALWAYS OCCUR.

Continuing, he said that Great Britain had arrived at that condition of things which always occurred in critical periods, when many attempts were made to reconcile divergent views and many suggestions were offered, which it was neither easy nor desirable to take into account. Many amiable and excellent people would be desiring to sacrifice all the nation had done and borne for the purpose of patching up a piece.

They must bear in mind there was no question of sentiment. They had entered upon a matter of business which they must push through. (Loud applause.)

In doing so they must continually look back and examine the motive and object for which they were sacrificing so much blood and treasure. The motive, the object, was to obtain security, He added:

"Any restoration of peace which recognized fully the rights our sovereign has given us and security for the empire we should accept, not only with willingness, but with delight."

"There is nothing we so desire as a peace which will carry with it the fulfillment of all our duties and the attainment of the aims which it is our business to pursue, but we must have security on the part of the empire on which the ambition of Kruger has cast this abundance of sorrow and desolation. It is useless to tell us that we must so behave as to leave pleasant recollections in the minds of those with whom we are fighting. It would be an imposture, and an imposture not worth performing. I entreat you, therefore, when asked to consider how any particular sort of policy can adjust itself to the feelings of the peoples to whom it is the least attractive, to remember that there are others whose interests must be regarded."

These others, Lord Salisbury explained, were the loyalists in South Africa who had borne and risked so much, besides all the constituent parts of the empire, which were watching to see whether the results of the efforts for three or four years would be such as they could admire and such as would tend to strengthen the empire and increase their devotion to it.

A FEW WORDS AS TO IRELAND.

The prime minister concluded with a reference to Ireland, reiterating his past warnings against home rule, and declaring that the existence of a hostile Irish Government having the power to accumulate arms and ammunition would constitute a far more serious threat to the empire than it had to face in South Africa.

It was his belief that the maintenance of the English position in Ireland was one of the most vital objects that the empire had now to consider. It was only obtainable by constant, strenuous and vigilant exertions.

The speaker was frequently interrupted during his speech by enthusiastic applause.

REFUSED $7,000,000.

Sault Ste. Marie, Feb. 6.—The Express was told on good authority, that Mr. F. H. Clergue refused last week $7,000,000 which an English capitalist offered him for investment. In declining to accept the money the president said he had sufficient money on hand to carry on all his industries for the next two years.

DEADLY GAS EXPLOSION

Building Wrecked and 13 Persons Killed.

Larger Part of the Victims Were Members of One Family.

Boiler Explosion at Pittsburg—Many of a Towboat's Crew Seriously Injured and Three Are Missing.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—By the explosion of illuminating gas in the basement of a two-story frame building at 376 Twenty-second street last evening, a number of people lost their lives, and the building was blown into kindling wood. By 8:45 p.m. five bodies had been removed from the ruins. They were all of one family. Not a member of the family escaped. The bodies recovered are those of Otto Trostle, Mrs. Otto Trostle, Otto Trostle, jun., Minnie Trostle, Annie Trostle.

THREE EXPLOSIONS.

Two other explosions of gas followed so quickly that it was hard to distinguish them. The first to explode was a main at Twenty-second street and Archer avenue. Then the manhole, half a block south of Archer avenue, was thrown into the air by a loud explosion. The fire spread below the street and smaller manholes were blown into the air. The flames from the first gas main reached the Trostle butcher shop. The building was a three-story frame structure, and it had been weakened and nearly wrecked by the shock. It is supposed that the occupants of the building were knocked unconscious or were too panic-stricken to rush from the place. The dry and rotten wood was food for the fire, and in an instant the flames had enveloped the structure. With a roar the building collapsed and the occupants, with one exception, were carried with it to the basement.

THE FLAMES SPREAD.

The adjoining buildings also soon caught fire. It seemed that the whole block would be wiped out before the firemen could get the blaze under control. A fire wall of a brick building on one side of the burning structure, held the fire in that direction. Many persons in buildings near the explosion were knocked down. On several street cars near the place several windows were smashed and the passengers severely shaken up. When people in the cars saw the flames gush from the ground they rushed for the door. A number of persons were bruised and knocked down in the excited exit.

THE DEAD.

Among the dead are supposed to be three children of the Trostle family, whose bodies have not yet been recovered. It is not known positively that they were in the house at the time, but a search of the neighborhood has not shown any trace of them. There were six children in the family, and there is little doubt that all the eight members of the family were killed. The three other people who are said to be dead are supposed to have been customers in the meat shop.

The direct cause of the explosion is not known, but all indications show that it was due to escaping gas in the basement of the Trostle house.

In all thirteen lives were lost.

TEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—At 2 o'clock this morning ten bodies had been recovered from the ruins of the Trostel House, which was destroyed last night by an explosion of gas. Eight have been identified as Otto Trostel, Mrs. August Trostel, Annie Trostel (11 years old), Lena Trostel (7 years), Sophie Knieppe (domestic in Trostel family), Otto Trostel, jun., Mrs. Mamie Rosenthal, Fred Trostel.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been fixed.

PRESENTIMENT WAS CORRECT.

On Monday, Otto Trostel insured his life for $5,000, making his wife the beneficiary. Yesterday Mrs. Trostel called on the insurance agent and asked if the two oldest children could be insured. She said she had a presentiment that something would happen. The agent was instructed to write policies of $2,000 each.

TOWBOAT BLOWN UP.

Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—By the explosion of the boilers on the towboat John Wailes, owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, near lock No. 2, at 1:30 o'clock this morning, one man was killed outright, four probably fatally injured, and several are still missing. Six others were rescued from the icy waters, and two of these Maria Walker, the cook, and James Williams, fireman, are dangerously injured.

The dead: Wm. Perry, deck hand, aged 30 years, of Roscoe, Pa., found pinioned under the anchor, with clothing afire.

The injured: Edward Mitchell, mate, aged 23 years, badly burned, and inhaled flames, Merchantville, Pa., will die; John W. Burke, pilot; Floyd Still, chief engineer; Maria Walker, negress, cook, of Pittsburg, leg broken and badly injured about head and body, rescued from the river; James Williams, fireman, leg broken and seriously hurt about head and body; Booker Nu, second engineer; William Campbell, fireman, badly burned.

The missing: John Coffin, watchman, Freedrickstown, Md.; Weaver Wolf, deck hand, Middleport, Ohio.

There was a crew of fourteen all told aboard the Wailes, including the captain. The Wailes was completely destroyed. The loss is placed at $25,000. No one has been able to give an account of the exact manner in which the accident occurred.

LOVE LEADS TO THEFT.

New York, Feb. 6.—When Mrs. Margaret Colgan, a widow, went to her bureau to get $7 saved for the rent, it was gone. She told her 13-year-old daughter, Minnie, that they would be dispossessed, and the girl began to cry. She confessed that she had stolen the money and had bought two silver watches, one for her sweetheart, 8-year-old Johnny Burke, and the other for herself.

SURPRISED A COMMANDO

Major Leader's Men Pounced Upon Delearey.

Seven of the Boer Force Killed and 131 Captured.

The "Sweeping" Policy Will End the War—A Pro-Boer's Eyes Opened.

London, Feb. 6.—Lord Kitchener has sent the following message from Pretoria: "Major Leader's force surprised Delarey's commando, killed seven and captured 131. The British casualties were slight. No British were killed.

THE "SWEEPING POLICY."

Bloemfontein, Feb. 5.—The success of General Bruce Hamilton's night marches in the Eastern Transvaal has not been repeated in Eastern Orange Colony, Gen. Dewet's favorite campaigning ground. In this quarter the enemy sleep in the open, and have a most elaborate system of scouting. Even Gen. Elliot's circling movements, skillfully conceived and dashingly carried out, failed to entrap the wily Dewet and his main body, although his network of scouts were captured and the country swept clean. The army and the thinking public have every confidence in Lord Kitchener's ability to finish the war. It means patience and time. The whole of the colonies cannot be divided up by blockhouses—the country is too vast; but the process now in force of combined sweeps is gradually clearing up the vast resources of the land, and is adding to the districts in which it is impossible for armed bodies of Boers to move, besides swelling the lists of prisoners of war.

PRO-BOER CONVERTED.

London, Feb. 6.—The London Times prints a letter from Count Aldebert Sternberg, and who declares the treatment he has received from the British press and official and non-official Englishmen leaves him no cause to be an Anglophobe.

Sternberg says, while England is hated, the Englishman is respected and loved. Hatred always arises from a sense of moral and mental injury, and to this extent the continent has a right to hate England, because her policy is at all times directed to promoting continental complications. The continent does not understand the Boer war, and attacks England's political morality because it misunderstands the political principle which England represents, the principle in which is England's greatness. He says that the English recognize only two factors in the world, namely, God and England.

MISUNDERSTOOD.

The economic advantage to be derived from the gold fields, says Sternberg, was merely a contributory cause in the South African war. The real cause making action imperative was the English principle, the essence of which is free trade and straightforward competition. On the continent this feeling is not understood, because the continent does not enjoy the blessings of civilization and government, based on the word "straight." Sternberg says he always thought England was the enemy of the continent until he visited the United States and studied economic conditions there. He now believes that continental hatred of England is ungrateful, and the continent ought to awake and recognize that its true enemy is arising in the west, like a great sun of gold, whose rays have already been projected across the Atlantic. America's only principle, he says, is worship of mammon. Germany and all Europe should join with England.

ADVICE TO BOERS.

In an article written before the publication of the Dutch note to Great Britain, and the British reply, the Independence Belge says the Boer leaders have no longer the right to sacrifice thousands of lives attempting to get what is unattainable. It is the imperative duty of the Boers to accept such conditions as would secure a certain measure of autonomy whereby they can alone be saved from complete extermination.

DOWN WITH FEVER.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—Mr. Chamberlain cables to Lord Minto as follows: "London, Feb. 1.—Regret to inform you that Wilbert Edgar Hodgkinson, C Division, S. A. Constabulary, reported dangerously ill with enteric fever at Heifelberg, Jan. 31. Brother, J. J. Hodgkinson, Kincardine, Bruce county, Ontario. (Signed) Chamberlain."

Lord and Lady Minto and suite crossed the St. Lawrence from Levis to Quebec in canoes, and are now attending the winter sports.

BOARD WAS ORGANIZED

Education Trustees Elect Mr. McCormick Chairman.

Committees Struck and Presiding Officers Chosen.

Very Little Business Apart From the Routine Transacted—A New Solicitor.

The organization meeting of the board of education was held at the city hall last night. Apart from a small amount of routine business, the election of the chairman and the division of the board into committees was the only business put through, and as this had all been arranged beforehand, it took up very little time. Trustee McCormick was chosen as chairman of the board; Trustee Hamilton will preside this year over No. 1 committee; Trustee Evans over No. 2, and Trustee Teasdall over the audit committee. The members of the board must intend to cultivate a spirit of good will towards the aldermen this year and have no more legal battles with the council, as they established a precedent by choosing as their legal adviser the city solicitor. More peculiar still, the trustees did not have a banquet after the meeting. How they broke off the habit which they have been so assiduously cultivating for the last two months or so, is not recorded in the minutes. It is a fact, nevertheless, that they got back to their homes without first visiting the abode of the convivial oyster, and a great sorrow consequently fills the heart of the purveyor of bivalves. However, let them not yet rend their garments nor plaster their pates with ashes. Surely the educational appetite has not been satisfied.

ELECTIONS.

Secretary McElheran introduced the newly-elected members—Messrs. Birtwistle, McLean, Dromgole and Gammage, and announced his readiness to receive nominations for the office of chairman.

Trustee McLean, seconded by Trustee English, nominated Trustee Charles McCormick.

"Well, we may as well have a contest," said Trustee Birtwistle, so he nominated Trustee Blackwell, the seconder being Trustee Macpherson.

Fifteen votes were cast, 9 for Trustee McCormick and 6 for Trustee Blackwell.

Trustee McCormick was therefore declared elected, was escorted to the chair by Trustee McLean, and introduced as chairman.

In returning thanks for his election, the newly-elected chairman said:

"Gentlemen,—I can assure you that I appreciate more fully than I can find words to express, the very great honor you have conferred on me by electing me your chairman for 1902. The honor is all the more appreciated as it came unsought by me, and I can only say that I will do all in my power to discharge the duties of the position in a manner which will, at the end of my term, be satisfactory to you and the citizens at large. I ask the co-operation of all the members, and particularly the assistance of the more experienced ones.

"It gives me pleasure to welcome to the board of newly-chosen representative from No. 4 ward, the city council representatives, and the representatives from the separate school board. I trust their assistance and advice will aid us in the proper discharge of the obligations laid upon us as members of the board of education.

"From what has already been stated by my predecessor, it appears that we start the year with an overdraft of $2,500 in the public schools; that is, after making an allowance for accounts not presented, in addition to the figures already given. In the Collegiate Institute department the overdraft is small, and will cause no inconvenience.

"I think it but right that an explanation in connection with the overdraft in the construction account should be made. The whole of the architect's fees, the advertising, sidewalks and heating one room at Chesley avenue school, and other minor items amounting to nearly the whole of the overdraft, has been charged against that account. This was not contemplated by the board, if I understood the discussion which took place at the time the tenders were opened by the committee and contracts let by the board. However this may be, the overdraft will have to be met. On a business as large and as varied as that conducted by the board of education, it is not a serious matter.

"I trust that we will all do our very best to economize in the expenditure for the year upon which we have entered, but any economy practiced should not be at the expense of our schools. Such a step would be a false one.

"Again, gentlemen, permit me to thank you for the honor you have done me in placing me in this honorable position."

The address was received and sent to committee.

Secretary McElheran and Treasurer Pope were unanimously elected to the positions they formerly occupied.

When it became time to choose a solicitor for the board, Trustee Macpherson said that in his opinion it was unnecessary to have a solicitor other than the city solicitor, and moved that he be appointed. Mr. Birtwistle seconded. Trustees MacRobert and Hamilton nominated ex-Trustee R. A. Bayly, and Mr. P. Bartlett was nominated by Trustees McLean and Colerick.

The vote stood thus:

| | |
|---|---|
| Meredith | 7 9 |
| Bayly | 5 6 |
| Bartlett | 3 |

Mr. Meredith was therefore elected.

Messrs. MacRobert, English, Colerick, McCormick, Gillean and Blackwell were appointed a striking committee and reported as follows:

No. 1 Committee—Teasdall, English, Gammage, Gillean, Birtwistle and Dromgole.

No. 2 Committee—Colerick, Evans, MacRobert, Strong, McLean, Macpherson and Blackwell.

Trustee Gillean desired to exchange places with Trustee Macpherson, and was therefore placed upon No. 2 committee.

The report, as amended, was then adopted.

The committees thereupon adjourned to elect their chairmen and representatives on the audit committee.

Trustee Hamilton was elected to the chairmanship of No. 1 committee, and Trustee Teasdall to the audit committee.

Trustee Evans was chosen chairman of No. 2 committee, and Trustee Blackwell appointed to the audit committee.

Dr. Teasdall was then elected to the chairmanship of the audit committee.

Trustees Teasdall and Gillean were named for the position of representative of the board on the Western Fair board. The latter declined the nomination and Dr. Teasdall was elected.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Secretary Ellwood's communication in regard to the use of city water for skating rinks at the schools was received and sent to No. 2 committee.

City Clerk Kingston requested, on behalf of the city council, that the board's estimates be sent in for the first meeting of the council in March.

Principal Merchant, of the Normal School, wrote that at the school there was a well-equipped room for the teaching of domestic science, and said that if the board desired to try the experiment of introducing domestic science into the public schools, the room was at its disposal at such times as would not interfere with the teaching of the Normal's ordinary classes. He suggested that if the experiment were made, the classes first taught should be one or more from the Collegiate Institute or in the highest grade in the public schools. Referred to No. 1 committee.

Miss Claire Taylor's application to be placed upon the public school teaching staff was sent to No. 1 committee, and No. 2 committee will consider Mr. Wm. Bruce's request for increased salary. Mr. Bruce is janitor at Victoria school.

Mr. Robert Simpson, who lives across from Wonderland, asked that his two children be permitted to attend Victoria school, and his request was granted. A similar request, made by Mr. Miles, of London township, was also granted.

AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

Principal Radcliffe, of the Collegiate Institute, reported that during January, the general course had been attended by 510 pupils, the average being 462; and the commercial course by 92—average, 83. The total showed an increase of 95 over January of 1901.

Mr. Radcliffe's recommendation that the usual $100 grant be made to the institute was adopted.

The concluding bit of business was a presentation to the secretary, which was made by Trustee Blackwell on behalf of himself and a few of his confreres. It was a group picture of the members of the board—the heads being neatly attached to the most incongruous bodies. The effect of the whole was extremely ludicrous, and for awhile threatened to overcome several of the trustees. The picture will be hung in the secretary's office.

The members present were: Trustees MacRobert, McLean, Dromgole, McCormick, Blackwell, Gammage, Evans, Birtwistle, Hamilton, Colerick, Macpherson, Gillean, Teasdall, English and Strong.

Farmer's Backache.

There is scarcely a farmer in this country but knows what backache is. The hard work and heavy lifts, the constant grind of toil from early morning till late at night, frequently bring the stabbing pain in the back or the dull grinding ache that knows no let up. Then too there are often urinary troubles, swelling of the feet and ankles, puffiness under the eyes, rheumatic pains in the joints and muscles.

Dr. Pitcher ought to be held in high esteem by every farmer in the land on account of his Backache Kidney Tablets, which are doing such a grand and noble work in banishing backache, kidney and urinary troubles, which are such universal complaints on the farm.

HEAVY WORK.

Mr. C. E. Lane, King Street East, Ingersoll, Ont.: "I have been subject to attacks of backache and kidney trouble for some years, owing to heavy work on the farm in my early days. Every attack of cold aggravated it. I have tried other remedies in the past but with little effect, and decided to try a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. I got a bottle from A. E. Gayfer, druggist, using at first three and then two at a dose, as they proved a little too laxative. With the two tablet dose the pain and other trouble disappeared, and since then there has been no return, consequently I am sure they are a good medicine."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a Box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZOLA PITCHER CO., Toronto, Ont.

Col. F. B. Leys, M. P. P., of this city, has received the following communication, which is self-explanatory. Any of our readers who can furnish information that will lead to the recovery of the person named will kindly communicate with Col. Leys, or The Advertiser.—Editor.]

Toronto, Feb. 3, 1902.

Dear Col. Leys,—Lord Strathcona has applied to this department for information with respect to Mr. Jesse Singleton, who was last heard of at London, in this province, and who is understood by Lord Strathcona's correspondent to have been a member for some Ontario constituency in the House of Assembly or in the House of Commons.

Can you conveniently give the department any information which would enable the high commissioner's correspondent to make further inquiries in the matter? Yours very truly,

G. E. LUMSDEN.

How to Get Up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease, and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Mr. Strong, druggist, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures, and why it cures. Call today and see him.

An Ideal Medicine

A New Discovery Which Cures All Forms of Catarrh.

The tablet is the ideal form in which to administer medicine, but until recently no successful catarrh tablet had ever been attempted. There is now, however, an excellent and palatable remedy for catarrh in tablet form, known as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and sold by druggists, composed of the most recent discoveries in medicine for cure of catarrh and results from their use have been highly gratifying.

The old-time treatment of catarrh was in the form of inhalers, washes, douches, sprays, etc. Later on internal remedies were used with greater success, but being in liquid or powder form were inconvenient to use, and like all medicines in liquid or powder form, lose their medicinal properties when opened or exposed to the air.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain highly concentrated antiseptics, Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., which kill the catarrh germs in the blood and mucous membrane, and in this respect are strictly scientific and modern, because all authorities are now agreed that catarrh is a constitutional blood disease, and local applications can have only a transitory effect.

The use of inhalers, douches and sprays is a nuisance an inconvenience and can in no wise compare favorably with the same antiseptics given in tablet form internally, where they can reach the stomach and blood and kill catarrh germs right where they are produced.

A prominent lawyer and public speaker of Pittsburg, says: "I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for twelve years. In this climate it seems impossible to get rid of it. The continual dropping of mucous from the nose into the throat caused irritation and hoarseness, seriously interfering with my public speaking. It took me an hour or more of coughing, gagging, expectorating and sneezing every morning before I could settle down to work, and this condition gradually brought on catarrh of stomach, causing loss of appetite, poor digestion and a foul breath, which annoyed me exceedingly. My physician advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and I took them for two months and was astonished to find how quickly they cleared my head, throat and stomach, and I have no hesitation in recommending them. They are not only pleasant to take, but they seem to get at the very root of the trouble, because since using them I have had no trace of catarrh.

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package. They can be carried in the pocket and used any time and as often as desired since they contain no cocaine, mercury or any other injurious drug. Mr. P. Bartlett was nominated by

TRAIN WHEELS SEVERED HEAD

C. P. R. Conductor Killed at St. Thomas Last Night.

While "Checking Off" Cars He Was Struck by No. 3 Wabash Train—Lived in London.

Conductor Richard D. Allen, of the C. P. R., who lived at 766 Queen's avenue, this city, was struck by No. 3 Wabash train at St. Thomas, about 1 o'clock this morning and instantly killed.

Conductor Allen had been working in another conductor's place, and had the run between St. Thomas and Toronto Junction. As usual, last night, he was "checking off" the cars of his train, that is, taking the number of each car in his report sheet. He was walking along on the tracks, and owing to the windstorm raging, and perhaps also because of escaping steam, did not notice the approaching Wabash train. He was struck by the front part of the engine and thrown under the wheels, which passed over his neck. Several of the cars passed over him, and his head is said to have been severed from the trunk.

There was no more popular man on the entire C. P. R. system. He had lived in London for many years, and besides his wife is survived by a three-year-old boy. He was a member of the Conductors' Union.

HON. J. E. BLAND: KNIGHT ERRANT.

Former Londoner Enacts Role of Deliverer.

Storms a Farmhouse, Captures a Fair Maiden, and Restores Her to Doting Grandparents.

The following account of a gallant deed of knight errantry appears in the Detroit Evening News, and the hero is a London old boy, who has achieved distinction in the land of his adoption. Representative Bland requires no introduction to London readers:

"Representative J. Edward Bland, whose encounter with a burglar a few months ago placed the laurels of fame on his brow, has revamped his heroism by a new act, namely, the rescue of a young miss from a stepmother and returning her to her doting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Trent, of 232 Thirteenth street.

"Several weeks ago little Gertrude Trent was taken over to the care of her stepmother by her father, Capt. Trent, a vessel man, who has since mysteriously disappeared. Ever since Mrs. Trent No. 2 has clung persistently to little Gertrude, hoping to bring her derelict spouse back by the possession of his daughter. With this intent, the mother is said to have flitted from town to town, secreting Gertrude wherever she went, and meantime making strenuous inquiries after the father.

"In the meantime, too, the inconsolable grandparents, armed with guardianship papers for Gertrude, were seeking her everywhere. The case was turned over to Representative Bland. He was adjured to scour the state for Gertrude, and return her to her grandparents' home, at 232 Thirteenth street, where she had always lived until her stepmother took her away.

"Representative Bland girt himself up and set out last Thursday afternoon. He was armed with the guardianship papers and the knowledge—incorrect it afterwards proved—that three husky farmer lads would be awaiting him with drawn pitchforks. But this did not deter him. If blood must be spilled, why, so much the more heroic it would be. Mr. Bland felt like a regular Sir Galahad.

"He went first to Evart, on a clue furnished him, but the maid and her stepmother were not there. Then he went to Saginaw, then to Belding, and here he discovered that Gertrude was off on a desolate farm at a place called Grattan. To the farm for Sir Galahad!

"He secured a rig and driver, and at noon on Saturday rapped his mailed fist on the farmhouse door. Gertrude herself responded. In answer to questions she told her name, and just as Sir Galahad was preparing to swoop off with her the stepmother shrieked down the stairs for Gertrude to come up.

"The little girl did so, and was at once admonished to take off her shoes and retreat to a dark, small corner and make herself scarce.

"Meanwhile Sir Galahad, his knightly ire aroused, began to make a search. He invaded pantries, bedchambers, clothes closets, and at length came upon the crouching little figure in the dark corner.

"Without further ado he picked her up just as she was, and ran for the door.

"Thereupon noonday was made hideous with feminine shrieks. Three women clung to the knightly garments, made vicarious grabs at himself and his burden, and raised Cain generally, but to no avail. The serpent's sting was added by the small maid herself crying and protesting against this knightly appropriation of herself. But that was because she didn't just know who Sir Galahad was, and why he was carrying her off.

"As the driver whipped up the horses and she was borne off in the arms of her captor, the farm house bell was rung loud and long, giving just the needed touch of medieval tumult to the whole thing.

"Gertrude's shoes dropped out on the way to town, and the representative bought her a new pair. Then he proceeded to ingratiate himself by buying her candy and telling her stories and being a good fellow generally.

"They took the train at Orleans, a little station, arrived in Detroit at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, took a carriage, and were driven direct to 232 Thirteenth street, where lights were burning in expectation of the arrival.

"Gertrude and her grandparents had a most affecting meeting, and Sir Galahad found it necessary to look hard at a picture of Niagara Falls in the family album to curb his emotion. Then he came in for his share of heartfelt thanks from the old people, who were overjoyed at the return of their granddaughter.

"Miss Gertrude, by the way, is a much-litigated-over young lady. In her short career she has had her father, her stepmother and two sets of grandparents contesting over her possession.

A couple of years ago her mother's parents, in Port Huron, insisted on keeping her, and her father had to resort to legal measures to recover her.

"She is a dear, bright little girl, very pretty and well mannered. She is glad to get back and attend school again and be with her grandparents and her brother Tommy, who is a year her senior. And she very bashfully apologizes for the fuss she kicked up when Sir Galahad first tried to carry her off, and confesses she thinks a good deal of him now."

UNEQUALED IN THE WORLD

Diamond Dyes Tested for Over Twenty Years Are the Popular Home Dyes—Scientific Chemists Say They Are the Purest, Strongest, Fastest and Most Brilliant.

Diamond Dyes have no equals in the world; they are the only package dyes that can be used with safety and success. The imitation and crude dyes sold by some dealers for the sake of a little extra profit are a source of danger to home dyers. Those common dyes sold at the same price as the Diamond, are dear at any price, as they ruin fabrics and garments. It is therefore wise to examine each package you buy. If the name "Diamond" is not on the package, they are deceptions and frauds. Diamond Dyes are fully warranted by the manufacturers; they guarantee success at all times.

BLIZZARD IN MICHIGAN.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 5.—The while of Western Michigan is being swept by a terrific blizzard, the fiercest of the year, and one of the worst the railways have had to contend with in years. Trains from the north were from three to five hours late, and big plows are doing their best to prevent a complete blockade, which seems likely, as the snow shows no sign of abatement. This storm is the worst experienced in many years.

Buffalo and vicinity experienced a blizzard on Tuesday night, and travel was much interfered with.

"I continued the treatment, and soon the pains all left me, and I have had no return of them since.

Omega Oil

IN OLD AGE—As people get old their bodies dry up, like plants when winter approaches. Their skin wrinkles and their joints harden. The back aches. The shoulders and arms get lame. The legs become weak. The feet are tender and sore. The natural oils of the body are exhausted, and something is needed to produce the strength and vigor that Nature herself supplies in the earlier years of life.

The best thing for this is Omega Oil. It is a godsend to the aged if ever there was one. It makes the declining years of life free from the pains that come as the days go by. Many a grandfather and grandmother find in Omega Oil the only thing that does their aches any real good. They simply rub it on their sore spots, and the pain stops. It is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. 739

Never take a substitute for Omega Oil. If your druggist persistently refuses to give what you ask for, the Omega Chemical Co., 257 Broadway, New York, will mail you a bottle, prepaid, for 50c. in cash, money order or stamps.

Mrs. Jesse Ketchum, of Ottawa, Induces Her Sister to Take Powley's Liquified Ozone for a Stubborn Cough.

IT CURED HER.

It's a question of vitality these days—whether or not your blood possesses its required amount of oxygen, if you are going to escape the coughs, colds, attacks of the grip, pneumonia and bronchitis so common and sometimes so fatal. Powley's Liquified Ozone supplies oxygen to the blood by increasing the percentage of hemoglobin, makes healthy flesh and blood and establishes the red and white corpuscles in their proper propertion, so that there is sufficient resistance in the system to starve out the germs of these winter diseases.

THE OZONE CO., LTD.

Gentlemen:—In view of the universal suffering of humanity, and my favorable observation of the work of Ozone, I send you for publication a brief statement of what I know about it.

My sister, a young woman past twenty, having contracted a stubborn and settled cough, which she could by no treatment get rid of, I induced her to try the much talked of remedy, Ozone In one month the favorable change in her condition was remarkable.

I have also known it to arrest impending diphtheria, and to do good in other forms of disease.

My sister resides in Mt. Forest. I write this that other sufferers may be benefitted.

(Signed) MRS. JESSE KETCHUM,
324 Concession St., Ottawa, Ont.

We want you to know that Powley's Liquified Ozone honestly performs all that we claim for it and more. We publish testimonials which you can readily verify—they are all in Canada from Canadian people. We want you to examine into each case. We believe there cannot ever be too much investigation over affairs pertaining to your good health. Powley's Liquified Ozone is oxygen in fixed liquid form—not a patent medicine at all, as it does not contain any drug or combination of drugs—no alcohol in its composition, simply oxygen, Nature's great health giving blood food.

LOVED, TOILED, DIED TOGETHER

The Tragic Ending of a Brief But Happy Wedded Life.

Man and Wife Who Perished Together Were Born and Raised in Middlesex County.

The following brief paragraph from a recent issue of the Pueblo (Col.) Daily Chieftain, has reference to one of the most tragic incidents in the history of Colorado:

"Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Saxton returned yesterday from Ramah, Col., with the remains of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, who died from burns and exposure on Sunday night. The bodies of the unfortunate couple were terribly burned, and it is believed they were sleeping soundly when their little frame house burned down, making their escape without serious injury impossible. They were without clothing when found dead on the prairie a mile and a half from the house where they had lived, and had the burns which each sustained been of less serious character, they would have died from exposure."

The horror of the incident is brought home to Middlesex readers because of the fact that the principals in it were natives of this county, and were married only last March. The pathetic story of their brief but happy wedded life and its awful ending, is one that will be heard with profound interest and sorrow by every reader of The Advertiser in Middlesex. The funeral service, at which Rev. D. D. Forward delivered an extremely beautiful address, is thus described in the Pueblo Daily Chieftain:

One of the most sad and impressive of recent occasions was the double funeral held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Mesa Baptist Church, where the services over the remains of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson were conducted by Rev. D. D. Forward. In handsome caskets, just alike, husband and wife lay side by side. Numerous floral tributes sent by sorrowing friends were banked about the caskets.

After the services in the church the bodies were laid to rest in Riverview Cemetery. The pallbearers were W. B. McDonald, Warren Bond, Fred S. Stebbins, George Cummings for the one, and Scott Robinson, S. T. Smith, Arthur Pond and Mr. Anderson for the other.

Rev. Forward made a beautiful address, during which he said in part:

"About 28 years ago two babes, the one a boy, the other a girl, were born near Melbourne, Canada. As little children they were playmates. During the period of youth they became friends. Only last April these young people were married in Canada. They came to Pueblo immediately. After a delightful honeymoon in the home of my dear friend, Charles B. Saxton, Mrs. Thompson's father, the happy couple located on a piece of land lying about six miles south of Ramah. With hopes higher than the plateau they had chosen for their home, they began life. The sad, brief story teems with inspiration. Here all may find help in home building.

"Three cheerful letters, written considerably less than a week ago, give glimpses of two very sensible, happy and resolute young people. Life is not all sunshine even in Colorado, but where can we find a more inspiring lesson than these lives bring? For in them we find types of courage, industry and love.

"A hearty young Englishman is not worthy of his name if he lacks courage. The delicate invalid, Robert Louis Stevenson, struck a Frenchman across the face, at a public dining table in France, for saying that Englishmen were cowards. Never has our mother country bred a generation that was deficient in courage. What wonder that our bright and beautiful Canadian cousins come over the line and in less than ten months furnish a stable, striking record in courageous living? While some of our own irresolute young men have complained of an unkind providence, James Thompson and his lovely bride came among us, took hold of a piece of raw prairie land, and, though the requirements would have seemed discouraging to less heroic souls, they faced the stern facts bravely. Plain, hard living, and loneliness, and the stubborn prairie, and the howling wolves, and the raging mountain storms, and the rigorous winter, and the possibility of an unproductive season did not move our dauntless young friends from the settled purpose of building their home, with their own hands, on the spot of their choice.

"Industry is by no means a minor virtue. Failure in character as in home building, is often due to sheer laziness. To wrest a home from a Rocky Mountain upland is not the task for a sluggard. Our soil is productive, but not without work. What can be said in exaggeration of the industry of a newly-wedded couple who settled in a small cabin last April, secured a team, broke 30 acres of land, gathered a goodly little herd of stock, harvested more than two carloads of potatoes, built a barn and a little gem of a house that cost in material over $300, and who left in bank on time deposit, all bills paid, about the amount with which they reached Pueblo? May it please God to send to Colorado a thousand couples who are thus frugal and industrious.

"After all, there can be no American home without love. Think of these splendid cousins of ours. On a wild mountain tract, far from kindred and the old home, they were alone, yet not alone. The otherwise long days were made short by honest toil. And, as a tried but bright little wayfarer once said to her papa, so the one of these young people could say to the other, 'I am with you.' The charm of human life is found in human love. Nowhere is the band so strong as in a well-appointed marriage of congenial souls. Because of the absence of conjugal love, innumerable homes have come to ruin. No one can imagine, must less depict, the last night this couple spent in life. With eyesight gone, night-clothing burned from their bodies, the bare feet filled with button cactus spines, they went together into the cutting air of the sharp night heroically, industriously, with unfailing love for one another, hand in hand, together seeking refuge, but together they fell in death, and together have they gone to their new home.

"Surely God will bless this remarkable record to every one of us who is susceptible to influence for higher living. Is any one of us disheartened? Is any sluggish? Is any selfish and unloving? In the presence of these noble dead I cry 'shame.' Here let us make the resolve that we will face the hard, uncompromising enemies of success, that we will work that we will give ample proof of loyal love. What then? Why every home here represented shall receive an impetus for righteousness and for plenty, for loveliness and for God—providing the "Sun of rigteousness" streams into our lives as we may hope he came into the hearts of James Thompson and his sweet bride; 'Lovely and pleasant in their lives and in their death they were not divided.' In the words of Abraham Lincoln: 'Here let us highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain.'"

BEST YEAR ON RECORD FOR SHORTHORNS

Annual Meeting of Dominion Breeders of These Choice Animals—Hon. John Dryden on Canadian Beef Cattle.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association was held at Richmond Hall yesterday, Mr. Robert Miller, Stouffville, presiding. The annual report conveyed the gratifying information that the registration of animals is steadily increasing, the increase in Vol. XVII. being 2,582 in excess of the record in the previous volume. Shorthorns have been in good demand during the year. High honors were taken by Canada at the Pan-American and other American shows, making altogether the most successful year on record in Canada for Shorthorns.

The financial statement showed that the receipts during the year were $12,-131 and the expenditure $12,880. The credit balance on Dec. 31 last was $7,-471. One thousand two hundred and fifty-five yearly subscriptions were received, and 8,874 registration fees for pedigrees and 3,019 transfer fees were paid, both being largely in excess of the previous year.

THE TUBERCULOSIS TEST.

The report of a committee composed of President Miller, Richard Gibson, D. C. Flatt and Arthur Johnston, was adopted unanimously, as follows, after a brief discussion: "We, the members of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, at our annual meeting, resolve that the tubercular test is unreliable, unnecessary, and in many cases injurious, and that we urge the discontinuaance of the compulsory use of toxine by the Dominion Government department of agriculture; and we also fail to see the object now of requiring a ninety-days quarantine, as there is no contagious disease in Great Britain requiring its enforcement to such length of time."

The first business of the afternoon session was the election of officers. Mr. Robert Miller was re-elected president, and all the other officers and directors were re-elected.

Hon. John Dryden expressed his regret that the question of the tuberculin test and the ninety-days quarantine had been grouped together in the resolution passed earlier in the day. At his suggestion a resolution was unanimously passed separating the two matters.

CANADIAN BEEF CATTLE.

An eminently practical address was delivered by Hon. John Dryden, minister of agriculture, upon the subject of the quality of Canadian beef cattle; the discrepancy between the prices paid for animals of similar quality in Chicago and Toronto, and the causes for the great difference. He congratulated the association upon the favorable outlook for breeders of pedigreed shorthorns. He reviewed the gradual increase of price in Canada from $3 50 to $4 00, and nowadays $5 00 per 100 pounds for Canadian cattle, and expressed confidence that the end was not reached yet; that Ontario could produce cattle, and would produce them which would bring a still higher price, and that in the near future six cents would be paid. One reason for lower prices in Canada than Chicago was the lack of a central market. The higher insurance, railway and steamship rates were other reasons, and, worst of all, the lack of proper competition and the number of men now engaged in the business who are willing to carry on trade in cattle, not worth more than 4 or 4½ cents. Better facilities in the stock yards were required at Toronto, which, he thought, pehaps the most central point. Better facilities would mean a better demand for choice beef; better demand would mean better prices for export cattle, and that would mean a greater demand for pure-bred sires from the breeders in order to keep up the standard. Farmers should prepare now to meet the demand and buy better animals and get better prices for them.

It Does Not Pay to Use Breakfast Cereal That Disturbs and Hampers Digestion.

Digestive disturbances and stomach derangements should be carefully avoided if we desire to pursue our daily work with profit and pleasure. It does not pay to be the victim of a capricious and erratic stomach. In nine cases out of ten stomach difficulties arise from the use of starch and indigestible foods.

A well-known city physician with a large and lucrative practice recently said: "If men and women more generally understood the many advantages of Malt Breakfast Food as a health food, we would not have to deal with so many serious and stubborn cases of indigestion and dyspepsia that we are called upon so often to treat and prescribe for. I have used Malt Breakfast Food in my own family, and have recommended it in my daily practice with the best results. The great advantage of Malt Breakfast Food over all others I have tried, is the use of malt with the grain, thus producing a delicious food free from starch." Ask your grocer for this best of breakfast foods.

THIS LITTLE FELLOW OUGHT TO SUCCEED

His Business Instinct Kept Him From Going to the Hospital.

New York, Feb. 6.—One of the notable incidents of the great dynamite explosion in New York had a newsboy for a hero. It was less than an hour after the explosion had occurred that a little chap appeared upon the scene with his head all bandaged up, his face bearing the scars of contact with broken glass, one of his arms in a sling and a limping leg. He had been in the immediate vicinity of the crash, and had suffered the consequences. He realized his opportunity, however. He bound up his wounds the best he knew how, and forthwith proceeded to load himself up with a bundle of extras telling all about the explosion. And when a benevolent man approached him and asked him why he didn't go to the hospital, the enterprising youth yanked out one of his extras and yelled:

"Have a paper, sir? All about the big dynamite explosion!"

THE SMALLPOX

A Number of Cases Reported From Ontario Lumber Camps—Outbreak Cost Ottawa $19,500.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Dr. Bryce, of the provincial board of health, announced that up to date there had been eight smallpox cases in Mackey's lumber camp, near the Lake-of-the-Woods; thirteen in Whitney and three in Almonte. An additional patient is being cared for in Cobden village, and one at Rockland, on the Ottawa River. A camp near Sault Ste. Marie has three extra cases. Charlotteburg township, Glengarry, is now free from the pest.

The smallpox outbreak has cost the city of Ottawa, so far, $19,500.

Smallpox outbreaks are reported from Algoma lumber camps.

London, Thurssday, Feb. 6

It is suggested that a message by Marconi's new invention of wireless telegraphy should be named an "aerogram."

The Philippine war is costing the United States $1,500,000 a week, to say nothing of the loss in lives. It comes high, but our neighbors are like other people; once they take a hold of territory they hate to let go.

The Hamilton Spectator has no doubt of the result of the Ontario elections, for it practically concedes that the Government of Hon. George W. Ross will be sustained. Says our contemporary: "Mr. Ross is going to England to grace the coronation ceremony." And he will grace it well, too.

In order to let themselves down easy for not opposing Hon. James Sutherland, when he went back for re-election in North Oxford, some Opposition politicians are expressing doubts as to whether even one Conservative remains in the riding! How do they explain Mr. Powers' election by acclamation as M. P. for Quebec Center—that old-time Conservative constituency—and the election without a contest of Mr. Pense as Liberal M. P. P. for Kingston?

Underground wires for the British Government telegraphic system are being put down between London and Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle and Edinburgh. They will afford much better security against interruption of telegraphic communication, not only to those important centers, but to many other towns. Sir John Leng, M. P. for Dundee, recommended the laying of submarine cables along the coast, but the Postmaster-General did not fall in with this view, holding that it would be less efficient from an electrical point of view, and would afford less security of telegraphic communication.

The New York Post points out that if the Uitlanders in the Transvaal had been treated with as great liberality as the foreigners in the Yukon have been treated by the Canadian Government, there would have been no war, and thousands of lives and many millions of treasure would not have been lost. That is true. The difference between the treatment of the Uitlanders by the Boers and the treatment of the foreigners by Canadians was in marked contrast. In one case, an un-British, unfair principle was maintained; in the other, British justice was extended to everyone, and citizenship rights were guaranteed to all who took reasonable steps to secure them. There is no discrimination here.

A Satisfactory Start.

In any race or contest of any kind, it is always well to have a good start. Within a few months the Ontario elections will be held, and there are some considerations affecting the start worth noting. Perhaps the first one is that the constituencies are not similar to the constituencies in the Dominion House. The constituencies in the Ontario House have never been gerrymandered. They have not been fixed to secure the election of Conservatives only. That Ontario fairly polled is Reform is amply proved by the fact that since confederation Ontario never had a Conservative Government. It opened with a Coalition Government, which gave place to a Reform Government, and that Reform Government has, without interruption, held the confidence of the people ever since. To hold the confidence of a people for over 30 years is ample proof that fairly polled the people are in favor of a Reform Government.

It is worth noting, too, how the efforts of the Conservative leaders during that time have been directed towards defeating the Government, and how it was expected to accomplish its defeat is instructive. The attempt to bribe a sufficient number of the Government's supporters to form another Coalition Government will be remembered, and so too will its exposure on the night of the 17th of March by the late Hon. C. F. Fraser be well remembered. His denunciation of the "brawling brood of bribers" has fastened on them a name that has stuck to them ever since, and kept all connected with it out of public life.

Several elections have been contested in which the religious differences existing have been brought prominently forward, and it was hoped by those who raised the cry that a sufficient number of votes could be detached from the Reform Government to place in power in its stead a Conservative Government, but such hopes proved without foundation, and it may be taken to be fairly settled in this Province that all classes now desire the fullest equality. It is not likely that means of securing power will be tried again. This is a cause for congratulation.

We think, therefore, that we are justified in assuming that race and religious differences will not be called in to play a part in the coming elections. In that respect the elections will be fair. The constituencies themselves will be the fair constituencies, not the fraudulent gerrymandered ones. The electorate will be those who have on several previous occasions stamped with their votes approval of the conduct of provincial affairs by the Provincial Government.

This looks like a fair start to commence with. We believe the result will be another expression of that confidence which has continued the Reform Government in power for the benefit of the people of this Province.

A Comprehensive Party.

The unity of the Canadian people, and the fact that the Liberal party, at all events, is broad enough to enlist under its banner all classes, nationalities and creeds, were strikingly demonstrated at the great gathering in Woodstock last week, when Hon. Jas. Sutherland, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was elected by acclamation on coming back to his constituents for their approval. Sheriff Brady, the presiding officer, is a whole-hearted Irishman. Mr. Valentine Stock, who is booked to win South Perth for the Liberals in the coming Provincial elections, is a fine type of German-Canadian. Mr. Charles Marcil, another of the speakers, is a silver-tongued French-Canadian, who can speak French and English with equal fluency. And, of course, there was the chief figure of the noteworthy celebration—the Hon. James Sutherland himself—but who is known as "Jem" from the least even to the greatest of his supporters—who is a Canadian of Scottish parentage, and who has hundreds of proud constituents of that nationality. It was a striking gathering, and one calculated to exemplify the all-embracing character of the party whose principles the new Minister has ever been ready to forward.

Mr. Sifton in Lisgar.

The Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, delivered a masterly address at Crystal City, in support of Mr. D. A. Stewart, the Liberal nominee for Lisgar. The bye-election for the House of Commons will be held on Feb. 25. Lisgar is a very large and important constituency, containing, on a full list, 12,000 or 13,000 electors. A percentage of this vote, however, is Mennonite, who, as a rule, remain away from the poll.

Mr. Sifton's speech consisted of a review of the political situation in Canada, including a sketch of the growth of the Dominion during its five years of Liberal rule. Among other things touched upon was the matter of Cabinet representation in the west. The time was when one Minister was sufficient, but owing to the growth in population of Western Canada, it is the opinion of the Minister of the Interior that one of his colleagues in the Cabinet should be selected from that section of the Dominion.

Canada has been very successful in the matter of immigration. From 20,000 in 1896, the number has increased to 49,000. In 1896 there were practically no immigrants from the United States; last year the number was about 18,000. In 1897 the number of homestead entries in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories did not exceed 1,450. During the calendar year 1901, over 9,000 homestead entries were granted. According to the department of immigration, there are at present about 40,000 actual settlers in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Mr. Sifton referred to the progress of the Yukon, and to the venomous attack made some time ago on himself and on the Dominion Government in connection with the administration of that district. Since the general election the attacks have greatly diminished, showing that the original purpose was to bring discredit on the Government by inducing the electors to imagine that there was something wrong. The allegation that the administration of affairs in the Yukon was placed in the hands of corrupt officers is entirely false. Those who have gone to the Yukon report that the district is governed exceedingly well; compared with conditions at Cape Nome, which is in the hands of men from the United States, Dawson, together with its environment, is a matter of pride to Canadians.

Mr. Sifton replied to the contention of the Conservative party that Liberals were extravagant in dealing out the finances of the Dominion. Whether a man or a government be extravagant or not, cannot be determined by taking into account the expenditure only. To refrain from spending money might be equivalent to checking the growth and development of a country. As an example of extravagance, the grant to the Tay Canal by the late Conservative Government, was given. The revenue arising from that so-called business deal was one year only $28 50. Large amounts have been spent by the Liberals in the Yukon territory, but the revenue has greatly exceeded the expenditure. The Hon. Mr. Mulock, Postmaster-General, entered upon his duties with a deficit of $700,000, which sum he reduced to $47,000, besides reducing the postage on letters from three to two cents. Conservatives looked upon, as gigantic extravagance, the cutting off of nearly $800,000 from the revenue; but the result has been the lowering of the deficit to less than one-half of what it was when the Postmaster-General took office.

Within the past five years, the Liberal Government at Ottawa have spent the sum of $29,000,000 on capital account, as compared with about $16,000,000 by the late Conservative Administration. In spite of this, the tax rate on goods purchased is less, and the amount of the public debt per head is less than when the Liberals came into power five years ago.

The Bye-Elections.

Since the last provincial election in 1898 there have been 26 bye-elections in Ontario, resulting as follows:

| | Lib. Maj. | Con. Maj. |
|---|---|---|
| 1898— | | |
| East Wellington | 508 | ... |
| South Ontario | 156 | ... |
| Lennox | 108 | ... |
| Halton | 161 | ... |
| West Huron | 45 | ... |
| East Northumberland | 576 | ... |
| Nipissing | 781 | ... |
| North Hastings | ... | 255 |
| 1899— | | |
| West Elgin | 221 | ... |
| South Perth | ... | 7 |
| North Waterloo | 119 | ... |
| South Brant | 417 | ... |
| East Elgin | ... | 43 |
| West Elgin | ... | 17 |
| South Ontario | 322 | ... |
| West Peterboro | acc. | ... |
| South Renfrew | 314 | ... |
| East Middlesex | ... | 43 |
| 1900— | | |
| North Renfrew | acc. | ... |
| North Waterloo | acc. | ... |
| Welland | 262 | ... |
| 1901— | | |
| London | 1,655 | ... |
| West Huron | 295 | ... |
| East Kent | acc. | ... |
| 1902— | | |
| Kingston | acc. | ... |

Five of the above elections, it will be noticed, resulted in acclamations for the Liberal candidates; six, if London is counted, where the Conservatives failed to put a candidate in the field, and two of the unopposed returns were for constituencies which, in 1898, elected supporters of Mr. Whitney. The Brockville Recorder suggests that the Conservatives should be welcome to all the comfort they can get out of the above facts. Surely no one will grudge Mr. Whitney and his friends that; it is cold, cold like the weather of the past few days. Too bad, we cannot have a few more bye-elections, to further confirm the trend of public opinion.

Only Child's Play.

[Windsor Record.]

Moving the address in reply to the speech from the throne should not prove a heavy contract for Mr. Archie Campbell. When he was able to move a sufficient number of votes to convert an adverse majority of 800 into a favorable majority of 150, moving the address will be only child's play for him.

Good Sign.

[Ottawa Journal.]

According to the Ontario minister of education's latest reports an increasing number of high school pupils devote their attention to agricultural pursuits. That is a good sign for Ontario and for farming interests. There are too many in the professions and too many applicants for clerical positions. But education tells everywhere, and the educated farmer is the better equipped for successful work.

Fun With a Bachelor Minister.

[Toronto Star's Report.]

During the afternoon Mr. Sutherland had to stand a lot of teasing about his supposed matrimonial intentions. It seems that the new minister is building a fine new mansion in Woodstock, and that a little bird has been persistently whispering about the significance of that circumstance. It was C. S. Hyman, who, by name, may appropriately deal with such matters, who first sprang the bit of gossip. Sheriff Brady announced that he had kept his eye on Mr. Sutherland during Mr. Hyman's reference, and he had seen him blush, the first time such a thing had ever been known to happen. Mr. Guthrie said he hoped the gossip was not true. He reminded Mr. Sutherland of the elderly lady who had inquired if married men lived longer than bachelors. "No," replied her escort, "they don't live any longer, but it seems longer." Mr. Calvert warned him of the dangers. There was the legend, he said, that the Creator had made the world and also Adam. Then he rested. Then he made a woman. And neither God nor man has rested since. Mr. Sutherland preserved a non-commital silence through it all.

Bacon—Shakespeare.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

The theory in its latest form that Lord Francis Bacon wrote the works commonly ascribed to William Shakespeare is receiving some hard knocks. The other day we noted in this column that Prof. Skeat had pointed out that the message which Lord Bacon is said to have sent to the world through the cipher code contained words which did not come into use till the nineteenth century. Now an even more amusing discovery has been made. Mrs. Gallup, the discoverer of the code, found along with many other things in "The Anatomy of Melancholy" a translation of Homer's Iliad which Bacon took this strange means of giving to the world. In the current Nineteenth Century, Mr. R. B. Marston analyses this alleged translation from the Greek. As is well known, Alexander Pope, who lived a century after Bacon and Shakespeare, made a poetical translation of the Iliad, in which he did not follow the Greek text carefully but used poetic license of his own. Mr. Marston shows how whole sentences and phrases in Bacon's translation are identical with Pope's, and not at all like the original Greek text. Lord Francis must thus have had an advance sheet of Pope's production, or did Pope know the code, and get his translation from Bacon? The Bacon champions are getting into deep water.

Where Is the Conservative Party?

[The Ottawa Free Press.]

The London Advertiser notes that since the recent Liberal gains in Ontario, there has been a loud outcry in opposition circles for a new deal in the management of the Conservative party. But the "outcriers" fail to point out with any degree of clearness where there is any Conservative party to manage. Liberal gains are not due to want of "management" in the party, but to the extinction of what used to be the most devoted servants of the late Sir John Macdonald. After his death it went to pieces, and no amount of "management" will put it together again. The Opposition of the future will come into existence in time when the necessity arises.

COST OF SCHOOL BOOKS

The Price of Books in Ontario Contrasted With That in Neighboring States.

The Toronto Star has the following interesting statement with regard to the price of school books:

If Mr. Matheson, Mr. Whitney, and their supporters have any just ground for complaint that the cost of text books in Ontario is exorbitant, they are entitled to public attention, for we have nearly half a million school children whose little purses and the pocket-books of their parents are entitled to all the protection possible. But is there any ground for complaint? Here is the full list of the text books in use in the public schools of the province, with the retail prices, and our readers will be able to judge for themselves whether they look exorbitant:

| | |
|---|---|
| First Reader, part I | 10 |
| First Reader, part II | 15 |
| Second Reader | 20 |
| Third Reader | 30 |
| Fourth Reader | 40 |
| High School Reader | 50 |
| Arithematic | 25 |
| Algebra and Euclid | 25 |
| Geography | 75 |
| Grammar | 25 |
| History of England and Canada | 30 |
| History of Canada (for fifth form) | 50 |
| Drawing Course (five numbers) | 25 |
| Physiology and Temperance | 25 |
| Copy Books (seven) | 52 |
| Practical Speller | 25 |
| Bookkeeping | 25 |
| Agriculture | 30 |
| Total cost | $5 77 |

Any pupil can complete the public school course without purchasing a single text book outside of the foregoing list. If it takes ten years to complete the public school course, the average cost per annum per pupil for text books would be less than 58 cents, and this allows each pupil to purchase a full set, while as a matter of fact books often serve several members of the same family. A calculation from the number of text books issued by the publishers in the past three years and the average annual enrollment of pupils over the province places this annual average cost per pupil at a little more than 21 cents.

In Toronto, where a system of purchasing by the school board is in vogue, the inspector's report for 1900 says:

"The cost per pupil for text books on the basis of average monthly attendance, omitting kindergarten pupils, was 8½ cents. The cost on the basis of total enrollment, omitting kindergarten pupils, was 7¾ cents."

In some States in the Union the free text book system has been adopted as in Toronto and other Ontario cities. The figures for Toronto are as above. For a number of States they are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Illinois | $1 25 |
| Rhode Island | 1 13 |
| New Hampshire | 60 |
| Delaware | 40 |
| Maryland | 48 |
| Maine | 46 |
| Missouri (rural) | 1 00 |
| Missouri (urban) | 1 40 |
| New Jersey | 92 |
| Pennsylvania | 1 04 |
| Boston | 90 |
| Trenton, N. J | 35 |
| Philadelphia | 1 04 |
| Hamilton, Ont | 33 |
| Hamilton (excluding fifth form) | 29 |
| Brantford, Ont | 23 |

Figures talk, especially in a case like this, where they may be easily verified.

PRINTERS KICK.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—A delegation from the Ottawa Typographical Union waited on Mr. Mulock and opposed the government giving printing to outside offices. The delegates held that it should be all done in the bureau. The difficulty is that the bureau is getting all that it can turn out, and to have the work for parliament ready in time it is necessary to give the printing out.

The supplies of hay, oats, flour, etc., shipped to South Africa by the department of agriculture for the war office amount to $5,500,000 up to date.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion
With Hypophosphites

CURES CHRONIC LUNG AFFECTIONS

The strongest proof of the value of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion in the treatment of Chronic Lung Affections and Consumption is the fact that it is prescribed extensively by eminent lung specialists, and is used in large consumption hospitals. It restores appetite, improves digestion, assimilation and nutrition. Helps increase the weight, and a greater vitality and power of resisting disease is secured. It soothes and heals the pulmonary mucous membrane, and enables the lungs to repel disease germs and to withstand the harmful influence of adverse climatic conditions. Unlike cod-liver oil it is pleasant to take and agrees with the most delicate stomach. It has great power to relieve coughs, night sweats and diarrhœa.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.—We take this occasion of recording another personal experience with Angier's Petroleum Emulsion which you may be interested in. Same was prescribed by our editor, Dr. Fisher, for one of the Century's staff last spring with unusually satisfactory results. The patient had taken a deep cold which settled upon the lungs, and there was already pronounced dullness in one lung when the Emulsion was prescribed. Within a few weeks the incipient trouble was all over through a strict adherence to Angier's.—Medical Century Pub. Co., New York.

CAUTION:—ANGIER'S is the original Petroleum Emulsion and is made with a special oil obtained from particular wells and carefully purified by our own process. Imitations made with ordinary petroleum cannot have the same effect, and besides being useless, many of them are dangerous for internal use. ANGIER'S Petroleum Emulsion costs a trifle more than imitations, but it is vastly superior and worth many times the price asked for it. It is for sale at all druggists. Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00 a bottle.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a valuable little book entitled, "About Your Throat and Lungs."

A. M. HAMILTON & SON'S REPORT.

London, Thursday, Feb. 6.

WOOL MARKET.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

London, Feb. 5.—At the wool auction sales, with offerings of 12,215 bales, while the attendance today was smaller than usual, there was active competition, with the demand good and recent rates realized. The selections offered were generally good. From the opening of the series there was a feeling of confidence and vigorous competition. Confidence was shown for merinos, which averaged 5 per cent dearer, especially medium inferior parcels; later better grades strengthened, while the demand for inferior, faulty grades weakened somewhat. The closing tone for these grades, however, was firm. Competition for cross-breds throughout the series was more satisfactory than for a long time past. All sections, including Americans, were active buyers of fine-haired greasy, which improved 5 per cent for medium, largely due to the demand from America; 15 per cent for coarse, and 10 per cent for scoureds. Slipes were in large supply, and ruled somewhat irregular. Scoureds rose 5 per cent, and Cape of Good Hope and Natal greasies of condition were readily taken at an advance of 5 per cent. Short heavy stock dragged somewhat, while snow-white scoured towards the end of the sale hardened at the close and showed an advance of 5 per cent. The prospects for merinos are fairly satisfactory, as stock in London and the manufacturing distiets reduce the minimum of old stock. The stock of cross-breds in London is practically clear. During the sale 84,000 bales were taken by the home trade, 77,000 by the continent, 8,000 by America, and 15,000 were held over. The following are today's sales in detail: New South Wales, 2,000 bales; scoured, 5¾d to 1s 4d; greasy, 3¾d to 11d. Queensland, 1,300 bales; scoured, 1s ½d to 1s 6d; greasy, 4½d to 9d. Victoria, 400 bales; scoured, 9d to 1s 3½d; greasy, 3½d to 7½d. South Australia, 300 bales; greasy, 3¼d to 9d. West Australia, 900 bales; greasy, 4½d to 9½d. New Zealand, 5,900 bales; scoured, 3½d to 1s 4d; greasy, 3d to 9½d. Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 300 bales; scoured, 8d to 1s 3d; greasy, 4¾d to 6½d.

IT IS A LIVER PILL.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation, though gentle, is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

PULLED GUN ON OFFICER

Peter B. Lewis Created a Disturbance on Dundas Street.

Spent Night in Cells and Was Bailed to Appear Next Week on Three Charges.

Only one offender sat in the dock at police court this morning. Three charges were entered on the docket, but they were all against the offender. The lone prisoner was Peter B. Lewis, and the charges were "Drunk and disorderly, carrying a pistol and using abusive language." Lewis was bailed to appear on Tuesday next. The circumstances of the case are, according to P. C. Lucas, that Lewis was driving along Dundas street in an intoxicated condition. He stopped at the corner of Clarence street and began using coarse and offensive language. Lucas was about to arrest him when Lewis whipped up his horse and escaped. The officer followed on a street car, and caught up to him, Lewis having left his cutter, the officer approached him, when Lewis raised a revolver. Lucas struck it down and grappled his man, being assisted by P. C. Ralph, who was near by. Lewis was taken to the police station, despite his protests. He was put in the cells. The revolver was found to contain blank cartridges. It is said that Lewis had purchased it a few hours before.

An Open Letter to the Editor.

Dear Sir,—THOUSANDS OF CANADIAN HOMES, darkened and blackened and gloomy by the shadows of sickness and death, will be changed to the sunshine of health when they learn of the merits of our "SUPERIOR GLUTEN FLOUR" made into bread, biscuits, etc., as a diet for impaired digestion, dyspepsia or diabetes. Unlike the ordinary indigestible starchy grain foods (that many people fortunately can digest), it builds up, strengthens and nourishes the system. It is not a medicated flour, as some suppose, but simply a by-product, containing from 12 to 15 per cent of the wheat. We will be pleased to furnish testimonials to anyone who is at all in doubt as to the merits of this flour. We are placing Superior Gluten Flour for sale with all the leading grocers. It is put up with full directions for use in package form, and sells at the same price as our new breakfast food, "SUPERIOR BREAKFAST CREAM." We believe these two natural food products to be the best on the market. —E. A. Shoebotham, manager.

ITS POWER GROWS WITH AGE.—How many medicines loudly blazoned as panaceas for all human ills have come and gone since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was first put upon the market? Yet it remains, doing more good to humanity than many a preparation more highly vaunted and extending its virtues wider and wider and in a larger circle

The action of the city council in lifting the ban on tall buildings is expected to mark the beginning of the period of the greatest building activity in the history of Chicago. Structures to cost $21,238,000 have been planned for immediate construction, and $4,300,000 is to be put into other big down town buildings in the near future.

THE great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold as Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. An order in council has been passed appointing Provincial Detectives John Murray, Jos. E. Rogers and Wm. Greer provincial coroners, for the purpose of investigating by evidence the circumstances of fires where there is suspicion of arson. The object is to facilitate the clearing up of mysteries without the routine of a coroner and jury.

TIME HAS TESTED IT.—Time tests all things, that which is worthy lives; that which is inimical to man's welfare perishes. Time has proved Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. From a few thousand bottles in the early days of its manufacture the demand has risen so that now the production is running into the hundreds of thousands of bottles. What is so eagerly sought for must be good.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Pettypiece's Bill Re Tax on Corporations

Discussed and Withdrawn—The Stormont License Inspector—Lively Time in Railway Committee.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—In the legislature yesterday Mr. Pettypiece, (East Lambton) delivered an interesting address in support of his measure to increase the tax on telephone, telegraph and railway companies. The premier and others spoke on the question, and the bill was finally withdrawn at the premier's request, pending the report of the assessment commission.

The budget debate was continued in the evening, although it had been intended not to hold a night session, and the attendance of members was slim. The debate will be resumed today.

The premier, replying to Mr. Little (Cardwell) on the subject of improved highways, said: No county had yet applied for any grant, because no by-law had yet been passed giving them a claim upon the funds.

Dr. Barr (Dufferin) moved for a return showing the number of indigent and insane persons confined in the jails of the provice.

Hon. Mr. Stratton had no objection to the return being brought down. Nineteen counties had established houses of refuge at an expense of $375,000, to which the government had contributed $76,000. Many counties were in the meantime using their jails as poorhouses, giving the indigents as much latitude as they could. A bill might be introduced next session making it compulsory for counties to establish houses of refuge.

Mr. McLaughlin (Stormont) moved for a return of copies of the correspondence relating to the license commissioners in Stormont and Cornwall during 1901. He did not see the necessity for two officers in that district. Of course, they were very useful in elections, and one of the officers acted as a deputy returning officer in an election.

Hon. Mr. Stratton said the second inspector had been appointed while some important public works were in progress in Cornwall, in order to secure a better observance of the law. If one of the inspectors acted as a deputy returning officer he would see that he did not do so again. He was inclined to think some action would be taken to unite the license districts in Cornwall and Stormont.

The motion was then withdrawn.

THE BUDGET DEBATE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Feb. 5.—After recess Mr. John A. Auld (Liberal, South Essex), resumed the debate on the budget. A great many chairs in the chamber were vacant, owing to the fact that Hon. J. R. Stratton, provincial secretary, was entertaining a number of friends at the festive board in the reception-room. Mr. Auld spoke at some length on the school-book question, defending the education department against the attacks of Col. Matheson. It was not right, he said, to compare Canadian with Irish text-books, as the former were much superior to those of the Emerald Isle. The speaker felt that Mr. McLaughlin was entirely wrong in affirming that no farmer would rise to eulogize the government for its agricultural policy.

Mr. A. Miscampbell (Conservative, East Simcoe), claimed all the credit for the sawlog legislation as honestly belonging to the opposition, which, according to him, had first mooted it. He closed his address by moving the following amendment to the budget: "That in all future agreements made between the commissioners of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park and any other person or persons, power shall be reserved to the provincial government to at any time put a stop to the transmission of electricity or pneumatic power beyond the Canadian boundary, and that in the opinion of this house the waters of the Niagara River and its tributaries, as well as all the waters of other streams, where necessary, should at the earliest moment, subject to existing agreements, be utilized directly by the Provincial Government in order that the latter may generate and develop electrical or pneumatic power for the purpose of light, heat and power, and furnish the same to municipalities in this province at cost."

The prohibition bill will in all probability be brought down next Tuesday.

Before Railway Committee.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The biggest fight of the session in the railway committee began this morning when the Toronto and Hamilton electric railway bill came up. This, it is stated, is the first of a system of through electric lines between the chief cities of the province, and extraordinary powers are asked, such as leave to run at twenty-five miles an hour along highways, the right to construct six-mile branches on each side of the main line, and practically a perpetual franchise through the confirmation of agreements with four of the township municipalities along the route.

Mr. A. Hoskin, K. C., and Mr. G. L. Staunton, K. C., appeared for the promoters, and Mr. Staunton said nothing was asked that was not in one or other of the railway bills recently passed.

Mr. Pattullo, Hon. M. Dryden and Mr. G. P. Graham put up a strong fight against the bill as introduced, saying the whole country was interested in the bill.

Mr. Pattullo said there was general alarm over the rate at which the highways were being taken without safeguard or compensation for railway purposes.

In the course of a discussion on the clauses, Mr. Staunton said a brief had been prepared for members by the opponents of the bill.

Mr. Pattullo warmly resented this, and told Mr. Staunton it was high time for someone to prepare a brief for the public. He asked for the withdrawal of the objectionable remarks and an apology, which Mr. Staunton tendered.

The discussion was unfinished when the committee rose.

Health Cannot Be Good—Digestion and Other Bodily Functions Cannot Be Properly Performed—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The character of food, sedentary habits and neglecting the calls of nature may be set down as the usual causes of constipation. The accompanying derangements are indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach troubles, liver and kidney diseases and an endless amount of pain and suffering. Poisonous impurities, when left in the blood, are bound to find lodgment in some weak spot of the system, and the result is disease of the most deadly nature.

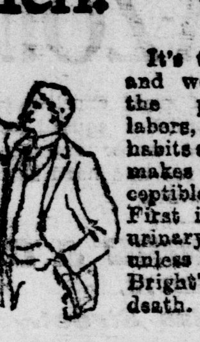

It is a serious matter to neglect constipation. You may do so for a time, only to find that your health has been undermined by bodily derangements of the most fatal kind. You should have a movement of the bowels every day. To accomplish this, avoid concentrated foods, use vegetables and fruits freely, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before retiring, two or three times a week, or oftener if required.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are not an ordinary cathartic. They have a specific and combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and consequently cure constipation, and the accompanying derangements, thoroughly and well, by removing the causes. For the information of those who are not yet familiar with the peculiar merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we might add that they are purely vegetable in composition, pleasant and natural in action and remarkably prompt and far-reaching in effect, even in the most serious and chronic cases of constipation, kidney and liver diseases.

Persons with weak kidneys are peculiarly susceptible to sudden change of temperature, and for this reason need to be on a sharp lookout during the fall and winter seasons, lest the cold settles on these filtering organs and brings on Bright's disease of the kidneys, by far the most painful and fatal of diseases. Scores and hundreds of people make a practice of keeping Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house, and take one whenever the symptoms of constipation and kidney derangement make themselves known. Scanty, high-colored urine, painful urination and pain in the back and limbs are the danger signals of kidney disease.

Whatever else you may neglect, do not overlook the importance of keeping the bowels, the kidneys and liver in healthful, vigorous action. There is no surer way of avoiding serious disease and prolonging life, and the evidence of the people of this country seems to prove conclusively that by far the most effective treatment in bringing about these results is the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Professional Men.

It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's backache, then urinary difficulties, then—unless it's attended to—Bright's Disease and—death.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Strengthen and invigorate the kidneys—never fail to give quick relief and cure the most obstinate cases.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says: "From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sharon's drug store, I can say they are a most excellent remedy for kidney troubles, and I recommend them to sufferers from such complaints."

SAD DISASTER TO COASTERS

Crashed Into a Car With Fatal Effect.

Mother and Two Daughters Overcome by Coal Gas—Woman Drinks Carbolic Acid.

FATAL COASTING ACCIDENT.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 6.—Six boys coasting down a hill crashed into an electric car. The injured: Richard Day, skull crushed and hurt internally, will die; Earl Langton, injured internally; Roscoe Coyle, right leg broken.

HURT BY PREMATURE EXPLOSION.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—George Sneath, of Bracondale, while using half-frozen dynamite in blasting rock in the Rosedale ravine, had his face, and especially his eyes badly injured by a premature explosion. He will recover.

CUT HIS THROAT.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 6.—A suicide, traced to the wild storm of Sunday night, occurred at Greenfield. George Kirkpatrick cut his throat with a razor. He suffered property loss in the storm, and this preyed on his mind.

ASPHYXIATED.

Little Falls, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Sarah Haight and her two daughters, Sadie and Anna, were overcome by coal gas in their home yesterday. Anna died in the afternoon. Snow and soot had clogged the chimney, the coal gas from the furnace soon filled the house, and the three women were unconscious when found.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Frank J. Vance, Charlotte, wife of J. Vance, the village trustee, committed suicide in the National Hotel some time during the night by drinking carbolic acid. The body was found lying across the bed. Mrs. Vance's maiden name was Johanna McMahon, and she originally came from Canada, where she was born 40 years ago.

AN ONTARIO SAMPLE ROOM IN LONDON.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—At the board of trade dinner last night, Hon. George W. Ross intimated that the Provincial government is prepared to give $5,000 a year towards the expense of establishing in London, England, a sort of "sample room," to promote the sale of Ontario goods in the old country.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CREED.

Philadelphia, Feb. 6.—The Presbyterian committee on creed revision, appointed by the last general assembly in this city, met here yesterday to continue the work of preparing their report to be presented to the general assembly in New York next May. As the proceedings are of an executive character, nothing of the proceedings can be gleaned excepting through the authorized channels. One of the important questions to be decided at this meeting is that of textual revision. It is expected that final action will also be taken on the questions of a brief statement from the Presbyterian doctrine and a declaratory statement concerning debatable points in the Confession of Faith.

Telegraphic Briefs.

Bishop Gradin, of Alberta, is dying.

The body of Mrs. Gustave Miller was found on the C. P. R. tracks at Winnipeg, having been run over by the train.

At the hearing on Chinese exclusion yesterday Gompers criticised Wu Ting Fang, saying: "I resent the sneering remark of a foreign diplomat, that I am an agitator or a labor agitator, or that the laboring people of this country who are endeavoring to protect themselves from Chinese labor are agitators."

The Mutual Fire Underwriters' Association of Ontario has decided to place in all policies a clause, providing that in case of dispute as to payments or terms, the case shall be heard before a judge and not by a jury. The reason for this is that the juries in such cases have a reputation for "soaking" the companies.

F. J. Murray, of the Russell House, Montreal; Omer Ellis, clerk, and Edward Pominville, the runner, are charged with selling for $32 a C. P. R. ticket to Calgary left by a returned soldier. All three pleaded guilty. Murray was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs, or two months, the others being let off on suspended sentence.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN.

Their Cure.

When women are troubled with painful irregularities, dizziness, faintness, excitability and nervousness, there is one remedy which, if regularly and persistently used, will cure all these ills. Its name is Ferrozone.

Ferrozone is a woman's best friend and should find a place in every household. It is used with the most gratifying results by thousands who have experienced its great strengthening powers and who would not be without it for ten times its price.

Being prepared in tablet form Ferrozone is both convenient and simple to use, and no uncertainty as to the proper quantity or dose can ever arise. In an open letter a Montreal hospital nurse writes:

"I have nursed and treated all forms of female disorders, and from my own experience and personal observations, I consider Ferrozone a remedy which all women should know about. It is reliable and sure, and will give prompt and satisfactory results. I have no hesitancy in indorsing it."

You are foolish to suffer when such a grand remedy as Ferrozone can be had at any drug store for 50 cents. Procure a box today from W. T. Strong & Co., Dundas street, London.

The Growth Of the Drug Habit.

Sooner or later the reformers of the world will have to divert some of their feverish antipathy to alcoholic stimulants, and consider calmly and intelligently the drug evil. If people had their eyes open to the fact that the majority of stomach troubles could be absolutely cured by a right diet, to a great extent the drug habit would fall into desuetude.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Divisional Court—Ball vs. Farmers' Central Mutual Fire Insurance Company—G. C. Gibbons, K.C., for plaintiff, appealed from judgment of junior judge of county of Middlesex in action by plaintiff, a clergyman, to recover $200 under a policy issued to him by defendants on his dwelling-house on Mill street, in the village of Lion's Head, which was destroyed by fire on Sept. 11, 1900. The defendants allege that in his application and in the diagram of the premises made by plaintiff he omitted to mention or show a sawmill situated 90 feet from his house; that they are prohibited by their by-laws from insuring any building within 150 feet of a sawmill, and that the application disclosed this fact and required that plaintiff must show by it and the diagrams all buildings and their kind situate within that distance, and that therefore there had been a breach of a statutory condition and the policy was void. It was contended inter alia that the diagram was admittedly correct as far as it went. It did not profess upon its face to comply at all with the printed directions above it. The defendants called plaintiff's attention to certain omissions, but asked for no information as to buildings outside his own property; that having notice by the very form of the plan used by plaintiff that he was not complying with the printed directions, the defendants were bound to call his attention to the omission to do so if they intended to rely on it as a defense. G. H. Kilmer, for defendants, contra. Judgment reserved.

LATE SPORTING.

HOCKEY.

TOMORROW'S GAME.

Tomorrow night the Tecumsehs will make a desperate attempt to retrieve the defeat they received early in the season from Waterloo. Both their forward line and defense are much stronger than they were at that time. The players have all practiced hard and trained faithfully, and the very best can be expected from them. There will be a slight change in the team from the line-up at Ayr. Kerrigan will likely play cover point instead of Stinson; West will be at point and Bishop in front of the net. The forwards will be McMahen, Cribb, Douce and Lawlor.

FIRST CITY LEAGUE GAMES.

The first two hockey matches for the city championship were played last night in the Jubilee rink before a fair-sized crowd. The St. John's A. C. won from the Argonauts, and the Memorials from the Hortons. In the latter game the Hortons were far inferior to their opponents in weight, but as much their superiors in skill, and would have stood a much better chance of winning had not the Memorials had the assistance of two of the Tecumsehs' fastest men. The first game was fairly close and interesting, with a score of 3 to 1 in favor of St. John's, but the second one was in doubt until time was called. It took 20 minutes of extra play to decide the winner. When time was up the score stood 4 to 4. In the first ten minutes of the play-off, both teams scored another goal, but Kelly managed to put two shots in for the Memorials in the last round and made the victory secure. During the second game a couple of rows took place, which threatened to end in a general fight. This kind of work should be stopped. It will only take a few of last night's exhibitions to kill the new league. The fight was caused by an argument between a Memorial man who was ruled off for rough work, and a spectator. There was a continuation of it during the game, and another Memorial man was given a rest for the remainder of the game. The constitution of the league was mainly to blame in allowing Tecumseh players to take part in the games with men their inferior in weight and skill. The line-ups and officials were:

St. John's—Goal, Taylor; point, Ross; cover, Mitcheltree; forwards, Adams, T. Woolley, W. Woolley, Bray.

Argonauts—Goal, McConechy; point, Hueston; cover, West; forwards, Hammond, McGuffin, Coughlin, Williams.

Hortons — Goal, Reynolds; point, Young; cover, Northey; forwards, Abram, Phillips, Powell and Carrothers.

Memorials—Goal, Watts; point, Parker; cover, Evans; forwards, Jackson, Douse, Kelly, Braddon.

The officials were: F. Stinson, referee; C. W. Smith and W. S. Cox, timekeepers; R. G. Collins and W. Wilson, goal judges.

HOTELMEN BATTLE.

Teams representing the Grigg House and the Metropolitan Hotel met in the Princess rink last evening, the former winning by a score of 3 to 2. The line-up was as follows:

Griggs—Goal, Cook; point, Black; cover, Sippi; forwards, Brown, Wright, Adair and Foxworthy.

Mets.—Goal, Tobin; point, Walsh; cover, Wilson; forwards, Rooks, Hayden, Tozer and Grindle.

Referee, R. Stanley; timekeeper, J. Brown, goal judges, Ewart Field and T. Stewart.

WATFORD DEFEATED.

Woodstock, Feb. 6.—In the intermediate series of the O. H. A. for the championship of group 9, Woodstock defeated Watford here last night by a score of 19 to 0. The large score does not indicate the conditions of the game, as the playing was clean and fast. Irving, in goal for Watford, had lots of work, and really did much of it well. The Watford team lacked combination. Score at half time, 5 to 0.

CURLING.

THE FOREST CITY TEAM TOURING.

The following gentlemen representing the Forest City Curling Club, left this morning on a curling tour: R. Shillington, D. McDonald, A. Evans, J. M. McKenzie, John Purdom, W. S. Strong, J. B. McKillop, C. H. Tune, J. Lind, A. Adams, H. C. McBride, Sam Stevely, A. Gillson, H. McGillies, R. Reid, E. E. Stily and J. McWhinney. They will visit Petrolia, Sarnia, Windsor and Detroit. The games will be of a purely amateurish nature.

Toronto Feb. 6.—For the third time in six years the Lindsay club won the Ontario tankard yesterday, beating the Toronto Caledonians in the final match by 11 shots. It was a fitting ending to the great competition, in which 66 clubs were originally entered, the contest for supreme honors being of the keenest and most exciting character. The Caledonians gave the well-balanced rings from Lindsay a bitter battle before they yielded to the inevitable, and made things interesting all the way. The largest crowd on record for a curling match watched the games, the big gallery being literally packed, while at the ends of the rink the enthusiasts were clustered together three deep. Secretary J. A. Macfadden was kept busy clearing the side-lines from the encroachments of the too eager partisans, but he stuck to his self-appointed task nobly, and the players were never interfered with. The ice was all that could be desired, and Skip Flavelle stated that he had never played on better.

THE TANKARD HONOR ROLL.

The Ontario silver tankard, play for which began in 1875, represents probably the highest honor in all the world of curling. The game in Canada has been brought to a pitch of excellence and skill such as cannot hardly be equaled elsewhere, and in no other province is there such an array of powerful and splendidly-houses clubs as can be found all over Ontario. The honor roll of the tankard is:

SOME ONE WAS OVER-ZEALOUS

Curious Incident in Which London's Mayor Figures.

Carriage and Saddle Horse Association Elect Officers for the Present Year.

The Carriage and Saddle Hore Association, in session at Toronto, last night amended its bylaws in order to remove doubts whether hunters and roadsters were included in the term "carriage and saddle horses." It was then determined to have four championship classes, viz., carriage, roadster, saddle and hunter, at the spring show, and that a cup be given to the winner in each class, the cup to be won twice before becoming the property of the winner.

The following were elected officers: President, W. Harland Smith; first vice-president, O. B. Sheppard; second vice-president, Thos. Crow; directors, W. C. Brown, Meadowvale; T. H. McCartney, Thamesford; Jas. Murray, Toronto; Dr. Andrew Smith, Toronto; C. W. Cox, Toronto; Geo. Pepper, Toronto; Wm. Hendrie, jun., Hamilton; Adam Beck, London; S. B. Fuller, Woodstock W. T. Merry, Toronto. Honorary secretary-treasurer, H. Wade, Toronto secretary, H. J. P. Good, Toronto.

A stumbling-block was met with when the question of appointing representatives to the Horse Breeders' Association was brought up. An open vote was taken at first, which was unsatisfactory, and it was decided to take a ballot. The three names balloted on were Adam Beck, London; Geo. Pepper and O. B. Sheppard, Toronto. Messrs. Beck and Sheppard were reported by the scrutineers as having the highest number of votes. Before these gentlemen were declared elected Mr. Pepper called attention to the fact that the votes cast did not correspond with the number of voters in the room. A scrutiny revealed the fact that thirteen ballots were cast, but there were only twelve members in the room. Supporters of the two gentlemen named as having the highest number of votes objected to the vote being taken again, as one of their number had left the room, and declined to accept ballots. Mr. Pepper ultimately withdrew and the president declared Messrs. Beck and Sheppard elected.

Messrs. W. H. Smith and W. T. Merry were elected to the Industrial Exhibition Board.

Secretary H. J. P. Good, in his annual report, suggested that among the many matters that might advantageously be considered by the association were shipping and transportation, the export and import trade, advice to breeders, the inspection of stallions, the tariff, the conditioning of horses for sale and exportation, the attitude toward the horse of the Dominion, Provincial and civic governments, the maintenance of a book containing the addresses of stallion owners and breeders, registration of important sales, and keeping track of the sires of horses that sell well, or win in the ring, and the general advancement of the horse and his master.

COAL

Stop the Leak

The ordinary methods of handling coal make a leak in your bin, and a drain on your pocket-book.

You burn more coal than you ought to; you pay for more coal than you burn; with our up-to-date equipment—machinery that handles coal from cars over screens into wagons, for delivery—there is no chance for dirt, as in the ordinary way, and we make no extra charge for the extra service.

"The East"

has a proverb, "He knows the water best who has waded through it."

It is those who have bought and burned "Walla Walla" who can best appreciate its superiority over ordinary coal. When you've once used it you can understand why we call it the best coal mined—you will know the pleasure of burning hard but easily lighted, clean, clinkerless, slateless, coaly coal. You'll then wonder why you ever paid the price of "Walla Walla" coal for any other coal. It comes in Egg, Stove and Nut sizes.

KOAL!

The test of a Koal is, of course, in its burning. You don't want to have the kind that burns half way through and then must be thrown out with the ashes. Our Koal burns steadily all the way through, and the ashes you throw out are ashes—not half burned Koal.

DIDN'T KNOW HIS ARM WAS BROKEN

George Stratfold Meets With a Painful Accident.

George Stratfold, a plasterer, broke his arm at Princess Rink last night by falling on the ice. He was about to referee an impromptu game of hockey. A curious circumstance is the fact that Stratfold did not know his arm was broken until this morning, when he tried to work. He visited a physician and had the injured member set. Stratfold is married and lives in the northern part of the city.

GRAPE-NUTS

A SCIENTIFIC BREAKFAST.

Rightly selected food will cure more than half the diseases. Try a scientific and healthy breakfast: Fruit of some kind, preferably cooked; a dish of Grape-Nuts, with cream; two soft-boiled eggs. Put two eggs in a tin pint cup of boiling water, cover and set off for nine minutes. Whites will then be the consistency of cream and most easily digested. One slice of bread with butter; cup of Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

On that breakfast you can work like a horse and be perfectly nourished until noon. Your nervous troubles, heart palpitation, stomach and bowel troubles, kidney complaints, and various other disorders will gradually disappear and firm, solid health will set in. Why? You have probably been living on poorly selected food; that is, food that does not contain the required elements the body needs. That sort of food, and coffee, is the direct or indirect cause of more than half the ills the human body acquires.

Grape-Nuts is a perfectly cooked food and both that and the Postum Food Coffee contain fine microscopic particles of phosphate of potash obtained in a natural way from the grains of the field and by scientific food experts incorporated into food drink. That element joins with the albumen in food to make gray matter, which is the filling of the brain cells and the nerve centers all over the human body.

A man or woman thus fed is scientifically fed and rapidly grows in vigor and vitality, and becomes capable of conducting successfully the affairs of life. To produce a perfect body and a money-making brain, the body must have the right kind of food, and the expert food specialists know how to make it. That is Grape-Nuts and Postum Cereal Food Coffee, produced at the pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Limited, at Battle Creek, Mich.

EARL'S DENE

CHAPTER XII.

Everybody who is not of a purely lymphatic temperament must, during the course of the day, accomulate a certain amount of ill-temper, which has to be let out somehow or other. On the whole, the most pleasant people to deal with are those who let it evaporate as it comes, spreading it over every part of the day and over everybody with whom they come in contact—themselves, their friends, and strangers impartially; for the result is that their ill-temper is dealt out in such infinitesimal doses at a time as to annoy nobody very much. Others, again, reserve their for some particular period of the twenty-four hours, such as breakfast time or the hour before dinner, when nothing that any body says or does signifies anything to anybody. But there are some—and, unfortunately, these form the majority—who reserve their for particular people; who are all that is delightful to the world at large, but who, at home, are bears or tigers. So common is this practice, that a person who is exceptionally genial in society, is seldom one with whom it is altogether pleasant to live. Now, Angelique Lefort, like everybody else, had her annoyances, and, consequently, her passages of crossness; and as she was far too amiable a person to display these to the world, she was forced to let herself out either in solitude or among her slaves at home, when she happened to have them at hand. It is very doubtful if Hugh Lester would have continued to be quite so much in love had he had the command of a magic mirror for the rest of that day. It was mainly with Marie that she was put out for having interrupted her tete-a-tete at so exactly the wrong moment; but it was not so much upon her cousin that the avenging cloud settled as upon the rest of the household. The children were snubbed to their hearts' content, until Ernest settled down into sullenness and Fleurette into tears; and even the mild old father of the family found his coffee bitter. But as everything that their divine Angelique said or did was always necessarily right, she was only petted and sympathised with all the more—silently, that is, for no one dared to say a word to her, except Ernest, who was not over-fond of his cousin, and who, in consequence, got as severe a reproof from Marie as she was capable of bestowing.

But, fortunately for her, the days of magic mirrors had long gone by, so that Hugh went his way with no image of her in his mind save such as she had afforded him in person.

After his interview with his agent was over, he went home to Earl's Dene, and as was his habit, reported to his aunt and her guest all that he had learned of the progress of affairs in the town. But his heart was not in his story, for he had already obtained the triumph for which he cared the most. His real business now was to render to Miss Clare the explanation that was due to her as mistress of Earl's Dene from her heir and adopted son, and which he felt ought not to be delayed.

Nevertheless, manly as he was in all essential things, he could not but feel a little nervous about telling the old lady that there was to be an heiress to Earl's Dene as well as an heir—or, as he intended to put it to her, that she was to have a daughter as well as a son. He had all his life, like most of those about her, been a little afraid of her, in spite of his experience of her affection for him; and perhaps the enormity of proposing to marry Miss Raymond's dependant seemed a little greater now, as a matter of confession, than it did when he was actually urging his suit.

Fortunately or unfortunately, however, according as it might have turned out, he could find no opportunity of telling her his story in the course of that evening; at least, he thought he could find none, which is practically the same thing. While smoking his nightly cigar, however, he made up his mind that, come what might, he would tell it the next morning; and resolved, not out of deference to the advice of Mark Warden, but in order to compel himself to keep his resolution, that he would refrain from calling in Market street until his story was told.

Next morning, then, he rose with a full intention of doing what was obviously right, and, when breakfast was over, was on the point of telling Miss Clare that he wished to speak with her, when she herself anticipated him by saying, when Miss Raymond had left the room.

"Hugh, you know how I despise such things; but look at this that some man in the street was impudent enough to throw at me yesterday." And she gave him the crumpled piece of paper that she had kept in her pocket.

He read the warning, and blushed to his hair.

"What is this, aunt?" he asked, angrily.

"That is just what I wanted to ask you," she answered. "One knows what things people write and say at elections, but this is such an extraordinary thing to say."

"And did anyone dare——"

"I told you. It was thrown into the very carriage—into my very lap. Really people here seem to have lost all respect, all decency. And yet this could not have been done without some meaning or other. I suppose they have got hold of some story of your meeting with Miss Lefort in the lodge park when you first came down."

"No, aunt; I do not think it is that."

"Just let me speak kindly to you, Hugh. It is not the first time that I shall have given you advice, nor, if you take it, will that be for the first time either. I am an old lady, you know, and may talk about such things; and, as you may have guessed, perhaps I have not always lived so much out of the world as I have since you have known me."

"My dear aunt, I——"

"Listen to me first please. I can make all manner of allowances. This Miss Lefort is, I hear, a respectable girl. Now——"

"But, aunt——"

"Wait, please. Now—you know what I mean—I should be very sorry indeed to think that you, meaning no harm even, as I am sure you would not, had been putting any nonsensical ideas into the head of any young girl who is good and respectable. I do not ask you any questions——"

"But I assure you——"

"But I do wish to ask you—and now, of all times—not by any conduct of yours, to give the people of the town occasion to speak ill of Earl's Dene. You are almost a Clare, you know, and should remember your motto. The French have a saying which to my mind is a very noble one, when rightly used, that of 'Noblesse oblige.' We, my dear Hugh, are in a position to set an example, not only of right conduct, but of conduct that should be without a suspicion of wrong. We must give up our amusements for the sake of our duties. You understand me, I know."

"Quite, aunt; but——"

"And just think for a moment. This girl is the sister of Miss Raymond's companion——"

"Cousin, aunt."

"Well, almost the sister—of Miss Raymond's servant, in fact. It cannot be decent that you should give people occasion to say that you are on too intimate terms with her, no matter how contemptible may be those who say it. Besides, it is not fair, nor kind, to the girl herself, to whom, in her position, character is everything; and people can only couple your name with hers in one way."

"Aunt——"

"That is all I wanted to say to you. And now I will destroy this wretched scrawl. Are you going into the town today?"

Now was the time to make a clean breast of it—now, if ever. It need scarcely be said, however, that Hugh did not take advantage of it.

In effect, he found it impossible. It was not only that Miss Clare was always a difficult person to talk to when she had got some fixed notion into her head; it was not only that she had, so far as she had been able, trained him in habits of passive obedience from his earliest boyhood. It was by no means these circumstances alone that scattered his resolution of the night and of the morning. It was partly a higher feeling, partly a lower, than was founded upon any aspect of the relation in which he stood to his aunt, that had closed his lips.

A COLLOQUY.

"What's the matter with you?" asked Benson.

"I've got Dyspepsia," said Jenson.

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," said Benson.

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," repeated Jenson, "what about them?"

"They'll cure you."

"Are you sure?" asked Jenson.

"Certain," replied Benson.

"Think Dodd's—what do you call 'em?"

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," said Benson.

"Think Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets would cure me?" asked Jenson.

"No doubt about it. Finest things in the world for Dyspepsia," said Benson.

"You don't say. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?"

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"What are they, anyhow?" asked Jenson.

"Pepsin, diastase, and sugar, principally," said Benson.

"No secret about 'em, eh?" said Jenson.

"You know just what you're taking when you use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," said Benson.

"Ever try 'em?" asked Jenson.

"What? Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?" exclaimed Benson.

"Yes," said Jenson.

"I should say I did," replied Benson.

"What for?" asked Jenson.

"Dyspepsia," said Benson.

"I know, but what form of Dyspepsia?"

"Oh, I had 'em all," said Benson. "Indigestion, sour stomach, gas, heartburn, headache, poor appetite, nervousness, and all the rest of 'em."

"And did you cure all that by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?" asked Jenson.

"By Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets only," replied Benson.

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets must be all right," said Jenson.

"If you've got Dyspepsia, you want to try 'em—try 'em, that's all," said Benson.

"Yes, I will," said Jenson.

CLASSES FOR 1902.

There is much speculation among the owners and trainers and among race followers as to what classes will be decided upon for the first races along the line of the Grand Circuit next season, says the Horseman. The possibilities for great racing were never greater, due largely to the fact that the percentage of fast horses which went into winter quarters last fall sound, or serviceably sound, was very large. Looking over the list of fast trotters that will be campaigned, barring accidents, it is plain that there is more material for classes, from 2:07 to 2:12 events than in years before. With the exception of 1898 and 1899, when there were many horses in training eligible to the 2:10 class, there has been a dearth of material for the fastest, consequently the most attractive, trotting events. Last year there was some question on the part of the programme-makers as to whether to make their fastest class an event for 2:07 or 2:08 trotters. From either class only four or five entries could be looked for at the most; the faster class made it possible to bring Charley Herr, Lord Derby and Boralma together, while a 2:08 class gave other eligible horses a chance, without the prospect of meeting either Charley Herr or Lord Derby, that outclassed them. Results proved that there was little choice between the two.

This season there is likely to be little trouble in reaching a decision as to what the fastest class should be, since there will be raced no less than four trotters that are eligible to the 2:07 class, but not to the 2:08 class, as well as five other possible entries. A 2:08 class would bring together at the most only five horses that are not eligible to the 2:09 class, and a 2:09 class would bring together only three horses that are not eligible to the 2:10 class. Taking into consideration the fact that a 2:07 class will have many entries, besides the best in training, there will beyond all doubt be such an event; then a 2:10 trot with fourteen possible entries, consisting of as many good horses as that class has been possible to secure in years; after this a 2:12 class would bring together as grand a field of fast trotters as ever scored for the word. No less than seventeen strictly eligible horses to the 2:12 class will be trained this year, in addition to which there are a dozen or more with records from 2:12¼ to 2:12¾ that would also be entered in such a class. For a 2:07 class the entries would probably be:

Chain Shot (2:06½), Lord Derby (2:06½), Dolly Dillon (2:07), Boralma (2:07), Charley Herr (2:07), Peter the Great (2:07¼), Onward Silver (2:08), The Monk (2:08¾), Eleata (2:08¾), Kingmond (2:09).

A 2:10 class could be made up of the following, and the chances are the percentage of entries from the number available would be greater than in the above-named list of 2:07 horses:

May Allen (2:09¼), All Right (2:09¼), Dolly Bidwell (2:09¼), Early Reaper (2:09¾), John A. McKerron (2:10), Cornella Bella (2:10), Col. Cochran (2:10¼), Miss Della Fox (2:10¼), Susie J. (2:10¼), Antezella (2:10¼), Country Jay (2:10¼), Dorothy Redmond (2:10½), Fereno (2:10¾), Metellas (2:11).

The available material for a 2:12 trotting class is too large to enumerate here, and the associations which offer such a class will be sure of a full entry list, but the fact cannot be overlooked that a 2:11 trot would bring together a mighty field of horses. Such an event would make is possible to secure eight of the horses named in the above 2:10 class, as Col. Cochran, Miss Della Fox, Susie J., Antezella, Country Jay, Dorothy Redmond, Fereno, Metellas, besides the following, which are also eligible to the 2:12 class:

Lady Thisbe (2:11¼), Dan T. (2:11¼), Leola (2:11¼), Charley Mac (2:11¼), Nora Simmons (2:11¼), Wenhun (2:11¼), Border (2:11¾), Galbeter (2:11¾), Sally Simpson (2:11¾), Belle Kuser (2:11¾), Helen Grace (2:11¾), Ozenam (2:11¾), Miss Whitney (2:11¾), Alan (2:11¾), Walter Keim (2:11¾), Whitewood (2:11¾), Grace Onward (2:12).

In addition to the above there are many trotters with records from 2:12 to 2:15 that will be named in any class slower than a 2:10 event. Makers of programmes can hardly go wrong with such an array of speed to rely upon, and whatever the classes may be the prospects for filling the early closing stakes are bright indeed.

BILLIARDS.

NEW YORK TOURNEY.

New York, Feb. 6.—Dr. L. L. Miall, of this city, defeated C. F. Conklin, of Chicago, the winner of the A. A. U. class A billiard tourney of last year, on Tuesday night in the class A tournament which is now in progress at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club. A year ago Conklin defeated Miall by one point in a game of 100 up, and on Tuesday night Miall redeemed himself by defeating the Chicago expert by a score of 400 to 335. Miall gained a commanding lead early in the game, being at one time nearly 100 points ahead. Conklin played a beautifully-judged up-hill game, but towards the end was rather unfortunate, making no less than five consecutive misses from his 35th to the 39th innings. Yesterday afternoon J. A. Hendrick, of this city, and his club mate, Dr. A. B. Miller, were the contestants, and in the evening Threshie, of Boston, and Charles Norris, of this city, crossed cues. The second game of the tournament resulted in an easy victory for Charles S. Norris, formerly champion of the Chicago Athletic Association, but now a resident of this city, by a score of 400 points against 129 points made by John A. Hendrick, also of this city, formerly amateur champion of the State of Connecticut.

HOW ROYALTY SPENDS SUNDAY.

Religious Ceremonies Observed by King and Queen.

The King's Refusal to Travel on Sunday Said to Have Stunned English Society.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

We would be pleased if you could give the inclosed article space in your valuable colums at an early date. On behalf of the London branch of L. D. A. Most respectfully yours,

C. T. SCOTT, Sec.

When King Edward and Queen Alexandra were the Prince and Princess of Wales, the following interesting account of how they were in the habit of spending Sunday appeared in The Quiver. The writer says:

"Sunday with their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales is passed in much the same quiet way as with her Majesty the Queen, inasmuch as religious ceremonies are faithfully observed, and the household and servants are spared all unnecessary duties. The guests wend their way, as the hour of 11 approaches, toward the little Church of St. Mary Magdalene in the park. There is a private footway direct from the house to the church gate; by this the royal family and guests often proceed, driving round by the road only in case of unpropitious weather. Sunday afternoon is quietly spent in the house or park. Dinner is served at half-past seven. Occasionally, however, dinner is a little later, as the prince and princess may be attending evening service in one of the village churches near. The small station some two miles away, where the royal party have their own waiting-rooms, is closed on Sunday, as no train whatever is run on that day. By this means, the church is kept clear of an attendance prompted by curiosity, and also the men employed have the entire day's rest secured to them. In fact, no unnecessary work in any shape or way is performed on Sunday in any one part of the prince's domains.

"Sunday afternoon at Marlborough House differs slightly from Sunday at Sandringham, but the day is spent in comparative quietude. In the morning their royal highnesses attend divine service held in what is known as the German (Lutheran) Chapel. After luncheon, the princess and her daughters may possibly attend one of the West End churches to hear some popular preacher, or to be present at a children's service. It is not only at Sandringham and Marlborough House that Sabbath observances are rigidly adhered to by the Prince and Princess of Wales, but also in any of the continental places where they may be staying. There is an old saying that when you go to Rome, do as the Romans do, but our prince honors this rule in the breach, for, although he has ever been a constant visitor to Paris, yet he has never seen the French Derby, for the simple reason that it is run on the Sunday. In a matter where hundreds and thousands of Christians have followed the fashion of the gay capital they are visiting, and indulged their love of horses and of pleasure, the prince has set a good example, and absented himself. In every way the prince and princess have always faithfully observed the Sabbath, and we, as a Christian people, may congratulate ourselves that our future king and queen will steadfastly uphold the sanctity of the day of God and the doctrines of the Christian Church."

A recent quotation from the St. James' Gazette, of London, England, saying that the King had refused to travel from Scotland to London on Sunday, and has "stunned society by putting all social functions and entertainments on Sunday under the royal ban," would seem to indicate that his majesty's accession to the throne of the "mightiest empire that has been" has not led to the relaxing of his scruples as to how Sunday should be spent.

If there is any truth in the rumors that are rife about Sunday yachting excursions, mounted paper chases, and the like starting from Rideau Hall, it would seem that his majesty's example has not much weight with his representative in Canada, nor indeed with society leaders generally at the Dominion capital, where only a few months ago the servant girls had to form themselves into a mutual protective association in order to get deliverance, among other things, from seven-day-in-the-week bondage, through having to dance attendance on their mistresses and their guests at Sunday dinners, suppers, etc., as well as on all the other days of the week. And we fear that if this Servants' Mutual Protective Association does not extend to other cities, it will not be because there is not about as much occasion for it as there is at Ottawa. Society is fond of following the lead of royalty in many things. Why not in the observance of the Lord's Day?

The man on the stage who does the trick of escaping from firmly tied ropes, submits to the bonds with a smile. He knows he can get out of the ropes that are being knotted. Put the same man in the woods and let Indian captors bind him to a tree for torture and he would struggle to the last against the bonds.

When the stomach is diseased there are bonds being woven every hour about the organs dependent on the stomach—heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc. The folly of mankind is to passively submit to the fastening of these bonds with no effort to escape until the pain they cause arouses fear.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs, when these diseases, as is often the case, have their origin in the diseased stomach.

"For a long time I was suffering and was hardly able to get about," writes Mr. Andrew J. Jennings, of Thomas, Tucker Co., W. Va., Box 104. "Was bothered with kidney trouble and my whole system was out of order; had no appetite. A friend of mine told me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so and the first bottle restored my appetite. I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and some of the 'Pleasant Pellets' and feel like a new person."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from impurities.

RADWAYS PILLS SECURE PERFECT DIGESTION

By their ANTI-BILIOUS properties they stimulate the liver in the secretion of the bile and its discharge through the billary ducts. These Pills, in doses of from two to four, will quickly regulate the action of the liver and free the patient from these disorders. One or two of Radway's Pills taken daily by those subject to bilious pains and torpidity of the liver will keep the system regular and secure healthy digestion.

"I am 120 miles from the nearest drug store, and want you to send me a dozen boxes of your Pills. I have muscular rheumatism, and for nine months have been at Hot Springs. My liver and kidneys are affected. I find that your Pills do me more good than all the medicine I have taken and the Springs combined. "Respectfully, W. JAMES.

"Harqua Hala, Yuma County, Arizona."

"Your Radway's Pills have worked wonderfully in my family. My children, when sick, have received instantaneous and complete relief by their use. Sudden colds, sore throat, I find I can quickly cure by the use of your Ready Relief and Pills. They should not be wanting in any well-kept home. That doubly serves what helps you once. Yours truly, DR. H. E. SCHNEIDER.

"60 Hudson street, Hoboken, N.J., and Times Building, New York."

"For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use. I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me, and my rheumatism is gone entirely. I am satisfied if anyone so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work.

"GEORGE SCALLY.

"75 Nassau street, New York."

Here lies the essence of it all,
Man's everlasting slave,
And yet man's master, too, because
Man born to seek and crave,
Must needs serve that which in the end
Will give the best returns,
And offer fair fulfillment in
That for which he yearns.
Thus in the Slave we find Life's measure,
Man's highest hopes, his fears,
And call it Slave or Master, as you choose,
Conjuror with sighs and tears
Today; tomorrow Laughter's friend;
Jibe it with contemptuous sneers,
Still, while gliding down the years,
This thing of rottenness, we know,
This filthy thing

A PLEASING PRESENTATION.

A pleasant event took place last evening at the Colborne Street Methodist Church, when Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Page (nee Miss Edith Hance) were presented with a handsome secretary and jardiniere table. ## ORANGEMEN OF EAST RIDING

Encouraging Reports Received at Annual Meeting.

Resolution of Condolence With Family of Late N. Clarke Wallace—New Officers.

The Orangemen of East Middlesex met yesterday afternoon in the Duffield Block, over a hundred delegates being present. Very encouraging reports from various districts were received.

Sorrow was expressed over the death of the late grand master, Bro. N. C. Wallace, and a resolution of condolence was passed to be sent to the widow and family of the deceased. Another resolution was passed as follows:

"Moved by W. Bro. David Baskerville, P.D.M., seconded by W. Bro. Sam Clare, P.D.M., and resolved, That the members of Loyal Orange County Lodge of East Middlesex hereby protest against the attempts made by the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church to change the British coronation oath, the charter of our civil and religious liberties, fought for and obtained for us by our ancestors. We further protest against the acts of the members of the House of Commons of Canada who voted in favor of such alterations, and remind them that they will be held responsible therefor. We also protest against the action of the premier of Canada in giving aid to Redmond and his associates by his attendance at their public meetings and private entertainments while in Canada, such action not being consistent with his Privy Councilor's oath or with the teaching of the Bible, that we cannot serve two masters; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Most Worshipful Bro. T. Sproule, M.D., M.P., of British America, also to the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, P.C."

Invitations were received from Goderich and Tilsonburg for the 12th of July, but it was not decided at which place the celebration would be held.

The election of officers for the year resulted as follows:

Bro. Jos. Murphy, county master.
Bro, Mark Roberts, deputy county master.
Bro. John Savage, chaplain.
Bro. S. H. Wood, secretary.
Bro. W. S. Hodgins, financial secretary.
Bro. Samuel Clare, treasurer.
Bro. John E. Showler, director of ceremonies.
Bro. R. J. Short, lecturer.
Bro. W. Fox, deputy lecturer.

All officers were installed by W. Bro. Charles Taylor, district master.

WASN'T CURED.

Didn't Get Well of Anything.

"I spent three weeks with a friend in Dayton last winter. She was using Postum Coffee exclusively as a beverage at meals. I said, 'I thought you were so fond of coffee that you could not be induced to give it up.' 'Well,' my friend said, 'We got to liking this Postum Coffee for it serves as a food as well as a beverage, and we have all felt so much better since leaving off the old coffee.'

"I learned to make the Postum and made it fine, so when I went home I began to serve it to my husband instead of the old-fashioned coffee. About a week afterwards I asked him how he liked the coffee, and told him I had been trying a new kind. He says, 'I think it is most excellent. Is it Mocha or Java or a mixture?' I told him that it was the famous Postum we had read so much about, and he most jumped from his chair in surprise, but the change has become a fixture, and he will never give up Postum and go back to the old-fashioned coffee, for we not only like it better, but we feel so much better in every way." This lady's name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ANNUAL TEAMEETING A PLEASANT EVENT.

First Congregationalists Enjoy Entertainment and Supper.

The anniversary tea meeting and entertainment of the First Congregational Church Sunday school was largely attended by the Sunday school scholars and the little folks from the Children's Aid Society, who had been invited by the school to be present. Tea was served at 6:30, and after full justice had been done to the well-spread tables, an adjournment was made to the church, were the following programme was successfully carried out before a large audience:

March, "The Sportsman," Sunday school orchestra; recitation, May Richman; piano duet, Misses Goodwin; recitation, Ethel Dixon; dialogue, boys of Miss L. Emery's class; intermezzo, "Cupid's Garden," Sunday school orchestra; solo, Ethel Bowman; recitation, Blanche Richman; flower song, Elite Mandolin and Guitar Club; chorus, boys of Miss Porteous' class; polonaise, No. 2, Sunday school orchestra; fancy drill, ten girls; solo, Gladys Pinch; violin solo, Gilbert Ward; dialogue, Richman brothers; recitation, Edith Johnston; dialogue, girls of Miss E. Emery's class; recitation, Gordon Thorn; march, Sunday school orchestra.

The superintendent, Mr. Alf. Anundson, presided in a happy manner, and deserves much credit for the success of the evening. The orchestra, numbering sixteen pieces, under the direction of Mr. Berkeley Chadwick, are also worthy of special praise for their excellent and enjoyable selections. The fancy drill by the girls, under Miss Moule's direction, was probably the most attractive number on the programme, the costumes and floral effects making some very beautiful combinations. Lange's "Flower Song," (Blumenlied), as rendered by the Elite Mandolin and Guitar Club, earned for them a hearty and deserved encore.

The evening was closed by the singing of "God Save the King," after a vote of thanks had been tendered by Rev. D. S. Hamilton to those assisting in the entertainment. The audience seconded the vote with hearty applause.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Andrew Robson in "Richard Carvel" at the Grand.

Edward E. Rose's dramatized version of Winston Churchill's novel of revolutionary time, "Richard Carvel," was given a presentation at the New Grand last night, which satisfied the audience gathered to witness the play. Mr. Andrew Robson, the star, is well and favorably remembered here for his work in "The Royal Box," and his impersonation of Richard Carvel is one that adds to his reputation as a talented and conscientious actor. The part of Dorothy Manners was wasted on Miss Ruth Berkeley, who displayed a weakness which marred the most important scenes. Wm. McVay gave a creditable rendition of the role of the brutal, dissolute and unscrupulous Duke of Chartersea. Wm. J. Gross was excellent as Lionel Carvel, Irving Williams was good as Horace Walpole, and Arthur W. Bentley threw the necessary fierceness into his interpretation of Capt. John Paul. Excellent work in double roles was done by Conrad Cantzen as Rev. Bennett Allan, and Charles Fox. Miss Mabel Wright as Patty Swain, Miss Isabel Reber as Betty Taylor, and Miss Susan Chisnell as Mrs. Manners deserve mention.

"SAN TOY" SEATS ON SALE.

The opening of the sale of seats for "San Toy," the Chinese-American opera, which the Augustin Daly Musical Company brings to the New Grand next Saturday, was one of the busiest events of the season at this theater. The fame of this musical comedy, and the excellence of the company presenting it, had preceded it, and the line in front of the box-office was a continual one until well along in the day. Two performances are announced for Saturday, the scale of prices being the same for both. This was the only basis upon which it was possible to secure the extra matinee performance.

The Montreal Gazette of Jan. 28, in the course of a long article, says: "The mounting of the piece is done in magnificent style. No expense has been spared in the production of exquisite stage effects. Both scenes are marvels of the scenic artist's work, and the somewhat weird effect of the 'Hymn to the Moon,' with its delicate handling, did credit not only to the soloists and the ensemble, but to the ingenuity of the stage carpenter. The costuming of the piece is something gorgeous and withal harmonic in color; the stage drilling is about as perfect as one could wish to see, and the people doing the work are individually pretty, which is saying a great deal. As a whole the play this week is the thing to remove melancholy. As to the individual members of the cast, there are three people who would be able to almost carry a light laughable comedy like "San Toy" on their own shoulders. They are Miss Paula Edwardes, Miss Marie Celeste, and Mr. Collins. Miss Edwardes, perhaps, carries the principal honors, and her versatility never seems to wane. She sings well, dances well, does everything well."

"IN GAY PAREE."

The management of the London Opera House presents on Friday and Saturday next "In Gay Paree," an extravaganza company, in a refined performance, suitable for ladies and children. There is not an objectionable line spoken from beginning to end of the performance. The olio is novel, new and original. The performance given by Albini, the magician, is one of the special features. Those who see the performance will be delighted and pleased, and they can bring their wives and children, assured that there will be nothing to offend the most fastidious. Tickets are now on sale.
