Great Britain Will Enforce Her Demands on Nicaragua.

Russia, France and Germany Object to the Peace Treaty.

Their Protest Characterized as "a Game of Bluff.

Discovery of the Lost Spanish Cruiser Reina Regente.

THE LOST CRUISER FOUND.

Madrid, April 25.—The cruiser Reina Regente, which was lost in a storm off the Spanish coast last month, has been found in 109 fathoms of water midway between Capes Tarifa and Trafalgar.

SIX DEAD SAILORS. London, April 25 .- Six dead bodies of sailors have come ashore near Plynaouth. An oar and a small boat marked "Steamship Marie" were found 100 yards from them. The Norwegian steamship Marie, 1,350 tons, plies be-tween Copenhagen and Odessa. She is the only steamship of that name passing regularly through the English SHEEP MAY BE SHUT OUT. Landon, April 25.-In the Commons today Henry Gardner, president of the Board of Agriculture, referred to a report which had been recently submitted by the Renfrew Agricultural Association alleging that 70 per cent of the sheep imported from America were diseased. Specimen animals, he said, were now being examined by an inspector of the Board of Trade.

A GAME OF BLUFF. London, April 25.-The Times, in an editorial on the reported protest of Hussia, Germany and France against acquirements by Japan of any of the Chinese mainland territory, says the peport will arouse much interest in England, though, perhaps, the feeling predominating will be that of surprise, with a mixture of amusement. The Times doubts the genuineness of the protest, but says if it is genuine, Russia is entitled to be congratulated upon having achieved a triumph of diplo-macy. The fact that France and Germany are so slightly interested in the question, however, makes it appear like a game of bluff, though Japan will possibly see through this. Her wisest course would probably be to yield in order to avoid a mistake which might have grave consequences.

GREAT BRITAIN AND HAWAII. London, April 25.-In the House of Commons today Sir Edward Grey, Under Foreign Secretary, said, in pesponse to inquiries, that Hawaii was not under the protection of the United States, and therefore the British Government could not apply to the authorties at Washington in regard to the treatment of ex-Queen Liliuokalani. A number of British subjects, Sir Edward further said, had been arrested in Hawaii for taking part in the recent insurrection there, and had made complaint of the hardships to which they had been subjected in prison. Besides those who had been imprisoned, many were tried by court martial, and had subsequently been induced to leave the country under pressure, as they as-The Foreign Office, Sir Edward said, is carefully considering the protests of these persons, but has not yet decided whether the facts reported will justify the Government in taking action.

London, April 26.-The trial of Oscar Wilde and Alfred Taylor for unnatural crimes was begun in the Central Police Court, Old Bailey, today. Charles Parker and the other witnesses who testified at the preliminary hearings repeated the stories they had previous-ly told. Wilde looked careworn and anxious, and was much thinner than usual. The fact that he had had his hair cut short added to his attenuated appearance. Taylor maintained his air of unconcern. The prisoners pleaded not

MEANS WHAT SHE SAYS. Nicaragua Must Comply With Great

Britain's Demands.

London, April 25.-The St. James Gazette says: Nothing is known at the United States embassy regarding any request made by the Washington Government to Lord Kimberley for delay on the part of Great Britain in taking action against Nicaragua. It is understood Great Britain and the United pursued in enforcing compliance with the British demand.

London, April 25.—The Daily News says the United States are bound to be jealous of foreign interference with the small republics of their continent. Nicaragua has evidently been under the impression that she could take advantage of this, and it must have been an unpleasant surprise yesterday to find that the United States did not intend to intervene, but even approved of Great Britain's demands. Perhaps at the last moment Nicaragua will be wise enough to yield.

The Morning Post will say tomorrow in a leader on Great Britain's treatment of Nicaragua: Under the circumstances there can be no alternative. We must act in accordance with the ultimatum. Nobody who has followed the events leading up to the present position of Nicaragua can say that England has acted without sufficient tolerance. The Standard will say tomorrow the Government can only be commended for the action which, after an ample display of patience, it has taken against the impertinent insolence of Nicaragua. It is not the first time we have had to remind that little semi-civilized State of its obligation. We had to blockade its ports in 1842 to bring the Nicaraguans to their senses. If they count on the assistance of the United States they will be deceived. No power in the world cherishes or manifests a more absolute respect of international law. absolute respect of international law than do the United States, and though never be wanting a counsel discourtesy wrong-doers. The Daily News correspondent in Paris says: The British ultimatum to Nicaragua is strongly approved here. France's own relation to the South American republics have been very unsatisfactory lately. She has sent an ultimatum to San Domingo and probably will send another to Venezuela. The Morning Post is informed that Great Britain has not been requested by Nicaragua or the United States to extend the time for the acceptance of the ultimatum.

Russia, Germany and France Object to the Jap-Chinese Treaty.

London, April 25.-The Morning Post has this dispatch from St. Petersburg: Japan has replied to the joint protest of Russia, France and Germany. She declares that if she should yield she would be exposed to the danger of an uprising of the people who are so elated over their victories that they would not consent to any concession. This reply does not affect Russia's attitude. She adheres firmly to her demand. The Daily News correspondent says Russia asks Japan to evacuate Corea or grant her an ice free harbor. Japan disclaims the right to give away Corean territority, while the King says his authority would suffer if such a thing should be done. The Standard will say tomorrow that Japan's reply to the joint protest, although not a definite refusal, is an emphatic posseumus. It discusses France and Germany's adhesion to Russia, and concludes that they are influenced mainly by a desire to be agreeable to the Czar. "But whatever the motives," says the writer, "the coalition exists and must be reckoned with. While paying all respect to the prowess, capacity and resources of the Japanese, one feels like reminding them that three allied powers are able to bring a resistlss force to compel them to relinquish the whole territory they have acquired. Thus, if the powers remain resolute, there will be only one course for Japan-she must rest content with the advantages to which no objection

BADLY BEATEN.

British Diplomacy Too Much for Russia, France and Germany.

Britain Got on the Good Side of Japan-The Other Powers Chagrined.

New York, April 26.—A special from London to the Sun says: The attitude of the United States will probably decide the question of the ratification. of the pending treaty of peace between China and Japan. The alarm in the diplomatic capitals of Europe, which has found expression in the protests by Russia, Germany and France, is due to the fact, which there is now little attempt to conceal, that a secret understanding has existed for several weeks between Japan and Great It is not It is not generally however, even in diploknown, matic circles, that both Japan and England are using strong endeavors to persuade the American Government to become a third party to an informal alliance, which will repay her not to interfere with the terms of peace which have been agreed upon by the belligerents. The Foreign Offices at St. Petersburg, Berlin and Paris discovered a few days ago that they had been badly beaten in the game of diplomacy by England. Russia, Germany and France make no secret of their regret that they did not join Great Britain when the latter suggested intervention at the outset of the war, Japan, under the circumstances, is almost certain to resist interference, and it is now generally believed that forcible meddling would promptly bring England to the active support of the Mikado's Government. Russia. of course, is the power most directly concerned in the proposed cession of Chinese territory to Japan. Nobody undertakes to say how far she will carry her expression of disapproval The feeling is universal in Europe that Japan is complete master of the stua-Japan is complete master of the situation, that the continental powers have been surely over-reached, and that un-less Russia curbs her national chagrin there will soon be a startling series of events to record.

AN OMINOUS REPORT. New York, April 26 .- A Tokio dispatch to the World says the Russian and French fleets in the sea waters are prepared to stop Japanese communications unless Japan abandons all claims upon territory in Manchuria.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES.

Vineland in Danger of Being Obliterated by Flames.

Toms River, N. J., April 25.-Forest fres have been burning on the outskirts of this place during the past 48 hours, and much property has been destroyed.

Vineland, N. J., April 25.—The forest fires which have been burning some distance from this place for the last three days are getting dangerously close to Vineland. The heat of the flames can be plainly felt here, and the residents of the outskirts of the town are their soft the outskirts of the town are in great fear that the fire will reach their property unless the wind shifts. The United States Will Not Assist Nicaragua.

The Latter Must Grant Britain's Demand, Fight or Surrender.

British Tars at Gun Drill-Nicaragua Can Raise the Money, But the Government Fear the People.

New York, April 26.—A special to the Herald from Corinto, Nicaragua, says: "Special Commissioner General Duarte, bearing the reply of the Nicaragua Government to Admiral Stephenson's note and proclamation, arrived yesterday morning at Nicaragua. The reply will not, however, be delivered until the eleventh hour. Although its terms have not yet been made public, it is under-stood that it will be of such a nature as to bring about the occupation of Corinto by the British. A permanent session is being held of the Cabinet and leading statesmen at the capital.

"The local authorities are making preparations to abandon the town, while families are leaving for various parts of the interior. All arms are being removed from the capital, as are the cannons at Fort Cardon, at the entrance of the port. New telegraph stations have been established at Pass Caballos, and all the instruments will be taken away from Corinto, thus cutting off the communication between Corinto and the interior in the event of occupation by the British. No popular demonstration has been made, but the prevailing feeling is bitter, and is running high against all English people. Hopes are still entertained of intervention by the United States. Admiral Stephenson has informed Special Commissioner Duarte that the ultimatum expires at 12 clock midnight on the 26th." NO OFFENSE TO UNCLE SAM.

New York, April 26.—A dispatch to the Sun from London says:

"Great Britain will use the greatest care not to offend the United States in the settlement of her difficulty with Nicaragua. Lord Kimberley has been most anxious from the outset to make it clear that he is unwilling to offend American interests. The British Foreign Office, in fact, never showed such tender respect for the Monroe doctrine as it is now. Instructions for landing the blue jackets this morning have been most carefully framed, and it is certainly far from the intention of the British Government to undertake a policy of occupation such as exists in Egypt," BRITISH TARS DRILLING. New York, April 26.—A Corinto, Nicaragua, special (World) says: "During the first day some of the British officers and sailors were allowed to disembark. Yesterday more were allewed to visit shore, except one officer, who went to the post and telegraph office. There has been much signalling and passing to and fro of boats between the ships.

Great activity was noticed on board yesterday afternoon. The men drilled at the guns for two hours. It was announced that Admiral Stephenson and his officers would visit the port. The port captain and the ship captains have exchanged the customary courtesies. Telegraphic orders have been received to show all possible courtesy to the British, but under no circumstances to allow an armed force to land.

"Over 1,400 men are under arms here now. The merchants here offered $12,-000 to the Government to help pay Britain's claim, but no answer has yet been

THE MONEY SUBSCRIBED. New York, April 26.—A special from Nicaragua (World) says:

"The Government has assurance that it will receive from voluntary subscriptions more than enough to pay the British elements. ish claim within the time allowed by the ultimatum. There is strong feeling among the people against acceding too quickly to Britain's demands. The money was offered by Leon City, and the Government seemed ready to accept it and pay the claims, but was deterred by the feeling that if they seemed too ready to obey England it would cause serious internal trouble. There is great excitement here. Two thousand men are ready to march to Corinto at a mo-ment's notice."

TROOPS FOR NICARAGUA. New York, April 26.-A special from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, says: The movement of soldiers towards Cape Gracias a Dios continues. This seems o confirm the rumors that Honduras will aid Nicaragua with troops if needed in resisting the English. A strong feeling has been aroused throughout dentral America against Great Britain. UNITED STATES AMBASSADOR INTERFERES.

London, April 26.—The Globe says: United States Ambassador Bayard has ought to obtain from the Foreign Ofice a few hours extension of the ultimatum of Great Britain to Nicaragua, matum of Great Britain to Nicaragua, and also made suggestions in regard to the payment of indemnity demanded.

NICARAGUA'S LAST HOPE GONE.

Washington, April 26.—Nicaragua's last hope of assistance from the United States in her controversy with Great Britain to prevent the seizure of Cor-into vanished yesterday. Dr. Guzman, the Nicaraguan Minister who has been waiting with intense anxiety to see Secretary Gresham, was finally successful about 3 o'clock, when the secretary came into the department from the White House, where he had been in consultation with President Cleveland, presumably on the same subject. The interview was very short. In five minutes the Minister emerged from five minutes the Minister emerged from the Secretary's office, looking very depressed. He refused to say a word as to what had taken place, but it can be stated that the secretary gave him to understand very clearly that the United States would not interfere in the case as it now stands. So there are now three courses open to Nicaragua, namely: To pay the indemnity, to permit the occupation of Corinto, or to fight

Montreal Wholesalers Find Trouble in Making Collections-Better Outlook in Ontario.

Toronto, April 25.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada

Among Montreal wholesalers country collections are a source of serious anxiety the calls for renewals being numerous and general. Failures, however, are few, and it is the evident policy to nurse along all deserving customers in the belief that some improvement cannot be far off.

The money market is firmer, with a better demand reported, and the rate for call money has been advanced to 4 1-2 per cent. The discount rate is unchanged.

IN ONTARIO. The trade situation at Toronto still continues to show signs of improvement. Dealers generally are encouraged with the stronger tones of the market, and the outlook is more cheer-

The earnings of the railways also show improvement, and those of the Grand Trunk since the beginning of the month are ahead of the corresponding period of last year.

There is increase in activity in drygoods, with orders coming in freely, but they are not for large amounts. The business in hardware and groceries is fair and payments are a little more satisafetory.

place, with sales of white wheat at 73 to 74 cents, Ontario points. Flour is firmer, but prices are relatively lower than those of wheat. The foreign demand for wheat has increased, and the feeling with regard to this market is ex-ceedingly bullish. The hide market is active and higher, and leather is firmer in tone in consequence.

The failures for the week are 37, as against 26 for the corresponding week of last year.

BAD BELL.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 25 .- Rev. Jonathan Bell, who is alleged to have betrayed Miss Emily Hall in Birmingham, England, the young woman subsequently dying in Detroit, was the first pastor of the Primitive Methodist Church on Park avenue, Brooklyn. The church was built in 1873, and a year later he was expelled for misconduct. A day was set for his trial, but he refused to appear and was dismissed from the church by the board of trustees. Some of his congregation followed him, and for nearly three months he held services in the Academy of Music. He was a married man and had two children. He left Brooklyn suddenly and went to London, leaving his wife and children here. He sent for them later, and a short time after Mrs. Bell reached London she died. Who Was Suffocated in the King Street Sewer-The Inquest Concluded.

According to a verdict rendered by coroner's jury the city would seem to be responsible for the death of Matthew Miller, the corporation laborer who was suffocated in the King street sewer about 1 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, April 13.

The adjourned inquest in the case was resumed at the police station last night before Coroner Flock. Henry Wallace, the other workman who was in the sewer with Miller and had a very narrow escape, has entirely recovered, and gave his account of the affair, which proved very interesting. Thos. Webb, the young man who very pluckly entered the sewer and conveyed Miller's body over a block to the Ridout street man-hole, was also examined. Engineer Graydon was the only other witness called. Mr. J. B. Mc-Killop appeared for the crown, and the widow of deceased was represented by Mr. Essery. The city was unrepre-

the worse for his dose of gas, for his re-collection of his own and Miller's actions from the time they entered the sewer until he (Wallace) became unconscious, was remarkably clear. The trip of the two men from their entrance at Ridout street until they reached Talbot, was plain sailing. About half-way between the latter street and Richmond, the dirt was caked in the sewer, and here the gas was first noticed. In Wallace's opinion it was illuminating gas that caused the trouble. After this the two went about 30 feet farther, but neither one was affected. We decided to beat a retreat, however. and had barely gone fifteen feet," said Wallace, "when I turned, and Miller said he was following. A few feet farther on I asked Miller if he was all right, but no reply came. I saw him dropping, and as he fell his feet struck mine, and I was knocked down. I reached over to catch hold of his hair, out it was too short, so I put my arm under his head to keep his face out of the water. Then I yelled that Miller was dying and began to drag him along as best I could towards the manhole. He never spoke. O'Meara put in an appearance in a little while and assisted.

Wallace had begun to feel the effects the gas at this juncture, but with O'Meara he began to drag the unconscious man towards Ridout street. Pinally Wallace became alarmed and old O'Meara to hurry up or he would drop.

"And," continued Wallace, "O'Meara said he was going, and he went, leaving me without a lamp. Miller was at that time still alive, and I remained with him until I could not hear him breathing. Then I thought it was time for me to save myself.' Wallace started for Ridout street,

Mr. McKillop—If that blind man-hole at Talbot and King was in proper con-dition you and Miller would have been able to get out? A.—Yes. Engineer Graydon told in detail the layout of the sewer and (to Mr. Essery) what might have happened if such and such had been the case. He stated that blind man-holes were placed in all the old sewers; that men had worked in them many times but that none had before met with accidents.

Thomas Webb gave an account of his finding Miller and how he had dragged him to the Ridout street man-hole. He Webb) had inhaled gas. A Juror-Was there any more of it than there is here tonight?

Webb-I don't think so. Webb's ready answer caused a augh. The examination of Webb by Mr. Mc Killop had been completed, when Mr. Essery arose to put some questions. Coroner Flock asked Mr. Essery to oe as brief as possible. He did not nome who is paying me to look after her interests Coroner Flock-Mr. Essery, I have given you more latitude than I ever gave a lawyer in any other case, and I de not think it right that insinuations should be cast now. The room was then cleared of spectators, and the jury, afer an hour's de-liberation, found this verdict: "That Matthew Miller's death was caused by suffocation from coal gas while working in the King street sewer; that there was not the necessary precaution taken by the city for purposes

into the sewer, and that had proper precaution been taken by having open man-holes (which would have given better ventilation) Miller would not have died in the sewer." Helen Campbell, in her Living," says: Did you ever see a man who admired tidies? Did you ever think what "tidies" were for when they were first made? They used to be called "anti-macassars." Why? Because there was a fashion in years gone by of oiling the hair, everybody's hair. We accepted this fashion as brainlessly as we accept the tidies now. And there was one universal fashionable lubricant for the purpose—"Rowland's Macassar Oil." The human heads, so greased, made foul spots on the great stuffed chairs then in use. Hence the 'anti-macassar," it not occurring to anyone that the hair might be different or the chair might be differentonly to put more human labor between the hair and the chair, to be greased and washed. The original anti-macassar was washable. Because of this dirty and foolish habit of 50 years ago do women now hang silk and velvet tidies, embroidered tidies, painted tidies, on the backs of hardwood chairs, to be rested on by clean heads, to no purpose but the confusion of the man who walks off with the tidy on his back.

Go through your house and simplify. Take out and throw away, or give away to some lower mind, that gilded rolling pin with a row of hooks in it; that elaborate mass of embroidered-velvet-and-palm-leaf fan full of newspapers; that pigmy three-legged stool in the corner, painted-"hand-painted"and bedecked with a yard or so of good ribbon. Remember Morris' advice, "Have nothing in your houses that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful." But do you believe these things to be beautiful? Poor little soul! Go out of doors and look at the works of God! Nothing is or ever can be beautiful without use, without harmony. A thing may be beautiful of its kind, beautiful in itself, but the moment you combine two things to make something else, then there needs something more than the beauty of the separate parts. Your gilded rolling pin with the hooks in it is not beautiful, because a rolling pin is an object with a definite use, and beautiful only in relation to its use. To gild it interferes with its use; to put hooks in it prohibits its use; to hang it on the wall makes a permanent laughing stock of a once respectable instrument. Nothing is beautiful out of its

"La belle dame sans merci" of today, who is she? Those of us whom she "hath in thrall" will answer, as with one voice, "Cook." The Empress of Germany is a model housewife, being as much at home in the kitchen as in the nursery, here she superintends every detail dren's lives. She rises at 6, and sups at 8 o'clock. The Empress is a great authority upon domestic servants, being of the opinion that the sooften strained relations between misuse the fortress and maid arise became ciently after mer neglects to look sal the comfort of the latter, and that the working day is too long, and their leisure too short. Her Majesty suggests that mistresses should "make their (servants') leisure time at home as pleasant as possible, and give them cheerful, airy rooms, which point should be as important to us as the choice of our own

The idea is to know one thing well enough to be used as a means of support in case of necessity; aside from this, as a means of pleasure, it is equally valuable and used as a means of support, in case of necessity; aside from this, as a means of pleasure, it is equally valuable and necessary. To have a hobby is to devote one's time particularly to one thing. Incidents have been related of men who, having spent most of their years in money getting and then retir-ing from business to enjoy it, had found themselves restless and uneasy because they had never cultivated a taste for anything aside from their business. The late Mr. Walker, of the South, who owned one of the finest art collections in the country, and who was recognized as an authority on art and ceramics, said he commenced collecting prints on a very small scale on the advice of his mother, who suggested that he find something to which to turn from the cares of business. He knew nothing of art, but persisted in adding to his collection as he had time and money, and sifting it as his knowledge improved, until he gradually became so absorbed in it that he not only derived

The Priddig Brown Fraud Case Before Magistrate Jelfs at Hamilton -Charge Dismissed.

Hamilton Times: Geo. Priddis, of London, had Henry Brown and his wife, of East Flamboro, lately of London, before Magistrate Jelfs this morning, charging them with obtaining $90 under false pretenses. Mr. John Harrison appeared for the complainant, and Mr. E. W. Scatcherd, of London, defended the accused, who re-fused to elect.

The case was a very complicated one, and the hearing of the case lasted nearly all morning. Several Londoners gave evidece, and the hearing of the case lasted nearly all morning. From the evidence of the prose-cution it appeared that Mr. Geo. Priddis, of Priddis & Co., sold a bill of goods to the defendants. His partner objected to trust ing them, and he guaranteed the account, taking a third mortgage on their household goods, including a piano. He claimed they represented that the piano was unencumbered at the time, but as a matter of fact the piano was not their own.

The defendants denied making any misrepresentations regarding the piano. case was dismissed, as the magistrate considered there was not sufficient evidence of intent to defraud.

MINISTERING CHILDREN'S LEAGUE

Galebrate Their Annual Festival in the Memorial Church.

These charitable little people always do have a pleasant annual festival and yesterday they excelled themselves. Commencing at 3 o'clock a festival and sale were held in the school room of the Memorial Church. The tables spread in different parts of the room were filled with flowers, confectionery, besides needlework and other dainty articles of children's work. The children had supper at 6 o'clock, at 8 o'clock the tables were nearly emptied, and the following programme was carried out, Rev. Canon Richardson officiating as chairman:

Dialogue-The Town Mouse and the Country Mouse...Lottie Phillips and Ethel Frost Lullaby M.C. L. Choir God Save the Queen.

The programme gave evidence of a large amount of talent and patient, careful training, and was heartily appreciated.

Mrs. Boomer and her sister Lady Johnston have taken great interest in the preparation of the work. Miss Bullen, Mrs. (Dr.) English, Mrs. Perrain, Mrs. Poole, Miss Craseton, and the Messrs. Penney were also able assistants. The Misses Pavey had a table which was filled with their own handiwork.

What Kind Will Be Used? Jumbo or a New Roller? A Big Pay Sheet.

No. 2 committee met last night, the following aldermen being in attendance: Wm. Heaman (chairman), Callahan, Parnell, Nutkins, O'Meara, J. Heaman, Assistant Engineer Ironside, Street Commissioner Owens and Secretary Bell. The report of the deputation on pavements was read. As outlined in last evening's "Advertiser," it recommended brick in preference to asphalt. The aldermen received the report favorably, and the different kinds of brick were then discussed. The report recommended such American brick as Mack Block, East Clayton, Harris, Canton and Hallwood block. The duty on this article would, however, increase the price considerably.

Mr. Ironside said that paving brick was made in Milton, Hamilton and Toronto, and it was the intention also to manufacture the article in London. However, Canadian brick had not yet positor. been made as successfully as the American article. Chairman Heaman said that the English Scoria brick, made of "slag" iron, cost $50 a thousand, and was therefore out of question. He said further that a Montreal firm was making a brick similar to "Scoria," but much cheaper.

In view of the committee being in favor of brick, Ald. Parnell moved that the report be received and adopted, and tenders called for brick pavements on the blocks on Dundas and Richmond for nearly 40 years. One of his daugn-streets which so badly need paving. ters, Miss Edith, left a couple of days After further discussion it was decided to let the report and the motion stand for a week until further particulars are received as to the best brick to be used. A Quebec manufacturer of granite pavement will be asked to send in a sample and prices. This pavement is the most expensive of all. Asphalt the entire place was thoroughly ran-would cost form $2 50 to $3 a square racked. Papers and documents were yard, and brick from $2 20 to $2 40. road roller and for repairing "Jumbo." The committee will decide as to whether a new roller shall be purchased or not when the tenders are opened. The water commissioners asked for some flowers and plants to beautify Springbank parks. Their communication was referred to the chairman and Park Ranger Grant.

The pay sheet amounted to $868 86. "I guess we had better call a halt," said the chairman; "that's a big pay The amount was made up as follows: Street cleaning, $720 61; streets, $74; city parks, $31 50; sewer repairs, $19 75; sal-

On Friday evening, April 19, Mr. Jaynes McVicar, of Lobo, died suddenly of heart failure. Deceased was born in Carmichael parish, Roopdale, Argyleshire, in 1819. In the old land he learned the trade of shoemaking, which he followed for a time. In 1850 he emigrated to Canada, and shortly afterwards purchased 31 acres of lot 8, con. 6, Lobo. By hard work and economy he made a comfortable home for himself in his old age. In those days, the late Rev. Lachlan McPherson was pastor of Williams and Ivan. Deeased was elected an elder in the Ivan congregation many years ago, but resigned four or five years since on account of his eyesight failing. The other members of the family were: Peter, living in Lobo; Donald, who died in 1876; John, and sisters Kate and Mary, and a halfbrother, Robert. The surviving members of his family are: John, living on the old homestead, and Sarah, wire o Duncan Campbell, Lobo. He was a good neighbor, honest, kind, giving offense to no one. Mrs. McVicar died in 1892. The funeral on Saturday was largely attended, considering the short notice. Rev. Mr. Lindsay, his pastor, officiated, preaching an able and impressive sermon, referring to the good life he lived, and the hope of the Christian to enter the abode of the blessed. The remains were deposited in the Ivan burying ground, to await the resurrection morn. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Dan. McKinley, Alex. McLean, Duncan J. and Duncan A. Campbell, and Peter and John McVicar. "Thanks be unto God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

AN EXPERIMENT THAT DOES AWAY WITH WARD-GRABBING.

One of the M. P.s for St. John, N.B., informs our representative at Ottawa that the recent civic experiment in that city, whereby ward-grabbing has practically been overcome without impairing the representation of the city, has been an entire success.

St. John is a city of about the same size as London, and as it is admitted that the ward system at present in force in our city is prejudicial to our best interests, we purpose briefly explaining the St. John idea. A year or two since the city of Portland was annexed to St. John. It was found that the united city council was too large and unwieldy, and a resolution was arrived at to effect a general reformation. All parties united to devise a feasible scheme. The result is the reduction of the number of aldermen to fifteen, and the overcoming of the wardgrab difficulty. Every ratepayer of the city has a right to mark fifteen names on the ballot, but a candidate must live in the ward which he desires to represent. Thus the fear that when the old system was got rid of the center of the city would appropriate the representation and monopolize the improvements, to the detriment of the outlying wards, has been met. To be elected, the ward representative must commend himself not only to a section of his fellow-citizens, but to the whole people, but each section still has its resident the civic campaigning, and has brought out representative men, who might refuse to compete with the ward boss for sectional popularity, while well able tended, until in the course of time the entire line will be adapted to the new to obtain the confidence of the citizens as a whole. But the St. John people of railroad officers, less wedded to the have found that the new system has a higher merit still; it holds out strong inducement to aldermen to work for plated in England at the present time, the general good, and not devote their attention to special localities and interests. While under the ward system, as we understand it, good and unselfish men did good work, in St. John they find it easier to perform their duties removed from sectional influences. They have been joined in the council by a number of men who positively declined to enter civic public life under the ward system as it once prevailed, and there are bright prospects of honest and cap-

The St. John experiment has much to commend itself to the people of London and other Ontario cities which occupy a somewhat similar position to that held by St. John prior to the change here described.

DOLLARS OR LIVES? We are inclined to think that No. 3 committee will be sustained by the public in declining to recede from its previous attitude and that of the council with respect to the purchase of an aerial truck. Of course, the Fire Underwriters' Association would have preferred the purchase of a chemical engine rather than the truck. The chemical engine will save goods and dollars -the aerial truck will save lives! Of the two, we fancy the average citizen would prefer the salvation of precious lives. London has got along without a chemical engine, or a salvage corps, either, in the past, and it is altogether likely that it can rub along at least for another year. With the present equipment of controlling nozzles, the loss by water is not alarming. As for the purchase of a water tower, most business men would just as soon have their premises damaged by fire as deluged by water. Twenty years of service, and only one break, is a pretty good record for London's water system. "But what if a fire should occur at the same time as the break?" ask the underwriters in fat, complete an unusually fine number. alarm. Well, what do people insure for, anyway. if not for just such contingen-

EDITORIAL POINTS.

A fine, hard-hitting, yet withal genial old gentleman is Rev. Dr. Gregg, who retires from Knox College after twenty years of valuable professorial service.

Somebody in the Senate has been reoudiating the Toronto Globe as the organ of the Liberal party of the Dominion. The Liberal party has no newspaper organ, so far as we know. Many able and influential journals, being in general agreement with the policy of the Liberal party, give it a general support accordingly; but this is done of goodwill, of grace, and not because of anything like "organship" or pecuniary advantage. Take the case of the Toronto Globe, for instance, and what is true of the Globe is true of other journals of Liberal leanings. The Liberal party is under more obligation to the Globe than the Globe to the Liberal party. The Globe makes its living primarily as an able and energetic general newspaper. The Globe does not receive a dollar a year of either direct or indirect subsidy from any party or government, and is therefore quite within its right and the facts when it speaks of itself as an independent Liberal newspaper, binding by its utterances itself alone.

Chauncey Depew, the popular afterdinner speaker, was pretty philosophical in this sentence in his latest address: "My last recipe for happiness is to keep in touch with the young."

The chatty style of advertising that has recently been adopted by some of the larger business houses of the city, and also by some of the lesser ones. is very taking. The dealers talk in the advertisements as they would talk to a customer at the counter when showing their goods; and some of them use very sprightly language, good enough for a book. There is no doubt that they thus tempt people to buy, especially when the wares are first-class and the prices are low.-New York Sun

All railroads will be eventually operated electrically. The first changes from steam will probably be made, and have in fact already begun, on short suburban roads where the traffic is In St. John this change has improved | heavy and the trains are run at frequent intervals, and thus approximate more closely to the ideal conditions of the economical electric railway. These electric spurs will then be gradually exorder of affairs, and a new generation older methods, will have come into existence. So far as new, light railways are concerned, such as those contemand which are rapidly increasing in the United States, electricity presents advantages which cannot be disputed. It has even been suggested that such agricultural roads might largely increase their incomes by supplying electric power for farming operations in the districts through which they pass. The scene of wild enthusiasm in the French Assembly in 1840 over an unexpected proposal to disinter the remains of Napoleon at St. Helena, and remove them to Paris, and the august ceremonies at-tending the execution of the project, both at St. Helena and in Paris, are well described in a paper by Miss Ida M. afternoon's session of the House of are continued. Commons was the introduction by Hon. of Hon. Mr. McIsaac, who last week captured for the Liberals of Antigonish, regarded as the natural increase. N. S., the seat held by the late Sir a member of the Nova Scotia Government, but resigned to enter the Commons, is a talented statesman, and he received a very warm welcome from the Liberal side as he took his seat.

Then the way the money of the taxpayers is squandered was revealed in the reply to questions by Messrs. Edgar, Casey and Charlton. It was announced by the Government that so far $148,287 16 had been paid by it to revising officers for the revision of Dominion voters' lists; that it was estimated another $12,000 would yet have to be paid, and $35,166 85 was the cost for printing. "But all the lists are not yet printed," said Mr. Casev.

Dr. Montague believed they were. "Not for my riding," retorted Mr.

It was further elicited that when the intention to rush to the country was on, the voters' lists for Montreal, Toronto and East York were printed at offices in those cities controlled by friends of the Ministers-one of which was the Toronto Mail job office-and that without tender.

Once more the Tay Canal iniquity was in evidence, Mr. Charlton eliciting from Mr. Haggart that last year the total revenue derived from the canal by the Dominion Government was $126 69, whereas the cost of management was $1,314, and $1,144 was paid on permanent improvements, $1,027 being caused by a colliding steamer.

Mr. Laurier further quizzed Solicitor-General Curran with regard to the date on which the prosecution of Connolly, of McGreevy-Connolly scandal fame, had been begun. Solicitor-General Curran acknowledged that action had really been taken since Mr. Laurier put the query on the notice paper. 1

Tonight M. P.s are speculating on the cause of the indisposition of the Government to take action to protect the public interests with regard to the above firm. The cause may be revealed be-fore Parliament rises. Meanwhile, Meanwhile, some people are saying that there are scandals in connection with the build-ing of the Sault Ste. "Our cheese," said Mr. McMillan, own in price in the depression.'

Sir Richard Cartwright favored the reform, as calculated to maintain our prestige as a cheese producing country. Dr. Montague, for the Government, promised attention.

Mr. Davin put in a plea for monetary

Mr. Marcin (Winnipeg) made his first speech this session in asking for a return of all correspondence between the of that evil. Interior Department, Rev. T. D. Phillips, P. F. Daly, Capt. Holmes, the C. P. R. and other persons, together with all papers relating to the transportation of a number of peddlers from Chicago to Calgary, with the intention of set- petitions, memorials and declarations tling them upon farms near Calgary, and a statement of what became of them and how many were committed to jail in Calgary and for what of-fense. Mr. Martin explained that he had asked for this information last year; that it had been ordered by the House; that Mr. Daly had introduced it just as the Government had moved the order passed for a detailed statement of the moneys paid by the Dominion Government in connection with the Chicago exhibition. Mr. Martin pointed out that though last session Minister Daly denied the truthfulness of the charges there made, an officer of his own department (Mr. Fortier) had since acknowledged their truth, though it had been endeavored to cast the onus of squandering public money in bringing these objectionable and useless immigrants into Canada upon the C. P. R.-an unwarranted proceeding. Were such foolish proceedings Mr. Daly's promised "vigorous immigration policy?" asked Mr. Martin. The member for Winnipeg, who is a fluent, convincing speaker, charged that this was only one indication of the foolishness of the present Government's managelaren and Gertrude Smith, and a stirment of the Northwest. The country is ring detective tale by Cleveland Mof- all that can be desired, he said. We all that can be desired, he said. We have homes for many millions, but the policy of filling the country with people despite the large expenditures has failed utterly

Mr. Daly was nettled at this arraignment, and he replied with vigor. He charged that Mr. Martin merely wanted to get a fling at him. But he acknowledged that the undesirable immigrants had been brought in at Government ex-The Government and its agents had been misled. Mistakes had been made, but they were not intentional. He held that the Government's immigration policy was not a success because of the depression which affected immigration to other countries as well as to Canada.

Mr. Martin replied with some warmth that last year, in the House, Mr. Daly denied the truth of the charges he now admitted. The reason why the Mani-toba Government had ceased immigration efforts was because they believed Inspect H. Overmeyer's livery, for-it was absolutely useless so long as the merly Tripp's, before you engage a vexatious tariff and the railway mon- conveyance for pleasure driving.

Ottawa, April 25.—The feature of this | opoly policy of the present Government

Mr. Davin asserted that Canada's im-Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. D. C. Fraser migration policy was satisfactory because the United States population had not increased by 18,000,000, which was Sir Richard Cartwright pointed out John Thompson. Mr. McIsaac, who was that 18,000,000 increase in ten years would be 3 per cent. No stastician with a reputation would claim that.

Hon. David Mills jocularly suggested that it might mean the rabbit in-

"Yes," said Sir Richard, laughing. "there might be that increase in a rab bit warren, but not in any civilized country. The Government said we had an increase of 886,000 by immigration in the ten years from 1881 to 1891, but we find by actual count that the total additional by natural increase and immigration was only a little over 500,-

Mr. Charlton indorsed this view and the motion was passed.

Mr. Laurier elicited from Mr. Foster a promise that the estimates will be brought down on Monday. Mr. Foster said he hoped to give the budget speech not later than Friday next. The Finance Minister is sitting up late at nights arranging his deficit explanation. So far Sir John Carling has failed to take a seat in the House. The new Dominion reformatory will be placed at Alexandria, Glengarry. The Government refuses to place it near a large city as requested by various ministerial associations in the province. Mr. Reid's bill on the civil service proposes to abolish the board of examiners and let candidates be examined by the Deputy Minister or some other official. It also provides that the age at which persons may enter the civil service be raised from 85 to 45.

Comment is made on the fact that Mr. Patterson, ex-Minister of Militia, was given a Government private car to go to Santa Barbara, where he will stay till June, and then go to Mani-toba. West Huron is thus without a representative.

Madame Laurier's first reception to night was an unqualified success. Many Liberal M. P.s and their wives and a number of members on the other side paid their respects to her. Mr. Sutherland will ask whether Jas. Anderson, of Sutton, is employed by the Government, what are his duties and his income. The Senate continued the debate on the address today, but did not conclude. The Senators are afraid they will work themselves out of a job. It is rather inconvenient for the Prime Minister to sit in the Senate. Replying to a question today, the Premier flatly contradicted a statement made regarding the dismissal and subsequent re-engagement of a penitentiary

2. That all the information which your Commission has been able to obtain has made it clear to the undersigned that the effect of the liquor traffic has been, and is, seriously detrimental to all the moral, social and reaterial interests of the nation; that the measures employed to "lessen, regulate or prohibit" the traffic have been of value and effective only in propor-tion as they have approximated in their operation to the absolute prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating beverages, and that the revenue requirements of the country should not be considered a reason for the continuance of an admitted evil, and, moreover,

3. That the indorsement which the electorate of different sections of the Dominion of Canada have given at the balot box to the principle of prohibition whenever submitted, as well as many of church, courts, temperance organizations, municipal councils and other representative bodies, making it sufficiently clear that a majority of the people of Canada are in favor of the total prohibition of the liquor traffic.

4. That it would therefore be right and wise for the Dominion Parliament without further delay to carry out the promise given, and give effect to the rinciple stated in its several resoluions, by the enactment and thorough enforcement of a law prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for medical, sacramental and scientific pur-

ELECTRICITY ON THE NEW YORK CENTRAL.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 25 .- The New York Central recently announced that it would use electricity on its line between here and Niagara Falls, and today the Niagara Falls Power Company made the railroad company a proposition to furnish it with power free in return for the right of way for the power company's conduits along the roadbed of the company's tracks, where there is a strip of land 60 feet wide not used by the railroad company. It is quite probable that the offer will be accepted.

A CATASTROPHE NARROWLY AVERTED.

North Sydney, N. S., April 25.—A land-slide occurred on the T. C. R. about one mile this side of Grand Narrows last evening. The express, which was coming along full speed ran into the earth heap before the engineer was aware that any obstruction barred the way. Another slide of earth and rock as large as the first took place, and as the cliff here is about 120 feet high, had the engineer not been very quick a fright-ful catastrophe must surely have resulted. As it was, they had a very narrow escape. It was the closest call yet known on this section of the road.

Ottawa, April 25.-The Chaudiere mill men have been given a ten-houra-day shift by their employers. Today Booth's mill began the season's sawing. The men employed went to work at 7 o'clock instead of at 6, as last summer, and will stop work at 6 o'clock this evening. Although the day has been shortened, the wages are the same as last year.

Five hundred men procured employ-ment by the opening of Pooth's mill today. Over a thousand more men will get work next week, when all the mills

McDonald's Tobacco Factory a Heap of Ruins.

Panic Seizes the Employes, Whose Day's Work Was Just Done.

And They Sought Safety by Leaping from the Windows.

One Girl Burned to Death and Many More or Less Injured-Heavy Financial Loss.

MONTREAL, Que., April 25.—Montreal suffered by another fire this evening, which destroyed several hundred thousand dollars' worth of property. Shortly before 6 o'clock an alarm was received from Mc-Donald's tobacco factory, on Ontario street. The flames, which started in the tower of the building, made rapid headway, and in a short time the whole upper portion of the building was in flames.

When the fire broke out the factory was crowded with hands—many of them girls—who were just about finishing their days's work and preparing to leave for their homes. The breaking out of the fire caused a panic, the exit was cut off, and many of the girls had to jump from the upper story of the building.

The ambulances were called out, and several girls were removed to the hospital, badly injured. It is said that one girl had been burned to death, but the report is not confirmed. The flames enveloped the whole of the upper stories and worked downwards. The firemen seemed to be powerless and as the fire is still burning it looks as if the whole factory would be destroyed. The loss will be very heavy and is estimated at $750,000 and there is said to be no insurance. The factory is the property of W. C. McDonald, the tobacco man

THE MONEY LOSS. A later dispatch says: It is estimated that the loss by the fire in McDonald's tobacco factory tonight will amount to nearly $700,000. The building is valued at about $200,000. The value of the stock is given as nearly $500,000.

In accordance with the excise laws the windows were covered with screens, but there was a tower built on the building for the express purpose of allowing the hands to escape. In the confusion, however, a panic ensued and the girls, instead of going to the tower, made for the exits and their escape was cut off by the dense smoke.

THE INJURED. Eleven persons were brought to the hospitals tonight suffering from in-juries sustained in the fire at McDonald's factory, and several are likely to die before morning from their injuries. The following is a list of the injured so far as can be ascertained: Delphus Chaput, both legs fractured, On Tuesday Next the Car Shops

Napoleon Blondin, left arm and leg fractured badly. Fireman Joseph Gagnon, leg fractured while trying to jump on reel. Serephan Senet, 18 years old, back broken from jumping from top story, fatally injured.

Rosala Duchamp, 18 years old, collarbone broken and internal injuries, probably fatal. Ade Fontin, internal injuries, probably fatal.

Alphosite Thibaudeau, 30 years old, back broken, probably fatal case. Etienne Muillmette, Mary Melitas and Mary Poirier, more or less injured. Mr. McDonald covered his own insurance on the building. The total loss, it is now said, will not exceed $250,000, as the lower portion of the building

AFTER THE FIRE.

Monireal, April 26.—The ruins of the Macdonald tobacco factory were visited this morning by an enormous number of sightseers. There must have been nearly 10,000 people present at 10 o'clock. The two upper stories of the factory have disappeared, but there appears no danger of the remainder of the wails falling down. A few firemen are still playing upon the building as a matter of precaution.

The work of rescue last night was difficult one. In front of each window was a thick wire gauze, which was in a few cases torn off by the frightened girls in their efforts to gain liberty To the great horror of the panic-strick-en multitude below, one of the girls, half crazy with fear, made

A LEAP FOR LIFE, and was dashed almost to pieces on the pavement below. Like so many sheep several others followed her example. A great many of them managed to land on the top of a shed and thus break their fall. Fortunately the firemen were gradually able to put up ladders to the fourth floor and thus rescue the majority of the half hundred women were working there, many of whom had fainted. For half an hour there was a constant stream of firemen, carrying women, rushing down the ladders, though in many cases the work had to be stopped because the flames were breaking unexpectedly at the very place where the rescue work was going on. In several instances the clothing of the women caught fire and many of them reached the sidewalk in a half nude condition. The scene which the street presented was a most terrible one. The surging crowd of sightseers, composed mainly of friends and relations of the employes, pleading and beseeching the firemen to save their loved ones-the clang of the engine and ambulance bells—the war of the firemen as they shouted orders to one another, and the agonizing shricks of the poor women in the upper stories, who thought their last hour had surely come—combined to make a scene almost beyond descrip-

The greatest terror of all came when were caught on the very roof as the flames burned through. Viau and Charette managed to escape by means of a rope and a ladder, but Burwell found every avenue cut off with the flames all around him. The sight was awful. The fireman raised

HIS HANDS IN PRAYER, and shouted to the crowd below to rescue him. No ladders were long enough to reach him. He seemed doomed, when a number of young volunteers, after lashing several ladders together, made a venture and finally brought him down. This morning Mr. Macdonald visited all the hospitals and took the It is said that one woman is missing, Funeral of the Dead Boy - A Large Cortege.

The funeral of the late James Mansill. who was found dead on the Grand Trunk Railway at La Puce on Wednesday morning, took place this morning from the mother's cottage on Hill street. It was very largely attended, a fact which told plainly of the popularity of the young man in life. High mass was said at St. Peter's by Father McCormic and the interment was at the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The pallbearers were former companions of young Mansill, and included Alf. Boyce, Alex. Maule, M. Carney, W. Powers, P. Brennan and Joseph Watson.

Friends of Mrs. Mansill are taking her case up and will endeavor to ameliorate her condition. She is a hard-working, industrious woman, who has had an uphill struggle with adversity and misfor-tune. The little property was mort-gaged to pay the expense incidental to her husband's trial, and now that her boy, too, is taken away, her friends intend making strenuous efforts to obtain a pardon for Mansill, who at the outside will have only about a year and a half of time yet to serve. The necessary petition will be circulated in

AS BIG AS GOOSE EGGS.

Terrific Hailstones Riddle Three Texas Towns.

San Antonio, Texas, April 25.-The errific hail storm which swept through Wilson, Bexsar and Medina counties last night did much damage. The hailstones were the size of goose eggs and covered the ground to the depth of two

The towns of Lytle, Benton City and Castroville were riddled like a sieve by the hailstones. Hundreds of head of live stock were killed. The track of the International and Great Northern Railway was blockaded with hailstones, and they had to be removed before trains could proceed. The cotton and corn crops in the path of the storm were completely de stroyed. Two hundred thousand dollars will hardly cover the amount of damage to crops and other property. SUMMIT OF PIKE'S PEAK.

Wild and Lonesome Life of the Signal Service Men There.

The railway trains run daily to the top of Pike's Peak four months in the year-from June 1 to the last of September; sometimes a few days longer if there is patronage enough to pay expenses. During the rest of the year, eight long months, the signal service men stay there alone—two of them—and see nothing of the rest of mankind until the snow melts in the spring, although they are in constant communication by telegraph. Some-times they come down on snowshoes to repair the wires if the storms tear them apart, and in an emergency they have been as far as Manitou or Colorado Springs.

The railway grade has made these journeys much easier than they used to be when there was only the mule trail to follow, but it's a long seven miles, and a very steep climb to return to their eerie. The snow begins to fall early in October; last year the ground was covered six feet deep by October 11, and the stone huts on the mountain top are buried under the drifts until the sun begins to melt them, the last of April or the first of May. The men have books and cards and backgammon, and when they need exercise they can shovel the snow from the doorway. But it is a long and dismal invariant. But it is a long and dismal imprisonment, and a countryman who went up on the cars with us expressed the universal opinion when, after hearing the story, he exclaimed: "Gosh! I'd rather story, he exclaimed: "Gosh! I'd rather spend the winter in a good warm jail."

There is a report that the station is to be abandoned this fall, as its utility to the weather bureau is doubtful, and the observers will not be sorry if it turns out to be true.

[Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Kennett, Hopkins Company.

Company.

Chicago, April 25.—Speculative sentiment which was bearish yesterday went to the other extreme today, and the crowd have done their best to make a bull market. They have had some help from better cables and fair exports, but there seemed to be no general demand to take the load off their hands. Inquiry for spot wheat has been more limited. The cargo business is apparently at a standstill. The 400,000 lot sold yesterday by Bryant, about which there has been so much talk, is said to have been sold about $\frac{3}{2}$c under current prices. It is not so easy to get a premium for cargoes as it was ten days ago. New York is but $4$c over Chicago for July wheat, and this is not indicative of a commercial demand at the seaboard. It is hoped that foreigners may take hold vigorously after a while, but they manitest little interest at present.

The flour trade is said to be improving. Weather conditions in the west indicate general rains within a day or two, and they might have a softening effect on the market.

Corn and oats have been dull and steady. Receivers say the advance has increased country offerings, and larger receipts are expected. In oats receivers have sold May moderately and bought July, but the trade has shown little activity. Reports as to crop prospects are more favorable. ceivers say the advance has increased country more favorable.

In provisions an effort was made to break prices early, but it was only partially successful. The market has become so dull it is not improbable that the speculative leaders may start in for a little bear campaign to shake out scalping longs and infuse some life into trade. American Markets.

Stella gave him a reproachful look. "I have good reason not to trust you much," she said, slowly; "but I did not think that you would seek onr Molly, of all people in the world, to turn her had by your attentions, and then—perhaps—to break her

"As I did yours?" said Hannington, "Is that what you mean to imply, Mrs. Moncrieff? I must say that I never saw any signs of a broken heart about you: you consoled yourself very speedily, I remember. And, besides, you talk as if I acted without motives. I have no particular wish to turn heads and break hearts, I assure you. But for unfortunate circumstances-upon which we need not enter at present—I should have been only too happy to make you my wife. As it is, I have every intention of asking Miss Moncrieff to take the vacant place as speedily as pos:

"Not so much younger than you were when you plighted your troth to me at Balmerino. Have you forgotten that? It is not two years ago.

"I wonder that you dare 'recall it," said Stella, her wrath suddenly flashing out against him. "A gentleman would be ashamed to do so."

Hannington shrugged his shoulders. "It is easy to call names," he said. "I should never have recalled it to your mind if you had not thrust your presence upon me uninvited-you will excuse the freedom with which I speak, I hope? There is really nothing for you to excite yourself about, Mrs. Moncrieff. Your stepdaughter is pretty; I admire her exceedingly, and we are very good friends. A little harmless flirtation will not do her any harm."

"It must cease at once. I do not wish to consider whether it will do her harm or

"Well, it shall cease. In fact it has ceased -as flirtation. Molly has consented to be my wife. "And you dared to win her affection with-yours, Stella." Mr. Hannington, I am Alan Moncrieff's wife, and I am surprised that you should forget it so far as to insult me in this way-"

Hannington laughed again. "Come," he said, "don't be so hot, Stella. I didn't mean to insult you in the least. I am very glad indeed that you are Moncrieff's wife, and hope that years of uninterrupted prosperity lie before you. Monerieff is rather a stiff old fellow, isn't he? A little apt to be overpunctilious—a trifle jealous and suspicious? That used to be his character, I know, when his first wife was alive.' "I wished to speak to you about Miss Moncrieff, not about my husband, Mr. Han-nington. "Very well. Then we will speak about Miss Moncrieff," said the man beside her, his voice assuming the hard tone which always characterized it when he was annoyed. "I will tell you my intentions respecting Miss Monerieff, and I will leave it to yourself to decide on your own future course. Molly is foud of me, as no doubt you have seen, and any opposition will only make her more determined to follow her own will. As I said before, I have asked her to marry me. She is young; I have no especial wish to marry her at once; therefore I should prefer to have no formal engagement for the present. All I want now is admittance to your honse, permission to see her now and then, and your assistance in gradually inducing Mr Moncrieff to consent to the marriage. That is all."

"And do you think that Mr. Moncrieff will ever consent to it when he knows that you have persuaded his daughter to meet you here in a clandestine way, and have made love to her already without his per-

He faced her as he spoke. The light of day was growing dim, and made his countenance look pallid, but it did not conceal the dark and almost malevolent expression that crossed his features, nor the sardonic glitter of his dark eyes. As Stella stood and looked at him, she wondered what glamor had ever been thrown over this man to make him rank high in her esteem.

"I do not know how you can defend yourself," she said, after a pause. "It would be easy, Mrs. Monerieff, to 'defend myself by playing on some very wellknown characteristics of your husband. It would be easy to say that you-like many another stepmother—were anxious to put the worst interpretation on anything that Molly said or did. It would be easy to say that I had met Miss Moncrieff seldom, and only by accident, and that I had not said anything which need cause him anxiety."

"Not easy for a man of honor—not easy if you spoke the truth!" Hannington bowed with sarcastic composure. "It would be a case of hard swearing, perhaps, but a man's honor allows him to tell lies in order to protect the woman he loves Mrs. Moncrieff. As for me, I love Molly, and I shall do my best to win her. There would be nothing at all remarkable in Moncrieff's eyes in your opposition to the marriage if I hinted to him that you had had a previous attachment, and that no woman likes to see herself supplanted—and so on—he would be ready enough to believe that you found it impossible to be magnanimous, no doubt, and it would be a pleasant little piece of news to hear, perhaps, that his wife had once written very pretty aud affectionate love-letters before her marriage to another man!"

To do Hannington justice, he did not intend to carry his threat into execution, but the look of terror that came into Stella's face showed him that he had hit upon a very effectual method of managing her. At least, so it appeared to him just then. He half expected to hear that Mr. Moncrieff had already been told of Stella's former attachment, and that it was for this reason that Mr. Moncrieff had of late shown himself so little friendly with Hannington. But a look at Stella's face made him see his mistake. For a moment she was mute, but he read in her eyes that such a revelation of her past would be disastrous indeed for her.

"You would not tell him that?" she murmured. She was too much startled to be "But indeed I would. So you have not told him yourself, I see? Well, you were wise. He is a man who never forgivesnever trusts again where he has been once deceived."

"But I never deceived him!" "Oh, no; I did not say that you ever did. The story is of very little importance after all. Only, if you interfere with my plan, Mrs. Moncrieff, I shall take care to let him know the reason; that is all. Let me have my own way about Molly, or 1 will send him your letters. You can choose." "He would not read them!" "Oh, yes he would."

"You do not know him as I do." Hannington smiled. "Suppose he did not read them then. Suppose he burned them unread. Would he not always remember that there was something which he might have read? Would he be very likely to trust you again? Perhaps you don't care for his trust; if so, that if all right, and I stand aside abashed; but if yor do-as a friend I would recommend that you kept those letters out of his hands; that is all.' Again there was a silence. He watched her white, quivering face with a faint, furtive smile; he felt very certain that he would ultimately gain his point.

'It is growing late," he said at last,"
"and this is a matter which possibly requires a little consideration. Perhaps you would rather give me your answer to-morrow, Mrs Moncrieff? I take it for granted that you won't spring the matter on your husband the moment he comes home tonight? That would be rather too unkind. To-morrow afternoon, shall we say?"

CHAPTER XX.

Stella consented to the delay. It seemed to her that it would be better to talk to Molly before doing anything else, and that perhays Molly's own anxiety to clear herself from double dealing might simplify the matter. So she said very gravely that she would postpone further conversation till the

"And you will meet me here?" said Han-

She hesitated, and her lip quivered. It seemed to her almost as if she partook of Molly's blame-worthiness, as if she would be deceiving Alan Moncrieff, by consenting to meet John Hannington in private. But there was noother way out of the difficulty. She felt that she must speak to Molly before deciding whether to tell her father or ignore the whole affair, and in that case she must see Mr. Hannington again. And so, very reluctantly, she consented to meet him next day in the afternoon,

Then she turned her face sadly homewards, and arrived at Torresmuir only just in time to dress for dinner and to meet her hnsband, who was inclined to express surprise at her being out so late-even for the sake of the people who lived at Tomgarrow. The dinner was a tolerably cheerful one, in spite of the weight teat lay so heavily upon the hearts of certain persons present. Alan was in an unusually lively mood, and entertained them with some racy stories which he had learned during his recent visit to Edinburgh.

NUN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

A Crazy Woman With a Pistol Tried to Kill a Sister of Charity.

Toronto April 25.-A Sister of Charty today about noon went into the business office of the Star newspaper, Yonge street, to sell tickets for the House of Providence. while talking with one of the clerks an insane woman named Ellen Brown saw her from the street, and rushed in and began to beat her over the head with a revolver. She then tried to shoot the nun, but Mr. Cramp, an advertising agent, rushed from behind the counter, and, seizing the mad woman, saved the nun's life.

The woman was taken to the police sta tion, where about 20 cartridges were found in her pocket. She told a disconnected story of having been robbed of a sum of money by the Roman Catholic Church. A charge of insanity was registered against Lawyer Gibbons, Buchanan's counsel, says the papers have been prepared for application for a writ of habeas corpus, requiring the warden of Sing Sing to produce Buchanan in court and show on what grounds he is to be executed on Wednesday next.

A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

Druggists in Saginaw Confidently Recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Saginaw, Mich., April 26 .- The wonderful effects which have followed a judicious use of the specific remedy known as Dodd's Kidney Pills are becoming very well-known in this vicinity and as far as can be learned through-out the whole State. The remedy is far more extensively used in all cases of incipient and advanced complaints of the kidneys than is any other, and has reached a point when it is confidently recommended by druggists in preference to any other remedy. There have been so many proofs of the many bene-fits conferred by its use that it is not surprising that it is becoming a household remedy.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

The Court of Anglican Bishops Considers

Rev. G. W. Wye's Appeal. The hearing of the appeal of the rector and church wardens of the Parish of Amherstburg, Ont., against the finding of the Ecclestical Court of the diocese of Huron and the sentence of the bishop of the diocese, by which Rev. Mr. Wye, the rector, was withdrawn, was begun yesterday at Kingston and will probably be continued for two days. The proceedings are private.

The facts in connection with the case at issue may be briefly stated as follows: The rectory of Amherstburg having become vacant the Bishop of Huron appointed Rev. G. W. Wye. This appointment was not altogether acceptable to the congregation and Rev. Mr. Baldwin (the bishop's nephew) was proposed. The bishop declined to meet the wishes of the congregation in this respect on the ground that the position was one which ought to be given to an older clergyman than Mr. Baldwin. Strong opposition was developed against Mr. Wye. Meetings were held and other means of creating agitation used, which being continued resulted in the commission being sent to the parish to investigate the history of the trouble during the five years of Rev. Mr. Wye's incumbency. A diocesan trial was finally held, and it was decided-one member of the court dissenting—that Rev. Mr. Wye's usefulness was gone. Upon this finding the bishop revoked his license, and Mr. Wye and the church wardens are now appealing against the sentence. The Court of Appeal is the creation of the Provincial Synod of Canada. It is constituted of the bishops of the nine dioceses in Canada, with the Metropolitan as president and three excessors who must be dent, and three assessors, who must be barristers of not less than nine years' standing. The bishop, whose decision is appealed against, is, of course, disqualified from par ticipation in the deliberations of the court.
