BURGLAR ALARM PETERED OUT; MAN PLAYED JOKE ON GIRLS

Returned Home Sooner Than Expected, and Gave Other Occupants a Fright.

Last week a certain well-known business man and his wife went away for a few days' visit. That fact was nothing very startling, but their return occasioned a rare burglar scare.

During his absence this gentleman left two young ladies who resided with him, in charge of the house. He set a certain date for his return, and left the girls to get along as best they could.

Last Tuesday evening the young ladies went out to spend a few hours with a friend. About 10 o'clock they returned home. As they approached their home, they saw a light in one of the upper rooms. They certainly did not like that, but they went as far as the front door. Here their courage oozed out of their shoes, and they determined to get help. The more they thought of it the more anxious they were to get help, so they started to move. Now, neither of these girls is what may be called fair-lyle in build. They are stout, substantial girls, in fact, on the rotund. You should have seen those girls canter. Oh, did they hurry! They broke seven records, and counted hooks and eyes. They reached the home of their friends, called "Burglars," and swooned.

The girls were not alone. They were joined by their male friends, who are married, and think somewhat of their wives, held a council of war. Their reasoning was about like this: "Now, there is no use of us risking our lives. One live commercial traveler is worth ten dead hiders. I have it. I will call the police." With a merry ha-ha, the older man approached the phone, and informed the police station that the fiercest bunch of bloodthirsty burglars were doing things to a certain Queen's avenue home. Condensed that they had done their duty, the boys gathered together their stock of wicked weapons. It consisted of two canes, their safety razors, and some hatpins. Summoning the ladies, the march of the heroic clan began. When they reached Queen's avenue, a flying policeman was seen approaching with rapid stride and fierce expression.

"Fall in my tracks," he ordered, "and we will capture the bunch of bolshies, or we will die in the cellar."

"Aye, aye," said the civilians. "That we will."

No one fainted here, although one man had a dark-brown feeling. The party reached the house, and quietly entered. Burglars—purs, the house was disarranged, and the furniture upset. The policeman armed himself to the top mast, and looked about for the varmints. The girls hugged themselves out of fear, and the audience force swallowed lumps as big as Vesuvius.

"Not here," quoth the sleuth. "List. I hear a noise—in fact two noises. They are above, my heroes."

"And so the party marched up the stairs, stealthily as becometh man-of-war. The plain clothes heroes were much in the rear.

They at last reached the door where the burglars were, and the policeman opened it. Quickly he flashed his lantern on an object in the room. When he saw what it was, he fell in a swoon. There in bed lay the venerable business man and his wife. The old gentleman was scared clean to death, and his wife did not think it any picnic, either.

The heroes grabbed their implements of war, and fled out into the night. The girls wept copiously, and walked into their own corridors.

What the policeman thought and said has not yet been translated. It seems that the aforesaid business man had returned a day ahead of his schedule, and had put up a little surprise on the girls. He considered it a huge joke, until the policeman flashed the lantern in his face. Then it looked different.

It is said that the policeman will send in a bill for $100,000 damages for that fierce run on a false alarm.

And the girls? Well, they will not talk much about the affair.

BENNETT'S NEW THEATER A BEAUTY

The Plans for the Play House Have Arrived, and Are Entirely Up-to-Date.

The plans for Manager Bennett's new Vaudeville Theater arrived Saturday, and were inspected by a large number of citizens.

The new theater will, beyond a doubt, be one of the finest of its kind in Canada. It will be roomy and up-to-date in seating and ventilation and fire protection. In all the details of the house not a single item is missed that would add to the comfort both of patrons and performers.

The vestibule will be 50 feet in depth. It will be tiled in the most up-to-date manner, and the lighting facilities leave nothing to be desired in this regard. On either side of the entrance to the theater proper, are cloak rooms, smoking room, nursery room, lavatories and toilet rooms. Each will be fitted up in the most artistic manner, and will add greatly to the comfort of the patrons of the house.

There will be a pit, a balcony, and a gallery. The seating capacity will be much larger than in the old house, and will be much more conveniently arranged. Downstairs there will be a large orchestra room, etc. There will be two boxes on each side, besides loges.

The seating will be new all through. The stage will be greatly enlarged, and will be better lighted than heretofore. Its capacity will be nearly doubled. With a splendid theater and first-class attractions, Bennett's new Vaudeville will prove one of the finest additions that London has ever had.

—Mrs. Rowland Munro will not receive again until the first week of September.

—The city council meets tonight to put through various by-laws and appoint an auditor.

—Mrs. W. A. McCrimmon and two daughters, of Malland street, have returned home after a most pleasant visit with relatives in Stratford.

—Mrs. John A. Hager and son, of Marquette, Mich., are the guests of Mrs. Hager's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Templeton, in St. Waterloo street.

—"Long Joe" Lawrence, the Guelph rifleman, who is ill with appendicitis, has been operated on at Victoria Hospital, and is reported as doing nicely.

—There will be a practice of the London Lacrosse Club on the C. P. R. diamond tomorrow evening. All lacrosse enthusiasts are invited to be present.

—Mrs. C. K. Harden wishes to thank the friends for their kindness shown during the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Morris, who died on June 21.

—Mr. David McHarg, the G. T. R. brakeman, who had his foot crushed in the Grand Trunk yards a couple of weeks ago, is making rapid progress toward recovery at Victoria Hospital.

—Inspector McCallum is contemplating summoning a number of people who are a little dilatory about paying their dog tax for this year. The way to avoid trouble, he says, is to pay up at once.

—Mrs. Harry Edsall, of High street, has returned home after spending a few days with her husband, Mr. Harry Edsall, who is undergoing treatment for inflammatory rheumatism at Mt. Clemens, Mich.

—Mrs. Galbraith, and her daughter, Miss Jean Galbraith, of this city, have for the past few months been touring in Scotland, have returned home. While abroad they visited all the important points of interest in both Scotland and England.

—The Ladies' Guild and rector of the church of the Hosanna, Hyde Park, desire to thank the members of the church, who have been assisting in the work of the church, and all those who, by their kind assistance, as well as by their generous gifts, assisted so materially in making the garden party and sale of work such a great success.

As a result of which the sum of $200 has been added to the rectory fund.

—The congregation at St. Mary's Church, Lytle street, on Sunday morning, enjoyed a well-delivered sermon by a promising young clergyman, Rev. J. Durkin, O. P., of New York City. Father Durkin's splendid effort disclosed a keen mind, a superior education, and a deep study of the Scriptures. He is a member of the Illustrative Order of Preachers, which has presented the world with some of the greatest speakers ever known. Father Durkin is beginning to prove himself a worthy follower of the great St. Dominic, the saintly founder of his order.

—THROWN FROM A CAR.

Mr. Johnston, a colored woman, residing on Malland street south, was thrown from a South street belt car while attempting to alight at the corner of South and Adelaide streets, this morning. She was badly shaken up, and was taken to Victoria Hospital, where her injuries were dressed. She was able to leave the institution in an hour.

—LAST DRILL OF SEASON.

The Seventh Regiment will have the last drill of the season tonight, when it will proceed to Tecumseh Park, where the trooping of the colors will be performed and various other military evolutions executed.

A large number of the camp militia will be present, and there is sure to be an enormous crowd of London's citizens. The regiment goes to Ottawa on next Saturday evening.

—MRS. STAFFORD DEAD.

Ruby Stafford, wife of Cyrus Stafford, and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stafford, died this morning. Deceased was survived by her mother, father and husband, two small children, one three years and the other five years old, and three brothers and one sister—James, Charles, John and Florence, all of this city. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the family residence, 745 Grey street, Rev. Mr. Ball will officiate.

—COLLEGIATE CLOSED.

The Collegiate Institute is practically closed now. The public schools will close on Friday, as will also the separate schools. Arrangements are being made at the Collegiate for the examinations, which will begin Wednesday.

—MUST GET ANOTHER SITE.

The Hamilton Spectator says: C. W. Bennett, the London theatrical man, who is endeavoring to establish a vaudeville circuit between this city and Detroit, including intervening cities, was in the city today. He didn't have much for publication. He says that he has lost the option on the site previously selected. They are now looking for another suitable place for a theater, he says, and if one is secured building may be gone on with in the near future.

—GRANDE LIGNE MISSION.

Rev. E. Bosworth, Grande Ligne secretary, who occupied the pulpit of Adelaide Street Church yesterday morning, made a strong presentation of the mission's claims on the Protestant pulpit. In answer to the question, "Why is a mission needed that is absolutely French?" he pointed to the fact that French form nearly two-fifths of the Dominion's population, and nine-elevenths of the population of Quebec. To the query, "What chance is there for the success of such a mission in Quebec?" Mr. Bosworth told of the Feller Institute and fourteen other schools established by the Grande Ligne Mission, where 7,000 young people have been educated, 60 of whom have become missionaries, 40 physicians, 12 university professors, while many have become teachers. Mr. Bosworth also spoke of the growth in numbers of the French population in Quebec, which is nearly four times as rapid as the growth of the English-speaking people in Ontario.

The Hamilton Spectator says: C. W. Bennett, the London theatrical man, who is endeavoring to establish a vaudeville circuit between this city and Detroit, including intervening cities, was in the city today. He didn't have much for publication. He says that he has lost the option on the site previously selected. They are now looking for another suitable place for a theater, he says, and if one is secured building may be gone on with in the near future.

Rev. E. Bosworth, Grande Ligne secretary, who occupied the pulpit of Adelaide Street Church yesterday morning, made a strong presentation of the mission's claims on the Protestant pulpit. In answer to the question, "Why is a mission needed that is absolutely French?" he pointed to the fact that French form nearly two-fifths of the Dominion's population, and nine-elevenths of the population of Quebec. To the query, "What chance is there for the success of such a mission in Quebec?" Mr. Bosworth told of the Feller Institute and fourteen other schools established by the Grande Ligne Mission, where 7,000 young people have been educated, 60 of whom have become missionaries, 40 physicians, 12 university professors, while many have become teachers. SPURNED MOTHER WHO CROSSED SEA

Her Children Allow Her To Be Deported Homeless and Penniless.

Boston, June 25.—Mrs. Catherine Curran, though 60 years of age, slave of the wash tub all winter long to earn enough money to come from England to her five children in Massachusetts. All the children are prosperous and well able to support her, but each has turned his back on the poor old mother, and penniless, she must be deported.

Long had she dreamed of seeing her dear ones again. She had planned her coming to be a surprise. She thought surely the children would flock to her, overjoyed that she had come to live with them.

So she broke up her little home in England, and adding the proceeds of the sale of her furniture to her hard-earned savings, bought steerage passage on the Arabic, arriving in Boston June 2.

Her husband died two years ago, after her children, one by one, had started for the United States. Letters received from time to time showed that they were doing well.

She proudly told immigration officials here of her four sons and one daughter, and gave their addresses. Two of them live in Springfield. They were notified that their mother had arrived and that she would be detained to await their arrival. Day after day went by and the old mother kept up a cheerful lookout from the barred windows of the detention station.

Then the others were notified, and finally special messages were sent. Although these were received by the children, no response came. Then they were notified that their mother would be deported. Still no answer. The mother broke down and refused to believe it. For two days she wept and refused to be comforted. Yesterday she was put aboard the Celtic for Liverpool. Even aboard the ship she pleaded to be landed, and peered eagerly into the sea of faces on the dock.

When the ship declared her money was gone and she had no home and would be penniless in Liverpool. Inspectors raised a little cash for her, but how she will fare when the few dollars are gone is hard to say.

—COST UNCLE SAM $100,000

Extradition of Green and Gaylor Was Expensive Business.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—It cost the Government $100,000 to extradite Greene and Gaylor and bring them to trial. This statement is contained in a letter written by Attorney-General Moody to Chairman Tawney, explaining a request for a deficiency appropriation. Of this sum, he says, $22,500 is to be paid to foreign counsel in the case. —BOTH PARENTS GONE.

Windsor, June 25.—Mrs. Clara Niebergall is dead at her home in this city, and efforts to find her husband, Joseph Niebergall, who is traveling in the lumber regions of Northern Ontario, supposedly in the vicinity of Cobalt, are fruitless. In consequence the funeral arrangements are delayed, and relatives do not know what to do. The family moved here a few months ago from Echo Bay, Ontario, where Mr. Niebergall had extensive lumber interests.

—Boat to Detroit.

Special excursions will be run from London to Detroit and return on Dominion Day via the beautiful St. Clair River route, the finest river trip in the world. The boats pass the numerous river resorts along the river. A ship or barge of some kind is passing almost every second, and last but not least the "Tashmoo," the largest river steamer accommodates 4,000 people. There is no crowding, and every known device is installed on this ship for safety. The record of the White Star Line stands very high. See advertisement in tonight's amusement column. F. B. THE SAUSAGE MEN ALL IN ONE BOAT

Fifty Called Before New York Board of Health—All Use Preservatives.

New York, June 25.—Within the last two weeks it is learned about fifty manufacturers of sausages have been called before the board of health and warned that they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law if they do not at once comply with the provisions of the sanitary code and label their product with a description of any preservative used.

Investigations made by inspectors and analyses made by the department chemists have shown that practically all the sausage manufacturers used preservatives.

While it is not claimed that all these preservatives are deleterious, the health department will take no chances and will insist that the purchaser shall know just what he is buying.

"Such sausage manufacturers as they appeared before the board have readily agreed to comply with the law, and I believe they mean to keep their word," said Dr. Darlington, chairman of the health board, yesterday. "But there are a good many small manufacturers who can't reach at this time, and to these I wish to give notice that I will prosecute them every time I find them breaking the law. The public has a right to know what it is eating, and I shall do all I can to see that it does."

One of the natural curiosities of South Africa is the "sneezeland" tree, which is so called because one can not cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust has exactly the effect of snuff. Even in planting the wood it will sometimes cause sneezing. No insect or worm will touch it; it is very bitter to the taste, and when placed in water it sinks.

THE MOST POPULAR PILL.—The pill is the most popular of all forms of medicine, and of pills the most popular are Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, because they do what it is asserted they can do, and are not put forward on any fictitious claims to excellence. They are compact and portable, they are easily taken, they do not nauseate nor gripe, and they give relief in the most stubborn cases.
