

LET EAST MIDDLESEX STRIKE FIRST BLOW

LOOKS LIKE MR. PERLEY FOR THE PUBLIC WORKS

Mr. Marechal Not Practical Enough and Chase Casgrain Has Apparently Dropped—Sir Donald Mann and Rogers Held Conference Over Matter.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Hon. Geo. Perley may be continued as minister of public works for the remainder of the Borden Government's tenure of office. Premier Borden is being urged to follow this course as a measure of justice to the English-speaking Protestants of Quebec. Until the Borden ministry was formed the English of Quebec were always in possession of a portfolio. Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture, represented them throughout the term of the Laurier Government, and there was a lot of dissatisfaction expressed when Mr. Borden failed to continue traditional representation in forming his Government. It is now being pointed out to him that he now has a splendid chance to correct this error by having Hon. George Perley at the head of the public works department. It is also urged that in doing so he would be providing the greatest business department of the Government with a first-class business head.

Casgrain Is Out.
Hon. T. Chase Casgrain has apparently dropped out of the contest, and Mr. L. P. Marechal now appears to be the only rival Hon. Mr. Perley has for the portfolio.

Mr. Marechal and Louis Coderre, M.

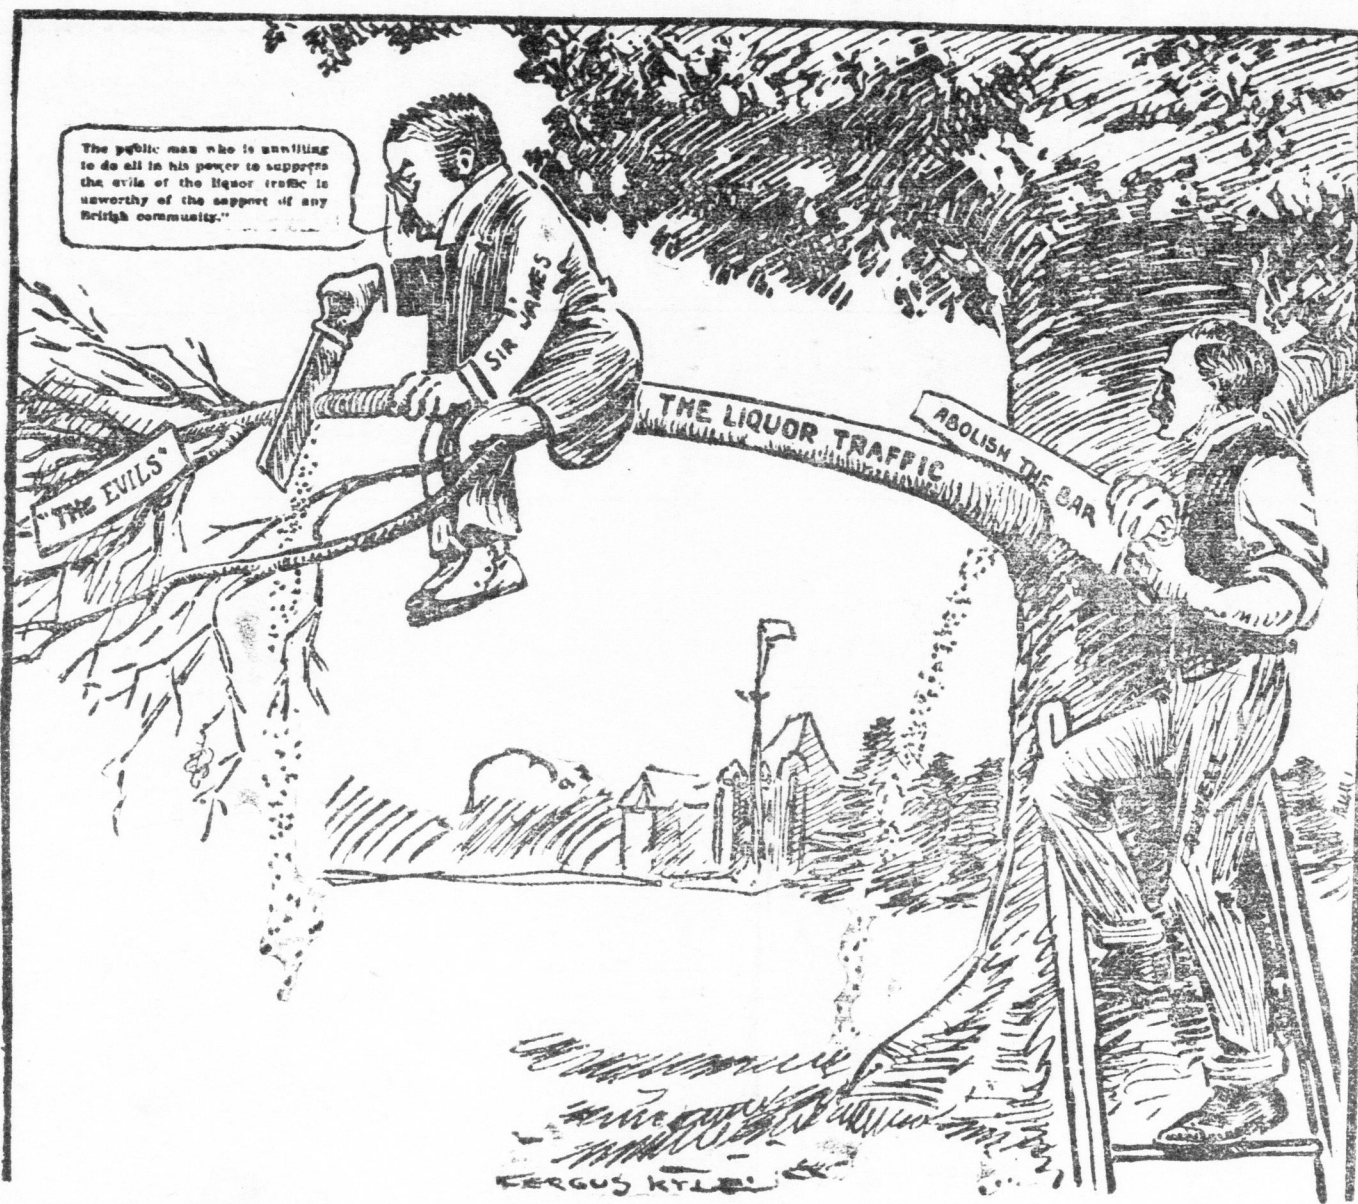

P. came from Montreal last night and had a conference at the Château Laurier with Sir Donald Mann, of the Canadian Northern, who is reputed to have a good deal of influence in the selection of ministers. The three gentlemen dined together. Hon. Robert Rogers was one of the party. It is significant that Mr. Marechal, who was called from Montreal, came from the midst of a jury trial.

Marechal's Statement.
When questioned as to his chances, Mr. Marechal said: "I cannot tell you anything definitely yet. I notice that there has been a good deal said, and I have seen my name spoken of in connection with the department of public works. It is a heavy department and I am not a practical man—I mean, not practical as far as dredging, engineering, etc., are concerned. It seems to me that no man should take that position without some technical knowledge. I believe that Mr. Monk found that out, and his duties were never congenial to him."

"The position of a cabinet minister is no sinecure. But there are times," said Mr. Marechal with a smile, "when the call of duty is too strong to be resisted. Then, too, there are possibilities, there are not, some changes in the cabinet."

If Hon. George Perley is continued at the head of the public works department it is not improbable that Mr. Marechal may be made solicitor-general. The post has never been filled by Premier Borden, and this would balance the French representation.

ROOT AND BRANCH REFORM

From the Toronto Globe.

MOST OF US REBELS SAYS ALD. RICHTER

That Is, If It's Unpatriotic to Get the Truth, He Qualifies.

NOT FRIGHTENED OR ANGRY AT STATEMENTS

Dire Accusations Don't Seem to Cause Financial Minister to Tremble.

Ald. J. G. Richter, chairman of the finance committee, whose criticism of the Gagey report on the cost of street lighting has been in the limelight, was taken to task in a local evening paper on Thursday because of his attitude. He was charged with being unpatriotic, playing into the hands of combines, and persons seeking to bleed the public white, and other misdeeds of a similar stripe. A vision of the gentleman with horns and a cloven foot might readily be conjured up on reading the dire things that Ald. Richter had done.

Of course, the finance minister, as is his custom, simply smiles, and preserves his temper.

"We're Most of Us Rebels."
"If it is unpatriotic to want to know the truth, I presume most of us are rebels," he stated. "All we want are the facts—nothing more. Whose fault is it that we have not the facts? It surely is not mine. I have endeavored with the council to discover what the true state of affairs is. We have done our best, but we have not been able to discover where we stand. I hope that when Mr. Harry Angus and the committee go through the books, we will be able to show that the commissioners are not making money out of certain branches of the enterprise, and that street lighting is paying the difference. We will get at the facts when he comes, and then we will know exactly whether or not we are unpatriotic or merely businessmen."

Could Have Been Settled.
"We simply want to be shown, and we have a right to be. We could have settled the matter weeks ago, if we had been given an opportunity."

Mr. Angus is expected within a few days, to begin his investigation.

MISSING PAIR TURN UP

Launch, About Whose Safety There Was Anxiety, Arrives at Toronto.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Oct. 25.—Ellwood C. Lehmman and Charles Ross, the two men who started from Smith's Falls, a couple of weeks ago in a launch, and about whose safety there has been considerable anxiety, came into Toronto last night with their gasoline launch Gosson, and tied up at the York street wharf. They were delayed by the breaking down of their engine, and were unable to inform their friends of their location because there was no postoffice handy to the lake shore along which they passed.

DUTCH QUEEN ILL

The Hague, Netherlands, Oct. 24.—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, who, as was recently announced, was expecting an interesting family event, has been suffering for several days from a slight indisposition. This, according to an official bulletin signed by the court physicians, tends to dispel the hope which her majesty entertained of the birth of an heir to the throne. The bulletin adds that the condition of the queen is satisfactory.

LA FOLLETTE SAYS HE WAS "DOUBLE-CROSSED"

Charges Roosevelt Conspired to Bring Him Out as Candidate and Then Shift Him.

[Canadian Press.]
Superior, Wis., Oct. 26.—In his speech here last night Senator Robt. M. La Follette said that if Governor Woodrow Wilson proved himself a progressive he would support his policies.
"It would not surprise me much if Wilson is elected," said Senator La Follette, "and if he should be and shows himself a progressive, I not only intend to support his policies, but to use my influence as much as I can in the Senate to do likewise. On the other hand, should he prove weak and fail to follow the path blazed by progressives, I shall denounce him with equal fervor."

Senator La Follette charged Colonel Roosevelt with having been back of a conspiracy to bring him out as a candidate, only to shift him and put Roosevelt in his place.

MACHINE WORKERS THICK AS BEES

Headed By Chief Organizer Conservatives Are Fine-Tooth Combing Riding.

"SEE EVERY VOTER" IS WORD TO THE CREW

Government's Fear of Result Is Shown By Agents' Unprecedented Activity.

With pleadings that betoken the extremities of the case, the Conservative machine workers in East Middlesex, aided by the best organizing talent available at Toronto, are begging the individual voters of the riding to stand by Mr. George W. Neely in this campaign.

Not in any election in recent times in this district at least have such efforts been made to hold a constituency. When Sir James Whitney will come to Toronto to try and add one member to his overwhelming majority demonstrates to the average man clearly just how seriously they view the situation.

Chief among the workers is Mr. H. Birmingham, the chief organizer of the Conservative party at Toronto, who has spent many days in this vicinity, and is still working strenuously to save the situation. Automobiles with workers have been parading the constituency.

Vote-Seekers in Swarms.
The voter is chased to his lair by a swarm of Conservative spell-binders, office seekers, and the common or garden variety of members of Parliament. Not one can escape. The number of canvassers is somewhat greater than a swarm of seven-year locusts. Whether they are as deadly, the average elector has not yet been able to figure out. In any event, they are on the job.

Mr. Birmingham and his agents, it is said, are pointing out to the individual electors that the life of the Whitney Administration is at stake, and begging the old-time Conservatives to stand firm in the faith.

The Problem of the Boy.
It is said that they are having some difficulty with the men who are thinking of real problems—men of say 40 years and past, with boys growing up, who will soon leave their homes, where perchance there are no bars to go into the cities where there are many. Appeals to stand steady, because they are Conservatives, are not quite so effective, and the utmost confidence is not reigning supreme in the Neely camp.

Office Holders Working.
It is rumored that certain office holders, one of whom is particularly strong with the liquor party, are parading the riding under the cover of night, whipping into line those who can be reached by a certain well-dressed appeal. These men are being watched closely and their trips to the country might result in something important being announced in a day or two.

Mr. Neely is doing some work also in the campaign, although his health is said to be precarious. This fact is mentioned casually to the electors, and it is said to be having some little effect among a few sympathetic friends.

"DEATH TO DIAZ"

Mexico City, Oct. 25.—A demonstration in favor of the Mexican Government in favor of Diaz, and finds him held last evening when a large number of people paraded the streets waving banners and shouting "Hurrah for the Government! Death to Diaz!" A detachment of mounted police kept in close touch with the demonstrators and no disorder occurred.

"DESERVES SUPPORT OF ALL TEMPERANCE MEN"

President Finch States That He Was a Conservative, But Stands Behind Mr. Sutherland and Mr. Rowell in This Campaign.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
I wish through the medium of your paper, as president of the Temperance League of London Township, to state my position on the present great question which faces every elector in this municipality.

In the past I have been a Conservative, although not a Conservative worker. As I understand more and more clearly the position of Mr. Rowell on the temperance question, I cannot but endorse the man who has adopted his policy, namely, Mr. Sutherland. While Mr. Sutherland may not be an ideal temperance man, he has pledged himself to stand by Mr. Rowell's policy, and personally I believe he should have the support of every true temperance man who wishes to put the welfare of mankind before politics. I cannot at present, and never shall in the future, give my support to any man who has the support of the liquor traffic, no matter on what side of politics he may be.

FALLING APPLE HIT PASTOR IN THE EYE

Rev. Dr. Oaten, of Brussels, Painfully Hurt When His Glasses Smashed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Brussels, Oct. 25.—Rev. Dr. Oaten, Methodist minister, has been ill during the past week owing to a peculiar accident. He was struck on the left eye by an apple falling from a tree in W. H. Kerr's orchard, and the glass of his spectacles damaged his eye so that medical attendance was necessary. He is making a good recovery.

Before Rev. A. C. Wishart, B. A., left here for Calgary, where he assumes the pastorate of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, he was presented with $125 in gold by the congregation. The Sunday school gave him a gold-handled silk umbrella, the $100 class a chime clock, and a coterie of personal friends a gold-headed cane.

Mr. Wishart was here six years and was very popular. Rev. Mr. Perrin, of Wingham, will declare Melville Church pulpit here vacant next Sabbath.

Principal Scott, of Brussels, was chosen president of East Huron Teachers' Association, and Miss Dora Smith, of this town, second vice-president.

T. R. BACK TO WORK

Dictates a Number of Letters to the Progressive Leaders.
[Canadian Press.]
Oyster Bay, Oct. 25.—Col. Roosevelt took up the active work of the campaign today for the first time since he was shot eleven days ago. John McGrath, his secretary, came from New York last night to be at Sagamore Hill early in the day, and as soon as Col. Roosevelt had breakfasted, he began his work. He dictated a number of letters to Progressive leaders, then took up the preparation of the speech which he expects to deliver in New York next week.

Col. Roosevelt was in good trim physically, although he was still weak, and was not able to do as much work as he wished. He has not overcome the effects of the nervous exhaustion from which he suffered after spending a week in bed in Chicago, and finds himself greatly fatigued if he undertakes too much.

Dr. Scurry Tyrrell said that his patient was in surprisingly good condition, and that he expected his strength to return rapidly.

BLUE RIBBON FOR CALGARY.

Calgary, Oct. 25.—The blue ribbon for all Canada of the association board of the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music, has again been won by a Calgary girl, Freda Sweet having been awarded the $500 scholarship, the highest prize.

RIOT AT HAVANA.

Havana, Oct. 25.—A brisk battle between Conservatives and Liberals, during which several hundred shots were fired and a number of people killed and wounded, broke out after midnight in Central Park in the heart of the city, at the close of an immense outdoor meeting of supporters of Vice-President Alfredo Zayas, who is a candidate for the presidency.

FIRE AT CONEY ISLAND.

New York, Oct. 25.—Coney Island was saved from a serious conflagration early today by the prompt work of the island firemen, assisted by apparatus from Brooklyn. One hotel and two hundred small bath houses on the ocean front were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

GOVT. OFFICIAL MAKES DEFENCE OF ROADHOUSES IN GROSS MISSTATEMENT

Thomas Duff Boldly Asserts That Graham Hotel Did Not Furnish Liquor in Reynolds Case—What the Sworn Testimony Shows.

PRISONER'S YOUNG SON GIVEN MANY DRINKS, IT WAS ASSERTED

Proprietor Did Not Deny the Allegations, and the Judge Commented on Evils of the Whiskey Traffic—License Was Renewed.

According to the local Conservative organ, the East Middlesex license commissioners "have a clear" conscience in the matter of license renewals for the hotels east of London, notwithstanding the fact that actual conditions, as related in The Advertiser last evening, are well known to the residents of the riding.

Mr. Thomas Duffin, the inspector for the board in East Middlesex, despite his enthusiastic activities at the Whitney meeting at Thornedale on Thursday night, found time to issue a most misleading statement to a reporter of the Free Press, and this is today recorded in the following manner in that journal:

"These hotels are being conducted in as satisfactory a manner as any other country hotel," he said. "The board found no reason to cut off these licenses. The Culver affair occurred across the road. The man who committed the crime had got his liquor elsewhere, and it was not considered that the tragedy was blamable to this hotel."

There was no deputation before the board, or any protest of any kind, I might say, and in neither case were there circumstances to justify us in cutting off these licenses.

There are no violations of the law occurring at these hotels," Mr. Duffin added.

Refuted By the Evidence.

As a matter of fact the actual blow that resulted in the death of Fred Culver was struck on the roadway. Mr. Duffin is correct in this particular, but the verbatim reports of the evidence taken at the coroner's inquest, and furnished to Chief Justice Glenholme Falconbridge for his guidance, when Daniel Reynolds, to make certain of his life, arranged with the crown attorney to plead guilty to manslaughter, show that the incidents leading up to the fight and the greater portion of the fight itself occurred in the Graham bar and in the drive-shed adjoining.

Reynolds, it was shown, left his home at London Junction on Thursday, Dec. 14, 1911, for Belmont, going to the Hamilton road by way of the Aylmer sideland. He was accompanied by his young son, Wallace, and his son-in-law, Paddy Morrison. All three stopped in at 6 o'clock in the evening at the Graham hotel, had many drinks, and proceeded on toward Belmont.

Reynolds, it was shown, was disagreeable to the weather, and his son-in-law, Paddy Morrison, all three stopped in at 6 o'clock in the evening at the Graham hotel, had many drinks, and proceeded on toward Belmont.

Two Victims

Dan Reynolds. Fred Culver.

Reynolds is in the penitentiary serving a life term; Culver is in his grave, the results of a drunken brawl that had its commencement in the Graham Hotel on Hamilton road. The license was conditionally granted for three months following the slaying, then given for the whole year. Inspector Duffin says no liquor was obtained at Graham's in direct denial of the evidence.

not have proved fatal, had not the men been so much under the influence of liquor as to neglect to take any course to stop the flow of blood.

Mr. Duffin boldly asserts that the whiskey was not obtained at Graham's. The evidence taken at the coroner's jury was to the effect that Reynolds on leaving his home in the afternoon obtained a bottle of whiskey at the Evans House at Pottersburg, but he was not intoxicated when he reached Graham's.

Extracts From Evidence.

As to what transpired there, the following extracts from the testimony given under oath a few days after the killing of Culver, tell the real story.

Mr. P. H. Bartlett, in his cross-examination of Ben Graham, proprietor of the hotel, asked:

Q.—"Did Reynolds treat when he first came to your place?"

A.—"Three or four times."

Q.—"How about the second visit?"

A.—"He bought three or four drinks around the second time."

Cross-examining Paddy Morrison, Reynolds' son-in-law, in the same vein, Mr. Bartlett brought out the following facts:

Q.—"Was there any treating done at Graham's when you went there?"

A.—"Yes."

Q.—"Did the boy Wallace (Reynolds' son) have a drink?"

A.—"Reynolds treated about three times, and we all had a drink."

Q.—"Did anybody kick about the first time?"

A.—"No, not the first time."

Boy Piled With Liquor.

Q.—"Was there any treating when you came back the second time?"

A.—"Yes. The boy then had two drinks of beer."

Q.—"Did the boy have any other drink out of a bottle?"

A.—"Yes, about three."

Fred Hopkins, Graham's porter, offered practically the same evidence. (Continued on Page Three.)

VENERABLE MASON TURNED FIRST SOD

Handsome New Temple Will Be Erected at Windsor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 25.—Masons from all over the district were here last evening to witness the turning of the first sod for the handsome new temple which is to be erected as soon as possible.

Mr. James Radcliffe, the oldest member of Great Western Lodge, and one of the most venerable craftsmen in Western Ontario, turned the sod. Headed by the Twenty-first Regiment Band, a long procession moved from the Davis Block on Sandwich street, where the present Masonic quarters are located, to the site of the new building at the corner of Ouellette avenue and London street.

Appropriate addresses were made by leading members of the craft, including Mr. Goldsmith English through whose efforts the new structure was largely made possible. Mr. O. E. Fleming, Lieut.-Col. E. S. Wigle and Mr. J. H. Kenig.

The apade which was used by Mr. Radcliffe was afterwards sold by auction, and went to G. D. Stodgell of Walkerville, for $50.

Marechal for Cabinet

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The arrival from Montreal tonight of L. T. Marechal, K. C., accompanied by Louis Caserle, K. C., M. P. for Hochelaga, has revived speculation as to who will succeed Hon. F. D. Monk.

T. Chase Casgrain, K. C., who has been looked upon as the most likely man for the vacant portfolio, is ill at his home in Montreal, and is said to be willing to see the portfolio go to Mr. Marechal. If the latter is chosen he will likely run in Charlevoix, one of the two seats now held by Sir Rodolphe Forget.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Senator Keeps House."

William H. Crane will be seen once more as a member of the upper legislative body at Washington when he comes to the Grand Saturday in "The Senator Keeps House," a comedy of the present-day life in the national capital. Those who recall the signal success with which Mr. Crane was ushered into the United States Senate for dramatic usage some years back will view with delight the prospect of finding him in that select circle. Martha Morton's modern study is essentially a play of today. Mr. Crane is sure to give a fine performance and his present play is regarded as one of the best light comedies he ever brought out. Seats on sale.

"The Rosary."

The success of Rowland & Clifford's play, "The Rosary," which appears at the Grand Thanksgiving Day (Monday), doesn't even approach an end. Six companies more of this play have been organized, and contrary to tradition, "The Rosary" is repeating its past year's success. The unequalled character of the priest in "The Rosary" leads the way to its success, and the intense human interest settled in the body of the play formulates the heart interest that will bring success to such ideas as Mr. Rose has collected to tell the story of "The Rosary."

"Passers-By" Tuesday.

Simplicity, humanity and directness are said to be the three qualities in the comedy, "Passers-By," which made it the success it was during its long runs in both London and New York City. The author, C. Haddon Chambers, is said to have told a story that is replete in humanity, not in the least involved, and to have told it with a directness that is said to be at times startling. "Passers-By" is a play of types, for the cast consists of a young and wealthy clubman, his valet, a cabman, a tramp, a young woman, who earns her living, a young lady of the upper classes, a lady of title, and a dear little boy. Charles Frohman is present. Charles Cherry in "Passers-By" at the Grand Opera House, next Tuesday. Seats on sale.

"The Merry Widow."

"The Merry Widow," which Henry W. Savage will offer at the Grand next Wednesday night, a new and lavish production is promised. When it is considered that much attention, especially of the ladies, will be centred on the hats and gowns of the new production, it becomes evident that considerable expense must be undertaken for the result. "The Merry Widow" hat was the most written of affair in its day, and to find a substitute for it means ravaging the Parisian shops to their very floors. Then, again, Mr. Savage will offer "The Merry Widow" orchestra. This is a complete organization in itself, and plays the entire score without a written note. Mr. Alfred Moulton is the conductor. Seats tomorrow.

Now Feels Strong and Vigorous

And Fit for Any Amount of Work as the Result of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. J. Hurlbert.

It is so easy to overlook the warning given by headaches, indigestion, falling memory, lack of power to concentrate the mind, irritability and worry over little things, that many a man does not realize his danger until on the verge of breakdown. Like the writer of the letter quoted below, you can call a halt to the wasting process and restore vim and energy to the nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure has a wonderful record of cures.

Mr. J. Hurlbert, 28 James street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—"I was very much run down in health and as a consequence my nervous system was very much exhausted. Close confinement at my work, I think, brought on the trouble. I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by the time I had used up one box I felt a great improvement. The continued use of this preparation has thoroughly restored my system so that I feel strong and vigorous and fit for any amount of work. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment with splendid satisfaction, and recommend them at every opportunity." FINE FIGHTING SPEECH

[By Our Own Man.]

Belmont, Oct. 24.—The residents of this village, so satisfied after an experiment in local option, enthusiastically endorsed the policy of Mr. N. W. Rowell here tonight to extend the influence of local option over the whole Province, and make the benefits apparent to all thinking people universal. The weather was not ideal, but in spite of this fact the hall was crowded with electors, who expressed their approval of Mr. Rowell's policy in no uncertain way. There is no question as to the attitude Belmont voters will assume, Mr. William Sutherland is assured of a strong following here.

The Main Issue.

The Liberal leader was again in good form. As in all his previous speeches, he made the abolition of the bar the paramount issue of the campaign. The peculiar circumstances of the election made it the only issue, in spite of the efforts made by Conservative orators to dodge the question. It could not be explained away, or laughed out of court. It was certain to be a large factor in the election of Ontario in the near future, and must be faced by every voter.

Mr. Rowell was assisted by well-known residents of Westminster Township, Thomas Baty, W. H. Odell, R. Procurier and John H. Elliott, all strong advocates of the policy announced by Mr. Rowell. They stated their position in unequivocal language, and promised to support the candidate who would support Mr. Rowell in his great campaign for home and family and native land.

Mr. Procurier was elected as chairman and he had no difficulty in preserving order. The speakers were listened to most intently, without the slightest interruption.

A Striking Speech.

Mr. Odell made a brief but very striking speech. He was a personal friend of the late Robert Sutherland, one of the finest men that East Middlesex had ever produced. Honest and courageous, a temperance man through and through, Mr. Sutherland's loss was severely felt in the riding and in the province. Mr. William Sutherland was of the same stock, and when his word was given, it was to be relied on.

The speaker then gave his opinion of local option in its relation to Belmont.

"We have had local option here for nearly three years," said Mr. Odell. "When the campaign was on, we were told that Belmont would be ruined, that business would be destroyed, in fact, ruin was predicted for the place. But that didn't happen. Certainly not. I have had much experience in real estate matters here, and I want to say that the value of property has increased 25, 50, and, in some cases, 100 per cent. One property purchased a year and a half ago for $450 was sold for $900. I had a piece of property for which I could not obtain a purchaser under the liquor license, and I sold it not long ago for $2,000, netting me a good return. The man who purchased it has received a better offer since that time, showing that the price of real estate is steadily increasing. The hotel across the way sold under license for $900, and it could be sold now for a great deal more under local option, and without a license. In other words, the village has improved. Law and order prevail, and we are contented and happy."

"The benefits of local option are known to you," continued Mr. Odell. "They stand before your eyes every day. Why not extend them to the whole province? That is what Mr. Rowell wants and is advocating. We want men to stand for country, not party. We want them to place the interests of the community above all things. Vote for Sutherland and Rowell, and the bar will go."

The Fight in Westminster.

Thos. Baty gave an interesting history of the fight for local option in Westminster Township. The condition of the municipality had increased wonderfully since that time, and no man who knew of conditions under the old regime would vote for a return of the license system. "The temperance people were ignored so long as they voted straight for their political friends," said Mr. Baty. "That condition has been changed, and now the temperance people's wishes are being considered because the political parties know that we will stand for right rather than party, that we will not forsake our principles."

The speaker thought the anti-treating proposal out of the question. It struck at one of the abuses of the liquor system, while Mr. Rowell proposed to cut it out at the roots. The abolition of the bar would mean the abolition of treating. Mr. Baty was not a total prohibitionist, as the public sentiment of the province has not been in favor of such a policy at the present time.

"In conclusion, I would say that the liquor party is against Rowell and in favor of the other side," said Mr. Baty. "That should show you clearly where we should stand on this matter. We cannot be with the liquor interests and be right."

Mr. Procurier, the chairman, at this juncture, bore testimony to the good effects of local option. Property had increased in value, business had grown, the merchants had more money for their goods, law and order prevailed, and Belmont was an excellent village to live in.

"I voted to put Sir James Whitney in power, because I was dissatisfied with the Ross Government in its handling of the liquor problem," said Mr. Procurier. "The Government has done something for the temperance party, but the policies they advocate did not go far enough. I am for Mr. Rowell's policy of the abolition of the bar. It is local option, carried farther, and I want to support that."

The School Question.

Mr. John H. Elliott, first dealt with the school question, claiming that the present scarcity of teachers, and the general unsatisfactory condition in educational matters was due altogether to the mismanagement of Hon. Dr. Pyne and his associates. He also came out strongly for Mr. Rowell's temperance policy.

Ovation for Mr. Rowell.

Mr. Rowell was given an enthusiastic demonstration on rising to his feet.

Cascarets make you feel bully; they immediately cleanse and sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any druggist will keep your Stomach regular, Head clear and Liver and Bowels in a splendid condition for months. Don't forget the children.

forms. They are claiming that the Government favored local option. That is not so, but it is another piece of good legislation coming down to us from the Liberal Government.

The Three-Fifths Clause.

"How have the members of the Government shown their faith in local option? By the iniquitous three-fifths clause. I want to tell you that London Township would have had local option today had it not been for the operation of this clause. It was defeated by less than ten votes. What a tale of crime and misery that has followed this excellent bit of work of Sir James and his Government. You know this to be a fact. This is what the Government did here for the open bar. The men who favor local option favor a larger measure. The men who fought local option are fighting the abolition of the bar."

Mr. Rowell dealt with other issues for a short time, and the meeting closed in the usual way.

LONDON, FRIDAY, OCT. 25.

THE GOVERNMENT'S TREMENDOUS EFFORT.

The Whitney Government is taking an extraordinary interest in the East Middlesex election. A flood of orators has come in, and a Toronto organizer has been at work for weeks taking steps to man every poll. The Premier and half his cabinet are lending a hand. Even the reserves at Ottawa are pressed into service. No stone will be left unturned to secure the seat. As Mr. Rowell says, the efforts being put forth are unexampled.

A dead set is made on Mr. Rowell in his home county, and upon his policy of abolishing the bar. Why such activity on the part of a Government which is majority-fat? It is not that the majority needs increase. It is not that Mr. Neely is indispensable as a statesman. Nor is the presence of Mr. Neely the man so craved at Caesar's headquarters. He has not even the goodwill of his own party in the riding.

The reason, of course, for this sweaty haste that makes the cabinet minister joint-laborer with the humble henchman, has little to do with Mr. Neely himself, except in so far as he has taken up the cudgels for the Government. It is the Rowell policy that has scared the Administration out of its security. East Middlesex is a riding where local option opinion has been proved to be very strong. If in a by-election it pronounces in favor of the root and branch policy, it will be plain to all that the Temperance forces have identified themselves with Liberalism under Mr. Rowell's leadership. The moral impression upon the province will, in such case, be very damaging to the Government, and it will hardly be able at so late an hour to flop over to abolition of the bar. Mr. Duff has said that the Government will never assent to abolition. It is too far committed now to the maintenance of things as they are. In the defeat of Mr. Neely it will read not only the coming victory of Temperance Reform, but its own fate.

Hence the straining of every nerve to elect Mr. Neely. He himself is not much more than the battle-flag of the Government and liquor forces, something to stick up and hold up. Victory must be won at any cost. The province must be impressed with the notion that general Temperance Reform is not wanted even in districts that favor local option. Ontario must be made to realize that the bar is wanted, and is a fixture under the wing of the Whitney Government.

Let the temperance voters of East Middlesex stand to their colors at this critical juncture. Their action may decide whether Ontario is to go on enduring the bar-room, or rid itself of such an evil.

A CORRECTION, PLEASE.

On what authority does the Free Press say that a municipal council did not have to recognize a petition for local option before the Whitney Government came in?

The Free Press quotes Mr. Richard Blain, M. P., as saying this, and it indorses his assertion. If Mr. Blain says any such thing he told an untruth, either in ignorance or wilfully. The Free Press is in no better position. We call on our contemporary to make a correction before polling day.

The Whitney Government merely continued in force the provision adopted by the Ross Government, compelling municipal councils to submit a local option bylaw upon petition of 25 per cent. of the voters. The only difference is that under the old Government a majority vote could abolish the bars, while under the present Government three barroom votes are as good as five temperance votes.

A REMARKABLE ELECTION.

The Liberal candidate in Richelieu, Quebec, Mr. Cardin, has been re-elected by a majority of 301.

The contest presented extraordinary features. At the outset the Government announced that it wished its hands of the self-nominated Conservative candidate, Mr. Morgan. Its reasons may be inferred: it was not in a position to face the naval issue, its policy still being on the anvil.

When Mr. Monk announced his resignation, Mr. Morgan thought he saw an opportunity. He declared himself in sympathy with Mr. Monk, and he proceeded to advocate a naval plebiscite, while denouncing the Laurier law.

In the last stages of the campaign the Government came to his aid with a public bribe, offered through Sir Rodolphe Forget. That high-souled knight trumpeted the glad tidings that the Government would give the riding a marine railway if Mr. Morgan was elected. He had a written pledge to this effect from that kindred spirit, the Hon. Robert Rogers. Sir Rodolphe perhaps knew him too well to take his word. La Presse, of Montreal, described these tactics thus:

"It is an immoral bargain that is proposed to the electors of Richelieu. Buying consciences with railways, or with a sum of money passed from hand to hand—the evil is the same. It is only the form that differs."

Sir Rodolphe Forget is the head of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, which has its shipyards at Sorel, in the riding of Richelieu. He used his position to influence the large body of men employed by the company, and pulled down the Liberal majority in Sorel from 532 to 264. Mr. Cardin's majority of 739 in the whole riding in 1911 was reduced to 301, but in the circumstances—the Government bribe, the Forget influence, and the anti-naval program—the result is creditable to Richelieu, and encouraging to the Liberal party. The desperate and unprincipled character of Mr. Morgan's campaign has been a boom-erang for the Government. The Opposition will assuredly raise in the House the question of the Forget-Rogers bribe.

SIR JAMES OFFERS NOTHING.

Sir James Whitney has come and gone, and has left people no wiser as to his attitude to the temperance question.

There was, to be sure, his regular rhetorical flourish about "the awful results of the drink traffic," but what is he going to do to diminish these evils? Nothing, so far as his Thorndale speech discloses.

Sir James had not even a word to say for his vaunted anti-treating proposals. Not one of his numerous spokesmen in the riding has touched on it. There seems to be a conspiracy of silence on the subject. Rumor says that no more is to be heard of this child of freak legislation. It is treated as a founding; the Government now refuses to acknowledge paternity. Apparently it is to be allowed to die, killed in its cradle by neglect and ridicule.

The Government promises to do nothing for the temperance cause. It has done nothing in the past. It merely took the local option law left by its predecessors and weighted it with the three-fifths clause. It put a handicap on the temperance forces that was never there before. Had it even left the liberal policy alone, hundreds of bars now open would have been closed, including all the bars now open in East Middlesex.

SHAME, MR. HANNA!

Hon. W. J. Hanna, speaking at Thorndale, made the assertion that Mr. Rowell's abolition-the-bar policy left the clubs untouched.

It is impossible to acquit Mr. Hanna of the charge of deliberately trying to mislead his hearers.

Mr. Hanna knows that Mr. Rowell's declarations on the temperance question call for the abolition of the sale of liquor in all clubs. Mr. Hanna has heard this from Mr. Rowell's own lips in the Legislature.

Mr. Hanna's conduct in consciously misrepresenting Mr. Rowell is unworthy of his high office, unworthy of a public man of any man, in fact. He can have no excuse, no defence.

The liquor peril is a great deal more real than the German peril in this country.

The friends of the late Robert Sutherland—they were legion—can vindicate his memory on Monday.

If that railway was pledged to Richelieu, the Opposition will see that the Government keeps its pledge.

Scores of good Conservatives are not forgetting that a vote for Sutherland is a vote against Neely.

The Government and the barroom interests realize that if they don't hang together they'll hang separately.

Sir James Whitney promises nothing to the temperance people, and if he wins East Middlesex they will get nothing.

Mr. Hanna is the man who pronounced Mr. Rowell's policy a joke. Are half the Government invading East Middlesex to try to show the electors the humor of the thing?

The Mail and Empire says that Sir James Whitney is ready to abolish the bar if public opinion declares for such a course. The only way in which public opinion can express itself is to vote down his candidates.

The Churches on Mr. Rowell's Policy

The religious denominations in Ontario have given to Mr. Rowell's policy their outspoken approval. Their chief spokesmen and their journals have declared their attitude in the most forceful manner.

The Methodists.

The Christian Guardian for the Methodist body, said:

"The abolition-the-bar policy, while somewhat radical, is a peculiarly sane and level-headed method of facing the evils of the drink traffic as they exist among us today. It seems pre-eminently the next step to be taken in temperance reform, at least in this province, and as such it will make a strong appeal to a united conviction in favor of temperance advance.

"If Mr. Rowell, or, for that matter, Sir James Whitney either, will come out straightforwardly in favor of abolishing the bar and a careful and conscientious study of the traffic in liquor that will remain, he will succeed in rousing such enthusiasm in the moral reform forces of this province and its politicians in many years has done."

The Presbyterians.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada, defines its position as follows:

"The question naturally arises as to how far a political party should be expected to go in order to deter the support of those who have been enlisted in the fight against the liquor traffic. In our view it would be useless to appeal to the anti-liquor element of the community with any policy short of the complete banishment of the public bar. (Later.) The policy announced by Mr. N. W. Rowell is so far in line with what the Presbyterian has constantly advocated for years past, that we cannot but approve and applaud it. The bar is intrinsically evil, it attracts to itself what is worst in the community where it exists, and becomes a breeding ground for every form of wickedness. The abolition of the bar would not only wipe out at once the greater part of the liquor business, but would make it easier to get rid of the residue."

The Baptists.

The Canadian Baptist said: "Banish the bar" has been the cry of some people for a considerable time, but not until last week was it announced in Ontario as a plank in a political platform. To us it is glad tidings, coming as it does from the lips and heart of the new Liberal leader, Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., who thus declares himself as a great and warm friend of the temperance movement, and as one who is ready to lead a mighty campaign against, perhaps, the strongest foe of the temperance movement, namely, the barroom, or in other words, the treating system. Had the Premier of Ontario introduced such a measure, we can only say that we would have received our hearty support in that respect at least. Temperance people of all shades of politics will surely join hands in seeking the banishment of the bar, which, if it does not mean the entire prohibition of the liquor traffic, means very much toward the overthrow of that traffic."

The Roman Catholics.

Rev. Father Minehan, of the Roman Catholic Church, said:

"For my part I do not believe it will be necessary to go to this extreme (speaking of prohibition). I believe that the spiritual column of the liquor curse is the barroom. Practically every drunkard with whom I have been brought in contact received his initiation in the barroom, and graduated from that seminary of drunkenness.

"It may be said that if you close the barroom a man may bring liquor home and enter upon a debauch. Yes, he can, but the number of men who will avail at home is, according to my observation, very small, and their number will grow smaller as their number in the barroom is cut off, for they are mainly barroom products. Rarely have I seen the police man drive up to the door of a home, where I have seen it on its gloomy errand it is generally going towards or coming from some barroom. When I meet any member of my flock who has been in this confession: 'Father, I did not intend to get drunk; pressed me to have a drink with them. I had to order my treat like the rest, and the moment we had two or three rounds of drink we are all ready to sing. We Won't Go Home Until Morning.' And sure enough some of us did not go home until morning, or until well on to noon, for we found ourselves figuring in the daily parade of drunks that interview the police magistrate."

The Anglicans.

At the meeting of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, held in Ottawa in 1908, the following resolution was adopted:

"In dealing over the several provinces of the Dominion, it is manifest that there is a great consensus of opinion concerning the bar under the present licensing system, namely, that it is a public menace, and that your committee would urge upon the synod that it is the duty of every man to endeavor to further the effort to abolish the bar."

ALLIES VICTORS IN THE FIRST STAGE OF BALKAN WAR

Bulgarians and Greeks Have Carried Out Successfully Part in Operations.

MONTENEGRO, GREECE FIGHT DESPERATELY

Battle For the Key of Adrianople Was Hand to Hand in Narrow Streets.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Bulgarian and Greek armies have carried successfully their part of the first stage of the war waged by the Balkan States against Turkey, by the capture of Kirk-Kiliseh, and the Turkish base in the town of Servia. Their allies, Montenegro and Servia, are now working to cut the Turkish share of the Balkan States.

The Bulgarians secured a lot of booty in the way of guns, ammunition and food at Kirk-Kiliseh, but particulars on this point as well as of the number of the prisoners of war have not yet been given out.

Even after the fortress was overcome by the fire of the Bulgarian artillery, fierce fighting took place in the streets of the town into which the Bulgarians effected their entry from the lower part.

Battle in Streets.

A special dispatch from Sana Zagra today says the battle was waged from street to street, every foot of the ground being obstinately contested.

The Turks on their part declare that the evacuation of Kirk-Kiliseh was a "strategic retreat," a phrase which became familiar during the Russian retreat in Manchuria. They still have a big army at Adrianople and along the line to Constantinople.

DIES FROM LOCKJAW

Robert Clark Sustained Slight Injury While Working in His Fields.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Forest, Oct. 25.—Robert Clark, aged 59, one of the best-known farmers of Boscawen Township, is dead at his home after a very brief illness with lockjaw. Recently while at work out in his fields, Mr. Clark scratched his hand very slightly on a rusty nail. He thought nothing of the wound until soon afterwards he developed lockjaw.

Mr. Clark was for 25 years a member of the school board. He leaves two sons, Hugh, of Warwick, and John, of Stettin, Alta., and five daughters, Mrs. Andrew Thompson, Mrs. Frank Campbell, and Misses Mary, Amy and Ida, all of Warwick.

The death occurred at his home last evening of Daniel Brodie, one of the pioneers of Warwick. He was 74 years old, and leaves three sons, George, Fred and Roy, and one daughter, Miss Tena, all of Warwick. Mr. Brodie, of Warwick, is another brother. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at Beechwood Cemetery.

The funeral of John McIntyre was held from his home in Boscawen yesterday to Sylvan Cemetery. An impressive service was conducted by Rev. James Foote. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Beer, Jesse Clements, Caleb Travis, James Trotter, Archibald McLarty and George Williamson.

TWO DIAZ OFFICERS
TRIED AND EXECUTED

Mexican Government Hands Out Summary Punishment to Captured Leaders.

[Canadian Press.]

Vera Cruz, Oct. 25.—Two of the captured officers of the staff of Felix Diaz were shot by the federal troops at half-past ten last evening, after being sentenced to death by summary court-martial. The execution was carried out with absolute secrecy. Their names were Major Zarate, and Major Cuesta.

Major Fernando Sarasa and Major Julian Villas are pleading on behalf of Diaz, who, according to military law, is liable to imprisonment for a term of from three to eight years.

Public opinion against Diaz is so strong that it is thought a sentence of death may be pronounced on him as well as on all the officers and government officials who joined his cause and were captured. The troops, however, who rebelled will, in all likelihood, not be punished.

Old Time Taffy-Pull Best Hallowe'en Fun

Some Good Recipes for Youthful Candy-Makers to Try.

There is perhaps no other form of Hallowe'en festivity which creates as much genuine fun for all, and little extra work for the hostess, as an old-fashioned "taffy pull." In issuing invitations, and for an informal affair of this nature, it is better to extend them verbally, request the girls to wear washable waists and old skirts, and the boys to come in their second-best suits. Anyone who has ever participated in the joys of taffy-pulling will appreciate the wisdom of this.

Some good taffy recipes are given below:

Molasses Taffy—Boil 1 quart of New Orleans molasses for 30 minutes in a large pan, so that it will run over, stirring constantly; then add half a teaspoon of baking soda and boil it to the "crack" degree; add 1 teaspoon of lemon juice and pour it into shallow, well-greased pans or on a platter to cool; when partly cool, it may be marked into squares or pulled to a golden color. This candy is nicer still if walnut meats are added.

Everton Taffy—To 1 pound of cream sugar add 1 teaspoon of water, cream one-quarter of a pound of butter, and when the sugar is dissolved, stir it in; flavor with a little vinegar, and when cooled, pull the "crack" degree, turn it into greased pans, break off into squares when nearly cold.

Honey Candy—Take 2 cups coffee A sugar, water enough to dissolve it, and 4 tablespoons of strained honey; boil until fairly thick, drop in cold water, stir in some nut kernels, and pour it to cool in greased pans, or instead, omit the nuts, and pull.

Caramels—Take 4 cups of brown sugar, 2 cups New Orleans molasses, half a cup milk, 2 cups Baker's chocolate (grated fine), and butter the size of an egg; stir all together, and boil slowly over a slow fire until it cracks when dropped in cold water, add vanilla flavor and turn it about half an inch deep into large flat, well-greased tin; when nearly cold, mark it deeply into squares with a greased knife. Break apart when cold and wrap in waxed paper.

In pulling the candy, have the hands well greased or some blistered skin will result.

followed will be found a fairly safe, conventional way.

12. The following should make a nice luncheon: Chicken and celery salad, slices of cold jellied fowl, sandwiches, a fruit jelly with whipped cream, cake, tea and coffee.

If the dining-room table is used, the tea and coffee can be poured at the table, but if the guests sit down at small tables the beverages can be poured in the kitchen or from a side table, and handed around on large trays. Press several of your friends to act as waitresses for serving the salad and meat, etc.

Recipe Forwarded.

Several kindly folks, including Subscriber, A. Constant Reader, and A. Reader, have supplied recipes for parsnip wine. They have seen duly forwarded to the lady who asked for the recipe some days ago.

A Coat Lining.

Dear Miss Grey: I could you please tell me in your column how I could tear a cream lining out of a coat, without removing it? 2. What do you think of my writing. Thanking you, respectfully, A. READER.

A.—1. A dry-cleaning will, magnesia or French chalk would probably help the appearance of the lining considerably, but I don't think you will get very satisfactory results without removing the lining entirely and washing it with soap and water.

2. It is a fairly clear hand, but rather "sawily."

Home Hints

SAVES THE ROLLER.

If a piece of sheeting or blanket is sewn tightly round the worn roller of a wringing machine, it saves the clothes from being marked or torn.

COOLING JELLIES.

To cool jellies stand the jelly mold in a bowl of water in which a handful of salt and the same of soda has been thrown.

TO KEEP EGG YOLKS.

When eggs are not required for immediate use, put the yolks in a basin and barely cover with cold water. Place a plate on the basin to exclude the air. Stand in a dark cool place until required for use.

SKIM THE FAT.

After boiling a piece of ham or bacon, the butter should be allowed to stand until cold and then skimmed for the fat. Press the water from the fat. It can be used for making pastry.

Royalty's Wedding Gifts

The British King and Queen sent beautiful pieces of jewelry as wedding presents to Lady Theo Acheson and Lady Marjorie Manners, both of whom were married recently. In the case of Lady Theo the present took the form of a pendant in blue enamel. The royal cipher in diamonds figures in the centre, and is surrounded by a wreath of laurel leaves in pearls and diamonds.

From Queen Alexandra she received a platinum and pearl chain supporting a large amethyst inlaid with the royal crown initial "A" in diamonds, while Princess Victoria sent an opal and diamond pendant brooch.

Lady Marjorie Manners present from the King and Queen also took the form of a pendant, in this case of pearls and diamonds on a gold and pearl chain, and from Queen Alexandra she received an exquisite little watch set with diamonds and hanging from a pearl and platinum chain. Prince Christian sent her a jeweled parasol handle, and Prince Henry of Battenberg an antique enamel buckle.

FALL EVENING GOWN.

A very attractive frock designed for a pretty girl with glorious dark red hair showed the popular little coat of taffetas. This was of pale yellow and white shot taffetas, trimmed around the low decollete with a double row of cut crystal beads. The elbow sleeves ended in three slender points, from which dangled little bunches of beads. The skirt with which this delightful little coat was worn was of white net over white satin, the net being slightly draped up at each side and caught with crystal tassels.

The Birthday Calendar

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You will take some journey with disappointment at the end of it, and some loss of money is indicated. It will be better for you to immediately interest yourself in something else, for you powerfully influence these around you, and a disturbed appearance on your part will only increase the trouble.

Those born today will be of unsettled disposition, and some will appear to have two natures, which are opposite. They should not be trained with the crowd, but their talents and faults should be carefully considered. Under a teacher of fine judgment these children will often develop wonderful creative genius. Untrained, they will become whimsical and purposeless.

Big Business by the Big Tailors

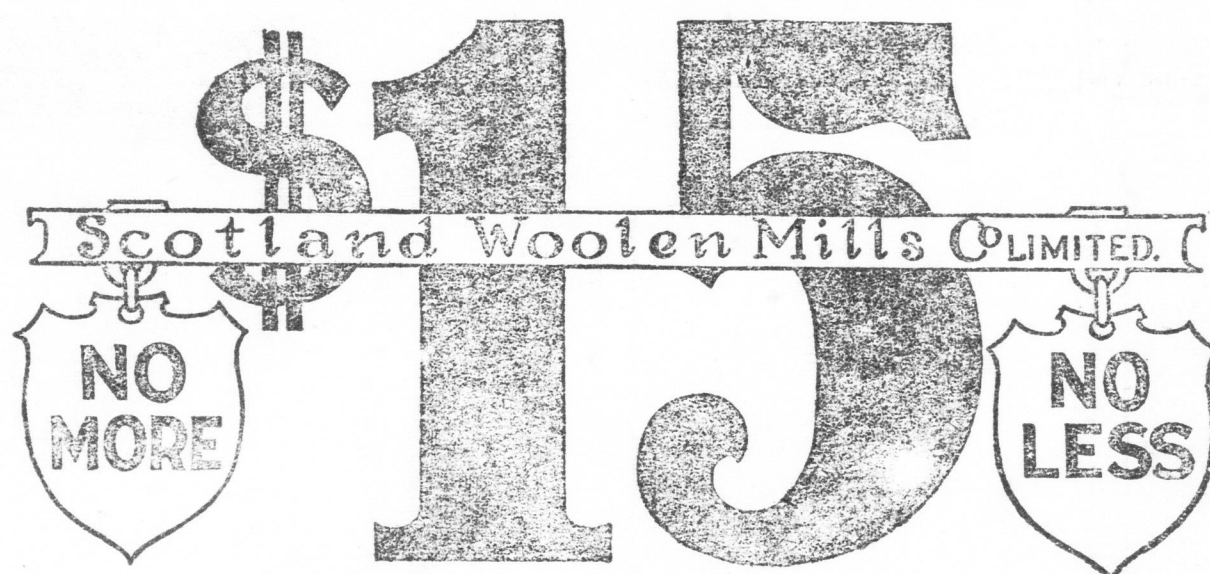

We did not have an advertisement in this paper last week simply for the reason that we were swamped with orders from our sale of two weeks ago. We have just recovered and are now in a position to accept all the demands that may come our way.

We might mention that on Saturday, three weeks ago, we received orders for two thousand one hundred Suits of Clothes and Overcoats. These clothes were sold in one day in the branches of the Scotland Woolen Mills Company in Canada.

What about a Stylish Overcoat? Nothing better in the matter of cloth than you'll find with us, and the tailoring and fit is guaranteed.

There are suitings and overcoatings in stock today that you cannot duplicate anywhere. These have been selected at the Mills as being all wool and heavy weaves suitable for a Canadian winter.

STATESMAN'S DUTY TO CURB TRAFFIC SAYS SIR JAMES

Leaders Called To Do All in Power Against Evil, He Tells Voters.

NO NEW STATEMENT IN ADDRESS AT THORNDALE

Says He Was Not Needed in Riding, But Does Not Tell Why He Came.

"It is the bounden duty of any statesman, if he is a good man, if he values British institutions, to do all in his power to minimize the evils of drink, and of the liquor traffic."—Sir James Whitney at Thorndale.

[By Staff Correspondent.]
Thorndale, Oct. 25.—Sir James Whitney broke into the East Middlesex campaign on Thursday evening here, when before a large gathering he spoke in his customary arrogant style, and was pleased to term Mr. Newton W. Rowell, the Opposition leader and promoter of the "Abolish the Bar" cause a "political fakir."

A special train from London carried about ninety people, but Sir James proceeded to the village over the Stratford branch from Toronto earlier in the evening.

Emerging from the private car Temagam, he was greeted by a number of men and boys carrying torch lights, and was escorted to the hall, where he was given an enthusiastic reception.

The Same Old Story.
Sir James refrained from furnishing the electors of Nissouri with any new subject for discussion, and merely reiterated all that had been said before by his numerous campaigners, who were dumped into the riding to assist George W. Neely some time ago.

Mr. Neely himself addressed the meeting briefly, but failed to incite his auditors to any riotous applause. Mr. Neely requested the support of the people at the polls on Monday next, and gave way to the Premier. At an overflow gathering he made reference inferentially to his personal standing in the community.

"Abolish the Bar."
"Abolish the Bar," cried a gentleman in the audience, as Hon. W. J. Hanna raised a glass of water to his lips preparatory to speaking.

In trying to account for what happened in East Middlesex on the last occasion, Mr. Hanna stated that he attributed the defeat of Neely to his own speaking in Thorndale on that occasion. However, he added more seriously, West Nissouri will be looked for different things on Monday next. Mr. Hanna, getting down to business, declared that he would endeavor chiefly to serve the purpose of a reminder. When Sir James was in Opposition he promised the people he would enforce the law.

How About Dufferin Park?
Gambling was then an evil, he said, but the Whitney Government, by law enforcement, has wiped out this cause for complaint.

This phase of the Government's virtues, he asserted, is most strongly emphasized in the liquor license department. Every session of the Legislature, without an exception in the seven, has seen amendments calculated to be in the interests of temperance. While there were those who stood opposed to the three-fifths clause some years ago, time had justified the enactment of this law, said Mr. Hanna. He further quoted Rev. Ben Spence as lauding the Government.

The Smyth Charges.
Referring to the charges of Former License Inspector James Smyth, of South Essex, who declared that he was removed from office through interference in the performance of his duties by the local member, Mr. Hanna asserted that no man will argue the question with him.

"If his charges are true," the speaker said, "I can only say that I am sorry that he did not better discharge his duty to me and my department than to permit any person to interfere with him in contravention of the rigid instructions with which he was furnished."

As he had previously stated, the Rowell "Abolish the Bar" policy was too far-reaching and too well spread out.

Sir James' Speech.

Mr. Rowell has been struck with deep emotion, opened Sir James, and the Liberal leader had pledged himself to remain with the crusade until the bar is abolished. The Premier informed the people that he has always taken a deep interest in the question commonly known as the temperance issue. There was no necessity for him to come into East Middlesex at this time, he said, in view of the fact that all people can read the papers, and know what is going on. He boasted that the Government has a unique record in having been sustained by large majorities on three successive occasions.

While in Opposition, the Government made several promises, many of which have been redeemed, he said. The Premier recounted several of the things undertaken or accomplished during the past three and a half years.

Workersmen's Compensation.
"This most remarkable gentleman,

Mr. Rowell," he said, "has gone to the trouble of reading up the report of Sir William Meredith on the workmen's compensation act, and has since gone about the country retailing this information as his own."

Sir James, having long since changed his views on Niagara power, which at one time threatened to cause Mr. Beck to leave the Government, referred in a boastful manner to the hydro scheme, which, he said, had now earned the enmities of the people. The Government's plan for provincial railways were for years defeated by the late Federal Government, he declared.

Claims Great Development.

The development of New Ontario is to be proceeded with. During the past year the development of the northern section of the Province has been phenomenal, he said. The attitude of the Government had been and will be to enforce the law, which states that English shall be the language in the schools of the Province. He reviewed the bilingual school matter, and was thoroughly satisfied with himself.

"It is the bounden duty of any statesman, if he is a good man, if he values British institutions, to do all in his power to minimize the evils of drink, and of the liquor traffic," pursued the Premier, quoting from several of his former addresses.

"I have done so, and will continue to do so, no matter what the result may be to me politically. The man who uses this question as a stalking horse for election purposes is nothing better than a political fakir."

Sir James' Early Defeats.

Sir James, going back into history, endeavored to show that he has "gone through the wars" himself on the same issue. When he first ran for the Legislature, he stated that he was defeated by 25, but that ten months later the member was unseated and Whitney took the place.

Reading from a record of which he said he had no personal knowledge he showed that in 1904 there were 32 liquor licenses in East Middlesex, and that in 1910 there were four. Sir James claimed to know that the Liberal party is not lined up behind Rowell on any portion of the Opposition leader's platform.

Not Easily Called.

"You know," came a voice from the audience, when Sir James asserted that "the public is no longer easily guided." The Canada temperance act, commonly known as the Scott act, and the local option law are still on the statute books, he reminded the electors, and are available for usage when the people so desire. In England a bill was introduced a week ago which is proposed to become operative in five years. This law provides that a local option system may be had there when thirty per cent of the voters favor the law, and the ballot cast have a three-fifths majority.

It is manifest, said Sir James, that Mr. Rowell does not propose the abolition of the shops with the bar. It will always be difficult to enforce a law that will go the limit for temperance, he said, because of the fact that liquor can be brought into Ontario and can be disposed of illicitly. In view of the fact that every man and every boy would be able to obtain liquor in small quantities at the shops the Canada temperance act and local option are the better remedies, especially so since the bar may thus be abolished, he endeavored to explain.

The Globe and Its Ads.

Sir James on some occasions expended time in clipping liquor advertisements from the Globe and pasting them upon the front page of an issue of that journal. This record was produced, the Premier quoting advertising rates to show that "boozing" money finds its way into the pockets of Mr. Rowell as a director of the Globe. This served some purpose as humor.

While Mr. Rowell was filled with emotion his paper circulated about the country, inviting young men and old men to drink to their damnation. He read from the Baptist Standard an extract placing blame upon the shoulders of any person who shared the profits of such advertising.

The Premier entertained his audience by reading from beer, whiskey and gin advertisements in the Globe, paragraphs that claimed about all conceivable advantages from the consumption of these beverages.

Under the present system it is impossible to carry on a government without parties, and he who says his party is always right is unfit to rule. The people are thus enabled to turn out any undesirable, and to invest others with power.

Fearful for Liberals Fate.

The Liberal party deserves a better fate from its history than is in store for it under the leadership of Mr. Rowell, declared the Premier.

Referring to four questions in Thursday's Globe, propounded by Mr.

Rowell, Mr. Whitney stated that they are incapable of being answered. "Rowell asks 'Why did you do such and such?' In reply I say that we cannot make answer because we never did such and such."

The Premier, as usual, was irritated by any talk from the audience, even should a remark come from a friendly Tory.

One instance of this occurred at the conclusion of Sir James' address.

"Mr. Rowell says you boss the whole crowd down there," commented a gentleman in the audience. "That is not the only thing he says, but I suppose that includes him," retorted Sir James.

Used Man From the North.

Following the Premier, Albert Grigg, M. P. P. of Algoma, delivered his election address already listened to in other portions of the riding. He again termed himself "the wild man from the north."

TWO TEAMS LAPPED
IN SIX DAY RACE

Terrific Sprint at Unexpected Moment Gives Six Teams an Advantage—
Only One Bad Spill.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The fourth day of the six-day race at the Arena was by far the best in point of competition. Sprints were frequent throughout the day, and during a big jam just before 6 o'clock, the Diefenbacher-Gardellini and Loftus-Coburn teams were lapped. This was the first lap gained since the start of the race. As a result six teams are now tied for first place. Drobach and Lawrence have moved up to seventh place, a lap behind the leaders. Diefenbacher and Gardellini are one lap behind, and Loftus and Coburn are two laps to the rear.

Ryan and Thomas were again the bear-keepers of the race throughout the day's racing, and were jumping continually.

In the sprint at the finish Jake Magin was the winner, with Ryan second and Lawrence third.

The Diefenbacher-Gardellini and Coburn-Loftus teams made many attempts to regain their lost laps, but were unsuccessful.

In a paced mile against time Elmer Collins rode in one minute forty-one and four-fifths seconds, which is the fastest mile that has been done on the track.

Kramer's exhibition quarter-mile was slower than usual. The best time was twenty-seven and one-half seconds.

In a half-mile motor race at two miles Jimmy Hunter defeated Charley Stein by less than a foot.

Thirty-second hour score:

BRITTON OUTPOINTED
BEANTOWN BATTLER

Bout Between Two Canadians Was Stopped in Fifth Round Owing to Heavy Punishment.

New York, Oct. 24.—Jack Britton, of Chicago, outpointed Freddie Duffy, of Boston, in a ten-round bout here tonight. While Duffy had the reach on Britton and is a rangy fighter, hard to get to, Britton had the better of him in every round but the fifth. In this round Duffy swung both hands to Britton's head and had the Chicagoan cowering up.

Jim Savare, the Orange, N. J., heavy-weight, and Bill Keating, of North Dakota, were scheduled to go six rounds, but Referee "Young" Corbett stopped the bout at the end of the first round after Savare had knocked Keating to the floor. When the latter arose he staggered about the ring until the bell, when the referee declared the bout ended.

The referee also stopped the scheduled six-round exhibition between Tommy Hudson, of Windsor, Ont., and Johnny McCracken, of Toronto, both bantams. Hudson punished McCracken severely, and at the end of the fifth round the Toronto lad was in such bad shape that the bout was stopped.

SNODGRASS TELLS HOW IT FEELS TO MUFF BALL

Was Frozen to Marrow When the Error Occurred.

Los Angeles, Oct. 24.—Fred Snodgrass, centre fielder for the New York Giants, whose muff of a fly ball in the tenth inning of the last game added the Boston Red Sox in winning the world's championship, arrived here today to spend the winter. He was accompanied by Art Stafer, utility infielder of the same team. Snodgrass will play with the Oxnard team during the winter.

Snodgrass said that he was "frozen to the marrow" when his fatal misplay occurred.

"I didn't seem to be able to hold the ball," he said. "It just dropped out of the glove, and that was all there was to it."

He said he was more sorry on Mathewson's account than his own.

Charles Hall, the Red Sox pitcher, is expected tomorrow. He will play with Ventura.

JOHN GANZEL HURT

Manager of Rochester Team Severely Cut About the Eye.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 24.—Manager John Ganzel, of the Rochester baseball club of the International League, was badly cut over the right eye today while hunting in the woods near here. He was brought to his home in Kalamazoo, and after receiving medical attention left at once for Rochester where he will be given special treatment. The injury is not expected to prove serious.

Billy Papke forced him to quit in the seventh round in a bout at Paris Tuesday night.

ABE ATTELL FOUGHT
A DRAW IN BOSTON

Former Featherweight Champ Was Held in Check by Jimmie Walsh, a Beantown Boxer.

Boston, Oct. 24.—Abe Attell, of San Francisco, former featherweight champion, and Jimmie Walsh, of Boston, fought twelve two-minute rounds to a draw before the Pilgrim Athletic Association tonight. Walsh insisted on the time of the rounds being shortened when Attell refused to get on the scales. The articles calling for both men to make weight.

Attell secured a lead in the early part of the contest by his lightning, frequently getting Walsh in a corner and beating a rapid tattoo on his stomach. After the seventh round Walsh kept the Californian at a distance with stiff left punches to the jaw.

KNOCKOUT BROWN

Bout Will Be Staged at Memphis in November.

AL KAUFMAN QUITS
THE RING FOR GOOD

New York, Oct. 24.—Al Kaufman, who was knocked out in two rounds by Luther McCarty at San Francisco last week, is through with the fighting game for good. When Kaufman reached his dressing-room after the battle he turned to his seconds and said:

"Well, boys, I have fought my last fight in the squared circle. When an inexperienced fighter like McCarty can stop me in two rounds I am satisfied that I am all in and should quit the game."

HAPPY THOUGHT

There is One Most Important Thing About a Stove

And that is this,—What heat value will it develop from the fuel you put into it?

Mind you, heat in the firebox does not count for anything. The heat must be in the oven or at the holes—where you need it for cooking.

So, when we say that from every ounce of fuel you put into a HAPPY THOUGHT you get the full return in heat value, we mean that you get something more than you get from other stoves.

A small fire in a HAPPY THOUGHT is equivalent to a big fire in a less efficient stove. It does more work. It saves you the difference in fuel.

That is the kind of saving that it pays you to invest in. A good stove is not a cheap article. It should be carefully selected. It should be chosen chiefly on this one point of greatest importance.

That is why a Quarter-Million Canadian women use the HAPPY THOUGHT every day.

Better! Even Better!

Think of any soup in the recipe-book—think of your favourite soup—arrange to have it for dinner to-day and make it better than ever before, like this:—

Prepare your soup in the ordinary way, and before you put it in to boil add a packet of "Edwards"—either the Brown, Tomato, or White variety.

When the soup is served you'll find it better and thicker and more nourishing; in short, you'll like your favourite soup so much better that you'll want to improve every Soup-recipe in the book by adding "A little Edwards." You can use Edwards' Soup as a basis for practically any soup you make. Although sold singly by itself, Edwards' Soup blends naturally with other soups that it seems like a part of the original recipe. Get a few packets of Edwards' Soup to-day.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS
5c. per packet.

Edwards' Desiccated Soups are made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

The Silent Barrier
(BY LOUIS TRACY.)

"You will stay at the Kursaal, of course," she said.

"Passing visit, or for a period?" I asked.

"Oh, no, I am glad to have met you. I mean to remain at Maloja until the end of August."

"Quite the right time. The rest of Switzerland is unbearable in August. You will find the hotel rather full. The Burnham-Joneses are here. The Burnhams know—and General and Mrs. Wragg and their family, and the de la Veres, comical husband and wife—three of them. Have you met the de la Veres? No? Well, don't be unhappy on Edith's account if Reginald flirts with you. She likes it."

"But perhaps I might not like it," laughed Helen.

"Bah, Reginald has such fascinating manners!" A sigh seemed to deplore the days of long ago, when Reginald's fascination might have displayed itself on her account.

Again there was a break in the flow of talk, and Helen began to take an interest in the scenery. Not to be balked, her inquisitor searched in a portmanteau attached to her left wrist with a strap, and produced a card.

"We may as well know each other's names," she cooed softly. "Here is my card."

Helen read, Mrs. H. de Courcy Vavasour, Villa Menhi, Nice.

"I am sorry," she said, with a friendly smile that might have disarmed prejudice, but in the hurry of my departure from London I packed my cards in my registered baggage. My name is Helen Wynton."

"Do you spell it with an 'e' or a 'y'?" the Englishman asked.

"No, 'y'—live in town, but my home is in Norfolk."

"And whose party will you join at the Maloja?"

Helen colored a little under this rigorous questioning.

"As I have already told you, Mrs. Vavasour, I am alone," she said. "Indeed, I have come here to do some literary work."

"For a newspaper?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Vavasour received this statement guardedly. If Helen was on the staff of an important journal, there was something to be gained by being cited in her articles as one of the important persons "sojourning" in the Engadine.

"It is really wonderful," she admitted, "how enterprising the great daily papers are nowadays."

Helen very new to a world of De Courcy Vavasours, and Wraggs, and Burnhams, and Joneses, and she was somewhat perturbed for the sake of the apparent sympathy of her catechist. And she was painfully candid.

"The weekly paper I represent is not at all well known," she explained, "but here I am, and I mean to enjoy my visit. It is the chance of a lifetime to be sent abroad on such a mission. I little dreamed a week since that I should be able to visit this beautiful country under the best conditions, without giving a thought to the cost."

Poor Helen! Had she delved in many volumes to obtain material that would condemn her in the eyes of the tuff hunter she was addressing, she could not have been so many conventions in so few words. She was poor, unknown, unfriended. Worse than these were her feet, she was positively attractive. Mrs. Vavasour almost smothered her in the thought of the son "missed" at Lucerne, the son who would arrive at Maloja on the morrow. In the company of someone whom he preferred to his mother as a fellow-traveler. What a pitfall she had escaped! She might have made a friend of this impossible person. Nevertheless, rendered wary by many social skirmishes, she did not declare war at once. The girl was too outlandish to be an adventuress. She must wait, and watch, and furnish her weapons.

Helen, whose brain was nimble enough to take in some of Mrs. Vavasour's innuendoes, hoped that the preliminary inquiries into her code were ended. She went into the corridor. A man made room for her with an alacrity that threatened an attempt to draw her into conversation, and she moved somewhat further away, and gave herself to thought. If this prying woman was a friend, she was a friend who was not to be trusted. The man in the high Alps held a suspicious resemblance to the girl in the water, here each street is a faction, and the clique in the "Terrace" is not on speaking terms with the clique in the "Gardens." Thus far, she owned to a feeling of disillusionment in many respects.

PHONE MELON TALK ON TORONTO STREET

Due to Recent Advance in Price of Company's Stock.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 24.—While the recent advance in the price of Bell Telephone stock has caused some talk of a coming melon, conservative traders point out that the final payments on the stock issue of last year were made only a short time ago, and with a recent bond issue of one and three-quarter millions, the company has all the money it needs.

Two reasons given for the advance in the stock are first, that the company has a plan in view of subdividing itself into a number of divisional companies, thus decentralizing responsibility with an expected increase in business, and a lessening of public hostility, and the other contemplating the absorption of a number of rural companies, but this latter is denied.

TURKEYS SCARCE

Only a Few Will Be Ready for Thanksgiving Market.

No Thanksgiving turkey! The dealers state that a great scarcity of this particular kind of fowl prevails, and it is impossible for them to order. With this condition of affairs it seems inevitable that the regular Thanksgiving dinner will be minus one of its leading features this year.

The local market itself is destitute of turkeys, but there are some ducks and chickens placed on sale. The cause assigned to this shortage in supply is the extremely wet season. The farmers, out of the impossibility of raising turkeys in some cases owing to the heavy rains, while many who have the much-desired birds have not yet marked condition. These turkeys, they state, will be ready in time for the Christmas trade, as it does not pay to kill the birds now, when they will fetch only the prices paid for cull stock.

Turkey is now selling at 25 cents a pound, and even if Turkey were procurable, the average bird would cost considerably over $3.00.

NEWSBOYS DECLARE WAR ON ALDERMEN

Board of Works Members in Danger of Losing This Vote.

WILL NOT GIVE UP YET

Daily Paper Merchants Turned Down When They Asked For Stand.

The newsboys are not acclaiming the present city council as the greatest that ever happened. It is all because of the fact that the board of works filed their request at the meeting held on Thursday evening to have places set apart for their accommodation during the winter. This policy is followed in other cities, and Tom McCullough, the king of the newsies, thought that London should keep pace with the development of other cities along this line, and should set apart a place for them.

Prospective Great Men.
Today the youngsters are discussing the attitude of the cold, unfeeling aldermen, whose hearts are not torn by visions of suffering lads, who are doing business daily for the accommodation of the public. Many great men, statesmen, poets, jockeys, pirates, police magistrates and the like have been recorded in the history of their lives how in early youth they carried the newspapers in their native city, clogging out a precarious livelihood in order that the world might have the news. Training as a newsboy is, of course, the foundation of future greatness. And now the board of works, cold, unfeeling and economical, have refused to build a harbor for these future-greats.

Keep Up the Fight.
The newsboys are disconsolate, but defeat is not in the vocabulary of any, and they intend to push their claims to the limit. The end of this agitation is not in sight, and some of the aldermen are trembling as they view the future and figure out what is going to happen to them at the hands of the distributors of regular news.

In other cities they have these places, declared Tom McCullough, the dean of the staff. "The city is big enough now for them, and the council should give us accommodation. We are not going to quit."

The juvenile auxiliary of the staff admired their spokesman, and declared they would stick to the leader right to the last ditch, or peanut stand, wherever it might be.

BURGLARS WOUNDED.

New York, Oct. 25.—A trail of blood, leading from the roof of a twelve-story loft building in West Twenty-sixth street, where dynamite had been used to effect an entrance to a far establishment on the top floor, led to the capture of two men, who had been shot and wounded by Patrolman Stagg on the roof of a loft building adjoining. The prisoners were charged with stealing cloaks and fur neckpieces valued at $8,000.

MRS. THOMAS DIVORCED.

New York, Oct. 25.—Justice Giegerich, in the supreme court today, signed a final decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Linda Lee Thomas against her husband, E. R. Thomas, banker and sportsman. No alimony was asked. Mrs. Thomas is authorized to resume her maiden name, and Thomas is forbidden to marry again in this state.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD RAN OFF WITH HORSE

Found Four Miles From Home in Machine Agent's Buggy.

While a sewing machine agent was in a neighbor's house advertising his wares Thursday afternoon, Willie Higgins, a 3-year-old boy who lives on Oak street, East London, took advantage of the agent's absence and utilized the horse and buggy and went for a drive.

His absence was not noticed, for some time, and later when pursuit was given and the outfit overaken, the boy had travelled to the first concession of the Township of Westminster, a distance of four miles from home.

OBEY LOCAL MEMBERS MR. HANNA'S EDICT

Mr. Smith Says Provincial Secretary Sent Instructions to Essex.

In reference to the statement of Hon. W. J. Hanna at Thorndale on Thursday night, that Mr. J. A. Smyth, of this city, a former license inspector in Essex County, should have been on enforcing the law despite the interference of the local member, Mr. Smyth had a stirring reply to make today.

"No one knows better than Mr. Hanna that it was through his personal direction that I was thwarted because I would not wink at the law," said Mr. Smyth. "I was informed by Mr. J. A. Stone, of South Essex, one of the Government's license inspectors, that Mr. Hanna had sent instructions that all inspectors must obey the local member. There is no doubt but that the whole license department is run as a political proposition. Mr. Hanna will have to do a good deal more explaining."

The Gadder Is On the Job

Travellers Don't Fear Strange Dishes—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Stand Anything.

A Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is Your Best Travelling Companion.

"Railroads tell you about the wonders of Nature along their lines; hotels describe their modern accommodations; but they never fail to ring in their 'cuisine unexcelled.' The wise traveller knows he is taking 'pot' luck when he leaves home, hence a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is quite as essential as many of the other travelling requisites."

Thus commented a philosophical travelling man, speaking of hotel life, restaurants, grills and junction lunch counters. "The agitations in this world," he continued, "are the result of one set of men trying to compel the other set to think and act against their own inclinations. It is the same in religion, politics and cars. I have learned from experience to eat what they serve; to forget the food experts, read the current news and jokes, and leave the stomach to the best expert in the world—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets." And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive action. Their component parts assist the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach, and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 20 cents a box, and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of it that's "just as good." Their unqualified merit and success and the universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of everyone.

BUILDERS INSPECT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Visit Included Many Practical Demonstrations, Even That of Cooking.

Forty delegates from the Builders' Exchange were shown over the Alexandra school and inspected the technical classes in the various departments of the industrial school on Thursday evening. Principal Beal and Trustee W. W. Gammon served as directors to the visitors, and gave lucid explanations of the different systems of training which the attending students were undertaking.

The delegates were highly delighted with the visit and had nothing but kind words to say of their hosts and the excellence of the training which the pupils receive.

After the inspection of at least ten departments of the school, the delegation met in the assembly hall of the school, where addresses were delivered by members of the trustee board and replied to by the visitors. Mr. Gammon spoke on the benefits of the technical education to children, and stated that all professions and trades were equally satisfied that the technical school was the proper stepping stone to a practical and useful life.

Trustee Dennis, when addressing the gathering, stated it was impossible for men of the present day to become captains of industry and merchant princes without some form of technical education, although this was not necessarily true in past ages. Modern men must have some knowledge of mechanics, hydrostatics and several other subjects in order to successfully compete against their fellows in this age of keen competition.

Other speakers were Principal Beal, Messrs. James Haslett, E. Russell, Charles Gould, M. F. Irwin and A. Martyn. During a lull in the program, a number of young ladies waited on the audience and gave a practical demonstration on the art of cooking and serving food. The menu consisted of cake and coffee and the delegates tendered the young ladies a hearty vote of thanks as a token of their appreciation.

MASSED PICKETING.

Little Falls, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Massed picketing was done this morning by the strikers at the various knitting mills under the big red banners of the Industrial Workers of the World. It was the first public appearance of the flag of that organization in the local strike. Several hundred strikers marched in front of the local mills as the employees were entering, and their hands played the Marseillaise. The native-born workmen, who have refused to strike, broke through the line of marchers at the mill gates and went to their work.

FINE FIGHTING SPEECH BY LIBERAL LEADER AT BIG BELMONT MEETING

Shows That the Government Is Allied With the Liquor Business Against Temperance Interest.

WHITNEY'S CAMPAIGN AN ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT "ABOLISH THE BAR"

Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.P.P., in his address to the electors at Belmont Thursday evening, arraigned the Whitney Administration for their failure to meet the proposals made by him in a frank manner, and also accused them of trying to beloud the issue in the campaign. In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to what his policy actually means, the portion of the speech referring to this question is given in full as follows:

The plank of the Liberal platform which William Sutherland, the independent candidate, has announced his intention of supporting is that of "Abolish the Bar." This very fact necessarily makes this the one outstanding and commanding issue in this contest.

SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT.

When I moved my resolution in the Legislature for the "Abolition of the Bar," I stated I knew the forces which would be arrayed against us in such a fight—that we would have opposed to us the best organized, strongest and most effective opposition that could possibly be brought forward, backed by all the money necessary, supplied by the liquor interests. We are now realizing the truth of this statement in this contest in East Middlesex.

When Sir James Whitney in speaking in the House in opposition to our policy of "Abolish the Bar," and in support of his own anti-treating policy, stated that:

"...within the last 48 hours it has been communicated to me by more than one man who is engaged today in the wholesale manufacture of ardent spirits, that they hope distinctly that legislation of this kind will be undertaken, because they want to see the treating habit destroyed."

No intelligent man could miss the significance and import of such a statement, or fail to realize the source from which the Government confidently expected to receive its strength and support.

THE MACHINE AT WORK.

Does anyone for a moment suppose that the Prime Minister and four other members of his Government, with five or six members of the Legislature, and at least four members of the Dominion Parliament are present in this constituency, which normally gives a substantial Conservative majority, solely for the purpose of preventing William Sutherland, an independent Conservative candidate, from filling out the balance of the term of his brother, the late Robert Sutherland? Does anyone for a moment suppose that the Conservative organization, headed by Mr. Birmingham, from Toronto, and manned throughout all the polling subdivisions of the riding, is here operating the political machine as it has never been operated before in East Middlesex, solely for the purpose of electing Mr. Neely, the Government candidate? Does anyone suppose that the liquor interests, with all the power and influence they can command, are allied with and supporting the Government in this contest simply to help swell the Government's majority in the House already so large as to be positively cumbersome?

WHITNEY'S ORDERS.

We all know that this combination of forces and influences—unprecedented, I believe, in the history of this province—is operating in this constituency for the purpose of defeating and if possible, discrediting our advanced temperance policy for the abolition of the bar. The word has gone forth, both from Queen's Park and from the liquor interests, that the man who stands up on our policy must be defeated, and the Government candidate, who opposes it, returned.

SOME BIG LESSONS.

We can learn some very important lessons from the situation in this riding:

First, the commanding importance of the issue we have raised;

Second, that the Government evidently believes the defeat of our policy to be vital to the continued existence of the Government;

Third, the Government and the liquor interests are combined together, working hand in glove to defeat our policy;

Fourth, they recognize that even such a combination cannot defeat us in a straight fight on the issue, and therefore throughout the whole riding the members of the Government and their supporters are dodging this question, and are seeking to divert the attention of the electors to other matters which are not an issue in this contest. They are seeking to discuss anything and everything except the "Abolition of the Bar."

Fifth, Conservative temperance men—men like Mr. Finch, chairman of the London Township Temperance Alliance, and others of like mind—are now realizing the character of the combination against us, and the real nature of the issue, and are rallying to our support.

ISSUE THE GREAT THING.

The issue is more important than candidates. It is bigger than party leaders. It is greater than party organizations. It touches the home, the family, the welfare of society and the state, and we know that in the end we must succeed.

Such a combination does not discourage us. We welcome it. We must locate our enemies before we can defeat them. This combination does not deter us one whit in the fight. It only makes us gird ourselves for a more strenuous struggle. It is a good thing that it has developed thus early in the contest throughout this province, because against such a combination and such an organization we now appeal in this constituency, and will appeal throughout the province to the honest, uncorrupted electorate, to men who put principle above party, who believe that the bar is a curse, and will unite with us to wipe it out.

I ask every Liberal elector in this riding, and every Conservative and Independent, who is opposed to the bar, to vote for our policy by voting for Mr. Sutherland on Monday next. Are you for the bar or against it? That is the question every elector must ask himself as he goes to the polls on Monday.

Union Stockyards.

TORONTO, Oct. 25.—Trade at the Union stockyards was less active yesterday than any day this week. The run, which was fairly heavy, consisted of light cattle for the most part, out of all portions to the demand, which is especially active for good heavy cows and feeders. The result was that some offerings were left over and prices were moved down on what was good for cattle. Better classed cattle remain steady in market values. While a few extra choice heifers sold at 6.25 per hundredweight, from $6 to $6.10 was given for good grades, and from $5.50 to $6 was paid for good, $5 to $5.50 for medium and $4 to $4.50 for common. Good cows brought from $4.50 to $5.25, medium from $4 to $4.50, and common from $3 to $4. Butcher's calves ranged from $1.50 to $1.75, while feeding bulls brought $2.50 to $4.25. Cows were worth from $1.50 to $2.50. Heavy stockers and feeders were quoted at $5.25 to $5.70, with mediums at $5 to $5.50. Milkers and springers were unchanged, the market being good for them. Despite the heavy run the small meat market has maintained its strength and prices have held firm. The trade in hogs has absorbed receipts as they came in. Prices of hogs ranged from $6 to $6.25, light ones from $5.75 to $5.90, with a few choice at $6, which is a little higher than values were at $5.80 to $6, with pigs at $4.50 to $4.75. Hogs remained firm, selling at $8.50 to $9.50, with roughs at $2.50 to $3.50, $5.50, $6 and $7.50, $8.50, $9.50, $10.50, $11.50, $12.50, $13.50, $14.50, $15.50, $16.50, $17.50, A HAPPY, LAUGHING

CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

If Cross, Irritable, Feverish,
Tongue Coated and Sick,
Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish. Mother! Examine the tongue! It means the little one's stomach is disordered. Inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving the delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides their deary love's delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children; being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

SUTTON-BROOKS

Pretty Wedding Was Solemnized at Bride's Home in Lambeth.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Brooks, Lambeth, on high noon, Wednesday, when Rev. S. McDonald, of Wallaceton, united in marriage, their only daughter, Letia Irene, and Milton Bert Sutton, youngest son of Mr. J. Sutton, Scotterville.

The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, and looked charming in a brown suit with black willow plume. The bridegroom was Miss Elsie Sutton, sister of the groom, and Mr. Floyd Brooks, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Appropriate music was rendered by Miss Daisy Brooks. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl necklace; to the bridesmaid, a pearl bar pin, and to the best man, a pearl pin.

After partaking of a dainty luncheon the happy couple left for points west. On their return they will reside in Scotterville.

At the hospital it was stated that an inquest would probably be held.

SPLENDID RECEPTION

FOR MR. FRIEDHEIM

His Unaffected Style and Wonderful Ability Captivated the Audience.

Mr. Arthur Friedheim added fresh laurels to his crown Thursday evening when he appeared for the first time before a London audience. Despite the unpleasant evening, the Auditorium was well filled, and Mr. Friedheim could certainly ask for no better reception than that accorded him by local music lovers.

At the conclusion of each of the three portions of his exceptionally well-arranged program, Mr. Friedheim was applauded repeatedly, and his audience would be satisfied with nothing else than an encore upon each occasion.

Mr. Russell G. McLean, who shared the honors of the evening, was found to possess a very pleasing baritone, but owing to a heavy cold could scarcely do himself justice and was obliged to omit two of his finest numbers. Nevertheless, he was warmly received. His rendition of "Invictus" and "The Snuggler's Song" was capital, and in lighter vein he pleased his hearers immensely with "Oie March Win" and "Munich's Song."

One thing especially pleasing about Mr. Friedheim's playing was its unaffectedness. There was none of the mannerisms or poses so often seen in a great artist. His skill at the piano is marvellous and displayed a rare understanding not only of the compositions of Liszt, with whom he studied for several years, but also of Beethoven, Chopin, and other great masters. Friedheim's wonderful sweep of octave and chord playing, and his brilliant finger-work were at all times superb. His second selection, Beethoven's Sonata Appassionata, and his final number from Liszt's Don Juan, gave ample scope for his marvellous technique and his playing, ranging from the softest of pianissimos to volumes of deepest sound.

Friedheim surely deserves his title of "artist" and his rare talent has placed him amongst the foremost ranks of pianists today. His hearers were certainly delighted.

FOURTEEN CARTS

FOR INCINERATION

Details of Proposed Scheme of Collection Submitted By Engineer.

HOW COST IS DIVIDED

Equipment for Gathering Garbage Will Require $10,000 of Amount Granted.

At the meeting of the board of works held Thursday night Engineer Brazier was instructed to make an immediate examination of the sidewalks, laid this year by Contractor Anthistle, and also those sidewalks which were laid in 1907, on which the guarantee expires this year.

Mr. Anthistle has been stopped from further work for the city until the engineer has reported upon those walks which he has already completed. Although City Solicitor Meredith states that the companies which laid the sidewalks are responsible for the repairs even after the time that their guarantee expires, if it can be proved that the specifications were not followed at the time of construction, the board of the opinion that an examination should be made this fall so as to avoid all possible chances of legal action.

Heating System for Hospital.

An application was received from the hospital trust asking that the hospital be heated by steam from the incinerator when that building is in operation, and that the city council take steps to have the piping system for the conducting of the steam from one building to the other installed as soon as possible. The total cost of such a system will be $11,000. Mr. S. L. Davis, local representative of the John-Manville Company, presented the plans of the system of his company, and Engineer Brazier was instructed to investigate and report at the next meeting of the committee.

Alid Moore and Mayor Graham will confer with the city solicitor and the finance committee as to the most satisfactory method of meeting this additional item of expense.

Equipment for Incinerator.

Engineer Brazier submitted a report on the garbage collection, in which he made a number of suggestions that will be seriously considered when that system is installed. Of the $50,000 set aside for the incinerator and the garbage system, $39,900 will be used for the construction and equipment of the building and $10,100 for the collection of the refuse. He suggested that the following equipment would be the most satisfactory, considering the amount of money at hand: Fourteen single-horse two-wheeled carts, $780; fourteen horses, $3,420; twelve sets of harness, $360; stables, $4,500; a boiler, $1,000, and buckets for collection, $40.

A special meeting of the council will be held this afternoon to consider the request of the company furnishing the equipment for the incinerator for a payment upon the presentation of the bill of lading. No record of the equipment which has arrived in the city has been received by the engineer, and the council was requested to furnish such a statement for the meeting this afternoon.

An assistant engineer will also be appointed at the meeting today, and Mr. Dumford, who is employed in the drainage department of the city engineer's office, Toronto, Mr. Dumford is highly recommended by Engineer Brazier.

No Stands for Newsboys.
A communication from the newsboys of the city requesting the council to furnish them with stands on the main streets, was filed.

Those present were: Chairman Robinson, Mayor Graham, Ald. Coles and Ald. Moore.

CANADIAN NORTHERN
MAY ENTER SARNIA

Rumor Is Causing Real Estate
To Go Higher Than Ever.

SARNIA BRANCH OFFICE,
209 Front Street,
Office hours, a.m. to 5:30 a.m., 8:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Oct. 25.—Now that it seems quite likely that the Canadian Northern is heading for Sarnia, the businessmen here are beginning to sit up and take notice. There has been much talk of the road coming here, but the matter has not been given any special attention, although there have been some who believed the line would eventually be brought to Sarnia. The addition of this road, together with that of the C. P. R., would mean a wonderful boom for Sarnia, and real estate will no doubt soar higher than ever.

MR. JAMES LOUGHEAD
STRICKEN SUDDENLY

Was One of the Pioneer Oil
Operators in Lambton
District.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Oct. 24.—James C. Loughead, aged 75, one of the oldest and best-known oilmen in the district, is dead at his home here, following a stroke of paralysis. He had been an invalid for some time.

Mr. Loughead was of Irish descent, his parents coming to this country in 1827, and settling in Prescott, Ont., where Mr. Loughead was born in 1837. In 1869 he settled in Oil Springs, and was one of the first to engage in the oil-producing business.
For more than forty years he operated in oil in different sections of Lambton. In 1885 he went to Australia, and there put down artesian wells, being the pioneer discoverer of fresh water in that region.

Mr. Loughead was predeceased by his wife in 1901. He is survived by four daughters—Mrs. Wm. J. Milligan, Miss Jennie Loughead, Mrs.
Robert W. Paul and Miss Nellie Loughead, and one son, Harry. Two sons, George and Fred, predeceased their father.

TEST LAKE WATER

Provincial Expert Taking Samples for the International Commission.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Oct. 25.—Mr. F. A. Dallyn, the expert from the provincial board of health, who arrived in town two days ago, will take samples from the waters of Lake Huron, St. Clair River and Lake St. Clair, for the international waterways commission. Mr.

Dallyn will start his work at the lake and gradually work down stream, taking samples from both sides of the river. It is of interest to note that the commission has decided to inquire into the condition of the water throughout this district, and the report will be awaited with interest by citizens here.

GET-RICH-QUICK MEN
DRIVEN INTO CANADA

Chased Out By U. S. They Commence Operations This Side of the Border.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Get-rich-quick men, who have been driven out of New York, Chicago, and other American cities by the activities of the postoffice department, have transferred their operations to Canada, according to advices received by the postoffice department officials. These advices came from the postal inspection service of the Dominion Government.

Many of the concerns put out of business in this country are operating in Canada from American cities
through the mails, and Postmaster-General Hitchcock is endeavoring to find a means of prosecuting them. He has promised the Canadian Government that he will co-operate heartily in the effort to protect citizens of the Dominion from the operations of these fraudulent concerns.

Since get-rich-quick concerns in the United States were practically wiped out through the efforts of the postoffice department and the department of justice, the agents of the postoffice inspection service have not relaxed their efforts to ascertain whether further attempts were being made to violate the postal laws. A few such efforts have been uncovered, but the get-rich-quick men were wary and have taken to cover at the first sign that the postoffice department was looking into their affairs.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock said today that he would be glad to place at the disposal of the Canadian postal authorities all the information that had been gathered about persons and fraudulent operators in this country who had been convicted in this country of using the mails illegally to obtain money from credulous people.

RUSS ADMIRAL SUICIDES

Remorse Over Accident to the Crown
Prince Said To Be the Cause.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—Rear-Admiral Chagin, commander of the Emperor of Russia's yacht Standart, committed suicide at his residence yesterday. The cause of his act is unknown.

It was reported at the time of the recent trouble among the sailors of the Russia Black Sea fleet that they had arranged a plot to seize the Stand-art while the Emperor and the imperial family were being conveyed from Yalta to Sebastopol. A large number of bluejackets were then arrested.

Members of Admiral Chagin's

family declared later in the day that Admiral Chagin killed himself with a rifle. He spent the previous night in writing letters to relatives. He left a note on the table saying: "I ask that no one shall be accused of my death."
He was a great favorite with the royal family. He led the Russian naval detachment at the relief of Pekin, and commanded the cruiser

Almaz at the battle of Tsushima.
Current rumors attribute Rear-Admiral Chagin's suicide to remorse over the illness of Crown Prince Alexis, which is reported to have been the result of an accident while the prince was aboard the Standart. It is said that the crown prince injured himself while imitating sailors diving, although it is positively affirmed that he slipped and fell in his bath.

DEER HUNTERS ARE GOING TO MUSKOKA

Ingersoll Nimrods Getting Ready
For Big Hunt In the North.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Oct. 25.—Local deer-hunters will soon leave for the hinterland. During the past few weeks they have been busy preparing for the outing, getting their dogs conditioned, making inquiries about the best game districts, and getting together the many accessories of a hunter's expedition. Most of the hunters of this neighborhood go into Muskoka or Parry Sound, and as a rule are very successful. There are a number of organized hunt clubs throughout neighboring districts, and the indications are that they will all be well represented when the dogs are turned loose to hunt up the deer.

Saturday evening the Ingersoll battalion of Boy Scouts will journey to Tillsonburg, where they will remain until Monday morning. A big time has been planned at the southern town, and the boys are looking forward to the Rumor Is Causing Real Estate To Go Higher Than Ever.

SARNIA BRANCH OFFICE,
209 Front Street.
Office hours, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Oct. 25.—Now that it seems quite likely that the Canadian Northern is heading for Sarnia, the business men here are beginning to sit up and take notice. There has been much talk of the road coming here, but the matter has not been given any special attention, although there have been some who believed the line would eventually be brought to Sarnia. The addition of this road, together with that of the C. P. R., would mean a wonderful boom for Sarnia, and real estate will no doubt soar higher than ever.

MR. JAMES LOUGHEAD
STRICKEN SUDDENLY

Was One of the Pioneer Oil Operators in Lambton District.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Oct. 24.—James C. Loughead, aged 75, one of the oldest and best-known oilmen in the district, is dead at his home here, following a stroke of paralysis. He had been an invalid for some time.

Mr. Loughead was of Irish descent, his parents coming to this country in 1827, and settling in Prescott, Ont., where Mr. Loughead was born in 1837. In 1860 he settled in Oil Springs, and was one of the first to engage in the oil-producing business. For more than forty years he operated in oil in different sections of Lambton. In 1885 he went to Australia, and there put down artesian wells, being the pioneer discoverer of fresh water in that region.

Mr. Loughead was predeceased by his wife in 1901. He is survived by four daughters—Mrs. Wm. J. Milligan, Miss Jennie Loughead, Mrs. Robert W. Paul and Miss Nellie Loughead, and one son, Harry. Two sons, George and Fred, predeceased their father.

GET-RICH-QUICK MEN

Chased Out By U. S. They Commence Operations This Side of the Border.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Get-rich-quick men, who have been driven out of New York, Chicago, and other American cities by the activities of the postoffice department, have transferred their operations to Canada, according to advice received by the postoffice department officials. These advice came from the postal inspection service of the Dominion Government.

Many of the concerns put out of business in this country are operating in Canada. American cities through the mails, and Postmaster-General Hitchcock is endeavoring to find a means of prosecuting them. He has promised the Canadian Government that he will co-operate heartily in the effort to protect citizens of the Dominion from the operations of these fraudulent concerns.

Since get-rich-quick concerns in the United States were practically wiped out through the efforts of the postoffice department and the department of justice, the agents of the postoffice inspection service have not relaxed their efforts to ascertain whether further attempts were being made to violate the postal laws. A few such efforts have been uncovered, but the get-rich-quick men were wary and have taken to cover at the first sign that the postoffice department was looking into their affairs.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock said today that he would be glad to place at the disposal of the Canadian postal authorities all the information that had been gathered about particular fraudulent operators and concerns who had been convicted in this country of using the mails illegally to obtain money from credulous people.

RUSS ADMIRAL SUICIDES

Remorse Over Accident to the Crown Prince Said To Be the Cause.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—Rear-Admiral Chagin, commander of the Emperor of Russia's yacht Standart, committed suicide at his residence yesterday. The cause of his act is unknown.

It was reported at the time of the recent trouble among the sailors of the Russia Black Sea fleet that they had arranged a plot to seize the Standart while the Emperor and the imperial family were being conveyed from Yalta to Sebastopol. A large number of bluejackets were then arrested.

family declared later in the day that Almaz at the battle of Tsushima. His suicide was due to a love affair. Current rumors attribute Rear-Admiral Chagin's suicide to remorse over the illness of Crown Prince Alexis, which is reported to have been the result of an accident while the prince was aboard the Standart. It is said that the crown prince injured himself while imitating sailors diving, although it is positively affirmed that he slipped and fell in his bath.

Admiral Chagin killed himself with a rifle. He spent the previous night in writing letters to relatives. He left a note on the table saying: "I ask that no one shall be accused of my death." He was a great favorite with the royal family. He led the Russian naval detachment at the relief of Peking, and commanded the cruiser

GOING TO MUSKOKA

Ingersoll Nimrods Getting Ready For Big Hunt In the North.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Oct. 25.—Local deer-hunters will soon leave for the hinterland. During the past few weeks they have been busy preparing for the out-ings, getting their dogs conditioned, making inquiries about the best game districts, and getting together the many accessories of a hunter's expedition. Most of the hunters of this neighborhood go into Muskoka or Parry Sound, and as a rule are very successful. There are a number of organized hunt clubs throughout neighboring districts, and the indications are that they will all be well represented when the dogs are turned loose to hunt up the deer.

Saturday evening the Ingersoll battalion of Boy Scouts will journey to Tillsonburg, where they will remain until Monday morning. A big time has been planned at the southern town, and the boys are looking forward to the outing with the keenest interest. Arrangements have been made whereby they will sleep in the uptown ticket office of the C. P. R., which will be well lighted and heated.

BECKER APPEALS FOR NEW TRIAL

Is Confident of Being Acquitted Before a Higher Court.

TRIAL OF THE GUNMEN

Actual Slayers of Rosenthal Will Now Be Prosecuted by Whitman.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Oct. 25.—"I am sorry the jury found as they did," was Lieut. Charles Becker's only comment to his jailer this morning, as the convicted man sat on the edge of his prison cot with his chin resting in his cupped hands. The iron nerve which stood by him throughout the ordeal of the 15-day trial did not desert him today, and his bearing was as firm and steady as at any time during the proceedings in the court room.

Becker's coolness may be partly accounted for by his confidence that an appeal will mean a reversal, followed by a new trial and a retrial. Before he was taken to his cell from the court room, he said to friends seated near him: "Have no fear, this case is not ended yet. There will be a new trial, and I will be tried again at a time when public clamor does not demand a victim. Then I am sure I will be acquitted. I do not believe that in these present proceedings I have had the fair and impartial trial which is guaranteed to all men under our laws."

Ask for New Trial. The work of drawing up the papers in the motion for a new trial will begin at once, and the documents will be placed before the court of appeals within a few days. Lloyd P. Striker, of Becker's counsel, said today that the appeal would probably take a year's time. John F. McIntyre, Becker's chief counsel, was confident of success in this action. There is not the slightest doubt, he said, that there will be a reversal of the verdict in a higher court. Basis for the appeal will be found in the hundreds of objections and exceptions raised by the defence in the course of the trial.

Sentence on Wednesday. Becker will be arraigned in court on Wednesday next, and at that time sentence of death will be pronounced. It was declared this morning that the jury arrived at its verdict of first degree murder after only three formal ballots. At no time during the eight days of deliberation was there a question of Becker's guilt—the only matter of debate being as to whether the verdict should be for first degree murder, meaning death of the prisoner, or second degree murder, which is punishable by life imprisonment. It was said that the first ballot showed eight of the jurors for conviction in the first degree, while on the second poll all but one of the twelve were agreed. The final ballot, taken shortly before midnight, was unanimous for a verdict of first degree murder.

District Attorney Whitman will now turn his attention to the cases of the gunmen of the Rosenthal murder, who must be tried before the same special term of court. They have all asked for special trials, but it is believed that Becker's conviction will make their trials something not much more than legal formalities.

A record in criminal trials in this city has been established by the prompt disposition of the Becker case. Although it was one of the most important and momentous cases ever called to trial here, it was disposed of in fifteen days, during which time 3,000 pages of testimony was taken and 97 witnesses examined. The cost of the trial will reach a total far less than that of most big criminal cases, it is said. The large, single item of expense was for running a witness from England. This item was about $2,000. The cost of running the court is figured at about $700 a day, while the expense of paying and caring for the jury was about $200 a day.

BIG CONFERENCE OF CARPENTERS SATURDAY

Organizers Will Seek to Strengthen Workmen in London.

Delegates from the thirty local unions of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners are to meet here on Saturday. The report of the delegates to the biennial convention of the United Brotherhood, just closed at Washington, D.C., and also the report of their representatives, who attended the recent Canadian Trades and Labor Congress at Guelph, will be received.

Arthur Martel, of Montreal, the international executive board member, representing the Canadian division of the U. B. C., is already in the city, as is also Tom Moore, the general organizer for Ontario of the United Brotherhood. Close upon a hundred delegates are expected here. Since the last meeting of this conference board held in Hamilton, new local unions of the brotherhood have been formed in Windsor, Stratford, Owen Sound, Ridgeway and Smiths Falls, which, along with the added membership of the present unions, shows an increase of over 1,000 in Ontario during the past six months. London has always been considerably behind the other important cities in this province, and a vigorous campaign is to be carried on to alter this condition for the season of 1913.

With this object in view an open meeting has been called for Friday evening, when many of the delegates from other cities will have a few things to say to the carpenters of London.

MEETINGS AT EALING AND CHELSEA GREEN

Speakers From the North Deal With Political Questions.

While Sir James Whitney, Hon. W. J. Hanna and others of the heavy artillery were speaking at Thorndale, two meetings were held in the interests of Mr. Neely, at Ealing and Chelsea Green, addressed by A. H. Musgrave, M. P. P. Wingham, Dr. Coleridge, of Ingersoll, and Mayor Spotton, of Wingham. The supply of orators was not so large as on previous occasions, and the speakers of the evening had to do double duty.

At Ealing, Mr. W. Haines presided. Mr. A. H. Musgrave was the first speaker, dealing generally with the record of the Whitney Government. No charges, he said, could be brought against it, and good legislation had been placed on the statute books. He announced that the Government would

Dr. Coleridge spent some time in explaining the bilingual school question, claiming that Sir James Whitney had settled the question in the best interests of the Province of Ontario.

The speaker spent some time in explaining that he did not say that Mr. Sutherland had signed the letter accepting the abolition of the bar policy at the suggestion of Mr. J. M. McEvoy. What he meant to say was that Mr. McEvoy had explained Mr. Sutherland's attitude, and later had signed the document.

Mayor Spotton spent the most of his time in telling the audience that independent in the House were rather dangerous beings, and that Mr. Wm.

Sutherland was not so independent as he might be. Mayor Spotton desired a candidate who would support the party, no matter where it led.

The same speeches were delivered at the Chelsea Green meeting. Both were fairly well attended.

B. Y. P. W. RALLY

Big Gathering To Be Held at Sarnia Thanksgiving Day.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 26.—The annual rally of the Baptist Young People's Unions of Lambton and Middlesex will be held here on Thanksgiving Day. It is expected that the rally will be very largely attended.

Addresses will be given by Mr. W. Darling, Petrolia, and Miss Mildred Adams, B.A., of London, while Miss Lou Stathan, of Stratford, will conduct a conference on teacher-training courses. In the evening an address will also be given by Rev. J. D. McLachlan, of Stratford.

SILVER PRICES UP.

New York, Oct. 24.—Owing to increase in the price of silver bullion manufacturers of sterling silver flatware have advanced the price of spoons, forks and tableware approximately ten per cent.

In January last silver bars were quoted in the New York market at 57 cents an ounce. The price today is slightly above 65 cents an ounce. The reason given for the upward movement is the fact that the Indian Government has come into the market as a heavy buyer of silver bullion.

PUTNAM'S CORN EXTRACTOR CURED LETTER-CARRIERS' CORN

Mr. J. McGuire, of the Kingston, Ont., postoffice, says: "I was almost crippled with corns. They made me so lame and sore I could scarcely walk. I used a number of remedies but got no relief. Fortunately I tried Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. A few applications perfectly cured my corns. I recommend Putnam's Corn Extractor." Price 25c. at druggists.
