PASTOR HITS HUGHES BY PLAIN CRITICISM OF PASSION FOR SHOW

Tells of Hardships Endured for Glorification of Sir Sam.

SORROWFUL CONSEQUENCE

General Impression That Recent Review at Borden Was Not Necessary.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, July 17. — The pulpit is speaking out on recent military matters. Preaching to a large congregation at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Niagara, yesterday, the pastor, Rev. A. F. MacGregor, who has done much pastoral work among the soldiers at camp, dealt in plain-spoken words with the recent visit of Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, to Camp Borden, and the hardships the soldiers at that camp were called upon to endure. Mr. MacGregor's words were all the more effective because of their evident restraint.

Passion for Parade. "In military life," said Rev. Mr. MacGregor, "the passion for parade is at times very plainly in evidence. Last Tuesday there was a great parade at Camp Borden. The heat was excessive. There were clouds of dust and a lack of the necessities for marching men—food, water, and shade. The good custom should be for the day to be put aside. But, no, and with sorrowful consequences. One soldier put out of life, numbers made ill, even to prostration. A bitter feeling engendered, a loss of the respect which a superior officer should always merit, and receive, from those under him, and the loss imposed on other officers of explaining a very unpleasant situation."

Was It Necessary? "In the unreasoning of the new camp, of the day, was an exacting parade an absolute necessity? The general impression is that it was not. After pointing out that one of the attending evils of war is a lowering of the valuation of human life, the speaker said: "It is awfully possible that the very heart of a man may be eaten away by the vanities and pride of a passing hour. The passion for outward show is costing too much today. We ought to protest against any and every violation of the law of kindness and consideration. The passion for outward show is costing too much today. We ought to protest against any and every violation of the law of kindness and consideration. PARADE REPORTS AT CAMP BORDEN ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

All Sorts of Wild Rumors in Circulation Among Troops.

NEWS MAY BE CENSORED

Looks as if Ottawa Has Gone Over Heads of the Staff.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CAMP BORDEN, July 17.—The real news of Camp Borden this week will be the parade statements of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The camp a week after the disturbance is still more or less unsettled, and it is with considerable anxiety that the headquarters staff await the results of allowing 11,000 men to go away over the week-end.

The parade statement today shows that of 1,023 men absent Saturday without leave, but 37 have returned to the camp. The regular trains today brought varying numbers of soldiers home, but as the great majority are on leave until Tuesday, there will be no information along these lines until tomorrow at the earliest.

Many Wild Rumors. The presence in camp today of officers from the intelligence department at Ottawa has given rise to another flock of wild rumors. It is said that there will be wholesale arrests, that certain officers are to be cashiered, that men who took part in last week's disturbance are to be up on the carpet, etc. On these Gen. Logie will not make any comment.

Asked tonight by The Advertiser if the newspaper copy from the camp from now on would go through the hands of a censor, General Logie replied, "Well gentlemen, I know nothing of it, but I am sorry for you professionally, I myself am in favor of publicity."

At any rate the newspapers are at more or less inconvenience to gather even routine matter today, and it looks tonight as if Ottawa had again gone over the heads of the headquarters staff here in an effort to make Borden a wartime camp.

Significant Lecture. Col. Bickford's general staff handed to the press today his lecture on discipline given to the officers of the new camp "two days after the disturbance last week. The lecture is significant in view of the establishment at this time of this huge training army and from many points of view it is a new regime of training for the Canadian army is about to be inaugurated.

Col. Bickford made it plain that discipline was founded on respect, and this respect could only be obtained by officers taking every care of their men, knowing their job, listening to every complaint, and insuring that no injustice occurs. They must satisfy themselves that the men are properly fed, clothed, and comfortable. Officers should not be too familiar with their men.

Esprit de Corps. Cultivation of esprit de corps as the highest form of discipline was marked by Col. Bickford. "If your men have esprit de corps, which is pride in their corps, pride in themselves will follow. While it is necessary to impress on them that orders must be obeyed yet treat minor laxity gently at first. Minor laxity among the men who are here today is generally caused through ignorance, and my experience with our present Canadian soldiers has been that they are only too willing to do anything they are told, especially if the order is from a superior officer."

It is far better to explain the object of anything you are about to do to your men. It will obtain to you a more instant and ready compliance. Saluting, correct acknowledgment, punctuality, mess discipline and co-operation were the other points dealt with by Col. Bickford.

Sapper Baker Writes of Narrow Escapes From Death At Front.

"Keep the home fires burning and the pots a-boiling, for there's a hungry eye some place in Belgium," is the message of Sapper Charles E. Baker, late of 7th Field Company, Canadian Engineers, wrote to his mother, Mrs. R. Baker, 114 Aylmer street, London.

Previous to enlisting, Sapper Baker was a fireman at Labatt's brewery and left Ottawa on August 18 of last year with a detachment of engineers for overseas service.

In the course of his letter, Sapper Baker said: "Well, I am glad to say that I have come through all right, but we were right in the thick of the business on the 13th. But I must leave that to you to come home to tell you. Seven of us were buried three times, and men killed on each side of us, but we were spared."

Telling how grateful he has been for parcels of "gravy" sent home and from friends and for smokers, he adds: "Well, cheery ho, and when you are having your Sunday dinner, think of me. I think of that dinner every time Sunday comes round."

NEW BRITISH RIFLE SAID TO CONTAIN EVERY GOOD PART

Has Component Features of All Army Guns.

PICKS ONLY BEST OF EACH

Enfield Is Considered Best Shooting Weapon Ever Issued to Soldiers.

Reports reaching London from time to time indicate that the imperial overseas forces of the British army will be armed with a new rifle, the old Ross and Lee-Enfield being discarded.

The new arm, which is said to be 28 in. instead of 303 calibre, is to be known as the "Enfield," and to embrace all the best features of the different rifles in use in the various armies today. The good points of the Ross, Lee-Enfield, Springfield, Mauser, Lebel and Mannlicher are embodied in the Enfield. It will be about the length of the present short Lee-Enfield, will have a higher muzzle velocity, and consequently a flatter trajectory. Its penetrating qualities will be higher than that of any weapon now in use.

As a result of the change, it is stated that hundreds of millions of rounds of cartridges will be rendered useless, and thousands of machines will be scrapped or altered to manufacture the new rifle and ammunition.

Rifle experts have long been of the opinion that the rifle in use in the Roumanian army is the ideal weapon for all army uses.

It is a composite of Mauser bolt action, the best of the smaller features of other makers. The new weapon, it is said, surpasses even the Roumanian in general efficiency.

Military men are strongly in favor of a standard arm for all imperial forces.

It is claimed that the Ross rifle factory can readily be adapted to the manufacture of the new weapon.

LITTLE STORIES OF CAMP BORDEN

Weekly route marches of all brigades have been ordered. These marches are to be held on Friday afternoons, and on some occasions the work may involve combined movements of all brigades.

In order to provide bathing ponds, work was started today on a "lake" at the junction of the Bear Creek and Pine River. The "lake" will be a mile and a half in length.

The Duke of Connaught is to present colors to the 142nd Battalion on behalf of Sir Adam Beck when he visits the camp in the near future, it is reported.

It is said that the visit of the Duke will be in the nature of a valedictory inspection of Canadian troops before he returns to the old country.

It is reported that Ottawa is endeavoring to secure evidence against some Toronto officers in connection with the trouble of a week ago Monday night. The investigators from the capital are still in the camp, despite Gen. Logie's promise of immunity to the men involved in the riots.

Latest reports from the big camp say that the 110th is still busy in getting its quarters and lines into proper shape. The 110th, as will be remembered, was requested to remain in London for two weeks by Brig.-Gen. W. A. Logie, and the next day ordered into the Camp Borden lines by orders from Ottawa.

Water consumption is still going on at the rate of 50 gallons per man per day. Waste is alleged by the officers in charge of the pumping plants, but it is claimed that there is an adequate supply.

The men of Camp Borden are going through the sieges of measles and mumps that put the 142nd Battalion in a state of quarantine for so long. A number of cases have been sent to the camp hospital from these diseases.

Further medical officers have been added to the hospital staff, which now numbers 90.

To separate the freight and express traffic, a big new freight house is to be built at the C.A.S.C. Supply depot. This will also relieve congestion of traffic from across the lines to the station.

The big camp bakery is still idle because of shortage of bakers. The camp commandant threatens to cancel the contract of a Toronto baking firm unless greater care is taken in packing. Out of 20 cases received on Sunday, eleven were condemned because the bread had been put in the cardboard cases while still warm.

THREE OFFICERS OF THE MIDDLESEX UNIT ARE GRANTED LEAVE

Orders Issued by Gen. Logie at Camp Borden.

TELEGRAPHERS NEEDED

Those Who Have Enlisted To Be Transferred to Signal Company.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CAMP BORDEN, July 17.—An order noted in the official statement sent out by Gen. Logie to the units in training here today is headed: "Reinforcements for C. E. F., and doubtless has significant bearing on the fact that there are but four of the thirty-five battalions up to strength. The note was as follows:

"It is notified for the information of all concerned that battalions of the C. E. F. when they are sent overseas will be lacking upon arrival in England for bayonet fighting is out of bounds for all civilians. Officers' bayonet fighting parades will see that this order is adhered to."

Leave for Officers. The undermentioned officers are granted leave of absence: Lieut. G. H. Singleton, 135th Battalion; Major F. Tamm, 135th Battalion; Lieut. J. P. Hamilton, 135th Battalion; Lieut. J. P. Osborne, 176th Battalion.

It is notified for the information of all concerned that battalions of the C. E. F. when they are sent overseas will be lacking upon arrival in England for bayonet fighting is out of bounds for all civilians. Officers' bayonet fighting parades will see that this order is adhered to."

The practice of officers leaving camp at any time without first having obtained proper leave must be discontinued at once. Brigadiers are authorized to grant week-end leave to officers up to twenty per cent of the authorized establishment of each unit. Officers not obtaining this leave must obtain permission from their brigadier before leaving camp.

Brigadiers will exercise this privilege sparingly, and must at all times have knowledge where such officers are and where they can be found. Preference must be given to married men to go out of camp.

Leave for Harvesting. With reference to C. E. F. order No. 16, dated July 12, applications of officers for harvesting leave must be forwarded to this office for submission to militia headquarters, Ottawa, at least one week prior to commencement of such leave. Owing to the scarcity of telegraph operators available for military purposes, and the great number of operators required in the divisional signal companies, all operators who have already enlisted in the various C. E. F. units are to be transferred to the divisional signal company as required. Commanding officers will please submit to this office the names of the telegraph operators serving in their units.

Colors of 33rd TO STAY IN CATHEDRAL UNTIL WAR IS OVER

Will Be Kept in Famous Canterbury Church.

33RD AND 34TH "DYING"

Units Being Absorbed Into 36th—Officers Going to France.

Colors of the 33rd Battalion have been taken to Canterbury Cathedral in England, and will remain there until the war is over when they are to be returned to Canada. This is the information contained in a letter sent out from one of the former members of the unit who is now in the old country.

The unofficial announcement is made in a letter that the 33rd and the 34th are both slated to "die." In other words they will cease to exist. The 33rd still is in existence as a reserve battalion, but it is claimed that it will be deprived of even that distinction.

Writing under the date of July 5 to a member of The Advertiser staff, this former member of the 33rd says: "A big reorganization is under way, and I guess that the 33rd and the 34th will lie. Major Bywater is going to France with the 55th; Major Ashplant with the 1st; Major Wilby with the 4th; C. M. R.; Major Thornley with the 1st Pioneer; Capt. Muir to the 2nd; Capt. Sloan to the 2nd, and Lieut. McCrae to the 2nd. Capt. Mercer, Gaudin, Fourbister had it out. McQueen are all that remain in England except Capt. Richmond, and he will be warned for France shortly."

Speaking of the officers of the 34th, the writer says that Lieut.-Col. Douglas, who crossed as second in command, has been appointed to the 1st Battalion, and that Majors Livingstone, Fletcher and McKenzie are also going across. Capt. McCrae, who was the efficient adjutant of the 34th, is said to be slated for a company command in the 36th Reserve Battalion, which is slated to absorb both the 33rd and 34th.

Col. Andy Oliver of the 34th is still without an appointment, and is expected to be sent back to Canada for training purposes. He has been at the front, and will likely be made a brigadier, it is said, if he returns to Canada. Capt. Martyn, quartermaster of the 34th, is transferring to another unit.

ADVERTISER WANTED BY MEN IN CAMP BORDEN

Want to Know Why Papers Sent Are Not Delivered.

The members of the 135th Battalion and other units are complaining that not a copy of The London Advertiser has reached them since they went to Camp Borden. Several of them came into the office to find out the reason.

"A number of us read The Advertiser and we wonder how it is that we do not get the paper," said one of the officers. "We do not think it fair that we should be deprived of the newspaper just because we have been sent to camp."

Just because we have been sent to camp. Hundreds of copies of The Advertiser have been sent to the camp daily since the troops have been moved to that section.

There must be something radically wrong in the method of handling mail in that section. There have been no complaints about Conservative newspapers not having been delivered, so far as can be learned.

CZAR'S CAVALRY ARE NOW MAKING ADVANCE FAR INTO HUNGARY

Crossing Hills on Kirlibaba-Marmaroksisget Road.

BIG VICTORY IN VOLHYNIA

Thirteen Thousand Prisoners Taken in Latest Thrust.

Besides defeating the Austro-German forces in Volhynia and continuing their advance, the Russians have commenced an invasion of Hungary with cavalry forces which appear to be well through the Carpathian Mountains. The official communication issued from Russian general headquarters yesterday, contained the announcement that cavalry had advanced along the Kirlibaba-Marmaroksisget road, Kirlibaba is in the Carpathians, northwest of Kimpelung. Marmaroksisget is in Hungary, 40 miles south of Jankontza pass, which Russian troops are approaching on the Galician side.

PRISONERS STILL COMING IN.

PETROGRAD, July 17.—Via London, July 18.—2:28 p.m.—The official communication issued from general headquarters yesterday, contained the announcement that a "Zeppelin appeared yesterday above Riga and threw thirteen bombs on the lower part of the town."

"In Volhynia, in the region of the lower Lipa, our troops continue to press the enemy. Prisoners are still coming in."

"Northwest of Kimpelung, our cavalry have advanced along the Kirlibaba-Marmaroksisget road."

The emperor has sent the following telegram to Grand Duke Michael at Tiflis:

"With joy I learn you have assumed the offensive. Regarding victories gained by our Caucasian heroes, give them my warm thanks and my confidence in their future determined devotion."

The official announcement made in the afternoon follows:

Foe's Resistance Broken.
"In Volhynia, to the east and southeast of Sushni (Sushlitsky) village, our brave troops, under Gen. Sakaroff have broken down the resistance of the enemy. In battles in the region of Pustomyr more than 1,000 German and Austrian prisoners have been taken, together with three light guns, two heavy guns, machine guns and much other military booty. In these battles, brave Gen. Vladimir Dragmireff was wounded in the leg by a shrapnel splinter."

"In the region of the Lower Lipa our successful advance continues. The enemy is making a stubborn resistance. In battles in this region we took prisoners or 225 officers and 5,372 men. We also captured 24 guns, of which 12 were heavy pieces, together with 14 machine guns, a few thousand rifles and other equipment. We also have captured in this vicinity 51 officers and 2,185 men."

"The total number of prisoners taken on July 16 in battles in Volhynia is approximately 15,000 men and 12,637 rifles. We captured 20 guns, of which 17 were heavy pieces; a great number of machine guns and much other material."

"In the direction of Kirlibaba, on the frontier of Transylvania, we have occupied a set of new positions."

"In the region of Riga skirmishes on both sides have been successful for us, and part of the enemy's trenches have been taken, together with prisoners."

"On the Caucasus front.—The offensive on the right flank of our Caucasian front is developing. A great success was obtained on July 16 by the Plastyn division of Kuban Cossacks, by bringing to the column of Gen. Gornastseff."

"The Turks set fire to the village of Balbut."

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cured by Using

DR. FOWLER'S

Extract of Wild Strawberry

Cholera Infantum is one of the most common, and at the same time one of the most dangerous, summer complaints of infants, and many children have died who could have been saved had the proper remedy been used on the first sign of this trouble.

Cholera Infantum begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.

Mrs. B. A. Cirwell, Rossmore, N. S. writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's,' and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past twenty years. Anyone who has ever used it will not accept a substitute. See that you don't. When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" be sure you get it.

The genuine is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.

Don't Spoil Your Hair

By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or any other else that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advt.

GAINS EAST AND WEST CARRY ALLIES NEARER TO THE GREAT GOAL

Great Britain Made Happy by News From Front.

THE BRITISH GAIN IS BIG

Russians Smash Teuton Front To a Depth of Several Miles.

LONDON, July 17.—10 p.m.—The successes of the Entente Allies are following each other with great rapidity. Today brought news of further important gains for them on both the western and eastern fronts, arousing enthusiasm among the British public hardly less than that caused by the reception of the first news of the allied offensives.

The dispatch of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig today shows that the steady progress of the British army is forcing an ever-deepening salient into the German lines, and the commander-in-chief for the first time produces evidence of the shape of documents captured from the Germans, giving testimony as to the high price the Germans are paying in casualties.

Important British Gain.

The British have improved their position along almost the whole of their line of the front, by capturing by assault 1,500 yards of German second line positions north of the Bazentin-le-Petit wood, a strategic German position at the Waterlog farm between Longueval and Guillemont, besides completing the capture of the whole of the village of Ovillers la Boisselle. These gains bring the British almost to the crest of the Albert plateau, where stretches the German line in casualties.

Great Russian Success.

The news from the eastern front today was equally important. The Russian commander, Gen. Kuchuk, has launched an offensive against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the Divina River, and Gen. Lindenberg's troops southward of Lutska have been compelled to retire behind the Lipa River, while in the course of Sunday's fighting in Volhynia the Russians captured an additional 12,000 prisoners and 30 guns. Gen. Von Linsingen's retirement, according to the Petrograd military critics, represents a great Russian tactical success. It was preceded by heavy fighting, in which the Russians smashed the Teuton front on a width of a mile and penetrated several miles into their positions.

Costing $30,000,000 Daily.
The war is now costing Great Britain $30,000,000 daily, but with such news as the success of the Entente Allies this sacrifice is no longer grudging. While the powers of endurance of the Teutonic Allies should they be forced to act entirely on the defensive, have still to be tested, the British nation is full of confidence. It is taking nothing for granted, however, but is fully prepared to acquiesce in the advice of its leading ministers, like Foreign Secretary Grey and Chancellor of the Exchequer McKenna, who are publicly exhorting to the nation the need of patience.

Endurance of the Teutonic Allies today that the daily cost of the war was $26,000,000. He told the House that the nation's war expenditure might be a month ahead. He also intimated that it would become necessary to raise the national debt for fresh borrowings.

CALL THE DEUTSCHLAND A POTENTIAL WARSHIP

British and French Embassies at Washington Make Representations.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Both the British and French embassies have made representations to the state department urging that the Deutschland is a potential warship not entitled to neutral ports as a peaceful merchantman.

The British statement of views was presented in writing, but with the explanation that it is merely for the information of the United States, and was not in the nature of a protest. Now that the department has ruled formally that the submarine is entitled to recognition as a merchant vessel, it is understood the diplomatic representatives of the Allies are awaiting instructions from their foreign offices.

250 MEN GO ON STRIKE AT PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

Claim They Are Not Receiving Pay Given on Other Jobs.

OTTAWA, July 17.—About 250 men employed by the Parliament Buildings went on strike today, and as a result the work of demolishing the ruins is seriously handicapped. The men who worked on the "dump" have been receiving 25 cents per hour, as specified in the Government fair wage plan, but claim that other contractors in the city are paying higher wages (30 cents per hour), and that they are entitled to the same consideration.

Another grievance of the men is that they are not allowed to smoke. They also say that their immediate employers are not to blame, but that the higher-ups are responsible for the conditions. About 1,500 men are employed on the buildings.

INSURES 16,000 OF ITS EMPLOYEES

Prudential Company Undertakes Risk of $16,000,000 in Their Behalf.

NEWARK, July 17.—Involving a total of more than $16,000,000, the Prudential Insurance Company today announced the institution of a system of insuring every one of its more than 16,000 employees without expense to the workers. This is said to be the largest single amount of life insurance ever covered by any company in the world.

Every employee excepting officers and directors of the company in this country and Canada comes under the plan.

MORE GOLD FOR NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Another shipment of approximately $20,000,000 in gold and securities, bringing the total up to $185,946,000 since the movement began, was received here today from London, via Halifax, and deposited at the Assay office to the account of J. P. Morgan & Co. Seven automobile trucks were required to deliver the shipment.

German Staff Tries to Revive Hopes of the German People

LONDON, July 18.—3:39 a.m.—The German general staff has issued an appeal to the people of Germany for confidence in the conduct of the war, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily News.

"Never has the world experienced anything so stupendous as the present battles," says the appeal. "Never has an army braved what ours has braved."

"The appeal adds: 'The enemy is sending out every few hours claims to have taken villages, woods and thousands of prisoners. In reports that are no longer couched in the language of soldiers, but are fantastic hymns of victory that mock truth, in an effort to undermine German confidence.'"

"The German losses in artillery are even greater than at first reported. The capture of the German 8-inch howitzers, 3 6-inch howitzers, 5 6-inch guns, 5 other heavy guns, 37 field guns, 30 trench howitzers, 68 machine guns and many thousands of rounds of ammunition of all descriptions."

"The above is exclusive of many guns yet brought in, and numbers destroyed by our artillery bombardment and abandoned by the enemy."

"The official statement issued this afternoon follows: 'Capture 1,500 Yards More.'

"Further important successes have been gained by us. Northwest of Bazentin-le-Petit wood, the British have captured German second line positions on a front of 1,500 yards. The large number of German dead in this sector shows evidence of the very heavy casualties which the enemy has suffered since our advance began."

"East of Longueval we still further widened the gap in the German second line by capturing the strongly-defended position of Waterlog farm."

"On our left flank, in Ovillers and La Boisselle, where there had been continuing hand-to-hand fighting since July 7 we captured the remaining strongholds of the enemy, together with two officers and 124 guardsmen who formed the nucleus of the brave garrison. The whole position is now in our hands."

GERMANS ADMIT LOSSES.
Berlin, July 17.—Via London, 4:55 p.m.—An artillery bombardment of intense violence is in progress at many points on the Somme district north of the sea on the western front, the war of attrition between the German lines being heavily pounded by the British guns.

Local attacks in the Somme region, as a result of which the British penetrated Ovillers Wood, are reported. The official statement on operations along the western front says:

"Between the Somme and the Ancre the British at many points increased their fire to great violence."

"In the Somme district, artillery activity has been very considerable on both sides, and the British followed, during which the British penetrated into Ovillers Wood, and which have led to lively fighting south of the German front line. The British have not only increased their fire, but have also increased the number of prisoners taken during the fighting on both sides. The British have increased to four officers and 366 men."

"The more extensive attacks by the French began on July 15 to the east of the Meuse, and the French have continued up to this morning. The enemy did not achieve any success in this sanguinary struggle, but lost ground a few feet."

"On the remainder of the front there have been no incidents of especial importance. A French advance following upon the capture of the Outches was repulsed. We carried out some explosions with good results on Combres Hill. A German patrol brought back a few prisoners near Faincourt, Lorraine."

"On July 15 two enemy aeroplanes, in addition to those reported yesterday, were put out of action, one in an aerial battle behind the enemy lines south of the Meuse, while the other was shot down from earth near Drenelcourt-Oise within our lines."

ELEVEN THOUSAND PRISONERS NOW IN HANDS OF BRITISH

Booby Taken in Offensive Includes Many Big Guns.

GERMAN BREACH WIDENS

Almost a Mile of Second Line Positions Taken Near Bazentin le Petit.

[Canadian Press Cable.]
LONDON, July 17.—The British official statement on the progress of the campaign issued today, reads: "Rain and heavy mist again interfered with the onsets of the British. The importance took place today. We have captured some more prisoners, and the total number of unwounded German prisoners taken by us since July 1, is 159 officers and 10,775 other ranks."

SEVENTY-SIX LORDS AND 98 COMMONERS OPPOSE IRISH BILL

Indorse the Views of Lord Lansdowne on Measure.

PARTY IS GROWING DAILY

Bill Must Travel a Rocky Road Before It Becomes Law.

LONDON, July 17.—11:03 p.m.—Premier Asquith announced today that the new Irish bill will be introduced in Parliament before the adjournment of the autumn recess, and repeated that the whole Irish question would be submitted to an imperial conference after the war.

It is understood that the bill will not be presented until next week, and in the meantime the delay is allowing the opposition to crystallize, which threatens trouble and indicates that the measure is to have anything but a smooth passage.

An important meeting of a new party, representing the Lansdowne views of the Lloyd George compromise was held in the House of Commons today. Seventy-six members of the House of Lords and 98 members of the House of Commons were present.

It was said that the party is daily growing larger. Resolutions were carried by acclamation, declaring that the bill was a betrayal of the trust reposed in the Government by the House of Commons, and that the Government will take necessary steps to suppress treason and sedition in Ireland and uphold the supremacy of the law."

Former Windsor Man Commits Suicide in Galesburg, Mich.

WINDSOR, July 17.—A telegram received here this evening from Galesburg, announces the death there today by suicide of William J. Smith, a former resident of this city. Mr. Smith left Windsor nearly twenty years ago, and at Galesburg built up a large business in general trade.

For some time past he has been depressed, and this afternoon expressed the opinion to a friend that he feared he was losing his mind. Two hours later he hurled himself in front of a passing freight train, and was cut to pieces. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

ALVINSTON LITTLE GIRL SUCCEUMBS TO HER BURNS

George Lightfoot Loses Daughter and Father in One Week.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
ALVINSTON, July 17.—Carrie, the 8-year-old daughter of George Lightfoot, who was so severely burned on Friday morning while burning potato bugs with kerosene, died yesterday morning at her home. Everything was done to save her life, but she was so badly burned that it was impossible. She will likely be buried in Alvinston Cemetery on Tuesday.

On Sunday, Mr. Lightfoot received word that his father was dead. He will be buried in Stratford.

WAR FINANCE.

J. A. R. MARRIOTT, the well-known historian, writing in the "Nineteenth Century and After," on the British Government's policy, says that it "never borrows one pound without making provision for new taxation sufficient to cover both interest and a liberal sinking fund." The revenue for 1915 showed a great increase over that of 1914; and the estimated increased revenue for 1916-1917 over 1915-1916 is about $850,000,000, nearly $500,000,000 more than enough to pay the additional interest on the debt.

How is this done? The enormous income taxes, bearing particularly on the wealthy class, and the 50 per cent tax raised to 60 per cent for 1916-1917 on war profits, provide the revenue required. Mr. Marriott, himself a Conservative, declares that even 60 per cent on war profits is too little, and ascribes the industrial unrest of 1915 largely to the discontent of the workmen that they should be asked to sacrifice their union rules except on the condition that the fruits of the sacrifice "should be reaped not by individuals, but by the community." They objected also to a conscription of men without a conscription of incomes. But things are changed under stress of events. Direct taxation, which was only 27 per cent of the whole in 1841, 40 per cent in 1881, 50 in 1901, and 57.5 in 1913, is to be 72 per cent of the whole in the new budget. Nearly the total sum to be provided out of revenue towards the cost of the war is raised from the income taxes alone. The rich pay.

Clearly the financial situation in Great Britain calls for strenuous measures. The debt which was 2½ billions of dollars in 1913, will amount to 13 billions by March, 1917. But does not the situation in Canada call for some radical consideration? A few small tinkering have been made, but in the main we drift.

THE DUKE'S DEPARTURE.

"The Duke of Connaught cannot have been sorry to turn his back upon the somewhat heavily-backed atmosphere of Ottawa, and breathe once again the freer air of the west."

THE ABOVE is from the semi-official Canadian Gazette, published in Old London. Stories of the duke's retirement from the vice-regal post have been given broad circulation, as well as supposed explanations, but no matter what the unpleasantness may have been, if such there was, the governor-general must be well aware that this country is sadly misrepresented by some of the strutters in high places. We know that the service of the common people of Canada has been a service born of deep love for humanity and the Empire, and that their sacrifice has been made in spite of, rather than because of, some of the so-called leaders of this country.

THE BEAST'S END.

THE MAN who first met a rhinoceros and stayed to give it battle was no doubt killed. But this did not give the rhinoceros domination over the human race. Man met him again and again, but not on the same terms. He made weapons and discovered the vulnerable spots in the armor of the beast. And finally man became master.

Germany, supposed to be human, proved to have all the brute strength and all the lack of moral sense of the rhinoceros, charged down upon humanity, and endeavored to trample under foot all who opposed him. But Germany was held while man shaped his weapons, and calmly devised his plans for mastery over the brute.

Today the beast is being beaten down, and man, with his weapons made for the task, is hacking toward the monster's heart.

LIKE TO LIKE.

BITING satire in the last degree crops out of a letter written to the New York Times. It is suggested by the writer that the only conclusion to be drawn from the coincidental arrival of the Deutschland and the sharks off the Jersey coast is that the sharks may be of European origin. Having been able to make frequent meals of human flesh by following the submarines, they decided that there was no better hunting to be found anywhere than in the path of their big counterparts. The Lusitania, no doubt, made the submarine famous wherever roved the tigers of the deep. Such a banquet of tender women and children!

And when the Deutschland started on a long journey a herd of the original submarine murderers, flicking their fins in admiration of German efficiency, followed in its wake. When they found bathers available in large numbers, the sharks no doubt gave the Deutschland credit, and the only thing New Jersey folk have to be thankful for is that the sharks may be drawn off when the German monster shark returns. The monster-shark is masquerading as a tame, commercial cod at present. Perhaps its teeth are waiting outside the port. The sharks will not let her out of sight. She may strike an excursion steamer somewhere along the Channel. If there is anything in shark language to express "Hoch der Kaiser," those sinister slayers have already acclaimed him King of Tiger Sharks. They are his little brothers of the submarine.

THE YPRES LINE.

REPLYING to Sir Sam Hughes' criticism of the late Lord Kitchener, shortly after the tragic death of the latter off the Orkney Islands, the semi-official Canadian Gazette of London (England) has the following to say:

"But the British military authorities, who must, of course, be the best and final judges, decided that the salient must be held just as it was, and it stands to Canada's credit, and especially the credit of Gen. Currie's magnificent troops of the 'Old Guard,' that as the result of the operations of June 12-13, and subsequent, and despite as fierce an artillery onslaught as Ypres itself has seen, the Ypres lines stand today, and will, when the time comes, be an essential factor in the next, and, we trust, decisive, stage of operations."

LESSONS TO LEARN.

BEFORE you were forty years of age, you had achieved a position worth $50,000 a year, and had just put through a $600,000 deal, would you commit suicide?

You don't know whether or not you would.

Quick money, big money, success, don't always take life, but they take something. They chain a man to a treadmill, or give him a golden cord with which to hang himself.

We have never noticed much of this in Canada, because our speed records are slow when measured by American standards.

But if the occupation known as "rich American" "businessman" isn't soon classed as "hazardous" by the insurance companies, we miss our guess.

We do not have much suicide in Canada; most acts of this kind here are properly ascribed to agonizing sickness, first of body, then of mind. The loneliness of the prairies and drink take their toll, but as a nation Canadians are too "average" and too poor to think about suicide.

Also we go slow on divorce, which also reflects a state of mind against destruction.

There is too much divorce and too much suicide "across the line" and Canada, which may have problems just as vast when she has a hundred millions, can draw the lessons of national health as she reads.

ANOTHER PHASE.

THE unusual order for leave of absence for soldiers in training at Camp Borden is at once an acknowledgment of the justice of the protests lodged by the men, and a revelation of the free and easy manner in which a tamed minister of militia alters his course.

There is no doubt that men who have to undergo the hardships and abnormal conditions at Camp Borden are entitled to leave from such a place far more frequently than they would be under the conditions prevailing at London Camp. But when the camp was organized there was no intention of granting leave which gives each soldier practically six days in every four weeks, and the cost to the country, as compared to the cost in such a camp as London, would be enormous. Out of every 28 days each man will have practically 6 days' leave. They are given two days' full leave every two weeks, and it requires at least another day for the journeys to and from the camp. Therefore the services of all the men in camp, more than 30,000, are lost to the camp for six days in a month. Even the benefits in training as first claimed for Borden would not offset the loss of time. While in London the men were content to secure one full day's leave in a month.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Watch this shark scare spread wherever yellow journals are published.

The war-horse comes into his own. No motor car that will leap a trench has yet been invented.

Mr. Hearst doesn't insert the word "overwhelming" in the reports of German defeats. The facts speak for themselves.

The Ross rifle is being discarded in favor of a new Enfield arm. Sir Sam Hughes will discover Gen. Alderson in another plot.

If Camp Borden is Sir Sam Hughes' conception of paradise, we all hope he may have no disappointment when he shuffles off this mortal coil.

To the question, "Who runs Canada, anyway?" one might reply off-hand, "The correspondent of the London Times and the honorary colonels."

I'll not send these men to Kitchen-er's Folly, that Ypres salient. I'll send them to Camp Borden. (Tear stains.)—From diary of Sir Sam, June, 1916.

C. B. used to stand for punishment of ordinary calibre. Now it is almost a profane expression, standing for Camp Borden: "Go to C—B—," for example.

"Good luck to the boys of the Alleys!" sang a youth, who might well have been in khaki. No doubt he was cheering on his friends of the bowling alleys.

A DIRECTOR OF RECRUITING.

Although attempts are being made by partisan newspapers of the baser sort to turn Mr. N. W. Rowell's recent address on recruiting into an attack on the Dominion Government, nothing he said warrants that inference. Mr. Rowell spoke evidently with full realization of his responsibility as leader of the King's opposition in the provincial legislature, and his evident desire and intention was to stimulate the Canadian people to maintain worthily their position in the successful prosecution of the war. Those of his own political persuasion who are using his address for purely partisan purposes are doing Mr. Rowell an injustice and injuring the cause he was ambitious to serve.

The Times is quite in accord with his suggestion that the time has come when the whole recruiting process should be faced and settled by official organization and supervision. That is not a new proposal—many public men and papers on both sides of politics have been urging it for months past. Now that the first rush of volunteers has been exhausted and the response to the methods hitherto prevailing is becoming more difficult to obtain, the needs of the hour require the adoption of other means. Neither should men be taken from industries that, as Mr. Rowell remarked, are essential to the life of the nation and the proper conduct of the war. A qualified process of recruiting able to co-ordinate effort will aid materially in solving the recruiting problem.

Call the court supreme! We demand our peers! To the great and wise, peasant, craftsman, sneers.

To all patriots strong, to religion pure, Faith, honor and truth and the thrones secure.

Unto you we call, unto you appeal, Are we curse or hope? Now discern or seal!

There is silence vast. We await the sound, Now the world's soul wakes and doth pour around:

"England, Free England!" All around the earth are our royal sons, And our royalist life in its fulness runs:

All the modern world we have mothered free, As from the earth and the boundless sea; These United States in their flesh and bones

In her silence feels what she dare disclose, Now the lion's whelps with a bound and roar Leap across the sea, guard the door.

From Canadians strong and Australians young, Now are armies born and around us flung, From old Indian mounts and from Africa heights

An unkindred kin with their kin united, Hark again, oh hark! 'Tis a victor's That rolls o'er the sea and doth gird us round:

"England, Free England!" We behold the world now anew arise And a new god reign on the azure skies.

As the Empire stars are eclipsed and shine, We will take our place or our powers resign.

We will take our fate as the gods decide; If the gods play just as we will just abide.

But by gods above as by fiends below We will front the world as a single foe.

Ere the, the goes down by a soldier's staff, That doth feed its soul on a single hate.

We defy the world with its iron feet To this freedom tread that doth in us beat!

Oh arise! Arise! A tremendous sound Calls the nation forth. Will she still be found

"England, Free England!" When our race is run and our histories close, When the state goes down to its long repose.

It will be a field, it will be a strife As wide as the world and as vast as life.

And the latest man, woman, daughter, son, In that finish fight will be joined as one.

More triumphant than triumph now, With the free man's soul and his brandless brow.

All, encircling round our forever Queen, Will defy the hosts of the vast terrene; And when down we go, every soul will go.

As our fathers went when they faced the foe, We'll die with a song and this deathless sound To the watching worlds that are listening round:

"England, Free England!" D. C. M.

ful prosecution of the war. Those of his own political persuasion who are using his address for purely partisan purposes are doing Mr. Rowell an injustice and injuring the cause he was ambitious to serve.

The Times is quite in accord with his suggestion that the time has come when the whole recruiting process should be faced and settled by official organization and supervision. That is not a new proposal—many public men and papers on both sides of politics have been urging it for months past. Now that the first rush of volunteers has been exhausted and the response to the methods hitherto prevailing is becoming more difficult to obtain, the needs of the hour require the adoption of other means. Neither should men be taken from industries that, as Mr. Rowell remarked, are essential to the life of the nation and the proper conduct of the war. A qualified process of recruiting able to co-ordinate effort will aid materially in solving the recruiting problem.

"Gee! There's Elsie Morton and old man Simpson again," said Jack Boyd to Philip Ware, as they sat down at luncheon in a downtown hotel. "Have you noticed the coolness between Elsie and Fred Hartman?"

"Yes; everybody's noticed it," said Philip. "But neither Elsie nor Fred will tell the cause of it, I understand. Amy Moore, who will rush in where others would fear to tread, sounded them both, but got only an indifferent shrug from Elsie and a grouchy one from Fred."

"I'm inclined to think that Elsie's allowing that old rascal to dance attendance on her is an effect rather than a cause of the quarrel," said Jack. "Same thing is true of Fred's recent tendency to hit it up a bit more than he ever did before, I fancy," said Philip, with a respectful nod of his head. "It's a shame for two fine people to get in bad with each other that way, but an outsider can't butt in; so here's hoping they'll come to their senses without our aid."

"By George!" exclaimed Jack, a moment later. "The plot thickens, for here come Fred and Amy Moore this morning. And if I'm not mistaken that sparkle in Amy's eye means she's got something up her sleeve. It can't be that she has designs on Fred, for she's happily engaged to his brother in Cleveland. She must be trying to annoy Elsie."

"Amy, slim and trim in white corduroy, and with laughing brown eyes taking in the admiring glances that came toward her from the people at the tables all about her, looked up into Fred's serious grey eyes and brought her white-gloved hands together ecstatically.

"What a darling little table right at the open window!" she exclaimed. "Do let's sit there."

The table she indicated was near the one at which sat Elsie and her elderly escort. Without any apparent desire except to allow herself to look out of the window at the street scene below, Amy seated herself so that Fred was facing Elsie, only two tables away.

The man who could have sat tete-a-tete with Amy without smiling frequently would have had to be blind and deaf. Without any apparent desire except to allow herself to look out of the window at the street scene below, Amy seated herself so that Fred was facing Elsie, only two tables away.

WAIT A MINUTE!

—By J. H. F.

T. Roosevelt wants to go to war, but just as he gets through shouting somebody calls off the war, and there he is—all dressed up, and no place to go.

Young Orpet has been acquitted of murdering a high school girl, but as it provided a lot of spicy reading for the folks, the trial can be said to have been a success. Otherwise justice was hardly done.

Freckles are a sign of good health, but the average blonde lady would prefer bad health and no freckles to bubbling good health, and a flock of spots.

One of the grand sights will be when fat men try to wear those new suits with high waist lines. Oh, it will be joyful.

"Get Out and Go Under!" seems to be Germany's favorite hymn just now.

A fireproof celluloid has been invented. Adieu, dear old dynamite collar.

It would seem, however, that Sir Sam Hughes did not need a Dr. Cinnamon to put spice into his speeches.

"Muzzle the dogs," shouts some gent. It would be well to muzzle some people. Give the dog plenty of water, and care, and he will not go crazy with the heat.

These are called dog days, we presume, because everybody is so dog-gone mad at the weather.

"No water in the summer, and no booze in the fall," is a pretty little ditty now being sung by Londoners. Hope somebody does not steal the supply of snowballs next winter.

Speaking of snowballs, would it not be nice to cuddle a pretty little snowball against one's bosom just now.

The Allies are doing things at Sinai. The thunder of some of the prophets of old heard are still there.

We love to read a poem on being kind and sweet and nice, but we do not want to read it this weather. We just want to go some place and grout a bit.

Villa is not dead yet—or as an issue or a human. They will have to come to our suggestion to get that bird, and ship a couple of hundred chorus girls down there to grab him.

"I'm asking a raise," said my pretty stenog.

"For I'm planning a regular spree."

"Very well," was my answer, "I'm never a hog."

And I raised her—right up to my knee.—Williams Purple Cow.

THE SKYLARK PURGE.

"Birds increase during war; France and Belgium forbids hunting; Audubon society reports."

Came angels gathering at heaven's gate, Drawn by a thrilling song divinely sweet.

A burst of melody that rose to greet Above earth's groaning sob and cries of hate.

It was a rapture silenced till of late Men snared him not within his dim retreat.

Holding their killing for each other meet, And on their brothers visiting the fate.

So, mounting on his glad wings in haste, He shook the music forth, that he might give

The joy within his swelling throat release. For war, which laid one-half the world in waste,

And wrought a sadness over all who live, Has strangely given to the skylark peace!

New Zealand has exported about 1½ million rabbits this year to date, giving that country the jump on all others.

A great racehorse—Peter Mac—is acting badly because he has corns. Just like a human would do.

Sir Robert Borden will retire, it is rumored. In order, probably, to have some person else fire Sir Sam.

The Germans are afraid of the Turks, thinking that they will quit. The Allies are afraid the Turks will not quit.

A Detroit man who had just put over a $500,000 deal fell out of a window to his death. Most people would die, if they thought of that much money.

A New York man says that a person can live on 6 cents a day. It is probable that he would have to move out of New York; in fact, move off the earth.

We would not advise taking in the plants to escape the frost. We feel quite sure that there will not be any serious frosts for a day or two.

A moving picture man says that baldheaded men cannot be used in plays. No, you bet not. No baldheaded man wants his thick exposed to the vulgar gaze of a million folks. He's too sensible.

A Pennsylvania man is going to raise a regiment of red-headed men for service in Mexico. They should be all right at scouting work, their illuminating powers being great.

We got a whiff of cool air the other day, and the experience was almost too much for us. We cannot stand such sudden and fearful changes in the temperature.

That man-eating shark playing about the New Jersey coasts must be a fool shark. He has not snared a female in a one-piece bathing suit as yet.

Poet Bill has written another effusion on the weather question, but as we have decided to kill the first individual who mentions the heat, we refuse to print it, and also threaten dire things on any poet who will dare to chronicle it in verse.

Sometimes we do not admire Adam and Eve, considering what we have had to suffer for their alleged indiscretions, but we must say that we do admire their costumes on days like this.

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Bealess, But Happy.

Dear Miss Grey,—For a long time I have not had courage to write to your page, until I found out that one of my friends ventured first. I think I have met "O. K." in today's paper where "Faded Lily" has lost a dear one. My mother lost a boy, 11 years old, drowned in Lake Erie, three years ago. I am also "sweet sixteen" and bealess, and just as happy as any country girl ought to be.

I would like to correspond with "Blue Eyes," "Soldier's Sister," and "One of Bonnie's Fifteneers." Good luck to the Mail-Box. I will sign.

ONE FROM LAKE ERIE'S SHORE.
P.S.—My address is with Miss Grey. Please don't criticize my writing or composition, as I know it's horrid.

O. P. L. E. S.
Ans.—But, my dear, you failed to enclose your address, so how can I give it to anyone? Visit us again and bring your name in your vest pocket.

That Nova Scotia Breeze.
Dear Miss Grey,—"Minerva" wished to get some of my flags. I said I mislaid them, but she sent me a card.

I cannot make a block for "Aunt Nannie's" quilt. I could not stitch the name and place in it. I might send material if I knew what stuff to use. If some kind-hearted person in the Mail-Box would fix it for me, let me know the stuff and I will send it.

I will enclose a parody on, "When You Were a Tulip and I Was a Rose." It can be adapted to any place. It proved a great recruiting song here. I have many other battalion songs and will send them if of use to anyone. They were splendidly sung on theatre nights given by battalions in Halifax.

A GENTLE SEA BREEZE.
Ans.—"Sea-Breeze" when you blow in from so far, and are so willing to help, it's a great pity if you cannot be represented by a quilt block. I'm going to make you one, myself, and work your name in the centre as best I can. No, don't say thanks, for you are very welcome.

Your battalion song, together with one received from "Echo" the same day, gave me an idea for a column especially devoted to such, so send along another if you will. I'll be glad to see flags have been sent to "Minerva."

Reading Character.
Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed where "P. E." was wanting the place, "Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine." I have written it out and am sending it. I would also like two of "My Little Girl" and "A Bird in a Gilded Cage." Am sending stamped envelopes for same.

Also, Miss Grey, I have a book which tells characters by the finger nails, also by hair. I will write them out and send them also. MARY ANNE.

Ans.—Many thanks for the copy of "Lips That Touch Liquor." I'm going to republish. Your inclosures are very interesting, and I'm sure our readers will be studying hair and nails very carefully to find their faults and virtues. Shall send you the songs as soon as I receive them.

The Three P's.
Dear Miss Grey,—We would be very much obliged if you would answer a few questions for us.

1. The meaning of Basil and Mabel. 2. We are fifteen years of age; are we old enough to allow a boy friend to accompany us home from a house party (our mothers do not object)?

3. Have you any idea when the entrance reports will be out? 4. Do you know anything that will make you fat and anything to make you thin?

5. Is it proper for girls to chew gum? 6. Do you think it is right for girls of our age to correspond with soldiers in the trenches, whom we know real well?

7. Which do you think the nicer to go to for your vacation, city or country? FRIM, PROUD AND PROPER.

Ans.—1. The name Basil means king; Mabel means lovable. 2. Yes, you should be escorted home by some one.

All blocks for the quilt must positively be here by the end of this week (July 22). Acknowledgments of contributions to date, will be made in a day or so.

nice friendly letters, giving accounts of the doings at home. Ask your mother about it.

7. If you live in the country it's a treat to get to the city and enjoy car rides and picture shows, etc. But if you're city bred the "cows and chickens" have their fascination for you. So there you are! One cannot generalize.

Spruce Gum Stain.
Dear Miss Grey,—Would you mind answering a few questions for me?

1. What will take the stain off my dress? (It is on the front of the skirt.) It is the gum that comes off the spruce trees. I have tried to wash it out, but it won't come out.

2. Is this letter addressed right? Ans.—1. Benzine will probably dissolve the gum, or turpentine might, but I'm afraid that anything applied to such a delicate coat may leave a stain.

2. Yes. 3. Try a tablespoon of salt to a cup of gasoline.

"Jet's" Request.
Dear Miss Grey,—May I thank you and "Twenty-One" for the pretty compliments which you have showered upon an unworthy girl. The boys need the stocks; I can't fight, as I'm a girl, so I must knit socks, or perhaps the boys think they are mittens!

You have asked if I wanted anything. Yes, Miss Grey, I do! I want each man to spend at least five minutes a day in solitude with the Testament which I sent him.

Perhaps somebody knows someone in khaki without a Testament. In fact, I would love to send a lot. I'll be anxiously awaiting a list of names.

I am inclosing 10 cents for "Aunt Nannie's" quilt.

I think you should have a holiday and a fine rest, Miss Grey.

Yours sincerely, JET.

Ans.—"Jet," I just hope every single solitary man to whom you sent socks will do as you say, and has not already been in the habit of so doing. Maybe "Twenty-One" will spread the message. I have sent you the names supplied by "Mother of Three Sons Overseas," and who have most grateful for socks sent to her boys.

As to a holiday, I am reminded of an old woman's saying, to the effect that there was "nae rest for the wicked nor for the lazy." Now I certainly do the latter, and whether newspaper folk are included with the former, I do not know, but anyhow, there is little prospect of a holiday, I fear.

Military Queries.
Dear Miss Grey,—I could some of the readers tell me how to use gasoline in cleaning a serge skirt. Each time I use gasoline on any goods it leaves a stain or dark ring around it. Is there anything to prevent it?

2. Would it be too much trouble to publish the following information regarding a battalion—The number of men, number of companies, number of platoons in a company and the number of men in each; also the list of N. C. officers and C. officers over each platoon, company, battalion, etc? What is the base company?

3. Do you know Michael O'Flynn's name and address? I imagine he lives in silver or stamps.

Ans.—It is certainly kind of you to say you enjoy our page. We surely have a great variety of readers of all ages, opinions and creeds.

"Aunt Nannie" is of English descent, but whether she ever lived in Canada I do not know. You may well be proud of your soldier boy. Oh, if the war would only cease, before most of our "home" boys had been so sacrificed!

No doubt your letter will scarcely see print before some of our inveterate flag hunters will be writing for those flannellets may boys got with gum; they are like flannel, bright-colored flags on them, if anyone would want them.

C. B. SISTER.

Ans.—I had just received the address and answered the letter, although I have the letter did not favor me with her full name. However, it is all right. Hope you call again.

Chicks Have Gapes.
Dear Miss Grey,—I hope you will help me with my chickens. I had about a hundred at first; the oldest were about one month old and the youngest one week. The oldest ones got the gapes, and I killed them and moved the others to another yard, and some are getting the disease now every day, after the others have been dead about a month. I feed wheat and lots of water to drink, and have thrown all-alkalied lime in the pen. Could you tell me any sure cure for the disease? Also will full date of application.

Daily Bible
Question Club

"Search the Scriptures—they are they which testify of me."—Jesus.

The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday.

Read the Bible Story on which this study is based and consider the following questions.

Lessons for Sunday, July 23, 1916.—PAUL AT CORINTH. Acts xviii, 1-22. Golden Text: "I am not afraid to stand up and hold out my peace." Acts xviii, 9.

5. Verses 2, 3. Why have labor men a perfect right to band themselves together, for mutual protection, against the undue demands of capital?

6. Why has capital a moral right to protect itself against labor?

7. Why have businessmen a right to protect themselves against undue competition?

8. Paul worked at his trade as a tent-maker for a living. Is there any suggestion in this that modern preachers should do a similar thing? Why?

9. Am sending a recipe for bread, which "Rosebud" may enjoy. Hope I have not taken up too much room in your valuable paper. AMARILLY 2.

Ans.—Some one said to dissolve a tablespoon of salt to a cupful of gasoline. No ring marks would follow its application. Personally, I haven't tried it.

2. I think this covers your queries pretty well. Officers of a battalion are: Major-general, brigadier-general, lieutenant-general, colonel, major, captain, lieutenant. Non-commissioned—Sergeant-major, quartermaster-sergeant, color-sergeant, sergeant, corporal.

A squad is eight men under control of a corporal; a section is 16 men under the command of a sergeant; a platoon is from 50 to 75 men under a lieutenant; a company is 3 platoons, 90 to 250 men, under a captain; a battalion is 4 or more companies, under a major; a regiment is 3 or more battalions under a colonel or lieutenant-colonel; a brigade is 2 or 3 regiments under a brigadier-general; a division is 2 or more brigades under a major-general; an army corps is 2 or more brigades, supplemented by cavalry, artillery, engineers, etc., under a major-general or lieutenant-general.

A base company is naturally a company in charge at "the base" or centre in the rear of the field of action, where supplies, provisions, etc., are kept and where men from the firing line may retire for rest.

3. Must plead ignorance as to "Michael's" identity.

4. The rate on parcels to England is 12 cents a pound, 11 pounds the limit; to France, for 3 pounds and under, 24 cents a pound; to 7 pounds, 35 cents a pound. Send cks in a wooden or tin box.

5. Publishing this in cook-book column.

Turned Up Her Nose.
Dear Miss Grey,—After seeing a letter in the paper about the 149th Battalion, I thought I'd write a line, as I've heard the 149th Band play, and it was very nice.

Ans.—Grey, could you tell me why it is that when you go around looking for a pin with the 135th on it, there's none to be found? This morning I was looking for one, and couldn't find one, nor even a needle left with cxxxv, on it. When I asked if they had one, the girl just turned up her nose, and laughed and said "No."

Why is it that our own battalions are sent to Camp Borden to fight mosquitoes instead of the outside battalions in Germany? I do not know, do you?

Ans.—Why?—and echo answers why? Don't you know?

"Ours not to reason why, Ours but to say good-bye."

I'm sorry the girl turned up her nose at you when you asked for a pin. Maybe she hadn't anyone in uniform, and doesn't understand the interest of others.

Her Soldier Boy.
Dear Miss Grey,—I am sure you have quite enough correspondence without me, but I must write this one to tell you how much I enjoy your page. How I love to read "Aunt Nannie's" letters.

Ans.—I am a dear. I am an American or Canadian? She, too, has a very warm spot in her heart for our soldier boys. I have three boys, one married, next one 19 years old, been six months in training as a signaller with the crack battalion (135th), and one 15 years old, whom I hope will stay with me for a while yet, and am proud to think I have a soldier boy who answered the call, although it will be hard to say "Good-bye" to him. Regarding sending boxes to our prisoners in Germany, I do not know, but I wonder if we were feeding those awful Germans our dainties intended for our prisoner boys, I sincerely hope not. I have some flags my boys got with gum; they are like flannel, bright-colored flags on them, if anyone would want them.

C. B. SISTER.

Ans.—It is certainly kind of you to say you enjoy our page. We surely have a great variety of readers of all ages, opinions and creeds.

BODY OF DROWNED WM. SPINKS FOUND OFF PORT STANLEY

Yachtsman Recovers It Quite Near Shore.

HAD SAIL IN A YACHT?

Joe Sharpe Thinks Spinks Was Man Who Entered His Boat.

[Special to The Advertiser.] PORT STANLEY, July 17.—The body of Wm. L. Spinks, the Woodstock man drowned here Saturday evening, was recovered 400 yards from shore at 5:45 this evening. Wm. Martin was cruising in his yacht when the body was seen in a standing position. The warmth of the water forced it to the top.

Coroner Jackson was notified and viewed the remains. A Masonic ring and the clothing check were the only articles on the body. W. Kesler, an undertaker of Ingersoll, and an old schoolmate of the unfortunate man, identified the body. The corpse was removed to Williams' undertaking parlors, St. Thomas. Relatives will be notified.

A theory as to how the fatality occurred was brought to light Monday. Joe Sharpe and a party of pleasure-seekers were yachting on the lake Saturday evening in his yacht "Meteor." They docked for a few minutes at the Ada May Bell landing stage. A swimmer, now thought to have been Spinks, came to the boat as it started again. They took him out in the lake some five hundred yards. He decided to swim in, but the party took him closer to shore. He climbed on the launch and was brought in a safer distance for swimming, and then jumped off. The yacht sped on to its dock, and it was not until twenty minutes afterwards when the news of the accident reached Sharpe's ears that he felt any misgivings for the swimmer's safety. A description of the man fits that of Spinks. Bruises on the face and around the nose indicate the possibility of the head having struck something when he jumped from the boat.

Diver Recovering. Harry Smith, the St. Thomas brackman who injured his neck and arm while diving Saturday, was resting easy Monday. His recovery is expected in a few weeks.

TWO MONTREAL UNITS TO GO TO THE FRONT

Sir Sam Hughes Says They Will Not Be Broken Up.

MONTREAL, July 18.—Fully ten thousand people gathered at Dominion Square tonight to hear Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of defence, speak in behalf of recruiting for the Irish-Canadian Rangers Overseas Battalion.

"I wish to tell you," said Sir Sam, "that we have decided to preserve intact a number of new brigades and regiments. Amongst these are the Irish-Canadian Rangers, and 'The Own' (24th Battalion, this city), under Lieut.-Col. McBride. These two Montreal battalions will go to the firing line as units."

Sir Sam announced that authority would be given to the Irish-Canadian Rangers and "The Own" to recruit all over Canada, and that the Orange of Ontario could don the khaki and fight shoulder to shoulder with the Green of Quebec, as Irishmen and Britons—the Orange and Green uniting to make the true blue.

RAILWAY COMPANY DECLINES. MADRID, via Paris, July 17.—3:30 p. m.—The Northern Railroad Company today declined to enter into the agreement with the other railway companies and their striking employees to arbitrate their differences under the plan arranged Sunday at a conference between Count de Romanones, the Spanish premier, and representatives of the strikers. Count Romanones still has hopes that some solution of the dispute may be found.

IF STRENGTH DECLINES AS AGE ADVANCES FOLLOW THIS SUGGESTION

So many women grow old before their time, perhaps your wife or sister. A little while ago, buoyant, full of vigor and activity—she enjoyed life and imparted pleasure to the whole family; but now in a few short years she has faded and staid and weary. She is just ready to develop some disease that will further weaken and debilitate. You remember how it began, failure of appetite, tired in the morning, found household burdensome, always nervous and a little irritable. It's a shame to let her go down like further when you can build her up so quickly with Ferrero's. The change this nourishing tonic makes in a weak woman is surprising. It gives great zest for food, increases appetite and digestion enormously. The blood gets richer and stronger and adds new life to every organ in the body. A rebuilding process works through the entire system. The first week will show an improvement, and a month or two will fatten up the thinnest, most rundown woman you can think of. Take Ferrero's for lost color, for nervousness, for weakness—use it when rundown and feeling poorly—it will do you more lasting good, keep you in better health, than anything else. Just as good for men and children, too, because Ferrero's is harmless and safe, 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Cattarhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Offensive Continues Successfully in Verdun Region.

200 PRISONERS TAKEN

Russians Break German Surprise Attack in the Champagne.

PARIS, July 17.—10:40 p. m.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"On the right bank of the Meuse the artillery action continued in the region of Souville. The number of prisoners taken by us in the sector of Fleury since July 15 is about 200."

"On the rest of the front relative calm prevailed. The weather is very bad."

Belgian communication:

"The day was calm, except in the region of Het Sas and Boesinghe where our destructive fires caused serious damage to the enemy works."

Two Attacks in Lorraine.

The Germans made two attacks in Lorraine last night. The war office report says both attempts were repulsed. The French announced:

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, before Moulin-Sous-Toutvent, a strong reconnoitering party of the enemy was dispersed by our fire."

"In the Champagne, a surprise attack delivered by the Germans against a trench in the sector held by Russian troops was broken up by a counter-attack which inflicted from the night was relatively calm, except on Hill 304, where spirited firing occurred. West of Fleury detachments of our troops made some progress and captured three machine guns."

"After a rather long bombardment, the Germans delivered two attacks against our positions in the region of Ham in the night. Both were repulsed and prisoners remained in our hands."

"There were no important developments on the remainder of the front."

One Frenchman In 30 Villages When Recaptured

Farmer Disobeys German Order to Move and Hides in a Cellar.

PARIS, July 17.—5:10 p. m.—Only one French inhabitant was found in thirty villages retaken by the French and British in their offensive in the Somme region. CHASED BY A SUBMARINE WHICH FIRED 50 SHOTS

British Steamer Bears Marks of German Pursuer.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Members of the crew of the oil-tank steamer Lecoq, sailing under the British flag, which arrived here from Gibraltar, declared tonight that the vessel was chased several miles by a submarine, which fired at least thirty shots at her. Two of the shots, it was said, struck the steamship, one tearing a hole in her starboard, just below the bridge, and the other damaging the foremast.

"The Lecoq exhibits a canvas patch on her starboard side, well above the water line, about ten feet long and five feet wide. The damage to the foremast was slight and caused little trouble, according to the crew."

WINNIPEG SAVES $1,500,000

Effect of Transferring $9,000,000 of Debts to New York.

WINNIPEG, July 17.—At a special meeting today the Winnipeg city council ratified the proposed arrangement by which $9,000,000 of the city's bonded debt held in Great Britain is to be transferred to New York at an estimated saving to the city of $1,500,000. It is expected that eventually the balance of the $9,000,000 of the city's bonds held in Great Britain will be similarly transferred. On the present transaction British investors are to receive $80 on each $100 bond.

The council's negotiations have been conducted in co-operation with the provincial treasurer and the plan as proposed involves similar treatment for the indebtedness of the province.

ARTILLERY KEEPS BUSY ON SERBIAN FRONTIER

Paris Says Patrols Have Frequent Skirmishes With the Enemy.

PARIS, July 17.—The war office today gave out the following statement covering the operations of the army of the Orient from July 1 to July 15:

"East of the Vardar, artillery actions, often intense, have occurred daily upon the front. Advance post engagements of little importance took place on July 1 north of Kaliniko, ten kilometers southwest of Lake Dolina."

"West of the Vardar, in the Montagneuse region, the division of Jumbiliza and Oslin, our patrols and light detachments have had frequent skirmishes with the enemy, who always was obliged to retreat."

"In the Montenegrin development great activity during this period. They bombarded notably military establishments at Soda, enemy encampments at Monastir, Stranitsa and Bogomilje and on July 11, respectively, by our artillery and fell in flames within our lines."

NEW PARTY FORMED IN HUNGARY; WILL DEMAND PEACE NOW

Karolyi, President of Opposition, Heads New Organization.

[Canadian Press Cable.] LONDON, July 18.—3:06 a. m.—Count Michael Karolyi has resigned from the presidency of the Hungarian opposition party, according to a dispatch to the Morning Post, and will form a new party which will demand immediate peace between Hungary and its enemies, with or without the consent of Germany and Austria.

Count Karolyi's peace party, the dispatch adds, will start with a membership of seventy members of the Hungarian Parliament.

Count Karolyi caused a sensation in the Hungarian Parliament in his speech last night when he demanded that the Government should make peace proposals to the enemy powers. The Budapest correspondent of the London Post quoted Count Karolyi as contending that Hungary had achieved everything she desired by the war, had saved the country from invasion and had preserved the monarchy and throne, and that the Hungarians had a perfect right to come forward with their claims for compensation.

He argued further that the political unity of the Hungarian nation should be recognized; that all the attributes of a national state, as well as economic independence should be granted, and that, above all, peace should be restored.

"We have given proof enough of our physical courage," Count Karolyi was quoted as saying. "Now we have to show our moral courage."

He assumes office immediately, and will act as administrator for the minister of militia during the absence of General Hughes in London and on the continent, for which he will leave in the near future.

The departure is new for Canada, but corresponds with the British practice, where a deputy minister has an under-secretary with authority to administer during the absence of the minister.

The secretaryship carries with it the title of honorable, as does the solicitor generalship.

The large, one-dollar outfit includes the inhaler, and lasts two months; sold by all dealers or from The Cattarhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

BLACKLIST FOR GERMAN FIRMS IN THE STATES

British Government Will Prohibit Trade With Them.

DEPARTURE FROM POLICY

Foreign Office Explains Public Opinion Has Forced the Move.

[Canadian Press Cable.] LONDON, July 17.—7:07 p. m.—The British Government tomorrow will publish a list of from 70 to 80 business firms and individuals domiciled in the United States, with which residents of the United Kingdom are forbidden to trade. This will be the first time that any American firms have been placed on the statutory list, which is better known as the trading-with-the-enemy-act black list. All other countries have been represented on the list for some time.

Lord Worthington Evans, of the foreign office, today gave the Associated Press the following statement:

"It has been the policy of the British Government in the past to follow the theory of reciprocity, and to subject to trade with an enemy that enemies domiciled in friendly countries did not come under the act. France and various other countries hold the doctrine that their nationals cannot trade with an enemy, no matter what his domicile. Modern conditions of credit and commerce make it possible for an enemy outside belligerent territory to trade with his country. Therefore a considerable body of opinion in the country urged the Government to abandon its traditional doctrine, and the foreign office, while not going to this extreme, decided simply to prohibit persons domiciled in the United Kingdom from trading with a limited number of individuals, firms, or companies of enemy nationality or associated under the same penalties as though they were trading with an enemy."

DEUTSCHLAND IS READY TO START FOR HOME

Extra Precautions Taken to Keep Departure a Secret.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—There were many indications tonight that the submarine merchantman Deutschland will be ready to sail tomorrow. The painting of the Deutschland's hull so that it harmonizes with the waters of the Atlantic has been completed.

Tonight tugs are patrolling the river, and vessels that approach too near the submarine are warned off.

Ashore there is a constant patrol of policemen, who keep all persons at a distance of several hundred yards from the submarine, and permit no "biting."

FIFTEEN PERSONS DEAD IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

RALEIGH, N.C., July 17.—Fifteen persons dead, at least ten missing, and property damage estimated at around $5,000,000, is the known toll of flood in five southern states in the last 48 hours. Although the waters are receding in nearly all districts, railroad and telegraph communication still is almost paralyzed, and reports from sections now isolated may increase both in number of dead and the property loss.

North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia all suffered heavy damage from the overflowing streams.

"It is known that a quantity of nickel has been taken aboard the Deutschland, which will do duty as ballast as well as form part of the cargo. Most of the rubber and other goods all Germany is thought to be in the vessel's hold."

MAY MEAN A NEW NOTE.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The absence of complete details regarding the action of the British Government in placing business firms and individuals in the United States upon the so-called trading-with-the-enemy black list, announced today by the war office, is unable to definitely determine their attitude. However, there were indications that new diplomatic representations would be made should it develop that American citizens or firms were being discriminated against.

BRITAIN AGAIN REFUSES TO LET IN SUPPLIES

Will Not Permit Shipments to Reach Germany and Austria.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Great Britain again has refused a plea of the American Red Cross for permission to make conditional shipments of Red Cross supplies to Germany and Austria.

Foreign Secretary Grey, in a note dated July 12, and made public here tonight, reiterates that the allied blockade against such shipments is in accordance with the law of war, and declares there is no evidence that the supplies are needed in the Teutonic nations, and says that Great Britain cannot entertain a suggestion that supplies be sent under guarantee that their distribution will be supervised under a satisfactory commission of Americans.

MAYOR OF VICTORIA JOINS BOWSER CABINET

Becomes Finance Minister and Will Contest His Own City.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 17.—Mayor Alexander Stewart of Victoria, was today sworn in as finance minister in the Bowser cabinet. He will be a candidate in the city of Victoria in the forthcoming election.

SPANISH CATHOLICS SIGN AN ADDRESS OF PROTEST

PARIS, July 17.—5:35 p. m.—An address criticising acts of German military authorities in Belgium, signed by 500 Spanish Catholics, has been sent to the philosophical institute at Louvain, with the request that it be placed in the archives of the reconstructed library of the Catholic University of Louvain.

The document, which is entitled "An Address to Belgium," approves of a formation of an international commission of inquiry to examine into charges against the Germans which will offer a complete guarantee of impartiality.

GERMAN STEAMER SUNK.

LONDON, July 17.—Reuters' Stockholm correspondent reports the sinking by a Russian submarine of the German steamship Syria, her crew and Swedish pilots were rescued.

RUSSIAN AVIATOR, WOUNDED, WORSTS INTREPID FOKKER

Drives Off Enemy Airmen Three Times.

ARRIVES HOME SAFELY

Story of Thrilling Fight in the Region of Dvinsk.

PETROGRAD, via London, July 17.—The official communication issued tonight tells of a thrilling air battle with a German fokker, which returned to the attack three times:

"In an aerial fight above the enemy's positions, west of Dvinsk, our aviators distinguished themselves. Pilot Puchkel, with Observer Kovenko, while reconnoitering beyond Abeli, was suddenly attacked from the rear by a German fokker. Kovenko was wounded in the hand, but our machine turned back and attacked the enemy, putting him to flight. Then our machine continued reconnoitering and completed its task."

"Later the fokker again attacked our machine, successful shots causing much serious damage to the latter. Under the fire of machine guns the fokker quickly disappeared, but soon returned and for the third time attacked our machine. Kovenko, notwithstanding his wound, plugged the hole in the radiator tube, caused by the enemy's shot, and prevented a disaster."

"He was again wounded a second time in the stomach by a bursting shell, but, despite the serious wound, continued his work. He sat down at a machine gun and again began firing. The fokker disappeared and Puchkel gradually plumed homewards, leaving safely at the aerodrome with Kovenko, despite the cannonade."

BALTIMORE, July 17.—There were many indications tonight that the submarine merchantman Deutschland will be ready to sail tomorrow. The painting of the Deutschland's hull so that it harmonizes with the waters of the Atlantic has been completed.

Tonight tugs are patrolling the river, and vessels that approach too near the submarine are warned off.

Ashore there is a constant patrol of policemen, who keep all persons at a distance of several hundred yards from the submarine, and permit no "biting."

HEAVY AUSTRIAN ATTACK REPULSED BY ITALIANS

Driven Back on Whole Front in Hand-to-Hand Fighting.

ROME, July 17.—via London, 3:32 p. m.—The repulse of a heavy attack by the Austrians in the upper Posina valley, in the Trentino, as a result of an Italian counter-attack, was announced today by the war office.

"The announcement follows: 'In the upper Posina area the enemy attempted to stop our advance, deployed a heavy attack supported by concentrated artillery fire between Monte Santo and Monte Toraro. We made a counter-attack, and after severe hand-to-hand fighting repulsed the enemy along the whole front.'

THREE MORE STEAMERS ARE REPORTED SUNK

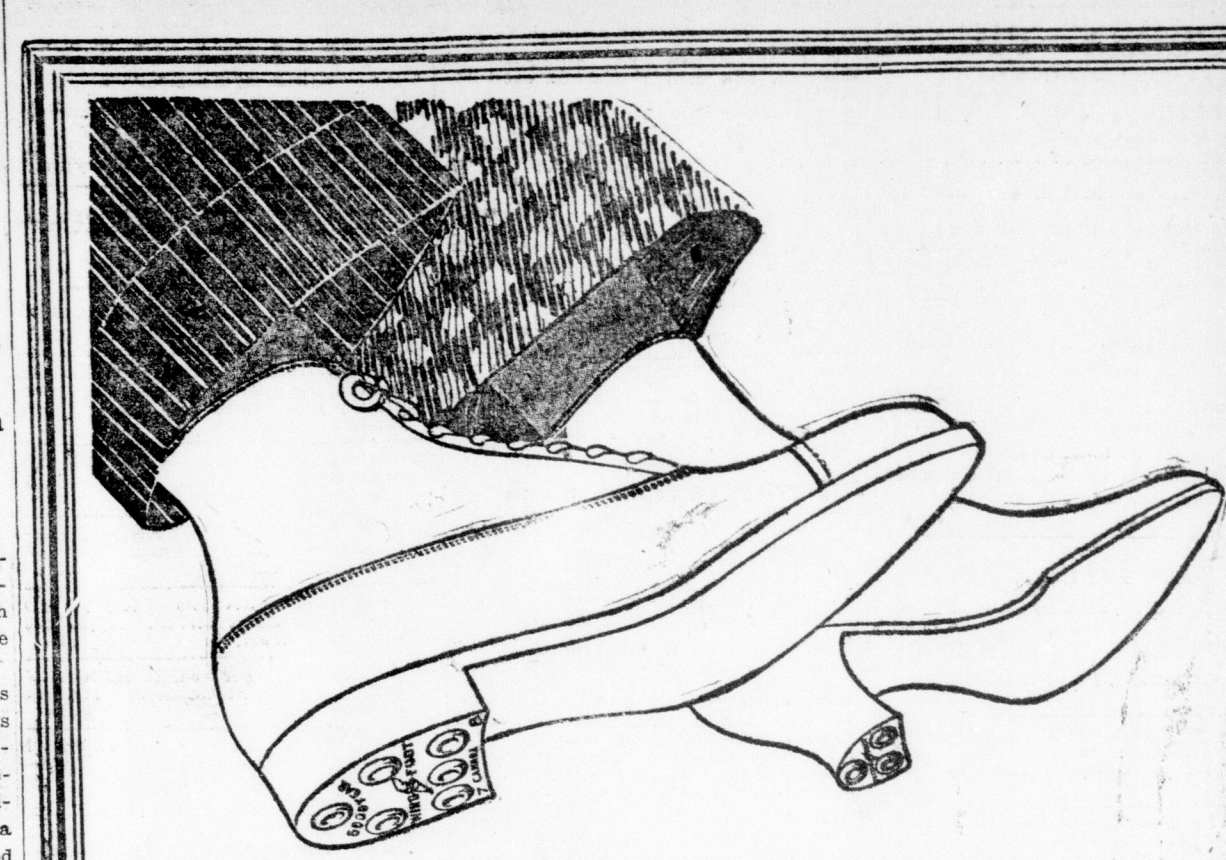

Two Belonging to British and One to Italians.

LONDON, July 17.—Lloyds reports the British steamer Euphorbia, the Italian steamer Syria and the steamer Virginia (probably British) sunk.

The Euphorbia measures 3,337 tons. She was built in 1907 and was belonged to the Stag Line, Limited, of North Shields. She was last reported bound from Calcutta June 4, for London.

The Syria was last reported having passed Gibraltar June 27, bound from Norfolk for Genoa.

The British steamer Virginia was of 4,379 tons, built at Glasgow in 1901, and belonged to the Virginia S. S. Company of Glasgow. She was last reported arrived at Marseilles June 28, from Santa Cruz, Cuba.

The Best Rubber Heel Costs Only 10c More

The ten cents extra charge upon Goodyear Wingfoot Air Heels makes all the difference between the better rubber heel and the ordinary rubber heels.

If Goodyear were to make—as Goodyear might—a heel which would sell at the standard price of ordinary heels, the heel would be full value for your 50c. But it would not be the best heel that Goodyear could produce—would not truly represent Goodyear standards of excellence.

In Wingfoot Air Heels you get better heels. It is worth while investing 10c extra to receive bigger returns in wear and comfort.

There's more wear, more springiness in Wingfoots because they are made from purer, better rubber. There's more comfort and more life, because Wingfoots have air cushions with raised edges that lift the foot up, give gaiety to the step, and combat slipping.

DORCHESTER PEOPLE SEE DEMONSTRATION OF LATEST SMALLEST MACHINE GUN

Italian Weapon Will Fire 50 Bullets Per Second.

[Special to The Advertiser.] DORCHESTER, July 17.—Several prominent citizens motored Friday night a couple of miles east of the village to witness the demonstration of a machine gun, the American selling right of which Warren Cook of Toronto, nephew of Alonzo Monk, purchased from the Italian inventor while in England recently on a business trip.

The gun is unique in the fact that its entire weight does not exceed twelve pounds, and it measures only a foot and a half in height and two feet in length. It is double-barreled and double levered, and each barrel will discharge 25 bullets a trifle larger in size than a 32 rifle cartridge, in less than a second, with a force that is astounding, for it will penetrate through a green four-inch plank at a distance of 500 yards. It is guaranteed to fire 25,000 rounds, and it sells for $275. In the present conflict the Italians are using this gun with great success. Mr. Cook was on his way to Chicago.

WASHINGTON IS NOT TO HELP CASERMET

Senator Martine's Resolution Lacks Sympathy of Colleagues.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Senator Martine made a valiant effort to get action in the senate today on his resolution which would ask the president to seek a stay of execution of Sir Roger Casement's death sentence.

Objection by Senator Stone prevented consideration of a motion to take the resolution out of the hands of the foreign relations committee, which has refused to report it, and of a substitute resolution requesting the president to have the American ambassador at London unofficially urge a stay of execution of the Casement sentence.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in a few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, thick, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—mix a cloth with a little Danderine and rub it over your hair through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have done it. Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft, lustrous hair of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

SOLDIER'S LITTLE SON FALLS OFF PLEASURE STEAMER AND IS DROWNED IN THE THAMES

Fireman Gordon Makes Gallant Attempt at Rescue, But Fails—Vessel Nearly Capsizes as Crowd Rushes to the Side.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 17.—William Edmondson, 9 years old today, son of Pte. Bert Edmondson of the 18th Battalion, Camp Borden, was drowned tonight in the River Thames, ten miles from the city, when he fell from the second deck of the pleasure steamer Ossefrage. The boat was returning from an excursion to Detroit, carrying the Sunday school scholars of Christ Church and Holy Trinity.

The incident was noticed by Fireman Ross Gordon, who dived in, fully dressed and swam 200 yards to the struggling boy. Gordon was exhausted when he reached the boy, who disappeared as he made a grab at his blouse. Gordon was rescued in a state of collapse by the lifeboat party.

A search was commenced, but the body of the unfortunate lad has not yet been recovered. The boy is survived by his parents, three brothers and four sisters. The steamer Ossefrage threatened to capsize when the passengers rushed to the side of the boat, the calamity being averted by the presence of mind of Rev. J. Spence and Rev. R. J. Lee, who ordered everybody to remain seated.

Tramright Wins Trotting Event on Grand Circuit

Captures the 2:09 Race in Straight Heats—Ben Earl Wins Edwards Stakes.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—Coming direct from a winning preliminary campaign on the half-mile circuits Ben Earl clearly demonstrated his Grand Circuit class today at North Randall, when he won the Edwards pacing stake, the first big feature of the 1916 light harness campaign, after one of the most bitterly contested battles in the history of the local classic. It was a race which kept the record opening crowd on the quiver from start to finish of every heat.

In two of the four races the contests went into split heats, and in one, the 2:07 pace, three heat-winners were produced and an additional fourth heat was required.

Mary Coburn won the Forest City 2-year-old trotting sweepstakes in straight heats, and incidentally captured the first heat in 2:10½, a new season's record for the age.

FARMERS SELLING HAY STRAIGHT FROM FIELD

Potato Bugs Are a Menace Around Wabash.

WABASH, July 17.—Some of the farmers in this vicinity, who have large quantities of hay, are selling it right out of the field at $5 per load.

The utmost vigilance is required to save the potato bug at work. There are myriads of bugs at this time and it seems almost impossible to get the start of them.

An ice-cream social under the auspices of the Kent Bridge Methodist Church was held tonight on the grounds of A. E. Langford. The program was supplied by the Sabbath school orchestra, of the Victoria Methodist Church, Chatham.

NO SUNDAY GASOLINE.

SARNIA, July 17.—At the village of Port Lambton, 24 miles down river from Sarnia, a summer resort, the village constable has forbidden the dealers of that place to sell any gasoline or oil on Sunday.

The ruling of the officer has caused great inconvenience to many auto drivers and lunch owners, it is stated by some of the citizens.

CANADIAN ESCAPES FROM VILLA; WILL FIGHT FOR EMPIRE

Chas. Devlin Enlists at Sarnia for Overseas.

GOOD RECRUITING WEEK

Fourteen Have Joined Forces at Border City—All From States.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, July 17.—Charles Devlin, a Canadian from St. Thomas, who has been railroading and soldiering in Mexico for the past three years, has enlisted here with the 21st Battalion, C.E.F., and is now in Camp Borden. Devlin left his Canadian home three years ago and took a position on the Mexican Central Railway, running out of the city of Chihuahua.

Some time ago his train was captured by bandits under the rebel Villa and he was forced to operate the train and ammunition by Villa's officers. At the time of the capture of the train the freight that was of no value to the rebels was dumped overboard and the train used to convey the troops.

Made His Escape. Devlin managed to escape from the Villa army and made his way to the States and came right on through to the United States, where he was accepted by the local American recruiting station during the past week and are now at Camp Borden. The men were well built, and will make a good addition to the Canadian battalion.

This is the biggest week's recruiting that the local station had in some time. Devlin managed to escape from the Villa army and made his way to the States and came right on through to the United States, where he was accepted by the local American recruiting station during the past week and are now at Camp Borden. The men were well built, and will make a good addition to the Canadian battalion.

PROMPTLY DEPORTED.

SARNIA, July 17.—William Cledd of Wisconsin, and George Vincent of Missouri, were arrested last night by the military guard at the Grand Trunk station when they were riding through the bore on a train and were spotted by the sentry.

This morning they appeared in police court and were ordered deported to the American consular office, and were promptly taken by the immigration officers.

POPULARIZING CORUNNA.

SARNIA, July 17.—Proposals are on foot at the village of Corunna for the erection of a fine dancing pavilion in the village, so that the summer visitors will not be forced to go to Stag Island when they wish to dance.

Every cottage in the village is rented and Capt. Simms, who operates the ferry to the island and owns fifteen summer homes, states that he could rent seven or eight more places if he had them.

The island enjoyed a large trade from Detroit and this district on Friday, a large number coming up on the steamer Saturday night.

FLAX PULLERS WANTED.

SARNIA, July 17.—The flax men of the district are now looking for a large number of men to help them in harvesting the big crop of flax that will be yielded in this district this summer.

The flax has been progressing well lately and it is expected that it will require every available man to get the crop pulled before it becomes ripe.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, July 17.—"Actual facts" told by the men of C Company, 16th Battalion, home on leave from Camp Borden are here given: "The first morning the fellows in one tent in C Company awoke to find two nice grass snakes about four feet long curled up on their faces."

No mess tents were up, and the men ate their dinners on the ground, while the camp was being reviewed by the general staff. The board of works here to go to Camp Borden to investigate affairs.

Harry Jones, who was turned down in the recent examination of the 16th Battalion as being under the required height, has joined the Bantams at Brantford. His father is a member of the 16th.

AUTO AND BUGGY IN COLLISION AT ST. THOMAS

Occupants of Latter Thrown Out When Wheels Lock.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, July 17.—What might have been a serious accident happened between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday evening, as Jack Elliott, wife and child, of the west ward, were driving a horse and buggy into town from the east end. When near Dr. Wilkinson's residence on Queen street, John McLeod, of Water street south, was coming into town from the east, also, in his auto.

Behind Elliott, as they approached Wilkinson's McLeod attempted to pass Elliott, and the auto caught the hind wheel of the buggy, upsetting it. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out. The horse was caught before it got away.

STUPENDOUS BORROWING IS NOT CAPITAL LOST

Means Circulation and Distribution Throughout the Country.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 18.—London cable to the World this morning says: "Commenting on Chancellor of the Exchequer McKenna's statement in Parliament yesterday that the daily cost of the war to Great Britain has increased from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000, the financial editor of the Morning Post predicts that if the war continues to the end of the year, at the new estimate Great Britain will have to raise in the enormous sums of $5,000,000,000, adding:

"These are stupendous figures, but—and while by no means overlooking the strenuous position they represent—they should be regarded as a much capital entirely in because, quite apart from the extent to which the figures are affected by advances of some hundreds of millions to our allies, much of the expenditure may be said to simply represent the circulation and distribution of capital throughout the country. It is in fact to the possibilities of inflation created by this rapidly-accumulated debt, say nothing of the more difficult problem represented by payments to neutral countries, that we should give special heed.

"So vast are the ramifications of all the payments involved in the war, that the greatest war in history that only by the appointment of a war finance commission composed of the best financial and business experts in the country can our resources be mobilized and organized to the fullest possible advantage, both during and after the war."

GEO. STEPHENS OF CHATHAM, EX-M.P., EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Ill for Some Days, the End Came Unexpectedly.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 17.—Death today removed one of the city's most prominent businessmen in the person of George Stephens, ex-M.P. The late Mr. Stephens had been ill for only a few days and death came as a severe shock to his family and the community.

For some weeks past he had been spending most of his time at his summer home at Highbanks on the lake shore. While confined to his bed for a few days past, his condition showed such improvement that he passed away a restful night that this morning he announced his intention of motoring to Chatham to attend to some business matters tomorrow. Several of his friends talked with him this morning. About 9 o'clock a change was noted for the worse and before medical attendance could be summoned he had passed away. In the opinion of the attending physician, death was due to pulmonary embolism, following an attack of phlebitis in the left leg.

The late Mr. Stephens was a native of Northumberland County, but he moved with his parents, to Harwich Township when ten years of age. Later he established himself in business and in the opinion of the community, he was a gentleman who had lived more or less in retirement.

In 1899 and 1900 the late Mr. Stephens was elected to the city council, and on November 7, 1900, he contested the riding of West Kent in the interests of the Liberal party and was elected. A. A. Smith being the defeated candidate. Four years later he was defeated by Herb Clements, who is now member for the riding of Atlin.

The late Mr. Stephens was 70 years of age. He was twice married. His first wife died in 1879 and his second wife, Mrs. Mary Stephens, died in 1900. He was killed in a shooting accident about 16 years ago.

Two brothers, Albert of Chatham, and James of Sarnia, and two sisters, Miss Blattie, Chatham and Mrs. Emily Campbell, Dresden, survive in addition to many nieces and nephews.

The remains will be brought to Chatham tonight and the funeral will probably be held on Wednesday, although no definite announcement has as yet been made.

PERE MARQUETTE MAN DIES FROM INJURIES

John Birky Fails to Recover From Amputation of Leg.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 17.—John Birky died in the hospital this morning from injuries received last Wednesday while working on a farm near Chatham. He was 40 years of age and was a native of the United States.

The patient died from the effects of the operation and he died at 6 o'clock this morning. An inquest was opened before Coroner Atlin, and an adjournment was made until Tuesday next week.

The deceased railwayman had been employed by the Pere Marquette for a number of years and he was regarded as a very efficient workman. He was survived by his wife and one son, a lad of six years, three brothers and four sisters.

SARNIA COUNCIL WILL SPEND $11,500 ON DRAIN

Tiling Work To Be Undertaken if Citizens So Request.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, July 17.—The city council tonight decided to spend $11,500 in tiling the fourth line drain through the city, providing that the citizens petition for it. The board of works here to go to Camp Borden to investigate affairs.

Life-long Conservatives who have been in Camp Borden declare they have polled their last Conservative vote.

Already a movement is under way to go to Camp Borden to investigate affairs. Harry Jones, who was turned down in the recent examination of the 16th Battalion as being under the required height, has joined the Bantams at Brantford. His father is a member of the 16th.

AUTO TURNED TURTLE

MERLIN, July 17.—A serious automobile accident occurred this afternoon near the village of Fletcher, four miles from here, when a party of Americans was returning to Chatham after looking over the oil field.

When turning onto the Raleigh-Tilbury township part of the car's steering gear broke, causing the car to turn turtle and pinning its occupants underneath. The driver of the car, Mr. Kiser, was severely bruised and two ribs were broken. Mr. McCort was injured about the eye. The other two occupants were badly shaken up.

Winnipeg, July 17.—Wheat closed 4c lower for all three options today. Oats were 4c lower for July, 3c higher for October. Flax was 1c higher for July, 1c lower for October, and 1c lower for December. The reason for the wheat decline, in addition to the report of cables and the black rust reports, was that the advance on Saturday was too high. The trade was extremely nervous, and the prices kept popping about within narrow limits.

The market was medium, mostly steady. The exporters were on both sides of the market, some buying, some selling. The cash demand was only fair, with premiums a little firmer. No. 1 Canadian western oats were also level with July. Barley was strong and regained some of Saturday's decline.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.14½; No. 2 northern, $1.12½; No. 3 northern, $1.11½; No. 4, $1.09½; No. 5, $1.07½; No. 6, 96½c; feed, 92½c. Oats—No. 1 Canadian western, 44½c; No. 2, 43½c; No. 3, 42½c; No. 4, 41½c; No. 5, 40½c; No. 6, 39½c; feed, 64½c. Barley—No. 3, 75c; No. 4, 74c; rejected, 64½c; feed, 64½c. Flax—No. 1, $25.00; No. 2, $24.00; No. 3, $23.00; No. 4, $22.00; No. 5, $21.00; No. 6, $20.00; feed, 17½c. Canadian wheat, $1.70½.

Chicago, July 18.—Unseasonable over the black rust danger led today to a hardening of the price of wheat. The market was gullibly affected also by Liverpool reports that the unfavorable weather in all growing countries was causing British buyers to become wary. On the other hand, denials were received that black rust had spread into Canada. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 4c lower, with July at $1.16½ to $1.17½, and September at $1.24½ to $1.25½, were followed by moderate gains all around.

HAMILTON MAY GET NICKEL REFINING PLANT

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Ont., July 18.—H. M. Marsh, city industrial commissioner, announced this morning that there was a strong probability of the International Nickel Company establishing a plant in Hamilton. Frank Ludlam, general purchasing agent of the company; W. L. Weatherston, consulting engineer; R. C. Stanley, general superintendent and Clifford Branigan, chief engineer of the Orford works, were here yesterday in connection with the matter. Ludlam announced that the visit was one of investigation as to the advisability of Hamilton for a suitable location, and that report would be made to the New York office in a few days. He said that the prospect of a gas coke plant being built here, and the fact that Hamilton has the Grasselli Chemical Company might be deciding factors when it came to making a choice.

GALT MOTOR CYCLIST CUTS OFF FOUR FINGERS

Eddie Gosh Replaces Drive Chain Without Stopping Engine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, July 17.—Eddie Gosh, a local Armenian motorcyclist, had all four fingers of his right hand cut off Sunday afternoon on his powerful Indian machine. Gosh had replaced the driving chain with the engine still in motion. In coming down a hill the drive chain came off, and without stopping the engine, Gosh put it back on the gear, his hand being carried around the sharp-faced gear, with the unfortunate result that he lost most of his hand. He is in the hospital doing nicely.

READING

Often proves to you the imperfections of your sight. When it becomes necessary to hold the book nearer or further away from the eyes, depend upon it something is wrong. When letters "run one into another," or the eyes ache, when fatigue follows reading, the condition of the eyes should be investigated. This is advisable, not only that your capability for reading may remain good, but also, because straining eyes are a direct tax upon the health. RECORD HAY CROP BEING HARVESTED ALL OVER DISTRICT

Weather Has Been Ideal for Getting Yield to Barns.

PRICES LIKELY LOWER

Shortage of Labor Is Being Felt in Many Sections.

Over a week of hot weather has made it possible to harvest one of the biggest and best hay crops in this section of the county for years. Day after day of rain at the beginning of the season proved almost ruinous to grain crops, but it produced quick growth in both hay and pasture.

So big has the crop of hay been that it is expected that the price will drop several dollars, although it is thought the demand will be quite equal to the supply and that there will be no surplus. Already the new hay is beginning to get the fields cleared, and the local market, it being the chief offering for the past several days.

Shortage of Men.

Most of the farmers have the crop harvested, but it is expected that the season will last for a week or more. Shortage of labor is handicapping the farmers in some districts, but if favorable weather continues it will be possible to get the fields cleared. The fact that some one must be sent into the city with the hay for market is also reducing the supply of men.

Furloughs to many of the men in overseas battalions are helping somewhat and the situation is not generally regarded as serious. The average crop of hay to the acre in Middlesex and surrounding counties this year runs from two and a half to three tons. This is considered a high average.

So plentiful has the crop been in some parts that the barns are completely filled and no space has been left for grain. Where this will cause trouble later on remains to be seen, although the grain crops generally are not large.

Hay Stacks May Return.

This scarcity of space may result in a return to the old-fashioned hay-stacks, so common in England and European countries. The climate here is not considered as favorable to this manner of storage, as it will rot quickly unless properly built into the stack. Properly built stacks are very tightly packed and made in a conical shape. At the bottom they slope in, so that rain running off the stack will fall some distance from the base of the pile. The outside layer of hay is put on after the manner of a thatch, and acts as a protection against the weather.

ALD. PALMER STARTS LIVELY ARGUMENT IN CITY COUNCIL

Row Over Getting Solicitor's Opinion on Right to Vote.

MATTER STILL DISPUTED

Council Will Not Agree to Further Costs for Legal Advice.

Ald. Adam Palmer got on his war paint and feathers last night and paid his respects to Ald. Wilson and Ald. Ashplant for getting the opinion of City Solicitor Meredith on his right to vote on any question affecting the annexed district, as he was a resident of that district and favored by the fixed tax rate there. He started a merry row, which lasted some minutes, and disturbed the routine of the council.

The row started when the opinion of the city solicitor was read, showing that he had the right to vote on the extension of the London Street Railway into the annexed district on the Hamilton road. On the opinion, in writing, was pinned two letters from Ald. Wilson and Ald. Ashplant, protesting against his vote.

West to Know.

"That is not what Mr. Meredith was asked to give his opinion on," he declared. "Those two lousy letters were attached and they had no business to be attached. I want to know what transpired in the mayor's office a few days before this thing was brought up in the council. What right has the mayor to ask the solicitor's opinion on two such letters as these? Is this thing a frame-up?"

"I dispute the solicitor's opinion when he says you are qualified to vote," answered Ald. Ashplant.

"Go to the courts and try it out," shouted Ald. Palmer.

"I have a right to protect the citizens by an opinion of the solicitor if I want to," retorted the mayor.

"I still insist that you are not qualified," said Ald. Ashplant.

Some Come Back.

"Would you be disqualified if you got a free telephone?" asked Ald. Palmer.

"You want a free telephone and free rides on the street car. I do not know what you will want next."

It still says that you have a right to hold your seat, but you have no right to vote on a question in which you are interested by receiving special favors as a taxpayer," came back Ald. Ashplant.

"I do not understand why Ald. Ashplant should take Ald. Wilson's objections so much to heart," commented Controller White.

"Last year Ald. Wilson wanted to have Ald. Ashplant unseated because of his property qualifications."

"The mayor and these other aldermen should pay the costs for getting Mr. Meredith's opinion," said Ald. Palmer.

"We have a lawyer on this council who knows more than all the solicitors."

After much more verbiage the discussion lapsed. Later Ald. Ashplant wanted to have Mr. Meredith give the clause, section and sub-section of the act, by which he gave his opinion that Ald. Palmer was qualified to vote on extensions.

"Go down and pay him, and get the opinion," said Ald. Palmer.

However, the council would not agree to that and the incident closed.

BAND VISITS KOMOKA

Hackett Lodge Members Led Big Parade of Orangemen

Hackett L. O. L. 895 five and drum band made a trip to Komoka Sunday to provide the Orange brethren of that district with music for the church parade. Komoka Orange Lodge, No. 2633, is only a new one, being started only twelve months ago and yesterday was its first church parade. It was held to the Methodist Church. Bro. Rev. A. J. Creasey preached, while Rev. Corkey, Baptist minister, Hamilton, led in prayer. The church was filled to capacity.

After the service the brethren marched around the town, back to the hall. After the general business hearty votes of thanks were extended to the band, choir, visiting brethren, and addresses were given by the district master of London, the W. C. in command of the Royal Scottish Chapter, London; W. E. Langford, Byron; past county master from Mount Brydges; and others.

After a few band selections Bro. Rev. Creasey dismissed the brethren.

AGREEMENT MADE WITH ST. RAILWAY SETTLES TROUBLES

Sunday Car Bylaw Has Been Extended Two Weeks.

EXTENSIONS PLANNED

Matter Will Be Ratified by the Ontario Railway Board.

The troubles between the city council and the London Street Railway have been finally settled. At the meeting of the council last night an agreement was passed, by the terms of which the company will agree to extend the Hamilton road line from Egerton to West street, will double-track Dundas street, will place double curves at Mamelon street and the Hamilton road, and lay the "T" rails on all paved streets.

The company also agreed to go with the council to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and have these extensions ratified. The council on its part agreed to limit the paving on streets where the street railway has tracks to the Hamilton road, Dundas street east, Rectory street, Beaconsfield avenue, and a portion of Adelaide street.

Bylaw Extended.

The Sunday car bylaw was extended two weeks, in order that these agreements may all be signed, and the order of the Ontario Railway Board given to them. When this is done, the Sunday car franchise will be extended for a year.

There was little debate on the question. Ald. Burdick wanted to know whether or not these agreements were referred with bylaw No. 915, and when he was informed they did not, he favored the change.

Not Considered.

Ald. Ashplant wanted the agreement amended to the effect that aldermen should have free rides on the street cars, just as policemen and firemen do. "Grant," said Ald. Ashplant.

"It is not grant; it is our right," shot back Ald. Ashplant. "We have a right to ride on the cars to get a proper view of the problems that come up to us for settlement."

However, the aldermen would not listen to that. The bylaws were then passed without amendment.

MILITIA DEPARTMENT WILL PAY $10,000 FOR DAMAGE TO BUILDINGS

Western Fair Will Not Lose For Aid To Soldiers.

BAN ON SEARCHLIGHTS

Council Will Not Allow Them on Any City Streets.

Searchlights on automobiles must not be used on any city streets in future. The city council last night discussed the matter, and changed the recommendation of the board of control, which would permit the use of searchlights on all but paved streets. The majority of the council thought they should not be tolerated anywhere in the city limits, and the motion to that effect carried.

Ald. Copp was of the opinion that all repairs to streets should be done on a frontage basis. The board of works will take that matter up and discuss it.

The board of control was instructed to prepare a suitable resolution of condolence to the family of Capt. W. J. Reid.

Better Accommodation.

Controller Rose thought that the lavatory accommodation at Springbank and Port Stanley was a disgrace to London and the board of health will be asked to deal with the matter.

The question of salving waste paper thrown in garbage cans was brought up by Ald. Palmer, and No. 3 committee will investigate.

It was reported that the militia department had agreed to pay the city and Western Fair Board the sum of $10,000 for the damage done the buildings during their occupancy by the soldiers. Building Inspector Piper had estimated the damage at $10,260, and militia authorities compromised by offering $10,000, which was accepted. In addition, a cement floor to cost $2,000 will be put in the carriage building by the militia department.

Report.

City Auditor Jewell notified the council that the auditors report for 1915 had been in the hands of the printers for some time.

The wages of the firemen were fixed at $2.55 a day for the first year, and $2.45 for the second-year men, and $2.65 for all over the second year, an increase of about $1,000 to the men. The increase will be in force July 1.

The letter of Sir Sam Hughes on the removal of the camp was ordered printed in the minutes.

GIRL CAMPERS WILL SWIM AT WONDERLAND

Pond Will Be Reserved for Them on Wednesday Afternoons.

In response to requests from young women campers in the vicinity, Superintendent Smith, of the park, has ordered that the swimming pond at Wonderland be reserved for them on Wednesday from 2 till 4 and 6 till 8. Mrs. Harrison of the Y. W. C. T. U. will be in charge.

The new rock herbaceous garden now under construction at Springbank Park is proceeding rapidly, and when finished promises to be the best in the province. Superintendent Smith is introducing many unique features.

BIG G.T.R. SHOPS TO BAN DAYLIGHT-SAVING AFTER NEXT SATURDAY

Council Turns Down Petition Urging Repeal.

UNFAIR TO WORKINGMEN

Matter To Be Considered Again at a Special Meeting.

The daylight saving bylaw distracted the city council last night, but after an hour's deliberation, it decided not to repeal the bylaw. Controller Rose gave notice of motion that at the next meeting of the council, he would move that the bylaw be repealed. It is probable that a special meeting will be called to deal with the question.

There was a majority in favor of the change, but not sufficient for a two-thirds vote, necessary to change the law at this session. Quite a deputa-tion appeared against the bylaw, and none to favor it.

Controller Rose introduced the question, and moved for a reconsideration. Mayor Stevenson ruled in accordance with the bylaw that it would require a two-thirds vote of the council to repeal the bylaw.

Has No Advantages.

W. R. Meredith, on behalf of the petition from the wholesalers, declared that he represented the people, and with substantial interests at stake. They were not satisfied with the daylight saving bylaw, as it interfered with business, and gave no advantage whatever. He was convinced that the majority of the citizens were opposed to the innovation. The council had no mandate from the people, and the utilities they operated. There were many dissatisfied, and very few indeed favorable.

Is Not Fair.

"The car shops will return to the old time in any event on Monday next," he declared. "The present law is unfair to the workingmen."

E. C. Mitchell, on behalf of the ship-owners, also spoke against the bylaw. It was impossible for the people, and the utilities, to handle a large number of workmen complained. As a family man, he found it impossible to get the children to bed at a proper time, and get them up in the morning, and a great deal of confusion resulted.

"It was Dominion-wide, I would favor it," he declared.

"It is a fad, and I have always thought so," said Ald. Burdick.

"The people, particularly in my section of the city, are decidedly opposed to the bylaw," was Ald. Sumners' opinion.

"I thought it would be a good thing, but I find that I have made a mistake," said Ald. Donahue.

"We should have some stability," declared Ald. Ashplant.

Large Crowd.

The petitioners sent here show that 1,630 citizens are against it, while only 75 have signed petitions for it," said an alderman.

"It is the most unpopular thing we have done," said Controller Rose.

After some further discussion, the vote to reconsider the question was lost on the following division: For the change, Controllers Gammage, White, Moore, Rose, Ald. Sumners, Ald. Burdick, Ald. Donahue. Against, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Reynolds, Ald. Palmer, Ald. Webster and Ald. Copp. As it would require twelve votes to reconsider, the bylaw was lost.

To Cancel Bylaw.

Later Controller Rose introduced a motion, requesting the citizens to return to standard time on July 23, but there seemed some doubt as to whether or not this would carry, he withdrew it. He gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a motion to present a bylaw to cancel the present bylaw. This can be carried by a majority vote. The aldermen thought that it would be confusing to have the citizens have one time, and the city officials another. When a change is made, it will cover all citizens.

WILL SEEK POWER TO CHARGE RENTAL FOR USE OF STREETS

Council Has Bell Telephone Company in Mind in Taking Action.

The city council will endeavor to enlist the support of other municipalities in having legislation passed that will give them more control over their streets. The Bell Telephone company is the company in mind, and at the session last night a motion was introduced to have the Union of Canadian Municipalities and the Ontario Municipal Union take steps to have laws enacted giving the corporations power to charge a rental for the use of the streets.

The resolution was introduced by Ald. Ashplant, and was carried unanimously. It is as follows:

"Whereas, it is desirable that the constitutional right of municipalities to exercise their own local franchises, should be protected against the abuse of Dominion charters, by such corporations as the Bell Telephone Company and others;

"Whereas, the Bell Telephone Company claims the power, under its Dominion charter, to occupy real estate in this municipality for the erection of poles for local services, and denies the right of this council to collect a fair commercial value in exchange for the use of such real estate used for local services;

"Therefore, the representatives of this council be, and are hereby, instructed to submit a motion at the forthcoming conventions of Ontario municipalities and Canadian municipalities, at Toronto and Montreal, calling on the executives of these organizations to take such steps as may be deemed necessary to have a test case tried, which shall determine the constitutional right of a municipality to collect rental for real estate occupied by poles, or other equipment used for local services, by such corporations as the Bell Telephone Company."

ACCEPT RESIGNATION OF CITY AUDITOR JEWELL

Solicitor Says Utilities Board Can Employ Whoever It Wishes.

The resignation of City Auditor Frank G. Jewell was accepted by the council last night.

The opinion of City Solicitor Meredith was given to the effect that the utilities commission had the right to employ any auditor it wished, as had the London Railway Commission. The council could have the city auditor report on the books of the waterworks department.

Ald. Ashplant took exception to this opinion, declaring that it was not what the council wanted to know. The city council appointed the auditor for the city, and paid him, and the utilities commission had not the right to pay that appointee a salary, in his judgment. He wanted to know from City Solicitor Meredith whether or not this was so. He had not received a reply.

"I contend that the council has the right to pay the auditor, and that he must audit the books of the commissions," said Ald. Ashplant. "These commissions have not the power to pay him any salary. It is true that they can have any auditor they wish, but the city auditor should do all the work, and the council should pay him. These bodies are but subsidiary to the council. I want Mr. Meredith's opinion on this aspect of the question."

However, the council took no action on his suggestion. Later he made a motion that at a recent audit, a Canadian actuary, be appointed at once. This was referred to the board of control.

Ald. Ashplant also wanted to know whether or not the books of the utilities commission were being properly audited at the present time. This question was sent to the commission for an answer.
