LATEST INCREASE IN RAILWAY RATES WILL MEAN AN EXTRA $200,000,000 BURDEN ON PEOPLE

Board of Railway Commissioners Made "Good Speed" Since Application Was Filed in July—Newest Advance in Rates Estimated To Mean a Per Capita Outlay of $45 in West and $22 in East—New Schedules Become Effective On Monday Next, Five Days After Judgment Is Rendered.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—An increase in freight, passenger and Pullman rates on all the railways of Canada, which will involve an additional burden upon the people of anywhere from $125,000,000 to $200,000,000 per year, has been ordered by the board of railway commissioners in pursuance with the application of the railways' association heard last month. The railways demanded a flat increase of 40 per cent in freight rates, of 20 per cent in passenger rates and of 50 per cent in sleeper car rates. In the east they have been granted everything they asked for, with a limitation on time in the west. They secure a 35 instead of a 40 per cent increase in freight rates, but everything they demanded in the matter of the other rates. The new freight rate increase remains in effect only until December 31, but will apply to the carriage of the great bulk of the big western wheat crop. After the above date the increase in the east is reduced to 35 per cent, and in the west to 30 per cent; the new passenger increase remains effective also until the end of the year. For six months thereafter a 10 per cent increase only is authorized. After that the rate (unless the railway association makes a further application in the meantime), will go back to normal.

Effective on Monday.

The new rates go into effect next Monday. As a matter of fact not only for the tremendous amount of the increase granted, but also for the speed with which the inquiry was carried out and the rapidity with which the new schedules are to be applied, the present finding on the board establishes a decided record in the annals of the railway companies. The application was made in July. The board sat for seven days. Three weeks thereafter the board made its judgment, and five days after the judgment is handed down the new rates will be in force. The hearing incidentally was confined to Ottawa, though every man, woman and child in every part of the Dominion is deeply and vitally interested in the application of the judgment. The new rates will apply to all the railways. They will, it is calculated, enable the Canadian Pacific to leave its present tremendous surpluses unimpaired, and to continue paying its ordinary and time-honored dividend of 10 per cent. That road will presumably reap about 60 per cent of the benefit. So far as the Nationals are concerned, however, the federal treasury, independent of the increase, will still be called upon to pay a very heavy deficit, on the expediency of such a solution parliament last session was divided. Reasons for judgment have not yet been handed down. Until they are it will not be made plain why a greater increase has been ordered in the east than in the west.

It was calculated by H. J. Symington, counsel for Manitoba, that the granting of the full amount asked for would mean an additional direct burden on the country of $214,000,000, which would fall $45 per capita on the people west of the Great Lakes, and $22 per capita on those east—man woman and child. Mr. Symington declared further that if the western lines of the Canadian Pacific, including the British Columbia section, which is costly of operation, were an entity, they would not have the face to ask for increase so well were they paying. It was amply demonstrated by counsel present that the increase in revenue, which will accrue from the increase, does not represent the total burden which will fall from their enforcement upon the public.

TORONTO URGES AN APPEAL AGAINST BOARD'S FINDINGS

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The Toronto Board of Control today, after describing the Dominion railway commissioners' orders of increased passenger and freight rates as "outrageous," passed the following resolution:

"That an appeal be taken to the governor-general in council from the decision of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, with regard to an increase in freight and passenger rates on steam railways.

"That the city seek the co-operation of other cities and towns in Canada and other public bodies, in opposition to the said increase.

"That the Government be requested to reorganize the board of railway commissioners in the public interest forthwith and grant a stay of the order of the said board herein until such time as an appeal can be heard."

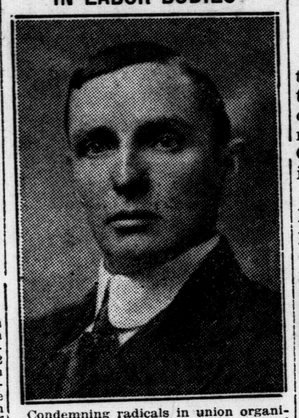

BELIEVE IN LETTING ULTIMATE CONSUMER MAKE UP EXTRA COST

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Local businessmen express the general opinion that the increase in freight rates just announced by the board of railway commissioners was inevitable in the present state of affairs, and say that in the majority of cases there is no alternative but to pass on the further charges to the ultimate consumer.

C. Howard Smith, president of the Province of Quebec branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, seen this morning, expressed himself as absolutely in favor of the increased rates. "The railroads are the arteries of trade and commerce," he said, "and if we do not keep them up, the country itself will go to pieces."

"We look for lower prices for the new crop of wheat," said a local miller, "but for the old stocks of flour an increase of 30 or 40 cents a barrel will be in order. A barrel of the best grade flour now costs $17.75, and the new freight rates will bring this over $18.00."

DENOUNCES EXTREMISTS IN LABOR BODIES

Condemning radicals in union organizations, William Varley, international organizer, at a big labor gathering in Toronto, declared that what is necessary is not only good leadership for the workingmen, but a new philosophy in the industrial field.

Does Not Want Mothers To Regard Pensions As Charity

Toronto Sept. 8.—The first bulletins issued in connection with the Ontario mothers' pensions committee contains the information that the members of the commission do not wish applicants to be considered as applying for charity; rather the mother, when in receipt of an allowance, is to be regarded as an employee of the Ontario Government, receiving remuneration for services rendered in the proper care of her children.

"It is the duty, therefore, of the local boards," says the bulletin, "to investigate carefully the fitness of the applicant for her position. Certificates of marriage and the birth certificates of the children may be required for examination, and, where the mother is a widow, the death certificate of her husband."

POLES CLAIM REDS AIDING LITHUANIANS

Spasmodic Fighting Between Two Forces Along Improvised Frontier.

Warsaw, Sept. 8.—Conditions along the Lithuanian frontier are becoming more serious daily, and, according to latest reports, the Poles and Lithuanians are fighting spasmodically across the improvised frontier. In one action two Lithuanian officers and 200 men were captured by the Poles.

German and Russian Bolsheviki are aiding the Lithuanians, it is contended by Polish authorities. Reports from army headquarters state that Leon Trotzky, Russian Bolshevik minister of war and marine, has ordered Soviet troops to help the Lithuanians to drive the Poles out of that country. The latter, however, contend they have not crossed the demarkation line fixed by the Allies.

The trip is expected to be completed in three days, arriving at Frisco 42 hours ahead of the time regularly required for mail trains. The flight mapped out is 2,651 miles in length

HUNDREDS LOSE LIVES IN EARTH SHOCK IN ITALY

Casualties Are Much Greater Than First Reported.

Rome, Sept. 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives in the earthquake at Fivizzano, and many more were injured, according to a dispatch to the Tribuna from Mausa.

LOSS OF LIFE AND DAMAGE GREATER THAN BELIEVED

Rome, Sept. 8.—Scores of lives are believed to have been lost in the district north of Florence, which was severely shaken by an earthquake yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region come in over faltering telegraph and telephone lines, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing, and there is a possibility the damage done may be much more serious than was at first believed.

The territory violently disturbed seems to be lozenge-shaped, with Florence at the southern apex and Modena at the northern end. It extends along the Etrurian coast and runs over the Appenines eastward for upwards of 100 miles. In this district there are many populous towns, and no tidings have as yet been received from many of them. There is every indication that the shock was a severe one, and reports from cities in the earthquake zone show that buildings crumbled beneath the strain of the convulsion of the earth.

At Fivizzano, a town of 17,000 inhabitants, near Carrara, almost every building was damaged, and many were completely destroyed. Among the collapsed structures is the postoffice, in the ruins of which is the entire staff. Soliera, in the province of Massa Marittima, and Monti, near by, were partially destroyed. Rivesano, Forni and Montignoro are reported in ruins, while in Marina and Carrara many structures have collapsed. At Viareggio the Church of St. Paul was destroyed, and at Castel Franco Di Sotto the ceiling of a church was shattered.

Panic prevails at Lucca as a result of the cataclysm, and from Gavinana and Limestre come reports of lives being lost. At Villa Franca, in Lunigiana, an entire family was buried in the ruins of their home, and the village of Vigetta was entirely destroyed. Serious damage was done in the Frignano district, where houses collapsed, and at Frassinero, where a number of houses fell. Pievepeltgo and Sant Andrea were badly damaged, but the number of victims has not been ascertained.

L. & P. S. Earnings Total $23,185

Annual Report of City's Electric Line Not Particularly Satisfactory.

The annual report of the London railway commission for the year ending June 30, 1920, shows the net earnings of the London and Port Stanley Railway to be $23,185.91. Gross earnings for the year amounted to $276,021.83 for passenger traffic, $210,259.65 for freight, and $96,368.96 for miscellaneous earnings, including cafetaria, bathhouse and other concessions at Port Stanley.

Operating expenses amounted to $438,102.91, leaving a gross income of $144,547.53. Deducted from this total was $121,361.62, constituted as follows: Bond interest, $73,643.06; rental, $20,000; sinking fund, $20,509.36, and taxes, $7,209.17.

In the report, submitted by City Auditors A. Dale and A. Screaton, it has been decided to change the representative year t oend December 31, 1919. It is necessary to make the transfer so that the report would be comparable with other statistics, and hereafter reports will be submitted for the year ending December 31, instead of June 30 of each year.

EXECUTIVE OF COAL MINERS WILL MEET BRITISH MINISTER

Conference Will Be Held To Consider Threatened Strike.

MAY END TROUBLE

Reopening of Negotiations Likely To End in Settlement.

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 8.—The executive committee of the miners' federation, which is attending the trades union congress here, has decided to accept the invitation of Sir Robert Horne, the minister of labor, to meet him regarding the threatened coal strike. The committee will proceed to London for a conference with the labor minister Thursday.

In an address to congress on the subject of the men's demands, H. D. Thomas, general secretary of the railwaymen's organization, pointed out that the railwaymen and the transport workers had unanimously decided to support the miners in their claims, which are regarded as just and reasonable.

"It is assumed in some places," he added, "that the miners are especially anxious for a stoppage, but my answer on behalf of every member and union official is that the stoppage of the mines is the last thing we desire."

SETTLEMENT OF MINERS' DISPUTE APPEARS LIKELY

London, Sept. 8.—(By the Canadian Associated Press).—The invitation extended to the coal miners by Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade, to meet him tomorrow, is taken clearly as a move towards peace, although the Government is in no way committed by his invitation. Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, and his colleagues are expected to accept the invitation if only to avoid alienating public opinion, which has been very skillfully engineered against them from the first. In fact, some observers wonder if the anti-miners' propaganda has not been overdone, considering that it possibly tends to make the miners more stubborn.

If negotiations are reopened, which seems likely, the miners may be instructed to continue at work on day-to-day contracts after their notices have expired. Some powerful influences among other industrial employers are now urging that even if a strike materializes there should be no closing down of other industries until it becomes absolutely necessary. Such a course, it is said, would add nearly three and a half million to the army of unemployed, whose sympathies would almost certainly, as a consequence, be forced to the side of the miners.

Police Are After Reckless Speeders

Danger Both To Themselves and Others, Declares the Chief.

Chief of Police Robert Birrell has issued a warning to motorists that prosecution will be in order for careless drivers who race through the streets late at night and early in the morning with only one lamp burning. This is dangerous both to the driver and other motorists, says Chief Birrell, and the practice must be eliminated.

HUGE ELEVATOR AT PORT COLBORNE IS NEARING COMPLETION

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—By the Canadian Press.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, stated last night that the restoration of the Port Colborne grain elevator, which was destroyed by explosion and fire in August of last year, has proceeded to the point where 75 per cent of the plant is available for operation. The remaining 25 per cent is held up by the non-delivery of certain machinery, which, however, is expected during the present week.

A few days ago the steamer Valcartier with 220,000 bushels of wheat, was unloaded at the elevator in twelve hours actual working time, only three of the four marine legs being in operation. It is expected that the entire plant will be available in a fortnight.

TWO COLLIERIES RESUME OPERATIONS, WHILE TWO MORE SUSPEND WORK

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 8.—Two collieries in the Hazleton district resumed work today and two others suspended. Official figures show the shipment of but 50 cars of anthracite coal yesterday in the district or about 4 per cent of normal, due to the suspension of mining because of dissatisfaction with the wage increase awarded the workers by the anthracite coal commission.

KITCHENER COUNCIL WOULD LEAVE ISSUE ENTIRELY TO BOARD

Kitchener, Sept. 8.—At a prolonged session of the city council last night, it was decided to take no action on the memorial of the Toronto City Council petitioning the Dominion railway commissioners to defer the hearing of the Bell Telephone Company's application to increase its rates until such time as the Ontario Government can investigate the desirability of taking over the system as a public-owned institution.

The council also declined to contribute toward the cost of opposing the application, the Canadian Union of Municipalities having assessed the city $100. The consensus of opinion was that the Dominion railway board would protect the interests of the people.

The Waterloo Town Council indorsed the memorial of the Toronto council.

CANADA TO DOMINATE THE FUTURE OF NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT

Dr. Ellis T. Powell Delivers a Glowing Eulogy of Dominion.

RESOURCES UNBOUNDED

Editor of London, England, Speaks Before Members of Empire Club At Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Five hundred members of the Empire Club of Canada greeted Dr. Ellis T. Powell, L.L.B., D.Sc., one of the members of the imperial press conference and editor of the Financial News, London, England, with applause as he rose to speak today noon at the luncheon here. His experience, observation and knowledge of the world's affairs is looked upon as unique, and his address today on "Scientific Imperialism" was listened to with eager interest.

Dr. Powell paid many tributes to Canada, Canadians and the great spirit of imperialism which prevails from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Canadians know more about the Old Land than the people of the British Isles know about Canada. He would like to see this condition of affairs righted, he said. There is a tendency in some directions, but not in Canada, to consider imperialism be an "exploded force," stated Dr. Powell to the audience of businessmen. "Of course, it was so in the ancient sense of arbitrary and tyrannical domination, but it is accentuating new senses for this generation and is particularly concerned with the new interpretation of it instead of dominating men into hopeless subjection.

Sees Great Future.

"Canada was undoubtedly destined to dominate the future of the North American continent," he said. Every climatic, political and psychological reason led him long ago to that conviction, and what he had seen in Canada during this, his fourth visit, had only deepened his judgment on that point. That being the case, she would need all her energies for the solution of the colossal political and social problems which would confront her, and consequently her utilization of the hitherto unyoked forces of nature on the scale which he had witnessed was simply a flush of social genius making what he had called scientific imperialism in the very highest sense.

"With the resources you have in Canada there is nothing you cannot do with the aid of modern credit," stated Dr. Powell when questioned as to his opinion of the future financial condition of Canada. "You have assets here already visible that ought to enable you to finance yourselves to any extent."

ABBE SAYS CATHOLIC UNIONS ARE WILLING TO AID INTERNATIONAL

Montreal, Sept. 8.—"We are not out merely to fight the international unions," said Abbe Edmour Hebert, director of social work of this city, this morning in discussing the national Catholic Labor Union movement in the province of Quebec. "If they work with us, we will be only too pleased to cooperate with them, on what we consider to be lines of justice and equity. What we are most anxious to do is to preserve the faith of our men."

The abbe stated that the international unions were working along wrong lines in many ways, and had lost the confidence, it seemed, of their members. There were too many strikes, he added, and methods were adopted to win them in a great many cases which could not be approved.

LENIENCY TO IRISH REBELS HAS SERVED NO PURPOSE

Many Released From Prison Immediately Renewed Conspiracies.

GUARANTEES NECESSARY

Lloyd George Declares Absolute Assurances Must Be Given Now.

London, Sept. 8.—Guarantees that attacks upon police in Ireland must cease are necessary before the Government can consider the liberation of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and other hunger strikers, says the London Times this morning in discussing Premier Lloyd George's views on the subject as outlined in his interview at Viege, Switzerland, yesterday. "The policy of leniency has been tried three times already," says the newspaper. "After the Easter rebellion of 1916, a large number of prisoners were unconditionally released and twice since then the same thing has been done. The very men let out of prison at once engaged in fresh conspiracies and started murdering police in Ireland all over again.

The newspaper declares the Government must either protect the forces in Ireland or withdraw them altogether. It points out that Premier Lloyd George made a distinction between the Sinn Fein, which is not "a criminal organization" and the republican army "which is striving by force to dismember the British Empire."

MACSWINEY NOW ON 27TH DAY OF HUNGER STRIKE

London, Sept. 8.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, entered today on the 27th day of his hunger strike, which began August 12, following his arrest by British authorities at Cork. Reports from Brixton prison, where he is incarcerated, stated he was a little brighter this morning, but much weaker and more exhausted. It was added he had passed a fairly good night.

A bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League at noon with regard to the mayor's condition said:

"The lord mayor suddenly got much weaker. The doctors are very anxious and have forbidden his relatives to converse with him."

BADLY HURT IN CROSSING CRASH

Chris Watts of Komoka in a Serious Condition At Victoria Hospital.

Chris Watts, aged 52, a market gardener living on the Pipe Line road in the vicinity of Springbank, was seriously injured when an auto he was driving was struck and smashed by a G. T. R. freight train at Komoka at 8 o'clock this morning. Mr Watts sustained injuries to his face, his right side, and his right hand was crushed. Although those who attended him were not sure, it was thought that he was injured internally. He was brought to this city in the caboose of the freight and is now in Victoria Hospital.

Mr. Watts was driving to his work on a farm near Komoka. He stopped at the level crossing on Main street in Komoka to allow a passenger train from Sarnia to pass. His attention was centred entirely on the passenger train, and although he was waiting on the south side of the tracks he did not see the freight approaching from the west.

As soon as the passenger train had passed the crossing, Mr. Watts started his car. His unexpected actions were not noticed by the crew of the freight until the engine struck the car. The front of the auto was badly smashed.

The engine, No. 2888, a heavy Canadian National type, was in charge of Engineer Duffield and Conductor Harris of Sarnia. The train, made up entirely of heavily-loaded ore cars, was running at 20 miles an hour. The engineer claims that he blew the whistle twice for the semaphore, and he could not understand how anyone could have failed to hear it. His evidence was corroborated by the officials at Komoka. The electric bell at the crossing was ringing at the time.

First aid was given Mr. Watts by Dr. Bice of Delaware. On reaching the G. T. R. station in London the train was met by an ambulance and by a daughter of the injured man.

CANADIAN NURSES TO LEAVE FOR RUMANIA

Western Ontario Women Are Among Those Going Overseas.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Eight Canadian nursing sisters, all of whom served in the great war, will sail from Montreal on November 5, for hospital and nursing school duty in the capital of Rumania, under the auspices of the Rumanian queen.

The inspiration belongs to Mme. Pantazzi, formerly Miss Ethel Greening, who, with her husband, Commander Pantazzi, and the famous "Klondyke" Boyle, escaped from the Russian Reds during the early days of the revolution.

At the head of the Canadian nursing mission to Rumania, as it is called, is Miss Dorothy Cotton, of Montreal, a daughter of the late General Cotton, and one of the Canadian nurses who served on the staff of Lady Paget's Anglo-Russian hospital at Petrograd during the early years of the war. To work with her she has chosen Miss Jean Graham, superintendent of the Davisville Hospital; Miss Margaret Killmaster, of Brantford; Miss Irene Savage, former masseuse at the Christie Street Hospital; Miss Claire Carter, Port Colborne; Miss Olive Fitzgibbon, Montreal; Miss Garfield McKay of Halifax, and Miss Helen Kendall of Winnipeg.

METAL WORKERS WHO SEIZED FACTORIES IN ITALY FACE HANDICAP

Lack of Technical Training Prevents Proper Operation of Plants.

APPEAL TO EXPERTS

Engineers' Association Flatly Refuses To Render Any Assistance.

London, Sept. 8.—Messages from the region affected by Tuesday's earthquake in Italy say the damage was heavier than at first believed, and that the number of dead and injured discovered is increasing hourly, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today.

Rome, Sept. 8.—Metal workers who have occupied factories throughout Italy are embarrassed by the opposition they have encountered from the technical and administrative staffs of plants that have been taken over, according to the newspapers here. The men have no adequate direction and expert advice in carrying on the work of the different factories, and are declared to have made advances to technical employees, asking them to make common cause with the workers. The engineers' association has flatly refused to consider this suggestion.

The general situation throughout Italy is reported to be without change. At Leghorn, railwaymen have turned over to metal workers occupying the plant of the Italian Metallurgic Society several trucks of raw material which have been lying at the Torretia station. Workmen who have been occupying the Gambare steel works in that city yesterday returned to their normal program, there being no quarrel between them and their employers. They took over the plant, it is said, merely as evidence of their solidarity with the metal workers in other parts of the country.

The Giornale d'Italia estimated that only 20 per cent of the men occupying factories are working.

English unions, it is reported, have sent a communication to the Italian Confederation of Labor, asking news of the metal workers' movement, and expressing a desire to work in common accord with the confederation in extending the conflict.

Pietro Mascagni, the composer, was given an ovation by workmen at the Orlando factory at Leghorn yesterday, when he visited the men. He left a written expression of his sympathy, and before leaving made a brief address.

"Your victory," he is quoted as saying, "will make an end of a shameful exploitation of labor. I wish you victory with my whole heart."

FAVORS UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS

J. C. Elliott Returns From Dominion Bar Association Meeting.

Uniform divorce laws for the whole of Canada are strongly favored by J. C. Elliott, ex-M. P. P. of West Middlesex, a member of the conference of commissioners on uniformity of legislation for the various provinces, who has just returned from attending a lengthy session of the Dominion Bar Association at Ottawa.

Mr. Elliott states that he does not believe in making it any easier for applicants to obtain a divorce, but is strongly in favor of provincial divorce courts, whereby applicants can secure a divorce if their case warrants it without going to the great expense heretofore necessary.

"Divorce can be obtained if adultery is proven, but I am not in favor of making it any easier to obtain divorce through the installation of the provincial divorce courts," said Mr. Elliott.

"The uniformity of legislation for the different provinces was discussed at some length at the Ottawa meeting he said. The object of the commissioners is to recommend to the government a form of act which may be adopted by all provinces. Both the divorce and the uniformity of legislation questions are of the greatest importance to the country. At the present time the laws in each province vary considerably. Judges cannot follow a decision made in another province because the law in that province is different. The movement to promote the uniformity of legislation is without a doubt a most advanced move to better the law conditions in Canada, Mr. Elliott says. Among the acts which the commissioners are attempting to have uniform are: Company laws, sales of goods, partnership act, and the additional sales of goods act.

TOWN PLANNING AIMS TO PROTECT BEST INTERESTS OF ALL CITIZENS

Not an Expensive Decorative Luxury, But Proven by Results in England and Other Countries To Make For General Civic Betterment.

Town planning broke upon the Canadian people as an expensive decorative luxury. Certain cities, chiefly in the United States, had made new streets and civic centres by the destruction of buildings good, bad and indifferent, that happened to be in the way, and the finer minds conceived the idea of the "City Beautiful." There were those who had traveled in Europe and had seen the noble squares and magnificent boulevards of Paris and Berlin, and they were ambitious for their own native cities.

But there were many taxpayers already overburdened who believed they would have to pay the bill for a "City Beautiful." They talked pretty sternly to their representatives on the councils and declared that those who wanted the "City Beautiful" must pay for it.

Advent of Town Planning.

Later there came news of town planning; of schemes in the old country by which new towns were planned from the beginning, just as a landscape gardener arranges his plot of ground—utilities here and the ornamental there and everywhere order and consideration for all the elements and activities of civic life. Special emphasis was laid on the provision for the amenities of home life for the poorest, so that slum life should be impossible. Provision was made for special districts for industry and commerce so that manufactories should not sprawl all over the town and destroy home values and devastate residential districts.

Still there was much talk of the necessity for beauty—for parks and recreation grounds for the benefit of children and adults and the original idea of the "City Beautiful" and the newer idea of town planning did not easily detach themselves. They suffered a certain amount of entanglement.

Ancient Town Planning.

The practical man and especially the intelligent workman now drifting to opposition remembered that town planning was not really new. Some of them from the old country had seen the estates of the wealthy and the elaborate expensive provision that had been made for their pleasure in planning all those domains. Town planning, they concluded was an art that operated for the benefit of royal persons, the aristocracy and the wealthy. They learned such significant facts as that behind the famous boulevard of the "Unter den Linden" in Berlin the people were crowded into monstrous tenements, where light, air space and room to live in decency and comfort were impossible. Paris, they learned, owed its magnificence to the whims of kings, emperors and princes who could create magnificence for their own enjoyment at the expense of the people.

A Democratic Movement.

Familiarity with the aims, the process and the results of modern town planning very quickly dissipates this confusion of ideas. The student of it realizes that town planning is a people's movement par excellence.

Modern town planning began about sixteen years ago when a group of social reformers in London, discouraged and hisheartened by the efforts of generations to improve the conditions of slum life, and make decent living conditions possible for the people, decided on a new plan of buying country land at country prices for the construction of a new town where slum life should be forever impossible; where the very poorest should have some of those amenities that had hitherto been the prerogative of the rich.

John Stuart Mill's idea of the greatest good for the greatest number was to be exemplified. The poorest citizen should have room to live, his cottage should have garden space and light and air and his soul should have a chance of feeding on beauty. His children should have room to play and be in touch with nature. Public ownership of land would make profiteering in this first necessity of social life impossible, and the "unearned increment" of land value due to the existence, necessities and activities of the community should be conserved for the benefit of the people who create it.

Should Be Encouraged.

Industry should be encouraged and given the best facilities by having a special district for its operations and room for expansion. Its activities should be screened from the residential district by a belt of trees and its location should be where the prevailing winds would carry away all smokes and noxious odors. By the grouping of industries all kinds of economics in transportation, power and haulage would be possible. Here was conceived the zoning idea that has been adopted so widely in the United States, and is now being utilized in New York and other large centres to lessen the confusion of existing cities and especially to protect home values from the intrusion of industries and incongruous buildings into residential districts.

Effects Marriage.

Around the city there should be an agricultural belt that would be preserved for all time so as to effect the marriage of country and town.

These ideas and ambitions took shape and the town was built and now houses a population of 13,000 persons. The major part of the estate of 4,000 acres is devoted to agriculture and will be for all time. Arrangement was made for a civic centre and roads were made to converge to that centre. But so little is the modern town-planning movement a merely decorative activity that this civic centre has not yet been built up. It has its place in the plan and when proper buildings are needed there will be a location for them without an expenditure of millions of dollars in clearing away misplaced streets and buildings.

Modern town planning, therefore, has absolutely nothing in common with ancient town planning except that it is determined that some of the amenities that have hitherto been enjoyed by the few shall be enjoyed by all. One-tenth of the urban acreage is reserved for playgrounds and parks, and the living density is restricted to eight houses to the acre. Multiple dwellings are not built because they are not needed. There is room to live.

"For the People."

This was the beginning of modern town planning. It is a people's movement. Labor has been claiming for generations that it must have a larger share in the rewards of labor and it has not already failed in its demand. Town planning claims that the average man shall have a larger share in the benefits of civic life and that a city need not be composed of a few expensive and elaborate dwellings and a multitude of sleeping boxes for the people crowded together in dreary and unlovely streets. It claims the right to restrain land swetting and land greed in the interests of general health and welfare and it denies the absolute right of any man who is a member of a community so to use any part of the land on which that community lives and works that it will be a danger to the health and welfare of the community. At the same time, by indicating and limiting the uses of land, where private ownership exists, it stabilizes land values and reduces the values of land speculation which is at the root of most of our social difficulties. Town planning is like proportional representation; it gives to each man what is reasonably due to him—and NO MORE.

The Friend of Labor.

There is no greater mistake than to conceive modern town planning as a movement intended and promoted for the benefit of the rich. In Letchworth, the town-planned English city, there are no "hovels"; there are no ugly streets; there are plenty of playgrounds; there is no juvenile crime; no detention courts. The infantile mortality rate is less than one-half that of the rest of England which means that one-half of the children who die in England during the year might survive if they lived in a town-planned town. Manufacturers are working under ideal conditions, and the workmen's homes are within walking distance, although they are in the country.

Labor could make no greater mistake than to set itself in opposition to a town-planning movement. Modern town planning is the quintessence of democracy. The last sentence in Dr. Carol Aronovici's book on housing reads as follows:

The test of the city of the future will be its adequacy in providing for the life, labor, and leisure of its people, and the housing reformer will have to join hands with the city planner to achieve this great end.

SUIT OF CLOTHES WEARS FIFTY YEARS

Mr. R. E. Carver, a retired tobacco grower of Indiana, has a suit of clothes he has been wearing fifty years, and it has every appearance of lasting for some time yet. So says a Chicago paper. Some suit just like the Perfect Diamonds sold by John A. Nash, My Jeweler. They last forever. His store is 206 Dundas street, where you will eventually buy.

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO STIMULATE BOYS' WORK HERE

Special Appeal Will Be Made To Businessmen Next Week.

London is due for another booster program in connection with the work being carried on amongst the boys. L. M. Houlding, boys' work secretary of the local "Y," stated to The Advertiser today that Taylor Statten and C. J. Atkins, known throughout Canada as organizers of clubs and Christian associations for the under-privileged boys, will be in the city on September 13 to make plans for the campaign. They will make an appeal to businessmen for support.

A new building in the east end may be secured. Mr. Houlding stated that he thought there were two or three buildings which would make splendid clubrooms for the boys.

"There is every possibility of a wonderful future in boys' work in this city," said Mr. Houlding. "London is slated as the second of any city in Canada for the percentage of boys taking up the C. S. E. tests. I think if we can get this campaign under way and boost things along we will rank highest. The only obstacle at present is the lack of efficient leadership. We must pick the best type of men in the city to guide these boys and teach them the right way to live and become perfect men. Most of the men we wish to take over this work are successful businessmen and do not wish to leave their work."

Mr. Statten and Mr. Atkins will be guests of the Rotary Club and the Canadian Club. They will give addresses and endeavor to show the members the importance of this work in a city that has a future such as London has.

The east end, in the estimation of the officials of the local "Y," is the part of the city that needs this work among the boys. They state that there are no places where the boys can spend their evenings in gymnastic work or educational guidance.

PERSONAL MENTION

E. J. Allen returned yesterday after spending several days in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Richardson, formerly of London.

An Overburdened Mother

If the steps a mother takes and the work she does could only be measured by figures, what an array they would make. Through girlhood, wifehood and motherhood, woman toils on, often suffering from backache, pain in side, headache, nervousness and sleeplessness, symptoms of more serious ailments peculiar to her sex. Thousands of such women, however, have found relief from suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually being published in this paper.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

HUNT—STRUTHERS.

One of the smartest and prettiest weddings of the year took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist Church, when Marjorie Carlyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. C. Struthers, was united in marriage to Lieut. Archibald William Hunt, of the Princess Patricia Regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt, of Lower Edmonton, North England. The church was crowded to the doors with interested spectators, and the 200 guests, who were attending the wedding.

The floral decorations were exceptionally pretty, making the church a bower of autumn beauty. The wide altar was closely banked with palms and ferns interspersed with huge clusters of mauve asters and green and bronze oak leaves. Directly in the centre had been arranged a white pre dieu with satin kneeling cushions. On either side and extending at intervals across the altar were tall standards twined with smilax and headed with great sheaves of pale pink gladioli and yellow 'mums. Similar standards stood at intervals down either aisle of the church, the centre pews having been roped off for the guests.

A Pretty Scene.

The entire gallery railing was hidden with bronze and green oak leaves and splashes of pink, mauve and yellow color appeared in the beautiful form of asters, 'mums and gladioli grouped here and there about the whole circle of the chruch. The presence of the Princess Patricia colors in the church gave a military tone to the setting, which was enhanced still further as khaki-clad ushers, fellow officers of the groom, passed back and forth in the church while the guests were arriving.

Promptly at the hour set for the ceremony, the beautiful bride entered the church by the west aisle, leaning on the arm of her grandfather, R. C. Struthers. She was sweet and winsome in her nuptial robe of ivory charmeuse, completely draped with Chantilly lace and girdled with orange blossoms. A court train lined with sea-green silver cloth, hung from the shoulders, while a handsomely embroidered tulle veil fell its full length from a pretty Juliet cap, crowned with orange blossoms. Her costume was completed by a handsome platinum necklace with diamond pendant, the gift of her mother, and a huge shower bouquet of orchids and Ophelia roses.

Scattered Rose Leaves.

Directly in front of the bride as she walked up the aisle was a quaint flower girl, little Miss Elaine Shotwell of Detroit, who scattered rose leaves in the way of the bride. She wore a charming Paris frock of white hand-made lace, which had belonged to the bride. A small hat of panne velvet and ermine trimmings topped her wee head, while a girdle of sea green silver cloth carried out the white and green color scheme. The roses were scattered from a square basket strapped to her shoulders with sea green ribbons.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Keith Hammond, wore a lovely gown of shell pink taffeta, made with side panniers and trimmed with osprey trimming, and a bouquet of pink roses completed her costume. The groom was attended by Capt. James Edgar of London, while Capt. Jack Genet, Capt. Woods, Lieut. McGregor McIntosh and Lieut. Reginald Mitchell acted as ushers.

Crossed Swords.

The ceremony, which was military in character, was most impressive, Dr. R. G. Peever officiating. As the bridal pair were leaving the church, the fellow-officers of the groom formed an arch with crossed swords, under which the bride and groom passed. During the signing of the register Mr. Carmen Learn sang the Flaxington-Harper setting of "Oh Perfect Love," while throughout the ceremony Mr. A. D. Jordan at the organ played soft wedding music.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Struthers, Wellington street. The house had been made beautiful throughout with autumn flowers and smilax. The bridal pair received their guests in the drawing-room from an alcove decorated with yellow 'mums, pale pink and white gladioli and Columbia roses. Everywhere the chandeliers were twined with smilax, and in the dining-room sweetheart roses and orea, an entirely new variety of orchids were prettily arranged on the bride's table. Small cut glass vases of orea reposed at each corner of the table, to which white satin streamers came. The military idea was further carried out here when the bride cut the wedding cake with the sword of the groom. The grandmother of the bride wore a handsome gown of black charmeuse and jet and black hat, with corsage of orchids, while the mother of the bride was also in black charmeuse with Chantilly lace and irridescent trimming. She also wore an ermine scarf and orchids and roses.

Making Motor Trip.

The young couple left for a trip down the St. Lawrence and a motor trip through the Adirondacks, traveling in a handsome roadster, a gift to the bride from her grandfather. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue tricotine with small toque of navy velvet and pretty corsage. On their return, Lieut. and Mrs. Hunt will reside in Winnipeg, where Lieut. Hunt is stationed at Tuxedo Barracks. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful traveling case with sterling silver fittings; to the matron of honor a pearl necklace, to the flower girl a bar pin set with pearls and diamonds, to the best man silver cuff links set with pearls, to the ushers, cigarette holders.

The Guests.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Capt. Sydney Rowlandson and Mrs. Rowlandson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boeckh, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hargraft, Mr. Henry Gooderham, Mr. and Mrs. Carr Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson, Miss Honor Soames, Miss Margaret Ivey and Miss Dorothy Lash, all of Toronto; Mr. R. J. Hebden of New York, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Luckett of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Blackham of Oakville, Miss Judith Skead of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. J. Elliott and the Misses Elliott of Lambton, Mr. and Mrs. Larimore of Larimore, N. Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Sarrell and Mr. Chas. Brooker of Ansonia, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Orton Powers of Waterbury, Conn., and Mrs. Andy Mann of Montreal.

JONSON—McGRENERE.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Martin's Church at 8 o'clock this morning, when Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGrenere of London, was united in marriage to Mr. Neil Jonson of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Forster and high mass administered by him. In a beautiful gown of white satin draped with georgette, and wearing a white georgette hat, the bride appeared on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding music. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ella McGrenere in pink organdie with hat to match and wearing pink roses. Mr. Jonson, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Jonson will reside in East London.

FOSTER—CRAWFORD.

Strathroy, Sept. 8.—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crawford on Caradoc street on Labor Day, when their second daughter, Eva Irene, was united in marriage to Richard Inch Foster, son formerly of Kerwood shrdluwyppupup of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster, Kerwood, Rev. Dr. A. I. Brown of Melbourne (formerly of Kerwood), officiating, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The happy couple left by motor for London, taking the evening train for Hamilton, Toronto, Niagara Falls. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, Kerwood.

NURSE WEDS WAR HERO.

Parkhill, Sept. 8.—Miss Agnes Birchley, a former English war nurse, and Chester L. Rawson, formerly Pte. Rawson, and a patient of Miss Birchley's, were married today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Calvert. Rawson and Calvert occupied adjacent beds in the English hospital, became fast friends, came to Canada and opened a garage in Parkhill. This garage was recently sold, and Mr. Rawson took up farming in Parry Sound district. The happy couple left by motor for their future home.

Whitehead, both of this city were united in marriage, Rev. W. H. Graham officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Hilda Sugden and the groom by the bride's brother, Thomas Maltby.

FOUND IN PAWNSHOP.

Within a few hours after a woman who lives in the Southern States wired from the border to the officials of the G. T. R. in this city that she had lost a valuable fur in the local station, the missing article was found by Constable Robert Logan in a local pawnshop. The woman wired a complete description of the fur, which, she said, she left in the women's dressing-room, along with a description of two young women she suspected of taking them. The identity of the two women has been learned and action will probably be taken against them.

DELAYING THE WORK.

Owing to a shortage of cement, work on the buildings in the new G. T. R. reclamation yards, which are being built east of the city, is still being delayed. According to Superintendent C. F. Forrester of the local division the steel-cawing building would have been completed by now if the building material could have been secured. The buildings are to be constructed entirely of concrete.

MANY IMMIGRANTS.

Five cars of Italian immigrants en route from New York to Chicago passed through this city over the G. T. R. Tuesday evening. The cars stood for some time before the station waiting for No. 3. A small panic broke out among the scores of picturesquely-garbed men, women and children, who had got off the train, to secure food, when the cars were pulled out of the yard without warning to be attached to the rear of a regular train.

Men in brown plush raiment, some still wearing partial Italian military uniforms, women dressed in nondescript styles, of which aprons and brightly-colored 'kerchiefs played a prominent part, and children made a mad rush for the moving train. With huge loaves of bread and other articles of food in their arms they clung to the steps as the train gathered speed. Many were left behind. Their disconcerted looks, however, gave way to bright smiles when they saw the cars returning.

MANY FACTORS AFFECT HIGH COST OF LIVING

A meeting of the committee appointed by the trades and labor council to investigate and inquire into the high cost of living was held on Tuesday night in the Labor Temple.

It was decided by the committee that the topics for consideration will be the world shortage of raw material; too many middlemen; excessive profits leading to unequal distribution; too much money being spent on luxuries; speculations, especially in primaries, such as cotton, wheat and iron; wrong method of government control, such as tariffs and the inflation of currency.

The committee will also inquire into the effects of high wages on the cost of living. After all these investigations have been completed a report will be made public. Dr. Louis Wood proposed the above topics, which while they may not be exhausted will be a basis for the committee, which is composed of twenty-one members, to work upon.

MISTOOK SKUNK FOR A BIG RAT

Police Officer Discovered His Mistake Too Late.

Skunks in London? Sure. The downtown district is just overrun with wild animals, and along in the quiet hours of the morning the night police constables on Dundas street while away their time regularly killing rats as they scurry along from store to store. Early Wednesday morning, Constable Gow espied what he mistook for an extra-sized rodent at the corner of Carling and Richmond, and valiantly attacked it with his nightstick. Whew! It was a wildwood pussy, scientifically designated as the "mephitis mephitica," known in vulgar parlance as the plain ordinary skunk, and politically named the "polecat." It was a mistake all around. The constable mistook the cat for a rat. The (Pole) cat mistook the constable for a Bolshevik, and reciprocal atrocities were in order. For a radius of two blocks from the scene of battle, the air was odorific, but not with any rose or violet scent. Poor pussy died fighting, and the victorious constable went home as quickly as possible to fumigate his uniform.

How the skunk managed to get so far into the city is hard to explain. Evidently there must be a famine in country chickens, and the poultry-loving kitty decided to visit this near metropolis on a forage for city flappers.

FEAR BRUSSELS CONGRESS NOT AID TO FINANCE

French Expect It To Produce Little More Than Mystifying Statistics.

NEW STANDARD NEEDED

Money Experts Urged To Plan Remedy—Attitude of U. S. an Important Factor.

Paris, Sept. 7. — Fear that the Brussels financial congress will produce nothing more than a series of platonic resolutions, intermingled with a mass of mystifying statistics, is beginning to be evidenced by the French press, which is urging the financial experts of this country to be ready to suggest a tangible solution of Europe's difficulties instead of worrying about whether Germany is going to heed her obligations.

"Unless they are able to do this," says Jean Bertrand, writing in the Homme Libre, which is generally regarded as expressing Georges Clemenceau's views, "the result of the conference will throw discredit on the League of Nations instead of confidence, which it was hoped would be increased by the congress.

"The institution of a new financial order throughout the whole world is the only posisble means of convincing the public of the utility and the vitality of the league," he adds.

Would End Money Fluctuations.

The only suggestion so far advanced is that the nations adopt a definite financial standard, thereby relieving depreciated currencies from the effect of the daily fluctuations, which are usually due to speculation rather than to any real divergence of values. However, M. Bertrand points out that the greater need is for the direction of the gold surpluses toward the countries which are able to export, thereby inducing more intensive production.

"The needs of England, France and Italy cannot be covered by exterior loans," he says. "They cannot get lenders enough nor the mobilized sums necessary to restore pre-war conditions. Moreover, we have nothing to gain by failing to face the facts as they exist."

Some French experts believe that an international credit agreement, unlimited except by the ability of nations to export, would solve the problem, inasmuch as England, France and Belgium succeeded in stabilizing their budgets for this year. On the other hand, the more radical suggestion is that gold holding nations like the United State write off the war debt they hold in return for trade concessions.

In France's case this would be effected, for instance, by the relinquishment by the French Government of the traditional protection of the so-called "de luxe industries," but this is not likely to get serious consideration because of the disinclination of other nations to do likewise. It is greatly doubted, for instance, whether the United States would knock off the duties charged importers of Paris gowns, which amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

Chance Gone for a Wedge.

The adoption of the American tobacco men's offer to take over the French Government's tobacco monopoly might have proved a wedge for the recognition of such an international policy, but the correspondent was again informed by French finance officials that the scheme was no longer being considered.

It was said here that the trip of M. Parmentier of the French finance ministry to New York was likely to give a better appreciation of just what must be done, especially as a substantial decrease in the French rate of exchange depends largely on whether he is able to get American bankers to meet the larger part of the Anglo-French loan.

"Last week the dollar was quoted at about thirteen francs," said a member of the ministry of finance today. "This week it was 10 per cent higher than it was last week, although the diplomatic relations between the United States and France, as well as the economic conditions, were better than at any time since the armistice. There is only one conclusion to be drawn from this, namely, that speculators on both sides of the Atlantic continue to play havoc with the market."

But whether the fixing of an arbitrary standard of exchange for the world's moneys would prevent speculation is generally doubted here, although the idea was said to have many protagonists in Germany, which would benefit by it in her reparation payments alone to the extent of nearly 60 per cent.

Crowd Baffled By Blackstone

After Being Locked in Box and Lowered Into River, He Escapes.

Blackstone, the magician, playing at the Grand Theatre this week, staged his famous publicity stunt before hundreds of people at the Traction bridge today when he was securely bound and nailed in a specially constructed box, lowered into the River Thames, and in less than two minutes appeared on the surface of the water, waving his hand to the people. A few seconds later he sank in the water, the box was hauled to the bridge securely bound, and upon being opened disclosed the magician inside. The box was heavily weighted with stones.

So large was the crowd which gathered to see him perform, that it was feared the footpath on the bridge would collapse and as a result two constables were dispatched from the police station to keep the bridge clear. Practically every spectator had an original explanation for the feat, but none proved satisfactory to their mystified companions.

NERVOUS MOTORIST BACKED INTO CAR

At London's busy traffic corner, a nervous motorist, had received the traffic officers' signal and rounding the corner too quickly from Dundas coming eastward to Richmond street, going south, ran into a through Richmond motorist. Considerable damage was done so far as the car ahead was concerned, and an officer came over, names were taken, and arrangements made for arbitrating the damages.

"Now, get out of here before you do any more damage," said the traffic cop. The nervous motorist threw on the gas, but reversed the gear, and his car shot backward into a car behind. This time, in addition to smashing the fender of the car behind, he tore a tire off his own car.

LIQUOR CASE WAS DISMISSED

Auto Driver Admits Drinking But Denies Being Intoxicated.

Local police court business today met with a decided slump. Two Slavs, whose names and appearance were not characteristic enough to indicate whether they were Russian or Poles, were assessed $10 each and costs for being intoxicated. When sentenced they did not say anything about paying their fines, and probably will board a few weeks at the city's expense as an alternative.

A diminutive-looking youth, a mere boy, was also assessed $10. He was sitting on the hillside up around Adelaide and Oxford streets, when somebody invited him to have a drink. He accepted, but didn't remember where the drink came from. The police were suspicious, however, and took a chance on searching a little restaurant on the corner. No liquor was found there, so they arrested the proprietor, W. H. Reeve, who was driving away in his automobile, and charged him with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He admitted having had two drinks at a house on St. James' street, where he went to sell his automobile, but called three witnesses to prove he wasn't intoxicated. The police had been called to this house, on the report that a fight was in progress, but all was joy and peace when they arrived, and as it was a private house, they couldn't arrest anybody for drinking there.

The restaurant keeper had called on his way home to buy some meat, and the butcher sent a signed statement to the court, to the effect that his customer was perfectly sober when he called to purchase some bacon. Wednesday being the butcher's busy day, he couldn't come to court in person.

The only real evidence the police had against the driver was that he ran his car a few inches too far into the garage and struck the wall. However, the defendant's counsel, E. W. M. Flock, pointed out, any motorist is liable to do this.

Magistrate Graydon decided that a dismissal was in order, but told the accused that he didn't like the class of associates he met at the house on St. James' street, and it might have been in order to show more explicitly that an actual attempt was made to sell the car while there.

DEPUTATION OF STREET CAR MEN REFUSED HEARING BY COUNCIL ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Seven Willing, Four Do Not Vote — "Afraid?" Asks Ald. W. A. Wilson—William Tite Target For Hot Volleys of Words — Delegates To Telephone Hearing Appointed.

A large deputation of members of the local street railwaymen's union appearing before the city council last night was denied a hearing on a vote of that body, seven members voting to hear them, while four and the mayor did not vote. Those present in the hope of seeing fireworks were disappointed as a result, although there was a little target practice indulged in by Mayor Little and Alderman Cameron Wilson, with William Tite playing the title role.

When the vote was taken, and four aldermen did not register, Alderman W. A. Wilson inquired: "Did they all vote, or are they afraid to?" No one replied.

Alderman Cameron Wilson then rose and said: "I wish to reply to certain malicious and slanderous statements in the press during the last few days. Ordinarily one would ignore these things and treat them with contempt, but they require a little threshing out. The source of them was at a meeting of No. 1 committee, when certain remarks were made by a delegation and answered. These statements were carried back to the Trades and Labor Council, one of which was to the effect that I said returned soldiers should work for 44 cents an hour. Raymond Smith, one member of the delegation, informs me that he did not report this, nor did he hear me say it, so he assures me."

No Apology.

"It therefore follows," declared the speaker, "that they must have been made by the other delegate. I want to say if that gentleman did it, he made a deliberate falsehood. I am making no apology, nor do I intend to. I said it was a job for returned soldiers who cannot get out in the open, and I reiterate the statement. We cannot do anything better than to obtain jobs for one-legged and one-armed veterans if they can do the work.

"At the mass meeting of street car men the statements were repeated, added to, and exaggerated. The meeting, I understand, was a hot one, and if I had thought there would be anything like that you could not have kept me away, because I love a fight. I wish to reply to statements made by ex-Alderman John Colbert. He is not here and I do not want to talk behind his back. I will leave him alone. Is Mr. C. Watkins here?"

The last mentioned person answered his name, and Ald. Wilson addressed the following remarks to him: "You will find me where I usually am, any time you or your delegation wish to throw me in the river as reported, and I will receive your delegation. No man in his right senses would say that returned soldiers should work for 44 cents an hour."

"Alderman John Bridge and his worship the mayor did not make the statements credited them in the press report of the trades and labor council meeting. If that man did the reporting to the meeting he should not be allowed to appear before this council again."

William Tite, who accompanied Raymond Smith as a delegate at the committee meeting, and the man referred to by Ald. Wilson's last statement then requested that he be allowed to reply.

"If you can get eight members of the council who want to hear you talk you can," replied the mayor. The aldermen then passed a motion moved by Dr. Cameron Wilson that he be allowed to address them.

Denies Garbling.

He denied garbling the report of the meeting and declared: "I reported what took place verbatim as near as I can." He then read extracts from The London Advertiser report of No. 1 committee meeting of last Tuesday, which Ald. Wilson admitted was correct and in no way misquoted him. He then attempted to prove that the mayor spoke disparagingly of the street car employees by producing a newspaper, but after reading an excerpt from same said, "O that is wrong, too."

Here Mayor Little interjected, "I have listened to a lot of talk from you. You have made statements that I could have you in court for regarding the way I put business through the council, alleging that it is illegal. You say things you do not think. I said, 'I don't care if they go on strike, we are going to solve this thing for the citizens of London, including the street railwaymen.'"

Ald. Cunningham then moved that William Tite be no longer heard by the council. Ald. Cameron Wilson said, "We have been corroborated by other members of the committe present at the meeting, by the other delegates and by members of the press present to report it."

Not From Council.

Raymond Smith then informed the meeting that William Tite was merely present on behalf of the Labor Representation Council and not in the interests of the Trades and Labor Organization.

"No one is any more interested in the street railway employees than I am," declared the mayor. "I want to see them get a square deal. If any gentleman in the deputation has any suggestions to offer to the committee they are welcome."

"Any deputation of which Mr. Smith is a member will be welcomed," said Ald. Cameron Wilson. "He always puts his case before us shortly and concisely, and always received our consideration. Any member of No. 1 committee will accept Mr. Smith's interpretation of what was said at the meeting."

Alderman Ashton then rose to query why the street railway employees were brought into the argument at the meeting last week. "Striking during fair week is the last thing we would think of," he declared. "We are always thinking of the public and have 70 returned soldiers in our union now. We are only asking for what is right."

Mayor Explains.

Mayor Little explained to the deputation that according to bylaw procedure delegations must first appear before the proper committee before being allowed to address the council unless a two-thirds vote, which was not available last night, accorded them the privilege.

Alderman W. A. Wilson presented a motion asking the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw for the council to pass authorizing increased railway fares. "I say we have the power and a judge of the higher courts says we have," he reiterated. Alderman Moorehead objected, stating that a definite statement from the company as to what it would be prepared to do should be forthcoming at first. He denied the statement credited to the company that the city had provided no relief, citing increased Springbank fares and Sunday fares as proof of denial."

Ald. Harley moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the special street railway committee. The amendment carried. Sergt. Thomas Lucas of the local police force was present to suppress any disorder, but his services were not required.

Striking Too Hard.

Ald. O. I. Cunningham reported proceedings of the Canadian Municipality Convention held at Montreal, recently declaring that all delegates felt that the Bell Telephone Company was striking too hard. Some felt that they were not entitled to any increased rates and favored a provincial control of telephones with Dominion control at a later date. He declared that the company aimed to put the increased rates over on Montreal and Toronto and then go after smaller municipalities.

"It is up to us to stand behind the big fellow," he said, "or we will get it next spring and get it good." The council decided to follow his advice and deputed the mayor and Ald. W. A. Wilson and O. I. Cunningham to attend the hearing at Ottawa Sept. 21, and take any necessary action.

Alderman Delegates.

Aldermen Brighton and Watkinson were appointed delegates to accompany a representative of the public utilities commission on behalf of London at the hydro radials convention in Hamilton, September 16. The recommendation of No. 1 committee that the London Street Railway Company be requested to make one stop on Beaconsfield avenue, no stop at the Market Lane, no stop on Richmond street between Dundas street and Queen's avenue, and to omit either the stop at Fullarton street or the Grand Theatre, was adopted. A cement curb and gutter on William street between Oxford and St. James streets was authorized, as was also the recommendation of City Engineer Brazier regarding London West pavements.

Mrs. Mary Gemmel and James Hussey were nominated by the council for members of the mothers' pension board to represent the city. This was in accordance with a request received from the chairman of that body.

REPORT ON SCHOOL CHILDREN WHO ARE DULL NEXT MONTH

Education Board Decides To Call Specialist—Auxiliary Classes Likely.

A report on backward and subnormal children in local public schools with a view to establishing auxiliary classes for their training will be received by the board of education in October. This was decided upon at a meeting of the above body held yesterday afternoon, and Dr. Clarke of Toronto will be invited to this city to lecture on this subject and inspect the school children. Children eligible for school training in the city will be included in the survey.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Nella Boon with regret, this veteran on the teaching staff who has served continuously for almost a half-century, being compelled to relinquish her duties owing to ill-health. A resolution of appreciation of her services was passed unanimously by the trustees present. Edwin Smith and Trustee Eggett, seconder and sponsor of the motion, respectively, informed the board that Miss Boon taught them years ago, and Chairman H. Hayman claimed the same privilege.

"She is the grandest teacher we ever had, and she taught the entire Eggett family," declared Trustee Eggett. "She is also our oldest female teacher on the job and I hate to see her quit." The board also accepted the resignations of Miss Mary E. L. Tolshurst and Miss Dorothy Fisher.

Mrs. John I. Hunt, through Trustee Mrs. Harris, offered a presentation book in memory of her nephew, Lieut.-Col. James A. Turner, D.S.O., M.C., a former London boy killed in action at Soissons in 1918. The book is to be competed for in essays by pupils of Lord Roberts School, and the offer was accepted. It is beautifully bound, and is a life history of the dead hero, who attended the old Princess Avenue School, and a volume will be presented yearly for ten years.

The tender of Walter Scott for a new roof for the Alexandra school was accepted at $1,225. Permission was granted Mlle Guerin to address senior pupils in the public schools in the interest of the Franco-Canadian Orphanage. The recommendation of No. 1 committee that Miss Alma M. Hourd be appointed school nurse to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Nash was adopted.

HIGH SCHOOL WORK IN VICTORIA SCHOOL

Training Will Be Permanently Carried On — Collegiate Registers 1,013 Pupils.

First year high school work was inaugurated in South London yesterday, when 26 pupils registered in a fifth form established at Victoria Public School by Principal McKone. The pupils will receive first year high school training, the work being provided in co-operation with candidates training for certificates in this work, and, according to Senior Inspector C. B. Edwards, the first year high school training will be permanently carried on at Victoria School under these conditions, with successful students taking senior high school work at the Collegiate Institute.

Principal W. H. T. Mooney reports that 1013 pupils registered at the Collegiate Institute on Tuesday, which is a dozen more than last year. He recommends that evening classes at this institution be more widely advertised by the board of education. Seven night pupils of the Collegiate Institute successfully wrote departmental exams this year.

G. W. V. A. WOMEN CLAIM THE RIGHT TO HELP PLAN HOUSES

Send Delegation To Demand Representation On Housing Commission.

The Women's Auxiliary to the G. W. V. A. is asking for a representative on the housing commission, and to back up their request sent a delegation of three from their meeting last night to wait upon the high cost of living commission meeting at the Trades and Labor Temple last evening. The women's meeting, which was held at the G. W. V. A. rooms on Queen's avenue, was presided over by Mrs. J. F. Thompson, who declared that it had long been the custom for men to devise houses and for women to "live, move and have their being in them." She thought it was time that women began to have a say in the planning of their homes, and the rest of the members were unanimous in their agreement with her. The delegates who attended the high cost of living commission meeting were: Mrs. J. O'Neil, Mrs. E. Ball and Mrs. W. Adams.

The members of the Women's Auxiliary also arranged for a social evening to be held on Thursday at the "Y" hut, Carling Heights, in honor of the Princess Patricia men, who are leaving the city shortly. A tag day was also arranged for October 23 in aid of funds for the auxiliary. This tag day is being held on October 23 in memory of the visit of the Prince of Wales here last year at that time. The tags sold will take the form of Prince of Wales' badges.

Among the different forms of work undertaken by the auxiliary during the coming years will be the maintenance of a maternity bag, to be lent out to needy soldiers' wives.

GLOWING REPORTS OF SOLDIERS' AID WORK AT ANNUAL MEETING

Lieut.-Col. Cooper, Brig.-Gen. Panet Are Special Speakers.

DUTIES INCREASE

Commission To Have Power of Children's Aid Society —Hostel Needed.

Lieut.-Col. H. F. Cooper, O.B.E., M.C., M.L.A.; Brig.-Gen. H. A. Panet, C.M.G., D.S.O., and H. L. Robinson, representing the provincial commission, were the special speakers at the annual meeting and dinner of the London branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, held last evening at the Tecumseh House.

Reports on the year's work were presented and all were glowingly favorable, and both Col. Cooper and Mr. Robinson congratulated the local branch, whose excellent work, they declared, unexcelled by any other branch in the province. John M. Moore presided.

The election of a new executive council for the following year was held, the following members being elected: Rev. H. B. Ashby, George F. Copeland, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, James Gray, Reeve W. E. Grieves, Mrs. S. F. Lawrason, J. M. Moore, John Stuart, Mrs. J. M. Slater.

Col. Cooper in his address referred to the large work the local branch was doing for the dependents and children of the returned soldiers. This would be the biggest work of the commission in the future. By special act of the Ontario Legislature, the Soldiers' Aid Commission has been given the same powers as the Children's Aid Society. London branch, he understood, was moving to establish a children's hostel here. The head office of the commission was now relieving the Dominion Government of the work of the mothers' and children's pensions in the province.

He referred to the sending out of representives to find employment for returned men. For some time the commission, fearing a clash with the labor department, had hesitated. Then the members decided that the best plan was to go ahead and wait for the labor department to protest afterwards. There had been no great opposition, and the work was still being carried on.

Direct Action.

There is more direct action in the army than in the average business concern, declared Col. Cooper. Red tape in connection with the army is largely a misnomer.

G. F. Copeland, on behalf of the new executive, expressed appreciation to the speakers, the members of the past executive. District Superintendent Shaver, the auditors, the press and others who had encouraged the work of the commission.

Mrs. A. T. Edwards expressed the thanks of the commission to the ladies who directed the work of the summer camp at Port Stanley, and for the untiring efforts of Secretary Sgd. H. Lance in making the camp a big success.

Briefly telling of her visit recently to the battlefields of Europe, Mrs. Edwards declared that only the old people in the war area lack cheerfulness. They regret that they cannot take part in the work of reconstruction. Everywhere one finds the women and children carrying bricks and mixing mortars to erect small homes the size of garages in this country, and roofed with some patent material like tin. There are two hundred cemeteries on the western battlefields, and Mrs. Edwards was able to visit about 30 of them. At Givenchy there are 9,000 graves, over half of which are marked "unknown." She found the graves of several Londoners.

Brig.-Gen. Panet congratulated the London branch on the great help it had been to the returned men of the district and to their dependents. He had inspected the camp at Port Stanley and found it in excellent condition. "One must have patience with the returned men, considering all that they endured in battle. And the pledges to the widows and orphans must be kept."

General Panet introduced Col. Cooper as "one of the originals," at first a captain in the Third Battalion, having in all four and a half years' service in France, and wearing the Military Cross and bar, together with the Order of the British Empire.

Sends Regrets.

Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown sent his regrets that he could not attend and a letter of congratulation upon the work of the commission during the year was also read from the Central Veterans' Council of London.

The report of Secretary Lance drew attention to the fact that the number of ex-soldiers resident in London on July 31, 1920, was 3,783. There were many others for whom no records had been secured by the commission, and a number of ex-Imperial men also not recorded. Residing in Middlesex County outside the city, there were 627, bringing the total recorded for the county up to 4,410.

His report read in part:

"That the commission did not begin its real work until the war was over and the men all demobilized seems apparent when a glance is taken at the number who have made use of the London office for the past year, an increase of 100 per cent, and a total of 15,534, as against 7,772 last year. Of this number 4,476 or 29 per cent, resided out of London, and 3,036 of the total were ex-soldiers' dependents who as time goes on are taking advantage in larger number of the facilities provided by the commission to help them.

"One thousand, seven hundred and ninety-three cases of complaint or other matters requiring adjustment were referred to the commission to obtain a satisfactory settlement. This is an increase of 1,118 cases over last year, when 675 cases were placed. The majority of these cases have been settled satisfactorily, although some of the matters taken up by the commission were of a difficult nature, and had been referred to us only after other agencies had failed."

The total number of men whose records are filed in the London office is 14,722.

Splendid Results.

The report of Mrs. S. F. Lawrason, head of the welfare committee, paid tribute to the splendid results achieved by Miss Minnie Craig, staff welfare worker. Appreciative reference was also made to the work of the camp superintendent, Miss Margaret Hamilton, and her assistants, Mrs. A. Hitchinson, supervisor; Miss Daisy Thomson, nurse; and Misses Ruth Allison and Margaret Goodwin, assistant supervisers. The camp was located on the property of George M. Reid and was well equipped in every way.

The report of the chaplains' council was presented by Rev. H. B. Ashby, and its adoption seconded by Rev. J. G. Stuart.

The report of the reception committee, prepared by Ald. F. E. Harley, was presented by James Gray.

The report of the employment committee prepared by Arthur W. White was read by Secretary Lance. During year 1,764 men applied for position; 60 were referred for treatment, 203 for training and 833 to positions.

The report of the finance chairman, G. F. Copeland, showed the general receipts for the fiscal year to have been $8,288.76, with a balance of $1,225.45 over and above the disbursements.

Declines Nomination.

Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham, declining nomination to the executive council, paid a high tribute to the work of the officers of the commission and expressed the opinion that as a returned officer he could co-operate more freely and better with the work of the commission if he remained outside of the executive.

"The Soldiers' Aid Commission, as far as London is concerned at any rate, has, I believe, come to be looked on by the ex-service men as a department that can be depended on to provide assistance of a practical nature when required. The number who are making use of the commission's facilities proves this statement. The commission has at all times exhibited a willingness to help and advise, and in return the men have expressed confidence and a desire to co-operate," said Chairman John M. Moore in his report.

"It is a matter of gratification that the public has been behind this important work; the city and county councils have given practical evidence of this from time to time in addition to the district organizations who have made possible the work of our welfare department by providing funds for relief.

"Our finances at the close of the fiscal year are in excellent shape, although disbursements from all the accounts have been greater than in any previous year."

Report Forwarded.

A very favorable report was presented by George F. Copeland of the finance committee. Discussing the commission's special account, he said that this is a trust fund provided by the head office of the commission for the purpose of making advances or loans to ex-service men or their dependents when such is necessary; up to date 3,358 advances have been made from this account totalling $112,991.72. Of this $93,786.37 has been repaid. It has been found that in the majority of cases the men respect to the utmost the confidence placed in them when the loan is made, and it is expected that the loss from bad debts will not be more than 1 per cent.

At the end of July there were 286 accounts on the books, a total outstanding of $21,375.09.

Arthur W. White presented the report of the employment committee. The report read in part:

"During the year 1,764 men applied to the commission for assistance in obtaining employment, and of this number 835 were referred to positions that had presented themselves, the balance in most cases were referred to the Government employment bureau, although a few required treatment or training, and were placed in touch with the departmtnt concerned.

Well-Paid Work.

"The total number who have applied for assistance since the commencement has been 4,182, and of this number 2,237 have been referred to positions, the majority having secured regular and partment concerned.

Mrs. S. F. Lawrason, chairman of the welfare committee, reported that the number of cases which have been handled by the welfare department during the past year is almost three times as great as the year previous, 1,074 cases being handled, as against 383 the previous year; 1,868 calls were made by the welfare workers last year, as against 994 the year before; $705.25 was spent in providing relief for necessary cases, in addition to quantities of supplies from the welfare supply depot.

Amendment.

"During the year an amendment to the soldiers' aid commission act was passed by the Legislature, authorizing the commission to exercise and perform all the rights, powers and duties of a children's aid society, as provided by the children's protection act," said Mrs. Lawrence.

"A great deal of work has been done in assisting ex-soldiers' children through the co-operation of the Salvation Army and local Children's Aid Society. We are, however, finding now that the local shelters are overcrowded, and it is very difficult to find a place for any extra children who have to be sheltered, even temporarily, so that the time seemingly has arrived for the commission to take action towards the establishment of a home in London, and to inaugurate a comprehensive policy in regard to ex-soldiers' children, as undoubtedly numbers are in need of attention, and as the commission is authorized to take up this work, definite steps should be taken at an early date."

The new instructorship in romance languages of the Western University has been filled by the appointment of G. LaFayette Cram of the staff of the University of Kansas. Mr. Cram is a native Canadian, a graduate of the Brockville High School and of the University of Toronto. He has almost complete his work for a doctor's degree in Columbia University. He is a man of wide and mature teaching experience and will make a very difinite contribution to the Western University.

Professor N. C. Hart has declined a very attractive offer that was given him to go into business in Terra Haute, Indiana, and has decided to remain with the university. He has reached this decision, although it is impossible for the university to offer him a salary that can in any way compete with that held out to him in commercial life. His heart is in teaching, and moreover, he wishes to stay with his own Canadian people as long as possible.

SCHOOL PUPILS TO BE GIVEN HOLIDAYS DURING FAIR WEEK

Thursday, Friday Chosen—Architect Goes To Cleveland For Building Ideas.

London public school pupils will be granted the usual holidays on Thursday and Friday of fair week for the purpose of attending the exhibition. This joyful piece of news was created at the board of education meeting held Tuesday, and Trustee Edwin Smith moved that the children be allowed this privilege. Arrangements as to special admission rates will be made with the fair board by Trustee Hayman.

The board decided to send Architect L. E. Carrothers to Cleveland this week to obtain ideas to be utilized in drafting plans for the new collegiate institute here. Trustees Thomas Rowe who recently returned from the above city, stated on the assurance of the school architect there that every accommodation would be offered Mr. Carrothers.

"There is nothing in Cleveland that we could copy exactly for our needs," he stated, "but there are a great many ideas." Trustee Rowe refused to accept remuneration for his expenses in Cleveland, declaring that he went on his own initiative, and not at the solicitation of the board. Trustee Langford complimented the principal and caretaker of the Technical School for the splendid condition of the grounds and building. He urged every member to inspect the school in its present state.

The resignation of A. M. Murdy of the Collegiate Institute was accepted, and Principal W. H. T. Mooney was deputed to fill the vacancy. A grant of $5 monthly to the teacher in charge of high school pupils at Alexandra School was authorized. Miss F. Kerr was appointed to the teaching staff of the public schools, and Miss Weir was transfered from Talbot street to Victoria School. Doris Plewes was transferred to Talbot, and Miss Upshall of St. George's School was moved to Simcoe street, and Miss McLeish will take her charge. The salary adjustment of two male members of the public school staff was referred to No. 1 committee.

Senior School Inspector C. B. Edwards, submitting his report, asked for an additional manual training and a household science teacher, in order to give instruction to all grades requiring same. His recommendation will be dealt with by the proper committee, as will also his request for 42 chair seats for the use of grade 6 pupils at Victoria school.

He reported to the satisfaction of the board that out of a total of 545 public school candidates for the high school entrance examinations, 517 were successful, a total of 94.9 per cent.

METHODISTS PLAN EVANGELISTIC DRIVE JANUARY, FEBRUARY

Men Leaving Ministry Not Replaced—J. F. Pack Urges Total Prohibition.

Arrangements were made at the London District Methodist Conference, held yesterday in the Ridout Street Methodist Church, for an evangelistic campaign to be held in January and February of next year. Rev. J. A. Agnew, chairman of the committee, said that it had divided the churches into two groups so that ministers of other churches if needed might assist the minister holding the revival services. The groups were divided as follows: Group 1—Memorial, Centennial, Ridout Street, Hyatt Avenue, Hale Street and First Methodist. Group 2—Dundas Centre, Colborne Street, Wellington Street, Askin, Empress and Ealing. The rural churches will arrange their own evangelical services.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Graham of Toronto made an appeal for more men for the ministry. He pointed out that many men are retiring, dying or being superannuated each year, and that few are replaced. Dr. Graham, addressing the laity present, said they had done the best thing possible in raising the stipend of the Methodist ministers throughout the district. "Methodists should not be afraid to spend a little money for the advancement of their church. The gospel of Methodism reaches the common people. Ours is not the exclusive gospel for the select few."

Rev. B. H. Robinson presented the report of the Methodist National Campaign. The total amount subscribed was $119,470, and of this amount a little over $58,000 had been paid in the first two payments

Asks Big Results.

Rev. J. A. Agnew in his address on the matter of an evangelistic campaign, urged that results be as great as the financial campaign. Mr. Agnew say that many of the officials of churches gave money, but could never be found in the church pews. "The people of today are always looking for pleasure, which always comes first in their lives, instead of God." He advocated that evangelical services should be held once a year in every church.

A discussion on this matter followed, in which William West made reference to the new dance in New York being named after Wesley, and called the Wesley or Methodist dance. Mr. West considered this a slur on the famous Wesleyan. Rev. Judson Kelly said such a small thing should not be considered a slur, but it would be better if Methodists considered that card-playing and such like were slurs on Methodism.

Arrangements were also made to have the following field days held on the mentioned dates. Committees were formed to look after the following field days: Sunday school rally, September 27; educational field day, October 31; missionary field day, November 21 and 28; evangelical and social service field day, January 30.

J. F. Pack in a brief address acquainted the conference with details concerning the referendum. He asked that all Methodists put forth their efforts to win total prohibition at the coming referendum.

A unit system was outlined by S. Reid, whereby a leader would be in charge of ten or more families attending the church, and through the leaders of these groups of families the congregation might be generally brought in closer touch with the pastor. This recommendation was received by the conference. Rev. W. J. Ashton, chairman of the conference, presided.

SAYS WORLD IS SEEKING RELIGION ALL EMBRACING

Judge Greene Lectures To Large Audience On Christian Science.

"Christian Science, the Religion of Fulfillment," was the theme of an address at the Christian Science Church last evening by Judge Samuel W. Greene, C.S., of Louisville, Kentucky.

"What the world is wanting—is seeking," he said, "is a religion that comes to the sick and tells them how to be well; that comes to the discouraged and despondent and lifts them out of the slough of despair and despond into the richness, into the fullness, into the joy, of a closer walk with God. Christian Science supplies this need, through the spiritual interpretation of the Bible, and the consequent spiritual understanding of God; and enables the world to find the rest and the peace that are promised by the Master.

Is Here Now.

Christian Science comes teaching in the very words of Jesus of old that the kingdom of God, the kingdom of heaven, is at hand—is here, is now, within us, around us, and about us. Through the practice and understanding of this teaching of Jesus, men and women in constantly increasing numbers are healed of all manner of sickness and sin, and their lives are made brighter, better and more satisfying. The theory that eternal life and happiness are to be had beyond the grave only, has always been a depressing element in religion. Christian Science shows that men do not have to wait for death or a final judgment day, before realizing and experiencing the joy of the fulfillment of God's promises.

Not a Blind Cure.

Christian Science in its healing ministry is not a patent cure-all, nor is it blind faith cure. It is not the action of will power, nor is it the action of the human mind. On the contrary, it teaches that the human mind must yield to the divine Mind, to that Mind which was also in Christ Jesus. In proportion that Christian Science is understood, the life and words of Christ Jesus become practicable for all ages and all people.

"Divine science, rising above physical theories, excludes matter, resolves things into thoughts, and replaces the objects of material sense with spiritual ideas."

To Destroy Evil.

Let us try this plan in our destruction of evil. We may begin on the members of the household by seeing them as thoughts; thoughts of God, expressions of his goodness and his love, existing to bless the home and all mankind. Contrariwise, let us not see them as selfish, impatient, intolerant, and all such evil thoughts or beliefs will be banished from the home. Then home will become the abiding place of love, goodness and harmony.

Maybe you are a teacher, then go forth to your school seeing the children not as disobedient, rude, mischievous or unintelligent. Shall we not rather see them as thoughts of God, expressions of God's goodness, love and reflecting the intelligence of the divine mind? You have no right to limit a child's intelligence when God has not. You can see how these uplifting thoughts will change your entire outlook and make a new school—one that will bless you, the children and all mankind.

Makes No Difference.

Perhaps some of you are workers in other lines—clerks or proprietors of stores.

It does not make any difference in working God's way about one's rank, whether he be clerk or proprietor. The proper business or work for him in either instance is to prove God and His all-ness. Then do not see the business as so many selfish clerks to be handled or as a cruel boss to be dealt with, or as so much material to be shown to customers, then put on the shelves day after day. Resolve all the business into thoughts of God, expressions of God's goodness, God's love, existing to bless clerks, proprietors, customers and all mankind. To wait on customers is added opportunity day after day to show forth the goodness and love of God whose reflections you are. It thus means opportunity to bless each customer and should mean great joy to you and to them.

Make It Blessing.

In every store will be found old stock, worn, out of date; get it down, resolve it into a thought of God's goodness and love existing to bless mankind. It will meet someone's need who hasn't money enough for prevalent prices. Let divine Mind direct you in disposing of it, and it will bless someone—it has its right place and through this process, that place can be found.

Christian Science is trying to teach men that for every human need they should look to God, to the spiritual and not to the material. There is nothing in all God's creation to fear, for God is All-in-all and one cannot fear God or good.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN TO OVERHAUL O. T. A. WILL MEET SEPT. 28

Drury Announces First Sitting Will Take Place At Toronto.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Premier Drury announced tonight that the first sitting of the committee of the Legislature which was appointed to inquire into the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act and for the purpose of overhauling the act will be held at the Parliament buildings here on September 28. CUTTING COMPLETED THROUGHOUT ALBERTA

LETHBRIDGE, Sept. 7.—Cutting, except late oats and flax, is practically completed, and threshing is general throughout the country, fields in many cases being higher than anticipated. The lightest crop in the country is east of Taber. The labor situation is very satisfactory.

REGINA, Sept. 7.—Ideal weather for harvesting has marked the past few days in Regina district. According to Government officials, 90 per cent of Saskatchewan's wheat crop is cut and 75 per cent of other grains. Cutting is expected to be completed and threshing will be general this week.

Harvesting is on the last lap in Northern Saskatchewan on the conclusion of one of the most satisfactory reaping seasons in the country's history. Another week will finish the harvest operations. The yield will be highly satisfactory. Threshing is now under way in a good many localities.

RAILWAY COMMISSION GRANTS FORTY PER CENT INCREASE ON FREIGHT IN EASTERN CANADA

Western Freight Rates Rise 35 Per Cent — Passenger Fares All Advance 20 Per Cent — Change Effective September 13 Until End of 1920—Lower Rates For 1921.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—By virtue of a judgment which will be issued from the offices of the Board of Railway Commissioners, probably tomorrow, railway companies in Canada are granted an increase of 40 per cent in eastern Canadian freight rates and 35 per cent in western freight rates, effective on Monday, September 13, and to continue in force until December 31.

After December 31 the increase in the freight rates in Eastern Canada is reduced from 40 per cent to 35 per cent and in Western Canada from 35 per cent to 30 per cent.

Passenger Rates Also.

Simultaneously with the increase in freight rates, passenger rates all over the country are advanced 20 per cent, so long as they do not exceed 4 cents a mile. This increase is effective only to December 31. After that date, and for the six-months' period from January 1, 1921, to July 1, 1921, a 10 per cent increase is authorized. Following July 1, passenger rates return to those in force at the present time.

No Increase on Milk.

The judgment will authorize increases of 50 per cent in sleeping and parlor car rates, and an increase of 20 per cent in the rate on excess baggage.

No increase in authorized in the rates on milk.

Authorization is given for an increase of freight on coal from 10 cents to 20 cents a ton.

CARVELL ISSUES SUMMARY.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—A summary of the judgment which has been handed down by the railway commission in the application of all Canadian railways for increased rates was given out this evening by the chief commissioner, Hon. Mr. Carvell. The chief commissioner stated that during the exhaustive hearing which opened on August 10 and continued for nearly two weeks a tremendous mass of documentary evidence had been submitted. The work of going through this evidence had been a very large one, and only by the greatest effort on the part of the commissioners was a judgment arrived at so soon.

The judgment will refuse to authorize any increases in the rates on sand, gravel and crushed stone, and incidental services, such as switching, diversions, re-consignment, stop-overs, demurrage, weighing, etc., but provision is made for special applications in any or all of these services.

No increase is authorized in the rates on milk or commutation fares, nor in the minimum class rate scale or the minimum charge for shipments.

Authorization is given for an increase in the freight rates on coal from 10 to 20 cents per ton flat rate, according to distance. When the freight rate is under 80 cents a ton an increase of 10 cents is allowed. When it is over 80 cents a ton and under $1.50, the increase authorized is 15 cents, and when the rate is over $1.50, the increase will be 20 cents a ton. The rate on cordwood, slabs, mill refuse, etc., for fuel purposes is increased 10 per cent.

WABASH RAILWAY TO DOUBLE TRACK CANADIAN SECTION

Owing To Lateness of Season Work Will Start Next Year.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 7.—When the officials of the Wabash Railway met in St. Thomas a few weeks ago it was announced that the company had deferred the double tracking of the air line for an indefinite period, but would make some improvements. Intimation now comes from Buffalo that plans for the laying of double tracks between Bridgeburg and Glencoe is again underway at the headquarters of the line, St. Louis. But as the season is now so well advanced, the proposed operations would not start until next year. The line from Glencoe to Windsor, which is leased from the Grand Trunk, is double-tracked, so that the item in a Buffalo paper that the Canadian division between Detroit and Buffalo would have another set of rails is misleading.

NEWBURY

NEWBURY, Sept. 7. — On Friday evening a number of young people of the Knox Church congregation met at the manse to discuss the organization of a mid-week class. About 200 young men and women were present, and many ideas were expressed. It was finally decided that a meeting should be held on the Friday night of each week. The nature of the meetings will rotate in series of four. The first meeting to be devotional; the second, intellectual; the third, missionary, and the fourth, social.

A nominating committee of three, Miss M. Fennell, Miss M. Bayne and Mr. J. Parnall, were appointed to suggest a list of officers. An executive committee with four officers, one in charge of each of the different meetings, was thought to be sufficient. When the business was completed Mr. and Mrs. Farquarson, the hosts, conducted some interesting games, and a very enjoyable time was spent. After the games Mrs. Farquarson served lunch which was followed by the singing of old-time songs.

The September meeting of the Knox Church W. M. S. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. Fletcher. There was a splendid attendance of members and a number of visitors. Besides the usual devotional exercises Mrs. Farquarson and Miss Jessie Fletcher read interesting papers on Formosa.

Mrs. Bayne, the treasurer, reported receiving $15 from the Ferguson Crossing Needle Club. Arrangements were also made to pack a bale for the Northwest.

After the business was over Mrs. McGeorge, a visitor, sang a solo. Lunch was then served by the hostess. The next meeting is to be held at the home of the president, Miss Etta Telfer.

A meeting of the young people of Knox Congregation was held after the service Sunday afternoon, concerning the organization of the midweek class. The nominating committee gave their report, which was accepted, with one exception, Miss Helen Parnall being appointed in place of Mr. Farquarson as officer of the devotional meeting. The other officers were as follows: President, H. Fennell; vice-president, Miss Jessie Fletcher; secretary, Miss E. Prangley; treasurer, R. Holman; officer of the devotional meeting, Miss H. Parnall; of the intellectual, E. Squire; of the missionary, J. Parnall; of the social, Miss J. Fletcher.

WOMEN DELEGATES FEATURE OF TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS

More Than 1,000 Labor Representatives Expected At Windsor Next Week.

MANY BIG PROBLEMS

O. B. U., Labor's Political Destiny, General Wage Issue, Etc.

WINDSOR, Sept. 7.—While Dominion officials of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada refuse to make any estimate as to the probable number of delegates who will be in attendance here at the annual convention, which assembles in the Windsor armories on Monday, September 13, for a one-week session, local officials are making preparations for entertaining 1,000, including at least 100 women.

Many Women Delegates.

Plans for the accommodation of the visitors and for the carrying out of an ambitious program are rapidly nearing completion in the hands of the several special committees in charge of the work.

The most unusual feature of this year's gathering will be the large representation of women, who are expected here on behalf of the cigarmakers, garmentworkers, coremakers, retail clerks' and other women's organized labor units.

Big Problems.

Never before, probably, in the history of organized labor in the Dominion has such a list of important matters been slated for discussion. President F. C. Clancey of the local Trades and Labor Council declared tonight. The One Big Union proposal will also command considerable attention, while the political destiny of labor in Canada will probably occupy the centre of the stage for the six-day gathering. Particular attention will be given the labor and wage situation as it affects union painters, who have been engaged in a controversy since May of this year.

Speakers From U. S.

Premier Meighen, Hon. Mr. Doherty and ministers of labor from all the provinces are slated for addresses, in addition to prominent men who will be included in the representative delegations from the United States and Britain.

The committee in charge of providing accommodation for the delegates has experienced considerable difficulty in finding quarters for the large number expected, owing to the limited capacity of border hotels on both sides of the river, but satisfactory progress has been made, and difficulties in this direction have been practically solved. In spite of the serious handicap from this source, no inconvenience is anticipated when the big convention finally gets under way next Monday.

B. OF T. CONVENTION TO MEET IN CHATHAM

CHATHAM, Sept. 7.—Plans have been completed for the annual three-day convention of the Western Ontario United Boards of Trade, which will take place in this city either the latter part of October or the first week in November. The farmers' clubs of Western Ontario and municipal councils will meet at the same time to discuss the immigration question and the supply of efficient labor in the city and rural districts.

The local bicycle dealers have secured Chatham for the 1921 convention of the Canadian Bicycle Dealers' Association, which will be held in the last week of September.

W. J. Mitchell, the new supervisor of manual training classes of the city, took charge today.

PLAINTIFF GIVEN DAMAGE.

WINDSOR, Sept. 7.—"We cannot permit lynch law in Canada. This man had no right to take the law into his own hands. We must shut down on this sort of thing," declared Judge Smith of Essex County today in declaring judgment in favor of T. E. Keating of Detroit, plaintiff in an action for damages as compensation for an assault on him recently by James Lake of Sandwich West, an employee of the Richigan Central Railroad.

Lake had been previously fined by Judge Smith for an attack upon the Detroiter, when the latter garnisheed Lake's wages to secure payment of a debt. Judge Smith directed the jury today to fix the amount of the damages owing Keating.

FINANCE COMMITTEE DEALS WITH APPEALS FOR TAX REBATES

Civic Gas Department Denies Increase in Price of Coke.

DR. G. W. CLAY DEAD

Collegiate Institute Overcrowded—240 New Pupils Reported On Tuesday.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 7.—The finance committee, outside of the passing of accounts and dealing with applications for rebate and cancellation of taxes, had little business to do at its regular meeting tonight.

The treasurer reported a business tax of $97 as being uncollected on the Dake House property in 1916, and desired a disposition be made of the item. The question of liability was referred to a special committee to report.

A resolution was passed to invite the American gladioli Society and Ottawa Peony Society to hold their conventions in St. Thomas.

George Cook, C. P. R. conductor, asked for a reduction in his income assessment, as he had to support a family in London and himself in St. Thomas. Filed.

Dr. Davison wrote from Toronto asking for a rebate on his business taxes. He left St. Thomas before the year had expired. Filed.

Clarence R. Norton, a resident of Yarmouth Heights, claimed he was not liable for the income tax of $11.95, and the city solicitor considered his objection to be correct.

Russell Henderson, a returned soldier, appealed to the committee for exemption from taxation on the property of his mother, 105 Alma street. The city solicitor suggested that no action be taken, as the applicant must be the owner. Filed.

The application from Fred J. Foster for a rebate on his taxes was given the solicitor and chairman for action.

Denial Is Made.

A denial was given by the gas department tonight that it intended to raise the price of coke, which is now sold at $12. An order has, however, been given to shut off any more orders until the number now in are filled. The department, owing to the demand for municipal heating material, is about six weeks behind in the delivery.

Manager Caughell reported that the department was never in more satisfactory condition as to results from the manufacture of gas and revenue. The yield of gas per ton a year ago was 8,178 cubic feet, and in August, 1920, 10,178 feet. One million more feet were manufactured last month than for the same period last year, and 66 tons of coal less were used with an increased revenue.

The manager intimated that at last this department was showing evident signs of improvement, and there were possibilities that by the end of the year a very satisfactory report would reach the ratepayers.

Officers of the Sodality.

The officers recently elected of St. Agnes' Sodality of the Holy Angel's Church are: President, Miss Josephine Coffey; vice-president, Miss Pauline McManus; secretary-treasurer, Miss Gertrude King; librarian, Miss Clara Moore. The sodality now consists of about thirty members and looks forward to increasing its membership to 100 by the end of the year.

Collegiate Institute Crowded.

Owing to the crowded condition of the collegiate, which is filled to overflow by the addition of 240 pupils, Dr. Veaden is calling for an additional teaching staff. In the first form general, there are 60 in the three classes, and about 35 have enrolled in the commercial work. All classes are overcrowded, and space is over the 100 per cent mark.

Appeals For Better Sanitary Conditions.

The local council of women has received an appeal from the Elgin Humane Society to co-operate with the society in securing better sanitary conditions at Pinafore Park for the animals in the zoo. The movement of the society will be forwarded to the affiliated societies to consider, and a report will be given of the results at the next meeting of the council.

Death of Dr. Clay.

Dr. George W. Clay, formerly of Wallacetown, is reported dead at his home, Maria, Montana. He was educated at the schools of London and St. Thomas, and had been practicing in Montana for some years. He is survived by his mother, a sister, Mrs. Thompson, and one brother, Bert Clay, all of Wallacetown.

FARMERS' SUN ABLE TO SHOW DIVIDEND

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Notwithstanding the troublesome times for newspapers, with the rising tide of costs, the Farmers' Sun, at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the United Farmers' Publishing Company here today reported that a dividend of 7 per cent would be paid, and there would still be a considerable balance on hand. It was stated that probably before the year was out the paper would be issued three times a week, instead of twice a week, as at present, and that ultimately a daily paper would be published.

W. A. Amos, vice-president of the United Farmers of Ontario, was added to the board of directors. Following are the officers who were elected today:

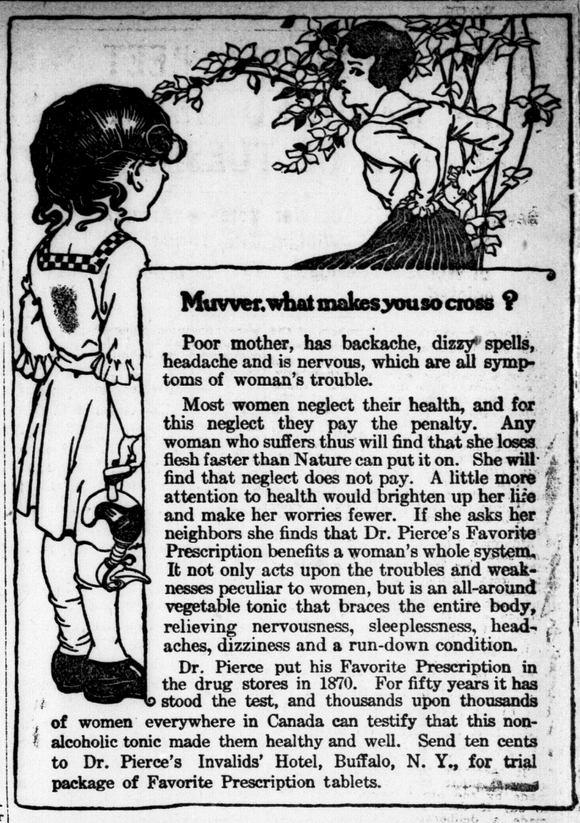

President, Col. J. Fraser; vice-president, W. A. Amos; secretary-treasurer, Harold A. Walters; directors, J. J. Morrison, W. C. Good and Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture.

Muvver, what makes you so cross?

Poor mother, has backache, dizzy spells, headache and is nervous, which are all symptoms of woman's trouble.

Most women neglect their health, and for this neglect they pay the penalty. Any woman who suffers thus will find that she loses flesh faster than Nature can put it on. She will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life and make her worries fewer. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around vegetable tonic that braces the entire body, relieving nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

Dr. Pierce put his Favorite Prescription in the drug stores in 1870. For fifty years it has stood the test, and thousands upon thousands of women everywhere in Canada can testify that this non-alcoholic tonic made them healthy and well. Send ten cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of Favorite Prescription tablets.

DANGEROUS AMERICAN CRIMINALS ARRESTED IN RAILWAY CITY

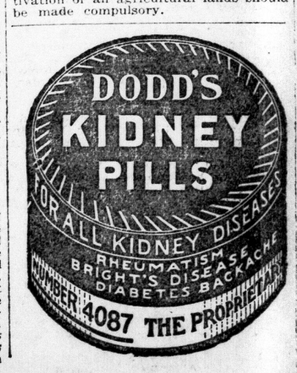

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 7.—Two escaped convicts from Bay City Jail were accidentally picked up by special agents of the Wabash Railway on Saturday night and are in the local prison waiting extradition to the United States. They gave fictitious names to the officers at the jail, but their identity was discovered by Turnkey Grant, who heard them discussing their former companions at the Michigan prison. They had a couple of sets of names, but their correct ones are Leo Nowak and Carl Senseback. The men were in Bay City Jail on charges of burglary and rape. They escaped with eight others and were making their way into Canada. The Bay City officials were advised and will endeavor to have them brought back without extradition proceedings. They have been charged with trespass on the railway's property.

RECEPTION FOR LADY BECK.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 7.—The arrival of Lady Beck from the old country and the Western Fair at London, which would have kept Sir Adam Beck away, have caused a postponment of the proposed radial gathering here on Friday next, Mayor MacBride announced tonight. It was planned to inspect the routes of the proposed hydro radials between Brantford and Woodstock, Brantford, St. George and Guelph, and to follow this up with a rally here at night. This will now be held on September 21, when it is also planned to give a reception to Lady Beck.

DIRECT ACTION IN ENGLAND.

In opening the British Trades Congress, President Thomas boldly declared that organized labor of the United Kingdom would use direct action in order to bend the Government to its wishes in matters political. He stated in as many words that the constitution would be brushed aside in order that Labor should have its way. If the congress supports this declaration, then it is certain that the Old Land is close to an industrial, political and social explosion that may bring on terrible civil strife, as Lloyd George has announced that the Government will not permit any one class to dictate the policies of the nation, foreign or domestic, save through the agency of Parliament. Thomas was careful to explain that direct action would be employed solely to compel the Government to adopt labor's attitude towards Russia and Poland, but it is not conceivable that if successful the matter would stop there. Every issue between the Government and trades unionism would be treated in the same manner. The real reason for the threat of direct action, of course, is to secure submission of the Government to the will of labor. Obviously the necessity for Parliament would disappear and trades unionism would direct the affairs of the nation.

Against such radicalism as this it is certain the great majority of Englishmen are opposed. Lloyd George is building on the love of the Britisher for law and order and the constitutional in his defiance of the Reds at home, and he is on sure and safe ground. The British public is weary of war, and Thomas is depending upon this sentiment, but it is equally true the public is weary of the exasperating industrial and social strife which has been kept alive in the United Kingdom by the extremists who appear to have secured control of organized labor. If labor should endeavor by the general strike, as Smillie and his miners threaten, to compel the Government to accept labor's wishes, labor may find it has aroused a fierce and powerful hostility that will sweep it aside. Fortunately there are millions in the ranks of trades unionism who have no sympathy with direct action. This may force Smillie, Thomas and other Red leaders to modify their present bold and arrogant attitude.

GEORGE ETIENNE CARTIER.

In the letter which he wrote to the Duke of Buckingham in March, 1866, proposing that George Etienne Cartier should have knighthood conferred upon him, as it had recently been conferred upon John A. Macdonald, Hon. Charles Tupper wrote that "but for the patriotic devotion of Mr. Cartier to the great project of Confederation, and the courage with which, in the face of great difficulties and dangers he pursued that policy to the end, the union could not have been accomplished. That tribute of more than fifty years ago should long ere this have brought the recognition which is only now being given to Cartier's share in the formation of the Dominion, recognition which was evidenced in the unveiling of a monument this week at Quebec. The semi-centennial of Confederation, three years ago, drew attention to Cartier's place in Canadian history, and his fellow-countrymen, as well as English-speaking Canada, have paid belated honor to his name.

One of his biographers has said of Cartier that he possessed what most men lack, namely, character. Eloquence we have and have had in plenty; political shrewdness in plenty, exact knowledge of government and affairs, these have been the endowment of any number of our public men, but of how few can it be truly said that they possessed real character, that firmness of mind and unswerving integrity so necessary to those who held power over others? These qualities Cartier possessed in large degree.

The power of oratory has probably been overestimated in so far as government is concerned. Cartier was no orator, though he was an effective debater. Mr. De Celles says of him that he was always convincing, drawing and retaining the attention of his hearers by the splendid array of his arguments. "Of middle size but of a strong frame, with an intelligent face and eyes full of fire, he gave the impression of a man of untiring energy and courage. Always in motion, pivoting on himself, gazing at his friends to infuse them with his burning enthusiasm, and then in turn at his opponents to challenge them to contradiction, he never failed to make a mark in debate."

Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, in his little work on the Fathers of Confederation, says that the quality most commonly ascribed to Cartier is courage, and rightly so. Equally important, however, were his freedom from religious bigotry, and his devotion to the interests of his own people. He guarded at every step the place of his race in the constitution of the Dominion. But he was great enough to see that if Lower Canada was to become the guardian of its special interests and privileges, Upper Canada must be given a similar security; and this threw him into the closest alliance with George Brown. This principle, as embodied in the constitution, is the real basis of Confederation, which cannot be seriously menaced as long as either province interferes with the other. Cartier exemplified in his own person the truth that pride of race, displayed within its own proper bounds, makes for the strength and not the weakness of the Dominion.

THE VASSAL RACES.

Everyone familiar with the history of Poland, with all the persecutions and conquests and wars that have swept her territory for hundreds of years, rejoiced when the time arrived when the liberty which she had sought so long seemed within her grasp. But what can explain the insane ambition which promoted her to seriously endanger her new-found liberty by endeavoring to extend her borders beyond the generous limits delineated by the Peace Conference. In spite of all that can be said in explanation of this supreme folly, yet the solid fact remains that she was urged to abandon these ambitious schemes by Lloyd George, by Sir William Robertson, and by many other leading statesmen and generals.

"I predicted," said Sir William Robertson, the English war office expert, "that within six months the Russians would be at the gates of Warsaw. I predicted months ago that their first attack would fail, and that their second attack would succeed." It remains to be seen whether the last part of this prophecy is to be fulfilled.

Apart from the question of success or failure, any war was certain to have a most deplorable effect on the prosperity and the safety of Poland. The result can already be seen. An American recently returned from Poland declares that the misery in that country is simply appalling. Thousands of old men, women and children are roaming the forests in a half-starving condition, living on roots and herbs. The evidence that such information, together with the news of the horrible Polish pogroms, was suppressed by those who were interested in doing so, is now indisputable.

The American Jewish Societies, after several vain attempts to get the British Government official report published in the great American papers, actually had to pay the New York Times to publish the matter as an advertisement. The New York Times said that the account of these horrible atrocities perpetrated by the Poles had no "news interest," but it was careful to print elaborate denials of these same occurrences written by Prince Lubomirsky.

Who can fathom the inscrutable decrees of fate that have decreed that certain nations, such as the Poles, the Jews and the Armenians, should for hundreds of years be subjected to sufferings, persecutions and massacres. In the case of the Jews and the Armenians such persecutions have extended over a period of nearly two thousand years.

In most communities the individuals who get imposed upon are usually the weak and the least efficient. In the case of these three races above mentioned, however, such an explanation does not apply, as they are all above the average in ability, industry and courage. And to make the tragedy complete we have the spectacle of the Poles, who themselves have for centures decried persecution and intolerance, slaughtering the Jews, stripping men and women naked, and beating them nearly to death, stealing all their property and the Government conniving at the whole performance.

These things are all testified to by the British Government Commission which was sent over to investigate. One member of the commission could find only one excuse for the Poles, and that was that the Jews were treated much worse in Ukrainia by the peasants than they were in Poland by the soldiers, police and civilians.

Some Jewish leaders have recently declared that the chief reasons why the Americans and British have achieved such astonishing success, and why their past history has been so happy, compared to other nations, is because, unlike Russia and other continental nations, they have always treated the nation to which our Saviour belonged with comparative justice.

Many of their most honored citizens are Jews. Many are occupying the very highest positions in the Government, the law courts and the professions. These Jewish leaders also declare that the nations that have always cried "Kill them!" have suffered, and will suffer.

If that is true, and if nations must reap what they have sown, there is a day of vengeance ahead for the Poles.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

For the school children the melancholy days are here.

Representative Britten of Illinois now admits that his charge that the British Government had sent $87,000 to aid Cox in the presidential election was just has "personal idea." In other words, Mr. Britten is just a plain liar.

The Financial Post says:

> If the employees of the London system are to have higher wages then the only business-like proposal is to advance rates to a basis where operating charges can be met and necessary fixed charges provided for, including a reasonable return on capital.

Why don't the various organizations and individuals who are petitioning or demanding that the British Government save McSwiney's life, concentrate their efforts on persuading the mayor to end his folly? That is the logical thing to do if they are sincere.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR TRADE.

[Kingston Standard.]

Canadian manufacturers may take a hint from Great Britain as to where to look for trade. A report from these states that the House of Commons voted $500,000 guarantee for the British Empire Exhibition which will tour the Empire. Right Hon. George F. G. Kelleway said that indications pointed to a lull in trade so that it was necessary to open new markets. The greatest hope lay in the Empire itself, he said. The guarantee is contingent on £400,000 being found privately. A lull in trade is expected on this side as well, so Canadian manufacturers should cast their eyes abroad for new markets as the British are doing, and we might suggest that countries on this continent might be well worth a trial.

A FIXED EASTER.

There is an agitation in England for a fixed Easter. High ecclesiastics of all denominations have approved of the idea. The advantages of a fixed time for the holiday are numerous, as now Easter may vary by as much as thirty-five days.

From Here and There

NEEDS TO KNOW.

[Brantford Expositor.]

The finance minister of Germany complains that the enforcement of the Treaty of Versailles will produce bankruptcy in Germany. The national obligation now is 1,000 marks a head. The German politicians are whining worse than did the brutally treated citizens of Belgium and Northern France. There is nothing that Germany needs so much as to learn the high cost of war.

FORTUNATE CANADA.

[Brockville Recorder.]

All in all, the bountiful harvest now being garnered will enable the Dominion to look forward to the coming winter with the assurance that while there may be areas of depression here and there, no general collapse of business prosperity need be feared. In the topsy-turvy world of today few nations have a better outlook than Canada, the well-being of which is based firmly upon the fertility of her boundless fields.

UNCLE SAM'S CHANCE.

The League of Nations has bought a hotel. Uncle Sam may get in in time to become a bellhop.

MADE NEW FRIENDS.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

In personally defining his attitude toward hydro radials, Premier Drury made many new friends at the Labor picnic in Wabasso Park on Saturday. It was generally conceded that he takes a safe, sane, businesslike view of the situation.

MAKE MOST OF IT.

[Kingston Whig.]

How swiftly the days go by! It only seems a little while since we sowed the seed with anxious thoughts, and now we reap with devout and grateful hearts. But after all, life in this goodly land is but brief at most. Make the most of it in kindly deeds and helpful words.

ROADS AND THE PEOPLE.

[Saskatoon Star.]

Hon. S. J. Latta's enthusiasm for good roads is primarily based on a broad sympathy for and interest in the welfare of the people. Mr. Latta is more than a builder of good roads; he is a student of social conditions, particularly of the social conditions of this province. He is an old-timer here. He knows the loneliness of prairie farm life. Good roads have done much to ameliorate the conditions which prevailed in this province in the days when the present minister of highways arrived in Saskatchewan. Good roads help to secure better schools and better attendance, they promote a more vigorous church life in the rural sections, they permit of more economical marketing of farm produce, and in various other ways they add to the pleasure and profit of life in the country. Mr. Latta sees in the construction of more and better roadways not merely the accommodation of the tutoist. It means much more to him than that. It means the enlargement of the scope for enjoyment of every farm resident of the province. It is well to have an enthusiast at the head of a government department, but better still when the enthusiasm is founded on a true knowledge of conditions and a sincere desire to improve the social conditions in which the rural element of the population lives.

THE TIME OF THE MOVIES.

[Pall Mall Gazette.]

The pictures have at the moment certain limitations, but it is never wise to prophesy where there can be no knowledge of the development, and we are not disposed to put any limit on the possibilities of invention in connection with the cinema. It grows, and it grows out of all knowledge. At present it is but feeling its way, but it is feeling its way with an intelligence and determination that promises well for the future. If we sought a weak spot in its rivalry with the theatre proper, apart, of course, from the power of the spoken word, we should find it in the miscellaneous nature of its entertainment and one of its developments in the near future will be the establishment of houses giving particular classes of entertainment.

INEXCUSABLE.

[Brantford Expositor.]

No excuse whatever can be offered for the base betrayal of the temperance interests of Ontario by the new premier. He has acted altogether in bad faith. No new considerations of any kind have arisen since the date was fixed and announced to the country. Every excuse now offered by Mr. Meighen existed previously, and the conclusion is inevitable that the cabinet, under new leadership, thinks that it has something to gain by catering to the liquor interests, or at least that element that is interested in the shipping of liquor into the province.

SPEED FIENDS.

[Listowel Banner.]

Peter McArthur, in calling attention to the craze for making speed records on good roads, notes a very real menace to the traveling public. A young fellow boasts of a record of nearly a mile a minute between two towns. A dozen other young fellows set out to lower it. It is easy to see where such insane rivalry will end.

UPHOLDS ENGLAND'S ACTION.

Le Pays, in a leading article on Irish affairs, considers Archbishop Mannix has ill-chosen the time to attempt to visit Ireland, and sees more politics than patriotism in his persistence. "Why complicate a situation already stretched to the point of breaking?" the writer asks. "No arbitrary measure of England against Ireland justifies the explosion of diatribes against her. When she finds it is not agreeable to receive a declared enemy, a firebrand who comes to spread new embers of discord, everybody, even the self-styled pacifists, protest because England puts into practice the words that are placed everywhere for public guidance, 'Safety First.' She has quite enough to do to strive against the prelates of Ireland without giving hospitality to outsiders who would come to preach, in place of the Gospel of Christ, a crusade of hatred and vengeance. . . . And Mr. Bourassa, devil's advocate, is wrong when, in order to give vent to his hatred of England, he takes sides with another extremist who, eager for unwholesome popularity, does not know the value of a renunciation which will secure the triumph of a principle. The archbishop is not asked to abandon his aims and desires, but to postpone their realization. Supreme skill lies in knowing the opportune time to act. A skillful navigator does not put to sea at the height of the storm. What dignity can here be in the boasting of this prelate, who puts his personality before church and country, and to satisfy his own vanity declares, 'I will never give in!' Our clergy acted very diplomatically in offering him neither reception nor enthusiastic ovation."

VALUATION OF IMPORTS.

[Vancouver Sun.]

With reference to the rule of the Canadian customs department that the currencies of countries nominally on a gold basis must be assumed to be really on such a basis for the purpose of payment of duties on imports, a local merchant gives an instance of how it works.

Suppose, he says, a Vancouver man buys goods in France worth there a thousand francs. Nominally this is two hundred dollars in Canadian money, but in reality is is only eighty dollars. If the duty is 25 per cent, it is raised to 62 per cent by being charged on a valuation of two hundred dollars instead of on the actual cost.

On the other hand, if goods to the value of eighty Canadian dollars are bought in the United States, duty is levied on their value in American money, which under present circumstances would be about seventy-three dollars. If the nominal rate of duty on these goods were 25 per cent, it would be in fact reduced by this process to about 22 per cent.

Obviously the effect is to discourage importations from France and other European countries, including Great Britain, in proportion as the rate of exchange on their money is against them. Obviously also importations from the United States are encouraged in proportion as the rate of exchange is in their favor.

This is the exact reversal of a rational procedure. What Canada ought to be doing is to import more from Europe and less from the United States until such time as the exchange is again at par among all gold standard countries. By her present plan this country is actually hindering instead of helping a return to normal conditions of international finance and commerce.

When the United States was confronted with this problem in her own affairs, she dealt with it by deciding that in all cases the import duties should be paid on what the goods were worth in American money. Why cannot Canada follow her sensible example?

Poetry and Jest

TRAIN YOUR LIPS TO SMILE.

When paths seem extra dreary and feet are extra weary,
Then that's the time to show a bit of will!
Don't grumble at your labor—just tell your next-door neighbor
There's golden sunshine farther up the hill.

Don't sit you down and, sighing, complain of all that's lying
Before you in the humdrum workaday;
If you'd get up and hurry you'd pass old vixen Worry
And leave her in the valley far away.

To count our woes is easy, but only leaves us teasy,
And brave folk never deem such things worth while;
They'd rather, far, forget them those trouble scraps that fret them,
And sing a song and train their lips to smile!

So, though the path is dreary and you are footsore—weary,
Just trudge along the road and whistle still;
It is the plucky worker who'll help the moody shirker
To find the sunshine—as he climbs
the hill!

WHAT HE THOUGHT.

[Richmond Times-Dispatch.]

The interviewer at the bedside of the aviator who fell 3,000 feet and hit the earth asked gently:

"Tell me, what was your dominating thought as you fell through all that space?"

And the aviator, true to form, lit a cigarete, smiled and said:

"Why, I guess the thought that impressed me most was that I was about the only thing that wasn't going up."

AT THE CROSSROADS.

[Maud Going, in Canadian Bookman.]

A stake thrust through the rebel heart that would not bear its pain
Where folk and carts go by all day in sunshine and in rain,
And rough winds dance with roadside dust—while green and still near by Beyond the shadows of fair trees God's peaceful acres lie.

Upon those green and hallowed graves, upon this grave unblessed,
The fair impartial stars look down,
the moon's pale glories rest,
And music falls of larks arisen through night mist from the sod,
Like souls that rise from sorrow, sin and shame to find their God.

ALWAYS COMING IN.

"Who was Bildad, pa?"
"Any dad is a bill dad, my son."

A CITY STREET.

[Frank L. Stanton.]

Dear street, though I have never trod before
Your shining way, some sense of you I know:
Or else, why is it that I love you so—
Thrill at the latch clink of an opening door,
And feel the shadows of your trees fall o'er
My spirit, with deep meaning? Long ago
I saw just such a radiant morning glow;
But then I deemed that it would dawn
no more!

I know that ivied window, and to me
The rustle of the curtains, and the sweet
Voices of children in an alien land
Come with supreme remembered melody!
Oh, city strange, but dear, familiar street,
Here with dear Love, I've wandered,
hand in hand!

POOR WILLIE WAS HUNGRY.

Little Willie had been told that he must always wait patiently till he was served at meals, and not to cry across the table or grab for his food.

One day while dining at a neighbor's with his mother, the little fellow was accidentally overlooked. He was very patient for a time, but at last he could bear the strain no longer of seeing everybody feeding but himself. So leaning quietly across to his mother, he said in a loud whisper:

"Mother, do little boys who starve to death go to heaven?"

THE POWER OF PRAYER.

[Tennyson.]

I have lived my life, and that which I have done
May He within Himself make pure;
but thou,
If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep and goats,
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friend?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.

HOW HE LEARNED.

"You're a very careful driver."
"Yes, ma'am. When I learned to drive there were always three women in the back seat tellin' me what to do."

THE TEMPLE OF THE AGES.

[Canon Scott.]

These mountains sleep, while Winter's mantle 'round them,
The thunder's roar no longer breaks their rest,
From bluest heights, the sun beholds with rapture
The noble pose of each gigantic crest.

The generations of the clouds have vanished
Which lingered idly here through Autumn days,
The leaves have gone, the voices of the tempest
No longer roll to heaven their hymn of praise.

Deep hid in snow, the streams with muffled murmurs
Pour down dark caverns to the infinite sea,
This awful peace has vexed their restless childhood,
They hurry from its dread solemnity.

Even the climbing woods are mute and spellbound,
And, halting, midway on the steep ascent,
The patient spruces hold their breath for wonder,
Nor shake the snow with which their boughs are bent.

Now, as the sun goes down with all his shining,
Huge shadows creep among these mighty walls,
And on the haunting ghosts of bygone ages
The dreamy splendor of the starlight falls.

Not Nineveh, not Babylon, nor Egypt,
In all their treasures, 'neath the hungry sand,
Can show a sight so awful and majestic
As this waste temple in this newer land.

The king that reared these mighty courts was Chaos,
His servants fire and elemental war.
The Titan hands of earthquake and of ocean,
These granite slabs and pillars laid in store.

And lauding here the vast and living
Father,
The ages one by one have knelt and prayed,
Until the ghostly echoes of their worship
Come back and make man's puny heart afraid.

When buying a watch think first of quality

THE first cost of an inferior watch is a long way from being its last cost. Instances are by no means uncommon where the cost of repairing such a watch exceeds its original price.

Watchmakers nowadays receive high wages. Their bills are apt to be very large for time spent in trying to repair low grade watches. Especially is this true of the cheaper imported movements for which repair parts are often unobtainable and must be made by hand.

It is far better to buy a Waltham.

This gives you a high grade watch at a reasonable price consistent with quality.

Apart from accidents and the general overhauling every second year which good watch mechanism deserves, the good service you get from your Waltham means a real cash saving over the low grade watch.

The longer you carry a Waltham the less it costs you. Divide its price into the years of service it gives and you'll find its price is very low indeed.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

I.—Parnassus.

I have fallen in love.

Yes, it is true. The miracle has happened. And I feel ridiculously, absurdly happy.

"Anne, you case-hardened little sinner, it's high time you gave up those meaningless flirtations that lead to nothing," my aunt said only yesterday, in her teasing, kindly way.

But her words hurt me.

For during the last few months the image of handsome Fred Delaunay had come between me and the adequate enjoyment of said "flirtations," so that willingly I'd have resigned the role of gay, care-free spinster and coquette for one real word of love from the debonnair young man who was filling all my thoughts.

And last night the miracle occurred. Freddie Delaunay—handsome, much-sought-after, spoiled, attractive Freddie—laid his heart and hand at my disposal.

"It's all I have to give you, Anne. I'm awfully hard up." This prosaic statement, following on one of Freddie's most impassioned moments, couldn't serve to bring me back to earth! I was, figuratively, perched upon Parnassus. Freddie had spoken. Freddie loved me. Freddie wanted me—me—commonplace Anne Travis—for his wife! The moon and stars and all the planets had combined together in a merry jazz!

"What does money matter, dearest?" I cooed ecstatically into Freddie's ear. "Love's everything! Love——" (But any reader who has ever been in love will know all the fond, idiotic things I murmured!)

Was it only my fancy, or did a cloud shadow Freddie's handsome countenance for a moment?

"We can't live on bread and cheese and kisses, you foolish little girl!" Thus did my fiancee gently chide me. "We——"

I placed a hand across his lips, and laughingly regarded him. No hint of the prosaic must be allowed to mar this perfect scene.

It was a night just made for love. A slender wisp of moon hung in a deep blue sky. The air was heavy with the scent of honeysuckle and of new-mown hay. And against our boat—for we were drifting idly on the river—the water sang a gentle melody.

Nestling in a pile of futuristic-looking cushions, with Freddie's arm about me and my head pillowed on that young man's immaculately flanneled shoulder, I felt the world could hold no further bliss.

"You're quite sure you love me, Anne?" The dark, handsome eyes that gazed into my own would certainly have melted a heart of stone. "You're positive——"

Positive? Great heavens! Hadn't I loved the man for many weary months—interminable, tantalizing months!

But aloud I said, coyly, and very worldly wise:

"It doesn't do to care too much!" A hint of archness was in my tone. (Men do so love elusiveness.)

The arm about my waist tightened possessively.

That pleased me. There's something of the primitive in every woman. But Freddie's next remark, in its complacency, was something of a shock.

"I know you love me, Anne. I've known it for some time."

I flushed, a trifle hurt. He'd "known it for some time!" It wasn't flattering to be told I'd worn my heart on my sleeve.

"And now that we're engaged, we'll have to tell your aunt," he went on, in that mellow, attractive voice of his which has always seemed like music in my ears. "We'll have to get her consent, you know, dear."

Her consent? How odd!

"But I'm of age, and my own mistress, Freddie. What has aunt to do with it?"

He smiled indulgently at me, as though I were a child.

"Evidently you don't know your own best interest, Anne. Your aunt can do so much for you—for us——"

"You mean—money? I cut in brusquely, jerking around to look at him.

But Freddie's dark eyes, romantic, dreamy, were fixed upon the moon. He sighed a little, then he turned to me.

"You do put things a trifle crudely, Anne. I confess I'm a bit surprised." His voice trailed off into a silence that was condemnatory. And I felt dreadfully snubbed.

Of course Freddie hadn't thought of money when he spoke of auntie helping us. She was rich. And there were people who believed I was her heiress. Indeed, auntie had sometimes hinted this would be the case.

But Freddie wasn't mercenary. He had no ulterior motives. How crude and common, then he must have thought me, when I misinterpreted him and mentioned "money."

"I—I beg your pardon, dear," I stammered, quite put out, and tears of humiliation in my eyes.

In his most debonnair, Beau-Brummel fashion, Freddie kissed those tears away. He really is immensely fascinating.

Thereafter we moored beneath some drooping willow-trees, in a retreat just made for lovers. Through the slender branches overhead we could glimpse the young wisp of moon above some trailing clouds. Its weird, unearthly radiance cast a glamor over the occasion, filigreeing through the leaves to make a dancing pattern on the water. Oh, this night of nights!"

"So we'll live happy ever after, little Anne?" Freddie's thrilling tones seemed part and parcel of the moonlight and the scented honeysuckle and the summer breeze. "I love you, little Anne—I love you!"

What demon of perversity made me think of Julie at that moment? Gay, quick-tongued, chic, French Julie, who seemed fashioned to trouble the hearts of men! The smart young widow had been visiting aunt and me at our pretty house-boat, and had proved "un succes fou," as her countrymen would say. She had cast an eye of coquetry on handsome Freddie, too, thereby rousing in my bosom more than one twinge of jealousy.

"Shall we tell Julie we're engaged?" I tried to force a casual note into my voice, and lamentably failed.

"And what has Julie got to do with it?" Freddie trailed a slim hand in the water. His eyes did not meet mine.

"I thought you and she were such—pals." My smile was just a trifle crooked. (Jealousy is terrible, isn't it?)

"You're quite mistaken, Anne. That type of woman doesn't interest me. Too sophisticated, too much a 'vamp'—too different from my dear, unworldly little Anne." He turned and caught me in his arms, and kissed me.

And I—Anne Travis—was snatched from the abyss and perched upon Parnassus!

LONDON NURSE SAILS FOR EAST TO ENGAGE IN THE RELIEF WORK

Miss Thom Is Graduate of Victoria Hospital and a War Nurse.

Nursing Sister Elizabeth A. Thom, daughter of Wm. Thom, 167 Grey street, who served for five years during the war with the British and Canadian expeditionary forces, is again on her way overseas, this time to help alleviate the suffering of native Christians on lands where the Turk is running amuck. She sailed recently from New York with a party of six, members of the Near East Relief, which has its American headquarters in that city. Miss Thom will be remembered as a graduate of Victoria Hospital Training School and a right hand nurse for the late Dr. John D. Wilson.

Relief Needed.

Recent reports to headquarters of the relief organization in New York have indicated a pressing need for the services of English and American nurses and doctors. Through the Near East Relief has largely improved conditions since it began its activities, returned workers have declared that these activities must be continued, particularly during the coming winter to prevent the death of thousands of natives.

According to these reports sanitary conditions are generally bad throughout the Near East, lack of medical attention and supplies resulting in a large number of deaths preventable under ordinary circumstances.

Atrocities.

Turkish atrocities have also added many maimed and wounded of all ages and sexes to the burden of the relief workers.

Despite the unsettled political situation throughout the districts in which Near East Relief workers are stationed and to which Miss Thom is going, little fear is expressed by relief officials for their safety. Returned workers are unanimous in their statements that both British and Americans are being highly regarded by natives of all races and creeds, largely because of the relief that both nationalities have administered.

"ADAM AND EVE" GOLF MATCH FOR SATURDAY NEXT

Team of Four Will Enter Dominion Competition at Hamilton.

The Ladies' Golf Club is arranging an "Adam and Eve" match to be played on Saturday afternoon at the Kennels' links. Two teams have been picked, including the best fifteen women players and the best fifteen men golfers. The men will give the ladies a stroke a hole and play against them for the beautiful challenge cup, donated by Major and Mrs. Hugh Niven.

The Ladies' Golf Club is also endeavoring to pick up a team of four London players to enter the amateur golf championship tournament to be staged in Hamilton by the Royal Canadian Golf Association from September 21 to 25.

A great deal of interest is now being displayed in the Ringer competition which is in progress at the Kennels, and the Ladies' Golf Club is urging golfers to enter immediately, as the competition will come to a close before the end of the month.

A lively contest of mixed foursomes characterized Labor Day at the links.

[By Mildred Marshall.]
LORRAINE.

(Copyright, 1920, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Where Lorraine originated is difficult to say. That particular form has no etymological history. But it is possible that it is the modern outgrowth of the names arising from the old Roman "lares," the little twin gods who presided over the household and were decorated with wreaths on festival days.

The special feast of the lares was on the 22nd of December, and it was immediately followed by that of a feminine deity called Lara, Larunda, Larentia, Laurentia, or Acca Laurentia, who was termed in old Latin, "Good Mother." It was she to whom prayers were made that no slave might depart. (What a comfort her presence would be to the modern housewife.)

When Greek mythology came in, poor Laurentia was turned into a nymph whose chattering annoyed Jupiter to such an extent that he ordered her tongue cut out and sent her to the lower regions in charge of Mercury. But be that as it may, her name was popular among Roman matrons and existed in various forms. Lorraine is generally regarded as the French interpretation of this popular name, which slipped over the border from Italy.

Jade is her talismanic gem. It will bring her health, riches, long life and happiness, according to the extravagant promise of the Chinese. Monday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number.

THE SAILOR DOGS.
Part Twelve.

The dogs on the island were homesick. They were tired of eating the food they found on the island, tired of looking at nothing but the beach and the trees and the brooks and the lake, even tired of looking at one another. Most of all they wanted someone to pat them and call them good dogs. Even Darkey wished he was somewhere away from water, for no longer did he love the lake.

"Just think," Darkey bemoaned his fate, "If we had not got into that boat, at this very minute I would be getting ready for the show. I know I would only win third prize, for my coat is not right, and I haven't got the right amount of bone, I have heard my master say, but it is an honor to get a third prize—indeed it is."

"I have heard my master say that he has been told that if I was ever shown I would beat all the dogs, and would never get anything less than a first prize," Mike boasted.

"That's nothing. I haven't told you dogs before, but I am a champion. My right name isn't Dibby at all, that's just my pet name. I'm Dibbinera Daschula, 'undefeated champion,'" and Dibby swelled out his chest.

Spot was the only one who did not boast of his greatness, but he was thinking of the hunting he was missing. It was no fun hunting when there was no master to please by bringing in the game, he thought.

"Look!" cried Dibby, as he stood up at full length. "That's my master's yacht."

Sure enough it was, and when the dogs all dashed down to the beach and barked until they were hoarse, there was a shout on board the yacht, and soon a small boat was lowered from the big boat and started toward the island.

Of course you have guessed that Dibby had seen rightly, and that this was the boat with the masters on. Soon Dibby, Darkey, Mike and Spot were on board the yacht, jumping joyfully around their masters. Then what a surprise they got when they spied little Snowball, and the little dog barked with delight to show that she was still alive.

As might be expected, the dogs arrived home without further adventure, cured forever of their desire to roam. Darkey had decided he would never try to be a sailor again, and indeed from that time on he was too busy to think of such things, for the life on the island had improved him, so he became a great show dog and spent most of his time at shows.

The End.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Don't flatter yourself that friendship authorizes you to say disagreeable things to your intimates. —Holmes.

Veranda Chats.

I am inclosing a crochet butterfly pattern for Mail-Box use. It seems a very popular and much-wanted pattern, and they seem scarce in the Mail-Box. Is this the kind they want, Miss Grey, and is this the way fellow-readers send in patterns? There, I stayed too long for "A YANKEE OVER HERE."

Ans.—Thank you very much for this much-sought pattern. Have forwarded it to Etak. Yes, that is the way the patterns are usually sent in. Etak sewed hers on dark green stiff material and they showed up beautifully.

Requests.

Dear Cynthia Grey,— and All Readers,—Am inclosing two dimes for H. F., and will you kindly send me the pattern for edging for curtains offered by Chirpy. I shall return it at once. I saw in the corner a while back that Moreline was going to send me some snaps, and, woman like, have been wondering what they were. To date I have not had the honor of receiving anything. Was Moreline just joking? With best wishes, I remain, A BEANPOLE.

Ans.—Thank you for hospital gift, Beanpole. Pattern has been mailed to you.

Chirstmas Gifts.

Dear Miss Grey,—Is there a little corner for this newcomer? I have been a reader of our most useful and helpful Mail-Box for many years, which always seems like a dear friend. It is especially welcome in this home.

I have spent all these beautiful days on a cot out on our lovely screened porch. I wish you all could see the flowers my friends have sent me—they are beautiful. No car rides for me this summer. Our Overland is having a rest too.

I greatly enjoyed March Wind's letter, and sympathize with her in her great loss. I have three dear little boys. They have been a lot of company for me, as they play on the porch by my cot. Let me tell you all how I made some pretty handkerchief cases for my Christmas box. At a sale I bought a dozen handkerchiefs, some edged with lace, some scalloped and others with plain hem. Fold each corner to the centre, so all meet exactly; then turn each corner back to the edge of the square, which will give you a small square opening in the centre. Fasten the corners which are turned back with a little rosette or bow of baby ribbon, and fasten a rosette also at each corner of the square opening. Take two squares of silk the size of the case as folded, place between them a square of wadding slightly smaller, thickly sprinkled with sachet powder of some favorite perfume, join the edges neatly, and dot with French knots. Slip this inside of the case. A square of crinoline or thin cardboard may be placed under or between the wadding to stiffen the sachet somewhat and hold the case in shape. A circle of French knots or a little design in outline, using silk to match the ribbons, may be worked in each of the turned-back corners, but the case is pretty without this additional decoration. Make one, and see if you are not pleased. Squares of muslin, linen or organdie which one happens to have may be used in like manner, finishing each with a narrow hem.

I wonder if any of the readers has a tatted collar or tatted yoke pattern that I may have? Am inclosing self-addressed envelope for patterns. Inclosed one dime for the S. C. H. fund. Will sign myself, BLACK-EYED EDNA.

Ans.—Thank you for the hospital dime, Black-Eyed Edna, and for your cheery letter full of suggestions for Christmas already. You are to be one of those who enjoy their Christmas, because it will be free from flurry at the last moment. So sorry you have been a shut-in this glorious summer, but very glad your friends have made your den beautiful with flowers. This means so much to a sick one, doesn't it? Glad, too, that you can lie out on the porch and enjoy the little chaps around you, instead of being tucked away from your friends in some hospital. Write us again when you are to.

I. O. D. E. TO SELL SCORE CARDS.

The Campbell-Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E., will sell score cards at the baseball finals between Hamilton and London to be held on Friday and Saturday next. Each score card will be numbered, five lucky numbers being distributed each day. A great deal of interesting speculation is being made as to what the lucky numbers will produce in the way of a prize. The proceeds from the sale of score cards, which has been made possible by the kind permission of the baseball committee, will be in aid of the Campbell-Becher cot for the Sick Children's Hospital.

DAY NURSERY GROWS.

The first day of school brought with it an increased attendance at the local day nursery on King street, twenty children being cared for there yesterday. It is expected that the opening of school will greatly increase the number of children at the nursery as bigger boys and girls will no longer be able to care for little ones. Miss Bodkin, the superintendent, declares that the nursery is daily proving that it is indeed worth while.

NURSING DIVISION HAS BUSY SUMMER.

No. 4 Nursing Division has indeed had a busy summer this year, caring for 430 patients at the emergency hospital, Port Stanley. This cottage hospital, built three years ago by the division and situated just beyond the incline railway on the beach, has been a daily house of mercy. Very often patients were unable to be moved and remained several days under the care of the nurses, two of whom were constantly on duty. Mrs. J. F. Thomson, superintendant of the division, says that the emergency work for the division is increasing every year. Again this year the No. 4 Nursing Division tent will be located at the Western Fair.

Rates for Telephone Service

OUR rates for exchange service, fixed many years ago, developed many inequalities as between cities at one time equal in population,

In the new schedules filed with the Board of Railway Commissioners we have so grouped cities and towns of approximately equal telephone development as to wipe out these inequalities.

The rates for exchange service proposed for London under the new schedule are shown in the following table:—

	Proposed Monthly Rate
BUSINESS SERVICE
Individual Line	$4.75
2-Party Line	4.00
RESIDENCE SERVICE
Individual Line	$3.00
2-Party Line	2.50
Rural Party Service	$2.50

These new rates, we submit, should be considered in the light of the present purchasing power of the dollar. They compare favorably with the increased rates which telephone companies have had to secure from Public Service Commissions all over the continent.

The commodities we have to buy—labor and material—have advanced in no lesser degree than have those staples of every day use, the cost of which has made present living expenses so high.

Official London Behind "Boosters' Day" for 1920 Winners Next Saturday

Players Get Club's Receipts On Big Day — Grand Rapids Series Not Definitely Arranged Yet.

The city of London's civic administrators, chamber of commerce and societies will get behind a movement to give public recognition to the London Michigan-Ontario Baseball League champions in the form of a big boosters' day at Tecumseh Park next Saturday afternoon, the last scheduled game, which brings Manager Shaughnessy's Hamilton Tigers here for their final appearance.

The Tecumseh Baseball Association Limited will donate its share of the gate receipts to the players who so gallantly captured the 1920 championship and put London on the sport map.

The chamber of commerce is issuing tickets of admission to Saturday's game free of charge to all the invalided soldiers in the city and is asking every member of the chamber to heartily indorse the movement to provide each player with something that will mark their efforts here in landing the baseball honors. A letter of appreciation will be given each player by the officials of the chamber of commerce, and a similar recognition will also be given the players by the city council from His Worship Mayor E. S. Little.

Series Not Settled.

The proposed Inter-League championship series between Grand Rapids, champions of the Central League, and London, Michigan-Ontario League pennant winners, has not entirely been determined upon. Since alotting dates for both cities, a hitch was occurred in the arrangements, Grand Rapids finding it impossible to stage their home games, owing to an amateur baseball tournament. Manager Josh Devore of the Furniture City champions has suggested a series of five or seven games to be played in London entirely as a means to overcome the difficulty, as it would be an added attraction for Western Fair visitors here next week.

When communicated with last night Manager Wetzel could not state definitely regarding the Grand Rapids series, as he was awaiting final information from Manager Devore.

Manager Wetzel will probably be in London today to make arrangements for the field day of baseball stunts, which will precede the game with Hamilton next Saturday. Bobby Heck, a great baseball favorite here in the old Canadian League days, will probably pitch the game for the Tigers, while Lefty Carmen, London's star southpaw and league leader, will oppose him, as his injuried throwing hand will be in shape to hurl then.

Manager Wetzel expressed a hope that the London fans will not discount the Tecumsehs for their recent defeats, holding that recent mishops to his hurling corps in addition to the slump of the batters constitute the actual reasons for their recent losses.

Losses Due to Slump.

He also ascribes their undoing to a slump that has visited every club in the league during the present season, but luckily for London it did not occur during their fight for the pennant. Just the moment the series of double-headers overtook the champions, a day after they had cinched the pennant, the injuries to Pitchers Harper and Carmen, the two mainstays of the team, had to come along and thwart their chances of making a minor league record that would have stood for many years.

"Don't for one moment believe that the boys have been laying down since the race was won. The difficulty to some extent can be attributed to the relaxation of the extreme tension of the pennant race. They are battling hard to regain it," Manager Wetzel said.

Ernie Neitzke will pitch today, and Jack Harper will work tomorrow, and then Delotelle will do the mound duty on Friday, while Carmen will have the honor of pitching the last league game here on Saturday.

The champions will be tendered a banquet at the Tecumsh House by the directors on Friday evening after the game. The gathering being for the purpose of a wind-up get-together affair.

THE ROBBINS PILOT

WILBUR ROBINSON, whose hobby during the winter months is running a fish market, is keeping his Dodgers in the race, though the sledding his been up and down the past two weeks. The McGrawmen's steal up from behind is worrying Robinson more than his forthcoming price of fish.

Hams Maul Thomas 10-0 For First Win

Behan Only Hands Out Six Hits To Champs — Carlin's and Shag's Fielding Feature.

HAMILTON, Sept. 7.—Ad. Thomas, London's second southpaw hurler, was given a sound trouncing in the first game of the final home series with London today. The Tigers pounded him for fourteen hits and scored ten runs, Petie Behan holding the champions scoreless. London got six hits off Behan, but more than half of them were very scratchy. The fielding of Manager Shaughnessy in right field and Jack Carlin's shortstopping were the features. Frankie Laap, with four hits in the same number of times at bat, carried off the batting honors.

MRS. WM. P. SMITH, of Los Angeles, Cal., who says Tanlac completely restored her health when no one believed she would ever be well again. Has gained thirteen pounds.

"I will never stop praising Tanlac, for it has restored my health when everyone who knew of my dreadful condition had no idea I would ever get well.

"Two years ago, following an accident, I began suffering from indigestion and severe stomach trouble. I grew worse so rapidly that my health soon became perfectly wretched. My stomach became so weak, I couldn't eat the simplest food or even drink a glass of milk without suffering for hours afterward. I was extremely nervous, and would have palpitation of the heart so badly at times I would almost faint. My circulation was very poor, I had no color, and weighed only eighty-one pounds. It seemed I was just gradually starving by degrees, and I had almost given up hope.

"After the best medical treatment failed to help me, travel and a change of surroundings was advised, so I traveled nearly all over the United States and had treatment every place I went, but always with the same disappointing results. How I stood my suffering is more than I can tell, and I became so despondent that life seemed hardly worth living.

"That is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. When my husband first suggested Tanlac I told him I had no faith in it, but the next day he bought me a bottle, and to my great surprise it seemed to agree with me, so I kept on taking it. The results speak for themselves.

"I have gained thirteen pounds in weight, and I feel perfectly well in every way. My appetite is splendid and I eat just anything I want and never have the slightest symptom of indigestion. I am so happy over the recovery of my health that I feel just like telling everybody about this wonderful medicine."

The above remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. William P. Smith, a well-known and highly-respected resident of Los Angeles, Cal., residing at 139 East Avenue 36.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

GRIER, MONTREAL, IS OUT OF GOLF RACE

Eliminated From U. S. Amateur Championship by Gardner of Brooklyn.

Rosslyn, N. Y., Sept. 7.—C. P. Grier, Montreal, Canadian amateur champion, was eliminated from the race for the United States amateur golf championship in the play at the Engineers' Country Club course here today. He was defeated by Robert A. Gardner, Chicago, nine up and seven holes to play.

Grier's battle was almost hopeless after the first eighteen holes for he was then five down. Gardner went out in 35 in the afternoon round, then took two threes, one a birdie, before the match ended. He told Grier that this afternoon's stretch represented the best golf he had ever played.

Thomas D. Armour, Scotland, who holds the amateur championship of France, won on the home green from George Hoffner, Philadelphia. Hoffner starting his second round three down to Armour, made a sensational fight with four birdies in five successive holes, but failed to square the match on the home green through a hoodoo which he says has followed him throughout the tournament. He needed a par four to tie the match, but took his usual five.

S. Davidson Herron, Pittsburg, titleholder, defeated Peter Harmon, New York, after an uphill battle that went to the 39th hole. Francis Ouimet, former open and amateur champion; Bobby Jones, Atlanta, Ga., the youthful prodigy; J. W. Sweetser, Yale, inter-collegiate champion, and F. J. Wright Jun., the young Massachusetts champion, also won their matches.

SHORT SHIPPERS ON STATE FAIR CARD STAGE COME-BACKS

Dropwood in 2:14 and Saginaw Mare Were Surprises of Day.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—This was comeback day for the Michigan "Short Shippers" at the State Fair.

One of the surprises was in the 2:14 pace. Nobody looked for Dropwood to perform as she did, but in two heats she showed the way and always was able to shake off pursuit. Sheriff Direct made the pace in the third heat, doing a half-mile in 1:04, but he only nosed Dropwood out at that. Hal Erwin, who has not figured much in the summaries this season, certainly did a mighty fine job by bringing the mare back to form. In the 2:19 trot, the local mare, Allie Gentry, scampered off with a heat, but after that Abu Taleb, one of the best 2:14 trotters on the half-mile tracks two years ago, showed them how to trot.

The trotting division of the Michigan Futurity was not much of a race, as Ben Dempsey's filly, Alta Coast II., could beat the others doing anything. She went two very easy miles. All of the colts trotted their heats, and that is something for breeding anyhow.

The unfinished trot went to Arwilda in one heat. Wednesday's card consists of the 2:14 trot, 2:15 pace, and the Pacing Futurity.

Stratford Eliminates Zurich in Semi-Finals in N. Wellington League

ZURICH, Sept. 7.—In one of the best games of ball seen on the local diamond, Stratford defeated the local nine in the semi-finals of the North Wellington County League tonight by the score of 6 to 4. Both teams were tie last week, when darkness put a stop to the game. The visitors won the game in the eighth when they bunched hits off O'Dwyer's delivery that netted four runs. It was pure luck that the four runs were notched up against the locals. O'Dwyer only allowed the Stratford nine seven hits, while the local T get ten. Errors on the part of his team mates were wholly responsible.

Excitement Tense.

After the four runs were scored, the excitement was tense. In the last of the ninth, the local nine had two on bases and Brown, who had knocked three two-baggers previous, hit a grounder to first base, making the third out.

Batteries—Stratford: McKenzie and Dughbrough; Zurich, O'Dwyer and Hoffman and Brown.

London Not Likely To Have O.R.F.U. Entry This Year

Prospects Not Very Bright At Present — Intercollegiate Rugby and Cup Tie Soccer Fills Fall Bill.

Western U. looms large in the autumnal dish of sport for the city along with the cup tie of the City Soccer League.

No attempt has been made to organize for the O. R. F. U., and it is more than likely that no attempt will be made this year. Last year plenty of enthusiasm was in evidence for O. R. F. U. rugby, but it unfortunately was all cooped up among a few, with the result that the game did not get very much revived. To resuscitate O. R. F. U. rugby in London, is a job that can be done, but different methods than have been pursued in the past must come into vogue before there'll be any howling revival.

Intercollegiate rugby on the other hand has college spirit behind it, and especially since last year's showing of Coach Brock's young Western crew, rugby has taken a real place in Western U's athletic program. It will take a larger share than ever, the forthcoming season, and already Coach Brock has laid plans to jump right into the grid practices as soon as the term opens up again. Two teams will probably represent Western this year; Firsts and Seconds, and judging from what was done last year from handicap, this year's dash from scratch ought to produce something real.

Soccer cannot be overlooked this fall. This year's progress in the game has been truly remarkable, and the coming of the O. F. A. to the city for next season means a great stride. One thousand fans turned out to see a soccer game in St. Thomas on Monday, and it's a fact worth looking at. The organization of the O. F. A. should do as much for London and Western Ontario as it has accomplished elsewhere, and there can be no doubt that the forthcoming cup ties will justify the entry of the association into London as a step towards organizing soccer for Western Ontario.

WELLS WINS BOUT

DEUVILLE, France, Sept. 7.—Bombardier Wells, the English heavyweight fighter, tonight defeated Paul Journee, a French heavyweight, in the sixteenth round of a contest held here.

Journee, who was once sparring partner for Georges Carpentier, has been knocked out twice this year—in March, in London, by Wells, in the thirteenth round, and in May in the same city by Frank Moran, Pittsburg, in two rounds.

London Golfers Win From Their Sandwich Visitors

Ross Somerville Holes Out in Two at Eighteenth Hole.

The Sandwich Golf Club visited the London Hunt Club links on Saturday bringing 33 players. Favored with ideal weather, and the grounds being in splendid shape, many interesting matches resulted. The outstanding feature of the match was the play on the last hole by Ross Somerville, when he drove to the green, a distance of 270 yards, and holed out for a two. This is the first time in the history of the links that this hole has ever been made in two. The match resulted in a victory for the London Hunt Club, 19½ to 13½.

CARL MAYS NOT TO GO TO CLEVELAND

No Danger of Trouble, Only Matter of Sentiment, Says Huston.

New York, Sept. 7.—Carl Mays, New York American League pitcher, who threw the ball which resulted in the death of Shortstop Ray Chapman of the Cleveland team, did not accompany the Yankees when they left New York tonight on their western trip, Col. T. L. Huston, one of the club owners, announced that Mays would not be with the team during the series which opens in Cleveland Thursday, but that he would rejoin the club in Detroit.

"We are not taking Mays to Cleveland," said Col. Huston, "not because we think there is danger of any trouble, but out of respect to the people and their feelings. We don't want to offend them. It is largely a matter of sentiment."

WALLACEBURG CELEBRATION BIGGEST IN MANY YEARS

Sarnia Horses Clean Up on Excellent Race Card.

WALLACEBURG, Sept. 6.—The best parade ever seen in this town and covering ten blocks, headed by the G. W. V. A. band of Chatham, this morning started off the most pretentious celebration the town has ever staged. Five thousand crowded into the park for the program arranged by the Wallaceburg Employees' Association. Galt and Sarnia staged a good exhibition of lacrosse, the latter forcing the last two periods and winning by a score of 11—6.

The program of horse races took a big part of the crowd and kept them there until the last heat.

The summary:

Free-For-All.
Mack Brino (Johns), Chatham.
Dr. E. (Sarnia).
Emma R. Hall (Sarnia).

2:50 Pace.
Nellie P. (Sarnia).
W. Farslow (Wallaceburg).
Jessie Eel (Elgin), Dresden.

Green Race.
Peter M. (Sarnia).
Dolly Peters (Sarnia).
Gypsy Queen (Wallaceburg).

An athletic program consisting of tug of wars, bicycle race and track events were all keenly contested.

Uniform Divorce Law For Whole of Canada May Be Proposed Next Session

As Result of Resolution Passed by Narrow Majority in Bar Association It Is Possible That Ottawa May Again Take Up Matter.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—As a consequence of a resolution passed by the Canadian Bar Association last week a uniform divorce law for the whole of Canada may be a feature of next session's federal legislation. At the present time Canadian divorce laws and machinery are exceedingly clumsy and varied. New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and British Columbia have had their own courts for many years. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta were recently granted the right of giving divorces. Prince Edward Island has an unworkable law. Quebec from the ecclesiastic viewpoint does not recognize divorce, but grants legal separation through its courts, which, however, does not permit remarriage.

Ontario Has None.

Ontario has no divorce courts at all, and the applicant must come to Parliament and go through the complex and expensive process there provided. Last session over 80 applications were heard and disposed of, the great majority of which were from that province. Manitoba courts are based on the British law of 1870, but Saskatchewan and Alberta have courts based on a later British law. In Manitoba it is exceedingly difficult for a woman to secure a divorce, inasmuch as she must prove cruelty as well as adultery. Adultery in itself is regarded as actual cruelty in the strict interpretation of the act.

Complicated Business.

Altogether divorce in Canada is a complicated and tangled business, and only the Federal Government can simplify or standardize it. Senator Ross of Middleton last session strove to remove from Parliament what in recent years has become a burden and a nuisance. He introduced a bill to create courts in Ontario and Prince Edward Island, but the bill never reached the Commons.

While the resolution of the Bar Association passed by a narrow majority only, there appears to be a general feeling here in favor of a uniform federal law.

INDUCTION SERVICE AT PORT STANLEY

Rev. C. A. Sales Becomes Minister of St. John's Presbyterian Church.

[By Staff Reporter.]

PORT STANLEY, Sept. 7.—Rev. C. Armstrong Sales was inducted as pastor of St. John's Presbyterian Church here tonight. Rev. H. E. Thornloe of Alma Street Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas, presided over the the ceremony of induction. Rev. M. F. Cree of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, London, addressed the congregation on the value of a good minister, and what it meant to the neighborhood. He expressed hope that the residents of Port Stanley would support the new pastor and assist him in his work.

Rev. J. M. McGillivray of Knox Church, St. Thomas, gave friendly advice to both the pastor and the congregation. "Make it a real live church —that is what is needed in Port Stanley, and encourage the delinquent to attend the church" he said.

After Rev. Sales had been introduced to the members of the church the ladies served luncheon.

The new pastor came direct from Kindersley, Sask., to take charge of the church, filling the vacancy left by Rev. S. H. Eastman, who died a short time ago.

PLEADED GUILTY TO THEFT.

SARNIA, Sept. 7.—As the result of his pleading guilty to three charges, Norman Burgess, aged 19, giving Detroit as his place of residence, was remanded for a week at today's sessions of the police court in order that the record of the young man may be investigated. The first charge was for obtaining $10 from Merris Bernard, a bicycle dealer to whom he had sold a bicycle alleged to have been stolen; on a charge of stealing a bicycle from Howard Van Horn, and one from Cecil Chalmers. Burgess pleaded guilty, and will be held pending an investigation.

COAL DIGGERS FAIL TO RUSH BACK TO WORK

Expected Return of "Vacationists" Generally Fails To Occur.

SOME APPEAR ON JOB

Other New Men Join Ranks of Insurgent Groups and Remain Idle.

SCRANTON, Sept. 7.—Contrary to the expectations of the union leaders, there was no rush of mine workers to return to work in this vicinity today. In some sections more men were back on the job than during last week, but this record was offset by new men joining the ranks of the "vacationists."

Officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal Company reported that many additional workers were back at its plant this morning. At the plants of the company in West Scranton and Taylor, where work has been tied up since last week, the same situation prevails today. Officials of the Pennsylvania Coal Company say many workers returned to work today at the company's collieries in the Pittsburg district, but that many of the workers at the No. 1 and No. 5 collieries of the company in Dunmore remained away from work today.

That a determined effort is to be made to get all of the workers of the Pennsylvania company at its Dunmore plants to join the "vacationists" was stated today by leaders of the insurgents. They say the Pennsylvania company is the worst offender in the operation of the contract system, and that the principal fight now is for the abolishment of this system.

THOUSANDS ARE IDLE.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 7. — Fewer mine workers than had been expected answered the blasts of colliery whistles in the Wyoming Valley this morning. Members of the union who quit work last Thursday because of resentment against the terms of the presidential commissions' award more than because a call for a "vacation" had been issued by the insurgent leaders, returned to work this morning, but thousands of insurgents remained idle, and gave evidence that they will not return until the president reopens the wage agreement.

In this city the collieries of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company were most seriously affected by the "vacationists." Only five of the twenty collieries of that company were in operation.

THREE PEOPLE BADLY INJURED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS IN DITCH

Woodstock Residents Now in Galt Hospital—Miraculous Escape.

GALT, Sept. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. James McCord and son of Woodstock, are in the local hospital suffering from injuries received on Monday night on the 9th concession of Beverley on their way home from Hamilton, when their car turned turtle. Another son who was in the party, escaped uninjured. Mr. McCord sustained a broken leg. Mrs. McCord fractured ribs and bruises, and one son a nasty scalp wound on the back of the head.

It is presumed that in passing another car in the darkness the McCord machine ran too close to the ditch and overturned. All that saved the passengers from probable fatal injuries was the fact that the machine in turning over fell across the ditch, so that the weight of the machine did not fall upon them, though all were pinned under it. Rescue was quickly at hand and medical aid was summoned.

Record Attendance.

The Galt Collegiate Institute reopened this morning with the largest attendance on record, 350 enrolling, while a year ago only 309 came in the first day. The assembly hall of the school is now being divided into class rooms to provide accommodation, but these rooms will not be ready for a short time. In the opening exercises held on the campus, Dr. D. Buchanan, a member of the board; Mayor A. W. Mercer and members of the staff congratulated the students on the past year's work, an exceptionally fine showing having been made in the various examinations.

Fifteen boys of the Galt Naval Brigade will embark at Port Stanley on Saturday next on the training ship Pinta for their annual cruise.

IN SPITE OF COMPLAINTS GOVT. WILL NOT FURTHER ASSIST OVERSEAS TRADE

Machinery To Cope With Unsettled Conditions Alleged To Be Inadequate, But Meighen Administration Will Extend No More Credits.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 7. — In spite of reported complaints regarding the alleged inadequacy of Canadian trade machinery in London to cope with present unsettled conditions of commerce, it is not the intention of the Government here to provide further assistance either in the matter of staff or of further commercial credits. The Canadian trade commission on both sides of the Atlantic has been practically wound up and won't be revived, whatever the pressure. Canadian credits have been awarded to the limit intended by the Government.

Sir George Perley, Canadian high commissioner, has been in Ottawa for some days past. In spite of repeated reports of his intended retirement it is believed that Sir George will shortly return overseas and resume his duties for a time at least.

FOSTER IS CHOSEN TO DO BOOSTING AT EAST ELGIN MEETING

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—The postponed convention of Government supporters for the selection of a Government candidate to enter the East Elgin by-election will be held at Aylmer, Ont., on Friday next. Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, will speak.

CANADA'S NEW "GIFT" NAVY EXPECTED TO ARRIVE IN FEW DAYS

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Canada's new "gift" navy, consisting of two light cruisers, two destroyers and two submarines, is expected to arrive from Great Britain on the Atlantic coast in the course of the next few days.

In the meantime, preparations are being made for the creation of a naval establishment to take the place of that which was scrapped last session, the new establishment will number about 600, and most of it will be Canadian, although a few of the senior officers will be supplied along with the boats by the British admiralty. Commander Hose, formerly of the Rainbow, will likely succeed Admiral Kingsmill, retired, as director of the Canadian Naval Service.

The appointment will likely be made this month. Commander Hose did excellent work on the Pacific during the early and anxious days of the war, and is looked upon as a highly competent officer.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH JURY'S VERDICT ON DEATH CURVE FATALITY

Rider Recommends Barricade at Dangerous Corner—Driver of Car Testifies.

SARNIA, Sept. 7.—A verdict of accidental death was returned tonight by the jury investigating the death of Mrs. Leland Watson of Jackson, Mich., who was killed in the auto accident at "death curve" on Christina street a few days ago. A rider was attached, recommending that owing to the dangerous nature of the corner a barricade be erected there.

The principal witness was H. O. Blunden of Detroit, who was driving the car, and who was himself seriously injured. He testified that the car was not traveling at more than 15 or 20 miles an hour, that he did not see the curve or ditch until too late, and that when he applied the brakes they failed to work. Coroner Dr. Logie presided.

ARRANGE TO MEET FRENCH PART OF LOAN

PARIS, Sept. 7.—An official note issued today confirms the announcements made of the arrangements made to meet the Anglo-French loan floated in the United States, maturing October 15 next. The note sets forth that France's half of the loan is being covered to the extent of $150,000,000 by "transfers of gold of certain importance" and by exchange which the French treasury has obtained and the remaining $100,000,000 by a loan on the American market.

The note adds that the first shipment of gold was dispatched by the steamer la Lorraine September 4.

HIGHER FARES DURING THE WINTER MONTHS

Request of Waterloo-Wellington Railway Approved By Kitchener Council.

KITCHENER, Sept. 7.—Owing to conditions prevailing on the Waterloo-Wellington Railway, connecting this city with Bridgeport, the city council tonight decided to approve of the application of the railway company at present before the Dominion Railway Board for the privilege of charging 10-cent fares to Bridgeport between Dec. 1 and March 1. The traffic on the line falls off during that period and it is necessary for the company to get the extra fare to finance the proposition of keeping Kitchener connected with Bridgeport during the winter.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

SORE MOUTH, LOOSE TEETH, BLEEDING GUMS—

Mean Pyorrhoea, Says Dentist—Should Be Given Prompt Attention To Avoid Serious Results.

Do your gums bleed when you brush your teeth? Are they sore, tender, soft or spongy? Are they pale—almost colorless, or are they a bright, fiery red? Does pus show around the edge where they have receded away from the teeth?

Just ask yourself these questions and be serious about it, for diseased gums are dangerous, and must be given prompt attention if you want to save your teeth or avoid unnecessary illness.

Medical and dental authorities both agree that rheumatism, Bright's disease, stomach troubles, and Toxic Throat conditions are often caused by diseased gums which might have been easily prevented, or quickly overcome if a Germicidal agent such as Epithol had been regularly used.

Oral Hygiene or the care of the mouth, gums and teeth, is a highly important question and should interest every single one of us—use your tooth brush with a good dentifrice several times a day, and at the first sign of Pyorrhoea go to your druggist and get a package of Epithol, and use it regularly until the trouble has disappeared. It won't take long, for Epithol works fast—soreness goes within a few days—bleeding stops and the gums grow firm, hard and healthy and tighten around the teeth.

Standard Drug Company, Liggett's Drug Company, or any good druggist can supply you with Epithol and one inexpensive package will last you for weeks.

Hair Curling Troubles Are Over! Read This!

Have you heard of the newest way to keep the hair in curl? If not, by all means, cut out these simple directions and try this wonderful method. Procure a new tooth brush and a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine from your druggist. Apply enough of the liquid with the brush to moisten the hair from root to tip just before doing it up. You will be quite astonished when you find you have such lovely waves and curls, they appear altogether natural, instead of having been artificially acquired. Best of all, the waviness will last very much longer than it would otherwise.

Your hair, of course, will have more "body" and fluffiness than where the drying, singeing, waving iron is used. It will appear glossier and livelier, for silmerine has proved equally desirable as a dressing for the hair. You'll find it pleasant to use, and it will leave no sticky, greasy or streaky trace.—Advt.

"FLU" MAKES THE HAIR COME OUT

Specialist Offers a Simple Home Recipe To Stop Loss of Hair and Make It Grow Again.

People who had the "Flu" this past year and who now find their hair coming out badly, will be interested in the suggestion of a well-known Hair Specialist, who says: "Anyone can easily and inexpensively make at home a recipe which, in my opinion, is unequalled for stopping loss of hair and making new hair grow out again thick, glossy and luxuriant.

You get from any druggist 6 oz. of Bay Rum, 2 oz. of Lavona (de Composee) and one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. Rub thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush.

This prescription is perfectly harmless, acts quickly and neither dries out the hair nor makes it greasy. But ladies using it should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.—Advt.

DRURY AND M'EVOY DENY ANY "SAW-OFF" IN TIMBER INQUIRY

Other Cabinet Ministers Add Similar Testimony Regarding Charge Made by Toronto Journal As Result of McEvoy Leaving Investigation.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Straight denials were made before Justices Riddell and Latchford here today by Premier E. C. Drury, Attorney-General W. E. Raney, Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, and J. M. McEvoy, K. C., London, Ont., that there was any truth in an insinuation made in an editorial in the Toronto Evening Telegram on August 26, that there had been a "saw-off" between the Drury Government and the Conservatives in the Legislature with a view to preventing evidence being produced in the timber inquiry that would hurt the Conservatives, and that it was as a result of this "saw-off" that Mr. McEvoy's services as a counsel for the Government in the timber probe were dispensed with. John R. Robinson, editor of the Evening Telegram, also was a witness, and he claimed that he had written and published the editorial in question in good faith, and in the public interest.

It was based on things he had heard and on his own sizing up of the situation, he said, and that was why he had demanded that J. M. McEvoy be put in the witness box to tell what he knew about the matter.

Mr. Robinson refused to disclose any source of information on which he had based the editorial, but he took the responsibility for the editorial. In publishing the editorial insinuating that there had been a "saw-off" he was honestly desiring to find out if there were any evidence which should have been brought before the commission.

After considerable evidence had been heard, Mr. Justice Riddell, chairman of the royal commission investigating the timber limits matters, remarked:

Would Deserve Thanks.

"If there is a word of truth in the editorial, the editor deserves the thanks of the public. If there is no word of truth in it, then it is a matter for him to consider what course he has to take for the future."

Mr. Robinson was recalled to the witness stand after the various ministers of the Government had testified, as well as Mr. McEvoy, and he was asked by R. T. Harding, crown counsel, if he had any explanation to make regarding his editorial.

"My only explanation," replied Mr. Robinson, "is that it was written without malice and in the public interest."

Mr. Justice Riddell intimated that he would like a further explanation, whereupon the editor of the Telegram said he had been appalled at the case with which the premier of the province and the attorney-general had assumed to think that the great thing to be desired was harmony between the opposing counsel in the timber probe.

"The great thing is that the truth has to be brought out," Mr. Robinson said. "Mr. McEvoy's friends allege that just as soon as he was brought into contact with the Backus transaction he was switched off or out of the service."

Mr. Robinson told the commissioners that he was very anxious that the timber inquiry should not fail, "as it is going to fail through the inadequacy of Mr. Harding," he added. For that reason he was willing to stay at the inquiry as long as wanted. He said he had seen many inquiries fail. When the Conservatives came in in 1905, Mr. Robinson said, he wanted an inquiry, but could not get it.

Should Have Ceased.

Mr. Robinson said that the minute it had been ascertained that Mr. Harding was associated with Mr. Backus, an American capitalist, who was an applicant for a concession in Kenora, Mr. Harding should have ceased to be crown counsel on the timber probe. What Mr. Robinson wanted, he told Mr. Justice Latchford, was "an inquiry that would put every Conservative member on the stand, an inquiry that would put a man like Mr. McEvoy on the trail of the Conservatives, and an equally zealous partisan on the trail of the Liberals, and that would also put Mr. McEvoy tracking down Mr. Backus."

Premier Drury took full responsibility in connection with Attorney-General Raney, for the conduct of the timber probe, the premier testified. As to the insinuation in the Telegram, the premier declared "the whole matter of insinuation is absolutely without foundation." It was "absolutely untrue," the premier said, that there had been any arrangement between the Government and the Conservative Opposition. "My instructions were to make the inquiry thorough and searching and to dig to the bottom," said Premier Drury. No change had been made in these instructions and the digging was still in progress.

Harding's Connection.

As to Mr. Harding's connection with Mr. Backus, the premier said that when Mr. Backus had gone to see him with regard to a concession which he was asking for at Kenora, he was introduced by Mr. Harding. The premier had told Mr. Harding that he considered it an improper proceeding for the counsel in the timber probe to be representing Mr. Backus under the circumstances. It needed only the suggestion and Mr. Harding at once separated himself from Mr. Backus' interests.

As to Mr. McEvoy's retirement as a counsel in the timber inquiry, Premier Drury admitted that it was scarcely voluntary. It was suggested and complied with, he added. Mr. McEvoy's retirement, the premier stated, was due to differences of opinion between Mr. McEvoy and Mr. Harding on certain matters in the inquiry. They were not pulling together as he and Attorney-General Raney thought the two counsels should do.

Mr. Justice Riddell remarked:

"We are not concerned with any reason for Mr. McEvoy's retirement unless it is connected with something improper."

Attorney-General Raney, on the witness stand, said that Mr. Harding and Mr. McEvoy had not agreed as to the relative importance of matters to be inquired into.

Thought Impracticable.

Mr. Harding had thought that Mr. McEvoy's plan would involve months and years of inquiry and was impracticable. There was no shadow for the suggestion of a "saw-off," Mr. Raney declared.

J. M. McEvoy was a witness. He said he did not know anything about the talked-of "saw-off."

Mr. McEvoy was asked by Peter White, K.C., counsel for the Conservative party in the probe, if it were true that he had certain evidence which Mr. Harding prevented him from presenting to the commission.

"Mr. Harding could not stop me from giving any evidence I wanted to give," Mr. McEvoy replied.

Hon. Manning Doherty denied knowledge of any deal or "saw-off" between the Government, or any member of it, and the Conservative M. P. P.'s.

Provincial Treasurer Peter Smith gave similar testimony and asserted that there was no vestige of truth in the Telegram's insinuations as far as he knew, and he said if anything of the kind were going on he would likely know of it.

FAVORS PUBLIC CONTROL OVER PENITENTIARIES

Social Service Committee For Public Sharing in Management.

REPORT ON KINGSTON

Charges Irregularities, Unsatisfactory Conditions —Since Improved.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Some measure of public management in the conduct of federal penitentiaries through the medium of advisory or visiting committees was one of the chief recommendations made at a meeting of the Dominion Penological Committee of the Social Service Council of Canada held today at the offices in the Confederation Life building. The committee had under consideration a report of a visit made to Kingston penitentiary by one of its members, John Kidman, who had been permitted to go over the institution, both as a newspaperman and as honorary secretary of the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association of Montreal.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. Canon Vernon, and there were also present Dean Tucker, W. P. Archibald, Ottawa; Dr. J. G. Shearer, John Kidman, Montreal, and Miss C. E. Whitton, secretary.

Admit Irregularities.

In general the report showed that while it was admitted that there had been irregularities in the administration and that conditions in the hospital had not been satisfactory up to a recent date, new appointments had resulted in important improvements.

The committee, while placing on record its appreciation of the steps which have been taken to improve the administration of the institution, consider that "the time is ripe for certain fundamental changes in the penitentiary system." They recommend provision of new buildings, or such alterations of the present buildings as will permit of the segregation of old and new offenders.

Abolish Stone Pile.

They urge total abolition of the stone pile, and the adoption of productive activity, so that prisoners may contribute to the support of their families. They advise placing women's buildings entirely outside the penitentiary walls and that one woman physician attend female prisoners.

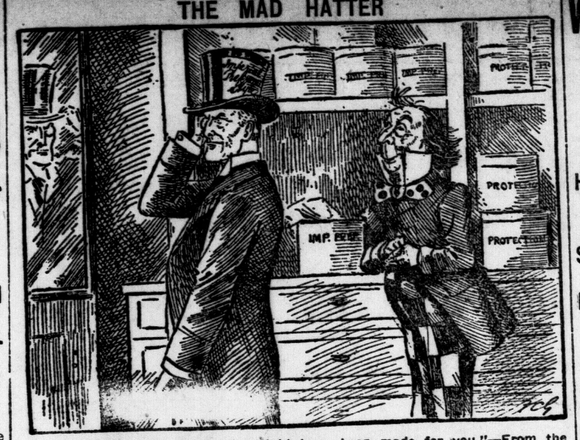

In order that complaints and "scandals" such as have recently been aired in the press may be better dealt with, the committee finally recommended to the department of justice the adoption of the principle of giving the public some measure of representation through the appointment of an advisory and visiting committee composed of public spirited citizens for all penitentiaries.

SUFFERING SEVERELY.

CORK, Sept. 7.—This is the 25th day since the eleven hunger strikers in Cork jail refused food. Sean Henesy, 19 years of age, of Ballingarry, Limerick, and Thomas Donovan, Emly, Limerick, are said to be suffering severely. Hennesey with blood-poisoning of the leg and Donovan with an abscess of the mouth. Since Thursday last, when the prisoners refused to permit the jail doctor to visit them they have had no medical attention, being cared for by nuns day and night.

A fortnight ago the prisoners refused to take even water, asserting that the prison officials were putting stimulants in the water and they thirsted as well as starved until the nuns appeared and gave them water with their own hands.

SAY GUARANTEE FROM M'SWINEY IS IMPOSSIBLE

Mayor's Friends Ask What About Acts of Destruction by Police.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, passed a rather restless and feverish evening in Brixton Jail, but otherwise his condition, due to his prolonged hunger strike, is unchanged.

Premier Lloyd George's suggestion for the release of Mr. MacSwiney, conditional as a guarantee of the cessation of murders of policemen in Ireland, seems not to be regarded either here or in Dublin as providing any practical issue for the breaking of the deadlock between the Government and the dissident Irishmen, although the belief prevails in some quarters that it may be accepted as an indication of slight yielding on the part of the premier from his previous unshakable attitude.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney's friends declare that it will be impossible for MacSwiney to give such a guarantee, and they ask, even if he could do so, what about the reprisals by the police, such as the burning of creameries and other acts of destruction.

Art O'Brien, president of the Gaelic League in London, says no authoritative communication has been received from Mr. Lloyd George by any relative of Lord Mayor MacSwiney or anyone entitled to speak in his behalf. If, however, Mr. Lloyd George is willing to discuss terms for a cessation of hostilities in Ireland, by which the lives of Mr. MacSwiney and the other hunger strikers may be saved, Mr. O'Brien says the premier can officially communicate with the proper persons, who will consider the matter.

WINDSOR GIRL ATTACKED BY MASKED MEN

Had Been To See Girl Friend Safely To Street Car.

SCREAMED FOR HELP

Neighbors Came To Her Assistance, But Assailants Escaped.

WINDSOR, Sept. 7.—Attacked late last night as she was returning home by two unknown men, badly choked and brutally assaulted, Miss Florence Freeman, aged 17 years, is tonight reported recovering from the effects of her struggle for freedom, while the border police are searching the entire district in an effort to establish the identity of the culprits and bring them to justice.

Miss Freeman, who resides on Parent road, near Ottawa street, Ford City, was returning to her home after accompanying a girl friend who had been visiting her to the street car. She noticed two men lounging in some shrubbery near a deserted corner and turned up a side street to avoid them, but later thinking they were gone, retraced her steps, when they seized her and demanded money. When she said she had none the girl was threatened with shooting if she screamed, but undaunted she cried for help and attracted the attention of neighbors who rushed out, but the men got away.

FIRE ON HORSE ISLAND DESTROYS MUCH LUMBER

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 7.—The fire, which started on Friday amongst the standing timber and logs on Horse Island, owned by John Harrison & Sons, was extinguished by the rain which fell on Sunday night and Monday morning, but not before it had destroyed between 7,000 and 8,000 cedar logs and a large quantity of standing timber. The amount of damage has not yet been estimated. The cause of the fire is not known.

Province Takes Road.

Another section of Grey County road has been taken over by the province, the Toronto-Sydenham road, from Dufferin County boundary to Chatsworth. This still leaves the section of road from Chatsworth to Owen Sound in the hands of the county. This portion of the road has also been designated as part of the provincial highway, but it is not known when the province will take it over.

NAME OF NEW SCHOOL PERPETUATES MEMORY OF MAJOR BALACHEY

BRANTFORD, Sept. 7.—The new Major Balachey School was formally opened this afternoon in the presence of a large gathering, and an inspection of the school was made. The principal speaker was Professor J. B. Raynolds, president of the O. A. C., who spoke on the "Heritage of Canada," and declared that the chief foe to Canadianism was the invasion by foreigners. Education on account of the economic conditions was slipping away from the people, and there was a great trust held by the teaching fraternity to make the character of the younger generation. Chairman L. L. Miller of the board of education presided. Mayor MacBride and ex-Chairman Dr. Marquis were also speakers. Capt. C. E. Jenkins paid a tribute to the late soldier and school trustee after whom the school is named.

CONSTABLE CATCHES BURGLAR IN THE ACT

Attendance At Brantford Collegiate Beats All Previous Records.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 7.—All attendance records were broken at the collegiate institute today when school was reopened. There were 575 pupils for enrollment, and the authorities state that provisional accommodation will have to be secured until a new wing is built.

Caught Red Handed.

P. C. Bickell in the early hours of the morning caught Henry Harrigan red handed in the act of pilfering from the shoe store of Thomas Smith, Colborne street. A broken window attracted the Constable's attention, and Harrigan was found inside loaded down with shoes. He was remanded in court this morning, and his record showed two previous convictions.

George Smith reported to the police today that some one had stolen $300 from his pockets, while he was asleep in his own backyard at 43 Alonzo street.

No More Power.

Officials of the hydro department announced that Brantford could not possibly secure any additional supply of power at the present time, and that winter might even force a further curtailment of the present load.

Local laborites report that the celebration of Monday would result in no deficit, and that it was unlikely that the city would be called on to meet the guarantee offered.

STRATFORD COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE OVERCROWDED

Reopening of Schools Provides Serious Problem for School Board.

STRATFORD, Sept. 7.—The local collegiate Institute will be overcrowded this year. When school reopened today an unprecedented number attended and there are others to come, and it will be necessary to utilize the physics laboratory or the assembly hall as a class room. There are already over 200 registered in the first forms. This will mean five instead of four classes, the middle and upper classes are also large.

As a result of representations made by the city council engineers of the railway commission will inspect Erie street G. T. R. crossing with a view to protection.

The park board is closing the merry-go-round for the season on Friday, but before it closes the kiddies of the city are to be given free rides Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

INDUSTRIAL FAIR AT GODERICH OPENED

GODERICH, Sept. 7.—The Industrial Fair opened today and is the largest show that has ever taken place on the Fair Grounds. The shows take up a large space on the inside of the track, with about 20 different amusements including a seaplane, the first ever seen in this part of the country. The races on Thursday and Friday promise to be a big event, as there is a large number of horses entered.

Died Very Suddenly.

The death occurred today of Adam Thompson, a prominent businessman, who dropped dead from heart-failure while at his work. Mr. Thompson was about 54 years of age, and was a brother of Fire Chief Thompson, who was buried here three weeks ago. He is survived by his wife, one son, and one daughter, Mrs. Cliff McManus. Mr. Thompson was a member of the Goderich fire department.

STOPPED MAKING SHELLS TO ROLL STEEL IN RAILS

Railways Were Short Early in 1918, Million-Dollar Suit Shows.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—That the condition of Canadian railways was such in the early months of 1918 as to justify the Dominion Government in taking steps that practically stopped the making of steel for shells by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company in order that rails necessary for renewals might be rolled was shown in the hearing of the case of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company vs. the King, which opened in the exchequer court this afternoon.

It was the first sitting of the court following the summer legal vacation, and Sir Walter Cassels presided. The point at issue was the price the company should be paid for 116,000 tons of rails rolled and delivered subsequent to April 1918 by the steel company, the rails being furnished in consequence of an order-in-council passed by the Government under the authority of the war measures act, enjoining the company to supply at least 100,000 tons in order that the railways might be put in a position to operate up to full capacity during the period of the war.

Difference of Opinion.

The cause of the difference of opinion as to the value of the rails, it developed during the hearing today, was that when the Government order was issued the Dominion Iron and Steel Company had in hand large orders from the Imperial Munitions Board for shell steel, and the manufacture of this had to be practically discontinued, with the result that 99,000 tons were not delivered. On behalf of the company, it was stated today, that for this steel the company would have received about $80 a ton, but cost of production would have exceeded the cost of making rails by from $3 to $5 a ton.

Company Refused.

The company suggested, in view of these facts, that it should receive $75 a ton for the rails. The War Trade Board, on the other hand, took the view that $65 would be a proper price. The company refused to accept this price when it was offered by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, and, in accordance with the terms of the original order-in-council, a reference was made to the exchequer court. The amount actually in dispute is $10 a ton on 116,000 tons, or $1,000,000. Of nearly eight million dollars claimed by the company for the rails, some $5,500,000 has already been paid by the Government.

INGERSOLL COLLEGIATE GAINING IN PRESTIGE IN OXFORD COUNTY

Fall Plowing in Progress—Increased Wheat Acreage Indicated.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 7. — Many new students were enrolled at the reopening of the Collegiate Institute today. It is expected that the register in the course of a few days will show a material increase in the attendance over that during the summer, and it would not be surprising if it is much larger than for a number of years. On the whole more than the usual number of candidates were successful at the entrance examinations at Ingersoll and the neighboring centres. The Ingersoll collegiate has greatly added to its prestige during recent years, and the results in the various examinations have been very gratifying. Principal Shales has a very effective organization, and the list of county pupils has been steadily climbing. During the vacation period important improvements were made to the school.

Fall Plowing.

With the grain harvest practically at an end many farmers are giving as much attention as possible to fall plowing. It is expected that throughout the adjoining districts the acreage sown to fall wheat will be fully as large, if not larger than during the past season. Fall wheat generally was a very satisfactory crop, the yield in some instances being as high as 50 bushels per acre. Even with a much smaller yield wheat is more profitable than some other crops, and there seems to be a growing disposition to increase the acreage.

With very few exceptions, where some damage was caused by the severe storms about three weeks ago, the corn crop is above the average. Reports from the neighboring districts are to the effect that it is maturing rapidly, and it will not be long before silo-filling will be commenced.

Ready For the Fair.

Most of the details for the Ingersoll fair, which will be held on October 4 and 5, have been completed, and the prize lists will be ready for distribution at an early date. Some important changes have been made in a number of sections, notably in the cattle classes where some prizes have been increased. In the ladies' work and fine arts a complete new section has been adopted. Judging from the sentiment that is encountered in the course of everyday conversation the displays of roots and vegetables will be more numerous than for a number of years. The crops in the local gardens and throughout the district have been very bountiful, and the quality is above the average.

MORE HOUSES ARE NEEDED AT WINGHAM

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Sept. 7.—The American Phonograph Company of Saginaw will shortly locate here. Mayor Gurney was instrumental in completing the negotiations, and it is expected that the plant will be in operation in the course of a few weeks.

The fertilizer company is moving its plant nearer to the Grand Trunk tracks, and arrangements are under way for the G. T. R. to install a siding so that both the fertilizer and phonograph companies may make shipments.

The scarcity of houses is the only drawback to the new concern. It is expected that at least 100 men will be employed and the question is to find accommodation for them on such a short notice.

WORLD'S WATER RECORD.

EXETER, England, Sept. 7.—Norman Ross, San Francisco, today swam 300 yards in open water in 3 minutes, 24 4-5 seconds. It was announced that this time constituted a world's record.

RECORD OAT YIELD ALL OVER PROVINCE

As High As 100 Bushels Per Acre Are Reported.

The following is a summary of the weekly report made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario department of agriculture:

The past week has been favorable for harvesting and threshing, more especially as threshing in the stock is becoming more common. Considerably grain, however, is still lying in the fields awaiting time or help to get it into the barn.

Market prices for wheat range all the way from $2.20 to $2.50 a bushel.

The second growth of pasture has proven good for live stock, although there are some reports of a decided falling off in the milk flow. Many farmers are already supplementing pasture with other feeds.

Not many beef animals are going to market. Dry cows are selling in Frontenac at around 8 cents a pound.

Norfolk reports milk as selling at $3.38 a hundredweight to a Toronto dairy, delivered at the shipping point, Simcoe.

Hogs appear to be scarce and are being slowly marketed at from $19.75 to $20.60 a cwt.

Reports have been received of oats running as high as 80, 90 and even 100 bushels to the acre, but, on the other hand some of the crop has been discolored by the wet weather at harvesting.

Hay is being held pretty closely by owners, but what sales are made range from $22 to $28 a ton.

The second cut of alfalfa is proving very satisfactory.

Grey reports that sweet clover is an exceptionally good crop.

Kent states that farmers are finding it difficult to procure sufficient help to harvest their tobacco, beans, etc.

Fruit raisers are still complaining of the lack of pickers, and of baskets and other containers. For this reason a number of growers in Lincoln and Wentworth are allowing a considerable quantity of early apples, and also plums, to rot on the trees.

The peach harvest is now on, and pickers are in great demand; one grower is advertising for 200 of them.

The lateness of harvest is delaying fall seeding. There is also a tendency to hold back the fall wheat in order to avoid the Hessian fly. Considerable of the after-harvest plowing has been shallow. The land has been rather too dry and hard for general plowing. It has been particularly difficult with sod.

The Peterboro representative says: "Owing to continued dry weather most of the farm wells of the county are dry, and live stock are suffering for want of sufficient water. This is more especially true of the ranches."

Oats Yield In Ontario Is Running High

Rains in West Believed To Have Damaged Some Crops.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The past week has been favorable for harvesting and threshing in Ontario, more especially as threshing in the stook is becoming more common, says the summary of the Ontario department of agriculture. Considerable grain, however, is still lying in the fields, awaiting time or help to get into the barn.

Market prices for wheat range all the way from $2.20 to $2.50 a bushel. The second growth of pasture has proven good for live stock, although there are some reports of a decided falling off in the milk flow. Many farmers are already supplementing pasture with other feeds.

Reports have been received of oats running as high as 80, 90 and even 100 bushels to the acre, but on the other hand some of the crop has been discolored by the wet weather at harvesting.

RAINS IN WEST CAUSE DAMAGE TO SOME CROPS

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—By the Canadian Press.—Rains in all the prairie provinces last week interrupted harvesting operations for from two to four days, but were beneficial inasmuch as moisture was badly required in many sections to put the soil in proper condition for fall plowing, according to the Canadian National Railway crop report issued today. In no part of the country is there less than 75 per cent of the wheat cut. In some parts the binders have finished, and the threshers were getting very busy everywhere when the rain came.

Rains were very heavy in Southern Saskatchewan, and it was feared that some damage might be done to grain standing in stook, but latest reports do not indicate that any harm of consequence has occurred.

Threshing returns are not only showing a good quality of grain, but much better yields than conditions a month ago was promised. All grains are showing up equally well.

PREMIER TO VISIT KINGSTON.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, leaves for Kingston tomorrow morning. He expects to return to Ottawa the same evening.

SCOTTISH RUGBY RESULTS.

Rangers 2, Albion 1.
Queen's Park 3, Dumbarton 0.
Mirren 3, Kilmarnock 2.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Opening: Wheat—Dec., $2 43; March, $2 39.

Corn—Dec., $1 21¼; May, $1 18½.

Oats—Dec., 65⅝c; May, 68¼c.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today chiefly as a result of free buying for the seaboard. The east was not only after future deliveries, but also for the first time in several days was seeking cash wheat in volume. There was a good demand, too, for the other leading breadstuffs—cash rye. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅜c to 2c higher, were followed by slight reaction and then by a new upturn higher than before.

Smallness of receipts, together with unfavorable weather, had a bullish influence on corn. After opening unchanged to 1c higher, the market underwent a moderate sag, but then again hardened.

Oats were firm with corn, starting unchanged to ⅜c higher, and later scoring gains all around.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—October wheat opened 1¼c higher; December ½c higher.

October oats ½c higher; December ¼c to ⅜c higher, and May ⅜c up.

October barley 1c higher; December 2½c higher.

October flax opened 2¼c higher.

October rye 1½c higher.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Sept. 8—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The hesitant tone of the stock market at the opening of today's session evidently expressed further division of sentiment among traders. Yesterday's late advance in the rate for call loans probably served to check bullish operations. Excepting Crucible Steel, which rose 1¾ points, gains and losses among leading shares, especially oils, motors, steels and rails, were limited to fractions. Foreign exchange was again unsettled, remittances to London falling below yesterday's minimum quotations.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Trading increased considerably on the stock exchange this morning, but prices at the noon close failed to indicate a definite trend, gains and losses being about equal. It had been anticipated that the announcement of the 40 per cent freight increase would mean a good rally in C. P. R., but this failed to materialize, and the transaction of 45 shares only brought a slight increase to 134 after the opening at 133½. Penmans forfeited the gain of 5 points made yesterday afternoon, selling at the old price of 135. Duluth-Superior, which improved yesterday, also fell back to 12. Maple Leaf preferred gained a point at 97, while Toronto Railway advanced to 44 on light buying.

LIVERPOOL PRICES ONLY WILL AFFECT FLOUR QUOTATIONS

Toronto, Sept. 8.—"The Liverpool prices regulate that of flour and grain for the world," said a prominent Toronto milling firm manager this morning, when asked if the increased freight rates on the railways would affect the prices of these commodities. "Liverpool is not concerned with our freight problems, and is only anxious to buy in the cheapest market, but I think they cannot do better than in this country. The farmer will, I think, have to pay the difference in freight charges, but the option market will give the first line on the question of the effect of the increases now granted the railways."

ALSACE TO RETAIN PECULIAR TONGUE

Combination of French and German To Continue as the Language of Province.

Paris, Sept. 7.—One of the greatest of France's reconstruction problems is to determine just what encouragement is to be given to the use of the peculiar half-French half-German dialect of the Alsatians. After long study of the conditions in the restored provinces, and after questioning thousands of peasants and townsfolk, a recommendation has been made to the French Government urging that no effort be made to prohibit the teaching of German in the schools of Alsace, but that greater effort be made to teach the people the beauties of the French tongue and literature, at the same time recognizing the dialect of Alsace as the language of a people which has shown heroic fidelity to France.

This scheme of maintaining the Alsatian phrasings, undeniably the logical product of enforced bilingualism, has been strengthened by M. Eugene Gerber, who at Dambech has inaugurated an open-air theatre, in which only plays will be produced in the Alsatian tongue. But this effort, while meeting with popular appreciation, is not destined to have great effect, as it is recognized that the dialect, although convenient for folklore and the daily speech of family life, does not lend itself readily to literature.

The educational problem is exceedingly complex. Few of the Alsatian teachers were able to instruct in French; those who had had any previous training in French schools were only able to teach imperfectly. Moreover, a large percentage of the Alsatian children at the conclusion of the war had already commenced their studies—in German.

In order to bridge this difficulty it has been decided to commence the teaching of French as soon as the pupils enter the schools. German will not appear in the curriculum until the fourth year, when, thanks to the similarity of the dialect and the German vocabulary, rapid progress may be attained in both the national and provincial tongues.

In short, the French have realized that it is unwise to expect the patriotic citizens of Alsace to give up a speech which meets with all the conditions of life so close to the Rhine, and which, even in the seventeenth century, was more extensively used than either French or German. If after the Prussian victory of 1871 the Germans had not made the use of German compulsory to the exclusion of French, the dialect might gradually have disappeared; but such a solution is now impossible. The dialect of the Alsatian homes formed an easy method of bewildering the German masters of Alsace during forty-five years, and, to use the words of one French educator, "when fifty years hence an Alsatian grandfather is asked to tell the story of France's recovery of her cherished possessions, it will be told in the speech of Alsace, for it is in dialect that the Alsatian heart speaks."

U. S. GOVERNMENT TO INVESTIGATE PROGRESS OF WORLD DISARMAMENT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Informal investigation has been started by the United States Government of the progress being made by the various powers in the movement for universal disarmament. Inasmuch as control of armaments was made one of the objects of the league of nations, the inquiry into the movement for universal disarmament has developed, it is said here, into an investigation of the present status of the armament control clauses of the league of nations' covenant.

Without having taken up the main problem of a radical and general disarmament, the league of nations, according to reports received here in official circles has begun the organization of machinery for solving the problem.

C. N. R. EMPLOYEES NOT SATISFIED WITH 20 PER CENT WAGE INCREASE

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—A. R. Mosher, grand president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, confirmed the statement that the recent increase of 20 per cent did not satisfy the Canadian National Railway's employees and unskilled laborers. The employees demanded an increase of 30 per cent of present wages.

Commitees representing the employees of eastern lines will resume negotiations with the officials of the Canadian National Railways, but no arrangements have been as yet made, Mr. Mosher said, for joint representation to be made before the Canadian National Railways and the Grand Trunk Railway. About 5,000 employees are affected on the eastern lines of the Canadian National Railways.

BLACKSTONE, MASTER MAGICIAN.

Blackstone, one of the foremost magicians in the world, is the attraction at the Grand matinee and evening Wednesday and Thursday evening. Every man, woman and child in the city, it would seem, has read or heard of this master of magic. Blackstone carries a carload of scenery and magical paraphernalia with a company of 22 assistants, mostly girls, who contribute to the mystical spectacle. The first 50 kiddies to the matinee get a real live bunny free.

"DON'T TELL" AT THE GRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Mr. Moffat's newest piece, "Don't Tell," is described as a Scottish comedy of Glasgow life. It is concerned chiefly with a local plumber, who is quite suddenly and unexpectedly elected to the magistracy. Yielding to the demands of his family, he consents to hold a private rehearsal of the duties he will be called upon, officially to perform as the Bailie. During the mock-trial it develops that his eldest daughter is really concerned in a matter which seriously concerns the entire family, and each in turn attempts secretly to furnish the money for the girl's release without jeopardizing the dignity of the new Bailie's official position. It is from this premise that Mr. Moffat has developed the complications and suspensive interest in his new comedy, which will be revealed here, the end of the week. Seats now on sale.

TO PATRONS OF THE GRAND.

Manager Minhinnick reports a very heavy mail order call on reservations for the big productions of "Chu Chin Chow," which will open a three-day engagement here at the Grand September 16. Everything points to the S. R. O. sign being hung out long before the show opens. Mail orders are being filled as they are sent in and the big sale for London patrons will open tomorrow morning at 9 a.m.

GRUMPY.

London theatregoers and exhibition visitors will have an extraordinary treat for the first three days of fair week, when Trans-Canada Theatres will offer "Grumpy," Cyril Maude's sparkling comedy, at the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8:15 only.

"Grumpy" will come back as an old friend and favorite to Londoners, for "Grumpy's" friends are everywhere—in Great Britain, throughout America and in Australia.

Everyone loves Grumpy, the whimsical English actor, who is the mainspring of the theme. Grumpy provides a little love affair, a skillful detective story to be built up and then disentangled and light, wholesome, teeming comedy.

The leading role is taken by Mr. Edward Lewers, a distinguished English actor, who is supported by an all-star, all-English cast. Mr. Lewers won his reputation in the comedy roles of the productions of Martin Harvey and Robert B. Mantell. With him are such notable English actors as Frank Crompton, leading man of the Drury Lane Company of New York and London; Frederick Monte, Trevor Bland and Jackson Dunn, all of whom achieved marked success in London before coming to America. The feminine section of the cast is headed by Violet Hall Caine, niece of the famous English author, whose name she bears, and Miss Peggy Dundas, who has scored in leading ingenue parts in England and America with William A. Brady, Shubert, Comstock and Gest productions.

The seat sale opens today at 9 a.m.

YOU'LL LOSE YOUR HEART TO TOM MOORE, CLEVER, AMUSING CROOK, IN "STOP THIEF" AT ALLEN.

Tom Moore as the audacious Jack Dougan will steal your heart and you'll be laughing so hard you'll never miss it—in his hilarious farce comedy, "Stop Thief," which is shown at the Allen again today.

Tom Moore brings to the role a light-hearted nonchalance, a disarming air of geniality that is inimitable. The nervy yegman and his girl invade a sedate wedding party at the home of the wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Carr, steal everything in the house that isn't nailed to the floor, and turn an otherwise peaceful gathering into a mad bedlam. Jewels, money, bonds and other valuables miraculously disappear and reappear in the pockets of the innocent guests. The father of the bride and the bridegroom are stricken with the conviction that they are kleptomaniacs. When the safe is discovered cracked open like a wooden crate the panic-stricken Carrs send for a detective. He appears and debonnair Dougan swipes his badge and his watch in the bargain. However, they are caught in the end, but make such a good plea that they are allowed to join in as one of the wedding couples, although Dougan has to steal a wedding ring at that.

It's Tom Moore's funniest, full of the most humorous situations, and with Raymond Hatton, Iren Kate Lester and Hazel Daly in the cast, we are assured that the production can lack nothing in the support.

Smiling Billy Parsons is presented in one of his exceptional comedies. There are many interesting travel pictures, and in the Allen News a number of prominent Londoners appear in many scenes of Halifax and New Brunswick. Special overture and musical accompaniment.

AFTER HOUR SCENES IN FAMOUS NEW YORK CABARET MAKE STARTLING DISCLOSURES OF FAMOUS DANCER'S LIFE.

Time, about 1:30 after closing hours. Place, the famous Peacock Room of the notorious Montemarte Cabaret, New York City. A darkened room with many couples sitting about eating, drinking and making merry. Suddenly appears in a vivid flash of light a dazzling figure of a dancer. She is the famous masked dancer of whom all the Gay White Way is talking. Clothed in a flashing, brilliant costume of jewels, she twirls down the floor and then begins one of those mad revels of song and dance which we have read about but have never seen. It is Mae Murray in the great film spectacle "On With the Dance," which comes to the Allen as the special Fair Week attraction, who presents to you the most colorful, gorgeous and spectacularly sensational film of New York life that has ever graced a silver sheet.

Mae Murray, that piquant jewel of the Follies, known as the most beautiful dancer that has ever shown in that famous ensemble of feminine charms, with David Powell, Alma Tell and a host of other noted artists—under the direction of George Fitzmaurice, in a story that will make you sit up on the edge of your seat, fill your eyes with wonder, and make your heart beat double time with thrills.

There's the multi-millionaire, who lived high in his beautiful palace on the great tower in the midst of the huge city. There are the sensational cabaret scenes, when a passion-mad maid, drunk with the lust of love and pleasure, drags a hundred hearts down in her pursuit of love, life and happiness. There is the beautiful masked dancer, whose charms all the great city is raving about—the escapades of a butterfly wife, and the butterfly's startling revelations to save the man she loved from prison for life or the chair.

VICIOUS FIGHT BETWEEN DOG AND MAN SHOWN IN "THE VALLEY OF DOUBT" AT PATRICIA.

A great battle between dog and man is pictured in "The Valley of Doubt," the all-star Selznick picture, directed by Burton George, which will be shown at the Patricia Theatre for the last time today.

"Jean," a handsome collie, is a past master in the art of fighting manfashion. Years of directorial dictation have taught him how to spar, how to wrestle, and how to reach for a man's throat when the scene calls for such action.

In the dog vs. man scene the man has seized a whip and is lashing his daughter. Quick as a flash the dog is in action, and the man's vengeful purpose is frustrated. The dog then becomes his quiet, peaceful self again.

AT LOEW'S.

Delighted audiences have enjoyed Enid Bennett in "Hairpins," her latest Paramount photoplay, the past two days at Loew's, and indeed so, "Hairpins" is one of the best features that Miss Bennett has ever appeared in under the Paramount banner. And the laughter that follows throughout the action of "By Golly" would make a horse laugh. It is one of those Mack Sennett fun classics, bubbling over with laugh-provoking situations aplenty, all creating amusement and merriment for picture fans. The vaudeville is up to the usual high-class standard and provides a clean, wholesome contribution to a most enjoyable program which will be seen for the last time today. Tomorrow Robert Warwick will feature the program in a new Paramount special, "An Adventure in Hearts," and a complete change in comedy and vaudeville.

THE MOST UNUSUAL FILM THE WORLD WILL EVER SEE HAS AT LAST BEEN FILMED.

A picture that is 100 per cent entertainment "Shipwrecked Among the Cannibals," which is to be shown at the Majestic Theatre Fair Week, is undoubtedly the most startling and unusual film that the screen will present for many years.

Taken among the Kia Kia Head Hunters, the cannibal inhabitants of the British New Guinea by two intrepid cameramen, who, shipwrecked on the most savage and desolate coast in the world, with only their camera and a few thousand feet of film, they lived for fourteen months among these wild barbarians. The picture opens with scenes of their journey's start, among the beautiful Southern Islands. Later their good ship is wrecked in the shark-infested seas of the south, saving their paraphernalia, they make a hasty effort to reach the shore and find themselves heralded as the guests of these ferocious man-eaters. Their introduction to the natives, the manner in which they were received, and the terrible months they spent among this wild tribe, who have perhaps seen only a half-dozen or so white men in their existence—all is faithfully portrayed in this marvellous six reels of film. The hundred and one thrills that happened each week, the terrible battles and more horrible feasts, the dances, the hunts, the blood-stirring hand-to-hand fight with a full-grown tiger and these giant savage huntsmen—there are scenes you would have believed it impossible to take—and the best of it is that every scene, every picture, is authentic and affords one of the most intensely interesting and educational pictures that has ever been presented to the public. There is not a man, woman or child in Ontario who should miss seeing this picture: it will be an event you will remember all your life and a sensation you will talk of long after you have seen it.

Majestic, Fair Week, with continuous performances.

CHILDREN'S DAY TO BE REVIVED; CHARGE TO BE FIVE CENTS

Monday, September 13, Is Chosen As Date—Thoroughbred Horse Coming.

The directorate of the Western Fair Association at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the exhibition grounds decided to revive Children's Day as a feature of the forthcoming exhibition.

Arrangements were made to provide especially for the "kiddies" on Monday next, when a 5-cent admission fee will be allowed for all under twelve years at the gates and grandstands. This arrangement will end at 6 p.m., when the regular admission fees will become effective.

An effort is also being made to secure special rates for the children at the Johnny J. Jones shows on the midway.

The directors received and accepted an offer from James McFarlane of Ailsa Craig to bring Hamid, a thoroughbred stallion from King George's stables, to lead the parade daily before the grandstand, and to give an exhibition on the track. Hamid is the King's own gift to Canada for the betterment of Canadian stock, and he is now under control of the Canadian Thoroughbred Society. He has been allotted stall No. 162 in barn 5 during the exhibition.

Special Tickets.

Secretary Hunt brought to the attention of the directorate the increasing difficulty of dealing with the problem of accommodating motor cars owned by exhibitors. It is claimed that three out of every five exhibitors now own and use their own machines. The board decided to issue a special form of ticket, and windshield sticker, and to have all exhibitors' cars enter by the Campbell street gate. When they enter the grounds they must locate suitable parking space and avoid obstructing traffic. Visitors' cars will be admitted only at the subway at Dundas and Egerton streets.

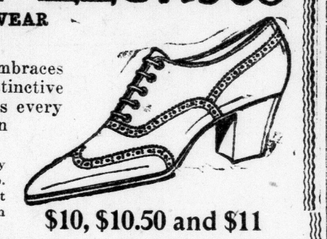

The ground for concessions and outside exhibits was staked yesterday and the first tents for the exhibition were set up by early arrivals last night. Every space has been marked with the name of the concessionaire or exhibitor to facilitate preparation for the big fair.

Entries for live stock closed Saturday and the catalogue to be issued for the first time this year, is already in the hands of the printers. Dog and poultry entries closed last night, and, it is claimed, set new records.

A PIANO THAT LEADS.

The Ionic design art upright piano made by Ye Olde Firme, Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London, holds a very popular place among the series of art pianos made by this long-established Canadian firm—business established 1850. The design of case is one that makes the instrument an ornament in any home, whilst the beauty of interior construction manifested in tone and singing quality gives it a first place among the great pianos of the world. b
