Joys.
You needn't be rich to be happy.
You needn't be famous to smile.
There are joys for the poorest of laborers If only they'll think them worth while.
There are blue skies and sunshine aplenty, And blossoms for all to behold;
And always the bright days outnumber The dark and the cheerless and cold.
Sweet sleep's not a gift of the wealthy,
And love's not alone for the great;
For men to grow old and successful It isn't joy's custom to wait.
The poorest of labor has his blessings His richer companions may leave;
And many a man who has riches Goes sorrowing on to the grave.
With some the joy is in money,
If you are taking things too seriously,
If you are taking things too seriously,
And sighing for joys far away.
The rose will not bloom any fairer,
In the richest garden that may be,
Great riches won't sweeten its fragrance Nor help you to breathe its life.
Today is the time to make merry,
The folly for fortune to wait; You'll not find the skies any bluer If ever you come to be great.
You'll not find your joys any brighter, No matter what fortune you win;
Make the most of life's sunshine this minute, Tomorrow's to-day's to begin.

The Legislature Closed.
Press Gallery, House of Assembly, Halifax, June 19.—To-day the government capitulated and we have shut up shop. All that remains to be done is to pay off the ship. Tomorrow morning the members will be on their way to their homes and friends, thankful that the long and extremely tedious session is at an end. For rebution here since February 19 and the session just ended has been the longest and most momentous in the history of the province.
But it would, quite likely, have been no more important than many of the sessions that preceded it had it not been that the people sent a good, strong opposition to the house to look after their rights and interests. As a general rule sessions of the Nova Scotia parliament last six or seven weeks. They were short and sweet because the government had it all their own way. They could do as they liked and they did about as they liked, and then went home.
The past two sessions have shown a change. It is true the opposition have had to fight like trojans. The government was not accustomed to a fighting opposition and resented it bitterly.

The government did not relish having its acts criticised. It did not like a lot of things the opposition introduced in, such as its exposure of the legislation which will go down in history as the greatest stock jobbing, get-rich quick exploitation ever known in this fair province, so zealous of its good name and honor.
The people of this province should be delighted to know that they made no mistake when they decided that a strong opposition would be a good thing for the country. For so it has proved. I venture to say that had the legislature not contained this little band of fighters the province would be in a bad way to-day, because it was apparent to everybody that the government was completely at the mercy of the commons.

For over three months the opposition fought without ceasing. They had no let up, but all the same they showed no quarter and in the end, on the very day of prorogation, the government had to crawl down and comply with the demands of Mr. Tanner and his gallant following in the house.
Much has been said in the liberal press about obstruction. Indeed, by a special system of arithmetic, the opposition press went on to show that this obstruction, as they termed it, was costing the country money. Let me tell you, gentle reader, that the so-called 'opposition' was saving you money, good money. That 'obstruction' was for the purpose of preventing the government from doing what it should not do, from doing what you would not want it to do, from doing what you see the opposition there to do. It was disagreeable work at times, but the man who is performing a duty conscientiously does not fear the disagreeable part.
I would like to say a word here for the leader of the opposition. I would just like to see who the general sentiment is as it is expressed in the city by grit and tory alike and that is that Mr. Tanner has proved himself a statesman in whom the people of this province have every reason to be proud. He distinctly 'made good' all along the line. As a leader, as a debater, and as a parliamentarian he proved to be the first man in the house, barring none. To-day he enjoys the confidence of his own party and the admiration and good will of the best element of the liberal party.

All through the session he stood in the forefront of every debate and the loyalty of his followers came in for very complimentary remarks. The reader must not take the insinuations of the opposition press as an indication of liberal feeling in the city toward the leader of the opposition or the opposition generally. In fact, the opposition press does not reflect the opinion of the city liberals. This was very evident during the debate on the Halifax tramways bill which was keenly opposed by the leading liberals of the city.
One in the press gallery is in a fair position to judge public opinion and from all that floated my eye I have come to the conclusion that the liberals have a feeling that Mr. Tanner is the man of the hour and just the man to take hold and run the machine properly. I believe this will be demonstrated when the people have a chance of expressing themselves at the polls.
The little band of fighters around Mr. Tanner have every reason to be proud of their work. They had to struggle was not in vain. They have the country with them and that is the main thing to be considered. Just now George H. Murray has the government, but he will find that it is of very little value without the confidence of the people, the people whom he is afraid to trust. The people have reason to congratulate themselves on sending such men to parliament as Douglas, Margeson, Butts, Hall, Coring, O'Brien, Zwicker, Parsons, Stansfield, MacLeod, Kennedy, Tanner, Marshall and Phinney. It is to be hoped that the near future will see them where they properly belong on the right of the speaker. The time has arrived when a change of government is absolutely necessary for the welfare of the country.
Events of the past session have proved without the suspicion of a doubt that the Murray government has forfeited the right to hold office. It has no right to hold office to-day and no one knows that better than the premier.
Now, I am in a hurry to get away with the rest. This correspondence has endeavored to picture to the public the events of the session as they have transpired, and in an impartial manner and if I have succeeded then I am satisfied. I have endeavored faithfully to present the salient features and present them in an impartial manner. This, the closing letter of the series, does not even attempt to give the leading features of the last few days of the session, but rather would entreat the opportunity to state the general result of the work of the opposition, which can be done in a very few words. The opposition has demonstrated the fact that the government is no longer fit to conduct the affairs of the province, that it has forfeited the esteem and respect of the people and that it should give the people a chance to demonstrate this. The opposition has by its splendid work on behalf of the people, proved its capacity to govern this province honestly and to the advantage of the people. Now you have it in a nutshell.

Now we are all going on a holiday, all the readers of this correspondence and myself, and here's that we may have a pleasant time.

Scarcity of Work.
Rather a remarkable condition of affairs prevails in Canada at the present time. Thousands of men are walking the streets of the towns and cities seeking for work and finding none. On the other hand there are scores of farmers anxiously looking for efficient help and are not able to secure it, says an exchange. Farm work unfortunately, does not appeal to a large class of unemployed accustomed to regular hours. Our summers are short, our days are long, and our progressive farmers find that it is necessary for them to work from dawn to dark. They are up against climate conditions and the eight, nine or ten hour day cannot be successfully applied to farm life in Canada.
Then again, wages—when work can be obtained—are higher in the town than in the country, and then too, in the town the electric lights glitter, the picture shows are in full blast, the soda water fountains sparkle and the notes of the piano plunge come floating from the ice cream parlors.
On the farm it is only work from sunrise till sunset, and yet it is the purposeful life on the farm, near to nature's heart, where, unspoiled depth of character and strength of muscle.
In many of our industrial towns throughout Canada and the United States we find idle factories and idle men. This may result from two causes, over production for those who have the money to buy, or under consumption for the more an fortunate class. The fact remains both in Canada and the United States that there is a decided under production of farm produce and the old, lachrymose cry of 'back to the land' seems to be the only solution of the vexed labor problem.
How to get men back to the soil is a problem. Many of us lack the pioneer spirit of our forefathers who bled for themselves out of the unbroken wilderness, who were content with the simplest necessities of life. Others again who would at tempt to make the start. There are hundreds of men in this province who would like to get back to farms but have not the means to do so. A few million dollars spent on a del. Farms might aid in solving the problem.

Still Going.
Many men have deplored the movement from this country towards Canada. But it keeps right on, and is likely to do so, as long as Canada presents virgin soil and the new opportunities which come with a new country. For the week ending September 23, figures show that there entered Western Canada from the United States 465 farmers, 296 laborers, 95 mechanics, 53 clerks, 162 domestics and housekeepers, 19 minors and 190 people not specified. The people took with them $201,129 in cash, and household effects worth $36,710. Of this number 1,038 were Americans.
To compensate for this loss, there left Canada during the same week, to take up permanent residence in the United States, 55 Canadians, 38 Americans, 10 British, 2 French, 1 Australian, 1 Swede and 1 Finn. The movement, therefore, is at present very one sided.
The regret at the going of these people may perhaps be tempered by the knowledge that they are helping to form in the country to the north of us a large body of men and women who have many American connections and who consequently are pro-American in their sympathies. Western Canada was strongly in favor of the reciprocity measure with this country. Perhaps that was not steel dental. But even putting all these aside, having freely received from all the world, we should be glad to give of our good stock to help build up a neighboring country.—Gloucester Times.

For the Tired Woman.
When the business woman comes home from work tired and fagged, there is nothing so restful as a little massage on the forehead and eyes. It soothes and quiets the nerves and improves the appearance as nothing else could possibly do.
First wash the face with warm water; then rub a very little skin cream on the fingers—only a very little. Lay the tips of the fingers together in the centre of the forehead and draw them gently outward to the temples. Do this on the forehead and on the eyes. If one of those people feel tired in the lower part of the face do it on the mouth also beginning in the middle of the lips and working outward to the ears.
Rub very lightly and steady, keeping so for perhaps five minutes.
This process takes all that dragged and worn appearance from the face and makes one look many years younger than before it was tried.

Perfect Health Due to the Blood.
NO GIRL OR WOMAN NEED BE CON-STANTLY AILING AND UNHAPPY.
Nature intended every girl and every woman to be happy, attractive, active and healthy. Yet too many of them find their lives saddened by suffering—nearly always because their blood is to blame. All those unhappy girls and women with colorless cheeks, dull skins and sunken, lustre-less eyes, are in this condition because they have not enough good, red blood in their veins to keep them well and in the charm of health. They suffer from depressing weariness and periodical headaches. Dark lines form under their eyes, their heart palpitates violently after the slightest exertion, and they are often attacked with fainting spells. These are only a few of the miseries of bloodlessness.
Nothing can rescue girls and women from the inevitable decline that follows anaemia except a generous supply of new, rich red blood and nothing can create red, good blood as Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.
It is said, too, that besides exercising unused muscles this exercise frees and stimulates the large nerves of the lower portion of the spinal column, an 11th of course makes for health. This exercise may be repeated every day or every other day to advantage.

Editorial Notes.

In another place we print a letter from Mr. P. J. Lawson, of Berwick, who takes issue with THE ACADIAN on account of an editorial note last week with regard to the anti Scott Act campaign. We have not had the privilege of hearing all the speakers who have taken part in the meetings so far held. Possibly Mr. Lawson has been equally unfortunate, by gentlemen in whom we have the greatest possible confidence, and who are certainly not 'rammies,' that we have in no way misreported some of the speakers, at least. The tenor of Mr. Lawson's letter, moreover, would possibly lead one to suppose that to a very large degree he held similar opinion. Mr. Lawson, so we are informed, is the organizer of the anti Scott Act campaign. Possibly those who are seeking for information might regard him, from his position, as not an altogether unbiased authority, or an altogether safe authority to whom to address letters of equity.

What a wonderful transformation may be wrought with a few buckets of paint. There is nothing that will enhance the value of your place like paint on your house and barn. It will improve their appearance 500 per cent, then, just for the sake of economy in the long run, just for protection it gives to the lumber in your buildings, it would pay to paint them.

The Redistribution Bill.

The Redistribution Bill, which had been for months before a committee composed of members of both parties, was introduced in the closing hours of the session and passed through both houses without amendment. Under the new bill there are to be 234 representatives instead of 221 as at present. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick lose two seats each and Prince Edward Island one. Ontario loses four seats. Manitoba gains five, Saskatchewan six, Alberta five and British Columbia six. In a general way it may be stated that eleven seats now represented by Conservative members are merged with other ridings, while eight constituencies now represented by Liberals are similarly merged.

The Provinces in the next Parliament will be represented as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Province and Number of Representatives. Ontario: 82, Quebec: 65, Nova Scotia: 16, New Brunswick: 11, Prince Edward Island: 3, Manitoba: 15, Saskatchewan: 16, Alberta: 12, British Columbia: 13.

Changes in Nova Scotia constituencies are: Antigonish and Guysborough merged; Richmond and South Cape Breton united for electoral purposes, the constituency electing two members; the Eastern Townships of Digby County united to Annapolis and the Township of Clare, a municipality by itself, attached to the County of Yarmouth.

Progress of Building Operations at Acadia.

Friends of Acadia will be pleased to learn that splendid progress is being made on the new buildings. The walls of the Library building, constructed of beautiful stone, are rising rapidly. The foundation of the College Girls' Residence is completed. The excavation for the College Residence, which will take the place of Chipman Hall, is already made and the building will be rapidly pushed to completion. With three structures in process, the Hill is a centre of great activity and those supervising the work of construction are busy men. Mr. L. G. Spencer, of Glace Bay, N. S., recently presented the College with a set of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica. It is a timely gift and comes most opportunely to occupy a place on the shelves of the new Library.

Baby's Health During Hot Weather.

During the hot spell the health of baby must be carefully guarded. Diarrhoea, cholera infantum and dysentery carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. Baby's Own Tablets are especially adapted to keep the little ones well during the summer. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, and an occasional dose will prevent the dreaded summer complaints, or if they do come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will set baby right again. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Methodist Temple, Chicago, is to be the home of the International Sunday School Convention, which meets June 22 to June 28th. Mrs. M. L. Gregg, superintendent of the elementary division of the Sunday School Association, Mrs. J. W. Brown, principal superintendent of missions, Dr. Brown, and about fifty or twenty others, leave tomorrow morning to attend the convention. Dr. Brown and wife will also attend the conference which meets at Lake Geneva, Wis., about one hundred miles further west. The conference opens July 1st and closes July 15th. All those in attendance at the Convention are expected to attend this conference and a great time is anticipated.

Letters to the Editor.

Mr. Editor,--It seems to me that in view of the recent repeal of the sale or conveyance of the lands of the H. & S. W. Railway Co. to the International Lumber Company, Limited, that we, the PEOPLE OF NOVA SCOTIA, whose Government held for THE PEOPLE a mortgage on those lands as security for cash advanced to the H. & S. W. R., SHOULD KNOW the standing, in the business world, of that Company, financially and otherwise. Who are the men, and what are their names, who formed that Company? What amount of cash did they pay to the Government for the 150,000 acres of land covered by that mortgage? Who owns the lands today, and what did they pay for them? These are questions that will be asked by the Electors and should be answered before next election, so that the ones may be placed on the right shoulders.

Little want ads have made men rich. Some of the largest advertisers in Canada started with little notices in the classified columns. Today these same men use pages instead of a few lines. A Pleasant Surprise.

Rev. D. H. MacQuarrie and Mrs. MacQuarrie, of Cambridge, were given a pleasant surprise on returning from prayer meeting on Wednesday evening of last week. Being the anniversary of their marriage a large number of friends took possession of the home during their absence which was reinforced by others coming after the meeting. On arriving Mrs. MacQuarrie was presented with an appropriate bouquet; they were then conducted into the parlor to receive congratulations. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies after which Col. Beck with, on behalf of the visiting friends and others, presented Mr. and Mrs. MacQuarrie with a superior blue flame range and a number of useful attachments. Both Mr. and Mrs. MacQuarrie responded, expressing their high appreciation of the gift itself as well as of the kind thoughtfulness that prompted the remembrance.

PORTER—PRESTWOOD.
A pretty wedding took place in Southampton, N.S., on June 10th, when Miss Lillian Lewis, elder daughter of Rev. J. W. Prestwood, president of the N. S. Conference, and Frank Krite, only son of Rev. L. W. Porter, of Wolfville, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony.
The ceremony took place at high noon on the parsonage lawn, which had been decorated for the occasion, and was witnessed by about sixty guests. The bride, gowned in white paillette satin, with the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carrying a beautiful shower bouquet of white carnations, looked very charming as she appeared leaning on the arm of Mr. J. Opera House.

On Monday night, June 22nd, the fourth instalment of 'The Adventures of Kathlyn,' under the sub-title, 'The Royal Slave,' will hold the screen.
In this adventure Kathlyn after escaping from the burning gate weaves herself a dress of fibrous grass that matches closely the surrounding foliage, thus in a measure concealing her movements from her pursuers. She completes this garment none to soon when the caretaker which has been upon her trail rounds up at the base of the tree in which she has taken refuge. She drops her tattered and discolored temple garment Bruce, the American hunter, finds the garment and is encouraged to continue his search. Kathlyn is captured by traders who sell her in the slave market. Being disguised with her wild garb of woven grass, bearing her caste mark and heavily veiled she is purchased by Umballa, who has not recognized her. When he discovers who she is he places her in a dungeon where she discovers her father, Umballa, entering here, springs upon him and a battle royal takes place.

Good Fruit.

The most successful fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley have for years followed the practice of applying Murrate of Potash mixed with Basic Slag and Bone Meal, or other Phosphatic fertilizer, to their orchards, depending on a crop of clover to supply the necessary Nitrogen and Humus.
There is no doubt that the adoption of this ideal system is directly responsible to the remarkable color and quality of Nova Scotia apples, which features have gained for them so many awards and established their enviable reputation in the markets of Britain.
We can supply you with all high grade fertilizer materials, Potash, Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate, Basic Slag, etc., at lowest prices. You can mix these yourself at home and save 25 to 40 per cent. in fertilizer cost.

TORTURED WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Walk, Until "Fruit-a-lives" Completely Cured Him

CHATHAM, ONT., April 3rd, 1913.
"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and as a pensioner of the British Government, Pierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using "Fruit-a-lives". They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation. You can see at a glance the efficacy to publish this letter if it will be advantageous to "Fruit-a-lives".

Growing Old.

A little more tired at close of day,
A little less anxious to have our way,
A little less ready to scold and blame,
A little more care for a brother's name,
And so we are nearing the journey's end, Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold, A little more zest in the days of old,
A broader view and a saner mind,
And so, we are faring down the road,
That leads to the gates of a better day,
A little more love for the friends of youth.

A little more zeal for established truth, A little more charity in our views, A little less thirst for the daily news,
And so we are tending our tent away,
And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream, A little more rest for the things unseen, A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long loved and dead.

And so we are going where we all must go, To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years,
The book is closed and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead.

Thrice happy, if then some soul can say, 'I live because he has passed my way.'
R. J. Wells.

Love Better than Alms.

Turgeneff is one of his little parables tells of meeting on the way a beggar, who held out his greasy hands for alms. Turgeneff searched all his pockets, but had no money, no food, nothing whatever to give the man. He said to him, "I am sorry, brother, but I have nothing for thee." The beggar's face brightened, and he said, "That is enough. Thank you." To be called "brother" was better than any alms would have been. We may not give money to the mendicant on the street, but we may show him kindness, the spirit of brotherhood, and that will be worth more to him than the largest alms. It will glad his heart and cheer his soul, and bring to him a little of the warmth of the love of Christ.—J. R. Miller, in Gory of the Commonwealth.

Liquor Traffic Ended.

Since Feb. 15, 1913, absolute prohibition of the sale of alcohol to the natives of the Congo region has been enforced. There has been no violation of the prohibition laws made necessary on account of the large number of the natives of the Congo region. The liquor traffic was principally from Germany and Belgium. Other portions of the Dark Continent are ready to use of the same prohibition. In the British colonies of Southern Nigeria, the Gold Coast, and Sierra Leone the importation of spirits rose in the year 1912 from 1,000,000 gallons to 1,500,000 gallons. It is a

BUTTERMILK CHEESE

Dairy By-product Utilized at Agricultural College

In the Dairy Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Miss Bell Miller, in charge of the Home Dairy Work, made some experiments in the utilization of dairy by-products. Cheese was made from skim milk and buttermilk. The making of cheese from skim milk is comparatively simple, but the buttermilk requires a little more process, which is described as follows:

Heat the buttermilk to 80 degrees F., as rapidly as possible, stirring enough to ensure even heating. Leave it undisturbed for an hour.

Heat to 135 degrees rapidly, and with just enough stirring to ensure even heating. Cover it to retain the heat, and leave undisturbed for about an hour.

Without further stirring drain the curd by hanging it up in a cheese cloth bag, or by placing a piece of cheesecloth over a rack or strainer. As the portions of the curd next the cloth will drain more quickly, lift the cloth and secure more even and more rapid drainage.

As soon as the curd is properly drained it is salted and packed. The amount of salt to use will depend on the consumer. 1 ounce of salt to 5 pounds of cheese is recommended, but many prefer 1 ounce of salt to 3 pounds of cheese.

LAWN EDGER

Effective Tool for Trimming Turf Along Paths, etc.

To give a lawn that neatly kept appearance that is admirable, the edges of the turf along walks and flower beds must be trimmed cleanly. For this purpose a new edging tool has been patented. On the end of a long handle is a single sheet of metal with a straight flat section adapted to lie on top of the grass.

CUTS IN EITHER DIRECTION and a V-shaped cutting section bent back with sharp edges on both ends. By pressing this tool along the edge of the turf the overhanging grass is trimmed neatly and a smooth little trench is cut between the grass and the edge of the walk, or whatever the border is. This is a great improvement over the usual straggle borders that mar the appearance of otherwise attractive suburban places.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

A fond father vouches for this: "My little girl had much disturbed her father and mother by using the 'wax' 'devil'."

"My dear," said her mother, "that is a word we do not use in polite society and I never want to hear you say it again."

She noticed that her admission was carefully heeded. Then on Sunday evening, about two weeks later the mother inquired what the day's lesson had been about.

"Why, mother," was the answer, "it was about the temptation by the—by—by—the gentleman that keep bell."

To clean wall paper, take one heaping cupful of sifted flour, one tablespoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of kerosene, two tablespoonfuls of ammonia and one half cup of warm water. Mix in a small kettle. Boil until the flour is thoroughly scalded and the moisture is used up, stirring constantly. Now take it out and knead it with the hands, and it is ready for use. Rub the wall paper with balls of this rubbery substance as you would clean paper with an eraser.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mistress—Of course, I don't wish to put any obstacles in the way of your getting married, but I wish it were possible to postpone it until I get another maid.

Mary Ann—Well, mum, I arsk you think I know 'im well enough to arsk you to put it off.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without getting Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ill, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinatest women's ailments that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a remedy?

HOW TO DOCTOR WOUND ON HOOF

Cleanliness and Antiseptic Treatment as Necessary for a Horse as for a Man Nature often repairs wounds on the horse's hoof without help from man. All man can do is to assist nature; but often he hinders the reparative process, and sometimes his interference is positively harmful. This is so when he sears an injured hoof in an old, dirty tub and forgets to clean the water each time it is used. The foul soaking tub is a veritable abomination. It should be accounted a relic of barbarous days not to be used by modern man.

This advice refers especially to the treatment of a nail-puncture case. It may, however, be admissible in some cases to treat sores of the coronet, or separating coria, by soaking in a tub of antiseptic solution.

The average practice is an amputation, and positive damage in many cases. This certainly is not to be regarded the cow-dung policy. Germs teem and multiply in it, and these germs induce pus or possibly may cause tetanus (lockjaw). Any hot, moist poultice in which an antiseptic is not mixed will harbor and grow noxious germs. If a poultice of any sort is used, it should be made up with a solution of a good disinfectant or germ-killer.

The treatment of a nail-puncture case. When a nail has been found and removed, the horse's hoof is cleaned and allowed the opening to close. Germs may be retained, and in the event they may cause tetanus.

Then cut down upon the puncture with a sharp, sterilized hoof-knife, removing enough horn to expose the wound and allow blood, serum or pus to escape. When this has been done the wound should be well swabbed with a 1:100 solution of corrosive sublimate and at once covered with a mixture of one part of iodol form and nine parts of clean gummy sack, held in place by a strap around the pastern.

If there is objection to the strapping of the iodol form mixture, substitute one part of boric acid as a dry dressing powder. Renew the dressing daily. Complete recovery, if a fungus-like growth comes down through the wound in the sole, add a quantity of powdered alum to the dressing powder, and cover the dressing with a pad of oakum to cause pressure.

If the nail (or nails) have like liquid vaseline from the wound the syringe, bursa has been opened by the nail. Such a serious case should attract the immediate attention of a skilled veterinarian.—Farm and Fireside.

MISS COBALT'S RICHES

Old French Voyageurs Knew of One Mine 150 Years Ago

That the old French voyageurs and missionaries knew of the existence of at least one mine old maps show beyond dispute. If they had extended their researches for minerals beyond the waterways and had happened upon the silver mines at Cobalt, what a difference it would have made to the probable destiny of the Dominion!

The discovery of Cobalt a century and a half ago was quite within the realm of possibility, says The Cobalt Nugget. There was an old Indian trail within a few feet of Long, now Cobalt, Lake, and where the Indian voyager could and did follow him. There would have been no difficulty in raising the ore it was rich on the surface and could easily have been mined and taken down in boats to Quebec. Thus would the world have been astounded with the glimmer of a silver lode in the heart of Canada.

The French king would have taken more pains to conserve the country which his predecessor had valued as so many signs of snow and the destiny of the Dominion might have fallen along quite other lines.

MONEY IN WOODLOTS

Scientific Principles to be Followed to Secure Best Results

There is no part of the farm which will give bigger returns for so little expenditure of time and labor as the woodlot, says Mr. B. H. Morton, expert forester for the Dominion Government, and there are three ways in which the farmer, by the exercise of ordinary common sense, can vastly improve the composition, production and reproduction of his woodlot.

The first thing necessary is to improve the character of the crop, which can be done by cutting down and using firewood, charcoal, stumps and other material for farm structures. Write for this beautifully illustrated free book "What the Farmer can do with Woodlots." It shows how to build Hog Houses, Feeding Floors and many other things the farmer needs.

PROBLEMS OF THE LARGE EMPLOYER

In the small factory, frequently managed by a resident owner, the connection of a system of direct contact between employer and worker has generally operated to maintain and perpetuate harmonious relations. The problem before the large corporation-owned plant is to provide that ready touch which, by emphasizing the sense of community of interests, establishes a sense of unity and fellowship. It can be done only by making this sense of unity and interest a reality, and not merely the occasion for pleasant speech-making. It cannot be done by reducing wages; it may be done by dividing profits. Success depends principally on an unflinching insight into the needs and problems of the body of employees, and the right one may be obtained by sharing the problems of management with the men. The degree to which employees are prepared to go in this direction is a sound indication of their earnestness in desiring the removal of the prevailing mood of discontent.—Engineering Magazine.

In a country rich as Canada, with its manifold undertakings and occupations, it should not be difficult to bring the jobless men and the needless job together. To dump large contingents of immigrants to a city and offer them an easier farm work as an occupation is about as crude a method of dodging responsibilities as it is possible to imagine.

What a case even the most patient woman used in the night of her next door neighbor sitting on the front porch sewing while she is obliged to white away the hour in the kitchen.
