97th O. S. Battalion

Now Splendid Unit Resulting From Amalgamation of Original 97th, 212th, and 237th Battalions— Impressively Address by Col. W. E. Thompson, Camp Commandant —List of Officers

Aldershot Camp, N.S., Sept. 16—The findings of the commission, consisting of Major-General Lessard, Inspector General, Major General Gwatkin, Chief of the General Staff Staff and Colonel Thompson, Commandant, which was appointed by Ottawa to amalgamate the 97, 212th and 237th Battalions and officers for the reorganized 97th Battalion and which recently sat at Aldershot, have been confirmed.

On Tuesday afternoon, the 12th inst., Colonel Thompson announced these findings to the officers of the three Battalions and afterwards addressed the men who were drawn up on their parade ground in three sides of a square.

Colonel Thompson impressed upon both officers and men the difficulties the choice of officers presented and urged all ranks to accept the result as soldiers and men and to heartily cooperate to make the reorganized Battalion the equal of any Battalion yet sent overseas.

Officers

The Commanding Officer is Lt.-Col. W. L. Jolly, who commanded the original 97th, the second in command is Major B. C. Pittman, late of the 212th and the Adjutant, Capt. George E. Logan, late of the 237th.

The other officers are as follows: Quartermaster, Capt. H. J. Pepper, late of 212th Bn.; Medical Officer, Capt. R. S. Hutchison, 97th Bn.; Paymaster, Capt. J. L. Melanson, late of 237th Bn.; Chaplain, Capt. R. K. Lambert, 97th Bn.

KITCHENER MONUMENT

It has been decided to erect a prominent monument to the late Lord Kitchener on Marwick Head, in the Isle of Birsay, Orkney, near the sunken reef where the H.M.S. Hampshire went down. The elevation of the headland will render the erection visible a long distance off, both by land and sea. As the object of marking the spot near which a famous public servant his days is of a national character, it is felt that the appeal for funds should extend beyond the bounds of the Orkney Islands.

During the absence of Lieut. Colonel T. D. Walker, Capt. H. F. Killam will assume command of the Field Hospital.

Major F. I. Tanner, 193rd Battalion, during the absence on duty of Major H. H. Bligh, assumes temporarily the duties of D.A.A.G.

Cheers

Upon the conclusion of the Camp Commandant's address, Lt.-Col. Bullock, late Officer Commanding the 237th Battalion stepped forward and called for three cheers for the new Commanding Officer, Lieut. Col. Jolly, which were given with a will in true soldier style. Lieut. Col. Jolly then called for three cheers for Lt.-Col. Bullock and Lt.-Col. Bates, the latter being late in command of the 212th, to which all ranks heartily responded.

There are of course some disappointments but the feeling in the lines of the reorganized Battalion appears to be general that the results of the labors of the Commission are most satisfactory.

It is expected that this Battalion will be sent Overseas at an early date.

HANTSPOUT WELCOMES SOLDIERS

Soldier Lads Had Excursion to Beach—Enjoyed Themselves—Citizens Hospitable

Anyone who was near the station last Sunday afternoon at 1.30 when the excursion train of eleven cars pulled out for Hantsport could not help but believe that the excursion would be a success.

For five minutes after the arrival of the train in Hantsport the main street was crowded, but it soon became deserted as the boys found their way to the beach and orchards where the citizens invited them to help themselves. Some went for car rides and others stretched themselves out on lawns where cake and coffee was kindly served to them.

The two hotels had made preparations to accommodate large crowds and they were over-run. Nevertheless no one left Hantsport hungry. The doors of everyone in the town were thrown wide open to the soldiers and not a few were heard to remark "There were six for tea at the house I was at" others, "There was a whole Battalion at the house at which we had tea."

As the train left the station at eight o'clock the cheers that went up from the citizens made the soldier boys feel that not only they themselves had enjoyed the trip but that the people of Hantsport had enjoyed having them.

UNITED STATES VISITORS AT CAMP

Dr. Finney, Distinguished Physician of Baltimore and Friends Guests of Major Miller of 85th Batt.

Major Miller, officer commanding "C" Co., 85th Battalion, was visited this week by Dr. and Mrs. J. M. T. Finney and their two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and family, Mrs. Smith and daughter and Mr. Seeley—all of Baltimore, Maryland.

The party motored from Chester, N.S., where they have been spending the summer and on their way through the Valley, knowing Major Miller, decided to pay him a visit.

Dr. Finney is one of the most distinguished physicians in the United States and is connected with Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. In the Spanish American war Dr. Finney was a Brigade Medical officer and was to be in command of the Johns Hopkins Hospital unit that was being raised to assist the Allies' medical staff in Europe but he decided to have the commission cancelled on account of the trouble between the United States and Mexico.

The visitors were very much pleased with the conditions of Aldershot Camp. They were particularly interested in the exhibitions of physical training, and found in the music of the 85th Pipers' Band a striking novelty in martial music. The ladies took snap shots of various objects of interests and of the Battalion officers' horses.

VISITING PINE CABIN

Son of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Hayes Visiting Parents

Lieut. J. B. Hayes of No. 2 Overseas Construction Corps is in Aldershot on furlough, the guest of his parents, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Hayes at Pine Cabin. Allison University, B.Sc. of Dalhousie and a Graduate in Engineering of the Nova Scotia Technical College.

Lieut. Hayes has had several tempting offers for his services but turned them down to don the khaki. He joined the 14th Field Artillery as a private and has been in Petawawa all summer. Lieut.-Col. Sutherland, O.C., No. 2 Overseas Construction Corps offered him a commission in his unit which he recently accepted.

Motoring is two things—a pleasure and a business. One might say it was used sixty per cent. for entertainment and forty per cent. for commercial purposes. Yet no matter whether you use your car to get orders or cones, your greatest economy will be the reduced cost of mishaps.

No accident ever befel an automobile but what the tires were forced to play a part in it. And no accident ever was averted but what the tires had a say in that, too.

If you will—leave fast, if you will make those sudden stops, if the city will water splash, if you will make muddy roads:

Why then—the possibility of skidding will always be with you, unless you figure on those elements of danger when you buy your tires. When you think of how to avert danger in motoring you immediately think of

BISHOP AND BLINDED SOLDIER
(From the Westminster Gazette)
Addressing a large congregation at Willingdon Parish Church, near Eastbourne, yesterday, the Bishop of Birmingham said: "I remember having to tell a young fellow that after all the care and attention that had been given him he would never see again upon this earth, and told him as gently as a man can be told such a thing as that, and then I watched him. A few big tears rolled down his face. Then for a few minutes he held my hand, and was quite calm, and then he looked his grip upon me, and stretching over to his locker by the side of his bed, he took out his mouth-organ. That had been his companion away over there, and he just played a certain number of his old Scotch tunes on that mouth-organ. That man I have seen a dozen times since. He is now at St. Dunstan's Hostel, where he is likely to prove a capable man in many respects. Not one word of complaint has that man uttered.

"QUIT YOU LIKE MEN"

That, "In the Day of Armageddon, in the Last Great Fight of All, Our House Shall STAND TOGETHER, and THE PILLARS SHALL NOT FALL"—There are Blazing Lessons and Warnings, Writ in Blood Across the Sky.—"Quit You Like Men" TODAY—The Nova Scotia Highland Brigade NEEDS MEN, and Your DUTY is Very Plain.

By Staff Q. M. Sergeant E. E. Kelley, 193rd Battalion (From N. S. Highlander.)

"Over in the country I came from, and in the Brigade to which I belong, we don't hit a man when there are ladies present—and I don't want to spoil the pattern of this carpet, but if you'll come outside for a minute, I'll invite you to pass that remark over again. If you do, I'm going to punch your head. If you don't—I'm going to call you a liar and a coward. Take your choice."

The party addressed was a civilian, of about twenty-five years of age. He had questioned the courage of certain colored men that day enlisted with the No. 2 Construction Battalion, C. E. F. The man who addressed him was a member of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade. The scene was a New Brunswick hotel. The party addressed didn't see fit to repeat his statement—and the lie was passed. Also he was called a coward, who was not fit to buckle equipment on men he had slandered. It was all very humiliating; but he had his lesson.

THE VITAL NEED FOR MEN TO FILL THE RANKS OF OUR ARMIES, ONE CANNOT IGNORE THE CERTAINTY THAT OUR REQUIREMENTS IN THIS RESPECT WILL BE LARGE, CONTINUOUS, AND PERSISTENT; FOR ONE FEELS THAT OUR GALLANT SOLDIERS IN THE FIGHTING LINE ARE BECKONING WITH AN URGENCY AT ONCE IMPERIOUS AND PATHETIC TO THOSE WHO REMAIN AT HOME TO COME OUT AND PLAY THEIR PART TOO."

Question: What is pure paint? Answer: 70% pure white lead and 30% pure white zinc equals 100% pure paint. Includes illustration of a man's face.

Why? Because white lead and white zinc, mixed in these proportions, produce a paint that resists the elements better than that made by any other formula. Scientific tests and practical experience extending over many years absolutely prove this to be so, and that is why B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT is made by this formula. It is pure paint in the truest sense of the word.

KENTVILLE, SEPT. 19, 1916.

Hon. George P. Graham of Ontario claims the Federal elections will take place within a year. This means the Liberals will not agree to a further extension of time.

The beautiful weather of the past week has caused the attendance at the Provincial Exhibition to be in excess of that of last year. Generally the reports from the Fair is that it is a good one.

The favorite estimate here, as to the probable duration of the war, is nine months," cables the London financial correspondent of the New York Evening Post. And one guess is good as another in this war.

The apple crop of the Valley is now being gathered and the fruit this year is generally good. About 600,000 barrels will probably be the limit to be placed on the foreign and local markets. Prices are ranging high even with the excessive freight rates.

Business men in Kentville have no reason to complain of limited trade and low prices. Everyone is busy here, and good times is the keynote. It is hard to estimate the value to the town in increased business from Camp at Alder-shot.

PROHIBITION IN ONTARIO

At seven o'clock Friday evening the Ontario Temperance Act, past unanimously at the last session of the Provincial Legislature, became law and therefore it will be illegal for hotels, stores, or Clubs, hitherto licensed, to sell intoxicating liquor, or to have it on the premises anywhere in the Province

WONDERFUL VICTORY FOR LIBERALS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Provincial elections in British Columbia last week resulted in almost a clean sweep for the Liberal candidates only six Conservatives out of 47 being safely elected. The soldiers vote will make some changes but the Bowser Government is completely routed all but one of the ministers being defeated.

This is the reversal of the result of the last Provincial election when the whole list of Liberal candidates were defeated. The majority given McBride proved the undoing and downfall of the party which he left a short time ago and is now in Great Britain.

The result in this election was accomplished by Conservative voters who led by Sir Hibbert Tupper joined with the Liberals in defeating the Government.

In Nova Scotia, Liberals vote to retain in office worse men than the Conservatives vote out of office from their own party as has been done in Manitoba and British Columbia. It was not a real Liberal victory but a decision of the Conservatives to support none of their own party who were conducting public works not in the best interests of the people.

Episcopal Board Would Omit "Obey"

The commission of seven bishops seven pastors and seven laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States appointed to revise the ritual of the church, has determined to eliminate the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony. The commission will report to the general convention of the church at St. Louis, October 11. The tenth commandment will be shortened to "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's" if the commission's report is adopted.

RED CROSS CONCERT

A band concert and open air Tea Sale in the interest of Red Cross work was held on the grounds of Mrs. W. P. Eaton, Grand Pre, Saturday afternoon and evening which in spite of decidedly threatening weather was successfully and agreeably carried out.

In the morning the work of erecting booths and decorating under the skillful management of Miss Patterson went bravely on notwithstanding it might rain, any moment, although no actual rain occurred the outlook no doubt prevented many from attending.

Quantities of dainties for sale came from all the good folks of this district and in due course the ladies en masse were on hand all were young or looked it and work putting things in order went on apace.

The 193rd Regimental Band came down on the Bluenose which train the D. A. R. management kindly arranged to stop at Grand Pre and promptly at three o'clock the concert was on.

The splendid music was the real treat of the event—good things to eat are had every day but a program by a military band in this district is a rare occurrence.

A slight resentment was apparent at having to come here but refreshments brought by such charming young ladies caused an unconditional surrender and at train time the bandmen did not want to leave so arrangements were made for teams to convey them back to Camp later.

The band arranged itself on the spacious veranda and music

Use Canadian Soldiers For Cutting Forests

Axemen From Dominion Contingent to Make Clean Sweep of Scottish Timber

Glasgow, Sept 15—Thousands of acres of timber will fall to the woodman's axe during the next few months. It is a century and a half since the larger proprietors of the North of Scotland began planting, and Gordon, Pife, Cawdor, Moray, and Lovat all carried on afforestation. This practice continued till about fifty years ago. So that some thousands of acres north of the Grampians are ready for cutting. The Government have selected a large area of timber on the Darnaway and Cawdor estates, and formed a body of Canadians to carry out the work. These men have been selected from the various divisions of the Canadian contingent for their knowledge and experience in timber-cutting and saw-milling. A camp for three hundred men has been set up at Broadshaw, on the southern edge of the Cawdor estate, where it runs with Darnaway, and these men are to clear the timber to Culloden, a distance of between fifteen and twenty miles.

Saw Mill Running

At present only a small saw-mill is running, driven by a large traction engine removed from its wheels. The timber cut is all being used to prepare the camp, and a large Canadian mill outfit is being built. When this is completed the trees will be dragged in whole and passed along from bench to bench as they are cut up. In felling the trees are nicked with the axe on the side to which they are to fall, and then they are cut close to the ground with a saw. The men show smart axeword in clearing and cutting up the branches. As the ground is soft logs are being drawn to the mill on sledges and a strong steam winch on a sledge is used for the same purpose. The winch drags itself into position, and, being fixed there, hauls the timber forward to a position where it can be taken to the mill.

The wood being cut is sixty-five years old, and compares well with Canadian timber. The men say that it is similar in growth to what is being cut in Eastern Canada, but is of harder fibre.

The men work in two shifts one from five in the morning to two in the afternoon, with an hour off from nine to ten; the next shift goes on at 2, and works till 11, with an hour off from 6 to 7. The men handling the cut timber, where splinters may injure the hands, wear gloves to protect them.

Other camps of Canadians are at work in Rosshire. The north of Scotland is to be swept of its timber, and in the near future there must be a great scarcity. Among the subjects to be considered after the war will be that of afforestation.

Recruits From Hudson's Bay

Indians Travel Three Weeks and 200 Miles in Canoes to Join Colors

Ottawa, Sept. 15—From the remote regions of Hudson's Bay, Mr. C. M. McCarthy, of Elk Lake, has just returned from a recruiting expedition and brings with him 50 Indians who are to join the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

With four Indian guides, who spoke three native languages, and a doctor to conduct medical examinations, Mr. McCarthy took about six weeks to do the journey of many hundred miles to the Hudson's Bay region.

Two hundred miles were done in canoes. He found the tribes highly developed. They dress very well and farm with success. The squaws, too, wear white shirt waists and other adornments which might be seen on the streets of a city.

Mr. McCarthy had no difficulty in getting his fifty recruits and describes them as being of the finest type. Physically, they are fine specimens, tall, strong and intelligent. They will make good at the front because their training fits them to become splendid soldiers. The Indians' families have been brought to North Bay and one or two other places where they will receive Patriotic Fund and separation allowances.

Mr. Albert Parsons, M. P. P., was a visitor to the 193rd lines on Tuesday. Mr. Parsons who has a son in the overseas forces, takes a keen interest in military work, and expressed himself as deeply impressed with Aldershot Camp, and with the Highland Brigade units generally.

Lt. Colonel Stanfield reported back from sick leave on Saturday, and is almost fully recovered from his operation. In the absence of Col. Stanfield, who is acting-Brigadier, Major Langford is in command of the Battalion.

Lieut. H. D. Cunningham has returned from Rockcliffe, Ont., where he recently completed the musketry course.

FAMILY ESCAPED BOMB

Miraculous Escape of Wife and Children of 85th N. C. O. From Zeppelin Bomb

Aldershot Camp, Sept. 16.—That the recent Zeppelin raid in England was really death dealing was signalized in a letter received from the wife of Sergeant George W. Horne, 85th O. S. Battalion, C. E. F., Aldershot, in which she tells the details of her own narrow escape from death by a bomb dropped from a Zeppelin on the morning of August 25. Mrs. Horne resides at Well Hall, Eltham, Kent, about seven miles from London. The following is her story verbatim:

"I had a very close call," she writes her husband, "in the Zeppelin raid in the early hours of Friday, Aug. 25. Violet was all safe. She was in a corner. I have a piece of a bomb that came through my bedroom window, penetrated my cupboard, broke three of my glasses, made a large hole in my gloves and some ribbon, broke Violet's beads and shattered the window glass and mortar.

"I was just out of it, trying to put something on when the crash came. I was smothered. The crash shook the mantel from the burner, and left me in the dark. Then I grabbed the children and managed to get down stairs. I have been all day taking splinters of glass out of the baby's hair.

"The bomb dropped three doors away from our house. You ought to see the back of the houses. Not a window or a door is left."

GERMAN WAYS OF GETTING SUPPLIES

Driven By Necessity To Transporting Table Supplies in Correspondence Carrier

Paris, Sept. 16.—The diplomatic mail-pouch is proving very handy, according to the French papers, as a means of transporting food to some of the diplomatists in Germany who are experiencing the effect of the country's shortage of rations.

The Paris Midi says: "In fact the diplomatists residing at Berlin are bringing in food from all nearby countries and even from England and America. One rich foreigner attached to a diplomatic mission gets all his groceries from an establishment at London, and the consul-generals receive their food supplies twice per week through their consul-general at Stockholm.

There was a time when the diplomatic washing was sent to London for laundering, but war conditions have made that impossible.

OFFICERS OF BRIGADE STAFF IMPROVED

Changes to Expedite the Work—Regulations Regarding Proper Entrances

Very convenient practical changes have been made, under the direction of Major E. K. Eaton, Brigade Major, in the arrangement of the Brigade Headquarters Office and other tents in connection with the office.

The two Office Marquees, the Staff Officers Marquee and the Clerks Marquee, have been moved together and now present a "double parlor" effect. This arrangement makes it much more convenient for all concerned.

It should be noted that the entrance for all orderlies, etc., is the West opening next to the 193rd Battalion lines, where all orderlies with letters or other matter will at all times enter. On no occasion may anybody but Officers enter Brigade Headquarters except through this entrance. The railing between Headquarters Marquee and the Clerks' tents is the place where Officers horses must be aligned by Officers servants.

Officers will find Major Eaton and Lieut. Holland through the South entrance directly in rear of the Brigadier's Office tent.

National Spirit Of Canada In Crucible

Incisive Homily by Captain MacKinnon on Inner Cause of Greatness

At the parade service on Sunday Capt. Chaplain MacKinnon delivered a most telling message to soldiers from the text John 6:63. "It is the spirit that quickeneth." Capt. MacKinnon said in part: "It is thought that gives value to anything. A lump of iron in the hands of an unskilled worker would remain unchanged; but in the hands of one who knew how to blow the bellows and swing the hammer it would be converted into some useful instrument of tenfold more worth. Touched by some inventive genius, a delicate mechanism arises from it worth hundreds of dollars. The increased value lies not in the raw material but in the THOUGHT that has been put into it.

The heart renders a similar service. Goldschmidt said of Jenny Lind: "If I could but marry that woman and break her heart, then she would sing." He married her, he broke her heart, and from the desolation of her woman's hopes and dreams she sang those songs of pathos and sympathy that moved the world.

So is with a nation. "It is the spirit that quickeneth." The Lieutenant at Boulogne who took the end of the stretcher in his own hands from the Red Cross train, his muscles knotted like lumps of steel in his back and arms and laid the wounded man on the platform with the gentleness of a woman, typified the spirit of Britain, resolute and strenuous in its might, but gentle and chivalrous in its conduct, bombing no women and children, sinking no unarmed passenger and steamers, playing the game like a man according to the rules of the game and devoted to ends as unselfish as they are great.

Such a spirit is not the product of a moment, it is the growth of centuries. Young Cornwall standing alone on the battered deck of the battleship in the North Sea fight, his gun incapable of action, its crew wounded and dead about him, but himself refusing to move, until some order reached him, although mortally injured, is a brilliant illustration of the incomparable spirit of the British navy. To the making of it has gone every brave seaman's life, even to the little fisher lad that grasps the tiller and turns the prow of his little skiff to where the wind whitens the surface of the sea.

The national spirit of Canada is in the crucible. What it shall be depends upon what her soldiers make it. Nor does this responsibility rest alone upon the man who stands his dangerous watch in the trenches at the front. Every one who tries to do his best, even if it is only "left foot sideways place" is helping to make Canada great.

But the task of the war, strenuous though it be, is only one moment in man's eternal work. Victory will come. The sword shall be hung in an honored place. New cities and new interests will absorb the thought of coming generations. The sun shall fade. The great curtain of this material universe shall drop upon the scene of its heroism and tragedy. But man shall live. He is linked to the creator and not to the perishing creation—Leave NOW to dogs and apes, Man has FOREVER.

LORD KITCHENER'S "LIFE"

(From The Morning Chronicle)

Sir Geo. Arthur, the biographer of Lord Kitchener, states that the work, which will be published by Messrs Macmillan and Co., in two volumes, will not, for obvious reasons, appear until after the end of the war. Lord Kitchener left comparatively few letters, and the record of his life and achievements will be largely written from notes and memoranda, the preliminary collation and arrangements of which will alone occupy a considerable time.

Speaking of the wonderful attraction of Lord Kitchener's personality and of the almost mysterious power exercised by his name the world over, Sir George Arthur said: "In Russia I am told, his death is spoken of as the 'Assumption.' His spirit, freed from the cares and burdens of the flesh, is regarded as continuing its earthly work of preparing the way for a victorious peace. In Japan parents used to bring their children to look at him. He had visited almost every part of the globe. In Europe the only countries he had not been to were Russia and Spain."

During the past forty-five years, Sir George Arthur thought, Lord Kitchener had not taken more than two or three months' holiday, and then perhaps they were not holidays free from interruption. Lord Kitchener had not, Sir George concluded, left any material specially intended for the purpose of his biography, but had he lived Sir George believed it was his intention to piece an autobiography together.

MR. SPOONER

How He Gained Undying Fame.

Some persons lend their names to posterity on account of their great or brave actions and others impose their names on an indulgent people on account of their deficiencies. We have a word in the English language which was coined to describe in which a certain Mr. Spooner frequently indulged.

The error consists in transposing the first letters or syllables of two words. To illustrate—Mr. Spooner once invited a friend to call at his home to see a nosey cook, meaning a coxey nook. A minister once tried to say "like the feelings occasioned within you by a half formed wish," but said "a half warmed fish." A very bashful young man was asked to usher at a certain church one evening. He met a gentleman at the door and said "Do you occupew a pie?" The gentleman replied, "No." "Then," said the usher, "Can I sew you to a sheet?"

A Spoonerism may be the answer to a conundrum where difference between things is implied; as, "What is the difference between a bald-headed man and a speculator in mining stock? One is a shining mark and the other a mining shark."

THE BRITISH SOLDIER

(From the London Chronicle)

A distinguished French journalist has been attempting to depict and analyse the British soldier for the information of his countrymen, and we may be permitted to recognize the result as just without being suspected of undue vanity. When the Frenchman tells us that they are young with the youth of a vigorous nation hardly yet conscious of its splendid confidence in themselves and buoyancy bubbling over in all kinds of extra service to their French hosts, their tunefulness and recklessness of the chances of war proclaim the assured role of their race in the world history with more authority than the psychological theories of the most Teutonic professors could assume. Khaki has an uplifting

It having been suggested that a special badge should be issued for length of service in the trenches, as is done in the French Army, Mr. Forster says that the matter has been considered, but it has not found favor.

CLUB ORGANIZED

The Kentville Tennis Club has been organized with the following officers in charge: President, George E. Graham; Vice President, Hugh J. Simpson; Secretary, Treasurer, A. A. Thompson.

A committee consisting of Hugh J. Simpson, Herbert Oyler, H. L. Cole, A. E. H. Chesley together with the Executive, has been appointed to consider a number of sites for the new Club's location.

By-law and Constitution Committee consisting of Mrs. Barclay Webster, Miss Fannie Moore, Mrs. A. A. Thompson, Mr. R. U. Parker, Mr. C. Y. Florian has already been appointed.

The above named committee will report in detail at a meeting to be held at Mrs. Barclay Webster's, on the evening of September 18th, at 8 o'clock sharp, and at which it is hoped all persons interested in the establishment of a tennis, or sports, club in Kentville, will be present.

In addition to tennis, it is the intention to arrange for clock golf, quoits, lawn bowling, etc., in order that the wishes of all, in respect to healthful recreation, can be provided for.

It is especially desired that the young people of the town evince an interest in the new organization.

It will not, of course, be possible to get the property into suitable condition for playing on this season, but the work necessary will be advanced to such a state this fall; that no delay will be experienced in starting playing operations early in the spring.

This is a matter worthy of the hearty support of all classes of citizens. Regular and systematic exercise is a real necessity for the maintenance of good health.

The conduct of the Club will be along broad and commonsense lines, and without undue stress upon social distinction.

St. Joseph, Lewis, July 14, 1903 Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.

Gentlemen,—I was badly kicked by my horse last May, and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was black as jet. I was laid up in bed for a fortnight and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINIMENT I was perfectly cured, so that I could start on the road.

Notice to Subscribers in Arrears

Claims for unpaid accounts are pressing us and it is necessary to raise a large sum of money at once. To pay our accounts promptly and save legal expenses, we must collect all our outstanding subscription and printing accounts.

All subscription accounts over two years in arrears will be handed over immediately to a magistrate for collection at the rate of $1.50 per year and his costs. As several bills have been sent cut and no notice taken of them by many who are in arrears we cannot add further postage to those accounts.

To save the magistrates' letter and added cost remittances due for over two years should be mailed us this week, or a letter or card forwarded to us stating that some further time is required and when account can be paid in full.
