Gained 30 Lbs. in Few Weeks Never Felt So Well

Was Pale, Weak and Thin, and Had Nervous Headaches Before Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is truly wonderful what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does for women who are weak, weary and run down in health. Nervous, rich blood is what is needed in nearly all such cases, and because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new blood, it brings a cure - not mere relief, but actual cure - in the great majority of such ailments.

With an abundance of rich, red MRS. H. LAICIE, blood coursing through the veins the nerves are strengthened and vigor and vitality are carried to every organ of the human body.

With the nerves properly nourished, headaches and neuritic pains disappear, appetite improves, digestion is good, you sleep and rest well, and gain in strength and weight.

Mrs. H. Laicie, Cannington Manor, Sask., writes: "You will remember me writing you last spring. Well, I gave up my doctor and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment cured me rapidly and I was soon myself again. I was pale, thin and weak, suffered from stomach troubles and liver complaint, and frequently had sick, nervous headaches. "I was surprised to find that in a few weeks' time I had gained 30 pounds in weight. I never felt so strong and well in all my life. Headaches never bother me any more, and I am grateful for the cure. If people would only give this medicine a fair trial they would certainly be cured." Everywhere people are talking about this great food cure, which cures in Nature's way, by supplying the ingredients to form new blood, and so overcome weakness and disease by an abundance of vitality. Canada Wants 35,000 More Men for Firing Line.

Thirty five thousand more men are wanted to go from Canada to the firing line in France as quickly as they can be trained and equipped. This new force is to be composed of twenty-seven regiments of infantry and six batteries of artillery. With its organization the number of men raised in Canada for war service will total nearly 150,000.

The new regiments are to be recruited as follows: Four Highland regiments, one from Vancouver, Victoria and Winnipeg, a second from Ontario, and two from the Province of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Two regiments from Alberta, two from British Columbia, two from Saskatchewan, one from Winnipeg, two from the London division, four from the Toronto division, two from Eastern Ontario (the district between Kingston and Ottawa), four French Canadian regiments from Montreal and the Province of Quebec, including the 57th and 68th battalions, for which recruiting commenced a short time ago, two regiments from the Maritime Provinces.

The six new batteries of artillery, according to the announcement, will be organized as follows: One from Eastern Ontario and Quebec, one from the London district, two in the Toronto and Hamilton district, one from the Maritime Provinces and one from Western Canada.

General Hughes stated that the Militia Department is giving opportunity to officers desirous of attaching themselves to these corps to send in applications for a course to further their training, and that those who are in a position to state that they have been overlooked in the meanwhile temporary commissions in the Canada militia will be granted to eligible men not already attached.

The corps will be sent overseas, the Minister stated emphatically, as they become efficient, and not in order of number.

The Tongue Slays More Than the Sword.

All natured, caustic remarks, or kind words - oh, they were more rare than stinging expressions - oh, that lovely wings would bear them away from our midst!

Would that such cruel, cynical, discouraging language which often hurts more than a blow - would that such words were cast out from us, as the legion of devils that then ponced upon the unfortunate herd of swine, and rushed pigs and shoats down a steep place into the sea!

We whisper and hint and chuckle and grin at a brother's shame, and particularly a sister's. We care not to be kind to each other here for the space of an hour.

Oh, if you and I and the rest of us but knew the value of our kind interpretations, of our cheering smiles, of our gentle, soothing words! What a grand old world of ours this would be, if there were more kind words in it!

I believe that many a saint in heaven has been safely landed beyond the gates of pearl and gold by a kind, helpful word.

Just as in 'Salvation Nell,' the poor dregged, drudge of the slum is saved from becoming a butterfly and revelling in the grossness of a life of shame, because 'Hallelujah Maggie' speaks kind words to her.

Many a soul that is lost in the forest of crime, behind whom the woods have closed up and hidden away his in the impenetrable shadows - a soul that peers ahead, only to find their darkness which can be felt - many such souls would be shining lights of good example in this world, splendid titles built upon hills for all to see, and would be hallowed saints in the land beyond the grave, had you or I or somebody else said a kind word at the proper time, and left a cruel word unspoken.

The poet well calls us 'long necked geese of the world that are ever hissing disparage,' because our natures are little. And 'poisonous flies' that cloud about a man's head, and whether he heed or not, attempt to impede his progress, mental or moral.

At this moment, somewhere in the world, a frail human heart is drifting, lone and friendless, through dark, wild waves of temptation. The little bird is perilously close to the rock. Corrupt hands are lighting false beacon.

A kind word would say to that straggler of trial and temptation, 'Peace be still!' And the angry, sulter deep would wash its voice and a great calm come, and the little craft steer safely to shore.

But the word is never said. And there is another wreck, a wreck for time and eternity.

How great a matter a little fire kindleth! A tiny match can burn down a City like Troy. And the Apostle calls our tongue a fire - a fire lighted of hell-fire that brings ruin

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA Vegetable Foods and Their Value.

That many of the ills that flesh is heir to arise from indiscretions in diet is a fact that more of us should realize - and the earlier in life the better. Many of us eat too much. As a result we get too stout as life advances and what is still more serious - an extraordinary strain is put on certain of the organs of the system in nature's efforts to get rid of the waste. Farther, we who live more or less sedentary lives, eat too much meat; the man who sits at a desk all day long or stands behind a counter may work as hard as the ploughman, but it is a different kind of work. It does not call for the same amount of strong food.

There is no necessity to diet ourselves by formula or to weigh out what we should eat, but we ought to be guided to a certain extent in our eating by common sense and the knowledge which science furnishes respecting the requirements of the body for the maintenance of the vital heat, the development of energy and the repair of tissue.

Fresh vegetables are wholesome, palatable and productive of good health. Though in direct food value vegetables yield a first place to meats, it must not be supposed they are destitute of those nutrients which build up the body tissue and keep the machinery going. It would be possible, though not desirable to live exclusively on vegetable foods. But vegetables, and especially fresh vegetables, possess a medicinal value; they are aids to digestion and afford that bulk of volume to the food necessary for the right distension of the alimentary tract.

Many vegetables contain salts which are generally laxative relieving constipation. And again, many vegetables, especially those used in salads, have a special value in cooling the blood and therefore are most wholesome in the summer.

OH, SUCH A HEADACHE! Nearly everyone has experienced the headache that comes from indigestion. Theorized that it is caused by the action of the stomach on the blood. Chamberlain's Tablets is a stomach and liver tablet. All druggists, etc., or by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Co., Toronto.

Generosity.

We cannot of course all be wealthy. Would be worse for us all if we could. We'd be sure to use and then to be selfish, and not always to our benefit.

To be generous is not always easy. When you're little it's much harder still. But at least you can always give something. If you make up your mind that you will.

And it pays every time to give freely. When the little you think you can do. If you give to the world with your right hand Another's will come back to you.

So try and cast out your self feeling. No matter how deep it has grown, Generosity's soil always conquers. And the world wants your heart with it won.

St. Vitus Dance in Young Children.

One of the commonest forms of nervous disease that affects young children is St. Vitus dance. This is because of the great demand made on the body for growth and development, together with the added strain caused by study. It is when these demands become great that they impoverish the blood and the nerves fail to resist the powerful force of excitement that St. Vitus dance develops.

The remarkable success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing St. Vitus dance should lead parents to give this great blood-building medicine to their children at the first signs of the approach of the trouble. Pallor, flatness, inattention, restlessness, and irritability are all symptoms which early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demand upon them. Here is proof of the great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mrs. Alfred Sochner, R. R. No. 5 Danville, Ont., says: "Our ten year old daughter, Violet, suffered very severely from St. Vitus dance. The trouble came on so gradually that we were not alarmed until it affected her legs and arms, which would twitch and jerk to such an extent that she could scarcely walk and could not hold anything in her hands steadily. She suffered for about five months before we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but she had not taken these long before we found that they were the right medicine, and after she had taken nine boxes she had fully recovered her former health and strength. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to every parent having a child suffering from St. Vitus dance or any form of nervousness.

In troubles of this kind no other medicine has met with such success as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Thoughts of Home

AS I PLOUGH THE PRAIRIE IN SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN. BY J. W. STEWART.

Away from the prairie, Far from the sea; My home is in the East, I'm thinking of thee.

There the apple trees grow, On the sloping hillside; There the salt breezes blow On the coming tides.

The Cape in the distance, The chief on its side, Where the big eddy whirles In the Minus string tide.

Then Amethyst Cove, With its sea-wall, so bold; The enchanted spot, Where Kidd hid his gold.

I gaze from the Look-off On the valley, so broad; O, what bliss it people, How favored of God.

But, dearer than all Is a little green spot, On some hillside, where I was born.

And of so by its border The steel rails are laid, In the very same street, Where Evangeline played.

I know the spot well, The sea is low know it now, Where I followed my sire, As he guided the plow.

And I look from the farrows, With the fish delight, Little bits of blue dishes, Or a brook in clay pipe.

The old willows are there, They've been faithful to mark The spot of that sorrow, So deep and so dark.

Their church made a prison, For Winslow had come To fetter the fathers, And ruin the home.

The old well is there, And the old burying ground, But the stranger has tilled it, And levelled each mound.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 18, 1915.

Editorial Brevities.

Tuesday was the hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Waterloo.

We would call the attention of our readers to the letter from Lieutenant Governor McGregor, addressed to the people of Nova Scotia, which appears in another page of this paper. The subject is an important one and we are sure his appeal will meet a response.

Wolfville's government building is certainly a credit to the town, as is frequently remarked by visitors. The wide grounds surrounding it add very much to its beauty and an effort is being made to have them well kept. We notice, however, that the public are very careless, and, instead of using the walks provided, the edges of the grass plots are trampled off and in consequence present an appearance which is far from pleasing. The evidence of a little pride in the appearance of our public places is much needed.

Visit Your School.

How many of our school children's parents ever visit the schools or even know the teachers when they meet them on the street? How many know what their children are studying, or how they are progressing? Is there any of you who have a building to make or a fence to build, a dress to make, a house to paint, or whatever the job may be, that says to the one you have employed: 'Here are the tools and the material, go ahead and suit yourself and it will suit me.' Is not that what many of you are doing with your children? You say by your actions: 'Here is my child, with his books, paper and pencil; I've furnished material and tools, educate him as you like.' Now hear some of you say: 'The teacher knows better what they ought to study than I do.' While this may be in part true, the carpenter or the dressmaker, or a painter knows better how to do the work than you do, yet you do not leave it all to them. O! the rising generation depends the welfare of this great nation. Patrons and parents, take more interest in your schools and visit them often, and by your presence give the teachers more encouragement; ask them how your children are doing. Perhaps a few minutes talk with them will save trouble that years to come can never undo. Think about this and ask yourself if you are doing right.

Are Wooden Pavements Good Pavements?

The linking up of science and industry, had in view in establishing a Forest Products Laboratory of Canada under the Dominion Forestry Branch. The plan is that expert chemists and technical men devote their whole time to discovering new uses for Canadian woods and better methods for applying woods to their old uses, so that our citizens may secure the greatest efficiency and profit in handling this great national resource. One of the fruits of this plan is the bulletin just issued by the Forestry Branch on 'Treated Wood Block Paving'. The question of wood paving is a most important one to Canada which has such great supplies of this material. The bulletin tells of the results obtained in Europe, United States and Canadian municipalities in using wood for paving and gives the methods by which the best results have been obtained. Any resident of Canada interested may have a copy of this bulletin free by writing to the Director of Forestry, Department of Interior, Ottawa.

DRAGON WAGON—ready for use at BARRACKS.

Full of Years.

MISSIONARY MAJOR THEAKSTON ATTAINS HIS EIGHTY SECOND BIRTHDAY, JUNE 15TH.

THE ACADIAN is pleased to note among the many visitors to Wolfville this week Mr. Major Theakston, the veteran city missionary of Halifax, who, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Grant, is visiting his son, Mr. Henry Theakston, who has been a resident of our town for some years. A former resident of Wolfville, Mr. Theakston is always gladly welcomed by old friends. An event of particular interest with regard to the visit is the fact that he celebrated his eighty-second birthday on Tuesday of this week and is yet hale and hearty. May he be spared to still carry on the good work in which he has been engaged for many years.

Mr. Theakston was born in London, G. B., in 1833, and for ten years was connected with the British and Foreign Bible Society and City Mission, where he saw much of the sins and sorrows of the city.

In February, 1863, in company with some twelve other families, he with his wife and two boys, came to Halifax with the intention of establishing a Christian Temperance Colony, but, landing there on the 21st of February in the very heart of our winter, the company became alarmed at the severity of the weather and left for Boston, leaving four to carry out the original plan.

Of this number William Horton, recently deceased, and the subject of this sketch were the only ones remaining in the city, and Mr. Theakston only spent a short time there, and then removed to Canning, Kings county, where he started the 'Canning Advertiser', but thinking Wolfville a more promising location, removed here, and enlarged the paper and named it the 'Acadian' which he published for about five years. They were the times when printing materials could not be procured nearer than Boston, and the regular communication was the fortnightly boat. No railway communication beyond Windsor. It is interesting to hear how Mr. Theakston had to make his own rollers, cut lines of wood type and some times do binding, etc.

In 1870 he removed to Halifax to undergo an operation, which kept him from his business over three months, during which time the paper was discontinued. In June of the same year Mr. Theakston commenced missionary work in that city. It is interesting to hear him tell of the time when there were three hundred licensed liquor stores in the city and no school houses or churches west of the Common, and that now there are seven churches and five of the largest schools, besides other important buildings. The slums of the city are as numerous but not more so than then. Altogether there is outward improvement.

Why So Few Editors Become Deacons.

Mr. Theakston, while in Wolfville, connected himself with the Division of Sons of Temperance and was associated with Rev. J. W. Manning, J. F. Parsons, Chief Justice Graham, Judge Longley, etc., all of whom were at that time members of that body. Simon Fitch, T. A. S. DeWolf, J. W. Barras, Jas. Woodworth, Prof. Crawley and Dr. Cramp were among the leading lights of the village. Barney Farrell taught school in the Temperance Hall and public meetings were mostly held in the Blackadar Hall. The leading event of the day there was the arrival of Harry Kilcup or John Welsh with the daily mail. The college boys, fair Evangeline, grave professors and portly merchants waited patiently or otherwise as G. V. Rand, the patient post master, handed out their dose.

The reason why so few editors become deacons is that they see so much of the shallowness of human nature. A common occurrence is to be gravely informed of some public wrong, something which to the shame of the newspaper, it had not found out for itself—but, continues the narrator, 'I don't want my name in it.' Another is to have a person begin to tell a company, of which a newspaper man or woman is a member, of a shady bit of gossip, where the narrator turns to the newspaper person and says—'This is not for publication'—while at the same moment the narrator is doing the same thing he or she warned the newspaper person against doing. Is it any wonder that the newspaper man frequently becomes a cynic and hardly ever a deacon?—Eastern Chronicle.

The particular person who sits us is the one who tells in our presence a piece of gossip that we wouldn't touch with tongs and then says: 'You mustn't put that in your paper.'

Prospects Good for Record Apple Crop.

THE GROWERS OF THE VALLEY ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO A SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

Basing a forecast upon the set of blossoms in the Annapolis Valley, it appears that the apple crop will be a record one, and if marketing conditions are satisfactory the growers should have a very successful season. There is a general feeling throughout the country that the markets for fruit this year will not be good. The war in Europe with its depressing consequences has made fruit growers pessimistic, and the question is often asked regarding the possibility of disposing of fruit at fair prices this season.

At this time it is only possible to make a prediction which must be more or less vague and speculative. So far as production is concerned, there seems to be every indication of a fair crop of all varieties. Whether prices will be satisfactory depends entirely upon the distribution, upon the quality of the fruit and upon the extra demand which is created by publicity or by other means.

There seems to be no immediate cause for the producers to be discouraged. Later in the season will be quite soon enough for that. If there is any need for discouragement at all, in the meantime, growers will be doing themselves the best possible service if they take care of their crop just as they would in an ordinary season. If the fruit is of good quality and is well packed, there is no reason to doubt that there will be a demand for it at prices which will return the producer a satisfactory figure.

Nothing can be accomplished without effort. Fruit growers have to realize that in such a year as this they must be prepared to devote extra energy, and make extra sacrifices, to bring their crops to market. In Great Britain the market situation promises to be more satisfactory. There is now adequate employment for the laboring classes at good wages, and letters recently received show that there is no very great trade depression in any part of England. Under these circumstances it seems very probable that the fruit growers of Canada will have a successful season.

June Wedding.

At the home of the uncle of the bride, J. P. Holloway, the marriage of Miss Flossie B. Holloway and Prof. Joseph A. Ambler took place on Tuesday evening. The house had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being green and white in the parlor, where a floral bank had been arranged with palms and ferns, before which the bridal party stood.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. E. S. Holloway, of New York, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. B. Slocum, pastor of the Central Baptist church, of which the bride is a member. The service with two rings, was used and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Miss Cassie Bailey, of Gorton, for the wedding march. The maid of honor was Miss Florence Holloway, of New York, cousin of the bride, and the ring bearer was Doris Bailey, of Gorton, also a cousin of the bride. The groom was attended by his best man, William A. Turner, of New Haven.

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin with rose point lace and veil and carried roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor wore blue crepe meteor with chiffon and her bouquet was of yellow roses.

After a reception for the relatives and friends the newly married couple left on their honeymoon. They received a large number of beautiful gifts from their wide circle of friends.

Professor Ambler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Ambler and is entering upon his third year as head of the chemistry department of Acadia University, Nova Scotia. He is a native of Danbury, and a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy, class of 1907, and of Yale University, class of 1910. He was an assistant and teacher in the chemistry department at the college, before going to Acadia University.

His bride, who is the daughter of the late George A. Holloway, has been a resident of this city for many years and has been prominent at the Central Baptist church where she has been a teacher in the Sunday school.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

Rev. Clyde W. Robbins, Acadia '15, of the New Minas Baptist church, occupied the pulpit of the Wolfville Baptist church last Sunday morning and evening and delivered masterly and spiritually helpful sermons. His morning address was on John 7: 37—'If any man thirst let him come unto Me and drink.' The speaker traced the recurrence in the Old and New Testament of this promise of Christ as the fountain-head of strength and grace, and affirmed that the world today may depend only on this source, as the powers of brain and brawn have proved a failure. Christ alone can deliver us from the bondage of selfishness, sin and death and give the human soul that power of growth which will lift us to the place of peace.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. Try it.

The Black Sheep.

We called him the black sheep.
We sneered at his name;
We turned on our heels in disgust
When he came.

We refused him our doors,
We remembered old scores
That he hadn't paid up, and the numerous days
He had promised us all to seek out better ways,
And had broken his word. So our aid we refused.

For the help of his friends was a thing he abused.
But she wept for him, toiled for him,
All she had, gave him,
Prayed to God nightly for more strength to save him,
Held out her arms to him, went in the mire for him,
Served at his call and seemed Never to tire of him.

We called him the black sheep.
We done all we could;
Or that's what we thought, and we'd Him no good.
We'd cast him aside
As one lost to all pride,
And saw in him nothing but horrible weakness,
Serve to vice and craven in meekness.

We told ourselves often he'd meet a bad end
And deserted him, just as he gave up each friend.
But she watched for him, tenderly cared for him,
Went without comforts, that some might be spared for him,
Took his harsh words with a sigh at times, may be,
But never forgot that he had been her baby.

We called him the black sheep.
She called him her care.
Said 'twas her duty, his burdens To share.
Told us no other
Could know, as a mother,
The reason the feet of a child go astray.
Or bring back the wanderer to the right way.
She told of the days when the fever was raging,
The fall that had from the carpenter's staging;
And told that the doctors had said with good nursing

His strength might come back. She was ever reassuring.
Excuses for him. And at times when we pleaded
With her to give up she replied that he needed
Her help more than either his sister or brother.

The black sheep is never a black sheep to mother.

Value of No-License.

1. License hurts a town because it diverts money from legitimate channels to saloon keepers.

2. Because it robs the poor man's family of the necessities of life. The money is worse than wasted, and homes are deprived of the comforts of life.

3. It makes collections harder: leaves bad bills on the books; is an injustice to stockholders.

4. License harms even the liquor seller, and his family frequently experience sufferings in this world.

5. The liquor traffic buys less than 64 100 of 1 per cent. from the farmer.

The general results of no license are a great decrease in the matter of arrests for drunkenness in the community and increases in the bank deposits of laborers; fewer cases of wife abandonment and decrease in misery and criminality generally.

Bonforts Wine and Spirit Circular admits 'that the saloon has gone from many places to stay gone.'

The liquor traffic is scientifically wrong, diabolically wrong and morally wrong, because alcohol is a destructive drug and poison. What is scientifically wrong cannot be made morally right, and what is morally wrong cannot be made economically expedient or just.—Temperance Reform.

And heed no murmur of complaint within.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

A man saw an announcement in an ironmonger's shop the other day as follows: 'Iron Sinks; and he went in and told the man that he knew that iron sank.'

'Yes,' said the man, 'and time flies, and wine vaults, acid drops, sulphur springs, jam rolls, grass slopes, and music stands; Niagara falls, holiday trips and rubber tires.'

The customer bolted. Then he returned, put his head in the door and remarked: 'Yes, I know, and marble busts.'

A woman interested in charity work was accustomed each day to pass by the door of a Chinese laundry wherein were employed two Chinamen. Each time she passed the charity worker would stop for an instant and speak to the boys.

'Hello, John,' she would call out, to which salutation the Celestial would reply, 'Hello, lady.'

One day she saw only one Chinaman where there had been two, and she asked: 'Where is the other John?'

'His in hospital,' said the 'lady's man. 'Chinamen gentleman a lark him in the head with a brick.'

Uric Acid Suffering.

Uric acid is an accumulation of poison which finds lodgement in the system when the kidneys fail to remove it from the blood. In the kidneys and bladder it forms stones, in the joints and muscles it causes rheumatism. In any case the pain and suffering is almost beyond human endurance. Uric acid is promptly removed from the system when the kidneys are kept healthy and active by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Women to Make Shells.

Women will play an increasingly important part in supplying the huge demands of the British army for shells. At Vickers Sons and Maxim works 600 women hands employed in the manufacture of munitions have given such satisfaction that the firm has decided immediately to employ an additional thousand. Other firms are expected to follow this example.

To the People of Nova Scotia.

The splendid response which the people of Nova Scotia have made to the various appeals addressed to them since August last makes it unnecessary for me to dwell upon the necessity for everyone of us doing his full share to maintain the cause of the Empire at this time.

During the past week our hearts have been stirred with pride by the brilliant exploit of a gallant Canadian aviator who succeeded in destroying a giant Zepelin. His intrepid feat directs attention anew to the value of the aviation arm of the service and the pressing need for strengthening the air craft of the British Army which has already rendered such signal service to the Allied cause.

The Overseas Club, Halifax branch, of which I have the honor to be a patron, has, with the approval of Lord Kitchener, taken up the project of collecting funds in this Province with which to purchase and present a 100 H. P. Gnome Vickers Gun Biplane to the Royal Flying Corps to be named 'Nova Scotia.' This gift will require an expenditure of about $12,000.

Notwithstanding the numerous gifts so generously made by our people and the splendid work performed by the women of Nova Scotia for the Red Cross and Belgian Relief funds, I feel that attention has only to be called to the opportunity now presented by the Overseas Club to evoke the same hearty response which the people of Nova Scotia always make to an appeal for a worthy object.

In Halifax city Messrs. S. M. Brookfield, Robt. E. Harris, K. C. and Captain John Hicks are engaged in an active canvas for funds for the project. If the people of the Province take as keen an interest in the success of the fund as the citizens of Halifax promise to take, I feel assured that we shall have sufficient subscriptions to purchase not only one but perhaps even two aircraft.

I confidently ask the people of the Province to consider the matter of joining in this most appropriate gift. Those of us especially who are unable to go to the front or have no sons or brothers there, must find other means of doing our share at this time and the present opportunity is one which I am sure will appeal to all of us.

Contributions to the fund may be made to the manager of any Bank in the Province and may be of any amount. It must always be remembered that very often the smallest gift involves the greatest sacrifice.

Bad Cold in the Chest.

'I am happy to tell you that I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and was promptly cured of a very bad cold in the chest,' writes Miss Josephine Gauthier, Dover South, Ont. 'You can depend on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine to relieve and cure all inflammations and irritations of the throat and bronchial tubes.'

How Gas is Used by the Germans.

A great deal has appeared on the use of asphyxiating gases by the Germans. Many statements have been made as to exactly what gas is used, how it is used, and what are its effects.

There are two essentials to the use of gas by the Germans. First, the gas must be of such a character that it will stick close to the surface of the ground and sink into all trenches and excavations—not rise in the air. Secondly, it must at least, temporarily stupefy the intended victim. Now, this being the case, it is obvious that gas may be resorted to successfully under certain conditions only. There must be only a very moderate or light wind blowing, and that must be regular or even, otherwise the gas would become too disseminated and diluted with air. It can be used only when the enemy's trenches are but a short way off. The battlefield of the gas must be either a straight line or convex towards the enemy. Otherwise the gas, when liberated, would cross at least some portion of the users lines, with considerable damage to the users as well as to the intended victims.

Chlorine gas seems to fill all the requirements. It is a heavy greenish yellow, suffocating, irritating, poisonous gas. When liberated in a moderate wind (two to six miles per hour) it will travel pretty compactly along the surface of the ground filling the air for a depth of about three feet above the surface and sinking into all depressions. It suffocates and irritates the victim and produces acute bronchitis and strangulation. In many cases the effect is temporary but complete unconsciousness and in many cases death is caused. Its color gives it the properties of a cloud, which greatly conceals the advance of the enemy, who follow closely behind whenever possible. Needless to say, great quantities are required to be of real effect against a battalion of considerable length. So it is used chiefly to attack certain selected points in the enemy's lines, with the sole idea of forcing a passage which might enable the breaking up and flanking movements so frequently attempted but never accomplished.

The Germans manufacture this treacherous gas in great quantities and force it into small cylinders under very high compression. These cylinders are shipped to the trenches, put in place, and when conditions are favorable, are opened and turned toward the lines of the allies. The prevailing wind does the rest.

Quite a number of other gases could be used almost equally as well, but the symptoms all clearly and unmistakably indicate the use of chlorine gas by the Germans army in all cases so far.

"What's flour gluten, Bud?"
"It's what makes your dough rise, Rose."
"Yes"—she encouraged.
Added Bud very sagely:
"Makes it rise in the mixer and expand in the oven. It's the elastic part of flour—absorbs all the water and milk—and things."
Rose grew interested.
"FIVE ROSES, said Bud, is exceedingly rich in gluten. I s'pose because it's all made from Manitoba wheat. Takes up a lot more water—makes those fat loaves—lasts longer too."
"Saves money, doesn't it?" asked Rose.
Bud in a big voice
"The fat loaf makes the fat pocketbook!"
Use FIVE ROSES always.
And Rose said YES.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mrs. Jones bought a chicken at the family butcher shop, and after embalming it with bread crumbs, celery, cranberry sauce and other glad things she proudly set it before the head of the family.

'What is the matter, John?' asked the young wife, with an anxious look as hubby laboriously carved the bird and began to apply it to his appetite. 'Isn't the chicken all right?'

'Why, yes; I guess he is all right, was the hesitating response. 'But I fear he was a very good coward.'

'A great coward!' returned the perplexed wife, 'what do you mean?'

'Don't they say, Mary,' smilingly rejoined hubby, 'that the bravest are always the tenderest?'

ONLY SIXTEEN, GIRL VERY SICK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—'I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better.'

—Miss ANNEA JAGUELLARD, 3961 Tchoupitoulas St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—'My mother was so alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and sides, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them.'

—Miss ESTER L. MAGNUS, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, each letter from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.
