The Eastern Trust Company.

A few reasons why an estate can be better administered by the Eastern Trust Company than by a personal executor or administrator:—

1. The Company affords the estate absolute security; it has a paid-up capital of $931,000.00, and a reserve fund of $225,300.00.
2. It has a long experience in the work of administering estates; it is incorporated for this business of acting as a trustee, and, unlike many other trust companies, it does no other.
3. Its existence is perpetual. Your estate, in the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, must look around for a substitute, and the work of administration is impeded during that time, and the new executor is unfamiliar with the policy of his predecessor, and confusion results. This company's existence is perpetual, and there is a continuity of policy in its administration that the death of its officers does not break.
4. It possesses the confidence of governments, universities and prominent charities and administers their funds.
5. A number of other advantages which will appear in due course.

GRAHAM WHITE WOUNDED.
HAZEBROUCK, France, To-day. Claude Graham White, British aviator, has been wounded gravely. He was shot down last month. Graham White is one of the best aviators and won international prominence several years ago by spectacular flights in England and America. He enlisted in the Naval wings at the outbreak of war and was appointed temporary flight commander. A year ago he had a narrow escape from death. While participating in a raid by a squadron of aeroplanes on Belgian towns he fell into the sea, but was picked up by a cruiser. Lieut. Graham White's wife, formerly Miss Emily Taylor, New York, obtained last month a decree for restitution of her conjugal rights in an action which in England is a preliminary step to a suit for divorce.

RUSSIAN CAPTURE IMPORTANT VILLAGE.
LONDON, To-day. Russian Petrograd correspondent says significance is attached by the Russians to the capture of the village of Garbounovka, announced yesterday by the War Office at Petrograd. It is said the possession of this town renders the defence of Dvinsk more secure, as Garbounovka lies on the direct road to Dvinsk.

GERMAN SCOUTS OUT.
AMSTERDAM, To-day. The Telegram says the German scout vessels in the North Sea are believed to have gone out of Zeeland, as it is known armed trawlers stationed there, and that some boats which formerly were not at all part have been lying there under cover. Small German warships have been active in the North Sea recently. The German Office announced last week that two British cruisers had been sunk, but the British said the vessels referred to were mine sweepers, one of which failed to return to port.

TOWNSHEND'S HEROIC STAND.
LONDON, To-day. The remarkable stand which has been made by Major General Charles Townshend and his comparatively small body of British troops at Kut-el-Amara, Mesopotamia, where for nearly two months they have been besieged by a large army of Turks, has found General Townshend to a high degree of esteem among the English public. This war, away from the LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the triad of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the mobs until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect, that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are parts of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTEAM. Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

anda, he favoured compulsory service. He expressed the opinion that Germany would make her attack on France and eventually England through Belgium and many times surveyed what he thought would be the coming battlefield. The General is fifty-four years of age.

AIR RAID INJURES HOSPITAL AND CHURCH.
PARIS, To-day. Austrian aeroplanes made a raid yesterday over Ravenna and the neighbouring towns of Codigoro and Bottighe in northeastern Italy near the Adriatic. Havas despatch from Rome says 16 persons were killed and number of others wounded. Several women and children were injured and the hospital and the Basilica Sant'Appollinare at Ravenna were damaged. The Church of Sant'Appollinare was erected in the years 535 to 538, consecrated in 549 by Saint Maximian, restored in 1779, is the largest Basilica still existing in Ravenna.

GERMAN GUNBOAT SUNK.
HAVRE, To-day. A despatch received from the Belgian forces, operating on Lake Tanganyika, Africa, says the German gunboat Hedwig Von Weesmann has been sunk in a naval combat off Albertville. Two of the German crew were killed and the remainder of the men aboard the gunboat were made prisoners.

FOUNDERED IN TWO MINUTES.
HARTLEPOOL, Eng., To-day. Sixteen members of the Norwegian ship which was sunk by a mine or torpedo in the North Sea on Thursday night landed here. Two men are injured. The explosion shattered the after part of the ship. She foundered in two minutes. The crew escaped. The boat was picked up by another Norwegian ship and brought here.

GREEKS FACE DEFICIT.
ATHENS, To-day. The Greek Government is considering a measure to improve the financial situation. Being confronted with a large deficit it is expected the Government will retain a percentage of the salaries of office holders and levy a tax on the profits realized by the merchant marine from war traffic.

NOON.
TURKS FOR THE TIGRIS.
LONDON, To-day. A despatch from Athens says reports there say Turkish forces in formidable numbers are being sent to Mesopotamia. The troops, released from the Dardanelles, are already on their way there, and small contingents have already left Thrace.

SUSPECTED OF POISONING GUESTS AT BANQUET.
CHICAGO, To-day. Supt. of Police Schetler, said to-day that he expected arrest within a short time of Jean Cronis, Assistant Chef at the University Club, suspected of putting poison in soup served at a dinner given Thursday night to Archbishop Mundellin. An empty poison bottle and wrappers, found in the kitchen of the University Club, verified by an analysis of soup, served at the banquet, indicate that the alleged prisoner made a scientific calculation to kill every guest at the banquet.

Patriotic Sermon at the Kirk.

Yesterday morning in the course of a sermon on the opening sentences of the Lord's Prayer, Mr. Sutherland took occasion to refer to the special need of prayer at the present crisis in the history of the Empire. He spoke in part as follows:—

Before the war began Dr. J. R. Mott declared that in view of the condition of the heathen world, the great need of the church was not more missionaries or more money so much as more men and women who had power with God in prayer. "The supreme need of the church, to-day," said he, "is the need of intercessors."

If that was the great need a couple of years ago, is it not even more necessary at the present time, when Christendom is rent asunder and its missionary power is lessened by the great world war? Will God's Kingdom come among the heathen to-day, and the Gospel of the Prince of Peace prevail, apart from earnest and continued prayer? There is no warrant in history or the word of God for believing that they will.

And what shall we say of the future of the church in the British Empire and of the fortunes of the Empire itself? Do we realize just how things are at the present juncture? I do not believe we do. It is true that the peril may not be outwardly as great as it was a year ago, for we are better prepared as regards men and munitions than we were then. But the greatness of the danger from which we were saved last spring, and the small margin by which we were able to hold our own at that time, has never been fully understood by most of us. Nor do most people seem to be alive even yet to the greatness of the present crisis. Events that have occurred of late in Canada and the United States are full of significance. They are straws which show which way the wind is blowing, and may presage a tempest nearer at hand than we have imagined possible. In Europe things are at a deadlock. We hope for an advance of the allied forces in the spring; and we expect our cause to triumph in the end, for it is the cause of freedom and of right. But in our anticipations of the future have we taken into account that the institution of compulsory service in Great Britain would never have been possible but for certain facts? One of these is the grim determination of the British people to win this war, cost what it will. But another is the conviction to which they have come that in order to win it every man in the country who is fit for military service will be needed.

Here in Newfoundland, and until lately in almost every part of the Empire, this latter fact has not come home to very many. Most people have taken it for granted that the Empire was all right, and was sure to get the victory before long. But in Britain to-day, while no one forebodes final failure, there are few who expect a speedy end of the war. The need of mobilizing and husbanding all material and financial resources is being proclaimed from the house-tops. Economy is being urged upon all, and everyone is asked to do his bit.

And yet it sometimes seems as though there was a woful neglect on the part of the British people both at home and abroad of one of the essentials of true success. There has not been among them anything like moral and spiritual awakening that there should have been. In this respect both the Russians and the French have put us to shame. High authorities in the Church of England have expressed their disappointment that even the appeal and example of the King have proved powerless to produce any wide-spread change in the drinking habits of the nation. A weekly service of intercession, started at the beginning of the war in London, had to be given up, because the attendance did not warrant its continuance. And in other parts of the Empire similar things have happened.

These facts may well cause questioning and even fear. Are we spiritually fit to win? Would our victory just now be for the best interests of the Empire or of the world? What have those hundreds of thousands died for at the Dardanelles, in Poland and Galicia, and on the firing line in France and Flanders? Did God send them to their death merely that the British flag might float over certain square miles of territory, or that we and others might be able to sing Rule Britannia and congratulate ourselves on being able to beat the world? I think not. And if we were wiser we would find in their sacrifice a call to mobilize our spiritual as well as our material resources, and to use the power of prayer on behalf of a cause so sacred that it is not going too far to call it the cause of God.

Will we and others heed that call? That is the question of questions just now. So far what is necessary has not been done. The nation is not yet upon its knees. And not until it is can we hope for a victory that will prove anything but a curse, a source of greater pride and self-sufficiency, and a hindrance to the coming of the Kingdom of humanity and of God.

If only we realized this as we should, we could not be kept from praying for our country as Knox prayed for Scotland and Lincoln for the triumph of the North. Both these great leaders were strong and virile men of action. But they believed in prayer. Do we? If we do, let us pray. The present crisis demands this of us all. If we do not delay too long our prayers will be heard and victory will come.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

The pulpit at the R. C. Cathedral, last night, was occupied by the Rev. Father Sheehan, who preached an eloquent sermon on "Peace," and during his remarks spoke of the misery now existing in the world due to the conflict of war and its inhumanity. Peace, said the Rev. Preacher, is only to be won by recourse to prayer, and he exhorted his hearers to ask this gift of the Almighty, that men and nations might again live in unity and harmony. Following the Sermon benediction of the B. Sacrament was imparted by the Rev. Dr. Greene.

T. A. B. S. Meet.

The monthly meeting of the T. A. and B. Society was held yesterday, when presentations of a Morris Chair to retiring Vice-President, Mr. L. J. Griffin, and a suitably engraved piece of plate to Treasurer, Mr. M. F. Summers, who is also retiring, were made. Complimentary speeches were made by President W. J. Ellis, The Spiritual Director, Rev. J. Pippy, and Mr. T. M. White, to which the retiring officers replied. Messrs Griffin and Summers have given many years service to the T. A. Society. At yesterday's meeting ten applicants were admitted to membership.

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Waterloo, Ont.

Four things stand out prominently in connection with the statement issued by The Mutual Life of Canada for the year 1915, and each of these several features is conducive to good dividends for the policyholders of the Company. Large profits, in a Mutual Company, mean more insurance for a smaller outlay, because the dividends may be used to reduce the premium or increase the amount of the policy. When the deeply serious character of the war became evident many companies feared that it might not be possible to maintain the rate of dividends previously paid. As far as the Mutual is concerned there has been no need for, changing the present splendid scale.

The four points in the statement of The Mutual Life of Canada that favor high dividends are First, The Surplus that has been earned—Second, The Stability of the business or the low lapse rate—Third, The increase in the rate of interest earned and Fourth the lower ratio of expenditure to income. We may refer to these briefly. The Surplus Earned: Although there was an additional outgo through death claims arising out of the war, the surplus earned during the year amounts to the splendid sum of $1,158,210.20, being an increase of slightly over 10 per cent. on the earnings of the preceding year. This feature is of special significance to participating policy-holders as it shows that notwithstanding the unusual conditions of the period through which we are passing, the Company is able to maintain the liberal rate of dividend distribution for which it has gained such an enviable reputation.

The Increase in Business: The lapses are less than in the preceding year by over half a million dollars, while the policies not accepted have decreased by $267,000. These facts are the more significant when we consider that even a year ago this Company occupied the premier place in regard to the stability of its business. It follows that the net increase in the amount of business is very gratifying, amounting to no less than 48 per cent. of the total new business written, which was $12,757,987, the net increase being $6,614,670. Allowing for terminations fifty per cent. is considered a remarkable showing.

The Expense Ratio and Interest Rate: The ratio of expense to income has noticeably fallen, viz. from 17.00 per cent. to 15.39 per cent. This affords sufficient evidence that the revenue is being well maintained and that the expenses are being kept down to the minimum. The character of the investments held by the Company was such that the effect of the war has been to increase rather than to diminish the rate of interest earned and thus to swell the revenue. In addition to these gratifying results of the Company's operations the year was made notable by the fact that the net business in force passed the hundred million dollar point, the actual amount in force at the year's end being $101,092,000. This result was reached in spite of the fact that nearly forty of the Company's agents enlisted in the army, and countless numbers of the best prospects were rendered unavailable owing to the same cause. Altogether the year has been one of splendid progress.

A MEMORABLE DAY.—On Sunday, February 21st, 1904, which will be twelve years ago next Monday, the thermometer registered 22 below zero in the city and 40 below at Bishop's Falls. It is known to be the coldest day on record, amongst those that are kept, in Newfoundland.

CAREFUL MAKING-UP.
The palmist reads your hand, the doctor counts your pulse, but the average man glances at your face and instantly forms his first impression. First impressions usually stand, and they are usually right. Few women are so exceptionally beautiful that a light dab of powder or perhaps a little more color on the cheeks or lips, would not improve them. But just as the illusion of the stage may be spoiled after viewing the play from behind the scenes, so surely may a man's illusions be spoiled if he detects a clumsily applied powder puff or rouge stick. Cultivate the art of making-up so cleverly that an expert would be deceived. The man would unconsciously thank you for that kind of deceit. If you are pale, apply carefully and thoughtfully a little dab of rouge, then lightly dust it with complexion powder and study the effect, in the sunlight if possible, and if in the evening, before a well placed mirror. Lip rouge, if discriminately used, is attractive. It accentuates the whiteness of the teeth and calls to attention the graceful curves of a beautiful mouth. Remember that the dining table in a public restaurant is no place to powder one's nose or to rouge one's lips. "Talent is perfected in solitude," were the words of Goethe, and it applies to the up-to-date complexion as well.

The prettiest sporting suits for the Southern season are of velveteen in pastel colors. THOUSANDS OF BABIES DIE BEFORE ONE YEAR. It is estimated that thousands of babies die in this country before the age of one year, and it is stated that one-half of these deaths are needless if all mothers were strong and infants were breast-fed. Expectant mothers should thoughtfully strive to increase their strength with the strength-building fats in Scott's Emulsion which improves the blood, suppresses nervousness, aids the quality of milk, and feeds the very life cells. Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion; it is doubly important during nursing. No drugs. Every druggist has it. Always insist on Scott's—the white food-medicine. No advanced prices. Patriotic Night.

A feature of the programme of events to be held at the Prince's Rink on Thursday night next, will be the hockey match between a picked team of "has-beens" and seven of the best present players in the League. The players from either side are now being selected. A splendid series of races and a ladies' hockey match are also being arranged. The proceeds will be devoted to the W. P. A. Fund.

Horse Races.

Weather and ice permitting two races will be run off on Wednesday afternoon next, beginning at 2 o'clock sharp. The first race is between five city horses as follows: Fenister, (Imported); Driver, M. Kelly, (Imported); Driver, Mr. Wylhe. Sheila, (Imported); Driver, H. Macpherson. Little Jeff, (Native Bred); Driver, R. Lester. Fanny Wilkes, (Native Bred); Driver, A. E. Parkins. The imported horses have had training away, while the native bred have not had that privilege, but will give a good account of themselves. The second race is for horses owned on the different farms, and as there are many fine horses kept by the farmers, this should be a very interesting race. Farm horses must all trotting and pacing, not galloping. Suitable prizes are provided for both races. The courses will be marked off and patrolled and no horses will be allowed thereon except those taking part in the race. A splendid afternoon's fun is assured those who attend. For list of prizes see to-morrow's issue.

The Publication of City Charter.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—In your issue of Saturday, "Thebald" suggested that the new Municipal Charter be published. There are quite a few who agree with this, and personally I think it ought not to go to the Assembly before being submitted to the people. Yours truly, INTERESTED CITIZEN. City, Feb. 14, 1916.

Remembering Names.

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Memory is the treasurer of the mind."—Cicero.

RUTH CAMERON

"I can always remember faces perfectly, but I simply cannot recall names."
"If I could only remember one-half the interesting things I read and hear!"
How often one hears people make complaints of that nature! And how seldom one finds anyone who does anything beyond complaining. The vast majority of us put up with woefully inefficient "treasurers of the mind" all our lives, because we are convinced that all memories are fundamentally good or bad, just as some men are large and others small.

The System Used by a College Professor.

This is not true. The memory can be trained to do its work. There are many systems, but the simplest I ever heard of is that used by a famous college professor.

To fix the names of all the people he meets in the course of a day in his mind, for all time, he uses the brief period of wakefulness, that intervenes between the time of getting into bed and falling asleep. He recalls the names one by one and repeats them several times. Then, when the name is definitely placed, he conjures the face that accompanies it. The next morning, as he dresses, he reviews his lesson of the night before. In the course of the year he meets many people—his classes number up to five hundred, and he lectures as well—but he seldom or never forgets either a name or a face.

The professor's method of committing to memory the substance of the worthwhile things read or heard is perhaps less novel, but it surely is not commonly practised. Let us assume that you have read an article on Mexico. Sit down and write, as briefly as possible, a resume of the article. Condense the outstanding facts to the smallest possible compass.

The mere act of putting your mind to the task of getting at the crux of what you have read, plus the impression on the memory made by the act of writing it down and then rereading it, accomplishes the desired end, unless you have a genuinely poor memory. Few people have that, although they may try to so excuse themselves.

"I Remember Your Face But I Have Forgotten Your Name."

To confess to a person that you remember his face, but that his name has escaped you, does not tend to make you popular with the nameless one. Everyone likes to be remembered, and such a confession is usually accepted as an attempt to evade the whole and even more embarrassing truth, which is that we have forgotten both face and name, and are loath to admit it. The person who is widely popular is the person whose acquaintance with names as well as faces is above the average.

The advantage of remembering at least a respectable percentage of what we read or hear is even more easily apprehended. For as a philosopher of a later vintage than Cicero says: "It isn't what you learn, but what you remember that makes you wise."

Abraham Lincoln.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old S'wash."
Abraham Lincoln, America's tallest, homeliest and greatest statesman, was born in Kentucky 107 years ago to-day. He was an Illinois man, but owing to the remarkably poor facilities for getting born in Illinois in 1809, he was compelled to choose Kentucky for a native state. Later on, he lingered in Indiana long enough to acquire his first pair of pants and came to Illinois a few years later, when navigation had opened on the prairie roads.

Lincoln resolved to become great when a mere boy, and as his parents were very poor, he had nothing to draw his attention from his task. He was not pestered by society, did not have to perfect himself in baseball, pool, cigarette-rolling, and taste in neckties, and was, in general, free from the burdens of the unfortunate sons of the rich. By a singular good fortune, the only books he was able to borrow were useful ones. Consequently, he arrived at manhood with an unlettered brain and was able to become Speaker of the Illinois legislature at an age when the educated youth of to-day is still painfully paying off his college clothing bills in instalments.

Lincoln was six feet four inches tall, very lanky, and was homely that he finally grew a beard as a rebuke to his face. He early attracted attention by his honesty and as soon as the people found that this was a habit, and not a ploy, they respectfully elected him to any office which happened to be handy. He was a great philosopher, and understood the political questions of the day so thoroughly that he was able to illustrate them, by funny stories which would make him mope money on the vaudeville stage to-day than he ever made out of politics. In his youth, he was a champion rail-splitter, and this skill afterwards enabled him to split the Democratic party with such success that he became President in 1861.

Lincoln had always been opposed to

Your Boys and Girls.

For a week only nurse gives the new born babe his sponge bath while lying on the lap. After that he is well and strong, and can be bathed in a tub. This tub must be very carefully cleaned before being used for this purpose. The skin of the new born baby is very tender and infection is always at hand. If the family tub is used it must be scrubbed very thoroughly before each bath. Doctors say that bad cases of boils can be traced to an infected tub. There are women who love their babies, yet are so thoughtless as to leave diapers soaking in the bath tub, where after a superficial rinsing off with warm water, baby is bathed. Diapers and all of baby's clothing should be soaked and washed in separate utensils, never in the bath tub.

Below the Standard.

How do you feel to-day? Not quite right? Energetic a little below standard—not strong enough to make much exertion? perhaps a slight cough? Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is what you need. Don't get frightened about those words "Cod Liver." You'd never know it from the taste. It's a rich tonic containing cod liver extract, extract of malt, wild cherry and hypophosphites—a splendid combination. The cod liver extract builds you up—so does the extract of malt. The wild cherry soothes the bronchial tract and the hypophosphites supply phosphorus to the nervous system—just the thing it needs. As an all round tonic, strength restorer and body-builder you'll find nothing better than Nyal's Cod Liver Compound—so why look further? You will be pleased. The price is one dollar. Sergt. The course proved effective and he is back at the station again. We learn from some of our medical practitioners that there are about 400 persons in the city indisposed with the above ailment.

The Missing Schooner

Was it the Thomas that the Dutch Steamer Alkaid Sighted In Distress.

There is grave concern felt about the 7 lives on board the schr. Thomas, now, well over 100 days out from Cadiz, salt laden, for this port. In seafaring circles she is given up as missing. It is evident that the craft was on our coast for a considerable time, and also evident that the crew were short of food and water, and may have succumbed on that account. It is a month ago since the Thomas was spoken to near the land off Cape St. Mary's by the schr. Annie, a local trader, the latter giving the Captain of the Thomas a small supply of provisions, enough to last a few days or a week at the longest. Eight days ago the Dutch steamer Alkaid, which put in here short of coal, reported having sighted a three masted schooner, supposed to be the Thomas, about 20 miles S.E. off St. John's, and flying distress signals. The Captain of the Dutchman said he altered his course and bore down on the craft to give assistance and that when he got near the signals disappeared and the schooner went off in the direction of the S.S.E. Whether the Dutchman's story can be believed or not is another matter. If the crew were short of grub a month ago and then only got enough to tide them over a few days, the theory is that all on board must have perished and that the craft was driven off to sea in recent heavy storms and foundered.

It Stops the Twinges of Rheumatism, Limbers the Muscles, Eases the Joints

Amazing Relief Comes at Once—Cure Every Time.

USE NERVILINE.

Aching joints and sore muscles are common in rheumatic periods. Inflammation is deep in the tissues. You might use a dozen remedies and derive less relief than Nerviline will give you in half an hour.

Nerviline is a pain-subduer that works do not altogether describe. It is fully five times stronger than most remedies, not that it affects the skin unfavourably—no, its great power is due to its wonderful penetrative quality—it strikes in deeply, but never burns or blisters.

Just rub Nerviline into sore muscles, stiff joints, and note the glow of comfort, the ease of pain that follows.

You are astonished, delighted; this is because words do not express the promptness and permanency with which Nerviline cures every ache and pain in the muscles and joints.

Marvelous, you'll say. Natural, we say, because Nerviline is different, stronger, more penetrating, a true pain-subduer. Just try it and see if it doesn't cure rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, strains and sprains.

The large 50c. family size bottle is far more economical than the 25c. trial size. Get it to-day. Sold by dealers everywhere.

"Really does" put had stomach in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just that—makes "Pape's Diapepsin" the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

Tells Horrors of Sinking Ship.

Red Cross Nurse Says the Brindisi Survivors were Killed by Bombs.

Athens, via London, Feb. 5.—"There isn't any way to tell you so that you would understand the awful horror of the things that I have seen and lived in the last month," said Marie Lemos, of Irving Park, Chicago, one of the Red Cross nurses who survived the sinking of the Italian steamship Brindisi, which recently struck a mine in the Adriatic. She continued: "The hideous rapidity of the sinking of the steamship Brindisi with her decks covered with dead; myself shot into the water, which was full of struggling youths trying to keep afloat, but disappearing one by one, within sight of land; the Austrian aeroplane attacks on San Giovanni de Medua and Durazzo, the ghastly sight of hundreds of Serbs falling, exhausted and dying from hunger and cold, along the road of their retreat through Albania—it does not seem believable."

Miss Lemos is twenty-two years old, with broad features revealing her Bohemian extraction. High-laced boots, a short khaki blouse and a jacket embroidered with Red Cross insignia and a fanny waist constitute her only possessions.

"We struck a mine at 9.30 o'clock in the morning, and the ship began to sink immediately," said Miss Lemos. "We tried to lower a boat, but the ship heeled over so that everybody in the boat was thrown into the water. I managed to scramble back aboard of the Brindisi, where I found some 200 Montenegrins, who were unable to swim."

"These men said they would not die by the enemy's hands. They sang their national anthem, and then one squad shot the other, and finally killed themselves. The decks were covered with dead and awash with blood."

"When the ship began to founder I slipped back into the water and swam to a plank on which several men were clinging, but who dropped off one by one. Finally, after being three hours in the water I was picked up and taken to San Giovanni de Medua."

"As soon as the 142 persons rescued were safely ashore the Montenegrins lined up and re-sang the national anthem. While the men were singing I, an Austrian aeroplane squadron bombarded the town, killing eighteen of those who had just been saved."

"Reaching Durazzo, seven pursuing Austrian aeroplanes bombarded the town, where the remnants of the Serbs, who were so crowded that they were unable to escape the missiles. Many were killed and others wounded, and, owing to the lack of medical stores, the suffering was frightful."

"From Durazzo we accompanied the Serbs to Avlona and Corfu, and thence to Athens. We have sent a cablegram to the United States asking for instructions."

The Silent Piper.

Lad, I could blow the pipes as sweet 'Ye'd thought 'twas Orpheus come again."

For I could make men smile or greet, Sae blithe, sae sad, the liltin' strain. Aye, and my pibroch's wild appeal Has play'd me on to do 'a' dare; But thae auld tunes I loved sae weel 'I should waken beneath my hands nae mair."

Pain had I crawl'd a crippled thing 'Till the end if I might yet Mak' the auld pipes ance mair sing, And then, while the theosos here forget, Aye, I had gladly given my life, 'W' my auldither for my land Ere, in that burnin' hell I'd be, 'Till I had play'd the pipes of my hand! Sir Sam Says He's All Right.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—General Sir Sam Hughes to-night made a statement in regard to comments which have appeared in certain newspapers to the effect that the chief officer of the Intelligence Branch of the Militia Department, overseas, is a German and that his brother may be fighting in the German army.

"Capt. Hahn, the officer referred to," said General Hughes, "comes from Stratford, Ont. He is in the trenches where he has already won the D.S.O. There never was a better boy. I wish I had a Dominion like him. Capt. Hahn is one of hundreds of German Canadians who are fighting under the British flag for liberty. Up to the present time thirty-eight Canadians of German origin have been killed at the front. It would be better if some of those who are always criticising Germans would follow their examples and go to the front themselves. This is not a war of race, but a war for liberty."

Household Notes.

Linen garments should be long with the fulness downwards, but with flannels, the reverse plan should be adopted.

Fresh fish can be bought at the city wharves for much less than fish market prices, and so can fresh oysters.

If you can buy pure fresh grains in bulk they will prove much more economical than the cereals put up in packages.

A cup of cold boiled rice added to griddle cakes, muffins or waffles, makes them lighter and more easily digested.

Never wash meat, but see that the butcher gives you a fresh cut and carefully wipe the outer edges with a damp cloth.

Lots of dresses show the new bustle feature in the shape of bouffant draperies.

Canada Life Prosperity

The final test of the prosperity of an institution is its earning of surplus. In this the Canada Life has had marked success. For a number of successive years the Canada Life has earned over $1,000,000 yearly. In 1915 the surplus earned was $1,480,865, the year being in this respect one of the best in the Company's history.

Policyholders have a direct interest in this item, for large surplus means large policy dividends. The Canada Life paid policyholders over $2,800,000 in cash dividends in 1915, the rate on individual policies having continuously improved since 1900.

Baby Afflicted With Eczema Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured

The Family Doctor Tried in Vain to Heal the Sores—Another Tribute to This Great Healing Ointment.

It may be interesting to note that Dr. Chase's Ointment was originally compounded to cure a case of eczema on a child. The disease had spread almost over the entire body and defied all the regular treatment for such troubles. The doctor was perplexed but finally hit on the formula of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and, as many say, "it worked like a charm," healing up the nasty sores, and leaving the skin soft and smooth. That was a good many years ago, and since then many thousands of cases of eczema, both in children and adults, have been cured, until to-day Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized as the standard cure for itching skin diseases. Mrs. Geo. McNair, River Charles, N. B., writes as follows: "We use Dr. Chase's Ointment in our home, and would not wish for anything better for cuts, burns and bruises. A few years ago a friend of mine, whose baby was terribly afflicted with eczema had her child treated by their own family physician but the little one got no better. They tried several remedies, but they all proved useless in this case. Upon the advice of a neighbor, they got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and before the first box was used the child was completely cured. "I can also recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to suffering friends, who I know will be glad to learn of something to relieve their nervous trouble. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others." So soothing and healing is Dr. Chase's Ointment that relief from itching and burning comes almost as soon as the ointment is applied. The sores are cleaned by the action of this treatment, and the process of healing is soon begun. By persistent use of the ointment cure is effected. 50 cents a box all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Everyday Etiquette.

"I do not know much about city ways, so will you please tell me what to do with my wraps when I visit a restaurant," asked perplexed Aunt Sarah, who was contemplating a trip to the city. "You may leave them in the checking room or, if you prefer, take it to the table with you," answered her more worldly neighbour.
