LADY LAURAS' RELEASE

THE STORY OF A SPOILED BEAUTY.

CHAPTER XLVII.

Presently her musings were disturbed by the sound of a man's voice singing the words of a love-song. Afterward the odor of a cigar came to her with the sea-breeze; and then Lord Arleigh turned the corner of the great white cliff. He gave a little exclamation of surprise when he saw her, and at once threw away his cigar. He drew near to her with the greatest courtesy.

"You have sought refuge from the heat, Miss Charles," he said. "I do not remember such a warm, beautiful June as this."

"June is always a lovely month," she responded; "even the sound of the word has music in it. It is my favorite month."

He noticed that, although she had blushed and had seemed somewhat startled when she first saw him, she had quickly recovered herself. Her manner now was perfectly natural and easy, and she did not seem to feel that there was any difference between them in rank or social status. She was not confused, as one of "Mrs. Bowen's friends" would probably have been.

"Whoever she is," thought Lord Arleigh, "she is accustomed to good society."

Angela's first impulse was to fly, had she half rose to do so, Lord Arleigh, however, prevented her.

"I am sorry that I have disturbed you," he said, "and I beg most earnestly that you will not go away, Miss Charles. I shall be distressed if you do."

Angela longed to go, yet she had a desire to stay. She determined not to leave, assuring herself that his lordship would not linger, and that a few minutes could not matter.

"How refreshing the sea-breeze is!" he went on. "It is strange that the same idea should have seized us both. I was going over to Blandthorpe this morning, but the atmosphere seemed stifling, and I longed for a breath of sea-air. This is what brought me here."

"I came for the same reason," said Angela. "The deepest, greenest shade seems warm this morning, there is nothing cool but the sea."

"So June is your favorite month, Miss Charles? May is mine."

"May is the month of promises; June of realization," she replied. "At home—"

Then she stopped abruptly, her face flushing crimson. What had she been going to say? He perceived her embarrassment, but was far too well-bred to notice it. Then she reflected that she had better finish her sentence; he would not know where her howe was. So she continued:

"When I was at home in the country, nothing pleased me so much as what I called the 'procession of flowers.' I waited and watched for them eagerly. I greeted each one as though it had been a living friend. April brought violets, primroses, and cowslips. Who shall tell the glories of May? The hawthorn on the hedge, the laburnums, the lilacs. June brings its wealth of lilies and roses. I have a great love for flowers."

"I think all true women love flowers. My sister is a rose worshipper. That is why we have at the Hall so many different kinds of roses. Have you noticed them?"

"No," she replied, "not particularly."

"Have you been into the rose-garden?" he asked.

"I do not think so," she answered. "You must see it," he continued. "It is believed to contain a greater variety of roses than is to be seen anywhere else."

He was about to add how pleased he should be to show the garden to her; but, on reflection, decided that it would be better not to do so, but to respect the reserve which she had chosen to adopt. As for calling herself "Mrs. Bowen's friend," however, it was sheer nonsense. He looked at her hands, and wondered that she did not perceive how they betrayed her. He remembered the story of Queen Mary of Scotland, who, when fleeing once from her enemies, would have escaped in safety under her disguise had not the marvelous whiteness of her hands betrayed her. The hands on which he looked were simply perfect in color and shape, the fingers slender and rounded, with almond-shaped nails, and there was a faint flush, like that of a delicate rose-leaf, in the palm.

"A hand produced by centuries of cultivation," he quoted to himself. Presently he found himself watching the changes of the lovely face and the luxuriance of the dark rippling hair. As he gazed, his heart went out to her. It was no sudden tumult of passion that filled his soul; it was the first dawn of a great and deep love. He hardly understood it himself; but he was conscious of a great peace and a great delight, conscious of a thousand new, beautiful, vague fancies that came to him.

Lord Arleigh talked to her of the book she was reading, of the flowers she loved, of any and everything that he thought would interest her. She was interested, and after a time forgot all except the handsome face with the laughing, frank blue eyes. He was the first man who had ever interested her, and she found herself listening attentively to all he said, admiring his ideas and sentiments. They made even in that short interview great strides into the wonder-world of poetry.

More than once Angela had risen to go; but he had begged eagerly: "Do stay just a few minutes longer, Miss Charles. I may not have the pleasure of meeting you again;" and she had granted his request. So the time passed, and, without knowing it, they learned the first lesson in love under the blue sky, with the shining sea stretched before them, with sea-gulls circling in the air, the waves kissing the sand, and the sweet summer wind singing as it has sung ever since the first love-story was told.

WOMEN FROM FORTY TO FIFTY

Will Be Interested in Mrs. Thompson's Recovery by Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me good in every way. I was very weak and run-down and had certain troubles that women of my age are likely to have. I did not like to go to the doctor so I took the Vegetable Compound and am still taking it right along. I recommend it to my friends and to any one I know who is not feeling well."—Mrs. Thompson, 303 Lizzie St., Winnipeg, Man.

When women who are between the ages of forty-five and fifty-five are beset with such annoying symptoms as nervousness, irritability, melancholia and heat flashes, which produce headaches, dizziness, or a sense of suffocation, they should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It is prepared from roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." C

CHAPTER XLVIII.

It was a lovely warm June evening and unusual silence reigned in the grand old mansion at Brantome. It was hay-making time, and many of the servants had asked permission to go into the hay-fields. Lord Arleigh had ridden over to Cuidale, having first told the housekeeper that he should not return to dinner. Angela sought Mrs. Bowen.

"I think I must go to the piano in the white room," she said; "I shall not disturb any one."

"No, my dear; go by all means. I am sure you have missed your music lately. His lordship will not be back until late."

Angela went, rejoicing at the prospects of an hour or two at the piano. She would never play or sing when Lord Arleigh was in the house, lest he should overhear her. Now there was a fair chance, and she longed to touch the ivory keys once again. The white room overlooked the rose-garden, and was one of the most charming apartments in the house. (To be continued.)

Very smart are the cape-like sleeves which are close fitting from elbow to wrist.

OUTPORT ORDERS WILL RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.

Fashions and Fads.

New in slippers is the wide strap fastening.

Gingham covers the crown of a chic little hat of white felt.

The fabric hat will be worn later in the season, it is reported.

A famous house features a high waist line and shorter jacket.

Fitted effects in long-coats are sponsored by Parisian designers.

Many skirts are plain and flat in back with box pleats in the front.

Prints are being used practically for everything—even for pajamas.

Flower trimming appears on a smart beret of reseda green taffeta.

Godets and slight flares are noticed among the new imported wraps.

Designers are constantly seeking to raise the waist line to normal or above.

A small hat of black satin has a narrow brim of velvet cartridge pleats.

Almost every spring frock has a sleeveless wrap, a bolero or a short jacket.

Colored decoration appears in gowns and wraps made of imported fabrics.

A small hat of Bangkok straw is covered with figured linen in a colorful pattern.

Light-weight silk-and-wool knitted apparel introduces new stitches and colorings.

Summer coats are all simple in design, and many show slightly cape-shaped sleeves.

A delightful pump to wear with summer frocks is of gray kid trimmed with colored kid.

An inset section of beige suede braided in black is used on a slipper of patent leather.

The collar on the spring crepe frock may be tied, draped or made of crisp organdie.

The most popular spring fur just now is dyed, fox and it appears in fairly large scarfs.

Extremely chic are the new gloves with turn-over tops which reveal a second color.

Patent leather makes the saddle and heel of a slipper of beige suede with an onyx buckle.

Crisp white organdie makes the collar of a frock of beige jersey embroidered in red wool.

A jabot frill of ecru georgette crepe is based on a trottour of-tan twill braided in brown.

Two Wonderful
 TEA Values
 Orange Pekoe
 TEAS

STRAIGHT FROM SUNNY CEYLON
 at 55c. and 70c. lb.

We guarantee these two values to be absolutely the best procurable, and the blend such as will delight the Newfoundland tea-drinking public. These teas combine the generous warmth of the bright Ceylon sunshine, with the bracing freshness of the Mountain Slopes upon which they grew. Our teas come fresh from Ceylon direct every month, that is the secret of their flavour and also the favour in which they are held. Many teas imported here have been in London perhaps a year and have consequently deteriorated.

If the tea you are using is not satisfactory, give ours a try out and achieve satisfaction. Remember the prices:

- "SUNNY PEAK" 55c. lb.
- "MOUNT VIEW" 70c. lb.

Put up in 1-lb. Air-tight, Dust and Germ-proof Packets.

AGENTS.
 Forty-Four Years in the Service of the Public—The Evening Telegram.

A Mother's Appeal for the Return of Good Times.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—I must thank you, for my sake, as well as for the sake of all my women friends who agree with me; for the good work you are doing in helping to put out the Scourge-Coaker Government. You are right in calling the Telegram the people's paper, for across into the homes of all the people and the opinions and warnings that it gives are common sense and true. Your paper warned us all four years ago against the dangers of Coakerism, but sad to say, some of men were innocently led astray and voted for Coaker's candidates. I know some of those men, myself, in fact my own husband and two sons were amongst the number who made that mistake which they now regret. In this election your paper is giving us the same warnings, so it is the duty now of every man of the family who wants to do good for his wife and children to take your sensible advice and vote in favour of Cashin, Hunt and Linegar. I am glad to say my husband and sons have made up their minds not to be trapped again into supporting Coakerism with all the misery and hunger it has brought to many a good family in St. John's, not to talk of the outports. There is nobody knows more than the women what it costs to keep the home going. It is hard enough when times are fairly good; but it is awful when times are bad and employment is only to be had once in a while. The women, I say, have the hardest end of it, scraping and paring, mending and patching, and trying to make the few dollars that their husbands earn, meet all the household expenses. There is the rent to pay, the coal to be got, the food to be bought, the children's school fees, and hardest of all, the boots and clothing to cover us decently. It is the women indeed who know to their sorrow, what it is to live in a city when hard times are with us. And oh! the bitter sorrow of it to think that all this could have been avoided had thought enough been given to the danger of putting Coaker in charge of the Government. Look at all the men who have lost their employment in St. John's since Coaker began to misrule us; look at all the laborers, clerks, tradesmen, and many others who earned good wages in the stores and on wharves, in workshops, and other places, who were put out of employment and could not help to give their wives and children the common comforts of life. What a shame it was to be sure that one man should be given the power to hurt the people so. Oh, if all the men could only see things as we see them, could only understand the depths of our trouble in hard times, I don't believe there is one man in St. John's who would vote for a Coaker candidate. Thank goodness, I hear that those who won't vote for such are no numbered by the thousands, so we have great hopes of seeing good times and good cheer enter our homes once more. The work of the Telegram too, gives us great hope and great encouragement for better days, and now it is all in the hands of the men who have the votes to help out their families. What a blessing they have such power, otherwise we would have to live on suffering Coakerite misery. I pray with all my heart then that every man will do right by his wife and darling little children, that every son who has a vote will think of his dear mother, and the little brothers and sisters who proudly look up to him; and that with the love of home and families uppermost in their mind, they will all vote the straight ticket for Cashin, Linegar and Hunt.

Yours truly,
 A LOVING MOTHER.
 St. John's, April 10th, 1923.

Constance Talmadge
 Returns to the Nickel.

IN HER LATEST RELEASE, "DANGEROUS BUSINESS."
 The Nickel Theatre will have as its feature attraction to-night Constance Talmadge in "Dangerous Business," adapted by John Emerson and Anita Loos from Madeline Sharp Buchanan's story "The Chessboard." It is directed by William Neill.

According to advance reports this drama is different than the usual run. It does not follow the conventional lines of the persecuted heroine, the villain and the rescuing hero. Nancy Flavell, the madcap society girl who is always falling in and out of love is about to marry one man when at the very altar in order to escape a distasteful marriage she declares she is already a married woman and the wedding is off.

But out of the trying pan into the fire of social trouble. The acting of Miss Talmadge portraying the terrible mental torture Nancy Flavell undergoes in this unique situation is declared to be unequalled for its sincerity.

Another trying situation which is handled with rare tact is when Nancy pleads with the hero to marry her and to make her his wife before the law as she is supposed to be by all their friends. He demands a surety for her good behavior, which she produces and as the fairy tale goes they live happily ever after.

Terrific Storm Cut Swath Across Continent.

A harvest of at least 60 deaths was reaped by an unprecedented March storm, which swept the country, paralyzing wire communication, stalling transportation systems, wrecking buildings and causing property damage running far into the millions. Although the south was the worst sufferer, the blizzard spread itself over the whole territory lying between the Rocky Mountain on the west and the Appalachian Range on the east. Some sections were pelted with a driving sleet, while others were subjected to a torrential deluge of rain, whipped by a gale reaching a velocity as high as 80 miles an hour.

The centre of the disturbance passed near Chicago to the southward, then made its way east, leaving a trail of wreckage in its wake. Roots were torn from buildings in all parts of Chicago, windows broken, basements flooded and many families driven to the street in panic when their homes were rocked by the wind. Trees in Lincoln Park were torn up by the roots and blown across streets, causing much delay in traffic. Broken trolley wires held up street car service and telephone communication was hampered by tangled wires.

Sixty persons are known to have been killed at Pinson, Tenn., and five others lost their lives at Dyersburg, Tenn., near Jackson. The villagers were quietly asleep when the storm broke. Many of the dead were tossed about on the wreckage of their homes as an 80-mile-an-hour-gale swirled about the little town.

Rain and light hail followed the high winds in the two towns, adding to the misery to the more than seventy-five injured, who lay scattered about, while uninjured citizens tried frantically in the darkness to provide for them. After the cyclone had passed little bands of half-clad townspeople struggled to repair the damage to their homes.

100 BUILDINGS WRECKED.
 Bands of relief workers arrived shortly before dawn. They found the school house, two churches, and nearly 100 residences demolished, the debris scattered over a wide area. More than 75 injured were placed on special trains and rushed to Jackson, where the hospital facilities were overtaxed in caring for them. Owing to disruption of wire communication within the storm-wrecked area, only meagre reports of the havoc wrought by the wind could be obtained.

Three persons were killed and two probably fatally injured in the cyclonic storm at Richmond, Ky. A nine-year-old boy lost his life and five other children were severely hurt in the collapse of a school house at South Portsmouth, Ohio; a man fell dead in Milwaukee from exhaustion from his battle with the elements on his way to work, and an oil field worker met death at Elderado, when he was crushed by an unrooted derrick.

Two men were injured in a rear end collision of two Southern Railway trains at Pulaski, Tenn., attributed indirectly to the wind; and trains generally were hours late in the storm affected areas of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee.

The storm moved across the Great Lakes leaving cloudy and unsettled weather in its wake.

TWO TOWNS WRECKED.
 Several scores of persons were injured, and the property damage will run into millions. Snow or rain, and in some cases both, accompanied by a terrific wind which in some localities reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour, took lives, wrecked buildings and crippled telephone and telegraph systems. The South suffered most, two towns in Tennessee being completely wrecked.

"I Can Now Do My Work. Without Feeling Tired"

Mrs. A. Moffatt, Roxton Falls, Que., writes:

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Today I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."

A TERRIBLE EXTRAVAGANCE.

principle, I suppose. How can people be so careless of the way they use their eyes? On the same pose, that makes people more extravagant in the use of a charge account than if they had to pay cash. And if the charge account didn't have to be paid up for 20 years or so, I suppose they might be even more extravagant.

If one had difficulty in seeing one eye the day before, one would probably be careful how one treated them the next day.

But when Nature doesn't ask us to pay anything on our overdrawn account until we are 40 or 50, or even 60 or 70, why should we think so much about it when we are 25 or 30?

Outwitting the Doctor.

A young girl whom I know has been told by her oculist that she must always wear the glasses he has given her for any close work. This is her reaction to that, "I wear them in my room sometimes, but never when anybody can see me. I hate glasses. Sometimes I have a little headache, but most of the time I don't notice the difference. I think doctors exaggerate terribly. He told me I'd have a lot of trouble if I didn't."

If anyone should tell her that he probably meant sometime later, she would doubtless respond that she should worry about that.

And her air when speaking about it shows plainly that she thinks she is being very clever and devil-may-care. Outwitting the doctor, as it were.

Some day she will see things differently. I know a woman of 74, who has suffered some loss of sight. You young people who are reading this doubtless think that is to be expected and that she should be resigned. Well, she isn't the least bit. She doesn't like the idea of blindness one bit better than you do. And the fact that she has her own carelessness in the use of her eyes when she was younger, her habit of working on dark things at night, of reading and sewing into the light instead of with the light coming over her left shoulder, does not make her any more resigned.

They Thought Me Queer.

I went into a hospital once to select the room where I might spend some weeks after an operation. The room was pleasant except that the bed was placed so that one lay looking directly into the light. "If I took this room," I said, "I should have to have the bed turned around so that the light for reading would come from behind." Great surprise! They might do it, but it always had been placed that way. Had no one ever asked to have it turned? I inquired. "Oh, no," they said. And yet presumably dozens of patients had occupied that bed and had, as one always does in such circumstances, spent hours in reading.

Are You Guilty?

Reading with a high light instead of a low, shaded light, working at a desk that looks into the light, reading upwards lying flat on one's back—these are some of the forms of eye extravagance that people, especially people in the careless under 30 years, commit.

I heard another young woman rebuked for eye extravagance, and she said: "Oh, I guess they'll last as long as I want them." Maybe they will and maybe they won't. But don't forget this, that if you are alive you will want them just as poignantly at 70 as you did at 17.

Gaelic League.

VERDICT FOR AFFIRMATIVE.

The members of the Gaelic League held their first debate on Tuesday night in the League club rooms. The subject for debate was: "RESOLVED that the study of the Gaelic language and customs will be beneficial to the people of the Irish race in Newfoundland." The following speakers took part:—Affirmative, D. J. O'Quinn, M. J. James, J. J. Fagan, and Mrs. M. Walsh; Negative, J. A. Gibbs, Theo. Kelly, J. J. St. John and Miss May Ryan. The affirmative side won by a substantial majority. Following the debate the election of officers was held and resulted as follows:—

President—M. Breathnach.
Vice-President—James A. Gibbs.
Treasurer—D. J. O'Quinn.
Asst. Treasurer—J. J. Fagan.
Secretary—M. J. Power.
Asst. Secretary—Miss L. Shortall.
Guard—Leo Hickey.
Director of Publicity—M. J. James.
Director of Organization—Thomas Kelly.
Librarian—J. Targett.

After several routine matters had been attended to the meeting adjourned.

GOING ON AN ERRAND.

(For "Inquisitive.")
"A pound of tea at one-and three
And a pot of raspberry jam,
Two new-laid eggs, a dozen pears,
And a pound of rashers of ham."

I'll say it ever all the way,
And then I'm sure not to forget,
For if I chance to bring things wrong
My mother gets in such a pet.

"A pound of tea at one-and three,
And a pot of raspberry jam,
Two new-laid eggs, a dozen pears,
And a pound of rashers of ham."

There in the hay the children plays—
They're having such jolly fun,
I'll go there, too, that's what I'll do,
As soon as my errands are done.

"A pound of tea at one-and three,
A pot of - er - new-laid jam,
Two raspberry eggs, with a dozen pears
And a pound of rashers of ham."

There's Teddy White a-flying his kite,
He thinks himself Grand, I declare;
I'd like to try to fly it sky high,
Ever so much higher.

Than the old church spire,
And then—and then—but there—
A pound of three and one at tea,
A pot of new-laid jam,
Two dozen eggs, some raspberry pears,
And a pound of rashers of ham."

Now here's the shop, outside I'll stop
And run through my orders again—
I haven't forgot—no, ne'er a jot—
It shows I'm pretty cute, that's plain.

"A pound of three at one and tea,
A dozen of raspberry jam,
A pot of eggs, with a dozen pears,
And a rasher of new-laid jam."

Man is Held on Mystery Death.

POLICE THINK DETROIT SUPT. WAS RUN THROUGH GRINDING MILL.

DETROIT, Mich., March 28.—(Associated Press)—Acting on the story that Joseph A. Campbell, superintendent of a reduction company, who disappeared February 10, was slain and his body destroyed by running it through machinery used in the manufacture of fertilizer, county authorities to-day detained George Reynolds, night fireman at the plant. Investigation is said to have disclosed that the grinding machinery in the plant was in operation from 11 p.m. until 5 a.m. on the night of February 10, contrary to custom.

It is declared Campbell and Reynolds were alone in the plant that night and that no evidence can be found that the superintendent ever left the place.

CRIME TO BUEN.

The crime wave still keeps up its lick; the grim statistics make me sick. The daily papers, all the time, produce red narratives of crime, and a d a l l t h e morgues and all the jails are full of slain or slaying males. And as I go my humble way, the crime wave hits me every day. I'm often charged two bucks or more for meals that make my innards sore. Some restaurant hangs out a sign, and happily I go there to dine. The meat is tough and badly cooked, the fish was dead when it was hooked, the coffee's cold, of muddy hue, the picrust tastes of liquid glue, and everything is stale and sour, there's nothing that I can devour. I dig two dollars from my rags, and sigh, "This crime wave never sags; it's up and coming all the time; some things wink out, but never crime." I travel much, through dales and dells, and sometimes stop at strange hotels, and often wonder where the host dug up the bed down which I coast. Just when I start to dream and snore, I slide along and hit the floor; a circus actor might recline on such a bed, nor break his spine. When in the office I arrive and ask my bill, the host says, "Five!" Five smackers for a night of pain! The crime wave is on deck again!

3,000 Miles Ash by Mountie in Arctic.

DAWTON, Y.T.,—(Canadian Press)—Three thousand miles over snow and ice is the remarkable mushing record of a dog team being made by Corporal Paisley of the Canadian Mounted Police, according to advice from Rampart House on Porcupine River in the Arctic.

Corporal Paisley, who is in charge of the Police post at Rampart, is still mushing and will complete the three thousand miles by the time snow disappears next month.

During the winter he made three round trips between Rampart and Fort Yukon, each totalling 500 miles, one trip to Lapierre House and several to Old Crow. He is now travelling across the Arctic Divide on route to Herschel Island where he will spend next summer.

Supplies in the Rampart House are reported exhausted and the game has all trekked to other parts. The natives are compelled to go through the winter on a rabbit diet. Fortunately rabbits are plentiful.

C. L. B. Cadets.

Tuesday night Avalon Battalion were busy in all departments. Lt. Col. Walter Rendell, C.B.O. Officer Commanding was on duty with Major Williams, Captains, H. Outerbridge, M.B.E., J. B. Rendell; Lieut. G. Ash, A. B. Perlin, F. E. Reid, and Harold Hayward. President of the Old Comrades and Regt. Sgt. Major Harold Rendell. Lt. Geo. Hunt is Orderly Officer for this week and the Sgt. Chaplain Mr. J. Brinton read the "Prayers" which will parade at 7.45 p.m. Friday and Thursday as usual. On Monday Regt. Sgt. Major H. Rendell will give the lads half an hour's lecture on "How the Naval Reserve swept up the enemy's mines in the North Sea." The gallant Regt. Sgt. Major is an ex-Navy man.

All lads wearing large cap badges are ordered to exchange same for small size badges at the Quartermaster's department.

Orderly Sergeants are ordered to have Company room lights out at ten p.m.

The caretaker has orders to switch all lights "off the main" at eleven p.m.

The Battalion is dismissed every evening at 9.30 p.m.

No officers or other rank will be allowed to use the Old Comrades Club rooms whilst in uniform.

Lieut. A. B. Perlin who is going out of town on business is granted one month's leave from April seventeenth.

Major Dawe, Officer Commanding Bay Roberts Company, was a visitor to Headquarters. He received a hearty welcome from Lt. Col. Walter Rendell and all Officers and took a special interest in examining the Brigades Memorial War Shrine containing the names of all those comrades who have made the supreme sacrifice. Major Dawe reports his Company in good shape and the new Rector and Chaplain of his Company taking more than usual interest.

We notice the Old Comrades are asking through the press the public's opinion as to whether they want a new race boat for the 1923 Regatta. As this is a public sport and the Brigade no funds available unless the public assist it is feared no new boat will be forthcoming. It's unreasonable to expect the C.L.B. to provide the expenses of a new boat as well as to look after its care and upkeep.

The Brigade's finance committee held a conference last night and discussed the 1923 budget. Lt. Col. Walter Rendell was chairman. It was decided to send out a circular letter appealing to supporters and friends to become "Honorary Members" by paying an annual subscription. The past few years the officers and lads raised their expenses by the Budget scheme each department contributing on account of their assessments. This year the Brigade needs some eight hundred dollars to make ends meet and it is hoped to raise this by subscription and have an honour roll of subscribers.

The Athletic Association had a meeting last night and were finalising arrangements for the Annual indoor sports, as well as the boxing and wrestling tournament. Classes will be decided by age and not by height. Junior under fifteen years. Intermediate fifteen years and under eighteen. Senior, eighteen years and over for the indoor sports May third at Headquarters Armoury.

The competition for the "Colonel Outerbridge Shield" will be held on May first. Officers and lads will please note this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

The boxing and wrestling tournament will be held on April 25th, and will be under the auspices of the C. L. B. Athletic Association. Sergeant Johnson is accepting the entries and has generously given a trophy for boxing to competitors under ninety-eight pounds.

Thursday night's lecture this week was given to the lads in the Gymnasium by Captain Hugh LeMessurier an ex-C.L.B. Officer and late of the Oxford and Bucks Regt., who kindly gave the lads an address on the "Modern factory methods of soap making." He gave the lads a most descriptive talk on the gathering of raw materials from the distant parts of the earth and their processes till the finished article is delivered ready for use by either her ladyship or the "laddy" woman, or the barber. His Majesty the Baby, etc. All ranks were glad to hear from an ex-C.L.B. officer like Capt. LeMessurier and hope to hear from him again. The Captain invited any of the lads present to visit the soap factory and he would be pleased to show them through the premises.

At the close the lads gave Capt. LeMessurier three hearty cheers for his kindly services.

Lieut. Col. W. F. Rendell, O.C. addressed the meeting of Old Comrades. They held a meeting to discuss the question of a new race boat, the matter of uniforms, etc.

The gymnastic class were at work as usual, and the Battalion Brass Band held their weekly practice.

The following have been officially presented five years' good conduct medals: Lance Corporal Tetford, P. Co.; Acting Sergt. Tetford, C. Co.;

Lance Corporals Coaker, Rees and Gardiner, A. Co. These were handed to the winners of these honours by his Lordship Bishop White Regt. Chaplain.

The Battalion is taking on a new lease of enthusiasm and re-organization is slowly and quietly going on a solid foundation.

Eagle Discharged.
The S.S. Eagle finished discharging her cargo of fat at Bowring's Southside premises last evening. The official specifications were not available up to press hour; but 10,761 can be considered as her correct turn out. The crew will share in the vicinity of $41.00. Messrs. Baine Johnstone and Co., purchased the crews share at $4.50 per quintal, and the seals are now being stowed at their Southside premises, and will be shipped later to Harbor Grace for manufacture.

Railway Line Will Open.
CROSS COUNTRY SERVICE WILL BE RESUMED.

The railway line from St. John's to Kitty's Brook west, is now in good running order. The rotary works are clearing the track from Port aux Pasques, and are hopeful of cleaning up this end of the branch by the end of the week. As soon as the rails are free of all snow the company intends to continue the cross country service as formerly.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.
LIVELY SCENE IN COMMONS.
LONDON, April 12.
Perhaps never since the days of Parnellite obstruction has such a scene of violent uproar been witnessed in the Commons as that which today transformed an ordinarily placid and dignified chamber into an absolute bedlam. Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced a motion framed to counteract last night's defeat, only to meet with a storm unexcelled in present-day parliamentary annals. In the face of which the speaker was powerless to obtain a division and declared that motion carried under closure, and the House adjourned until to-morrow. Amid general uproar from Labor benches, was heard the stinging of Red Flag, the first time the Chamber of the Mother of Parliaments echoed with familiar words and tune, but nobody seemed to attach special significance to it, as the song has become familiar throughout the country by repetition at countless meetings and demonstrations; and it is recognized as Labor's "National Anthem." None of the London papers referred to the stinging as having special significance, and Laborite Herald gives it no more prominence than other. Accounts are conflicting concerning the actual scrimmage in the House, and eye witnesses are hopelessly at variance. Laborites assert one of their members was struck and that this precipitated attack on William Ormsby-Gore, Under Secretary for Scotland, by a Scotch member with whom the Under Secretary immediately came to grief. Both Ramsay Macdonald and Chancellor Baldwin interrupted to separate contestants, and several angry members were seen rushing behind the Speaker's chair, apparently with the intention of attacking some of the ministerialists, but were prevented by colleagues.

DIED.
At noon, on Wednesday, April 11th, James Stott, Funeral on Friday at 3 o'clock (sharp) from his late residence, 39 Military Road.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of Pte. Michael McDonald, Portugal Coy. Road, who was killed in action, somewhere in France, April 12th, 1918. May his soul rest in peace.
At the falling of the leaves you left us To cross the ocean with us. We never thought we would miss you Until the moment that you died.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear son, Frederick J. Jacobs, who was killed in action somewhere in France, on April 12th, 1918; also of my dear daughter, Elsie, who died March 1st, 1919.
On the resurrection morning,
Soul and body meet again,
No more sorrow, no more weeping,
No more pain!
—Inserted by their Mother.

IN FOND AND LOVING MEMORY
of 2349, Pte. John Squires, killed in action, April 12th, 1917, aged 19 years. Far away in sunny Flanders,
Where crimson poppies wave;
Every night the stars shone softly
On a brave young soldier's grave.
And his mother's heart is aching
And filled with bitter pain;
When she thinks about the loved one
Whom she ne'er will see again.
Rows of little snow white crosses,
Mark the spot where heroes rest;
Gallant boys of Terra Nova
Who were Better Than the Best.

Oh! we never shall forget him,
Though we cannot see his grave;
For he died to save his country
And he sleeps among the brave.
—Inserted by his mother.

Alabastine

THE interior of the most beautiful homes and other buildings are decorated with Alabastine. Alabastine gives tone, elegance and brilliancy to the walls. Alabastine is easily applied. Just use cold water and a flat brush. Alabastine colors are permanent, and will not rub off. It is a cement, and gradually becomes harder and harder with age. An Alabastine wall can be re-coated without removing the old coat. Alabastine walls make a room lighter and more cheerful. And no wall is so sanitary as an Alabastine wall. No disease germ or insect can live or breed in Alabastine walls. Come in and we will show you many beautiful specimens of Alabastine beauty.

What's in the Contract?

What are the Labor Clauses? Why Keep the People in the Dark.

The public is amazed that Squires will not publish the Humber Agreement. "What," the question is on every lip, "what is in it that Squires dare not publish it?"

It is said, for instance, that there are clauses which vitally affect labor. One provides that no law shall ever be made to prevent the importation of foreign labor.

A terrible thing is being proposed to this Colony. It is being asked, in reality, to sign a blank cheque in favor of Squires, Coaker and Collishaw—the unspeakable trio, the most unspeakable Collishaw!

Coaker Still Bluffing.

Speaking at Bonavista a fortnight ago, W. F. Coaker stated that all Conception Bay men could be bought for a ten-dollar bill, and he hoped to God that Bonavista men would never descend to such depths.

Harbor Grace District.

GIVES BENNETT PARTY ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

The Hon. J. R. Bennett, Leader of the Opposition, and his colleagues Messrs. Hickman and Archibald, are meeting enthusiastic welcome in the Harbor Grace District.

On Tuesday night the three candidates visited Upper Island Cove where a meeting was held, presided over by Mr. John Lundrigan.

Yesterday afternoon Bishop's Cove was visited. Flags were flying in all directions and were draped across some of the roads.

At night a meeting was held in Spaniard's Bay, with Mr. Ernest Coase in the chair. The hall, whose seating capacity is about 700, was filled to the door.

This afternoon Mr. Bennett and his colleagues propose visiting Tilton, and at night holding a public meeting at Colley's Point.

harmful. The Squires-Coaker government has written its own condemnation and the record is not in the paragraphs of ephemeral campaign sheets but in the injury done to the Fisheries by the Coaker regulations.

THE RESCUE.

HELP COMES AT LAST!

The serious state of affairs in the country to-day cannot but be apparent to the most casual, and a short reference to the Bennett Manifesto will reveal, as a shock to everyone, the terrible danger of our unenviable situation.

The men we want to-day, if we are to be saved, are men of proven integrity, who have reached the top in each particular sphere of life. BENNETT IS HERE AT LAST AND BEHIND HIM ARE MEN WHOM THE COUNTRY HAS FAITH IN.

They will sweep aside the swarm of Coakerites and establish a Sound, Clean Government by Sound, Clean Men, so that soon, very soon, we may welcome the realization of BENNETT AND BETTER TIMES!

Rousing Reception at Petty Harbor.

BENNETT CANDIDATES ASSURED OF VICTORY.

No political party for the past twenty years was accorded such a spontaneous reception as that given by the people of Petty Harbor yesterday on a visit being paid there by Mr. Walter Monroe, Roberts, Winsor, Hunt and Linegar.

Partly Harbor was opposed to the Bennett Party, but after a 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Messrs. Hunt and Linegar, the leaders of the United Fishermen's Movement, and a number of enthusiastic supporters, Mr. W. S. Monroe left the city by the tug John Green on route to the settlement.

The arrival at Petty Harbor, was signalled by volley after volley of gunfire, while flags were displayed on every house. The windows were all decorated with vari-colored lights, and as darkness set in many bonfires on the hills around made the scene a stirring one.

At the conclusion of the meeting the greater part of the committee repaired to Cashin's wharf where they tendered a hearty welcome to Messrs. Linegar, Hunt and Monroe on their return from Petty Harbor by the tug John Green.

At the East End Committee Rooms, Mechanics' Hall, last evening, a meeting of the Young Voters' Committee was held.

The old reliable chairman, Mr. Thomas Whitten, Sr., was again to the fore and occupied the chair in welcoming the gentlemen from the city the chairman referred to the pleasure it gave all to see Mr. Monroe enter the political field. Speeches were then made by Messrs. Linegar, Monroe, Roberts, Hunt and Jesse Winsor, each of whom expressed his pleasure of being present and the whole-hearted reception given them.

At Headquarters.

VICTORY ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The usual large gathering was present last night at the West End Headquarters of the Bennett Party. In the absence of the candidates, who were at Petty Harbor, excellent addresses were made by Mr. Arthur English, Captain L. C. Murphy and Mr. P. J. Shea.

Mr. Shea handled the fish regulations in a very capable manner and told of the bungling and disaster that resulted from their enforcement.

At the conclusion of the meeting the greater part of the committee repaired to Cashin's wharf where they tendered a hearty welcome to Messrs. Linegar, Hunt and Monroe on their return from Petty Harbor by the tug John Green.

Petty Harbor Voters

SEND CHEERFUL NEWS TO THE CITY.

Dear Sir,—Every day that we get word from St. John's are told that the whole city is almost to a man in favour of the BENNETT GOVERNMENT; so I thought I would send along a bit of cheerful news to our friends in St. John's that Petty Harbor Voters are also strongly in favour of the same party.

By the look of things now it will be a clean sweep all over St. John's West for Cashin, Linegar and Hunt, and because of this, we out here in Petty Harbor would like to be given our proper share of the credit for the good work when all is over.

Squires and The Reids

How He Put Them in Their Places.

Sir Richard Squires, must think the people of this country are fools if he supposes that they will swallow the stuff he serves up to them in his paper these nights to make good his claim that he has put the Reids in their place and wrung from them concessions for the Colony in regard to the Humber Deal.

Let us examine this story of how he put the Reids in their places. He was elected in the Fall of 1919 on a promise to make the Reids carry out their contract in regard to the Railway.

How has he made that promise good? He has done nothing to carry out their contract. He has done nothing to compel the Reids to make good in any part of their undertaking in this island? Has he not done the very opposite of what he promised he would do?

The Straight Ticket for Walsh, Sullivan and Sinnott

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir,—When our "Three Good Men and True," Walsh, Sullivan and Sinnott, arrived here to-day to open their victorious campaign. They were given a reception worthy of the place they have found in the hearts of the people.

It would be difficult to find finer men than these three popular candidates of "The People," of whom they are truly representative.

Being themselves of the people they typify in every respect, the virtue, clean cut, honest and sincere Newfoundlanders; their honesty, sincerity of purpose, and sacred regard of the trust which the people have reposed in them, has found for them a place in the confidence of the people which should cause them much gratification.

In this day of the opportunist, it is refreshing to know that we can yet produce such MEN, men who consider the mandate of the people as a sacred trust; and who will not allow considerations, or personal aggrandizement to deflect their high ideals of Statesmanship.

The names WALSHE, SULLIVAN and SINNOTT, deserve well of a future historian of Newfoundland. What an ideal form of Government, "Of the people, for the people by the people." This is the Utopia of Government, and the true democracy "MEN who can walk with Kings, and not lose the common touch."

While we are too proud to claim all three as our own, Placentia is peculiarly proud to be able to lay claim to the fact, that in this splendid aggregation of men is one of her best known sons, we refer to Mr. Edward Sinnott.

Mr. Sinnott is a son of a family who, for the past hundred years, has been actively and extensively connected with the commercial and public life of Newfoundland, and in the records of Placentia, the name of Sinnott finds a prominent place.

Although sitting in the "Shades of Opposition" the past few years, Mr. Sinnott has already by his utterances shown that his knowledge of the affairs of the country is not only extensive, and that he has some unusually practical ideas as to how the utilities should be administered.

Although we fear Mr. Sinnott is the possessor of that rather "human weakness" of a quiet and retiring disposition, he has quietly and unobtrusively done for the district all that a member in Opposition should do. We know him to be a man of sound common sense, absolute honesty, and strict honesty of opinion.

Like many of these quiet people who are aroused, a fighter to a fault, with many a difficult problem which the New Government will have to deal with, in order to get our sagdage has placed us, the people, in the past four years of political misadventure, in a position where the common sense and ready knowledge of the needs of the country which Sinnott possesses will make him a desirable and most valuable member of the Bennett Government, and actually the type of man which the country is now crying for.

While we realize that in returning Mr. Sinnott, they are placing another man in the seat to be filled, and promote the interests; and although he does not seek the limelight, he will find measures for the good of our district. THEREFORE LET IT BE THE STRAIGHT TICKET FOR WALSHE, SULLIVAN, and SINNOTT. A BROTHER OF OURS.

RESPECTFULLY,
PLACENTIA, April 7th, 1923.

Political Paragraphs.

The big meeting at the Star Theatre spells six Opposition men for St. John's.

There is one thing that the Government wants to make certain of before they are turned out on May 3rd, and that is that there must not be a dollar left in the Treasury.

Sir John Crosbie, who knows what he is talking about, told the meeting Tuesday night that the Government had spent it all.

What a terrible record, $15,500,000 and nothing to show for it. Isn't it high time to turn out such a gang of wasters?

Bonavista Bay is shouting for Monro, and the big committees organized in the different parts of the District are almost sufficient to elect him.

Squires told the truth if only for once when he said "This is a special election." Specially hastened on by Providence to prevent him from making a complete ruin of Newfoundland.

The tide of victory is running stronger every day for the Opposition all over the country. Bennett is now practically assured of the Government. It is only a question of how many of a majority he will have.

Mr. Fred Ayre should feel proud of the compliment paid to him by Sir Michael Coaker, late Minister of Finance and Customs at Tuesday's meeting. It was a splendid vindication against the attacks on the Water Street merchants by Sir Richard Squires.

Three weeks more and the cloud of depression that hangs over poor old Terra Nova will be dissipated by the quiet dropping of the white ballots and the sun of prosperity will shine out.

After it is all over and the ballots are counted we shall all be wondering why we had any doubt that the people would do their duty and turn the rascals out.

Bennett's Manifesto will put heart into the people of Newfoundland and inspire the hope that it is yet possible to save the country from utter ruin.

The cheers that greeted Sir John Crosbie and J. C. Pender at the grandstand of supporters that assembled at the Railway station to see them off to Bay de Verde had a ring of victory in them that made the few Squiresites in the vicinity tremble.

All admit that Tuesday night's meeting was the greatest ever held in St. John's. About 500 went away unable to gain admittance. The verdict on all sides was "The whole town is gone to Bennett."

Conception Bay will fall into line with St. John's and the West Coast will follow.

The Fish Exporters of the South West Coast will after May 3rd feel able to make arrangements to export their cargoes of new fish to Oporto as soon as it is cured for market. The freedom to do this is what built up part of the coast. The prevention of it by Coaker is what killed the West Coast. He will never have the power to do it again.

Bennett's Bonus of one dollar a quintal on fish will be money better spent than making roads through the woods to nowhere like the Badger and Bonne Bay Roads. It will mean a better quality of fish and better prices.

Bennett will take the $30,000 that Dr. Barnes has earmarked for a useless and expensive staff of "High Crows" and give it to the rank and file of badly paid teachers who are doing the work and not talking platitudes and theories that are no good for the people of the country.

Mr. Walter Monroe said something when he designated the rule of the last three and a half years as a reign of terror. The triumvirate ruled the country by Minute of Council and there was a suspension of Responsible Government. No more Minute of Council rule after May 3rd.

Humber Deal.

NOT AN ISSUE.

Those who state that the Humber deal is an issue in this election say that they know to be absolutely false. This question is an issue before the people the terms and conditions would be published in full. A contract agreed to and signed by the respective parties should be laid bare all its details so that the public could pronounce intelligently upon it. If the Government has been so very secret in regard to this very important matter. Why is it so secret? Why does not the Government tell them just what this Humber deal is? The people are now asked to sign a blank cheque for Squires and Coaker to fill in just as they please when the election is over. But the people already know, from past experience that Squires and Coaker can't be trusted. The people too are growing suspicious of the secret deal that may exist between the Government and the Reids, in which it is said that the Railway is to be taken over by Reids hands for two or three million dollars. Let there be no more of these "deals in the dark," these secret companies that never spell any good for the people who have to pay the taxes. Let the public know what the Humber Deal is so that they may understand what it is that Squires and Coaker have to offer in this deal for the benefit of the country. No sane man will vote for a party that asks him to get it blindly and endorse a measure that he knows nothing of, and one that may put a chain around our necks for all time. Publish the terms of the contract that all may know what they are voting for.

Has Arm Broken.

DRIVER RECEIVES NASTY FALL.

Mr. William Lawrence, driver for Dr. T. M. Mitchell met with a painful accident recently when he fell and broke his right arm near the elbow. The mishap occurred when stepping from his sleigh to the sidewalk. The fall was a very heavy one and besides suffering from a broken arm he received a bad shaking up. The arm was set by Dr. Wilson at the General Hospital, and is now doing as well as can be expected.

VULCANITE ROOFING

Vulcanite Roofing is made and guaranteed by the Beaver Company, Ltd., makers of Beaver Board. During the year 1920 and 1921 Vulcanite Roofing sold at seven dollars per roll. THE PRICE OF VULCANITE ROOFING IS NOW ONLY $4.00 PER ROLL. Each roll of Vulcanite Roofing is full size, complete with nails and cement for laying. A roll of Vulcanite Roofing contains 108 square feet and will cover 100 square feet of roofing surface. Vulcanite Roofing when laid by a certificated roofer, is guaranteed to last for fifteen years. Vulcanite Roofing is guaranteed fully equal to higher priced roofings of similar weight and size. At $4.00 per roll Vulcanite Roofing is cheaper than felt, because giving better wear it outlasts felt. When Vulcanite Roofing is used, you do not need to buy nails or tins, and your roof does not need to be painted or tarred, or otherwise coated until the Vulcanite has been 12 months on your roof. Roofs covered with Vulcanite Roofing pay lower insurance premiums than roofs covered with felt.

Gold Seekers.

PREPARING TO BLAZE TRAIL OF 1923.

(Canadian Press)—In a speech that fired the imagination, thrilled even staid and cautious business men, and brought back memories of the days of '98 in the Klondyke, Rev. Dr. Morgan Genge, pastor of the Central Christian Church of Charlottetown, recently discoursed on the alluring possibilities of the gold strike in Labrador, before the members of the Retail Merchants' Association.

Dr. Genge is a native of Channel, Newfoundland. Before entering the ministry, Dr. Genge hunted the seal and toiled on the Newfoundland Banks in the quest for cod. He is familiar with every harbor in the Ancient Colony and on the iron bound coast of Labrador. He has sailed as master his own vessel trading in the various outposts. He has a wealth of information concerning the climate and physical features of the country, which he believes is bound to be the Mecca of thousands of gold seeking pilgrims next Spring. He sees a new El Dorado arising in the north-east and draws the most entrancing pictures of the trail of 1923.

The doctor is well acquainted with Stag Bay, the scene of the gold find last Summer. The bay is east of the Canadian Labrador and is under the jurisdiction of the Newfoundland Government. It lies northeast of Cape Charles, about two hundred miles in that direction from the Belle Isle Straits. There is no rail communication. It is about three days by steamer from North Sydney and about the same distance from Charlottetown.

Last Fall the Doctor had a visit from his brother Captain George Genge, master of a Newfoundland vessel. He brought the news that during the summer when the find "was verified, excitement was intense." Now, with the approach of Spring big preparations for the coming boom are under way.

"During past years the Labrador," said the Doctor, "has been considered a barren wilderness, visited only by hunters and fishermen, the latter after the lordly red salmon at the mouths of the rivers. Only a few men ever penetrated into the rocky interior. It was while scouting for lumber that H. C. Bellevue, of Montreal, an old Klondyker, stumbled last summer upon the gold as he followed one of the rivers that empties into Stag Bay, and since then 800 claims have been staked on the Big Brook River, Black Duck Brook and the Camiatack River. The news, kept secret for a time, leaked out, and I have been credibly informed the assays made showed that fifty-six pounds of river silt yielded twenty-two ounces of gold. Some nuggets were found two and a half feet beneath the surface of the sand."

Many of the harbors of the Labrador are very deep and a vessel can lie close to the cliffs in many places, but at Stag Bay the water is shallow, from two to three feet, lending support to the theory that this rock bottom is an alluvial deposit that has been washed down by the streams and freshets of years, when the ice melts in the Springtime.

"I believe," said the speaker, "that placer mining will first be carried on, washing the banks of the rivers and brooks for the precious metal. In fact some of the claims staked are under water."

When navigation opens about the last of May or early in June Dr. Genge predicts that 50,000 people will be at Stag Bay, and the human tide will have doubled in volume in a few weeks.

Newfoundland was bound to be enriched apart from whatever gold was found, on account of the duties on goods which would be imported. The Government was preparing to meet the situation which the invasion of gold seekers would create. The police of Newfoundland were the finest in the world. They are men of splendid physique and were incorruptible—they could not be bought. The inhabitants of the mighty new mining camp which was to grow up mushroom-like, only twelve miles from Anchor Point, Newfoundland, on the opposite side of the Straits of Belle Isle would be guaranteed British law. The wide-open, lurid conditions prevailing in the early days of the Alaskan and Californian gold strike would not be in evidence.

The Northern Labrador after the first of June had splendid weather. The sun shines strongly on the southern frontage where beautiful flowers bloom. In the southeast, however, there is considerable fog. A motor boat making nine knots could reach Stag Bay in the summer in three days from Charlottetown and owing to the proximity of Prince Edward Island to the gold fields, Dr. Genge sees golden opportunities for its people. The mining camp will want immense supplies including foodstuffs and the "Garden of the Gulf" can therefore find a magnificent market for her products. After November 10th, however, Jack Frost impenetrably seals the Labrador, and everything must be in by that time to supply the camp during the winter. The Maritime ports would have the advantage of Quebec and Ontario as the opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence would be too late for the trade, and there was no way of competing by rail. There was no way of getting supplies to the goldfields by rail. There was no way of getting supplies to the gold fields after the first part of November. The miners were not only to take dog teams and go 1,500 miles to Quebec. It was not only the amount of supplies that the incoming prospectors would buy, but the continuous stream of supplies that must pour into the mining camps all summer that made Stag Bay so important.

to Charlottetown and other ports in the Maritime Provinces.

In addition to the big demand for potatoes, turnips, salt and smoked meats, there would be a rush for thousands of dollars worth of woolen gloves, stockings, underwear, and other clothing, hardware, portable stoves, portable huts that could be "knocked together" in the shortest possible time would be needed. But probably the biggest of all demands would be for canned products. Canned vegetables, in pound tins, canned "dinners" of mixed meat and vegetables would also be wanted.

Opportunities that Edmonton, Calgary, and across the border, Seattle grasped at so successfully twenty-five years ago may be at our door to-day. If any action is to be taken, it should be taken promptly.

Dr. Genge stressed the advisability of Charlottetown merchants buying a steamer or steamers, and assembling supplies immediately so as to be in readiness for the rush to the gold fields when the ice leaves Labrador. There would also in all possibility be a big passenger traffic to that country during the next few months—now was the time to prepare.

As an outcome of the meeting a committee of well known business men was organized to canvass the whole situation and get all possible authentic information that would be of value in shaping their plans.

TO MEET A JAW-BREAKER.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Luis Angel Firpo, South American contender for the heavyweight championship, has been matched with Farmer Lodge, of Minneapolis, for a 15-round contest at the charity boxing show on May 12th in the Yankee Stadium. This bout will precede the Jess Willard-Floyd Johnson encounter.

Lodge has earned something of a reputation as a "jaw-breaker" as a result of fracturing the chins of two opponents with knockout punches. He broke Paul Sampson's jaw in the second round of a contest at Madison Square Garden in 1921, and later administered the same punishment to Cliff Kramer in the third round. He is six feet three inches in height, and weight 235 pounds, and has an unusual reach of 83 inches.

BLOOMFIELD BEAT JONES.

LONDON, March 26.—"Soldier" Jones, heavyweight champion of Canada, was defeated at the National Sporting Club to-night in the fifth round by Jack Bloomfield, the British light-heavyweight boxer. The men were fighting for the Empire Cruiser-weight championship.

Jones began the fight briskly and had the better of the first round. After some quick exchanges in the second round, Bloomfield sent left and right to the chin, flooring the Canadian for the count of five. In the third Bloomfield dropped Jones for the count of nine. Early in the fourth session Jones hurt his right hand. Bloomfield, fighting coolly, landed several short hooks to the jaw. Half way through the fifth round Jones retired.

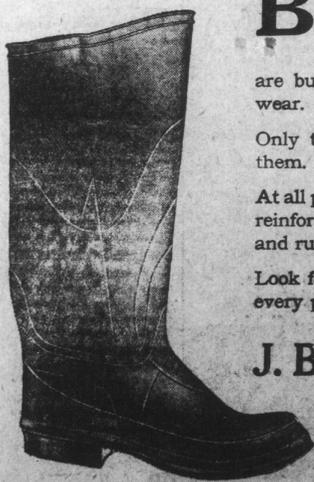

Why the Wind Blows.

What makes the wind blow? Have you ever thought? Wind is air in rapid motion, and is caused by changes in atmospheric pressure. When air becomes heated it is displaced by cooler air, and the movements of these currents at different temperatures leave what are known as "pockets" of space where there is no air. The air rushes with force into these pockets, and by doing so creates a wind.

The so-called whistle of the wind is not really made by the wind at all, but by the vibration of the objects which it strikes, such as tightly-stretched wire, telegraph and flag posts.

Winds have an important effect upon clouds for, when the cold winds blow upon them, the vapour becomes condensed, and in consequence rain falls. Warm winds cause vapour to become less dense, and in consequence rain is averted.

Our Weekly Letter.

From our own Correspondent.

Youngsters are getting quite bold and fearless at pickpocketing. Three boy pickpockets of 12, 15, and 16 years of age, described by the Star as formerly one of the smartest gangs they ever seen at work, were arrested on Place d'Armes as they were rifling handbags held by women and girls preparing to board street cars after the day's work.

When detectives I. Savard and French, who caught the little fellows after a chase, had a chance to look over their prisoners, they recognized three lads who have already been before the Juvenile Court on pickpocket charges. Once more they face Judge Choquet.

Complaints that office employees from downtown skyscrapers were being robbed as they waited for or boarded uptown cars led the detectives to watch for the pickpockets. Hidden among the ladies Savard and French say they saw the little fellows getting purse after purse and discarding them when the found nothing that interested them. One of the gang was so expert that he was opening women's handbags while the women held the bags in front of them. At sight of the sleuths the boys ran, but were caught after a short chase.

The three were arrested early in January by a constable of No 5 police station who received information that some boys were throwing away purses in the lane at the rear of the store then operated by Almy's. They confessed they were looting bags and purses they had secured through working uptown street corners during the afternoon shopping rush.

Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railway System issued a circular to all in the service of the system. In it he lays down five requests which, if confronted with, will seal, he says, to the success of National Railways.

Courtesy, the making of friends, the finding of traffic, and stoppage of waste embody Sir Henry's prescription for success.

His circular reads:

"The organization for administering the Canadian National Railway System as one complete unit has been decided. Operating regions, districts, and divisions, have been determined. The necessary officers have been selected and their duties prescribed. We have embarked upon a mutual enterprise of great difficulty and of vast importance to ourselves both as employees of the company and as citizens of the Dominion. If we want a success of our undertaking we shall not have added materially to our individual welfare and reputation as railroad men, but we shall have performed a fine and patriotic service which will reflect itself in the advancement and prosperity of our country in which we will all share. But our success will depend upon the skill, energy and high principles with which the property is administered and upon the fidelity, loyalty and vigilance which actuate every employee in the performance of his daily duties. Technical ability alone will not win the battle. Only by enthusiastic and constant team work on the part of the great army of our men can we hope to win.

"I am sure that every man in the service ardently wishes our experiment to succeed; and it will if each one tries to live up to these simple rules:

1. Be courteous and helpful to everyone, especially the public.—We need their business.
2. Try to make a friend a day for the Company.
3. Try to influence all the freight and passenger you can our way. You may think that this is the job of the Traffic Department; so it is, but you and I and all of us first, last and always, belong to that department.
4. Do all you can to stop waste. Try and save something each day for the company.
5. Remember you are working for a Company you may be proud of, and Rum Runners Clutter Ocean.

WIND-JAMMER WITHOUT WARNING, HIT STEAMER, SAYS CAPTAIN.

NEW YORK. (Associated Press).—The United States freighter Birmingham City arrived in quarantine last night with a big dent in the steel plates of her bow and a story about the menace of wind-jammering rum-runners skirting across the ocean traffic lanes, full speed, without lights or signals, through a dark, foggy night.

The Birmingham City, from London was heading toward Ambrose Channel at 4 a.m. yesterday, booming her fog signals Capt. Arnot related. Ahead of the course seemed clear.

"The freighter was about 16 miles east of Ambrose Channel Lightship—anchorage of the rum fleet—when without warning a three-masted schooner appeared in her course, head on, under full sail. She carried no lights and sounded no whistles, he declared.

Lookouts on both ships raised cries of warning, but they struck, and both crews made for the lifeboats.

Realizing his vessel was in no danger, Capt. Arnot halted the schooner to learn if she was in need of assistance. He received no answer from her.

Coast guards and wireless stations said they had received no word of a schooner in distress.

Disturbed Peace.

Nearly all the world agrees that Mr. Howard Carter, the Egyptologist, has done valuable work in discovering the tomb of Tutankhamen, but apparently there are a few "dissentient voices." One in the form of a poem is quite worth quoting:—
All hail to Mr. Carter!
He's a hero, I presume,
For could anything be smarter
Than to find an old king's tomb?
There are silver, gold, and tin in
There are wondrous jewels galore,
There is Tutankhamen's linen,
So we know now what he wore.
But I hope that I will never
Be interred with silver cup,
For I'm bothered if I'll ever
Want the world to dig me up!

"Quarantined."

GREAT SUCCESS—HALL FILLED TO OVERFLOWING.

St. Mary's Hall, Southside, was filled Tuesday night with an overflowing audience, which had gathered to witness the presentation of the three-act comedy "Quarantined" by the St. Mary's Dramatic troupe. The play was one of those delightful laughable comedies which appeals to a St. John's audience. The cast of performers portrayed their roles faultlessly, and from beginning to end the audience were kept in continued good humour. Director T. P. Halley and troupe are to be congratulated on their splendid production. The climax is reached in the second act, when the cook of Tod Hunter's residence in Chicago is stricken down with smallpox. The scene is taken from the Dancing Academy room in the same building, and the inmates, fearful of the disease, including the pupils who are taking dancing lessons, are placed under quarantine, and closely guarded by the police. Mr. Bert Colton, who played the part of "Grandpa," a wealthy farmer from Ohio, arrived at the Academy a few hours previous to visit his nephew, who is a great friend of the Hunters, and is also placed under quarantine. Mrs. B. Colton, who acted "Pansy Hopscotch," a very wealthy woman who was a pupil at the Academy, fearing that she had symptoms of the disease planned out a daring escape from the building with the new cook. The idea was that the cook was to make a safe get away unnoticed. The unexpected happened, however, when Pansy caught her dress in a nail while being forced through the window and lost all chance of gaining her freedom. The new cook was eventually captured by the police and brought back to the house and held under close surveillance. The audience at the Academy was a mirth provoking one and the audience was kept highly amused for some minutes. In the third act the quarantine regulations were soon lifted when the doctors announced that the cook had really suffered from chickenpox. The occupants quite disgusted were soon granted their freedom, while Grandpa made a hurried exit for his home in Ohio. The players in the cast who give a very pleasing presentation of their characters, are as follows:—"Marie," Miss Marion Coyell; the chief Instructress at the Dancing Academy, "McCormack," S. French; "Kloompie," the maid from Copenhagen, Miss Doris Badcock; "Pansy Hopscotch," Mrs. B. Colton; "Tod Hunter," Ed. Cranford; "Lucy Hunter," his wife, Miss Hettie Roberts; "Monte Roy," Max Colton; "Grandpa," Bert Colton. Specialties were rendered between the acts. Miss Ina Chafe gave a delightful song, while T. P. Halley was heard to advantage in a very pleasing recitation. The show will be concluded to-night, followed by a dance. It is quite possible that the troupe will present the popular playlet in a larger hall within the next few weeks. All concerned are to be congratulated on the excellent production.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR CORNS AND WARTS.

They Want a Change.

Mr. G. A. Buffett expressed the sentiment of the South West Coast when he advocates the election of Bennett and his party, who stand for a safe and a sane policy. Mr. Buffett, like other merchants around the coast, realizes that the future welfare of the country depends in the first instance on a change of Government to restore lost confidence. With the advent of the Bennett Government confidence will be restored and people will be able to get down to work with an assurance that no wild-cat legislation will be imposed to disrupt the country's business. The merchants and the fishermen of the country realize to-day that they have interests in common, that injury to one or the other means dislocation and impairment of our most important industry, and that to make the fishery a success there must be co-operation between them. This is the reason that Merchants and Fishermen have now united in a strong force to defeat Coakerism. Mr. Coaker by his Fish Regulations policy has done a great injury to the fisheries—an injury that it will take years to recover from. As a policy of self-protection the two forces immediately interested will now put up a determined fight to destroy the Coaker menace. The fact that Coaker put Hallyard in the Fisheries Department means that there will be no change in the policy of the Government in regard to the catching and marketing of fish. The return of the Squires Government means the return of Coaker's Fish Regulations and the usual interference in trade and fisheries. We hear a good deal of shouting these days about the Humber Deal and promises of the great things that will be accomplished by the adoption of the measure. All Coaker's blowing in other years used to be about the fishery. The Government having destroyed the interests of the fishermen now offers them all a job in the lumber woods. With a new Government of sound, practical policies the fishermen will have no need to abandon the fisheries. The Humber Deal if beneficial to the country can be adopted as an auxiliary enterprise. BENNETT & BETTER TIMES.

Just Folks.

LULLABY.
Now the day in over, night is coming down,
And the stars are shining on her silken gown,
Dancing stars and twinkling on a silver sea,
And the slumber-fairies wait and watch for thee.
By-low, my pretty babe,
Slip away to rest, and
Shut your eyes and cuddle down
On your mother's breast.
Lullaby, rock-a-bye,
Gently to and fro,
Slumberland is waiting
Now for you to go.

Now the sandman cometh with his golden sand,
Cometh now to take you off to Slumberland,
And the slumber-fairies where the bright moon beams
Have their baby garden filled with pretty dreams.
By-low, my pretty babe,
Let your eyelids close,
Now the day is over,
Cometh sweet repose.
Lullaby, rock-a-bye,
Slip away to rest,
It is time to cuddle down,
On your mother's breast.

Now the boat is ready, silver sails are spread,
Smooth and safe the journey to the Land of Bed;
Little waves and gentle splash the way along,
And the breeze above them croons a slumber song:
By-low my pretty babe,
All is calm and fair,
God shall smile above you
As you slumber there.
Lullaby, rock-a-bye,
Gently ride away,
Till the sunbeams call you
At the break of day.

Turn The "Wasters" Out

The people of this country are heartily sick of Squires and Coaker. There can be no doubt on this point. Wherever one looks he sees unemployment, hunger and general destitution. It is 90 per cent. due to the policy of the present Government. The fishermen are cleaned out of their savings and most of them have no means to get supplies. The tradesmen are idle and the business premises of the fish merchants are deserted. It looks as if a blight had fallen upon

Forty-Four Years in the Service of the Public—The Evening Telegram.

Notes on Tuesday Night's Meeting.

The largest in the history of local politics.

Not a single interruption excepting the continuous desire to cheer the speakers and the name of leader J. R. Bennett.

Note: The Mail and Advocate wisely declined to make any comments whatsoever.

Mr. Fitzgibbon's friends freely admit Joe will have to hustle some to save his nomination fee.

Linear will be over 600 votes ahead of Squires is the way the betting is made since the great demonstration.

There were 2,000 circulars issued, one to every person and long before the meeting started the supply was exhausted.

There were more than enough to fill the large theatre again counting the hundreds who left because they could not get standing room.

The large corridors, aisles, boxes and gallery were packed tight, yet all remained until the last speaker concluded his remarks.

The reception tendered Mr. Monroe, Chairman Ayre and the candidates is a clear indication of what the voters of the city intend to do on Polling Day.

The Star Theatre is without exception the largest in the city and on Tuesday night the largest audience that ever attended this fine theatre was present.

Doc. Campbell has thrown up the sponge and all he is sorry for is that he must give up his seat in the upper chamber.

Mr. F. W. Ayre sounded the key note when he said, "If the Humber is a good proposition it would go through but it needed the confidence of the people." The Bennett Government will boost the Humber much better than the present administration.

Sir M. P. Cashin produced facts and figures showing the per capita tax to be increased from $34.60 per head in 1919 to $85.00 per head in this year of 1923.

"Our exports," he said in 1919 were thirty-seven million dollars, to-day they are slightly over ten million dollars.

$4,000 lost on steamer scandals is the record of Mr. Cave's management.

Mr. Monroe and his colleagues are going to give Coaker and Coakerism a big thrashing as the Squires men are going to get in St. John's East and West.

Mr. Higgins said, "This is a job for everybody not alone the fisherman but every voter in the country."

Sir John showed up Mr. Cave when he stated he left $182,000 in the shipping dept which was squandered in a few months.

Sir John refused Coaker's offer of leadership of the F.P.U. which neither he nor Sir Michael would have anything to do with.

Mr. Hunt in his canvass of the West End said that widowed the story that while they were inside, Dr. Campbell was outside issuing scripts for their sons. Women in the West End today were praying for the return of the Opposition.

Unlike the Coaker-Squires candidates, who are pleading for personal and split votes, all the speakers advocated the straight ticket or none.

Squires will get such a drubbing that he will not face St. John's West to contest the bye-election.

And they are blaming everything on the Gibbs's, a poor excuse for their three and a half years' misrule.

Now Conception Bay, West Coast and the Northern Districts, its year turns to complete the victory with unadvised majorities.

Bennett will have at least 26 seats.

S. U. F. Soiree.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S FUNCTION WAS ENJOYABLE.

One of the best social events for the season was held on Tuesday night in the S.U.F. Hall, when St. John's Lodge No. 6 held a real old-time soiree. A very large gathering attended and dancing was indulged in up to the wee sma' hours of the morning. The catering, which was provided by the lady friends of the Lodge, was of a very high order, and was done full justice to by all. The music was furnished by the C.L.B. Orchestra, and was of its usual high standard. The affair was voted an unqualified success and one of the most enjoyable functions held by the S.U.F.

M.C.L.L. Meets to-night at 7.45 sharp.

QUIDI VIDI EN FETE.

Bennett Candidates Receive Enthusiastic Welcome.

Higgins, Fox and Vinnicombe Will get Bigger Majorities Than Ever.

The candidates of the Bennett Party, Messrs. Higgins, Fox and Vinnicombe were given a tremendous reception last night by the residents of Quidi Vidi. The sentiments of the people were unmistakable, men, women and children turned out to greet the candidates. Salvos of music and thunderous cheering were features of the event through the village. From every window lights shone forth cheering the path of the triumphant trio while on the gate posts and flag staff torches illuminated the scene. Piled high in the centre of the square opposite the School House, where the meeting was held, tar barrels had been gathered and as the crowd assembled they were set on fire, banishing the darkness of the evening for many miles around the country-side. Every resident of Quidi Vidi turned out to the meeting while many from the White Hills and other sections were in attendance. The large School House was quickly filled to its utmost capacity, and many men, women and children crowded about the door to listen. Mr. Arch Snow being moved to the chair, gave a short address introducing the speakers and pointing out to the audience the grave issues which they would have to consider.

MR. HIGGINS TELLS PLAIN FACTS
Mr. W. J. Higgins being called upon was greeted with prolonged cheering. His remarks were exemplified by the conditions under which the people of this fishing hamlet were existing to-day. Ground down to the very hardest kind of a livelihood by the burden of taxation and resenting the unfulfilled promises of Sir Richard Squires, he showed that his hearers could not but support the cause which he was there to uphold. The people's rights and privileges and freedom had been done away with by the incompetent crowd who had abandoned responsible Government and by their wanton squandering had heaped upon the heads of every elector, who sent them to power, a national debt that their greatest sacrifice for a decade could not wipe out. Under taxation and stagnant industrial and business conditions of to-day not one of his hearers could possibly find means to care of their families, and to suffer such at the hands of a man whose very elevation to power was his insincere promise to reduce the tariff and make Newfoundland a happy country to live in. That R. A. Squires would on May 3rd, rue the day he had so glibly betrayed the people was written plainly on the face of every man that listened so attentively to Mr. Higgins' speech.

"NIX" CHEERED TO ECHO.
Mr. N. J. Vinnicombe received a further demonstration of his popularity, for when called upon by the chairman, he was cheered to the echo. He told of the endeavours of himself and Messrs. Higgins and Fox in their behalf during the past three and a half years. There was no need for him to point out the conditions with which the electors of Quidi Vidi were surrounded to-day, and which were a monument to the incapacity and worthlessness of the men who were now in charge of the Government. Mr. Vinnicombe in a most forceful manner spoke of the scandals of public administration for which the Squires-Coaker regime was responsible. On the other hand he offered to his hearers the sound practical policy of the Bennett Party. The great feature of this policy was the determination to handle public affairs in a constitutional and business-like manner. Paying strict attention to the expenditure of the people's money and to reducing the burden of taxation under which the people were suffering so severely to-day. In conclusion he exhorted his audience to carefully consider the party's cause, to examine carefully its policy, and then after their personal experience of Squires-Coaker unfulfilled promises and misrule he knew that their whole-hearted support was behind Bennett and better times. After a tremendous oration he resumed his seat.

MR. FOX IN BRILLIANT FORM.
Mr. C. J. Fox was greeted by a storm of applause. Cheered by this hearty welcome he entered upon a speech that will be long remembered in brilliant manner and with conclusive arguments Mr. Fox carried his audience through the past three years of maladministration and then took up the issue upon which that party were now appealing to the country. He disproved the claims of Messrs. Squires and Coaker that this election was based upon the carrying out of the Humber Deal.

RESULTS OF MISMANAGEMENT.
The condition of every industrial enterprise in the country to-day, the demoralized state of our commerce, and the alarming extent of unemployment are obvious results of the mismanagement and incapacity of the Government that has destroyed governing by the House of Assembly and established a Minute-of-Council rule of the most autocratic and devastating kind. The scandals perpetrated by W. F. Coaker in respect to Railway matters, pit props, salt, fish, sugar and the other undertakings in which by power of Executive Council he assumed control are evidence enough of the ruinous results such governing has brought upon our country. In conclusive language he brought his hearers of the realization of the enormous extent in which taxation has been heaped upon the people. By a fever of squandermania surpluses, public revenues and loans, in all to the extent of sixty millions of dollars have been expended in the ordinary carrying on of the governing of this Colony for forty months, making a monthly expenditure of a million and a half while their Government was in power.

THE BENNETT MANIFESTO.
As a fitting alternative to such a terrible state of Parliamentary affairs Mr. Fox outlined the prominent features of the Bennett policy. He proved that all its aims were within attainment, and that the party had behind it men who were trustworthy and capable of the dangerous nature of a hidden Humber deal and warned his hearers that while this contract was already completed, by endorsing it in returning again the present Government there were many objectionable features that would serve to the undoing and ruination of a policy that if carefully handled could be finalized to the advantage of the country. He besought his audience to ensure the protection of our fishing industry upon which Quidi Vidi and the whole island so completely depended. Ten Humber deals could not replace the loss of our fisheries. He outlined the Bennett aims in this respect and explained the plan upon which the new Government would place a bounty on fish. In conclusion he requested the electors to weigh the great issue that was at stake and vote the straight ticket for HIGGINS, FOX and VINNICOMBE, and thus ensure the return of BENNETT AND BETTER TIMES. Amid loud and prolonged cheers Mr. Fox resumed his seat.

An Appeal.

Obituary.

JAMES STOTT.

Another of our most esteemed and respected townsmen, passed away yesterday in the person of Mr. James Stott, death having claimed him in his seventy-eighth year, after an illness of long duration. The deceased for some years conducted a successful grocery business on Water Street East, in the premises now known as the Millia Building. About nine years ago Mr. Stott, owing to failing health, retired from the business activity of the colony. The late Mr. Stott was born in Fyvie, Aberdeenshire, and came out to Newfoundland to his uncle, Mr. George Emsley, with whom he received his first business training in the firm of Emsley and Shaw. He later entered the firm of Messrs. Jas. Baird, Ltd. At the age of thirty-two years Mr. Stott started business for himself, and rapidly earned a high reputation for the quality of his wares and the courtesy and efficiency of his service, which ensured the success that followed him from the start. The deceased was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church. In Masonic circles he occupied a high position. He was Past Master of Avalon Lodge, Past High Priest of Shannon Chapter, and until his retirement a few years ago, was Deputy Grand Master, E.C. For a number of years the deceased was Hon. Treasurer of the Tasker Educational Fund. It was to him a labor of love to devote so much of his time to this institution. The late Mr. Stott was a son of the late Rev. John Stott, M.A. His wife, who was formerly Miss Agnes Douglas McMurdo, predeceased him some years ago. He leaves to mourn four daughters, Miss Olive, at home, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. James McIntyre and Mrs. Smith; one brother, Mr. David Stott of the Postal Telegraphs this city, to whom will go out the sympathy of the whole community.

DR. NEIL MCKENDRICK.

Dr. Neil McKendrick passed to his reward yesterday morning, and Placentia has lost not only a beloved physician, but an honoured citizen. For over 42 years Dr. McKendrick has been stationed in the ancient capital. He came there in August, 1889, and during the years of his health compelled a curtailment of the good Doctor's activities, and the greater part of the practice passed to Dr. O'Connell, formerly of this city and a veteran of the war, who is proving himself a worthy successor of the good man gone. Dr. McKendrick came to Placentia in days of deep trouble. Diphtheria was epidemic, and its anti-toxin was then unknown. He toiled incessantly and successfully. Many women, fathers and mothers of families, he has attended from their birth, and their children have been as his own. He was devoted to his profession and loved his work for the work's sake. Dr. McKendrick belonged to the McClure class, a man of honour and of ideals, with large sympathies and a hatred for all that was small or mean. In Placentia's loss all Newfoundland shares.

Dr. McKendrick was born at Woodstock, New Brunswick, on January 16th, 1853. His remains will be conveyed to the city by to-day's train, accompanied by Magistrate O'Reilly and other friends, and the funeral will take place at the General Protestant Cemetery on arrival of the train.

Beware of the Mule.

A voter of St. John's West remarked to a friend yesterday that the Coaker menace of that district, as well as others, bears a resemblance to a kicking mule portrayed by a resident of the "wild and woolly" Western States.

Being questioned as to the traits of the animal the owner replied, "You have no idea of the radius of that mule and never will till he's kicked you once or twice, but the information is not worth the price." So with the Coaker menace. Unfortunately it has been trusted once, with the result that the kick it gave to the country by its fish regulations attitude brought untold suffering on the people.

St. John's West, then, together with all other districts, will take care that no more mule-like antics will be inflicted on our trade and industries. One lash is enough, and so when election days arrives the menace will be chained up in the stable of oblivion for all time to come.

THE RESOURCEFUL STORE

Royal Stores Entertainment.

CELEBRATED OPENING OF NEW STORE—WAS GREAT SUCCESS.

The opening of an up-to-date furniture store in the new Royal Stores building on Duckworth Street, was fittingly celebrated on Tuesday night last, when the Directors of the firm entertained the employees and friends, numbering 200, to card tournament and dance. The Committee in charge are to be congratulated on the success attained. The spacious room was converted into a real ballroom. The decorations were very tasteful, while the highly-polished hardwood floor proved ideal for dancing. Many novelties were introduced which, including Moonlight Dance and Elimination Waltz. The latter dance was won by Miss Laura Edgecombe and Mr. Arnold CHIT; the former received a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and the latter a silk necktie. The C.L.B. Orchestra furnished excellent dance music for the occasion. Before the proceedings terminated, Mr. A. H. Salter, on behalf of the staff, called for three hearty cheers for the Royal Stores Ltd., which were given with enthusiasm. The affair concluded with an old fashioned quadrille, and everyone present voted the dance a most enjoyable one.

At Spencer Hall.

A successful card party and dance was held in Spencer Hall last night, upwards of 200 people being in attendance. Mrs. G. R. Williams, Mrs. Sterling and Miss Edgar presided over the card tables, and the lucky winners were as follows:—Bridge, Miss Flora Curry 3,620 points; Mr. R. Stiek, 3,629 points. Auction Mr. J. C. Phillips, 720, won from Mr. A. H. Carnell in a play-off. The lady's prize was won by Mrs. W. Penny, with a total of 775 points. After the card party had terminated dancing was indulged in. The music was supplied by the orchestra from the Casino Theatre. Supper was served during the evening by Mrs. S. C. Thompson and the Ladies' Auxiliary. The affair was voted an unqualified success.

Wallace Silverwear.

Is your Table Silver as good to-day as when you bought it?

Have you noticed that at the parts most exposed to wear, the plate has become worn?

Do you think this condition of your Silver is in keeping with your idea of a well appointed table?

Then why not, when you decide on replacing your old ware, give place to it with the "Wallace" Brand, the Silver that refuses to wear and is guaranteed without time limit.

Start with the Tea Spoons and gradually complete your Set with the one pattern—there are several for you to choose from and the price is very moderate.

Tea Spoons cost $8.00 for a Dozen.
