Mr. Doughty's Position

Editor World: Regarding the Tuesday morning report in the World of the Doughty episode in the World of Mr. C. J. Doughty we would like to correct some misstatements, no doubt unintentionally made, and to which the World will, we trust, give prominence. A temperance committee representing several churches before doing anything definite in regard to bringing out an "abolition" candidate in Riverview, invited Mr. Doughty to the home of Mr. R. B. Fox, Doughty to whom the committee had a policy to them. Mr. Doughty then declared his policy on these questions, substantially as given later in the statement signed by him. He claimed to be a staunch Conservative, but had reserved the right to think and act for himself, but he did not agree to support any policy not mentioned in the signed statement.

After the conclusion of the temperance meeting those members who were Liberals attended the Liberal committee meeting in Armstrong's Hall, where the signed statement of Mr. Doughty was read. The committee composed Messrs. Hanna, Shea, Wildfield, Pastore, Dr. Chapin and others, entrusted with the task of submitting names as possible Liberal candidates at the meeting, and having no further report to offer was on motion by Dr. Chapin and R. H. J. Pasmore, dismissed.

The statement in the World, a disorderly and untrue statement, and that they were forced to withdraw from the meeting is absolutely untrue. C. J. Doughty, R. H. J. Pasmore. Toronto, June 10, 1914.

OLD TORONTO BOY REVISITS CITY

Dr. T. E. Gallagher of Montevideo Arrives Here After Thirteen Years.

After an absence of 13 years, an old Toronto boy, Dr. T. E. Gallagher, of Montevideo, Uruguay, is paying a visit to his native city. He arrived on Saturday, accompanied by his wife and two children, and will remain here for six months. When a boy, Dr. Gallagher was an employe of The World. He is a graduate of the Toronto College of Dental Surgeons, and has established a good practice in the South American city. Among his clients is the president of the republic, Jose Batlle y Ordóñez. He states that his adopted country is making great strides under the Ordonones and Carlepi administration. The trade is largely of felling of moats and wool, and the Swift Packing Company have an immense plant there.

Dr. Gallagher is the only Canadian in the republic, but he says there are a large number of Englishmen in residence. Also the language is Spanish, the doctor has not lost his interest in Canada as he is kept informed of affairs in the Dominion thru reading The Sunday World, which he receives regularly in his home.

STEW FROM COLD ROAST.

This dish provides a good way of using up the remnants of a roast, either of beef or mutton. The meat should be freed from fat, gristle and bones, cut into small pieces, slightly peeled and quartered should be added enough to nearly cover it. It should simmer until almost ready to break in pieces, when onions and raw potatoes, peeled and quartered should be added. A little soup stock may also be added if available. Cook until the potatoes are done, then thicken the liquor or gravy with flour. The stew may be attractively served on slices of crisp toast.

EDMONTON TO HAVE HUGE FARM COMPANY

American Capitalists Buy Seventy Thousand Acres of Virgin Land.

George H. Draper of New York, and J. Mitchell Hoyt of Chicago, heads of a syndicate of American capitalists, have just acquired 70,000 acres of virgin lands in the Vermilion valley, east of Edmonton, where a colony of experienced farmers will engage in diversified agriculture.

The land cost $1,000,000, one-fifth of which was paid in cash, the balance being spread over a period of five years. The tract is bisected by the Beaver lake. The district in which it is situated will be tapped by the Canadian Northern Railway Company's main line and several branches, also the Alberta & Great Waterways railroad, which is being built from Edmonton to Fort McMurray by the provincial government of Alberta, and a line to be constructed from Vermilion to Fort McMurray. James A. Powell of Edmonton, former owner of the tract, announced today that development work will begin at once.

INCREASE AMOUNT FOR HOME MISSIONS

Congregational Union Acts on Report of Executive Committee.

PROBE WILL BE THOROUGH

Civic Inquiry to Embrace Every Department in City Hall.

Special to The Toronto World. HAMILTON, June 10.—The annual session of the Congregational Union of Canada opened in the First Congregational Church this morning. Rev. E. L. Horsey of Ottawa occupying the chair. The report of the executive committee for the past year was submitted, and in the appointments for the year the home mission amount was increased.

The increase of home missions was $1,000, while the foreign missions board showed about the same as last year. The provision fund was increased to $723. The accounts showed that $216 had been received from the Quebec association, $72 from the eastern association, $168 from Toronto association, $143 from Ontario association, and $102 from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, making a total of $772.

A resolution expressing sympathy with the Empress of Ireland disaster is to be submitted today.

The civic inquiry which is being pushed forward by Chairman Thomas Robson and Ald. Chester Walters appears to be going to make a clean sweep of the whole municipal system. It was announced today that Ald. Walters would carry on the investigation into all the departments and would commence with the city treasurer's and then go on to the tax collector's.

The intention, however, is to deal with all attempts to get away from the department, where 75 per cent of the people's money is spent "without system or regard for accuracy."

Owing to the large number of complaints received from citizens along the T. E. & B. and Grand Trunk lines, Ald. Walters has prepared a motion to submit to the next meeting of the council, calling for a committee to go into the proposal to use hard coal on all lines within the city limits.

Widen James Street. Following the announcement that the C. P. R. would commence to build a viaduct at King and James streets, comes the statement that an effort will be made to widen James street between King and James streets.

The whole block bounded by King, James, York and James streets, and turn it into a central park, and the other to buy 100 to 140 feet back from James street, sell what is not used and use the James street 20 feet to widen the street.

Well insured. It is announced that several large insurance policies, covering the Empress of Ireland, J. R. Raven, who lost his life in the disaster, and a policy for $200. The late F. J. Rutherford had several policies, said to aggregate between $25,000 and $30,000.

ADAM BECK LAUDS PURE MILK BILL

Declares Federal Measure Will Mean Lessening in Tuberculosis Death Rate.

Hon. Adam Beck, president of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has made the following statement: "It delights me to see that the federal government has made such a definite and advanced move against tuberculosis, as the passing of regulation towards the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. At the annual convention of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, held in London, Ont., Dr. Schroeder of the bureau of animal industry, Washington, D.C., and others, pointed out the dangers from tuberculosis, is dangerous to the man in the street knows now that pure milk, milk from cattle suffering from tuberculosis, is dangerous to a child. Our work amongst the children at the dispensaries and preventing from this disease, than we formerly believed. A proportion of these, according to the findings of the British Commission, as well as the many other milk commissions, are certainly to be traced to infected milk, and as president of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which spends all its efforts in prescribing prevention, I heartily congratulate those responsible for this great move towards pure milk supply. "Doubtless many difficulties will arise in the carrying out of this measure, but with the co-operation of a wise government and an intelligent people, surely we may look for a greatly lessened death rate from a greatly lessening and widespread disease."

EXPRESS AGENT JAILED

Mounting Grove. The judge sentenced him for an indefinite period to the Guelph prison farm but two years less a day, and not more than to acting as agent for the express company, served as station agent for the C.P.R. The station was destroyed by fire on Jan. 20 last. Hoover claimed that the money belonging to the company was lost in the fire.

PARCEL POST IS A GOOD BRICK
ASSERTION MADE BY LEMIEUX

Pelletier, Replying to Charge That System is of Little Practical Benefit, Said Opponents Were Conducting Organized War, But Business is Steadily Growing.

OTTAWA, June 10.—The commonsense spent today quietly over estimates of public works, fisheries, finance and labor. The wholesale voting of millions of dollars for public works of all kinds was the feature of the day.

In connection with the postoffice estimates, Hon. Mr. Lemieux said "more or less of a good brick" was being done little to bring producer and consumer together. A 5-pound parcel went from Ottawa to Montreal for 40c, and by express it would be $5c. In the United States it would go by parcel post for 10c. Eleven pounds was the limit here, while 20 pounds was the American limit. It was cheaper all over to send a parcel from Toronto to Hongkong than from Toronto to Vancouver. He urged a readjustment of the rate weight, and soon the system might be as successful here as in other countries.

An Organized War. Hon. Mr. Pelletier said there had been organized war on the parcel post all over the country. In all the weekly Liberal papers the same article had appeared attacking the system, and the campaign had had some effect. The number of parcels, however, was steadily increasing, and the system would succeed in spite of all opposition. Mr. Pelletier said the department was considering the matter of parcel delivery, but also collecting parcels from all cities where there is a carrier delivery. He also stated that the rural mail delivery was rapidly spreading in Quebec, and that nothing would do toward a state-owned Atlantic cable until it was seen how the arrangement with the Post Office Company worked out. Three relay stations on the Irish coast and at Newcastle, N.B., would soon be completed. T.

ROWELL BEFRIENDS TEACHING FRENCH

Would Have No Objection If It Furthered Education of Children.

Canadian Press Despatch. NOTRE DAME, Ont., June 10.—The Liberal caucus was opened auspiciously in East Nipissing tonight by a big meeting. The opera house was filled to the doors and many had to stand. The attendance was about two thousand. N. W. Rowell, K.C., opposition leader, after an exhausting trip from Port Arthur and a side trip to New Liskeard, was in good form. He was well received, listened to attentively and enthusiastically applauded, especially on his exposition of his abolition of the bar policy. He scored the government for refusing to pay taxes on the vacant land held by the T. and N. O. Railway in northern towns, censured the timber policy, the inadequacy of the workmen's compensation act, the high cost of government houses and the lack of attention to the unemployed labor question.

He also attacked the refusal of the government to give the vote to married women, while giving the vote to corporations on money bylaws. Tax reform was advocated by Leach Rowell in his address, and the reduction of the grant to rural schools was criticized while public money was being wasted in other ways.

As to bilingual schools, he said there could be no ground for objection to the use of French in the schools if it would further the education of French-Canadian children. He charged that the franchise was refused to married women at the behest of the liquor interests. J. H. Marceau, the local Liberal candidate, expressed himself strongly in favor of the "abolish the bar" policy of his leader.

G. A. McLaughlin was chairman, and the speakers included A. J. Young, J. H. McCurdy and Dr. Sedard, the latter named speaking in French, while the candidate spoke in both languages.

BURGLAR CAPTURED WHILE ROBBING HOUSE

Special to The Toronto World. COENRAVILL, June 10.—Having aroused the inmates by knocking over several flower pots while effecting an entrance through a window, a man who gave his name as Thomas Henderson, 40, Vancouver, was caught in the house of Albert Robson, and turned over to the police some time this morning. At the time, Chief Smyth and Officer Critch were searching round the Grand Trunk station for the man who had awakened A. J. McIntosh from his sleep a short time previous and demanded money on pain of doing violence to the person of McIntosh, who thus was constrained to report over the matter to the police immediately after the burglar had gone. Henderson was remanded to look into his record. The name of Mr. McIntosh was found in the pockets of the prisoner.

TORONTO WOMAN GETS DIVORCE

Special to The Toronto World. BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 10.—It was learned today that Mrs. Robert Parker, daughter-in-law of J. O. Parker of 167 Grand avenue, Toronto, has been granted a decree of absolute divorce from her husband, Robert Parker. Judge Case of the supreme court of Middletown, Conn., granted the decree on the grounds of intolerable cruelty, insupportable and infidelity. Frank D. Haines appeared for Mrs. Parker. In addition to the divorce she was granted the custody of her three children, Robert Melville, Charles Oliver, and Grace I. Parker, and $10 a week alimony for the support of the children. Mrs. Parker is now residing in Brooklyn, while Mr. Parker is in Toronto.

Elections in Manitoba

WINNIPEG, June 10.—The Free Press this afternoon says: "Information which is believed to be entirely reliable reaches Thursday, July 9, as the date of the provincial general elections. The writs will be issued on or about June 18."

O. C. H. C. WINS SUIT OVER THE NEW RATES

Chief Justice R. M. Meredith has dismissed the action of George Grainger against the Order of Canadian Home Circles, in so far as Grainger asked for an injunction to restrain the order from putting into force the new assessment rates adopted at the Supreme Circle last March. Mr. Grainger joined the order in 1888 for $2000. Under the rules in force at that time he was to receive $1000 when he attained the age of 71 years. Those rules were amended last year so as to make the $1000 payable in ten annual instalments of $100 each. Last March the rules were further amended to postpone the payment of the annual instalments five years and to require him to pay the new rates according to his present income. He was given the plaintiff for $100 damages. In effect the judgment holds that the order is within its rights in increasing the assessment, but it cannot deprive the members who pay those rates from drawing their life expectancy benefits.

Striking Pictures In The Sunday World

The pictures in the coming issue of The Sunday World are starting a new feature of the newspaper's art and feature of the eight-page illustrated section is the fourteen-column picture of the arena during last Saturday's divine memorial service of the Salvation Army. The great sweep of the arena, with its mighty assemblage of spectators, of an event more impressive than any other in the city has, in fact, been depicted with a startling fullness. More faces than can be seen by the eye are in the making of a picture that approximates the importance of the event. It is the finest picture of an interior ever taken in Canada. This is the list of photographic features readers of The Sunday World will have next Sunday: The memorable and exclusive photos of the Salvation Army memorial day.

The crowning touch of the Reo is the absolute mastery you have over it. Seated on the left side next to the passing traffic—all controls are below your hand in the form of a cane handle.

There is no reaching or fumbling at levers. Merely a movement of 3 inches each of four ways shifts every gear. The cane handle is close to the seat—does not obstruct either fore-door. Both brakes are operated by the feet instinctively. Car can be stopped without taking a hand from the wheel.

The Reo is the only car in which all this gear shifting is done with a simple one-rod control.

The Reo has every new feature that adds to the durability and betterment of the car and the greater satisfaction of the owner. It is a car that any man might well be proud to drive. Study, as we say, the character of the radiator cover in the same class that you may be the better enabled to appreciate just what the Reo has to offer.

The Modern Stenographer, High Type of Womanhood

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

There is a certain brand new play written around a brand old idea, cleverly written, too, and well acted, so they say. I hope it will be a failure.

I hate the idea that makes the whole plot of the play. The heroine is a sweet, young stenographer, who can't get a living to save her life unless she's willing to lose her soul to do it. I'm always hearing about that kind of a stenographer. I've never met one, and I couldn't count the number of stenographers I know in anything less than hundreds. They are sensible, clever, honest, self-respecting women, old or young, as it happens.

Where are all these business men who won't have anything to do with a girl if she's decent?

Are they your friends? Is your husband that sort of man? Do you believe this sort of story about your father? Haven't you heard your brother say a thousand times that no girl could hold a job in his office unless she knew her business and attended to it strictly?

The heroine of this new play all about the poor working girl and how impossible it is for her to be decent and draw a salary says:

"When my boss tries to get me to let him kiss me and I won't do it, what does he do?"

"Tell me I'm a good girl, and he respects me for it." Not he.

"He offers me a million, and if I won't take it he says 'somebody else has beat me to it, and has given you two millions.'"

None Outside of Plays.

A million! Dear me, little sister, you come high, don't you?

Now if you'd asked a $5-a-week raise, it might have sounded just a trifle more like business. Men who pay $1,000,000 for a kiss are not apt to be money kings, or any other kind of kings.

I never heard of one before, outside of plays. Did you, little Miss Stenographer?

Women do most of the courting in this world, as a matter of fact, and the simplest, silliest, most brainless little girl in the world can keep any man who is even halfway decent at arm's length—if she really wants to do it. And she needn't be always saying "sir," and "how dare you," either.

When it gets to the "how dare you" stage it's the girl that's to blame every time.

The sort of man who won't have a stenographer unless she will let him hold hands with her is so easy to recognize that you would know his name and address if you met him at an aid-furnished sheet and pillow case party.

This sort is easy enough to manage. He can be laughed out of his nonsense the very first time he tries it. And any girl who has sense enough to learn shorthand will know how to do it without taking any course of lessons in any school but the school of her own tact and purity of heart.

Another kind is a wolf in disguise. If you get into a wolf's den by mistake, there's just one thing to do—scream as loud as you can and run faster than you ever thought you could.

The Right Title.

The other sort, the villain in the play kind—I don't believe there's one alive outside the play.

And if there is, any little 18-year-old stenographer, who gets up at 6 in the morning and blacks her own shoes and mends her own gloves and iron her own fresh little blouse, can handle and does handle him every day in the year in every city in this country, and comes out smiling and with clear and honest eyes.

"So much for so much"—you've named your play wrong, Mr. Author.

"So little for so much" is that play's right name, and any good, practical stenographer who understands men as well as she understands any shorthand system will tell you so without a "thank you, sir," for the insinuation you make against the common sense of the whole race of self-supporting women.

Stop the first stenographer you see and ask her.

And remember what she says when she answers. It will be worth while.

My Best Beauty Lotions

By LUCREZIA BORI

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

Special arrangements have been made with Senorita Lucrezia Bori, the famous prima donna soprano, who has created a wonderful impression in Europe and New York on account of her remarkable beauty and artistic attainment, to write for this paper a series of articles on beauty. There is probably no authority her equal in giving the newest and most approved methods of attaining and preserving the divine right of woman.

WHENEVER I get a letter asking advice I feel encouraged. I feel that I have the chance to help some one, and it pleases me to be thought useful. I believe in the quest of beauty through right living, and heartily endorse all legitimate means of adding to personal charm.

Good air, good food, good health, a happy heart and exercise will do more for beauty than pasted creams. But there are creams and lotions that will beautifully supplement the result of right living. Those that I know to be good I shall always be glad to tell about. Every letter I get helps me, for it lets me find out the needs of the women I want to help.

A "Girl Reader" asks me what to do for superfluous hair on the face, and if there is any remedy but the treatment by the electric needle. Here is a depilatory said by many to be the best of the safest:

Three ounces of sulphuret of barium.
Twelve ounces of water.

Mix into a paste with cornstarch and apply to the hairs. Allow it to dry, and when it is removed the hairs are more than apt to go too. Barium is a poison, and should be kept out of reach

WHAT FACING A CAMERA MEANS

JANE GREY, OF THE "NEARLY MARRIED" COMPANY.
"You Must Relax to Get a Likeness," Says Actress.

By ELEANOR AMES.

And while she is a decidedly attractive and charming young woman from the standpoint of the beauty critic, she is no more perfect than are other women whose photographs are dignified failures.

Miss Grey gave me some hints on how to make a good picture, and the first was the rather startling command to "relax and become unconscious." For, she continued, "just so long as one is conscious she will never get a good picture. Then, catching my puzzled expression and the sound of the phrases at the same moment, she laughingly explained that she meant "unself-conscious."

"You, who are having the picture taken, are the very person you want to forget about," she explained. "We always look more natural when we are unconscious of ourselves. Learn to put your trust in the camera man. Of course, you may tell him which side of your face shows the best side of your character, but even that he will find out if he is an expert."

"Thoughts are reflected in the face. The camera proves this. It has an uncanny genius for recording what is behind the mask. So be careful of your thoughts when you face the camera."

"Relaxation is necessary for grace and ease of posture. The one essential when you pose for a picture is not to have any pose if you want to recognize yourself when you look at the finished picture."

"Have an easy posture and a placid mind. Think of the play, the trip you took last summer and that funny man and his amiable wife and his wife's mother with her double chin and her dear, old, unselfish woman she was!"

"Or the latest book and the way in which the heroine worked out her problems in spite of all difficulties. Think of your best beloved friend or your dearest enemy, or your new puddle—think anything and everything and everybody but your own self."

"And when the right expression fits across your face, as it will when you are sitting at ease and only your own character is busy, the slide will work up in a burst, and the winsome smile or the gleam of mischief, or the suspicion of sadness, which is the real picture will be made, captive. Then the picture will be success."

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about the girl in the case distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her characteristic studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

At the Movie.

WHETHER or not my pretty wife's thoughtlessness is the result of age or temperament I don't know, but she has at last had a lesson so terrible that I think its effects will be lifelong.

Nor shall I myself forget it for many reasons.

Mary, with an evening of pleasurable excitement ahead, invariably grows somewhat flighty, and permits anticipation to crowd most other things out of her head. She sings and bustles energetically about, waiting a great deal of time and forgetting a great many things she wanted to remember.

I remember as we closed the front door that night I asked her if we had forgotten anything important. We nearly always did, and I had grown into the habit of asking.

"Certainly not," said Mary promptly. "What was there to forget?"

"What can't you forget?" I suggested mildly.

"I admitted Mary slowly, "I do forget to tell you that I had a letter from you last night."

"Matches," I said, "are really important, especially when you have to carry paper tapers about from room to room in a dark night."

Mary flushed a little, and I went on seriously.

"You know, Mary, it is time you tried to train your memory. It if you try to discipline your mind to it if you try to forget awfully important things. It's an irresponsible habit of mind."

"Oh, Peter, dear!" exclaimed my wife fretfully, "don't grow psychological for goodness sake. I hate it. And you're always lecturing me. Besides, I'm terribly interested in this moving picture film, and I want you to tell me more about it."

The film we were going to see was a very famous one—a wonderful array of pictures to be exhibited in our local Opera House. Mary was radiantly expectant as we took our seats. Woman-like, however, the first thing she did was to scan the audience carefully with a view to ascertaining its exact social calibre. That for the instant was of more importance by far than the initial scene of the film.

In our town we have a habit of going to the movies to see the latest picture in the Opera House and who doesn't. The people who shrug languidly when you tell them our vaudeville house are the only ones who are not interested socially. If they happen in there by accident once in a while—why we all regard it in the light of slumming and smile indulgently. As for the prosaic

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Your Lips Are Red; How Their Color Changes

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

MOST maidens fair carry their hearts on—not their lips—but their lips. If you ask some connoisseurs of feminine beauty where lies women's fondest charms, they will unhesitatingly point to the lips.

Lips are purple, bluish, whitish, reddish and deep vermilion. Like the purple of narcissus flower or the frost of an early spring night, the chaste lips of my lady must match the beauty of her soul.

Her lips, ripe and alluring, must grow like tempting cherries. The kiss, which poets rhyme with bliss, in fact as well as verse, is said to draw the whole soul through the lips as sunlight drinketh dew.

A sharp eye, by a flash from the ruby lip, may determine your health and your mood. The lips are the vestibules of the vital palace.

If your flow of blood is sharp and full, if your red blood corpuscles are jaundiced, pale, anemic, or otherwise wallowing in the slough of prostration, the lips soon show it.

The talk of a woman's lips may tend only to peevish, and a man of unclean lips may be a hissing and a mocking.

Yet the size, thickness, breadth and tint of these natural, unvarnished parts indicate various gradations of vigor and debility.

Briefly, the lips mean much more than they show. Fouting, puckering, bowing, whistling and making the lips into circles assume, to be sure, only a local aspect, yet they are really the indices and sign posts of happiness or the blues.

Various and many, indeed, are the ugly substances that may be used to beautify the lips. Unlike the harmless ones of the outer flesh, many of these are easily licked from the lips by the ever-ragging tongue. Absorbed with the saliva, they may play hob with the stomach and work mischief to the inner tissues.

A touch of saffron, cudberry or the various other harmless rouge-like pomades to glorify the lips may add a wealth of color. Yet the waves, curves and outline, not to forget the expression of the lips, go further to enhance their beauty than shades, hues and tints do.

With that she dashed her on the lippest. So eyed double red; Her lips, the others that gave the blow. Soft were those lips that bled.

The deepest of red lips, those of profound scarlet, are often the very ones that need medical attention most. "Cyanosis" and "chronic polycythemia" are names given to disturbances which exhibit full, blooming, red lips.

Everything is relative. Even the thick, luscious, kissableness of lips are, as much in the observer's eyes as in the observed woman's. Colors, too, are associated with the absence or presence of pearls lustre of the teeth.

Poor teeth make even the cheekiest of lips look beautiful, then they are on the other hand, snowy teeth make the lips that are less red look scarlet.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie:

A young gentleman to whom I was introduced about a year ago is paying me very loving attention, and tells me that I'm the only girl in the world for him.

I care for him very much, but I have heard from other girls who know him that he has paid them the same attentions, and by their talk he appears to be nothing but a flirt.

If these rumors are true, what would you advise me to do?

I am 18 years of age. BIRDIE.

Dear "Birdie," if I were you I should spread out my wings and fly just as fast as I could—far, far away from the gay deceiver.

The gay deceiver never makes any one say but himself.

He'll make you weep if you have anything at all to do with him. And what advantage is such a chap as that to you or to any one else? He's just a concocted fool, who wants to write his insignificant name on the heart of every girl he meets. Don't let him write it upon yours.

Annie Laurie

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

The Good Night Story

The Wise Shepherd Boy :: By VERNON MERRY

ONCE there lived a great King who was always looking for bright children. When he found one, he would make him or her a present, a small reward for faithful study in school.

One day he heard of a shepherd lad who was wonderfully smart, so he sent for him.

When he arrived the King said: "If you can answer three questions, then you shall be as my own child and live with me in the royal castle. First, I want to know how many drops of water there are in the ocean."

"Oh, King," said the boy, "if you could have all the rivers in the world stopped up so that not a drop would run into the sea, then I might be able to tell you how many drops the ocean contains."

The King asked the second question: "How many stars are there in the heavens?"

"Give me a large sheet of paper," said the boy. "If I make a lot of holes with a needle close together, then whoever tries to count them will be dizzy. If, however, it were possible to count these points, still it would not be easy to count the stars."

"How many seconds of time in forever, which we call eternity?"

The boy did not hesitate. "There is a great mountain near here," he said, "many miles high, many miles long and many miles broad. If a little bird would go once in every hundred years and with his beak peck away a morsel from the mountain until the whole mountain is gone, not even then would one second of eternity be passed."

The King was delighted, as were all his noblemen.

"You shall be my son," he cried. "And you shall go about the kingdom teaching other children and grown-ups, too, what may be learned even while tending sheep."

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 11.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC FINANCE.

Gentlemen were quite unable to see any possibility of a surplus in street railway receipts under ordinary and regular conditions are now finding no difficulty at all in foreseeing large profits in the city hydro business after cutting rates below the schedule which now barely covers expenses. It is a pity that their optimism were not more evenly distributed. We have no doubt that in the course of time the revenue of the hydro system would creep up even at the excessive reductions proposed to meet the outlay. But there is likely to be a period of deficits, and there is a grave possibility that the competing system may not succumb, as the Ontario commission assumes it will, but may carry the war on upon its own account.

On the general question of indebtedness of the local commission, upon which Mr. W. S. Andrews is accepted as the authority for the Ontario commission, the main question probably is the settlement of the responsibility for $50,875, discount on the sale of debentures. Mr. Andrews says this discount should not be paid by the hydro users, but by the citizens at large, including the Toronto Electric Light Company and their customers. The World has always been an enthusiastic supporter of the hydro system and public ownership, but we must protest against Mr. Andrews being permitted to prejudice the whole cause of public ownership by any such outrageous proposal as that of unloading on the general public the cost of a hydro system which can very well pay for itself.

We say Mr. Andrews should not be allowed to do this, but if the Ontario Hydro Commission accepts the responsibility for this, then we can only say that the commissioners and their engineer do not understand the principles and the cause of public ownership as the people of Toronto and Ontario understand it.

The debentures in question were sold at a better rate than the harbor commission debentures disposed of at the same time, so that Mr. Andrews may plead as he pleases, but he will not be able to convince the ratepayers of Toronto that reductions in hydro rates can be ordered on such grounds as these. The Toronto Electric Light Company is a large taxpayer and would have just grounds for issuing an injunction in such a case.

This is only one, but it is an important point among those mentioned as justification for rate reduction. We are no more convinced than before that the effect of omitting to provide a steam reserve will be as Mr. Gaby views it. He judges the question as an engineer. The merchants and manufacturers judge the question as business men, with big risks at stake in case of a close down. They naturally go where the risk is minimized.

THE SENATE AND THE FARMERS' BANK.

The senate attempted to justify its action in rejecting the bill for the relief of the depositors of the Farmers' Bank upon the ground that to admit the principle involved in that bill would open the door to similar applications from the victims of defunct banks in all the provinces of eastern Canada. From the debate in the house of commons, it appeared that applications for relief would soon be received from the depositors of the Bank of Ville-Marie, of the People's Bank of Montreal, and of the Bank of St. Johns, Quebec. Indeed, the postmaster-general intimated to his colleagues from the Province of Quebec that the passage of the Farmers' Bank bill would constitute a valuable precedent. It was even urged that the government should reimburse the depositors of the pre-confederation banks of Prince Edward Island, which failed after the union, on the ground that these banks had not been brought under the Federal Bank Act. In other words, the then government had been negligent in this respect.

But to reimburse all those involved in the failures above mentioned would not in itself be a matter of great consequence; the real principle at stake was whether the government should guarantee bank deposits. A good many

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

Our exchanges indicate that more interest is being taken in the present provincial election than has been manifest since 1905. Nominations are eagerly sought and in many ridings a strenuous fight is on for election. It looks like a "captains' battle"; each candidate is looking after his own riding in his own way. There are, however, some points of interest in the Rowell temperance policy and Rowell candidates who perhaps do not, in some districts, the Liberals have endorsed the temperance party candidate to the dissatisfaction of some of the old line Liberals.

The provincial elections, together with the extremely hot weather, has been the cause of a great deal of uneasiness in the riding of Welland. The only man who is keeping cool is Major Sharpe, the Conservative candidate. What German M.P. and others appear to think that a straight-out Liberal candidate should be picked in the field, and from the Welland Tribune.

The provincial elections, together with the extremely hot weather, has been the cause of a great deal of uneasiness in the riding of Welland. The only man who is keeping cool is Major Sharpe, the Conservative candidate. What German M.P. and others appear to think that a straight-out Liberal candidate should be picked in the field, and from the Welland Tribune.

The latest move is a revival of the old effort to put up a Liberal candidate. It seems there is a section of the Liberal party, how large will not be determined until the boxes are opened on the night of the 29th, not satisfied with the decision of the provincial convention, C. E. Steele must not be opposed by a Liberal nominee. The discontent has broken across in the Town of Welland this morning, and some time between Saturday noon and Monday morning a meeting was called in the German's office to discuss what to do.

The Telegram is informed that the decision was to call a meeting of Liberals in Welland this Friday night for the purpose of making a nomination. Only one brand of conference notice was issued, a straight Liberal nominee in the field.

The statement is freely made that George W. Sutherland is ready to wear the mantle if it is dropped upon his shoulders.

The Peterboro Examiner (Liberal) appears to be angry because the Conservative candidate in its riding has declared himself in favor of the "fish bar" policy, saying that Sir James Whitney is quite willing to bring down advanced temperance legislation if the people want it. The legislature men who will back him up, the Examiner, however, declares that it makes no sense to have the views of the candidate become the Whitney government. To quote: "Does the Rowell policy, the candidate in this riding think he can play a double game with success? He can't. He can't have the best element of that party renege and repudiate the means by which he is chosen out of his place. Mr. Soden, as candidate of the Whitney government, appeals for support on the policy of Sir James Whitney government, and at the same time declares himself in favor of the main plank of the Conservative policy, the abolition of the fish bar."

Mr. Soden may satisfy himself in this attitude, but he cannot satisfy anybody else. He is deceiving the unthinking. He may be in favor of the abolition of the fish bar, but to be of use as an advanced policy, he must vote for it. Whether he is selected or not, he never will have a chance to vote for it, and he is perfectly safe in promising his support to it. If he is elected as a supporter of the Whitney government, he knows and everybody else knows, that his government will never introduce a proposal to abolish the bar.

Naturally, a great deal of interest attaches to the attitude of the churches in this year to vote for Rowell. The Standard takes issue with this claim, and has referred to a portion of the Liberal leader's keynote speech.

At the same meeting Mr. Rowell asked upon whom the responsibility would rest if his policy of abolishing the fish bar were not passed by his constituents. Some of his audience replied: "Upon the churches." This is worse than slander. It is a foul libel. Yet, Mr. Rowell took no notice of it. This is just the accusation which the enemies of the churches will seize upon. We believe that every church that has this name has a temperance organization, and many of them have had these for generations prior to the birth of this so-called temperance reformer who allows such a libel upon them to go forth uncondemned by him.

Seeing all this, no one need be surprised that the charge is made by the Conservative party in league with the liquor interests.

The Guelph Herald speaks even more bluntly. It does not believe that the churches are really in favor of the bar, and doubts if their interference will prove effective. And we are told:

The effort to bind hand and foot the members of the Methodist Church and hand them over to Mr. Rowell, is succeeding but indifferently. For one thing, there are men who object to seeing the church turned into a voting machine for any political party. Others refuse to abandon an administration which has done so well for the moral advancement of the province of Ontario.

The resolution is wide enough to permit of liberal interpretation, and the facts are carefully studied it is not difficult to draw the deduction that the present temperance policy of Ontario, by which the electors expressed themselves under local option, the whole liquor traffic is wiped out, is more advanced than a policy which only wipes out the bars and clubs and leaves saloons to sell liquor wholesale.

The London Advertiser has Mr. Rowell as a knight of the twentieth century, who is bringing fresh air and sunlight into Ontario politics, and commanding the support of the moral forces of the country. In a somewhat positive outburst of eulogy we are told that "Child-Rowell" has sutured "The Castle of Indolence at Toronto." Mr. Rowell is said to have initiated a new Liberalism in Ontario. To quote:

Since the reforms of the Mowat period Ontario politics have been, on the whole, wanting in large issues, constitutional, social and moral. While the Whitney government has labored simply to carry out the policies of Northern Ontario, Hydro-Electric power development, agriculture, licensing and education, without any real new steps forward of any consequence, in the latter department particularly, elections have turned on minor squabbles to a degree. But this is changed this time, and a great departure is made in 1914.

Mr. Rowell has turned a stream of fresh ideas upon the barriers of Ontario politics. Child-Rowell, to the Dark Tower comes, and blows his manifesto. He has begun a political career and an influence at Toronto. He has raised and forced a great issue. Politics are real and alive again in the province.

It would be extremely foolish of any elector to say to himself today, "I have always voted Tory or Grit, and I'm going to stick to my colors." The enemies of national temperance will not make such a mistake; Grit or Tory, they will vote against Rowell. Similarly, the enemies of the bar, and all its attendant train of evils must make no mistake, must cast their votes for the national temperance party. They will stultify themselves if they say, "Oh, this abolition of the bar is only a political dodge, part of the game of politics, a mere trick. It is no such thing, but deadly earnest, as every one knows who takes the trouble to study Mr. Rowell's career and character, and his opinions even in Toronto, as church conventions know, and as the liquor men know."

It is evident that Mr. Rowell has initiated a new Liberalism in Ontario.

Allan Studholme is running in East Hamilton, and the Labor party may also nominate in West Hamilton. Labor, however, has a candidate in the West Hamilton riding, and there was some talk of a Labor candidate in Riverdale, but the situation in that riding has become somewhat complicated by Mr. Douglas.

The Liberals have endorsed Mr. McTavish, the temperance candidate, in Parkdale. Those who attended the "no booze" convention which nominated Mr. McTavish, must have observed that he was not as showy a speaker as some of the others who were mentioned for the nomination. But there is a rugged force about the man which, no doubt, brought him the unanimous support of the Liberal party. He and Mr. Galt, the Conservative candidate, are long to the same working club, and are the best of friends, but that will not be an up-hill fight. In his speech of acceptance he told the audience that he and the defendants were confident that he did not get.

Trial. Before Meredith, C.J. Grainer v. Order of Canadian Home Circles—F. Hellmuth, K.C., and J. R. Meredith for plaintiff, J. E. Jones and R. Sommerville for defendant. Action for injunction restraining defendants from acting upon or taking any steps to enforce against him certain parts of the constitution as amended, and for a declaration that such laws as amended are ultra vires and for a declaration that plaintiff's rights under the beneficiary certificate issued to him cannot be taken away or impaired. Judgment. As to the $1000 payable at death the contract did not provide for the premiums, they were provided for by the bylaws, and the plaintiff expressly agreed in effect that such bylaws might be changed. These changes in the bylaws were made in good faith, and in the circumstances it cannot be said that they are unreasonable. As to the $1000 to be paid at 70, the bylaws of 1898, in so far as they propose to postpone the payment of the specified age, were invalid, because not warranted by, but indeed in direct conflict with the defendants' corporate powers, and also those bylaws were validated by the provincial legislation of 1908. They were validated only in so far as they converted the one payment of $1000 at the age of 70 into ten equal annual payments beginning at that time. The legislation cannot be interpreted as a warrant for the direct wiping out of all that remains unpaid of that $1000 as the defendants' bylaws of 1914 purport to do; nor for increased assessment of the same purpose as equaling the annual payments not yet made. The legislation treats the $1000 as if it were an existing debt payable at the specified time the payment of which in case of the defendants was postponed, but not otherwise hampered. The plaintiff is therefore entitled to judgment for the $1000 damages with interest from the day when that payment by the general costs of the action upon the supreme court of Ontario, and no set off, and let the action be dismissed without costs in so far as relief is sought of assessment. Relief is sought of assessment.

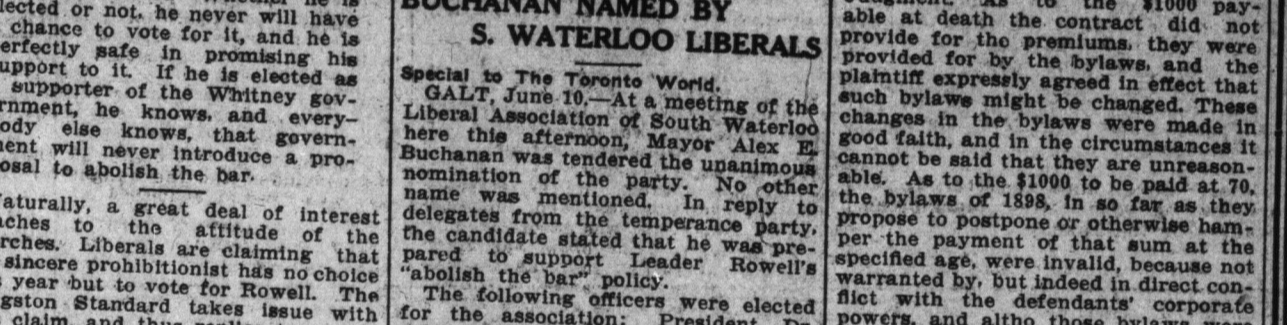

Appellate Division. Before Meredith, C.J.O.; MacLaren, J. J. Massey, J.A.; Hodgins, J.A. Dominion Transport Company v. General Supply Company of Canada. G. S. Lindsey, K.C., for defendant. S. Denison, K.C., for plaintiff. Appeal by defendants from judgment of county court of Carleton of April 21, 1914. Judgment of appeal resumed from yesterday and concluded. Judgment reserved.

Walker v. Ryll—D. I. Grant for claimant. H. S. White, for plaintiff. Appeal by Bettie Ryll, claimant in an interpleader issue from judgment of first division court of Sudbury of May 19, 1914. This was an interpleader action to determine ownership of goods seized by plaintiff as the property of Martin Ryll and claimed by Bettie Ryll as her property. At the trial it was adjudged that the goods in question were the property of Martin Ryll.

FASHIONS CREATED BY DEMI-MONDE Strong Arrangement of Modern Styles at Women's Convention in Chicago.

Canadian Press Despatch. CHICAGO, June 10.—The subject of dress came before the women gathered today for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Whether clothes were first worn as an ornamental covering, or for protection matters little, for we seem even to this day to consider the first of prime importance. No matter if the neck be exposed nearly to the waistline and the limbs nearly half way to the knees, if only the style be followed, health and suggestiveness are lost sight of in the craze to be in fashion, she said.

"As the fashions are today a woman would not wear 'one corset' today. As the fashions are today women would have to design for themselves every thing for herself if she would not wear 'immoral' clothes. The reason is plain enough, and especially French fashions, are not designed for good women. They will not spend enough money to suit the mercantile. That is the reason that every new fashion is designed originally for the demi monde of Paris."

LACROSSE GOSSIP

Two of the Toronto Rowing Club hockey stars have signified their intention of playing lacrosse for the Beavers this year. Last night Jack Burrill, who is some stick-handling, turned out with the eastiders, and that Charr will play on Friday night.

The Torontoes put in a real stiff workout last night, and nearly every man finished up in great form. The extra session of last yesterday helped to ease the sore spots. Longfellow was the life of the practice, and when the Indians go to Montreal on Saturday they should just about turn the tables on the Frenchmen.

Local lacrosse referees will have to make it a point of being on time for the games this year, owing to the numerous events being staged on every city party. Last Saturday this fact was very noticeable, as the teams were forced to curtail the games to allow the following games to be played.

The Young Torontoes look to be very strong on the whole this year, with most of last year's players back in line and some of those who craved rest two years ago. Dug. Cowan is just as slippery as ever.

The Parklades are going to surprise their rivals the next time out, as they have been rapidly whipping their boys into shape this last week.

Maitlands are with the goods again this season, and it will not be for the want of trying if they don't grab a couple of the titles lying around loose in the lacrosse world.

Looking over the Quebec aggregation that will play Tecumseh at the island on Saturday, one is forced to admit that the Ancient City outfit have some of the material that should make them all hustlers in the game.

LEE'S LARRUPERS PEPPERED PETS

Auld kept the hits scattered and Beavers Clouted Behind Him.

PETERBORO, June 10.—The Beavers displayed a whole lot of good baseball this afternoon, and backed up by good pitching by Bobby Auld, broke to the win column at the expense of the Petes by a score of 8 to 1.

Tracy, who relieved him, was hit hard in the fourth, but after that had the Beavers at his mercy. A great catch by Moseley, with two men in the fourth, choked off a Pete rally.

The Beavers got two in the second on Killie's triple, studies by Shultz, Lou and Moseley, and a wild pitch. Three more were added in the third, on two passes. O'Connell's home run, and Killie's theft of home, in the fourth.

Trout, Burrill and Killie singled, and the latter scored on Fox's error. The Petes grabbed their only run in the ninth on singles by Miller and Blount and a sacrifice fly.

HUSTLERS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SEAS

John Gansel ended a very profitable and pleasant three-day visit to our city yesterday, and just to keep a few local fans' memory clear about the title of his band, the Hustlers handed the Leafs their third straight defeat of the week.

Southider Hoff pitched his second game of the series, and got a win. He was never very steady, but slipped out of several tight places and deserves all the credit for the win.

Zeiser had absolutely nothing, and his effort in the first innings was pitiful. Messinger was walking and then Pfister singled, Walsh sacrificed and Barrows walked. Along came Joe Shultz with a screaming angle to right that sent home two, but Joe was thrown out trying to make second.

Barrows' double and Pfister's single scored another in the third. Walsh's sacrifice, an infield out and Pipp's one-corner rap tallied Rochester's sixth and final run in eighth.

With two disposed of in the fifth, Fitz walked, and then Pfister hit one to the outfield for a home run. It was a real honest out. Four runs behind in the ninth found the Leafs with a fighting spirit that was not to be broken.

NEWARK, June 10.—With one out in the bottom of the ninth, the Grays won the game by a score of 3 to 2.

EL PASO JACK ARRIVES IN CITY, MEXICAN BURRO CREATES FURORE

Famous Quadruped Was Ridden Thru Downtown Streets and Enjoyed His Experience—World's Prize for Clever Scholar Will Be Taken to Different Schools.

El Paso Jack yesterday afternoon made his initial bow to the citizens of Toronto. After his long journey from El Paso, it was thought advisable to take him for a preliminary jaunt, in order to accustom him to our main thoroughfares. Accordingly, ridden by a young gentleman with whom "Jack" has already formed a staunch friendship, the World's prize burro sauntered thru the downtown streets, and his appearance created a great sensation. He was the centre of an admiring and enthusiastic crowd at all stops—whichever, by the way, were many and of a reasonably lengthy nature, as a means of diversion after his prolonged sojourn in the crate in which he was shipped.

RATE REDUCTION IS JUSTIFIABLE

So Provincial Engineer Says in Report to Hydro Commissioners.

ESTIMATES REVENUE Mr. Gaby Declares That Steam Reserve Plant is Not Necessary.

At last the basis of the Ontario Hydro Commission's order for rate reduction has been seen in the light of day. The report had already been seen by the council last week. The information came from H. H. Cousins, by permission of the provincial commission, and was laid before the board of council without comment.

"We find," says the provincial engineer at the end of his statement, "that notwithstanding the argument placed before us, the rate reduction is justifiable."

This decision of the provincial board was based on reports submitted by Chief Engineer Gaby, Advisory Accountant Andrews and Municipal Auditor McCollum.

In his report Mr. Andrews states that the Toronto hydro has been allowed for only three per cent. interest on accumulations, whereas four per cent. is obtained, this making the annual charge for sinking fund $16,000 greater than necessary. He suggested that this money be diverted to general revenue instead of adding to the accumulations. He secondly states that the assumption of $5,000,000, being the par value of several debenture issues by the Toronto commission, is not correct. He contends that $2,000,000 is the proper charge against the local commission, as these debentures were purchased at par by the city in 1911, and the discount should have been assumed by the city. He charges that the management expenses were abnormal.

Answering the objections of the local board against the proposed reduction, Mr. Gaby, provincial chief engineer, estimates that with the present rate revenue during the present year would be at least $1,500,000, leaving a surplus of $250,000 to be applied to depreciation of plant and extensions.

Regarding the advisability of the Toronto hydro having a steam reserve plant, Mr. Gaby refutes the statements that it would be absurd for the Toronto commission to install a steam plant, and instead recommends duplication of the electric system. He says that during the past year there were only five interruptions of sufficient length to warrant such an improvement. His estimate of the cost of an adequate steam plant is $1,250,000, with an annual charge of at least $20,000.

IMPROVE MARKET SOON

The property commissioner yesterday submitted to the property committee his report on improvements at St. Lawrence market. They were to be instituted soon, he said.

ENTRIES COMING IN FOR HORSE PARADE

Dominion Day Open Air Equine Show Attracting Much Interest.

The officers of the Open Air Horse Parade Association report that already entries are coming in for the annual parade and show, to be held on the morning of Dominion Day at Queen's Park. Two of the city bands have been engaged to play in the park during the judging. This is the largest work-horse parade in America, and the objects of the association are to promote a love for the work-horse and to create a desire on the part of the owner and driver to take a more humane care of his horse.

In addition to the sum of one dollar presented to each driver in the commercial class, the association are giving a award for cleanliness and neatness of turnout. While merchants and citizens are usually so generous to the Toronto work-horse parade some years ago, two citizens of Buffalo were so impressed that they returned to that city to form an association, with an object similar to the Toronto parade, and the following year a very successful work-horse parade was held which has since grown into large numbers. Prize lists may be obtained at the office 56 1-2 East King street. The entries close on the 20th inst. and should be made immediately. The association has no endowment and depends largely upon the voluntary subscriptions of its members. Officers: Noel Marshall, president; H. C. Tomlin and R. W. Davies, vice-presidents; Allan Cass, treasurer; T. J. Macabee, secretary; H. J. E. Good, manager.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

The Band of the Royal Grenadiers, under the direction of Lieut. John Waldron, will play at Ramsden Park (off North Yonge street) this (Thursday) evening from 8 till 10 o'clock.

DATE FIXED FOR HYDRO-RADIAL VOTE

WILL RUSH ESTIMATES

Committee to Be Named to Arrange for Speakers and Meetings.

Sept. 21 was the date chosen for voting on hydro radials by the delegates from municipalities to be tapped by the eastern section of the proposed Ontario Hydro Radial System, at their meeting here yesterday. They also agreed to the general direction of the report selected by hydro engineers, and kept the few objections they have of the exact right of way until later. A committee will be named to secure speakers for the campaign, and to arrange meetings and local campaign committees are being arranged for.

P. A. Gaby of the commission stated estimates could be ready within one week, and the vote might have been taken in August but for the rush of farm work at that time, and the National Exhibition immediately following.

Previous to setting the time the 40 delegates voted to submit the bylaws on condition the government granted a subsidy adequate in the opinion of the provincial commission.

T. C. Nicholas, Uxbridge, presided.

CITY COMMISSION TO MEET TODAY

The Toronto Hydro Commission meets this afternoon at its usual private sitting, and the rate reduction order is likely to be more than ever a matter of discussion. The Toronto commission has sent to Mayor Hookan a letter stating that unless council decides before Wednesday next what they want the commission to do regarding the proposed rate reduction, the Toronto commission will announce a decision on its own initiative.

Part of the letter reads: "We desire to make it clear that we are not agents in this matter, owing to the fact that power has been vested by special legislation in the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario to order new rates, even if the introduction of such rates should involve the Toronto Hydro-Electric System in a loss."

CITY'S DEATH RATE LOWER DURING MAY

Yesterday, for the second time in succession, the local board of health did not meet because of lack of quorum. The medical officer of health, however, had his report ready. It outlines the local work of recently-established division of child hygiene, and said good results were recorded.

There were in Toronto in May, 1914, 538 deaths, as compared with 592 in May, 1913, a decrease of 1.9 per one thousand population. Contagious diseases cases were fewer and the general health of the city, according to the report, is good.

CABINET MINISTERS ARE WORKING HARD

It is not likely that Sir James Whitney will do any platform speaking during the election campaign. His ministers, however, are working hard on his behalf. The Hon. I. B. Lucas having done considerable speaking during his tour, supervising the whole campaign in Eastern Ontario.

WHAT DYSEPTICS SHOULD EAT

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore, sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action, the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus relieving the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug. It is, in fact, a physician, I believe in its use as a cure whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphate of magnesia as directed above, and see if it 'nights' right."
