SQUIRES AND BURNS MATCHED FOR WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

They Will Box 45 Rounds at Colma, Cal., on May 30 and Jeffries Will Referee -- Jack "Twin" Sullivan Draws With Hugo Kelly After Fierce 20 Round Fight.

NEW YORK, May 11—A despatch from Los Angeles says Bill Squires, of Australia, and Tommy Burns were matched there yesterday to box at Colma for the world's championship on May 30. Jas. W. Colforth, the San Francisco promoter, arranged the event at a conference with the parties interested at a local sporting resort. Squires' interests were looked after by his manager, Barney Reynolds. The bout is scheduled to go forty-five rounds.

the rest of the match-making was easy sailing. LOS ANGELES, May 11—Jack "Twin" Sullivan, of Boston, and Hugo Kelly, of Chicago, fought 20 rounds to a draw before the Pacific Athletic Club last night. The decision was received by the crowd with satisfaction. Neither man was badly damaged. Kelly scored the only clean knock down of the fight in the fourth round. He sent Sullivan to the mat with a left to the point of the jaw. Sullivan recovered quickly, however, and finished the round without trouble. In the eighth round Kelly knocked Sullivan to his knees with a blow that landed below the belt. Referee Burns cautioned Kelly, warning him about the foul. The Boston fighter recovered almost on the instant, however, and seemed uninjured. The last was the best round of the fight. Kelly rushed throughout the entire minutes and both fought with vigor, the Chicago fighter having the better of the mill.

JULES VERNE'S FANCY IS REALIZED IN FACT

American Submarine "Octopus" is a Wonderful Boat.

Tests Made at Newport Show That the New Craft Can Almost Equal the Feats of the "Nautilus" of Verne's Novel.

NEWPORT, R. I. May 11—All American records for quick diving of a submarine were broken yesterday when the submarine Octopus went through a series of extraordinary tests in Coddington Cove in a nasty sea, with a thick fog that blew at a rate of 32 to 40 miles an hour. The principal test was to determine whether the Octopus would be able to be submerged quickly should an enemy be sighted. Running at full speed on the surface, propelled by gasoline engines, the Octopus received a signal from members of the Naval Test Board on board the tender Nina. Immediately the engines were stopped and power was furnished by storage batteries. Diving rudders were adjusted the submarine took 37 tons of water into her tanks and sank to a depth of 20 feet, so that the deck which is four feet above the axis of the boat, was at a depth of 15.34 feet. All this was accomplished four and a half minutes after the signal. A second test reduced the time by about half a minute.

A test was also made to determine the ability of the Octopus to come to a full stop while running at full speed under water. On coming to the surface after one of her dives, the Octopus sighted, after which he demanded a cigar. The submarine immediately dived and escaped a collision by sinking so deep that the tow passed above her in safety. At another time when the Octopus was running awash at a speed of ten knots an hour, she dived and was completely submerged within 25 seconds.

The Times gives today a correct statement of the value of exports from the winter port of Canada by the one hundred and fifteen steamers which sailed for the United Kingdom and South African ports during this season. The valuation is about three and one half millions short of last year. This is accounted for in the shipment of wheat which was held back on account of the blockade in the west; also because of the price which was from 10 to 15 cents lower per bushel than it was last year, otherwise the exports were well up to last season's business.

COMPLETE STATEMENT SHOWS WINTER EXPORTS TOTALLED $20,120,430

RECAPITULATION OF EXPORTS.

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Includes Canadian goods, Foreign goods, and Total.

The average for the previous three seasons of spruce and hardwood, deals, etc. was 47.12 millions. The following value of exports was sent to South Africa, which is included in the above grand total as compared with last season: Canadian Goods $1,519,217, Foreign goods $1,073,794, Total $2,593,011.

AN OUTRAGE

The residents around Queen Square feel that they are not fairly used by the city authorities. Last evening there were only one man on duty to look after the old boys exploding fire crackers in the square, and the length of water pipe piled on the square. The noise therefore did not deafen more than six or eight people. There should be more pipe piled on the square, and an announcement should be made that giant fire-crackers will be supplied free to all boys. It is also reported that a policeman was in the square, and that his presence had the effect of causing

A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

(Continued.) For hours had Della Scala ridden with his wife across his horse and against his breast, but riding always toward Novara; and now he had ridden into a wild red glare that lit the sky. Mastino's thoughts were centered on one thing—Visconti. There was no reflection in them; neither the past nor present had meaning. He was riding in a nightmare; he knew he carried Isotta, and that she was dead; he knew too he was riding to find Visconti. The red glare rose into the sky in pointed flames. "This a burning city," said Mastino; but the words had no meaning. Here was light, however, had he needed it where by to find Visconti. The blinding glare, though still a mile away, lit up the great posterns of a gate near, and a long wall adjoining was glowing red in it, the trails of the flames, showing like blood, as they hung over it, spectral and strange. It was a noble's summer palace, lit by Novara burning yonder. Mastino stopped his horse, that needed no checking, nor out by that wild ride, and gazed before him at the flames, and slowly something of reasoning nearer returned. He had ridden to meet Visconti, and Visconti was here. He knew it—either of God or devil—surely, with the double burden, through the unguarded gates, and came to a flight of steps unlooked by high, open, lighted windows. Here was the place—unguarded. Here was Visconti, and the soul of Isotta suddenly blazed into a white heat that for a moment blinded him. Then he dismounted, and laid Isotta down, speaking the while to his horse, and the glow from the burning city wrapped them both and made the fair dead face rosy. The temple was over, and only a soft rain fell, ceasing gradually. Mastino found a sheltered spot beneath the bushes, and with a pitiful gentleness laid Isotta down and drew the hood above her head. "I will come back," he murmured, kissing her. Then he turned to the steps with his naked dagger in his hand. He were no armor; he was bare-headed; he gave it no thought. He was here to slay Visconti. That was God's fact. Along the steps a soldier came lurching, and Mastino sprang on him and strangled him before he could cry out, bearing the body noiselessly to the ground. Then, as he lay on his back, he listened, he heard from within the palace a laugh and a voice. Della Scala looked around. How was he to get to him? He must feel Visconti's blood warm over his hands, and quickly. "How it blows!" The soldiers will have poor spoil," said Visconti. "But we will build another town, de Lana: we are rich enough." "Outside the walls now we found a ghastly thing," said a second voice: "a human hand grasping tight a knot of scarlet ribbons—'tis the hand, a beautiful hand!" "Your tale sickness me—'thave always hated horror," said Visconti. "Mastino crept along and found a door. 'I will get in here,' he said within himself; and then within himself he laughed, for it was opened. The tapestry within was moved aside, and there was a glimpse of a white sleeve

A WOMAN'S BACK WAS NOT MADE TO ACHE

Thousands of Women suffer Un-told Misery Every Day with Aching Backs That Really have no Business to Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life. It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause. But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is no wonder that they get out of order. Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from Kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills you in the same way as they have thousands of others. "Outside, Ont., writes: 'I was suffering for six months for kidney and my back was so lame I could not get out of bed. LINGERIE HAT FOR DRESSY WEAR.

Although hats of fine braids and straws will be much worn by small girls from five to twelve years, the lingerie hat of fine embroidery will be seen to a marked extent this summer for dressy wear, especially so when the accompanying frock is of fine embroidery, either blind or eyelet. Some of the lingerie hats are made so that the covering may be removed from the wire frame with little difficulty and laundered, while others must go to the cleaner's when soiled, as they are not made to be taken apart. Flowers and ribbons are used as trimmings, more often flowers. These in wreaths of small roses, lilies, and other blossoms encircling the full mushroom crown and sometimes hanging off the back brim several inches. The brims are medium in width and usually finished with at least two-inch-wide, or wider, frills of lace or embroidery, or the hat material, with a narrow lace edging. Little girls between three and five wear these hats with wide ribbon ties bowed under the chin, but the ties are not worn by girls older.

These Medicinal Facts You Can Study With Profit

How few realize that twenty-five per cent of all disease has its origin in some interference with the function of elimination. The whole body exists by reason of the transference of fluids through its component parts. When a certain point the body has power to object to destructive elements, but this power is limited. When happens that the body is loaded with wastes and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and germs live and multiply, and the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury or bismuth, no injurious metallic ingredients of any kind. Such a medicine is the greatest possible assurance to every man and woman of health, spirits and contentment. Grand results are achieved, and famous names are mentioned in connection with this letter press. From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Upper Gullies, Conception Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I must say that I have used them with grand success for three years. They never failed to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples but now my complexion is clear and rosy. In more ways than I care to mention I have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use. CRIPPLED BY SCIATICA.

Made Well and Strong by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Doctors Had Failed.

Mr. H. W. Awalt is one of the leading merchants of Henford, N. S. A few years ago he was a great sufferer from the most excruciating trouble sciatica. He says: "At the time I was afflicted I was living at Baker Settlement. The pain I suffered was terrible. I had been off work for some time. The cords of my leg were all drawn up and I could only limp along with the aid of a stick. The pain I suffered was terrible. I was in misery both day and night. Every moment caused me such pain as only those who have been tortured with sciatica can know. I was treated by several doctors, but they did not help me a bit. In fact I almost began to feel that my condition was hopeless, when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention. I got a half dozen boxes. I had used about the entire quantity before I found any benefit. But I was encouraged and got a second half dozen boxes and before these were all gone every vestige of the trouble had disappeared. Not only this, but I was improved in health in every way, as it will be readily understood that the long siege of pain I had suffered had left me badly run down. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can't recommend them too strongly to other sufferers." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure sciatica simply because they make the rich, red blood that soothes and strengthens the jagged aching nerves. That is why they cure such troubles as neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and partial paralysis. That is why they cure all ailments due to blood. They improve the blood, and they make weary, dependent, broken-down men and women bright, active and strong. But only the genuine pills can do this, and only the genuine pills can be so recommended. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People on the wrapper around every box. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Company

It is understood that a new company is being formed for the manufacture of warding the movement by getting together a capital of $10,000; and as half the amount has already been subscribed, it is probable that operations will be commenced at an early date on contracts already secured for the Lordly adjacent school desk. This desk has been selected for the Hampton consolidated school. Piety often seems like pretense to those who have not felt the impulse of the spirit.

EVERY DAY CLUB IS COMMENDED

It Enables Earnest Men to Come Into Helpful Contact With Their Fellows.

In the course of an article on "The Every Day Club—An Interesting Experiment," the Maritime Post says: "The motto of the club, 'To help men to be men,' is expressive of the spirit that actuates its efforts. Every night in the week the rooms in which the club meets are thrown open to men irrespective of class or condition, color or creed. The spirit of the club is inclusive, and so far as we know, no man has ever felt that he was not welcome. "So far the organization has not had the advantage of an elaborate plant. The rooms are regularly used for reading, for games, for social intercourse. Each evening a short and attractive program is contributed by men in the habit of frequenting the rooms. A strong committee attempts to get the men into social contact with one another. Perhaps the most important feature of the work is the effort that is made to keep the purpose of the club before the men who attend. This is effectively done by repeated reference to actual opportunities 'to help men to be men,' and by constant attempt to encourage every man who enters the rooms to assume some share in the management of the work. "The club proposes during the summer months to rent a large campus conveniently located near the centre of the city. These grounds are to be under the supervision of a competent man and, so far as possible, are to be free for the use of the boys and young men of the city. "It is impossible at the present time to estimate the success of the experiment. REV. RUGH PEDLEY ON THE OLD AND NEW THEOLOGY

Humanity's Advance Responsible for Development of New-Inspiration Does Not Imply Perfection, But Progressive Revelation to That End.

(Montreal Gazette.)

Rev. Hugh Pedley opened a farewell series of sermons in the Emmanuel church Sunday night, which will be continued during this month on "Things Old and New." This special series is being given by the pastor in view of the approaching end of the building as a church, and the removal of the congregation to their new edifice on Drummond street. The final services will be held in the present church on May 20th, and until the completion of the new building services will then be held in its lecture hall, which by that time will be sufficiently advanced for occupancy.

Last night Rev. Mr. Pedley discussed the old theology and the new in an interesting and broad-minded manner. He chiefly dealt with the great change that has come over the general religious belief of people during the past two centuries. This change, he contended, is not so much one of ideas as of temper and viewpoint, which has caused a corresponding alteration in theological beliefs and quite different conceptions of God and the Bible, with the great outstanding fact that no matter how other beliefs had changed the principle of Jesus Christ as the Saviour remained the same today as it had always been.

"I thank God," declared Mr. Pedley, "that as a Christian minister I have laid upon me what was laid upon many of my forefathers in the ministry—the necessity of trying to prove that every jot and tittle of the old Testament is perfect. The new theology, like the old, believes in the inspiration of the Bible, but it does not believe that inspiration carries with it absolute infallibility, as did the old theology. The old argument was that God's work must be perfect; that the Bible is God's work, and, therefore, must be perfect. It seems an irreparable syllogism, but I doubt the major premise. God's work is not always perfect at the time, although it may be in its ultimate working out. The Anglican catechism teaches us that God made us—but are we perfect?"

"God, I believe, made the Bible, but that does not carry the implication that everything said and taught in it is perfect. We know it is not. The ordinary reader may find statements that cannot be reconciled, and we all know that Christ said the Old Testament was imperfect and to be supplanted by the perfect. There you have the story of God's progressive revelation of Himself—but it is a moving onward from the perfect to the perfect."

In their attitude towards Christ, Mr. Pedley argued there was a close agreement between the old and new theologies. Both thoroughly believed in His divine origin and mission on earth as the Saviour. But in general the whole attitude of mankind towards Him has changed during the past two centuries. The old idea that God created the world in seven days and then withdrew to let it work out its destiny, save for occasional miraculous interventions, had given place to the idea of an omnipresent all-loving deity. The old idea that man had fallen into sin and that the world for six thousand years had been dispelled by the advance of knowledge, just as the same advance had shown that instead of being the centre of the universe the earth was merely a comparatively small affair on its fringe.

"Our whole viewpoint, our very temper, has changed," continued Mr. Pedley. "As a boy I was taught that the world was divided into two classes—Christian and heathen—with all the knowledge and goodness on the one side and on the other darkness, degradation, and loss. We do not think that today. Without abating our enthusiasm we find rays of light in heathendom. Even in the creeds of Mohammed, of Buddha and Zoroaster we find the same old and new teachings of morality that come very close to the Christian ideal."

"We are changed not so much in idea as in feeling. The world today is very much more humane than it was 200 years ago. Today we do not torture heretics or burn to death those who differ from us. We have humane hospitals and prisons for the unfortunate that were utterly unknown then, and it is this advance in humanity that has changed our theological viewpoint."

In concluding, Mr. Pedley earnestly advised his hearers to exercise the broadest tolerance and not to accept any theory that was new or old, but simply to apply the test of whether it was truth or not truth. There was no need for panic or fear that the temple of God was falling because different divines advanced different theories to those of bygone days. "And lastly," said the preacher, "remember this. While it is important to have a theology it is not theology that saves you. Neither our new theology nor our old. It is possible for a man to go to destruction having in hand the very narrowest of theologies and to walk the broadest of theological views. It is not theology that saves you, but it is the love of God and whatever theology will bring you to that love. It is the love of God that will lead you into the presence and power of Jesus Christ."

NEW BOATS FOR THE ALLAN LINE
 Three Big Steamers Now Under Construction and More Are to Be Ordered.
 (Montreal Witness)
 An important indication of the rapid growth of the St. Lawrence trade is shown in the fact that within the past two years the Allan Line Company has increased the tonnage of vessels trading between British ports and Canada by 35,000 tons. The announcement was made by the management this morning that a very extensive and elaborate programme in connection with the future development of this line had been decided on which will place on this route within the next year three new handsome and powerful vessels aggregating a capacity of over thirty-one thousand tons.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY
 Tomorrow and on Monday the Carleton Presbyterian church will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. The order of Sunday's services is as follows: Morning service at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. D. McDermid; afternoon service at 3 o'clock, at which Rev. David Lang, B. D., of St. Andrew's church, and Rev. Gordon Dickie, M. A., of St. Stephen's church, will give addresses. The choir of St. David's church, led by Mr. McGowan, will have charge of the music. Evening service at 7 o'clock, conducted by Rev. D. McDermid. The offerings at all these services will be to defray the expense of redecorating the interior of the church, which is just completed. The pipe organ will be used for the first time. On Monday evening a congregational reunion will be held, to which will be invited all the Presbyterian ministers of the city, and all the ministers of Carleton.

Complaints are being made about the filthy condition of City Hall, Carleton.

HE MAY BE IN CANADA

Believed that American Pastor Who Eloped With Young Girl is Hiding in the Dominion.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Somewhere, possibly in New York, but most probably in faraway Canada, Jere K. Cooke, the eloping parson, former rector of St. George's parish, Hempstead, L. I., with Floretta Whaley, is still successfully hiding from the authorities of the law who seek him on the charge of abduction.

The first tangible clue to the direction taken by the former minister and the pretty seventeen-year-old girl in their flight was divulged yesterday when Samuel Green, vergor of the parish, remembered that Cooke had made inquiries of him recently, concerning conditions in Canada. Green's home was formerly in Canada. The rector wanted to know, the sexton says, which was the quickest and cheapest way to Montreal and Quebec, and also inquired about Western Canada and British Columbia. He seemed particularly desirous for information about the possibility of a stranger obtaining employment in the churches of the Dominion. He thought nothing of the inquiries at the time and did not remember the incident again until questioned closely by District Attorney Franklin A. Coles, of Nassau County.

On the other hand a letter relating to financial matters and received by B. E. Carman, a vestryman of St. George's parish, subsequent to the elopement, shows Jere K. Cooke was still in New York on the night of May 1, twenty-four hours after his disappearance from Hempstead. The letter was mailed from Station J, which is near One Hundred and Thirtieth street and Lenox avenue, last Wednesday evening at 7.30, and was delivered the following day. It reads:

"My Dear Mr. Carman: "Enclosed please find check for some of the church funds which I find are still in my possession and a statement regarding same. This makes me absolutely square with the church. "Signed) JERE K. COOKE."

Mrs. Cooke, the abandoned wife, is still at the rectory. Her brother, Frank A. Damon, of Hartford, is with her and will remain until such time as Mrs. Cooke is able to return to her former Connecticut home. She is prostrated as a result of the situation that confronts her and refuses to see callers. None of her very intimate associates among the parishioners.

"Our plans are very indefinite," said Mrs. Damon, speaking for Mrs. Cooke. "We hope by remaining here some possible clue as to the hiding place of the eloping couple will crop up. This morning Mrs. Cooke had a long conference with District Attorney Coles and promised to afford every assistance in her power to find the couple."

HOW CASEY WON HIS BET.
 (Kansas City Star.)
 Jeff Call, a negro, who came here from Harrisonville, Mo., rented a house in the north-eastern part of the city. He fell behind in his rent and refused to move out. The landlord, W. L. Stephens, was given judgment against Call by Justice Remley for $10.
 "I'll bet $2.50 you don't have him out of there in five days," Mr. Stephens said to Roy Casey, the constable.
 The bet was made. Casey turned to Thomas Raper, a deputy, and said: "Move 'em up, Tom."

Raper went to Call's home. "Get to move you out," he said bluntly. "But I'll give you 50 cents to set your goods in the street."
 It was a chance for Call. He accepted the offer. Call got the 50 cents. Casey won $2.50 and the landlord got possession of his house.

ATHLETIC

The boys' road race, held under the auspices of the Young Rovers, was run all right yesterday afternoon but had an unexpected sequel. R. Pendleton finished first with Danaher a close second, C. McKee third and J. Humphrey, fourth. The time made was not very fast and the most exciting part of the day's sport was when the prizes were being distributed.

After the first four the runners finished in a bunch and it was difficult to place them for they were not numbered. There was a scramble among the prizes and some hard words and even blows were exchanged.

Prizes were awarded to R. Pendleton, 1st; Danaher, 2nd; McKee, 3rd; Humphrey, 4th; Mitchell, 5th; Bell, 6th; J. McMann, 7th; McKee, 8th; Campbell, 9th. It was the seventh prize, a box of soap, for which there were the most bids. The soap was distributed in the Park Hotel by George Cusack, starter and judge.

Mr. McKee, timer, and Cusack thought that he should be degraded from his position as timer. The hotel proprietor first advised Cusack to take the matter before the police court, then to go out in the street. The latter proceeded to do so, and fight it out in the old-fashioned way. A fight broke out and there was hot work for a time. There was one of the spectators, however, who broke up the scene. This was McKee's mother and she entered the ring and broke up the contest.

Although the time made by the runners was rather slow scarcely any of them showed signs of fatigue and it is safe to predict that in Pendleton St. John has a good future runner. Danaher has also a good stride and with more training can go far.

OTHER INDIAN RUNNERS.

Almost daily we read of new runners of the long distance variety springing into prominence and taking creditable standing among a bunch of their fellows at some long distance event, but, we believe, it belongs for the reserve near Caledonia to produce the like of Longboat, and the day may be far distant when a still more speedy one than he will blossom out in the athletic world.

Hamilton, first; Toronto, second, and later the American cities may claim Longboat as their very own, but notwithstanding all their claims his humble little shack on the reserve adjoining this town along the waters of the noble old Grand will ever be his home, it matters little what the different sporting papers may say in regard to this. The Indian is an Indian still and the haunts of his native woodland will ever prove dearer and better than all the cities on both sides of the line.

During Longboat's last visit to Caledonia he told a Bannan representative that he would surely pick the Herald winner of 1907 from his own reserve. Of the three mentioned, Adam Henry stands a good first in the estimation of his companions, while Billy White is following a good close second. Henry, who is a nephew of Tom Longboat, is 19 years of age, stands 5 feet 7 1/2 inches, and weighs about 120 pounds. Thin as a match, but can go some just the same. White is no small either, but has not as yet hung up any figures as to his fitness of foot.

Of all the runners who met on the reserve, and almost any old day you will meet from 10 to 15 in their running togs, not one will give "Tom, the Wonder," a least thrust, all claiming to be cousins of some degree of the now famous human running machine. Would it not surprise the sporting fraternity to see the Herald State of Ohio, City of Toledo, O., Lucas County.

MR. ASQUITH'S PLAN FOR SOMETHING TO TAKE THE PLACE OF A PREFERENCE

He Favors Improved Steamship Services, Cheaper Cables and the Enlargement of Anglo-Colonial Commercial Agencies—A 26 Knot Steamship Service in View.

Montreal, May 10—A special cable to the Star says: The British government's alternative to the tariff preference is being gradually and cautiously developed. Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, partly drew aside the veil at the Pilgrims dinner to the colonial premiers when he said the difficulty of uniting the empire was primarily the difficulty of space. The governments of the empire would do well to consider how the trade routes between the different parts of the empire could be made the widest, smoothest and quietest possible.

Rt. Hon. Mr. Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, developed the idea when addressing the colonial conference that he favored improved steamship services, cheaper cables and the enlargement of Anglo-Colonial commercial agencies.

The Westminster Gazette, one of the leading ministerial organs, argued for the scheme as a form of imperial road-making infinitely preferable to what it called a food tax.

Radical members led by Harold Cox, former secretary of the Cobden Club, threatened to protest that this was undermining the free trade citadel and Mr. Lloyd-George, president of the board of trade, addressing the conference next day was thus led to denounce any general system of steamship subsidies.

The first editorial in another ministerial organ, the Daily Chronicle, today, has every appearance of inspiration when it further draws aside the veil from ministerial plans. It says the ministers aim is to make colonial produce not dearer in the British markets but cheaper. No concrete scheme has yet been submitted to the British government but the imperial government is prepared to submit a cooperative project to which the British and Canadian ports within four days of one another, the imperial government, guaranteeing the other half.

The fact that the Unionist government set the precedent by its guarantee for the new fast Cunard liners would tend to quieten Unionist opposition, especially since the new guarantee would not benefit a foreign port like New York as the Cunard guarantee does, but benefit Canada and the motherland alike.

The fact that the British and Canadian guarantee would be applicable to the proposed twenty day service via Canada to New Zealand and Australia with united cooperation by the governments concerned.

No particular schemes or contractors or ports are present in view. On these questions all concerned are keeping entirely open mind. The object immediately in view is a guarantee upon which the government may submit a definite scheme of a 26-knot service. Lord Strathcona some time since himself promised the withdrawal of the formation of the new federation is a matter of history.

The persistence of the devotees of the impossible is worthy of a better cause, and the wholesale denunciation and puerile threatening of all who venture to hold opinions at variance with certain intricate theories are having their natural effect. Union and league and associations, one after another, in all branches of sport, have determined that they will not be held by the nose and made to swallow the absurd dictum that a bona fide amateur shall by mere association with a professional thereby be degraded from his honorable status. The next step naturally follows that they shall join forces with the federation which stands unalterably for the principle that an amateur is such until he personally disqualified himself by his own act in accepting payment of any kind for his services as an athlete.

The Federation is an amateur organization. It was organized for his benefit and exists for his protection. No professional can be a member of any club connected with it or compete against its amateurs in individual competition. Its discipline of the offending amateur is as severe as it can be and reinstatement of one willfully becoming a professional is impossible under its constitution. It offers every encouragement to the amateur to maintain his high status, but tolerates the employment of reputable paid professionals in team sports, at the discretion of its corporate members. Its hope is that the practice may be diminished, if not ultimately abandoned, but it leaves the decision on this question and the regulation of matters pertaining to their own particular sport, to its self-governing constituents, subject only to the overruling provisions of the constitution.

It stands for the betterment of amateur sport and its endeavor shall be to see that its members "play the game," it asks for the active co-operation of all athletic and sporting organizations in the furtherance of its all embracing aim in these respects, and it ventures to believe that with such assistance its influence and sway will be paramount and undisputed as the sole arbiter in Canadian athletics.

C. A. SPRINGERS, Sec-Treas, Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada.

GERMAIN STREET BAPTISTS WILL HAVE HANDSOME SCHOOL

THE NEW GERMAIN STREET CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Telegraph here gives a cut of the new Sunday school building which the congregation of Germain street United Baptist church propose to erect on the vacant lot north of the church. As will be seen, the new Sunday school will be of elegant design, and a great improvement to the street. It will have fifty-six feet frontage with a depth of 120 feet. There will be a rear entrance from the church, but the two buildings will be distinct.

The interior of the new Sunday school will be finished in the most modern style. The plan provides for two floors, with seventeen class rooms, to be used in connection with the main school, and three class rooms for the primary department.

On the ground floor will be the main auditorium, on one side of which will be raised platforms for the superintendent, the secretary and the orchestra. Seven of the main school class rooms will radiate from the auditorium, from which they can be shut off by a partition when the school is in session.

The three class rooms for the primary department will be on the ground floor, with a separate entrance. This floor will also have a first class kitchen and lavatories.

The second floor will have a gallery all round, affording a view of the auditorium, with ten class rooms and the library for the school. The total height of the spire and tower shown in the cut will be fifty-eight feet. H. H. Mett is the architect. The total cost of the building will be $17,000, of which $11,127 was subscribed in a week's time by sixty-one people. This leaves $5,873 to be raised and a determined effort is being made to secure pledges for the money, and it is hoped that the contracts will be signed and work started in two weeks' time.

OBITUARY

Capt. John Branscombe

The life of John Branscombe, a respected citizen and worthy sea captain, went out very suddenly yesterday afternoon. While on duty as watchman of the C. P. R. sheds at Sand Point, he dropped from a height of 40 feet, landing a load of sugar, saw him fall to the floor. They went at once to his assistance, and found him unconscious. They helped him into the Donaldson line office and Dr. F. L. Kenney and Dr. W. L. Ellis were summoned. They arrived at 10:30, but too late. Capt. Branscombe was dead.

A telephone message was sent to N. C. Scott, brother-in-law of the dead man, and Mr. Scott made arrangements for undertaker N. W. Brennan to remove the body to the late captain's home at 28 Harrison street. Rev. D. Hutchinson, pastor of Main street Baptist church broke the news to the unsuspecting wife and other members of the family were informed of the tragic occurrence.

Captain Branscombe was born in Waterbury, Queens county. He married a friend of his childhood, Miss McLean, and is survived by her and three daughters, Misses Elsie, Etta and Jennie. Two brothers, Capt. Arthur D. of this city, and Captain Emery S. of Centerville, Carleton county, and three sisters, Mrs. N. C. Scott, and Mrs. Wm. Lipsett, wife of Capt. Lipsett of this city, and Mrs. Andrew Lipsett of Bangor, also survive.

Capt. Branscombe was a good type of the bluff and hearty deep-water captain, and a popular master and a trusted employee. His sober, industrious habits and kindly nature not only won him friends, but proved a source of advancement to him. It is a coincidence that his predecessor as watchman at Sand Point died under nearly similar circumstances.

GOTHIC DESIGN FOR CEMENT HOUSE

By Chas. S. Sedgwick, Arch., Minneapolis—Cost, Exclusive of Heating and Plumbing, $3,500.00.

The design that we are illustrating in this issue is for the use of cement on timber construction, general treatment being in English, half timber, Gothic. This kind of construction had never been used in this country to any extent up to the "Centennial" year, 1876. As that time the English houses that were erected on the Centennial grounds in Philadelphia were built in this manner and attracted much attention among people who had never seen this kind of work. The use of cement on exteriors in England and Germany is perhaps the most common method of construction, but in those countries the cement is placed directly on the face of the brick walls, common brick being used, laid with rough surface. This kind of work has been used in the United States for many years.

A PRETTY HOUSE OF GOTHIC DESIGN.

Simplicity in House Decoration

Although the majority of home builders and home-makers are tending toward simplicity and good taste in house decorations, one still sees in a great many homes heavy stuffed draperies, inartistic furniture and poor taste in pictures and other decorations.

Tales to Tell at the Club

The hatchet-faced female surveyed the tramp at her backdoor, then she sniffed the air suspiciously. "You want something to eat?" she sneered. "I smell liquor."

TRADE TALKS

No. 1—The Chauffeur

The automobile's growing popularity, not only as a pleasure, but a commercial vehicle, has brought forth a trade that will soon number no inconsiderable portion of every community—that of the chauffeur.

THE FINANCIAL PAGE

Men are realizing that it doesn't cost any more to be up-to-date, and the careful dresser is not any longer contented with the dupe.

Business Biff

Rest is rust. Dollars like company. A bulldog is a winner because he gets a grip in the right place and holds on.

Useful Hints for the Home Milliner

Shapes is on the wide-brimmed sailor order, except that the brim of this new model is not even all around, but is quite short in front and rather wider at the left side than on the right, the brim thus being quite broad across the front, but shorter from front to back.

Materials and Designs of the New Frocks

The model gowns planned for the coming season are more delightful in material and style than ever, and among the new designs exhibited a great many novel ideas are shown as to cut and trimming. Thin, soft materials lead in favor, especially for the dressy gowns, and for costumes wear the silk fabrics will be widely used.

New Blouse Designs

The four blouses shown in the accompanying cut are all excellent models for the new lines or other summer materials of the unforged variety, each of these signs showing a touch of hand work which gives it decided distinction.

Summer Soups

CREAM OF CORN SOUP.—Cut the corn from the cob or take the canned corn and cook for ten minutes with a pint of water. Make a pint of milk into a thin white sauce with one tablespoonful of butter, the same of flour and a small teaspoonful of salt; press the corn and water through the sieve, put with the white sauce and strain again.
