IT'S UP TO YOU.

Doesn't that old wheel of yours push rather hard and isn't its appearance rather antiquated and decidedly seedy as you pull it out of the cellar for another season's riding? And, by the way, has it occurred to you what a relief it would be to your neighbors to see you seated on a brand new to say nothing of your own feelings in the matter. If you can't work it off on the boy bring it in to us and we will try to make you a satisfactory allowance for it.

HER DEATH PREDICTED

By Palmist and Fortune-Teller, and She Died.

DULUTH, Minn., June 5.—Mrs. C. J. West, wife of C. J. West, of the Duluth Iron and Metal company, while in Chicago recently, visited a palmist with a party of friends, and was started to inform that she had but thirty days to live. She laughed the matter off, and made light of the prediction, but evidently it made a great impression upon her. After a visit of two weeks in Chicago, Mrs. West went with her friends to a small town across the Indiana border, where a party was given in her honor. One of the ladies with whom Mrs. West had been playing cards proposed to tell her fortune. Again the fateful prediction was made, that Mrs. West had but two more weeks to live. Mrs. West complained of feeling ill and returned to her home in Duluth. Eminent physicians were gathered in consultation, but despite their best efforts she died last Thursday, the last day of the fatal two weeks. The doctors in attendance upon Mrs. West say that the fortune-telling coincident exerted an influence to produce the woman's death.

A HEROIC CONDUCTOR.

NEW YORK, June 5.—"Keep your seats, there. No harm has been done. It's all right," cried Conductor William Holderman last night and fell senseless to the floor of his car, with three ribs broken and internal injuries. It was his pluck alone that prevented a panic in the crowded Madison avenue car. Holderman was standing on the running board collecting fares. Between Walker and White streets, a heavy truck with two horses was met. The space was narrow and the horses swerved. This brought the high seat of the wagon directly against Holderman's body and he was jammed against the car. The passengers made a mad scramble to jump off the moving car. Instantly the heavy body went to the bell rope and the car slowed and stopped, leaving him still pinned in the small space. He saw that the women were preparing to jump and called out to them to sit still. Then, as the truck advanced, he threw his body to the floor of the car. At the hospital it was said last night there was small hope for his recovery.

MAY LYNCH MOTHER AND SON.

CHICAGO, June 5.—A special to the Tribune from Aurora, Mo., says:—A woman and her son, accused of murder, will be lynched if the plans of a mob in Stone County shall not be frustrated. The charge is that they killed Alice Stallion, 16 years of age, the woman's daughter. They lived near Cape Falk near the head of a river, and were found by fishermen. The supposition was that she had committed suicide on account of a love affair which her mother opposed. Last night however, a seven year old child of Mrs. Stallion was found with a bullet wound in the head, while Mrs. Stallion held the girl her stepson broke her neck with a poker. Afterwards they buried the body in the river.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, June 5.—The war office tonight published the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, June 4: "Jamestown (Cape Colony) surrendered to Kitchener's command on the morning of June 4, after four hours fighting. The town and local volunteers were overpowered before our pursuing columns could come up. Our casualties were three killed and two wounded. The Boer loss is said to have been great."

The stores were looted, but the garrison was released. "Have placed Gen. French in charge of the operations in Cape Colony."

LONDON, June 5.—Details received regarding the fighting at Yakkonela show that it was one of the most desperate engagements of the war. Gen. Buller's column was forced to retreat, and the Boers, after a long and hard fight, were victorious. The Boers were so close that fifty British fell at the first volley.

The Yeomanry held the position, protecting the guns until they were nearly decimated; and then, finding it impossible to save the guns, the artillerymen shot the guns. The column recovered from the shock of the unexpected attack. The Derbyshires charged with bayonets, and after a short, desperate fight, drove off the Boers and Yeomanry both lost very heavily. It is asserted that the Boers had temporary possession of the guns, they shot two artillerymen, and in cold blood, for refusing to work them against their own comrades.

A Threat to Tie Up a Lot of Newspapers in the States.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Herald this morning had a meeting of delegates from the Central Federated Union, to be held tomorrow, official communication will be taken of the strike of members of the International Association of Machinists. It was said today that the Central Federated Union would endorse the strike and urge its members to assist the machinists with contributions of money. At the headquarters of the International Association of Machinists, Constant Booth, business head of the association, said that the strike now centered about the factory of a well known firm which manufacture printing presses.

"If they undertake to start up with non-union men," said Mr. Booth, "we will tie up every newspaper and printing office in the United States using their presses. We have won this strike except for the shops of this firm and a few others in this neighborhood, and we propose to force the acceptance of our terms by these people by invoking the aid of organized labor everywhere."

FIRE INSURANCE RATES. With reference to a paragraph appearing in the Daily Sun of this morning we are requested to explain that no appeal has been made against increased fire insurance rates in New Brunswick, as no advance has taken place in consequence of the recent visit of managers of companies from Toronto and Montreal. In Nova Scotia, however, where an average advance of 25 per cent has been pressed, Mr. Jarvis, the general agent of the Liverpool and London and Globe, has brought the matter before the head office of the company at Liverpool, and they have cabled asking for delay until the matter can be considered by the British fire offices. In the meantime formal notice has been given that the Liverpool and London and Globe will not accept the ratings being given by Charles D. Cory of Toronto at Halifax, or contribute to the expense incurred.

THE COUNTY COURT. Judge and Grand Jury Speak Plainly on the Criminal Assault Cases.

The Grand Jury met this morning in response to the request of Judge Forbes. At ten o'clock only ten of the jurymen were present and an adjournment was made for an hour. His honor in addressing the jury said that unfortunate events had arisen since they had been discharged, which had caused their attendance. Two men before the court charged with grave crimes not only against the individual but against the community as well. These charges require to be carefully looked into. The first case is that of William Rourke, who at a former time was sent to prison for three months by this court. There are two kinds of punishment; one for reformation, a short sentence; the other for the safety of the community. We have provided for our own pleasure and enjoyment and that of our children. It is most dangerous that these should be infested with criminals. The crime is of a most disgusting character. The prisoner, having got the two little girls in his house, shamefully and disgracefully assaulted them. The act is worse than those of South or North Africans. The prisoner ought to be placed where he will be prevented from giving license to his miserable passions. The next case is still more heinous. James Murrall induced a little girl to go into a wood with him and there assaulted, and further made arrangements to call at her father's house, and on the day of his arrest was seen prowling about the house. His honor expressed his sorrow that two such men could be found at large in the city, to disturb the peace of families, and the quiet of the place. If they are found guilty, said his honor, I will endeavor to protect the community, as in cases of this kind reformation seems to be impossible. After Judge Forbes had delivered his address the grand jury retired and the witnesses were examined. The grand jury, in bringing in true bill, hoped that if the prisoners were found guilty the judge would give them the full limit of punishment. Their cases will be heard tomorrow at 10 a. m. to spectators will be allowed in the court room. In the case of Beatty v. Walton verdict was given in favor of the plaintiff for $77.50. Hon. H. A. McKeown for plaintiff and A. A. Stockton, K. C., for defendant. The case of Daniel McLean v. John O'Regan was adjourned to Friday, 10 a. m. Probate Court. Letters of administration of the estate of Mary Maud Brock, daughter of the late F. G. W. Brock, was granted to her sister, Ida, Mary Brock. The estate is valued at $400. H. F. Puddington, proctor.

CENTENARY BOARD MEETINGS. The Church Has Made Great Progress Under Dr. Read's Care.

The annual meeting of the managing board of Centenary Sunday school was held in the school room last evening. General business was discussed and officers for the ensuing year elected. J. Hunter White was unanimously chosen superintendent, Ernest G. Barbour secretary, Harold Lyman treasurer and Arthur Beal, formerly associate secretary, was elected librarian. The assistant superintendents have not yet been appointed. The financial board met on Monday evening, but have not yet finished their work. The quarterly official board meets tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. At the Sunday evening service Dr. Read will read a report of the centenary fund. Centenary church has rapidly progressed under the leadership of Dr. Read. When he came here some years ago the income of the church was in round numbers about $10,000, and now it is $15,000, an increase of fifty per cent. Dr. Read's term will expire the first Sunday in July, and he is not any more unwilling to leave St. John, which he regards as his home than his congregation are to part with him.

driver remarked, "A five cent route is pretty sure to leave its brand on the horse." There is no occasion to doubt his words. Some twenty or thirty vehicles came under the eyes of the inspectors, and they were given variety enough in rig to suit the most fastidious. A DIRTY STREET. A great deal of complaint is expressed in regard to the condition of North street, especially the part of it near Mill street. Here, it is said, the residents have a habit of throwing scraps and all kinds of filth into the gutters instead of disposing of it by coverage or otherwise. The street is almost always in a very dirty condition, and on a warm day the stench from it is sickening. The only cleaning it ever gets is when there is a rain storm and the water flowing down the hill washes the filth down to Mill street. It is time something was done in this matter, and people living near the place think that as the council do not seem to be very active, the board of health should take the thing in hand. RUBBER TIRED CARRIAGES. Attention is called to the advertisement of Hammi's livery stable which appears in this issue. During the past few months this firm have greatly increased their equipment and are now in a better position than ever to attend to patrons. They have purchased seven new horses, making a total of twenty-six now in their stables, and with this number are ready for any emergency. Recently they have added to their stock of carriages four new rubber tired ones, one of them, especially attractive and is capable of carrying eleven people. They have a complete equipment of wagonettes, buggies, landaus, barouches and phaetons and can furnish almost any kind of turnout desired. If wished, drivers in livery are supplied at any time.

A. agent, Wetmore, was also on hand, and Mayor Daniel looked after the drivers and the rigs. Some of these were entirely renovated and one bus came out gloriously in yellow, green and maroon paint. The horses looked kind and gentle and will probably shed their drivers on the road without due warning. However as our
