he obtained without an increase in the running expenses, besides which the late government had so starved the road prior it up to a proper standing. His view was that the day for large expenditures on the Intercolonial was not yet over. As for the Intercolonial was not yet over. As for the fast Atlantic line it would require to call at Sydney and the road would have to be put in condition to meet the increased would guarantee the bounds and at the same time take steps to safeguard the interest of the public. George W. Allen, M. P. P., was heard in support of the proposition.

Dr. Kendell made the statement tha the coal companies were charging both the Intercolonial and the public too much for that article, putting the increased cost to the former at $300,000 and the extra burden on the people for their do-mestic supply at between a million and a million and a half. In doing at they did, companies began operations on a small scale they were absorbed or frozen out. The industry he described as illimitable, and the MacKenzie & Mann property, he e expected to see rival the Dominion Coal Company in a few years.

Already a large market was being found not only for the use of the Intercolonial but as a business. If it did so, he assur-

Dr. Kendall went on to say in regard to the railway policy of Mr. Blair that it was bold, progressive and effective and in the best interests of the country. He quoted figures of expenditure and receipts for the three periods of 1891 to 1900, to show that, whereas the cost of running the road had increased largely, the increase in receipts had been still greater. The increase in total receipts last year as compared with 1895-96 was more than two appointed to draw up suitable resolutions which will be considered at an adjourned which will be considered at an adjourned to the three periods of 1891 to 1900, to show that, whereas the cost of running the road had increased largely, the increase in receipts had been still greater. Chatham, N. B., April 3-(Special)-A very sad accident occurred this morn-Chatham, N. B., April 3—(Special)—A very sad accident occurred this morning. Miss Jane Whalen was drowned in a well. She was very highly esteemed, was about 50 years old and lived alone. It is thought she arose early this morning and went to the well for water, and in reaching for the bucket lost her balance and fell in, the planks around the well being covered with frost and very slippery. A lamp was burning in her house, her bed had been slept in last night and preparations had been made for a fire in the cooking stove. The body had apparently been but a few hours in the well when discovered. A brother lives in New York and a sister in Boston.

The law in fact was in force, and this is not taking away any right but only to prevent a criminal escaping under a technical objection.

The attorney general thought a great mistake had been made when the bonds of St. John city were made non-assessable. The amendment was voted down and

Mr. Allen introduced a bill to further amend the municipalities act. Its object is to enable the agents of candidates to transfer their votes from one polling place and the last of the Intercolonial but as a business. If it did so, he assured the house, on the authority of two of the best mining engineers whose names he offers to give the leader of the opposition in confidence, that where now it costs $2.70, $2.80 and $2.90 a ton for coal in Cape Breton the government could mine it and put it on its cars for $1 a ton.

Notwithstanding the high price of coal there is a probability of the Intercolonial could there is a probability of the Intercolonial deficit. It would also mean a low price for the consumers. He would not ask the government to go into coal mining without an understanding with the miners. The Cape Breton miners were men who had a stake in the country and were one of the best organized bodies in the world. He would not, therefore, advocate to rapid development which would bring in large hordes of unorganized labor from other parts of the world. The miners were apprehensive on this point. THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN N. B., APRIL 5, 1902.

SPEAKER SHUTS OUT

MR. HAZEN'S RESOLUTIONS.

Hon. Mr. Tweedie said the motion was out of order, as under the rules of the house and British North America act, such resolutions cannot be moved. The and the appointment of an auditor general were prerogatives of the crown. The amendment to the election act and the dividing of the province into ridings involved the expenditure of public money, and must therefore have the consent of the governor-in-council. The government had not abdicated all its functions and is not prepared to let the opposition take charge of affairs at the present time.

Mr. Hazen said the premier's objection was a frivolous one and was not borne private member involving the expenditure of money, in which case his point might be well taken, but it was ridiculous and absurd to say that a deliberative body absurd to say that a deliberative body has not the right to ask for legislation in the direction of a reform of any kind. The premier merely raised a point of order for the purpose of shelving the resodution so that supporters of the govern-ment will not have to express an opinion upon it.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley said such objections have been raised in the parliament of Canada and in this house against resolu-tions of a similar character. In 1888, Hon. Mr. Blair asked the concurrence of the house in a resolution respecting rail-way subsidies, and Mr. Hanington moved an amendment stating that it was not de-sirable for the house to concur until the claims of other companies could be conit frivolous to ask the speaker that this amendment be ruled out of order, but the amendment be ruled out of order, but the amendment being of a negative character and not committing the house to the expenditure of public money was allowed to stand. The resolution now before the house provides that the salaries of teachers in the public schools be raised, asks the house to declare that the lieutenant governor shall dispense with one of his advisers and proposes to divide the province into ridings. This is an interference with the prerogative of the crown, as according to the British North America act, all propositions for the expenditure of money must emanate from the goverof money must emanate from the gover nor-in-council. If this were the privilege of private members it would be impos private members it would be impos-pible for a government to carry on the affairs of the province, because the house would be continually asked to pass legis-lation committing it to the expenditure of large sums of money, which it might not be possible to provide for. It has always of order petitions asking for the expenditure of money. Before confederation, such resolutions and petitions were customary, but it was to guard against this injurious nconvenience to the province that the wholesome provision was embodied in the British North America act, and made the rule of the parliament of Canada and of the legislature of New Brunswick. Private members were not debarred from expressing an opinion in regard to desired reforms, for, on the motion to go into supply, there is an opportunity to discuss questions of this resolution questions of this sort. If this resolution is carried, the result would be that this house would be without the consent of the governor-in-council, irrevocably committed to the charges necessarily imposed upon the revenue of the country.

Mr. Hazen said that in 1881 Mr. Blair moved a resolution providing, among other things, for the abolition of the legislative council, for a reduction in the member ship of the executive and for the doing away with government house as an official residence. This was not ruled out of order, which is a precedent in support of his (Hazen's) action in the present instance. Furthermore, it is not true that this resolution involves the expenditure of money, it merely suggests that when the timeses of the province permit there shall finances of the province permit there shall be an increase in the salaries of the teach ers in public schools and that there sha be a better method of distributing the by before the house for the purpose of making some sort of a display. The authorities do not sustain him. The resolution moved by Mr. Blair in 1881, to which no objection had been taken, did not establish a precedent. Because a point of order had not been raised on that occasion it frivolous objection to motions of any kind nor did he intend to, but he did intend to teach the leader of the opposition some-thing of parliamentary practice and fit him for the position he is so ambitious to fill.

It being 6 o'clock, the speaker left the chair until 7.30. The house resumed at 8 o'clock. Mr. Hazen called the attention of the speaker to a resolution moved in the house of com-mons of Canada on the 28th March, 1898, that the government should assist in the development of the butter trade, and put a sum in the estimates for that purpose. No point of order was taken against the resolution and Mr. Sutherland, now a member of the government, moved an amendment to it. He also cited a resolution in favor of prohibition, which had been moved in the house of commons and not objected to. Both these resolutions certainly affected the revenue of the

I refer to Bourinot on parliamentary procedure, page 532, and May on parliamentary practice, pages 507 and 652. I do not think this house is bound to follow irregular proceedings which may have been allowed in the past for want of a point of order being raised at the time.

"This resolution in my opinion, taken as a whole, in the light of the rules cited and the authorities referred to, is out of order on two grounds, first, because it involves interference with the patronage and prerogative of the crown under the decis ion of the speaker in the journals of 1900, at page 104.

Fredericton, April 2—In the budget de-bate last night, Mr. Copp continued. He rebutted Mr. Laforest's statement that the government was neglecting Mada-waska roads and bridges. He repelled Mr. Melanson speaking of the race cry. Mr. Melanson's complaints were not borne out by facts. At the head of the largest spending department, public works, we have Hon. C. H. Why should these men who are able to buy good farms go into the forest to make new farms? He thought the number a good return for the money spent and no man could say how many more may come as the result of this expenditure. This government has another asset in man could say how many more may come engineer explained that he could not call for them sooner, owing to work in other parts of the province that demanded attention. If the engineer is so pressed for time he should be given more help. The work was to have been completed Sept. 3, but is still unfinished. He said a penalty clause should be inserted in all contracts, making it incumbent upon the contract to carry out the work according to plans and specifications. Mr. Copp regreted there was not a larger revenue at the disposal of the government, so that

Mr. Fish congratulated the opposition on the feebleness of their efforts, for their onduct had shown that they had no substantial case against the government. It seemed to be one of the objects of the opposition to tell the country that the public debt had grown from $800,000 to $3,000,000 during the past 19 years, although they had $80,000 more to expend than their predecessors. The people of this province knew the cause of the in-crease, which had been fully explained by the attorney general. In Westmorland county it cannot be said that there had been any neglect, and he spoke of the appointment of Mr. Richard to the best office in the gift of the government. Mr. Johnson said he believed the French were as well treated as the English. Men of French origin were employed by the government in various employments, and men of French origin had been members of the government. The government were criticized because of their travelling expenditures. He dd not want members of the government to go as beggars. The agricultural policy had been a blessing to his country. Before creameries were built they could hardly get 15 cents a pound for their butter, now they got 22 and an excellent market had been opened in England. It had been said the government had lost ground in Northumberland, but this he was in a position to deny. The govern-ment stood as well in that county as ever position there. He felt that the government was safe for another term of office sidies to railroads and in permanent public works and even the opposition will not venture to say that the country is the worse for these services. He did not know but what it might be good policy to borrow $1,000.000 for permanent improvements rather than expend from year to year an amount equal to the interest on the loan on temporary repairs. Complaint had been made that the department of agriculture paid too much money for salaries, but he did not see in what way the money could be better employed than in expending it. the weather was as bad as possible, the people rallied to the support of the government at the election and the opposi tion were pretty nearly annihilated. The expenditure of course increases as our meeds increase and he was happy to say that our revenue also increased. He heartily congratulated the government on the splendid showing they had made.

Mr McCain Mr. McCain, said the people of Carleton county had great confidence in the government. They had good reason to sup port the government for its policy had greatly benefited them. Its cheese fac tories, butter factories and flour mills, o which they now had four, had helped th county wonderfully. The money formerly expended in buying flour abroad is now kept in the county. Wheat is now being grown to a very large extent and the production is likely to increase. The butter factories have greatly benefited our people. Before they were established butter was sold at from 10 and 12 to 14 cents; now it commands as much as 20 cents and upwards. The government had bridges and at the next election it wi send to this house at least as good a support as it now gives the government. Many of the men who voted for the opposition member for Carleton at the byelection were supporters of the government who voted for him out of sympath plenty of supporters in the house. The government's policy with regard to the winter port at St. John had been of the greatest benefit to Carleton. A great deal of hay which could not find a market before had gone from that county to the winter port. The very first vessel that came to St. John to take away cattle sent an order to him for 10 car loads of hay, and there has never been a time since then when there was not a demand for hay from Carleton county. Carleton had also been helped by the hay ship ments to South Africa. Last spring he had ordered an improved hay press great capacity and four others had bee ordered since that time. The money received for hay came into the county and Forming a Sheep Trust. Prominent sheepmen of Rawlins, Wy., say that a movement is on foot to form a sheep trust to control every sheep ranging in Caribou county—over 1,000,000 head. The consolidation is desired by a number of sheepmen on account of the range difficulties which are constantly arising. There are enough sheep in the country to occupy every acre of good range, and the small owners are contsantly clashing with their flocks. If the trust is formed, all flocks will be controlled by an executive board, and interests will be pooled, each man receiving an average profit for each head of sheep that he owns. The idea is meeting with favor .- Den-

CORN AS HEN FEED.

(t Is Not a Good Eggmaker and Should Not Be Fed In Excess. One reason why farmers do not realize more from their poultry, I believe, is because they make corn the main diet. Corn is considered by them to be the cheapest feed and the handiest to feed, for by throwing it out on the ear the hens are given more or less exercise in picking it off; hence the owner is saved the labor of scattering grain in the litter for the fowls to scratch out. But I have little faith in this plan of exercising and feeding fowls. With a good many farmers corn is probably, a cheap food, but even this depends somewhat on the season of the year, the climate and whether the hens have free range or not. In cold weather corn may be fed quite liberally to laying stock without injury, and also to fowls having farm range, but when given in the way that many feed it, by spreading it on the ground before the hens three times a day, all they will eat, I believe that it is expensive hen

Very many attribute the increase of eggs to corn, when in fact the corn has produced eggs more by keeping the hens warm than through the supply of egg elements afforded. Eggs cannot be made to any great extent by cornal and a confine the supply of the supply o alone, or for a long time, for the reason that a hen fed nothing but corn will be unable to supply the mineral ele-ments of the eggs, and while she may by eating largely of corn find sufficient nitrogen for an egg, she will sooner or later become excessively fat from too much carbon. A very economical and good feed for winter egg production is a mixture of clover, cut in half inch lengths and scalded, with cornmeal and bran. This is a very complete ration on all the elements necessary for eggs. It supplies bulky food, promotes digestion, affords a variety and costs less than any other food that I have

When a hen leaves corn for other feed, it means that she wants something not fully supplied by corn.
Without exception the best results may be had from a varied diet, and, while a hen may do very well on corn, she will do better on a variety. It is not an easy matter to make up a perfectly balanced ration for a laying hen. While she is producing eggs she will use a vast amount of raw mate rial, but if she stops laying a corn diet will soon ruin her. A concentrated food for hens should be avoided Milk added daily to other food assists largely in supplying many needed elements not easily obtained from other sources. Clover, vegetables, milk, meat and corn or wheat are better than any single article.-V. M. Couch in Poultry Monthly.

On Pollard's Poultry Farm Pollard's poultry farm in South At-tleboro, Mass., is well known by reputation to all readers of poultry papers There are fifty acres in the farm, and it is devoted entirely to White Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes and White Pekin ducks. The illustration shows two houses with runs and their respective flocks of White Wyandottes. The picture is reproduced from The Poultry Keeper.

Turkey Hen Makes a Record. I have a turkey hen that I think has broken the record. During the spring of 1900 I received from Charleston, Ill., nine Mammoth Bronze turkey eggs. Seven turkeys hatched out. A dog killed one. I raised three hens and three toms. The hens had the range of the farm. One of them laid close to the house. She laid twenty eggsand then wanted to sit. I put heron eighteen eggs. She laid three eggs before the eggs on which she was sitting hatched out-that is, during the last week. She laid all the time she was raising her brood of little turkeys-at first one egg every other day, then one every day, then one egg in three days until she had laid fifty-four eggs, making seventy-four eggs in all.

No small achievement for one hen! She is a fine, large hen, with bright pink legs. I have been raising turkeys fifteen years, but have never before had a turkey like her. The other two laid at a distance from the house, and the crows got some of their eggs. Next year I will try to keep a record of their eggs.-Mrs. A. S. Devore in Reliable Poultry Journal.

A Lay Opinion.

The illustrations used in the United States department of agriculture's bulletin No. 29, "American Breed of Fowls," are far from true to nature. No one ever saw such plumaged Dominiques as the cuts represent. The colored pictures of Barred Plymouth Rocks are misleading in both color and barring. The hen is greatly "off" in shape. It is a pity that such a good work should be marred by unfaithful pictures of the breeds when there are so many excellent pictures made from photographs of prize birds accessible. Ideals even should be representative enough of a breed to cause recognition wherever seen. Baltimore Sun.

The St. John police made 78 arrests during March. A man of 51 and a lad of 13 were the oldest and youngest respectively. Fifty people were arrested for drunkenness, and six for assault, three for fighting, one for drunkenness and assault, five for stealing, one for being drunk and carrying a "gun," one for keeping a disorderly house, three for being inmates of the house, one for using abusive and of the house, one for using abusive and two for profane language, two for being drunk and profane and one for interfering with and resisting the police. Eight of the prisoners were females; 53 of them were natives of New Brunswick, six came from England, five from Quebec, three from Nova Scotia, three from Prince Ed-ward Island, while Norway, Sweden, Den-mark, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Scotland and the United States contributed one each and one man evidently didn't know where he hailed from.

Mr. McCain's steam press at Florence-ville Station ceased operations on Saturday night, owing to the accumulation of large supplies at St. John and Cape Town, and to the impossibility of getting the hay into the interior of the country with suffi-cient speed to give storage room at the ports of shipment and landing. Mr. Mc-Cain has between 4.000 and 5.000 tons now in stock at different points, which probably will be shipped after the first of May. The steam press is expected to begin operations again in about a month. Florenceville is the largest shipping port for hay on the C. P. R. north of St. John. It is estimated that 8,000 tons have already been shipped from there this season, and there are between 4,000 and 5,000 tons yet to go out. The end of the big demand for hay in South Africa is almost in sight and Andrew D. McCain will make a trip to Great Britain this summer to locate a new and if possible an equally good mar-ket.—Woodstock Dispatch,

News from Battleground of South Africa in Letter from Trooper

Another letter has reached the city from Another letter has reached the city from the land of Boers. It is from F. T. Cronk, formerly of Adelaide street, now of the South African Constabulary. The recipient is Fred Simmons. The letter is dated at Winkelhach, Transvaal, Feb. 26th. Trooper Cronk describes a battle which took place 10 days before writing. Troops 1 and 4 were engaged. The force had broken camp at 3 in the morning and by daybreak found themselves within 203 yards of a hostile laager. In the fight which followed the constabulary had eight killed, 13 wounded and 15 captured. The Boer loss was placed at two wagon loads of slain and wounded. The enemy eventually fled after a six hour contest.

Common Council Resolves for Adoption of Atlantic Standard Time.

WAITING PROCLAMATION.

Letter Received from W. H. Barnaby, Then Resolution is Put-Proposition to Defer Action Until Province Officially Acts is Decided Against, and Motion Passes.

Get ready to set your clocks ahead soon as it has been proclaimed by the governor in council as the official time for the province. This proclamation is expected daily and it is safe to say that St. John's time difficulties will be well buried before May I.

This latest and most important step in the time reform which will crown with success the efforts of the many citizens, the board of trade and other organizations which have joined with The Daily Telegraph in the agitation for an improvement in the time conditions was taken Monday by the ciyt council. It was induced by a letter, received from W. H. Barnaby who has worked indefatigably to forward the myement, in which that gentleman related what had already been done and asked the co-operation of the council. Mr. Barnaby said Hon. A. G. Weight of the council of railways, and James McNutt House. done and asked the co-operation of the council. Mr. Barnaby said Hon. A. G. Bair, minister of railways, and James Oborne, C. P. R. superintendent, had promised to adopt Atlantic Standard on ooth Intercolonial and Canadian Pac

He also referred to the passage of an act by the legislature which will bring about Atlantic Standard time whenever the railways begin to use it When the letter was read, Ald. Macrae, as chairman of the sub-committee to deal with the matter, moved the following resolution: Resolved on the proclamation of time for the province, by the governor in council, and when it is adopted for use by the railways that Atlantic Standard time shall come into force to replace the that Atlantic time was sure to come, and the city might as well be prepared for it. Ald. Robinson said that Atlantic seem-ed to be the proper time. Ald. Armstrong thought the motion a trifle premature. After the railroads had adopted the time and the provincial gov-ernment had proclaimed it officially would be the proper season for its endorsation that Atlantic time was sure to come, and made contingent upon the receipt of this grant as well as assistance from the city. The city council promised to aid the exhibition provided the provincial grant was obtained, but so far nothing has appeared in the estimates which would show that any amount will be forthcoming from the provincial coffers.

One of the directors of the Exhibition Association said to The Telegraph that the association had not yet totally given up hope and that if the grants are obtained the association will at once get together and arrange for the show. The difficulty appears to be that by statutory enactment the sum to be granted by the exercises for exhibition purposes must not tained the association with the total tained the association with the store that by statutory enactment the sum to be granted by the province for exhibition purposes must not aggregate more than $5,000 annually and as it is thought the government desires to aid the Sussex fair to the extent of $1,000 there would remain but $4,000 available for St. John. To increase this amount aggregate more than $5,000 annually and as it is thought the government desires to aid the Sussex fair to the extent of $1,000 there would remain but $4,000 available for St. John. To increase this amount would require the introduction and passage of special legislation and this it was thought would not be done. Consequently there were many things more certain than there were many things more certain than that St. John will have a big fair next fall.

sculpture or soing, whether in dream, vicion of fact, from the state but when has always been a woman.

It is that creation which makes it possible to look into the beautiful eyes of love and say. "My wife," which makes it possible for the little child nestling on the bosom of affection, playing with the fallen locks from the weary brow, as it looks up into the eyes of love, to say, "My mother," that creation which makes it possible for the gray-haired grandsire in the evening of life as its shadows reach to the coffin and encircle his grave, to look into two bright eyes while arms of love encircle his peck, and say, "My daughter."

In the last court of review, when the sun steps forward and says. "I was created to shine and have shone it I was commanded to do." Then than will step forward as vain, just as vain as ne was one earth, and say, "Here am I. "I have bridged rivers and tunnelled mountains." And by the side of that man the that day, will stand another granderly himre beautiful than he; she who walked by his side in life, who nursed him in sickness, and caressed him in her love, who were over him in his fears, who shared with him all his trials. And as I look into her face I see my mother, my sister, my wife, my daughter: Woman! Woman! Woman!"

My greatest delight is to see the happiness of others; in doing them good; in alleviating sufferings. My life is one long round of trying to help many human beings out of their trials, troubles and sufferings. The greater amount of good I can do, the fuller will be my reward in the Great Hereafter.

Reader, should you be out of health in any way, weak or nervous, or suffering from some Female disease, I have prepared questions for you to answer on my HOME TREATMENT FEMALE SYMPTOM BLANK, also my FREE DIAGNOSIS SHEET. Send for them—it will be the means of once more restoring your health and thus acquiring the greatest of all boons to Woman—Beauty.

An Easter Sermon with a Note Of Joyous Victory.

The Great Washington Divine With Impassioned Eloquence Says: "I Proclaim the Abolition of Death"-All Nature Proclaims the Resurrection of the Dead.

Entered According to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1902, by William Baily, of Toronto, at the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Washington, March 30.-The Christian view of death as the entrance to a fuller life is presented in this East-of marriage from the text, I COr ax, 3, 5d, 19-2-lbe marriage took properties of the control of the porter, the control of the marriage for the control of the control o off bolt of Christ's sepulchre and holding high in her left hand the key to all the cemeteries in Christendom. My text is an ejaculation. It is spun out of halleluiahs. Paul wrote right on in his argument about the resurrection and observed all the laws of logic, but when he came to laws of logic, but when he came to write the words of the text his fingers and his pen and the parchment on which he wrote took fire, and he cried out. "Icah his swallowed up in victory!" It is an exciting thing to see an army routed and hying. They run each other down. They scatter everything valuable in the track. Unwheeled artillery; hoof of horse on hieast of wounded and dying man. You have heard of the French falling back from Sedan, of Napoleon's track of 90,000 corpses in the snowbanks of Russia, of the retreat of our arms in the from Managers or of the five ies from Manassas or of the five kings tumbling over the rocks of Beth horan with their armies while the hailstorms of heaven and the swords of Joshua's host struck them.

with their fury. In my text is a worse discomfiture. It seems that a black giant proposed to conquer the earth. He gathered for his host all the aches and pains and malarias and cancers and distempers and epidemics of the ages. He marched them down, drilling them in the northwest wind and amid slush of tempests. He threw up barricades of grave mound. He pitched tent of charnal house. Some of the troops marched with slow tread commanded by consumptions, some in double quick commanded by pneumonias. Some he took by long siegement of evil habit and some by one stroke of the battleax of casualty. With bony hand he pounded at the door of hospitals and sickrooms and won all the victories in all the great battlefields of all the five coninents. Forward, march! ordered the conqueror of conquerors, and all the generals and commanders in chief and all presidents and kings and sultans and czars dropped under the feet of his war charger. But one

As most of the plagues and sickesses and despotisms come out the east, it was appropriate that the new conqueror should come out the same quarter. Power is given him to awaken all the fallen of all the centuries and of all lands and marshal them against the black giant. Fields have already been won, but the last day of the world's existence will see the decisive battle. When Christ shall lead forth his two brigades, the brigade of the riser dead and the brigade of the celestial host, the black giant will fall back. and the brigade from the riven sep-ulchres will take him from beneath and the brigade of descending immortals will take him from above,

The old braggart that threatened the conquest and demolition of the planet has lost his throne, has lost his sceptre, has lost his palace, has lost his prestige, and the one word written over all the gates of mausoleum and catacomb and necropolis, on cenotaph and sarcophagus, on the lonely khan of the arctic explorer and on the catafalque of great cathand calla lily, written in musical cadence, written in doxology of grea assemblages, written on the sculptur ed door of the family vault, is tory." Coronal word, embannered word, apocalyptic word, chief word of triumphal arch under which conquerors return. Victory! Word shouted at Culloden and Balaclava and Blenheim, at Me-giddo and Solferino, at Marathon, where the Athenians drove back th Medes; at Poictiers, where Charles Martel broke the ranks of the Saracens; at Salamis, where Themistocles in the great see fight confounded the Persians, and at the door of the eastern cavern of chiseled rock, where Christ came out through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and and throttled the king of terrors and God should raise the dead?"

God should raise the dead?"

God should raise the dead?" put him back in the niche from which the celestial Conqueror had just emerged. Aha! When the jaws of the eastern mausoleum took down the black giant, "death was swallowed up in victory," I proclaim the abolition of death.

The old antagonist is driven back into mythology with all the love

GRIM MONSTER CONQUERED into mythology with all the lore about Stygian ferry and Charon with oar and boat. Melrose Abbey and Kenilworth Castle are no more in ruins than is the sepulchre. We shall have no more to do with death than we have with the cloakroom at a governor's or a president's levee. We stop at such cloakroom and leave in charge of a servant our overcoat, our overshoes, our outward apparel, that we may not be impeded in the brilliant round of the drawing room. Well, my friends, when we go out of this world we are going to a King's banquet and to a reception of mon-archs, and at the door of the tomb archs, and at the door of the tomb we leave the cloak of flesh and the wrappings with which we meet the storms of this world. At the close of an earthly reception, under the brush and broom of the porter, the coat or hat may be handed to us better than when we resigned it, and by general consent. Many of mightiest and best spirits have gone through this process. Thousands and tens of thousands of God's children liave been cremated—P. P. Bliss and wife, the evangelistic singers, cremated by accident at Ashtabula bridge; John Rodgers, cremated by persecution; Latimer and Ridley, cremated at Oxford; Pothinus and Blandina, a slave, and Alexander, a physician, and their comrades cremated at the order of Marcus Aurelius; at least a flundred thousand of Christ's disciples cremated, and there can be no doubt about the resurrection of their bodies. If the world lasts as much longer as it has thus far, there perhaps may be no room for the large acreage set apart for resting places, but there is plenty of room yet, and the race need hot pass that bridge of fire until it comes to it. The most of us prefer the odd way. But whether out of natural disintegration or cremation we shall get that luminous buoyant, gladsome, transcendent, magnificent, inexplicable structure called the resurrection body. You will have it, Blandina, a slave, and Alexander, a rection body. You will have it; I will have it. to Agrippa, "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" That far up cloud, higher than the hawk flies, higher than the eagle flies, what is it made of? Drops of water from a river, other drops from a lake, still other drops from a stagnant pool, but now embodied in a cloud and kindled by the sun. If God can make such a lustrous cloud out of water drops many of them soiled and impure and fetched from miles away, can he not transport the fragments of a human body from the earth and out of them build a radiant body? Cannot God, who owns all the material out of which bones, muscle and flesh are made, set them up again if they have fallen? If a manufacturer of telescopes drop a telescope on the floor and it breaks can he not mend it again. can he not mend it again so you are through it? And if God The thunders of the last day will drops the human eye into the dust, the eye which he originally fashioned, can he not restore it. Aye, if the manufacturer of the tele scope, by the use of a new glass and you home. The burning worlds a change of material, can make a flashing through immensity will a change of material, can make a llasning through better instrument than that which be the rockets celebrating your coronation or thrones where you will was originally constructed and actually improve it, do you not think the fashioner of the human eye may ever. Where is death? What improve its sight and multiply the natural eye by the thousandfold united body and soul swing of eye? you will see deep gashes all up and down the hills, deep gashes you an incredible thing that God should raise the dead?" Things all they will be the emptied graves, around us suggest it. Out of what grew all these flowers? Out of the mold and the earth. Resurrection! they will be the abandoned sepulches, with rough ground tossed on each side of them, and slabs mold and the earth. Resurrection!

Resurrection! The radiant butterfly-where did it come from? The ocks, and there will be fallen moloathsome caterpillar. That alba-tross that smites the tempest with for the first time you will appreciate its wings—where did it come from?
A senseless shell. Near Bergerac, France, in a Celtic tomb under a block, were found flower seeds that had been buried 2,000 years. The explorer took the flower seed and planted it, and it came up. It bloomed in bluebell and helio-trope. Two thousand years ago buried, yet resurrected! A traveler says he found in a mummy pit in Egypt garden peas that had been buried there 3,000 years ago. He brought them out, and on the 4th of June, 1844, he planted them,

France Annexes an Island.

San Francisco, April 3.-News comes from Australia that the French have annexed the island of Rimitara, one of the Labusi group in the South Seas. The entire group is now under French control.

"Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" The insects flew and the worms crawled last autumn feebler and feebler and then stopped. They have taken no food. They want none. They lie dormant and insensible, but soon the south wind will blow the resurrection trumpet, and the air and the earth will be full of them. Do you not think that God can do as much for our bodies as he does for the wasps and the spiders and the spiders. and the spiders and the snails? This morning at half past four o'clock there was a resurrection. Out of the night the day. In a few weeks there will be a resurrection in all our gardens. Why not some day a resurrection amid the graves? Even and anon there are instances of men and women entranced. A trance is death followed by resurrection after a few days; total suspension of mental power and voluntary action. Rev. William Tennent, a great evangelist of the last generation, of whom Dr. Archibald Alexander, a man far from being sentimental, wrote in most eulogistic terms—Rev. William Ten-will be entirely reconstructed from cellar to attic, and every nerve, muscle and bone and tissue and artery must be hauled over, and the will be burnished old structure will be burnished and adorned and raised and cupolaed and enlarged, and all the improve-ments of heaven introduced, and you will move into it on resurrection day. "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved we have a building earthly house of this tabellate were dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

And so when the world's last Baster morning shall come the soul will descend, crying, "Where is my body?" And the hody will ascend, saying, "Where is my soul?" And the Lord of the resurrection will bring them together, and it will be a perfect soul in a perfect bobe a perfect soul in a perfect body, introduced by a perfect Christ into a perfect Heaven. Victory!

Do you wonder that on Easter day we swathe our churches with garlands?

Do you wonder we celebrate it with the most consecrated voice of song that we can include the control of the control o ed voice of song that we can invite, with the deftest fingers on orrection body. You will have it; I gan and cornet and with doxologies that beat these arches with the billows of sound as the sea smites the basalt at Giant's Causeway? A cruel heathen warrior heard Mr. Moffatt, the missionary, preach about the resurrection, and he said to the resurrection, and he said to the missionary, "Will my father rise in the last day?" "Yes," said the missionary. "Will all the dead in battle rise?" said the cruel chieftain. "Yes," said the missionary. Then said the warrior: "Let me hear no more about the resurrection. There can be no resurrection; there shall be no resurrection. I have slain thousands in I have slain thousands

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

What Has Protection Done.

To the Editor of The Telegraph: Sir,-The above question might well be sked by the ratepayers of St. Stephen, who, with the threat suspended over their neads that the industry may be removed from the town, are being urged to again grant exemption for a further term of years to the candy factory owned by Mr. G. W. Ganong, M. P.. This factory, while the Conservatives were in power, enjoyed large measure of protection, and even ander the present Liberal administration it is allowed a generous amount of in-cidental protection. In addition to this, the people of the town have exempted the factory from a great portion of its taxes. One would think that after enjoying this double protection for twenty years and more that the industry would be able to stand alone. But evidently it is not, otherwise such a public spirited and energetic citizen as Mr. Ganong would not be asking for further relief. The matter is one that must awaken serious questions in the minds of the citizens of this town, who are already over-burdened with taxation. Why is it that this factory which was so rushed with orders last fall that it had to call its travelers off the road should be asking the people of the town to pay its taxes? What becomes of all the monay that the factory makes? Is it reinvested in the business; is it squandered, or is it stored away as an election campaign fund? It is common report that Mr. Ganong spent several thousands of dollars to secure his last election. Why should we pay Mr. Ganong's election expenses? Was it not enough that we should have given him our votes? Or why should we contribute of our hard-earned wages to make Mr. Ganong wealearned wages to make Mr. Ganong weal-thier and more influential? If the in-dustry cannot pay its legitimate share of the taxes of the community now when will it pay them? Mr. Ganong should take the people into his confidence and submit to them a statement of his affairs, showing how his business stands and what he has done with the money he has made. industry is in such a hard-up condition that it should be further exempted. If Mr. Ganong is as public spirited as he pretends to be he should not ask the poor people of the town to pay his taxes for him. If he has the industrial future of the town at heart it seems to me that he there are less adoption could the provincial time by its adoption could the provincial time provinces. He cannot expect us to give and give of our substance for all time without some return. Politically, he can do nothing for us; the smallest lad in the town streets has as much influence at Ottawa as he has, so that we can look for nothing from that quarter. But, commercially, Mr. Ganong can do something for us and he ought to do it. He ought to free us from the burden of this tax exemption and let us have the money to lighten the burdens of others, or to assist other industries. Heaven knows we want new in dens of others, or to assist other industries. Heaven knows we want new industries and new business badly enough. We can never expect them so long as the life-blood of the community is being sapped by this candy octopus.

The growth of our town is being retarded by the high taxes that our people have to pay. And why are they so high? Because men like Mr. Ganong who are abundantly capable of paying their share of the burden of taxation have shifted the load on to the town. That is the

The baby who is always plump, always has a good appetite, always has a clear eye and a rosy cheek and is always active and playful is the choicest treasure this life affords.

The medicine which keeps babies in such a condition or which restores them to it when they are ill is certainly a priceless boon to humanity. There are many medicines which produce sleep but their action upon the child is similar to that which whiskey or opium has upon a full grown man. They deaden and stupefy and are the most injurious thing which can be given to children.

The only safe course is to use Nature's own remedies. Nature has provided a vegetable cure for every ill and her remedies for children's disorders are found scientifically compounded in Dr. Williams' prescrip-

Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children by destroying nerve sensation; the irritation in throat, which causes coughing is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarth Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics Blood root, Red gum from Eucalyptus tree, etc. When you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures anys: "I can heartly recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular, which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remety."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means to cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrha Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very Dectors didn't give Mrs. James long to live-but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart foiled them and cured her.

For fifteen years Mrs. John A. James, of Winn For fitteen years Mrs. John A. James, of Wiarton, Ont., was a great sufferer froin Heart Disease. For days at a time she was confined to bed, and it seemed as though every breath might be her last. Her physicians said that she might "drop off" any minute. With woman's tenacity in suffering, and believing that "while there's life there's hope," she started using Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Three bottles cured her. This remedy relieves in thirty minutes. 75

Reception by St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., at Masonic Hatl.

A LARGE GATHERING.

More Than 500 Spent the Evening Most Pleasantly in the Beautifully Decorated Rooms.

Wednesday beheld the second function of St. John Lodge centennial celebration -the reception to the ladies. The scene was an unusually brilliant one, and will probably remain in the minds of those who participated through life, as one of the most pleasing features of the centennia brilliant scene. The genial hosts, doing all in their power for the enjoyment of their guests, wore a specially prepared gold medal, in commemoration of the centennial. These medals, which are in the shape of a shield, are very pretty, and bear in the centre the figure of St. John and the figures 1802-1902 while around this figure are words designating its purpose. The members of the lodge will ask permission of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick to wear these medals with the Masonic regalia at all their functions.

The Scottish Rite rooms were used as dressing rooms, while the musical programme was given in the lodge room, and the chapter room was fitted as the ball room. The refreshments were served in the library and armory. All the rooms were very tastefully decorated, but the ball room was beautiful. The ceiling, responded of blue bunting, spangled with stars, and gracefully drooping from the circle of a large blazing light of jewelled cut glass, inside which small electric globes shone dazzlingly. From the circle of the chandelier chains of glass hung and were fastened again to the ceiling then hung again with large globes attached.
