PREDICTS PERIOD OF PROSPERITY

Hudson's Bay Director Says Canada On Verge of Great Development.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—That Canada is on the verge of a great period of development, is the opinion of F. H. Richmond, of London, Eng., a director of the Hudson's Bay Company who is in the city.

Mr. Richmond has just completed a tour of inspection of the company's stores in Western Canada. "I was surprised at the optimistic feeling which prevails in the west," said Mr. Richmond.

Conditions indicate that the bottom of the recent financial depression had been reached and that prosperity was not far away, he said.

PETER R. KYNE TO SUB FILM PRODUCERS FOR DAMAGING NAME

New York, Sept. 17.—Peter R. Kyne, the noted writer of sea stories and creator of "Cappy Hanks," has instructed his attorneys to sue the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation for $100,000, charging damage to his reputation as a writer, he announced last night.

The film producers, by "distorting" his short story, "The Light to Leeward," into a film called "Homebound Bound," Kyne declares, made of it a picture for morose, and damaged his name to the extent of $100,000.

N.B. IS THE HUNTER'S PARADISE

Moose, Deer, Bear, Partridge And Duck Are Always Plentiful.

Try a number of Americans who like to spend their vacation with rod and gun—New Brunswick is best known as a happy hunting ground, says the Dominion.

Between the province is thirty per cent outside the towns and villages, which are far apart, game is plentiful. At least once a year a big bull moose goes lost and wanders into St. John. One has only to go a few miles outside the city to find him.

It is a common sight to see a herd of moose in the woods after a few miles from civilization. The St. John River, which empties into the Bay of Fundy, has many moose on its banks. The upper reaches of which the anglers can reach by boat or on foot, and with good results. There are also numerous lakes where the fishing is so good that they are the haunts of the favored ones who know them. One of the best of these is named Dispersed, and is a very beautiful spot. It is a lake, really, though it is called a river.

There is a plan on foot to set aside several thousand acres in St. John and Charlotte Counties for a fish and game preserve. If the plan goes through, this section will be properly equipped with camps and guides and will be open to local and visiting sportsmen.

This district is one of the best hunting and fishing grounds in Eastern Canada. Moose, deer, bear, partridge, woodcock and wild ducks are plentiful and there is splendid trout and lake trout fishing.

BADEN P. WYERS BURIED FRIDAY

Letter Received Giving Full Account of the Young Man's Tragic Death.

The many friends and acquaintances of Baden P. Wyers, son of David Wyers, of Wyers Brook, who was accidentally killed at a logging camp near Campbellton, Sept. 17, will be disappointed to learn of the circumstances surrounding his death.

The following letter from the deceased's father, Mr. David Wyers, to the editor of the Campbellton Graphic, gives a full account of the tragedy.

"My son Baden was employed as a teamster at a logging camp near Campbellton, N.B., Sept. 17, 1923. He was a very capable and energetic young man, and was very popular with his friends and acquaintances. He was a member of the St. John's Lodge, No. 1, and was a very active member of the same.

$10,000,000 LOSS IN CALIF. FIRE

2,400 People Homeless By Blaze Which Swept Sixty Blocks.

Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 18.—Fire sweeping over the hills east of Berkeley late yesterday laid waste to the Cragmont and Radcliff Avenue districts, destroying at least 600 residences within an area estimated at 60 blocks, in one of the choicest residential sections of the city, with damage estimated at $10,000,000 and rendered homeless approximately 2,400 persons.

No lives are known to have been lost, although two students were seen to plunge into a vortex of fire when the roof of a house upon which they had collapsed.

Hundreds of residences fled from the burning area as the fire swept down the slope of the hills, burned its way through the closely settled and exclusive district and eventually died down in a smoldering ring of flames encompassing the entire area which it had devastated. The prospectus residential section was a smoky waste.

The fire was one of a series of forest, brush and grass fires, fanned by strong winds and fed by undergrowth barked to a tinder by the prolonged summer, which raged in nearly every county in Northern California yesterday.

COUL JAIL IS DENOUNCED

A Breeder of Crime, Says Prison Inspector in Boston Address.

Boston, Sept. 18.—The county jail was denounced as a crime breeder by Jos. F. Fishman, former federal inspector of prisons, in an address prepared for delivery before the American Prison Association today.

"The county jail," he said, "is a depository of dirt, disease and degeneracy."

He declared that this institution played an important part in increasing the amount of crime and the number of criminals.

"In 95 per cent of the jails," he continued, "are thrown together the old, the young, the guilty, the innocent, the diseased, the healthy, the hardened and the susceptible there to be mixed with the further ingredients of filth, vermin, cold, darkness, stagnant air, over-crowding and bad plumbing, and all brought to a boil by the fire of complete idleness. In themselves in readiness for the treatment of justice commits crime far more heinous than many of those it punishes with long terms of imprisonment."

CHATHAM'S FAIR OPENS MONDAY

Prospects Look Bright for Tenth Exhibition to Eclipse All Previous Ones.

Only two weeks more and Chatham's Tenth Big Biennial Fair will be in full swing. Get your entries ready early.

In the meantime the Management of the M. A. E. Association report that everything points toward there being a more numerous display of agricultural products at the fair which opens on Monday, Sept. 24, than at any previous exhibition; and that entries for live stock are being forwarded from parties who have never previously exhibited at Chatham Fairs.

Enquiries for space are pouring in from intending exhibitors, and many particulars relative to space accommodation and other subjects to interest them. Owners of horse exhibits at other fairs are sending in their entries more promptly than usual.

Lovers of horse racing are holding themselves in readiness for the treat of their lives in witnessing three full days of speed and neck and neck finishes, such as few race tracks can furnish.

With good weather, which is to be hoped for, the patrons of the Chatham Exhibition will be sure to have the fullest five days—Sept. 24 to 28 inclusive—of enjoyment they have ever had in their lives.

Reduced railway fares are being arranged for on all lines.

The co-operation and patronage of our farmers, stock breeders, merchants and citizens generally is all that is now required to make Chatham's 1923 exhibition the best yet. The management is doing all in its power to provide a week of real enjoyment, and the success or failure of its efforts now rests largely with the general public who should give the Fair its wholehearted support.

Be on the exhibitors' list this year—plan to send something.

Tid-bits on the Tip of Every Body's Tongue

A Tourist Tip:

An American Visitor, who has been coming to Canada for holidays the past eleven summers, says he squares himself when he goes home by always bringing a five pound package of Mors' Chocolates.

Another buys four of these five pound packages before going home and says he wouldn't be allowed back without them.

Candying like Mors' Chocolates, Americans when they get the chance, are crazy about them.

A little girl was seen in the Halifax Public Gardens lately, feeding the ducks. She had cake and Mors' Dan-Bee Bread. Whether by accident or choice she was throwing the cake to the ducks and keeping Mors' Bread for herself.

FERGUSON AND WALLACE.

Very sincerely yours,
C. A. CHROMPTON BROWN.

The remains of the late Baden Wyers arrived here on Thursday morning and the funeral services were held from the deceased's late home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Camp, the Rev. F. Yates of Matapedia conducted the services which were most impressive. Burial took place in the family lot in the cemetery at Dawsonville.

The deceased, who was twenty-one years of age is survived by his sorrowing parents and four brothers and three sisters. The brothers are Sanford and Clifford at home; John and Harvey of Campbellton; and the sisters are Mrs. Wesley Myles of Tide Head and Bertha and Mrs. Melvin Mason of Lowell, Mass.

In the passing of Baden Wyers the mourning relatives have the sympathy of the entire community, and the expression of the truest sympathy because of the tragic nature of the young man's death. But although brought to an abrupt close in youthful years with all their promise the life of this young man leaves treasured memories which will survive even when he might have achieved in later years. He was a young man of outstanding character and his sterling qualities of heart and mind will long be cherished by his many friends and acquaintances in this part of the country.

An interview with Miss Wilson

Theatre patrons who made the acquaintance of Miss Margery Wilson, noted screen actress, across the footlights at the Opera House here last Friday night will doubtless read with interest the result of an interview which the Graphic's representative had with this accomplished screen celebrity during her brief stop-over here. Miss Wilson is a deep thinker as well as a clever actress and her ideas on various subjects of interest form an interesting article. This interview was unavoidably crowded out of this issue but is something that does not lose its timeliness and will appear next week.

MOVIE ACTRESS DELIGHTED
THEATRE-GOERS HERE

The personal appearance of Miss Margery Wilson in connection with the screening of her picture "Intuition" at the Opera House here last Friday night was a decidedly pleasing addition to the usual picture program and drew an appreciative audience which filled the building to capacity.

Miss Wilson's picture written, directed, starred in and produced by herself and her own company was a fine strong drama in seven reels of the same general type of "Way Down East" and gave ample proof of this clever young woman's exceptional ability and enterprise. The management of the Opera House is to be congratulated on having secured this splendid film for a run here and especially in going to the expense of having the star appear here in person. In her brief chat with the audience here last Friday, Miss Wilson delighted her hearers and doubtless added many new picture-lovers to her long list of admirers.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it. I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs. L. J. F. ELIAS, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief
Port Huron, Michigan—"I suffered for two years with pain in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was always all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BENJAMIN, 803-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GOOD SHOWING WAS MADE IN SPITE OF GREAT HANDICAPS

Official C. N. R. Statement Analyzes Comparative Returns in Two Years Lower Rates as Factor.

The following statement, authorized by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., was handed to the Gazette yesterday by the Publicity Department of the System:

The Montreal Gazette of September 18th publishes an Ottawa dispatch with respect to the Canadian National Railway System which does not accurately reflect the true position, and which demands comment. The public is to be correctly informed, and, therefore, while there is no desire on the part of the administration of the System to be unduly contentious, the following statement is given for the information of the public.

The statement is made that considering the entire System—both in Canada and United States—there was a betterment to the extent of $4,172,000 for the first half of 1933. The fact is that for the first half of 1933 the System as a whole was operated at a deficit of $2,925,997.17 while for the first six months of 1932 this deficit was turned into a surplus of $1,212,231.73, or an increase in net earnings of $4,138,228.90. Within the period under consideration the operating ratio was reduced from 102.85 per cent in 1932 to 98.71 per cent in 1933. This was accomplished in the face of the floods and adverse weather conditions which obtained in March and April of 1933, and is emphasized by the fact that for the first six months of 1932, "removal of snow and ice" involved the System in an additional expense of $1,548,000 over the same period for 1933; in addition to which there was a loss of revenue due to interruptions in traffic, reduced engine loads, and all of the collateral expenses which arrive from such sources.

Rates One-Third Less
Another vital and important consideration is the fact that for the first half of 1933 the rates under which grain and grain products moved were 33.13 per cent, as received. It is conservative to assume that had the rates been one-third less, the net receipts of the System would have unquestionably been increased by at least $3,600,000. There were reductions in rates on other basic commodities and on international traffic which would have materially increased this figure, but which cannot be calculated without the expenditure of unjustifiable time and money.

In a nutshell, it may be said that had freight rates been on a parity with the first six months of 1932, the net receipts of the System would have been approximately $5,500,000 instead of $1,500,000. These figures are conservative, and leave out of consideration the weather conditions referred to, and many other factors which are susceptible of exact computation.

The statement is made that in 1932, when the constituent properties of the present Canadian National System

It keeps - indefinitely when the cans are unopened. Pure, rich, convenient.

ANNUAL BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Some of the Matters Considered At the Two Days' Sessions At Halifax.

Halifax N. S., Sept. 18.—With the object of bringing something concrete out of the mass of resolutions which have been brought before the Maritime Board of Trade at their twenty-fifth annual conference, the sessions of this morning were largely devoted toward the formation of some organizations of a permanent and established character which would deal with the matters discussed and be in constant touch with the three governments of the Maritime Provinces.

Telegrams were read from Premier Vanier, of New Brunswick, and Premier Stewart, of Prince Edward Island, to the effect that they were prepared to lend assistance. The idea which has been formed for many years by the Maritime Board of Trade includes the appointment of a permanent secretary toward the expenses of whom the three governments of the province would contribute. Having received this substantial promise of some form of assistance from two of the Maritime provinces, the Maritime Board of Trade, consisting of H. J. Logan, M. P., M. E. Demmon, of Moncton, and A. A. Pomeroy, of Charlottetown, was immediately formed to wait upon Premier Armstrong.

They reported back to the meeting that Premier Armstrong had given the matter considerable attention, that he was not desirous of having the government contribute toward a secretary for the Board, but favored the appointment of some man who would be a freight and railway traffic expert, whose services might be available by the Maritime Board of Trade as their secretary, and to look after a number of matters of mutual interest to the three Maritime Provinces.

Land settlement and immigration occupied considerable attention, the feature of the morning being an address by Major John Barnett, chairman of the Soldiers' Settlements Board of Canada, who came purposely to address the conference. He said that at the request of Premier Armstrong the Department at Ottawa was to make a thorough survey of the farm lands for settlement in Nova Scotia.

A resolution moved by May Cheley, of Kentville, for a committee to formulate plans for the organization of an association to co-ordinate the colonization and development work of the Maritime Provinces, was passed and a committee appointed as follows:

Nova Scotia—Mayor Smith, Amherst; F. G. J. Comeau, Halifax.
New Brunswick—Angus McLean, Bedford; E. A. Schofield, St. John.
Prince Edward Island—E. T. Tighe, Charlottetown; A. A. Pomeroy, Charlottetown.

respect to maintenance charges during that period of the year when labor was apt to be plentiful, and consequently less costly, than to attempt a higher standard of maintenance during the latter half of the year, when the movement of the large traffic which it experiences during that period. Consequently expenses have been maintained at a somewhat higher level during the first half of the year than may have been the case in previous years, with the knowledge that a consequent economy could be effected in the last six months, and it is believed that such will be the result.

The administration has pursued a rigid economy where it was thought that real economy could be produced, but where it has been found necessary to spend money to improve the service to its business, and generally add to its gross receipts, it not only has done so, but will unflinchingly continue to do so.

Stripped For Action
Although the article in question does not refer to the July figures for 1933, it may be of interest to the public to know that for that month the net results from operation were up $300,000.25 as compared with the aggregate, it will be found that the net results from operation for the first seven months of the year are approximately $3,000,000, as compared with a loss from operation for the same period in 1932 of $2,000,000, or an improvement of $5,000,000 for the whole period. This rate of improvement will not only be maintained, but should be materially improved, because the last six months of the year, in the history of the issue now included in the National Railway System, have always been the most profitable half of the year. In short, several of the heavy items of expense have been cut for in the first half of the year. The railway has stripped itself for action, is prepared to handle with economy and dispatch the large grain movement which is anticipated, and there is no reason to feel but that when the year is closed the net results will constitute material improvement over the same results for 1932.

Saving By Spending.
It is stated that on the Canadian National and Grand Trunk the previous administration practiced a rigid economy. The Board of the Canadian National System expresses its admiration of the results achieved, which in no sense are to be minimized. It is fair to say, however, that in the policy with respect to the maintenance and operation of any property, the results for the year are more important than the results for six months, and a course must be pursued which, when the fiscal year is closed, will produce a maximum of net results. The Board of the Canadian National System and the operating administration thought it was to follow a policy of reasonable vigor will

PREMIER VENIOT AT WOODSTOCK

Heartly Congratulations On His Campaign Speech Made on That Occasion.

(Glasgow, Fredericton.)
Premier Veniot did well in opening the Woodstock Exhibition last night, for he made special reference to the substantial progress which New Brunswick is making in the development of agriculture, and also in the development of the factory. Certain outside newsmen have been waiting for some years to minimize the efforts of our farmers and the efforts of our leaders in industrial enterprises. And within their own province we have other people who have the pessimistic view who say that we have no good or progress in any branch of industry or in anything and are ever ready to surrender a change. We have, for instance, a class of men who feel that the other parts of the Dominion are ordered to destroy us to wipe us out and to take the place of the Maritime Provinces. The combination of the Maritime Provinces; and their only hope is a the hands against the world. We have almost no silly politicians, led by the leader of the Conservative party in this province, who, having miserably failed in everything with which they have had connection within the public arena are setting up that our only salvation lies in a political Union of the Maritime Provinces—with of course the pessimists of the political classes are working hand in hand.

Premier Veniot's broad presentation of the situation is cheering, enlightening and manly. View these facts as he presented them:

"Farm products, 1931, in New Brunswick, $58,000,000; in Nova Scotia, $38,000,000."
"Nova Scotia export, $67,000,000. Nova Scotia import $38,000,000."
"New Brunswick export, $118,000,000; New Brunswick import $40,000,000."
"Nova Scotia balance of trade, $29,000,000; New Brunswick's balance of trade, $72,000,000."
"New Brunswick has invested in the lumber industry $65,000,000; has 254 mills, five pulp mills and five paper mills."

"The loss by provinces in agricultural products during depression were: Nova Scotia, $2,000,000; Prince Edward Island, $5,000,000; Quebec, $123,000,000; New Brunswick, $11,000,000."

"The population of New Brunswick increased from 1900 to 1930 15 per cent. In Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, only 7 1/2 per cent. In these States, the population in same period increased in value three times. Manufactured articles in these states increased in value three times, while in New Brunswick they increased six times."

The only deterioration in New Brunswick is in the culture and honor of the men who seek place in the public life; and if this province has suffered, it is wholly through the deterioration which is now, perhaps, the most apparent to our own people than to the outside critics who have taken advantage of the situation to minimize us. We must confess that politically, the Conservatives have recently made a great mess of things. We congratulate Premier Veniot on what he is reasonably doing to restore this province to its proper place in the map.

Had Example Easily Followed.

Sholes Felt That He Had Benefited All of Womankind

"FEEL that I have done something for the women who have always had to work so hard. This will enable them more easily to earn a living."

This spoke Christopher Latham Sholes, inventor of the typewriter, just before his death in 1890. The story of the economic emancipation of women through the typewriter is told in the new book, "The Story of the Typewriter," published by the Herkimer County (New York) Historical Society.

Incident to its coming celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the typewriter, the Society has published "The Story of the Typewriter," the first comprehensive history of this revolutionary machine. The celebration will be held September 12 at Ilion, Herkimer County, N. Y., where the manufacturer of the first practical typewriter was born. In 1833, the typewriter was first used in the office of the Herkimer County Clerk, and in 1834, the first typewriter was used in the office of the Herkimer County Clerk.

The business office of 1833 seems no more remote from the present than the economic restrictions imposed on the women of fifty years ago, declares the Society's book. "It might also be said that no real career was possible for her outside of the home. Such opportunities for gainful occupation as did exist were usually for the untrained and uneducated, in shops, factories, domestic service and the like. In only two other callings had they made themselves independent, that of school teaching and nursing, and all the openings in this and a few minor occupations could do little more than utilize a fraction of intelligent womanhood."

The girl stenographer and typist came into business because she was needed and with her coming the ancient barriers fell. The typist blazed the path by which other women entered every department of business. Economic emancipation was won and from this great triumph has resulted every other development of modern civilization.

Door to Business Life for Women Opened by Spinner

Most Shop Owners Would Be Surprised to Find That the Typewriter, Then Considered a Novelty, Has Opened a Door to Business Life for Women.

How the doors of business opportunity first were opened to American women and how women first came to be employed in clerical work by the Government, has just been disclosed.

The Herkimer County (New York) Historical Society, which on September 12, 1883, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the typewriter, at Ilion, Herkimer County, New York, relates the story of the beginning of the "feminist" movement in a new historical document, "The Story of the Typewriter."

While the typewriter machine, manufacture of which began at Ilion in September, 1833, is chiefly responsible for the presence of millions of women in office work throughout the world, the actual entry of women into that field was made possible by a Herkimer County man, according to the Society's book.

This man was General Francis Elias Spinner, born in Mohawk, N. Y., a son of Ilion, and a close friend of Philip Remington, manufacturer of the first typewriter.

General Spinner, who had represented the Herkimer County District in Congress, was appointed Treasurer of the United States in 1861, and continued to hold this office until June, 1865.

When he took up his official duties at Washington, he found a condition similar to the one which existed in the West. The men who were needed for the war were everywhere a scarcity of workers, and General Spinner was the first to employ women as government clerks.

This was a startling innovation in those days; nevertheless several hundred women were appointed to government clerkships through his agency.

The grateful women of the time afterwards remembered General Spinner's efforts, and his statue, erected by the women of the Department of the Interior, stands in Herkimer, N. Y. On the pedestal, placed by the Daughters of the American Revolution, are General Spinner's words: "The fact that I was instrumental in introducing women to employment in the Government has given me more real satisfaction than all the other deeds of my life."

However, the unhappy experience of many of these women showed how strong were the prejudices of the time. General Spinner, the author, tells of a letter received from one of these women, which says: "Would you work for nothing, I should be glad to do so."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drowdy upon the arrival of a son and heir at their home here last week.

Miss Mildred Maloney of New York City is expected here to spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maloney.

THE HILLS OF CAMPBELLTON.
(By A. M. Belding.)

Her hills are the glory of Campbellton. That one range lies beyond the river in Quebec does not make them less the less. They belong to her as the air belongs, and the clouds, and the sky over them. They are the first to catch the orient splendor of the dawn, and the last to receive the good-night caress of the declining sun.

The Rev. Father Ernest Myles, P. P., returned to his parish on Saturday night after spending the past week in Rimouski, P. Q.

"The S. S. Gullineau" the light house boat made her usual rounds and is now anchored in Gaspé Basin.

Mr. Howard Gaul of Fraser's Limited, Campbellton, N. B., is spending a few days at his home here.

A wedding of interest to many in this village as well as to many in Gaspé County was performed at the Anglican Church in South Dunham, P. Q., of Miss Goldie Estell Montgomery, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Montgomery of South Dunham to Mr. Clifford George Patterson of Montreal, son of Mr. Charles A. Patterson of Peninsula Gaspé, Que. They will reside in Montreal, where the groom is teller in a branch of the Bank of Toronto.

A telegram was received here by Mr. Richard McAuley informing him that his son Roland had been admitted to an hospital in Ottawa suffering from typhoid fever. His friends here hope to see him enjoying his usual health soon.

The residence of Mr. Richard Brant looks very pleasing in its new coat of paint.

Mr. J. Desire Roux who held a lucrative position with the Shepard & Sons Lumber Co., at L'Anse aux Cousins has returned to his home in Dalhousie, N. B., and is now employed with the Fraser Company at Atholville, N. B.

The Rev. Father Plourde, P. P., of Ste. George de Malabale, came here on Tuesday morning to be the celebrant at the Requiem funeral mass of the late Private Andrew Kennedy.

Congratulations are in order here to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morris on the arrival of a young daughter at their home a few weeks ago.

Miss Davis O. Grove and Miss Audrey Congrove of Gaspé Basin, were week-end guests of their aunts, Mrs. Isidore LeRue and Mrs. Jerome Brant.

Mrs. Roland Vauthier and two children of Shigawake are here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brant.

The Rev. J. P. DeGruchy, D. D., rector of the Anglican Church in Sandy beach came here a few Sunday's ago and conducted a prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird.

No doubt there will be a few autumn amusements and exercises in our woods over the week-end. Every person who goes out with a gun should bear in mind the necessity of being very careful and of making sure of the identity of what he is shooting at before he shoots.

Mrs. Hugh Dunn who has been ailing for the past summer is now slowly regaining her former health, for which we are pleased to hear.

Miss Annie Morris after spending the summer here left recently for Montreal to continue her work there.

FISH HATCHERIES BENEFIT INDUSTRY

Report Shows Cultural Operations Increase Catch Enormously.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—Much evidence of the beneficial results of fish hatcheries is recited in the annual report of the Dominion Superintendent of Fish Culture.

"From a state approaching depletion," says the report, "the whitefish fishery in Lake Winnipeg was brought back to a point where it compared earliest days, and in one recent year the catch of whitefish, per net operated, was higher than it was ever in the history of the lake."

In New Brunswick, "the collection of such eggs was first undertaken the department was satisfied with a take of 30,000,000 this collection has steadily increased in each of several successive years and new records have been established, and the collection of eggs was better than it was in all preceding seasons. The collection in 1922 was more than 200,000,000 and we are now able to ship large quantities of eggs from the Bay of Quinte to other less productive waters."

"Lake Ontario is now only second and a close second, as a whitefish producer, to Lake Erie. The catch in Lake Ontario in 1921, the last year for which figures are yet available, was 21,818 cwt., as compared with only 1,266 cwt. in 1895. This improvement has been brought about notwithstanding the fact that there has been no close season in the Great Lakes for years."

The superintendent of fish culture further reports satisfactory results from the planting of hatchery fry in the Restigouche and the Miramichi rivers of New Brunswick, in Prince Edward Island, and in the Margaree of Cape Breton, and in the rivers flowing into the Bay of Fundy.

On the Pacific coast he reports, amongst other instances of the usefulness of hatcheries, that on the lower Fraser, where hatcheries have been operated, there has been a continuance of promising run, while the Upper Fraser, where very little fish culture work has been done, is practically barren. In this connection it is stated that, unless unforeseen circumstances occur, the Upper Fraser will this year receive an allotment of fry, and this will be carried on until spawning salmon again resort to these grounds.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Montreal Star—This is the age of advertising as well as the age of golf, jazz, psycho-analysis. Therefore it behooves all up-to-date nations to be in the swim. Canada needs advertising. We cannot afford to let other nations get ahead of us. Australia has an elaborate, well-planned, and practically executed advertising campaign in full swing. We are hesitating on the sidewalk when we ought to be up on the boardwalk and the skyscraper. There is nothing vulgar about this idea. It is sound business, and as nations make progress through commerce, we must be business men as well as omnivorous readers.

Recipes for Old-Fashioned Fall Delicacies

Old-fashioned fall foods made in the kitchen on big, roomy stoves, having deep ovens, seem to have disappeared from the menu unless one goes visiting way back in the country, where they may still be found. The old-fashioned delicacies are eagerly welcomed by all who have known them in the past. Just a few recipes for their making may inspire some young housekeeper to try them.

Corn-Meal Gingerbread
Beat to a cream, a cupful of butter and a cupful of brown sugar; add a tablespoonful of ground ginger, a teaspoonful of cinnamon and the grated rind of an orange. Mix two cupfuls each of corn-meal and flour, add three beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt, three grills of molasses and a quarter cupful of milk. Add three more beaten eggs and beat the mixture thoroughly. Add a teaspoonful of baking soda dissolved in a little hot water. Pour this batter into buttered pans and bake it in a moderate oven one hour.

Steam Corn Bread
Mix three cupfuls each of yellow corn-meal and white flour. Add a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Pour in a quart of sweet milk and a cupful of water. Mix these ingredients well, pour them into a buttered mould, and steam four hours.

Baked Lima Beans
Boil a quart of fresh lima beans until they are tender; if dried lima beans are used, soak them overnight; then boil them until they are tender. But-ter a baking-dish and put in the beans; add a quarter of a pound strip of chunk of salt pork neatly scored and rinsed clean; drain the beans and pour over them, add pepper, salt, a quarter-cupful of molasses and a little of the water the beans were boiled in. Bake this mixture for a couple of hours in a medium oven. Cover the beans if they are brown too soon, but continue the cooking.

Cornstarch Pudding
Heat two cupfuls of water and thicken it with three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch rubbed smooth in a little cold water. Cook this for ten minutes, stirring constantly, then add the juice of a lemon and a little sugar. Strain the pudding through a fine sieve and add a half cupful of butter. Remove the pudding from the fire and turn it into a buttered baking-dish. Bake it a half hour. Remove it from the oven and add a meringue made of the stiffly-beaten egg whites and four teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar. Return the pudding to the oven long enough to brown the meringue lightly. Serve it hot or cold.

Marriage Terrors After Honeymoon

They had just returned from their honeymoon, a trip of bliss, joy and happiness, all three. He kissed her goodbye as he started for the office and murmured many endearing things into her ear, all of which she kept there.

The day was slowly fading, and a feeling of terror stole over her. A grim waiting of she-knew-not-what numbed her senses and stirred her imagination already boiling over.

Why did not her mother warn her? O, why did they not forbid her marriage? It was too horrible to contemplate—that they willy-nilly sacrificed her to their ambitions. Impossible! Yet, yet—

"O, if she dared only open that door, just to satisfy her wild imagination. O, if something would only happen to relieve the tense strain she was laboring under. And she must face it alone—alone!"

Yes, she must see what was going on behind that door—yes, if the sight would kill her—she must! The mystery must be solved if her death would result—or even the loss of her husband's love.

She started for the door, but her knees gave way under her and she collapsed on the floor. Ah, brave heart! She awoke! And again crosses the floor to the door, full of portentous silence. What a dread suspense! Beads of perspiration dashed to the floor and splashed back again. O she must—she must!

Slowly 10 more minutes dragged their weary length along—they seemed ages. Then with a strength born of a desperate resolve, she rushed across the floor and flung open the door. A cloud of smoke rushed to the open.

Her first pie had burned to a crisp.

244 MILES AN HOUR
NEW FLYING RECORD
New York, Sept. 16.—Flying at the rate of four miles and a quarter a minute, Lieutenant H. J. Brow, known to his friends in the service as "High-brow," broke all world records for speed Thursday when he made an average of 244.16 miles an hour, over a one-kilometer course on Mitchell Field, in Mineola, L. I. He used a Navy Curtiss racer.

This speed was the average made on four trips across the measured course, two in each direction. On one trip, going with the wind, Brow made 255 miles an hour. It was a level flight, without the aid of a dive to get up speed.

This record speed was made Monday by Lieutenant H. J. Brow, of the Marine Corps (when he set a world's record by going 238 miles an hour in a Wright Navy biplane, which he will fly in the races at St. Louis. Lieutenant Brow also will enter that contest with the plane he flew yesterday.

"Going pretty fast," Brow admitted.

How to Fashion Various Dainty Things From Handkerchiefs

Handkerchiefs are classed nowadays as so-called "hand-made" accessories. The first notable new use for very finely embroidered handkerchiefs, woman's size, is to convert them into infant's caps. We gathered crowns the turn-back band Quaker effect, is made of an embroidered handkerchief lined with dainty silk and finished with rosettes and baby-ribbons. These little caps are charmingly dainty.

Little run-a-rounds, quaint sunbonnets and washable hats are also made of handkerchiefs. It takes three to make a bonnet or hat. The brim of the hat and round of the sunbonnet are composed of handkerchiefs, and where it is necessary to join the work, this is done by means of fine cat-crimboles. The handkerchiefs are expensive, but to buy articles made from them is much more expensive than to buy handkerchiefs and make the articles at home, provided there is a clever needlewoman there to do the work.

Another use to which these very fine, filmy handkerchiefs are put is making collar-and-cuff sets or collars with jobs attached. These are dainty and are not hard to make. Handkerchiefs with colored line or solid warm molasses. Mix these ingredients well, pour them into a buttered mould, and steam four hours.

Carnation Milk

"From Contented Cows"

From the Heart of Canada's Best Dairy Lands

CARNATION Milk comes from the fine dairy counties. It is tested rigidly for purity and for richness, about 60% of the natural water content is taken from it by evaporation. Then it is sealed fresh in containers and sterilized.

Open a can when you need it. The milk is still fresh and sweet. It has the creamy consistency you will enjoy in coffee or tea, on cereals or fruit.

Add water to Carnation Milk—a little more than an equal part and you have milk of natural consistency. It is safe—absolutely. But more than that, it's convenient, economical—your grocer supplies you! Order several tall (16 oz.) cans—or a case of 48 cans.

The Carnation Cook Book contains many a good recipe. Write for a copy to-day. Free on request. Try this recipe yourself.

CREAM FILLING
One-third cup flour, 1 1/4 cups water, 2/3 cup Carnation Milk, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoonful vanilla. Moisten the flour with a little cold milk, add this to the hot milk mixed with the water. Cook 15 minutes in double boiler. Beat the eggs, add sugar and salt. Add to them the hot liquid, return to double boiler and cook until egg thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and when cool add flavoring.

CAMPBELLTON'S BEAUTY ADMIRED

Editor of Barrie Examiner
Writes of Brief Visit to This Town.

(By J. C. McEwen, of the Barrie Examiner, Barrie, Ont.)

The run from Redbank to Campbellton provided some of the finest scenery of the trip. Skirting the south shore of the Bay of Chaleur for many miles, a series of charming pictures met the eye, with the rugged hills of Gaspé, across the bay, as a background. Added charm was given to the scenery by the softening light of a June sun setting towards eventide. It was after seven o'clock before the train pulled into Campbellton, a thriving town which stands at the head of navigable water on Chaleur Bay. Although this place was almost completely destroyed by fire in 1910, it has been nearly all rebuilt and has numerous good business blocks, many beautiful homes and two fine hospitals, one of which is a war memorial, erected at a cost of $140,000.

The town, which is beautifully situated, has a population of 6,000, and is noted as a prosperous business centre as well as an attractive summer resort. From the business standpoint its chief interest lies in the lumber industry, the annual output of which is about 90,000,000 feet of lumber. Campbellton possesses many attractions for the detection of the summer tourist. Almost directly across the river in the Gaspé county of the Province of Quebec, is Mission or Cross Point, noted for its Indian reservation of 500 Miles, while back of the town is Sugar Loaf Mountain from whose top the climber's 2,000 feet can obtain a glorious view of the surrounding country. In fact the whole surrounding country is well diversified and exceedingly picturesque with its many valleys and conical hills.

Though time permitted but a short stay, the obliging motorists once more came to our aid and gave us an opportunity of seeing the town. Before this visit, Campbellton to most of us was known principally as the home of Harry B. Anslow, publisher of the Graphic and a popular director of the C.W.N.A. As the shades of night were falling, we farewelled Mr. Anslow and his townspeople in song, concluding with "A Perfect Day" sung in choral style under the direction of the versatile "Sandy" Lindsay of the C. N. R.

Good-bye to New Brunswick. After a run of but thirteen miles from Campbellton, passing enroute through the interesting town of Miramichi, we reached Matapédia, in the Province of Quebec, is reached. Matapédia is famous as the point where the rivers Restigouche and Matapédia join their respective waters as they flow onward into the Bay of Chaleur. From this point a railway runs to the Gulf Peninsula. The Matapédia, famous for its scenic effects and its salmon, is followed by the railway for a distance of over twenty miles, thus affording the tourist ample opportunity for feasting upon its beauties. In thirty miles of its course the river has no less than 222 rapids.

His Guest.
Tom—Why are so many more engagements made in summer than in winter?
Dick—Because a girl is more apt to melt in summer, I suppose.

He Hadn't Counted On That
Young man (to Jeweller)—"Will you take back this engagement ring?"
Jeweller—"Doesn't it suit?"
Young man—"Yes, but I don't."
