Outside Soldiers Brought in at the Mayor's Request.

Four Companies From Guelph, Galt, Woodstock and Windsor-Hussars Also Stationed at the Barracks.

Early Sunday morning Col. Holmes, D. O. C., at the instance of the mayor, wired orders for four companies of soldiers, one each from Lieut.-Col. Guillot, 21st Essex Fusiliers, Windsor; Major Acheson, 29th Infantry, Galt; Col. W. W. White, 20th Infantry, Guelph, and Col. Hegler, Oxford Rifles, Woodstock. Three companies of militia arrive in the city at 11:45 this morning, and disembarked at the Adelaide street crossing of the C. P. R. Their total strength was 80 men. Quite a crowd had gathered, who jeered and called "scab" after the men as they were marching to the barracks. Col. Buchan and Major Dennison, of D School, met the troops on their arrival, and escorted them to the barracks.

Capt. Anderson and Lieut. Carlyle were in command of the company of Oxford Rifles, 34 strong. Lieut. Oliver was in command of the

This company was 40 strong. The troops will be held in readiness to be called out at any minute. No. 1 Squadron of the First Hussars of this city are also quartered at the

Mrs. Dieffenderfer was trying to break up Knauss' infatuation for her and refused to elope with him, which made him desperate. Mrs. Dieffender-fer has a husband and two children.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH. San Francisco, Cal., July 10.—Death called Dr. Mary C. Edmonds, a wellknown physician of this city, in tragic fashion, at her home, 913 Bush street. The accidental setting off of a burglar alarm wrought up her nerves to such a strain that she suffered death by fright. She went to a window and blew a whistle. Help came, but just as she opened the front door she tottered and fell dead. Mrs. Edmonds was a very talented and successful physician of this city.

Respect the Volunteers.

There has been no disturbance sufficient to justify the calling in of outside volunteers. It has been done without due consideration, probably in an attack of "nerves." But it has been done; and we trust the visitors will be received in such friendly fashion as will make them enjoy their stay in our midst. They were in camp in London a few weeks ago, when, indeed, they themselves rode in 'busses, not in cars. Their duties will be very light, we are convinced, and every good citizen, and every friend to organized labor should assist in making them light, by using their influence with all thoughtless boys, and children of a larger growth, to refrain from acts of violence of every description.

Compulsory Arbitration.

The City Council should at once request the London Street Railway to consent to the amendment of the agreement, by the insertion of a clause, providing, after a specified limited time, for the peremptory settlement of such disputes as that now in progress between the Company and the employes on strike, by compulsory ar-

If the Company refuse so reasonable a request, upon them be the onus. If they refuse, the City Council should next request the Ontario Legislature to pass a general measure providing for compulsory arbitration in such cases of dispute in connection with street railways operating under public franchises. We have no doubt the Legislature would promptly pass such a measure. Cities cannot afford to allow street railway companies to act as if only private interests were in-

The Advertiser desires again to impress on all with whom it has influence, in the 8,000 to 9,000 households into which it goes regularly, the duty of doing everything in their power to discourage excitable and misguided persons, whether young or old, from breaking car windows, or committing other acts of violence. Persons who so act are not friends of organized labor. Though there were on Saturday large crowds at several places-and it is astonishing how rapidly a crowd can collect at any time-mostly they were composed of mere onlookers. While the sympathies of the crowds were undoubtedly almost unanimously against the Company, The Advertiser is assured that those who actually took part in the stone-throwing were very few in number as compared with the size of the crowds.

The Advertiser, with the largest daily circulation in the Dominion of Canada, outside of Montreal and Toronto, intends to continue to cast its influence against stone-throwing, and every form of violence, as injurious to any side that resorts to it.

There have been periods in the world's history, when force against force seemed to be the only adequate remedy. In one historical instance the British people found it necessary to demonstrate that even kings had necks. But we live in a day when the strongest possible force is the force of public opinion. It is that which for nearly two months has caused the Company's cars to glide by in emptiness. It is the force of irresistible public opinion that will yet bring a bungling Company to their senses.

Let no one, therefore, countenance anything that will impair, by violence of any kind, this force of public opin-

Trying to Blame the City Solicitor.

Those who say that an arbitration proviso ought to have been inserted in the street railway agreement, and who blame the city solicitor and the ex-mayor, forget the struggle to reach any agreement at all. Mayor Little and the city solicitor had to fight every inch of the way. The unfortunate fifty years' franchise gave the Company the whip hand, and they used it unsparingly. It was too much a case of the city coming to the Company's terms, or doing without an electric system altogether. Deadlock followed deadlock. The agreement finally reached by extraordinary labors, was doubtless as good as could be then obtained under such circumstances. The City Council could not foresee the present trouble; but having now had a taste of the Company's real disposition, the Council should request the immediate insertion of a compulsory arbitration clause to meet such difficulties as have arisen.

Municipal Ownership.

A Glasgow expert constructing engineer and contractor, Mr. Jas. Cameron, visiting Toronto, interviewed by the Globe, says that in Glasgow the municipal ownership of waterworks, gas and electric plants, and street railways, has been a great success. The citizens, he said, enjoyed the finest system of waterworks in the world, had splendid light, and traveled in the trams at one-half the rate formerly charged. Glasgow is an example to other cities. The use and the profits of all natural monopolies belong of right to the citizens as a whole, and not to private ownership, and if the people must have a master, let them be their own master, as in Glasgow, rather than accept the insufferable airs of ownership of some private cap-

Our local contemporary has gone out of its way to exaggerate the disturbance of Saturday, for an obvious purpose. Its report and comments could not have been more unfairly colored, had they been written by the Company, and paid for at so much per line, like the bogus interviews.

Non-Union Motorman Dare Says There Was One.

John W. Dare, non-union motorman, on the London street railway, was arrested this morning at 12:30, and taken to the police station. He is charged switch. A police officer is the com-

In an interview this morning, Dare said that the non-union men had been dissatisfied with their wages for some time. The company promised to pay them $1 50 a day, whether the cars ran one hour or nine. And the company had been paying them for only 71/2 hours' work at 151/3 cents an hour. Seventeen of the men had agreed to go on strike Saturday at 2:30 o'clock, and it was arranged that he should turn the switch. The men in charge of the first car to go in were among the 17, and they refused to take their car out again. Motorman Sauer and Conductor Fitzsimmons, in charge of car No. 88, and Motorman McKnight and Conductor Van Norman, in charge of car No. 56, had not been asked to join the proposed strike. Manager Carr denies that there was any trouble whatever between the new men and the company. He says Dare misled the men in charge of cars 56 and 88 by telling them that the company had ordered the cars in on account of the crowd. MANAGER CARR'S STATEMENT. Toronto Mail and Empire: Mr. Carr says the riot was a bold attempt on the part of organized labor to take into their own hands the management of the railway, and says he never will submit to such a thing taking place.

A RUN-OFF. A belt line car ran off the track on Central avenue near Maitland street this morning. It is not known what caused the run-off, but the tracks are thought to have been plugged. Small boys broke some of the windows in the car with stones.

Several citizens suggested Saturday evening that the fire hose be turned on the crowd. Had this simple method of clearing the streets been adopted the police would not have needed any military assistance in protecting the cars and preserving order.

Motorman S. Rigney was not so badly injured during the street railway disturbances Saturday evening as was at first reported. His side was bruised, but no ribe were broken, and his condition is not considered at all serious by the doctors at the city hospital, to which Rigney was removed.

[Special to The Advertiser per G.N.W.] Aylmer, Ont., July 10 .- This morning about 11 o'clock a sad drowning accident occurred at S. Pierce's millpond, about a mile east of here, the victim being Pemperton Chambers, aged 19 years, son of Arthur Chambers, living two and a half miles out, near the cemetery. Young Chambers was not a very good swimmer, and it is supposed he became tired and was unable to reach the shore. The body was found in eight feet of water.

Street Car Company Ordered to Give a Complete 17-Hour Service-Must Be Protected.

A secret meeting of the city council was held this morning, at which all the members except Ald. Greenlees, who is out of the city, were present. The mayor announced that the meeting had been summoned to consider the conditions existing in the city in consequence of the action of the mob in destroying property and violating the law on Saturday last. Mr. James Magee, Q.C., county crown attorney, addressed the council upon the necessity of the riot act having to be read.

After considerable discussion the folwith unlawfully obstructing the free lowing resolution was passed, on mo-passage of the cars by tampering with ham: "Whereas, the citizens of Lon-don have for seven weeks submitted voluntarily and otherwise to great inconveniences in consequence of the disputes between the London Street Railway Company and their former employes, and it is high time that such

The Mayor Tells the Crowd That the Company Will Take Back All the Strikers-Militia Ordered to London From Outside Towns-List of the Injured-Some Lively Incidents.

The street railway strike reached an acute stage Saturday afternoon. The folly of some of the non-union motormen and conductors and the special detectives of the street railway company in flourishing revolvers was chiefly responsible for the trouble. And later, when one of the non-union conductors fired three shots in the midst of a large crowd, the resentment became so strong that in spite of the efforts of the police to protect them, one of the non-union men was seriously hurt, several of them were roughly handled, and seventeen of the company's cars were more or less wreck-Wilson threatened to read the riot act the police. during the afternoon. The crowd which blocked Dundas street from Richmond to Clarence, remained, and four cars, which had been deserted about the middle of the block, were the targets for a continuous shower of bricks, stones and other missiles.

At about 1 a.m., after most of the crowd had dispersed, Mayor Wilson sent a request to Wolseley Barracks for a company of soldiers. Thirty-two men, under command of Col. Buchan, Holmes. Major Dennison, Layborn and Lieut. Burmarched, with fixed baydown to the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. Mayor Wilson placed himself at the head of the militia. The police, with drawn batons, cleared the streets of the few hundred boys and youths who remained, and without further difficulty the soldiers escorted the cars to the barn.

THE TROUBLE BEGINS. At noon Saturday it was rumored around the city that the non-union employes of the company were dissatisfied with their wages, and would run the cars into the barn at 2 o'clock. A to await developments. Twelve of the city police, City Detectives Nickle and Rider, and a number of the street railway company's special detectives were also on hand. The police kept the crowd moving and there was no disturbance of any sort.

The action did not escape the notice of the crowd, and immediately a number of stones were thrown at the car. It is said that a woman threw the first stone. One of the other cars followed almost immediately, and it also had a number of windows broken by stones. The men in charge of No. 54, which went in first, refused to take the car out again, and it remained in the barn. Both of the other cars turned east on Dundas street, and turning at the loop, came west again. As they passed through the crowd they received a volley of eggs and stones, and most of the windows were smashed. Three other cars, which had come eastward on Dundas street, were similarly treated. Two of them, on returning, each carried two or three lady passengers, and aside from groans and hisses, were not molested. After that no more cars were run in the East End during the afternoon. The East End cars were kept moving around the Ridout street loop. In the meantime the crowd had increased to large proportions, and filled Dundas street from Lyle to Adelaide streets.

DETECTIVES PULLED REVOLVERS Shortly after 3 o'clock an incident occurred which fanned the flames of disorder. William Hull, one of the company's special detectives, was standing on Dundas street, east of Lyle, and made some uncomplimentary remarks. One of the bystanders jeered at him, whereupon he called on the police to arrest the jeerer, and drew a revolver. Detective Nickle and Sergt.-Major Adams inter-vened, and the former led Hull away. He was conducted through an alleyway to Queen's avenue, followed by an angry crowd. At the corner of Adelaide street and Queen's avenue the crowd surrounded Hull and the police have had to put up with insult, and who were guarding him. Hull was struck a number of times with stones thing has got to stop. If the battle who were guarding him. The crowd still endeavored to reach McLaughlin, and Detective Nickle, drawing his billy, drove the crowd back, clubbing fifteen or twenty of them with great dexterity. McLaugh-lin, in the meantime, drew a revolver and a billy, and stood with his back to the fence. McLaughlin was struck with stones and eggs several times, and received a nasty scalp wound at the back of his head. He finally got away safely in charge of Detective Nickle.

ADDRESSING THE CROWD. At about 3:30 Mayor Wilson and Chief of Police Williams arrived at the that you are in earnest. This is only corner of Dundas and Lyle streets. They came up Elizabeth street from Queen's avenue. Chief Williams remained at ficer, the mayor, and by Ald. Parnell, the corner of Lyle street, and Mayor I am pleased to believe that this as-Wilson drove to the corner of Adelaide street, where the crowd was the greatest. His arrival was greeted with groans and hisses. Standing up in the buggy he attempted to speak to the crowd. He was greatly agitated, and it was several minutes before he succeeded in getting a hearing. He said he had been elected to do his duty, and crowd of 400 or 500 people gathered at he would do it. They were doing harm the corner of Dundas and Lyle streets to the cause of the strikers. "These men shall have justice, and I will help you get it for them," he said. "I have always been your friend."

Cries of "No you haven't! Just at election time!" "You've been bought by the company!" "How about your stock in the new electric railway?" "You haven't done your duty!" continually interrupted the speaker. Continuing, he said: "You are doing the cause of labor the greatest possible harm. Why don't you wait until the grievances have been given to the committee?"

Cries of: We have waited too long! For seven long weeks we have waited for 'Must we wait while the company's scabs threaten us with revolvers for demanding justice?" also shouted several people in the crowd. "The man who will pull out a revolver in this peaceful city of London should be sent to prison," said the He was told that several of the non-

The mayor promised that any man found carrying a revolver without special permission from the authorities should be The mayor also stated that none of the non-union men had asked for or obtained permission to carry

Again came the cries: "We have waited for seven weeks!"

"I pledge you my word," said Ald. Parnell, "and that of the mayor, that if these men have grievances they shall be rectified. I understand that the trouble today is that somebody has been foolish arough to draw a reveal been foolish enough to draw a revolver. I understood the mayor to say that if there were people of that kind they should be arrested. Now, give the mayor a chance. We pledge ourthe mayor a chance. If you won't disperse, you take the power out of the hands of the mayor to remedy your wrongs." Mayor Wilson again rose to speak.

"I am the chief magistrate of the conductor Fitzsimmons, who was in city," he said. "You elected me to that charge of the first car to come out, had charge of the first car to come to his city," he said. "You elected me to that position, and I must do my duty. You position, and I must do my duty. You are just as dear to me as the highest in the city." (Chorus of groans.)

Here a young man climbed up on the buggy, and, pointing to the mayor, said: "This is the man who during the last strike said he would be required to call out the militia to shoot down the men who were trying to get their just rights."

"I only did my duty," said the mayor, "and now, if this mob does not disperse the law requires that I read the riot act. But I will not read it except as a last resource. The committee have asked you to wait until next Tuesday, when the men will have put in their grievances. Mr. Dobbin, of the east end, climbed up where he could be heard, and said: "The people want to know if you can't have the police search the scabs and ake the revolvers from them?"

The Mayor-I can, and I will. Mr. Dobbin-We have reason to be-lieve they are carrying revolvers, and we want them searched right away. The mayor called for the chief of police, and gave the order that any man found carrying a revolver without special permission should be arrested. JOSEPH T. MARKS.

In closing he said: "The mayor has promised that the men shall have justice on Tuesday evening, and now, having made your protest, retire in peace.

The mayor then drove away. Chief Williams drew up twelve of the police in a line in the middle of the crossing, the alternate officers facing north and south, and detailed two sergeants to take the names of all persons who refused to leave. Slowly the crowd drifted away and comparative quiet reigned in East London for a couple of hours, though moving groups of people remained on the streets.

THE SECOND DISTURBANCE. The second disturbance began about 6 o'clock in the east end. At that hour the cars began to come toward the barn on Lyle street. The first to arrive from uptown was an open construction car. It was quickly followed by a regular car. Both of these reached the barn unmolested. A crowd quickly began to congregate on Dundas street, between Lyle and Adelaide. Fully one-third were ladies, who stood in the doorways of the stores to watch the proceedings. The third car to reach the east end was No. 62. Eggs and stones broke nearly every window, but it managed to get into the barn. No. 96 was the next to arrive. It got same treatment, but reached the

Then No. 86 came along at a rapid When it reached Adelaide street the stones and eggs started to fly from all directions. When it drew near Lyle street missiles came so thick and fast that the motorman left his post and cowered down under the seats. He did not reverse the motor, and as the switch turning into the barns was closed, the car shot past and went east in the direction of the fair to restore order, was standing close beside the mayor's buggy, and, being called on, addressed the crowd.

"I don't know of any period in my life," he said, "that I have felt greater responsibility resting upon me than I do at this moment. At no time in the history of this city, within my recollection, have there been disturbances in London such as we have here tobe moved.

CONDUCTOR FIRES SHOTS. The next car to arrive in the east end was No. 60, which also over-ran the switch for a short distance. It was likewise bombarded with eggs and stones. Motorman Rigney was struck with several missiles. His nose and two or three of his ribs were broken, his cheek was cut open, and he suffera revolver in his, hand. He was taken into the car barns, where Dr. Drake, who was called in, dressed his wounds. Rigney is now in the hospital. Conductor Crittle, of the same car took refuge under a seat and car, took refuge under a seat, and, pulling a revolver, fired three shots at random. The police took his weapon from him. In the meantime Motorman Nelson and Conductor Tuke, two of the strikers, volunteered to run the car into the barn. Tuke climbed on the roof and held the trolley-pole until the car reached the barn. Both men were loudly cheered. A COLLISION.

The next car to arrive from uptown was No. 80. It stopped on Dundas street, midway between Lyle and Adelaide. The windows were broken and the crew deserted the car under police protection. Close on its heels came car No. 82, at such terrific speed that the motorman, in his excited condition, lost control of the brakes. His car crashed into No. 39, smashing the fender and staving in the vestibule of No. 82, and shattering every window. No. 82, and snattering every window. No. 84, the last car to put in an appearance, nearly repeated the error of No. 82, pulling up within a few feet of the latter. The three were coupled together, and P. C. Harry Humeston, who was a street railway conductor before the strike, took charge of the lever, Sergt. Maguire holding

TROUBLE UP TOWN.

In the meantime, by the company's orders. six cars were stalled up town on Dundas street, just off Richmond. After dark a crowd began to gather around them, and it soon grew to large proportions. Gradually missiles began to fly in the direction of the cars. the glasswork was quickly smashed, and the stone-throwing was almost continuous for some hours.

THE MAYOR ON THE SCENE. Shortly before 9:30 Mayor Wilson put in an appearance and went among the crowd asking them to promise not to molest the cars any further. But as the stone-throwing continued, he, a little later, proceeded to

The detachment from Wolseley Barracks, some 32 strong, then formed up in line on either side of the cars with bayonets fixed. Then the police manned the cars and started them slowly toward the barns, the mayor leading. A considerable crowd still remained in East London, but nothing serious occurred. The militia remained until about 2:10 at the barns, when

BASEBALL.

FRIDAY'S GAME AT WOODSTOCK. Woodstock, July 7 .- By striking Mc-Fadden out after two men had got their bases on balls in 'he eighth innining of the game, Norcom put an end to London's hopes, and to one of the most exciting games ever played in Woodstock. And the Bains, the once despised tail-enders in ti 'ague, are now the leaders, with the ckneys a close second. It was a game with many features, and was played und r great difficulties. A fierce wind was blowing towards the home plate, which made it very difficult for the fielders to accept chances, and for the catchers to throw to second o third bases, hence the large number of sleals, and the few errors that were recorded.

The Cockneys started off in the lead, scoring in the second on two errors and Seiver's single. They got three in the third on three singles, a base on balls and O'Brien's bad throw to first. Two more came in in the fourth, and it looked 11ke a procession for the Cockneys. Reid singled, Babbit was hit by pitcher, and they both came in on Jones' double. After that Pitcher Norcom had them and Hemphill scored. Martin ran home on the throw from deep center on O'Brien's fly. and Pickard scored the last and winning run on Schwartz's overthrow to catch him at third.

Martin got a charity, Pickard singled,

The audience numbered about 700, despite the threatening weather. Umpire England's work was very unsatisfactory, especially on balls and strikes.

Time-1:45 BEAT THE BAINS.

Woodstock, July 8.—London had an easy time of it with the Bains this efternoon, defeating them by 15 runs to 2. After the defeat of last night they expected a much harder game, and were braced accordingly, but the "Wags" played like a country school mine, making errors at critical places and failing to bunch their hits. On the other hand the Cockneys played almost a faultless game in the field, and hit the ball when hits were needed. In the fourth, with the score 10-0, every London man who went to bat bunted the ball-five in all-getting first safely, and even scoring one run. Jones reached first on an error of Pickard's, and was sacrificed to second and third, and crossed the plate on a bunt hit by Schwartz, which Crystal failed to handle at all. Score: LONDON.

THE AMATEURS. A very interesting game of ball was played on the Ramblers' grounds, Rectory street, East London, by teams representing the press shop and the machine shop of the McClary Manufacturing Company Saturday. Among the marked features of the game were the heavy hitting and swift base-running of John Nuttall, of the machine shop, and the skyscraping catch of H. Rose, of the press shop. The score resulted as follows: R. H. E.

WHEEL.

D. A. McDONALD'S EXPULSION. New York, July 10 .- D. A. McDonald, of Boston, has been expelled from membership by the League of American Wheelman. Taking advantage of his L. A. W. membership card, Mc-Donald took his wheel into Canada last year free of duty. No evidence was ever presented to the customs officials that the wheel had been taken out of Canada, and the L. A. W. had to settle with the customs authorities. McDonald refused to make affidavit that he had brought his wheel back to this country on the plea that the affidavit would cost him 50 cents. This is the first case of the kind in which the L.

He rode on a track made of five wood planks, each ten inches wide, paced by a known comotive with a car attached, at the rear of which was built a box-like structure, inside of which Murphy rode—shielded from the wind. No straps or any kind of harness were employed; he rode naturally, keeping up with his steam pacemaker by pedaling—a wonderful and thrilling performance. Murphy weighs 154 pounds, and is 29 years phy weighs 154 pounds, and is 29 years old. On Friday, June 30, another attempt was successfully made, and the record reduced to 57% seconds. He rode a regular racing model, weighing 20% pounds and geared to 120. AQUATIC.

THE CANADIAN WELCOMED. Henley-on Thames, July 8 .- The Henley rowing regatta came to an end under the most favorable conditions. The weather was perfect, but the attend-ance was not so numerous as usual. When Lady Esther Smith presented the prizes after the races, Col. Willan, the umpire, made a brief speech, in which he welcomed the Canadian and foreign crews to Henley. He said: "We are especially glad to renew acquaintances with the Argonauts, who made such a favorable impression when they were here two years ago. They are good sportsmen, and rowed their races out to the end in bull-dog spirit. We like to see that they made a bold bid for the Grand, and although we should be extremely sorry to part LACROSSE. A novelty lacrosse match between the fat men of St. Marys and the lean men was played there Friday evening, and was witnessed by over 600 spectators. A scheme is on foot to form a Rugby union out of city clubs at Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Kingston. The union, it is thought, would pay. The finals in the Walker trophy lawn bowling competition at the Dominion lawn bowling tournament at Toronto on Friday attracted large crowds. C. C. Dalton's rink of Granites. Toronto, won the trophy, beating Prof. Watson's rink from Kingston by 25 to 11. In the final of the association match, the Granites, J. Baird skip, beat the Y. C. Y. C., F. O. Cayly skip, by 18 to 14. The singles and doubles were played out Saturday.

Results of the Bicycle Contests and the Baseball Match.

Some 500 people took in the bicycle races at Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon, and enjoyed some fine sport. The six events were all keenly contested. Cool weather had no doubt kept a large crowd away. No records were broken, but the track was in splendid condition. THE EVENTS.

The 1 mile novice race (riders who have never won first prize) was an easy victory for Harry Edwards, city, while James Duncan, city, was a good second. Wm. Dean, city, got the third prize in a walk. There were only eight starters, all of London, A. W.

Mahler, of Delaware, was entered, but owing to the spill on Friday night, was unable to ride. Time, 2:41. The 1 mile, open, was never in doubt. T. Higley, who holds the amateur Canadian championship, won in a walk. He took the pace at the start and kept the lead all the way, and came in 150 yards ahead of H. Stratton, of Staffordville, who was second; E. E. Wilson, of Springfield, got third. Jas. Duncan, city, would have easily been a good second, but during the second lap he fell, badly breaking his wheel. Eight starters. Time, 2:31. The half-mile (boys under 15 years) was won by Arthur Simons, city, with Harry Girlach, city, a good second, and Bert MacGregor, city, third. Gir-lach started fast, and got a good lead, but it was the pace that kills, and he soon fell behind, and Simons passed him. Six entries. Time, 1:18.

One-mile lap race, scored by points, first to finish each lap scores 3 points; second 2 points, third 1 point, except last lap, when rider finishing first scores four points. T. Higley, Blenheim, won with 10 points; Duncan, city, was second, with five points, and A. J. Platt, city, and H. Stratton, Staffordville, broke even with two points each. Only six starters out of eleven entries. Time, 2:39.

One-mile tandem race. This was an easy thing for Chester McGuffin and Ernie Crouch, of this city. E. E. Wilson, of Springfield, and H. D. Stratton, son, of Springfield, and H. D. Stratton, of Straffordville, rode the second tandem. McGuffin took the lead and kept it from start to finish. Time, 2:29.

One mile handicap. This was won by T. Higley, of Blenheim; James Duncan, city, was second, and Harry Edwards, city, third. Higley was the scratch man. Duncan hustled him on the home stretch for first place. Higthe home stretch for first place. Higley won by about half a wheel. Eight starters. Time, 2:30.

The following officers managed the affair, and the events were carried out with snap and vim: Referee. W. A. Burns, St. Thomas; starter, Dr. Balfour, London; timer, Fred Beltz, London; judges, W. J. Reid, C. S. Hyman, W. F. Boughner, George Macbeth; clerk of course. John J. Foote; scorers. W. Mann, George B. Dayton, Dave Mills. D. A. Breckon; announcer, E. D. Croden; photographer, John Nicholson, race promoters, Tecumseh Track Club; secretary, Jas. McCormick. Mr. James McCormick, the promoter of the races, is to be congratulated on the manner in which the events were carried out.

A great race meet will be held at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon, July 22. All the fastest riders in the country will compete.

THE BALL GAME. After the bicycle events had been all run off a ball game was played be-tween the R. C. Struthers & Co. and the John Marshall & Co. team.

visit to the French training ship Iphigenie, at Bergen, on Thursday, and his cordial exchange of telegrams with President Loubet, were not only received with great satisfaction here, but throughout Europe. As one paper puts it, it promises to be a turning point in the world's history. At the opening of the Kiel Canal his malesty went on board one of the French thips, but in the present instance, it maintained, the emperor set foot on he deck of a French vessel, which is equivalent to French soil, by the express invitation of her commander, who was acting upon instructions from his government. It is therefore be-lieved here that the many graceful and courteous attentions which, during the past seven or eight years, the emperor has been in the habit of paying to the French Government, have borne fruit. The emperor's act has been sympathetically received in France, though me see in it only a desire to visit the Paris exhibition in 1900.

PRESS VIEWS. Most of the papers print the Iphigenie telegrams without comment. The Tageblatt says: "It was the first official act of France for a generation, expressing a desire for more friendly relations. The courtesy of the kaiser is gradually telling upon France." The Vossiche Zeitung says: "The incident must fill with satisfaction the friends of peace, not only on both sides of the Vosges, but everywhere in the world. It proves the present rulers of France are not hypnotized with the idea of a revanche, and have the moral courage to show it." The Lokalanzeiger sees in the incident proof of good relations. The Cologne Gazette looks upon it as an Indication of how far French and German sentiments have moderated recently. The Vorwaerts does not see in the affair a turning point in the world's history, and sarcastically expresses the hope that Prof. Stengel's mind will now become more peaceable. In view of the more favorable outlook for the election and canal bills, the talk of a dissolution and a reconstruction of the ministry has died

THE PHILIPPINE SITUATION. The Berlinn press com war in the Philippines, and the decision of President McKinley to increase the force of American troops there, are not hopeful for American success. The difficulty of the situation is regarded as confirmatory of the views expressbefore the rebellion. The Vossiche Zeitung makes merry over what it calls Gen. Otis' "Napoleonic art of preparing bulletins," and adds: gligence of the most obvious facts, he has been reiterating for months that the resistance of the Tagals was broken, their armies in complete dissolution and the end of the war in sight.' The Deutsche Tages Zeitung prints letter from a German at Manila, complaining of the Americans destroying the best part of trade and industry in the Philippines and deceiving their countrymen at home by sending

AMERICANS INVADE LONDON. When Mr. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, declared at the banquet here, July 4, that the presence of a thousand American ladies at the reception held at the embassy during the afternoon was the most impressive evidence he had yet received in regard to the importance of the ambassadorship to the court of James, he gave only a faint idea of the crowds of Americans now in London. So great is the rush that the steamship companies admit the inability to cope with it. MANY NEW STEAMSHIPS BUILD-

ING. All the transatlantic companies have ordered from one to four new ships. But it is impossible for many of these to be ready in 1900. The American and on their new vessels to the utmost possible, but they hardly hope to have them ready for the Paris exposition. The Atlantic Transport Company has four vessels, averaging 12,000 tons, in course of construction. They will be 600 feet long. The new Leyland liner Winifredian, for the Boston trade, had her trial Saturday. Even the cargo boats are constantly increasing their passenger accommodations, with the view of meeting the growing demand for passages. The Winifredian will accommodate 140 saloon passengers.

IMPROVING THE THAMES. Vice-President Williams, of the Atlantic Transport Company, who was among the representatives of the ship owners' society appointed to confer with the view of having the entrance of the Thames improved, has been holding up the New York harbor management as a model for the Thames people, and the fact that New York has contracted for the annual removal of huge quantities of silt has startled the guardians of London's waterway, which is now so seriously threatened by the increasing silt deposits.

KRUGER MUST COME DOWN. Henry Norman, cabling on the Transvaal question, says: President Kruger has begun to make concessions, but it is impossible to tell whether his latest scheme gives the franchise to the Uitlanders after five, seven or nine years. In any case, it does not approach what Sir Alfred Milner called the "irreducible minimum." Beyond this the situation has not changed in the least from its presentiment in these dispatches for weeks past. Moreover, it will now change. There need be no doubt about it whatever; either Kruger will give way, or he will be made to give way. This I state as a positive fact, from excellent knowledge. WAR PREPARATIONS.

Two or three journals with Boer sympathies here have been reiterating for weeks that no military preparations have been made. I told you about these preparations last Saturday. On Friday the Times stated on official authority that everything was in readiness for a move; that a number of special service officers would sail for the Cape at once, and that recently very large shipments of war material had been made to the Cape. I may add that other steps have been taken recently by the war office, but that absolute secrecy concerning these are imposed upon those who know of them. I believe also that no more shipments of arms and ammunition will be allowed to be imported into the Transvaal. My belief is that unless within a few weeks President Kruger not only accepts the British demands, but also gives satisfactory guarantees that they will be carried out, a considerable proportion of the First Army Corps, now stationed at Aldershot, will be embark-ed, and the other military steps that I mentioned last week will be taken. The draft would probably be 10,000 men, followed later, if necessary, by 20,000.

more or less in the length of the franchise granted to the Uitlanders in the Transvaal, but of the whole future of in order to avoid possible scandals the British rule in South Africa. Students of the situation from a military point of view should keep their eyes upon Laing's Neck. This is the strategic point at which the railway runs in the tunnel between the Orange Free State and the Transvaal. The last place on British territory beyond the tunnel is Charlestown, and the principal advance into the Transvaal would be made from here. Therefore the Boers will be given no opportunity to seize or blow up this strategic tunnel. Only one outcome is possible.

ACTION OF THE VOLKSRAAD. The news of the volksraad's reported action on July 6 in deciding to grant the franchise immediately to all settlers in the Transvaal from 1890, and other classes of residents within seven years, the naturalization clause to be optional, which is confirmed from several sources, appears to offer a fair basis for a friendly settlement. It generally ordered when Herr Hoffmeyer, the Afrikander leader, and President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, conjointly exerted pressure upon President Kruger, the latter was obliged to concede what they demanded, as the price of Dutch unity in South Africa. In the meantime Great Britain is keeping up a clatter of arms for the double purpose of quieting British demands for activity and hastening the Boers. Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, in a speech on Wednesday, described British feeling, saying: 'I am certain no government could remain in office if they attempted to in any way run away from the enforcement of Sir Alfred Milner's proposals." A GREAT REVIEW.

The centenary review and inspection North German Lines are pushing work of the metropolitan volunteers, which were organized in Hyde Park by George III., to oppose the apprehended invasion of England by the troops of Napoleon, occurred on the Horse Guards' parade Saturday afternoon. About 30,000 London volunteers took part in the review, and the beautiful weather made the event the greatest of the season. St. James' Park and its neighborhood was crowded with about 150,000 persons. The reviewing officers were the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, Field Marshal Lord Wolseley (the commander-in-chief), the Duke of Cambridge, the headquarters staff, the American and the continental attaches. A large number of Americans paid high prices for favorable spots from which to view the parade. The adjoining Carlton House Terrace, overlooking the park, was an exceptionally advantageous spot. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Mrs. John W. Mackay, Count Von Hatzfeldt (the German ambassador) and Mr. Astor, who reside there, entertained large parties.

CANADIANS AT BISLEY. Although they only landed Tuesday the Canadian riflemen were already practicing at Bisley on Wednesday. They had an unpleasant experience on Saturday. The visitors arrived in London late, missed the last train to Bisley. and drove about London for hours seeking lodgings. Finally they had to separate, and each man hustled for himself. Bisley is already white with tents. The attendance promises to be unprecedented, and the entries have increased immensely, aggregating hundreds above those of 1898. CONSCRIPTION.

is generally understood to be the thin edge for conscription, Lord Lansdowne prefixed his speech with the question, "How near are we to a condition of things wherein the ministers are justified in taking such a grave step?" While deprecation the notion of imminence, he admitted the possibility of having under wholly different circumstances to have recourse to compulsion. According to the bill, the government will decide on the matter of men necessary, and overseers in various counties will decide on the matter of men neces-sary, and overseers in various counties or sub-divisions will prepare lists of men liable. The bill calls for unmar-ried men between the ages of 18 and 25; secondly, for childless married men under 30, and unmarried men between 25 and 30, and thirdly, for all men liable and not included in the other calls. and not included in the other calls.

AT THE HAGUE. current English opinion that the peace congress has been a failure is modified by the publication of the draft of the report of the arbitration committee by the Manchester Guardian. The English press is beginning to admit that while Germany has blocked a reduction of armaments and converted arbitration into a pure voluntary scheme, the establishment of a permanent tribunal competent to deal with nearly every international dispute is a great gain for civilization. The fact that the Russian arbitration proposal has been amended by Sir Julian Pauncefote's project for a permanent tribunal, and has been transformed thereby into a prac tical instrument for promoting the peace of the world, also convinces the London press that it ought not to discredit the work of English diplomacy.
To Russia and England belong the chief honors of the congress. The American delegates have actively supported the British plan, which did not differ materially from their own, and have amended by providing for the publication of the arbitrators' judgment within three months of the award, and by introducing the principle of special mediation. Other modiple of special mediation. ifications suggested by them were rejected, and their principle of exempting private property from seizure in war time was too strong for the congress. The arbitration committee has adjourned for a week for the purpose of enabling the delegates to consult their governments. The labors of the congress will probably end on July 23.

A DEADLY MISSILE. The Sunday Sun learns that the government is manufacturing a new bullet, which is more deadly than the dum-dum. The projectile has a soft metal point, which expands with the friction caused by its flight. It is stated that 200,000,000 rounds of these bullets are already in stock. THE CONFESSIONAL. A parliamentary return in regard to the number of Church of Eng-

New York, July 10.-The Evening Post says: "This morning a statement was authorized that a general consolidation of the various air-power interests is in contemplation, and that the American Air Power Company, of this city, will practically absorb all the other concerns. The W. C. Whitney syndicate has just secured control of the American Air Power Company. Upon the report of President Vreeland, of the Metropolitan Railroad Company, in regard to the efficiency of the air power cars on the Twenty-third street line, which have been in operation during the last four months, it has been decided to equip immediately all the downtown crosstown lines with air as motive power, and also the belt lines, where it is impossible to install a conduit for an underground circuit. The Whitney syndicate, which controls the north and west side Chicago lines, is now having plans prepared and contracts drawn to equip the lines at present operated by cable in Chicago, with the Hoadley-Knight compressed air system. The American Air Power Company, it is said, have secured also International Power Company, of Providence, the right to use the latter's plant in the manufacture of au-

Ideal Conditions of Workers in Dayton, Ohio.

Is It a Presage of What Shall Be

[Rev. E. W. Work, D.D., in New

York Independent. The optimist who feels that his vocation is slipping away would do well to take a train to Dayton, Ohio, and visit the works of the National Cash Register Company, as a preventive of encroaching pessimism.

A great factory system organized upon principles of brotherhood, openly professing the golden rule as its doctrine, advocating the care and training of men's minds and spirits, while employing their hands, is so unique, so altogether captivating, that it would require not above half an hour's inspection most effectually to silence for the time being the loudest grumbler at modern industrial conditions. Quite the most unique thing about it all, too, s the naive confession by the company that they find business profit in what they are doing for their people. Enter the women's dining hall on the upper floor of the administration building, or the "rest room," or the bath rooms, or bicycle sheds, or the working rooms, kept as clean as your mother's kitchen, painted in colonial yellow to be easy for the eye everywhere the same frank placard greets you—"It Pays."

The company pays good wages and gives unusual attention to matters of sanitation, cleanliness, light, ventila-tion, heating and ornamentation. The health of the employes is made a first consideration. Several years ago the president found a young women heating coffee in a tomato can on a heater for the noon lunch. He promptly furnished a stove for heating lunches, and from this has grown the generous noon lunch provided to the young women, at a cost of one cent. dining room contains flowers, rugs, pictures, a piano, and a "rest room" adjoining with couches and medicines. The lunch is estimated to cost three cents, but the company figures that the increased efficiency of this department amounts to five cents per per-The young women are required son. to wear white aprons and cuffs, which are furnished and laundered at the company's expense. They go to work an hour later than the men in the morning, and leave ten minutes earlier in the evening. There is a ten-minute recess each morning and afternoon for recess each morning and afternoon for calisthenics or rest. They also have regular holidays. They receive ten hours' pay for eight hours' work. The chairs have high backs and foot rests. The young women in the binderies and at the machines look as neat as highschool girls. The object lesson in cleanliness is too plain to be mistaken. The work nine hours and a half with ten hours' pay. Weekly baths are granted to all, on the company's time. It is believed that pleasant surroundings are conducive to the economical production of good work, while they attract a much better class of work-

The young men in the offices have the air of college students, Courtesy is exacted of all. Suggestion boxes are found here and there, and the best suggestions receive generous prizes. The employes receive full information by bulletin boards of the work of the company. The Advance Club is composed of officers, heads of departments, members of various committees, and all foremen and their assistants. This club meets regularly to consider complaints and suggestions. The factory has no superintendent, but is managed by a factory committee of five experts in various lines of factory work. The system of prizes for suggestions calls forth the individuality and originality of each employe. Only high school graduates are employed for office departments, and manual training is a prerequisite. and manual training is a prerequisite for some departments. It has been announced that after the year 1915 no one will be employed who has not attended a kindergarten in childhood.

When visitors of note are expected the bulletin boards announce their names, to promote the personal interest of the employes. The attention paid to pleasant surroundings is not a mere matter of taste, but a matter of business policy; hence here and there a waving palm among whirring wheels and belts. The lawns and grounds were carefully planned by a landscape gardener. One of the streets near the factory has been pronounced in summer time the most beautiful street in the world. The section of the city in which the factory is located was formerly "Slidertown," disreputable and unsightly. Now it is "South Park," and is rightly named. The employes themselves have formed the South Park Improvement Association." For many squares about the factory the effect of the factory's attention to beauty is seen in the homes, in a window-box of flowers, a vineclad-porch, a well trimmed lawn, or a well-kept back yard. The company keeps a landscape gardener who instructs the people in the best methods of planting trees and training vines, and the company offers prizes, for example, for the best kept back yard. Realizing the difficulty of occupying boys and of teaching them usefulness, a boys garden has been furnished. Each boy has a plot of ground assigned him and is permitted to raise vegetables. Prizes are given for the best result.

This year athletic grounds have been added and a club house for the boys of the neighborhood. There are no strikes here and no lock-outs. Why, indeed, should there

A prominent German socialist, visiting the factory, said: "This is all I mean by socialism." Another said: "You make money and happiness at the the same time." All this costs the company a large sum, but, besides getting its own profits, the lives thousands are broadened and made more happy. When capital becomes generous to labor, labor becomes loyal to capital. The employer realizes that it is to his interest to make the employe as much of a man as possible, physically, intellectually, morally. This represents a distinct advance in factory life. The workman is not merely a "hand"; he is a "soul." Put more into his soul, give him more to think about, give him a better dwelling and better surroundings, open new vistas of life, and he will, out of his strengthened manhood, give you a better ser-

Pleasant Sunday Afternoons-this is the title given to the Sunday school. It has seven hundred members, and meets on the third floor of one of the factory buildings. A printed programme is used, with a Scripture lesson. First there is a drill of the boys' brigade, then a choir processional, then singing and responsive reading, and quotation of selected verses, Scriptural or otherwise, then a twenty-minute address and remarks by the deaconess. The subjects of study are practical life lessons, such as "Work," "Charit "Child-life," "Liberty." The basis the study is the Scriptures, but illustrative material from every source is welcome. Often the stereopticon used in the school to show scenes travel, the beauties of nature, best methods of home-making, of landscape gardening. There is nothing traditional, nothing hoary-headed about this factory-system, not even in the Sunday school. Walking amidst these new industrial conditions one feels as if he had already pushed through the door of the new century.

London, July 10 .- All the dispatches the morning papers concur as to the complexity and obscurity of the Boer proposals, and declare that the Uitlanders are profoundly disappointed. In Johannesburg it is believed that President Kruger is only dallying to gain time until the wet season makes campaigning difficult for the British. The Hon. W. P. Schriner, the Cape premier, has addressed a letter to an Afrikander paper published in Cape Town, declaring that there is no ground whatever for the active interference of the Imperial Government in the Transvaal, as the Boer concessions are satisfactory. This has aroused great indignation at the Cape, where it is regarded as mischievous, ill-timed and calculated to encourage President Kruger and to embarrass Sir Alfred Milner.

ABSURDLY INSUFFICIENT. According to the Johannesburg correspondent of the Daily Mail, the Uitanders regard the Transvaal Government's proposals as "absurdly insuffi-

VARYING VIEWS.

Hon. W. P. R. Schriner, prime minister of the Colony of Good Hope, says Cape Government regards the Transvaal's proposals as adequate, and calculated to insure a peaceful settlement. The colonial premier, however, represents the Afrikander element. Sir John Gordon Sprigg, former prime minister and colonial secretary, who is an ardent imperialist, considers them totally inadequate to meet the just claims of the Uitlanders, and altogether short of what Sir Alfred Milner, ernor of the colony, and British high commissioner, demanded of President Kruger at the Bloemfontein confer-

The Transvaal Government has deelded to prosecute on the charge of high treason three principal defendants whose complicity in the attempt to promote a rebellious rising in Johannesburg has been for several weeks under judicial investigation.

KRUGER'S MESSAGE. The Transvaal diplomatic agency has published the text of Kruger's message of July 1 to the raad. The first amendment to the franchise bill provides that persons who do not wish to become naturalized in the manner fixed by the present law can obtain the franchise by taking the oath after a seven years' notice of residence. The law is so far retroactive that persons who, before the law comes into force, shall have taken up their residence in the Transvaah may obtain the full franchise after the establishment of their domicile, or five years after the law comes into effect, provided they $4 021/2, and culls and rough lots, $2 to have been settled seven years in the republic. The volksraad approved the

ENTERTAINED BY THE QUEEN A number of the American, colonial and continental guests of the International Congress of Women, having ex pressed a desire to pay their respects to the Queen, Lady Aberdeen arranged a trip to Windsor Friday afternoon, EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., July S.—Cat-tle—There were only a couple of loads on sale, principally stockers: fair de-mand. made the presentations. Miss Susan B. Anthony, who, with Mrs. May Wright Sewall, the newly-elected president of the congress, enjoyed the privilege of presentation, said to the correspondent of the Associated

"I had never seen the Queen before, and could not but feel a thrill, when, looking into her wonderful face, I saw her, as her life is going out, welcoming the women's movement, which is the precursor of the twentieth century.

at Windsor Castle-The Irish Tun-nel Scheme. the Irish Tun-these ladies who are visiting me re-turn without giving them a cup of tea.' Sir Arthur Bigge, the Queen's private secretary, replied: 'But, your Majesty, they are in hundreds.' 'I do not care the Queen, 'if they are here in from Cape Town and Johannesburg to thousands. They must all have a cup of tea when they come to see me.' And we had it in the Queen's palace, as a recognition of the great womanhood of our country. Mrs. Sewall said: "The Queen looked ten years younger than when I saw her ten years ago. Every line in her face displayed serenity, sweetness and pleasure, She looked us full in the eyes, with a quick, keen glance. Her voice is melodious, and there is a total absence of certain lines of the mouth, shown in most photographs of her, indicating disdain. The whole bearing of her Majesty, was a symbol that she, who has governed the mightiest of empires for 62 years, has finally recognized intuitively that she crowns her work in recognizing the claims of her sex to equal rights with men. what womanly pride we joined in 'God Save the Queen.' The impression we all carried away was that the greatest woman of the century was of strong intellect, governing fine and womanly sentiment."

THE NEW TUNNEL SCHEME. Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, received a large delegation at the foreign office regarding the proposed tunnel under the Irish channel. The delegation included the Marquis of Londonderry, Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice. Lord Londonderry said the delegation simply asked the approval of the government and, when the tunnel was constructed, a government guarantee of 3 per cent on the outlay or a promise to make up the deficiency to that amount. He said it was estimated that the work would cost £10,000,000.

Mr. Balfour said that he quite recognized that such a tunnel would be of great international advantage, and yould draw Great Britain closer to Ireland, as well as to the States, and promised with pleasure to lay the matter before his colleagues, which was all the delegation suggested he should do.

TRADE RETUPNS. The board of trade returns for June show exports to have increased 10.5 per cent, excluding shipbuilding. The rise is mainly due to the American trade revival absorbing textiles and the advance in metal prices. Imports de-creased 1.7 per cent, chiefly because of the lower price for wheat.

AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION. The Legislative Council and the House of Assembly of Tasmania passed the federal enabling act, thus ratifying on the part of Tasmania the work of the Australian Federathat the German steamer Reichstag has sailed from Naples with 15,000 rifles, 500 tons of war material and 500 mules for the Transvaal. According to the same dispatch another steamer, with a similar cargo, will sail July 14 from Arenas.

THE QUEEN'S THOUGHTFUL ACT. One of those thoughtful acts on the part of her majesty which bind Queen and people, is just reported from Balmoral. Before leaving for the south her majesty had 150 of her servants introduced to her by Mr. Lawley, clerk of the kitchen, and gave them little tokens of her appreciation of their faithfulness in the performance of their duties. The upper servants were presented with umbrellas, jewel-cases, glove-boxes, etc., while the lower servants and the police received each a photogravure framed in oak of her majesty, taken in her 1887 jubilee dress. Superintendent Fraser was presented with a kettle and spirit stand, and Detective-Inspector Quinn, of Scotland

William E. Sanford Senator Drowned

While Boating Near His Own Island in Muskoka.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] Windermere, Ont., July 10.-While fishing near his own island this morning at 11 o'clock, Senator W. E. Sanford, in company with a young lady visitor, was upset. Two young girls near by heard their calls for help, and when they arrived they managed to save the young lady. Seeing the senator's body, which could easily be reached with an oar. they managed to get it to shore, but were unable to resuscitate him. They then crossed the bay to Mr. Baker's island for help. Mr. Baker immediately sent to Windermere for medical aid. Colton, of Toronto, left at once for the senator's place, but when he reached there it was too late to render

Hon. William E. Sanford was born in New York city in 1840. He was early left an orphan, and was brought up by his uncle, Edward Jackson, of Hamilton, whose daughter he afterwards married. For six years he was with a New York publishing firm, after which he engaged in the foundry business in this city. Upon the death of his wife he returned to Hamilton, and engaged in the wool business. In 1862 he entered into partnership with M. A. Mc-Inis, in the manufacture of clothing, which afterwards became the W. E. Sanford Manufacturing Company.

Senator Sanford had been president of the Hamilton board of trade, president of the Hamilton Ladies' College, vice-president of the Hamilton Provident Bank, vice-president of the Portage and Westbourne Railway, and Dominion senator and member of the board of regents of Victoria University. He was also widely known in connection with philanthropic work. was called to the Dominion Senate Feb. 8, 1887, on the Conservative side.

In 1866 he was again married to Sophia Vaux, daughter of Thomas Vaux, accountant of the House of Commons, Ottawa.

A "HOME" GIRL THE ASSASSIN

Her Confession Clears Up the Brandon Murder Mystery.

Winnipeg, Man., July 10 .- The story of the murder of Mrs. Lane at Brandon -A trolley car ran over and killed a is out. Hilda Clark, alias Blake, the valuable collie dog on Dundas street, servant girl, has confessed that she shot her mistress. She gave no reason for committing the deed, exceptthat she was very happy with children, and some devilish influence impelled her to do it.

She said that the bought the revolver to shoot hersell, and had thought of suicide for five years. She was raised a poor-house in England and brought out here by a charitable society. The girl came all the way to Winnipeg to buy the revolver a few days ago. The Galician who was arrested on suspicion narrowly escaped lynching. He was roughly used by the crowd, and only saved by a few cool heads. It was the girl Clark who was the only witness of the murder, who told the story that a tramp had shot her mistress when the latter refused to give him food. When all the tramps arrested had been able to prove their innocence suspicion fell on the girl, who, after some cross-examination,

She said she bought a revolver in Winnipeg for the purpose of killing

"On Wednesday I don't know what came over me, but I was seized with an insane fit of jealousy. I went upstairs, got the revolver, and when I come down I went into the kitchen. Then I went to Mrs. Lane and kissed her. She wondered what was the matter with me. Then I pulled the revolver from my pocket and fired at her head. She started to run, and I put the revolver close to her back fired again. She ran outside and fell in the hall. I hid the revolver in the kitchen, and that night about 11 o'clock I put it under the barrel, where I afterwards showed the detective where was.'

The Clark girl has a peculiar history, but a good reputation. She has resided with the Lanes for more than a year, and was liked by all the neigh-She was passionately fond of the Lane children, and the kindness which she treated them went very far towards increasing the favor in which she was held.

Busiest Day of a Week Full of Business.

Closing Sessions of the Great Gathering at Detroit-An Advocate of Advertising.

Detroit, July 10.—The closing day of the International Christian Endeavor Convention was the busiest day of a busy week. The tendencies of the '99 gathering along educational and other practical lines have caused this convention to be called the "educational convention." Its general trend is conceded to have been to broaden and to inspire the young people rather than to have led them toward narrow forms of spirituality and intolerant religious views.

The last "quiet hour" early morning service was largely attended. "Missions" was the topic in both the great tents at the morning meetings; "Foreign Missions" in Tent Endeavor; "Home Missions" in Tent Williston. In the former meeting the foreign missionaries present were introduced to the audience by "Father Endeavorer Clark." The first address was by Rev. Dr. A. McLean, of Cincinnati. His topic was "The Great Need of Missions," One of the principal addresses in Tent Williston was by the Rev. C. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., entitled "Our Country's Greatest Peril." He said: "It would seem that democracy has given place to rumocracy. The American people have abdicated the throne of government to the saloon. Red-handed anarchy spits upon our laws, insults our flag, robs our houses, curses our motherhood and damns our children, while we are pouring out the nation's treasure and offering our sons to the god of war to shoot the declaration of independence into the hearts of the insurgents at Manila. The moral condition of our great cities is a blot on our civilization. The saloon runs the caucus, names the candidate, robs He the public, and spits upon the law. The saloon is the nation's greatest foe."

THE SUNDAY GATHERING. Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," walked more than three miles to preach from the text 'One is our Master; all we are brethren," to a congregation which entirely exceeded the capacity of Bethany Presbyterian Church. Mr. Sheldon spoke optimistically of the signs of the times, especially the awakening of the social conscience, better relationship between employers and employed, federation of the churches, movement toward civil righteousness, and an awakening to the stewardship feature of the Christian's life, as to his money, time and talents. The features of the afternoon were crowded meetings for men and for women exclusively.

Mrs. F. E. Clark, wife of President Clark, presided over the two men's meetings, which filled the Woodward Avenue Baptist Church.

Hon. John Charlton, M.P., spoke on "What the Sabbath May Do for Us." The speaker's idea was that Sabbath observance had a far more potent influence in character building and world development than had commonly been conceded in later years.

At night an additional touch of solemnity was imparted to the meetings of the Christian Endeavorers. The generalities of religion were in some measure neglected, and the evening worship in 31 Protestant churches in Detroit and Windsor took the form of 'consecration services.'

BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING. "The Sunday Evening Service" formed the subject for an address by Rev. O. H. Breeden, D.D., of Des Moines, Ia., on Saturday. It was listened to with interest, especially by the clergy-men present. He said:

The presence of the people, how shall we secure it? There are two methods: first, by personal pastoral work. No magnet has ever yet been discovered with drawing powers equal to those possessed by a real, consecrated pastor, who, as Dr. Abbot observes, is both born and made: created to be a personal friend, and trained by school of experience in the art of personal friendship."

The second method of securing the presence of the people is by advertising. It pays to advertise in the world's business. And in the Father's business it pays to advertise-the business, not the preacher; the services, not the servant. The minister who persistently plasters his own face on every envelope and letterhead and card and bill board and dodger will expose himself, and justly to the criticism and ridicule of thoughtful people, and be characterized as a charlatan in Christianity, a mountebank in the ministry. The public have a righteous protest of putting the Gospel of the Lord Jesus on a basis with Douglass' shoes or Lydia E. Pinkham's patent medicine. But to advertise the service is dif-ferent. Let the man be kept in the background, while Christ and church are pushed to the front in the newspapers-by cards and bills and bulletins. The world will never tire of seeing the face of the Master.

SEAL SLAUGHTER

Special Agent Says the Destruction Is Still Going On.

Seatte, Wasn., Juy 10.—E. W. Clarke, who is a special agent of the government in charge of the seal islands in Bering Sea, arrived yesterday. He left the island June 14. He said: "The provisions of the Paris tribunal are totally inadequate. I am confident that seal life is not one-tenth as great as in former years. The destruction of the herd is still progressing under pelagic sealing. About three out of every five killed are recovered, the other two sinking. Fully three female seals are killed to two males."

Mr. Clarke reports that there were no pelagic sealers around the sealers when he left, but was told that the fleet had gathered and was following the seal herd on its return from south waters. He also reported a big salmon catch along the Aleutian Islands.

TO SAIL IN

Boats That Can Plow Through Ice 12 Feet Thick.

Two of Russia's ice-breaking steamers will demonstrate this summer whether they are able to cope with the heavy ice of the Arctic Ocean. They accompany the Russian section of the Swedish-Russian geodetic expedition, which will measure a degree of lati-tude in Spitzbergen. The Russian part of the expedition left St. Petersburg on May 21, and the ice-breakers were meet the party at Tromso, Norway, proceed with it to the west coast of Spitzbergen, and facilitate landing in the harbor already selected. The more powerful of these vessels is the Yermak, and Vice-Admiral Makarov. its inventor, is in command. It is expected that his vessel will render all the service required in Spitzbergen in a week or ten days. He will then take the Yermak far east into the Kara north of Asia, where he is structed to open a route through the ice to the Ob and Yeniesi Rivers, and keep it open for the steamers that engage this summer in the trade between Siberia and Europe, initiated by new waterway.

Capt. Wiggin some years ago on this Experience has shown that one round trip between the Yenisei ports and the Atlantic coast may usually be made by vessels in this trade, though there is always the possibility that they may be nipped in the Kara Sea and compelled to winter there. Vice-Admiral Makarov asserts that he can keep the passage open, so that each vessel may, with certainty, make two round trips in the summer season. If the results fulfill his expectations the commercial importance of this new route between Europe and Asia will be established.

The Yermak has already proven its great efficiency as an ice-breaker, for in March last it forced its way through Baltic ice floes nine feet thick at the rate of two and a half knots an hour, and made seven knots an hour through ice from three to five feet in thickness. It is expected next winter to keep these Baltic ports, including St. Petersburg, that are now closed by ice for four or five months a year open throughout the ice season. This will be an enormous advantage to all the regions depending upon Baltic trade routes, for it will permit continuous commercial movement and give steady employment to many thousands of men.

It is well known that Vice-Admiral Makarov believes he can break his way through the ice to the north pole and he has said he will make the at-tempt. The greatest thickness of field ice reported by Dr. Nansen in the Arctic Ocean was twelve feet. It has already been demonstrated that ice of this thickness may be demolished by these mighty machines, which ride up on the ice and break it down by their weight. It is too early to pronounce Makarov's scheme chimerical, but the world will be much more interested in the value of the invention to commerce. The ice-breaker is a proven success, is already a permanent commercial advantage at the lake ports of Canada, and bids fair greatly to facili-tate Baltic trade, and to develop commerce along the northwest and east coasts of Siberia.

THE HOBO AND THE COW.

[From the Topeka Daily Capital.] "It was way back in the seventies," said an old engineer. "I was pulling 'the limited' east from Council Bluffs to Chicago over the Rock Island. The night was bitterly cold. We had gone about twenty miles out and had stopped at a night office for orders and had ARCTIC SEAS ped at a fight office for orders and had started up again, when the fireman reached over and said: "There is a hobo on the pilot; saw him get on at the depot.' 'Sure?" said I. 'Go out on the running board and see if he's there l vet.' The fireman did as he was ordered to do, and returned with the information that the hobo was still there.

'Well, said I 'it's a bitter cold I am willing he should ride with tme And on we went toward Chicago, with old '211' barking like sixty at the low joints ahead and forgetful of our thead-

As we approached it the bunch seemed to grow larger. It was now too late to do anything, so I just pulled her wide open and old 211 hit that bunch of cattle 'ka-bif.' To paraphrase the language of Tennyson, who glides into raptures of admiration over the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, there was just simply cattle to the right of us, cattle to the left of us, and cattle to the rear of us, but none any more in front of us. After it was over our thought reverted to the hobo on the pilot. 'Go see if he is still there,' I said." 'Go out and "Well," said an old brakeman, under whose feet the frosts of many winters had crackled as he wended his way in the dark over many a long train of box cars and who had been listening to the story. "Well," said he, "was he killed?" "No," replied the engineers. "There he sat, as large as any hobo could sit. on the pilot with an oyster can milking

At this time the few that are born with two or more tails are put by themselves, and then a queer-looking old Jap, with a great magnifying glass fastened in front of his eye and wee sharp tools handy, reaches down under the water and cuts the tails off the plain little fish. and then three or four of these tails are joined on to the backbone where the one was cut off and fastened there with tiny bandages until they grow

JESSAMINE.

The simple, sad sincerity of his appeal sounded like pitiless will in the ears of the distracted girl, but she could not gainsay his reasoning. The decision was, then, thrown upon her! Hers was the power to cast a ray of light upon the eventime of the life which had been to her a constant benefaction, or to cloud it with disappoint-

He had ordered Mr. Kirke's horse to be sharnessed to his buggy before he sought Jessie, and Eunice heard him drive off in the direction of the village by the time she returned to her post.

The sisters awaited him and the clergyman where they had sat all day, the one at the right hand, the other at the left hand, of their father. Eunice ventured to suggest to her companion the expediency of making some change in her dress before the ceremony.

Mr. Kirke lapsed into slumber or stupor, and the room was silent again, save for his irregular breathing, showing that his semi-insensibility varied in character from that of the day. Once Jessie got up with the remark that it was time to renew the mustard poultices that stimulated the curdling veins into action, and the pair did the office deftly and mutely. Eunice saw her sister, as she reseated herself, lay her cheek to the almost pulseless hand that rested on the coverlet, and close her eyes, while her lips were stirred by an inaudible sentence. The observer was thankful for this token of a more subdued and natural frame of mind than the suffering girl had yet exhibit-ed. It was meet that she should seek the blessing of heaven upon the union she was about to form, and that thoughts of prayer should be linked with loving ones of her earthly parent. And Eunice, too, prayed in her gentle, plous heart for the happiness of the child she had reared as her own, and for that of the true, fond brother whose arrival in this dark hour was like a direct answer from on high to the petitions she had offered, during their long days of watching and anxiety. With Roy to console and care for Jessie, the smitten household would be rich even in temporal comfort.

Was Jessie praying? She had proudly flung the charge of perjury at another, saying, "Of this sin, at least, I am innocent." What was the act to which she had given her consent-which the next hour would render irrevocable? It was when this question was forced upon her by some taunting demon that she kissed the lifeless hand, and whispered the formula she had said aloud that morning at the open window, and repeated inly hundreds of times since.

"My father is dying."
Since she could not lie down and die in his stead, she would sacrifice the poor hopes of peace that were spared to her from the wreck of her early dreams, to purchase for him what gratification she could still give him. Eunice might well eye her apprehensively all that day and evening. Many with steadier brain and cooler blood than were hers have been consigned to insane asylums. The wind was so loud, the roar of the pine outside the window so continuous, as to drown the sound of returning hoofs and wheels. They were ignorant of Roy's second arrival until he knocked at the chamber door. Eunice said "Come in." and he whispered a few words to her before he approached

'Are you quite ready?" he asked, softly.

She bowed her head in assent. He disappeared for a moment, then came back with Dr. Baxter, Drs. Winters and Trimble. The physicians, with difficulty, aroused their patient so far as to swallow the stimulant they administered. Interesting Episode of the Great Convention in Detroit.

Abhorrence of War Expressed in the Endeavor Peace Memorial to Congress-The Belle Isle Meeting.

Detroit, July 9.—Nature shed the warmest benediction on the Christian Endeavorers who assembled at Belle Isle yesterday afternoon for the purpose of expressing their sentiment of peace and good will toward all nations of the earth. After a day of drizzling rain and chilly winds the sun broke through a rift in the clouds and, as if in sympathy with the plans of the Christian workers, drove away the dull, gloomy coloring overhead and flecked the azure dome with fleecy clouds.

For an hour or more the sights were taken taken in and then as the wanderers heard the strains of music floating through the branches of the trees, coming from the direction of one of the three stands erected in the grove, they strolled thither to listen to the programme of the afternoon.

It was nearly 4 o'clock when Prof.

A. J. Shook, of the choir of the Central Methodist Church, stepped to the front of the platform. It had been prettily decorated and over its center were draped the folds of Old Glory and the Union Jack. Prof. Shook's voice at once arrested the attention of his large audience. He sang Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republie," and the great audience made the woods ring as it joined in on the chorus.

"IN DIXIE." As Prof. Shook retired from the platform a little knot of Southerners at the right side of the stand struck up the inspiring strains of "Dixie Land." They only sang a dozen lines, however, before the audience stopped them with cheers, and they were escorted to the platform, where they sange the song as only Southern women can sing it. The party was composed of Miss Adelaide Scriber, of North Carolina, Miss Mamie Jamieson, Miss Roberta Ware and Miss Julia Scholl, of Macon, Ga., and Dr. Arthur J. Smith, of Savannah. As they reached the last verse, Dr. Smith pulled from his pocket a large number of cards and threw them out over the audience, and while the south-ereners waved their handkerchiefs the audience joined in on the last chorus.

I wish I was in Dixie, Hooray! Hooray! In Dixie's land I'll take my stand,

To lib and die in Dixie.

Away, away, away down south in Dixie; Away, away, away down south in Dixie!

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bryant, editor of the Michigan Presbyterian. He asked the Almighty to bless the proceedings of the afternoon and so incline the hearts of men that they might live more within their teachings. He begged that the blessings of God might rest upon the heart of the czar, who had proposed the peace conference.

THE AUTHOR OF "IN HIS STEPS." President Francis E. Clark, then glassy stare of dissolution-and tried stepped to the front of the platform and took charge of the meeting. In a few fitting words he introduced Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, to read the grand peace memorial to be signed by the hordes of Christian Endeavor workers and then forwarded to the Congress of the United States.

"I will introduce Rev. Charles M Sheldon, the famous author of "In His Steps," said Dr. Clark, "to read to you the peace memorial which has been prepared to send to the senate and house of representatives of this nation. It is with the greatest pleasure that I am able to announce to you that I have received a cablegram from our peace commissioner at The Hague indorsing our action in preparing this memorial, and telling how heartily they join with us in its work. The cablegram was sent by Ambassador Andrew D. White. I also have words of cheer from Wm. D. Stead, who has grown old in waging war against war." When the reading had concluded, amid applause, President Clark said: 'We all believe that this memorial is in the line with what Christ would have us do. We will all do what we can to bring about the glad day. I hope all of you, your friends and your friends' friends will sign this to show how all the peoples of the land feel." Then began the address of the day.

BRITAIN'S RESPONSE.

Rev. James Marshall, D.D., the not-ed English divine, responded in behalf Great Britain in a manner that thoroughly demonstrated his great ability as a pulpit orator. His views were very forcible, clear-cut and eloquent. He spoke in part as follows: "I consider it a very high privilege to be allowed to speak before so great an assemblage bent on the consideration of so important an issue. I am greatly rejoiced that the Christian Endeavorers of this continent have drawn up and presented so beautiful a memorial. As an Englishman. as a man, as a Christian, I say 'Amen' with all my soul. In Europe the necessity of peace is pressing on the lives of the people more heavily than in this country. We of England live too near the continent to detach ourselves from its movements and feelings. Europe is today an armed camp. For a year it has awaited for a voice to speak. For years Europe has been afraid that the voice would say 'war!'
To our great delight it said the magic word 'peace!'

A MIGHTY PROBLEM. "In this conference at The Hague a mighty problem is being considered. Even if all of the aims of the czar are not achieved, much good will be done. It is almost certain that international arbitration will be an accomplished fact. While we shall in time expect to get disarmament, we believe that the present conference has taken a long step in the right direction. A few years ago there was a great question between America and England. It was over the Venezuelan matter. At that time all of the newspapers in the country were talking of war. one certain Sunday, when everything looked dark, there came a voice. That voice said 'peace!' Mainly because of the influence of the Christian people of the land the war cloud was lifted and the shame of the vision of a confliot between America and England passed away forever. (Great ap-

PEACE MAY COST DEARLY. "But peace, sweet and sacred as it is, may be bought at too large a price. Then the sweetness vanishes. We of England followed carefully the prog-ress of the Spanish-American war. We prayed for righteousness to prevail, and when the tyranny of Spain was wiped off the western hemisphere, and liberty, that great goddess of beauty and right settled down upon the stricken islands of the sea, we thought that righteousness had conquered. Tyranny has no place on our doorstep. We know that the victory has been given of God. We hope that the past has been buried forever and that America will prove the period will be the configuration. erica will spread her beneficent insti-tutions over the islands of the sea. God speed you in your great task.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP. "The Christian Endeavorers of every land are for peace. When I came to this platform I was glad to see the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes draped side by side. The cause of peace is most likely to be achieved by the two nations so largely concerned. America and Great Britain.

"We in England feel that the bond which binds America and Britain together is a great deal closer than that which binds any other two nations together. (Loud and continued applause.) I am glad by the heartiness of the applause with which you greet that sentiment, to believe that there are in this land thousands and thousands of Christian men and women who feel the same, who believe that blood is thicker than water, and who though they still make reference to the glories and the shames-glorious for you, shames for us, of the war more than one hundred years ago, still have forgotten, at all events, so far as any bitter feeling is concerned, our wrong and are prepared to go with us into the very van of the advanced of nations and by God's help stand shoulder to shoulder, with heart beating true to heart, to say that while America and Britain are strong and blessed by God with an influence among the counsels of the earth, peace, so far as they are concerned, shall be maintained by every just and righteous means." (Storm of applause.) AUSTRALIA'S ANSWER.

"When I was in Australia," said President Clark, in introducing Rev. Joseph Walker, of Ipswich, Queens-land, "I was taken to its only battlefield. I expected to see a battlefield where men had given up their lives in mortal strife, but I found it simply a place where there had at one time been a riot between some miners and the authorities. Think of it! Their only battlefield is a ground on which some miners once had a row. They have a monument to mark the spot. It is to the glory of Australia that her shores have never been bathed in the blood of her people. I introduce the Rev. Joseph Walker as the representative of that far-off land of her Majesty the Queen."

"I am glad to speak to my fellow Endeavorers for Australia," said Mr. Walker. "I have a passionate love for America. Since boyhood I have longed to see your great country. In England, in Manchester, in 1874. I heard your great man, Henry Ward Beecher, deliver an address, and later I helped to distribute food which had been brought from American shores to the starving workmen of the cotton fac-tories. We all love our country. What Britain wants and what Australia, America and we all want, is men to live for country; men to live for peace; men to live for the glory of God and for the coming of his kingdom. I see you have the two emblems of the greatest powers on earth intertwined. If the two banners always intertwine, and the two nations always live in peace, nothing can disturb the peace of the world. May God bless them and hasten the time when our hopes are realized."

CANADA AND AMERICA. One of the most striking addresses yesterday on Belle Isle was that of

Rev. Dr. W. F. Wilson, of Hamilton, Ont., who followed Rev. Joseph Walker, of Australia, who said: "We have heard a good deal of England and a good deal of Australia, and a good deal about this republic. We have not meard much about old Ireland yet, and that is my country. (Laughter.) The fact is, I am an Irishman, improved by being born in Canada. We have some great things in Canada. The north pole is there, when it is found. We have the Klondike, a great many Americans there—more Americans than Canadians. The senior senator of this great state was born there, Senator McMillan and the honored found-er of our society is a Canadian by birth. We want to claim good things when we have an opportunity. I am an optimist, I believe the world is growing better. I believe the nations are coming together, and no two peoples have made such advances during the past decade as have the two great Anglo-Saxon peoples represented on this platform this hour.

HAPPY WEDDING. "Now, I want to tell you a secret, I am an Epworth Leaguer of Christian Endeavor. (Applause.) I was located to the city of Peterboro a few years ago, when I pronounced a marriage of the Epworth League and Christian Endeavor, and like all the things that I do, and all the persons whom I marry, they have gotten along splendidly in Canada from that hour to this. (Applause.) And I hope, Dr. Clark, that the spinit may broaden and deepen until every young people's or-ganization on American soil has federated with the Christian Endeavor

Society. (Great applause.) TWO NOTABLE NAVAL VICTOR-IES.

"In the sixteenth century, the Span-ish Armada was destroyed in English waters. In 1898, the first day of May, your noble admiral finished the job. Applause.) We heard that gun in Manila Bay. It thrilled through our hearts as it thrills through yours. And, when we heard of that marvelous victory, I believe of Almighty God, without the loss of a single life, under the Stars and Stripes, we said, 'All hail, all hail! May these guns echo, and the brave boys in blue fight until the superstition of centuries is swept from the isles of the sea. (Applause.) "I want to say that in Canada, as citizens in Canada, as Christians in

Flew Into the Bedroom of a Boy and Killed Him.

Philadelphia, July 10. - The first death in this city due to the kissing bug occurred in the Mary J. Drexel Home, the victim being Wm. Martin, 6 years old. The boy was sleeping in his bed at his home Monday night, the windows in the room being wide open. When called in the morning the child's face was much swolle. There was a purple spot the size of a pinhead just over the lip, surrounded by inflammation. The physicians pro-nounced it a case of poisoning, caused by the kissing bug. Despite heroic efforts blood poisoning gained too much headway to be checked.

STICKS TO GOLD

Blue Book Says India Will Not Go Back to Silver.

London, July 10.-The report of the parliamentary committee on Indian currency, just issued, in the form of a blue book, approves the decision of the government not to revert to a silver standard. It argues that it would be impossible to maintain the status quo permanently, and, therefore, recom-mends that measures be taken to introduce a gold standard, with the British sovereign as legal tender, and advises that the Indian mints be allowed to coin gold without restrictions, on the same terms as the Australian mints. Finally, by a majority of votes, the committee recommends fixing the rupee rate at 16 pence. The report says in conclusion: "The effective establishment of a gold standard is of paramount importance to the material interests of India, not only to promote existing trade, but to en-courage the influx of capital."

Result of the Street Car Cenference in New York-Concessions Made by the Company.

New York, July 10.-The executive board of the Knights of Labor met in this city yesterday for the purpose of considering the labor situation among the surface railroad employes of New York and Brooklyn. The conference York and Brooklyn. The conference was attended by John M. Parsons, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, and chairman of the executive board; John W. Master Workman Pines, who had charge of the interests of the employes of the Brooklyn rapid transit system, attended the conference and explained in detail the demands made the men and the concessions granted by President Rossiter. Mr. Pines informed the board that the men were fully satisfied with the agreement made by Mr. Rossiter, and thereupon the board indorsed the action taken by Mr. Pines and his colleagues, and declared the matter closed. Then the situation in New York as applied to the demands made by the employes of the Metropolitan Street Railroad Company, was taken up. After a somewhat protracted deliberation it was decided by the board to await the report of the committee of employes. John H. Parsons said last night: "I
