Li Hung Chang Goes to Pekin

The Artful Dodger Confers With M. De Giers.

Making Preparations for Wintering in China-More "Proposals" and "Notes."

Pekin, Oct. 1, via Tien Tsin, Oct. 4, 4.—At a meeting of American citizens via Shanghai, Oct. 4.—A small body of at Tien Tsin the following resolution imperial Chinese troops appeared at was adopted: "We, citizens of the imperial Chinese troops appeared at was adopted: "We, citizens of the Pei Ta Chu yesterday. They informed United States, deplore the contemplated Pei Ta Chu yesterday. They informed withdrawal of a large part of the the British garrison that their purpose United States troops in North China. was to disperse the Boxers. They were not molested by the British.

It is announced that the Germans will winter 8,000 men in Pekin. The British are reducing their force in preparation for the winter. One thousand coolles will start for India soon, and the Indian cavalry will probably be withdrawn. The volume of business being done is steadily increasing. LI GOES TO PEKIN. Tien Tsin, via Shanghai, Oct. 4.-Li Hung Chang and M. De Giers, the Russian minister to China, had a lengthy conference today, after which it was announced that Li Hung Chang would depart for Pekin tomorrow. Peaceful conditions prevail. The failure of the Russians to rebuild the railway to Pekin is causing talk among the commanders of the restoration of the line to English owners for re-construction and operation. The sick among the Americans are being sent to the hospital ship Maine, which will sail soon for Nagasaki and

MORE PROPOSALS. Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.-Propositions of a far-reaching character concerning China are being presented in rapid succession to this government. The state department had no sooner disposed of one of these propositions today by delivering a response to the German Government than it was confronted by an even more important proposition submitted by the French Government, and within half an hour formally seconded by the Russian Government. The answer to Germany covered the subject of punishing Chinese offenders, and made known that the United States had instructed Minister Conger along the lines suggested by Germany. Those instructions look towards securing the names of persons deserving punishment, also whether the punishments accord with the gravity of the crimes committed, and finally, in what manner the United States and the other powers are to be assured that satisfactory punishment, is inflicted. The Franco-Russian proposal takes a much broader scope, and submits a programme under which the negotiations for a complete settlement can be carried forward. The French charge, M. Thiebaut, handed the proposition to Secretary Hay today, and held a brief conference concerning it. Half an hour later M. De Woollant, the Russian charge, arrived at the state department and handed to Mr. Hay a note expressing Russian approval the propositions just submitted by France. Mr. Hay gave no formal answer to the two communications, as they will go first to the president at

Canton. THE FRANCO-RUSSIAN SCHEME. The Franco-Russian proposition is under four heads: First, punishment of the guilty parties; second, interdiction of the shipment of arms into China; third, permanent indemnity to the powers, and, fourth, sufficient guarantees for the future. In addition, a suggestion is made for the establishment of a permanent legation guard at Pekin, for the razing of the Taku forts, and for the maintenance of a line of communication between Pekin and

The difficulty which is likely to arise lies in the placing of proper limitations upon the scope of each head,

THE LONDON PRESS. London, Oct. 5, 4 a.m.-The London morning papers are virtually engrossed by the parliamentary general election. They have little to say about the new German note. The Daily News, which describes it as "clear, straightforward and manly," expressed a hope that all the European powers and also the United States will agree with Emperor William's latest proposal. British correspondents in China continue to complain of the "weak atti-tude" displayed by Great Britain and the United States as well as the other powers in withdrawing from Pekin and in displaying a yielding mood. Lord Salisbury, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Morning Post, has replied to Germany's last note in terms of approval. Emperor William's latest proposition is regarded at the foreign office here and in other diplomatic circles as going further to pave the way, both to an agreement of the powers and to the success of the negotiations with China than anything which has yet occurred.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 1, via Shanghai, Oct.

Chinese Imperial Troops Sent to Disperse Boxers-Allies

We feel that the work of the allied armies is far from accomplished, and that the refusal of the American government to take its part therein is sure to be regarded as an unworthy act by the allies and as a sign of indifference by the Chinese. We urge our government to carry to an end the work it has so honorably and efficient force here to secure the protection of American mercantile and missionary interests until a settlement of the present trouble is accomplished." ORDERS COUNTERMANDED. Tien Tain, Oct. 3 .- The orders given two months, thus securing facilities for sesson of the railroad between Tien Tsin and Pekin, and the Russisans have agreed to let them have it. The Germans will shortly begin to repair the road between Yang Tsun and Pe-

GRAND TRUNK SUES MONTREAL. Montreal, Oct. 5 .- The Grand Trunk Railway has entered suit against the city for $15,517 31, for interest, which the company claims is due it on the land at Bonaventure Station, which the city expropriated for the widening of St. James street. The city's contention is that the recent judgment of the court of review, increasing the amount of the award made the pany, relieves the city of the obligation of paying interest on the amount olaimed previous to the final judgment. The interest is on the amount of $43,000, awarded the city by the court of review.

Canton, O., Oct. 6.-The home of President McKinley was closely guarded Wednesday night, the secret officers on duty being augmented by men from the local police force. METHODISTS MISSION BOARD Meets in Kingston-Receipts Ahead of All Former Years-Appeal Court Rulings.

Kingston, Oct. 5 .- The general mis-Sion board of the Methodist Church is in session here. The work has only begun. The receipts for the year 1899-1900 were ahead of any previous year, but were $4,750 less than the expenditure. The receipts were over $275,000. The reports showed generally the mission work was progressing in all its departments. Dr. Sutherland spoke of the safety of the missions in China, and said the man most needed in the Orient at the present time was the missionary. China, he declared, could not save itself.

The Methodist court of appeal sitting here, deferred decision in one case against the action of the Toronto Conference; sustained two appeals against Manitoba and Northwest Conference and Bay of Quinte conference for giving certificates of standing irregularly, and dismissed an appeal against the ruling of Mr. Hannon in London Con-

The Railways.

The traffic returns of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the week ended Sept. 30, 1900, amounted to $793,000, as compared with $852,000 for the corresponding week of last year.

Following are the official returns of treffic on the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ended Sept. 30, 1900, as compared with the corresponding per-1od last year: 1900, $629,128; 1899, $679,-712; decrease, $50,584. In this return the Chicago and Grand Trunk earnings are omitted.

At Toronto, on Thursday, the Canadian General Electric Company obtained, by consent, a perpetual injunction prohibiting the Toronto Street Railway Company from using an infringement of the electric company's "series parallel controllers." The railway will be allowed to retain in use controllers already installed.

The work of grading the road for the extension of the G. T. R. to Meaford harbor has commenced. This exten-sion when completed will make close connection at Meaford with boats of the upper lake trade and also with the new elevator now being completed by the Messrs. Botsford, Jenks Company, of Port Huron.

Suffered From Kidney Disease For Ten Years.

HE FOUND A CURE AT LAST IN DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. P. M. Burk, who is a well known resident of Glen Miller, Hastings county, Ont., was afflicted with kidney trouble for ten years. So pleased is he at having found in Doan's Kidney Pills a cure for his allments, which he had begun to think were incurable, that he wrote the following statement of his case so that others similarly afflicted may profit by his experience: "I have been afflicted with kidney trouble for about ten years and have tried several remedies, but never received any real benefit until I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills. My back used to constantly ache and my urine was high colored and milky looking at times. Since I have finished the third box of Doan's Kid-ney Pills I am happy to state that I am not bothered with backache at all and my urine is clear as crystal. I feel confident that these pills are the best kidney specific in the country." Always ask for Doan's and refuse substitutes or imitations. The Doan Kidney Pill Company, Toronto, Ont.

he Woman's Christian Association Quietly Extending the Accommodation of Its Various Charities-Annual Reports-Officers Elected.

The year just closed by the Women's Christian Association, which is the 26th in its history, was not marked by any special incident, and did not differ much in its general work from those preceding it, but it was nevertheless marked by a good deal of activity and energy of purpose in the matter of extending the association's borders. Such was the statement made at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon by the secretary, Mrs. Pattullo. It was stat-ed also that the addition to the Home for Incurables was now an accomplish-ed fact. The Infants' Home had also been enlarged; improvements were conthe visiting relief committee had car-ried on a systematic wor; and the association's officers were very grateful to all who had assisted in any of the departments. In the month of January of the current year a small Sunday School was organized in the house of Mrs. Higby, on Pall Mall street. Immediately thereafter Mr. Hambly was kind enough to give us the use of his cottage rent free for four months, allowing us to take out the partitions and make it to suit ourselves; then afterwards renting it to us for the small sum of two dollars a month. But it was soon found, owing to the increasing attend-ance at the school and prayer meetings, that the cottage was altogether too small. The night pool selling record on the Transylvania was broken, nearly $100,000 going into the box. In the first heat Boralma and Bay Star collided at 125 yards from the wire. Both went down, and John Kinney, Bay Star's driver, received a wrenched knee. The field finished, York Boy winning at the conclusion of the heat. The judges announced that both Boralma and Bay Star could remain, as they had not finished the race, owing to the accident, which was, in their opinion, unavoidable. Bay Star was placed eighth and Boralma ninth in the heat. In the second heat Boralma was the outside horse, but took the pole before the first quar-ter had been reached. He kept his position to the finish. In the stretch York Boy gave the Boston horse a hard drive Boralma won the third heat easily. Before the start of the fourth

There will be several changes in London's line-up when the fifteen meets Sarnia in the Tunnel Town on Saturday. Some new men will be given a trial on the wing line, and some of the old-timers will get back into the game. In that event Mc-Mahen is the most promising candidate for his place at quarter, and will likely play the position. Frank Hobbs was down at last night's practice, and

The bountiful apple crop of this district is going a-begging for buyers, and is wasting on every hand; but the worst feature of it is that loads are rotting under the trees, and will surely produce hosts of insects to infest next year's crop. Better let the animals in to devour them. The fruit packing of Ontario urgently needs reforming. Common sense, and much more, honesty, is required. Consumers must not be cheated with refuse in the center and a good row or two at the top and bottom. Peach and plum packers in some instances have been using the same dishonest tactics this season. Choice fruit has been put on the top and inferior below.

FLORENCE.

Florence, Oct. 5 .- The annual harvest thanksgiving services of St. Mathew's Church, Florence, and St. John's Church, Aughrim, were held on Sunday last. Both churches were tastily decorated with grains, fruits, flowers, etc., and were well filled with earnest worshipers. The singing was good, and the services hearty throughout. The Rev. G. M. Freeman, of Thamesville, preached interesting and practical sermons, appropriate for the occasion. The thank offerings were liberal, amounting to $70 in Florence and $43 in Aughrim.

Rev. Canon Dann delivered two popular lectures on "Ireland and the Irish" and "St. Patrick," on Monday and Tuesday evenings respectively in John's Church, Aughrim, and St. Mathew's Church, Florence. tures were highly appreciated.

Mr. Issac Harnett's Patal Fall Prom Scaffold.

Advertiser Agent, J. D. Meekison. Strathroy, Oct. 5 .- Mr. Isaac Harnett, of this town, received injuries by falling from a scaffold on Tuesday of last week, which resulted in his death the following Saturday. Deceased was working at Mr. E. Zavitz's, 13th concession of Lobo, when the pole of a scaffold on which he was standing broke, throwing him a distance of about 18 feet. He was quite conscious when picked up, and was soon afterwards driven home. At first it was not considered that his injuries were serious, but it turned out otherwise, and on Saturday he died. The funeral took place on Monday to the Strathroy cemetery. The death took place at Norman, Oklahoma, on Saturday last of Sarah Catharine Herrington, relict of the late Truman Herrington. The sad event occured at the residence of her son Charles, whom she had been visiting for the past year. Deceased was a daughter of the late Josiah Woodhull. The funeral took place from the family residence, lot 6, con. 5, N.E.R., Adelaide, on Friday.

Kansas City, Kans., Aug. 28, 1900. I take pleasure in stating that I have used Warner's Safe Cure extensively for the last ten years in my practice. Among the many remedies employed, I have found nothing that has given such gratifying results in all cases of KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE.

In severe cases, in almost every instance, I have had to resort to Warner's Safe Oure before effecting a permanent cure. I am happy to say that it is reliable, not only as a kidney and bladder regulator, but it acts as a general tonic as well, the most delicate stomach being able to tolerate it.

In many cases of FEMALE TROUBLE I have used it with marked success. I feel justified in stating there is no other known remedy that can equal it in all Kidney or Bladder Troubles. Very sincerely yours, E. J. WOODROW, M.D.

The British Elections. The electoral battle now in progress in Great Britain will soon be decided and the Government will have a new ease of power, if not in the fullest sense a new life. Usually an election in Engand is a very uncertain thing. This time it was a foregone conclusion, and the conclusion which seemed so apparent is evidently to be borne out by the actual course of events. The Government will be returned to power with an overwhelming majority, and in such a case a few seats more or less is nelthere here nor there. The Government goes back practically unfettered as to the future, as they have fought the battle not on a programme for the future, but on their war policy of the past year. As to the war, there are many who realize that the glitter has gone from that some time ago; but the great mass of the people evidently feel that the duty of Britain in Africa means the transformation of the Boer republics into British colonies, and that in a matter of such importance it is dangerous to change horses while you are crossing a stream. The Government goes in on a wave of imperialism, but we are glad that by an Opposition possessed of any It has been proved that the Conservative party in England has no monopoly of imperialism. Lord Rosebery was a convinced and enthusiastic imperialist before the so-called "Unionist Party" arcse, and the fiercest fighter on the "Unionist" side belonged to the opposite school. However, things have ment. changed since then, and Mr. Chamberlain claims to be the champion of the real pure patriotism, so that he can handed over to a Mr. Connor, who was and does state that the empire will be permitted to pay twice as much for ruined if intrusted to the party through which he once gained prominence and provided for by responsible tenderers. power. The loyal action of the colonies, He was allowed to install his own broand the federation of the Australian ther as manager, and he was permitted communities, has helped the Conservative party, and no fair complaint can price as the combine agreed upon, and be made on that score; but when one to keep the money paid to him, and of the colonies sends a message to hand it over to members of the com-England which is really an interfer- bine, with whom he was in partnerence in a political contest, it oversteps the bounds and makes itself ridiculous. money the following year, and then the The life of the colonies must, of course, act and react on the life of the mother | for the balance! To this day, we becountry, but not in that direct for lish fashion. We must do the right thing, and are not responsible for the direct political consequences of our actions, but politics in England have to do with many questions besides those that are called in the special sense imperial,

and the British elector is quite capable of managing his own business, and he will not scruple to tell us so if we are impertinent enough to interfere. However, Canadian politicians of both parties have sufficient sense to recognize this. The time will soon come for summing up the results of the British elections, and learning the lessons. In the meantime, we note that in British politics domestic questions are pushed aside, and because of the exigencies of the situation the Government goes back without any very clear statement as to Its Chinese policy, and without any very definite policy of army reform. The appointment of Lord Roberts to the highest military post was made in time to influence the elections, but practically the only question submitted was that of the annexation of two petty African states. Even the burning question of ritualism, which threatened to become an important political Issue, was tied in khaki, so that it could not have full course.

Lieut. . Col. Robert Cartwright. We understand that Lieut.-Col. Robert Cartwright, assistant adjutantgeneral, son of Sir Richard Cartwright, has just had a serious operation performed and got through it successfully. The operation was necessary owing to the work in the field in South Africa. Lieut.-Col. Cartwright did some exceedingly good work in pushing railroad construction, and won commendation from the British officers in that quarter, and was afterwards on Gen. Hutton's staff. He was sent from Ottawa on special serwice. He has been at St. Luke's Hospital, Ottawa, since his return to Can-

Sir Richard has another son, F. L. C., an officer with the Strathcona Horse, whose engagement to a charming Cape Town young lady has just been announced.

Lieut.-Col. Robert Cartwright has many friends in London, and they will be glad for his own sake, and for Sir Richard's, to learn that although he has had to undergo a serious operation, It has been undergone successfully.

It is asserted that so great has been the increase in the pork packing establishments in Canada that the number of hogs being reared is not sufficient to meet the demand. Farmers have the remedy in their own hands. Let them raise more hogs, but let them listen to the demands of the packers with regard to breed and quality. They are in a position to fully gauge the wents of the foreign purchaser, who is is a good weapon in a political campaign, but is probable that an intelligent electorate will size them up at their true value.

The Binder Twine Slander.

The London Free Press revives the

Taylor slander against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and asserts that a firm of dealers in binder twine were so favored by Hon, David Mills that it "could afford to present the Premier of Canada with a $15,000 residence."

This slander was thoroughly exposed in the House of Commons, and no men were more ashamed of the attack on the Prime Minister than those members of Parliament what sat on the same side of the House with him.

Though Mr. Taylor made this unfounded accusation with some forty of his fellow-Opposition members present, trounced in the debate that ensued by the friends of the Prime Minister, not one member of the Opposition came to the rescue of the slanderer. It has been left for our city contemporary now to

The facts, however, are that the Minister of Justice gave no unfair ad-

Minister of Justice, is therefore most unwarranted, and would never be made reasonable excuse for asking that the present Government should be defeat-over the unbusinesslike proceedings of those bunglers and favorite favorers.

Having little, if any, regard for the public interest, when it came in con-

Government, in the winter of 1896, again arranged to hand over the control of the entire output of the penit ender, and to be sold, in collusion with the combines, as it had been in 1895.

The upshot of the bungling was that the floor of Parliament to be a false-to sell to the man who made the best bid, no matter whether he was black or white, Liberal or Mugwump. It was of no moment to the department.

The public interest alone was its aim,

and no miserable political attack that can be made can alter this fact. Nor will any reasonable man attempt to hold the Government that put binder twine on the free list, and enabled consumers to purchase in the markets of the world, responsible for the increased price that has been charged for the commodity. Every one knows that the raw material was so scarce because of the war in the country of production,

that the price advanced enormously,

and the penitentiary authorities, like all other manufacturers, had to pay for it accordingly. In the last twelve months, owing to the very unsatisfactory state of the market, and the increased price charged to consumers, the department has sold the entire output, not by tender wholesale, but in small lots to farmers. Its action, in both instances, has been hampered by the mismanagement of the former Government by burdening the outfit at the penitentiary with enormous and unnecessary burdens, on which interest must be calculated in accounting the expenditure. But both methods, we affirm, have been vastly superior to those adopted by the political friends of the Free Press. The management of our public institutions is a fair subject for criticism, but we take leave to doubt the wisdom of those who persist

Forward, Medical Men.

A few years ago a number of London's well-known doctors started the London Medical School. It was no small undertaking, and some thought it was doomed to defeat, but instead of defeat it prospered and increased from year to year. Its professors kept the best ideals before them, and their students successfully passed the examinations at Toronto. The London Medical School is now, in point of proficiency, equal to any, and in some respects a student might well prefer it to any other. One important consideration is that he can have a better opportunity to see operations than in most other schools.

Canada boasts of its educational system, and justly claims that it is as good as any, and better than most. A medical school, though for a special purpose, is but a part of the system, and should be strengthened and pervantage to anyone in the marketing of fected in every way in which it can, binder twine. He instructed one of and every facility it can obtain should his officers-a Conservative appointee, be obtained.

In this connection the erection of an infirmary at the asylum is worth of penitentiaries-to prepare a notice mentioning. Dr. Bucke has a continental reputation, and Dr. Hobbs tentiary by tender. Tenders were in certain specialties, has already made his mark. The infirmary will tification was sent to all the leading enable the best work to be done, and dealers, including dealers who are it is quite likely that the future will well-known Conservatives, as well as see forms of insanity hitherto considto Patron agents. There is a wider field to which we wish to draw attention. We believe that in Germany there are medical men employed by the Government solely for the purpose of experimenting, discovering, if they can, new remedies, and estimating justly the value of remedies already partly known.

There are few prizes within the reach of medical men, such for instance, as judgeships are to lawyers. We suggest that the medical schools at Toronto and London should have in connection with each of them one of the best men available, whose duty it would be to experiment and discover. There is no reason why much good should not be accomplished. A few years ago diphtheria was much more deadly than it is today, and so with other diseases. What is Canada doing along the line of original research? We may, no doubt, adopt as soon as others discover. Why not do our part in discovering, and at the same time stimulating all medical men to do their best? The result could not fail to do good, both to the doctors and their patients.

Guelph, Ont., Oct. 3 .- At the Provincial Christian Endeavor convention, while the number of delegates is not up to expectation, the quality of the addresses and the enthusiasm and earnestness of the Endeavorers are up to high water mark. The reports of the Provincial Union work were of a hopeful tone, although financially the

Dr. Chase's Ointment

So soft and delicate is boby's skin that it is continually subject to irrita-tions, itchings and chafings, which become acute misery to the little ones. Many mothers are puzzled to know what to apply, and frequently do more harm than good by using the various mixtures recommended by people they meet.

Every woman who has used Dr. Chase's Ointment in the toilet as a skin beautifier and cure for pimples, blackheads and similar disfiguring ailments, knows that it is so delightfully soothing and healing in its effects as to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is wonderfully prompt in relieving the many sufferings which come from itching, irritated and chafed skin, and is so thorough and far-reaching in its action as to completely cure the worst kind of baby eczema and scald head.

Mrs. A. McKnight, Kirkwall, Wellington county, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know what Dr. Chase's Ointment has done in a very bad case of eczema on our baby. We had tried any number of cures without any permanent relief, but from the hour we commenced using Dr. Chase's Ointment there was great relief, and the improvement continued forts and example. there was complete cure. until think it is the greatest of family ointments.

union is in a hole to the extent of about $300. In the round table conference, Dr. V. S. Lyon, of Ottawa, said that extremes were the cause of the early death of many local societies. Some, he said, were too social, others too literary, and others too spiritual. The latter suggestion called out many protests.

Rev. Canon Richardson, of London, said that if the remarks made by Dr. Lyon and by Rev. W. R. McIntosh, represented the spirit of the Endeaverors in Ontario, it was not hard to find the cause of the waning of the society. If such were true, he said, the sooner the C. E. died the better for all concerned.

There were denominational rallies in St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Dublin Street Methodist, Congregational, First Baptist and Disciple Churches. Able speakers addressed each gathering. In the evening two large mass meetings were held in Chalmers Presbyterian and Norfolk Street Methodist Churches. Both were filled to the doors; the theme was "Fruit Bearing,"
In Chalmer's Church Rev. Elmore Harris, of Hamilton, gave a deeply spiritual address. Rev. W. F. Wilson, Hamilton, expressed himself as greatly encouraged with the outlook. The forces of the church were never better organized and inspired and never has the world paid a higher tribute to Christianity than now. He closed a most inspiring and forcible oration by exhorting endeavorers to realize their duty, make their work personal and practical and to remember that tove, patience and prayer won where legislation, coercion or education failed. "The mission and equipment of Endeavorers" was the subject of an excellent address by Rev. A. L. Geggie, Parkdale, in Norfolk Street Church. "The young man problem" was handled in an able and clear-cut manner by Rev. J. W. Graham, East To-The reason thousands of men ronto. never darkened a church door was because at its very threshold they were confronted with the mysteries of sin. The church has, he said, a misconception of its duties to the world. It should widen out and realize that they can go into the slums and not be tainted, and that the members can purify politics by their individual efcieties. George S. McClellan, of Brockville, gave an excellent address on "the chievements, present position and significance of missionary movements among the young people throughout the world."

He was followed by an able discourse on "How to foster and utilize among the vast army, of young men and women in the various young people's movements, a missionary spirit ade-quate to the opportunities of this generation," by Rev. Dr. McKay, of Toronto, foreign missionary secretary of the Presbyterian Church. Rev. A. C. Crews, general secretary of young people's work in the Canadian Methodist Church, conducted a round-table conference on "Committees and their work."

Rev. Canon Richardson, of London, Ont., gave an interesting and inspiring report of the World's C. E. Convention, held in London in July last. The afternoon was given over to the funior rally. STATUS OF THE C. E. SOCIETY.

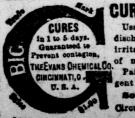

The secretary, Mr. A. T. Cooper, of Clinton, stated that reports from the union in Ontario received during the year showed decreases in both active and associate membership from the societies reporting. There were, however, 90 new societies, making an increase in the total membership of 3,-500. There were now 2,298 societies in the union, with a membership of 100,-000. Of the societies in the union 991 are Methodist, 555 Presbyterian, 112 Union, 115 Baptist, 44 Congregational, 27 Church of England, 34 Disciples, 14 Christians, with the other 17 divided among various denominations. butions to missions amounted to $25,000 144 of the societies having increased their contributions. During the year 1,890 members joined the church.

-The friends of Mrs. Chas. Baker will be glad to hear that she has re-turned home from England after a pleasant five months in different parts of the old land. Twenty-eight of the Canadian contingent were on board the same boat as she, but landed at Quebec, where the mayor gave them an address and the band played them to the citadel, the Cambroman coming to Montreal with the rest of the passengers.

He had never lived here, but was formerly a resident of Huron county, and, of course, the city could not be asked to support him. It will be interesting news to hosts of Londoners to learn that Mr. Henry Willard, who plays the leading role in A. Q. Scammon's "Side-Tracked" at the London Opera House tomorrow, is in private life Mr. Harry Hodgins, who was born and raised in this city, and who left here only four years ago to enter upon his stage career. In addition to his many friends, Mr. Hodgins has a number of relatives resident in this city. His sister, Mrs. Butler, of Chicago, is at present visiting here. THE ARLINGTON HOP.

Last night saw the last hop of the Arlington series at Springbank, and it was marked by a vivacity and aban-don of enjoyment that formed a fitting climax to the pleasurable affairs the members of the club have provided for their friends during the season. The weather had been far from favorable on the occasions set for the two previous hops, but it made amends last evening by being as nearly perfect as could be desired. The music was unusually good, and the company very sociable. The burden of the work in connection with the hops, which have undoubtedly added greatly to the good reputation borne by the club, has largely fallen to Mr. Charles Glendenning, to whom much credit for their success is due.

THE L. AND P. S. R. LEASE. The subject of the lease extension

comes up at the meeting of the London | relief. and Port Stanley Railway board tonight. It will probably develop then that Ald. Winnett's motion, presented at Monday night's meeting of the council to have the proposed agreement submitted to that body before ratification, was quite the right plan, and that Mayor Rumball and Ald. Jolly were both astray in their ideas of the railway directors' powers of independent action. The citizens of London are the shareholders in the road, and consequently it will be legally necessary for the settlement of the extension to be submitted to their represen tatives in the council. It is the city solicitor's opinion, also, that special legislation must be procured before any such settlement can be made. It will probably be some time, therefore, before the Messrs. Walker can be assurd as to the future control of the Port Stanley line.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY." "Other People's Money," which was presented at the London Opera House yesterday afternoon and evening, comprises three acts that are replete with laughable situations, and in the hands of a very competent company no particle of their many mirth-provoking possibilities was lost. It was a thorough oughly enjoyable light comedy. Hennessey Leroyle proved himself a high-class character comedian, a master of humorously suggestive facial expression. He won instant favor as Hutchinson Hopper, the happy-golucky speculator, who is completely at the beck and call of his shrewish wife. Mr. J. Charles Haydon, as the smart clerk, and Mr. Harold Linson, who portrayed Hopper's broker, were both excellent. The character of Marcenas Chump, a rich hog dealer, was very effectively delineated by Mr. J. R. Robinson. The ladies of the cast were equally well selected. A beautiful Canadian girl, Miss May Sargent, played the part of Tilka Van Sittart, the risque adventuress, with captivating skill. Miss D. Bardell and Miss Janet Walters, the latter a charming ingenue, were decidedly clever. The play gave further evidence of the successful endeavors of the London Opera House management to present plays that find favor in the eyes of the public. A newly revised version of "Side-Track-

The fireworks were a feature of the celebration. A raised platform had been erected, and the red fire, etc., was shown from this point of vantage. But private residents all along the line of march had made preparations for the soldier's return, and there was one continuous illumination from the time Rorison arrived until his home was reached on Howard avenue.

Rorison was kept busy at his home shaking hands for some time. The house and some of the neighboring residences were decorated with flags and

Domestic Science.

London, Wednesday, Oct. 3. To the Editor of The Advertiser: In your issue of Sept. 15 last you kindly permitted me to express a hope that before long an opportunity would be afforded to those who have been anxious to obtain for themselves and daughters some definite training in the womanly arts of home-making and home-keeping. I am glad to tell your readers that Mrs. Mitchell's school of domestic science will be opened on Monday next on Horton street, near Waterloo. The position being as central as any in which she could procure a suitable house. On Saturday, the 6th. Mrs. Mitchell invites the members of all women's societies and their friends, the wives and friends of the city clergy or civic officials, for a preliminary talk and demonstration, and I would especially call the attention of the thirteen organizations in affiliation with our Local Council of Women to this invitation. Several names have been already sent in to Mrs. Mitchell, and as the number cannot necessarily be unlimited, it is most desirable that early application should be made. The advertisement in your columns and Mrs. Mitchell's prospectus will give fuller particulars. As the establishment of such classes is what we have long felt the need of and waited for, I venture to believe that a movement so upward and onward in the interests of our city will be sure of the kindly support of the editors of our daily papers, who, irrespective of creed or politics, always seek to further any effort for the public good. Thanking you for this space in your columns, I remain, sir, yours, sincerely obliged, H. A. BOO-MER, president of the Local Council

MGR. FALCONIO ON MANITOBA SCHOOLS.

Winnipeg, Oct. 5 .- Mgr. Falconio, the Papal ablegate, in the course of his reply to an address presented to him, said it made allusion to a painful question, and one which should not e st in a free and liberal country like The house of God was no place for a cussion, and he could only tell them what he had said at St. Boniface that morning. They knew well there was no person in this world who had so much at heart the Christlan education of youth as the sovereign pontiff, hence there was nothing that could be dearer to him than to know that this painful question of the Catholic schools of Manitoba was settled throughout the whole province in such a manner as to give full satisfaction to the rights of the Catholics. He was glad to learn through the archbishop that already, with the exception of Winnipeg, something had been done in order to reach this happy end, and that there was amelioration in the state of the question in country districts.

"Have you ever seen him?" asked Dolores, interested in spite of herself. "No, not yet, but I hear that Lady Fielden gives a fete to the school children next week, and we are all sure to go; so we shall see him then. Lord Rhyeworth will be there also, I should magine, and everybody else. The most important question to me is, what shall wear? I have some exquisite costumes, but am quite undecided about Will you come over to Beaulieu and give me your opinion?"

"I do not understand much about dress," answered Dolores. "If you are so bent upon conquest, you must wear the dress that suits you best." "I shall be very good-matured," said

Lola. "If, as is not at all improbable, both Lord Rhysworth and Sir Karl admire me, I shall make one over to

CHAPTER III.

Lady Fielden's school fete was attended by the elite of the neighborhood and was the very perfection of such an entertainment. The day was beautifully fine, with a bright, warm sun, a sweet odorous wind, a deep blue sky and the atmosphere so clear that the view all round the country was magnificent. Every detail of the day came back to Dolores. Her father was tired and not very well, and Madame de Ferras offered to take her with Lola. The carriage cailed at White Cliffe, Madame de Ferras looked very distingue, and aristocratic in her velvet costume. and Lola very lovely in a dress of some rich silk material trimmed with lace. Her first eager breathless question was:

"Do you like my dress? Now, Dolores, do not speak hastily, but look at it and tell me candidly if you like it." It was impossible not to like it, the costume with its rich hues was so admirably suited to the dark, glowing beauty of the wearer; and Dolores praised it highly. With an air of intense relief Lola sank back in the car-

Her critical eye noted every detail of Dolores' dress, which was white, with picturesque dashes of blue-quite dif-

on a bright summer day is perhaps one of the most charming; and Lady Fielden had spared neither expense nor trouble to make hers as pleasant as possible.

The two beauties attracted no small amount of attention. They were indeed the queens of the fete, and opinions were divided about them. Some of the men admired the fair Dolores, others the dark glowing beauty of Lola de Ferras. All kinds of fancied names were given to them. "The Rose and the Lily," "The York and the Lancaster Roses," were amongst the number. It was unanimously declared, however, that two more beautiful girls could not be seen.

They had been there more than an hour before Sir Karl Allenmore appeared; and that hour had not been entirely satisfactory to Lola. It was true that she had been surrounded by admirers, but she was eminently practical-none of these were eligible men. She had been longing in her heart to see Lord Rhysworth or Sir Karl. She was looking her handsomest and best when at length the baronet arrived. She was standing before a group of tall fuchsias, which with their orimson and purple bells formed a pleasing background for her. dress of silk swept the ground, and every line of her graceful figure was snown to advantage by the well-fitting costume. On her dark beautiful face there was the faintest shadow of fatigue, which softened it wonderfully. The weary look passed from it and a light that made it dazzlingly lovely came into it when Lady Fielden advanced to her, walking by the side of the handsomest man she ever remembered to have seen.

"Miss de Ferras," she said, "Sir Karl Allanmore wishes for the pleasure of an introduction to you."

Lola looked up and saw a laughing, debonair face, bright as a May morning, with keen blue eyes and a perfect mouth. The young baronet was tall and well made, with a head proudly carried, and something of a soldierly bearing, his whole appearance giving one the impression that he enjoyed life amazingly.

Lola saw all this at a glance, and her heart went out to him, never to be her own again. She knew nothing of the passionate depths of her own nature. She believed that all she cared for was to marry well, whereas she was capable of forming the strongest attachment, and of sacrificing everything in the world for the sake of love alone. It is not often that great passion, great riches, and great vices co-exist with so small and mean a fault as Dolores remembered all this as she vanity, but in the complex character of sat in her room holding the balance of Lola de Ferras they went together. her life in her hands. was conscious only of one great desire -to be with him her life long. He talked to her gayly enough. He was always in high spirits, always full of vivacity, the man above all others to charm a girl like her by his manner and his bright unflagging gayety. Gradually the little circle fell away, and he was left standing alone with ure to do so.

They went away together; and the world looked quite different to Lola de Ferras. It seemed brighter and bet-ter. Everything appeared couleur de rose while he was talking to her. She was saying to herself that she should not now take any trouble to cultivate Lord Rhyworth's acquaintance, that she was quite content with the attentions of one whom she had hitherto considered as second on the list. They walked down to the bank of the river. "I am quite a stranger to this neighborhood," said Sir Karl; "but I must say I admire it. Itsis picturesque, well wooded, with plenty of water. How begutiful this river is! Do you know my place at all, Miss de Ferras?"

"I know it well," she replied, secretly vowing to setself, if it were in any way possible, she would one day be mistress of Scarsdale

A CHARGE OF BIGAMY

James Boyd Arrested in Hamilton and Brought Here-Two Women Claim Him as Their Husband.

Detective Rider went to Hamilton yesterday and brought back from that city, where he had been arrested the previous evening, a laborer named James Boyd, who lived in London until a couple of months ago, when he removed to Hamilton. Boyd's alleged crime is that of bigamy, he having been married in June last to Miss Maggie Tasker, a domestic, by Rev. Dr. Saunders. It now appears that he has a wife and three children who have been living in Chesley, and Mrs. Boyd the first is now in the city, prepared to prosecute the prisoner should he deny the charge against him.

The prisoner is 35 years of age, and originally belonged to Bruce county, where his relatives still reside. While working near the village of Chesley in 1886 he married Priscilla Jane Winch, the 18-year-old daughter of a respectable couple living on the town line between Bentick and Elderslee. The couple lived together until four years ago, when Boyd came to London to bringing one of the children him, and leaving Mrs. Boyd, with the other two children, in a village near Wiarton. While fiving in London Boyd worked as a laborer in e. number of factories.

Mrs. Boyd the first came to the city from Chesley yesterday on hearing of the arrest of her husband, Mrs. Boyd, who is 32 years old, tells a story which does not speak well for the prisoner. Since her marriage, on Sept. 30, 1886, she says, she has had considerable trouble. Boyd led her to believe that he owned considerable property, but in less than two months after the marriage Boyd was sued for the price of his wedding suit. Since that time Boyd has hved in many places, and wife No. 1 says that she had to send to her father to take her home, as she was starving. Boyd left her for short periods, during one of which he is alleged to have been living with another woman, but in spite of all Mrs. Boyd willing to forgive him. After he came to London Mrs. Boyd went to the Northwest and worked as a domestic.

The London police knew nothing of the prisoner until one o'clock on Wednesday, when they received a letfrom wife No. 1, inquiring if he had been married here in June. Bcfore seven o'clock that evening they located Boyd in Hamilton, and had him arrested. He does not deny having married Miss Tasker in June, but he says he did so, believing his first wife had died as the result of an operation performed in the hospital at Winnipeg. He charges Mrs. Boyd with deserting him for another mana charge which the first wife says is absolutely without foundation.

Mrs. Boyd the second came to the city last night. She was an adopted daughter of Mr. John Vair, of Owen Sound. On coming to London to work she met the prisoner, who informed her that he had three children, two of whom he had adopted before his first wife left him. Boyd also told her that wife No. 1 had died in the hospital at Winnipeg, and a month later news came that the first wife was still alive.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work. and low spirits are unknown to me. "I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me. All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestives, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food. Physicians everywhere indorse them, because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia.
