Poor Princess Alix!

Insanity of Queen Victoria's Pet Granddaughter.

Terribly Fatal Mine Disaster in Belgium.

Nine Workmen Killed by the Fall of a Scaffold.

Emperor William Nicknamed by the R. Y. Squadron—The Heir to the Devonshire Dukedom a Wretched Speaker.

Two Thousand Afghans Killed.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Vienna correspondent of the News says: It is reported from Merve that 2,000 Afghans were killed in the last battle with the revolting Hazaras.

Nine Workmen Killed.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—While the work of repairing the old Royal Castle in Konigsberg was going on to-day a scaffolding suddenly collapsed, precipitating a number of the workmen to the ground. Nine of them were instantly killed.

A Poor Talker.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Mr. Victor Cavendish, the heir to the dukedom of Devonshire, who has just made his debut in the House of Commons, is not likely to increase the political greatness or reputation of the house of Cavendish. Very few of the Cavendishes are good speakers, and the present Duke of Devonshire only learned to speak passably well by constant and painful practice. Both the late Lord Edward and the late Lord Frederick Cavendish were about the worst and most awkward speakers imaginable. Mr. Victor Cavendish is said to be worse than either his father or his uncle, and, whatever his intellectual powers may be, he is not likely to be much heard of in Parliament.

The German Emperor's Nickname.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Everybody gets a nickname in the Royal Yacht Squadron, the most exclusive and ultra-select of all clubs, and whose members are kings, princes, ambassadors, the blue nobility of England and the goldocracy of Australia. During the recent visit to Cowes of the German Emperor, no exception to the rule was made in his favor. He was dubbed simply and shortly as the "Spatchcock;" why, it is difficult to say.

A "Spatchcock," according to Cocker and other eminent authorities, is "a quickly broiled bird."

Nicknames are generally looked upon as a kind of left-handed compliment, and the young monarch may find diverse interpretations, some pleasant, and the others quite the contrary, for his new sobriquet.

Terrible Mine Disaster in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.—A terrific explosion of fire damp occurred to-day in the Agrafee coal mine in Hainault. Many miners were entombed.

Nearly all the men who were at work in the Agrafee mine at the time of the disaster have been accounted for. Some escaped uninjured. Twenty-five bodies have been recovered, and eight men alive, though very seriously injured, have been taken from the mine by rescuing parties.

The explosion was due to the sudden escape of gas in a gallery of the mine 1,900 feet below the surface.

This makes the fourth disaster that has occurred in the same pit since 1848 and the total number of names on the mines death roll is now 500.

The Queen's Pet Granddaughter Insane.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Princess Alix, youngest sister of the reigning Grand Duke of Hesse Darmstadt and the favorite granddaughter of Queen Victoria, is reported in the court circles of Berlin and London to have become insane, and her condition is stated to be such that several well-known specialists for mental diseases have been summoned in the utmost haste to attend her. The greatest mystery surrounds the present condition of the lovely patient, but Queen Victoria is kept daily informed of the progress of her malady and betrays the utmost anxiety on her account. Indeed, this was a matter of almost public comment during the last week of her sojourn at Osborne.

Queen Victoria feels all the more strongly about the matter, as it was this favorite daughter of her own favorite child, the late Grand Duchess Alice, whom she had selected as a bride for the Duke of York.

The circumstances which led to the abandonment of this pet project of the Queen are not unconnected with the present malady of the Princess, premonitions of which have been evident for some time. Barely 20 years of age, Princess Alix was famed until a few months ago, as being one of the most clever and spirited princesses of the blood royal in Europe. From infancy she showed a most marked character and individuality of her own, and persons have been heard to regret that her mother died when the child was only 6; for, with many people, princes and princesses have no right to have wills or characters of their own, but ought to be all modeled on the same pattern—stiff, amiable, dull, patient, thick-skinned, and, above all, wholly lacking a sense of the ludicrous.

Now, all these supposed requirements of a princess of the blood save one—amiability—the elfin Princess of Hesse absolutely lacks. She is not stiff, but lively, graceful and even, mirabile dictu, elegant; she is not patient, but quite the reverse; she is not thick-skinned, but most sensitive, impulsive and sympathetic, and, as for her sense of the ludicrous, hers is so keen that she keeps her friends and companions in a perfect state of merriment by her pretty wit. So far as physique is concerned, she has that greatest charm and beauty of all—youth.

Her mother, who was so popular in England as "the Princess Alice," whose literary, etc., form some of the [illegible] books in the English language, [illegible] the letters to her mother, her [illegible] to her dying father, the sweet, sympathetic consoler of her widowed mother, the model sister, the devoted nurse of her sick-unto-death brother, "Bertie," 20 odd years ago; the adviser and peacemaker in many family quarrels, a perfect wife to a capricious, unfaithful, dull, but, on the whole, affectionate husband, and a model mother, bringing up her children most admirably, and losing her life in devotion to one of them.

To Combat Socialism.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The Emperor has ordered Berlin recruits to be drafted into the Polish regiments, in order to combat the Socialist tendencies observable in that part of the army.

THE DOG-CATCHERS OUT AGAIN.

They Reap a Harvest by Coming Out Unexpectedly—People Are Stealing Tags.

After a suspension of operations for a few days, the dog-catchers have commenced work again. During this period the owners of tagless dogs have been lulled into a sense of security and allowed their canines to roam at large. Quite a harvest then was reaped this morning by the two officials whose duty it is to capture these animals. A policeman accompanied them as a protection. Hereafter the dog-catching season will not be limited to a few days in August. The apparatus will be ready for use all the year round, and at any moment a raid may be made.

"My office has been crowded this morning with people complaining that their dog tags had been stolen," said Inspector Bell. "The tags are worth $1 10 apiece, and it is an easy thing for a person wishing to avoid paying the tax to unfasten the check. It is likely that a number of citizens will bring this grievance before the council."

"STOPPED SHORT."

The Northwest Assembly Prorogued and Legislation Blocked.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—A Northwest Gazette extra, issued at Regina yesterday, contains a proclamation proroguing the Northwest House. This leaves Mr. Cayley's Executive in power until next session, as the Northwest Territories Act authorizes the Governor-in-Council to spend moneys when appropriations are not made by the House. Mr. Cayley's friends are confident that his administration during the recess will be such as to commend itself to the House next session, while Ex-Premier Haultain's supporters claim that a call for the consideration and feeling of the pulse of their constituencies will make the majority weaken. In the meantime legislation is blocked, and the country is out of pocket the amount of the cost of the recent session. The legislation before the House, including the School Bill, is killed by this move.

THE FIRE RECORD.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 2.—The British Columbia iron works were burned to the ground yesterday.

C. M. B. A.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—The following officers of the Grand Council were elected today: President, O. K. Fraser; first vice, Judge Landry; second vice, M. F. Hackett, M.P.; treasurer, W. J. McKee; secretary, S. R. Brown; guard, E. J. Reilly; marshal, J. O. Martineau.

Got in Before the First.

POINT EDWARD, Sept. 2.—The schooners George Boyce, John Wesley and Thomas Howland arrived here Wednesday afternoon from Chicago with 70,000 bushels grain in bond, comprising 30,000 bushels oats and 40,000 bushels of corn, and discharged their cargoes at the Grand Trunk elevators here.

Letters of Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—It is understood that President Harrison's letter of acceptance will be made public on Monday morning next. Mr. Whitelaw Reid's will follow about Sept. 15. Mr. Cleveland has not yet indicated when his letter of acceptance will be given out, but it is expected to be made public not later than Sept. 20.

E. King Dodds in Difficulty.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 1.—Four informations have been sworn out against ex-Ald. E. King Dodds, publisher of the Canadian Sportsman, charging him with breach of the Lottery Act. The alleged offenses consist of insertion of advertisements of the Carslake St. Leger sweep and the Carslake St. Leger stake, which the morality department claim are "modes of chance."

Safe-Blowing.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—At Portage la Prairie the safe of Robb & Livingston was blown open by an expert. A hole was drilled in the top of the safe, where dynamite was put in, and the door was blown open. Fortunately there was only $18 in the safe. There is a suspicion that an organized gang of safe-blowers are operating in Manitoba. The burglaries at Holland and St. Boniface were doubtless committed by the same men.

Lizzie Borden's Trial.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 1.—Court came in at 10:30 this morning, and a few minutes after Lizzie Borden entered the room. During the half hour preceding the entrance of the court, Mrs. Churchill, Mrs. (Dr.) Bowen, Miss Holmes and another lady enjoyed themselves apparently very much, and laughter was frequent. The defense was ably conducted by Mr. Jennings. The accused, who was affected to tears in the course of his speech, was ordered to the county jail for trial at the November term. All the witnesses were ordered to recognize for the November term of court.

Plague's Progress.

Its Advent in New York Fully Expected.

President Harrison's Proposed Proclamation Deferred.

Business in Hamburg Suspended and the Streets Deserted.

A Twenty Days' Quarantine Ordered by Washington Authorities.

The Disease Said To Be on the Decline in Russia and Germany—A Disinfecting Machine Secured by the Dominion Government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamer Moravia was sent to the lower bay, two miles south of Swinburne Island, this morning. Dr. Sanborn reports there are no new cases on board.

The Veendam's steerage passengers, who were sent to Hoffman's Island this morning, will be bathed and their baggage and clothing disinfected, as Capt. Vandersee refused to allow the disinfecting process to be accomplished on board the vessel.

The steamers Gallia and Lahn are detained until the three days of quarantine required by the health regulations have elapsed.

The Gallia has 275 Russians and 150 Poles on board.

The steamers Circassian and Teutonic have left quarantine. The steamer Normannia is due from Southampton in a day or two with 400 immigrants transferred from Hamburg to the latter port. As these immigrants left Hamburg several days after the epidemic had broken out, there is some danger of the disease having broken out on board.

On board the Gallia is an Irish cricket team, which came to make a tour of this country. The majority of the team are from Trinity College, Dublin. All are famous cricketers.

EXPECTED IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Col. Weber, superintendent of immigration, said this morning that he believed the cholera would undoubtedly get into this city. He said he believed there is as great danger of its being brought here by the cabin as by the steerage passengers. He said the cabin passengers should be quarantined as well as steerage, to protect the country from the plague. He thought there was also much danger from merchandize coming from Europe, especially from infected ports.

ACTION OF PRESIDENT HARRISON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1.—At the request of the President, Assistant Secretary Spaulding, of the Treasury Department, and Dr. Wyman, surgeon-general of the marine hospital service, met the President and the members of his Cabinet at a conference at 11 o'clock this morning. After an hour's deliberation it was decided not to issue a proclamation at this time, but to issue a special circular instead, which will soon be made public.

TWENTY DAYS' QUARANTINE IN AMERICAN PORTS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—It has been determined to proclaim twenty days' quarantine on all vessels sailing after today from any European port to the United States and carrying immigrants. The quarantine will not apply to vessels already afloat, nor to any not carrying immigrants.

A CITY IN MOURNING.

HAMBURG, Sept. 1.—A better feeling prevails here to-day. Yesterday there were only 115 new cases of cholera reported, while the deaths according to the official figures were only 45. The city, however, presents a most funereal appearance. There is scarcely a house in the streets along the water front from which several victims of the disease have not been taken. In some instances the houses are entirely vacant, all the occupants being dead. There is no resumption of general business, so many of the shops are closed that the streets look as though it was Sunday. There is a steady stream of ambulances conveying the dead to cemeteries.

SUCCESSFUL DISINFECTING MACHINE.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—The Dominion Government to-day secured the use of the superheated steam disinfecting machine, planned for the Toronto health department by Mr. Bernard McEvoy. The machine will be sent to Grosse Island quarantine to-night, and will there be used for disinfecting the luggage and clothing of passengers arriving from Europe. Dr. Allen, medical health officer of the city, says the machine will infallibly kill the germs of cholera. McEvoy is a well known newspaper man, and is patenting his idea in Canada, United States, Great Britain, France and Germany.

INTERNATIONAL INSPECTION.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The international quarantine inspection commission, composed of Dr. Irving, A. Watson, of Concord N. H., secretary of the American Public Health Association; Dr. H. B. Baker, of Lansing, Mich.; Dr. P. H. Bryce, of Toronto, and Dr. J. N. McCormick, of Kentucky, arrived in Montreal to-day and began an organization which includes the State and Provincial Boards of Health of the continent. Their purpose is to inspect and report on the condition and methods of administration of every quarantine station on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts.

THE MORAVIAN'S DETENTION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—No cases of cholera have yet developed in New York city. Dr. Jenkins has decided to detain the Moravian for at least five days at quarantine. If no more cases of cholera appear Dr. Jenkins may allow her to come to her dock. Prompt measures have been taken to guard against the disease by way of Canada.

MANY CASES AT HAVRE.

HAVRE, Sept. 1.—There were 59 new cases of cholera yesterday in this city and 19 deaths in the same time.

ANOTHER SET OF FIGURES.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—According to the report of the Imperial Board of Health it appears that there were at Hamburg yesterday 496 new cases of cholera and 181 deaths instead of 139 cases and 45 deaths reported by the municipal authorities.

STOPPED AT THE SOO.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 1.—Sixteen immigration the Canadian Pacific were stopped this afternoon by the United States health officers and sent into quarantine before they crossed the bridge into Michigan. One was from Hamburg.

OVER THREE HUNDRED FUNERALS IN A DAY.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Although the cholera is reported to be abating at Hamburg the number of victims to-day is again very heavy. The disease rages with the most virulence at Horn and Hammerbrook, where hundreds were attacked, and many died within two hours. Interments since last night number 313.

IN ENGLAND.

GRAVESEND, Sept. 1.—The surviving cholera patients who were landed at this place from the steamer Gemma, which arrived here from Hamburg on Thursday last, have been steadily progressing towards recovery and are now nearly well. The others have been pronounced free from the disease, and have been allowed to proceed to London.

A ROTTEN QUARANTINE STATION.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 2.—A report is published here giving the results of an inspection of the quarantine station buildings at this port showing them to be in dilapidated and damp, ill-ventilated and tumble-down condition, unfit to herd human beings in. The covering of the wharf at the place is so rotten that it is unsafe for people to pass over it. The buildings are surrounded by stagnant pools and the framework of some of them is so rotten that it will not hold the door hinges. The city Board of Health passed a resolution calling on the Ottawa authorities to take steps to place the quarantine station and its equipments in a thoroughly effective state.

DETAINED AT GROSSE ISLE.

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—The steamer Cremon from Hamburg now at Grosse Isle, will likely remain there two days more. The officers of the vessel are reticent in giving information about the bundles of rags on board the vessel.

BUFFALO WILL KEEP A CLOSE WATCH.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Full authority has been placed in the hands of Health Commissioner Wende to take any and all action necessary to prevent the disease entering Buffalo, and he will at once begin precautionary measures. The fact that Buffalo is a great railroad center it is feared will make it peculiarly liable to a visitation in case the disease sets out on its travels in this country, because of the great number of immigrants who pass through here. Dr. Wend will at once send Assistant Health Commissioner Pettit to New York to keep a close watch on all emigrant travel to Buffalo. He said: "This will prove of great assistance to us in our inspections of this end of the line." He would advise the department here of the number of immigrants that arrive there daily, with the number of those remaining in New York and of those coming to Buffalo or intending to pass through here. Then he will establish a quarantine on all the railroads outside the city line and examine into the condition of the passengers."

NOTES.

The Inman Line management has decided to carry only first and second cabin passengers from Liverpool during September.

The United States Postmaster-General has issued an order to his subordinates to take such steps as may be necessary and practicable to thoroughly disinfect the mails reaching the United States from foreign ports at which infectious diseases are prevailing.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

A Question for the London School Trustees

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I see in your issue of yesterday a list of ten pupils who have won the "Boyle Memorial Prizes," consisting of a full set of collegiate institute text books of the value of $7 50 each, making in all $75. To be given at the expense of the Board of Education. I am at a loss to know the real facts of the case. Are the several persons who constitute the Board of Education, out of the esteem in which they held the late inspector, Mr. Boyle, constituting a fund at their own personal expense out of which they can draw or cause to be drawn sufficient money annually, by which they can pay for a full set of collegiate institute books for every pupil who passes first in the high school entrance examinations in the various schools in the city? Or are they in their capacity of trustees acting for the people, assuming the power to originate and perpetuate this memorial fund without the consent or expression of the people from whose pockets this money is intended to be taken annually in the form of taxes to meet the annual expense of this new creation of theirs? If the latter is the case, could you kindly inform me upon what legal authority they base their action? Yours truly,

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

London, Aug. 31, 1892.

The London and Port Stanley.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I have been looking with considerable interest the past few days to see a report from the board of directors of the London and Port Stanley Railway, but fail to find any. Surely the fact that the lease of this road to the Grand Trunk for twenty years expired on Aug. 31 should be of sufficient importance to require some consideration as to what they intend to do with the road. Has the Grand Trunk, according to the terms of the lease, handed over to them the road, with stations, etc., in good repair, or paid for those that have been burned?

I am anxious to know whether the London and Port Stanley Railway Board intend to continue the present lease to the Grand Trunk, during the balance of their term of office, or allow them to use it at their own convenience and on their own terms as is the case at present. I feel sure the citizens expect the gentlemen representing them on this board will not allow the road to be run in this loose manner any longer. Thanking you for space. I am yours truly,

D. C. HANNAH.

London, Sept. 2.

A huge octopus or devilfish has been captured outside the Golden Gate, Cal., by some fishermen. It measured fourteen feet from the end of the body to the end of the longest tentacle, and has eight arms, and as is usual with the fish, there are over 800 suckers on the arms. The body is nothing but a huge sack, and is soft and flabby; it is about two feet long. There are two eyes about an inch in diameter, and a faint resemblance to a beak and mouth. This specimen is one of the best in the country, and will be preserved and sent to Chicago for exhibition at the Exposition.

Lost on the Lakes

Two Terrible Disasters on the Inland Seas.

Twenty-Six Persons Drowned by the Sinking of a Steamer.

A Schooner Goes to the Bottom with All on Board—Names of the Victims.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 1.—The steamer Western Reserve, bound for Cleveland, Ohio, broke in two off Au Sauble banks, near Deer Park, Tuesday night. Twenty-six persons were drowned; Harry Stewart, of Algonac, was saved. Three of the bodies were washed ashore this morning.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 1.—The fish tug E. M. B. A. arrived down to-night, having as a passenger Harry Stewart, of Algonac, a wheelsmen, from the mammoth steel steamer Western Reserve, which foundered Tuesday about 9 o'clock, 60 miles above White Fish Point, on the course to Keeweenaw. The Western Reserve, up bound and light, left the Soo Canal Tuesday afternoon, having on board as passengers Capt. Peter Minch, her owner, his wife, three children and his wife's sister, besides the regular crew of 22 hands.

THE ONLY SURVIVOR

STEWART'S STORY.

The story as told by Stewart is as follows: "Everything went well until about 60 miles above White Fish when the first warning to anyone aboard of impending danger was a terrible crash about 9 a.m., caused by the huge craft breaking in two. She took in water fast from the start and the yawl boats were lowered. Capt. Minch, his family and the officers and the crew of the boat to the number of seventeen, got into the wooden yawl and others took to the metallic one. The Reserve and before she had hardly gone out of sight the metallic yawl capsized. The other went to her assistance, but only succeeded in rescuing two of her occupants—Capt. Myer's son and the steward. The nineteen survivors started for White Fish, 60 miles away. The wind was about west when they started, but veered to the north, making considerable sea. But the yawl weathered the breakers all night and until 7 o'clock the next morning, when about ten miles from the life saving station No. 10 and about a mile from the shore it capsized."

SANK IN TEN MINUTES.

Stewart says that he saw none of the occupants after that. He struck for the shore, but the cries of the children, screams of the women and moaning of the men were terrible for a few moments, when all became silent. Stewart was in the water two hours. He struck shore about ten miles above the station, and had to walk there before reaching anyone to render him assistance. A search failed to find trace of any other survivor of the wreck, and there is no question that they were all drowned.

THE LOST.

The boat was owned by P. G. Minch, who with his family was lost on her. The others lost, as near as can be obtained from Stewart, are:

Capt. Albert Myer and son, Vermillion.
Mate Fred Eggleston, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Second Mate Chas. Labeau, Sand Beach, Mich.
Chief Engineer Wm. Seaman, Cleveland.
Charles Willis, Saginaw, Mich.
Watchman Schuyler Start and Daniel Forbes, Algonac, Mich.
Robert Simpson, oiler.
Bert Smith, steward.
S. T. Hatten, fireman.
John Latcham, fireman.
Horace Borough, fireman.
Martin Klausen, oiler.
Daniel Stickney, B. Longfield, Albert Davenport, Daniel O'Connell, M. Coffee and John Wilson, deck hands.

ALL HANDS LOST.

MANISTEE, Mich., Sept. 1.—The schooner City of Toledo, which was caught in a gale on Tuesday and was driven ashore at Pierport, capsized when about two miles from the shore and then drifted in, bottom up. No bodies have been found yet. Capt McMillen, who was lost, leaves a widow and five children; also three sisters, residents of this city.

The wind blew hard from the southwest all day, and during the afternoon there was a heavy sea, making it impossible for tugs to depart, and no boats left the harbor after the middle of the afternoon. About dark the wind changed to the west and blew a gale all night, which has continued most of the day. It is surmised that the vessel sprung a leak and attempted to make its way back to this harbor, but failing, continued north, hoping to find shelter at Manitou. The disaster might have been avoided if Congress would carry out the original intention and make Onekama or Portage Lake a harbor of refuge.

NAMES OF THE LOST.

Capt. John McMillan, Manistee.
Lizzie McMillan, his daughter, aged 18.
George McKinsey, of Grand Haven.
Angus McNeil, of Chicago.
John Larson, of Chicago.
Wm. McCarthy.
John O'Neil, of Chicago.

DISASTER AT SOUTHAMPTON.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 2.—During a heavy gale from the north on Wednesday night, the schooner Nettwood Ward, in trying to make Southampton harbor, and when about two miles out, was struck by a heavy sea and thrown on her beam's end. The crew, with one exception, got on the main mast. The mate, Jos. Greathead, got on a hatch and drifted away. His body was found this morning one mile south of the harbor. Capt. Caldwell and three sailors held on all night; about 3 o'clock this morning N. Mahon perished in the captain's arms from exposure, and his body was washed away and has not yet been found. At daybreak the wreck was seen by Capt. Lambert, light-keeper on Chantry Island, who at once put off in a small skiff only twelve feet long and bravely rescued the unfortunate survivors, who, but for his timely efforts, would have met a watery grave. The Nettwood Ward was owned by Capt. Caldwell and uninsured.

There is at present no adequate provision for rendering assistance to unfortunate mariners when in distress, and steps will be taken to draw the attention of the Government to the necessity of establishing a life-saving service here.

THE NEW C. P. R. STATION

Will Be Commenced at Once—Superintendent Tait's Letter to Mayor Spencer—The Machine Shop to Start Operations.

On Aug. 19 Mayor Spencer wrote to Superintendent Tait, of the C. P. R., stating that the city had carried out its part of the agreement, and citizens were asking why the buildings and station promised had not been commenced. "We would like to know," concludes the mayor's letter, "if you have made this the chief divisional point as agreed."

Superintendent Tait has replied as follows: "I have your letter of the 17th. Immediately on the execution of the agreement with the city of London our obligation as to making it the chief divisional point between Toronto Junction and the Detroit River was carried out. The machine shop, which we undertook to build, is now practically finished and we are about placing machinery in position. I think if you read the agreement nothing was said about building a station, but I am very glad to be able to tell you that the plans for the new station have been approved, and instructions were given some days ago to proceed with the foundation at once. I hope the building will be pushed on to completion without delay."

DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED.

THAT DREADFUL SCOURGE
CHOLERA

PEOPLE should be very careful what they eat just now. If the food taken into the stomach does not digest it ferments and becomes sour, producing an acid. This decomposes the food (which should be digested), and from that decomposition evolves gases that produce pressure on the nerves, disorganizing the system and producing various symptoms of disease.

BRUNTON'S CURATIVE FLUID purifies the stomach and promotes digestion, thereby creating a healthy current of blood. For sale by all druggists.

THE RUSSIAN OUTRAGE.

Excitement in Victoria, B. C., Over the Seizure of the Sealers—No Official News at Washington.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 2.—The news of the seizure of the sealing schooners by the Russian man-of-war has created unusual excitement here. General action will be taken to bring the seizure to the attention of the Government and to obtain redress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Capt. Shepard, in charge of the Revenue Marine Bureau of the Treasury Department, has not yet received confirmation from any of the revenue cutters in Bering Sea of the reported arrest of the British and American sealers by a Russian man-of-war for illegal sealing in the neighborhood of the seal islands still owned by Russia in the Bering Sea and leased to the Alaska Commercial Company.

The fact of these arrests being made more than three miles from shore is not doubted. The occurrence will have a pointed bearing upon two of the questions to be arbitrated upon, viz.: What exclusive jurisdiction in the sea now known as the Bering Sea, and what exclusive rights in the seal fisheries therein, did Russia assert and exercise prior and up to the time of the cession of Alaska to the United States; and second, how far were these claims of jurisdiction as to the seal fisheries recognized and conceded by Great Britain?

One of the greatest and most common deformities of the day, observes a writer in the Boston Transcript, is one that with a little care and attention can be remedied. It is the round-shouldered or stooping habit. Many of the best natural figures show this tendency to stoop, while in the narrow-chested it is marked to a painful degree. And yet by raising one's self leisurely upon the toes in a perpendicular position several times a day this deformity could be easily rectified. To do this properly one must be in a perfectly upright position, the arms drooping at the side, the heels well together, and the toes forming an angle of 45 degrees. The rise should be made very slowly and from the balls of both feet, and the descent should be accomplished in the same way, without swaying the body out of its perpendicular line. The exercise is not an easy one, but may be accomplished by perseverance and patience. It can be modified, too, by standing first on one leg, then on the other. Inflating and raising the chest at the same time is a part of the exercise, and if persevered in will ultimately show in increased chest measurement, development of lung power and a perfectly straight and erect figure.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrup and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Mrs. Sharpe—We are going to housekeeping right away. I am sick of this boarding house. Mr. Bangs—Did you find a hair in the butter, too? Mrs. Sharpe—No; it was on Herbert's coat collar.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

HURON.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Tyerman, of Seaforth, have met with a sad bereavement in the death of their eldest daughter, Mary Edith. Miss Tyerman was a young lady of nearly 23 years. Typhoid fever, accompanied by inflammation of the brain, is assigned as the cause of death.

Miss Francis E. Steele, eldest daughter of Rev. H. D. Steele, of Kirkton, formerly of Goderich township, has received the unanimous appointment from the Board of Missions as lady teacher in connection with one of the Church of England missions in the Northwest Territories. A very sudden death occurred at the residence of Mr. McClur, of con. 14, McKillop, on Wednesday. Mr. McClur's son James, a young man of 27 years of age, was out in the orchard picking apples. He came in and sat down on the doorstep beside his father and had an apple in his hand and was eating it and talking to his father at the same time. While thus engaged he gave a cough, as if a piece of apple had stuck in his throat, and, clapping his hand to his breast, fell over on his side. Mr. McClur at once raised him up, but he was dead.

The outlook for plums in the Goderich district this season is very poor.

A little son of Samuel Zebbs, Fletcher, got his leg badly cut a day or two since by falling against the knives of a binder.

LAMBTON.

The weather bureau has decided to reorganize the storm signal service at Sarnia, and Mr. Dyble has been instructed to take down the mast at present standing in rear of the Montreal telegraph office, and to erect a new one on the waterworks wharf, from which the signals will hereafter be displayed. The service will be in charge of the harbor master for the port.

Frank LaFortune, in Sarnia jail on a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed at Port Huron, will be extradited. Sheriff Bernatz has the necessary papers signed by Governor Winans, but the Sarnia officials are unable to turn the prisoner over to him until the proper documents are received from Ottawa. LaFortune is wanted for giving false evidence in the case of Henry Rose, a Port Huron grocer, against the Indian doctor, Tolitson. The doctor ran a large bill at Rose's grocery, using a pass book. Rose sued him for the amount, when the Indian doctor produced the book showing a credit of the amount. Rose denied ever writing the credit in the book or receiving the money, but the doctor brought LaFortune into court to swear that he was present when the amount was paid. Evidence has since been obtained that both the doctor and LaFortune swore falsely. The officers are looking after Tolitson.

On Thursday evening, while Miss Minnie Brown, daughter of Mr. Wm. Brown, west ward, was returning home from the residence of Wm. Cochram, she passed along the east side of Ontario street till she came to the school house, and in crossing to the sidewalk on the west side of the street stepped into the culvert and sustained some severe bruises and had two of her ribs broken. Calling for help, Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane came to her assistance and conveyed her home. It is an ugly hole where she fell, and it is a wonder she was not more seriously injured.

MUST BE A SEPARATION.

Judge Bourdeau, chairman of the special committee appointed to define the bearing of the new Ontario law upon the working of the beneficiary department, reported that the committee found that the Supreme Council simply could not possibly operate the Ontario beneficiaries. A separation was an absolute necessity. Under the Ontario Act the work could be carried on in the other Provinces either by the Supreme Council or the Canadian Grand Council.

At the evening session the question of separate jurisdiction was again taken up.

Mr. Thomas Coffey, of London, presented the following report bearing on the subject from the Committee on Laws:

"Whereas recent legislation in Ontario has affected the interests of the members of this Grand Council in their respective provinces, be it therefore

"Resolved that a committee be appointed by this convention to act in concert with the representatives to the Supreme Council to interview the Supreme Council at its next meeting in Montreal, and urge upon that body the necessity of granting us a separate beneficiary jurisdiction.

"Resolved also that immediate, steps be taken to obtain from our Dominion Parliament an act of incorporation for this Grand Council authorizing the same to do business in all the Provinces, and that this committee be composed of the brothers who were appointed to report on the effect of the present legislation on our association, together with the president and secretary of this Grand Council for the time being, and that this committee is hereby authorized to procure an act of incorporation for this purpose, and to make and prepare such alterations in our constitutions and bylaws to meet the present circumstances.

Mr. M. P. Hackett, of Rock Island, and Judge Landry, of New Brunswick, spoke in support of the report, which was adopted.

The committee named in the report consists of Judge Rouleau, of Calgary; Judge Landry, of New Brunswick; Judge Rioux, of Sherbrooke, and Messrs. Latchford (Ottawa), Coffee (Guelph), Carleton (St. John, N.B.), Dowdall (Almonte), O'Mara (Peterboro), and the president and secretary. The night session was a busy one and lasted till a late hour.

The Chicoutimi Election Muddle.

QUEBEC, Sept. 1.—The result of the Chicoutimi election will not be disclosed before the end of next week. The returning officer, Mr. Grosselin, is evidently embarrassed and cannot explain satisfactorily why the seat should be taken from Mr. Savard by the vote of Pointe aux Esquimaux, given without regular proclamation, without a deputy returning officer regularly named, and without a ballot box, without ballots and without an official list of voters.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

ANOTHER

Remarkable Case.

Mrs. Hartry, of Newmarket, Doomed To Be a Cripple for Life, Cured by a Simple Method.

She says:

Last December I was attacked with pain and inflammation in the cords and veins of one hand and arm. I suffered intensely, and especially nights. I grew worse and worse in spite of all I had done for me. The joints became "chalky' and bones in my hand and wrist misplaced. I lost all power of one hand and arm, and could do nothing for six months. I had to be waited upon at the table like a child. General debility followed, with insomnia and nervousness. My friends at last were convinced I would be a cripple for life. A lady in Toronto advised me to try the Histogenetic system of treatment. I consulted Dr. Rear, corner Yonge and Gerrard, who commenced treating me at once. The first application of medicine helped me, and I continued steadily to improve. I only took one and a half month's medicine and had only two or three consultations, and by June 20 was nearly well. I commenced the treatment near the middle of May. I am grateful to the Histogenetic Medicine Association, for their simple, energetic and effectual remedies. I can use my hand as formerly, and it looks natural again. I will answer inquiries. Truly, MRS. HARTRY.

Newmarket, June 20, 1892.

Mrs. Hartry called on us yesterday I asked her, "Do you ever give it any treatment now?"

"Yes, plenty of work," she said: "that agrees with it best." W. REAR, M.D.

We cure these also:

If you have nervous debility, consumption, paralysis, epilepsy, rheumatism, dropsy, heart disease, kidney disease, liver complaint, dyspepsia, catarrh, blood diseases, female weakness, Histogenetic Medicines WILL POSITIVELY CURE YOU, if cure is possible. If not, your case will be refused treatment. We charge no fees. Free books, free examination. Just the actual cost of the medicine supplied. Experienced physicians prescribe for you free. Remember, all chronic and acute diseases treated, and you have only the medicine to pay for. Question sheets sent to outside patients, who are treated successfully at their homes. Will you believe the statements of your neighbors? Do you wish to get well? Try once more. If this fails all else will, for it is the latest and greatest achievement of medical science. Address

Best Advertising!

After all it must be admitted the goods sold by the advertiser is his successful advertisement. We find the candid expression of those who buy our clothing to others of their satisfaction with it do more for us than any self praise we can possibly bestow. Yet it is necessary when so many are clamoring for trade and using such enticing devices to take in the unthoughtful for us to show what advantages the manufacturer CAN and DOES give in QUALITIES and VALUES. For remember the manufacturers who stamp with their own name the goods they make and sell directly to the consumer certainly MUST give BEST values and surely dare not offer anything but the most reliable in quality. We put particular stress on these two points, because they are the vantage ground we occupy above all others.

Bearing these two points in mind, you will see what we offer you at this season in genuine bargains.

CHOLERA'S APPROACH.

Should cholera get a foothold in Canada either this fall or early next summer, as many medical men fear, it will have to be met like any other emergency in life, cheerfully and pluckily. No good can be served, and much harm may be done, by getting into a condition of nervous excitement over the prospect, no matter how dark it might be. The fearful, excitable person is really the more liable to become a victim for the contagion, as was well illustrated in Hamilton when last cholera raged there. A newspaper reporter, generally a level-headed fellow, wrote much and agitated strongly about the plague before it reached the place. When it finally broke out, he was in such a state of nervous prostration that he readily fell a victim, and was one of the first to die.

London is in much better shape to cope with an epidemic of this kind than when cholera last visited these parts. Then we had no waterworks; now we have the purest and best water supply in Canada. Then we had no sewers; now we are supplied with main sewers that can readily be flushed and kept comparatively clean. But there is yet work to be done. The Board of Health, supported by the City Council, should see that every inch of the city is kept clean. It should, as the ADVERTISER has already urged, arrange for effective and frequent clearance of garbage from the dwellings of the people. That will do good in any case. Let the work be begun, and begun now. It will be too late if cholera comes this way before it is set about.

Mr. O. K. FRASER, of Brockville, brother of Hon. C. F. Fraser, has been appointed president of the C. M. B. A. Those who know the new president say he will make an energetic official. Mr. S. R. Brown, of this city, has been re-elected secretary. Than him no more efficient officer could have been chosen.

AFTER GLADSTONE?

Foolish Conservative editors are again speculating on what may happen if Gladstone dies soon or becomes disabled for Parliamentary leadership. They argue that the removal of the Grand Old Man would smash the British Liberal party beyond hope of mending. This is unadulterated nonsense. Principles are greater than parties. Men may come and go; they have their day, and are not; but the principles that they represent remain. We were told that when Beaconsfield died there was no hope for the Conservative party, just as we are now assured that Gladstone is the Liberal party, and that when he lays off the harness it will go to the wall. The Conservative party survived the loss of even so great a master of statecraft as Benjamin Disraeli, and so the Liberal party may be expected to go forward to its mission, strong in the assurance that it is battling for the right, even though its greatest general has fallen by the way. They take a very narrow view of the aims and objects of the great Liberal party who look for ruin to it when Gladstone stands aside. He will be missed without a doubt. His stimulating energy and never-failing hopefulness and determination will be gone, but the spirit by which he was actuated will still nerve the men who have loyally served under him in the warfare against class laws and unfair discriminations. To say that ruin will annihilate a body so equipped because an honored leader has fallen by the way would be to assert that great principles can be destroyed by the loss of their chief exponent.

GOVERNORS.

The people of New Zealand are making substantial progress towards a realization of the democratic aspirations of all freemen. At present, as in Canada, the Governor of the colony is nominated by the party in power in Great Britain. He may or may not be a man acceptable to the people who have to pay his salary and supply him with a palace in which to live; they have to provide for him, whether he is good, bad or indifferent. Sir George Grey, a veteran colonial statesman, is determined that this anomaly shall cease. He recently asked the House of Representatives to pass a resolution stipulating that future governors should be appointed by the vote of the people. The motion was rejected by a majority of one, and it is believed that when it again comes up it will be carried.

If in New Zealand, why not in Canada? The Governor-General, we are informed, is a purely ornamental officer, whose chief duty is to give parties to capital society at Rideau Hall and to lead in the salmon-catching competitions for which Canada has become famous. We have dozens of eminent Canadians who are capable of performing these duties with ability and dispatch. Why should they not be eligible for nomination?

Our idea is that no office for which the Canadian people foots the bills is too good for Canadians. Can anyone gainsay that view?

THE cablegrams have much to say these days about outbreaks of "cholera" and of "cholerine." There is a difference between the two. Cholera is infectious. Cholerine is not. Cholera in any city threatens all parts of the earth that may be in close relations with it. Cholerine is due to special local conditions, and is not a menace to anybody outside the region of its outbreak.

THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, has been one of the hardest workers in public life. Suffering from a rheumatic affection which has compelled him to lay aside his active duties for a few months, and to seek health in change of air and partial relaxation, he has drawn forth from political friends and foes sincere sympathy and earnest hopes that he will speedily be restored to health. Mr. Ross is a Middlesex man, who has raised himself from the plow to the chair of Cabinet Minister by his indomitable industry and perseverance. His ability as an administrator and as a public speaker are acknowledged on all hands. It is needless to say that his colleagues in the Ontario Ministry have been most anxious to ease his burdens while he is under the weather. By a temporary rearrangement of his work, the honorable gentleman will be able to enjoy a well-earned holiday. He expects, however, that while absent from official duty opportunity will be presented to him to obtain information and experience that will be of much value in the future management of the Department of Education. Mr. Ross has hosts of friends in the West and throughout Canada who will rejoice to welcome him back to his duties at an early date in restored health and renewed spirits.

PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY PRESIDENCY.

The Ontario Cabinet held a meeting on Wednesday, and it was believed that an appointment had been made for the vacant presidency of the Provincial University, but Premier Mowat informed a reporter that the vacancy is not yet filled. In all probability it will be filled before the end of the month, as the new president must needs begin his work soon. A western educationist and a graduate of the university champions the selection of Prof. Loudon as a successor to the late Sir Daniel Wilson. He says: "There is no doubt that if the Government appoint to that position a Canadian educationist of the commanding administrative ability which Prof. Loudon is known to possess it will meet with the hearty approval of the country. The great requirement of the university at present is an able administrative head. With the great development of education throughout the Province our Provincial University has had a period of development with which its financial resources have not kept pace and to which they are now very inadequate to make the best use of the resources which it possesses and to enable the university to meet the educational demands now made upon it, requires not only executive ability but a thorough knowledge of our educational system, our affiliated colleges and the history, the growth and the resources of the university itself, which no stranger, however brilliant or eminent in letters, can possibly possess. In Prof. Loudon it is confidently believed the university will find a man possessing the practical knowledge and administrative ability without which the university cannot be expected to satisfactorily perform with its limited resources the fast increasing duties laid upon it."

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

The September number of Jenness Miller Illustrated Monthly is quite up to its usual standard of excellence. The words and music of a charming song, "The Lullaby Sung Me by Mother," forms a prominent feature. The words are by Foster Coates, and the music by Stephen Massett. Mrs. Jenness Miller has an instructive article on "How to Become a Picture in Your Clothes." There are sketches and portraits of two famous foreigners, the Empress of Germany and Jean Ingelow. Mabel Jenness writes of "Art in Repose and Motion;" Mrs. M. E. W. Sherwood tells of "Social Difficulties and Successes;" Prof. Henry Drummond discusses books, and a dozen other well known writers have timely and instructive articles. Price $1 a year, 10 cents a copy, of all news agents. Jenness Miller Company, 114 Fifth avenue, New York city.

During the times of George I. and II. of England, the wedding ring, though placed upon the usual finger at the time of marriage, was sometimes worn on the thumb, in which position it is often seen on the portraits of the titled ladies in those days. It is now absolutely necessary to use a ring at the English marriage service. The placing of the ring on the book is a remnant of the ancient custom of blessing the ring by sprinkling holy water in the form of a cross. This is still done by the Roman Catholic priest. The Puritans attempted the abolition of the ring. The Quakers don't use a ring at the service; because of its heathenish origin but many wear them afterwards. The Swiss Protestants do not use a ring either at the service or afterwards.

DECADENCE OF THE UMBRELLA.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The Mississippi courts have solemnly decided that an umbrella held over the head of a man who is drinking at a public bar in that State is a screen within the meaning of the law and therefore unlawful. It is strange that such a decision should be necessary. It would not be in Kentucky. No barkeeper in that State would for a moment permit a customer to cast such a slur on the quality of his wares as would be implied in raising an umbrella while drinking.

Our English Letter.

The Queen's Treatment of the New Ministers Criticised.

Chatty Description of the Liberal Rulers of Britain.

The Great Fire at a Famous Swiss Mountain Resort.

[From the ADVERTISER Special Correspondent]
LONDON, Aug. 19, 1892.

Long before you receive this letter, which I am writing from Brighton—the queen of watering places—near London, you will have learned by telegram that Grindelwald has been utterly destroyed by fire; and the effects of about 1,500 tourists have been burned. This little Swiss mountain village is unusually crowded just now, because of what some irreverently call "The Pious Picnic," more properly the church re-union conference or conferences, most cleverly and successfully arranged by the Rev. Dr. Lunn (Wesleyan). The headquarters for accommodation is the Bar Hotel, near which is the chalet occupied by Dr. Lunn and his family. The fire originated yesterday afternoon in the Bar Hotel, and, fanned by a wild wind, rapidly spread to Dr. Lunn's chalet, to the railway station, to the postoffice, the telegraph office, and in a word, swept through and destroyed the romantic village known so well to those who have visited the Bernese Oberland. Fortunately no lives were lost. The famous Wesleyan evangelist—Hugh Price Hughes—was there when the fire broke out. He had fire enough in him to set a whole kingdom on a blaze, but this was a different kind of fire. His is the fire of enthusiasm; this was the fire of devastation. And I have no doubt that, when we receive full particulars, we shall learn that he has been amongst the sufferers. So probably was Percy Bunting (editor of Contemporary Review), Dr. Glover, famous Baptist minister of Bristol, Dr. Mackennal, R. F. Horton, Canon Fremantle, etc. Many tourists there will be placed in circumstances of great inconvenience by this terrible fire. Luggageless and homeless, and in some cases perhaps moneyless, they will have to depend on prompt and generous arrangements which will, with sad unexpectedness, tax the marvelous administrative abilities of even Dr. Lunn. Fortunately Interlaken is close by with its numerous and spacious hotels which will easily accommodate the extra inrush of visitors. A few years ago we spent some time very pleasantly at Lanterbrunnen, Grindelwald and Interlaken, making Ritschard's Hotel at Interlaken our headquarters. This hotel is greatly patronized by the Dutch nobility. You can easily understand that it suited our aristocratic tastes to associate with barons and baronesses in the magnificent drawing-room there. Had we not been already much married we might have sought an alliance in high life.

Well, to recur to home news, the Tory Ministry has gone out and the Liberal Ministry has gone in. The Queen was at Osborne, Isle of Wight. Notwithstanding the grave crisis in Governmental affairs, she left Windsor Castle and took up her abode for a week or two at Osborne. Therefore the outgoing and the incoming Ministers of State had to go, on a very stormy day, to make the transference of authority to guide the affairs of the nation—the Tory Ministers to deliver up the seals of office and say "Good-bye," and the Liberal Ministers to receive them and to kiss hands. So we keep up the old formalities, even at great inconvenience. It was well that the Queen had not gone to Balmoral, or the inconvenience would have been greater still. I understand she goes to Scotland next week. So far as I can learn, her Majesty strictly carries out her own personal and domestic programme, and recognizes nothing so exceptional as to induce her to alter her pre-arranged plans. The fate of Governments may be in the scales, but the will of the sovereign takes precedence of all other considerations.

"Men may come, and men may go,
But I go on for ever."

It is well that we are such a loyal people, otherwise we should not tamely submit. Moreover the present occupant of the throne is a lady, and John Bull has sufficient politeness (though he does not often get credit for it) not to utter a revolutionary growl. But if the Pince of Wales were on the throne, the case would be different. Grave and general dissatisfaction would resent inconvenience such as we now meekly bear. Yesterday the Parliament assembled, only to receive the writs for the re-election of the members of the Cabinet—Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Asquith, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, Sir W. V. Harcourt, Mr. John Morley, Sir G. Trevelyan, Mr. Mundella, Mr. Henry Fowler, Mr. Arnold Morley, Mr. Acland, Mr. Bryce and Mr. Shaw Lefevre—whose acceptance of office in the new Liberal Administration, necessitates a fresh appeal to their constituents. In my judgment, this procedure is as unjustifiable as it is inexpedient. From all that I can learn the re-election of these gentlemen will be practically unopposed, except in the case of honest John Morley of Newcastle-on-Tyne. The Tories there are very strong, and a certain section of the Labor party is dissatisfied with Mr. Morley because he will not concede all their imperious demands, and they threaten through Mr. Keir Hardie, a restless Democrat, to oppose his re-election with all their might. If they carry out their threat by combining with the Tories, they may oust John Morley, who is one of the best friends the workingmen have ever had. This is, out of spite, slaying the goose who lays the golden eggs. In the Liberal Club there is some uneasiness felt lest the newly-nominated Secretary for Ireland should be ousted. The Orangemen of the North of Ireland will use all the influence they can with the workingmen of the North of England to inflict this humiliation upon him and this blow upon the Gladstone Administration, for Mr. Morley is not a favorite with the Orangemen. What a pity it is that the Labor party allow themselves to become slaves to extremist leaders, who advise them to vote for a Tory, who would concede none of their claims, rather than for a Liberal who will support nine out of ten of their proposals. Simply and only because he declines their tenth demand, they will have nothing to do with him. If they cannot get the whole loaf they will not accept three-fourths of one. Where is the common sense in such refusal. The Liberals are and always were the best friends of the masses. To weaken the hands of Gladstone by introducing confusion into the Liberal ranks, through riding hobbies to death, is bad strategy. It is worse, it is suicidal.

The new Government is considered a strong one. Mr. Gladstone does not follow Lord Salisbury's example by combining the Premiership with the Foreign Secretaryship—ordinarily a very impolitic union of offices. Some other office is usually held in connection with that of head of the Government, for it is a fact not generally known that there is no salary attached to the position of Prime Minister. And it is not every great statesman can render such high service to the country without remuneration. Lord Salisbury could have done so without inconvenience, yet he took also the office of Foreign Secretary with £5,000 per annum, the same sum which Mr. Gladstone will have as First Lord of the Treasury. Lord Herschell is universally esteemed, and will make a far better Lord Chancellor than Lord Halsbury. Ten thousand pounds a year is his emolument. The Earl of Kimberley is Secretary for India, with £5,000 a year, to be paid out of the revenues of India, against which latter arrangement a protest has already arisen, and it will grow. As President of the Council, to which £2,000 is usually attached, he will receive nothing. Some financial rearrangement may perhaps be made to the effect that this £5,000 shall be paid thus: £3,000 out of Indian revenue and £2,000 from the English exchequer. This would remove obvious objections to the present proposal. The Earl of Rosebery has accepted the position of Foreign Secretary (with £5,000 a year). He hesitated much and long. He is very popular in England and on the continent. It was felt that he would continue the Salisbury policy in foreign affairs. It was suspected that Gladstone did not approve in some points; hence Lord Rosebery's demur. Considerable pressure was used to overcome his scruples, as it was universally felt that without him the Gladstone administration would be essentially weak in a very important department. The pressure was successful; but I should not be at all surprised, if Lord Rosebery's occupancy of the office were only temporary; that he has yielded, to tide over a temporary difficulty, but that as soon as he can prudently retire, he will do so. We shall see. Secret negotiations are not prematurely revealed. The Marquis of Ripon (a staunch Liberal and a very able administrator) becomes Colonial Secretary (with £5,000 a year). He is a Catholic. Mr. Asquith (a rising young lawyer, who moved the amendment which overthrew the Salisbury Government) is appointed Home Secretary (with £5,000 a year). Mr. Campbell-Bannerman is Secretary for War (with £5,000 a year). Earl Spencer, the "Red Earl," formerly Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, takes the position of First Lord of the Admiralty (£4,500 per annum). The redoubtable Sir W. V. Harcourt, one of the strongest men in the Government, and the likeliest successor to Mr. Gladstone as Liberal leader, is Chancellor of the Exchequer (with £5,000 a year.) John Morley, if re-elected, is Secretary for Ireland (with £4,425); Sir G. Trevelyan (nephew of the late Lord Macaulay, the great historian of England) is appointed Secretary for Scotland (£2,000 a year); Mr. Mundella is President of the Board of Trade (£2,000); Mr. Henry Fowler, a Wesleyan, and the only Noncomformist in the Cabinet, is President of the Local Government Board (£2,000); Mr. Arnold Morley, son of the late Samuel Morley, is Postmaster-General (£2,500); Mr. Acland, an able man, is Vice-President of the Committee of Council on Education (£2,000); Mr. Bryce, greatly respected on both sides of the Atlantic, is appointed Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster (£2,000), a sinecure; and Mr. Shaw Lefevre is our First Commissioner of Works (£2,000). He has charge of the royal parks, pleasure grounds and public buildings. Lord Aberdeen was generally expected to have been Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland. But failing him, Lord Brassey was supposed to be "the coming man." But Lord Aberdeen is reserved for the Governor Generalship of a great Dominion you know so well that I need not specify it. Lord Brassey's health is so poor that he declined to undertake the responsibility of so onerous a post; and finally, Lord Houghton, a widower, has been appointed. This carries with it £20,000 a year. His sister, it is expected, will do the honors on all occasions of public ceremony or hospitality. But the Lord-Lieutenant is not a member of the Cabinet. He is the figure-head in the government of Ireland; the Chief Secretary is really administrator of Irish affairs. Others I may mention, though they are not in the Cabinet, are Sir Charles Russell—a Catholic—who is to be our Attorney-General; Mr. McArthur—a Wesleyan—one of the Junior Lords of the Treasury; Mr. Gladstone's son Herbert, Under Secretary for the Home Department; Sydney Buxton, Under Secretary for the Colonies; Sir Walker Foster, Secretary to the Local Government Board, etc.

I must close, or I shall miss this post.

Last But Not Least.

Annual Picnic of the Irish Benevolent Society.

A Grand Wind-Up to the Port Stanley Seaon.

Thousands Patroniz his Famous Outing—The Usual od Time — Prize-Winners in the letic Events, Dances and Jigs—Thommitteemen.

"Last but least."

It's a h eyed expression, but it applies fit the annual picnic of the Irish Benevo Society yesterday. It was the grand d-up of the Port Stanley season, and t verdant village will now settle down r a long nap, until awakened next su r by the rush of merry picnickers f he north.

e Irishmen's picnic was held later this r, but that made no difference. Such is fame that people would go in January if e date was so fixed. It has an individuality all its own; its reputation as the provider of a "good time" excels all others. And such luck! Was the weather ever known to go back on the Irishmen's picnic? Those that were up with the lark and saw the gloomy skies and the drizzling rain and felt the cold, damp atmosphere surely thought that Jupiter Pluvius was in bad humor for once. But the clouds rolled by and the sun shone bright and clear, making it a perfect September day, a transformation that seemed in special honor of the occasion. The immense popularity of the I. B. S. outing was evinced by the patronage accorded it at a time when the season's outings are usually at an end. No less than six long trains filled to overflowing left for the Port between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.—a material decrease in the city's population for the time being. And though the picnickers were of every nationality—they readily consented to become Irish for the day. The Seventh Battalion Band went along and gave concerts on the Heights and on the steamer Joe Milton, which did a rushing business.

The following committeemen deserve all praise for the efficient manner in which they arranged details and managed affairs: John D. Pocock (president), John M. Daly (secretary), Messrs. E. Meredith, W. P. Regan, J. B. Vining, John Lewis, T. H. Smallman, K. J. Tobin, N. P. Graydon, T. Collins, M. F. O'Meara, P. Mulkern, Philip Cook, Dr. W. J. Mitchell, J. L. Fitzgerald, B. C. McCann and Ald. O'Meara.

THE BANQUET.

The first number on the official programme was a dinner at the Fraser House. A jolly company of officers and guests sat down to a well-spread table, President John W. Pocock in the chair, with United States Consul Dr. Leonard, President R. Reid, of St. Andrew's Society, and M. C. Casey, M. P., of Elgin, at his right, and Secretary J. M. Daly, President W. Skinner of St. George's Society, and others at his left. The fact that the banquet lasted too hours or more was not due so much to extraordinary appetites as to the rare entertainment afforded by the orators and vocalists of the occasion. Such a merry time was spent that the participants were loth to break it up.

Dr. Leonard said grace, and after dinner Secretary Daly read letters of regret from Bishop O'Connor, W. R. Meredith, J. B. Cox (secretary St. George's) and others. President Pocock opened the toast list with "Our Queen and Country." The band played and the company sang the National Anthem. Mr. Casey, M.P., made a speech. "Our country," he said, was a comprehensive term, and covered many nationalities. Though an Irishman, with Irish sympathies and prejudices, he felt that the country of the rose had been winning fresh laurels among the nations of the earth. He thought the English people had recently shown themselves ready to give weight to all claims of the Irish nationality. (Cheers.) When the Irish politicians wanted someone to adjust their difficulties, to whom did they look? They looked to Canada, to a Canadian sprung from Irish stock. (Cheers.) If there was any improvement to be made upon an Irishman it was to have him born in Canada. (Cheers.)

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers" was replied to by Dr. Mitchell and D. C. Macdonald. Mr. Macdonald said he was a regular old stager; he had fought, bled and died for his country. (Laughter.) He was a resurrectionist. As an ex-mayor of London, he knew what good the Irish Benevolent Society had done for the poor.

Mr. C. W. Davis sang "The Shamrock of Ireland" in his usual good voice.

The toast of "St. George's and St. Andrew's Societies" was coupled with the names of Messrs. W. Skinner and R. Reid, the respective presidents. Mr. Skinner said Providence seemed to smile on the Irishmen as regarded the weather. He was an Englishman to the backbone, but he believed all Canadians should serve the interests of their adopted country irrespective of nationality. He could add his testimony to the noble work done by these benevolent societies.

Mr. Reid was glad too meet so many of his fellow-citizens of Irish birth and extraction. He could not see how a man born in England, Scotland or Ireland could be a good Canadian without loving the country of his birth. (Cheers.) Mr. Reid was in excellent trim and made an admirable address.

Bert Leys was called upon for a song and gave "The Wild Creeping Flower," and as an encore "Since Casey Runs the Flat." He was loudly applauded.

The toast of "The Emerald Isle" was most enthusiastically drank. Mr. James Egan said there were no more loyal men in the world than Irishmen. Under the flag of England or of the United States or any other country they were always faithful. They were faithful too to the flag of Canada when the opportunity offered at the Fenian raid. (Cheers.)

Mr. N. P. Graydon remarked that as Mr. Egan had covered the sentiment of the toast well, he would not take up their time.

"Our Sister Countries" brought Dr. Leonard to his feet. His mother's father was a full-blooded Irishman and that is what gave him (the speaker) his Irish blood and impetuosity. He would not give a cent for a man who had no vim in him. He was not prejudiced against England, as he had come out of her loins. He loved England and was glad that the sun did not set upon English soil. The day was dawning when the English-speaking nations—English, American, Scotch and Irish—would rule the world. (Cheers.) Ships to-day were carrying English civilization to the remotest part of the globe; they were like John the Baptist carrying the message of the Messiah, harbingers of civilization throughout the world.

"The Ladies and the Press" brought a brief response from Mr. W. H. Brasbie, who remarked that he was "loaded" for his subject, but as there were thousands of people outside starving for amusement he would not make a speech, but would favor starting the athletic programme.

Mr. J. Daly sang "Remember Boy, You're Irish," with commendable vim.

"The Forest City" brought short rejoinders from the vice-chairman, Mr. Stephen Grant and Mr. W. Regan. The company then broke up with cheers and adjourned to the race course.

THE ATHLETIC PROGRAMME.

Shortly before 4 p.m. the tones of a dinner bell in the hands J. L. Fitzgerald summoned the crowd to the race track, and soon it was lined with an avenue of spectators. Thanks to efficient management the events were put through with neatness and dispatch. They created lots of fun for the lookers-on, while the judges, to whose lot fell the catching of the leaders in the races at the finish, literally had their hands full—and arms, too, when the ladies were running.

There was some good sprinting in the 100 yards' race. The shoe race was a sort of novelty. The contestants had to run, take off their shoes, throw them in a barrel, and on the return trip seize and put on their pedal attachments before coming back to the scratch. With such a mixture of boots it was hard for a man to recognize his own pair, and it caused a good deal of humorous difficulty. The prizes were in cash—the best inducement that could be offered. Following were the events and winners:

Boys' race, under 10—1 A. Galpin, 2 J. Fitzmaurice, 3 Fred Burns.

Girls' race, under 10—1 Jennie McLeod, 2 Annie Durkin, 3 Annie Howe.

Girls' race, under 15—1 Maggie Hurson, 2 Agnes Hosie, 3 Lizzie Hurson.

Jockey race, boys under 16—1 Alf. Galpin and George Burns, 2 Tom May and Charlie Burns, 3 Wm. Phillips and Fred Burns.

Three-legged race—1 Connors and Gibbons, 2 Carroll and Breen, 3 Maxwell and Wanless.

Men's race, over 50—1 Wm. Burroughs, 2 Mike Ward, 3 Richard Rawlings.

Ladies' race, open—1 Mrs. Burroughs, 2 Mrs. O'Leary.

Young ladies' race—1 Maggie Hurson, 2 Agnes Hosie, 3 Wittie Toser.

100 yards, open—1 Ben. Young, 2 J. Gillett, 3 John Connors.

Jockey race, free for all—1 A. Johnson and W. Bennett, 2 Anderson and Young, 3 Tierney and Avey.

Shoe race—1 R. Maxwell, 2 M. Tierney, 3 W. Bennett.

The judges were Dr. Mitchell, W. H. Brasbie and W. Regan. J. L. Fitzgerald and B. C. McCann were the starters, and John Lewis kept the track clear by the aid of his imposing stature, thick cane and authoritative voice.

Perhaps the most amusing part of the programmee was the dancing, especially that of the jig variety. The jiggers jigged away to the music of the violin on an elevated platform, around which hundreds congregated and craned their necks to get a glimpse of the flying feet. In the Irish jig for ladies six of the fair sex entered, and so gracefully executed and uniformly excellent were their performances that the judges could discern no superiority in one or the other. So each of the ladies was given a prize. The awards were:

Irish jig, ladies—Mrs. O'Connor (St. Thomas), Mary Quinn, Mrs. O'Hearn, Mrs. Gilligan, Mrs. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Cartledge (London), all equal.

Irish jig, gentlemen—Morkin 1, W. O'Hearn 2, Thomas May 3.

Sailors' horpipe—W. Galbraith 1, Thomas May 2.

Highland fling—Thomas May 1, Wm. Galbraith 2.

The judges were W. H. Brasbie, P. Mulkern, W. H. Duffield and W. Brophy.

All afternoon and evening the dancing shed was thronged, and happy couples trod the floor incessantly. Prizes were given for the best lady waltzers and were won by Miss Scahill, Miss Johnson and Miss Jamieson in the order named.

No picnic would be complete without a baby show and many fond mothers dandled their little darlings before the judges' eyes. Mrs. Brennan, Mrs. Simms and Mrs. Briggs were pronounced to have the finest babies, and were awarded first, second and third money respectively. Judges: W. Howie, Dr. Fred Guest and W. Regan.

James Bake and R. Hills won the quoiting match.

It required half a dozen trains to carry home the patrons of the picnic, the last delegation arriving shortly before midnight.

And now, good-bye to picnics until the roses bloom again next June.

WORK AND WAGES.

Spain Driving Discontented Cigar-makers Out of Cuba Into Florida—Strikers Force Rhinelander, Wis., Mills to Close.

HAVAAA, Sept. 2.—An exodus from this city of 16,000 cigar-makers is treatened. The manufacturers are in despair because of the increased taxation, which leaves them little or no margin for profits. A Florida land company has been offering such inducements for the removal of factories from Cuba to Tampa and Ybor City that there is little doubt of many accepting. A majority of the employes are in sympathy with the revolutionary movement, and would be glad of the chance to unite with the clubs whose headquarters are at Ybor City. The Board of the Cigar Manufacturers' Union have held a meeting and decided to suggest to the cigar manufacturers that they re-open their factories that were closed as a protest against the new tariff imposed on them.

MILLS SHUT DOWN.

RHINELANDER, Wis., Sept. 2.—The workmen in the sawmills here went on strike several days ago. A mob of 500 of them yesterday marched to the mills and forced those at work to quit. There are now 1,200 men idle, 60 per cent. of whom would return to work could they do so peaceably. The sheriff and his deputies have made no effort to control the mob, as the effort would be useless. The mills cannot run until the difficulty is adjusted or protection given to the crews which want to work. No troops have been called for, but unless they are, it will mean a shut-down for some time.

GEORGE VANDERBILT RAISED THEIR PAY.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 2.—The strike of stone-cutters on George Vanderbilt's mansion has been settled, the demands of the men for more pay being granted. This was done only after Mr. Vanderbilt's agents had telegraphed to various cities and failed to secure workmen to take places of strikers, who are union men. Fifteen of the strikers left for Chicago before the demands were granted.

NOTES.

Grand Master E. P. Morse, of the Telegrapher's Union, left Chicago for Kansas City Wednesday night, to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge. It is rumored here that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the advisibility of a strike during the latter part of this month, or early in October.

Quarrymen at the Flint Granite Company's Works at Monzon, Mass., who were locked out several months ago and refused to accept the terms offered by the Manufacturers' Association, have acknowledged themselves beaten and applied individually for their old places.

In consequence of the inability to agree upon a sliding scale of wages with the steel workers in South Wales, the employers have given notice that at the end of the month they will end all contracts with the men and thenceforth make daily contracts.

A powerful combine known as the Leaf Tobacco Company has been formed at Louisville, Ky., with a capital of $2,500,000.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT.

The Port Stanley Harbor To Be Deepened—The Dredge Arrives.

The people of Port Stanley are tickled. Last night the Government dredge "Ontario" arrived from the west, and to-morrow will start work on the harbor, for which $5,000 has been appropriated. Kettle Creek, from the mouth as far up as expedient, will be deepened and made thoroughly navigable for large boots. It is an improvement badly needed and long delayed. Operations will last all fall.

Mr. Blake gratefully acknowledges the honor tendered him, but desires that there shall be no friction or rivalry between the club and the National League, or any other organization. He suggests, therefore, that, if possible, arrangements be made for a combined function, or, at least, that an understanding be arrived at between the two societies.

Mr. Blake will reach Toronto about the 15th inst.

Labor Day--Half Holiday.

Next Monday will be Labor Day in this city and the mayor has issued a proclamation declaring a half holiday in consequence. In order to give the employes of this office an opportunity to participate in the procession and demonstration, the evening edition of the ADVERTISER will be printed in the morning and delivered to agents and subscribers early in the day.

All advertisements, business notices and changes should be handed in not later than Saturday evening to be sure of insertion.

THE DOMINION PREMIER.

Premier Abbott is now at his county house, St. Anne, Que. He gained flesh while down the St. Lawrence, but he asserts that he is still far from well. To a correspondent, he yesterday said: "My health is fairly good, but I do not seem to recover from my weakness, or regain my capacity for mental work. My general health has benefited by the ten days' trip down the gulf, but I do not think that my capacity for mental or sedentary work has at all improved. The least discussion, or even ordinary conversation, for any length of time not only fatigues me, but produces extreme weakness."

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—This is the season of the year
When every maid most fair,
To get some tan upon her face,
No toil or pain will spare.
And yet before Thanksgiving time
She'll stay awake at night,
If there is tan upon her face,
To try to get it white.

—Mr. J. F. Lister, M. P., was in the city to-day en route for home.

—Mrs. James McSween has returned from a visit to her early home in Leamington.

—There will be no band concert this evening. The last of the season will be given next week.

—Hamilton and London districts of the Y. M. C. A., will unite in holding the fall conference at St. Thomas.

—The mission year of the Methodist Church is drawing to a close. The General Board of Missions will meet at Ottawa on the last Tuesday of the present month.

—Sir Henry Tyler, General Manager Seargeant and several other gentlemen connected with the Grand Trunk system started from Montreal for the west yesterday in the official car.

—The eminent necromancer, Herrmann, will open the Grand Opera House season Monday evening next. No doubt he will be greeted by a large audience. Mr. Fred L. Evans will make his debut as leader of the orchestra. He has a fine programme ready.

—Mr. P. T. O'Neil, news agent, has been promoted, and his genial manner and obliging ways will be much missed from the run between Toronto and London. After the Toronto Fair he goes on the G. T. R. between Toronto and Montreal, and has moved his family to Toronto. May success attend him.—[Guelph Mercury.

—A horse owned and driven by J. A. Depotie, grocer, Egerton street, ran away on Dundas street this morning in front of Queen's Park. Mr. Depotie was thrown out and received a painful kick in the leg and a sprained finger. A man who was riding with him had his wrist sprained.

—Mr. J. A. Richardson, of Toronto, Canadian passenger agent of the Wabash Railroad, was in the city to-day. This favorite road intends running a cheap excursion to Chicago next month at the opening of the World's Fair. The rate has been put at such a low figure—$8 for return ticket from London—that everyone can go.

—Mr. John M. Denton, of this city, is an experienced entomologist. He has made a searching examination of the horn-fly which has injured cattle so much in recent months, and he asserts that the eggs are deposited upon manure and hatched into footless maggots. This contradicts the report that the flies bore into the horn and deposit eggs, which hatch out maggots that consume the substance of the horns.

—Sergt.-Major Baxter, late of the Fourth Royal Dragoon Guards, and who has recently been appointed drill instructor of the London Collegiate Institute, by resolution of the London Board, arrived in the city yesterday to study the system of school drill here. He sought out Capt. Clark, who gave him an insight into the system instituted here, and which has won so much commendation for Capt. Clark all over the Province that all the leading schools are adopting it.—[Guelph Mercury.

—The many friends of Mr. S. H. Clark, of Toronto, the talented elocutionist so well and favorably known in London, will learn with regret that he has determined to leave Canada and take up his abode in the United States, in consequence of having accepted the important appointment of professor of elocution in the new University of Chicago. Mr. Clarke will make a farewell tour of the Province from Sept. 17 to Nov. 1. Mr. Clark's experience as a teacher of elocution and his well-known love of literature will fit him to fill with credit the post which it has been his good fortune to secure.

—The Buffalo Enquirer says of two artists well known here: "Agnes Thomson, the talented soprano and J. F. Thomson the no less artistic baritone are again in the city en route to Minneapolis and St. Paul. They take the steamer Idaho next Tuesday and after enjoying the beautiful lake trip proceed to the twin cities to fill their first important engagement of the season of 1892-93. They are to be the principal attraction in a series of four concerts there and a brilliant success will no doubt await them."

—Here's a note or two for salmon trout anglers: In the spring months salmon trout are found comparatively near the top of the water, and they feed from sunrise until sunset. In June they begin to sink lower, as the surface water rises in temperature, and one may expect his best luck from early morning until noon. In July, August and early September the species goes much deeper, and must be fished for near the bottom. From then to the end of the season these fish are capricious and are caught at all depths and at all hours.

Local Legal.

At Osgoode Hall Thursday, the case of Toothe vs. Johnston was one of judgment on appeal by the defendant Kittridge from the report of the local master at London. The appeal was allowed, and the report was referred back to the master to be varied by allowing the claim of the appellant. The costs of the appeal are to be paid by the plaintiff, and the plaintiff to give credit to the defendant Johnston for the amount of such costs. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., for the appellant. Gibbons, Q.C., for the plaintiff.

Lost.

A little lad about 6 or 7 years of age lost himself on the corner of Central avenue and William street to-day noon. He could not tell his name or where he lived, and was brought to the police station. He says his first name is Willie and that his father makes shoes somewhere in the city. He attends some big school but does not know which one it is or what his teacher's name is. The boy is dressed in buttoned shoes, black stockings, light gray trousers, dark gray coat, white collar with dark spots, dark red tie and a small round cap.

At the Police Court.

The case of Henry Marshall, charged with obstructing a police constable in the discharge of his duty, by endeavoring to rescue his pet canine from the clutches of the dog-catcher, was dismissed by the police magistrate this morning.

R. B. Walker, charged with obstructing the sidewalk in front of his store, was found guilty and sentence was suspended.

Elizabeth Jones and Minnie Brown, two young girls arrested at the Sulphur Springs on a charge of vagrancy, were bailed to appear next Thursday. A home will be obtained for them in the country.

The case of Frank Tilbury, charged with allowing his horse to run at large, was dismissed.

Three drunks were discharged.

CHOLERA.

EXPLANATION FROM SARNIA.

SARNIA, Sept. 2.—The report to the effect that a car on the morning Buffalo express was detained here yesterday morning because of several cases of sickness on board is untrue. The fact is that the car containing the immigrants was held merely for the usual inspection. On account of the extra precautions taken by the railway people the car and contents were fumigated, after which it was allowed to proceed on its journey. There were no cases of sickness whatever on board of the car.

EXCITED PASSENGERS.

NEW YORK (Quarantine), Sept. 2.—The steamer City of Berlin arrived this morning with 203 first-class, 232 second cabin, and 658 steerage passengers. The passengers aboard had not heard of the arrival of cholera in England or at New York and were very much excited over the news.

The City of Berlin has 40 Russian steerage passengers. The cabin passengers will be landed this afternoon. The City of Rome is due to-morrow with a number of English reporters and Pete Jackson, who are on their way to witness the Sullivan-Corbett fight. Owing to quarantine regulations they will likely be "left."

THE WHEEL.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 2.—Jack Prince, of Omaha, beat the world's quarter mile bicycle record here yesterday. Time 30¼.

Two Sisters Drowned.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—A lamentable drowning accident occurred in the city last evening, when two sisters, Agnes and Lilian Morse, aged respectively 21 and 14 years, lost their lives in the Rideau canal. They went out in their brother's canoe about 7:30, and half an hour later it was reported that they were drowned. How this accident occurred no one seems to know. Andy Jones and Teddy Dey who own boat liveries in the vicinity, got the grappling irons and brought the bodies to the surface but life was extinct. The elder sister was engaged to be married two weeks hence.

am Graeme, of Mossgray.

By Mrs. Oliphant.

"I didna say there was," said Miss Inches; "is onybody we ken to be there, Robert?"

Robert smiled again. His sister had come to understand the particular meaning of his smile.

"I fancy Miss Maxwell of Mossgray will be there," he said with a blush as he turned to his sermon.

Miss Inches applied herself to her shirt with another little supressed sigh. She understood very well what was meant by Miss Maxwell of Moray; and Miss Inches by no means disliked Helen; but the great question whether she would be sufficiently careful of Rob when advanced to the dignity of Rob's wife was hard and difficult to solve. Miss Inches shook her head as she went on with her work. On Monday—the crisis might come on Monday.

Monday when it came was bright with the sunshine, and fragrant with all the sweet sounds and odors of May. On the preceding day had been the half-yearly Occasion, the Communion Sabbath of Kirkmay, and the Monday's services were of thanksgiving, according to the reverent usage of Scotland. Mr. Wright of Fairholm was the officiating minister, and preached a chaotic ponderous sermon, which, according to the judgment of the Kirkmay elders, had "guid bits in it—very guid bits;" but was naething like the minister's." The minister was very much beloved in his parish; they rather prided themselves, these simple people, on the possession of a man who wrote books—even though the books were but sixpenny, and read his small biographies with a kind regard. The one gentle weakness of one character came out as an excellence in their eyes, and there were few in Kirkmay who did not boast of "the minister."

After dinner, while the gentlemen were still down-stairs, Mrs. Whyte, with her lady guests, was pleasantly occupied by the comfortable drawing-room, which, though it was by no means so fine, did yet, Miss Inches did not fail to perceive, look a very much more habitable place than the corresponding room in the Manse of Fendie. Mr. Whyte dabbled a little in all the gentler sciences—flowers which his wife cultivated, because she cultivated everything beautiful which was within her reach, the good minister classified, and talked of with erudition; specimens of fine seaweed, and delicate mosses, and fossils not very rare, and shells picked up on the margin of the firth, received his universal liking, and his only elementary knowledge of the kindred philosophies of nature. He was not very learned in these various departments; he only marveled over the wondrous mechanism of everything which came from his Master's hand, and cherished them all tenderly for their Maker's sake.

The ladies—Mrs. Gray, Lilias, and Helen were the only lay persons present—were very comfortably gathered into groups in the drawing-room discussing the notable things of their own district; the church, their several families. The small company was by no means dull, especially as Mrs. Whyte's children, the little boy and girl about whom their frank mother had said there could not be two opinions, were, with all their might, entertaining the guests.

The room was rather an oddly shaped room; it had a curious angled corner, with a window in it, which Mrs. Whyte chose as her summer seat, and playfully called her boudoir. The work-table which stood in it was scarcely clear of its ordinary lumber even now; there were traces that the minister's wife had been sitting there this morning, singing over her household work the low-voiced songs of a pure mind, happily at ease. Lilias Maxwell had strayed alone into Mrs. Whyte's chair by the window. She was very pale, and as she looked out upon the verdant country, and the firth and the hills far away, her fingers came slowly toward each other and were painfully clasped as was their wont. It was drawing near again—that day which might change the current of her life.

As she sat there Helen Buchanan approached quietly; the pale, sad, absorbed face touched her to the heart.

"You are very sad, Lilias," said Helen, as she stood screening her friend from the other occupants of the room, "but you will not tell me why; will you let me say anything—do anything for you?"

"Yes, Helen." Lilias rested her head silently upon her companion's shoulder, and closed her eyes. It was a relief to her; her heart was sick—she could not speak of it, but here in silent confidence she could lean for a moment the weight of her trouble. "I have heard nothing; I have had no word this long, long, weary time—and the day is coming near again. To-morrow—after to-morrow will be the day."

There was nothing more said, for the sickness rose up blank over the heart of Lilias, and the tears were in Helen's eyes; but the drooping head of the Lily of Mossgray, over-charged with heavy rain, leaned on the friend's breast, and was comforted. She remembered the moment long after, and so did Helen. More than mere words—more than much bewailing together of a sorrow more openly confessed, did that silent confidence bind them together.

The conversation going on in the room was not in the least abstract; local and individual were all the subjects under discussion, and the talk about them might have been called gossip. It certainly was of the genus if not of the species to which that unpopular name is given. In a "countryside," and above all in a little town, metropolis of a country-side, where each family has a certain connection with all, conversation, unless galvanically kept up in the region of books, must glide into this channel; and the clerical character which this little company of ladies possessed, as strongly marked as their husbands below, increased the necessity. Having satisfactorily dismissed the children of the respective manses, and ascertained who had had whooping-cough, and which it was who had come so easily through the measles, the respective parish over which she presided was the next grand object before the mind of the clerical lady. Its successes, its adversities, its sins, its great people and its small; and each parish lady was interested in her neighbor's dominions.

Now it happened that this chapter of backsliding was a peculiarly sad and melancholy one; revealing under the healthful rural air and sweet fresh sunshine, a moral atmosphere, dense, unwholesome, and heavy. While one listened to what those lamenting people said, one's arcadian visions of rural purity sorrowfully vanished. Follies of youth, the world said; alas! not follies, but sins, dark, far-spreading, unregarded; and public had even ceased in the peasantry to brand them with the unutterable disgrace which is their fate in others. Young girls heard of those vices—heard them lightly spoken of by older lips—grow callous—and saw the sinner scarcely disgraced at all; it was a great evil, shadowing the souls of many as with a low, spreading, and dreary tree, between them and the sun.

"Could nothing be done," whispered Helen in Mrs. Whyte's ear, as, trembling with shame and pain, she had listened to some story of the fallen, "you who have influence—who may dare interfere in such matters; could the air not be purified in some way—could nothing be done?"

"My dear," said Mrs. Gray, "it is nothing but human nature; we cannot mend it; what can we do?"

"We cannot mend it," said Helen in her low, vehement voice; "but we can strive, endeavor, fight—do anything, anything to change such a state of things. It is our work in the world; the other things are only by the way; this is our work—what we were born for. To put away all obstructions, to let in everywhere, the light of heaven. If we feel that, this evil could not be—surely it could not be."

"Ah, so, Helen," said the kind Mrs. Whyte; "we, in our position, might do much more than we are doing; but at least, we feel these evils bitterly—you believe that."

Helen did not answer; she wanted that experience of the maturer mind which could perceive the difference between an exceptional and an ordinary case, and refrain from sweeping judgment. The shock of pain with which she was always with her, a spur to endeavor something against it; but while others lacked zeal, she lacked power. She could not cast herself into the crusading ranks and assail the powers of darkness as she thought to do; but the impulse of warfare was strong upon her—she could not rest.

"Ah, dear," said Mrs. Gray, "you do not know it as you will know the misery of this wicked world, and how vain it is striving against it; every day I live I see it more and more."

"Yet to be pure," said Helen, with her cheek heated and her eye kindling. "It is to be filled with the knowledge of Him—it is to be made fit for his reign. I do not know—no one living may see that day—but I think sometimes that if we believed that, we could have no doubt, no fear. We should look to the great hope which lies upon the world like sunshine, and not the misery which runs every day. It is to be pure—God is pledged to us that it shall be so; but our arms are not; and we use them not—our days pass and we do nothing; yet we are to labor for it—it is so ordained—and it is to be pure!"

Helen's eyes suddenly fell, her head drooped; the gentlemen, some of them, had already strayed upstairs, and close beside her stood the Reverend Robert listening with ostentatious attention.

(To be Continued.)

FACTS AND FICTION.

The man who never tells his wife anything of business affairs is the first to make this property to her when he fails.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

Mrs. Terwilliger—They are advertising buildings at 50 cents a week. Do you think they are intended for women investors? Terwilliger—No, my dear, if they were you'd see them marked at 49 cents.

Baby Was Sick.

Dear Sirs,—My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and everything we tried failed. But on trying Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry I found it gave prompt relief and very soon cured him completely.

JOHN CLARK, Bloomfield, Ont.

"I can understand why all the rest of my teeth should ache just because one of them has to be a little sore." "O, the others are in a sympathetic strike, I suppose."

Diarrhea and Vomiting.

Gentlemen,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhea and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhea stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

In a late issue of the Churchman there appeared an advertisement from "A Western Priest," setting forth that he was out of employment and wanted a job. He undertook to keep a congregation awake on the hottest day.

Among pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

The Physiological Institute of Berlin has bought a complete edition of the 20,000 instantaneous photographs of men and animals in motion prepared by Mr. Edward Muybridge of the University of Pennsylvania.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

The average young woman will soon cease climbing mountains, sailing 40-footers, racing yachts and killing horses. She will return to the city, and may be known by the fact that she requires three maids to take care of her.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Fair Bathing.—Clara Slimson (at the sea shore)—I think I shall put on my bathing suit in my room to-day, mamma, and go down to the beach in it. Mrs. Slimson—Well, you had better put on your waterproof, for it looks like rain.

FIGHTING THE COAL COMBINE.

Gov. Abbett Sees No Necessity for an Extra Session of the Legislature.

TRENTON, Sept. 1.—There is a rumor in this city that Gov. Abbett intends to call an extra session of the Legislature to take steps in regard to the coal combine. The Governor was interviewed. He had been in consultation with the Attorney-General, but at present saw no necessity for a special session. A State official to-day said, in speaking of the coal combine:

"Suppose they put up the price of coal, or suppose the Chancellor's order is ignored, what other remedy has the State but through the Legislature?"

Attorney-General Stockton is now busy drawing an information against the Lehigh Valley, in which he will ask for an injunction similar to the one now in force against the Central.

Longest Drive on Record.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 1.—A party of four wealthy citizens of Winnipeg have left this city with the intention of making the longest drive on record. Their destination is Jacksonville, Fla., a distance of 2,500 miles. After spending the winter in Florida the party will, early in the summer, drive from Jacksonville to Chicago, and, after taking in the World's Fair, begin the return drive to Winnipeg.

Queer Yarn from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Rev. M. M. Parkhurst has charged Mrs. Bertha Brinkman, who lives in a cottage adjoining his at Lake Bluff, with hypnotizing and abducting Katherine, his 14-year-old daughter. The two families were on friendly terms, and last Friday the girl left her home with Mrs. Brinkman. On her failure to return Dr. Parkhurst called on Mrs. Brinkman, who denied that she had abducted the girl, and said Katherine had started for Chicago, of which Lake Bluff is a suburb. The girl was found on the road near by in a dazed condition, being unable to recognize her parents or her home, and was taken to the cottage, where physicians say she may die.

A girl in her first season, says the philosopher, is good to look at; in her second is good to dance with; in her third is good to talk to.

"My dear," said Mr. Bunker to his wife, "what became of that box of cigars you gave me on my birthday?" "It is upstairs." "Well, get it, please. Jimmie wants to smoke, and I think we can give him all he wants in about three seconds."

TO FURTHER RECIPROCITY.

International Convention of Large Importance to the West.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1.—The international non-political reciprocity convention in Grand Forks promises to be the most important gathering from a commercial standpoint held in the west in years. The subjects to be discussed are the extension of trade relations between Canada and the United States, the Northwest, navigation of the great lakes and a deep water channel from Lake Superior to the seaboard.

Among those who will address the convention are Hon. Thomas Greenway, Premier of Manitoba; Gov. Merriam, of Minnesota; Gov. Burke, of North Dakota; Hon. James W. Washington and Congressman D. W. Wood, of Ohio, the first Congressman to introduce a bill with reciprocity as its object.

GRAND FORKS, S.D., Sept. 1.—The convention was called this morning with 300 delegates in their seats. Geo. B. Clifford, president of the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, delivered the address of welcome. The convention is a representative body of business men.

More care should be used in the purchase of flavoring extracts, and consumers should demand good quality rather than quantity. If this were done, fewer complaints about the nasty taste of cakes, puddings and sauce would be heard of at home. Many of the low-grade compounds sold are little less than poisonous. You are sure to get pure flavoring extracts by using "Pure Gold" extracts—warranted pure. f

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—John Rowell, a London West hotelkeeper, pleaded guilty to a charge of breach of the Liquor License Act and was fined $20 and costs.

—The customs duties collected at the port of London for the month of August amounted to $58,665 63, against $55,401 48 in August, 1891; increase this year, $3,264 15.

—Mrs. C. J. Cater, who has been seriously ill at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Collinson, Detroit, has sufficiently recovered to return to her home in this city, accompanied by her daughter May.

—Miss Mary Kerr, who has been an operator in the Bell Telephone office in this city for a number of years, was yesterday presented with a marble clock and a silver fruit dish by her fellow-employes, on the eve of her departure for another sphere. Miss Kerr was a great favorite, both with the other operators and with those to whom she has frequently said "hello."

—A joyous party gathered at the residence of John McColl, G. T. R. engineer, Waterloo street, on Wednesday night. The occasion was the marriage of his daughter, Janet McColl, to Geo. R. Gauld, assistant superintendent Mimico Industrial School. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Clark, of Dundas, the groomsmen being Mr. Harrison, of Toronto, and John McColl, grocer, of St. Thomas, brother of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Kate McColl, Hamilton, and Miss Kate McColl, of this city, cousin and sister of the bride respectively. The happy couple left for Rochester and New York to spend their honeymoon.

—A meeting of the Western Ontario Bible Society was held in the depository yesterday, Rev. Dr. Sanderson in the chair. After the reading of the Scriptures, Dr. Antliff led in prayer. Rev. W. Godwin was elected secretary. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary Orme and confirmed, after which the regular business was introduced. Resolutions were unanimously passed confirming the previous nominations of the board of directors, electing Mr. John Cameron to the position of honorary secretary and Mr. C. A. Somerville to the position of treasurer; also that Col. R. Lewis be elected as member of the general committee.

An M. P. in Trouble.

A. W. Ross, a former Middlesex man and latterly a Winnipeg boomster, had a warm reception recently in Vancouver. The Victoria Colonist says: "Mr. A. W. Ross, M. P. for Lisgar, Manitoba, paid Vancouver a quiet visit on Saturday last, his presence in the city not being generally known. Mr. Ross was, two years ago, a member of the firm of Ceperly & Ross, real estate. In that capacity he contracted many debts, leaving the city with property in his wife's name and his debts unpaid. Dr. Powell, of Victoria, hearing of Lisgar's representative being in the city, through the clever exertions of his solicitor, John Campbell, had him arrested as an absconding debtor and placed in charge of the sheriff of Westminster. On Tuesday, in the evening, Mr. Ross gave security to cover the debt, $400, and left Vancouver by the next train."

To Keep the Pupils Warm.

A meeting of No. 2 Committee of the Board of Education last evening was attended by Messrs. Cook (chairman), Dewar, McElheran, Tanton, Turner, Craig, D. W. Blackwell and Love. A letter was read from Trustee Jeffery, who was unable to be present, referring to the price of property required to the east of Talbot street school. It was resolved to postpone the consideration of the matter until Mr. Jeffery was present. The question as to whether the Bolton hot water system or the Smead-Dowd system of heating and ventilating Princess avenue school should be adopted was then taken up. After considerable discussion Mr. Craig moved that the Bolton system be adopted and Mr. Love moved in amendment that the Smead-Dowd system be adopted. The engineer reported that the extra cost in connection with the Smead-Dowd system would be $1,235, and extra cost in connection with the Bolton system would be $394. The original motion was carried by a vote of 4 to 3. Ald. Gartshore in reference to the heating and ventilating of Maple avenue school made an offer to the committee to put in furnaces and shafts for that purpose for $800 and on motion of Mr. Craig the offer was recommended to the board for acceptance. Mr. Dewar moved that tenders also be asked from the Pease Company, Stevely, McClary & Co. and others, as to the heating and ventilating of Rectory street school, brick shafts being excluded and galvanized iron ventilating shafts being used, tenders to be sent in before the next meeting of the board, shafts not to be less than 26 inches in diameter. Carried. The committee then adjourned.

AN OLD GAME

Successfully Played by a Good-Looking Woman on Montreal Brokers.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—A remarkably clever robbery was committed here about 2 o'clock this afternoon. A well-dressed, fair complexioned woman, about 35 years of age, drove up to the door of Nichols & Marler, brokers, Notre Dame street. She pretended she could not get out of the rig and attracted the attention of the clerk by a waiving in her hand a lot of American bills and money exchanges. Out ran the clerk to attend to her, and the fine-looking woman said she wanted information as to percentage charged for changing American bills into Canadian currency. She kept the clerk talking to her for five minutes and finally drove rapidly away, saying she would return in a few minutes. When the clerk got back into the office he was horrified to find that thieves had been there and practically cleaned out the place. It is said between $5,000 and $10,000 in money and bonds have been stolen.

Police Station Repairs Deferred for Another Year.

The Drinking Fountains Will Go Up at Once—Appropriations for Wards 2 and 3 Overdrawn—Balance of $895 91 Still on Hand.

At a meeting of the Board of Works held last evening the city engineer recommended that the police station be painted, outside and inside, and that the interior be overhauled generally, including cells. He also recommended that the method of heating be changed. At present the building is warmed by eight stoves.

Ald. Jones thought that the present state of affairs might be allowed to continue for another year, and moved that the matter be left over until next summer.

Mr. Graydon explained that new cells would have to be erected as there was no ventilation.

Ald. O'Meara—Well, let them keep out of them, instead of making the place too comfortable. I would not mind going in and eating up some of the taxes I pay if the place was comfortable. It's just like putting on a clean shirt.

Mayor Spencer—And yet you put on the clean shirt sometimes.

Mr. Graydon explained that the prisoners picked up the stoves in the cells and threw them down on the floor again. There was a big hole burned in one place.

Mayor Spencer—Hot water is what they want.

Ald. O'Meara—Give them a little hot whisky. That's what they want.

No action was taken on the proposed alterations in the police station.

Fred W. Saunders and eleven other residents of Cartwright street called the attention of the committee to the "wretched condition" of that street between Princess and Central avenues. It had recently been graded, and the petitioners asked that the road be suitably graveled. The matter was referred to the member for the ward and the engineer.

The engineer stated that the drinking fountains were now ready, and asked for instructions as to where they were to be placed. After some discussion it was decided to have them put up at once.

The engineer reported as follows regarding the amount of money expended in the different wards during this year:

Ward—	Estimate.	Expenditure.	Balance.
No. 1	$5,810	$5,790 96	$19 04
No. 2	6,800	6,829 46	Overdrawn. 29 46
No. 3	6,808	7,370 16	Overdrawn. 43[illegible] 84
No. 4	6,875	6,081 01	693 99
No. 5	6,940	6,535 82	404 18
No. 6	5,500	5,254 00	246 00
Totals	$38,733	$37,861 41	$895 91

The balance of $895 91 will be kept for snow-plowing and unforeseen expenses, and will be credited to the account of No. 2 Committee.

The report of the medical health officer on the drain on Maple and Florence streets was read and filed.

Accounts and the paysheet of $332 69 were passed and the committee adjourned. There were present: Ald. Fitzgerald (chairman), O'Meara, Shaw and Jones, the city engineer, street commissioner and Secretary Bell.

RESCUED FROM THE FLAMES.

Firemen Drag Twelve Girls from a Burning Hotel.

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 2.—Policeman Theodore Delacroix saw a sheet of flame shooting from the roof of the rear of the Stamford House early in the morning, and, though the fire department responded promptly to the alarm, before the first stream of water was turned on the rear of the hotel was one immense flame. The policeman rushed into the hotel and succeeded in arousing the 60 guests. Though the smoke was suffocating they were all got out safely.

It was more difficult to arouse the twelve girls who slept in the rear. The firemen battered in the windows and groped their way through the blinding smoke at imminent risk of being overcome, until every girl had been aroused and conducted from the building without injury.
