speed. It was evident the admiral was pursuing his recent policy of cruising up and down the Cochin China coast, possibly awaiting Nebogatoff at the head of the Red Sea squadron. It is believed the mystery surrounding Togo's movements is confining the Russians to their short beat up and down the coast. The Japanese admiral has not shown his hand in any particular. It is not even known where cular. It is not even known where kamamura's cruiser squadron is, although there is a growing impression it is almost within striking distance of Rojestvensky, and that kamamura awaits only opportunity for a dash at the Russians and a rapid retirement after as much damage as possible to the weaker vessels of Rojestvensky's fleet. That Vice-Admiral Togo has fleet. That Vice-Admiral Togo has massed a strong force at Formosa to co-operate with Kamamura is the most widely accepted opinion as to his pres-ent disposition.

Managers Authorized to :Make Certain Much Needed Improvements at

Busy Session of the Board-Some Salaries Under Consideration-School Discipline

Although the Public School Board did not sit for a lengthy period last evening, the Trustees transacted considerable business. Certain muchneeded improvements in connection with the McKeough and Central schools will be gone on with under the direction of the managers and matters concerning salaries and school discipline will be looked into by the committees in charge thereof.

Chairman W. N. Morley and all the Trustees except Mr. Drader, who was unavoidably absent, were present, also Inspector Park and Principal Plewes, of the Central school. The Finance committee reported recommending the payment of the usual accounts, embracing salaries and incidentals, divided as follows: Central school $823,23 and McKeough school $711,76. The report was adopted. The water account, $60, was

Dr. McKeough pointed out that the motion was establishing a dangerous precedent but did not feel like opposing it as he was sure the visit would to our schools good.

The notion carried.

Mr. Robertson reported that difficulty was being experienced with the roof draining of the Central school and asked that the managers be empowered to attend to the matter. The authority was granted.

Dr. McKeough for McKeough school reported leaks in the roof there. Mr. Paxton bad examined the circumstances and had made an estimate of the cost of the necessary improvements. It would be in the neighborhood of $266.40.

Mr. McArthur moved that the managers be empowered to deal with the matter with Messrs. Paxton and Robertson. Mr. Lenfestey seconded and the motion carried.

Mr. Heyward reported that the kindergartens were now very much over-crowded. He asked the Inspector to address the Board on the matter.

It was finally decided to refer the matter to the Kindergarten committee, who will investigate.

Chairman Morley reported in connection with the matter of a school trouble referred to the Inspector and himself that they had found the facts of the case had been greatly exaggerated and that the matter had been settled amicably to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. Mearthur drew attention to a matter of discipline and regulation, in which one of the schools, he said, was somewhat delinquent. He thought the Board abould in a formal manner communicate its disapproval and allow no further transgressions, as it might otherwise place the school in an embarrassing position.

Chairman Morley said that the Inspector and himself had communicated the instructions of the Board and he had no doubt they were being acted upon.

Mr. McArthur said he learned that this was not the case. The regulation was still being transgressed to a certain extent. It one school could observe it successfully, so could the Inspector Park said the understanding had been clear and emphatic. Some objections had been raised, but he had said that these could not be considered.

The Chairman asked the Inspector to visit the school at his earliest convenience and request that the wish of the Board be carried out.

The Inspector's report of attendance was read and adopted.

The new atien bill which Premier Balfour is seeking to have passed by the present parliament provides that no landing of aliens is to be permitted except at ports where an inspector is stationed, and only with his consent afer a medical inspection, The following may be refused admission: Insane persons, those suffering from disease, convicts or persons who have been sentenced for an extraditable crime not of a political nature, persons likely to become a charge on the ratepayers, and persons unable to satisfy the inspector or his superiors that they are in a position to obtain means to keep themselves decently. Evidently Premier Balfour recognizes that it is a condition not a theory that confronts Great Britain,

INVADING THE AMERICAN MARKET

A Canadian Shoe Concern is Creating Considerable Excitement in the States

Messrs. Trudell & Tobey, the fortunate local shoe merchants who have the agency for the famous Slater shoe, inform us of an interesting feature of Slater shoe enterprise

"The American newspapers are publishing articles commenting on the invasion of the States by the Slater invasion of the States by the Slater Shoe Company," he says. "They seem to think it is something remarkable that a Canadian shoe should excell the best American makes in style and workmanship, and be able to secure the best trade, "I do not see anything remarkable about that. The Slater shoe has undoubtedly beaten the world. Why shouldn't it? Is there anything peculiar about the stimulating climate of Canada that would preclude the possibility of a Canadian shoemaking establishment outdoing our Southern neighbors?

canadian shoemaking establishment outdoing our Southern neighbors?

"On the contrary, they argue in the States that the further North one goes the better the fish, the cereals, the meal and the man becomes. They say the North whipped the South because it was the North, Erastus Wiman, the great New York er whose writings were known the world over, said the brains of the world were in the North. And when you look at the map, Canada's shoeproducing city—Montreal—is not further North than the shoe producing centers of New England, from which, by the way, the Slater Company gets one of its most expert superintendents, a man who has worked years in one of New England's biggest factories, and comes to Canada because he finds Montreal beating the United States in shoemaking.

"For styles the Slater Company goes straight to New York, and, importing the latest lasts of the the swellest custom shoemakers, improves upon them with its imported American stylemaker, a man who hasn't an equal as a shoe designer or maker on either side of the water, same as the general superintendent of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, who comes from the flour trust of the States, and is in charge of the great Ogilvie mills in Montreal and Winnipeg, where they make flour that is driving American flour out of all foreign markets, and which, like Slater shoes, has been the subject of extensive comment in American newspapers on account of its superiority to American flour."

"Yes, sir," said the Slater shoe merchant, as he closed the interview to wait on a tustomer, "Canada is going to show the States a thing or two in shoemaking as well as grain-raising, nation building and railroad construction."

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and sait rheum—all demanda remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure. to afford immediate relief, the cer-tainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the

Learn Dressmaking in Two Weeks

Wanted! Ladies to learn dress and mantle cutting in two weeks. Why spend from 6 to 9 months learning dressmaking in a shop, and then not know anything about cutting, when I can teach you everything from measuring to finish in the making of ladies' and children's garments in two weeks? I have taught over 500 girls in this way, and offer $25 to any one who, after having taken a course with me, can show me an article in dressmaking they can't cut, fit and put together, not only the lining, but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, waists, wrappers, sleeves, in fact everything in dressmaking, and you may rest assured it is reliable, for you don't pay unless you are perfectly satisfied you know all. Charge for full course is now only $10, including one of the which I give free.

I will teach in Chatham from May 18th to May 29th. Hours from 8.30 to 5.

All wishing to learn, or for full Wanted! Ladies to learn dress

MUSHROOM CAVES

An Extensive and Profitable Industry of Underground Paris-But There Is Perfect Cleanliness.

Mushrooms are grown in large quantities in Paris. They extend some miles under the city and are from 20 to 160 feet beneath the surface. It is difficult to obtain permission to visit them, and even when the permission is obtained it requires considerable courage to avail one's self of the privilege.

courage to avail one's self of the privilege.

The only entrance to the caves is a hole like a well, out of which a long pole projects. Through this pole, fastened at the top only, at long intervals, sticks are thrust. This primitive ladder, which swings like a pendulum in the darkness below, is the only means of reaching the caves. Disused stone quarries are used for the caves, and the interiors remind one of a rock temple with galleries leading in every direction.

rock temple with galleries leading in every direction.

The industry is at first expensive to cultivators. The most perfect clean-liness must be observed in the beds, which are covered over with silver sand and a whitish clay and run in parallel lines, with only a narrow passage between them.

The manure, collected from the stables of Paris, has, perhaps, to be carried a couple of miles to the quarries. Then it is made into flat heaps near the entrance to the shafts and watered from three to six weeks be-near the entrance to the shafts and watered from three to six weeks before the necessary fermentation takes place. When the manure is sufficiently prepared it is shot down into the caves through one of the convenient shafts.

Next comes the formation of the beds. These are one and a facilities.

Next comes the formation of the beds. These are one and a half feet wide and high, and arranged in rows, this condition having proved to be best adapted to bring the manure to the proper formations processors for best adapted to bring the manure to the proper temperature necessary for the fructification of the fungi. The method of constructing these beds evenly is peculiar. Each workman sits astride his bed, as if on horseback, fills his arms with the manure and presses it down between his legs, thus moving along the bed with the joiting motion of the rider. In this manner the beds are evenly pressed like so many furrows. When the beds attain the proper temperature the spawn is sown.

One of the first requisites of mushone of the first requisites of mushroom culture is fresh air, and the farmer must know just how much oxygen is necessary for the respiration of the fungi. Air holes are bored here and there, beneath which, in many places, coke fines are lit. This jusures the necessary renewal of fresh air.

The Migration of Birds.

The Migration of Birds.

It must have been the birds who set the fashion of going to Palm Beach or Hot Springs in search of summer when the cold weather comes. The distances over which birds migrate are often surprisingly great. The bobolinks, which rear their young on the shores of Lake Winnipeg and go to Cuba and Puerto Rico to spend the winter, twice traverse a distance exceeding twenty-eight hundred miles. The king bird breeds as far north as the fifty-seventh degree of latitude, and is found in the winter in South America. The blennial pligrimages of the little red start exceed three thousand miles. The beautiful little summers America. The biennial pligrimages of the little red start exceed three thousand miles. The beautiful little summer yellow bird which sometimes builds its nest under our chamber windows sends some of its kin as far as the Arotic Ocean, where they arrive the last of May, only ten or fifteen days after the sun has begun to ride continuously above the horizon, and yet they have come all the way from Guatemala, over a distance of thirty-eight hundred miles, leaving members even of their own species to spend the summer among tropical scenes. In a stomach no larger than a pea and an alimentary canal about six inches long, one of these birds will manufacture, from two or three slim caterpillars, a fly, a moth and a spider, its own fuel, and use it with such economy as to transport itself through the air during the whole night at the rate of fifty miles an hour, and at the same time maintain a temperature of 144 darreas Fahrenhalt. same time maintain a temperature 194 degrees Fahrenheit.

Gruesome Dance. The death dance of the Thibetan mystery plays, one of which is per-formed on the last three days of the mystery plays, one of which is performed on the last three days of the year, are called "the ceremony of the sacrificial body of the dead year." The effigy of a man made out of dough, as lifelike as possible and having inside a distinct heart and all the entrails filled with a red fluid, is placed by four cemetery ghouls in sight of the numerous spectators in the centre of the yard, and at once bands of skeleton ghosts rush upon the corpse to attack it. This is the time to display the necromantic power of Lamaism over the evil spirits. Monks and lamas come forth and go through a series of ceramonies, the magic effect of which keeps the fiends away. But a more formidable devil with great horns and possessed of superior powers makes his appearance and takes the field. Whereupon a saint or an incarnation of Buddha himself goes to the rescue, sprays four on the enemy, makes mystic signs and utters incantations. The skeleton ghosts and the big fiend grovel before him and implore mercy. He graciously yields to their supplications and allows them to partake of a sacramental meal. While they kneel before him he gives each one of them a little flour to eat and a drink out of a vessel of holy water.

The Sultan of Morocco.

The Sultan of Morocco.

The Sultan of Morocco.

It is not generally known that all Mohammedans must learn a trade, no matter what their rank, according to the sura, in the Korau, which enjoins, "Teach every man a handicraft so that he will not be a burden to any man."

Abdul Aziz, the Sultan of Morocco, when a boy, was taught the trade of a sadier. The Sultan of Morocco alse delights in billiards and boxing, and may be described as an all-round sportsman. Although he has only one wife, etiquette demands that he should keep an army of lady attendants in his palace, and the Sultan contrives to mitigate the ennul of their existence by providing almost every kind of European toy and invention for their amusement.

THE OLD HOMESTEADS.

THE OLD HOMESTEADS.

It is as natural for us to love the trees, the meadows, the old homesteads, as it is to want food and drink. Our ancestors built well when they erected those old mansions, the walls of which are in many cases as firm and good to-day as they were one hundred and fifty years ago. Our ancestors lived more simple lives than we do at the present day. They lived closer to nature. They lived in the sunshine and out of doors. As a rule they are simple foods and casily digested them. To-day the American people eat fast, eat unwhole-some foods and are shut up in dark and close offices, shops and illy ventilated rooms. Nature provides us with all we need for life if we only can take advantage of the good air, sunshine and eat good fruits and, vegetables. Nature also provides the remedy for ill-health and stomach troubles in its roots, herbs and barks. Some forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief of staff to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., found that certain herbs, roots and barks, when made into a concentral extract, helped in the assimilation of the food and purified the blood. This "Goldera Medical Discovery, of Dr. Pierce makes pure rich blood. Every bottle bears the stamp of public approval.

When the druggist says he has something that is "just as good" as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, he says so because he hopes to make a better profit, but his own mixtures have not stood the test of long experience nor had the success that Dr. Pierce's medicines have had.

Mr. George Gooderham Dead.

Mr. George Gooderham Dead.

Toronto, May 2.—George Gooderham died at 3.15 yesterday afternoon at his residence, 135 St. George street, of acute bronchitis. Mr. Gooderham was born on March 14, 1830, in Scole, Norfolk Ceunty, England, the son of William Gooderham, and came to this country with his father. He married Harriet, daughter of the late Joseph K. Dean, in Toronto, and leaves surviving him, besides his widow, the following children: William G. Geoderham Mrs. T. G. Blackstock, Mrs. D. J. F. THE LAWS OF WAR

They Have Never Been Observed So Scrupulously As They Are Now-War a Scientific Game.

Up till within the memory of people new living civilized nations waged war much as do savage races at this present day. Now, of course, all this is altered. Modern scientific warfare is hedged round with as many rules and regulations as it as modern scientific. regulations as is modern scientific football, and the same penalty is in-curred for foul or unfair play—name-ly, the stern disapprobation of the spectators.

The rules of war were never observed so scrupulously as they are now. Even the slightest hint from one belligerent that its opponent is not observing the rules of war bring the ing the rules of war brings the eyes of the whole civilized world to bear or of the whole civilized world to bear on the alleged offence. Should one belligerent have cause to complain of the behaviour of the other, it makes a formal protest to the neutral nations, provided those nations were signatories at the Feace Convention at The Hague to that rule of war alleged to be broken. Up to the present, however, there have been few complaints during the Russo-Japanese war, and even those have mostly been traced to the independent actions of a few soldiers.

The presence of a sick or wounded soldier in a dwelling-house confers protection upon it, and exempls its other occupants from having troops quartered upon them. Commanders are forbidden to requisition the property of

But to this the representatives of Great Britain would not agree, asserting that the use of the "dum-dum" bullet—against which the clause was obviously aimed—was essential for the safety of civilized troops waging war against savage races, such as British soldiers had frequently to encounter. Neither would Great Britain assent to the clauses prohibiting the dropping of explosives from balloons, and making it unlawful to fire at an enemy proing it unlawful to fire at an enemy pro-jectiles charged with asphyxiating or

This Governess a "Laborer."

Another ludicrous instance of the application of the Australian Federal Immigrants Acts has occurred at Brisbane, says a cable from Sydney, N.S.W. A governess came to Australia from London with Sir Horace Tozer, Agent General for Queensland, and Lady Tozer, under a contract of employment. Accordingly before she landed. Sir Horace provided her with a certificate to the effect that, though a "laborer." she had come only as a visitor, and would leave the country within a specified time.

The lady has since entered into a marriage contract with an Australian gentleman, but being a "prohibited" immigrant, though in every way a desirable colonist, she will have to leave Australia at the end of the period of exemption.

Sir Josiah Symon, the acting-Premier, however declares that the exemption certificate need not have been taken out in this particular case.

BILLY BOYD WAS CONVICTED

The London Jury Yesterday Found Him Guilty of Conspiracy on Fixed Foot Race

Much Local Sympathy for Mrs. Boyd and Boy-To be Sentenced on Friday.

Yesterday, at the London Assizes Wm. Boyd, of this city, the well-known sprinter, was found guilty, along with a confederate named Ste phenson, of conspiracy, by which ex-Ald. Douglass, of London, lost $10,-

Boyd in this, his home town, has many friends, and public sympathy is universally felt for his funfortuwife and popular little son Jim. It is understood that a largely-signed petition will be forwarded to his lordship Judge Meredith, asking for

The London Free Press, in to day's issue, says of the case :-

The jury who sat on the case of Boyd and Stevenson, charged with having conspired to defraud ex-Ald. Hugh M. Douglass out of $10,000 by enticing him to bet on 'a fixed foot race at St. Louis last fall, registered a verdict of "guilty" in 'the Assize court yesterday afternoon. The prisoners will be sentenced later in the

. The case lasted all day, and the big crowd in the court room evinced the keenest interest in the proceedings Crown Attorney Sidney Smith conducted the prosecution, and Thomas Robinette and Edward Meredith acted for Boyd and Stevenson respec-

COVERS THE CASE.

Crown Prosecutor Sidney Smith whose conduct of the case was most thorough, gave a general symposis of the story, after which Hugh M. Donglass, the plaintiff, was placed on the stand.

He told the story which has been heard before in London, how Stevenson had dropped in upon him to buy some cigars, and while he was there Boyd came in. Boyd had a letter, which he read for them. It was from an alleged sprinter in St. Louis, named Maxwell, and the writer wanted to match himself with Boyd for a foot race. In it Maxwell said he expected to be beaten some day and since Boyd had been named as his superior he would like to try Conclusions. He had a club of millionaires behind him ready to back him for any amount.

Boyd put the letter in his pocket and explained that the president of the millionaires' club, a man named Peck, had been sorely bitten in money affairs by some of the juniors in the club and wanted to get even. Boyd suggested that Douglass go and hold the stakes.

Douglass agreed, and at their adwice got a line of credit from his banker. In two hours they were off

GOT TO ST. LOUIS.

They were to pay all expenses, but Douglass found that when he got on the train he had to buy for himself. At St. Louis Stevenson, Douglass and Boyd registered at a hotel, the first two under their right names and Boyd under an assumed one.

There they met President Peck of the "millionaires." Peck was going to put up about $150,000, he said, but before Douglass could hold stakes he must prove himself responsible. Finally Douglass proved that he was good for $10,000 at the bank. The papers for the match were signed and Douglass met Spencer, Wright and Henderson, millionaires, and Maxwell, sprinter.

Douglass was appointed bettor for the Boyd supporters and Teck held stakes. Peck advanced $20,000, and they adjourned to the young mem-their betting in a bandstand.

Numerous side bets were made and Peck suggested that Douglass had better draw $1,000 to carry with him, that he might keep up appearances. Otherwise the other party might suspect that Peck was financing the whole party.

On the advice of Boyd and Stevenson Douglass did so. He was assur-son Douglass did so. He was assur-ed that he would get it all back when the race was over.

BETTING GOES ON. The next day the betting was continued with increased vigor. Big sums passed to and fro. Presently one of the millionaires laid down ten thousand dollars and called for someone to cover it.

Douglass laid down his $1,000 and went to draw more money. He got it.

One to cover it.

Douglass laid down his $1,000 and went to draw more money. He got it, came back, and in a few minutes, to his dismay, found that Stevenson had bet his ten thousand.

Presently someone grabbed Douglass' account sheet and swore there was an error of $2,000 in it. The utmost confusion ensued. Revolvers were drawn and Douglass began to fear for his life. He felt assured that his death was only a matter of seconds. In the next room sat Peck, gasping for air, and gripping the satchel, while someone fanned him. "Run the race now and settle it," whispered someone in Douglass' amzement showed himself, booted and garbed for the event. So the party took a street car and went to the track. Maxwell stripped, and, wearing a loin cloth and a pair of light walking shoes, prepared for the start. Douglass thought he looked more like a hotelkeeper than a champion sprinter.

THEY WERE OFF.

THEY WERE OFF.

One of the millionaires gave the signal and they were off. It was not a good race. Boyd, said the witness, made a big flourish, but very little speed. He ran ahead of Maxwell till he tripped and fell headlong. Maxwell tinished first. Peck rushed forward, and showing Douglass a smooth, round cinder, cried: "Isn't it a shame? There's what threw poor Boyd."

A hubbub followed, and a second race was demanded. It would only

A hubbun tollowed, and a second race was demanded. It would only be given on condition that Douglass would post a forfeit of $20,000, and write a letter saying what an honest and sportsmanlike crowd the millionaires were.

Douglass promised to do so, and took a train for home. The sec event was never run off, nor the forfeit or the letter sent. DOUGLASS CROSS-EXAMINED.

Edward Meredith, counsel for Stevenson, commenced his cross-samination just before the court adjourned for lunch. He elicited the evidence that Stevenson and Douglass had shared profits on a slot machine in Douglass' hotel at Port Stanley; that he had given a man named O'Lett permission to conduct gambling games on his premises, and that his hotel had benefited by the crowdawho came to see a balloon which never went up. The suggestion that he had a reputation in municipal circles as a "grafter," Douglass admitted, when question— Edward Meredith, counsel for Ste-

Douglass admitted, when questioned by Lawyer Meredith, that when the big bet, the $10,000 one, came on, he permitted his $1,000 to be held as security while he went to get the rest of the money.

Mr. Meredith then produced the paper on which the bets had been repaper on which the bets had been recorded. On the paper was the legend "H. M. Douglass, $10,000," and the counter entry was "Spencer, $10,000." Douglass admitted that the handwriting was his own, and there was another bet of $5,000 bearing Douglass' signature right after it. There was still another bet registered on the sheet. The witness admitted the further bets, but said that his signature on the one was a mistake made ture on the one was a mistake made in the confusion of the moment.

Detective McKenna, when called. the evidence were dives, and that no millionaire would be seen around them. The presidents of the clubs named were entirely different men.

Henry Turner, of Port Stanley, appeared for the defence, and said that he had seen Douglass and Boyd in conversation several times before they left for St. Louis. Detective Northgraves gave similar evidence, WANTS MONEY BACK.

Hugh Sharkey, Petrojea, hotelkeeper, also for the defeace, swore that while in conversation with Douglass in December last, he had asked what Douglass was going to do with Stevensor.

"Nothing," replied Douglass, "but I want to get my money back, If I had taken Boyd's advice I would never have left it in St. Louis."

Lawyer Meredith made a powerful address to the jury in which he picked inconsistencies in Douglass' story and maintained that if these things were not to be believed, the whole story might be branded as a lie. It was not likely, he claimed, that a man would enter into such a foolish compact as Douglass spoke of unless he was on the inside.

Mr. Robinette maintained that Douglass, if he was so frightened all the time that he was being duped and so sure that his companions were crooks, could have withdrawn at any time and did not need to come back three miles with his own money for the $70,000. If he had been duped as he said, the St. Louis police could have rectified the matter in a very short time.

Crown Prosecutor Sidney Smith's summary was orderly and pointed 'He showed briefly how the plea for mercy on account of Boyd's family could not be entertained for a mounent. It was the tury's duty to put aside a matter of sentiment, and punish parasites on the community. The evidence had clearly shown that Donglass had gone to bet for Peok upon an athlete whom he considered was capable of winning the match. Donglas had loat his money. There was object in taking a man who knew nothing of foot racing all the way to St. Louis. He would never have been made stakeholder if these men had made no scheme. He had never been taken to any of the clubs with high sounding names, and Detective McKenna had abown that there were no such places in the vicinity.

Kenna had shown that there were no such places in the vicinity.

Judge Meredith's charge was chiefly composed of instructions to the jury as to the nature of there finding, although the tendency was against the prisoners. After some spent in discussion, the jury returned with their verdict. Sentence was withheld for

The King and His Portrait.

The King has turned many leisure moments to good account by sitting for his portrait, and on the testimony of the many artists who have had the honor of limning his features his Majesty is an ideal "sitter." full of patience, and sufficiently interested in the development of the work to give the artist the opportunity of catching his features in a pleasant animation. Last week His Majesty, says a London correspondent, visited two exhibitions, the International in the New Gallery, and on Saturday before going to the football match at Queen's Club he inspected the Watts exhibition at Burlington House. His Majesty has promised to give a sitting this week to Mr. Harold Speed, who is painting his portrait for the Belfast Corporation. As a more content of the second content of the His Majesty has promised to give a sitting this week to Mr. Harold Speed, who is painting his portrait for the Belfast Corporation. As a patron of art His Majesty has commissioned Mr. Cope to paint for him the Gefman Emperor in field marshal's uniform, a setting in which the Kaiser's Imperial bearing will appear to great advantage. Mr. Cope has just finished a portrait of the late Sir William Harcourt, sittings for which were given shortly before Sir William's death. The presence of these portraits will make the forthcoming exhibition at Burlington House one of exceptional interest, although it is to be hoped that the portraits in this year's show will not be quite so disproportionate to the total exhibits as at last year's academy. One of the "show" pictures at the exhibition will undoubtedly be Sir Alma Tadema's "Finding of Moses," and Mr. Herbert Marshall's water colors of London may also be sure of much attention.

Five Men Seriously Hurt-Men in an Ugly Moed.

Ugly Mood.

Chicago. May 2.—Conditions in the teamsters' strike were worse yesterday than at any preceding time. The strikers were in uglier mood. The ricting was more open and vicious, and the attacks on non-union men were more frequent and daring. This was because the Employers' Teaming Association brought 100 men into Chicago to take the place of strikers, and 500 more, it is said, will arrive within twelve hours.

To-day on every wagon of the Employers' Teaming Association that goes through the streets, a rifle will be carried in open view.

When Mayor Dunne was informed of the fact that rifles would be carried by non-union men, he was visibly disturbed, and he declared that the police would not be permitted its authorize the carrying of arms by anyone, whether in the employment of the Employers' Teaming Association or affiliated with the strikers. Chief of Police O'Neili, however, declared that if the employers armed their men the police could not legally interfere as long as the weapons were not concealed.

Paid a Dividend.

Ottawa, May 2.—At yesterday's session of the telephone committe, Dr. Doan of Harrietsville, Middlesex County, explained the operation of a local line in that country. The line is twenty-seven miles in length. Subscribers paid $9 per year. The first four menths paid the company a profit of 4 per cent. per annum. Anyone could talk to any point on the system for 5 minutes for 5 cents. The system did not connect with the Bell. The witness gave a history of negotiations which had taken place between themselves and the Bell company, but nothing had yet been accomplished. The Bell had offered a connection over their system to Ingersoll for a 5 cent rate, but they wanted to make such restrictions in the agreement that his company would not Ingersoll for a 5 cent rate, but they wanted to make such restrictions in the agreement that his company would not accept it. Ownership of Fishing Yacht Established By the Courts.

Brockville, Ont., May 2:—The ewnership of the steam yacht, Eva Belle, has at last been settled, at least for the present. Judge McDonald, in an interpleader issue suit, says she belongs to the Ontario Government, which is now in possession. The Eva Belle was purchased largely by popular subscription among Canadian and American fishermen for the use of James C. Judd, late fishery inspector of the Rideau waters, to assist in the strict enforcement of the fishery laws. The yacht, though maintained by the Government, was registered in Judd's name, W. H. Comstock, getting a verdict against Judd, selzed the yacht. The Government then stepped in and claimed ewnership.

Two Firemen Killed and Five Passengers and Engineers Hurt.

Winnipeg, May 2.—Two trainmen were killed and five pasengers injured, though not seriously, in a head-on collision between westbound transcontinental No. 1 and a freight train, at Downie, B. C., Saturday evening. The dead men are N. Scott and J. Eastwood, firemen on the colliding engines. A tramp was also hurt, and the engineers, but the latter not seriously.

The collision occurred just outside Downle station, about 7.15 p. m., when No. 1 is due there. The point of the accident is about thirty-five miles west of Revelstoke. The possibilities of the collision were offset by the fact that there was some deadhead coaches on the front of the passenger express, which saved the passengers in the rear, who suffered only bruises. The firemen died from their injuries white in the hospital. The damage to the engines, which were locked together, was serious, and the wreck was so distributed on the track that it was sixteen hours before the rails could be cleared.

Passengers injured slightly are: Hen-

Gardiner, the young man arrested at Lancaster, denied ever seeing or talking with the deceased, although two other witnesses were positive they had seen them together. Gardiner's story went to show that for the past 13 years or so he has been a wanderer by sea and land. Tully, the man who was being looked for, turned up yesterday from a farm, where he has been staying for a week.

An interesting development yesterday was the discovery that the revolver left behind by the burglars had been snapped a dozen times or so in an effort to fire it. The cartridges, which were a trifle small for the cylinder, had marks to show that each of them had been tried twice.

Wouldn't Let Him Speak at Dublin, Ireland, on Sunday.

London, May 2.—(C. A. P.)—There was great excitement in Tuam Saturday, as three hundred Royal Irish constabulary had been drafted into the town to prevent Charles Devlin, M. P. for Galway, from addressing two meetings, which had been proclaimed by Dublin Castle. The police called at Devlin's hotel and wished to read the preclamation, but Devlin declined to receive them.

Sunday Devlin and Higgins attempted to hold a meeting at Garrow Keel, but on arriving at that place found the road blocked by a cordon of police. Higgins attempted to break through and was roughly handled by the police. Devlin asked would he be allowed to pass, but was refused permission. Finally Devlin advised the people to rettre to Dummore, where a meeting was held without interference.

BIG OCEAN BREAKWATER.

Phia Government Is Building One 8,500 Feet Long. San Pedro, Cal., is about a hundred miles north of the Mexican boundary and a few miles south of Los Angeles.

When California had to have a new harbor somewhere a board of government engineers in 1897 decided that San Pedro had the best natural advan-San Pedro had the best natural advantages for constructing one. The result of their work shows that a harbor can be built almost anywhere if enough money is expended. Congress appropriated $2,900,000 for the San Pedre breakwater, extending 8,500 feet in length in the ocean, and for dredging behind it.

behind it.

The breakwater is a sert of continuation of Point Fermin, to the eastward. It was planned to comprise two straight arms, connected by a curve 1,800 feet long of 1,910 feet radius, the 1,800 feet long of 1,910 feet radius, the westerly arm to be 3,000 feet long and the easterly arm 3,700 feet. A gap of 2,000 feet was left between it and the shore, but this gap was crossed by a railway of tremendous strength to enable the contractors to dump rocks for the breakwater.

The total amount of reck required, according to the government specifica-tions, is 2,206,983 tons, of which it is estimated 770,000 are yet to be put in estimated 770,000 are yet to be put in place. For some time the centractors have been drepping the rock at the rate of 45,000 tons a month, or feur tons a minute, at a cost of $0.844 a ton. At the beginning the dumping took place in twenty-five feet of water. To place in twenty-five feet of water. To day the contractors are making bigger splashes in fifty-two feet of water. The rocks are often so large that only two of them can be put on one car. There is a year and a half of dumping ahead, but already a harber of refuge is formed, where vessels can lie in safety in all sorts of weather behind a reck line above high water.

Faverite of King and Queen

Admiral Sir Archibald Berkeley Mine, who has just been appointed second in command of the Atlantic squadron of the British navy, is a particular favorite of the present Eins and Queen. For some time he has been commeders of the Royal yachts on which he had served both as lieutenant and as captain.

He is, however, no mere courtier and has seen a good deal of war service, although much of it has been on land. He was first under fire in the Transket campaign, then in the Zulu war, beins wounded at the battle of Ulundi, and he was Admiral Hoskin's flag lieutenant suring the Egyptian war, and likewise fought on land at the battle of Tele. El-Kebir. He is 50 years old and a son of the late Admiral Sir Alexander Mine, who for so many years was one of the Lords of the Admiralty, and a grandson of that Admiral Sir David Mine, who was second in command of Lord Exmouth's expedition against Algiers in the early part of the last century.

Sir Archibald's name is alored principally in connecti with an unfortunate contretemps at the house of William Waldorf Astor if London. The latter had been subjected to ne end of annoyance by persons coming to his entertainments without invitations, and seeing Sir Archibald, who was a stranger to him, angrily ordered him out of the house although he had come in respense to a request of Lady Orford, one of the invited suests, with whom he had been dining and who had asked him te aot as her escort. The affair has been straightened out, but caused no end of unpleasantness at the time.

Those who oppose us are sure to be put down as lacking in knowledge and judgment.

When the heart is won the under-standing is easily convinced.

STOP, WOMAN!

to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, tead and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish Women suffering from any form of any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn. Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Celebrate Empire Day. Celebrate Empire Day.

Toronto, May 2.—Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, has issued a circular letter to school inspectors concerning the observance of Empire Day, He says: This year "Empire Day," the day before "Victoria Day," falls on Tuesday, May 23, and I invite your cooperation in having the event duly celebrated in all our schools. It is desirable that every suitable means should be adopted to foster among the youth of our country the best national sentiment. Here follows the suggestion of a plan in having "Empire Day" duly celebrated.

CROUP IS DEADLY!

To put the brake on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a loaded wagon going ap hill? If he did, his sensible horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load ap hill with the brake set against him. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments. Problems seem presented to his mind "wrong end to." This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts the stomach and digestive and nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light step for the day's duties. When constipation clogs the channels of the body, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will work an effectual cure of that disastrous disease. To put the brake on the wagon go-

POET OF THE MOUNTAINS.

Editor of the Slocan (B.C.) Drill Dis

To Mr. C. E. Smitheringale, editor of the Slocan (B.C.) Drill, we are indebted for the discovery of an extremep allented verse-writer, whose work the columns of the Drill. Mr. R. T. Anderson is a young man of 23, who lives with his father on a farm near Slocan. With the object of glving the people of the east a taste for the mountain poet's writing. Mr. Smitheringale sends the following, which are, perhaps, best calculated to show the variety of his themes and treatment:

The Ae Auld Lion o' Britain. There is as auld lion o' Britain, As fierce as fierce can be, An' he lies on his rocky hiedlan' An' leuks far out tae sea. He leuks at the merchant navy That bobs on the white sea fac An' tak's a keek at the gunboats Guardin' his islan' hame.

The ae auld lion o' Britain, He shuts his een a spell, An' a' the beasts o' the mainlan' An' a' the beasts o' the mait
Set up a screech an' yell;
The ac auld lion o' Britain,
He blinks his een a wee,
An' a' o' the ither beastles
Are guid as guid can be,

They wearie the ae auld lion An' fash him wi' their din, But they ken fu' weel whan he's sleepin'

An' ken when it's time tae rin;
An' the Russian bear creeps back ward Again tae its northern lair,

An' the eagle o' France flaps lower Whan it sees that the lion's there. O'. weel dae they ken the auld lion. For weel has he gien them cause,
An' weel dae they ken far better
Than come in reach o' his paws.
Maist feck o' the beasts o' the main

Hae felt e' his fangs before, the they's roose na the ae auld hou.
Wha are na seekin' for war.

For the ae auld lion o' Britain, As hist'ry aft can preuve, Is the hert o' a race united Tae stand by the land they luve; Tae stand by the land they luve;
Tae stand by their King an' Kintra
An' the richts thet they ne'er sall tyne,
The freedom oor fathers won for us
In the days o' the auld lang syne.

Sae, here's tae the King-God bless As he sits aboon his throne,

As he sits aboon his throne, An' may the seat o' his royal breeks Lang polish the stane o' Scone. An' we'se drink tae the ae auld lion Until thet oor cogies toom, An' whan faes wad win tae his islan' They's no get there till they soom.

Lemon Creek. Friendship When we have reached life's tether end And part the ties that bind us,

Should we have left but one true friend To mourn our less behind us. Then we shall not have lived in vain if, in our onward pressing Amidst Life's eares, amidst its pain, We've saved one Earthly blessing. For, greatest of all Heavenly gifts

Unto poor mortals given,
to love ennohing, love that lifts,
And before us needer Heaven;
That helps us find in every part
Where Hope's advance has bound some true, congenial, kindly heart
Amid the hosts around us. So, he who has had many friends,

Yet feels Death's chill come o'er him May look across where this life ends To that which lies before him; And the' the pang be great to go
And break these bands asunder, it lessens still the grief to know
That friends await him yonder.

God grant, when we are at the last And this life's ties be broken,
When all our hope of Earth be past
And our last song be spoken;
When Heaven looms up before us clear
And golden dawn it o'er us;
That we leave friends behind us here
And we'll have friends before us.

And we'll have friends before us. Lemon Creek. —R. T. Anderson

MORE DEADLY THAN FAMINE.

Neglected catarrh sconer or later causes consumption, which destroys more human beings than famine and war combined. The way "Catarrhozone" cures catarrh is very simple; it first kills the germs that cause the irritation; then by soothing away the cangestion and inflammation it cures the discharge, hawking and dropping in the throat. "I suffered so continually from nasal catarrh," writes Ernest R. Dakin, of Rosemont, "that I scarcely knew what it was to be free from headache, and pain over the cyes. Catarrhozone relieved me at once and made a thorough cure." No other remedy cures like "Catarrhozone"—try it for your next cold. MORE DEADLY THAN FAMINE.

The speaker drew a comparison between Canadian and United States development, and showed that Canadian trade amounted to $63 per capita, while in the United States it was only $33 per head

In the matter of transportation Canada too had reason for encouragement. Canada 50 years ago was 100 years behind the United States in population but only 50 years behind in trade. Fifty years ago the United States only had 9,714 miles of railroad, but Canada today had over 2000 miles. Canada to-day had over 20,000 miles. Canada to-day stood third among the nations in

At the time of the conquest the forges fell into the hands of King George III., and were worked under the direction of and were worked under the direction of the military authorities for five years, at a profit, but were then transferred to the civil government of Three Rivers. They were afterwards leased to a company for 16 years, at the rate of £25 a year. When Montgomery made his ill-fated expedition against Quebec, he passed through Three Rivers, and Pellissier, the manager, who was not very loyal, ordered a quantity of shot and shell to be cast for Montgomery in his attack on Quebec. The works thereafter passed through various vicissitudes till 1883, when they were finally closed, the ore and wood in the neighborhood having become exhausted.

Strike Pickets Refuse to Allow Pur chases at the Big Stores to Be Taken Home-Hackmen Not Permitter to Accept Patrons of Boycotted Shops as Fares-The Goal Crisis-Drivers Intimidated.

Chicago, May 3.—The cordons union pickets stationed on the curbing in State street and Wabash; avenue have been supplemented greatly in numbers with the result that in spite of the vigilance of the police, carriages and hacks are stopped and drivers and their fares warned against attempting to carry purchases home from the boy cotted stores.

Store employes burdened with bundles are stopped and their parcets taken from them and torn open and searched by pickets and union sympathizers to see if they are attempting patingers to see it they are attempting to deliver goods to customers or carrying their own property to their homes. After assuring the pickets that the contents of the bundles belong to them they are not disturbed further.

Woman Shopper Compelled to Walk. In one instance a hired carriage was stopped in Wabash avenue and ccupant a woman shopper compelled to get out and walk. Another woman, with both arms full of bundles, was caught by the skirts and stopped as she was about to step into a cab in State street. The cab driver was warned not to take her as a fare. Undaunted, the shopper walked to another corner, where she hailed a second cab. Again she was stopped by the union sympathizers. Finally she boarded a street car.

In most cases the drivers request their passengers to alight on the opposite side of the street and walk over to their destination. With one exception, none of the State street stores attempted to make deliveries in the residental districts Monday although at all the howeatted esday, although at all the boycetted es tablishments assurances were freely given that the wagons would start ou yesterday. With few exceptions the drivers generally refuse to carry passengers to a boycotted store.

Serious Scarcity of Coal. The need for coal rapidly is developing into one of the most important factors of the teamsters strike. Chicago, May 3.—Rioting and blood-shed in all parts of the city, resulting in the death of one man and the in-jury of scores of others, marked the jury of scores of others, marked the progress of the teamsters strike yesterday. While the strike did not spread to any new establishments, the mobs seemed to throw all restraint to one winds, and attacks were made on non-union drivers with a recklessness that stunned the police.

Mayor Dunne has ordered the swearing in of 1,000 additional police from the civil service list, who will be on duty to-day, making a total of 2,700 ause.

About 300 negroes arrived from Kansas City, and while they were being estorted to the non-union headquarters they were attacked by a mob with which the police were powerless to cope. For a distance of several blocks a desperate battle was waged between the meb and the non-union men, and police and private detectives guarding them. Rocks flew through the sir like hall stones, shattering the windows on both sides of the street.

It was in this riot that Charles Beard was struck on the forehead with a stone and killed. The non-union men were hurried into a cold storage building at Rush and Michigan streets, while the police stood guard with drawn revolvers till reinforcements arrived.

Scores of Shots Fired.

Scores of Shots Fired. Another fierce battle between a meb and non-union men took place near the non-union headquarters at 508 State street. For a time the police battled with the mob, and scores of shots were fired. An accurate list of those injured could not be precured, as dozens of men who were not seriously injured, were taken away by friends. An ambulance was called to take away those seriously injured. Shooting was also resorted to by colored non-union men yesterday at Harrison street and Wabash ayenus.

Team Owners Not In It.

The Chicago Team Owners' Association, employing 6,000 truck drivers, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and retused to go to the aid of the big merchants in the fight. They will stand by their union drivers, and not ask them to deliver goods to any of the stores now on the strike list.

GRAND TRUNK MACHINISTS. Vote to Strike, But Will Wait For Two Days For Reply to

Toronto, May 3.—The trouble be-tween the Grand Trunk and their ma-chinists has reached a critical stage. Monday night meetings of the union Monday night meetings of the union machinists from the shops were held at Stratford, Fort Gratiot, St. Thomas, Montreal and Toronto, and by large majorities it was decided to strike it the concessions asked for in their schedule are not granted. Two days will be allowed for a reply. They ask for 26 cents an hour, but if a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour is granted the trouble will likely be over.

No Strikes by the Mises.

No Strikes in the Mines, Victoria, B. C., May 3.—Word has been received that the threatened, strike at the Crow's Nest coal fields has been averted. A new agreement has been signed by Fernle union offi cials, agreeing to an eight-hour day, Both sides made concessions. The agreement is important, as it insure an uninterrupted supply to the mines and smelters of the Kootenay.

Death Accidental, Says Jury.

Ottawa, May 8.—Calixte Charron of Lowe Township, Ottawa County, who was arrested Sunday for killing Napoleon Welsh, has been acquitted by the coroner's jury, whose verdict was that the shooting was accidental. He is still, held, however, in the county jail on a charge of murder. The first stories of the affair made it appear a most cold-blooded murder, but evidently these were exaggerated.

MITE BOX SOCIAL

successful and enjoyable

A very successful and enjoyable mite box and congregational social was held in the Christ Church Sunday school room last evening. The evening was held for the purpose of collecting and opening the different mite boxes that have been out through the congregation during the past year. It was found that out of 25 boxes opened $52.18 was realized, which was considered very good indeed. There are about 40 boxes out, so that this amount will be materially increased.

The evening opened with the following program, which was presided over in an excellent manner by Rev. Mr. McCosh:—
