Pro Patria.

(SIR OWEN SKEAN, in Punch.) England, in this great fight to which you go because, where Honor calls you, go you must be glad, whatever comes, at least to know You have your quarter just.
Peace was your care; before the nation's lot
Her cause you pleaded and her ends you sought But not for her sake, being what you are Could you be lured and bought.
Others may spin the pledge of hand to hand
May, with a bribe, reward and a golden
But, by the seal to which you set your hand, Thank God, you still stand fast!
Forth, then, to front that peril of the deep With smiling lips, and to your eyes the Steadfast and confident, of those who keep Their sacred mission true.
High heaved ever, strong to faith and prayer
We ask what offering we may contribute,
What humble service share.
To steel our souls against the lust of ease;
To feel our welfare in the general good;
To hold together, merging all degrees
In one wide brotherhood—
To bear in mind that he who saves himself is lost,
To bear in mind that our hearts may be led,
To spend ourselves and never count the cost,
For others' greater good.
To go our quiet ways, undisturbed and free;
To look all vulgar clamor of the street
With level calm to face alike the strain
Of triumph or defeat.
This be your part, for so we serve you best,
So best confirm their process and their pride
Your warrior sons, to whom, in this high test
Our fortunes we confide.

The Press and the War.

In our time it is impossible to get on without newspapers as without the telegraph or electric light and power. The world has been adjusted to modern scientific inventions. Even unfriendly critics of the press look to this agency to inspire patriotic feeling, to stimulate recruiting, to appeal in behalf of widows, orphans and dependents, to keep the nation confident and resolute. There is plenty of evidence that there are as devoted patriots in newspaper offices as there are in army or navy or cabinet. The press, indeed, is the hard working servant of all these bodies, and many and great as may be its faults it can challenge comparison with any beneficial force in modern civilization.

Duty of Banks.

The Canadian banks are vying with each other for the privilege of making contributions to the national relief fund, says the Edmonton Daily Bulletin, owned and edited by Hon.
Frank Oliver, member of the Dominion Parliament, and formerly Minister of the Interior, in a leading editorial in its issue of August 31. "That is to their credit. But, perhaps, if the banks would vie with each other a little more in doing what they were created and chartered to do the public would be able to make up the relief fund without such heavy contributions from the financial concerns.

"Europe is at war, at the commencement of what promises to be a protracted war. Production is suspended over a great part of the continent, vast areas of crops have been destroyed, and the peoples over sea must supply food and clothing alike to the armies in the field and to the civilians in the war stricken countries.
No country in the world is so well situated as Canada to supply the wheat and beef and other staple food products for which the continent has an enormous demand, has been created.
And no country in the world is more directly and absolutely dependent upon conditions of general prosperity upon the existence of an active market for precisely these commodities.

"When our farmers have good crops and get good prices for them the whole community is in a healthy condition. When crops are poor or prices poor, business stagnates and a period of general depression follows inevitably. The present situation is that we have a fair crop and the promise of an even demand, and an even price as could in reason be expected or desired. Whether viewed in the light of what occurred during the Boer war and the American civil war and the Crimean war, or from the standpoint of existing conditions in Europe alone, the conclusion is irresistible that the Canadian farmers —and hence the Canadian people generally—are in line to benefit financially and commercially, immensely and immediately, from the war.

"We should, as a nation, be on the tip-toe of expectancy and reaching out to grasp as large a share as possible of the material results which must ac-cure to other productive portions of the world because of the blight that has fallen upon our continent. To achieve or result there must be cooperative or collective effort on the part of all. The financiers, the manufacturers, the merchants, and the direct producers, have each a part to play if the desired results are to be obtained.

"Above all things, there must be confidence—confidence in the Empire, in the final outcome of the war, in Canada, in each other, and in ourselves. We have in our hands at this time the making of our own conditions. If panic or undue conservatism prevails in Canada, the United States will reap our legitimate share of the advantages of the situation while we bear our proportion of the cost of the war with no compensating betterment of conditions. It is confidence and confidence, we rise to the occasion there is no limit to the share we may secure of the benefits which are bound to go somewhere.

"The banks are the mainpring of the whole national commercial machine. If they supply the money necessary to harvest the crops and to His Boy.

He had come into the city to see the boys as they left for the front.
This war had an interest for him, because 'his boy' was going. It makes a deal of difference in the amount and kind of interest you have in the departure of a body of troops to actual warfare. When you stand in the place of the father who has come to see 'his boy' off to the front, there is then, and not till then, can you judge of the depth to which the soul and heart of parental love have been stirred.

He hung around the doors of the armories, and finally got sight of 'his boy.' He was lined up for marching out preparatory to going to the train.
He was a big fellow, clean-cut, broad-shouldered and straight as a poker—any father could have been proud of him. His riding breeches, leggings and close fitting tunic made him look every inch a soldier.

As the line swung around the last corner before reaching the station the father caught up with 'his boy' again.
There was only a few minutes before he would be off. He would miss him!
Yes, he was the only boy he had,
and was the very apple of his eye.
And he was going—yes, in only a few minutes now the command would come. With a heart fortified by the resolve to bear the parting like a man, the father seized the lad's hand.
There wasn't a word spoken either way, but there were volutes in the fog that swept 'his boy.'

He had carried him in his arms as a babe, and had helped him to walk, he had guided him through the years when boys are apt to go wrong, and now he had reached man's estate—a son that any one could be proud to call 'his boy'—and he was going away.

He turned to lose himself in the crowd. He had said his farewell and was not going to make it hard for the boy to go where duty called.

Then he stopped, he looked back.
He couldn't go away while 'his boy' stood there, so close to him. A shrill whistle brought the troops to attention. There were only a few minutes now. With quick step he reached the lad again—and the pent up love of a father broke loose—his strong arms went around the broad shoulders of the boy, he drew the lad to him, and kissed him. There wasn't a word—just an embrace.

"By the left, quick march!" and the boy swung off with the rest of the company—he was off—gone. His father followed him as best his teardimmed eyes would allow. A hard and a weather-beaten hand brushed away a few tears. But that was all.
The parting had been—it had probably mellowed any rough spots in his character. He had a new interest in the war. He would have a new and more fervent application as he approached the Throne of Grace. 'His boy' was in it now.

Where Millions are Fighting.

Belgium is organized purely for defence. Her army is 200,000 strong.
The river Meuse, the largest tributary of the Rhine, is as wide and as deep as the Thames. It flows through the centre of Liege, a city of some 500, 000 inhabitants, surrounded by a ring of twelve forts, powerfully armed.

The Meuse divides Belgium into two parts. To the north is the fertile Flemish country, with its great and populous cities; to the south is the wild and hilly forest region of the Ardennes. The valley of the Meuse is the natural highway across. The valley is guarded by the fortress of Liege, by the rock fortress of Namur, and by the French frontier fortress of Givet.
The capture of Liege laid open the whole of industrial Belgium to the sea.

A humorist was looking over a mill and while in an unguarded moment he was perpetrating one of his jokes upon an innocent operative, he was drawn into some ponderous gearing and bodily crushed.

They extricated him from the machinery and laid him on the floor.
'Who is it? Who is it?' was the anxious inquiry as the crowd collected.

Nobody knew.
Then the funny man audaciously opened his eyes. A sympathetic bystander bent down to catch his words.
'There's a good reason why nobody recognizes me,' he whispered pathetically.

'What is it,' asked the sympathetic one.
'Because,' the humorist explained, as he saw a chance to get one home, 'it's because I've been travelling in cog.'

A Boy Scout as, of course, you know, is supposed to do one good deed each day.
'What good deed did you perform today?' once asked a lady of a Liverpool Scout.
'Oh,' said the young hero, 'mother had only enough castor oil for one dose, so I let my sister take it!'

To the People of Nova Scotia.

Documents which have been placed before me today, move me to address this appeal to the Nova Scotian people.

The heroic stand of the people of Belgium has won the admiration of the whole world. They have made sacrifices so great that it almost passes our comprehension. Their lands have been laid waste, their towns sacked, their homes wrecked, their women and children outraged, their summers' estates and cathedrals pilaged, their priceless art treasures destroyed—everywhere across the Belgian country is the ineradicable ruthless trail of ruin and blood.

In the face of this appalling suffering and destruction, almost unparalleled in the history of warfare, I am sure that the people of Nova Scotia cannot remain unmoved. Our brave Belgian Allies are fighting our battles just as much as the men whom we are sending from our shores to join the King's forces over seas. Every sacrifice they have made, every loss they have suffered, has been made for the cause of freedom for which we are fighting today. The services which they have rendered to the allied forces have been of incalculable value at the most critical stage of the campaign.

I am not unmindful of the duty which we, as Nova Scotians, owe to our own soldiers, and am deeply interested in the success of the campaign for the Canadian Patriotic Fund. I am confident that Nova Scotia will contribute more than her fair quota to the support of the dependents of our gallant sons who are going to the front, and that Nova Scotians are ready, not only to do their full duty in that way, but to make further sacrifices, if need be.

I know, therefore, that the pressing cry that comes to us across the seas, from a sorely stricken but unaltering people will not be heard in vain.

It has been my privilege to read a personal letter written from Oshawa by M. Lambert Jodit, a prominent Belgian financier and Managing Director of the Acadia Coal Company, Ltd., of Stellarton. This letter will be made public through the press of this province and will stir the heart of every Nova Scotian.

A cruel war forced upon an innocent people has left a trail of suffering that is pitiable and was extremely great.
Thousands of people are left in sore straits and distress. Their needs are urgent and great. What is needed most in Belgium at this moment is a supply of flour, bacon, sugar, pork, beans, apples, dried fish, clothing, shoes, blankets and dress material.

In my judgment, an opportunity is presented to the people of Nova Scotia to fulfil, in part, the Empire's obligations to Belgium and to do so in a tangible way. There is scarcely a home in the province which could not afford to give a bushel of vegetables, a sack of potatoes or some article of clothing which the Belgians particularly need. Already in the town of Stellarton a large number of packing cases have been filled with useful articles for this purpose.
All donations may be addressed to the Belgian Relief Committee at Stellarton or to the Belgian Relief Committee at Halifax. Arrangements will be made with the various railway companies to transport these charges to Halifax and Stellarton.
Once arriving at Halifax or Stellar-ton the gifts will be properly packed and it is my hope that we may be able to make arrangements to send a steamer from Halifax direct to Belgium carrying the contribution of the people of Nova Scotia.

I appeal, then, to the people of Nova Scotia, in all confidence, that out of their plenty and prosperity they will make a response which will be worthy of our liberty-loving traditions and will convey to our brave Allies in Belgium a substantial expression of our appreciation of all that they have wrought and suffered in defence of the greatest principles for which a nation ever fought. Let our response be prompt, generous and worthy of Nova Scotia.

'Please, sir,' blurted out the office boy, 'can I have a day off tomorrow?' His employer looked at him over the top of his glasses and enquired not unkindly:
'Which of your relatives is dead now?'

'Not any, sir,' replied the boy.
'Oh! Then I suppose you are going to have some teeth pulled out?'

'No, sir.'
'Indeed! And none of your sisters getting married?'

'Not any, sir. The fact is, sir,' continued the lad, 'I want to go to as to try to palm off a poor excuse on a shrewd business man like—Thank

Two Years of Torture from Stomach Trouble.

CURED BY THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

There are two ways usually adopted in trying to cure indigestion or stomach trouble—one the wrong way by using purgatives and the other drugs which in the long run causes more distress by weakening the whole system. The other way is the right way is the Dr. Williams' manner of treatment—that is to nourish and to build up the stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood.
Give the stomach this much needed supply of new blood and distress will disappear and stay banished forever.
The new blood strengthens the nerves of the stomach and gives it the necessary power to digest food.

'Thousands bear witness to the value of the Dr. Williams' treatment through the blood. Among them is the Rev. P. D. Nowlas, of Summerville, N. S., who says: 'I certainly have great reason to recommend Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills, as they were the means of saving my life. Till I reached the age of thirty I never knew what pain or sickness meant, but after that my stomach failed me and food of any kind caused untold distress. I became constipated and was forced to use injections daily.
This went on for about two years; I grew weaker and weaker; my weight fell off from 185 to 125 pounds; I had a hacking cough and appeared going into a decline. All this time I was being treated by the best of doctors but without the least benefit. Night after night I could get no sleep the pain and agony were so severe. On consultation the doctors decided I was suffering from cancer of the stomach and advised an operation as a means of saving my life. This I refused to undergo and began to look forward to an early death. Just then a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
I had no faith in any medicine and at first refused, but my friend was so persistent that finally I gave in and purchased half a dozen boxes. By the time these were gone I felt much stronger and the distress was not so severe. I continued their use and such exceeding benefit wrought a marked improvement in my condition till by the time I had taken a dozen boxes I was able to get on my feet and increased until it was back where it was before I was ill; I had a good appetite and was completely cured. In the years that have elapsed since I used the pills not a twinge of the trouble has returned. Try me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest medicine on earth and I never lose an opportunity in recommending them to other sufferers. For I feel that if it were not for them I would have been in my grave long ago.'

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Rev. Mr. Nowlas they have done for thousands of others and will do for you if you suffer from indigestion, or stomach trouble, or rheumatism, or partial paralysis, or heart palpitation, or St. Vitus dance and all other troubles that have their origin in a bad condition of the nerves. The Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr.
Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

'Here's a nickel,' said a thrifty house wife to a tramp at her door.
'Now, what are you going to do with it?'

'Well, ma'am,' replied the hungry man, 'I'll buy a toning car, I shan't have enough left to pay my chauffeur; if I purchase a steam yacht, there won't be enough left to defray the cost of manning her, so I guess, ma'am, I'll get a schooner and handle it myself.'

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., SEPT. 25, 1914

Editorial Notes.

The signing of the Home Rule bill by King George practically removes the Irish question from the arena of politics. It is true the measure will not go into operation for a year, or until the war is over, and that there is still some dispute regarding Ulster's position, but there seems to be no doubt that when normal conditions are restored there will be little or no difficulty in regard to self government in Ireland.

The Provincial Industrial Association, which was lately organized in Toronto to deal with the problem of unemployment, aims to provide work and not charity. It proposes to co-operate with the civic authorities. No special plan has as yet been outlined, but it is proposed to be a province wide organization doing all in its power to stimulate trade and industry and minimize unemployment. A committee of ten has been appointed to prepare a workable scheme to be submitted as soon as possible to the association.

Dr. C. I. Schofield has transferred the ownership and management of the Bible Correspondence Course which bears his name to the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Its broadening responsibilities, together with his widespread oral ministry, were too great a tax on his advancing years, and he left that the facilities and energy of the Institute would still further extend its usefulness in the world. The course will be conducted on practically the same plan as hitherto, but further information may be had by addressing The Moody Bible Institute, 153 Institute Place, Chicago, Ill.

The ability of being able to stand alone and fight alone is just as useful in appearance on the battlefield as in business or any other walk in life. During the present war in France, a half battery of the British Royal Field Artillery was left in an exposed position. The gunners were all down but one, and he kept on firing until in a lull of the German fire he was ordered to retire. He did this grudgingly, and a newspaper remarks: "No wonder the Germans retire, when one British artilleryman will remain and fight a host."

The Purpose of the Ages.

To all who believe in an over-ruling Providence, which shapes the ends of men and nations, this war will mark another page in the advance of civilization. From the beginning of history, nations have sought to build a durable fabric of empire upon a foundation of might and injustice, and have failed. Some have endured for a time, but in the end have perished. The great lesson throughout the centuries is that no empire based on force alone can subsist. Germany has not learned that lesson from history, and is now learning at a cost that may well be said to stagger humanity. Beneath the surface of this last and greatest of European wars lies the eternal conflict between the forces making for progress and the forces that are resisting progress.

A German Spy.

A remarkable article by Dr. Carl Graves in the New York Sun gives a partial insight into German military preparations. Dr. Graves was for nine years a spy in personal touch with the Emperor of Germany. He was arrested in Glasgow in June, 1912, charged with espionage, and sentenced to 18 months imprisonment, only three months of which he served, for reasons best known to the British Government. Now he is writing stories of his experiences and showing special knowledge of a curious nature.

For example, after explaining the organization of the military forces of the German Empire, he says: "The German army is built for aggression. Germany knows through past experience, the advisability and necessity of conducting war in an economy's country." It shows that railway lines have been built for strategic purposes and that ninety per cent. of the railway officials are army reservists. Main wagon roads through country districts are maintained like the Roman roads of old, and through all the Empire the government has a first claim on every wheeled vehicle for military purposes. Their war chest at Spandau holds $120,000,000 in minted gold coins and every year a million dollars has been added to it.

Dr. Graves, dealing with the intelligence system, explains that young officers who have never been in England have a perfect knowledge of every road, every building, every locality of a certain specified district in the United Kingdom. The natural features of France and of Russia are equally well understood. This indicates better than anything else could the efficiency of a spy system unequalled in history.

The whole trend of this article shows what British experts have obviously declared, that the German army is and has always been a menace to the peace of the world, and that the incubus of its maintenance bears hard on the people of the country.

Alberta Letter.

THE WAR - FINANCES - FARMING - RAILROADS.

The war fever is surging over this western country, and men are flocking to the colors. One complete battalion has already been sent out from Edmonton and other units are forming.

Our financial institutions have curtailed their sphere of operations in common with those of other parts of the Dominion, until it would seem that taking in deposits is the chief purpose of a bank's existence.

The refusal of our moneyed institutions to finance our merchants in legitimate business during the present crisis works a great hardship, causing a general curtailment of all kinds of employment, and consequently scarcity of work.

Of all the railway extensions authorized in Alberta none of the larger lines are doing anything. The J. D. McArthur Co., however, are steadily pushing their lines into the north country.

They comprise the Edmonton Danvegan and British Columbia Railway - the Alberta and Good Watersways and the Canadian Central Railway.

The first of these is now being operated to Lesser Slave Lake, 167 miles, while 120 more miles are in the course of construction and will be ready for traffic this winter. Traffic on these lines is good, passengers being landed at Sorridge the same day they leave Edmonton.

The Canadian Central is an extension north to Bear River Crossing and thence west through that vast country to the British Columbia border.

The A. & G. W. Ry. branches off the E. D. & C. Ry. about 14 miles from Edmonton and runs in a north easterly direction to Lac la Biche, about 120 miles. Practically all this section is under construction. This line is also surveyed some 130 miles further to strike the Athabasca river at Fort Murray. From this point on the Athabasca, there are no rapids, therefore this line will be an important trade route to the north.

While the southern portion of this province has during the past summer suffered severely from drought, the central and northern portions have had an ample rainfall. In my own district, 50 miles north of Edmonton, the pasture is most luxuriant, and all live stock is in fine condition. Most of this country has been homesteaded but many after proving up have gone to the cities where ready money could be earned, leaving the homesteads neglected. Scarcity of work is now sending many back to the land, where their living will cost them much less than in the towns.

Potatoes have been a positive failure in these parts but all kinds of grain has done splendidly. This soil will produce abundantly but I think our farmers have been too easily satisfied with a bare living, to put in and care for a large crop. Generally, however, more stock is being raised, more cream being shipped, more hogs being marketed. With plenty of good pasture and a wonderfully fertile soil, farming should pay in this country.

As compared with the farming district of Nova Scotia I think our advantages in soil and pasturage are somewhat discounted by our greater distance from ocean ports as well as our inability to do much in orcharding, which in Nova Scotia supplies a very considerable revenue to the producer. On the whole I believe the farmers of Nova Scotia get as good a return in dollars as any in the Dominion. However, everything is new here and few farmers that I have met have yet graduated from the experimental stage. I have seen homesteads where several years' accumulation of manure lies in great stacks all around the stables, the natural richness of the soil being occasionally depended upon to raise a crop. Tons and tons of fertilizing wealth gone to waste for want of a little real work in getting it on the land. An eastern farmer would feel sick at the waste of it.

Men plant potatoes whole, run a plow between the rows at hoeing time and then leave them to their fate. As there are neither bugs or wire grass the Lord has to give them a fair crop in spite of the haphazard methods, having of course, an early frost or too abundant rains on low soil.

A fine grain crop is being gathered, all stock is sleek and fat and prices promise to be good, so the Alberta farmer should not be by any means badly off.

In the cities times will be hard, at any rate until business conditions improve. In building trades there is an entire cessation of activity notwithstanding that lumber has dropped 20 per cent. in price. Close employment on sewers and extensions is also held up, hitting the laborer hard. However, Edmonton citizens are doing a great deal in preparing to tide over the "out of work" bill better days come.

A very sad death occurred on Wednesday afternoon at the Horton Post Farm, when the manager, Mr. McAndrew, fell a victim to typhoid fever after a brief illness. Mr. McAndrew had been in charge of the Farm for about a year, and had proved himself a faithful and careful manager. He was a native of Scotland, and was about thirty years of age. He leaves a young widow and two young sons who have the sympathy of the community generally. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. G. W. Miller.

Devastation By War.

It requires a vivid imagination to get even a faint conception of the effect of the war in Europe upon the people in the districts through which the armies move, and where actual fighting takes place. Not only are crops destroyed and houses either destroyed or looted; but the people are compelled to abandon their homes for the time being, and suffer the greatest hardships, even if the very worst does not befall them. Communication between different places is interrupted, bridges are blown up, the postal and other services interfered with, and after the hurricane of war has passed it will take years for the people to recover from their losses. The horrors of war are by no means confined to the suffering endured by the soldiers in the ranks. Territory is laid waste, property destroyed, homes desolated, towns and cities reduced to ruins or left with many a dreadful scar, and the whole aspect of the country so changed as to be hardly recognizable. That which France and Belgium have been compelled to suffer must soon be the lot of the German people, - with this difference, that the atrocities committed by the German armies will not be repeated by the British and the French. In territory occupied by them there will be no outrages upon non-combatants, however much the latter may suffer as a result of the invasion of their hitherto peaceful valleys. The movement that is on foot in Canada to send relief to the sorely stricken Belgian people should appear very strongly to the Canadians, who are far from the field of war and can only dimly realize its awful effect upon the people of that stricken country, whose only crime was their refusal to join the German war lord in his shameful violation of a solemn treaty.

Crowds Welcome Return.

OF MACK'S MUSICAL REVUE TO ACADIA DEMY OF MUSIC.

The Academy of Music was all for the crowd, desiring admission last evening to welcome Mack's Musical Revue on their return engagement, when they repeated the success of their previous visit, with an entirely new programme. They caught the fancy of the audience at the outset with their patriotic song and tableau "At Farnum, the comedian, got a perfect ovation as he made his appearance, and his sayings and songs throughout the evening showed what a favorite he has become with the hearty laughter and applause which greeted him.

Ullie Akerstrom, under whose clever direction this popular entertainment is presented, is seen in the leading role of a sketch in which she displays her artistic ability.

Miss Esie Wallace, with her rich soprano voice, excellent acting, attractive appearance and dressing handsomely, was appreciated in her every number, one of which "The Sympathetic Duet" with James Carney was a particular feature.

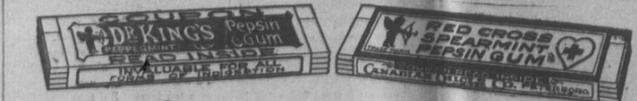

Miss Helena Russell also scored a great success; she is a dancer above the ordinary, and her solo dance was not only brilliantly executed, but her tango steps with James Carney, the personification of grace.

Frank Venette, Ralph Austen, Tiny Williams, Vesta Gilbert, and others of the Company all greatly pleased.

The same bill will be repeated this afternoon and evening and tomorrow afternoon. New program Thursday.

Miss Edna Smith, daughter of the late George Smith, Falmouth, and niece of Mr. Wiley Smith, Halifax, died very suddenly on Saturday last. The deceased was a graduate of Acadia Seminary, and known by a large circle of friends. Her father resided in Barrington up to the time of his marriage with Miss Payzant, sister of Godfrey P. Payzant, Windsor.

A grand patriotic concert is to be held this evening in the Opera House for the benefit of the Red Cross Society. Miss Evelyn Starr, the talented violinist, will take a leading place in the program and other leading talent of Acadia Seminary and the town will also contribute to what will undoubtedly prove to be a very enjoyable entertainment. We trust there may be a large attendance.

Mr. Thomas Brennan had a very unfortunate experience one day last week, when his premises were visited by a red fox which destroyed his complete flock of hens. Twenty birds were found dead in the yard in the morning and remained set in the background viewing the havoc he had created. Unfortunately Mr. Brennan was unable to catch or kill the fox, which escaped.

Mr. William Taylor, of Berwick, has purchased the dwelling on Acadia street formerly occupied by Prof. A. E. Caldwell and will come to Wolfville to reside in the near future. This dwelling was recently moved to make room for the new street which is now under construction. The sewer and water service have been put in and the street will be suitably graded. When completed it will be a very convenient and desirable street.

A very large audience greeted the presentation of Mattie Messers' delicious Irish comedy, 'Peg O' My Heart,' at the Opera House on Monday evening. Many of those present were out of town patrons of the Opera House, and were delighted with the entertainment given. The play was decidedly well staged and presented, and was without a flaw in any particular. Such performances may count on a welcome from a Wolfville audience.

A New System of Violin Teaching.

DAILY CLASSES FOR VERY YOUNG CHILDREN.
Anyone who has enjoyed the finished performances of a solo violinist will realize what a variety of difficulties have to be overcome before this result can be achieved, and in how many different directions the too often bewildered beginner has to turn his attention.

Added to this the consequent inability of many beginners to practice alone, and the task of learning the violin becomes a hard one indeed.
In accordance with a system which has recently found great success in London, it is proposed to hold at Acadia Seminary short daily classes for beginners in violin between the ages of 4 to 8 years old.

The advantage of beginning at so early an age cannot be too greatly emphasized, as not only does it give the talented child his only real opportunity of becoming a first-class player, but also where talent is less marked, the physical and mental training of this elementary course is of great educational value, and lays the foundation of an intelligent musical appreciation.

Class teaching in such a subject as Violin, though it should not be extended beyond, let us say, one year, offers at the outset many obvious advantages over private tuition. Not least amongst these is the spirit of emulation roused in the children, whilst at the same time the actual Belgian Relief.

On the first page of THE ACADIAN this week will be found an appeal from the Hon. G. H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, for aid to the Belgian people who are in dire distress because of the war. We commend Premier Murray's letter to the sympathetic attention of our readers and feel sure that the people of this vicinity will respond gladly and generously.

In order to facilitate the work proposed and carry it out in the most advantageous manner a meeting of the citizens was held on Monday morning at the Town Hall, when a committee composed of Mayor Chambers, Dr. O. E. DeWitt and Councillor Hales was appointed to draft and circulate a letter among the people of this vicinity and look after the donations towards the relief of the brave Belgians. The work of circulating this appeal has been done during the week, owners of automobile, and Boy Scouts giving their ready assistance.

All kinds of clothing is asked for in view of the approach of winter and the utter destitution of such a large number of people. In the homes of this community there are undoubtedly many articles of wearing apparel which will prove most acceptable. Donors are asked to see that anything of this nature is fully repaired, if necessary, before sending in. Donations of clothing, etc., may be sent to the Town Hall where they will be sorted and packed for shipment by the members of the Red Cross Society. Food stuffs of all kinds may be sent to the North & Lowe warehouse. Mark the packages 'For Belgian Relief,' and give the name of the donor and contents. The following persons have consented to act as collecting agents at out of town points:
Greenwich—Geo. L. Bishop
Grand Pre—W. C. Trenholm Gaspereau—Rev. A. L. Powell
Hortonville—A. H. Patterson
Avonport—R. L. Shaw
This work, which is a most commendable and worthy one, should be proceeded with at once as it is hoped to have everything ready for shipment by Oct. 1st. Let your gifts be generous and made in a whole-hearted manner. We owe much to the gallant people of Belgium.

ANY DYSPEPTIC CAN GET WELL

By Taking "Fruit-a-lives" Says Capt. Swan

Life is very miserable to those who suffer from indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Biliousness. This letter from Captain Swan (one of the best known skippers on the Great Lakes) tells how to get quick relief from Stomach Trouble.

FOUR BRUXWELL, Ont., May 8th, 1913.

"A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. For the last couple of years, I have taken 'Fruit-a-lives' and have been so pleased with the results that I have recommended them on many occasions to friends and acquaintances. I am sure that 'Fruit-a-lives' have helped me greatly. By following the diet rules and taking 'Fruit-a-lives' according to directions, any person with Dyspepsia will get benefit."

H. SWAN

"Fruit-a-lives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box 6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

A Boy's Reason for Signing the Pledge.

1. I am going to sign the pledge because, if I never begin to drink, I can never become a drunkard. It is easier to keep out of trouble than to get out when once you are in.

2. I am going to sign the pledge because there are 'snakes' in every glass of strong drink; and I am determined that they shall never have a nest in my stomach.

3. I am going to sign the pledge because a fellow who signs the pledge can keep his company, and I don't like the 'line up' of the crowd that drinks. Oh, yes, some of the 'Smart Set' are there, and some of those who seem 'smart'; but I notice that many of them are soon passed on down the line among the 'red noses' and the 'bums.' I would be ashamed to have my picture taken among them; and the best way is to keep out altogether.

4. I am going to sign the pledge because I shall be better off in every way for taking such a stand:

1. Strong drink takes the good clothes off a man's back.

2. Athletes and men who want strong bodies let strong drink alone; and it will pay me to let it alone.

3. Employers are not offering the best places to boys and men who drink; and I am not out for a second-rate, or a third-rate, or a tenth-rate job.

Good Advice to Boys.

Ex-President Roosevelt sent out a message to the American boy, which contains advice good enough for the Canadian boy. Here it is:

Of course what I have a right to expect of the American boy is that he shall turn out to be a good American man. Now the chances are strong that he won't be much of a man unless he is a good deal of a boy. He must not be a coward or a weakling, a bully, a shirk or a prig.

He must work hard and play hard. He must be clean minded and clean lived, and able to hold his own under all circumstances and against all comers. It is only on these conditions that he will grow into the kind of American man of whom America can be really proud.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind-You-Have-Always-Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher

The advertisements of liquors sometimes contain such statements as these: "Distilled under government control," or "Bears the official stamp of the government." The design is to give the impression that it is therefore a very superior kind of liquor, approved and guaranteed by the government. The fact is that whatever official control there is, is to prevent the distillers from cheating the public treasury out of the excise duty which the law requires. The truth is so notoriously dishonest that even the government has been forced to order that any liquor which is sold in order to get the legal price of the excise duty during the manufacturing process.

A life insurance company which for twenty-seven years has made a specialty of insuring total abstainers has given out information which shows that this class of risk has been a most profitable one. Other risks are taken but the total abstainers are carried in a separate class. During twenty-seven years of business the company shows an average percentage of actual to expected death losses in the abstainers class to be less than forty-seven, while the general class has averaged about seventy-one per cent.

A young man who had recently assumed the management of a popular typewriter concern in a certain city decided to visit several of his new customers, and obtain their opinion of the machine, that he might show the company just how he was succeeding.

"How do you like our new type writer?" he asked the first customer he visited.

"It's immense," enthusiastically replied the man. "Really, I wonder how I ever got along without it."

"That's fine," said the young fellow, much pleased. "Would you be willing to give me a testimonial to that effect?"

"Why, certainly I will," said the man, taking a seat at the machine. "I'll do it gladly."

And, rolling up his sleeves, he pounded out the following:

"After Using the automatic Back action type writer for three months San & Over. I unhesitatingly pronounce it pronounced to be the best and even more than these Manufacturers claim for it. During the time even in my professional life, three months I had more than paid for it $11 in the saving of time and labor."

John Sloan, a painter, was lecturing on models before an art class in New York.

"Then there is the frivolous model," said Mr. Sloan. "She, unless very beautiful, is to be avoided."

"A frivolous model beaught a friend of mine to employ her."

"No, no," he said, "I only do still life—flowers and fruit."

"Well," said the model, looking up at him, reproachfully out of limpid blue eyes, "well, ain't I a peach?"

A Regiment of Giants.

Frederick the Great originated the Prussian guards. His ambition was to form a royal bodyguard of giants. Every country was ransacked by his agents to supply recruits and no head that towered above the crowd, even in the bezans of Aethiops or Caffo, could escape the crimps of the Prussian King. The most extravagant sums were offered to men of exceptional height, and an Irishman more than seven feet high, who was picked up by the Prussian ambassador in London, received a bounty of $6,500.—London Mail.

"You're a mighty poor talker, especially to the girls. How did you raise the nerve to propose to Miss Sweet?"

"Oh, I didn't say much of anything to her. I handed her a solitaire ring and she slipped it on her left forefinger and said: 'All right; it fits.'"

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."

Mrs. LAWRENCE MARSH, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and joints until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I now have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."

Mrs. M. J. INGLETON, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consult Dr. J. C. Fletcher), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

HIGHEST JUDICIAL OFFICE

The Lord High Chancellor is the highest judicial authority in the British Empire, and presides over the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. He has the appointment of all the judges in the Supreme, Superior and County Courts of England, and all the justices of the peace. He is the guardian of infants, idiots and lunatics, of wards of Chancery, is the supervisor of all Royal foundations and trusts, and, in short, has more patronage than all the rest of the members of the Cabinet and the King combined. His assassination would not be treated as ordinary murder, but as high treason. This is one of the privileges of being Lord High Chancellor, and it is shared only by the King, the Queen, and the heir-apparent. An even more desirable privilege, however, is that of drawing a salary of $50,000 a year while he is in office, and of being entitled to a life pension of $25,000 on his retirement, no matter whether he had been in office for a decade or a day.

DR. GEORGE W. WHITE

Enough to Make Prison Reformers Turn in Their Graves

Republican Portugal still tolerates a prison whose carefully-planned, diabolical torture is enough to make prison reformers turn in their graves. In this prison, called the "Prison of Silence," in a grim castle on the outskirts of Lisbon, nearly everything that human ingenuity can suggest to terrify the prisoners is done. The corridors, piled tier on tier five stories high, extend from a common centre like the spokes of a huge wheel. The cells are narrow and tomb-like, and within each stands a coffin. The attendants creep about in felt slippers. No one is allowed to utter a word. The silence is that of the grave. Once a day the cell doors are unlocked, and the half-thousand wretches march out clothed in shrouds and with faces covered by masks, for it is part of this hideous punishment that none may look upon the countenances of his fellow-prisoners. Few of them endure this torture for more than ten years.

"PRISON OF SILENCE"

Very Contemptible

When Frederick Spearing was charged at Wiltshire with assault he was asked if he had any question to put to the constable.

"No," he replied. "I would not lower myself to speak to him. He gives me the tip. I do not mind speaking to your worship."

A Real Theatre Goer

There is a patron of Daly's Theatre who saw "The Merry Widow" seventy times, "The Dollar Princess" two hundred times, "A Waltz Dream" fifty times, "The Count of Luxembourg" thirty-five times, "Gypsy Love" a hundred times, and up to the present, "The Marriage Market" twenty times.

A Huge Deal

What is reported to be the largest seal ever caught on the Cape-Breton coast (Nova Scotia) was taken at Mabou Mines by a father and son. It weighed 600 pounds. The seal measured 7 feet 10 inches in length by 4 feet 4 inches in width.

The Oldest Minister

Probably the oldest minister of the Gospel in the British Isles is the Rev. Evan Edwards, of Torquay, who is still hale and hearty, although in his ninety-ninth year. He was actively engaged in the pastorate until a few years ago, and still attends services.

Navies of the World

The cost of the navies of the world last year aggregated $725,000,000.

Weight of Blood

There is 23 pounds of blood in the body of an average grown-up person.

Mail Contract.

SEVERAL SEALED TENDERS addressed to the Postmaster General will be received at OMAHA until noon, on Friday, the 27th October, 1914, for the conveyance of the Mails to Omaha, six times per week over Kingston Station Rural Mail Route No. 1, and twice per week over North Street, starting from the 1st January 1915.

UNUSUAL BITS OF BRITISH NEWS

Lord Kitchener at Farnborough (Kent) inspected the large statue in bronze of himself in the full uniform of field-marshal, the work of Mr. Sydney March. The statue has been cast from old cannon sent from India, and will be erected in Calcutta.

Charge of Sedition

At Belfast James Toomey and Patrick Dempsey were committed for trial charged with conspiracy to distribute a seditious libel. Evidence was given that a leaflet declaring that any Irishman who joined the forces of the Crown was a traitor to his country and an enemy of his people was posted on a large number of houses.

Weapon of Former Days

While James Larkin was cutting turf at Frenchlawn, near Castlebar, he struck a pike-head at a depth of about 20 feet. The blade is about nine inches in length and three inches in width, and the edges of the blade are described as being "as sharp as a razor," and "just as polished as the day it left the smith's forge."

Farm Outrage

The police at Killeigh, King's County, are engaged investigating an extraordinary outrage. Two horses of a valuable mare, the property of Miss Louisa Corcoran, were found on her farm badly mutilated, one of the animals, a pony, being in a dying condition. Miss Corcoran, who is a large landowner in the locality, is very popular, and no reason can be assigned for the dastardly outrage.

The Law of Findings

In a case at Athlone Petty Sessions in which Patrick Harvey, was charged with the larceny of a gold Albert chain, value $18, the contention being that the defendant had found the chain on the road, and had offered it in pawn without trying to find the owner, an order was made that the article be kept by the police for three months, and if at the end of that period the owner did not turn up, it should be given to the finder.

Boy Dies From Alcohol

A sad case of accidental alcoholic poisoning took place in Glasgow, whereby a boy of three years, named Joseph Bryson, son of a carter, died in the Royal Infirmary. The father had left a bottle of whiskey on the kitchen dresser, and next morning the boy was found lying unconsciously. The stomach pump was applied at the infirmary, but he gradually grew worse. Death was due to alcoholic poisoning and acute gastritis.

Inkling Buttermilk

At Boyle Petty Sessions, Mr. S. R. Hamilton was fined 25s for selling inkling butter, which analysis showed contained 24.83 per cent. of water, 16 per cent. being the minimum allowed. Mr. Hamilton's defence was that the butter, he had been told, was made by an old woman aged eighty years, who could not see, and who was driven out of the county by R.M. "There is no doubt farmers are not up-to-date in regard to making butter."

Imaginary Gambling Losses

A verdict of "Suicide during temporary insanity" was returned at a Westminster Inquest on Thomas Elliott, a well-known actor, who committed suicide by inhaling coal gas. Elliott had broken off his engagement with his sweetheart because he was not in a position to marry her. In a pathetic letter to his landlady's daughter he attributed his act to gambling losses, but the only form of gambling he indulged in, said his landlady, was a game of lot, at which he never lost more than 10 cents in one night.

Women in Quers Predicament

Two smartly-dressed women, Margaret Dodds and Catherine Gray, both belonging to Edinburgh, were fined $125 or five days, at Dunbar, for being drunk and incapable. The police found them lying on the promenade at a highland dance, which had been going about the town for some days with a petition "in favor of a law to prevent the moral degradation of women," and this has been very numerous signed in the town. She was also disposing of books on the White Slave traffic. Provost Low said this was about a painful case as had ever come before him.

Pilgrims at Croagh Patrick

Fully 15,000 visitors took part in the pilgrimage to Croagh Patrick, the holy mountain, on which St. Patrick prayed and fasted for forty days and forty nights fifteen hundred years ago. Over twenty special and ordinary visitors from all parts of Ireland to participate in the annual pilgrimage, which was begun in the fifth century in honor of St. Patrick and revived by the Most Rev. Dr. Healy, with the cordial cooperation of the priests of the extensive Archdiocese of Tuam. Many masses were celebrated on the Holy Mount, the heights of which were scaled by several visitors.

Five Roses Flour

FOR SALE BY WM. C. BLEAKNEY

For All We Have and Are.

For all our children's fate,
Stand up and meet the war—
The Hun is at the gate.
Our world has passed away
In wondrous overthrow;
There's nothing left to-day
But steel, and fire, and stone.
Though all we know depart,
The old commandments stand:
In courage keep your heart,
In strength lift up your hand.
Once more we hear the word,
The stricken earth of old,
No law except the sword
Unheeded and uncontrolled.
Once more it knits mankind,
Once more the nations go
To beat and break and bind.
A crazed and driven foe,
Comfort, content, delight,
The ages slow-bought gain,
They shriveled in a night,
Only ourselves remain.
To face the naked days
In silent fititude
Through perils and dangers Unheeded and uncontrolled.
Though all we made depart,
The old commandments stand,
In patience keep your heart,
In strength lift up your hand.
No easy hopes or lies
Shall bring us to our goal,
But iron sacrifice,
Of body, will and soul.
There's but one task for all:
For each one life to give,
Who stands if freedom fall!
Who dies if England live!
