CHRISTMAS.

Rejoice, oh men! with hearts uplifted,
Now at length buds forth the earth.
All the prophecies fulfilling,
Now the SAAFOUR has His blyth.
No proud pump, no royal dwelling
Here await His opening eyes,
In a stable—in a manger—
There the new-born Infant lies.

Come, approach Him, look upon Him, Gaze on the INCARNATE WORD; disse on the Incannate Would; disse on the Incannate Would; Ja that habe in "swaddling clothing" Own creation's Sovereign Lord. Do not those limbs, bound and swathed. All our pity seem to crave? Ah! the string love in their weakness Read that thus descends to save.

WHAT DECEMBER SAYS.

Open your hearts and hear the feet Of the Star-led Wise Men olden; Bring out your treasures of incense sweet; Lay down your offerings golden; You say you look, but you see no sight Of the wonderful Babe I'm telling; You say they have carried him off by night From Bethlehem's lowly dwelling.

Open your hearts, and seek the door Where the always poor are staying. For this is the story, forevermore, The Master's voice is saying: Inasmuch as ye do it unto them, The poor, the weak, and the stranger, Ye do it to Jesus of Fethlehem, The Bahe of the starilt manner. The Babe of the star-lit manger.

Personalities and Ill-Report.

Keep clear of personalities in general conversation. Talk of things, objects and thoughts. The smallest minds occupy themselves with persons. Personalities must sometimes be talked, because we have Imperial Oyster Saloon to learn and find out the men's characteristics for legitimate objects; but it is to be with confidential persons. Poor Burns wrote and did many foolish things, but he is now open where Oysters can be served was wise when he wrote to a young friend:

Aye, tell your story free, off-hand, When wi' a bosom crony; But still keep something to yoursel' You'll scarcely tell to ony. Do not needlessly report ill of others. There are times when we are compelled to say, "I do not think Bouncer a true and honest man." But when there is no need to express an opinion let poor Bouncer swagger away. Others measure, no doubt, and save you the trouble of analyzing him and instructing them. And as far as possible dwell on the good side of human beings.
