O my God, I offer Thee my prayers, works and sufferings this day, in union with the Sacred Heart of Jesus, for the intentions for which He pleads and offers Himself in the Mass, for the petitions of our associates; especially for this month for the Jubilee, 1900-1901.

Current Topics.

In the Reichstag last week the Imperial Chancellor, Count Von Buelow informed the Reichstag that their bill in regard to the free exercise of religion was not acceptable to the Federal Governments, who, while respecting the convictions whereupon it was based, saw in the proposal an intention to restrict the constitutional independence of the states in matters reserved for their individual legislations. Count Von Buelow said that, speaking from a personal standpoint, he hoped the disparities existing in the laws of the different States would be remedied, but as Chancellor his first duty was not to allow the Federal character of the empire and the autonomy of the members of the federation to be prejudiced without the consent of the individual states.

Mr. Boud, the Premier, having secured the lead Cabinet, consent of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to an enlargement of the Newfoundland Cabinet, owing to the importance of the problems associated with the Reid contract announces the following as the personnel of the reconstructed Ministry—Premier and Colonial Secretary, Mr. Robert Boud; Minister of Justice, Mr. Wm. Horwood; Minister of Finance, Mr. Edward Jackson; Leader of the Legislative Council, Mr. George Knolly; Members of the Cabinet without portfolios, Messrs. Edward Morris, August Harvey, James Plis, Henry Woods and James S. Ryan; Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Eli Daw; Minister of Fisheries, Mr. Thomas Murphy; Minister of Public Works, Mr. Geo. Guhnne; Messrs. Daw, Murphy, and Guhnne are not in the Cabinet.

The annual report of the American Immigration Commission shows that during the last fiscal year the total number of immigrants who arrived in the United States was 549,754, of which 29,200 came through Canada. Of the whole number 504,148 were males and 144,424 females. This is a net increase over 1899 of 186,857. These figures, however, the commissioner says, do not show the total number of alien arrivals, as 65,885 aliens came as cabin passengers. This would have swelled the total immigration to 514,507 had they travelled in the steerage.

Seven Conservatives out of a total of seventy-four members of the Quebec Legislative Assembly is all that will sit during the coming and the succeeding sessions. The elections in the Lower Provinces which took place last Friday are responsible for this meagre showing of the Conservative party. Even before the elections began the Parent Government had a majority, for 85 Liberals were elected by acclamation, and in five more constituencies there were no Conservative candidates. Three elections will take place later, namely, those in Ontario, Manitoba, Gaspé, and Magdalen Islands. The Premier and every member of his Cabinet were elected by acclamation. Hon. E. J. Flynn, and Hon. L. P. Pallotier were the only members of the preceding Government elected. Felling incore in Gaspé, Mr. Flynn lost that county and ran in Nicolet, a Conservative stronghold. He was elected by only 40, although his predecessor there had 659. The seven Conservatives elected were Messrs. Girard in Compton, Pallotier in Dorchester, Thollier in Joliet, Lohano in Laval, Lemay in LeBellevue, Flynn Nicolet, and L'Houeix in St. John's. The result is that when all the elections take place the House will probably consist of 60 Liberals and 8 Conservatives. It was one of the most extraordinary elections on record. Hon. Mr. Parent had the House dissolved, but issued no manifesto, nor did he or any of his Ministers address any meetings.

Col. Shepard, the United States Consul at Hamilton, has been notified that after Saturday last shippers of breeding cattle to the United States will be compelled to have their stock for export tested by a United States veterinary surgeon. Formerly the tests were made by Canadian veterinarians. Dr. E. L. Volgenair, East Buffalo, has been appointed by the United States Government to test the breeding cattle shipped from Canada, and he will give his services in Canada free, barring his hotel and travelling expenses. This will not add to the expenses of Hamilton shippers. Messrs. W. D. Flatt, and Pettit & Sons, of Freeman, are the cattle men affected. These gentlemen exported stock to the value of $87,845 during last year.

The returns of traffic through the Canadian canal at Sault Ste. Marie for the season ending November 8th, made up by the Department of Railways and Canals. The figures show that, compared with the season of 1899, there was a decrease of 688 in the number of vessels which passed through the Canadian canal, and a falling off in the freight carried of 970,814 tons. This reduction of traffic is explainable on various grounds. The amount of grain carried was much less than usual, but perhaps the chief reason for the decline in trade is that the navigation facilities of the United States side are much better than on the northern shore. The United States now has a 22-foot channel clear through from Lake Superior, while the upper entrance to the American canal is a thousand feet wide. On the other hand, the entrance to the Canadian Canal is only 800 feet wide, with a depth only of eighteen feet, and in the lower eighteen and a half feet depth. The deepening of our channel to a depth of 22 feet is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and when this work is done it is hoped that the proportion of the traffic of the two canals will not be so great as at present. The comparative statement in detail is as follows:—

	No. of Vessels.	Tonnage.	Freight Tonnage.

The commission which Brantford has been investigating "Asylum" charges made against the management of the Brantford Asylum for the Blind will, it is understood, report that the complainants have not succeeded in making out a case. The report will point out that according to the laws governing the institution it is solely for the purpose of teaching children, and as a result, the regulations are such as can be applied to those of tender years while adults are admitted under certain circumstances, the regulations do not admit of any alteration for their benefit, nor is it thought desirable to frame new regulations. The complainants, it is found, were made by adults, who felt that they were entitled to larger privileges than under the circumstances the institution could give.

The French Senate has adopted the Naval Bill after a short discussion. Senator Compo, Progressive Republican, urged the building of twenty additional cruisers in place of Great Britain's commerce in case of war. The Minister of Marine, M. Dolaness, replied that the number of cruisers projected in the present bill would suffice for France's needs. Gen. Merleor then rose and alluded to his speech of Dec. 1, when he urged training the army in embarkation and disembarkation drills, so as to be ready for an invasion of England. He said he was unable to understand the sensation his remarks had produced. He did not desire war with Great Britain, but he thought it the duty of the Government to provide for such an eventuality. He reiterated any intention to appear aggressive toward Great Britain.

The Minister for the Netherlands Netherlands to Portugal and the Portuguese Minister at the Hague have left their respective posts. It is believed that a difference has arisen on the subject of the ex-charge to the Dutch Consul at Lorenzo Marques, which the Portuguese Government has withdrawn. The tension between Portugal and Holland appears to have been emphasized, perhaps not altogether unintentionally, by the peculiar warmth of King Charles' toast to Vice-Admiral Sir Harry Holdsworth Rawson and the officers of the British fleet now in the River Tagus, and by the telegram which the king afterwards despatched to Queen Victoria, thanking her Majesty for sending the fleet, and for the friendship thus demonstrated. "I beg to record," telegraphed the king, "my great satisfaction at the frank and loyal alliance uniting England and Portugal." During his speech in which he toasted Queen Victoria, the King said among other things—"England has often shared the efforts and glories of Portugal. Our mutual friendship and close alliance are strengthened by history and the blood shed together in causes which have always been just." Admiral Rawson replied that the words of the King harmonized with the thoughts of the Government and people of Great Britain. Observers think the speeches and telegram constitute an intimation to the world that Portugal can count on strong support if necessary. The Imperial says it considers the rupture of relations between Holland and Portugal to be very serious. It adds that it was due to the intrigues of Great Britain, further asserting that Portugal is now under the tutelage of Lord Salisbury. While it is not denied that the Minister of the Netherlands at Lisbon, and the Minister of Portugal at the Hague are temporarily leaving their posts it is semi-officially declared that there is no question of the Ministers being recalled. It is explained that Count De Solla, the Portuguese Minister, is proceeding to Lisbon on a few days' visit to explain verbally the difficulties which have arisen in connection with the Netherlands Consul, Herr Pott, at Lorenzo Marques.

The complete report of the Deep Waterways Committee was sent to the House of Representatives, Washington, by Secretary Root. The project before the commission is one of vast magnitude for deep waterways and routes between the great lakes and Atlantic seaboard. The estimated cost of a 21-foot waterway is given at $26,888,000, and of a 30-foot waterway $97,384,500. An additional estimate is made for deepening the harbors at Chicago and Duluth, making the total aggregate for the 30-foot channel $990,000,000. The cost of the annual maintenance of the 21-foot waterway is given at $2,848,478, and of the 30-foot waterway $9,980,908. The most favorable route, the commission states, for a 30-foot waterway from the lakes to Lake Ontario is from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario via La Salle and Lewiston, and from Lake Ontario to the Hudson River via Oswego and the Mohawk Valley, and that the same route is practically as favorable as any of the 21-foot waterways.

Reliable mail advices from Manila show that the position of the Americans is becoming increasingly hopeless, says the Hong Kong correspondent of The Daily Mail. Money is freely submitted to purchase arms and ammunition that are imported for the insurgents. The Americans will never capture the rebel contraband-running vessels. While in order to flatter the official view that trade in flourishing goods are permitted to be freely imported into Manila, they are distributed from that point to the insurgents who are murdering and pillaging all native sympathizers with Americans. A detachment of the 17th United States Volunteer Infantry from the Island of Catanduan, off the southeast coast of Luzon, relinquished an attempt to land near Pandan. On anchoring the Americans were fired upon by 60 riflemen, and after a short engagement, they cut the anchor chain and sailed for Catanduan with two killed and two wounded. The names have not yet been received here.

THE ENCYCLICAL.

The Latest Pronouncement from St. Peter's Chair.

Lastly all this shows clearly what must be expected from the error and pride of those who treat with contempt the sovereignty of the Redeemer, who place man at the top of the universe, and who declare that mankind should rule everywhere and in all things. Moreover not only are they unable to reach this power, but they are incapable of defining what it would be. The reign of Jesus Christ draws from divine love its form and its power. To love holily and according to order, such is its depth and such is its height. Hence results, necessarily, for man the obligation to accomplish his duties without restriction, to injure in no way the rights of others, to regard earthly goods as inferior to those of Heaven, finally to prefer the joys of God before all things.

As to the power of man who openly denies Christ, or who does not trouble to know Him, it relies entirely on the love of self; it is destitute of charity and ignores devotion. It is indeed lawful that man should command in the name of Jesus Christ, but on this condition only, that he serves God before all, that he draws scrupulously from the Divine law, the rule and model of his conduct.

From the law of Christ, we not only understand the natural precepts concerning manners, or those which were divinely revealed to the first one—precepts to which without doubt Jesus Christ has given their perfect form and which He has raised to a supreme dignity in prescribing, interpreting and sanctioning them—but even the rest of His doctrine, and without exception all those things which He has instituted. The principle of these things assuredly is the Church. Can they mention any institution, having Christ for its author, which may not be fully contained and embraced by the Church? For the ministry of this Church being solemnly founded by Him, He has willed to perpetuate the mission which He Himself had received from His Father; and as, on the one hand, He has collected in it all that which can ensure the salvation of mankind, on the other hand, He decreed this most important matter, that men must be submissive to the Church exactly in the same degree as to Himself, and carefully take it for a guide during life. "He that heareth you, heareth me; and he that despiseth you, despiseth me" (Luke, 10, 16). It is then from the Church that the law of Christ must be entirely demanded, and behold why the Church is for man, the "way" as it is the Christ. It is the latter by itself and by its nature; the former by the mission which has been entrusted to it and by the communication of divine power. It follows that whosoever wishes to spread salvation outside of the Church desires himself in the road and trusts to useless efforts.

This which is the case of individuals is about equally so of States. They too unfortunately get stuck in dangerous roads when they turn aside from the permanent way. He who is the Creator and also the Disposer of mankind, the Son of God, is the King and Master of the universe, and possesses a sovereign power over men, whether taken separately or united in society. "And I gave him power and glory, and a kingdom; and all peoples, tribes and tongues shall serve Him" (Dan. vii, 14). "But I have been appointed King by Him... I will give These nations as Thine inheritance, and the utmost ends of the earth shall be Thy domain." (Ps. 113). The law of Christ in society and individual groups, ought therefore to have such a value that it would error to direct and to govern not only private life but also public. Since the Bible will has thus ordained and determined, that no one can resist it with impunity, it follows that it will be of ill in the common interest of the world everywhere where Christian institutions have not the place which they ought to have. Jesus which has set aside human reason is left to its weakness, deprived of its greatest support and of its better light. Then the perception of the cause which, through the work of God has been in universal society amongst men, easily gets dim. This society exists in reality so that by the help of social bonds the members of the society may realize unaffected welfare, but in case a fashion as to harmonize completely with the good, perfect and eternal Sovereign. Those who govern and those who are governed, in fact all those whose minds are best by the command "quasi pater in filiis" is no salvation either in this world or the next. Indeed they have not an unerring guide whom they can follow, and they do not know where to stop.

It is unfortunate and lamentable to deviate from the permanent way. So also is it, for similar reasons to desert the truth. The first, absolute, essential truth is Christ, that is to say the Word of God, consubstantial and co-eternal with the Father. "I am the way and the truth." This is why, if it seeks the truth, human reason obeys at once everything from Jesus Christ, and rests with security in His majesty, since it is truth itself which speaks from the mouth of Christ. There is a crowd of things in the midst of which, as in a very fertile field which belongs personally to it, the human mind can give free flow to its observations and researches.

Nature does more than allow it. She claims it. That which is evil and contrary to Nature, is to wish that the mind may go on in its narrowness to reject the obligatory reserve and neglect the authority of Christ which teaches us. This doctrine to which is attached our salvation in all things, almost entirely relates to God and matters most divine. This is not the wisdom of some man that it may be he who has begotten it. It is the Son of God who has received it in the entirety from His Father Himself, and he has taken it to man. "The words which Thou hast given me, I have given to them" (John, XVII, 8).

In consequence, this doctrine necessarily includes several things which, without contradictory reason—which could not take place in any way—are at such a lofty eminence that human reason can no more reach it than it can understand what is, in reality the essence of God. Then there exist so many mysterious things, over which even Nature throws a veil, of which human genius can give the explanation, and which nevertheless no one of good sense can call in question, this would be to use liberty in so perverse a fashion as not to allow that there may be mysteries placed high above Nature, and the essence of which it is not permitted to us to penetrate. Not to suppose that there may be mysteries, is not to suppose that there is a Christian religion. The intellect must therefore submit itself humbly and faithfully "unto the obedience of Christ," to this point at which it finds itself, so to speak, held captive by the power of the Divinity. "And bringing into captivity every understanding unto the obedience of Christ." (II Cor. X, 5).

CHURCH DEBT REMOVED.

After Nearly a Hundred Years' Existence. Utica is Free From Debt.

Monsignor James S. M. Lynch, rector of St. John's Church in Utica, has accomplished what no other pastor of that church has—removed the debt from the church. Recently in the N.M.C.A. the people of the church held a meeting and the mortgage of $10,000 was burned. A church out of debt is something unusual, and the priest is being congratulated by Catholics and Protestants alike on his remarkable work on behalf of a church that is more than one hundred years old.

When the late Bishop McNamara of the Albany diocese sent Father Lynch to Utica there was a mortgage of $10,000 on the church. When Bishop Landon assumed charge of the new see of Syracuse he made Father Lynch vicar general of the diocese and appointed him pastor of St. John's Cathedral. Later he was sent back to Utica, to take charge of St. John's church. Father Lynch then took up the work he began in 1860.

Nicholas E. Koran, a well known lawyer, and son of the late Hon. Francis Koran, drew up the church mortgage in 1870 and last evening he destroyed it.

On Sunday, December 10, the Right Rev. Bishop Lynch will consecrate the church and will celebrate pontifical mass at 10.30. Archbishop Martinelli, papal delegate to the United States, will be present at the ceremonies and will celebrate solemn vespers in the evening.

A large number of Syracuse priests, including the Rev. Dr. Mullany, the Rev. Father Clune, Monsignor Kennedy, Father Grimes and Father Mackay will be present at the ceremonies. The history of St. John's church is the history of Roman Catholicism in Utica. It was found by Irish missionaries nearly a hundred years ago, and parish after parish has been cut from it, until now there are several other flourishing churches in Utica. St. John's has been attended by some of Utica's best known and most famous families. Out from that parish have gone many who in church and state have achieved enviable reputations and made honorable records. Bishop Burke of Albany served as an altar boy in that sanctuary. Father MacFarland left that parsonage in 1855 to become Bishop of Hartford. Many men once members of its congregation have discharged the holy office of priesthood.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES.

Necessity of Societies for Young Men.

(Written for The Register.)

A word as to the necessity for the organization of purely Catholic societies for young men in such a parish. Why are such societies needed? They are needed to further develop the school education of young men, to cultivate the intellectual qualities which often become dull from manual work, and to enable them to take an active interest in church work.

The young man after leaving school, thrown on his own resources, goes out to find the work where he soon finds out that the actual work of his life is not the world he dreamed of; that injustice often sits enthroned in high places; that the struggle for existence has been and should be the unscrupulous who motto seems to be "Success at any price," distance him in the race. If left to himself he is apt to become discouraged, and the influences surrounding his daily life (which are mainly Protestant) are apt to give him a false conception of the right conduct of life. The moral principles which underlie all honest work are apt to be forgotten, and he is looked upon as one thing and religion another, whereas, religious principles should permeate all right work.

Here is where the necessity for Catholic societies comes in, to help mould the character of the young man, to bring him more in touch with Catholic ideals, to strengthen him in resisting non-Catholic influences.

Living as we are in a Protestant community, our Catholic young men require to set before them a high ideal both in ability and in religion that while debarred by conscience from seeking success by unscrupulous means, they may overcome evil by good.

Let our young men be a little more in earnest. Everybody respects the man who is in earnest, even though the sometimes makes mistakes; but for the next.

RIDGE TOWN SOCIAL.

The social in aid of St. Michael's church fund, held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shinnett, 7th Con. Howard, on Monday evening, proved a huge success. The attendance was very large from both town and country, but the management was excellent and no inconvenience was suffered. Two refreshments, included oysters, coffee, cake, etc., were nicely served, and there was an abundance of everything. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present and the young men who originated and so successfully managed the affair deserve great credit. The net proceeds amounted to over $50. The committee comprised Messrs. Fred. Regan, James O'Connor, Robert Orndorff and Fred Morrison.

They are a Powerful Nerve.—Dyspepsia causes derangement of the nervous system, and nervous debility soon ensues and it is difficult to deal with. There are many testimonials as to the efficacy of Pare's Vegetable Pills in treating this disorder, showing that they never fail to produce good results. By giving Pare's pills to the digestive organs, they restore equilibrium to the nerve centres.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON.

THE DIVINITY OF CHRIST—HIS MORAL PERFECTION.

At St. John's Cathedral, St. Catharines, Ontario, the Rev. Charles Cooper, S.J., M. A., delivered the second of his sermons on the divinity of Christ. On the previous Sunday evening the preacher dealt with Christ's intellectual power, and on the present occasion he considered the moral perfection of Our Lord.

FAREWELL TO FATHER McMILLAN

Address and Praise Presented at Alexandria.

The notice of Rev. Father McMillan's removal from this parish to Dickinson's Landing was so short that his friends were taken somewhat by surprise. Nevertheless, the large number of parishioners who assembled last Tuesday evening to say a formal farewell was an eloquent testimony to the popularity of the departed priest.

CHINESE CATHOLICS.

Rev. Joseph M. Gleason, who is with the Sixth Cavalry, U.S.A., in China, and who was the only priest with the allied armies, has written an interesting letter to a friend from Tien Tsin, which contains much matter not sent out by the regular correspondents. He says: CATHOLICS ALONE COMMAND RESPECT.

THE UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

An English Opinion on Its Attempted Suppression.

The "Speaker" contains an excellent article on the situation which has now arisen in Ireland between the Government and the United Irish League...

The article then goes on to describe the peaceful nature of the country, and the preventive circumstances under which the meeting was proclaimed...

It is not, however, to describe the mournful shipwreck that I am writing this paper, but the pathetic tale connected with it...

The craft was a local carrier of freight and passengers and provisions to points far up the St. Lawrence, having, as I understand it, her headquarters at Quebec...

Unbelieving men, who accept only what their own limited minds can comprehend, will say that the great, unprovoked Providence has any act or part in prompting the little lady to restrain her father from setting out on that perilous journey...

Mr. Gilbert Parker dedicates his book, "The Lane That Had No Turning," to St. Wilfrid Laurier. In the dedication paragraph there would occur: "I have travelled far and wide during the past seventeen years, and though I have seen people as frugal and industrious as the French-Canadian, I have never seen frugality and industry associated with so much domestic virtue, so much education and intelligence, so deep and simple a religious life; not have I ever seen a priesthood as so devoted and high-minded in all that concerns the home-life of their people as in French Canada."

AN INTERVENTION OF PROVIDENCE.

A Little Girl is Made an Instrument in Saving Her Father's Life—A Case in Which the Providential Hand Intervened.

The striking story which I relate below is taken from the life, and in no way exaggerated, save and except in the filling, or what may be called the literary padding, which every narrative tends to make it presentable to the reading public...

The incident grew out of the late ill-fated shipwreck of the Grand-Bateau, near Seven Islands, in the lower St. Lawrence, on which had occasion the captain of the "St. Olaf," of the Montreal, was making two or three days' sail, all perished at the dread hour of midnight, not one being left to tell the melancholy tale of the total disaster...

It is not, however, to describe the mournful shipwreck that I am writing this paper, but the pathetic tale connected with it, for many strange accidents have happened and will continue to happen to men and women "who go down to sea in ships."

The literature of that storied district of Ontario, the Niagara peninsula, is shortly to be enlarged by the publication of an interesting work on the life of the late Currier, St. Catharines, entitled, "The Story of Laura Secord and Other Canadian Reminiscences."

The Catholic World's Christmas number is an excellent one. Always good, the World has put forth an extra effort for Christmas and its effort has succeeded. The leading article is on the "Right of the Currier" by Rev. Humphrey Moynihan, D.D.

whilst a simple and thoughtful for the "Speaker" contains an excellent article on the situation which has now arisen in Ireland between the Government and the United Irish League...

Of course a sad plight cannot be understood in all its heart-rending details except by people who have had such a pitiable experience, and yet saved their lives at the last moment by a revelation of providence...

Some unpublished verses by James Russell Lowell celebrate the opening of the December Atlantic, while Owen Winter's Symphony also appears in the same issue...

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY.

Amongst the pleasant events of this year was the celebration, last Sunday and Monday, of the Golden Jubilee of St. Vincent de Paul Society in this city and Province. Like many other good works, it originated in France, and was shortly after its organization introduced into Canada by a medical student from Quebec who had become a member while in Paris.

NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS.

In countries having responsible government the hinging of elections turns generally upon some detail, some public policy, rather than upon the trust itself of government by the people. One party may advocate preferential tariffs as the claim of its support. Free trade and protection, war and peace, excessive taxation and the like are, one or the other, the points of attack or defence.

country under a new system and raise the Island from a state of stagnation to industry and prosperity.

CHURCH MUSIC.

That music has from very ancient times occupied a most important place in Catholic ritual is a well known fact, the practice of singing hymns and psalms having commenced during the persecution of Ambrose, the Holy Bishop of Milan, as related by St. Augustine. With the great advances made in musical art the Church has always kept pace, and thus we find that at the present day she employs in her services all that is best and noblest in music.

POLITICS IN ENGLAND;

The opening of the British Parliament passed off last week with considerable acrimony, but without any definite attack upon the Government. Lord Salisbury in the House of Lords and Mr. Chamberlain in the House of Commons have always had an unfortunate facility of provoking bitterness from their opponents.

allow a shred of independence should be left." There is no doubt about that language. It was not so much for the Opposition as for European powers. It meant that Mr. Kruger's mission to elicit sympathy would be a failure.

LABOR AND SOCIALISM.

"Citizen and Country," a labor paper printed in this city, commenting upon the introduction of the new official labor publication into the field of journalism, describes the new venture as an attempt to sweep back the rising tide with a broom. The "rising tide" is Socialism, of which "Citizen and Country" is an advocate.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are very sorry that we cannot furnish any information with regard to certain "grize offers" of soap companies. We never had the advertisement in our columns, and know absolutely nothing about the affair.

The Presbyterian Review has taken on a new and much improved appearance. The paper is better to look upon and better to read than formerly. The editorial staff has been increased by the addition of Rev. R. O. Tibb, B.A., and cannot but profit as a result.

Paul Kruger's pilgrimage to Europe has not been very productive of anything that would tend to revive his drooping spirits. France would have none of him officially; the German Emperor could not see him; the Austrian Emperor was too busy; the Czar was too ill, and then came Holland with the news that her Parliament "could not foresee at present the psychological moment when the Netherlands would be able to propose arbitration between Great Britain and the Transvaal."

General Mercler has been exulting himself and the French Senate overly much by informing it that England is not invulnerable to attack. Nobody supposes for a moment that she is, but General Mercler will find the same old difficulty of getting out of England again still existing.

A large milling company is about to commence operations in Peterborough. The American Cereal Company, with large mills at Akron, O., and Cedar Rapids, Ia., together with a large elevator system in Chicago, is ready to step in and spend $350,000 in Peterborough in establishing a milling industry.

Mormon missionaries are having anything but a lovely time of it in Austria. Two elders undertook to preach polygamy in Tamersvan, South Hungary. One of them was compelled to run the gauntlet of some three hundred citizens, armed with sticks, stones and other offensive weapons.

of the stretch of polygamy. The sooner the better.

An example of how things are done in the Eastern States was given last week near Boston. It was decided at a Protestant ministerial gathering to canvass the community with a view to ascertaining the religious state of the people. The Catholic priests were invited to take part in the affair, but they declined with thanks.

The organized German Catholics who form the Centre party in the Reichstag do not propose to let any grass grow under their feet. A devoted little band of faithful Catholics has within a few years taught the mighty German Empire that the Church must be respected, if not for her own sake, then for the sake of peace or something else.

The metric system of weights and measures is being adopted in Russia and the United States. There is not the slightest doubt of the superiority of the system over any other on the score of simplicity and readiness in handling. This fact must of necessity land the metric system in the front rank, and will secure its adoption the world over.

The Home Circle.

THE MIGHTY HUNDRED YEARS.

One mighty gown, and old locks broke! All the vast, glimmering outline of the world...

All things came steeling in one-moment dance. One motion older than the age are; Swung in one Law, one Purpose, one Advance...

Men trace the capacious orbits of the Law, And find it is their shelter and their friend;

And so man pushes toward the Secret West— Up through the storm of stars, skies upon skies! And down through circling atoms, nearing fast...

Yes, in the slapping of a grain of sand, He sees the law that made the spheres to be— Sees atom-worlds spun by the Hidden Hand...

With spell of wizard Solon on his eyes, And augments on his arm, he probes— And pulses back the low, unfriendly skies...

He walks abroad upon the Zodiac, To weigh the world in balances, to fuse In his crucible, and carry back The spherical music and the cosmic news...

HOW TO DRESS.

The very latest idea is to dress to suit the furniture in your rooms—or, vice versa, to furnish your rooms to harmonize with your dresses. Thus, if your drawing room is decorated with shades of rose, your gowns should be in similar shades...

CARE OF THE TEETH.

A great many pretty girls are not half as pretty as they would be had they good teeth. A poor set of teeth is not to be envied, but a beautiful white, straight row certainly would be envied...

PICTURESQUE CLOAKS.

Very picturesque are the long cloaks of winter and, as for revealing, not so much as they seem, for the figure, they do it with a grace and persistency not to be expected of them...

SIMPLE HAIR DRESSING.

Only a few weeks ago it was the fashion to separate the hair into numerous strands, each of which was curled to the back of the head...

NOVELTIES IN PURSES.

Every year designers are cudgeling their brains to invent new pocket-books. The reason for the Vienna purse bags and the Italian coin purses is to come to the Vienna purse bag...

THE ANKLET IS HERE.

The anklet has appeared. Ultra fashionable women have adopted it. It is not a garter. It is to be thankful what the old fashioned wristlet was to the wrist...

The anklet fits so closely just above the top of the low shoe that it can scarcely be distinguished from the stocking. It is made and fitted by the shoemaker. Most of the anklets are of satin, but some are of the leather and others of broad-cloth...

The shoemakers who furnish them and who cater to the exclusive society trade are having a busier season this year than ever before, for women of fashion think they require shoes to suit the ankle in that locality...

With the Children. INDIAN SUMMER. Rev. Julian E. Johnston.

Now the winding ways are yellow With the waving golden-rod; And the thistles in the bushes Chant a psalm of praise to God...

Now the royal purple aster Identifies the bushes and trees; And the glimmer in the golden haze, Blue, blue are the skies; Then a maiden's violet eyes, And the sunny bee, with honey, Through the dreamy sunlight flies.

Bright the samach plumes are burning And the leaves are turning gold; And the river, with a shiver, With soft silver, comes and rolls; Reaping, reaping in the fields, Gather they the golden yields, While the havers up in layers Pile the grasses in the fields.

SAVED BY AN EAGLE. In the story of "Waikoua's Eagle," in the December issue of the Catholic Register, we read of an Indian who saved a wounded eagle, and nursed it back to strength...

THE DEBT OF HONOR. Every one who has made the most of his opportunities, and who in addition, has cultivated every faculty with the greatest care, has won success...

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL MAN. The brilliant author, writer and travel chronicler, Warner, who passed away recently, left deeply interested in the literature which helps. Probably the last work of his pen was the following answer to the question, "The most successful man?"

THE DEBT OF HONOR. Every one who has made the most of his opportunities, and who in addition, has cultivated every faculty with the greatest care, has won success...
