PETROGRAD, May 24, via London, 11:45 p.m.

No news has yet been received from Russian sources regarding the junction effected between Russian cavalry and Lieut.-Gen. Sir George Spring's force below Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia and except as a press forerunner of a real union of the main Russian and British forces in Mesopotamia which is expected in the near future by military observers, the event is not regarded here as of special importance. It furnishes, however, an interesting indication that the activity of the Russian forces in Persia is by no means confined to points mentioned in the official statements.

THOMAS ENRIGHT FOUND DEAD IN ROOM YESTERDAY

Police Believe He Was Suffocated While in Intoxicated Condition.

Thomas Enright, 50 years of age, a roomer at 365 West King street, was found dead in his room from suffocation about 4:30 yesterday afternoon by a friend, William Patterson, 57 Clifton street, who had called upon him.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

WHILE the struggle in Italy has lessened in intensity, the fighting went on yesterday with, if anything, increased ferocity before Verdun. It will be noted that when the conflict in France became more violent, the Austrian efforts against Italy diminished, but they did not altogether cease. This seems to add confirmation to the observation that the enemy can fight a heavy engagement only at one point in one theatre at one time. This inability is probably due to the direction of the German and Austrian campaigns by only one man, Von Falkenhayn, chief of the German general staff.

At any rate the fighting before Verdun has lessened the pressure on Italy for the time being, and has enabled the Italians to effect withdrawals to stronger defensive positions and to bring up additional reinforcements.

It is the prolonged nature of the struggle of Verdun, now in its 94th day, that has made it so wearisome. The French latterly have been forcing the Germans to fight by threatening attacks and by regaining ground lost during a combat. It is evident that the situation has suited them for the part that they are playing. When offered British assistance General Joffre refused for the reason that France had adequate reserves to cope with the enemy. The lengthening of the struggle, which has been partly owing to French threats to retake the territory lost in the initial stages of the battle, probably indicates that the French, in especially refraining from striking at the Germans in some other sector of the front, are fighting Germany for exhaustion. This is probably one of the reasons for the assertion that the war will be decided in the west.

Before Verdun, where the fighting has been as furious as the fighting at Inkerman, the French were pushed back by sheer weight of numbers from Fort Douaumont and from Cumieres Village, east and west of the southern outskirts of Cumieres Village, which is after all but a group of houses on a single street. Three divisions were brought up by the enemy to storm Le Mort Homme during the night and the fighting raged with great fury. In general the attack was repulsed and the gain at Cumieres Village is of slight importance, else the Germans would have immediately

ROME, via Paris, May 24.—King Victor Emmanuel has addressed the following order of the day to the army and navy:

"Soldiers of land and sea: Responding with enthusiasm to the appeal of the country year ago, you hastened to fight, in conjunction with our brave allies, our hereditary enemy, and assure the realization of our national claims."

"After having surmounted difficulties of nature, you have fought in a hundred combats and won, for you have the ideal of Italy in your heart. But the country again asks of you new efforts and more sacrifices."

"I do not doubt that you will know how to give new proofs of bravery and force of mind. The country, proud and grateful, sustains you in your arduous task by its fervent affection, its calm demeanor and its admirable confidence. I sincerely hope that fortune will accompany us in future battles, as you occupy my constant thoughts."

The order was issued from the general headquarters of the army today. In all the leading Italian towns demonstrations in celebration of the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war assumed imposing proportions. In Rome those taking part in a big demonstration acclaimed the queen and royal family, as well as the ambassadors of the allies.

HAD BATTLE WITH SOLDIERS.

John Molish, South street, New Toronto, had his nose and forehead gashed in a fight with two soldiers at the corner of Queen street and University avenue yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the General Hospital in the police ambulance.

WAR SUMMARY

LONDON, May 24.—The Germans still occupy the 1500 yards of front line trenches which they captured on the Vimy ridge the other day. They were accompanied by small parties of British troops, which pushed over the ridge and engaged the Germans in hand-to-hand fighting. Germans and British who are astride the Souchez River engaged in a heavy artillery contest. The usual artillery activity prevailed about Beaucourt, the Holzgangere redoubt, Wytechaete and St. Eloi.

THE DAY'S BEST TIP.

Lend dignity to the crowd. Go to the races wearing a Dineen hat. Every successful man wears a really good hat. Even when a man loses his money at the races he still looks prosperous and satisfied if his hat came from Dineen's, 140 Yonge street.

WAR SUMMARY

LONDON, May 24.—The fighting on the Italian front has suddenly slackened, only a few isolated attacks being reported and military observers at Rome assert that it has been necessary for the Austrians to replace their losses and to bring up fresh troops for a stronger offensive. It is believed that the Austrian commanders are planning to extend the line of attack, for large assemblages of reinforcements continue to be reported on the northern banks of Lake Garda. These troops intend, it is believed, to attempt an invasion of Italy along the northern province of Brescia.

A semi-official statement issued at Rome says that the Austrian offensive on the Trentino front and the furious efforts of the Germans at Verdun are a concerted effort on the part of the central powers to prevent an expected simultaneous attack by the allies on all fronts. Germany and Austria aim at weakening France and Italy, counting on the temporary halt continuing in Russian operations. They hope that to be reported on the ground when Russia is able to renew the fight the other two nations will be so worn out as to need a rest. The statement is made that this simultaneous offensive of all the allies will cause the German and Austrian plans to fail.

This great offensive, it is asserted, will bring about the downfall of the Teutonic powers.

Motion Being Circulated in Paris Already Has Many Signatures.

IN REGARD TO VERDUN

Information in Regard to First Phase of Operations Being Asked.

PARIS, May 24.—A motion demanding a secret sitting of the chamber of deputies at which the government should give full explanations in regard to the first phase of the Verdun operation is being circulated in the legislative lobby and has already obtained 150 signatures. It is not likely, however, that the motion will be moved until Premier Briand has again appeared before the army committee.

Premier Briand and General Rogues, the minister of war, appeared before the army committee of the chamber of deputies on May 4, after a profound sensation had been caused in Paris by the publication in the newspapers of a charge that a general of the French staff had contemplated a retreat of the forces on the right bank of the Meuse. This charge was met at the time by the official statement that the chief command had never given any order for a retreat at any time during the battle of Verdun.

DAY AN IDEAL HOLIDAY Splendid Weather Attracted Thousands to Places of Amusement. PARKS WERE FILLED Scarborough Beach, Hanlan's Point and Woodbine Report Record Crowds.

A brilliant sun shining from a cloudless sky, with the temperature of the air like that of a midsummer day, induced the weather conditions for the holiday yesterday, Victoria Day, in honor of the late Queen Victoria, was observed in Toronto as a public holiday, and the day was given over to recreation and pleasure.

The various breathing places of the city were thronged from early morning. Thousands visited High Park and spent the day among the trees and flowers of that beautiful spot.

Everyone carried a lunch basket and picnic parties were numerous. Queen's Park attracted many and the beautiful tulip beds, which are at their best, aroused the admiration of all.

A refreshing breeze blew off the water and enticed many from the hot city streets. All boats were crowded. The Canadian Steamship Lines reported the heaviest passenger traffic for Victoria Day ever experienced.

Hundreds spent the day at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Queenston and Buffalo. However, officials at the Union Station stated that the number of people who traveled on the railroads this holiday was much less than expected.

In fact, it was little heavier than on any other day of the week. The unpromising weather conditions of the past few days had evidently instilled a doubt in the minds of the would-be holiday-makers.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 25.

Warder of Two Continents

A year ago the British Columbia Conservatives called Sir Richard McBride and called Hon. W. J. Bowser to the premiership. They would not hear of appealing to the people upon the proposal to loan $7,000,000 to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

As a surprise, therefore, comes the announcement that the Bowser Government had decided to loan $6,000,000 to this same Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company.

The owners of the road are said to be Foley, Welsh and Stewart, the big railway contractors who built most of the National Transcontinental east and west of Winnipeg and a great deal of the Canadian Northern.

Meanwhile whoever owns the road, or whatever their purpose in building it, the company is giving all the security it can to the province for the new loan. The enterprise is to be mortgaged, 49 per cent, of the common stock is to be hypothecated and the anticipated Dominion subsidy of $12,000,000 a mile, is to be assigned to the province in advance.

Today the Grand Trunk Pacific arrives at the coast 500 miles north of Vancouver. It must depend upon the Pacific and Great Eastern to get into Vancouver. But if the Grand Trunk Pacific really owns the road, Great Eastern it must be evident that the latter will be absorbed with the former in the nationalization that cannot be long deferred.

Whether as a matter of national policy the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern, which run side by side from Edmonton to the summit of the mountains, are justified in having two separate entrances to Vancouver we need not decide. The Pacific and Great Eastern is well under way and will no doubt be completed. Vancouver apparently will remain the entrepot of British Columbia for many years to come and the terminus of all three transcontinentals.

PARIS, May 24.—An Italian shell has blown up the largest munitions depot at Rovereto and that town is now a desolation, according to a news despatch from Rome. Several heavy guns were destroyed by the explosion.

Stealing Germany's Business. One of the good features of the war is the independence which is being thrust upon various nations outside as well as among the belligerents.

is suffering most severely. Postic justice does not always follow so swiftly, but the other nations are going to see that on this occasion cause and effect are going to have their perfect relationship.

Germany is losing nearly all the special industries which she has built up with such skill and expenditure of brain-power. This is especially true of the chemical industries. The United States has taken advantage of the conditions which have been thrust upon the non-combatants, and has developed to an amazing extent the manufacture of commodities for which she formerly depended entirely upon Germany.

The Philadelphia Record mentions a number of chemical products, which have come down in price in recent months since American manufacturers have found it possible to overtake the demand consequent upon the cessation of German supplies. Among these to quote The Record, "Carbolic acid has dropped from $1.10 to 70 cents a pound, antipyrine is down $15 a pound, or about 25 per cent; acetanilid has dropped from $2.75 to $1.20 a pound; salicylic acid and salicylate of soda have declined about 50 cents; aspirin has declined a little; salol is down $1.50 a pound, and hydroquinone, photographers will be glad to hear, has declined 50 cents a pound."

Royal Marriages

It does not appear that the Germans celebrated the birthday of the Kaiser's grandmother with any degree of enthusiasm. At one time it was regarded as a matter of great diplomatic and international importance and a guarantee of peace to the nations concerned when marriages were arranged between the royal houses of Europe.

When it is remembered that these royal marriages have been advanced in recent generations as a strong argument in favor of monarchical institutions the present war will be seen to have removed one of the last remaining props of the old school of monarchists.

Germany has really made more out of the marriage market than any other nation. Her princelings are settled in every corner in Europe, and generally to the disadvantage of the people with whom they settle. The Kaiser was a great favorite of Queen Victoria's and he has repaid her memory with the basest ingratitude. His eldest son is certainly the most vehement hater of all things British that can be found.

MANY THOUSAND DEAD

Private Messages During Past Year Such as to Make Cable-gram Plausible.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Eighty thousand persons have died of starvation in Lebanon, according to a cable message received today by The Daily Mirror, a Syrian newspaper. The message was signed by S. Harkis of Cairo, Egypt, a magazine writer, whose reliability is vouched for by the publishers of The Daily Mirror, altho they do not profess to have any information as to the accuracy of the facts contained in the cablegram, which read:

"Famine in Lebanon. Eighty thousand dead." It was said today in well-known Syrian circles, that private advices received for a year past were such as to make the message plausible. Food conditions in Syria has been extremely serious, as the whole territory has been cut off from communication with the rest of the world, either by land or by sea.

Telephone Wire Tapping Investigation Develops in Two Distinct Directions.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY

Disclosures Checked by Refusal to Bear Testimony in Public.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The telephone wire tapping investigation today developed in two distinct directions. One invited the use of this method to obtain information regarding activities of Seymour & Seymour, attorneys, said to be interested in war munition contracts. The other had to do with the "covering" of private telephone wires by the police to gain evidence regarding the conduct of certain Catholic charitable institutions.

The investigation before the Thompson legislation committee promised further sensations today if Mayor Mitchell carried out his threat to re-examine the records of approximately 100 conversations taken down by the police over a tapped wire. The mayor at yesterday's session of the committee, a stormy session of this committee, made a statement for the purpose, he said, of justifying the methods of the police. He charged that certain clergy members of the Catholic church, of which he himself is a communicant, had formed a conspiracy to interfere with the city government and obstruct the investigation of the law in relation to the conduct of Catholic charitable institutions.

DUBLIN PRISONERS ARE WELL TREATED

Authorities Throw Open Bars to Visitors to Dispel False Impressions.

GOOD FOOD SUPPLIED

Twenty of the Prisoners Were Given Their Release on Tuesday.

DUBLIN, May 23, via London, May 24.—By invitation of the military authorities representatives of the press today visited the detention barracks, where the prisoners taken since the outbreak are confined. The authorities emphasized a wish to dispel the belief that the prisoners were badly treated. The first procedure when the prisoners are brought in is to supply them with forms of an application for release and to impress upon them the fact that the authorities are anxious to weed out the innocent with the least possible delay. A staff of clerks is constantly employed in sifting the evidence for and against the men and deals with as many as 200 cases daily.

PEACE RUMORS IN U.S. DISCUSSED IN AUSTRIA

SEEKER AFTER GLORY?

Suggestion Made That President Desires Fame as Peace Initiator.

VIENNA, via Berlin, May 23, via London, May 24.—The Austrian press has given the widest publicity to various peace stories emanating from the United States. The peace stories have vied with the news from Tyne for the most favorable position in the papers. The Neue Freie Presse denotes a two-column leader to their discussion of the peace proposals.

The paper assumed a cynical attitude, apparently fearing that the entire movement, which it says, "is now so obvious in the United States," has been occasioned chiefly by political considerations, and if not by these, has been prompted by the conceit of the people, who would like to see President Wilson in the role of peace initiator, that his name and his country might be connected with the greatest event in history.

Looking to Elections. After expressing the opinion that the peace paragraph in the German note regarding the Sussex gave an impetus to the present activity, The Neue Freie Presse discusses how great an effect either a concluded peace or peace in prospect, being concluded would have on the presidential elections and what would be the effect of peace efforts on the part of President Wilson on the German vote. Both at the outset and at the end the paper states its position as follows:

"The statements contained in the present news from America are to be examined carefully; they must be judged neither prematurely nor with too much hope. It is of the utmost importance that we adopt a position to observe the course of the proceedings, an entirely critical position, neither believing nor rejecting too readily, so that we shall exclude none of the possibilities."

SELECTING A JURY TO TRY WILL ORPET. Considerable Difficulty Experienced With Rural Residents—City People to Be Called.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 24.—The six venire summoned for examination as jurors in the case of Will H. Orpet charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, appeared in court today. Most of the 630 men examined so far have been residents of rural communities, and practically all of them have obtained their release from jury duty by professing a fixed opinion in the case. In an attempt to expedite the selection of a jury the venire has been drawn from residents of the city in the hope that they will prove less opinionated and more able to pass the requirements of the attorneys.

Four men have already been sworn for jury duty, and the prosecution will, it is expected, tender four more to the defence today.

GERMANY HAS SPENT HUGE SUM ON WAR

New Vote Will Bring Total Appropriation to Fifty Billion Marks.

BLUSTER FROM BERLIN

Financial Leaders Said to Be Optimistic as to Outlook.

BERLIN, May 23, via London, May 24.—The credit of ten billion marks, which the reichstag will soon be asked to vote, will bring the total credits to fifty billion marks (about $1,500,000,000) of which $600,000,000 marks (about $9,000,000,000) have already been raised in loans.

While details regarding the fifth war loan are not yet arranged, it is expected that it will be issued in September and that the rate of five per cent will be retained, as in all previous loans. The treasury will raise the necessary funds upon treasury bills as needed in anticipation of the issue as on previous occasions.

The prospects for the loan are regarded as satisfactory. The manufacturers in various branches are earning big profits and the excellent crop prospects render it probable that there will be large investments in the loan by the farming population. Financial circles regard the further course of war finance with composure, believing that Germany will be able to stand the strain better than her enemy countries. Moreover, Germany's war expenses, unlike those of some of the enemy countries, show a tendency to shrink rather than increase.

Expenditure Reduced? It is stated that the expenditure for military purposes is now actually smaller than a year ago, when the expenses for several new army organizations and of the active and prolonged Russian campaign have been borne. The expenses on the Russian front are now greatly reduced as compared with 1917, and even on the western front there have hardly increased, notwithstanding the heavy expenditure of artillery ammunition at Verdun.

The German war expenses therefore appear to be somewhat below the two billion marks mark monthly, as announced some time ago in the budget by Dr. Helfferich, secretary of the treasury.

Leafs Beat Birds 5-4 Lose in Afternoon 11-6

EVEN BREAK ON HOLIDAY OVERTIME IN EARLY GAME

Trout Drove in Winning Run in Morning Game—Poor Pitching Gave Birds an Easy Victory in the Afternoon Contest.

The best the Leafs could get on the holiday was an even break with the Birds. The morning fixture went our way 5 to 4 when Trout batted out a single in the seventh inning. Baltimore won the afternoon game 11 to 6. Poor pitching by Herbert, who allowed six runs in two innings before he was benched, tells the tale. John Gledhill Murray found his batting eye yesterday and collected five hits in the two contests. The Leafs made eight errors on the day and were far below their Tuesday form.

Predictions Made of Abnormally Shrunk Yield This Season.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Altho peace rumors led to a bullish reaction in the last hour, the wheat market today continued to hold something of a sharp advance which had resulted chiefly from increased reports of crop damage in Oklahoma and southern Kansas.

The wheat market was uniformly on the up-grade. Early excessive heat and absence of rain in Oklahoma and neighboring parts of Kansas, it was held up to predictions of an abnormally shrunken yield.

Sufficient importance was attached to the peace outlook to induce lively selling on the part of some leading houses that beforehand had been conspicuous on the buying side.

GRADUATE NURSES' ANNUAL MEETING

Practical Demonstration of Appliances Used in Surgery Given.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS

Delivered by Dr. N. A. Powell—Approved Extension of Victorian Order.

The Graduate Nurses' Association of Ontario met in their thirteenth annual meeting yesterday at the Hospital for Sick Children.

The morning session was given over to the reading of reports, from which it was shown that at the beginning of the year there were 144 members, the numbers having increased to 126, with 19 individual members and 23 nursing organizations.

Reports from various chapters and from the representatives to "Canadian Nurses" were read.

In the afternoon a practical demonstration of the appliances used in surgery and medicine was given, the various articles being laid out in a room adjoining the lecture hall, and were evidently of much interest to the nurses present.

Some discussion arose as to a change of date for holding the annual meeting, and on motion, Miss Crosby, seconded by Miss Neilson, it was decided that the Saturday preceding Easter Sunday should be the day in future.

A resolution approving the extension of the Victoria Order of Nurses for maternity work in certain districts, rather than the establishing of a new organization for this purpose, as has been suggested by the Local Council of Women, was moved by Miss Crosby, seconded by Mrs. Tully, and carried by the meeting.

A most interesting address on "Medical Jurisprudence as it Relates to Nurses" was given by Dr. N. A. Powell. Laws never rise above the common sense of the people.

"Laws" was stated to be of general application. One hundred years ago, in Toronto, a boy was hanged for taking the equivalent of 75 cents.

Rome Gave Law. Palestine, said Dr. Powell, gave us Christian theology, Greece gave art and literature, and Rome gave us law and jurisprudence.

The common sense of humanity, the obligations of the nurse were of a contractual nature, in suits brought for malpractice, improper treatment and injury as a result must be proved.

Dr. Powell warned his audience against carelessness, to which contributing factors are ignorance, carelessness and bad judgment. Carelessness is scarcely possible if the heart is in the work.

The second address was on army nursing by Col. Rudolf, who gave an interesting description of the methods used in giving attention to the man who reports himself as sick at the medical officer's "dug out."

In this connection a tribute was made to the bravest of the bravest men on the field, exposed as they often are to most terrible dangers.

Col. Rudolf took exception to the manner in which the casualty lists are published. In these, which are looked upon as honor rolls, there are often the names of men who perhaps have only a bit of the top of their finger blown off, while the man who has stretched into the depths and has had to struggle for his life with appendicitis or typhoid fever receives no mention.

The general hospital, originally supposed to have 1000 beds, has now 1700, the Eastern Hospital, which is only different in size, has been raised from 200 to 600 or 700 beds.

English Pound and American Dollar Are Now Ascending

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 23, via London, May 24.—The American dollar and the English pound have at last shown some strength on Scandinavian bourses.

The fall of these two exchanges, which seemed to go down hand-in-hand, was definitely checked the week after the dollar touched 3.27 from the normal 3.75, and the pound had touched 15.48 from the normal 18.20.

The dollar climbed faster and was quoted today at 15.65. The German mark is unchanged from May 10, the franc is showing a slight gain, and the Austrian crown a slight loss, which last is also true of the Russian ruble.

The fall of the dollar and the pound had been steady from the first of the year, and this is the first sign of an upward tendency.

LADY EATON PRESENTS COLORS TO BATTALION

Thousands Witnessed Presentation to Victoria Unit at Lindsay Yesterday.

BIG REVIEW FOLLOWS

Sir Sam Hughes and Many Prominent Toronto People Were Present.

LINDSAY, May 24.—Today at 2.30 o'clock Lady Eaton of Toronto presented the King's and battalion colors to the 10th Overseas Battalion of Victoria and Hallburton at the agricultural park, after which the regiment was reviewed by Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia.

The large crowd of thousands of people who were there to show their appreciation of the khaki-clad men who will shortly leave Lindsay and their appreciation of the honor bestowed on the battalion by Lady Eaton, herself a former Ontario resident, was a most impressive sight.

Lady Eaton and Sir John Eaton, Lady Hughes and Sir Sam Hughes were also present with hundreds of distinguished officials by the officers and men of the battalion as a token of the deep interest taken in the Victoria County boys.

Among those present were Col. Bruce and Col. Langtry of Toronto, Col. Hamilton and Col. Clark of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCrea, Miss McCrea, Miss Fressa, Miss Scott, Mr. and Mrs. William Brodie of Toronto, ex-Warden Mulligan and Mrs. Mulligan and Mrs. J. McCrea of Omemee and others.

Lady Eaton some time previously presented the battalion with the finest set of instruments for the brass and bugle bands.

The dream of the eulogist has come true, as the pictures on the frontispiece of this week's illustrated section of The Sunday World will prove. There is a series of pictures showing women engaged in what was formerly exclusively men's employment, depicting a woman taking care of a ponderous machine; others in the uniform of the greatest inventor, motor bus conductors, chauffeurs and farm workers.

This week's Sunday World is for sale by all newsdealers everywhere at 5c a copy.

Pruning Flowering Shrubs several communications recently regarding the blossoms which are making your shrubs and as the master is of the greatest importance, a word will not be out of place.

It is to be remembered that the blossoms which are making your shrubs beautiful this spring are all growing, generally speaking, upon the new shoots that were sent out during the winter.

The blossoms which are making your shrubs beautiful this spring are all growing, generally speaking, upon the new shoots that were sent out during the winter.

Such shrubs as lilacs, syringas, Japanese, knobel, golden bell and other members of the spring class, should receive strenuous pruning as soon as the blossoms have begun to fade, thus stimulating the growth of hundreds of top-shoots. Many of the harder and thornier shrubs, such as the hollyhock, should be pruned in a different manner.

The Forsythia lilac is a shrub that will send out numerous drooping sprouts many feet within a few weeks if the pruning is done in the proper manner. When this pruning is to be accomplished and the shrub into a sturdy compact bush.

I had an inquiry the other day concerning the old-time Rose of Sharon. This is an early summer flower and will not bloom until the specimen has attained a few years' age. The foliage is very dark myrtle, and the blossoms are shades of rose, very double, like a hugh daisy, and closely attached to the stem in a manner characteristic of the flowering lilac. Pruning should be done after several years' old wood has formed, and about a week after the last bloom has vanished.

It is surprising what a number of the root-sucker shoots will grow of themselves, if they are planted as soon as they have been removed from the parent tree, especially if they have happened to produce a few surface fibre roots for themselves while still attached to the large tree. Planted deeply, well watered, and their tops clipped down a few inches, they will strike healthily into the new soil and in a few weeks they will only a matter of time before these in summer rather than in spring, is the spruce, in some one or more of its many varieties. Even while the slender, graceful flower-laden branches are in new buds, you may see scores of the new shoots coming up everywhere for next year's bloom. This shrub, like the pruning, and you will do well to slip the tree quite closely, removing all the renewed bloom twigs as soon after the color is faded as can be managed.

An old-fashioned shrub that for some reason has late lost some of its deserved popularity, is the flowering almond, whose slender branches bear hundreds of white, pale pink or deep rose pink blossoms, like miniature daisies. This shrub also blossoms on pruned wood, and requires only very careful but very thoughtful pruning to produce the best results.

The coarse-leaved and large trumpet-flowered wigeon, soon to be in flower early in summer, so that new, strong twigs for next year will develop. When every vestige of faded bloom from this pruning is to be accomplished and the shrub into a sturdy compact bush.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY TAKES A NEW STAND

Will End Discussion of Heresy Question for Present, at Least.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 24.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States today adopted without debate a report from the committee on bills and overtures, warning the New York and all other Presbyteries that the tenets of the church must be accepted by candidates for the ministry before they should be ordained.

This action, it is believed, ends further discussion in the present assembly of the alleged heresy question in which the New York Presbytery and Union Theological Seminary are involved.

SILAS IS A DANCER

Copyright, 1916, by the Author, Blás Dudley. SAID Silas McGuggin, in Peeeweepie's store: "My legs an' back an' my shoulders are sore. I reckon I ought to be laid up in bed. But here I am workin' as usual, instead. Last night I went down to the Happy Club's ball an' started a riot right in the hall. The ladies all clamored to dance with me, Jed." Old Peeeweepie grunted, "I gotcha!" he said. "Well, I'm not so fond of these one-steps an' such," old Silas went on. "They're a little too much for hard-workin' men like I happen to be, but when all them girls started wrastlin' for me I had to do one-steps an' tangles an' trots. I cut figger eights an' tied sailors' knots. The ladies was tickled an' proud of me, Jed." Old Peeeweepie grunted. "I gotcha!" he said. "The young men," said Silas, "had to take a back seat. I showed 'em things about shakin' their feet. The ladies just mobbed me; they thought I was great. Today I'm a-thinkin' I hit a hard gain. My muscles are sore an' I'm all tired out. You see, I'm right graceful, but just a bit stout. The ladies declared I was wonderful, Jed." Old Peeeweepie grunted. "I gotcha," he said. "You act like you doubted he," said Silas with a frown. "I'll bet you today I'm the talk of the town. But since yer so crabbed, I reckon I'll go. You figger I'm lyin'—know it, by Joe!" Then Silas got up and he started away—a scowl on his face, but with no more to say. He shot a big sneer of contempt straight at Jed. Old Peeeweepie grunted. "I gotcha!" he said.

locking at him fearfully while he wiped his face with his handkerchief. "You, with yer wolf face!" he roared hoarsely. "Ow many times 'ave I told yer to look cheery while you dance? I've a mind to cane the lot of yer!" We trembled. "But I don't," he said, after a dreadful pause. "We're all a-singin' 'o-ver to the Inn and 'ave bread and cheese."

He took my hand again, and we dragged wearily over to the inn, a bright, clean place, with sawdust on the floor. It was crowded with men, and they greeted us with loud voices as we came in. "Here's the Lut-nod clog-dancers, come to dance for bread and cheese," Mr. Hawkins said cheerfully. He looked at the barmaid, who nodded, and a place was cleared for us to begin our weary dancing again. (To be Continued Tomorrow.)

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S STORY

By ROSE WILDER LANE.

CHAPTER IV.

In which he feels very small and desolate; encounters once more the terrible wrath of Mr. Hawkins; and flees from it into the unknown perils of a great and fearful world.

"It's stubbornness, that's what it is! I won't 'ave it!" Mr. Hawkins said, fiercely, and reached for his cane. I struggled in the grip of his great arm and cried in terror that I did not mean it—I was sorry. I would be good, begged him not to beat me. Even when he let me go, I could not stop screaming.

"I must have been some time next day that I woke in a hot, tumbled bed. I thought my mother had been there, with her hair falling over the pillow, and her arms with a cry, and she was gone. A strange, ugly grin, with a room in her hand, was leaning over me.

"'Com, com,'" she said, crossly, shaking my shoulder. "Wark's to be done. No time to be lyin' a-bed."

"I struggled to get away from her heavy hand, and sobbed that I wanted my mother. I wanted to go home. I was so tired, and so miserable, and I wanted the grief of missing my mother seemed almost to break my heart.
