RIVER IS NOW CLEAR UP TO GRAND FALLS

Ice at Fredericton Ran Out This Morning But it was a Very Tame Spectacle—Jam Formed at Springhill—Above That River is Clear to Grand Falls

Fredericton, N. B., April 15—(Special)—Following the heavy downpour of rain the ice in the St. John river at this point started at an early hour this morning and ran out. From a spectacular stand-point it was the tamest ice run experienced in many years, and so far as can be learned, no serious damage resulted. A huge jam has formed among the islands at Springhill, but above that point there is open water all the way to Grand Falls. The river is also clear between this city and St. John. The water rose about three feet here during the night, but any further rise this morning has been checked by the ice jam.

HANEY AND NICHOLA PROBABLY DROWNED

Believed that Men from Pleasant Point, Me., were Lost from Canoe Found on Deer Island Shore

(St. Andrews Beacon)—Win. Haney, 33 years old, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholas, St. Andrews and Newell Nicholas, a grandson, 23 years, set out from Pleasant Point Me. on Saturday afternoon in a canoe for St. Andrews. Their canoe was picked up on the bank of Deer Island on Sunday in a battered state. Pieces of a photograph which Haney was bringing over to his wife were found in the damaged canoe. It is feared that both men were drowned. The wind was blowing very strong during Saturday afternoon and it would have been impossible for the canoe to have crossed the bay in a canoe. Both were sturdy young men and would make a desperate fight for life before giving up. Mrs. Haney, whose maiden name was Mary, has been living with her parents here for several weeks past. She went for her husband, who had a farm at East Machias, to come here for the summer. The relatives of the missing man are grief-stricken. Mrs. Thomas Barker, of Lord's Cove, writes The Beacon that her brother, Leonard Stuart, and Willis Doughty, found the canoe bottom up at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon on Calder's Beach, fronting on St. Andrew's Bay. In the canoe was a trunk containing a photograph and fifty records, also a number of fancy baskets and miniature barrels. A hat was found nearby. The trunk and canoe are now at Vernon Calder's, Lord's Cove.

PRICE OF FLOUR STILL CLIMBING

Two Advances in Three Days Have Been Recorded in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, April 15—(Special)—The price of flour has gone up twice in three days in Winnipeg and the price of bread is to be advanced in consequence. If the price of wheat goes down, the price of flour will still be maintained as manufacturers have been for the past three months manufacturing flour at losing prices. If the wheat market stays where it is, there will be another advance in flour shortly, and if wheat goes up the advance will be still greater.

of the game from an oriental nobleman, Mr. Hi Kiekee, during a recent sojourn in Washington. There are many Chinese noblemen in Washington, also in Seattle, Wash., and Venice, Wash. Birdie confided to the new reporter that while the new game was just a trifle risqué it was not at all risky, and would meet the approval of the best families. The decorations on Tuesday will be featured over fan-tan.

Mr. Jamesy Jones had a severe attack of nervousness this morning. While coming down town his attention was attracted by a doctor who had an evil eye. He thought they should all be driven out of town.

The Times new reporter has learned that some persons are industriously circulating a story to the effect that he is about to retire and live on his money. He gives to this statement his unqualified denial. The care of wealth have never had any attraction for the young man. He has always regarded rich journalists with compassion rather than envy, and has just sent his last spring suit to the dye-house.

Mr. Jamesy Jones had a severe attack of nervousness this morning. While coming down town his attention was attracted by a doctor who had an evil eye. He thought they should all be driven out of town.

There really does not appear to be any cause for contemporary anxiety relative to the future of the Times and Telegraph. Enough said.

A BIG STRIKE MAY BE CALLED IN N. S. MINES

Dispute Between the United Mine Workers and the Dominion Coal Co., is Not Settled by the Conciliation Board

Halifax, N. S., April 15—(Special)—The conciliation board in the United Mine Workers dispute with the Dominion Coal Co., completed its labors yesterday, and, as a result, majority and minority reports have been forwarded to Ottawa. The majority report was framed by Judge Wallace and G. S. Campbell, while the minority report was brought in by Dr. McDougall, the U. M. W. representative.

The main point to be decided by the board was the request of the U. M. W. for recognition by the Dominion Coal Company. The majority report fails to accede to this demand, as the two factions are as far from a settlement of the crucial point at issue as before the board was appointed. The U. M. W. assert that they will not recognize the majority report, and that a strike will soon be called. The American organization is about 600 strong in this province, and two-thirds of the Dominion Coal Company's employes are members of the U. M. W. All the U. M. W. men in the coal company's employ will be called out, in which case a bitter struggle will follow. With the opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence, the situation is unsatisfactory, if not serious.

A meeting of the merchants interested was held on Saturday night last in the Board of Trade rooms when the matter was discussed at length. A committee of five was appointed to present a petition to the I. C. R. authorities at Montreal asking that a freight office be built there to facilitate the handling of freight from the factories in this district.

BEATIFICATION OF JOAN OF ARC

The Final Ceremony will Take Place in St. Peter's, Rome, on Sunday Next

Rome, April 15—Final ceremony in the beatification of Joan of Arc will occur at St. Peter's next Sunday. The Mass will be celebrated by the Bishop of Orleans and the decree of beatification will be read during the service. Following the announcement of the decree, the Pope ably will publish a decree proclaiming the maid protectress of Catholic France. The main point to be decided by the board was the request of the U. M. W. for recognition by the Dominion Coal Company. The majority report fails to accede to this demand, as the two factions are as far from a settlement of the crucial point at issue as before the board was appointed. The U. M. THIRTY-TWO MEN KILLED IN RIOT

Serious Clash Reported from a Mexican Mining District

Mexico City, April 15—Rioting which occurred at Valadero, a mining camp in Coahuila last Saturday was more serious than at first reported. 32 men being killed and many injured. The trouble was instigated by Father Ramon Valenzuela, parish priest. It is asserted, who lies in a hospital here hovering between life and death. Fourteen of the rioters were captured by the government troops and many were imprisoned. The fighting occurred when Jose Polanco de los Rios, an officer corresponding to that of mayor, attempted to stop a religious procession headed by the village priest, the laws of Mexico forbidding such parades. A stone and paragonism followed the priest wishing to witness the annual burning of Judas. The rioters, however, were determined to burn the house of the mayor with his wife, because of his refusal to allow the seeking profession in the American colony.

THE PEOPLE'S MISSION

St. John, N. B., April 14, 1909. As I walked down the street this afternoon I noticed four display cards on the building known as the Peoples' Mission. In reading the inscription "For to whomsoever it will be given, he will receive ten fold more in return." I thought of the mission which I had founded in 1883 in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and I thought of the teaching of self-denial and holiness which I had found in the true teaching of Christianity. I thought of the whole condemnation of all churches, and especially the Baptists. I enjoyed the teaching and preaching, because there is something fascinating about the thought that you belong to something that is superior to the rest of mankind. I thought of the member of the Mission and in Sutherland Hall received new instructions in regard to Christianity, namely, that it was wrong for a Christian to believe it, and to account, or to carry life insurance. Some were foolish enough to have it, and to take the preacher has the bank account, and the others have none. Then I remember the meeting to discuss the plans to build the present hall. How hard some of the workers in their spare time collected money for the hall and worked in every way to make it a success. The first business meeting held in the hall, how enthusiastic it was. The preacher announced very earnestly that he was pleased to be able to dedicate the hall to the Lord Jesus Christ. Then my mind goes back to 1903 in the summer sometime, when the preacher thought of leaving for larger fields, and how earnestly he told the people that if they gave him $500 he would give the property back to them, and so five trustees were appointed and the bank fifty years, having joined as a junior in 1890. Mr. E. C. Pratt, local manager, will also retire shortly.

FIFTY YEARS WITH THE MOLSON'S BANK

Montreal, April 15—(Special)—The retirement of James Elliot, manager of the Molson's Bank, it is understood, will take place shortly. Mr. Elliot who has been general manager since 1900, was previously local manager. He has been with the bank fifty years, having joined as a junior in 1860. Mr. E. C. Pratt, local manager, will also retire shortly.

HAZEN FAVORABLE TO THE HARBOR BRIDGE

St. John Delegation Convinced that if Federal Government Will also Share in Expense, the Harbor Bridge will be Assured

Fredericton, N. B., April 15—(Special)—The Accounts Committee which was called for this morning did not meet as the majority of the members wished to attend the meeting of the Agricultural Committee, which is the only one to hold a session today. The decorations which had been placed in the Legislative Chamber for the Governor's hall were all removed by 9 o'clock this morning, and the members were able to do their usual morning work at their desks. No business was transacted around the lobbies this morning that the medical bill will be withdrawn this year.

THE SUBJECT INTRODUCED AND SUPPORTED BY MR. WOODS

The subject introduced and supported by Mr. Woods was discussed by J. K. Finlay who thought the remedy aimed at would be better secured by the government importing a number of pure bred horses and distributing them throughout the province, a number to each county and by C. M. Leger who said that parishes where there are no pure bred stations would be discriminated against by the adoption of such a bonus as suggested. The recommendation of the agricultural commission in regard to the improvement of cattle was briefly discussed and the following resolution moved by Mr. Jones and seconded by C. M. Leger, was unanimously carried, viz: "Whereas, the agricultural commission has found a very general complaint from farmers who are trying to improve their cattle of damage done them by the running at large of scrub bulls. Therefore resolved that the special attention of the government be called to this serious matter with the request that such legislation be enacted as will compel the owners of all bulls to contain them upon their own premises."

MR. LEGER AGAIN BROUGHT UP THE QUESTION

Mr. Leger again brought up the question he had introduced at the previous meeting of the committee, that of a bonus to keepers of cows which supplied milk to butter factories. If a keeper of five or eight or ten cows could give a small bonus for patronizing the butter factory he thought it would go a long way towards increasing the price of the dairy industry. It was pointed out by Mr. Jones and others that this was a very large expenditure on the part of the agricultural department. Other members of the committee thought the suggestions made at previous meeting that the traveling dairy be revived and that the dairy superintendent take a more active interest and get out among the farmers was really the solution of the question. A delegation representing the Lumbermen's Protective Association, on the North Shore, had been before the government this morning. This delegation are asking that when the present lumber license expire the government be again offered at public auction. They also ask that the surveyor general appoint the holder of the license to be a member of the board of contract for large operators. At present the large operator appoints the holder. The delegation was accompanied by D. MacLachlan, M. P., of Northumberland.

Moncton, N. B., April 15—(Special)—The body of an unknown man was found this morning about 6.30 by the train crew of freight train No. 24, bound for Truro, between Paines Junction and Calhoun's Mills. His left arm was partly cut off. The name of the man is unknown, although a note book with the name "Charles Hawes, St. Patrick's Boys' school, city," was found in his pocket, and wherever such school should be information concerning the unfortunate man could be obtained. The body was taken to Calhoun's and an inquest into the death will be held there tomorrow by Coroner Chapman of Dorchester who has already been notified.

ASEPTO makes clothes whiter, fresher, cleaner, than any soap can make them. Sterilizes everything it comes in contact with—is perfectly odourless. For washing clothes, bedding and various fabrics, dishes, pots and pans, use one tablespoonful of ASEPTO to a bucket of water. After the wash, pour the wash water into the sink—and sink and drain pipes will be completely disinfected. Invaluable in cases of infectious diseases, ASEPTO kills all disease germs present in the bedding and dishes used in the sick-room. ASEPTO costs but 5 cts. a package—but when compared with ordinary washing compounds ASEPTO would be dirt cheap at double the price.

ASEPTO has been analyzed by eminent physicians and found to be all we claim for it.

CHAPTER VII.
MR. ARDENSEN, OF DUANE STREET, SENDS FOR THE POLICE.

Conroy had hurriedly got rid of his all too genial guest on the plea of a pressing engagement, and that same evening, having bidden him an effusive farewell, set out in the direction of Broadway at a swift pace without paying much attention to where he was going. Although he had been more or less successful in concealing the fact, his feelings had been deeply ruffled by the other's urgency to get him off the club premises "nearly" he muttered disparagingly, "I've no use for snobs. Give me plain, simple gentlemen like myself, without any affectation of being better than their neighbors. But I did think that young Frenchman would stand for a touch. If he'd even introduced me about a bit, I might have got up a lister of cards. But no—it was all to the door for mine!

"And I'm getting decidedly near the end of my tether, too. The man with the motor comes pretty steep, and I owe more to the hotel already than I can dazzle them with if they lie down on me without warning.

"There's no use beating about the bush, Dominic, my boy, as there is no time for mere prattle. Your fortune's made, you're a millionaire many times over, if you'll only pluck up sufficient courage to face Black Dirk."

He smote his leg with the cane he carried, and threw out his chest in ostentatious bravado.

"Who's afraid of Black Dirk, anyhow? he soliloquized sternly.

"And even if I do happen to owe him a small sum, I'll soon be able to wipe that off, with interest. With interest, honest, just as soon as he can afford to be. And this is a sure thing, a brass-bound cinch. I've profusion enough to convince a whole crowd of impostors, and thus holding communication with himself, and, at the same time, bolstering up his moral courage, he strode on in a quieter street, on the footway of traffic.

"Better strike while the iron's hot," he advised himself, thus recalling to a sense of locality, and, as a spring coiled up at the corner, he sprang on board, and went whirling away toward the city.

It may be conceded that this same Dominic Seager, who had not flinched before the broken-down rumbust, was not lacking in that physical quality which so often enables men of his stamp to brave the heaviest danger unmoved. But it must be admitted with equal frankness that, as he drew rapidly nearer Duane street, he became mentally ill at ease, his spirit of valor ebbing on his finger tips. Had the trolley on which he had been traveling stopped and returned up town ere reaching his destination, he would willingly have stayed in his seat. But it carried him remorselessly to the point at which he must quickly reach Ardensen's office, and there he got out mechanically.

"He licked his dry lips, but there was without entering any of the saloons in sight, and made his way toward the river, spasmodically reasoning with himself. "He'll only listen to me," he whirled excitedly, slackening his pace, "because he lies into a Dutch fit and does nothing rash."

"He's slow down still more presently. "Push" said he, once more stepping out. "All there is between us is a mere fleabite compared with the stake I can share with him now. I can convince him that it will pay handsomely to let bygones be bygones. All I ask is the ghost of a chance to lay down my cards. But, will he give me that?"

He once more shortened his footsteps, lunging back indifferently.

"If there were any other way out, I'd give half my profits to find it," he thought, very ruefully, "but I know only too well that there isn't, and I must have some working capital or I'll lose it. That would be worse than anything Black Dirk can do to me! Now, Dominic, take a deep breath and in you go. It's well worth the risk."

He squared his shoulders again, and strode forward without further parley or halt till he came to a dingy door belittled with an unclean brass plate bearing the simple statement:

D. ARDENSEN, Inc.

The little gingham frocks worn by small girls change very little in style from year to year, but this pretty model offers a new suggestion to mothers who are making the summer dresses now. The dress is of checked madras, with hair-line in blue on a white ground and neck and sleeves are trimmed with a broad band of linen matching the blue lines in color and scalloped by hand with white cotton. Waist and skirt are made separately, but are afterward joined and the seam hidden by a shapely belt passing under the straps of the fabric.

FOR JUNE SCHOOL DAYS.

C. P. R. MAGNATE WANTS GRAND FALLS RIGHTS

Sir William Van Horne Before the Local Government Claims the Present Company Has Forfeited its Franchise—He Would Build Big Paper Mills There—Senator Donville Has $1,000,000 Albert County Scheme

Fredericton, April 14.—The morning session of the house disposed of considerable business and in the afternoon the municipalities committee held a meeting and disposed of all the business ready for it.

The accounts committee will meet tomorrow and corporations committee on Friday.

The introduction of the game law was the principal feature of the day's business. The new law includes all that is in the old law and many new features, all of which will receive the hearty support of everybody in the house.

Apparently no change is made in the best features of game law game centres are too small for many years. It is hoped that the government will consent to an increase of $1 in the license, as there is a need to protect the game. The argument against a large increase is that it will lead to an increase in poaching. Practically everybody living near game centres now takes out a license, which they do not do if the license were made too large.

An improvement is also contemplated in the game license, so that it will not be possible for more than one person to shoot on a license. As present there is suspicion that licenses are used by more than one person. It is hoped to make the law a model of its kind, embodying the best features of game law elsewhere.

The visit of Sir William Van Horne to the capital has attracted considerable attention. Sir William was rather reticent as to the real cause of his visit at the present time, but the appearance of Col. Donville's use of the word "reticent" in this regard is a strong indication that he had come in connection with the Grand Falls lease which were held by a syndicate which was a large interest. When the lease was given this syndicate it was the intention to erect large pulp and paper mills. Considerable money was spent and a company organized under the laws of the Dominion. The option expired and the government cancelled.

Subsequently the government entered into arrangements with another company and accepted a deposit of $50,000 as a guarantee that they would perform the conditions of the contract. The object of this company, the present holder of the lease, was to use the water power to develop electrical power. The company was to do certain things within a fixed period. It is claimed that the present holders of the lease have allowed this option to expire. On the other hand, the company claims that they have let contracts for the work and it is now proceeding and that in comparatively short time they will be able to supply electrical current to all parts of the province. The matter was before the government some time ago but no definite action seems to have been taken.

This afternoon Sir William Van Horne met the premier and stated his case. He is still anxious to erect paper and pulp mills at Grand Falls and spoke of the great success which has attended the erection of the Laurentide plant at Grand Falls (Que.), where a large town has grown up here only a wilderness existed a few years ago. The government reserved their decision.

Col. Donville appeared before the executive of the government this afternoon in connection with certain shale deposits in Albert county. The colonel has obtained control of some shale deposits in that county but there are others which are under the control of the government for which leases are sought. Col. Donville said that a company would be organized with a capital of $1,000,000 to develop these deposits; that half of the sum would be spent at once in the erection of reduction

FOR WOMEN WHO ARE DISCOURAGED

Because of Lingering Weakness and Nervous Derangements There is New Hope and Cure.

The Letter Quoted Voices the Experience of Thousands of Women Who Have Found Health and Joy in the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The Christian Scientists are undoubtedly right. To some extent. The mind influences the body both in health and disease and if you give up hope, leave off treatment and fall into discouragement and despondency there is little reason to expect that good health will force itself upon you.

You must do your part if you are going to be strong and well. You must make up your mind and then select rational treatment.

If your system is weak and run down, your blood thin and watery and your nervous system exhausted choose a treatment that will build up your strength. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has never been equalled as a means of building up health, strength and vigor.

The Christian Scientists are particularly successful in the cure of ailments and derangements from which women suffer most is attended by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has never been equalled as a means of building up health, strength and vigor.

QUEBEC FARMER SHOT TO DEATH

Domina Pelletier Murdered at His Own Door by Unknown Assassin.

St. Etienne De Beauport, Que., April 14.—An apparently cold blooded murder was discovered here yesterday evening when the body of Domina Pelletier was discovered lying outside the stable door with part of his head blown off, and the door splintered with bullet holes. Pelletier had been dead many hours when discovered, and it is thought the murder must have been committed early on Tuesday morning, when he had returned to his farm from staying with relatives, four miles away.

The body was discovered by a neighbor, Wilfred Groulx, who was surprised at seeing no one about on the Pelletier place, and walked over to see if anything was wrong. He found Pelletier's body lying cold and stiff beside the stable door. A further examination showed the marks of a bullet in the stable door, while in the door of a barn about thirty feet distant, a small hole had been freshly cut, through which was evident the muzzle of a rifle had pushed the barrel of his gun. Just outside the hole was found a freshly fired shell from a shot gun.

The coroner at Valleyfield was notified of the crime and arrived here this evening but so far, although the coroner is from Ottawa this evening, they were accompanied by Provincial Secretary Fleming. There is a large delegation here of North Shore lumbermen. They represent the smaller operators who recently formed themselves into an association. They are opposed to the extension of the present license, which expire in nine years, claiming that a further extension is in the interests of the large operators only, and against the interests of the province as well. They will have an interview with the government tomorrow.

TIREDDNESS AND WEAKNESS OVERCOME

A Joyous Letter.

"I admit because I neglected early treatment I am entirely to blame for the condition of weakness that for nearly two years has been a real misery," writes Mrs. Hazen, of Beaufort. "At first I felt that I was in the morning every day no more than pick at my breakfast. Later I remember my sleep was disturbed, that I dreamed, restless sleep, from which you finally awaken, feeling as if you could never get up. Then I became thin, lost my color, got nervous and fearful about nothing, and kept thinking about myself all the time, and was irritable, cross and easily made mad. What would have become of me if I had not taken Ferrerozine a little while, less than three months, no healthier and brighter woman could be found anywhere. I highly praise Ferrerozine and advise sick people to take advantage of its health-conferring properties."

Ferrerozine quickens the powers of the brain and mind, simply because it forms a lot of blood that's full of life and vitality. Ferrerozine creates appetite, gives strength, vim and endurance, and gives old people good for everybody that needs better health. Thousands of men, women and children use Ferrerozine every day and all say it's the best nourishing, strengthening tonic made; try Ferrerozine yourself, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all dealers.

PILOTS WILL MAKE TEST CASE OF IT

It has been decided to submit a test case at the next sitting of the supreme court on the point which has been at issue between some of the St. John pilots and the pilot commissioners as to whether pilots are entitled to board vessels out of gasoline launches. Suit will be brought by James E. Spoor, one of the pilots who was a launch, to recover $47.35 for pilotage dues which have been held back by the commissioners on the ground that this class of boat does not come within the meaning of the act.

The case will probably be heard at the June sitting of the court and the result will be awaited with considerable interest by owners of small vessels and the shipping people generally. Allan G. Earle, K. C., is counsel for the commissioners and Hon. H. A. McKewen will present the case for Mr. Spoor.

The Seaman's Mission Society acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following contributions: S. S. Virginian, Capt. Vipond, £11 3s. 3d.; S. S. Lake Manitoba, Capt. T. G. Evans, £12. The annual meeting of the society will be held tomorrow evening in the Seaman's Institute. All who have contributed £1 are entitled to a vote at the election of officers.

FLAGMEN SHOULD HAVE MORE POWER

Important Recommendation is Made By Coroner's Jury in the Case of Hugh Simpson

The jury empaneled by Coroner Berryman to inquire into the death of Hugh Simpson, of Fredericton Junction, who was killed by a C. P. R. locomotive near the Bentley street crossing on March 29, brought in a verdict last night. No blame was attached to the trainman or any of the C. P. R. employees, but the jury recommended that more authority should be given to flagmen in preventing a train from passing within a reasonable distance of their posts. The jury also recommended that the C. P. R. should adopt greater precautions between the Union station and the Bentley street crossing, so as to prevent the occurrence of similar accidents.

The witnesses examined last night were James Patterson, C. P. R. conductor; Roadmaster Miller, and W. J. Taylor, flagman at Portland street.

By a dominion act, authority to establish juvenile courts in a province is vested in the lieutenant-governor-in-council. It has been made the law in several of the other provinces. It is said, with satisfaction, that the government of the province has decided to memorialize the lieutenant-governor to bring the act into force in New Brunswick.

Under this act it is made compulsory for a stipendiary magistrate to deal with cases of juvenile offenders after the regular business of the court has been disposed of and the public and representatives of the press have been excluded. It further provides that, on conviction, a juvenile shall be sentenced to a term in a place where there are no adult prisoners, which would apply to institutions such as the Industrial Home at Crowville. As the law now stands, a stipendiary can act upon his own judgment which is regarded as not always in the best interests of the juvenile offenders brought before him.

IMPORTANT TO ELECTORS

Electors should remember that in the elections for aldermen on Tuesday next every voter will have a voice in the election of all the aldermen. While each ward has its own alderman, who must reside or do business in the ward for which he is a candidate, all the voters of the city have the right to choose or reject him. Briefly put, every qualified taxpayer may vote for four aldermen at large and for one of the candidates in each of the ten wards in which there are contests. This is published because of a misapprehension which seems to exist.

THE CHILDREN'S LIVES ARE BETTER GUARDED

Far-Reaching Law Now in Force in England—Chief Provision Protects Them From Parents Who Drink—Aims to Stop Cigarette Smoking

London, April 12.—The Act of 1908, which has been described as the Children's Charter is now in force. So wide are the provisions of this act that twenty-one others dealing with children are directly repealed by it, while seventeen are more or less overridden.

Among the classes of people who will be most affected by the act are parents, foster parents, tobaccoists, publicans, policemen, automatic machine makers, park keepers, magistrates, doctors in old metal, pawnbrokers, entertainment managers of every description, large owners, chemists, brewers and vagrants. There is no doubt that many abuses of child life which have to long been tolerated will come to an end, but not until the act has been in operation for some time will it be possible to know what loopholes have been left.

Already there is an outcry that one of the most widely discussed and eagerly desired provisions of the act has been practically made null by family drafting. This is the clause dealing with publicans. In short, it forbids the presence of any child, boy or girl, under 14, at any time in the drinking bar of any licensed premises.

The increase of drinking and drunkenness among women and the great and increasing number of women brought before London magistrates charged with being drunk and disorderly have been the subjects of frequent remark, but this evil is by no means confined to London. It is just as great from one end of the kingdom to the other.

Go where you will in Great Britain and you will find the drinking bars of the ordinary public houses frequented by women. They stand at the bar drinking beer or spirits just as the men do. In many cases they bring their children, boys or girls, with them. The baby in arms is taken perhaps more frequently than any other child, for it cannot be left alone in the house or at the side of the street. The custom of giving the child, not excepting the baby in arms, occasional sips of whatever liquor the parent is drinking is almost universal. To combat this evil the act provides that no child under 14 shall be allowed in the bar.

DEFINITION OF BAR. The fault now found with the clause in the definition it gives of the word bar, namely, "any open drinking room, any part of the premises exclusively or mainly used for the sale and consumption of intoxicating liquors," is that it obviously does not apply to a place where intoxicating liquor is consumed but not sold.

The publicans have seized on the point. With remarkable unanimity license holders in London and the provinces have been applying to the licensing justices for permission to erect structures, alterations on their premises. These alterations will take the form of waiting rooms for children.

As the law does not prevent a child from passing through a bar, the Licensed Victuallers' Central Protective Society has been careful to point out to license holders that "wherever there is a room capable of being used as a waiting room for children in charge of persons taking refreshment at the bar there can be no objection to such a room being allotted for the purpose."

SALE OF TOBACCO. The provisions dealing with the sale of tobacco to children have also attracted attention.

SHIPPING GOVERNOR WEEDE'S BILL WAS BRILLIANT FUNCTION

About 500 Guests Were Present—Legislative Chamber Resplendent With Decorations—Some of These Who Were There

Fredericton, April 14.—There have been many balls in the legislative building since it was opened something over a quarter of a century ago but none was more successful or more thoroughly enjoyed than that given by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Tweedie last evening.

The legislative building is a well proportioned structure and the various rooms lend themselves readily to decoration. In a marvellously short time this afternoon the legislative chamber, which at the latest moment in the building, was emptied of its desks and chairs, a white linen draped cloth spread on the floor, a temporary platform for the orchestra erected in one corner, the throne from which the speaker dispenses wisdom during the sessions of the house was completely obscured by ferns and flowering plants, all most artistically arranged, and the front of the galleries draped with flags.

The ball opened with a reception by Governor and Mrs. Tweedie, at which all the guests were presented. Mrs. Tweedie wore a beautiful decorative gown of ponce satin with gold and blue tints. Her dress was trimmed with neck lace of pink tulle and pearls.

His honor was in the uniform of his office and was attended by Lieut. Col. Bridges and MacKenzie, Hon. C. J. and Mrs. W. P. Jones, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Upham, Miss Smith and Miss Neil, Woodstock; Sheriff and Mrs. O'Brien, Northumberland; Hon. J. and Mrs. O. E. Man, Hillsboro; Mayor and Mrs. Chestnut, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dickson, Hillsboro; Col. Geo. Robt. White, St. John; Chief Commissioner and Mrs. Morrison, Mayor and Mrs. Hatt, Marysville; Dr. and Mrs. Foley, Marysville; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Sharp, Henry B. Rainford, Mr. and Mrs. Norton, Taylor, Fredericton; Miss Kattin, Northumberland; Hon. J. and Mrs. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Glace Bay, and Mrs. R. W. L. Tibbitts, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wetmore, Dr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Feney, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wainlow, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Edgcomb, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Byrne, Captain and Mrs. Ashburnham, Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Macdonald, Mrs. M. J. Bridges, St. John; Mr. and Mrs. D. Deeds, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stevens, St. Stephen; Hon. C. L. LaBlanc, Surveyor-General; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCallan, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. MoLean, St. John.

At 9:30 the last of the guests had been presented and the orchestra struck up a waltz and the dancing commenced. The programme of dances consisted of eighteen numbers and for every one the floor was crowded. Of course, the large proportion of the present were Frederictonians and those occupying official positions in connection with the government of the province were the members of the house of assembly and their wives, which was represented by Messrs. Bridges, MacKenzie, and the Hon. C. J. and Mrs. W. P. Jones, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Upham, Miss Smith and Miss Neil, Woodstock; Sheriff and Mrs. O'Brien, Northumberland; Hon. J. and Mrs. O. E. Man, Hillsboro; Mayor and Mrs. Chestnut, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dickson, Hillsboro; Col. Geo. Robt. White, St. John; Chief Commissioner and Mrs. Morrison, Mayor and Mrs. Hatt, Marysville; Dr. and Mrs. Foley, Marysville; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Sharp, Henry B. Rainford, Mr. and Mrs. Norton, Taylor, Fredericton; Miss Kattin, Northumberland; Hon. J. and Mrs. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Glace Bay, and Mrs. R. W. L. Tibbitts, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wetmore, Dr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Feney, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wainlow, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Edgcomb, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Byrne, Captain and Mrs. Ashburnham, Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Macdonald, Mrs. M. J. Bridges, St. John; Mr. and Mrs. D. Deeds, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stevens, St. Stephen; Hon. C. L. LaBlanc, Surveyor-General; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCallan, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. MoLean, St. John.

The hall of the building, which also was decorated with flags, was furnished with sofas from the legislative chamber and used as a waiting room for the guests. The supper court chamber was set aside as a card room for those who did not care to dance.

At midnight the first guests entered the supper room. The legislative library had been set apart for this purpose and was used as a waiting room for the guests. The Hotel, a long table handsomely decorated with flowers and wreaths and festoons of flags, which were arranged by the ladies, was set in the center of the room. The order in which the guests entered the supper room was as follows: Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie and Mrs. Tweedie.

ELECTIONS CARDS.

To the Electors of the City of Saint John. Ladies and Gentlemen—At the request of over two hundred of the citizens and large taxpayers, I have consented to run for Alderman for Kings Ward, and solicit your support on Tuesday next. If elected will do my best to represent you in the best manner of this my native city. Respectfully yours, J. S. L. LINDLEY.

To the Electors of the City of Saint John. Being a Candidate for Alderman for Queens Ward at the coming election, I take every opportunity of selecting your votes. I have no politics in view, but will seek to promote the best interests of our city. I pledge myself to stand for a clean administration, and for every reform which will promote the best interests of our city at large. Yours very truly, JOHN H. BURLEY.

TIME TO HUNT FOR MOTHS. This is the Season When There Must Be Destructive Operations. Now is the time when every careful housewife should begin to examine for troublesome moths, clothing and other woollen and similar articles, which have been stored away for the winter. Although it is claimed that the moths are never found in the larval stage during the winter in this section of the country, at the present time in well heated houses the larva of the clothes moth are now at work, and will be from now on. It is never safe if the clothes moth found in this section is a dull, white caterpillar, with the head and upper part of the next segment a light brown. The little insect never free from its movable case, or jacket, the construction of which is its first task. When the insect desires to change its position, it drags this case along with it, and with its growth it insidiously enlarges the case in length and in width, until the case part way down and inserting a core of new material.

From the outside this little case about the larva appears as if made up of many small particles of wool, but inside it is lined with soft whitish silk. An interesting experiment may be made by transferring the larva from one material to another, and in this way the additions to its case are shown in the colored sketches. The case, which has been placed on.

Upon attaining its full growth the insect attacks its case to the garment in which it has been feeding upon and undergoes its transformation to the chrysalis within the larval case. Under normal conditions the chrysalis is a dull, yellowish, and is about three weeks. In this winged state the moths are short lived, as they do not feed, and their deposition of their eggs for a new generation.

In the winged state the moths are perfectly harmless, their mouths being rudimentary, and no food whatever being taken in this stage of their existence. It is in the larval stage that the moths do their mischief, and are usually placed directly on the material which is to furnish the caterpillar with food. There is supposed to be only one generation a year in this section of the country.

One of the best and most-used remedies is that of airing and beating articles, which is able to attack only such articles as are put away and left undisturbed for considerable periods. From now until along towards the latter part of June such articles should be placed in the sun and aired and beaten fairly frequently.

Practically none of the patent remedies are of any use where the garments are already stocked with eggs or larvae. The best of the cambric, naphthalene, tobacco, etc., is disagreeable to the patent moth and they are not apt to lay their eggs where such odors are kept strong, but if the eggs are already there the smell has no effect whatever.

THE MUCK-RAKERS The long-lost Mayes affidavit appears to have turned up at Ottawa. When counsel for Dr. Pugsley applied to Premier Hazen for that document after the premier had read it at a public meeting in St. John, prior to the federal elections, the premier failed to produce it. All efforts to get hold of it resulted in failure. That affidavit made charges against Dr. Pugsley as minister of public works which if true would have driven him from office. They were false charges. The minister so declared them and called for the production of the affidavit. It has never been produced. In the meantime the people pronounced upon the whole matter, and sent the minister back to Ottawa with an almost solid New Brunswick delegation at his back. Now arises Dr. Daniel, in an effort to get a revised version of the notorious affidavit spread upon the pages of the parliamentary report. He is informed by Dr. Pugsley that if it is the original affidavit, and he is ready to assume responsibility for it, he may go ahead. But Dr. Daniel is no more willing than Premier Hazen to assume any such charge and accept the consequences. But they are willing to pursue the cowardly course of insinuation and veiled attack, seeking to discredit the man who more than any other they have reason to fear as a political opponent. It is not without reason that the minister charges his enemies with malignity and vindictiveness. They are also very short-sighted. The Mayes affidavit contributed very largely to the overwhelming defeat of the Conservatives in this province, and discredited Premier Hazen in the estimation of all fair-minded men. The attempt to make capital out of it at Ottawa, in conjunction with the partisan report of the partisan Central Railway Commission, is not good politics, nor in any way creditable to the Conservative party. The house must be very weary of Dr. Daniel and his puny appeal to his vanity to have his ponderous sentences set out in black type in such papers as the St. John Standard and Fredericton Gleaner, but this will not compensate him for the loss of public esteem. His futile efforts to destroy the minister will leave himself discredited as a public man. The attempt to bring the report of the Central Railway Commission into the house without the evidence which it is based on is another illustration of cowardly partisan tactics which must fail. Gradually the people of the rest of Canada are coming to a knowledge of the calibre of the Conservative leaders in New Brunswick, and the depths to which they will stoop in their efforts to injure a political opponent. The Mayes affidavit and the Central Railway Commission's report are examples of the worst type of unscrupulous partisan warfare.

PROBATION SYSTEM What to do with juvenile delinquents is a question that is revived by the action taken by the governors of the Boys' Industrial Home. Along with the juvenile court the probation system might be introduced with good effect. Of this system an exchange says: "What will be the ultimate result of the adoption of the probation system for young offenders, or for older persons who have broken the law for the first time, it is yet too soon to judge. The plan is being tried in many places and the immediate consequences seem to be good. In the state of New York the report of a commission shows that the number of cities and towns which allow first offenders out on trial has doubled. Last year 10,000 persons were sent back to their work instead of going to prison. Seventy-five per cent. of those have completed their term with credit to themselves. So far as can be seen an increase in crime has followed this leniency. The advantage to the state that must have resulted from this large number of persons earning their own living instead of being fed and clothed in prisons must have been very great. Of the benefits to themselves who can judge? To have overcome temptation to feel that one has won again the confidence of his or her fellows is the greatest boon that can be given to erring man, woman or child. These well-earned accomplishments this work are animated by the truest spirit of Christianity. If it is found that three out of four are worthy of the trust, the experiment has succeeded so far as the wrongdoers are concerned. There are many who fear that the fact that every offence is punished will have a bad effect on the wicked who have not yet broken the law. Punishment, it is said, is not only inflicted for the sake of the wrongdoer or for revenge. Its chief purpose is to prevent the spread of crime. The probation system has not been tried long enough to give a decided answer to this objection. It may be thought, however, that the example of one who is striving in any community to live down a bad reputation would have a better influence than the thought that he was serving a term in prison, to take his place in society worse than when he left it. There is a wide difference between the feeling that regards crime lightly, and that which shows mercy to the wrongdoer. That difference is borne in mind by those who have instituted the system of prison reform of which probation is a part."

TUBERCULOSIS The local board of health is considering the question of disinfecting houses in which persons die of tuberculosis. The subject is one of importance to the general public. All over Canada there is a deep and growing interest in the subject of the treatment of this disease. The Victoria Colonist says: "From Halifax to Victoria the people of Canada have commenced the work of fighting tuberculosis. Everywhere sanitariums are being talked of and regulations made. Hospitals are being provided for advanced cases and nurses engaged to instruct those who prefer, or are obliged, to nurse relatives in their own homes. How great the need of these efforts we learn from a statement in the Ottawa Citizen that in the province of Ontario alone there are 2,000 deaths from tuberculosis every year. Among the measures proposed for the eradication of this disease is the registration of all cases of tuberculosis. An act which has been introduced into the Ontario legislature to effect this purpose is being opposed by medical men. It is, however, not difficult to understand one reason for the objection. The belief that consumption is a fatal and incurable disease is still held by a very great proportion of people. So long as this is the case, it is impossible or almost impossible to effect a cure when once the patient learns his true condition. On the other hand, those associated with a patient who may be even but slightly affected are in danger unless proper precautions are taken. It is quite possible that while such one recovers, a fatal case may be contracted by another. In this, as in many other instances, secrecy may be dangerous and the truth best of all. In Winnipeg a very active and systematic campaign has been begun and everything that science has taught or experience suggests is being undertaken. In our own cities the societies are engaged in working for the sanitarium and in caring for poor patients at home. Whether everything that can be done is being accomplished to stop the spread of tuberculosis is open to question."

No outbreak of unreasoning sentiment should be permitted to influence the minds of the members of the legislature in their consideration of the proposed new medical act. The members of the medical fraternity are devoted to their profession, and are subjected to much criticism that is unjust. That a physician sometimes errs is inevitable; that all are not equally skilled or equally devoted to their duty may be true; but if men who spend years in study in the best institutions are not best qualified to treat the ills of the human body, we may as well close our hospitals and medical colleges.

The Victoria Colonist observes: "It is ozone or what that makes our Halifax contemporaries so exceedingly bellicose?" The newspapers in that ancient and aristocratic burg assault each other with a ferocity that would amaze the denizens of the wildest and woolliest town in the whole West from Cape Horn to Point Barrow. If one Victoria paper should speak of another in terms half as terrific as those employed in the Nova Scotia capital, the health officers would fumigate the offending paper's premises."

THE MAKING OF MAN Before the beginning of years There came to the making of man Time, with a gift of care; Grief, with a glass that ran; Pleasure, with pain for gain; Summer, with flowers that fell; Remembrance, with hands to smite; And madness, risen from hell; Love, that endures for a breath; Night, the shadow of the light; And life, the shadow of death. And the high gods took it in hand, Fire, and the healing of fear; And a measure of sliding sand From under and length of years; And fresh and drift of the sea, And dust of the laboring earth; In the houses of death and birth; And woe and weeping and laughter; And fashioned with longing and love, With life before and after, And death beneath and above; For a day and a night and a morrow, That his strength might endure for a span With travail and heavy sorrow, The holy spirit of man.

The defense of the three Italian—Sandy Murray and James and Andrew Hatch—who will be tried at a special sitting of the circuit court in Andover on next Tuesday on the charge of being implicated in the murder of Edward Green, has been placed in the hands of Mr. M. P. F. B. Carvell, M. P., and Hon. W. P. Jones.

THE MAYES CONTINGENT HAD A BANG DAY IN OTTAWA YESTERDAY

Bitter Enemies of Dr. Pugsley Attempt to Launch Another Campaign Against Him But Fail in Their Purpose—Dr. Daniel Attempted to Read Garbled Accounts of Notorious Affidavit But Would Not Father its Contents

Ottawa, April 14.—That a strong man is bound to have small but bitter enemies was shown in the house of commons this afternoon. Dr. Daniel, of St. John; Mr. Crockett, M. P., of Fredericton; and Gen. E. Foster, of Toronto, attempted to launch a head-hunting expedition with the Hon. William Pugsley, minister of public works, as the object of their attack.

Dr. Daniel declared that he was reading from the original Mayes affidavit containing the erroneous date. Hon. Dr. Pugsley stated that he must insist that the reading of the document must be without comment or he would have to insist on the strict observance of the rule of the house respecting defamatory remarks made in parliament.

The speaker told Dr. Daniel that it was only in order for him to read the affidavit in the house if he proposed to use it as a basis for a motion to be made to the house. Dr. Daniel said that he intended to continue his remarks with a motion for a parliamentary investigation of the charges made by Mayes by a special committee of the house.

George E. Foster started to speak to the point of order raised by Dr. Pugsley and in doing so was proceeding with a digest of the contents of the affidavit. Mr. Foster was called to order by Dr. Pugsley, who said that it was contrary to the rules of the house, as Mr. Foster knew unless coupled with a definite charge against him (Dr. Pugsley).

Mr. Crockett (Conservative) thought that it was necessary for the affidavit to be read in order to substantiate a demand for an investigation. If the affidavit reflected on the minister of public works, as he said, that was all the more reason why it should be read to the house and the matter investigated.

WHAT HAPPENS IN AUSTRIA WHEN ARMY IS MOBILIZED

A correspondent of the London Standard, writing from Buda-Pest on March 26, says of the expected proclamation announcing a mobilization of the army. The proclamation is notified to all men liable to military service first by posters, and in villages by the public crier. The duty of the gendarmes is to see that all men thus called upon report themselves at the proper military headquarters.

On the day of mobilization civil life is practically paralyzed throughout the country. Coffee houses, full at other times, are almost empty; the shops show signs of the effect of the royal proclamation, and the electric tramway companies are already at their wits' end to discover how they will be able to replace all the employees who will thus be called up.

Everybody still on the lists is obliged to report himself, without respect of age. Those who are no longer alert or have completed their thirty-eighth year are not sent to the front, but are attached to some field hospital or catering station. As the number of reservists and supernumerary reservists are called up far exceeds even the war footing, new army corps are created—new regiments, squadrons and batteries, which are held in reserve. These men, particularly the younger ones—are carefully trained at home, so as to be able at a moment's notice to replace the killed and wounded.

At midnight on the day of mobilization the whole ordinary traffic of the railway ceases and the railways are transferred to the control of the military authorities. NASAL CATARRH An Old Physician Says to Look for Dizziness, Frontal Headache, Stuffed-up Nose Colds—Tells How to Cure

Catarrh in almost every instance starts with a common cold in the head, which is added to with another cold, and because of some extra exposure or weakness of the system, it becomes chronic. WHAT WILL UNCLE SAM DO WITH THE PANAMA CANAL

The Bay From the Office of the American Consul

On the 25th day of November last a portion of the rock toe at the upstream end of the Gatun Dam sank about 20 feet. News of this occurrence immediately started a wide discussion of the much vexed question of the safety of the structure on which the entire lock-level plan of construction depends. The matter was greatly complicated by the fact that the discovery had been made of an enormous lake underlying the canal Zone. This lake, it was found, was not true, otherwise the condition would have afforded a simple solution to the problem. With a large subterranean lake available, all that would be necessary would be to scrape off the covering, or peel it off, as one might a piece of paper, and create a ready-made waterway at sea level or lower. As a matter of fact, the trouble does not seem to have been of a serious character, nor such as would raise apprehensions of the safety of the dam site. The commission gave out an emphatic statement to the effect, which was reinforced by a similar utterance of the chief engineer. These assurances would have been most satisfactory but for the fact that Mr. Tait, assistant chief engineer of investigating affairs on the spot, and the President appointed a commission of engineers to accompany him. More significant still was the declaration of the President, echoed by Mr. Tait, to the effect that in case conditions seemed to warrant it, a change would be made to the sea-level plan. Considering that these two officials were responsible to Congress having adopted the report of the minority of the board of consulting engineers in favor of a lock-level canal, their utterances looked very much like a preparation of the public for a change of opinion.

View Along the Canal

It is a disquieting thought that since the French undertook the canal project, 90 years ago practically the leading engineers of the world have been called upon to investigate and report on the scheme. Our predecessors had their Comité Technique and our board of consulting engineers, both bodies composed of international authorities of the highest repute. In addition, numerous experts have made examinations of the ground and the plans and have expressed their opinions. The result collected, would fit several good sized volumes with the most conflicting conclusions. The trip of another body of especially appointed engineers to the isthmus raises the question whether we are trying to justify ourselves in a course which is contrary to the weight of the best technical advice that has been given to us. If the Gatun Dam site is as safe as the commission declares to be and no new complications have arisen, then the arguments which swayed Congress in its decision to adopt the lock-level plan are as potent today as ever they were. The ideal waterway would be a strait, which vessels could enter directly from the ocean and in which they could steam freely, pass one another and turn about. Such a waterway is entirely out of the question. Even though it were possible to construct it, the cost would be so great as to render it a heavily losing investment for all time. As a matter of fact, however, no canal through the isthmus of Panama is practicable without locks. The difference between high water in one and the other ocean is 22 feet, and, failing regulating works, the tide through the canal would prevent navigation during a large portion of each day. The most liberal plan for sea-level canal contemplates no more than from 150 to 200 feet of bottom width, and it is admitted that this would cost twice as much as the proposed lock-level waterway and take twice as long to build. The foreign members of the board were unanimous in favoring the sea-level type, and this may be explained by the fact that in Europe, the Suez Canal is the standard of excellence. Furthermore, very large locks are unknown in the practice of European engineers, and they expressed serious distrust of the huge structures contemplated. On the other hand, while there are no such locks as those proposed now in the United States, the engineers believe that the downfall of the power of foreign engineers, the Weland Canals fully justify the adoption of the plans for those at Panama. The earthquake hazard was not advanced as an argument against the lock-level waterway, but it does not appear to be a very strong one. It is true that a comparatively slight shock might derange the locks and obstruct navigation for a while, but a violent convulsion would be apt to result in greater destruction upon the canal on sea level than that at the 85-foot elevation. It must be remembered that in connection with the former there must be a number of dams, levees, sluices and other works liable to damage by earthquake. The main feature of the lock-level plan is a large lake 110 square miles in extent, which will be formed by shutting in the Chagres Valley by the Gatun Dam, and impounding the waters of the streams that flow into it. This lake will form the summit level of the canal. At the Atlantic end a broad channel about three miles in length will lead into the ocean.

A Street Scene in Panama

The lake will afford open navigation for a distance of 23 miles, or more than half the total length of the waterway. The Culabra Cut will be traversed by a channel 200 feet in width, and the remaining distance will be mainly occupied by a lake five miles across, filling a depression between the divide and the Pacific Ocean and extends several miles into the ocean at either end, is nearly 50 miles. Of this only one-seventh is less than 300 feet in width, while more than two-thirds of it is 500 feet wide or over. Briefly stated, the reasons advanced by the minority of the board of consulting engineers for their belief that a lock canal is the better one for the United States are as follows: 1. Greater capacity for traffic than afforded by the narrow waterway proposed by the board. 2. Greater safety for ships and less danger of interruption to traffic, by reason of the wider and deeper channels which the lock canal makes possible at smaller cost. 3. Quicker passage across the isthmus for large ships or a large traffic. 4. Materially less time required for construction. 5. Materially less cost. It is to be hoped that the question of this waterway will be finally laid to rest by congress in its extra session, and that the work will be pushed to completion without any serious setbacks. But the mere building of a canal at Panama is not the object in view. That is but a means to an end. What are we going to do with the canal when it is finished. If it were to be opened tomorrow, it would be almost useless to us. At least, it would be of less service to America than to any other commercial nation. We have no merchant marine, to begin with, and unless we remedy that defect before 1915 we shall open a canal that will do little or nothing for the benefit of European countries, with little advantage to ourselves. Then, we have no foothold in the markets of the Orient, and unless we set about getting one at once we shall find ourselves shut out. Great Britain and Germany have been making extra efforts to extend and strengthen their spheres of commercial influence in the east since we withdrew from the construction of the Panama Canal, and their merchants wonder at the supine indifference of the American manufacturer. It will do for our people to take the attitude that they will go after those markets when the way is open. Whilst the oriental trade is a highly profitable and desirable one, it is a difficult one to establish. Asiatics are extremely conservative and influenced by

MARATHONS PLAN "TERRIBLE TURK" BASEBALL LEAGUE EASY FOR GOTCH

They Have Rented the Every Day Club Grounds and Prospects are Bright for Good Season Arrangements were made between committees representing the Every Day Club and the Marathon at a meeting last evening, which augur well for the success of the coming baseball season. An effort will be played in the morning, to get the grounds for four nights a week and for Saturday afternoons and holidays was accepted and from the plans which were outlined the diamond will likely be the scene of some first class base ball. The Marathon representatives announced that an effort was to be made to form a league to include St. John, Moncton, Fredericton and Amherst, and in addition to this series of games to bring here teams from Maine. It was also proposed to continue the local league which was such a success last year. A grand opening of the grounds will take place on May 24 when a base ball game will be played in the morning, to be followed by a second ball game and field sports in the afternoon. The prospects of sport on the E. D. C. grounds under the control of the E. D. C. Club are usually bright. It is probable that there will be other attractive features during the season.

DANAHER WON MARATHON RACE BY ABOUT TWO MILES

The first Marathon contest ever held in Eastern Canada took place in the St. Andrew's rink last night, when more than 300 people saw Herbert Danaher win from Robert Finnigan, covering the full Marathon distance—twenty-six miles and 288 yards, in four hours one minute and fifty-four seconds. Finnigan was beaten about two miles. Though the race was a close one, Danaher ran gamely and made plucky efforts to regain lost ground. The first Marathon contest of this grueling contests on the American tracks and in upper Canada, but last night St. John was able to see it all. What a grind it was! Twenty-six miles and more on what was a small track for such a race; a board track, too, in an enclosed place where, even if lofty the air could not be like that of the invigorating ozone of the outdoors—a grind for four hours and more. Danaher stuck to it for four steady hours, never letting up, though at times only walking. Finnigan twice left the track. The first, even excitement was manifested. Instead of diminishing, the crowd increased as the race progressed. The first runner man showed signs of collapse at the finish, it was apparent that the long grind was an awful strain, and it was quite apparent that it was essential that a contestant must be in the best physical condition to take part in such contests. Both men showed signs of distress at times, but use of a wet sponge or bottle of tea handed them by their trainers had the effect of reviving them and giving the head back, the gate would be quickened. The first indication of distress was when the horses brought across the bow and the lead inclined forward. The pace, at first, became a lopsided, sloping down to a jog, and sometimes to a walk. The hands clinched and elbow swinging and, as the race wore on, the arms hanging by their sides. The various stages of the trainers would run alongside speaking words of encouragement and most urging the men to continue. The start was made at 8:12. The men got away together, but Finnigan soon started the lead and held it till the 10th lap, when Danaher, who had settled down to a long loping gait, jumped to the fore amid much applause. The first mile Danaher was given a wet sponge. As he again sprinted on the seventh lap the lead struck up a lively air. On the second lap of the fifth mile the lead in blue increased his lead to five laps, and on the 10th lap he was six laps to the good. The blue sweater was now peeled off and thrown to one side, and on the 7th lap of the seventh mile Danaher had a seven lap lead, which was still further increased to eight. When they started in to the 10th mile Finnigan also removed his sweater and started on a sprint. At eleven miles Danaher had a nine lap lead. On the 13th mile both men slowed down, showing the effects of the grind. At twelve miles Danaher was leading by ten laps. During the end of his fourteenth mile Finnigan showed signs of distress, and went to his dressing room, where, after being worked over he gamely returned to the track and when he broke into his fifteenth mile Danaher had obtained a lead of one mile and nine laps on him. He showed the effects of the grind and jogged along slowly and on the fourth lap of the fifteenth mile slowed down to a walk, and Danaher twice lapped him. At seven miles Danaher was more than two miles in the lead. During Danaher's eighteenth mile Finnigan returned to the track, being received with cheers. He was about three miles behind. As he started to sprint in an effort to gain lost

YUSSIF MAHMOUD WAS BUT A CHILD IN HANDS OF AMERICAN WRESTLER WHO WON IN STRAIGHT FALLS

Dexter Pavilion, Chicago, April 14.—Frank Gotch, of Humboldt, Iowa, tonight retained the world's wrestling championship by defeating Yussif Mahmoud, of Bulgaria, in straight falls in a fast and furious match. The Bulgarian was a child in the hands of the American. Gotch won both falls with crotch and half-Nelson holds in eight minutes and the Bulgarian determination to enter the ring in his bare feet, as has been his custom in his matches in this country despite Gotch's assertion that this would lessen his chances of obtaining the toe hold, the dispute had been settled by Mahmoud's proposing that the $500 of one of the purses to Gotch and to enter the ring in his bare feet. Rather than call off the matched Gotch agreed to Mahmoud's proposal, although he contended that the rules called for shoe feet. It was 11 o'clock before the match began. For the first three minutes the two men rolled about the ring without either getting a hold. Finally, after three minutes of this, Gotch got a hold on Mahmoud's left leg and threw him to the mat. The American champion was after the finish, Caper in the ring, the Bulgarian responded with every ounce of his strength, but could not break Gotch's hold. Mahmoud bridged and used every artifice, but Gotch gradually forced his opponent's shoulders to the mat. It was a magnificent test of strength between two great exponents of wrestling, but the champion, cheered on by his admirers, finally secured a crotch and half-Nelson hold and Referee Smith gave him the fall in eight minutes. Mahmoud's shoulders were pinned to the mat for the first time since he has been in this country. The crowd cheered and yelled for several minutes after the fall. Gotch and Mahmoud started the second fall at 1:29. After a minute of feinting in the middle of the ring, the men seized and Mahmoud put Gotch down on the mat. After some sharp work Gotch wriggled out of the Turk's hold and assumed the defensive all the time. Gotch then got the same hold that won the first fall for him, a crotch and a half-Nelson. Mahmoud, the highly heralded Turkish wrestler, at last called to break the hold, but it was of no avail. Despite the Turk's immense strength and ability, he was pinned to the mat for the final fall in nine minutes ten seconds. Chicago, April 15.—Commenting on his easy overthrow of Yussif Mahmoud, the highly heralded Turkish wrestler, at last night's contest for the championship, Frank Gotch says: "I had him beaten when I laid my hands

TO MAKE TRIP AROUND THE WORLD ON A MOTOR CYCLE

Spokane, Wash., April 15.—T. E. Linden, a member of the Spokane Motor Cycle Club, who fought under the name of "Riley" in the Beer war, has completed arrangements for a trip around the world on a motorcycle in 12 months, leaving Spokane at 12 o'clock noon on May 1, when a party of his club mates will give him a rousing send-off. He will ride as far north as Dickenson, Mont., thence to Pierre, S. D., south to Chicago, and east to New York, traveling along the borders of the Great Lakes to avoid the mountains. Returning to this continent he will land at Vancouver, B. C., and ride to Spokane. This is said to be the first trip around the world on a motorcycle, and it is believed that Linden will be successful, as he will be backed from start to finish by members of the club who are ambitious for a record. The round-the-world ride is not on a wagger nor are any of the usual freak conditions attached to the test of endurance.

Mile racing by fast horses with a four-year-old Durham bull is down on the cards for Western Pennsylvania tracks this year. Dr. Joseph D. Chaney and John H. Ross of Waynesburg, Pa., for the last three years have been busy training a bull and they have come out with 230 horses in this end of the state for a large stake. They assert and are backed up by reputable witnesses that the bull had frequently trotted a half mile to sulky in 1:22, and that he can do the mile in less than 2:30 is believed.

KETCHELL WILL FORCE JOHNSON TO FIGHT

New York, April 15.—Stanley Ketchel intends to claim the world's heavyweight championship if Jack Johnson does not agree to meet him within a reasonable time. This announcement is made by William A. Brady, Ketchel's manager. Ketchel is the undisputed middleweight champion of the world, while Johnson holds the heavyweight title merely through Jeffries' kindness in staying retired. If, however, Jeffries ultimately decides to box Johnson, I will hold my peace until the battle has been fought and then offer the winner. In regard to a match between Ketchel and Johnson my money was posted and I jumped 2,000 miles to hold Johnson to an agreement he made over the wire. This agreement he repudiated immediately upon my arrival in Chicago. "I feel that the public will support me in my stand of claiming the title for Ketchel because it is traditional that all true American sportsmen love a fighter who is ready to fight at all times and after 15 minutes claim the title for Ketchel he will be ready to meet all of the heavyweights from Jeffries down. "Ketchel demands recognition; he is ready to fight; he is after the title and money talk."

LANGFORD AND BARRY DRAV

Albany, April 14.—"Sam" Langford, of Boston and "Jim" Barry of Chicago fought ten rounds tonight at the North End A. C. with honors about even. They fought at catch weights and both were strong at the finish. The first nine rounds of the bout were slow, neither man extending himself, but in the last round there was a lively mix-up. Neither man suffered much punishment. Owing to the small attendance the principals at first desired to enter the ring and for the time it looked as though the bout would have to be called off. Among those in attendance were several members of the legislature who contributed sufficiently to a collection that was taken up to induce the men to fight.

DRUNKEN INDIAN DROWNED

Corwall, April 13.—(Special)—Although a Cornwall hotel man was fined $150 and costs on Saturday for selling liquor to Indians, the natives continue to get fire water, and last night Abraham Peters of St. Pags, while drunk, fell to his death from the Ontario and New York railway bridge while on his way to Cornwall Island. He was seen around the canal repairs at Lock 18, where he had been working about 10:30 a. m., and other Indians heard him yelling and shouting as he walked on the bridge. He evidently fell over the side, a distance of 75 feet, to the edge of the river, where his body was found this morning.

"BATTLING" HURLEY WON

New York, April 14.—"Battling" Hurley of Passaic gave John Dwyer of Perth Amboy a decisive beating in their ten-round fight tonight before the Sharkey Club. Hurley had the better of the contest throughout. Asson, in southern Japan, has the largest volcanic crater in the world. It measures fourteen miles across one way, and more than ten miles the other.

An Unbreakable Set of Teeth

There is a class of patients who do not object to paying a fair price for artificial teeth, if they can really secure comfort, usefulness and naturalness. I have a set of teeth, such as is unobtainable in any other office in this city, to my knowledge. It is out of the ordinary line and unlike the teeth in general use. Its beauty is at once apparent, and it is practically unbreakable.

North end residents were somewhat amused last evening to see one of the city watering carts being utilized on Main street for sprinkling the pavement which was already wet from the rain. It seems to be a rule in the street department that a watering cart must precede the street sweeper, no matter how wet the street may be.

Patrick Whelby, of 175 Cheley street, called at the Times office today and stated that he did not sign the petition in favor of local option in Lunenburg ward. Mr. Whelby says that in conversation with Mr. Charles Titus he was asked to sign the petition but he would not do so, but maintains that he did not sign the petition nor did he see it.

WHERE TO VOTE

List of Polling Places and Commissioners for the Civic Election

Despite the downpour of rain last evening and today, many of the aldermanic candidates were busy electioneering. All seem to be confident of election, but it was ever thus, and at least a dozen or more will be wiser on Tuesday next, when the ballots are counted, and they find that promises are not always to be relied on.

The common clerk has appointed returning officers in the various wards, and has arranged for polling places for the aldermanic election. The commissioners who are to record the plebiscite on local option in Dukes, Victoria, Lansdowne and Lorne wards are arranging for polling places in those wards, but the arrangements are not yet complete. The local option vote will be recorded separately, the provincial law being used and the booths partitioned off, so that a secret ballot may be taken.

The polling places for the aldermanic contest are as follows: Dukes ward—Thomas E. Browne, in or near City Hall in Guy's ward. Brook's ward—George McCreedy, in or near the shop occupied by Andre Rolston, 24 St. John street, near Sand Point. Sidney ward—Harry A. B. Fales, in or near the shop occupied by John Fox, on Brittain street, near Charlotte. Dukes ward—Stephen W. Palmer, in or near the shop, No. 188 Charlotte street, occupied by Samuel Fisher, opposite No. 1. Engine House.

Queen's ward—Robert Reid, in or near the old City Court Room in the Court House. King's ward—Beverley R. Armstrong, in or near the shop occupied by Michael Driscoll, No. 7 Germain street, near Union.

Wallington ward—L. Olive Thomas, in or near the shop No. 21 Brussels street, near Union, in the occupation of the Canada Postal Service. Prince ward—Fred Sanction, in or near the shop formerly occupied by Dingle Scribner, at the corner of Sydney street and the north side of the King Square.

Victoria ward—J. Leslie Smith, in or near the Victoria Skating Rink on City Road. Dufferin ward—Caleb Belyes, in or near the shop occupied by Hugh Campbell, No. 475 Main street.

Lansdowne ward—John B. Eagles, in or near the shop occupied by Harry McK. Nelson, No. 408 Main street. Lorne ward—Marshall D. Austin, in or near the shop occupied by T. Black, No. 151 Main street.

Stanley ward—Walter Roy Gigey, in or near the house occupied by James Jeffrey, on the Millidgeville Road, near the old Rowewalk. The votes shall be given by ballot.

No ballot will be legal except the official ballot prepared under the direction of the Common Clerk, and bearing a fac-simile of his signature. All names but those of the person or persons for whom the voter intends to vote, shall be ruled, erased or struck out from the ballot before the same is handed over to the Commissioners.

If there be more names left on any ballot for any office than there ought to be, such ballot will be vitiated only so far as relates to such office or offices. The polls will be opened at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CAMPAIGN IS WARMING UP How the Plebiscite Went in the Four Wards in 1898

The no-license campaign is growing warmer in the four wards interested. The Licensed Victuallers Association is in the fight for license, and as part of its campaign, has published the names of those signing the petitions, calling for the vote on the question. The opponents of license are no less active, and will have their side of the question clearly set before every elector. They desire to have the full vote brought out, in order that the verdict may be decisive.

In many instances on Sunday, the importance of the question will be impressed upon the congregations. In connection with the vote, the result at the time of the prohibition plebiscite is of interest.

In the plebiscite in 1898, the vote for and against prohibition in the four wards where a campaign against license is now in progress, was:

Table with 3 columns: Ward, For Prohibition, Against Prohibition. Dukes: 239 For, 133 Against. Victoria: 264 For, 91 Against. Lansdowne: 246 For, 97 Against. Lorne: 332 For, 90 Against.

NEILS ANDREAS Poulson, a Dane, who was inanimate when taken into custody last night for inebriation, was fined $4 or ten days in jail.

Patrick McCartney, a Scotchman, who had many narrow escapes from injury last night, including that of being almost trampled upon by a speeding horse, and was finally apprehended on Marsh Bridge, was also fined $4 or ten days.

George Brown, in voicing his sentiments of disapproval against his wife in their apartments in a Duke street yard, annoyed the neighbors and occasioned the arrest of Acting Sergeant Scott and Night Detective Lucas to the house and the subsequent arrest of Brown for intoxication.

He was fined $4 or ten days. The police were summoned to restore harmony frequently last night. A telephone message brought Reserve Officer Gosline to Peters street, between 5 and 6 o'clock, to quiet refractory spirits. Another call was that of Officer McLaren dispersing a number of disorderly boys from Richmond street. At 8 o'clock the services of Sergeant Campbell were rendered imperative at St. Andrews Rink and shortly after 11 o'clock Policemen Scott and Lucas quelled a disturbance in George Brown's quarters on Duke street. Between 8 and 9 o'clock a bibulous individual was led to the open air from E. S. Diblee's grocery store on Pond street.

Patrolman McFarland ejected John and William Quinn from John McCausland's house on Chapel street, between 11 and 12 o'clock last night. Brother John was subsequently locked up for inebriation.

She would no doubt have found it in the "other packet" at 40 cents, but she found it in Hatheway's 30 cent Tiger. Question if 30 cent Tiger is that good, how about 40c., 50c., 60c., Tiger?
