TORONTO'S BIG CLOCK.
Watch About One of the Largest Time Pieces in the World.
The four dials are 20 feet in diameter and are made of half-inch ground glass set in iron frames. In the centre of each dial is a circle, containing four lighted dashes, through which it is possible for a man to crawl, if it is necessary to work on the outside of the dial. The dials weigh about fifteen tons, and the steel braces that provide against the enormous wind pressure on the glass weigh six tons.
The hands are of copper. They are hollow and counterbalanced on the inside. The large hands are nine feet six inches long and the small hands five feet six inches.
The pendulum of the clock is 14 feet three inches long, and weighs 500 pounds. Once started, it would swing for ten hours without any other power than its own momentum. If the length of the pendulum shaft should alter, through contraction or expansion by cold or heat, the clock would run fast or slow accordingly. To overcome this the shaft is made of iron and zinc, the expansion of one being compensated by the contraction of the other.
The clock is 280 feet above the ground.

PROFIT IN GROWING CURRANTS.
Every farm and village garden should contain as many currant bushes as possible, says Mr. S. E. Brandis. I have been cultivating this useful fruit for several years and find that it is not only desirable for home use, but pays a fair profit when marketed. Last season I gathered 65 gals. from two bushes and sold the crop readily at 40c per gal.
I often see currant bushes that are given as attention whatever over the fruit has been gathered. Treated in this way the crop the following season cannot be a paying one. A little attention to the bushes will move them beyond the time expended. After trimming out all the dead wood, the soil about the bushes should be freed from weeds and grass. When this is done, scatter about one gallon of wood ashes around each bush and over the ash spread well-rotted stable manure to a depth of two or three inches. This will give the bushes much-needed plant food, and the following season an extra large yield will result.
The cherry currant is a valuable variety in this vicinity, but it must be set in a rich soil and well cultivated. Currants are propagated by cuttings of new wood. The best time to plant these is in Sept. or Oct. They should be about a foot in length. All the buds on the lower part of the cutting should be taken off. Plant these cuttings about six inches deep in a bed of sandy loam, pack the soil firmly about them, scatter some dead grass over and by the following spring they can be transplanted into rows.

The Home.
STEAMING PLANTS.
A woman famous among her friends for thrifty house plans describes her success in bar practice and in the home. She has a row of hooks arranged on the bathroom wall over the tub and from these she suspends the pots by strings to within two feet of the water, the plants having previously had through watering. The door and window are closed with the exception of a narrow crack left at the top of one of the latter, and the tub is filled with water hot enough to allow a gentle breeze to sweep over the plants. In this position the plants are left for an hour, and then the water is turned off and they are restored to health. This, of course, can only be done in a room without a wall to prevent steam from escaping.

CANADIANS IN WEST AFRICA.
Major W. C. Hensker and the Officers of the Third West African Force Enjoy a Most Interesting Expedition to the West African Expedition now progressing towards Benin City is of special interest to Canadians, because its commanding officer, Major Hensker, is a Canadian son of Mr. B. W. Hensker, of Sherbrooke, Que., and the transport officer is Lieut. W. F. W. Carstairs, formerly a captain in the 6th Prescott Battalion Canadian Militia. The expedition started from Old Calabar for Benin City in February, and had, up to recent advices, a very hard time of it. Lieut. Carstairs, under date of Immertermer, March 25, said that the party had been in the country for some time, and that it has been a most interesting one. IT IS NOT HEREDITARY.
DRUNKENNESS NOT TRANSMITTED FROM PARENT TO CHILD.
Evil of Environment a Strong Factor in the Spread of Drunkenness—Important to the Public Health.
It is now eighteen months since the Society for the Study of Inebriety, London, published its report on the relation of heredity to inebriety, says a London letter. The report, which was prepared by five physicians, two surgeons, a professor of bacteriology, an army surgeon, and a police officer, is a most valuable contribution to the study of inebriety. It is the result of a long and careful study of the habits of inebriates, and is a most valuable contribution to the study of inebriety.

JAPANESE SHIPYARDS.
One in Tokyo Which Covers Nearly Sixty Acres.
The determination of a modern nation is in no line of development made more plain than in the matter of shipyards. The Tokio shipyard, covering nearly sixty acres, is reported as employing 3,000 men, who have all the latest machinery, including pneumatic riveters, and six steamers of 180,000 tons are on the stocks. It is the largest shipyard in the world, and is a most valuable contribution to the study of inebriety.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!!!
The room was on fire, and at the window stood a man and a lovely creature. Frantic with horror, he pushed her out of the window, and she fell into the flames below. The man, who was a policeman, stood back, and a policeman, forcing his way into the room, found the man and the woman. The man, who was a policeman, stood back, and a policeman, forcing his way into the room, found the man and the woman.

A VENTILATOR.
To make a ventilator in a hay mow prepare a square box about five or six feet long and 18 inches square of thin boards, and place it where a flue is to be made in a mow, and draw it up as the mow is built. The top of the ventilator should be placed in the mow, and the bottom in a dropping of board near the bottom when mow is made. This will allow the mow to be built up, and the ventilator will be in position. By this means an efficient ventilator will be made.

Josh-Don't you remember there was a doctor some time ago that found out how to take out your stomach without doing any harm? Well, I remember his name, but I don't know his name. I don't know his name, but I don't know his name.

POLICE SPIES IN PRISON.
MOST MYSTERIOUS BODY OF OFFICIALS IN THE WORLD.
Scotland Yard's Staff of Detectives—Perform Difficult and Dangerous Duties—Always in the Thickest of the Fight.

It might be thought that when the police have arrested a criminal and obtained for him a suitable term of imprisonment their interest in him ceases for at least so long as he is safely incarcerated. But such is not always the case. Sometimes the police arrest and get convicted a man who might be able to give them most valuable information concerning other crimes and criminals; and there is no time at which a felon is more frank than when in prison, and no person to whom he more readily confides his secrets in the past and plans for the future as a free citizen.

In France every advantage taken of this, and detectives are sent to prison—becoming for the time common go-to-birds—for the express purpose of meeting criminals and obtaining their confidences. It is also done, less frequently, in England, and from time to time the police secure in this way most valuable information which could not be obtained by any other means, says London Tit-Bits.

Scotland Yard has a staff of detectives who form one of the most mysterious bodies of officials in the world. They are not only men of a thousand names, but they are also employed in cases where absolute secrecy is required. They never make arrests, they never give evidence in any court—in short, they never do anything which would imply that they have the remotest connection with the police. Yet they execute most important duties. So close is the secret kept that none of the ordinary staff know by sight or name any of this mysterious body of detectives. They are totally unknown to each other; indeed, the probability is that the only person who is acquainted with them and could say how many there are is the head of the Criminal Investigation Department.

It is these men, who, among hundreds of other difficult and dangerous duties, have from time to time to become go-to-birds and worm themselves into the confidence of criminals and other persons who are in the habit of committing crimes. For a famous thief-catcher to attempt to get into the confidence of a criminal and to induce him to tell the truth of his doings, is a most difficult and dangerous task. It is in this way that the police obtain their most valuable information.

Detectives often have put before them clues and other matters the source of which are most confidential, and not a little of it is supplied to them by innocent men who wear prison-dress and eat prison-bread because it is a part of their duty.

It may have been noticed that some habitual criminals are arrested for crimes committed or contemplated shortly after being discharged from prison. The reason often is that in prison they have confided their doings or plans to fellow-prisoners, who, after their discharge, are in a position to carry out their plans. This is a most serious matter, and it is one which the police are always on the watch for.

DISHEARTENING.
Even the clergyman, noble and inspiring as he is, has now and then his bad moments.
O sir, said a poor woman to a Scotch minister, who was by no means a popular preacher, well do I like the day when you give us the sermon. Indeed, said the minister, flushing with pleasure, I wish there were more like you, my good woman; it is seldom I hear such words from any one. Maybe this living's stronger than mine, sir, said the woman, promptly, but when you preach I can always get a good seat.

EPITAPH AND PUN.
One evening at a small party which included the two friends, Douglas Jerrold and Charles Knight, the author of the "Punch" and "The Illustrated London News" was talking of the late Mr. Knight, half light and half in earnest, asked the wit to write his epitaph for him. The wit turned on his answer, but when they came to the parting of their ways, he suddenly got up and said, "I've got your epitaph. Well, what is it?"

ties very properly abhor. More often it is found sufficient to dump a spy down in a prison as if he were transferred from another prison for reasons best known to the authorities. In the event of a being placed in a prison to investigate abuses of their positions by members of the staff of warders, the governor and deputy-governor of the prison are generally acquainted with the real character of the prisoners' presence, so that as they are able to speak with them whenever he desires to do so, but no more liberties are allowed him than the duly convicted criminal. He is to be sure that they are—except that he may, perhaps, have stronger desires to chew a bit of tobacco, get a letter, or send a letter to a friend outside the goal.

TOLD OF THE MARINES.
A marine captain, desiring to reform some chronic grognards in his staff, arranged for companions to be made after morning parade. During the evening, however, the grognards, he ordered them to tight on their helmet chin-straps by four days. Of course they were not to be complained time came the men could not open their mouths.
Falls, the cop's as they man fired, said one, my sense of fun would be ruined against tightness straps given us 'tiringing we sat for the mornin'!
Any complaints?
Yes, sir, the straps ain't done, and we're the mornin'!
What does he mean, sergeant? asked the puzzled young officer.
Oh, he is ignorant, sir, returned the sergeant. It means fatness.

The Signal to That "Combine" Sale of Crown Lands.

A Fredericton dispatch of Wednesday, 19th, to the St. John Telegraph.

An important sale of timber lands took place at the Crown Land office at noon today.

Great interest was taken in the sale and there was a large attendance.

The timber lands sold are on the Nepisiguit and Nepisiguit rivers, and were sold as follows:

South East Nepisiguit, near mouth, 7 1/2 miles, to James Robinson, at $100 a mile.

Ramsay Brook, at mouth, six miles, to James Robinson, at $100 a mile.

Between 40 and 44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, 1 1/2 miles to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

40 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

1 1/2 miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

44 Mile Brook, nine miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

Mr. Robinson bought a total of 45 square miles at $201 a mile.

It will be observed that the lands sold, as above-stated, are those which combine endeavor to secure at a sale which took place on 22nd July, by an arrangement amongst themselves not to bid against each other.

They were knocked down to the applicant, but the completion of the purchase was at once refused by the government in the public interest.

The Chatham World eagerly awaited itself of the announcement of the sale to make of it an occasion for one of its usual dishonest attacks on the personal integrity of members of the government.

A decent newspaper would have made enquiry as to what the government had done, before assailing the character of its members individually.

The World had telephonic communication with the Crown Land office, and it could also have interviewed the premier, who was in his business office only a few doors away.

It did not want to do that, however, as it preferred to publish the following:-

The Signal to That "Combine" Sale of Crown Lands.

A Fredericton dispatch of Wednesday, 19th, to the St. John Telegraph.

An important sale of timber lands took place at the Crown Land office at noon today.

Great interest was taken in the sale and there was a large attendance.

The timber lands sold are on the Nepisiguit and Nepisiguit rivers, and were sold as follows:

South East Nepisiguit, near mouth, 7 1/2 miles, to James Robinson, at $100 a mile.

South East Nepisiguit below Ramsey Brook, nine miles, to James Robinson, at $100 a mile.

Ramsay Brook, at mouth, six miles, to James Robinson, at $100 a mile.

Between 40 and 44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, 1 1/2 miles to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

40 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

1 1/2 miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

44 Mile Brook, nine miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

Mr. Robinson bought a total of 45 square miles at $201 a mile.

It will be observed that the lands sold, as above-stated, are those which combine endeavor to secure at a sale which took place on 22nd July, by an arrangement amongst themselves not to bid against each other.

They were knocked down to the applicant, but the completion of the purchase was at once refused by the government in the public interest.

The Chatham World eagerly awaited itself of the announcement of the sale to make of it an occasion for one of its usual dishonest attacks on the personal integrity of members of the government.

A decent newspaper would have made enquiry as to what the government had done, before assailing the character of its members individually.

The World had telephonic communication with the Crown Land office, and it could also have interviewed the premier, who was in his business office only a few doors away.

It did not want to do that, however, as it preferred to publish the following:-

"There has been another sale of valuable Crown Land, between 40 and 44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, 1 1/2 miles to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

44 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to James Robinson, at $201 a mile.

40 Mile Brook, Nepisiguit river, nine miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.

1 1/2 miles, to William Engel, at $201 a mile.
