SIR ROBERT BORDEN INTRODUCES CANADA'S THIRD CONSCRIPTION MEASURE IN HOUSE; THE ITALIANS BEGIN ANOTHER OFFENSIVE

BRITISH TROOPS CAPTURE MILE OF GERMAN TRENCHES SOUTHEAST OF MESSINES

Army Continues Progress and Takes Number of Prisoners as a Result of Their Operations.

ITALIANS ARE AGAIN SUCCESSFUL IN CARSO

They Turn From Isonzo Front to the Trentino for New Important Drive—Counter-Attacks Repulsed.

London, June 11.—British troops have captured another mile of German trenches southeast of Messines, together with seven field guns and prisoners, according to the official report from British headquarters tonight. The text of the statement reads: "Our progress southeast of Messines has continued. Early this morning we captured the enemy's trench system in the neighborhood of La Poterie Farm on a front of about a mile, and during the day our troops gained further ground in this area. "In addition to some prisoners, seven German field guns have been captured by us today as a result of these operations."

Washington, June 11.—The Austrian counter-offensive has broken completely according to official advices received here today from a member of the Italian cabinet. The positions at Fatis and Jamiano, captured by the Italians in their offensive, have been successfully held against the extremely heavy counter-attacks of the Austrians, the despatches report. In the Carso alone 150,000 troops and 2,000 big guns were used by the Austrians in their attacks. The Italians have adopted a new system of machine gun warfare that was used to great advantage in the recent fighting, the despatches say. The machine guns have been detached from infantry regiments and organized as independent commands, giving them a mobility in mountainous terrain.

Counter Offensive.

"The Austrian counter-offensive on the Carso has been broken," the despatches read: "The furious attacks against our defenses at Fatis and Jamiano have been repulsed with heavy losses and the advance of the enemy was stopped at the banks of the Timavo river. "The brave defenders of our brilliantly won advanced positions were held with the utmost tenacity despite the fact that on the Carso front alone the Austrians hurled 150,000 troops and the concentrated fire from 2,000 big guns against us. The counter-offensive was directed by the Austrian General Borevic. "The Austrian counter-offensive on the Middle Isonzo and the Carso, although having reached an extremely violent stage, failed miserably. In every sector the Austrians failed to reach their objective."

The Italians have turned from the Isonzo front, where they made important gains, toward Trieste, in opening their offensive, to the Trentino front for the drive just begun. The positions are in the Sugana Valley region, southeast of the City of Trent, one of the great Italian objectives in the war.

It was over this ground that the Austrians, in May of last year, made their most powerful attack of the war against the Italians. After initial successes they were halted in their advance toward the Venetian plains and driven back. Paris, June 11.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads: "Two enemy surprise attacks on our small posts near Courcy met with no success. There was intermittent cannonading over the greater part of the front, but in the region of Mont Carabell both artilleries were very active. "Belgian communication: There was lively artillery action last night in the direction of Het Sas, and today near Ramecapelle and Het Sas."

ASSISTANT FOR GENERAL MGR. HAYES

Special to The Standard. Moncton, June 11.—Some changes have recently been made in the C.G.R. official staff here. R. W. Simpson, formerly general agent and the agent, has been appointed assistant to General Manager Hayes. D. H. Williams, who held this position under F. P. Oulouin, is appointed special representative reporting to the general manager. The office of fuel and the agent is abolished, the purchasing of fuel and ties being left to Louis Laviole C.G.R. purchasing agent at Ottawa. At a meeting of the directors of the Colchester Coal and Railway Co. here this afternoon the company's coal areas and railway situated at Debert, N. S., were leased to Nova Scotia parties for a period of three years on a royalty basis. The residence of conductor and Mrs. Wm. Mann was the scene of a happy event this evening when their eldest daughter, Helen Vera, was married to George Cameron Reid of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bowley Green. Mr. and Mrs. Reid left for Montreal, Toronto and Niagara Falls on their wedding trip. They will reside in Moncton.

$2,000 FIRE IN ST. STEPHEN LAST NIGHT

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, June 11.—A warehouse belonging to Joseph McVey and situated near his residence on Rushton street, was destroyed by fire this evening together with a large quantity of valuable machinery and equipment of Joseph McVey & Son, the well known contractors. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have been of an incendiary nature. The warehouse was situated in a nest of wooden buildings, but the flames were confined to the one building, the firemen being aided by the prevailing rain. The loss is estimated at $2,000, with some insurance.

CONDITIONS FOR CAPTURE OF FOX, THE FUGITIVE, IN CITY OF ST. JOHN.

- 1st—Lay hands on him. (Women need only to confront him.)
- 2nd—Present him with copy of The Daily Standard of same date, showing him first page so he can read date lines.
- 3rd—Say to him: You are Fox, The Fugitive. Do you deny it?"
- N. B.—All non-residents of the city and people employed in newspaper work and their families barred from participating in capture and rewards. Fox the sole arbiter.

OPPOSITION IS STRONG IN DEBATE

Hon. Mr. Byrne Finds It Difficult to Reply to Hon. Mr. Baxter.

DR. CAMPBELL MAKES EXCELLENT ADDRESS

Mr. Tilley and Mr. Smith of Charlotte Also Participate in the Debate.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, June 12.—The budget debate was continued in the house until after midnight with the opposition having by far the better of the arguments. No attempt was made by the government to answer the important points made by Hon. Mr. Baxter in his address on Friday last, while the telling points made this evening by Dr. Campbell, Mr. Tilley and Mr. Smith of Charlotte were also allowed to go unanswered. The criticism of the opposition speakers was of a fair, reasonable and logical character and their addresses were listened to with rapt attention by honorable members on both sides of the house.

The Public Debt.

Hon. Mr. Byrne, who resumed the debate in reply to Mr. Baxter, but the attorney-general confined his remarks chiefly to a discussion of the public debt. Although he held up his hands in holy horror at the increase in the debt of $1,000,000 under the late government, he refused to accept Hon. Mr. Baxter's challenge to point to one single item in the debt which was not absolutely justifiable. He also made no reply to Hon. Mr. Baxter's statement that the new government had fully three-quarters of a million dollars to expend during half portion of the current year, while he likewise was silent to the request of the former attorney-general for the government to give at least a suggestion of the policy they intend to pursue to increase the revenue to meet the increasing expenditures. The attorney-general did not attempt to justify the action of the Carter-Foster government in incurring the great deficit of $148,000 on ordinary account during the present year.

Dr. Campbell.

Dr. Campbell, who followed Hon. Mr. Byrne, was most enthusiastically received. The member for St. John city showed an adequate knowledge of the provincial finances and delivered a most convincing address. He answered effectively the charges of the attorney-general that the late government had hoarded out false surpluses to the people of the province, stating that any accounts charged to capital expenditure had been so charged on the recommendation of the engineer of the province, those of the engineer who had considered them proper capital charges. He took the attorney-general to task for his statement that the ex-attorney-general had not taken payment of amount justly due him in order to help the late government out in their desire to show a surplus.

Dr. Campbell also questioned the methods of the government in sending statements to the press that information with respect to the bonded debt of the Valley Railway had been withheld in the public accounts, showing clearly where the items appeared in the auditor-general's report. Hon. Mr. Robinson from his seat in the house practically repudiated the misrepresentations of the press of his party, stating that he had not made the statements as they appeared in the press.

The absolute lack of economical methods on the part of the new regime was also pointed out by Dr. Campbell, who instanced the creation of two new offices, those of deputy attorney-general and secretary to the premier, which had been made by the new administration. (From Official Report.) Fredericton, June 12.—The House met at 8:45 last evening. Hon. Mr. Veniot introduced a bill to amend the motor vehicle law.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale laid upon the table of the House the annual report of the director of elementary agricultural education for 1916. (Continued on page 2)

THE SCOPE OF THE MILITARY MEASURE JUST INTRODUCED

Ottawa, June 11.—(Canadian Press)—In the Commons this afternoon Sir Robert Borden introduced and explained the military bill. There are to be ten classes, as follows:

- 1—Those who have attained the age of 20, and were born not earlier than 1894, are unmarried or widowers without children.
- 2—Those born in years 1889 to 1893, inclusive, unmarried or widowers without children.
- 3—Those born in 1883 to 1888, married or widowers without children.
- 4—Those of 20 years, born not earlier than 1894, married or widowers with a child or children.
- 5—Those born in years 1889 to 1893, married or widowers with a child or children.
- 6—Those born in 1883 to 1888, married or widowers who have no children.
- 7—Those born in 1876 to 1882, unmarried or widowers without children.
- 8—Those born in 1876 to 1882, married or widowers with children.
- 9—Those born in 1872 to 1875, unmarried or widowers without children.
- 10—Those born in 1872 to 1875, married or widowers with children.

The number to be secured is 100,000. The bill provides for local exemption boards, to whom application is to be made by those claiming exemption. One member of the board is to be chosen by the county judge, the other by the Minister of Justice. There will be an appeal tribunal composed of a chief justice appointed by the provincial chief justice, and finally a central appeal judge to be chosen from the Supreme Court. Clergymen and men who are in any branch of army or naval service or have retired from it are to be exempted.

THE ITALIANS INAUGURATE BIG DRIVE

Capture Two Important Points of Vantage from the Austrians.

MONTE ORTIGARA AND AGNELLO PASS TAKEN

New Movement Regarded as Important and Austrians Surprised.

Rome, via London, June 11.—The Italians have begun an offensive in the region southeast of Trent and have captured two important points of vantage from the Austrians, according to the official communication issued today. Monte Ortigara, east of Cima Undice, and the Agnello Pass both were taken in addition to more than 500 prisoners. The statement says: "Throughout the whole of the mountain zone of operations there was more fighting than usual yesterday, especially between the Adige and Brenta rivers. Last night the enemy was driven back and followed up at the Tonale Pass, in the upper Chiesia Valley, on the slope of Dosso Casina and in the Posina Valley. "On the Asiago plateau our artillery destroyed the enemy's complex system of defenses at several points. Our infantry attacking during a violent storm in the direction of Mount Selio and Forno carried the pass of Agnello and captured nearly the whole of Monte Ortigara (6,934 feet high) east of Cima Undice. "This surprise attack, which was strongly pushed home, left 512 prisoners including seven officers, in our hands."

CANADA'S PREMIER INTRODUCES THE SELECTIVE CONSCRIPTION BILL WITH HISTORY-MAKING ADDRESS

Men from Twenty to Forty-Five Years of Age to Be Registered by Compulsion, But No Injustice Will Be Done to Anyone, Declares Premier Measure Modelled on Existing Law.

A GRAND TOTAL OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN CALLED FOR UNDER THE NEW BILL

"It Is Easy to Sow the Wind of Clamor," Says Sir Robert, But Those Who Make That Sowing May Reap Such a Whirlwind as They Do Not Dream of Today.

Ottawa, June 11.—On rising to introduce the bill Sir Robert Borden was greeted with prolonged government cheers. In opening the Premier said that in view of the importance of this measure and the great public interest in it he would make a much fuller explanation than was usual. He began by drawing the attention of the House to the events of nearly three years ago, to Germany's intention to speedily assassinate Belgium's rights and liberties, to crush France, to make eventual peace with Russia, to have the British Empire stand aside so that it might later meet the fate of France and Belgium, in order that Germany might dominate the world.

Barbarous Hun Methods.

Sir Robert declared that Germany had proceeded to carry out her plans by methods so barbarous and revolting that Canada and the whole world stood aghast. "As to Canada's determination," said Sir Robert, "there was never a moment's doubt. (Cheers.) Our nation was united on a common purpose. Men of all parties expressed the most resolute and vehement determination to carry the war to victory and an abiding peace. It was realized by all that the future of civilization and humanity was at stake. "The Prime Minister then reviewed the efforts Canada had made in carrying out her share in the struggle against Germany. Within six weeks 32,000 trained men were ready to embark. By July 8th, 1916, the forces had been increased to 150,000 and to 250,000 by the 30th of October, 1916.

Urged Compulsion.

During 1916, Sir Robert said, many delegations from all parts of the country had urged the government to adopt compulsory military service. (Hear, hear.) At that time he had explained to them the difficulties of such action. "It was on the first day of January, 1917," said Sir Robert, "that I issued a message to the Canadian people in which I announced that Canada's authorized forces would be increased to 500,000 men. In that message I used these words: 'By the greatness of the need our future efforts must be measured.' The necessary order-in-council was passed on the 12th of January, 1917, and was laid on the table of the House. So far as I can remember no criticism was made in parliament of the action which the government thus took, no motion was moved against the government's action, and the necessary parliamentary appropriations were passed unanimously.

Deemed as Pledge.

"My message was construed as a pledge in many parts of the country. It was not issued as a pledge; it was the authorization of a further increase in the Canadian expeditionary force; but it has been deemed to have been a pledge made on behalf of the government and the people of this country, and I am content so to regard it. There was a splendid response to that appeal; in three and one half months more than a hundred thousand men enlisted. The need as it then appeared seemed to be served. But later on it became apparent that the struggle would exceed all anticipations. A second division had gone to the front; then a third went, and finally a fourth. The need of reinforcements became greater, while the recruiting during the summer and autumn of 1916 became less. "In the autumn of 1916 I made a tour of six provinces of this Dominion in aid of national service. I was accompanied by the director of National Service and the duty of national service was emphasized to vast audiences whose response was inspiring. "After my return a delegation of representatives of organized labor waited upon me, their mission being one of inquiry with regard to the national service cards and they demanded from me a pledge that under no circumstances would compulsory military service be enforced in this country. "I gave them a reply on the spot and followed that up by a letter which was published in the press of this country and which bears date the 27th December, 1916. That letter contains the following passage: "You have asked for an assurance that under no circumstances will conscription be undertaken or carried out, as I stated to you at our interview, I must decline to give any such assurance. I hope that conscription may not be necessary but if it should prove the only effective method to preserve the existence of the state and of the institutions and liberties which we enjoy, I should consider it necessary and I should not hesitate to act accordingly. "Second English Trip. "Early in February, 1917, I left for England, and in March last I saw at the front a Canadian army corps of four divisions. Instead of the one which I had visited in July 1916, our forces in France at that time numbered about 150,000 men, including all arms of the service. It is manifest to everyone that four divisions require four times as many recruits as one, and at the present time, the recruiting is not adequate to the need, as I shall show later on. There are only two alternatives—to let our forces dwindle from four divisions to three, from three to two, and perhaps from two to one, or to bring aid by other means than an appeal for voluntary service. That is the problem which confronts Canada today. "General Conditions. "Let me say a word about the general conditions of the war. Hon. gentlemen, of course, will understand that I may not speak too freely. The effort of the Empire has been wonderful; the effort of our own Dominion has been notable but no effort is sufficient unless it assures victory, liberty, security and peace. I am in a position to assure the House and the country that the need of reinforcements is urgent, insistent and imperative. The effort of Russia is paralyzed for the present—no one knows for how long. The effort of the United States is only at its beginning. It is Germany's hope to win the war before the power of the United States can become effective. More than that, it is her confident belief, otherwise she never would have risked war with that great power, to stake everything on the submarine campaign and her ability to hold her lines east and west while her undersea boats starve Britain into submission. "Division of Forces. "Sir Robert described at length the various categories into which the men

Total Casualties.

"During the same year," continued Sir Robert, "our casualties amounted to 75,492. Our total casualties since the war began amount to 99,539. During April and May we enlisted 11,790 men, and during the same two months our casualties were 33,339 men. During the next seven months we need reinforcements to the number of at least 70,000 in order to keep four divisions in the field. To keep five divisions in the field we need 84,000 men. The total enlistments for the year to the end of May last were 85,306, but only a proportion of these men were fit for services in the trenches. "Proud of Canada's Part. "We all are proud that Canada has played a splendid and notable part in this war. The achievements of her troops have placed her in the very forefront of the nations and the question before the house and the country today is this: 'Is Canada content to relax her efforts in the most critical period of a war which concerns her heritage, her states, and her liberty. I am confident that the answer of the house and the country will be the same, namely, that Canada cannot and must not relax that effort. "It seems to me there is something more than this to be taken into account. Is there not, as I have already said, in this house, an appeal from the men at the front? They have answered the call, they have given glorious service, they have put aside all material considerations; duty alone has been their ideal. Unconscious of everything other than the supreme task before them I know from my personal experience that they cannot realize the thought that their country which so summoned them to her service will be content to desert and humiliate them. "I bring to the splendid manhood of Canada at the front an earnest and thrilling message that (Continued on page 2)

(Continued from Page 1.) We shall stand beside them in the stress and writer of this struggle and bring them such reports that the effort and sacrifice which have been consecrated to this supreme task shall not be in vain. When Canada called them to the colors her honor was pledged to this and I shall do my best to see that the pledge is fulfilled. I never will be responsible for its violation.

An Old Statute. Sir Robert referring to his return from England and his statement to the house said: "I announced on May 18th that the need must be met by applying a principle which, for forty-nine years, has been on the statute books of Canada. I repeat that: There is no principle of compulsion in the bill which I have presented to this house, except a principle that has stood on the statute books of Canada for forty-nine years. Some people afflicted with a diseased imagination stated that I took this course at the request or dictation of the British government. No more unfounded falsehood was ever uttered by human lips. The subject was never discussed between myself and any member of the British government if there had been any such suggestion from them. I for one would not have tolerated it. The government, parliament and people of Canada are the only authorities that can deal with or determine questions such as those which are embodied in the bill that I have presented to this house.

Enacted in 1868. Proceeding the prime minister declared that the principle of compulsory service in the dominion was first taken into consideration by the founders of Confederation in almost the first session of parliament here in Ottawa, and it was decided on once for all that for the entire of this country, whether within or without Canada, the people of this country should be subjected to compulsory military service. This principle was re-enacted in 1868 and was re-enacted with a slight change in form in 1904 by the Laurier government. To emphasize the fact that the government in its legislation was not adopting a new original militia act which made all males from 18 to 60 liable for military service and divided them into two classes. That enactment, he said, was still on the statute books. It had not only made them liable for service, but it had specifically declared that they might be called out for actual service either within or without the dominion.

Even at that early date the house so realized the importance of a system of compulsory service that it had voted down an amendment endorsing the volunteer system.

Compulsion Still Law. "It must be apparent therefore," continued Sir Robert, "that the whole question of compulsory service was taken into consideration by the founders of Confederation in almost the first session of parliament here in Ottawa, and it was decided on once for all that for the entire of this country, whether within or without Canada, the people of this country should be subjected to compulsory military service. This principle was re-enacted in 1868 and was re-enacted with a slight change in form in 1904 by the Laurier government. To emphasize the fact that the government in its legislation was not adopting a new original militia act which made all males from 18 to 60 liable for military service and divided them into two classes. That enactment, he said, was still on the statute books. It had not only made them liable for service, but it had specifically declared that they might be called out for actual service either within or without the dominion.

Never More Manifest. "I desire," he said, "to express my profound conviction that there ever has been and there never will be an occasion when that duty could be more manifest, more urgent or more imperative than at this time. Sir Robert then took up the question raised by the introduction of the new bill. The reason for not acting under the militia act, could be easily predicted. The militia act provided for selections by ballot, but the government believed that it would be based upon an intelligent consideration of the country's needs and conditions. The necessities of agriculture, of commerce and of industry must be taken into account. These who in their present occupations were rendering better service to the state than they could by enrollment in the expeditionary forces must not be selected for military service.

Compulsory Clauses. The compulsory clauses of the bill, said Sir Robert, were precisely of the same character as those which had been in force since 1868. To have amended the old would have been an unsatisfactory course since it would have been necessary to alter perhaps a score of clauses, so many that the legislature would have been less effective, less clear and more complex. "In turning to a consideration of the terms of the bill Sir Robert stated that he did not doubt that on some matters there might be room for argument and suggestion. The government was prepared to listen carefully to all suggestions, provided they were reasonable and did not affect the efficiency of the measure.

Provisions of Bills. Sir Robert after reading the preamble of the bill setting out the need for men and the failure of voluntary enlistment to provide the necessary reinforcements stated that the bill provided that: (1)—Every male British subject who comes within one of the classes described in Section 3 of the act, and who is ordinarily resident in Canada; or has been at any time since the fourth day of August 1914 resident in Canada; shall be liable to be called out as hereinafter provided on active service in the Canadian expeditionary force for the defence of Canada either in or beyond Canada, and to be called within the exceptions set out in the schedule; or reaches the age of forty-five before the class or sub-class to which he belongs, as described in Section 3 is called out.

Explanation of Clauses. (1)—The men who are liable to be called out shall consist of ten classes. (2)—The purposes of this section, any man married after the 11th day of June, 1917, shall be deemed to be unmarried. (3)—Any class, except class 1, shall include men who are transferred thereto from another class as herein provided, and men who have come within class 1 since the previous class was called out. (4)—The order in which the classes are described in this section shall be the order in which they may be called out on active service, provided the governor-in-council may divide any class into sub-classes, in which case the sub-classes shall be called out in order of age beginning with the youngest.

Power to Call Out. The Prime Minister then read clauses giving power to call out the men. Clause four: (1) The governor-in-council may from time to time by proclamation call out on active service as aforesaid for the defence of Canada, either in Canada or beyond Canada, any class or sub-class of men described in section three and all men within the class or sub-class so called out shall from the date of such proclamation, be deemed to be soldiers enlisted in the military forces of Canada and subject to military law for the duration of the present war and of demobilization thereafter, save as hereinafter provided.

The Penalty. Any man who is called out and who, without reasonable excuse, fails to report as aforesaid or to remain on active service where placed shall be guilty, according to the circumstances, of desertion, or of absenting himself without leave and shall be liable to be tried by court martial and convicted and punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years, or on summary conviction to imprisonment, for any term not exceeding three years.

Under the bill there are to be three tribunals. First of all local tribunals, composed of two persons are to sit in each locality wherever designated by the minister of justice. One of these two men is to be chosen by the senior county court judge of the district where the tribunal must sit.

vided for a certificate of exemption which must be obtained as to men who are otherwise, and if granted solely on conscientious grounds should state that such exemption was from combatant service only. Another important provision, regarded as essential upon a person to whom it was granted continuing in or entering into employment under any specified employer or in any specified place or establishment.

This clause, Sir Robert said, had been put in to provide against an employee being placed more or less at the mercy of his employer, and it had been adopted in Great Britain for that reason.

Another provision, made it an offence to make any false statement or to tamper with a certificate; provision was also made that when a certificate was lost or destroyed another one might be issued on payment of a small fee.

Section 13 provided for the transfer to the naval service of any man who had reported for service. As to the date when the act should come into force the bill provides "this act shall come into force on such day after the passing thereof as the governor-in-council may fix by proclamation."

Proceeding the premier said the measure was not intended to be either provocative or punitive. "It is put forward," said Sir Robert with strong emphasis, "in good faith as the only means of ensuring national safety in a time of great peril."

Outside of Country. It was not necessary, said Sir Robert, to meet the argument that Canadians should not be called upon to fight in the territory since the law already recognized that obligation.

"Is there any emergency?" asked Sir Robert, "in the midst of the most terrific struggle ever known to history no one will seriously doubt the answer. The greatest of the nations that were once neutral has at last been obliged to take up arms to defend its rights, to prevent the domination of militarism, the destruction of liberty and the enslavement of the world. Then, if it is conceded that there is an emergency, are we fighting in France and Flanders for the defence of Canada? There are but few members of the House who in speaking of the war have not affirmed that truth. When the Canadians in 1915 barred the path of the German to Calais they bared his path to Halifax, Quebec, St. John and Montreal."

Horrible Captivity. From the North Sea to the border of Switzerland, said Sir Robert, was a line 500 miles long which was being pressed back to the German frontier. It had been a glorious, happy country. Today it was the abomination of desolation. Even the fruit trees had been cut down and the wells destroyed. The Hun had spared nothing. Thousands of its inhabitants, especially girls and young women had been led away by the Germans into a captivity worse than death. Its churches had been destroyed and even its graveyards desecrated.

"That line would extend from Quebec to Toronto," continued the prime minister, "where is Canada's first line of defence against such horrors and barbarities. In the North Sea, back the empire's navies hold back Germany."

Exemption Clause. Sir Robert went into the exemption clauses in some detail. Exemptions could be granted on the ground that it was expedient that the man should not be engaged in military service because he was habitually engaged.

That provision, the premier said, was taken from the British act. The section continued that exemption might be granted where "it appears to be in the national interest to employ a man in other work for which he might have special qualifications."

This was almost identical with the British act. Other exemptions are provided where it appeared advisable that a man should be exempted from doing by the tenets and articles of faith in effect at the date of the passing of the act, or any organized religious denomination existing and well recognized in Canada at that date, as to which he in good faith belongs.

Sir Robert said that the bill provided for a certificate of exemption which must be obtained as to men who are otherwise, and if granted solely on conscientious grounds should state that such exemption was from combatant service only. Another important provision, regarded as essential upon a person to whom it was granted continuing in or entering into employment under any specified employer or in any specified place or establishment.

Then, if it is conceded that there is an emergency, are we fighting in France and Flanders for the defence of Canada? There are but few members of the House who in speaking of the war have not affirmed that truth. When the Canadians in 1915 barred the path of the German to Calais they bared his path to Halifax, Quebec, St. John and Montreal."

Horrible Captivity. From the North Sea to the border of Switzerland, said Sir Robert, was a line 500 miles long which was being pressed back to the German frontier. It had been a glorious, happy country. Today it was the abomination of desolation. Even the fruit trees had been cut down and the wells destroyed. The Hun had spared nothing. Thousands of its inhabitants, especially girls and young women had been led away by the Germans into a captivity worse than death. Its churches had been destroyed and even its graveyards desecrated.

"That line would extend from Quebec to Toronto," continued the prime minister, "where is Canada's first line of defence against such horrors and barbarities. In the North Sea, back the empire's navies hold back Germany."

Exemption Clause. Sir Robert went into the exemption clauses in some detail. Exemptions could be granted on the ground that it was expedient that the man should not be engaged in military service because he was habitually engaged.

That provision, the premier said, was taken from the British act. The section continued that exemption might be granted where "it appears to be in the national interest to employ a man in other work for which he might have special qualifications."

buoy man but always gave prompt and careful attention to the legal business of the province and was not deservingly of the small attack to which he had been subjected.

The hon. attorney-general charged that the former administration in 1911 when they saw a deficit coming transferred the sum of fifteen thousand dollars from current to capital expenditures. As the government admitted a deficit in that year fifty-seven thousand dollars he (Campbell) could not see that the addition of fifteen thousand to it would have made very much difference. The fact that this latter amount was transferred to capital account only went to show how carefully the government had been to see that things were done right.

Mr. Campbell said that it was hardly necessary for him to say anything in the nature of an apology for the excellent administration given by the late government. His object in rising was to set forth the impressions he had gathered in listening to the budget speech of the hon. member for Moncton. He felt it was his duty before going any further to protest against the reference which the hon. attorney-general had made to the collection of succession duties under his predecessor in office. If the ex-attorney-general had not seen fit to promptly draw from the public treasury the amounts due him for collecting succession duties he (Campbell) could not see that any great harm was done by the ex-attorney-general was a very

FOX TELLS BONNIE'S GIRLS THAT HE IS MOBILIZING BEEF CATTLE FOR BOYS IN THE TRENCHES

The Fugitive Says He is Indiscreet in Telling the Girls Who Serve Him Food so Much About Himself, But He Depends on a Psychological Weakness of Women and Girls.

If He is Captured by a Woman or Girl He Will Give Her a Free Taxi-Cab Ride Around the City to Pick Up the Plunder She Should Get.

There is one place in this town where my personal description has become so familiar that I am surprised that at least one of the bunch of charming young ladies has not already woken up.

It is with a good deal of doubt as to the safety of going in and out of there day by day that I repeat my calls. It is with apprehension that some of these most interesting girls will "tumble to my character," each time I go back there. Yet as the moth is fascinated by the wavering flame of the candle, so the innocent bird ventures ever nearer and nearer to the sparkle of the bonny eyes in the grass—so it seems that when I return day by day it is because of the fascination that draws me hither. At times I go reckless. I think that they cannot know me now. As yet nobody has laid the charge of fugitive against me. And that is one reason, perhaps, that I feel so sure I will get out all right every time I go into Bond's restaurant where those lovely girls all show the interest they take in me.

It was the first place where I took breakfast when in the course of this pursuit which I have been leading through the eastern and Maritime provinces since early in January, I finally landed in St. John.

That morning when Peter Brown helped me out of the sleeping car and bade me to make a successful chase and I found my way to the head of King street, I remember quite well.

I was one of the "early birds" to take a seat at a table on the second floor at Bond's restaurant.

Miss Campbell, I believe, is the name of the little lady who smilingly accepted my order. Thus it has gone on day after day since then. One meal at least each day. There was the young woman who received my money at the head of the stairs. At times she has taken my order. Then there is another, short and slender, with a pleasing face that looks at me as though she might have "her suspicion," but who says nothing. How can I describe her? She is not quite as tall as Miss Campbell who has darker eyes and hair than she has. If I am not mixed up in the personalities of these girls. Who can blame me if I get mixed up in that way, coming to them as a stranger, and quite susceptible to the fascinating glances of the fair sex.

However, there are three different ones who have waited on me and I have given up all natural inclination to have any preference for any one of them, since all of them treat me with pleasing consideration—all are patient with me when I find difficulty in deciding what to select for the meal.

In the store below I surely have given some broad hints and now that I may be clearing up the doubts that I think some of the girls have been nursing in their minds, it becomes plain that after all this I must act with greater caution if I go back there. But shall I return? Who can tell, if not I. And I can't for a whim is likely to move me in any direction.

There are two girls in the store on the main floor who have taken my cash when I had occasion to make purchases there. One has darker eyes and hair than the other, whose tendency of complexion and color of hair is slightly of the blonde.

The first one is the girl whose acquaintance I am cultivating for she was my first choice. I have wondered at times if the slender girl ring who wears means anything. Well, I haven't gone so far as to give me any right or desire to make that inquiry. I know she is patriotic because she wears a maple leaf brooch.

But I'll tell you of the nice little tale I wove for her. I told her that I am "mobilizing beef cattle for the boys in the trenches." And I half mistrust

FOX THE FUGITIVE. Reflecting Over the Enormity of His Sins.

Of course I wouldn't ask her name. But one day I got confidential and handed her "a clue to the Fugitive." I told her that my name is "Wurrie."

"But I should worry," I added in a flippant manner, and we both laughed. If I can call her a good girl or mine that is all I ask. I am sure she could find use for the money that is stacked up at the risk of my "undoing."

Indeed, I should play no favorite with any of them at Bond's. When a capture comes as it will eventually—though I hope in a far distant day—it would please me to fall into the hands of any one of Bond's entertaining and business-doing girls and I shall hope that they will be armed with every proposition that offers to yield money for my capture. I am speaking to all women and girls without fear or favor. The fifty dollars of course goes with the capture.

All other rewards depend on the capture. Everyone whose condition is complete with when the capture is made pays the distinctive reward.

The official representative of France at Halifax pays ten dollars. Now any woman or girl can carry a tin of Forest and Stream smoking tobacco in her hand bag even though she don't use it. And hand it to me. Isn't the investment worth the trouble? Then there is ten dollars from F. A. Johnson, the dry goods man, if you cut out his ad—you girls at Bond's—and from F. A. Dykeman you get $10 if you have a sales slip from his store in your hand bag with the tobacco you should place one of the cigars A. A. McClaskey is selling, the Pharaoh or the Overland, and a box of Murad cigarettes for which the Pharaoh Tobacco Co. pays ten dollars. That makes five small articles to carry with you. Altogether they are inexpensive for doubtless you are frequently buying things that women wear—I am talking to girls and women—and very likely you'll find just what you want at Dykeman's, so that to get his sales slip won't put you out any.

Then don't forget to say to me: "Go to Gundry's for your glasses." Now that is not difficult, if you want to get $110.00, is it?

Everyone of those rewards come from leading business men in their lines. I am sure that they would rather pay the reward than not.

The lady or girl that gets me—for these rewards, only, mind you—will get a nice taxi-cab ride at my expense to gather in the rewards she has coming to her. And each advertiser of these rewards will be pleased to meet her.

It may be I am indiscreet in throwing out these clues. But possibly Bond's girls may say: "I never have any luck" and put to arm themselves. That is how I will get by a great many people.

SINN FEINERS RESPONSIBLE FOR FATALITY

Police Inspector Killed While Endeavoring to Make Several Arrests.

Dublin, June 11—(via London)—Police Inspector Mills was injured fatally last night while preventing the holding of a meeting called to protest against imprisonment of Irish rebels. He died early this morning. Several Sinn Feiners were arrested. Lieut. General Mahon, commander of the British forces in Ireland, had forbidden the holding of the meeting, but in spite of his order 2,000 persons gathered opposite Liberty Hall. Count Plunkett, M. P., a Sinn Feiner, who was arrested in connection with the revolt of last year, and other equally defiant members of the Sinn Feiners attended the meeting with the intention of speaking. Count Plunkett, Cathal Brugha, James Kenney, Roddy Kelly and Martin Welsh were arrested.

While he was taking these men to jail, Inspector Mills was struck with a stone or stick and knocked down. He died in a hospital early this morning. His assailant has not been arrested.

SHOWMAN AND WIFE KILLED

Fredericton, June 11—Harry Luken and his wife, who have performed in various parts of the maritime provinces in a special attraction in connection with exhibitions, were killed on last Thursday near Reading, Pa. A motor in which they were driving was struck at a level crossing by a train. At the time they were on their way to Portstown, Pa. to join their show.

Mr. Luken was the proprietor of the animal show. His wife was one of the performers in an animal act.

Could Not Lift Stick of Wood

Would Almost Faint From Severe Pain in Back—Doctors Could Not Get the Kidneys Set Right.

Benton, N. B., June 11—A great many people suffer the results of "de-ranged kidneys" and do not understand the cause of trouble or the way to obtain cure. The writer of this letter suffered excruciating pains in the back and in vain his physician tried to cure him. For some reason or other his medicines did not have the desired effect.

Mr. Ota's brother was a merchant selling, among other medicines, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and he heard his customers telling about how they were cured of kidney derangements by their use. This led to Mr. Ota putting them to the test, with the splendid results reported in this letter.

Mr. E. C. Ota, Benton, Carleton County, N. B., writes: "I am glad to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered from my kidneys which at one time were so bad I could not lift a stick of wood without getting on my knees, and then would almost faint from the pain in my back. I consulted a doctor about it, and he gave me some medicine, but it did not help me. My brother, who is a merchant, and carries all your medicines, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got one box, and they helped me, so I got another one, and kept on until I had taken five boxes, which cured me. I have had no trouble with my back since, and am never without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house. Last summer I also suffered from piles. I used three boxes of your Ointment, and it cured them. I can certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Pills and Ointment."

IRISH CONVENTION

London, June 11—John Redmond, Nationalist leader, will be invited to nominate five members of the Irish convention. Premier Lloyd George announced this in the House of Commons today. Sir John Longdale will be invited also to nominate five members, and William O'Brien two members. There will be ten Irish representative peers, five members nominated by the government.

The premier said the government would prefer that the convention nominate its own chairman, but it was prepared to nominate a chairman and submit his name to the king.

ALL FRONTS IN EUROPE QUIET EARLY YESTERDAY

GERMANS ALONG YPRES FRONT STILL GREATLY DEMORALIZED

French Not Being Hard Pressed—Artillery Active on Italian Front—Russian and Spanish Situation Critical.

The demoralized Germans along the Ypres front did not make any effort early yesterday by attacking to regain the ground they lost in the Titanic drive of Field Marshal Haig's men on last Thursday. South of Ypres, however, the Germans heavily bombarded the British positions, where additional terrain was taken from them on Saturday night in several sectors. Aerial activity between the German and British fliers continued on Saturday and numerous battles in the air were fought. Nine enemy machines were accounted for by the British, who themselves lost three.

There has been no fighting along that part of the line where the French are facing the Germans rising above the character of small surprise attacks. On the Chemin des Dames the Germans early on Sunday morning penetrated a small salient west of Cerny, but almost immediately were driven out, with the loss of men made prisoner.

In the Austro-Italian theatre the fighting is being done entirely by the artillery wings of the opposing armies. There has been no attempt at a resumption by the Italians of their great offensive on the Carso front, but from the fact that reconnoitering parties are being sent out to survey the new positions of the Austrians another great battle probably is not far distant.

In Macedonia, especially along the Vardar River sector, artillery duels are in progress.

The situation at Kronstadt, where the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates is still defying the provisional government, remains tense. Apparently as its first step in carrying out its threat to take resolute action, the government has called various officials from Kronstadt. A heartening sign in the crisis there is the fact that the fleet in that port is reliable and can be depended on to aid the government. The movement for the establishment of a republic in Russia has been joined by the congress of peasants' delegates of all the Russias.

The situation in Spain which resulted in the resignation of the ministry is still acute. The Marquis Prieto has declined to retain the premiership, and the belief prevails that Eduardo Dato, a former premier of conservative leanings, will be entrusted with the formation of a cabinet.

As a result of the recent bombardment of Ostend and probably in fear that another operation of a similar character might be carried out against the port, the Germans have removed all the large ships from the harbor, which presents a deserted appearance.

MERCHANTS' BANK.

It exhibits an increase since the last annual statement, in the total amount of funds placed in charge of the bank by the public, amounting to nearly twenty-five million dollars, or about thirty-one per cent—an extraordinary performance for any bank in a single year. Nor was this increase confined to any one class of business. Note circulation rose about two million dollars; interest-bearing deposits and non-interest-bearing deposits each about ten millions; bank balances about three millions. The total of the bank's liabilities to the public is now about $106,530,000.

As against these liabilities the bank exhibits an equally unprecedented growth in assets, which now total $121,130,555, also an increase of close on twenty-five millions. Of these assets not less than $52,041,824 consists of cash items, bank balances, call loans and high-grade, readily saleable securities, making a liquid reserve constituting 43.9 per cent. of the liabilities. To the extent of fifteen per cent. of the liabilities the bank holds current coin or Dominion notes, either in vaults or in the Central Gold Reserve.

The bank's profits for the year, while not rivalling those of ante-bellum days, were extremely comfortable, making possible the writing off of $100,000 from premises account and the addition of nearly $170,000 to the profit balance, after payment of the dividend of ten per cent. ($750,000), several donations, the Pension Fund contribution and the war tax. The year's achievements certainly reflect great credit on General Manager D. G. Macarow and the board of directors.

POSTMASTER BARNETT OF HARTLAND DEAD

Was Formerly Druggist—Had Been Ill Long from Heart Trouble.

Hartland, June 11.—Special.—The death of John Barnett, Sr., occurred this afternoon after a protracted illness from heart trouble. He was upwards of 80 years of age and a native of England. He formerly conducted a drug business here but has been postmaster for the past 15 years. He leaves a widow and 3 sons, Edwin of Hartland, Joseph H., of No. 8 Stege battery, now in England, and John Junior, who formerly practised law at Temisfall, Alberta, and who is also in England as Captain in the 181st batt., and a daughter Miss Sadie at home.

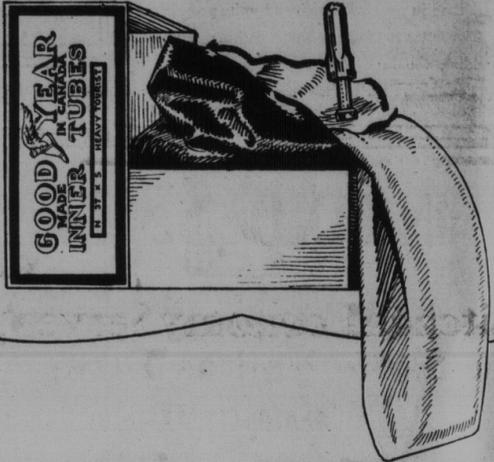

OBITUARY

Mrs. Daisy Teed.

Dorchester, June 11.—The death occurred yesterday of Daisy, wife of Dr. John Francis Teed, physician and surgeon at the Dorchester penitentiary. She had reached the age of forty-nine years and, before her marriage, was Miss Daisy Weldon, daughter of Rainford Weldon, formerly of Shediac and Dorchester, and granddaughter of the late Gideon Palmer of Dorchester. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Miss Ruth, at home; two sons, Ralph, of Rothesay Collegiate School, Rothesay, and Francis, at home. M. G. Teed, K. C., of St. John, is a brother-in-law of the deceased. She was a Christian lady, beloved by all who knew her, philanthropic in her nature and prominently identified with the Red Cross and Daughters of the Empire societies. In religion she was a devoted member of the Church of England. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 at Holy Trinity church.

A Poor Tube is Expensive

The price of a tube is comparatively small. But poor tubes may easily become the most expensive item in your motoring cost.

Not that the cost of tubes may mount unusually high. But a poor tube can ruin an expensive casing. The greatest cause of tire failure is under-inflation. Slow seepage of air through poor tubes causes inconspicuous and insidious under-inflation. To prevent this dangerous fault we use the lamination process in making Good-year Tubes.

Rubber of the highest quality is rolled out tissue-thin. Only in such thin rubber can careful inspection detect and eliminate every flaw, every bit of foreign matter.

Layer on layer, Goodyear Tubes are built up from this inspected rubber. We make them extra thick by using extra layers. They are extra pure, extra durable, air-tight. They are well high perfect.

When you buy tubes say "Goodyear." Because as tubes, they give longer service. Because, as tire savers, they are worth many times their price.

MAN INJURED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Peculiar Accident Occurs Near New Glasgow—Damage $10,000.

Special to the Standard. New Glasgow, N. S., June 11.—An accident happened yesterday on the railway track belonging to the Acadia Coal Co., and running from their mines at the Albion down to the Albion shaft.

A train of coal had just come from the Albion mine to which a locomotive was attached at each end. The train had run down the line far enough to clear the points leading to the siding which connects with the C. G. R. line. Engine No. 10, in charge of Driver Fred McKenzie with Jack Thompson as fireman, was on the rear end of the train and had come to a stop when a fifty ton foreign car full of coal came whizzing down the steep grade and ran into the locomotive.

Driver Jumped. McKenzie jumped escaping injury but fireman Thompson was not so quick in getting clear and was scalded somewhat seriously on the back and legs and was otherwise hurt from flying debris. He was able to walk away from the scene of the smash-up and is now resting at his home. Engine No. 10 and two cars were badly smashed.

The loss is estimated about $10,000. The engine which had been damaged

EIGHT ON HONOR ROLL YESTERDAY Forestry Unit Will See Overseas—Three Men on Muster Roll ties to Valcartier on HONOR ROLL Bernum Rothburn, C. County. Machine Gun Section Paul Westcott, St. John. 8th Field Ambulance Roy A. Head, New York. Earl N. Boyce, Prince Edward Island. Divisional Signaller D. J. Arsenault, St. John. H. J. King, Pleasant Point. W. G. Costello, St. John. James Smith, St. John. Forestry Unit.

It is officially announced that from the Forestry unit will go overseas to do their bit for the Empire. This unit has on its muster roll about three hundred men. It will probably take about a month to get the unit together. There will be about 200 men accompany the draft. As to the remainder of the reported, though not official, they will be sent to Valcartier for their training. What report that all the forestry unit Dominion concentrated at are to be amalgamated into one is true, The Standard was to learn yesterday. He stated that they knew nothing more. Will Leave Friday.

The 336th Kitties Battalion leave Valcartier on Friday for Valcartier is the official headquarters. It was the intention of the battalion to leave early week, but owing to the Boatswain's campaign it has been necessary to postpone the date. The advance guard has arrived at the summer camp. Practically all preparations ready for the arrival of the main body. By the success of the campaign other side of the border they will be up to full strength and depart overseas. About 200 men are now in the ranks. It is expected that this week the number increased to over 300.

Deserter From 165th The Moncton police received an arrest in the person of a man from the 165th Battalion. He had been in the city for some time and the day it left for the front. He was identified by a man, identified him. He will be sent to the military authorities for disposal. Dr. L. N. Bourque of Moncton received word from the Ontario Records at Ottawa, stating that the eldest son, Bombardier Eugene Bourque, was killed in action. The despatch stated that he was in one of the hospitals in the front. It is only a week or so ago that Bourque received word that his son Eugene had been severely wounded when in action. Dr. L. N. Bourque has a family of three sons from the front. Three brave sons from the front family is certainly doing things for the Empire. Few families can make a much better thing than this. Dr. Bourque is a brother of Louis Comeau of St. John.

W. E. Mills Wounded The official announcement of the husband had been admitted to General Hospital, Wimeroux, suffering from gunshot wounds. He had been in the front since he received from Ottawa by Mr. Mills of 165 Gullford street, John.

Private Mills had been employed as a plumber with J. H. Duddy for years before leaving for the front. He was in a letter to his wife on Saturday afternoon that he had won the Victoria Cross.

EIGHT ON HONOR ROLL YESTERDAY

Forestry Unit Will Soon Go Overseas—Three Hundred Men on Muster Roll—Kitties to Valcartier on Friday.

- HONOR ROLL.
- Bernum Rothburn, 1 Queens County.
 - Machine Gun Section.
 - Paul Wedge, St. John, N. B.
 - 8th Field Ambulance.
 - Roy A. Head, New York.
 - Earl N. Boyce, Prince Edward Island.
 - Divisional Signallers.
 - D. J. Arsenault, St. John, N. B.
 - H. J. Ring, Pleasant Point, N. B.
 - W. G. Costello, St. John, N. B.
 - James Smith, St. John, N. B.

It is officially announced that a draft from the Forestry unit will soon leave for overseas to do their bit for the Empire.

This unit has on its muster roll about three hundred men. The draft will probably take about half of this number. There will be about six officers accompany the draft overseas. As to the remainder of the unit, it is reported, though not officially, that they will be sent to Valcartier to complete their training. Whether the report that all the forestry units in the Dominion concentrated at Valcartier are to be amalgamated into a battalion is true, The Standard was unable to learn yesterday. Headquarters stated that they knew nothing of the report.

Will Leave Friday.

The 256th Kitties Battalion will leave Fredericton on Friday morning for Valcartier is the official order from headquarters. It was the intention of the battalion to leave earlier in the week, but owing to the Boston recruiting campaign it has been found necessary to postpone the date of departure. The advance guard have already arrived at the summer camp and have practically prepared for the arrival of the main body. Measured by the success of the campaign on the other side of the border the battalion will be up to full strength before its departure overseas. About nine hundred men are now in the ranks and it is expected that this week will see the number increased to over the 1,100 mark.

Deserter From 165th.

The Moncton police recently made an arrest in the person of a deserter from the 165th Battalion. He left the battalion the day it left for overseas. Lieut. Frechet, who signed on the man, identified him. He will be turned over to the military authorities for disposal.

Dr. L. N. Bourque of Moncton has received word from the O. I. C. of Records at Ottawa, stating that his eldest son, Bombardier Edgar, had been wounded by a gunshot on the hand. The despatch stated that Edgar was in one of the hospitals at Boulogne.

It is only a week or so ago that Dr. Bourque received word that his second son, Eugene, had been severely injured when in action.

Dr. L. N. Bourque has a third son, Lieut. Alfred, also at the front, in action. Three brave sons from one Acadien family is certainly doing something for the Empire. Few English families can make a much better showing than this.

Dr. Bourque is a brother of Mrs. Louis Comeau of St. John.

W. E. Mills Wounded.

The official announcement that her husband had been admitted to No. 14 General Hospital, Wimereux, France, suffering from gunshot wounds in the head and back on June 1 has been received from Ottawa by Mrs. W. E. Mills of 165 Gullford street, West St. John.

Private Mills had been engaged as a plumber with J. H. Duddy for eleven years before leaving for Toronto to join the Pioneers. In a letter received by his wife on Saturday he announced that he had won his first stripe.

SMUGGLERS FROM NEW BRUNSWICK TAKEN IN MAINE.

The United States authorities have just disposed of a number of cases involving the smuggling of goods from this province.

A St. Stephen Calais case was dropped because of the death of the respondent, a woman.

William Bastin of Houlton, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for smuggling gin from Carleton Co.

Another Houlton man, Leo Finlay, was fined $25. Arthur C. D'Atile of St. John plantation paid a $50 fine.

Oscar Hartley of Fort Fairfield and Percy E. Flood of Calais were indicted for smuggling. Robert Madore of Grand Isle was charged with smuggling liquor from Madawaska Co. at Van Buren. It is alleged that when officers went to search Madore's premises Mrs. Madore threatened to shoot them. The inspectors fired a shot to intimidate Madore before he was arrested. He paid a fine of $40 fine.

The Winnie Goes Down Two Miles Off Parraboro Light—Crew Saved.

Special to The Standard.

Parraboro, N. S. June 11.—The tug Winnie, Captain James George, sank this morning about two miles off Parraboro Light. She left here yesterday afternoon for Carrs Brook towing a scow and on the return trip when between Five Islands and Two Islands she suddenly sprang a leak and filled rapidly. An attempt was made to reach the river but she sank within twenty minutes while still two miles off.

The Crew Escaped.

Captain George thinks a plank must have come off as she was not leaking when they left Carrs Brook. She was bought at St. John this spring by Capt. George and Allen McInnis and was well adapted to the requirements of this port. She was built at Jemseg, N. B. eleven years ago and was seventeen tons register. There is no hope of floating her as she lies in deep water with a strong run of tide. She was partly insured with John Strachan of Halifax.

Conserve the Food!

Kitchen Economy Serves the Same End as Farm Production

"Waste in time of peace is a sin; in this time of national stress it is a crime."
Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada.

THE shortage of wheat this year is variously estimated in hundreds of millions of bushels!

There are just two ways to prevent such hunger as the present generation has never known—to grow more and waste less.

The men on the farms are doing their utmost to grow more.

The women in the houses can perform an equally valuable national service by wasting less.

The average Canadian family wastes enough to feed a soldier. If you permit such waste to go on in your home you are serving the enemy!

Buy intelligently—use the food economically—cut out all waste! Turn the money thus saved to your country's service by investing it in Canadian War Savings Certificates.

For each $21.50 you lend to Canada now, you will receive $25.00 in three years—or you can get your money back at any time. Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, and may be purchased at any Bank or Money Order Post Office.

OBITUARY.
Fredericton, June 11—Frank R. Staples died in Amherst, N. S., this morning. He had been in hospital there for several days. Death was due to meningitis. Mr. Staples was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo G. Staples of this city. He was thirty years of age and leaves his wife and three little daughters, a sister, Mrs. T. M. Rutter and two brothers, Eben and Alex. McM. Staples of Fredericton. The body will be brought here for interment tomorrow afternoon.
Mr. Staples formerly was well known as a hockey player and Rugby football player. Before removing to Amherst he was employed with the C. P. R. at McAdam. He was lately foreman of a shell factory in Amherst.

A DECIDED INCREASE IN RECRUITING
York County Leads for the Week with Thirty-Nine Men—Total of 111 for the Province.
Capt. Sturdee Writes from France and Tells of Amusing Incidents While Not Fighting.

To the surprise of the recruiting sergeants throughout the province, York county last week forged into first place in the matter of recruiting. Thirty-nine men were secured in this county for the week ending Saturday, June 9th, 1917. The total of 111 recruits is a decided increase over the preceding week and is considered by military men a favorable showing. A feature of the week's showing is the support the Kitties Battalion received. As a rule infantry constant units have not been receiving the support given to other units, but last week the increase was appreciable.
But three counties failed to contribute a man; they were Queens, Sunbury and Madawaska.
The tabulated list follows:
York County—
236th Battalion 26
Royal Flying Corps 2
Canadian Engineers 2
Forestry Company 8

APPEAL OF ARCHBISHOP TO BE HEARD SOON
St. John Will Case to Come Before Chancery Court Which Meets Today.
An interesting St. John case will be heard by the chancery division of the supreme court which will meet at Fredericton today. The case is that of Most Rev. Dr. Timothy Casey, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Vancouver, who appears on the decision of Chief Justice Sir E. McLeod in the matter of the Hurley estate.
Mr. Hurley, the testator, was for years a shoe dealer of this city. He left a legacy to Archbishop Casey, who was formerly bishop of St. John. A question arose whether the testator intended to leave the legacy to the Bishop of St. John officially or to Dr. Casey personally.
The case was argued by Mr. J. L. McAvity, Lt. Col., Chief Recruiting Officer for N. B.

PEEL OFF CALLUSES WITH THE FINGERS
To painlessly and quickly remove any callus spots from the bottom of the feet apply a few drops of frezone directly upon the hardened skin and shortly it will peel right off without pain, soreness or bleeding.
This drug is an ether compound. It simply loosens the dead callused skin. It doesn't eat it away, but loosens it so it peels right off with the fingers.
A quarter ounce of this frezone costs little at any pharmacy, but is sufficient to remove every corn or callus from one's feet. This is the only way to free the feet from corns and calluses without soreness, danger or infection.
After the corn or callus is lifted away the skin beneath and surrounding is found pink and healthy, and not inflamed, or even irritated. This is a good thing to know.

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP YOU SHOULD USE MILBURN'S HEART and NERVE PILLS
Sleeplessness is caused by the nervous system becoming deranged. Perhaps too much worry has gotten on your nerves, perhaps you have overworked yourself, or have been excessive in your use of tobacco, but whatever the cause, the nervous system must be built up again before restful sleep can be assured.
Those whose rest is broken into by frightful dreams, nightmares, sinking and smothering sensations, who wake up in the morning as tired as they went to bed can have their old, peaceful, undisturbed, refreshing sleep back again by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.
Mrs. Mrs. Sloan, Haley Station, Ont., writes: "Over a year ago I was very nervous. I could not sleep at night, and I would faint at the slightest fright. I tried several doctors, but they did me practically no good. I noticed your advertisement, and immediately tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am proud to say they cured me."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box, or three for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"WHAT O' TOMORROW?"
 Resolve to think—you will find it a profitable pastime.
 The industrial ambition of our city is but the sum of the individual ambitions of our people encouraging the individual ambitions of our manufacturers.
 What progress will our city make, to what degree of prosperity will it attain in ten years—in twenty years—in fifty years? Every loyal citizen who has the interest of his community at heart, who is sufficiently far-sighted to plan for the future of his children, should give this question first consideration.
 The foundation of our industrial supremacy has been laid. Our many natural advantages give promise of better things. The rest lies with us—the future is in our hands. If we show our appreciation of the opportunities offered us—if we encourage the pioneers of industry who showed confidence in us by investing their money here and their perseverance and industry have built up establishments that merit our recognition and support, by properly patronizing them the biggest step toward our industrial supremacy and greatness will have been taken.
 The "Buy Home Products" rule is the wisest rule for you to follow.

LIBERALS FOR CONSCRIPTION

Toronto, June 10—A mass meeting held in Massey Hall last night on the call of a number of prominent Liberals of the city in the interests of conscription by selective draft was attended by thousands. The principal speakers were Dr. Michael Clark, M. P., of Red Deer, and Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the Ontario opposition, both of whom came out flat-footed for conscription.

Petrograd, June 9—The council of soldiers and workmen has made public the fact that the German command-in-chief on the eastern front has sent a wireless message inviting the Russian armies to a separate armistice and proposing that they enter secret parleys with the German leaders. The council denounces the proposals.

TOTAL U. S. LOAN
TO ALLIES NOW
$923,000,000
 Great Britain Gets $75,000,000
 000 More and Serbia $3,000,000.
 Special to The Standard.
 Washington, June 10—America's loans to her allies neared the billion mark yesterday, when Great Britain got an addition $75,000,000 and Serbia
 $3,000,000. Loans by America now total $923,000,000. The money just loaned to Britain will pay for June expenditures here. It makes total loans to England $421,000,000. Besides paying for British debts, the $75,000,000 will pay bills contracted by Russia and guaranteed by British credit. The $3,000,000 for Serbia is to be paid in three monthly instalments and will go toward improving railway lines. No loans are planned for Italy this month.

MORE TROUBLE
AT PETROGRAD
 Internal Strife Continues —
 German Commander Offers Separate Peace.

Petrograd, June 10, via London—
 As a result of renewed defiance of the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates in Kronstadt, which yesterday declared that its resolution disposing the Petrograd government still holds good, the situation is again aggravated.
 The provisional government has recalled from Kronstadt all officials of the department of control and the ministry of justice and some of the officials of other offices. This is interpreted as a preliminary to the start measures that have been threatened by the government. Officials of the Bureau of Posts and Telegraphs have not yet been recalled.

Satisfactory Reports Show Increased Interest in Departments - During Month 3,872 Articles Received - Receipts $2,799.20 - Expenditures $2,112.33 - List of Donations.

A wider realization of the continued work of the Red Cross supplies was apparent at the regular monthly meeting of the Local Branch held on Monday afternoon in the depot rooms. The fact that many of the members have gone out of town for the summer months the attendance was small. The president, Mrs. John McLean, was in the chair. Minutes of the previous meeting read and discussed. Reports were all very satisfactory. A number of articles were received during the month of May. Of this number were 770 pyjama suits, the largest number received in any one month since the organization of the branch. Other articles received in numbers were bed socks, 263; bladders, 493; towels, 1,445; kerchiefs, 482; hospital shirts, 72; donations to the department included: Exmouth St. church, per Mrs. C. 12 quilts; Miss G. In a report sent to the local branch by J. G. Colmer, it is stated that the Dominion Branch of the Canadian War Contingent Association has now been formed with headquarters in Toronto. It consists of a strong and representative executive committee and a general council, on both of which all the different provinces of the Dominion are well represented. Lieut. Col. A. E. Gooderham is the chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. Plumtree the secretary, and Mrs. John Bruce the treasurer. Mrs. George K. MacLeod is the representative from St. John. The surgical committees under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Harding, have resumed making of pneumonia jackets made necessary by the universal rainy weather. This work is done at the local depot by different committees. The report for March, April and May showed a total of 116 jackets. This really means 272 pieces. The work has to be done entirely by hand and a jacket when completed represents careful attention to detail. Miss Edith Steiner in her report for the campaign fund, which showed some fine returns, said that the collectors were to be supplemented by assistants from the Y.W.F.A. About 150 new names have been added to the list of subscribers to this fund. Mrs. Heber Vroom, who has been in charge of the conservation work in the absence of Mrs. Stetson, reported a balance from the last shipment of waste paper. This committee have had great difficulty in maintaining its waste paper boxes in the city. Several have been entirely destroyed and on a number of the doors have been broken off. The co-operation of the citizens is asked in this effort toward conservation. Miss Walker, the secretary, read the following financial statement for May: Receipts: W. G. Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage--Favorites and What They Say and Do.

LYRIC THEATRE. "The Chalice of Sorrow." This is a very fine feature produced by the Universal Film Company, a Bioword picture featuring Cleo Madison, a bit worth seeing. The review will be given tomorrow. Sherman and Miss Fuller are acrobats--the man on the clown order. They are clever and amusing. UNIQUE. "Patria." "War in the Dooryard" is the title of this episode, and about everything happens, auto upset, a train goes off its rails, a Baron gets a shock up, but Patria comes out all right in Milton Silla arms. Lucky Milton many would think. There is a review of the Army which Patria has trained and she presents them with the Star Spangled Banner (where have I heard that time before). The kissing which greet the Baron with his evil smile are like the starting off of a train, just the same sound. It is fun to hear the outspoken disapproval of the wicked plotters. There is also a Pathe News with views of our new ally's feet, and a comedy which introduces the quest after that which must not now be purchased in our city, at least for general consumption. "The Leak" is the name of the comedy. IMPERIAL. "The Foolish Virgin." If I do not write a good review of this picture please do not blame it on the picture but go to see it and judge for yourself. The truth is that it is a bit upsetting to go to a big like New York and come home and start picking up all the threads of one's work. If you could have seen any mail, and my magazine as well to be looked over, and several hundred other things, well, perhaps you could collect your thoughts, but not--yet. However, this is a picture produced by the Selznick Pictures, and tells the story of "The Foolish Virgin" who is played by Clara Kimball Young. Miss Young has a strong part in this picture as the wife of a criminal, or at least the wife of a man whose sense of honor has been blighted by injustice and wrong. It is a sad life that has been led by this man, Jim Anthony, and this character gives Conway Tearle splendid opportunities as a screen player. Mr. Tearle gives a remarkable impersonation of the character, his performance ranking among the best screen portrayals of the year. Mr. Tearle has been on the stage leading man for such favorite actresses as Ethel Baramore, Grace George, Billie Burke, Viola Allen and Margaret Anglin. The scenes of the picture are sometimes in a big city (New York, I'm sure I recognized several spots) and sometimes in the mountains of North Carolina, where the old hag Nance distributes Mountain dew and mourns her lost boy. The acting did not seem to me to have quite the opportunities to show her powers of emotional acting in this picture as in some others, but she fills the part with a sure and consistent in her characterization. The dear old son "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" (no pun intended) sure ran waiting to be called up, all they needed was for some person to come along and lead them to the job and they would be found ready to fill it. She emphasized the importance of short courses at agricultural colleges and pointed out that it must not be all women and all men but the two must cooperate for mutual help. The women must fight not only Germany but materialism and work not only for the country but for the Kingdom of God. Miss Sewell gave a practical talk on "Conservation" in which she told of the work done by the Women's Institutes and Housewives League. She told how each woman could greatly assist the nation in her own home by the elimination of waste. A hearty vote of thanks to the speakers was moved by Miss Susan B. Ganong. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

through the story, and a funny scene was shown of children in a school singing their national anthem, and not taking much interest in it either. I was delighted to see Edward Elkas appear as I saw him in the Vitaphone studios on Thursday last. He looks pleasanter in the flesh, when he smiles than he does on the stage, and his wife told me (she was with him) that she wished he could be something besides a villain on the screen. Around the City

For Soldiers' Comforts. Mildred Killian, Kathleen McArthur and Maud Bradley, three little High street girls held a bazaar on Saturday afternoon for soldiers' comforts and realized $9.25.

The Juvenile Court. A boy charged with breaking into the store of Leo Callahan and Albert Vincent in Brussels street was before the juvenile court yesterday morning and was committed for trial.

Tenders for Lancaster Extension. Today tenders for the Lancaster extension will be opened at the common council. Four tenders were in the hands of the common clerk yesterday afternoon, but others may be in this morning.

The Police Court. Michael Flynn, Clarendon street, failed to put in an appearance at the police court yesterday to answer the charge of non-support of wife and children, also with cruelty. The case stands until today.

Civil Service Examinations. In the recent civil service examinations, Asa D. Blacklee and Leo B. McLaughlin passed in the qualifying and Ian Donald Cameron and J. H. Gillespie in the preliminary examinations.

The Rotarian Luncheon. At the Rotary Club Luncheon yesterday J. Nichols, advertising expert for F. A. Dykeman & Company gave an interesting talk on store decorating. During his address he gave a splendid demonstration of the art of draping and decorating.

New Sheds at Reed's Point. Commissioner Russell, expects to present to the Council on Thursday his recommendation regarding the building of additional shed room at Reed's Point wharf for the Eastern Steamship Co. The business of the company has grown so that the present shed is not sufficient to hold the freights which is coming to this port, and they need the increased accommodation for which they offer an increased rental.

No Awards Yesterday. At a meeting of the commissioners of the General Public Hospital, and the committee from municipal council held yesterday afternoon, tenders for the boilers and machinery for the laundry and power house were opened, but no award was made. The committee adjourned until Wednesday when they will be further considered. It is understood that an offer from the New Brunswick Power Co. to supply light and power was also submitted and will be taken up at the Wednesday meeting.

Returned Hero Honored. The Misses McAvity, 501 Main St., gave a party yesterday afternoon at James St., last Friday night in honor of Gunner Fred McAvity, who was wounded while fighting in France, and who is home on a furlough. A large number of young ladies and gentlemen, including returned soldiers, were present. An impromptu musical and literary programme was carried through and the ladies served refreshments. The friends of Gunner McAvity wish him a speedy recovery from his wounds.

Back From Montreal. H. M. Hopper, returned yesterday from Montreal where he had been attending a meeting of the representatives of the electrical railways of Canada, which was held there June 10th, 6th and 7th.

Mr. Hopper said it was the largest and most successful meeting the association had ever held. Much business of importance was transacted, but Mr. Hopper had nothing for publication, as it is not the practice of the organization to give reports to the press.

Plumbers' Union Meeting. The regular meeting of the Plumbers' Local Union No. 533 was held last evening, and they discussed their fight for better conditions. A committee was appointed to gather all the information necessary for the establishment of a co-operative shop. Led 46 of Toronto forwarded $100 towards the strike fund, and promised further support if necessary. General Organizer Bruce was present at the meeting and gave a review of the work. The local plumbers' union decided to give all the support possible to the barbers in securing better conditions.

BOARD OF TRADE MONTHLY MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

W. F. Burditt Reports on Winnipeg Convention - Letters of Condolence on Death of W. H. Fowler and James Pender - Resolution re Assessment Law to Be Sent to Legislators.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon at the board rooms. W. F. Burditt presented his report of the recent meeting of the Dominion Civic Improvement League at Winnipeg. W. F. Hatheway presented a resolution on the new assessment law, and letters of condolence were ordered sent to the families of W. H. Fowler and James Pender. The board adjourned until the first Monday in October, following the usual custom.

After the minutes had been read and the summary of the council proceedings the chairman called on W. F. Burditt to present his report of the proceedings of the meeting of the Civic Improvement League in Winnipeg. Mr. Burditt gave a full report of the doings of the gathering as published in yesterday's Standard.

One statement made by Mr. Burditt should have some interest for the citizens of St. John. It was to the effect that in the city of Winnipeg 92 per cent of the street improvements was paid for by the abattoirs, and only 8 per cent through the general assessment.

On motion of R. B. Emerson, seconded by W. Frank Hatheway, the thanks of the board were tendered Mr. Burditt for his excellent report, and it was ordered spread on the minutes. W. F. Hatheway referred to the fact that the city assessment bill would be before the legislature on Thursday next and moved the following resolution:

Whereas by the present St. John Assessment Law, all employers are forced to give a list stating yearly income of each employe by which the assessors are able to assess on the full income of employes (except where very small incomes are exempt).

"And whereas, employers are not by law forced to give any statement as to their own yearly income; Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of this board such form of discrimination is unjust."

This was seconded by J. G. Willett and after some discussion, carried unanimously, and copies ordered sent to the local members. The following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, that this board places on record an expression of its loss that the board and the industrial interests of the city has sustained by the death of Mr. James Pender, a pioneer in the wire nail manufacturing industry of Canada, and for many years the head of an industrial corporation giving employment to a large number of men. Enterprising, forceful and upright, he was not only a valuable member of the board but a most useful and honored citizen."

"And further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of the late Mr. Pender and to the firm with which he was lately connected."

"Resolved, that this board deplores the fact that since its last meeting the hands of death has removed Mr. W. H. Fowler, one of the oldest and most enterprising of industrial leaders, and who, as a member of this board and as a private citizen, was held in the highest esteem."

"And further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of the late Mr. Fowler and to the firm with which he was lately connected."

It was moved that when the board adjourned it stand adjourned until the first Monday in October, subject to the call of the chair. This was carried and the meeting adjourned.

CONSIDERABLE BUSINESS AT SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Special Meeting to Discuss Increase in Teachers' Salaries - Thirteen Teachers Apply for Positions in King George School - Other Business Transacted.

The monthly meeting of the School Board was held last night in their rooms Hazen avenue, R. B. Emerson, chairman, presided, and those present were Trustees Russell, Green, Smith, Manning, Nagle, Day, Coll, Supt. Bridges, Secretary Leavitt and Trust Officer McMann.

After the minutes had been read and passed, G. E. Day moved that F. Neil Brodie be heard in reference to chairs for the assembly hall for the new King George school on Bentley street. Mr. Brodie was heard and the board two samples - one could be purchased for 65 cents, and the other cost $1.20. He recommended the purchase of the better chair as it was wider in the seat and did not take up any more floor space, and was a much better appearing chair. Mr. Brodie also assured the board that unless something unforeseen occurred the building would be ready for occupancy when the fall term opened.

On motion of J. V. Russell it was decided to purchase sufficient of the $1.20 chairs for the new building. The chairman read the names of the following applicants for positions on the teaching staff: Ada M. Williams, Percy A. Allen, Esther J. Welsford, Alma E. Sheldon, Freda M. Wier, Rae A. Kirkpatrick, Gladys Martin, Elizabeth Snyder, and J. H. Waddy. Mary J. W. Steeves, Jessie Jameson, J. Wilfrid Tait and E. George Seeds. These were referred to the teachers' committee.

Miss Greig J. Gray wrote thanking the board for kindness in granting leave of absence for the present school year; R. J. Flaworthy, extended thanks for increase in salary; Lewis Simms thanked the board on behalf of the Maritime Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for the use of the High School Assembly Hall for a public meeting, and William McLean asked for the use of the Centennial Assembly Hall to hold the Normal School matriculation examinations, and the High School to hold the Normal School entrance examinations. In the request of Mr. McLean was granted.

The secretary read the report of the buildings committee. They recommended that the board purchase the Millidgeville school lot at the price arranged for by the sub-committee. This would give them a lot about 100 by 300 and a shore privilege, and it was decided to purchase the lot.

They reported that two offers had been received to supply slate blackboards for the King George school, one at $8.25 and the other at 37 cents per square yard. This was left in the hands of Supt. Bridges, G. E. Day and Architect Brodie. Tenders have been received to supply coal from J. S. Gibson, soft coal at $9 per ton; from Colwell Coal Co. to supply coal to West Side schools, hard at $14.40, and soft at $12.50 per ton. It had been decided to purchase coal from the Colwell Coal Co. for the West Side schools, and a limited quantity from J. F. & W. F. Starr for the east side schools. They had considered the communications from the Carpenters' Union and the Plumbers, and had notified them that the matters complained of Argument was heard yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Ritchie in the matter of costs in the Willetts case. Webber was convicted Saturday for handling liquor contrary to the Prohibition Act of 1916, and was fined $150. J. A. Sinclair contended that the defendant should also be taxed counsel fees and costs. Daniel Mullin, K. C., acting for the defendant claimed that costs should not be granted.

Magistrate Ritchie, after hearing both counsel, reserved judgment until a future date. Mr. Sinclair, cited the Liquor License Act to prove his contention, as well as the 1916 act, and the act of 1916. According to the old license act the magistrate "may" award costs to the prosecution. For the first day of service the counsel is entitled to a sum not exceeding $10, and for the succeeding days, a sum not exceeding $5. The 1916 Act reads "shall tax, etc."

Referring to Mr. Sinclair's argument, Magistrate Ritchie said that it has not been the practice of the court to tax costs in such cases, or in cases of a criminal or quasi-criminal nature. He said, however, that as the principle had been brought up by counsel, it was worthy of deep consideration, and if it should be decided that costs should be granted it would establish a precedent in the court.

Mr. Mullin, in a forceful argument, contended that costs should not be granted, and cited the case of McKenzie vs. the Intercolonial Express Company, S. C. Rep., Vol. 24. In this case it was decided that the court of appeal in New Brunswick, where a long established custom of a Magistrate's court was in question, it could not alter the practice. The question claimed that as it had been the practice of the court not to tax costs, and as the principle had been long established, he did not think, in his opinion, that it should be altered. Further, if the Magistrate should decide that the prosecution was entitled to costs, as this was not the intention of the Magistrate, the defendant's judgment, Mr. Webber should not be obliged to pay additional costs.

The Magistrate in summing up both arguments stated that the question was well raised, and he would have to go into the arguments and the citations more fully before delivering judgment. In closing he stated that if costs were to be taxed it would be for a nominal fee only.

Mr. Mullin contended that as it would establish a precedent, it would be only right that it should apply to cases hereafter, and not to the case in question.

W. Riley for Theft

W. Riley was before the Magistrate yesterday afternoon charged with the theft of a wedding ring and a safety razor from Mrs. P. E. McVerney, 28 Paradise Row. The information read "Albion" but as the prisoner forcibly took the ring from her finger, the Magistrate stated that he would be charged with theft and robbery. From the evidence of the informant it appears that Riley had been boarding at her place for about a year. Sometime before April 15th last, her husband returned from the "Kitties", and as she did not want Riley staying at the house he was ordered out. On April 15th he left the house owing $46 back board.

On Saturday April 21st, he returned to the house through the back door and entered the dining room, where the informant was, and asked her for a ring. She refused. Mrs. McVerney in her evidence stated that he took the ring from her finger by force. He was under the influence of liquor on this occasion. The ring taken was a wedding ring, and was valued by the owner at $30. He again returned on the following Wednesday night for a lunch box, and when asked where the ring was, he said that it was at his boarding house. Mrs. McVerney said that she visited the second hand store operated by Gilberts, and there found the ring and a razor, the latter belonging to her husband. They had been pawned on April 24th. This was sworn to by Joseph Gilbert, who returned the stolen property.

Cross-examined by Mr. Robinson, who appeared for the prisoner, the witness stated she had never told Riley that there was always a home at her house for him. Neither did she ever give him money to go out and get liquor. She did not tell the defendant that he could go out and pawn the razor and get three to add to the $2 he had to pay for his board. She stated that she did permit the defendant to wear another ring that had for about a month. She said that the wedding ring was very large for her finger and it slipped off very easily when the defendant took it from her.

A Tip for Detectives

Joseph Gilbert testified that the defendant visited his place of business on the 23rd day of April and pawned the articles mentioned. Asked by the Magistrate if the articles produced in court were the ones pawned the witness stated that they resembled them. He said that he could not swear they were the same articles. He doesn't know the detective he saw. It was decided to have the chairman and superintendent interview the commissioner of public safety with a view to enlisting the co-operation of the police in running up transcripts.

CHESTNUT'S CANVAS COVERED CANOES. The favorite of pleasure and safety-lovers, specially chosen by Canadian railways engaged in survey and construction work, preferred by prospectors, guides and Northern Indians, Chestnut Canoes have resisted successfully the heat of the tropics and the cold of the extreme north. Chestnut's Canoes are built over solid frames, only the finest cedar being used for the hulls. The special close-woven canvas cover is thoroughly saturated with a secret filler, famous the world over. The many models, lightness, strength, carrying capacity and ease of paddling have won the preference for Chestnut Canoes.
