THE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Young Farmers Should Attend the Agricultural Course

In less than a month the Course in Agriculture at the Vocational School, Woodstock, will have commenced, and it is felt that the boys who might avail themselves of the opportunity of attending the classes are not yet enrolled. It is realized that the cost for workers in the lumber camps accompanied as it is by dropping wages, is drawing a large number of the boys from the farms for the winter months. On the surface the proposition offered them in the woods appeals to the boy as an opportunity to make a little money, and it is, but the question arises as to which of the two enterprises will be of more benefit to the boy in future years. The fear that it takes a "good man" for work in the woods, whether it be to team, saw or chop, is granted. To make a success of farming, however, requires considerable more of a man than that he be able to handle horses, take his place at one end of a cross-cut saw, or wield an axe. The problems presented in the study of the soil, its structure, composition and treatment, the plant, its origin from the seed, its many functions and how these are accomplished, and its different means of propagation; the feeding, care and management of livestock, and the other phases of agriculture afford one with a knowledge, the possession of which enables one to more economically carry on farming practices.

The aim of the Vocational School is not to teach the boy how to farm. No Agricultural Institution pretends to take the raw material and, at the completion of the course, turn out a full-fledged farmer. This assumption on the part of many is the cause for no small amount of prejudice towards any attempt to develop a system of agricultural education, the contention being that the boy can best learn farming on the home farm. The contention is right and sound. But in the strength of this contention lies its weakness. How many are there of us who are following certain methods in farm practice, not because we know them to be correct but because grandfather and father so performed them, before us? Progress is being made in Agriculture at no slower pace than that which marks the advancement of other industries. To spray against insects and diseases affecting field crops without regard to the time of application and the efficiency of materials is next to useless; it is false economy. The success of this particular practice in agriculture, only one of many that could be cited, depends not only upon the fellow who is doing the pumping or, in the case of power sprayers, the efficiency of the spraying machine, but upon the knowledge of the operator as to the proper time to combat the enemy successfully. CALDWELL REPLIES TO ANTI-BOLSHEVİK

Denies That His Election Speeches Discouraged Victory Loan

Mr. Editor: I notice in Anti-Bolshevik's very rambling letter in the Dec 4 issue of the Observer He says, "Either the Farmers of the Parish of Brighton are finding some other source of investment for their surplus cash or there is a deep prejudice among them against buying Victory Bonds, possibly the Election criticisms of T. W. Caldwell, of the 1918 Victory Loan have been bearing fruit."

I wish to state emphatically that I never criticised the 1918 Victory Loan, nor any other Victory Loan, and I defy Anti-Bolshevik or any one else to state that I did, over their own name, and the fact that five of my family as well as myself have subscribed to the different Victory Loans is proof enough that I was in perfect sympathy with the said Victory Loans.

I did however criticise both our Local and Federal Government, for example the former Victory Loans from taxes, and the fact that they did not exempt the 1918 Loan from taxes is I think an admission on this part that they were wrong to exempt the former Loans, for I believe that even Anti-Bolshevik, as jaundiced as his views are, will admit that it is harder to raise money in 1919 than it was in either 1917 or 1918.

Anti-Bolshevik also asks: "Will some Farmer explain the speeches of H. W. Wood in the recent by-election in Cochrane, Alta?" and then he goes on to quote, not Mr. Wood's speech but comments by the Winnipeg Free Press, on Mr. Wood's election speeches, which is about as fair treatment as you could expect from a man who is ashamed to sign his name to his article.

I think we all have some idea of the accuracy of comments (or inaccuracy) on a man's election speeches, especially by a writer who is opposed to the speaker.

DRIVING CLUB IS ORGANIZED

And a Series of Fine Ice Races is Guaranteed—Observer Silver Cup the Trophy

There has been organized by horsemen of the town and surrounding country the Hartland Driving Club with a membership already of about 30 interested fans. At a meeting on Tuesday evening C. R. DeWitt was elected president, J. F. Murdoch, vice president, and James W. Plummer secretary-treasurer. J. F. Murdoch is chairman of the track committee and it is intended to keep a good quarter-mile stretch open on the river.

The preliminary meets will be held on the pond at Waterville, since it will not be possible to have a good track on the river before Christmas, on which day the first regular meet is due. This will be a most interesting event and already a number of the speedy ones, both local and from Woodstock and Centerville, are entered.

At Tuesday's meeting an interesting announcement came from the Observer management in the offer of a silver cup of $25 value to be awarded to the winner of the most heats during the season. In case of a tie the cup will go to the horse showing the best speed record.

The driving club will welcome members from anywhere, and any horseman in the county may compete for the cup if he joins the Hartland Club and pays the regular dues and observes the rules and regulations.

It is understood that a club is being formed in Cochraneville and in Woodstock and some very interesting sport is anticipated. Such good clean sport as ice racing should be encouraged and will prove a valuable asset to any town that supports a club.

As stated, the first meet will be at Waterville on Christmas afternoon and will doubtlessly attract a large crowd.

Sir Henry Drayton Thanks F. O. Oughton

Dear Mr. Oughton: I desire to express to you my sincere appreciation of the fine service you have rendered Canada in the Victory Loan campaign as chairman for Carleton County. It must be a matter of great satisfaction to you, as it is to me, that the campaign was so successful and that the organization was able to meet the new condition so effectively. Will you please extend to your Secretary, John H. Lee, and the other members of your Committee my best thanks and congratulations.

Yours faithfully,
H. T. DRAYTON

Power Gains Eighteen Pounds—Rheumatism Disappears After Taking Tanlac

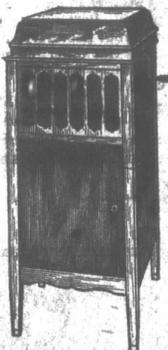

"I consider what Tanlac has done for me to be worth more than a fortune," said George Power, of Halifax, N.S., while talking to the Tanlac representative a few days ago. Mr. Power lives at 20 1/2 Rottenberg St., Halifax, has lived in Nova Scotia all his life and is a well known employe of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power Co.

"I've actually gained eighteen pounds since taking Tanlac, and I feel better in every way than I have in twenty-eight long years, and what's more I have spent hundreds and hundreds of dollars on medicines and never got a particle of good until I found Tanlac," continued Mr. Power.

"I had rheumatism in both my legs from the knees down, and in damp weather I just had to stay at home from work. My ankles bothered me too, and I don't believe anybody in the world ever suffered from rheumatism as bad as I did for it was just a sharp shooting pain that would go through my knees, down my legs and into my ankles like somebody was sticking a knife through me, and I would be in such agony that I would turn as white as a sheet. When these attacks came on me I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink but would roll and tumble all night long, and my joints would swell and my knees would be as stiff as a board and I couldn't walk a step for two or three days at a time and would be laid up at home flat of my back with my knees so stiff I couldn't bend them at all.

"I noticed where Tanlac was being highly recommended by people right here in Halifax, so I decided to try it. And I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me. If anybody don't believe that I am a well man, and that the rheumatism has left me entirely and that I never feel even a trace of it, just tell them to see me. My appetite has picked up and I have gained in weight, and feel better in every way and can sleep fine at night. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen, and I want you to publish this statement for I want everybody to know what this medicine will do."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., in Bristol by Dr. G. W. Somerville, in Centreville by Stevens Bros., in Woodstock by E. W. Mair, in Benton by W. E. Porter, in River de Chute by Daniel B. Baird, and in Florenceville by A. B. Lovely and in Bath by Bath Drug Co.

Mrs. D. F. Alexander

At Jacksontown, Nov. 26, Hattie wife of David F. Alexander departed this life in the 48th years of her age. She was the daughter of the late Frederick and Mary A. Estey, being born, married and died at the old home where her husband and family still live. She was baptised in her youth by the Rev. B. H. Thomas and has ever since been a faithful member of the Jacksontown U. B. church. Of a quiet home loving disposition, she was always ready as far as health and strength permitted to help those in trouble and need. It can be truly be said of her, "It was more blessed to give than to receive."

The large gathering at the funeral service testified to the esteem in which she was held. She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband, one son Frank, three daughters, Marion, Dorothy and Mae. Three brothers, Luther of Clinton, Me., Guy of Franklin, Montana, and Wilnot of Jacksontown; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Haynes of Franklin, Montana, and Mrs. Turney W. Johnson of Burnt Land Brook.

Santa's Christmas Day

By GARY BRADSHAW MONTREAL
 (Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union)

ANTA CLAUS was back in his workshop. It looked very empty. And no wonder. If you could have taken the trip which Santa Claus took you would have seen the reason why, though it would not be hard for any of us to guess the reason why.

Santa Claus on the night before Christmas had stopped at the toy stores, and had taken the toys which he had left there so that the children could see them and write letters telling what they wanted.

By that time he had packs and packs of toys, as many as his sleigh could hold, and while his workshop was empty there was a nice, cheerful appearance about it.

There were lots of tools around, however, and there were bits of cloth left from making dresses and hats for dolls, and there were little ends of ribbons which had tied packages. There were pieces of wood, too, which had been sawed off when boats were made.

There were many other things which showed it had been a toy shop. It looked as if it had been full of toys only a little while before—and not only toys but of every sort of a Christmas present for every sort of a child.

A fire was burning cheerfully in the big stove and was making the workshop nice and warm. But there was an open fire, too, at the end of the shop with a big chair in front of it.

On a rug beside the chair sat Boy of the North, his head against the knee of Santa Claus.

He was wagging his tail from time to time and looking into his master's eyes.

"Good old Boy of the North, never forgets his master!" said Santa Claus. And Boy of the North was happy that Santa Claus was so pleased by the warm wrapper and slippers which he had got for his master.

"Good old Boy of the North," said Santa Claus again, patting him, and Boy of the North sniffed the air, and looked at Santa Claus as though to say:

"Who wouldn't be good if he belonged to you? You're always cheerful and happy and always thinking of others."

Others. You like children and you like to hear them laugh and you work for them all the year. You're their King, King Santa Claus, and you're my master."

So Boy of the North tried to talk to Santa Claus and Santa Claus understood. He stroked the dog's head, and he smiled, looking into the fireplace, he said:

"It was a wonderful trip, Boy of the North. I love to sit down here in my easy chair on Christmas day and think about it. Oh, I saw so many lovely children. They were asleep and such nice smiles were playing around their mouths. I hope, Boy of the North, I hope they were thinking about me, because I like to have them fond of me."

And Boy of the North, pressed nearer as though to say:

"They're fond of you just as I am fond of you—just as fond as can be!"

"My reindeer had such a good time, too. You'll have to go out and see them in their stalls soon, and hear how they had to stop up whenever they made lots of noise, for I was so afraid they would awaken the children."

"And now, Boy of the North, you know what I must do!"

Boy of the North stretched himself and got up. He followed Santa Claus to a corner of the workshop and then back to a window while Santa Claus carried a long, long telescope.

"This is my magic telescope which you see me each year. Boy of the North," said Santa Claus, "I look at children all over the world, and when they smile and I can see how happy they are then I am being thanked for my work."

"It was very hard this year to get all that the children wanted. Some years are harder than others, but the children understand and I haven't seen a single scowl." No, Boy of the North, not a single scowl!

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a cill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fogginess, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive dandruff robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

The Birds' Christmas

By MARY GRAHAM BOWNE

It had snowed a great deal during the last few days and getting enough to eat had been no easy matter.

Near by they saw a white house. There was a garden around it; a nice big garden and just the place for birds in the summer time.

But these birds were here in the winter time, too, and they were given bread crumbs and suet all winter long. When snow covered the suet it was brushed off for them.

It was all very delightful. The last few days, however, had seemed to be very busy ones in the white house. The birds could see that greens were being hung everywhere, over the pictures, book cases and mirrors, and wreaths were put in all the windows. Preparations were evidently being made for some unusual event.

There seemed to be no end to the amount of greens. Some were wound to look like long ropes and great branches were put behind large pictures. The house was gay indeed with fire, which were burning in all the fireplaces.

Much wood was carried in, and the birds thought how warm the people inside must be, and how cold it was outside. They shivered and wished they had gone South after all.

Then a little tree was carried in, and one of the birds that was near the dining room told the others that the tree was put on the dining room table. Another medium sized tree was in the big room, where most of the excitement seemed to be going on. Then they hung pretty shiny and shimmering things on the tree and packages of all sizes and description under it.

Had their friends forgotten them? It could not be possible! And yet—yet—they hadn't had any suet in the last day or so, and they had always been supplied with it before. They had stayed North because these people loved birds so.

They knew that they loved birds because they were good to the little feathered people. And yet—well, it was all very surprising.

The birds were just going to sleep, just about to tuck their heads under their wings, when they saw more people coming to the house, people with suitcases and bags. There seemed to be great excitement and everybody seemed to be smiling.

"Merry Christmas, Birdies," she said.

It was very hard to be a little bird, the birds thought, and not to feel like smiling.

But at last they went to sleep.

"I don't feel like chirping today," said one of them, early the next morning.

"I don't feel very happy that my friends in the white house have forgotten about us."

"Oh, cheer up, something must have happened," said another little bird. "I still can't believe it possible that they have forgotten us. But we did have a bad day or so, it is true. So cold, and a little hungry."

"Well, I'll chirp," said the first bird. And all the birds began to chirp and sing. Sun came up in a bright red robe and said:

"It's Christmas morning, birdies! how do you like my handsome robe? I'm all dressed up for the occasion."

But just then a lady came out of the big house, the lady who was the special friend of the birds.

"Merry, merry Christmas, birdies," she said. "I had almost forgotten about you. All the children are home for the Christmas holidays and there has been great excitement. We've been decorating and having everything look gay inside."

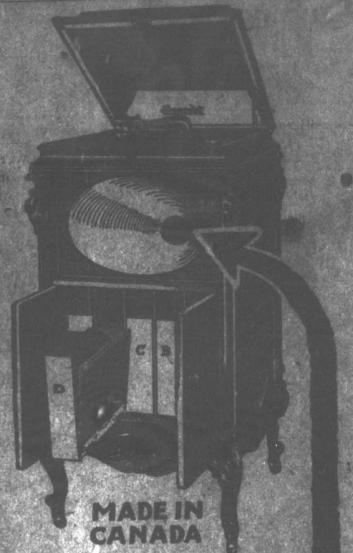

"Oh, I didn't mean to forget you, birdies. I feel so bad."

They were given fresh suet and nice bread crumbs, and some cake crumbs, too.

"Merry, merry Christmas," said the lady.

"Merry, merry Christmas," chirped the birdies, so the lady said, but they were really thanking her, and to their little hearts felt so glad that the one they had trusted and loved had not failed them!

The Brunswick
ALL PHONOGRAPHS

MADE IN CANADA

It Had to Come!

The Brunswick just had to be. In every industry the law of revolution applies, and sooner or later perfection is attained. Just as we have seen the automobile perfected in the last fifteen years, so those in the phonograph industry consistently watched for the "Final Phonograph" and it has come. The "Final Phonograph" is the Brunswick—the instrument which plays all records correctly. The Brunswick unlocks for you the whole world of recorded music. In addition to having all the good features of every good phonograph, the Brunswick alone has these two supreme inventions:

1. The "Ultona"—an improved tone arm and reproducer which provides by a mere twist of the wrist, the exact WEIGHT, the proper DIAPHRAGM and correct NEEDLE for every make of record.

2. The all-wood oval tone amplifier—built like a violin. This tone chamber, oval moulded from choice woods, and absolutely free from any kind of metal, eliminates all harsh metallic notes.

The Brunswick plays better, looks better, costs no more, and gives an unlimited choice of records.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Copenhagen is used differently from ordinary chewing tobacco. Take a small pinch, for a start, and put it between the lower lip and gum, in the centre. Afterwards you can increase the size of the pinch to suit the strength of the chew you desire. Copenhagen is strong, because the tobacco of which it is made is cut into fine grains, which makes it impart its strength thoroughly and quickly. Hence, a little "pinch" goes a long way, showing that Copenhagen is not only an unusually economical chew, but also one of the finest quality, being made of the best, old, rich, high-flavored tobacco.

Vocational School

(Continued from first page) only by knowing the life-history of the insect or fungus) and his knowledge of, and ability to mix, the ingredients used to halt the activities and resulting injuries of the pest.

By all means have the boys acquaint themselves with general farming methods on the home farm. But it is in the interest of the boy, and the country in general, that the skill and knowledge acquired by the boy at home is such that will best fit him to successfully follow, farming as his life work. As was stated before, the Vocational School does not pretend to teach the agriculturally inexperienced boy farming. A practical working knowledge of the general principles of agriculture is necessary before the instruction given the student would be of value to him. To disseminate a knowledge gained through experiments, and through the experience of farmers, and to offer a course touching upon the more scientific phases of Agriculture, never losing sight of its practical adaptability to farming conditions as they exist in the county, is the function of the Vocational School at Woodstock.

Now, all the boys are not in the lumber camps. There are many who can well afford to spend the winter months in attendance at the Course in Agriculture and Farm Mechanics, starting January 5, 1920. Any applications made or information sought should be addressed to the Principal, Vocational School, Woodstock.

Frightened Horse Caused Death of Thomas Waugh

East Florenceville, Dec. 8.—The community was shocked to hear of the sudden and untimely death of Thomas Waugh, which occurred on Friday. Mr. Waugh carried on extensive lumber operations for the Shives Lumber Company. On Friday he was driving in a tote road with a load of fifteen, when a horse, which was following the team became frightened and jumped on the sled, hitting the unfortunate man on the head and causing concussion of the brain. The young lad managed to get Mr. Waugh back on the sled, but he passed away before they reached Green River, the nearest village.

Mr. Waugh, although he started as a poor boy, had accumulated considerable property and was one of the most prosperous farmers of Carleton county. He was of a genial disposition and was much liked by every one. He was sixty-five years of age and survived by his sorrowing wife, who was formerly Miss Caroline Bell, and two children, John Fenwick, East Florenceville and Jessie, wife of Mr. Gaynor of McAdam Junction. The funeral service was conducted at the Anglican church at 4 o'clock on Monday by Rev. Rees Jones and interment was made in the Church of England burying ground.

Money Well Spent

In these days of expensive living the question with most people is to get the best value for one's money. In the case of newspaper or magazines there can be no doubt about The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal giving the greatest value for the money on the continent. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is a wonderful combination of newspaper, magazine, and agricultural paper. It costs only $1.25 a year and each subscriber receives a handsome souvenir portrait of the Prince of Wales 16x22 inches. We learn the subscription price will be $1.50 after December 31st. No better value can be had than a year's trial of the big Montreal Weekly. It consists of 64 pages each week and every page interesting and instructive.

Oh mamma! We can get seeded raisins for 22 cents and currants for 30 at Carr's. New crop, full weight. Isn't that cheap?

Paul Craig

A sad accident occurred at Gordonville on the evening of Nov. 13 when Paul Craig aged 9 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Craig, was kicked by a horse and his skull was fractured, resulting in death in a few hours without regaining consciousness although two doctors were called and everything was done possible. The case was more sad on account of the absence of his father, who was engaged as cook in a lumber camp many miles away. A messenger was sent for him, but he was unable to reach home until the 15, to find that his son had passed away, and the family grief stricken.—King's Highway

Clark's Hotel

This week I offer an exceptionally good opportunity to any person desiring to secure a hotel property that has been one of the best money-makers on the river. This is the Clark Hotel in the Town of Hartland. The building is one of the most attractive in town, very conveniently located, and very completely equipped with all furniture and utensils for a going concern. There are 15 good sleeping rooms, good office, ladies' parlor and large dining room. Here is a splendid opportunity to open a hotel catering exclusively to the best paying trade. This proposition will bear strict investigation.

One of the most valuable properties in the Town of Hartland is the Morgan property near the station. This consists of a well-built, two-story building, 24x40 feet. Entirely steel covered, the insurance rate is low, while the store is one best business stands on the river. The upper flat, with seven rooms and bath, is a very pleasant home for any one. Included in this property is a frost proof potato house and three hay sheds, with siding close to them. There is also sufficient land to erect another building. Over the warehouse are two well finished tenements, always rented at good prices. The rent value of the whole property exceeds $100 a month. This is a splendid buy for a man with the money; or part of the purchase price may remain on mortgage. The land alone is worth more than half the price of the whole thing, while the buildings could not be built for a great deal more. With 180 feet frontage along the railway track the property is always easily saleable. Any person interested in this buy should speak quick. Price on application.

Another desirable property is a nicely situated residence, one of the most attractive in town of Hartland. This will surely interest any one wanting a cozy home not two minutes walk from the station or post office.

A partly completed house on a nice lot near the school is offered at a real bargain for a quick sale.

G. B. Nixon's Farm

G. Burton Nixon of Somerville has listed his fine big farm with me and if there is anyone wanting what many consider the very finest farm in Carleton county here is your chance to get it. The property consists of the Joseph McGee and the W. J. Bover farms, side by side, containing upwards of 300 acres of arable land, with a down-hill haul from the back field to Hartland station. One of the biggest, newest and most modern barns in the province just a half a mile from the station. House is thoroughly modernized and occupies one of the most beautiful sites on the river. Investigate this rare opportunity of farming in big, modern business-like fashion.

A fine farm of 115 acres, 85 cleared, 5 miles from Hartland station and 2½ miles from Valley railway. All needed buildings including new garage. Pump in yard and unfailing springs on farm. Every foot of the land is tillable and very productive. There is plenty of fuel and quite an amount of good lumber, with easy haul to mill. This is priced most attractively.

A 200 acre farm, 7 miles from Hartland, 3 miles from Valley Railway. Complete set of buildings, a splendid potato farm under state of high cultivation. Lots of lumber and hardwood, and the early buyer gets a bargain.

A 300 acre farm only two miles from Hartland is a rare bargain for anyone who wants a big farm close to market.

For all details concerning any of these properties consult me at my office in the store of Hartland Drug Co., Ltd. If just what you want is not in the list we may be able to interest you in something else.

A wedding of much social importance took place on Nov. 26, at All Saints church at Grand Falls when Miss Leitha White, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. White, was united in marriage to Walter Page Hatch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Reginald Brittain. The bride, who was given away by her father, a former M. L. A., looked charming in a gown of white satin and Georgette, carrying a bridal bouquet of carnations. She was attended by Miss Gladys Hatch, sister of the groom, while Max White was the groom's support. Four little flower girls were in attendance. After the ceremony a reception was held in honor of the bride party at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hatch left on the C. P. R. for Boston where they will reside in the future.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses upon the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 850,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

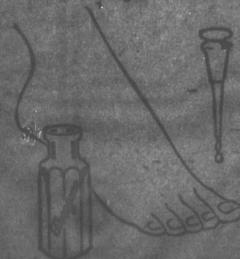

Every original and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtues.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Peppermint on the itching corn, gently then corns come hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Peppermint costs but a few cents at any drug store, but it's such a relief to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the relief is without expense or irritation. Peppermint is the most successful remedy for a thousand ills. It is wonderful.

Christmas Classic in Author's Hand

"A Visit From St. Nicholas," Written by Clement G. Moore 100 Years Ago and Known to Every Child

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through

*The house
A creature great stirring, not poor a (sneaky)
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds
While visions of sugar-plums danced on their heads
And mamma in her 'kitchen, and I in my cap,
Had just pulled our heads for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was past the parlor
Down the stairs I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the latch.
The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick!
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name,
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Comet! on, Comet and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!*

A LITTLE book bound in red morocco holds the kernel of the children's celebration the world over at Christmas. No look at it no one would dream its hidden words are even now vibrating in the hearts of countless children, yet the charm its bright covers embrace is perennial. It is the manuscript of the famous children's classic, "A Visit From St. Nicholas," written by Clement G. Moore almost a hundred years ago, and dedicated to his own children in particular, and as it has since proved to childhood the world over.

This season it has as its companion in the library of the New York County Historical Society in Central Park West, a photographic copy of the original text, enlarged sufficiently to enable it to be easily read, for though the original typography is quite remarkable for a man of Dr. Moore's years—eighty-two when he indited the poem—it is fine and old-fashioned, and therefore somewhat difficult to read.

The innovation has proved a rare treat to the library patrons, and it is interesting to note with what reverence it is handled by men and women whose childhood days are long past, yet whose halcyon memories are still bright. Two pages and a half are consumed in committing the poem to paper, and the repetition of the old familiar lines brings to mind pleasant thoughts of the season, for no one has ever visualized our American Christmas from the children's viewpoint as has Clement G. Moore in his rare little poem.

The lines were written as a Christmas gift for the author's two young daughters nearly a century ago, but it has since become a progressive gift to countless other girls and boys, accompanying the original manuscript when it was presented to the society by F. W. Moore, a relative, some fifty years ago, in a letter in which the writer tells how the verses came to be written and how it happened that they were eventually published.

Mr. Moore lived at the time in a handsome house overlooking the Hudson, at Ninth Avenue and Twenty-third Street, in Chelsea, like Greenwich Village, further south, was quite remote from the city. Each year his country seat was a party, and he was a Dutch settler from New Amsterdam. Living near his country seat was a party, and he was a Dutch settler from New Amsterdam.

It was, however, with no thought of its ever being published that Mr. Moore wrote the poem, but the lines were copied by a relative of the author in his album. From it another copy was made by a friend of hers from Troy. Some time later, much to the surprise of Dr. Moore, it was for the first time published in a newspaper. By such small chance was this choice little poem saved for posterity.

In those days there was no such celebration of Christmas as is now the case, but Dr. Moore, having absorbed the ancient traditions of his Dutch neighbors, gave them into the poem for his children. He did more than that, for he built up around the central thought an interpretation which has gradually come to be our own. As some one has so aptly said, it has become so much part and parcel of our literature that it seldom occurs to people if ever had an author. Since for nearly a hundred years American children have been fed on it, it has now become theirs in very truth.

A GREAT BARGAIN SALE!

AT
A. COHN'S - Bath

Beginning SAT., DECEMBER 13, Ending DECEMBER 31
A great opportunity to buy High grade Clothing and Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, for men women and children with a saving from 25 to 33%

My sympathy responds to every protest against the high cost of living. That is why I decide to give right in the middle of the season an opportunity to buy high grade merchandise at a low price.

I want to state right here and now that my regular prices on goods are the lowest of any that can be bought in Carleton county or at any mail order house in Canada, and I have kept down the high cost, and I especially during this sale desire to give every man and woman a chance to buy high grade goods at a low price, especially now when goods jump in prices by bounds and leaps, but I was fortunately myself in Montreal and I bought a large quantity of Men's, Women's and Boy's clothing at my own price. That is why I am in the market to offer you high grade clothing at less than the wholesale manufacturing price.

Every man toots his own horn but this is not an election campaign. It is a campaign for you to save dollars and cents and I want you to come to my store and convince yourself that every word I say in this item is true. There are only a few items which I am going to mention in this ad, as space will not permit me to mention all bargains in this sale.

Santa Starts Off

BY MARY GRASHER BENTON
(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union)

"SANTA CLAUS" dog, Boy of the North, was barking," said Daddy, "for there was great excitement up North."

"The excitement was, perhaps you may be able to guess, that Santa Claus was about to start his trip."

"I have more things to do this year than ever before. It seems to me," said Santa Claus.

"Boy of the North" reared his tail and gave funny little short barks which was his way of laughing. "You say that every year," he was trying to tell Santa Claus, as he put his cold nose in Santa's hand and rubbed up beside him.

"The reindeer were waiting. The bells on their reins were jingling and the sleigh was filled with packs and packs of toys."

"Now, let me see," said Santa Claus. "There are many shops were packed away me. The children have written to me about the things they have seen and of what they want."

"Good-bye!" shouted Santa.

That is why I like the stores to have so many of my toys. The children get a good idea of what they want.

"Then they write me letters, the precious dears! They write of what they want and how much they care for me and how much they love their sisters and brothers and mothers and daddies and playmates and dogs and other pets."

"But I mustn't stop to think of all these letters for I must get started, for I've a long way to go."

"He knew he had to start soon for the reindeer could hardly wait any longer, and was trying to hurry him."

"I won't be late," said Santa Claus. "I have never been late yet—and I've been doing this trip—the trip to the lands where there are children—for a good many years."

"And the reindeer made queer sounds and flapped their bells again for they knew Santa Claus was right, but still they were in a great, great hurry!"

"They were thinking of the roofs they would dash across. Oh, how anxious they were to start!"

"And Boy of the North was anxious for these to start, for although he didn't go with them, he longed to see them come back and hear about the trip."

"Yes," continued Santa Claus, "I must get the packs from the different shops. I know just what all the children want."

"Then I must keep a good many engagements I've made—promises to appear at some big Christmas trees for these to start, for the children see me when I'm arriving with my pack. Oh so, that's my fun—to keep all that a great, great secret."

"And they love secrets, the little dears! Now let me see—have I the nuts and raisins, the bright new pebbles for some of the stockings and the big oranges, too? Yes, they're ready and truly ready at last."

"When Santa Claus said 'I've ready, the reins were pruned, Boy of the North barked and Santa Claus sprang into the sleigh."

"Oh, went the reindeer with Santa Claus and the toys, games and countless other things for Christmas morning."

"Good-bye, Boy of the North," shouted Santa Claus. "Good-bye, dear old North home, good-bye, everyone and everything."

"To do as my big trip of the year!"

"And as he shouted this the reindeer were almost out of sight and the last that could be seen of Santa Claus was as he waved his red cap with the red tassel."

"Now," said Boy of the North, "I will have everything ready for him when he gets back."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

On Thursday evening 27th the members of the Merry Widow Club were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Lillian T. Lee at her home. These ladies are unfortunately enough to have husbands who are "Winers" and although they can never really know what high jinks their better halves carry on while away so lodge, they get some solace out of getting together and gossiping. On Thursday evening of last week the same Club were the guests of Mrs. C. H. Bullman at her home. If any man in his wife any evening, he is ten to one shot that she has joined the Merry Widows.

Harry Thomas while working in the woods on the Miramichi had the misfortune to cut his foot very severely while engaged in chopping. First aid was given him, but during the long drive home he suffered the loss of a great deal of blood. We are glad to know however that his condition is rapidly improving.

A large crowd attended the auction held by C. E. Vail and Samuel Cogswell last week and both the former owners of the articles and the buyers were well pleased with the outcome of the affair. Charles Wilkinson proved a very efficient auctioneer.

William P. Riley of Hartland, proprietor of the Shoe Hospital here, moved his family to Centreville last week. All sorts of old shoes are given new soles and heels at his shop in the Post Office building.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Vail purpose leaving in the very near future for Riverside, California, where they will spend the winter months.

Joe Fogg and Joe Murray have gone to Millischoke, in the employ of the Great Northern Paper Co.

George Wilkinson left on Friday for Miramichi where he has accepted a lucrative position.

Arthur Stevens of Boston, was the guest of his brother, J. C. Stevens on Friday last.

Mrs. W. R. Harold who has been quite ill for the last two weeks is convalescing.

Mrs. E. M. Brown arrived home this week from Saint John where she has been spending the past month.

John F. Scholey of Mars Hill, spent Sunday with his mother at her home here.

Mrs. Geo. Ferris has moved to her father's for the winter.

Guy McAskill has returned from guiding at Oxley's.

Mrs. Jas. Plummer has been spending a few days in this place.

L. B. Everett has begun his lumber operation in the woods with Lawrence Everett as cook.

Alas B. R. Hayden with Theo. Slough as cook.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gaunce and Mr. and Mrs. E. Gaunce went to Burnt Land Brook to attend the funeral of Mrs. Susan Everett.

The coolers have returned to Riley Brook where they are stationed for the winter.

William Ross lost a nice horse in the woods yesterday.

Mrs. E. Craig has been spending a few days with her parents here but has now returned to her work in Caribou.

The death of John E. McAuley occurred on Friday with pneumonia. One of the oldest residents of this vicinity, he had spent the major part of his life here. He was a Methodist in religion and a Liberal in politics. He leaves behind his widow, four sons, Murray, Allan, Scott and Roy and two daughters, Mrs. C. M. Reid and Mrs. Chas. Page all of this place. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. B. Champion and interment made in the cemetery adjoining the Methodist church.

A number of the members of the Baptist church and congregation met at the parlour on Friday evening all bearing gift and good-will. They were most cordially received by the Rev. and Mrs. E. Johnson and spent a very pleasant evening. Deafly refreshments were served before the merry party broke up and all went home feeling most loyal.

Crowds of young lunkies from here and the adjoining communities spent all their leisure hours last week most pleasantly down on the pond. The large area of glare ice and the evenings light as day were surely very seductive to any one with a little surplus energy.

The teachers and pupils of the High School here are ardently rehearsing for a play to be given in the Opera House on the evening of Wednesday, December 17.

Favorable reports are received from Miss Mary Gallagher, teacher in the Model School, Fredericton, who is convalescing from a recent attack of diphtheria.

Frank MacKinnon and Wilmet Wade left last week for Portmouth, N.H. where they will spend the winter months.

Samuel Currier and Harry Simonsen left on Monday for Portmouth, N.H. where they will remain for the winter.

Mrs. E. M. Brown arrived home this week from Saint John where she has been spending the past month.

John F. Scholey of Mars Hill, spent Sunday with his mother at her home here.

Mrs. Geo. Ferris has moved to her father's for the winter.

Whooping Cough

Mr. Arthur Haingo, Ashton Farm, Perley, Sask., writes:—"Two years ago whooping cough was very bad in this part of the country, our eight month old baby caught it and had a very severe attack. A neighbor advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and we gave it and nothing else with splendid results. When the older brother took the whooping cough we used this medicine promptly and prevented serious trouble as the cough passed off in two or three days."
