TRAIN WRECKED

No 33 Derailed at Eel River Saturday Morning

NO INJURIES

Cause of Run Off Not Positively made Clear

The Maritime Express coming west on Saturday morning of last week jumped the rails at the west side of Eel River Crossing. At the time of the accident the train was travelling at a high rate of speed and it is nothing short of a miracle that nobody was injured. This is due to two causes viz. the fact that cars standing in the siding prevented the cars of the express from tipping over, and because the pony truck of the locomotive remained on the rails. Had this truck, which acts as pilot to a locomotive, left the rails there is no telling what the result would have been.

The engine became detached from the train and when it came to a standstill was over one hundred yards ahead of the wrecked cars. The top of the tender was thrown clear of its flooring and trucks, landed at the side of the track and slid along on the snow almost into the woods. The trucks then left the tender and the engine dragged the frame until she came to a standstill. The mail car was standing with one end on the track, the other in the ditch within a few feet of the line fence. The dining car and sleeper were badly torn by contact with the cars in the siding.

On receipt of the news that the accident had occurred wrecking crews were sent from Campbellton, Newcastle and Moncton and the work of clearing the track was begun. The steam crane arrived late in the afternoon.

The train was in charge of Con. A McLellan with Driver John Morton and Fireman Frank Hogan on the engine.

The passengers on the train received quite a shaking up, but one gentleman, asleep at the time of the accident, knew nothing about it, and was quite indignant at the seemingly uncalled for delay of the train in such an out of the way place. He had to be told about the accident.

All trains were delayed on account of the wreck. The Maritime going east, due to leave at 4.50 in the morning did not leave here until 1.30 in the afternoon.

The engine of the wrecked train is No 313 the same that was in the smashup last spring near Dorchester in which E. S. White nearly lost his life. The unfortunate engine is now dubbed Hoodoo No. 2.

100 DROWNED

In Wreck of Steamer Valencia.

ON PACIFIC COAST

Awful Story of the Disaster.
—Pitiful Tale of Survivors.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 24.—The steamer, Valencia, enroute from San Francisco with 94 passengers and a crew of 60, went ashore at midnight last night during a thick fog and a large number were drowned when attempting to leave the ship. The steamer struck on the rocks against a high cliff and is likely to go to pieces at any time.
One of the boats' crew reached Cape Beale this afternoon and nine men got ashore near the lighthouse. Two men are prisoners on the face of the cliff where the steamer lies and cannot get up the cliff or return to the wreck. The sea will probably reach them when the tide is high.
The men report painful scenes.
One woman dropped her child into the sea when trying to pass it to her husband, who was in one of the boats. When the boats left there was a little boy running about the deck crying for his mother, who was among the drowned. Almost certain death faces those on the wreck. A despatch from Cape Beale says the Valencia went ashore on Vancouver Island, near Cloose.
The lighthouse keeper says about 100 were drowned. News of the disaster is meagre, being confined to a message by Capt. Gardin, agent of the marine service, from the lighthouse keeper at Cape Beale, saying: "Steamer wrecked between here and Cloose, about 100 drowned. Nine reached telegraph hut. Will wire more particulars as soon as possible."

It is reported that the whaling steamer Orion has arrived at the Valencia wreck and is seeking to save as many as possible. A despatch from Carma says a ship's boat with several people passed at 1 p. m. to-day. The working steamer Salver has gone to assist the wrecked Valencia. She is in a bad place.

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—A special to the Times from Bamfield says the Valencia has gone to pieces and all on board are lost. The Salver is returning to Victoria with sixty corpses from the Valencia disaster.
The vessel should reach Victoria about 1.30 this morning.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 28.—The whaling steamer Orion arrived at Bamfield Creek cable station yesterday from the scene of the wreck of the Valencia, and reported having seen three men on shore west of the wreck, and it was thought these men are survivors that are yet unaccounted for. The Valencia lay submerged with only a portion of a mast sticking out of water. The Orion brought articles of clothing, together with blankets torn in strips, with which the passengers evidently lashed themselves to masts and rigging.

Tug Lorne reached the vicinity of the wreck yesterday morning soon after daylight, with a party of blue-jackets from Esquimalt who will go in surf boats to see if any possible survivors can be rescued, and to recover what bodies they can. Conditions at the scene of the wreck are much more favorable for the life-saving work as the sea has abated. The Salver, which evidently has been lying at Bamfield, set out for the wreck yesterday to see if any, aid could be furnished.

Reports from Bamfield state the nine surviving men there are in a terrible condition. They have no provisions except the meagre amount carried by the party of three which left Bamfield on Wednesday. One of the men has a sprained ankle and others no boots.
On Wednesday evening the entire party attempted to cross the swollen stream to go to the wreck, and one of them nearly lost his life.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Jan. 26
The City of Topeka, arrived at 1.30 o'clock this morning, with twenty-three survivors from the Valencia, embracing eighteen rescued from the raft and also the boat's crew which carried the first news of the accident to Cape Beale.

BRITAIN ON GOOD TERMS WITH RUSSIA.

Persia's Refusal to Accept Seistan Frontier.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Great Britain does not fear any interference in her good relations with Russia over the refusal of Persia to accept the award of the British Commission delimiting the Seistan frontier. The British Government quite understands that any actions of the Russian Governors antagonistic to the commission were not dictated from St. Petersburg. The negotiations between Russia and Great Britain, which were discontinued on account of Russia's troubles, are now about to be resumed.

Not for many years have the relations of the two countries been as friendly as at present, Count Bencvondorff, Russian Ambassador in London, and Sir Charles Har-dingle, retiring British Ambassador at St. Petersburg having brought their respective governments closer together. As a matter of fact, recent candid discussions show that Russia and Great Britain hold similar views on questions which formerly caused irritation, Russia stating that she wants no preferential treatment in Persia and no modification of the status quo in Afghanistan and Tibet.

The only difference arises over a minor question concerning trade on the Afghanistan frontier, but as it is merely between the natives Russia requests that it be tolerated.

HEALTH REPORT.

Rigid Inspection Maintained
at Maritime Ports.

THE NEEDS OF ST. JOHN.

Seventeen Patients at Tracadie Lazaretto, but one man seems to be cured.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—Owing to the fact that no cases of smallpox now exist on the frontier states adjacent to the Canadian boundary, it has been deemed unnecessary to continue the medical inspection at Canadian ports, and at the end of this month the two remaining inspectors, at Northport and Sault Ste Marie, respectively, will be relieved. Dr. Montizambert, director general of public health, in his annual report, just issued, says that during the past year the usual threatenings of epidemic diseases have continued, and in addition there have been special outbreaks of Asiatic cholera in Europe and of yellow fever in the United States.

Strict measures, ordinary and special, have therefore been required for the sanitary protection of the country.

Frontier inspection for smallpox at threatened ports of the international border, and extra inspections at some of the maritime ports have been maintained, as the conditions to the south have seemed to require.

On the Atlantic side, the outbreak of Asiatic cholera in Europe and especially in Prussia, called for special precautionary inspections.

On the Pacific side, careful inspection of all arriving Asiatics has been carried on throughout the year. This includes the testing of the temperature and the examination of the glandular regions. The special inspection of vessels from San Francisco, spoken of in the last annual report, was discontinued from January, 1905, no case of plague having been reported in that city from the 1st of the previous March.

Circulars of warning and instruction were issued from time to time to the regular quarantine officers, and to the customs officers, who are also ex-officio quarantine officers at the unorganized maritime and inland quarantine stations.

At the leper lazaretto at Tracadie, N. B., there are now seventeen patients on the books, ten males and seven females. Those actually in the lazaretto are fifteen, eight males and seven females.
There were no deaths during the year. The new patients, both from neighboring districts, were admitted. The continued good results follow the treatment with chaumoooga oil and strychnine, with creolin outwardly—patients improving under it both in health and spirits. The appalling darkness of their former hopeless condition is now lightened and brightened by gleams of hope.

One patient, a man of 40, is so apparently cured of all symptoms of the disease that Dr. Montizam-bert felt justified at his last inspection of the lazaretto in approving of his going home on the condition of his reporting himself from time to time for examination by the physician of the institution. He has been in the lazaretto for five years.

During the year at St. John the vessels inspected number 178, persons inspected were 22,024.
Seven vessels arrived with infectious diseases. The admissions to the hospital were 13. The diseases were scarlet fever, chicken pox, diphtheria and measles. One death occurred from scarlet fever.

At the request of the board of health of St. John, Dr. March disinfected the outward going scab.

York. A seaman came by rail and joined the schooner at St.
Martins and then developed small-pox after they had cleared from there. There was no spread of the disease.

The two detention buildings and the winter hospital are approaching completion.

The completion of the water supply is the most urgently pressing want at this station. A deep water wharf is greatly required and larger disinfecting appliances.

You Are Ailing

Not quite sick,—but robbed of ambition to work—find it hard to think clearly. Not ill enough to think of dying, but bad enough for life to be pretty dull. There is a remedy—Fer-rozene—that quickly lifts that half dead feeling. Gracious, but Ferrozene makes you feel good; it sharpens the dulled appetite, makes it keen as a razor.

Blood? Ferrozene makes lots of it.
The rich nourishing kind that vitalizes the whole body. You'll be wonderfully quickened, immensely strengthened, feel heartily and vigorously after using Fer-rozene. Buoyant health, surplus vigor and reserve energy all come from this great restorative. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets at all dealers.

WANT SNOW

Lumbermen Unable to get Logs out

The St. John Evening Times says:—

The lumbering situation is assuming a rather serious aspect.
There are large quantities of logs cut but there is no way of getting them out unless snow comes, and comes quickly, too. This is the state of affairs in New Brunswick at the present time and in Nova Scotia as well.

The lumbermen say that weather such as we have been having lately may be all right for midwinter excursion parties on the river, but it will mean a tremendous loss to them if they don't have snow very soon.

On the bay shore in New Brunswick, the lower part of the province and on the Nepes river, the need of snow is felt greatly.
Lots of logs are cut, but until snow comes they cannot be hauled to the streams.

Speaking to one of the prominent lumbermen this morning, he said there has been excellent weather for cutting and yarding the logs, but there is practically no snow for hauling. Some few logs have been dragged out, but the process is necessarily slow and operations may have to be suspended if snow does not come very soon.

Reports from Nova Scotia indicate an even worse state of affairs than in this province.
Lumbermen there are complaining greatly of the lack of snow and the present outlook is that immense quantities will be hung up.

The only section from which complaints do not come is on the upper St. John. There they claim to have just sufficient snow for hauling, and they are making the most of it.

As to the prospects for a large cut being got out this season, it is difficult to form an idea, as so much depends on the quantity of logs that can be hauled to the streams, and also on the condition for driving. One lumberman expressed the opinion last evening that if snow did not come during the first part of February it would be too late to relieve the situation to any great extent. Should snow not come and the logs have to be left in the woods, it would be a serious problem for the lumbermen, as the last two years having been away below the average, a third one would mean very likely that some of the operators would go under. They are building their hopes now on having a good old-fashioned snow storm to relieve the situation.

"I bought a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Feb. 1, 1906

COUNTY COURT JUDGE

The St John Globe says:-

The general impression is that a few days will bring news of the retirement from active work of His Honor Judge

Wilkinson, judge of the county court of Northumberland, Restigouche and Gloucester. Judge Wilkinson was born on Feb. 11, 1826, and was appointed to his present position on March 11, 1881. He has thus passed the age limit of 75 years and has been for nearly twenty-five years a judge. There is some difference of opinion as to Judge Wilkinson's successor. Mr H. F. McLatchy, M. P.

P., for Restigouche; Mr Warren C.

Winslow, Chatham; Mr R. Murray, M. P.

P., for Northumberland, and Mr R. F.

Quigley, who is a native of Newcastle,

Northumberland, are mentioned in this connection. In the three counties interested the Acadian population is very large, and it is being urged the new judge should be conversant with the two languages and thus do away with the necessity of having interpreters in court.

We understand that Mr Mc-

McLachy is looked upon as the successor of Judge Wilkinson and that his appointment is as good as made.

The sixth annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the prevention of Consumption and other Forms of Tuberculosis will be held in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons on the 28th of March next. The Hon. Senator Edwards will preside in the afternoon.

In the evening a public lecture will be delivered in the Lecture Hall of the Norman school by Dr. Arthur J. Richer of Montreal which will be illustrated with stereoscopic plates showing the stages of Consumption and some of the appliances now in use to check and cure the disease. The chair will be taken in the evening by His Excellency, Earl Grey.

The lecture by Rev. E. R. Young in the Methodist Church on Thursday proved an intensely interesting and instructive. The lecture, held the closest attention of the large audience for an hour and a half as he portrayed some scenes from his experiences as a missionary on the border lands of the Eskimo. In the course of the lecture Mr. Young made the astounding statement that he knew there was gold as well as iron and other minerals in the far north, in fact he had brought some of the gold to a Toronto house and it had been pronounced pure. Mr. Young further stated that he would tell no man where the gold was but he found until the Indians had been sufficiently strengthened in the principles of Christianity to stand the impact with the greed and lust of the gold seeker.

The "Measuring Party" held in the W. C. T. U. Hall on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of Christ Church, was largely attended and a great success in every respect. The programme was a most attractive one, and the coffee and cake served afterwards proved not to be the least enjoyable part of the entertainment. The following was the programme:—Orchestra, Miss Synnott and the Misses Flanagan. Recitation, Etta Coleman. Violin Solo, Miss Synnott. Vocal Solo, Miss Sadie Fawcett. Reading, Mr. Coleman. Piano Solo, Miss Katie Little. Duet, Miss Haddow and Mr. Anderson. Piano Duet, Misses Synnott and Flanagan. Recitation, Edith Stewart. Piano Solo, Miss Synnott. Vocal Solo, Miss Haddow. Violin Solo, Miss Synnott. Orchestra Selection, Miss Synnott and the Misses Flanagan.

The ladies feel greatly indebted to those who so kindly gave their services for the entertainment. Nearly $40 was realized and if a larger hall could have been secured a much larger sum would have been the result. It has been demonstrated time and again that Campbellton should have a suitable hall and why such apathy exists, is a mystery which many would like to have solved.

The young ladies have organized two hockey teams. At present we cannot give the line up but will give a list of those who will play. We understand that Mr. W. C. Hitchon is instructor. The following are those at present practising: Misses Lida Patterson, May Murray, A. McLellan, Edna Alexander, Lizzie McBeath, M. Richards, Aggie Patterson and Ina Cameron.

The other team is composed in part of the following:—Misses Benedict, Maud Murray, Lucy Alexander, Sadie Mowat, Emma Mowat and Jennie Cameron.

Rev. J. B. Ganong Field-Secretary preached two very helpful sermons in the Baptist church on Sunday. At the close of the evening service he addressed a mass meeting of Sunday School workers in the Presbyterian church on the adult bible study movement. He gave an outline of the growth of the movement and showed the advantages to the Sunday School by such a class. He said that the great problem of holding the boys in the school would be solved if the men could be induced to meet in the bible class, and strongly urged the organization of such classes in Campbellton. After his address he answered several questions on the work and methods of organizing and conducting a class of this kind.

Conditions for lumbering operations this season on the Restigouche have been excellent. Cutting was concluded with the end of the old year and for hauling off the yards to the brows there were good hard roads. There is about two feet of snow and below that is a heavy coating of ice, which means good prospects for stream driving. The recent thaw struck the Restigouche woods and lasted for about a week, but it did not tie up the work. The cut on the Restigouche is about the same as it was in 1905, and there is every prospect of getting out all the lumber without trouble, which means that a considerable quantity of logs will be brought to the boom as about six or seven million of last years cut will be brought down.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

A Liniment That Is Useful for a Variety of purposes, and does the work well and satisfactorily, is a genuine Family Liniment, and should be always at hand when needed. This is Kendrick's White Liniment. All dealers sell it.

The First "Canard."

The first use of the word canard (meaning a duck) in the sense of hoax is attributed to Norbert Cornelissen, who, to give a sly hit at the ridiculous pieces of intelligence in public journals, circulated the report that an interesting experiment had just been made calculated to prove the extraordinary voracity of ducks. Twenty were placed together, and then one of them was killed and cut up into pieces, feathers and all, and thrown to the other nineteen, who greedily devoured it. The process was repeated until, as was averred, the last duck had eaten the whole of his nineteen companions. The story ran the round of all the journals in Europe and so established the appropriateness of the term canard for hoax.

Ambition Gratified.

First Bookworm—Well, I'm working on a file of newspapers now and am entirely satisfied. Second Ditto—You always did have a sneaking ambition to get into the papers.

Apples as "Nightcaps."

The apple is such a common fruit that very few persons are familiar with its remarkably efficacious medicinal properties. Every one ought to know that the very best thing he can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night.

A Wise Precaution.

Junior Partner—Our traveler ought to be discharged. He told one of our customers that I am an ignorant fool. Senior Partner—I shall speak to him and insist that no more office secrets be divulged.

One Day.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in. Forget them as soon as you can.—Emerson.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously. Each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on piece of flannel slightly damp with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all Druggists.

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Sign of the Four," "A Study in Scarlet," Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY F. D. STEELE

"This must be preserved, for it will figure in the trial," said Holmes as he handed the bag with its contents to the inspector. "It is now necessary that we should try to throw some light upon this third bullet, which has clearly come from inside the room. I should like to see Mrs. King, the cook, again. You said, Mrs. King, that you were awakened by a loud explosion. Who you said that did you mean that seemed to you to be louder than the second one?"

"Well, sir, it awakened me from sleep, and so it is hard to judge. But it did seem very loud."

"You don't think that it might have been two shots fired almost at the same instant?"

"I am sure I couldn't say, sir."

"I believe that it was undoubtedly so. I rather think, Inspector Martin, that we have now exhausted all the this room can teach us. If you will kindly step round with me, we shall see what fresh evidence the garden has to offer."

A flower bed extended up to the study window, and we all broke into an exclamation as we approached it. The flowers were trampled down, and the soft soil was imprinted all over with footmarks. Large, masculine feet they were, with peculiarly long sharp toes. Holmes hunted about among the grass and leaves like a retriever after a wounded bird. Then, with a cry of satisfaction, he bent forward and picked up a little brass cylinder.

"I thought so," said he. "The revolver had an ejector, and here is the third cartridge. I really think, Inspector Martin, that our case is almost complete."

The country inspector's face had shown his intense amazement at the rapid and masterful progress of Holmes' investigation. At first he had shown some disposition to assert his own position, but now he was overcome with admiration and ready to follow without question wherever Holmes led.

"Whom do you suspect?" he asked. "I'll go into that later. There are several points in this problem which I have not been able to explain to you yet. Now that I have got so far I had best proceed on my own lines and then clear the whole matter up once and for all."

"Just as you wish, Mr. Holmes, so long as we get our man."

"I have no desire to make mysteries, but it is impossible at the moment of access to enter into long and complex explanations. I have the threads of this affair all in my hand. Even if this lady should never recover consciousness we can still reconstruct the events of last night and insure that justice be done. First of all, I wish to know whether there is any inn in this neighborhood known as Elrige's?"

The servants were cross questioned, but none of them had heard of such a place. The stable boy threw a light upon the matter by remembering that a farmer of that name lived some miles off in the direction of East Ruston.

"Is it a lonely farm?"

"Very lonely, sir."

"Perhaps they have not heard yet of all that happened here during the night?"

"Maybe not, sir."

Holmes thought for a little, and then a curious smile played over his face.

"Saddle a horse, my lad," said he. "I shall wish you to take a note to Elrige's farm."

He took from his pocket the various slips of the dancing men. With these in front of him he worked for some time at the study table. Finally he handed a note to the boy, with directions to put it into the hands of the person to whom it was addressed, and especially to answer no questions of any sort which might be put to him. I saw the outside of the note, addressed in straggling, irregular characters, very unlike Holmes' usual precise hand. It was consigned to Mr. Abe Slaney, Elrige's farm, East Ruston, Norfolk.

"I think, inspector," Holmes remarked, "that you would do well to telegraph for an escort, as, if my calculations prove to be correct, you may have a particularly dangerous prisoner to convey to the county jail. The boy who takes this note could no doubt forward your telegram. If there is an afternoon train to town, Watson, I think we should do well to take it, as I have a chemical analysis of some interest to finish, and this investigation draws rapidly to a close."

When the youth had been dispatched with the note, Sherlock Holmes gave his instructions to the servants. If any visitor were to call, asking for Mrs. Hilton Cubitt, no information should be given, but he was to inform the visitor that the drawing circumstances pointed to its being a reply written by the lady. Accepting it as correct, we are now able to say that the symbols stand respectively for N, V and R.

"Even now I was in considerable difficulty, but a happy thought put me in possession of several other letters. It occurred to me that if these appeals came, as I expected, from some one who had been intimate with the lady in her early life, communications which contained two or three letters between might very well stand for the name 'ELSIE'."

On examination I found that such a combination formed the first message of the message, which was three times repeated. It was certainly some appeal to 'Elsie.' In this way I had got my L, S and I. But what appeal could it be? There were only four letters in the word which preceded 'Elsie' and it ended in E. Surely the word must be 'COME.' I tried all other four letters ending in E, but could find none to fit the case. So now I was in possession of C, O and M, and I was in a position to attack the first message once more, dividing it into words and putting dots for each symbol which was still unknown. So treated it worked out in this fashion:

Now, the first letter can only be A, which is a most useful discovery, since it occurs no fewer than three times in this short sentence, and the H is also apparent in the second word. Now it became:

AM HERE A E SLANEY.

Or, filling in the obvious vacancies in the name:

AM HERE ABE SLANEY.

I had no many letters now that I could proceed with considerable confidence to the second message, which worked out in this fashion:

A. ELRIG. ES.

Here I could only make sense by putting T and G for the missing letters and supposing that the name was that of some house or inn at which the writer was staying."

Inspector Martin and I had listened with the utmost interest to the full and clear account of how my friend had produced results which had led to the complete command over our difficulties.

"What did you do then, sir?" asked the inspector.

"I had every reason to suppose that this Abe Slaney was an American, since Abe is an American contraction and since a letter from America had been the starting point of all the trouble. I had also every cause to think that there was some criminal secret in the matter. The lady's allusions to her past and her refusal to take her husband into her confidence both pointed in that direction. I therefore called to my friend, Wilson Hargreave of the New York police bureau, who has more than once made use of my knowledge of London crime. I asked him whether the name of Abe Slaney was known to him. Here is the reply: 'The most dangerous crook in Chicago.' On the very evening upon which I had his answer Hilton Cubitt sent me the last message from Slaney. Working with known letters, I took this form:

ELRIG. RE. ARE TO MEET THY GO.

The addition of a P and a D completed a message which showed me that the rascal was proceeding from persuasion to threats, and my knowledge of the crooks of Chicago prepared me to find that he might very rapidly put his words into action. swaggered up the path as if the place belonged to him, and we heard his loud, confident peal at the bell.

"I think, gentlemen," said Holmes quickly, "that we had best take up our position behind the door. Every precaution is necessary when dealing with such a fellow. You will need your handcuffs, inspector. You can leave the talking to me."

We waited in silence for a minute—one of those minutes which one can never forget. Then the door opened and the man stepped in. In an instant Holmes clapped a pistol to his head, and Martin slipped the handcuffs over his wrists. It was all done so swiftly and deftly that the fellow was helpless before he knew that he was attacked. He glared from one to the other of us with a pair of blazing black eyes. Then he burst into a bitter laugh.

"Well, gentlemen, you have the drop on me this time. I seem to have knocked up against something hard. But I came here in answer to a letter from Mrs. Hilton Cubitt. Don't tell me that she is in this! Don't tell me that she helped to set a trap for me!"

"You're crazy," he cried fiercely. "It was he that was hurt, not she. Who would have hurt little Elsie? I may have threatened her—God forgive me!—but I would not have touched a hair of her pretty head. Take it back—you! Say that she is not hurt!"

"She was found badly wounded by the side of her dead husband."

He sank with a deep groan on to the settee and buried his face in his hands. "I have nothing to say from your influence when she found the man that you are," said Holmes sternly. "She fled from America to avoid you, and she married an honorable gentleman in England. You dogged her and followed her and made her life a misery to her in order to induce her to abandon the husband whom she loved and respected in order to fly with you, whom she feared and hated. You have ended by bringing about the death of a noble man and driving his wife to suicide. That is your record in this business, Mr. Abe Slaney, and you will answer for it to the law."

"If Elsie dies I care nothing what becomes of me," said the American. He opened one of his hands and looked at it as it crumpled up in his palm.

"See here, mister," he cried, with a gleam of suspicion in his eyes, "you're not trying to scare me over this, are you? If the lady is hurt as bad as you say, who was it that wrote this note?" He tossed it forward on to the table.

"I wrote it to bring you here."

He is right! It was I who wrote no one on earth outside the Joint who knew the secret of the dancing men. How came you to write it?"

CATARRH

The true Cause and the true Cure.

How and why "Fruit-a-tives" completely eradicate this disease from the system.

Catarrh means inflammation. Ordinary catarrh is inflammation of the nose cavity opening into the throat. This cavity receives all the air going to and from the lungs. Food and drink passes through it to the stomach. And the prime cause of catarrh is indigestion. Because indigestion means an irritated stomach. This irritation spreads to the throat and nose. Belching gas keeps up the inflammation. The blood is impure and badly nourished. And nine times in ten, there is constipation and poor skin action.

The only way to cure Catarrh is to cure the cause of catarrh. Digestion must be improved—inflammation in stomach soothed—blood purified—and the liver strengthened so it will give up enough bile to make the bowels move regularly every day.

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

will always cure Catarrh of the throat and nose because these marvellous fruit tablets cure indigestion—sweeten the stomach—and eradicate all impurities from the blood by its stimulating and invigorating action on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

Leave sprays, atomizers, powders and snuffs alone. Take "Fruit-a-tives" regularly—be careful of your diet—and catarrh will soon be a thing of the past.

One 50c. box of "Fruit-a-tives" will prove now effectively these tablets relieve catarrh—and will do you so much good that you will gladly continue the treatment until cured.

Influential Montreal Men Have new project on hand

TIRED OF BOTH SIDES

Declare That Politicians Are Merely Making Their Office a Profession

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—The Witness tonight says "The formation of an independent political party is on the tapis in this city. A mild sensation was created on 'change when the rumor became current that such an important move had already received serious consideration from leading business and professional men who at present claim allegiance to one or the other of the great political parties."

"The impression is growing that both political parties have, to a great extent, departed from their original policy, until today politicians are merely making their office a profession instead of an honor and trust given them by the people."

"There is a large section of electors who feel that the time has come for a change in the political atmosphere and this reform, it is claimed, can only be brought about by the formation of an independent party."

"These who are interested in this movement wish to see legislation enacted dealing with the insolvency problem, the temperance question, purity in elections, and other matters, which, from party motives, a government is prevented from bringing forward."

"It is claimed that, by the formation of an independent party of only 100 members pledged to political reform, such a movement would have a material effect on the government of the day, and that the new organization with a progressive platform, would rapidly gain in numbers and influence. It is proposed to hold a meeting in Montreal when the whole scheme will be debated, and in the meantime the promoters, who are well known business men, are working quietly on their project hoping to have some definite statement to place before the public at an early date."

A proposition to make uniform the bounty on wolves in states and provinces where they abound, was also considered.

It was voted to hold the next annual meeting at Quebec.

WITTE DOOMED

Conspirators Have made Compact To Take The Premier's Life

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The Vilna correspondent of the Telegraph says a member of the Terrorist group has been arrested there. This is the group that has undertaken to kill Prime Minister Witte. The police say that several other conspirators have been arrested in other places. Documents that the authorities seized show that not only Count Witte, but the Minister of the Interior Durnovo, and Vice-Admiral Douhassoff, governor-general of Moscow, were originally doomed by the terrorists. It was ultimately decided to concentrate the attack upon Count Witte because it was decided his death would lead to a spread of the disorders, and a new and successful insurrection.

Fifteen Girls in Danger from Fire at Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—Fifteen girls and a number of men, threatened by fire in a stone building at the corner of St. James street and Victoria square this afternoon and cut off by smoke from escape in the usual way, fled by means of the extension ladders of the fire department. Some of them were overcome and had to be carried out, but no one was injured. The fire was stubborn, and for a time looked ominous. The loss is estimated at $150,000, divided among the following concerns: Campbell Clothing Company; John Fisher, Son & Co., clothing; Allan S. Main, wholesale dry goods; Reinhardt Mfg. Co., fancy goods; L. Tannenbaum, tailor; Bessette & Vineberg, fur; T. E. Howard, agent; and the Colonial Shoe Company. The fire started in the basement. The building is owned by the Eastern Township Bank.

HAPGOOD IS ACQUITTED

District Attorney Jerome Flays "Town Topics" and all Connected with it

New York, Jan. 26.—One of the most remarkable cases in the history of New York courts ended this afternoon when the Jury, without deliberation, brought in a verdict that Norman Hapgood, the editor of Collier's, was not guilty of libeling Judge Deuel when he wrote and published that Deuel was "part owner and one of the editors of a paper that deserves itself to printing scandal about people too cowardly to pay for silence."

This verdict brands Town Topics as the blackmailing rag that most people have known it to be for years. It also brands New York "Society." It will result in criminal prosecutions, and the rascals who have fattened on backstairs gossip may get their deserts after long years of inactivity.

The trial was singular in that the county prosecutor, the district attorney, while obliged by his official position to act as the prosecutor of Collier's and the defender of Town Topics, was heart and soul with that side of the case to which he was officially opposed. His summing up for the prosecution was in itself enough to acquit the prisoner. While contending in a half-hearted sort of way that it had not been sufficiently shown that Judge Deuel was responsible for the doings of the Town Topics people, Jerome mercilessly fayed that publication and everybody connected with it, as well as the society people who were its victims and tools.

Then after the verdict was rendered Jerome, the prosecutor, turned to Hapgood, the defendant, threw his arm over Hapgood's shoulder and shouted laughingly, "Now get out of here, you criminal. You've had your day in court." Jerome and Hapgood have been personal friends for years. Jerome has the same opinion of the Town Topics gang that other folks have, and he will likely now take up vigorously criminal prosecution against them.

Strained Back And Side.

"While working in a saw mill" writes C. E. Kenney, from Ottawa "I strained my back and side so severely I had to go to bed. Every movement caused me torture. I tried different oils and liniments, but wasn't helped till I used Nerviline. Even the first application gave considerable relief. In three days I was again at work. Other men in the mill use Nerviline with tremendous benefit too." An honest record of nearly fifty years has established the value of Folsom's Nerviline.

A BIG PAIN DISAPPEARS

When It Meets Johnson's Anodyne Liniment

It can't twist and torture limbs, arms, back, or head after that. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment frees humanity from external aches, and internal pains, from which all people suffer sometime.

There is efficacy in every bottle—the power of the original ANODYNE made 95 years ago—to heal cuts, wounds, old sores, contusions, aches or pains. To cure coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, cramp, colic—any pain or inflammation anywhere, upon or in, the human body.

Just as good for inside as for outside—good for everybody—good to the last drop—too good to be without in case of emergency.

Two sizes—25 cents and 50 cents. Three times as much in 50 cent size.

BATHURST NOTES.

The church of the Holy Family, Bathurst Village, was the scene of a very pretty ceremony Wednesday morning at eight o'clock when Miss Agnes Lydia Melanson, daughter of Samuel Melanson, Registrar of Deeds, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Louis J. B. Senez of Montreal. Rev. Father O'Leary performed the ceremony. The bride wore a travelling suit of navy blue silk, with black velvet picture hat and carried a bouquet of white flowers. She was attended by Miss Antoinette Senez, sister of the groom, who wore a navy blue velvet suit with hat to match. Mr. H. A. Melanson, brother of the bride, was best man.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Leger, organist. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding breakfast was partaken of by the immediate family only. Mr. and Mrs. Senez left on the express for St. John and then for an extended trip to Boston, New York and other American cities.

The bride is one of Bathurst's popular young ladies which was manifested by the large number of beautiful and costly presents received and the great number of friends gathered at the depot to wish the young couple Bon Voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Senez will reside in Montreal.

Rev. S. J. Doucet of Grand Assin was in town this week.

Mr. George Kelly of St. John was in town on Monday.

Miss Antoinette Senez, who has been in Bathurst for the Melanson-Senez wedding, returned to her home in Montreal on Wednesday night.

Miss Georgie Burns left Thursday morning to visit in Halifax.

Miss J. Burns, entertained the Whist Club on Tuesday evening. The prize winners were Miss Gertrude Meahen and O. B. Moore, while Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Byrne carried off the married people's prize.
