THE COUNTRY MINISTER

The five-act drama, "The Country Minister," presented by the South Farmington Players, Friday evening last in Shaffer's Hall, was played to a very large and appreciative audience, the hall being packed to its utmost capacity, while numbers were turned away from the door, for lack of room standing room.

The play is one of considerable merit and it was conceded by all that it was put on the boards in a manner seldom if ever excelled by amateur actors. Where all did so well it is difficult to specialize. The "Country Minister" did honor to the cloth, while the part of the heroine, and ultimately the wife of the young parson was admirably portrayed, Miss Burleigh being a success in every appearance.

The village postmistress, Miss Judkins, with her two elderly suitors, Timothy Hodd and Deacon Potter brought frequent applause from the audience. Roxy, the air kid, was perfect in her role. Her rendering of the part, calling forth hearty laughter and acclamation all through, while her two youthful admirers, William Henry and Tom Sparrow, put up a snappy scrap for her favor, in genuine school boy fashion. The shady side of the picture was shown by Mr. McDock alias Heath, and Pardee, his partner and Granny Grimes, the Bowers Hag, made those who saw it, realize to the full the difference between the good and evil side, and brought home to all a moral lesson contained in the play. An on-looker would be pardoned for thinking the presentation of "The Country Minister" was a real picture stepping out from the pages of the Ladies Home Journal, while the martial appearance of Mr. Pitkin, the policeman, made one almost wonder if they had been speeding their car or breaking the law in some other way.

Summing it all up, as one of the audience remarked to the writer, it was simply grand from start to finish. Last, but not least, the tidy touch of $58.00 was netted as the cash proceeds of the evening.

The personnel of the players and characters impersonated is given below.

Muscle of a good class was furnished through out by James Crocker, violinist and Miss Lillian Durling, accompanist.

Rev. Ralph Underwood, Lewis Best Gregory Heath, gentleman crook, R. M. Todd; and Pardee, escaped convict, James Crocker, Timothy Hodd, "Whittier", I. E. Banks; Deacon Potter, Tom Sparrow, country youth, Otis Fales; Mr. Pitkin, police officer, Homer Noble; Helen Burleigh, a city lady, Helen Phinney; Jerasha Jane Judkins, postmistress, (Mrs.) Margarette Rathie; Roxy, the air kid, Mildred Huggan, Granny Grimes, bawdy hag, Belle Wiswall; Fanny, the maid, Lillian Wallace.

Director, Miss Belle Wiswall. Assistant director, Miss Ella Todd.

MR. AND MRS. J. ALONZO BANKS CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years ago, on May 25th, Miss Charlotte Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alonzo Banks, stood before the altar and was pronounced man and wife.

On Monday of this week, May 25th, 1925, they celebrated the event that took place fifty years ago. A number of their relatives and friends called upon them in their home at Tremont, and spent a most enjoyable evening celebrating the fiftieth anniversary.

A delectable supper was served, after which host, hostess and friends enjoyed a delightful evening in conversation, story telling and the review of the years that have flitted by.

Before leaving, the friends, presented Mr. and Mrs. Banks with a sum of money accompanied by all good wishes.

Mr. Banks is well and favorably known throughout the Valley and other parts of the province. He is now a pensioned teacher, has a faithful fully taught school for a period of thirty years. He taught in Digby, Lawrencetown, and several places in Kings County.

After completing his successful career as an educator, Mr. Banks and his wife settled down in their present farm home in Tremont.

The Outlook joins Mr. and Mrs. Banks' many friends in extending felicitations.

Mrs. Jiggins who was reading a newspaper, observed to her husband that the journal contained an article entitled "Women's Work for the Feeble Minded."

Now Mr. Jiggins was in a reactionary mood. So he grunted and said: "I should like to know what women have ever done for the feeble minded."

"They usually marry them, my dear," replied Mrs. Jiggins sweetly.

KINGSTON COMMUNITY CLUB

On Monday evening there took place in the Kingston Methodist Church, the closing banquet of the Kingston Community Club.

It was without doubt the most successful of the good times held this year.

The Banquet Hall was very tastefully decorated with the suitable emblems of the blossom season, and these mingling with the other bright tints lent a decided charm to the hall.

The banquet itself left nothing to be desired and from all observations every one entered into the fullness of the occasion.

After the supper followed a list of very interesting toasts. The Toastmaster on this occasion being one of the Club's most interested members, Mr. Fitch Banks, who it may be said filled this position with much acceptance.

The list of toasts were as follows: The King proposed by Mr. Fitch Banks, responded to by Mr. A. H. Hilton and responded to by Mrs. S. Cropley, Our Club, proposed by Miss Margaret Marshall and responded to by Mr. C. C. Cleveland.

The Ladies, proposed by Mr. L. E. Distant, responded to by Miss Marion Smith. The Gentlemen, proposed by Miss Thelma Pierce, responded to by Mr. Frank Foster. The Kingston Orchestra, proposed by Miss Edna Ward and responded to by Mrs. S. C. Burgess. The Players, proposed by Mr. S. C. Burgess, responded to by Mr. Johnson.

The toasts were of a very fine order, bringing out the many latent powers of oratory that were lying dormant in these young minds. We cannot report this banquet without mentioning with success our Club have been in the words of the proposer, Mr. C. McKenna, was one which was born in sin and conceived in the basement. This important toast was responded to by Mr. L. E. Distant.

As has been intimated this banquet was the closing one in the life of the society for the year 1924-25. It has been a year filled to a large measure with success and many things have been attained which at the outset seemed impossible. The members have exhibited on all sides a very generous spirit of co-operation and the success of this club can only be ascribed to the spirit which has been so prominent during the past few months.

The list of guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hilton; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Burgess; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cropley; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McKenna; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Foster; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cleveland; Mrs. B. Barreux; Mrs. F. W. Warner; Mrs. A. C. Parlee; Mrs. H. Stronach; Miss Muriel Crawford; Miss Francis Burns; Miss Evelyn Sproule; Miss Luella Blackford; Miss Mary Lightner; Miss Anna Parlee; Miss Margaret Marshall; Miss Edna Ward; Miss Archibald; Miss Tupper; Miss Grace Warner; Miss D. Stronach; Miss Marie Power; Miss Vivian Power; Miss Margaret Oliver; Miss Alma Wheaton; Miss Sadie DeMont; Miss Ettridge Armstrong; Miss Thelma Pierce; Miss Greta Morse; Miss E. Nelson; Messrs. Hurley, Johnson, Sidney Burgess, Fitch Banks, L. E. Distant, Manning, Armstrong, George Crawford, Charles Crawford, Ronald Shay, E. Vail, W. Nelson, Freeman Hatt, Hartley Foster, Burpee McKenna.

Following this the evening closed with a programme of musical selections and readings. The Kingston Orchestra helped make this part of the evening a success.

Miss Edith Welton from East Margareville spent Sunday at home.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown from Providence, D. I., came home to attend the funeral of Mr. Brown's father, the late F. A. Brown.
Our community was saddened on Sunday morning, May 17th to hear that a much respected friend and neighbor, Mr. Fred A. Brown, had suddenly passed away at the age of 61 years. Mr. Brown was a good neighbor and was a general favorite with the children. He seemed to have the knack of drawing the children to him, and all were glad to see "Uncle Fred" coming. He leaves a widow and two sons, Harry of Providence, R. I. and Arthur of this place, also one brother, Israel, of Maplewood, Mass. The large gathering at the house showed the respect in which the deceased was held. The sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved family. "We shall miss him, but we shall miss him, there will be one vacant chair."

Mrs. Mary L. Sproule of Belknap Ridge came here to attend the funeral of her son-in-law, Mr. F. A. Brown. She is stopping for a short time with her daughter, Mrs. Brown.

Did you ever notice that a boy or man can sit on a stone four inches square for half a day waiting for the fish to bite, but can't sit on a sofa five minutes for a dollar? A man can sit on an inch board and talk politics for three hours, but put him into a comfortable church pew for forty minutes and he gets nervous, twists and turns and goes to sleep. A man can pouch his cheeks with tobacco and the juice running down his chin feels good; but a hair in the button simply knocks him out completely.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD

Eating a couple of biscuits when wakened at night will sometimes induce sleep when nothing else will. White marks on an oak table, caused by hot plates, can be removed by rubbing boiled linseed oil into them.

If a few drops of vinegar and olive oil are beaten up with mutton dripping, it can be used for baking purposes just as well as beef dripping. If a cake sticks to the baking-tin, wrap round the sides and over the bottom with a hot wet cloth, and in a few minutes the cake will come out easily.

The enamelled outside parts of a gas cooker can be kept in good condition by polishing them with furniture cream, after wiping clean with a damp cloth.

If lace curtains are frail and delicate, fold them in four and tuck them together before washing. They will not then become torn or damaged in any way.

Soak new household brushes in cold water, and dry thoroughly before using. They should not stand on their bristles, but should be hung up or rinsed.

Rub the sash cords of windows with melted grease, such as candle grease. This will help them to resist the strong summer sun that is apt to rot the strongest cord.

RHUBARB CREAM PUDDING

Dissolve one heaping tablespoon of powdered gelatine in half a cup of boiling water, add a cup of sugar, fold in two cups of whipped cream and stir until nearly stiff. Add one cup of stewed rhubarb, and three tablespoons of maraschino—Put into a wet mold, pack in salt and ice for several hours and serve, with chopped cherries sprinkled over the top.

ANGEL FOOD

2 egg whites.
1/2 cup powdered sugar.
1 1/2 cups cream.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1/2 teaspoon orange extract.
Beat egg whites and add sugar. Whip cream till stiff, add vanilla and orange extract. Combine mixtures, pour into moulds—empty baking pans will do—and bury in a mixture of salt and ice (four parts ice to one part salt) for three hours. Remove and cut in slices to serve.

CRANBERRY JELLY

One and one-half pints of water to every two quarts of the berries. Cook until the fruit is mushy and strain through a jelly bag. Measure the juice, bring it to a boil and for every cup of juice add one-half of a cupful of sugar. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, boil briskly for five minutes, then skim and pour into sterilized jelly glasses. When the jelly is cold cover with melted paraffin and set away in a dark, cool place.
This jelly makes even more appetizing dishes topped with plain whipped cream. Also, it may be used for many dainty desserts.

Canadian Power Defends Chinese Villagers

Now what on earth has power development at Shawinigan Falls got to do with Chinese village life? you ask. The answer is that it helps to protect Mr. Chinaman, Mrs. Chinaman and all the little Chinamen from bandits. Yes! It's a long cry from the waters of the St. Maurice Valley to the interior Chinese village, but there you are. And it came about thus. A harassed Chinese head-man driven to desperation and from his native village by band-men from the hills, came down to Hong Kong, or perhaps it was Shanghai, and down by the dockside saw men of his race working by night as if by day on the unloading of one of the giant Canadian Pacific Express steamships.

What wonderful things were these that could so defy the darkness? Chung Li drew closer, and saw that at intervals along the shed in which the stevedores were working much light came from little cans that glowed softly in the breeze.

Now everyone knows that electric lights are the invention of the white races to burn the eyes of Chinese babies and shorten the life of Chinese men. Therefore, as

Chinese men were working in the light, it could not be electric. Chung Li drew closer. If he could learn the secret of these bright, white lights what an honor would be his. He would place them round his village at night and no one could draw near without the knowledge of his men. He would confer with the other head-men of the district.

And so it came about that the Canada Carbide Company, which uses the power developed at Shawinigan Falls to fuse coke and lime into carbide, received an order for many flare lights. A deputation of the villagers made a long journey to Hong Kong to receive the shipment as it was discharged from the Empress of Russia, and returned, knowing that as long as the carbide hung out they were comparatively safe from the marauding bandits.

There you have the connection. Shawinigan Falls lighting a Chinese village and protecting it from bandits.

One hundred British farm families are due to reach British Columbia early next spring. These are the fore-runners of 3,000 families that are to come out to settle in Canada on the land. Provincial and British Government assistance is being given them to get started.

A remarkable statue modelled entirely in ice is to be seen at Quebec. It represents one of the latest or 2800-type locomotives of the Canadian Pacific Railway, about one-fourth full size and is perfect in every detail. Ice statuary has been brought to a fine art in the Ancient Capital.

Slaters from New York, Boston, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa will compete with Quebec champions in a great international amateur figure skating contest, to be held in Quebec city February 23-24, for handsome trophies and medals donated by the Frontenac Winter Sports Club. A record attendance of spectators is expected.

Skiing parties over the week-end are being conducted by the Laurentian Winter Club in different points in the Laurentian Mountains, the tours being superintended by a competent skier. To those remaining in Montreal for the Canadian business, he said, is the opening of the foreign markets to the grains of the past year.

That Canada is on the verge of a trade boom which may last until the end of this year was the statement made in Toronto recently by Richard Conway, Vice-President of the Brookmire Forecasting Service of New York. The main factor responsible for the upswing of Canadian business, he said, is the opening of the foreign markets to the grains of the past year.

Federal control of United States railroads, adopted as a war measure during the period December 31, 1917, February 29, 1920, cost the country $1,074,500,000, of which $1,123,500,000 was total loss, $636,000,000 estimated expenses and $15,900,000 was required to reimburse small deficit roads, according to James C. Davis, Director General of Railroads, who has just submitted his annual report.

Remarkable absence of timidity is being shown by wild animals in the neighborhood of Banff, Alberta, it is reported, as a result of kindly treatment. Heavy snows recently brought elk and deer into the main part of the town, where a parade by these animals is not an uncommon sight. They make the rounds of the houses, looking for tit-bits, which are not denied them. One big elk, with a magnificent set of antlers, is as regular on his schedule of calls as the milkman.

The most recent addition to the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia fleet of 28 passenger ships, freighters, barges, ferries and tugs is the British Admiralty Rescue type tug, "St. Florence," which will leave Glasgow at an early date to make the 8,500 mile journey to Victoria under her own steam via the Panama Canal. She will be one of the largest towing tugs in Pacific coast waters and is capable of towing the biggest liners making use of ports in that ocean.

Desirable Immigrants

As Singapore is in the Straits Settlements, one would expect to see Malayans, Chinese, and the town is a Chinese town. The underlying political situation is that the Chinese Merchants of the wealthy class are anxious to gain power and overturn the British control of the peninsula. Britain, of course, knows this, and acts accordingly. The Chinese population is industrious and bothersome. Indeed they are well-received by the government as the best of immigrants.

The narrow Chinese streets are full of traffic and of evening industry. Sitting in the open shop fronts, still working at nine o'clock are print makers, wicker chair makers, shopmen, four or five to a shop, perhaps more here is a crowded push cart way, lined with push cart affairs, and tables, where all sorts of Chinese food is for sale, in pans, and flat receptacles, behind is the charcoal fire at the gutter. We proceed along this high way and see a group gathered about a small table, where a Chinese grin, the singer vociferates. I draw nearer to see him. Squash! Down goes a fresh white stuff into a two foot gutter running with dirty water. The white shoes and legs emerge wet and black. The Chinese grin excitedly. Thus I acquire attention and fame for a half block. Such disaster is wrought of Chinese music.

Hill Climbing in Hong Kong

Hong Kong is pitted on the side of two green mountains so that the hills by the Park Tramway. This is the most satisfactory engine for residents must reach their homes on the hills by the Park Tramway. This is the most satisfactory engine for residents must reach their homes on the hills by the Park Tramway. This is the most satisfactory engine for residents must reach their homes on the hills by the Park Tramway.

A Chinese Delicatessen Store
Behind the arcades of the side-walks, with square pillars and round arches, sink into the darkness the square recesses of the open fronts of Chinese shops. At night the electric light shows up the interior, but the feeble light of day shows little more than the slinking shadows of two or three brown Chinese bodies. The food shops are hung above a front partition with various meats. Highest hangs a row of well-oiled ducks, their heads curled above, back and all. Below are brown strips of pork, hanging in rows, and links of continuous sausages as of interrupted sausages. From them peer out square chunks of fat, through the transparent skin, which encloses, one fears, real dogmeat. Strung on a stick hanging high above the sidewalk is a galaxy of fifteen chicken legs, hanging separately each with its own spilt, like miniature hams. Rubbery bits, such as cooked livers hang where room is given. These with other viands give the front of the shop something the appearance of a clothes horse, hung with various kinds of brown and savory meats, especially pork, the standard meat food of the Chinese. Indeed Mr. Kok tells me of a wonderful feast prepared for him by a poor Chinese host. So varied and numerous were the dishes that the size of the meal was remarked on. The mystery was solved at the end of the dinner by the relating of a domestic tragedy of the day before: the family pig had died!

Other stores are treated with piles of dried fish, dried leaves, twigs, charcoal and baskets of dove's eggs. Particularly catching to the eye are the baskets filled with the black and white of duck eggs half covered with the black earth which has been their resting place for several years!

The Weather

The weather man has a sinécure. He needs only to post one permanent bulletin, RAIN. Hong Kong has a peculiarly damp atmosphere. It gives one the illusion of being both hot and cold at the same time. Perspiration runs everywhere and makes the clothing wet, while chill breezes make one most uncomfortable. But stay, the weather man does not get off too easily after all. When the typhoons come he must be "on the job."

A missionary in Yunnan.

Junk Life

If you are disappointed with Venice and bored with Florence, come to China. The Chinese Junk is all that you hope and more so, or should one say, all that you fear! These great heavy wooden craft, with their clumsy appearance can move very smartly through the water. They are the permanent homes of simple folk, so poor that in many cases the sails are literally in tatters. The food may be cooked in a fireplace on the deck. Chickens and ducks peck about the narrow quarters and children and babies play and sleep about the sloping wet decks, indifferent to the water that is everywhere. One would not be surprised to see one slipping over into the water at any moment, and indeed that must sometimes happen in these slippery homes.

Sidewalk Confusion

Surely a newborn baby must feel somewhat like this when confronted with the multimodal perplexities of his new world. No time to look here, lest we see not what is there. A strange thing that, but what is this? Everywhere something unseemly, some new problem for consciousness, some new appeal to the senses. Rickshaw coolies, round wide hats, waterproof Chinese umbrellas, firecrackers snapping, a food vendor plucking two ducks on the sidewalk, a Chinese orchestra above somewhere, like a dozen men beating dishes, a litter borne by two, a lady in blue silk skirt voraciously dispatching with a richshaw man. Unknown fruits in display, little girls with babies strapped to their backs, babies playing everywhere, mostly with running sore on their heads. Half-naked beggar boys sleeping on the sidewalk, one woman with carrying bamboo bearing heavy burdens hung across their shoulders. One wipes a Chinese hair from one's eyes and takes a long breath.

Here's the way an American contemporary sizes up the need situation: "What this country needs is not a new birth of freedom, but the old-fashioned two-dollar birth. What this country needs is liberty, but less people who take liberties with our property. What this country needs isn't a job for every man, but a real man for every job. What this country needs isn't to get more taxes from the people, but for the people to get more from the taxes. What this country needs is not more miles of territory, but more miles to the gallon. What this country needs is more point on the old places and less point on the young faces. What this country needs is a lower rate of interest on money, but a higher interest in work."

The Bingham Ferry that meets all the Autos

Toten Poles at Stanley Park, Vancouver.

Have you ever heard of Clo-ose? Appearances may be against it, but it is not a typographical error; neither is it a bird-call, nor Chinese for chewing-gum. It is, as a matter of fact, a thriving town on Vancouver Island, rapidly becoming famous for its salmon, shooting and scenery, and as one of the most interesting spots on the coast of British Columbia.

This coast is yearly becoming more popular with tourists from the South, California, Seattle, etc. Eastern Canada and practically everywhere else. But that detached portion of the coast, known as Vancouver Island is especially attractive. It possesses beauty of a mountainous, rugged, arboreal type, excellent in magnificence only by the Rocky Mountains and unexcelled anywhere for its hunting and fishing. Incidentally, too, the island is traversed by paved, winding highways, which are a delight to motorists and a credit to the Provincial Highway Department. Indians (who have become so used to tourists, they no longer scalp them) inhabit most of the villages which are scattered along the Coast. They have not, however, entirely abandoned the practice of scalping, but nowadays they confine their activities in this respect to salmon, herring, whales and similar trifles. They (the Indians not the whales), are a thrifty, sober, industrious people engaged for the most part in catching fish and canning them in the local factories.

The island is reached by means of a ferry-boat—"The Motor Princess"—operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway between Bellingham, on the mainland and Sidney, on the island. This ferry is especially adapted to the transportation of automobiles and enables the tourist to run his car straight off the mainland highway, across the Gulf of Georgia and on to the island highway, which he can follow south to

Part of Coast of British Columbia showing route of auto ferry boats between Vancouver Island and the mainland. It is an extremely pleasant trip, full of interesting out-of-the-ordinary sights and anybody who has toured British Columbia without visiting Vancouver Island and Clo-ose—ought to tour it again and correct a most unfortunate omission.

The One Sure Way To Good Health

IS KEEPING THE BLOOD PURE BY USING DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

Impure, weak blood is the cause of most of the troubles that afflict people. This is the cause of the weakness, feeling of languor and faintness, pains in the back and side, headaches and breathlessness, that afflict women and make her daily life a torture. To get new health and strength the blood must be enriched. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do in cases of this kind is told by Mrs. Augusta Emery, Woodford Station, Ont., who says:—"Living on the prairie, and knowing that there are thousands of women like myself away from a doctor, I want to tell them what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. After my first baby was born I seemed to have little energy. I felt weary and run-down and unable to do even the ordinary household duties. I felt I needed a tonic and as I had long seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised I decided to try them. I got a supply and carefully followed the directions and before very long the result was wonderful. Day by day I regained my former strength and energy. The pills seemed to give me a keen appetite and I gained in weight and soon was able not only to do my work about the house but to help with many chores on the farm. For this reason I would advise women, particularly those on the prairie or the farm, to keep a supply of these pills always on hand. One trial will convince you of their worth. I have recommended them to many of my friends and never have failed to produce good results. You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Apple Orchards in Full Bloom

By F. G. J. COMEAU

One of the rarest sights to be seen in Nova Scotia is without doubt the Apple Orchards of the Annapolis Valley in full bloom, which this year will be between June 1st and 10th.

When it is recalled that the Apple Orchards of this Province exceed in acreage quantity and crop results by nearly 400,000 barrels, all the other orchards of Canada combined, one can well form a good idea of the immensity of this great Flower Garden. Thirty-five thousand acres of Apple Orchards in full bloom is what will greet the eyes of those who make the trip through the Annapolis, Cornwallis and Gasperaux Valleys during Blossom Week.

The great Apple Land of Nova Scotia contains within its bounds the beautiful towns of Wolfville, Kentville, Hantsport, Windsor, Berwick, Middleton, Bridgetown and Annapolis all of which are progressive towns, and assist very materially in making the Orchard business what it is today, namely—one of the best businesses in Eastern Canada.

We read of the efforts made on the Pacific Coast to attract travel to the Wenatchee Valley, an Orchard district in Washington State, turning Blossom Week into a week of sport, where pyrotechnic displays are used in addition to the Blossom attractions to draw a draw. Even this is not sufficient and on two nights during Blossom Week a carnival is put on, when every clock in the Apple Capital of the State is allowed to stand still, and the streets are thrown wide open to dancing to the music of many orchestras while carnival events last well into the "wee small hours."

In Nova Scotia there is no need of such spectacular attractions. The Apple Blossoms themselves are sufficient to draw crowds from all corners of the Maritime Provinces, from New England and from Lower and Upper Canada.

There is no wonder in the fact that so many people visit the Annapolis Valley on this particular occasion, when nature dons its best garments and adorns itself with the best perfume flowers that myriads of trees can produce. There are trees of all ages bearing varieties of Apples of all kinds of commercial values. Here, too, can be seen which were planted two months ago and again trees which have been bearing for up to 100 years and some of them are now yielding a crop of 25 to 30 barrels in one year and you can see on such a tree, multiply this by nearly two million trees, 50th small and large, bearing blossoms, you have before you a moving picture reel such as only the Master Maker can produce.

In the Venetian style of the display put on as a special feature this year was "The History of the Apple." This has been repeated, an absolutely unique specially designed feature in the grand closing climax of the display. The history of the Apple in four immense pyrotechnic tableaux. The first scene was intended to show the apple figures in the story of our original ancestors. Eve was shown offering the apple to Adam, while in the background the city serpent swung its coils of knowledge.

The second scene showed Hercules' search for the Golden Apples of Juno in the Garden of the Fair Hesperides, when he faced the dragon who was guarding the Golden Apples. The third scene showed the old Greek legend of the "Magic Apples of Venus." The fourth scene depicted the Apple Tree of Wenatchee.

Anyone leaving Halifax by the Dominion Atlantic train and enjoying the pleasant and comfortable trip through the Annapolis Valley particularly between Windsor and Annapolis, a distance of over 80 miles, can enjoy the beauties of the Apple Orchards such as an other part of the America Continent can produce. The history of the Apple as just on by the Venetian style of the display, a special feature of the display, a special feature of the display, a special feature of the display.

MANY TOWNS PREPARING TO SHOW VISITORS THE BEAUTIES OF THE BLOSSOM

Many towns in the Valley are making special arrangements for visitors who come to see the beauties of the Valley when the blossoms are in bloom.

There is no time in all the year that the Valley presents a sight anywhere equal to the luxuriant beauties at Apple Blossom time. With the trees in full bloom a wonderful sight awaits the visitor who cannot help marvel at all the beauty.

Middleton and the surrounding towns must be in a position to see that all visitors are given an opportunity to gaze upon the splendors at this season of the year.

If you have visitors during Apple Blossom time be sure that they are taken for a ride through the different orchards.

Many of the trees are in full bloom now, and in the course of a few days the whole Valley should be arrayed in its most picturesque decorations. Tourists who have never witnessed the Apple Blossom sight will have a rare treat; and it is anticipated that the Valley will have more visitors this year than ever before.

WELCOME TO ALL VISITORS.

TENNIS COURTS ALL READY

The tennis club have their courts all ready for the season's play.

The courts have been carefully prepared and are as fine as any person could wish to play on.

The club anticipates a bumper season this year, as each successive year it has added to the membership.

Any persons who have not joined the club, and desire to play this year should get their card from the secretary at once.

It is the intention of the officers to make the club go over the top this year, and they are sparing no efforts to produce this result. Line-up with the Tennis Club, and you will be assured of a pleasant season of enjoyable exercise.

J. MURRAY LAWSON DIES AT HIS YARMOUTH HOME

The death took place at Yarmouth on May 27th of J. Murray Lawson, editor and proprietor of the Yarmouth Herald and Telegram. Mr. Lawson was seventy-seven years and four months of age. He had been ill for several months from heart trouble, but with his remarkable energy, conducted the affairs of his paper until four weeks ago.

Mr. Lawson was born in Yarmouth and was the son of the late Alexander Lawson, who came to Yarmouth in 1833, and established "The Herald" and who so successfully carried on that publication until his death in 1896. As a youth, Mr. Lawson entered his father's employ and worked first at the case and press, and later took over the business end of the paper, assuming at the death of his father the proprietorship of the paper, which he retained with marked ability.

Diamond Battery Company of Canada, Limited

ST. JOHN

MANUFACTURERS OF AUTOMOBILE AND RADIO BATTERIES, also FLASHLIGHT, DOORBELL, BELL, AND OTHER BATTERIES.

Every motor car you pass on the road is earning big dividends for someone—in many cases fabulous dividends.

Some years ago a certain man of vision—but of modest means—borrowed $300 from his friends and put it into the Prest-O-Lite Company at its BEGINNING. Since then he has received enormous dividends, has added to his original investment, and—so the story goes—recently refused $1,800,000 for his holdings.

The following table shows some of the wonderful things that have been accomplished in the automobile business with an investment of even one hundred dollars:

Invested	Enterprise	Returns
$100	Ford Motor	$312,000
$100	Prestolite	56,000
$100	Reo	38,000
$100	Chevrollet	26,000
$100	Goodyear Tire	25,000
$100	Delco	21,000

This new business offers a remarkable investment opportunity. For prospectus and full information apply to SALES MANAGER, care of THE OUTLOOK.

NEW MARITIME INDUSTRY WITH A WONDERFUL FUTURE

In these days of struggle for Maritime Rights it is most encouraging to find new industries establishing in our midst, and to learn that a new battery company have chosen Saint John as their headquarters.

This company, the Diamond Battery Company of Canada Ltd., have taken over the Ford Plant located at Glen Falls just outside the city of St. John and will manufacture electric storage batteries of all kinds, operating under the Norman D. Sturges patents under which the Multiple Battery Corporation of New York City have been manufacturing batteries of all kinds for the past twenty years.

These patents include Automobile, electric vehicle, farm machinery, railway signal, Radio batteries, wet and dry, also all kinds of dry cell flash light and telephone batteries.

The Diamond Battery Company is the sole owner of the patents, formulae, etc. of these celebrated batteries and also controls the manufacturing and distributing rights for the whole of Canada. This battery has been on the Canadian market since 1919 and is well and favorably known from Montreal to Vancouver.

To give some idea of the extent of the battery business today, we need only to consider two phases, automobile and radio. In Canada, radio has increased from less than 800 sets in use in 1922, to approximately 600,000 today, with a daily weekly increase that is astounding. These batteries need constant renewing.

It is further estimated that we have in Canada almost three quarters of a million cars and trucks, and that at least one third of these require new batteries each year. These batteries are used exclusively by the Curtis Aeroplane Corporation, and are specified by the Air Service of the United States Government.

BOOTLEGGING IS DESCRIBED AS NEW AMERICAN INDUSTRY

The Mail and Empire recently published the following despatch from New York:

"Bootlegging immigrants is the new American industry. It has taken its place with the bootleggers of liquor and of narcotic drugs in the extent of its own operations and seems fairly on the way to rivaling them in the amounts of money involved. More than sixty thousands of dollars were smuggled into the United States during the last six months of last year. Unless the traffic suddenly and unaccountably slackens, at least 125,000 and perhaps 150,000 will have been smuggled in during the first full year of the immigration act of 1924, which ends June 30th next, and the international ringle, which conduct it, will have pocketed more than $30,000,000 in fees.

ENDURING HARDSHIPS

Julien Street describes the way Theodore Roosevelt taught his children the motto, "Always over or through, never around," which made them "good soldiers." When he was governor he would start on a walk with Mrs. Roosevelt and the children, and they would understand that ultimately some physical test would be met. The walk would call for sustained effort in the face of fatigue; to cross a difficult field or to ford a brook at a treacherous spot, or go through a deep ravine with tangled underbrush.

ing the children that life presents similar obstacles and that "it is the part of good manhood and good womanhood to meet them squarely and surmount them going through or over, but never around."

Thus early they began to learn lessons in "resourcefulness, perseverance, courage, stoicism, and disregard of danger." The latter was often met. They once came to an almost perpendicular clay bank, very difficult to ascend. All succeeded except Alice, then a girl of sixteen, who had reached the top but could not get down. Elton Hooker, a family friend, had accompanied them. He climbed a tree and grasping a piece of slate on the bank he made a bridge with his arm.

When Alice stepped on the arm the piece of slate gave way and fell to the bottom of the precipice but she caught a limb and held on until Mr. Hooker rescued her and brought her safely down. They then discovered that the mass of slate had struck Mr. Roosevelt on the head and made a cut from forehead to ear which caused the surgeon to take a dozen stitches; but there was no complaint.
