Lord Herschell, in returning thanks for the hearty manner in which his name had been toasted, said: "Allusion has been made to the state of feeling which most happily exists between your country and mine. Nothing could be to me a greater personal joy than to see this bond drawn still closer. I join most heartily in the belief that nothing would augur more for the peace of the world and the highest interests of humanity than the closer unity heart and action between the two English-speaking nations. I am not speaking now of paper alliances, but of a true and deep-rooted alliance for the good of humanity, which humanity has hardly dreamt. It is with the deepest satisfaction that I enter upon my duties upon this commission which I have been appointed. can do anything toward bringing about a closer union between America and Great Britain, I shall have contributed to one of the great and most potent events in history for the lasting good of humanity." "Spain will abandon the Philippine archipelago under conditions," he says. etary. The Spaniards have decided to refuse all propositions which involved the payment alone of the Philippines debt by the United States. They say that if the Americans will not consider their well-founded rights they should at least offer a sum commensurate with the value of the archipelago." Nevertheless there is a cordial good feeling, and the impression prevails that at the next session on Tuesday, amended propositions will be made, which will go a long way toward an early settlement. The Spaniards are hoping that after the elections, in the event of republican success, there will be a more liberal spirit on the part of the Americans, and that a better bargain can then be made.

Wonderland Building in Detroit.

Thirty-Five Men Buried in the Ruins, Eleven Dead Bodies Found-Many Injured.

Detroit, Nov. 7.-Shortly before 2 O'clock Saturday afternoon the entire interior iron framework, girders, roof supports, etc., of the new Wonderland building, corner of the Campus Martius and Monroe avenue, fell in without the slightest warning, crashing in a confused mass from one story to another, most of it reaching the ground level.

four masons, ten plumbers and gasfitters, two electricians and two helpers, four painters and six laborers. Nearly every workman was carried body. Death was instantaneous. The down into the theater pit. The front man was 45 years of age and had been wall of the building remained intact, in the employ of the company about but the east side wall bulged and threatened to fall. Notwithstanding the latter danger, the work of rescuing are injured and taking the dead out was rushed, and good progress was made until 5:15, when the upper portion of the east wall fell, a shower of bricks striking around the crowd of laborers, officers and newspaper men, extinguishing the temporary electric lights and causing a stampede for the street. Fortunately none of those who were struck by the second downfall were seriously injured. When the second crash occurthe debris.

THE DEAD-

The dead are: August Sallach, la-borer; Geo. W. White, tinner; Theo. Mertens, laborer; Martin Shafer, painter; Cornelius McArron, lather; Peter Peifio, carpenter; Frank Wolf, tinner; James Gegershke, lather; August Janeschwoski, laborer; John Schresiski, laborer, and Max Pott. THE INJURED.

Twenty workmen were injured, of whom two will probably dia Five others are missing. The cause of the Five catastrophe has not yet been definitely settled. All the injured at the hospitals are today reported improving, except Edward Fisher, who is expected to die. A mass meeting of reported to die. resentative citizens was held yesterday in the mayer's office, and over $1,000 was subscribed for the relief of the families of those who were killed, The loss on the property was estimated today for the first time. It is believed that $102,000 will entirely cover it.

A SURVIVOR'S EXPERIENCE. Edward Hepke, of 139 Sixth street, who was working on the floor next to the roof, gives a graphic account of his experience:

sink at once," he said. "There was not a sound until I realized that it was going. I fell about 40 feet, and landed to say, am not much hurt. From what I could see when the crash came, I think there must be a dozen I think there must be a dozen or more of the poor fellows killed, and the Lord only knows how many hurt. I could see the poor fellows falling all around me, many of them with masses of iron on top of them. I think a lot of them who were struck by the iron work from above never knew what hurt them.'

The work of taking out the dead, wounded and imprisoned men proceeded very rapidly, after it was inaugurated. In less than 20 minutes eight or ten had been removed, and loaded into the ambulances, all of which were promptly on the scene. Of this number six were dead. Most of the bodies were brought down the ladders from the fourth and fifth stories by the firemen. They were pinned in among the girders and rods, which had lodged in all sorts of positions. Wm. Streeter, a painter, walked out of the building from the ground floor, having extri-cated himself. Blood was pouring over his clothing from gashes about the head and face, and he presented a horrible spectacle. He was about fainting when several men sprang to his Employers Agree to Consider Demands and They Resume Work-The G. T. R. Telegraphers.

Zanesville, Nov. 7.-A short-lived strike occurred at the American encaustic tile works. Two hundred girls became dissatisfied with the wages they were receiving, and made an organized demand for a uniform increase of 50 cents a week. The officers of the company did not become angry and seek to force their employes to submit to the present scale, but asked the girls to return to work, and said that the matter would be taken up and increases of wages given where the work of the parties justified it. This was received satisfactorily by the employes, and they returned to work, and will continue until the matter is settled. The girls have been receiving from $3 to $5 a week.

Water practically destroy-ed the great collection of law reference books. The library contained about 20,-000 volumes. The most serious damage in the opinion of the justices of the supreme court is to the records stored in the sub-basement. These included all of the records of the supreme court from 1792 to 1832. The loss will reach probably $200,000 to the building. The oss on the library and records can scarcely be estimated in dollars and cents. One million dollars could not replace them, because many of them have no duplicates in existence.

MAJOR WALSH'S REPORT

His Ideas of How the Yukon Should Be Governed.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.-The report of Major Walsh on his year's administration of the Yukon, was issued Saturday. There are no recommendations in it regarding the royalty. The matter is dismissed with a paragraph stating that the miners considered it a severe tax, and they expressed hope that next year would see it removed. For the future government of the Yukon, he recommends the appointment of a council to consist of a commissioner and four appointed and four elected members, the appointed members to be selected from the population of the district, and the elected members to be returned from the districts of Dawson, Stewart River, Pelley River and Hootalingua River, He asks that a census be taken of the British subjects in the district and that none but these will be eligible to vote for the four representatives. Major Walsh does not see any objection to the officers of the government holding claims, and says that no difficulties had arisen from officers holding claims in the Yukon previous to 1897, and that there were not likely to follow Church any now. As for himself, he would manuel rather buy claims than prospect and stake them. It would be cheaper in the end. He speaks of the wealth of the and regrets that the defeat of the Stikine and Teslin Lake Railway of driving away the trade of the Yu-kon from Canada to the United States. THE STREET RAILWAY STRIKE

To the Editor of The Advertiser: We are today face to face with the problem of capital vs. labor, or, in other words, oppression against justice. The street railway magnates have a franchise to run their cars in this city under certain rules and regulations as laid down in a bylaw passed by our city council, but we find that on every possible occasion they have attempted to evade the law, and run things to suit themselves. Are the people of this city going to submit to the dictates of these foreigners who have come amongst us to do business? Every right-thinking person will at once say, "No." As long as they wish to do it legitimately there is no objection, but when they attempt to frown down our laws, as they are doing today, it is high time to call a halt. Insubordination of our laws constitutes the very essence of evil, the element which superinduces crime. Why should those people ask for po-lice protection in order that they may break the law as laid down in their franchise? The working classes today have a real, a large and a vital part to perform in securing that distribution of the product of industry, which shall promote the highest development of the industrial organism, and at the same time minister to the bealth and strength of each part and member. The laborer's penury, however, first induced, his fear of losing employment, his distrust of his fellow-man, always afford a better leverage for the exertion of the master's force, until the normal results of an extended course of economic pressure, to which the laboring population is unable adequately to respond, is found in the reduction of that population to the meanest grade of subsistence, corresponding to the lowest grade of industrial efficiency to which a populawas remarkable, and at times he land- tion, thus subsisted, must inevitably come through the impairment of physical force, the loss of hopefulness, self-respect, and social ambition, and we must therefore only expect a depressed state of industry and a de-graded citizenship.

It is the plea of despots that they cannot remit impositions, redress wrongs or promote reforms without awakening dangerous aspirations in their subjects and provoking them to ever-increasing demands. To no such slavish dread of doing wight are free nations subjected. It is the glorious privilege of governments of the people, by the people, for the people, that they derive only strength and added stability from every act honestly and prudently conceived, to promote the public welfare. Where such is the case every real and serious cause of complaint which is removed becomes a fresh occasion for loyalty, gratitude and devotion.

Now, what loyalty should the men have for the street railway company, a company that oppresses them on every possible occasion? Just imagine a man with five of six of a family getting $22 75 a month to keep them. In the first place, his rent will be $8 a month; shoes, at least $4, and bread $6, leaving him the munificent sum $4 75 to pay for fuel, light and clothes, and then only eat dry bread—no tea, no sugar, no butter, no meat, but simply bread.

Manager Carr, who gets his $10 a day, denies the men a hearing, and his statements concerning the trouble are vague and uncertain. One day he says there is no difference between him and the men, and the next he admits there is a grievance, and that he will take the men in one by one and put them in the sweat box and ask them to sign agreements depriving them of their natural rights as a free people. man who would demean himself by asking others to work for less than $1 a day is not capable of any other feeling than the brute who whips a poor dumb animal after performing a hard day's work in order to procure for him the necessaries of life. Aristotle has laid it down as a maxim that "a wise action lies in the mean between the two extremes of too little and too much." The directors of the street railway are standing in their own light as long as they maintain a man like Mr. Carr to manage their affairs any longer in this city. He has shown himself to be incapable of the natural qualifications of having in charge the management of human beings. If there is one thing a man needs more than another in the governing of others, it is common sense. A man may be born with a silver spoon in his mouth, but he should remember that the spoon may get lost. He may start in a man-sion and end in a poorhouse. If he had common sense as a birthright he would have done better. Nearly every victory depends on wise reckoning, of putting two and two together, and bringing out right results. Without common sense a man will be constantly running his head against the wall. It is pure cant and cowardice for a corporation to throw the blame of a self-inflicted injustice off its own shoulders. Better far would it be to bear the burden, accept its lesson and in the future shun its cause. Now, in the face of all this injustice which those men now on strike have been subjected to, all right-thinking people must look down on the hoodlum element developed in our midst during the last few days. We are all proud to see the noble stand taken by the men, but it cannot be said of them that they are guilty of any overt act in connection with the destroying of public property. There is in every com-munity a certain class of persons whose may exercise the degrading part of everything they fancy, on the plea of helping the men on strike. There is where the folly is committed. They are only doing an injustice to the men in order to satisfy their own villainy. Therefore, let every law-abiding citizen frown down such actions, and assist by every means in putting down this mode of warfare, which should not be allowed in any civilized country.

The differences could be easily settled if coolness were displayed on both sides, and it is a very easy matter to submit all such differences to arbitration. The laboring man has himself to blame for a good many of the indignities forced upon him. If a professional man or capitalist runs for member of parliament, he will support such an one in preference to the man brought out in his own interests. What do they do when elected? They make laws not for the working classes, but for themselves. Take the doctor and the lawyer. Laws are made by which their fees are regulated, and we are compelled to pay their demands. Now, they will tell you they cannot regulate the wages of the laboring classes, because one man may be better skilled than another, and, therefore, should receive better remuneration for his services than the unskilled. Is that not all rot? There are doctors and lawyers throughout the country who could no more do justice to a case that may be given them than they could fly in the air; yet they have the same legal status to collect their fee as the intelligent and capable man. This question will be dealt with in another article. In the meantime, let the workingmen stand shoulder to shoulder in defense of their right, and show those who desire to oppress them that they have not yet lost their manhood and become the cringing curs, of which you will always find a number in a time like this, who will fawn on the capitalist and become the lick-spit-tal of their despotism. As the matter has now assumed a legal aspect by being brought before our courts, we should discountenance every act of violence, no matter by whom committed. If you do not, you are only playing into the hands of the company, and you will lose the good-will of your law-abiding fellow-citizens. The police are able to cope with the rowdy element, and if they are not in sufficient number, then it is an easy matter to call on others to assist them If they see the company breaking the bylaw, let them likewise do their duty, and the whole matter will finally adjus itself, and there be better feeling than ever between the men and the com-JAMES DONNELLY, pany.

His Life Was Saved. Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hard-ened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble 50 cents and $1, at any drug store; every bottle guaranteed

Attempt to Consolidate Two Big Railways.

Gross Earnings of American Railways From Freight Are the Same as Running Expenses.

Round trip rate for Thanksgiving has been agreed to. The rate will be a fare and a third. All quarantine restrictions on business from the north to all points south have been removed.

An attempt is being made to con-solidate the Delaware and Hudson and the New York Central Railroads. There is now 1,400 railroad cars in the postal service of the German Government railways lighted by electric-

The Grand Trunk shows an increase in earnings for the week ending Oct. 31. Following are the comparative figures: 1898, $728,189; 1897, $726,957; increase, $1,232.

According to consular reports, the imperial Chinese railway is one of the greatest enterprises in Northern China. Already 320 miles of road have been constructed (80 miles of which are double track) and 125 are now under construction. From 8,000 to 12, 000 men are constantly employed, 42 of whom are foreigners. They have extensive shops at Tong Shan, where cars of all kinds are built.

The railroads of the United States now employ 850,000 persons and the average annual pay of each is $565. A few officials receive large salaries, but the 80,000 station men and truck repairers and the 70,000 switchmen, flagmen and watchmen all get small wages, though their pay is sure and their employment is, as a rule unin-terrupted. There are now 450 employes to every 100 miles of road, or 41/2 to ever mile.

The Rutland and Canadian Railroad bill has passed the Vermont Senate. The bill incorporates the Rutland and Canadian Railroad Company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, giving it the right to construct a road from Burlington to the Canadian line. The construction of this line will give the Vanderbilts a line from New York to Canada and the great lakes. The bill passed the Vermont house early in the week.

A record-breaking run was made last week by the Wabash Railway inspection party, Peru to St. Louis, the distance of 286 miles being made in 278 minutes, with two changes .of engines and one stop for water. Exclusive of sleeping cars, the United States railroads now have 1,325,000 cars of all kinds, or 37 cars to every locomotive, or 7 cars to every mile of road. Inclusive of sleeping cars, there are now 38,000 passenger, mail and express cars in use.

The New York Central and Hudson River Railway Company has finally decided to change the motive power of the entire system of roads running into the Grand Central Station through the long Park avenue tunnel, on the section between the Grand Central Station and the Harlem River. It intends by this means to remove every of discomfort from the trip through the tunnel, and make it instead a specially pleasing feature of a journey upon any of the roads in the system.

notice that its gravity road and the canal, which has been open since 1827, will be abandoned Jan. 1, 1899. About 1,000 men will be thrown out of employment, most of whom live in Carbondale. The cost of canal and gravity road has been since their construc tion about $10,000,000. The company has made a contract with the Erie to carry coal to its eastern markets. By so doing the company saves an important sum, as no reloading will

The gross earnings of American railvays from freight are substantially the same as the running expenses, says the Railway World. There are in this country at present nearly 200,000 miles of railways, and the operating expenses are about $800,000,000 a year. freight receipts are substantially the same-$800,000,000 a year. When times are good commercial operations are extensive, business is brisk and the demands for transportation facilities are many; the freight receipts of American railroads increase, and along with them the increases in the expenses of operation, which usually keep pace. When business interests keep pace. When business interests languish and freight receipts fall off there is usually a corresponding reduction in operating expenses, so it may be said that the running expenses of American railways generally are paid from freight receipts and the other items of revenue-passenger receipts chiefly and small receipts to a minor extent—pay the interest on bonds, the dividends and the profits, where there are any. These facts are substantially borne out by the last reports of some of the principal lines entering Chicago, particularly the lines from the east. The freight earnings of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern road last year amounted to $13, 734,282, and the operating expenses to $13,542,490. The Michigan Central's freight earnings were $9,412,461, against operating expenses of $10,065,896. The reports of the western lines show a somewhat large margin between the freight earnings and the operating expenses. The freight earnings of the Rock Island and Pacific Chicago, amounted to $13,835,995 and the operating expenses to $12,595,966. The Burington's freight earnings were $30, 543,640 and operating expenses $27,-810,886. The Chicago and Northwestern's earnings from freight amounted to $27,035,105 against operating expenses of $23,746,485.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood, and this the Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent will and does secure, a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and succeeds to deminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and succeeds to deminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid growing better and succeeds to deminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid growing better and succeeds to deminish the proving better and succeeds to deminish the found of the proving better and succeeds to deminish the proving better and the waste to succeed to deminish the proving better and the waste to see the principle to deminish the latest the proving better an rapid, and every day the patient will feel him-self growing better and stronger, the food di-gesting better, appetite improving and flesh

The following is a case where one bottle of the Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent changed the symptoms complained of, destroyed the idiosyneracy or desire, and stopped the discharge. This letter was written in October, 1907.

A Young Man's Experience.

"I will now tell you my symptoms. I am 22 years old; weight, 150 pounds; height, six feet; color of hair, dark brown; body and limbs long and slender; weakness of the whole body; head heavy and full of ringing noises; pains over the eyes; whites of the eyes yellow; skin dirty and greasy; yellow tongue, coated with white scurf; hawking and hemming to keep the throat clear of a tough, starchy phlegm; dots and other visions before the eyes; frightful dreams; nervousness; drowsiness; a desire to lie long in bed; in the morning dull, heavy feeling on arising from bed; bowels sometimes costive and sometimes regular; sometimes slimy discharges from the bowels; pimples on the skin; itch; bad taste in the mouth; a dislike for labor and female society; love of solitude; dull, heavy, stupid and drowsy confusion of the mind; pale, haggard countenance; nose bleeding; night sweats, desire to drink much water; poor appetite; horrible imaginations after retiring. It is eight years since I began the destructive habit, and I have suffered nearly ever since. I have been under treatment of seven doctors. I have not taken calomel, mercury or blue pills to my knowledge. I have stopped the habit, for since I have taken the Resolvent I have lost the desire. The change this remedy produced was wonderful. All the bad feelings disappeared as if by magle, My appetite returned, my spirits revived, and I feel anxious and ambitious to complete my daily labors. I take only half a teaspoonful of the resolvent three times a day, and one of Radway's Pills every night, and twice a week I rub the spine of my back with the Ready Relief. One bottle has made this wonderful change, but I think I had better continue it for a while. Yours truly, A. H.—D."

In the cases of severe weakness and all nervous affections, the application of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF to the spine is of great importance. It supplies the nervous system with electricity, and gives new life and vigorous strength to the perves. portance. It supplies the nervous system with electricity, and gives new life and vigorous strength to the nerves. London, Monday, Nov. 7, 1898.

The Street Railway Tie-Up. No settlement of the difficulty between the London Street Railway and the employes has been as yet effected. There ought, however, to be a better of settlement, now that Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore, the principal owners of the road, have come over from the United States, to look into matters for themselves.

They will not be long in London without discovering the strength and the employes. During the last fortmuch searching thought has been directed to the whole subject of the relations of the company and the and to the relation of the unfranchise now and hereafter, to the interests of the citizens. If we asked by the company for a containing a flavor of advice, we would be inclined to suggest this: "Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him."

We must compliment the men on the good sense and moderation of their conduct. If strike there must continue to be, let it be a moral strike-the most effective of all strikes. Let it be conducted, if it must continue-along lines of respect for law and order. We are convinced it will be so conducted.

A World-Wide Empire's Greatest Responsibilities.

In view of the all-embracing character of the British Empire, one is not astonished to find her statesmen most anxious to do everything in reason, short of imperiling imperial cohesion, to maintain peace with France and other rival nations throughout the world. The recent brush with the French Republic has recalled to our mind the remarkable deliverance of the late Right Hon. William E. Gladstone on the responsibilities of British statesmen, and of the people of Great Britain. In his first address to the electors of Midlothian, delivered in Edinburgh in November, 1879, Gladstone made the following weighty statements:

"This empire is an empire the daily calls of whose responsibilities task and overtask the energies of the ablest of her statesmen. There is not a country in the history of the world that has undertaken what we have undertaken; I say what we have undertaken, I do not mean what the present England in its traditional established policy and position has undertaken. There is no precedent in human history for a formation like the British Government. A small island at one extremity of the globe peoples the whole earth with its colonies; but it is not satisfied with that. It goes among the ancient races of Asia, and it subjects 240,000,000 to its rule there. Along intend to carry out what they have with all this, it disseminates over the world a commerce such as no imagination ever conceived in former times, and such as no poet ever painted. And all this it has to do with a strength that lies within the narrow limits these shores; not a strength that I disparage; on the contrary, I wish to dissipate, if I can, the idle dreams of those who are always telling you that the strength of England depends sometimes, they say, upon its prestige; sometimes they say upon its extending its empire, and upon what it possesses rushed to the front, in order to distract beyond these shores. Rely upon it, the strength of Great Britain and Ireland le within the United Kingdom. Whatever is to be done in defending and governing these vast colonies with their teeming millions, in protecting that unmeasured commerce relation to the enormous responsibilities of India-whatever is to be done must be done by the force derived from you and from your children; derived from you and your fellow-electors in the land; from you and the citizens of this country. And what are they? They are some three and thirty millions of persons; they are a population less than the population of France, awaited, as the French Government is less than the population of Austria, then expected to explain its intentions less than the population of Germany, less than the population of Russia, But the population of France, Austria, Germany and Russia find it quite hard enough to settle their own matters within their own limits. We have undertaken to settle the affairs of a fourth, or nearly a fourth, of the entire human race scattered over the world. * * I affirm, strive and labor as you will-I speak after the experience of a lifetime, of which a fair portion has been spent in office-strive and labor as you will, in Parliament, and in office, human strength and hu- LOOKING AFTER THE KHEDIVE. man thought are not equal to the discharge of the duties appeartaining to government in this great, wonderful, and world-wide empire."

These are momentous considerations which the British tribune brought to the minds of his fellow-countrymen, It is true that Canada and one or two British diplomatic ing something towards helping in the common defense of the great empire this has been accomplished, the empire has been taking on new responsibilities elsewhere. We purpose showing how the empire has expanded since the British Liberal leader addressed his fellow-citizens in the language quoted, In 1879 the British Empire embraced Great Britain and Ireland, the Isles of Man, Guernsey and Jersey, Gibraltar, Maltese Islands, Cyprus, Aden, Perim Island, Kuria-Muria Islands, Mauritius Island, Rodrigues Island, Seychelles and Amirante Praing meadow land was covered with

Islands, Chagos and Oil Islands, Ceylon, Maldive Islands, Empire of India, Straits Settlements, the protected Malay States, Labuan Island, North Borneo, Hong Kong, Kowloon Lema Islands, New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, Queensland, Western Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, Fiji Islands, Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, British Guiana, British Honduras, Bermuda Islande, Bahama Islands, Leeward Isl-Windward Islands, Jamaica, Turks and Caicos Islands, Barbadoes, Trinidad, Tobago, Ascension, St. Helena, Tristan D'Acunha, Falkland Islands, South Georgia, Cape Colony, Basutoland, Natal, Gold Coast Colony, Lagos, The Gambia, Sierra Leone, Walfisch Bay. This is how the British Empire stood in 1879, when Mr. Gladstone made his declaration. Since then, scarcely a year has passed in which some addition has not been made to the posessions of the empire. Among other places, we note the following additions to the British possessions recently made. Part of New Guinea and isles, Zululand, Rhodesia, British Central African Protectorate, East African Protectorate, Zanzibar and tectorate, and Socrorata Island. This list does not include Britain's new territory in China, which, by the logic of events from being a lease, may be resolved into a possessed sphere. It does not include the land of Egypt, though we believe that the British will remain in that historic land, and the empire.

in course of time connect their terri- tory to Germany; and Russia, it was tory in South and Central Africa with announced from Berlin on Saturday tory in South and Central Africa with the land of the Nile by the cementing influences of the railway, the telegraph, and the telephone. It is really the wonder of the agethis empire of which we are proud to form a part, and yet, as we in Canada know, the development of its resources is but in its infancy. One is not surprised to find a statesman with the far-seeing eye of Gladstone solicitous about its future, and anxious to have it so ruled that it would advance rather than retrograde, and that its people might have the highest degree of happiness attainable.

There is a confession in this address of the British Grand Old Man which shows most conclusively the bent of his mind, even at the time when he had not yet made up his mind to concede the rightfulness of home rule for the Irish people. The confession is here made that even twenty years ago, when the responsibilities of imperial statesmanship were not nearly so great as they are now, the Premier was compelled to admit that the cabinet was overworked, and that it could not adequately oversee the British Pembea, Royal Niger Company, Niger | possessions in every part of the world Coast Protectorate, Somali Coast Pro- | as they ought to be overseen. No wonder, when the opportunity presented itself, that Gladstone conceded that one way of taking away the clogging was to let the Irish people manage their purely local affairs, as we in Canada manage ours, without let or hindrance from the central power of battle and the families of the slain is an old story. Last week her Majesty performed one of those kindly acts which endear her to the army. Capt. THE KAISER'S TOUR.

Emperor William's gift of the abode of the Virgin Mary to the German Catholics was a very clever move, and has made a profound and favorable impression among the Catholics Germany. The remarks of the Centrist press clearly show this. The empress, during the whole of her trip to the Orient, has sent the Imperial children, from every new place, pictorial postal cards. When leaving Constantinople her majesty forgot to post them, and she caused the imperial yacht Hohenzollern to stop, and went ashore herself to carry out her promise. The excuse of the empress for the delay was: "I promised the children."

During the reception of the diplomatic corps the emperor conversed repeatedly with the members of the Greek legation, and said it would greatly please him if the attempts lately made to establish a lasting understanding between Turkey and Greece proved successful. Another remark attributed to Emperor William occasioned great surprise. He is reported to have said: "During the nine years since my last visit the decay of Turkey has advanced

BLOW TO DUELING.

A serious blow has been dealt to student dueling in Germany by the action of the senate of the University of Heidelberg, which has requested eight corps students, accused of challenging to fight duels, to leave the university for four college half-years. Unprecedented Naval Preparations Made by Britain.

London, Nov. 7 .- Henry Norman, in his first weekly London letter dwells at great length on the haste with which war preparations are being carried forward by England, despite the pacific utterances of Lord Salisbury at the banquet given to Gen. Kitchener on Friday evening. Mr. Norman says in part: "I have never known public opinion to be so perplexed as it has been during the past week. Everybody has been completely in the dark. Not a single newspaper has received official inspiration. Even Lord Rosebery, who broke a two years political silence to support Lord Salisbury, has been vouchsafed no information whatthe country is united. The puzzle is Why is England arming to the thie: teeth in hot haste, when it has been well known for a fortnight that the French Government would evacuate Fashoda unconditionally? "The presence of the channel squadron at Gibralter, ready for action, is an ominous sign. In spite of its name, this equadron has nothing to do with the channel. It is at Gibralter to prevent the union of the French northern squadron from Brest with the southern squadron at Toulon, the British strategy being to crush these separately. An emergency squadron has been formed from the coast-guard battleships Alexandria, Benbow, Collinggood, Colossus, Rodney, the port-guard battleships Howe, Nile, Sanparial, Underry and Trafalgar, and the training service battleships Conqueror and Hero. These twelve, with full crews, ammunition, coal and provisions aboard, are ready to put to sea, while the cruiser squadron, comprising the Terrible, Diadem, Niobe, Retribution, Blonde, Europa, Australia, Galatea, Melampus, Severn, St. George, Cres-of the evacuation of Fashoda was only up to a certain point,' repeating the phrase twice. Immediately after dinner I asked one of the three leading statesmen of this country, in the French press reproaches the 'How far does this take us?' He replied, 'Nowhere; it amounts to nothing at all.' The simple fact is that ALL MEAN? ing at all.' The simple fact is that the French could not stay at Fashoda. It is a pestilential swamp, swarming with huge and poisonous mosquitos. White men have to keep their hands and faces smeared with thick stuff. Even the black troops suffer severely. But the Bahr-el-Ghazal Province con tains large, healthy, fertile territories, while its inhabitants afford a magnificent recruiting ground. A traveler there has declared that Africa could be conquered by an army in Bahr-el-Ghazal. Here Marchand has establishunder the French flag.

"In view of the facts, that occupation one inconvenient station on a long route. If France were allowed to retain the road from Mere to Tambura she would have secured the vital portion of the original Egyptian territory, and would possess the means of cutting across the Cairo route, sending gunboats to the headwaters of the Nile, jeopardizing the security of Lower Egypt and joining hands with the ever, though it is his policy upon which | Abyssinians if these were ever hostile to England or Egypt. evident they are doing." Mr. Norman then reviews at length the comparative strength of the two navies, enumerates many French possessions throughout the world which Great Britain would at once take pessession of in case of war: says Russia, and he is convinced the latter country neither will nor can fight, and concludes his letter as follows:

HEAVEN-SENT OPPORTUNITY.

"To complete the survey, I must add that there is an influential party here, including several members of the cabinet, who strongly urge that the present is a heaven-sent opportunity for England to insure peace for years by destroying the greatest danger to the boats and no fewer than 24 torpedo British empire. There would be general peace if the French policy of harassing England all over the world with the defense of the channel, which were made impossible. It would be easy to induce or compel Russia to make a settlement of all outstanding which is never published. This is sup- disputes with Great Britain. Then a general reduction of armaments would pe possible. To my knowledge the admiral who would take chief command of the British navy in war has urgently advised the cabinet to order a complete mobilization. The country would support this action, for good-natured indifference in French hostile words and actions has given place to deep resentment and a desire to put a stop for good to this existing peril." WANT TO FIGHT FRANCE.

"'What is the sense,' Englishmen are asking themselves, 'of merely postponing a war until France can drag in health. It will be a loss of time and some other nation against us?' FRANCE HUMBLED.

Paris, Nov.7.-Anger, impotent anger, is the one passion felt here today. French pride has received a blow which will not easily or soon be forgotten. It is not the evacuation of Fashoda that is resented. It is the fact of England having insisted upon FASHODA UNIMPORTANT. an unconditional withdrawal. This is "Lord Salisbury especially emphasized; felt to be a humiliation. Everywhere his announcement that the settlement and by everybody the news is discussed with furious rage, yet what else could France do than recall Major Marchand?

Nobody except one or two of the most acrimoniously disposed writers government with having needlessly sacrificed the interests of the country the press, therefore, holds M. Delcasse responsible for the diplomatic check, which in reality actually incumbs upon his predecessor, although the Marchand expedition was organized while M. Delcasse was minister of the colonies.

A LESSON.

The Temps says: "No one could ask France, or, indeed, any nation, to forget the lesson given by this affair. She has seen a government, supposedly ed seven posts, with armed garrisons, friendly, and in possession from the beginning of assurances that she would win her cause, trying, not to make a of Fashoda, is seen to be wholly un-painful task easier, but to render it as important since that place is merely difficult and cruel as possible. She has witnessed, in time of peace, all the formidable preparations for war being pushed forward as threats. She has heard all parties and all statesmen, either in or out of office, rivaling one another in malevolence and undiplomatic language with regard to her. * * France had no design of sailing against adverse winds and tides. She only aimed to retain her dignity. The court of St. James made humiliating a step that might easily have been made acceptable. France acted in the world's interests in suppressing a cause war. The Fashoda affair will chill the relations between two enlightened nations.'

The Journal des Debats regards the subject in somewhat the same light. It argues that France cannot for present negotiate amicably with Eng-

WAR ONLY POSTPONED.

La Presse says England has obtained satisfaction et apres. This paper is evidently of the opinion that England, France would never fight England intoxicated with her triumph, is alsingle-handed; her only possible ally is ready seeking grounds for inflicting ready seeking grounds for inflicting further humiliations upon France. War, in fact, according to many, has not been avoided, but only postponed.

The Figaro declares that the humiliation of France is unprecedented since the war of 1870-71. "We leave Fashoda," the paper says, "with bleeding hearts and despair in our souls." M. Rochefort says in the Intran-signeant: "Now that Fashoda is gone, England will find another pretext for ENGLISHMEN ARE READY FOR A FIGHT.

Still another correspondent says: A majority of the people have been convinced that war between Great Britain and France is inevitable sooner or later, and many expressions of regret were heard today at the military and other clubs that the connict apparently is not to take place in the near future, as it is the general belief that the army and navy are in a perfect state of preparedness. The general feeling in the country is such as would indorse any warlike action upon the part of the government. In any case, work at the arsenals and dockyards actively and silently continues.

Salisbury's declaration on the subject of the withdrawal of the French mission from Fashoda made at the Mansion House banquet in honor of Lord Gen. Kitchener, is not regarded as being wholly satisfactory. The entire absence of any reference to the extraordinary naval preparations is considerably commented upon, and it is which the Marchand mission conjured up. It is recognized that the French promised; but a factor which must be reckoned with is the fact that there are influences at work in Paris which render the existence of any ministry precarious, and which might, at any moment, in the event of certain contingencies, PROVOKE A GENERAL UPHEAVAL In such an event the Fashoda business, which has been more or less carefully kept in the background, would be attention from other things, and be used as a rallying cry for all parties and classes of Frenchmen. The English papers point out that the evacuation of Fashoda is only an installment of the satisfaction expected by Great Britain, and that France has yet to swallow the pill of withdrawing from the Bahr-el-Ghazal region. FRENCH POSTS IN THE NILE VALLEY.

Under these circumstances the debate in the French Chamber of Deputies on Fashoda this week is eagerly regarding the remainder of the French posts in the Nile Valley as established by Major Marchand. In diplomatic circles a reassuring impression has been made by M. Dupuy's declaration that the French Government's policy will be based on well-understood interests, and that its efforts will be measured by the value of the objects in view. This is held to imply that the present government will show a conciliatory attitude on the remaining points in dispute.

The attitude of the Sultan of Turkey and the Khedive of Egypt on the Egyptian question is being closely watched, and it is said the British foreign office has received proofs of attempts upon the part of France to intrigue both of them against Great and they are nearly as applicable to the Britain. DETECTIVES DOG THE DUKE. The Duke of Orleans, now at Brussels, is being closely shadowed by French detectives, as the French Government has been warned that he is preparing for some important movement. Detectives are living at the same hotel as the duke, and they dog his footsteps, if he only crosses a corridor. Daily reports of his movements and the names of his visitors are sent to the French ministry of fustice. The activity of Prince Louis Napoleon, however, is causing more anxiety to the French Government. He is evidently awaiting an opportunity, and his chances are infinitely more favorable than those of the Duke of Orleans.

TRUE INWARDNESS OF EMPEROR WILLIAM'S TRIP.

CONCESSIONS TO GERMANY. A number of rumors as to the real objects of Emperor William's visit to Constantinople and the Holy Land have been in circulation ever since the intention of his majesty to visit the Orient was announced about a year ago. These alleged purposes included important railroad concessions to Germany, the ceding of territory in Syria to Germany for colonizing purposes, the ceding of the port of Hafia, in Palestine, the ceding of the Island of Rhodes to Germany, and the grant-ing to Germany of the right to plant large German colony along the whole frontier at Tripoli.

TO PREVENT FRENCH EN CROACHMENTS.

This last agreement, it was added, was intended to protect the sultan against French encroachments across the Tripoli-Tunis frontier, and would also avoid granting Germany a concession in Asia Minor, which, it is added, would induce Russia to demand compensation. On the other hand, it has been announced that some of the powers have notified Turkey that she

Tuesday's Voting in 42 States May Change the Complexion of the Senate.

Washington, Nov. 7 .- The control of the United States Senate will be determined very largely by the result of the election on Tuesday, when 23 states elect legislatures which will in turn elect senators. The present party strength in the senate is as follows: Republicans, 43; Democrats, 34; Populists, 6; Silver Republicans, 6. This gives a majority to no one party. The terms of 30 of the present senators are about to expire, and in most of these cases the legislatures chosen Tuesday will elect successors. In seven cases legislatures have been chosand senators selected. changes give a net gain of two in the Republican vote. The remaining 23 senators are yet to be chosen

The officers and directors of the Thorndale Agricultural Society partook of an oyster and fowl supper at the McLean House on Friday night. The tables were tastefully arranged and filled with all the luxuries of the season. After supper the members adjourned to the sitting-room, where the president, Mr. John Taylor, took the

"SLEEP LIKE A CHILD."

Sweet Refreshing Sleep Comes to those who use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is impossible for those whose nervous system is shattered, and whose heart action is weak, to get undisturbed and refreshing slumber. Their sleep is broken into by terrible dreams, startings, Smothering Spells, Sinking Sensations, and fear of impending death.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Fills, bring back the much-needed night's rest, by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthening the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony-then you sleep peaceful as a child. Mrs. E. Coburn, of Blenheim, Ont., suffered severely for many years, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured her. Here is her statement : "When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills my heart troubles were very bad. "I could get but little sleep because of the terrible smothering sensation, and was also weak and run down. I have taken three boxes of these wonderful pills. They relieved my heart trouble, enabled me to get restful sleep, removed the smothering sensation, and made me feel better than I have for years. I have been treated by a number of well-known and skillful physicians, both in Michigan and Canada, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only medicine which has acted well in my case, and I heartily commend their use to any person suffering as I did." Laxa-Liver Pills work while you sleep, without a gripe, curing Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache. Price 25c.

HAS SECRETARY SAYER RESIGNED?

A Rumor Which He Will Not Deny or Affirm-Differences With Some Directors.

It was rumored around the city this morning that Secretary Sayer, of the Y. M. C. "Mesorley's Twins."

Manager Roote, of the Grand, brings back "McSorley's Twins" next Thursday night. This season's company is said to eclipse any yet seen in that jolly comedy. Bobby Gaylor, Frank Lalor, Gracie Cummings, Kittje Wolfe, Burt Wesner, Florence Hastings, Anna Marjo, Caroline De Forest, and Joseph E. McDuff are the principal people. There is a company of 25 members. "THE GEISHA."

Owen Hall wrote the words, Henry Greenbank, the lyrics, Sidney Jones the music, and Augustin Daly, Daly's Theater, New York city, put on the production. With such an array of artists, how could "The Geisha" be otherwise than a success, and one of the best of all comic operas. It is credited with having had a run of two years in London and nearly 300 nights in New York city. The ladies and gentlemen members of this year's company are said to be equally as good or even better than any previous company which has played "The Geisha." their voices being well-trained and refreshingly sweet. The action of the play takes place in Japan, outside of the treaty limits, and the scenes, which are in two sets, represent "The Tea House of Ten Thousand Joys" and a chrysanthemum fete in the palace "AT PINEY RIDGE."

David Higgins, in his beautiful play entitled "At Piney Ridge," a romance of the Tennessee Mountains, will appear at the Grand matinee and night Saturday. The company is very strong, including that fine actress, Georgia Waldron.

AN IRISH FORTRESS.

Work of fortifying Berehaven, at the mouth of Bantry Bay, Ireland, has begun. It is the intention of the British Government to erect works similar to those at Gibraltar by making use of the hills and cliffs. The necessary land has been acquired on the eastern side of Bere Island, and the contractors, engineers and workmen have already dug up and tunneled part of the ground. Bere Island is about seven Berehaven Harbor has two entrances enter, and by the eastern they depart. It is now proposed to block the former even against merchant vessels; and the intended fortifications will make the eastern side impregnable. It will be recalled that the channel squadron during maneuvers have frequently utilized Berehaven for torpedo practice. The importance of the site, lying as it does on the direct route of English food supplies from Canada and the United States, is very great. It is expected that the fortifications will be completed in ten years' time.

The motormen were, as usual, entrenched behind wire fences, stretched over the windows of the vestibule, as a precaution against eggs and other things which might come their way. Cries of "Scab! Scab!" assailed the crews along the routes. A crowd speedly collected at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, but threw nothing worse than jeers and hoots. A squad of police at the corner soon made silks, laces and delicate fabrics a scatteration, and the vociferous ones stand expressed by the spokesman Male Quartet sang some appropriate when he said: "The company wanted hymns. Sovereign W. C. Fitzgerald, us to stay in a barn, but I would rather stay in a jail than in that place." The speaker's story was that he had been secured by Mr. F. Robertson, superintendent of the Surburban Railway at Montreal to come to London as a trainer. He had been in Troy, N. Y.. for four weeks previous and knew nothing of the London strike, but was given to understand he was to work on a new line and was to receive $2 a day and expenses. It was while on the train west of Toronto that the men first learned of the strike, one of the trainmen having told them of it. On their arrival here Saturday night, they went as they had been directed by Mr. Robertson, to see A. E. Boyce at the Tecumseh House. "He sent us out to a barn-shed I call it"- the speak-er went on, "and we were expected to stay there and be fed like cattle. We wouldn't stay there and went to a [G. N. W. They intimated to the mayor that until more money was received in response to the telegrams they had sent to their wives sized, and all of the occupants are in Montreal, it was a case of choosing supposed to have been drowned, as the between the jail and "that place," referring to the car barns. Asked if there were any more Montreal men at the barns, the speaker said there were several who seemed to be content to stay there. The mayor arranged to see the men again.

The conductors did not require the punches and bags, which the strikers declined to give up. RATEPAYER'S VIEWS ON POLICE PROTECTION.

The street railway was the primary cause of another visit to the mayor's office this morning. Mr. George Dowling, of 583 Central avenue, was present and complained that the city was being deprived of police protection in order to furnish the street cars with officers. He appealed to the mayor to have the streets protect d as heretofore. He had traversed the greater part of the North End of the city on his way down town, and had not seen an officer until he reached the corner to stop for. The only passengers were of Dundas and Richmond streets. It was not right. Trouble was likely to Before noon the three cars crawled occur at any time, and the policemen early to avoid the rush. With so many people coming from and returning to work between 12 and 1 o'clock, the company probably felt that three cars could not handle the crowds that would be clamoring to ride!

It is said the company will not dare to run cars at night. The company should be terrorized by no such threats. It has been suggested that they envelope the cars in steel plates, wirefence the windows, put the conductors and motormen in armor, and station Gatling guns on the rear platforms. They could then defy eggs and brickbats and public sentiment and everything else. Rowdyism must be put

Meanwhile the strikers should hurry up with their bus service. They promised a complete service this morning, and got the newspapers to announce it; but they had only six vehicles to cover the city. They claim they are rapidly securing more and are organizing a thorough system. If they wish to foster the good-will of the public, which they possess, they had better rush it. At a regular meeting of London Division, No. 16, Order of Railway Conductors, held Saturday afternoon, the following resolution was unanimously "Whereas, the management adopted: of the London Street Railway Company has, by refusing to comply with their employes, and by a long-continued system of petty actions and highhanded tyranny, made it necessary in defense of their manhood and to secure their just rights, for the said employes to strike, therefore, Resolved, that by the manly stand they have taken, and the law-abiding manner in which they have conducted themselves through the trouble, they are entitled and are hereby tendered the sincere sympathy and support of our division; and further, resolved, that until the management see fit to bow to the popular will, as expressed by our mayor and other leading citizens, and adjust the difficulties, that we will, in the interests of our own and our families' safety, refrain entirely from using the cars until they are again manned by their old and reliable conductors and motormen. Signed on behalf of London Division, No. 16, Order of Railroad Conductors of America, T. C. Jones, chief conductor; J. McAuliffe, secretary-treasurer."

Mr Jones the chief conductor, said that the order was ready and willing at any time to grant any assistance the strikers thought necessary. SENT AS TRAINERS FOR A NEW

The mayor called up the chief by telephone, and asked an explanation. The chief said the city was being protected in the usual way. The men were all on their beats. STRIKE NOTES.

Mr. T. H. Smallman, today, informed the postoffice people, that letter carriers could ride free. Exactly the reason for this move at this time, does not seem to be clear.

The fourth car this afternoon had a V. R. sign in front, and was defended by Detective Rider and a policeman. The police have enjoyed the last few days immensely. After the incessant tramping they are ordinarily called upon to do, it is a great comfort to Mayor Wilson notified the committee of the president's desire to meet them, and the meeting was set at 2:30 o'clock. At the hour of going to press the conference is in session.

HOMESICK TO SEE JESUS

Startlingly Sudden Death at a Religious Meeting.

Kansas City, Nov. 7 .- "I'm trying to live a Christian life. I'm homesick to see Jesus. I'm ready to go today, this hour, this minute, if necessary. Praise the Lord." Much Distress Among Laboring Men in New South Wales.

DISGRACEFUL SCENES. A disgraceful scene has occurred in the Queensland Parliament. Seven members were suspended. Mr. Mc-Donald accused the speaker of helping the government by violating the rules of procedure. The speaker suspended McDonald, and while he was being removed Mr. Hoolan helped him to resist. The speaker called Hoolan to order, and the latter shouted, "Shut up, you contemptible little nigger driver!" Hoolan was then suspended. On leaving the room he twirled his fingers on his nose at the speaker.

Mr. Turley jumped up and said: "I indorse everything Hoolan said." Mr. Turley was accordingly suspended. Mr. Dawson arose and said: "The speaker is the most disorderly member in this house." Dawson was promptly suspended. Mr. Dunsford said: "The chairman is partisan, offensively so," whereupon Dunsford was suspended. Frank McDonell said: "Dunsford is right; the chairman is partial." McDonell was suspended. Mr. King said: "The house has no confidence in the speaker." He was suspended, and the house adjourned.

DISTRESS IN NEW SOUTH WALES. Aorangi advices state that there is much distress in New South Wales among laboring men. Several deputations have called upon members of the government, but can get no relief. In Sydney alone 3,738 children are being cared for by the state. Labor bureaus are asking the government if it is waiting for death by starvation before doing anything.

In Melbourne William Paget has died of starvation. He has been living for months from swill barrels. On Sunday Island all the grass has withered from drought, and many animals are dead. The people are suffering from famine. Throughout New South Wales dust storms and drought are blighting the crops. From 25 farming stations comes word of the terrible effect of dust and lack of rain. The results will be very disastrous if rain does not fall soon.

The Paris Gaulious Suggests an In scription for French Coins.

Paris, Nov. 7 .- The Gaulois announces that henceforth the motto, "God Protects France," will be stricken from French coin. The paper remarks earcastically that it is a good thing, since foreigners might be led to believe from seeing the inscription that Frenchmen etill have faith in Providence. It suggests that the government adopt the motto "Schwartz-Koppen Protects the Republic."

THE HORSE IN BATTLE. A veteran cavalry horse partakes of the hopes and fears of battle just the same as his rider. As the column swings into line and waits, the horse grows nervous over the waiting. If the wait is spun out he will tremble and sweat and grow apprehensive. If he has been six months in service he knows every bugle call. As the call comes to advance, the rider can feel him working at the bit with his tongue to get it between his teeth. As he moves out he will either seek to on faster than he should or bolt. He cannot bolt, however. The lines will carry him forward, and after a minute he will grip, lay back his ears, and one can feel his sudden resolve to brave the worst and have done with

THE MAN WHO DID

The Reason Why It Is Pretty Certair He's Sorry for Deing It.

This story did not come from the man interested; it came from the lady who was with the lady who was interested. Perhaps that fact will relieve the wind of the man "who did."

The two ladies were crossing from Hoboken the other day, and in the ferryboat sat next to a flashily-dressed man, who were many imitation diamonds and much jewelry. When the ladies left the boat one felt for her purse and didn't find it. "There wasn't much in it," she explained philosophically to her friend. "I wasn't going to buy anything, you know; I was only going shopping. But it served me right for putting the purse in my pocket." The friend agreed consolingly, and they walked on for a moment, when the lady whose pocket had been picked pulled out a small, hard lump of glass from her pocket.

"The poor thief," she said, "here's one of his diamonds!" They laughed and went on up town. In the course of time thy were up in Union Square, and for the fun of the thing decided to go into Tiffany's and see what the thief's "diamond" might be worth. So they went to the diamond sharp and asked if the glass was really worth anything.
"It's not glass," said the expert; "it's a diamond, and a very good one."

WOMEN AND SCHOOLS.

The custom of putting the schools which so largely shape the child's life, into the hands of men and the grasp of politics, out of reach of the influence of mothers, is a survival of an unlettered age. When public schools unlettered age. When public schools were first opened in New England, the Connecticut law declaring that "all children" were to be taught, was interpreted to mean all boys. We had a college for boys one hundred and fifty years before the public schools were opened to girls for full time, and for instruction in all the branches taught. Now, after a generation of the higher education of women, the phrase, "all citizens," is still interpreted to mean all men. It is an anachronism which has been corrected in some states, and which will, in years to come, be regarded with the same compassionate smile which now meets a statement of our ancestors' interpretation of the phrase, "all children." It is the quickened and educated mother-love which, more than any other one motive, is taking women into new lines of activfty in the world today. The appointment of a woman to the office of city inspector of street cleaning has caused wide comment. It may not be generally known that her interest in sanitary work dates from the death of her child, of diphtheria caused by the infection of a garbage-laden alley. -Mary Clark Barnes, in North American Review for November.

"Quite so. She and I are the best of friends, and I am very proud and fond of my only sister; but she perplexes, she worries me more than I can express. She deliberately says and does the most outrageous things, and if I remonstrate, she either laughs at or defies me. She has plenty of admirers, of course; but if today she smiles on one, tomorrow she lavishes all her civilities on another; in fact, no Eastern empress was ever more imperious and variable than Vivien St.

monly known as the Nicaragua route is entirely feasible and practical, presenting no engineering problems which cannot be met; and, second, that the cost can be presented with a fair degree of mathematical exactness, allowing for excavation, construction, and all other items. The report will give this cost in figures, but the amount is not yet known even to the commissioners, as it will depend upon the careful computations now being made. The purpose it to make it as

The report, it is understood, will be unanimous, as the commissioners are agreed on all the essential features of cost, practicability, route, dams, etc., fresh, crisp green—watercress, lettuce, the only difference being those naturnasturtiums or mint, dressed with may- al shades of opinion on the unit of cost of some branches of the work.

The political questions involve the italists; also the question of the right of the United States to build the canal

One of the most serious obstacles urged against the canal as a government project has been the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and the right of joint occupancy and control under it claimed by Great Britain. But there is a growing feeling that the sentiments developed between the two countries during the progress of the recent war will go far to remove this obstacle, and will probably pave the way for a complete understanding between the countries.

Cervera's Flagship Maria Teresa Sunk in 2,600 Fathoms of Water-She Cost $8,000,000.

New York, Nov. 7 .- The Infanta Maria Teresa, which sunk in the midst of a furious storm off San Salvador, Bahamas, Nov. 1, was the pride of the Spanish navy. She was one of the most powerful vessels of her size in the world. Her building was attended with the greatest enthusiasm in Spain, and when launched in 1890 it was the queen-regent herself who released the

The Maria Teresa was the flagship of Admiral Cervera, and was one of the ships sunk by the United States fleet under the command of Rear-Admiral Sampson during the battle of July 3. After resting on the rock off the Cuban coast not far from Santiago for over two months, she was raised and floated by Naval Constructor Hobson, early in September, and it was announced on Sept. 25 that she had arrived at Guantanamo Bay under her own steam. Hobson, it has since developed, floated the Maria Teresa in the most skillful manner, using dynamite and all kinds of wrecking appliances in his efforts to add this vessel to the United States navy. The Infanta Maria Teresa, to give the sunken vessel her full name, was classed as a first-class 7,000-ton armored cruiser of the barbette type. She was built at Bilbao, Spain, in 1899,

As near as can be calculated, this vessel lies in about 2,600 fathoms of water, or nearly three miles. The location is about 235 miles distant from Nassau.

Acting Secretary Allen, of the navy, said the loss was much greater than any intrinsic value represented in the ship. She was the link that connected the great naval victory with the United States.

The vessel sank at midnight on Tuesday, after battling with the gale six hours. The Vulcan was towing the Teresa, while the Merritt rescued 114 of the crew. The ropes were then cut and the Teresa rapidly filled.

Woman's Best Age.

The age at which women exert their greatest power depends very much upon varying fashion and taste. In the Elizabethan age a woman was supposed to have reached the most attractive age at 14, and herotnes as celebrated in their day as Jullet were instigators of tragic loves and hates at this extremely immature age. About half a century ago Balzac astonished his countrymen by proclaiming the supreme power of fascination of the woman of 30, and since that time she held the stage as the incarnation of coquettish attraction. At the present time her acknowledged charm and beauty are allowed to last quite ten years longer, and, with the term "old maid," the old maid herself has departed, to give place to the bright and interesting single woman. In France an unmarried woman of 25 is regarded even at the present day as quite shelved. In England and America, on the contrary, only a small percentage of women of independent means or who are self-supporting care to marry before that age, and many of them do not desire the responsibilities for wedlock till some years later.

The Making of Sandwiches.

Ninety-nine women in a hundred making sandwiches for company expected in the evening, and wanting them crustless, will cut the crust off after slicing the bread. Take a whole loaf of bread, cut the sides and top crust off, leaving the bottom crust on. Then, having squared off one end, spread on your deviled ham, sardine paste or whatever else, and cut a thin slice back to the bottom crust. Release the slice by running your knife down just inside the bottom crust. Then neither your bread nor your meat is crumpled. The Possibilities of the Sand wich.

Among the various branches of cooking which have been vastly improved, the sandwich is prominent. The invalid, the traveler, the athlete, and the fashionable caller all welcome it eagerly, and it is, too, an important feature of the home table, and often a bit of pleasant economy.

Sandwiches may be classed under five main divisions, meat, green, salad, cheese, and the sweet varieties, with many delightful combinations. Perfumed butter, after the French, is especially dainty to use in making them-orange blossoms, violets, Japanese honeysuckles, roses, rose geraniums, etc., only one kind at a time. The butter is wrapped in a bit of muslin or cheesecloth, and placed in a small jar, the flowers lavishly scattered over the butter, closely covered. Graham, white and whole-wheat breads are all desirable, and "should be twelve hours old." Two kinds of bread are often used together. They may be round square, triangular, heart-shaped and oblong, the latter flat or rolled. Cold chicken, finely chopped and moistened with a little mayonnaise, forms a popular filling. Slice the bread very thin, and always trim the edges neatly; butter lightly. Place the chicken on one piece of bread, and press another one on it, and cut into whatever form you wish. Lamb sandwiches are new and de licious. The lambs is sliced thin, and has a seasoning of cinnamon and Tongue-Butter lightly thin slices of graham bread, and spread generously with cold boiled tongue, chopped fine. Proceed in the same way in making ham sandwiches, using boiled or deviled ham, and white bread preferably. Game sandwiches are very appetizing, especially duck, made with graham bread. Sandwiches made of cold calves' liver, highly seasoned and chopped, have found much flavor with men, rye or graham bread being chosen. Minced fish mixed with a little mustard, pepper, salt and lemon juice, or with mayonnaise, have been frequently seen tions has sardines with chopped hardboiled eggs and stoned olives. Oysters, always delicious, are now found between tiny squares of brown bread. They are either broiled or fried, then chopped and mixed with salad Crabe are also used. Refreshing are the sandwiches formed of dainty white bread and a bit of onnaise. The watercress, etc., must always be fresh. Celery Sandwiches-Chop fine several matter of concessions and stalks of celery, adding a salad dress- granted by Nicaragua to the old Nicaing to make a thick paste. 0 Ill health is a luxury that only the rich can afford, and that no one can enjoy. Every woman is not so situated that she can be an interesting invalid, or rather, an uninteresting invalid, for there never was an interesting one. The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine orgaus is certain to become an invalid. No woman can suffer in this way and be a healthy, happy, amiable wife and a competent mother. Troubles of this nature sap the strength, rack the nerves, paint lines of suffering upon the face, destroy the tem-per, make the once bright eyes dull and the once active brain sluggish, and transform a vivacious woman into a weak, sickly invalid. The one sure, speedy, permanent cure for all disorders of the distinctly feminine nature is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned, and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It cures the internal ulceration and inflamma-tion that give rise to a debilitating drain on the system. It is the best medicine for overworked, "run-down" women.

"About six years ago my wife became afflicted with female weakness," writes the Rev. I. J. Coppedge, of Elmo, Kaufman Co., Texas. "She could not stand on her feet or get in any position in which she did not suffer great pain. She despaired of ever again being well. She took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and has been well and happy for twelve months."

Sunday Interviews With Interested People-The Company to Have All Possible Police Protection - The Mayor's Opinion.

President H. A. Everett and Vice-President E. W. Moore, of the London Street Railway Company, arrived here from Cleveland yesterday morning at 10:20, and registered at the Tecumseh House. Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore are both shrewd business men, and it is a pretty safe inference from what they say that a speedy settlement is in sight. Mr. Everett is interested in electric railways in sixteen different cities, and these stocks represent a vast amount of capital, bearing interest all the way from 6 per cent up.

The Cleveland magnates had conferences yesterday with Messrs. Carr, Smallman, Hellmuth and Ivey, Mayor Wilson, and Ald. Charles Taylor. Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore were interviewed last night by a reporter of. The Advertiser. The first question the magnates were asked was:

"Is there any likelihood of a settlement?

"If matters can be settled," said Mr. Everett, "there is always likely to be a settlement."

"Why should not the union be recognized here as well as in Detroit?"
"The situation is somewhat different."

"In what respect?" "In Detroit they had two street rail-ways, and they were union roads when we went there. We started an opposition railway there, and gave the peo-ple cheaper fares than they had ever had. As all employes in Detroit, that is to say, experienced men, were union men, we wanted the best men we could get, and got them off the other roads." Do you think that the union men in Detroit are any better than the men in London?

"I don't think there are any better men in America than in this city." "Why was it, then, that there was no recognition here?"

"We always mean to do what is right, but, like a great many others of our English cousins, we don't like to be clubbed." "You consider the action of the union worked like a club?"

"Well, we can't see it in any other light. The union was the volcano that threw the bomb." "You have heard, I presume, of public opinion in the city?"

"Public opinion is very easily sway-ed. Distorted facts and misrepresentareadily believed en there is trouble among employes. I think we had the goodwill of every citizen in London before this thing started - don't you?" The reporter ventured to say that he had reason to believe that the introduction of the electric system had been a good thing for London.

Mr. Everett said the people of London might have had an electric system of their own, and every chareholder and bondholder might have been a citizen of London. His company, he said, electrified the road, and when they did it they had not done it for amusement. and were not running it now for their

"I do not think the company can afford it. In Toronto the men receive 10 per cent more wages, and the gross receipts are 60 per cent greater than in London. If the receipts would warrant it, the company would be pleased to grant the men 10 per cent increase without the men having to strike for it. We pay as much money according to our receipts here as any other city in Canada.

"The company's stocks seem to be sold readily enough," interpellated the reporter. "They are quoted at 178 or thereabouts?"

"We have never realized more than 6 per cent on our money as yet," said Mr. Everett, "but we expect it to grow or we would never have taken the road over. They pay 10 per cent in Mon-treal, and our stock there stands at

"What is the London Street Railway capitalized at, Mr. Everett?"
"At $350,000. The earnings last year were $101,865, and out of this $58,451 93 was paid as running expenses (wages, etc.), and $17,000 interest paid on bonds. leaving a profit of $42,914 01, which is about 6 per cent on $700,000 investment -$350,000 stock and $350,000 bonds.

"Has Mr. Carr acted under instruc-

The people of London want to ride for as low a fare as possible; the men want all the wages they can get; the stockholders want all the dividends they can get, and the bondholders' interest has to be paid. Mr. Carr stands between the people and the company, the police and the citizens, and standing between so many fires you can readily appreciate his po There are times when a posisition. tion like his is a reasonably comfortable one, but when a man assumes the responsibility placed there by a company, he has to take the bitter with the sweet. I do not suppose Mr. Carr would take three years' salary and pass another week as he has this. No, I don't want a word said against Mr. Carr. He has been in our employ seven years and we have always found him faithful to those duties which devolved upon him. Anything he has done, we have done, and we mean to stand by him." "How do you consider the papers have been towards you?" "Well. I think as a matter of business they have expressed public sentiment very fairly.' Mr. Moore, at this juncture, explained that the whole trouble had been caused by two men who came here from Detroit as labor agitators. there were no strike and no trouble,' said Mr. Moore, "those fellows would lose their situations, which net them $100 and $125 per month. It is their business to make trouble."

"What were the earnings in October, 1897?" "The earnings were $7,100, and in November, 1898, they were $7,500." Mr. Everett said he could not say just what the earnings would be this behalf from the congregation, who re-year, but remarked, "They will be less sponded at once and gave liberally.

The reporter ventured to say that he thought the men were as anxious for a settlement as they (the magnates) were, and he knew positively that the citizens wished a settlement. Mr. Everett answered this question by asking: "How do you know we are than they were last year, you may de-anxious for a settlement?' "Simply because you came here."

Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore both smiled and said they had not come here to negotiate. "But you will meet the men?" "I didn't say so," said Mr. Everett. "Well, then, may I say," requested the reporter, that you will endeavor to effect a settlement?" "No, we didn't say that either, but as far as I will go is to say that we will endeavor to do what is right and "Of course you will be here tomorrow, Mr. Everett?" "Oh!" he said, with a hearty laugh, "the public think so much of us that we might come here to live, now." Mr. Everett said he could see no reason for any feeling against his com-"I have been in this business, that they won't need any arbitration."

POLICE PROTECTION. Last night Chief Williams said that the company would have all the protection the city and police could afford, and if the police could not afford the necessary protection, the commissioners would meet and suggest other methods. The company's property will have to be protected; the city has compelled the cars to be run, and would have to protect them in running, if a regiment had to be brought here for that purpose. The more protection is required the more it will cost the city.

MAYOR WILSON'S VIEWS. Mayor Wilson said last night that in his interview with Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore he (the mayor) had talked plainly and told the magnates that the men had been dealt unfairly with, and he thought that the company should give a little. The mayor expressed the opin-ion that a settlement would be effected today by the parties coming together in conference

This Forenoon. Sunday Interviews With Interested People-The Company to Have All Possible Police Protection - The Mayor's Opinion.

President H. A. Everett and Vice-President E. W. Moore, of the London Street Railway Company, arrived here from Cleveland yesterday morning at 10:20, and registered at the Tecumseh House. Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore are both shrewd business men, and it is a pretty safe inference from what they say that a speedy settlement is in sight. Mr. Everett is interested in electric railways in sixteen different cities, and these stocks represent a vast amount of capital, bearing interest all the way from 6 per cent up.

The Cleveland magnates had conferences yesterday with Messrs. Carr, Smallman, Hellmuth and Ivey, Mayor Wilson, and Ald. Charles Taylor. Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore were interviewed last night by a reporter of

The Advertiser. The first question the magnates were asked was:
"Is there any likelihood of a settlement?" "If matters can be settled," said Mr.

Everett, "there is always likely to be a settlement." "Why should not the union be recognized here as well as in Detroit?"
"The situation is somewhat differ-

"In what respect?"
"In Detroit they had two street railways, and they were union roads when we went there. We started an opposition railway there, and gave the people cheaper fares than they had ever had. As all employes in Detroit, that is to say, experienced men, were union men, we wanted the best men we could get, and got them off the other roads.' "Do you think that the union men in Detroit are any better than the men in London?"

"I don't think there are any better men in America than in this city." "Why was it, then, that there was no recognition here?" "We always mean to do what is right, but, like a great many others of our English cousins, we don't like to be clubbed."

"You consider the action of the union worked like a club?"
"Well, we can't see it in any other light. The union was the volcano that threw the bomb."

"You have heard, I presume, of public opinion in the city?" "Public opinion is very easily swayed. Distorted facts and misrepresentas are readily believed when there is trouble among employes. I think we had the goodwill of every citizen in London before this thing started don't you?" The reporter ventured to say that he had reason to believe that the introduction of the electric system had been a good thing for London.

Mr. Everett said the people of London might have had an electric system of their own, and every chareholder and bondholder might have been a citizen of London. His company, he said, electrified the road, and when they did it they had not done it for amusement, and were not running it now for their

"Will the demand of the men for 16% cents per hour, and 20 cents an hour overtime be conceded?" asked the re-

"I do not think the company can afford it. In Toronto the men receive 10 per cent more wages, and the gross receipts are 60 per cent greater than in London. If the receipts would warrant it, the company would be pleased to grant the men 10 per cent increase without the men having to strike for it. We pay as much money according to our receipts here as any other city in Canada.'

"The company's stocks seem to be sold readily enough," interpellated the reporter. "They are quoted at 178 or thereabouts?"

"We have never realized more than 6 per cent on our money as yet," said Mr. Everett, "but we expect it to grow or we would never have taken the road over. They pay 10 per cent in Montreal, and our stock there stands at

"What is the London Street Railway capitalized at, Mr. Everett?"
"At $350,000. The earnings last year were $101,865, and out of this $58,451 93 was paid as running expenses (wages, etc.), and $17,000 interest paid on bonds, leaving a profit of $42.914 01, which is about 6 per cent on $700,000 investment -$350,000 stock and $350,000 bonds.

BILIOUSNESS.

Torpid Liver, Headache and Dyspepsia,

Biliousness is only another name for torpid liver or liver complaint. A sluggish liver cannot filter the foul poisonous matter from the blood, or secrete the bile necessary for good digestion. Biliousness, headache, dyspepsia, a pale, sallow complexion, a bitter taste in the mouth, lack of energy and low spirits are symptoms of a disordered liver. The only possibility of a permanent cure is through the liver. The liver must be strengthened and made active. Stimulants only bring a reaction, which is still more to be dreaded. "Has Mr. Carr acted under instruction from you?" "Mr. Carr simply did his duty. He is unfortunately placed in an unenviable position. The people of London want to ride for as low a fare as possible; the men want all the wages they can get: the stockholders want all the dividends they can get, and the bondholders' interest has to be paid. Mr. Carr stands between the people and the company, the police and the citizens, and standing between so many fires you can readily appreciate his po sition. There are times when a position like his is a reasonably comfortable one, but when a man assumes the responsibility placed there by a company, he has to take the bitter with sweet. I do not suppose Mr. Carr would take three years' salary and pass another week as he has this. No, I don't want a word said against Mr. Carr. He has been in our employ seven years and we have always found him upon him. Anything he has done, we have done, and we mean to stand by "How do you consider the papers have been towards you?" "Well, I think as a matter of business they have expressed public sentiment very fairly." Mr. Moore, at this juncture, explained that the whole trouble had been caused by two men who came here from Detroit as labor agitators. there were no strike and no trouble said Mr. Moore, "those fellows would lose their situations, which net them $100 and $125 per month. It is their business to make trouble."

"What were the earnings in October, 1897? "The earnings were $7,100, and in November, 1898, they were $7,500." Mr Everett said he could not say just what the earnings would be this year, but remarked, "They will be less than they were last year, you may depend upon it." The reporter ventured to say that he thought the men were as anxious for a settlement as they (the magnates) were, and he knew positively that the citizens wished a settlement.

Mr. Everett answered this question by asking: "How do you know we are anxious for a settlement?" "Simply because you came here." Everett and Mr. Moore both smiled and said they had not come here to negotiate. "But you will meet the men?" "I didn't say so," said Mr. Everett.

"Well, then, may I say," requested the reporter, that you will endeavor to effect a settlement?" "No, we didn't say that either, but as far as I will go is to say that we will endeavor to do what is right and fair.' "Of course you will be here tomorrow, Mr. Everett?"

"Oh!" he said, with a hearty laugh, "the public think so much of us that we might come here to live, now." Mr. Everett said he could see no reason for any feeling against his company. "I have been in this business," he said, "since I was 13 years of age, and in the last 29 years I have had but two strikes, and this is the second

"Will this arbitration clause be accepted by the company?"
"My dear fellow," said Mr. Everett,
"we mean to do so well by the men that they won't need any arbitration.'

POLICE PROTECTION. Last night Chief Williams said that the company would have all the protection the city and police could afford, and if the police could not afford the necessary protection, the commissioners would meet and suggest other methods. The company's prop-erty will have to be protected; the city has compelled the cars to be run, and would have to protect them in running, if a regiment had to be brought here for that purpose. The more protection is required the more it will cost the city.

MAYOR WILSON'S VIEWS. Mayor Wilson said last night that in his interview with Mr. Everett and Mr. Moore he (the mayor) had talked plainly and told the magnates that the men had been dealt unfairly with, and he thought that the company should give a little. The mayor expressed the opinion that a settlement would be effected today by the parties coming together in conference.
