The Latest Prince.

LONDON, July 2 .- Disquieting rumors were current at the beginning of the week, and were renewed later, as to the condition of the young mother at White Lodge, but they had no foundation in fact. The case has been what doctors describe as of normal character. The duchess has progressed as any healthy young woman would progress in similar circumstances, and the tiny prince is just a fat baby and nothing more. That is what Dr. John Williams told his proud countrymen and countrywomen at a garden party at the London Cymmrodorion Society in Regent's Park on Thursday afternoon, and the fact that he was able to come to London and enjoy himself was alone sufficient to prove that he had no cause for anxiety about his royal patient. If all continues to go well the duchess will be allowed to sit up on next Tuesday, and thereafter there will be much family discussion as to baby's christening.

Contrary to the confident assertions of ill-informed persons, he will bear no title for the present other than the courtesy one of prince. He has no right yet even to the prefix of royal highness, but the Queen is expected speedily to remedy that defect in his status by a special warrant. The only question of pressing moment is the Christian names to be given to this important and fortunate infant. The late Duke Clarence was baptized Albert Victor because the Queen desired the throne of England te he filled one day by a man bearing the name of her idolized husband. If she should wish the name revived, it will certainly be the first of the half dozen or so which the Duke of York's son will carry through life.

The Duchess of York and her baby will go from White Lodge to Sandringham about the end of July in obedience to the special desire of the Princess of Wales that the duchess shall pass her period of convalesence there.

Conference Between the Pullman Company and the A. R. U. Meanwhile the Men Are Quitting Work

by Thousands, and Serious Measures Are Proposed.

CHICAGO, June 2.-The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul linemen held a meeting at Michael's Hall yesterday and decided to strike at once.

The Illinois Central day switchmen have gone out. As a result of the general tie-up of the stock yards 6,400 men employed in the big packing houses in Chicago were laid off this morning. At Topeka, Kan., the local American Railway Union forced the 1,000 Santa Fe shopmen to strike at noon. The telegraph operators and train despatchers have struck at Emporia, and everything will have to stop.

At Indianapolis, Ind., all the switchmen on the Belt, the switchmen and trainmen on the Panhandle, Vandalia, and a number of those on the Lake Erie and Western at that point struck this morning. About 1,000 men are out. CHICAGO, July 2.-Another conference between P. H. Stuedbacker, of the Pullman Company, and President Debs and other officials of the American Railroad Union was held this morning. The announcement was made that no definite propositions had been made by Mr. Stuedbacker, but on the strength of the statements made President Debs said at noon that a settlement of the great strike would probably be effected within the next three or four days. Porr Huron, Mich., July 2.—Railroad business has practically stopped on the Chicago and Grand Trunk, 500 cars being tied up in the tunnel yard. The local men have not yet joined the strike, but the Battle Creek walkout has paralyzed the road. The railroad company are not disposed to yield one iota. The block and car shop and locomotive shops closed indefinitely Fitty treight handlers and a number of switchmen were laid off.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The crucial point in the railroad strike will be reached within 24 hours from midnight. This is the opinion confidently expressed at the headquarters of the railroad managers at a late. hour to-night. It is likewise the first expression emanating from the managers, and since the commencement of hostilities, with which the representatives of the strikers are in complete accord. Both elements are sanguine that the beginning of the end will be in sight before sundown Tuesday. The day was more prolific of rumors and scares than of actual developments. A feeling of unrest and excitement pervaded every section of the community. The railroads were content to now things to run along as they had on Saturday and Sunday, reserving for to-morrow the supreme effort to break the backbone of the strike. The federal and county officials continued to swear in deputies and an army of over 2,000 of the toughest looking citizens that Cook county can produce, armed to the teeth and wearing the insignia of State or authority is subject to orders to-night and will doubtless be brought into service to-morrow. The striking railway employes within the jurisdiction of the United States Court for this circuit are confronted to-night by the strong arm of the law in the shape of the most sweeping injunction that has ever issued from a federal court under similar conditions. They are enjoined from inter-

Canada unbroken communication from the mail, express or other trains, whether Straits of Belle Isle to Lake Superior. In conclusion he praised the Earl of Aberdeen for the manner in which he received the delegates to the colonial conference.

The Marquis of Lorne in responding to Sir

Challed the communication from the freight or passenger, engaged in interstate commerce, or destroying the property of any of the railroads, from entering their grounds for the purpose of stopping trains or interfering with property; from compelling or inducing by threats, persuasion or violence, any of the employes of said roads to refuse or fail to perform any of their duties as employes of such road, etc.

From now on the railway officials will adopt coercive measures, for the strike situation to-night is worse than at any previous time. By coercive measures the not accept freight of any description, and with the withdrawal of passenger trains they will simply force the United States Government to interfere and afford them protection as soon as they can get train hands to take the places of the strikers. There is no disguising the fact that the general news received by the managers today was anything but reassuring. As the strike situation grows worse numerous complaints are heard against Pullmau. The railroads have been drawn into the present conflict through his sleepers, and while they still defend him outwardly it is an open secret at the headquarters of the general managers that when the strike is settled the attention of the roads will be turned into another quarter. It is said that when the contracts expire certain roads will build their own sleepers and refuse renewals.

The news from the various roads in and about the city as summed up by the general managers is briefly as follows:

The Illinois Central and the Rock Island road are in the worst straits. Rioting has been general along both lines, with the principal battle ground at Blue Island. On the latter road 500 deputy marshals and deputy sheriffs were simply powerless in the hands of . 2,000 strikers and sympathizers. They were disarmed this afternoon and forced to flee for their lives, and United States Moshal Arnold was severely wounded and maltreated. None of the inhabitants will furnish food to the deputies, and there is a demand for troops of any description. Late to-night Marshal Arnold telegraphed to the United States Attorney-General for the Fifteenth Infantry stationed at Fort Sheridan. All the night suburban trains of the Wisconsin Central and Chicago and Northern Pacific were abandoned. The Michigan Central is having serious trouble over the employment of new men, as the engineers and firemen refuse to work with them. No freight has been moved over in Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul to-day. Passenger trains have been moved on time, but the suburban service is delayed. The suburban and funeral trains on the Chicago and Grand Trunk have been abandened. The Santa Fe is working its freight handlers in the yards under protection of Arthur Village 127 United States marshals. No perishable freight is received. The main trouble is in the west. The shops at Topeka have been shut up in anticipation of a strike. The Chicago and Calumet terminals are tied up, and no attempt to operate is being Passenger trains on the Burlington have not been interfered with, but freight, especially stock, cannot be handled. The general situation is much more serious. Strikers have been stoning the Wabash trains out of the city and the road is not attempting to handle any freight. Trains are tied up at Decatur. There is trouble on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois at Danville, and the local suburban service is entirely useless. Passenger trains on the Chicago and Great Wastern are moving on time, and freight service on the Chicago division was

The official count gives McLean, South Huron, 22 majority, and Garrow, West Huron, 30 majority. In West Huron the Reformers claim that a mistake was made by a deputy returning officer in Clinton, by which Garrow's majority is reduced from 68 to 30. Some other deputy returning officers neglected to give a statement in the poll book as required by the act, but sent in a separate statement. There is talk of a recount in South Huron.

Thomson Thought To Have Died of Poison and Not by Drowning.

The Dead Lovers Will Be Buried Together.

Romeo and Juliet Enacted in Real Life. Thomson's Lawyer to be Present To-Day -Rumors Regarding the Reason for the Deeds-Why Were the Purse Strings Tightened?

If Shakespeare were alive to-day, he could almost find material enough for San Francisco and New York. another "Romeo and Juliet" in the terfather's address is Mr. John Thomson, rible tragedy that was enacted in this city on Sunday. There is the strongest ground for the belief that the young man Thomson was not drowned, but committed suicide, And that with the same death-dealing drug that he had purchased and given to his sweetheart, who finished her life by that identical agency when she heard of his death. There was, perhaps, some secret compact between the two, probably a hysterical promise that they should live for king among men in body, mind and heart. one another and die together. It has been established that Thomson was all he when failing or lost, are restored by this claimed to be. He was one of a wealthy treatment. Victims of abuses and excesses, firm, was a young and talented gentleman, was a registered chemist and a lawyer, and last but by no means least, a shorthand writer. gain your vigor! Don't despair, even if in no means least, a shorthand writer. the last stages. Don't be disheartened if He had traveled the world over, and had quacks have robbed you. Let us show you not been home since he started to the East Indies two years ago. He was well read and conversant on every topic, and could sail anything from a canoe to a four-master. Yet with as bright a prospect before him as any man could well wish for, it is strange that he should have sought and found death by his own hand.

SYMPATHY FOR THE M'RECHNIES. Nothing but words of sorrow are heard on all sides for the bereaved McKechnie family. Bella was a general favorite, a bright, winsome girl, and of a very warm and impulsive nature. When she heard of her lover's death, and after her first terrible screams, she grew strangely calm, and coolly gave the young man the addresses of Mr. Thomson's people in Scotland. Then she went into hysterics again, and when she recovered and became quiet she said she would go to her room and lie down for a little while, and wished to be left alone. Then she re membered her promise to her dead lover and coolly drank that most deadly of all poisons-prussic acid. In a little while Mr. W. J. Lindsay called. He had heard that Bella was drowned with Mr. Thomson, and had come up to verify the news. He lists have been invited to hold services in was an old friend of Miss McKechnie, and the People's Church, Boston, the largest Methodith Church in Massachusetts. They together with Mrs. Lennie went upstairs to see how she was getting on. When they got there her spirit had joined that of her lover, and two young lives had been blotted ont for love.

THOMSON PROBABLY POISONED. A post mortem examination on the remains of Thomson was made by Dr. Weld and the result will be disclosed at the inquest. There is every reason, however, for the belief that Thomson died from prussic acid poisoning. The symptoms were not those of a drowned man, but of a poisoned one. No doubt the death struggle began before his body touched the water. The brain was said by medical men to be one of the best developed that they had ever seen. He had been a man of extraordinary intellect. A gold plate and several alse teeth were in the roof of the mouth. THE PROBABLE REASON. As usual in a mystery of this kind, where no letters are left giving the usual explanations, Dame Rumor takes a hand in with the Man with a Theory, and between the two many plausible hypothesis are set forth. One that finds general credence, but which is denied by the young lady's friends, is that Thomson's parents were opposed to the match, and had threatened to disown him in case he insisted on marrying her. It is said that this accounts for the stoppage of remittances. Friends of the young woman, in denying this theory, assert that Mr. Thomson's system had become run down through over-training. This, coupled with his passionate love for Miss McKechnie and the worry about the shortness of cash so preyed on his mind that in a moment of sheer folly and despondency he was led to commit the act. Nothing could have been more tragic. Drifting with the Thames on a calm, clear night, with all nature asleep and the quiet of a slumbering city just behind him, satisfied with the knowledge that the woman whom he loved would follow him, young, well connected, with the best part of life before him, it is hard to imagine a more tragic act, or yet a more foolish one. He was far from home, yet among friends. He had borrowed the last few cents that were in his possession from the hotel clerk, and was of too sensitive a disposition to make his position known to his friends. He had not been used to running short of spending money, and he did not take kindly to it. Once he borrowed $15 from the hotel clerk and went to New York. When he returned he repaid the $15 loan, tendering a $100 note in payment.

COULD NOT STAY AWAY.

He did not seem to be able to break away from the fascination of his sweetheart. He had twice left for New York and home, only to return. He took his trunks with him and left them at New York and brought back only the small valise that was found in his room at the hotel. He came back the first time on hearing of Mr. McKechnie's death, but afterwards left to join an agent at New York and proceed to Glasgow. The agent sailed without him, and Thomson returned to London well supplied with money. He seemingly lacked firmness, or as one of his friends put it, "backbone."

THE PURSE STRINGS WERE TIGHTENED. During his stay Mr. Thomson spent on an average $10 a day. Whether the other members of the firm thought that this was too much, or whether the family tried to induce him to return home by cutting off his supply, it is hard to say. When his cash ran out he had to stop entertaining and driving to a certain extent, and gave out that the doctors told him to take more rest. One day he fell off his horse in a fit of weakness. He had promised to settle on Miss McKechnie as soon as they were married £2.500 a year.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS. It has transpired that Miss McKechnie sister Maude found a note in the dead girl bedroom asking that she be buried wit "Harry." as she called Mr. Thomson After the postponement of the funeral ye terday on the understanding that the tw should be buried together, Miss McKechn was privately interred at 10 o'clock this morning. The intermen took place in the plot of Miss McKechnie brother-in-law at Woodland Cemetery. I is not known whether the dead girl's wis respecting the burial will now be carried out. Thomson may possibly be buried wit her, but by those who know it is said to be Great Success.

Over Five Thousand School Children March to Queen's Park,

And Spend the Day-It Was a Pretty Procession-The Races and Who Won Them-Fancy Drill - Simcoe Street School Wins the Banner.

Had the Board of Education's energetic demonstration committee and the parents | was join of the school children of London endeavored to make the affair of yesterday a greater success than it was they would doubtless have failed. For the past two months the committee, under Mr. Joseph Sanders, had been working industriously to make the "Hoisting of the Flag" a notable event, and now every member can rest assured that their labors were successful. The hearty co-operation of the parents was given, the children were overjoyed at | cheering the thought of the day's enjoyment playing promised them, and so it ended with all Seventh being satisfied.

One person who lent a valuable assistance, but who very seldom receives recognition, is Dame Nature. She lent a helping hand by furnishing fair weather. An early hour saw her messenger "Old Sol" peeping above the eastern horizon, and as he gradually came nearer the promise of a bright day was realized.

With the break of day many of the children were on the move, eager to be arrayed in their pretty costumes and on the scene of action on time. Assemblies were first made at the different schools, where the juveniles were given their respective places by the principals. Headway was then made to the central gathering point— Queen's avenue, from Maitland street west-where the trustees were in waiting to give each school its allotted place. Sharp at 10 o'clock the procession was on the move, in the following order:

Drum major, J. Beale, Cavalry Band.
Three decorated bicycles ridden by high school boys.

Male pupils of the Collegiate Institute.
Principal Merchant and staff of the Collegiate.

Park street school, Mr. S. Baker, principal.
Principal Althouse and pupils, of Rectory street school.

Chairman McRobert, of the School Board.
Lorne avenue school. Mr. W. D. Eckert, principal. cital.

St. George's school, under Principal Edwards.

V. aterloo street school. Aberdeen school.
Colborne street school, preceded by 25 boys and girls on decorated tricycles.

Roman Catho ic separate school, under Principal Brown and Rev. Father Tiernan.

Seventh Band, with Corporal Cockburn, of Wolseley Barracks, as drum major. Simcoe street school, under Principal Graham Princess avenue school, Principal Wood-burne. Maple avenue school.

Talbot street school.

King street school.
Sons of England Band, Mr. Chas. Channers, Askin street school.
Kindergarten, children in street cars.
Board of Education and city officials.

The procession was without doubt the most imposing ever witnessed in London, and the thousands of interested spectators heartily applauded as each school passed along. It was applause well merited, and the children knew it and appreciated it, FEATURES OF THE DISPLAY. To give a full description of the appearance of every school would be almost impossible, but mention of some of the most prominent may be made.

The Collegiate Institute boys did not go to any great expense as regards uniforms, but they marched well and made a very pleasing appearance.

Park street school chose as its queen Heien Tufts, a pretty little girl of about 10 summers, who was accompanied by six favor of subscribing for the scheme, but little maids of honor-Lottie Proctor, Annie Dunn, Ethel Fox, Cora Slade, Annie Johnston and Mary Homister. The pupils turned out in large numbers and were a credit to their principal. The girls wore cream dresses and blue college hats, while its president, the sympathy and interest the boys were arrayed in white blouses, with blue cuffs and similar headgear to that

The pupils of Rectory street school numbered over 210, and were led by their queen, Miss Millie Short, who was very becomingly attired and rode in a handsomely equipped tandem turnout. She was attended by maids of honor, and coachman and footman in livery, and escorted by a bodyguard of six boys on horseback. The children were uniformed very neatly in the national colors, the girls wearing Empire gowns of white, with red and blue trimmings, and hats to match, while the boys wore white blouses, with blue collars and cuss and red belts. The step was kept by School Drummer Frank Jackson, and a harmonica band under the baton of Master Chester Chadwick.

May Scott was the queen of Lorne avenue, and was seated in a coupe drawn by four horses. The boys carried flags and streamers.

Irene Gray, the Queen of St. George's, was drawn in a little dog-cart, and escorted by six pretty maids of honor. The pony was led by two boys wearing silk hats. Aberdeen school attracted the eye of the good old Scotch folks along the route. The school stood true to its name and was led by two pipers, who played Scottish airs. Mabei Graham was the queen. The boys wore white blouses and plaid sashes over their left shoulders and tam o' shanter hats with feathers. The girls were also neatly attired.

Twenty-five boys and girls on decorated bicycles and tricycles led the way for the Colborne street school.

The Roman Catholic separate school children created a very favorable impression, and doubtless had an eye on the banner, presented by Manager S. R. Break, of the street railway. Two little queens. Josie Loughlin and Irene Hanavan, were

THE PULLMAN CAR WAR. The gigantic railway boycott, which has disorganized business in the Western States, had its origin at Pullman, Ill., the town owned and controlled by the Pullman Palace Car Company. When the depression in trade set in last year, the company had in its service 5,816 men, and were them. paying, on an average, $305,000 a month in wages. As the company owned the houses in which their workmen live, controlled where they had to buy their clothing, and the banks where sited their savings, a good deal as money, in one way or other, filtered back to them. So soon as the depression These "entertainments" are of absolutely set in, the demand for cars fell off, and by Nov. 1 the Pullmans had discharged all but 2,000 of their staff. Then the men were prevailed upon to accept a reduction of wages, and the number of hands was gradually increased to 4,200, as shown in the pay list of last April. On May 10 a strike was decided on, and 2,500 of the ADVERTISER believes that the lieutenantemployes quit work, leaving 600 men, governors, wheresoever found, should be chiefly unskilled, in the shops. The Pull- permitted to provide the funds for the mans immediately shut down the works, and no business has been transacted since. A few days ago the war was extended to the railway companies which use the Pullman cars. Mr. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, declared a boycott of these cars wheresoever found, and immediately members of the union refused to handle trains of which they formed a part. Mr. Debs charges that the war against this powerful and rich company is warranted, because Mr. Pullman, while lowering the wages of his men almost to starvation point, did not likewise lower rents of the company houses in which the men live, and did lower the rate of interest paid in his bank at Pullman. It is further complained that hile Mr. Pullman gave passes to the igher officials of the railways, he discrimated against those in humbler station. tion of the righteousness of his ours to arbitration when it was called in question by his men. Mr. Pullman, on the one hand, and Mr. Debs on the other, each expresses the belief that right is on the side of the quarrel which he represents, and that right will win. While we of the outside public desire that right shall triumph, there can be but one opinion on the necessity for devising some means whereby questions of this kind may be settled fairly without widespread injury to the unoffending public. It is lamentable that the railway companies and the traveling public should be put to so much loss and inconvenience merely beause Mr. Pullman and his workmen are at oggerheads as to the justice of their spective contentions. If ever boards of bitration and conciliation are to be useful settling labor disputes, they should be advantage in such a trouble as this is; it unfortunately their aid is declined by of the parties to the dispute, and public, which after all are the chief ferers, are compelled to look on in helpsness, while the railway companies and ir men are made to suffer severely at a when every energy is necessary to te ends meet, and that through no fault

GOVERNMENT HOUSE SUPPORT through a brid MUST GO!

Sir Oliver Mowat candidly informed the Province while opening the late Provincial campaign in this city that if the people desired to have the establishment at Government House abolished they had but to send representatives pledged to effect that change and it would be done. We have watched the discussion of this matter in the distance further to the south a lot of various constituencies, more particularly in Western Ontario-the great center of Liberalism in the Dominion-and we have no | pieces. hesitation in saying that Government House maintenance, so far as the Province is concerned, will be at an end so soon as the present incumbent ends his term. In no constituency that we know of has further grants to sustain the Lieutenant-Governor's establishment at Toronto been indorsed, whereas in the overwhelming proportion of ridings, a decidedly adverse verdict was rendered in every public meeting where the question was broached.

It is by no means certain, however, that while economy will be effected in this particular by Sir Oliver Mowat, the Government at Ottawa may not consider it to be its duty to put up the money for the Lieutenant-Governor. By the terms of the Confederation Act the Dominion Government has to pay $10,000 a year as salary to the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and it may be that when the Province refuses to supply the "extras" allowed to this ornamental official since Confederation, the Ottawa authorities will give them. This has already been done by Sir John Thompson in the case of Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories, who was recently voted a salary of $7,000 a year and $10,575 for "expenses," to be spent in giving balls, paying for liquors, etc. This largely ornamental officer lives in a palace provided out of the Dominion public purse, and costing $60,000; and when this extravagant outlay for the Lieutenant-Governor of 100,000 people was proposed, Mr. Laurier and his followers most properly protested against the outlay, but it was carried in spite of

This whole system of pampering the Lieutenant-Governors is wrong, and has only been justified because it has been the custom. Little if any good has ever been e Tected by the grants to Lieutenant-Governors, and harm has undoubtedly resulted from the development of snobocracy and militarism at the expense of the workers. no use to anyone except the favored few social butterflies that gravitate round the incumbent of Government House. Outside of Toronto no one receives any benefit from them, and even in Toronto their effects at best are questionable. For these reasons, as well as because of the expense, the friends, like the remainder of us. The system in Ontario must be got rid of in response to the well-defined demands of the populace, which are most reasonable.

This question of the maintenance of Government House at Toronto has of late been represented as an entirely new issue, merely raised because of Patron influence. Close students of contemporary history know better. The grants to the Lieutenant-Governor were opposed by the ADVERTISER and by the advanced section of the Liberal party for years before the Patron body was formed. They would have been withdrawn years ago but for men like Mr. Meredith, who strongly favored their continuance, and prevailed upon the rank and file to support them.

-If you think London weather hot. moreover declined to submit the whole that down for sandy Hamilton and see how quickly you will dissolve.

The full returns from West Algoma have not yet reached the returning officer, and, as two of the polling places that have not been heard from are in Rainy River district, it is even betting that Conmee may yet be counted in.

The Globe pertinently remarks: "Sir Oliver Mowat, it is argued, cannot govern with 48 or 50 members, or whatever the Opposition journals choose to allow him. It is, therefore, quite clear that Mr. Meredith can govern with 24 or 25."

I think the man who was least surprised at the result was Mr. Meredith himself. Three or four days before the election I asked him his opinion, promising to respect the privacy of any expression he might use until after the election. "I feel quite certain;" said he, "that the public do not yet understand the true position of affairs and the meaning of what the Opposition are trying to accomplish, and am convinced that we will go into the next Parliament no stronger, perhaps even weaker, than we were in the one which has just been dissolved."-[Don (E. THE OPEN FORUM.

London Electric Railway Proposals and the Taxpayers.

Various Pleas from the Point of View

Mr. Wm. Scarrow on the Deal,

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: It the mass meeting on Friday night was a fizzle in point of numbers, being attended by a few street railway people and a very few citizens, still it opened the ball, and no doubt has opened the eyes of the citizens to the true nature of the scheme inow before the council. I suppose the apathy of the citizens results from their confidence in the integrity and ability of the council to grapple with the question-a confidence which I fully share. Still, in a deal of such magnitude, extending over 30 years, and meaning a loss or gain to the city of many thousands of dollars, I am sure none more sincerely than the aldermen themselves desire that the citizens should take a hand in the deal and assume a share of the responsibility. We have had several offers for the franchise during the past few years, all of them much more favorable than the one now before the council, and the reason they were rejected was that compared with what other cities have received for their franchise they were ridiculously low. Thus Hamilton gets $400 per mile per annum and a percentage on the gross receipts varying from 5 per cent upwards, while in the present offer we are asked to furnish the material for the road at a cost of thousands of dollars, while we get neither a mileage nor a percentage, and every dollar taken from the citizens goes into the pockets of the stockholders of the company. There is a feeling prevalent in the city that the present company has the cinch on us-that we are powerless, and must quietly submit to any terms they may dictate. But this notion is erroneous and is the cause of all our trouble. We are still masters of the situation. We can withhold the franchise unless the present company give us something like its value. We can grant the franchise to another company, or we can, like our waterworks. run it under municipal control as the city of Glasgow and other places are doing. As soon as we make up our minds to adopt one of these courses, we will get a decent offer from the present company and not before. The citizens of London are sufficiently plucky and patriotic to insist on their rights in this matter and do not desire the council to place them in the humiliating position of having to accept any terms at the dictation of a company. Yours truly, WM. SCARROW.

Ask Mr. Charles-He Knows. To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In your issue of June 30 you published rascally trick to steal a man's franchise in the person represented as Mr. Charles. I think you are in duty bound to go further. You are very particular that all your correspondents must put their names to letters appearing in your paper. Now that you have said a Conservative alderman is mixed up in this affair, we, the readers, have just as much right to demand the name of said alderman, so that he can clear himself or bear the disgrace he so well merits. Yours truly,

John M. Parsons.

Open Letter to the Mayor and Aldermen of Londen. The personnel of last (Friday) night's meeting re street railway consisted almost entirely of business men as distinct from the workingmen, very few of the latter appearing. By "business men" or "capitalists" we mean those who derive an income from capital invested besides the return from their own labor. By "workingmen" we mean those who have practically no income but their wages. Out of the thirteen whose voices were heard only four touched on a workingman's point of view. As far as the resolution passed by the meeting is concerned it decided nothing, and only by implication does it appear to favor the acceptance of the present offer.

The advantages of the electric railway are these: By the increased area reached. more rapid transit and cheaper tares, more will be induced to ride; the valuation of outlying property will be raised, and a small part of the business done by suburban stores will be diverted to the center. The advantages mentioned above are only sectional in operation. The logic by which Ald. Coo and Mr. Cameron proved the cheaper fares a saving of $24,000 to the city reminds us of the schoolboy's proof that a cat has ten tails. No cat, he says, has nine tails, a cat has one tail more than no cat; therefore, of course, a cat has ten tails. Mr. Cameron and the few citizens who, like him, are rich enough to count street car riding among their regular luxuries will save seven-eights of a cent per ride. Some others who are not now reached by the lines will have the opportunity of spending money that now goes for necessaries or for luxuries in street car fares. Take the total of these savings and new expenses together and they constitute a saving of $24,000 to the city per annum; this is the arithmetical sum. Take the total of the savings of Cameron et al. from that, subtract the sum of the above mentioned new expenses, and the balance is a saving of $24,000 to the city. This is the algebraic sum. We give both because neither gentlemen told which he meant, and the puzzle of it to us, as to others, is where our share of the $24,000 comes in. But, joke aside, gentlemen, the point to determine is whether or not this sectional advantage entails a corresponding expense on all, or only on those who are benefitted. If the former, you, gentlemen, have no right to entertain the proposition. If the latter, and the parties benefited want the expense, by all means let them

The increased valuation of property in the parts reached by the extension of lines, as claimed by Mr. Buckle, can benefit only him and others like him who have houses and lands for sale and to rent by enabling them to raise rents and prices. These increased rents and prices fall on their tenants and customers and on whatever shoulders these may shift them, while the owners reap the benefit in security of income and escape from labor. These, therefore, cannot be entertained as arguments for granting the privileges requested. The same applies to the transfer of busi-

ASEBALL.

LONDON VS. BUFFALO. The Alerts yesterday tackled the Suffalo League Club in two games, and lthough the London boys, who play but nce a week, could not be expected to thrash a combination that plays every day n the week and twice on Sunday, they were by no means made monkeys of, and the visitors had to fight every inch of the way. The Buffalos won golden opinions as gentlemanly ball players. Their work in the field was a pleasure to behold, and they were perfectly fair in the methods. The tronage was liberal, and the Alerts erve credit for furnishing such attracons to ball lovers in the city.

MORNING GAME. "What's the reason we can't hit that fellow?" murmered a stalwart Buffalonian resterday morning as he retired to his bench after a vain attempt to knock Billy Hiscott's curves in a safe spot. And the only answer was the swish of the next man's bat as it fanned the sultry air.

It was a great game, and it made the heart of the crank sing for joy. There were lots of them there, too, and the yells floated away up the hill into the city. Twelve innings, and against a league club, too! Who says the Alerts can't play ball? Of course they can, and they ought to do it oftener. The lion's share of the honors for the morning game belong to Hiscott. Had he received the same support as Bott the match would have been won before the twelfth. Despite dis heartening munts he never lost courage, and kept his head and his speed right up to the

The visitors began playing in an indifferent way. They would have no trouble in doing up these amateurs, they thought, and they would not discourage them at first. They had Bott, their star pitcher, and their very best nine in the field, too. In the first, Hiscott's base on balls, a hit by Hynd, and grounders by Bucion and Farnworth enabled Hiscott to score. That was the last run the Alerts got until the seventh; they went out in one, two, three order in the interval.

For three innings Buffalo couldn't score a run and made only one hit. They began to realize that they had no snap and set to work in real earnest. They had as many as four coachers going at the same time and the umpire didn't call them off. In the fourth the visitors made two runs on hits by Drauby and Collins. Arthurs' muff of Daly's grounder and his failure to make the double play were responsible for them. Hits by Johnson and Drauby gave then one n the fifth, and two bad errors by Arthurs rielded another in the sixth. Budalo scored no more until the twelfth. At the end of the sixth the score stood 4 to 1 in Buffalo's favor. The seventh was opened by Arthurs flying out. Thorpe, who replaced Quing in the fifth, the latter having a bad finger, secured first on a scratch. Hiscott, as usual, followed him on four bad balls, but was nipped stealing second. Hynd reached first on an error. Amid tremendous cheering Sippi lifted the ball away over the center fielder's head for a three-bagger, and reached home on a wild throw in, sending Thorpe and Hynd in before. The score was now tied and it remained so until the last. When the ninth arrived and neither side had added a run, the excitement became so intense that the perspiration rolled unheeded down the faces of the crowd, all thoughts of dinner vanished, and the rooters tooted as they never did before. Fly after fly was sent to the outfield, and as Ball and Hynd gathered them safely in the stand shook with cheers. Ten innings and no runs. Eleven innings and none yet. In both only seven Buffalos went to bat, all going out on high flys or easy grounders. In the twelfth Hiscott made a two-base hit after two men were out, but Hynd could not bring him in. In Buffalo's half Collins struck out and Boyd flied out to Ball. Weddige made a single. Dawse followed with what the majority thought was a foul to right field. The Alerts evidently considered such

THE AFTERNOON GAME. When Johnson stepped to bat in the afternoon he was presented with a magnificent bouquet and a diamond ring by his admirers in his native city. The crowd applauded lustily and Johnson took his base on balls.

It was a magnificent audience, hundreds of ladies in summer toilet adding charm to the scene. The grand stand was far too small, and the people skirted the field on both sides. It was not so close or so finished a contest as the previous one, but in the fifth, sixth and eighth, when Korwan, the Buffalo twirler, got bad attacks of rattles, there was huge excitement and fun. It looked at first as if the visitors would have a walk-over. They batted Carney out of the box in the second, but as the latter was lame from the effects of an accident at Guelph his ineffectiveness was excusable. Capt. Sippi called Hiscott into the box. This seemed a hardship after he had pitched twelve long innings in the morning, but he accepted the task cheerfully, and in the next few balls had retired the side. He was warmly greeted. After that the Alerts braced up and were more successful in hitting and run making than their opponents, though their fielding was not so clear. Buffalo made four in the fourth by the aid of errors made four in the fourth by the aid of errors of the storage battery will drive the vehicle of the storage battery will drive the vehicle and a timely hit or two, but did little with

Hiscott thereafter. Korwan had an easy time for four innings. Then the fireworks began. He couldn't put the balls over the plate to the umpire's satisfaction, and when the bases were filled he forced in a run. Sippi's long fly brought Sheere in, too. Korwan thought the umpire was "roasting" him, and made some protests which caused the crowd to guy him unmercifully. In the sixth Ball and Player hit safely and Arthurs got his base on balls. Sheere also got four bad balls and Ball was forced in. The audience believed Korwan was going to pieces, and did its best to assist the process by a continual din and noise. Player came home or Thorpe's fly. Hiscott made a single and filled the bases. A base on balls by Hynd forced in a third run amid great cheering. Sippi knocked a scratch hit to short and the side was retired by a double play from second to first. In the seventh Korwan braced up and blanked the Alerts, but in the eighth the home nine jumped on him with both feet. Sheere led off with a two-bagger. Thorpe singled, but died on second. Hiscott followed with a twobagger, scoring Sheere, and Sippi filled the bases with a pretty single: Then Burton made another two-base hit and sent in three runs to the enthusiastic delight of the crowd, who cheered him en masse. The side went out for the four runs, but the Aleris could not overcome the lead of

Umpire-S. Dunn. Scorer-C. G. Moorhead. NOTES. Errors at short lost the game. The Alerts should have a good shortstop at once. It is the one weak spot, and must be strengthened if the team expects to hold its own. Abbie Johnson was warmly welcomed by h's friends. He played a fine fielding game, but did not want to hit his old comrade Hiscort too hard. Dunn's umpiring did not please the crowd at either game. He was hooted and hissed a great deal. Some of his decisions seemed away of, but no doubt were conscientiously given. The coaching of the Buffalos was very vigorous. The Alerts paid little attention to this important feature. Nearly every man who tried to steal second in both games was nipped by the Buffalo catcher. The base running of the home team was too reckless. Hiscott has a good eye. He got four bases on balls, and reached first base every time he went to bat.

It was necessary, in consequence, to secure the services of one of the footmen of the hall as umpire. In due course, the baronet, his master, went in, and the best village bowler was put on. The second time he bowled the ball the baronet stopped it with his leg, and the cry of "How's that?" was raised. It was the footman who had to answer, and, turning to his master, he exclaimed, in a half apologetic tone, "I'm afraid I must say not at home, Sir George." "Not at home," retorted the baronet; "who do you mean?" "Well, then, Sir George," Jeames said, "if you will have it, lean that you're hout."

RADWAY AT MONTREAL.

The London Wheelman Does Well, But Was Unlucky-London Defeated at Cricket.

THE WHEEL.

RADWAY AT MONTREAL. Between 75 and 100 tired Londoners, arrived home to-day from Montreal after a splendid three days holiday at the C. W. A. meet. They say they were royally treated and that the racing programme was superb. They sat in a body in the stand and encouraged Radway with their stand and encouraged Radway with their united shouts. The latter did grandly and proved a credit to the city. He had the hardest kind of luck though. On Saturday he won everying he entered. On Monday he would have made a fine showing but for somebody else's mishaps. There were never so many accidents at a C. W. A. meet before. In the two mile race, 5:20 class, he was bunched with the leaders on the fifth lap when Davidson, of Toronto, ran into him and five out of seven riders were upset. The race was run over and Radway secured second. In the one mile, 2:40 class, he won first prize amid the loud cheers of his friends. He went into the five mile championship race, stiff and sore, and on the eighth lap Smart, of Montreal, lost control of his wheel and ran right in front of Radway, who was among the head men and might have won it. This put him out of the contest. The Toronto Empire says that Radway made a good showing, and gives promise of scoring heavily later in the season.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) In the public accounts committee this morning C. A. Geoffrion, Q C., and J. N. Eward, of Montreal, appeared for Mr. St. Louis in the Lachine Canal bridges expenditure. Mr. Hanford, chief engineer of the Grand Trund Railway, was examined. He estimated that the Grand Trunk bridge over the canal would cost $70,000, and then leave a margin of $10,-000. This bridge actually cost the Government $170,000. The committee adjourned till Friday, when Mr. Doheny's examina-

CHAPTER IX.

The cocks and the hens are in a high state of indignation. What does it all mean, this flying backward and forward through the yard? To Terry with meal in her pretty hands they are quite accustomed, but Terry playing hide and seek from the stable to the coach-house, (where, in good times past, the coaches used to be), and from the cow-stall to the sheds, is a thing altogether out of their line. The pigeons, too, seem greatly upset by the proceedings beneath them, but they are up so high in their little homes over the stables that they can afford to look down upon the matter with a smiling contempt,

"Tip," shouts Geoffrey, having caught he'd of Terry's skirt, but ineffectually, for eludes him and escapes, though with a tinct rent in her gown.

cap is a week later—a week that has bubled Trefusis a good deal. Every day had gone down from the Hall to see ferry, and every day they had parted on ferry, and every day they had parted on to get nearer to the girl, to see into her heart, to touch the core of it. He could hold her hand; she had borne that—endured, he told himself, with extreme bitterness, was the word. Twice he had kissed her; she had said nothing, but she certainly had not kissed him.

At night he used to laugh at himself there was little gayety in the laugh—and wonder why on earth he didn't make an end of it all, and break asunder a connection which redounded to nothing but his own discomfiture. Yet when the morning came and he started to see her once again, and yet more, when he did see her, he knew he would never be the one to sever his life from hers. And through it all a deadly jealousy troubled him-jealousy of her cousin-of Larry! Every day he saw her at her home, and often in the evenings she dined at the Hall. Fanny would have had her come every evening, but Terry sometimes made ex-cuses. Now and then too, she lunched with Fanny, but he couldn't help knowing, from a word here and there, that it was less often than before he came on the

After these luncheons he used to walk back ... th her through the scented woods, and always he was conscious that he made no way with her.

She did not care! She ways marrying him—she had told him that frankly that first day—for his money only. But she had told him, too, that her heart was free, and he had built a great structure upon that. It seemed now to be cruthbling to ruin. Yet to give her up—No. Never!

To-day he has come down as usual to pay her his morning visit—a vist seldom accomplished without the bots' supervision. He has come a little e rlier this morning, hoping to escape the h, to have her quite to himself for five min tes. Halfway down the avenue the sound of voices, coming from the yard that lies a his right hand, reaches his ears. He pau es: is not that her laugh, that ringing silvery peal?

After it comes a cry of "Caught!" Surely Geoffrey's voice this tin ly there is no escaping the boys What a pity Mr. Gabbett cannot give pity Mr. Gabbett cannot give hem their lessons in the morning rather than in the afternoon! The afternoons ar full, and Terry is so seldom at the turns towords the yard than half-

To this Trefusis goes and as he comes to it he stands still. here is an excellent view of the entire view of from this gate-way, as Trefusis acknowledges to himgate-way, as Trefusis acknow dges to him-self a moment later rather grimly. He stops short at the entrance, and gazes on the picture before him.

Behind a huge water-bar el, Terry is standing, stooping low to avoid the eyes of her brothers, and beside her, stooping also is Laurence O'More. Every low and the either of them peeps out from his or he side of the barrel, and as suickly draw back again, but not before Trefusis's angiglance can see that Terry's charming face lit with laughter. lit with laughter.

Meantime, the foe is drawing hearer, and, to add to the discomfiture the two in hiding, a flock of soft we pigeons, coming swooping back to the homes in the yard, fresh from their plarcenies committed in the corning around them, make straight for Terry, they not sure of their crumbs when shows?

And now the boys are out again. They see the pigeons. Where the pigeons are, there surely is Terry. A piercing war whoop bursts from them. Terry prings for a second laughing, her snowy betrayers still fittering round her; then she springs forward, Laurence after her, the boys in hot pursuit.

They a. head her that she makes straight for the small gate where stands Justice—that is, Trefusis. She is laughing as she runs; her face is all alight, full of a beautiful, almost childish, excitement.

She images in constant play:

Then she stopy at ort. The lovely light

"You!" she says, faintly.
Trefusis says nothing. For the first time in his excellently well regulated life, he finds himself without words. That change in her face! The dying away of the mirth, the happy laughter! He had been angry because O'More was with her, but that hardly counts now. He can think of only one thing, that when she saw him her one thing, that when she saw him her pretty face fell, her pretty smile died. A very rage of anger against her surges in his heart. "Oh! I didn't know," she cries, breathing quick!y both from surprise and her late fast run, "that you were coming so

"So I perceive," says Trefusis, dryly.
Terry turns round as if to say something to Larry or the boys, but they are nowhere to be seen. Larry, scenting trouble in the air, has considerately carried her brothers away with him. Thus deserted, Terry once more looks at Trefusis.

"We were playing hide-and-seek," she says, nervously. It is the unhappiest thing, but her nervousness only angers him still further. What has he done to her, that she show actual distrust of him? What has there been in all his dealings with her t cause her to know fear, however slight, however transitory ?"

"I am sorry I was unfortunate enough to interrupt you," he says, calmly, without a trace in his voice of the emotion that is deceit. There will be another suit for stirring him to his heart's core. This is damages against the same paper, it is said, his misfortune. If he had stormed at her. on the same advertisement. scolded her heartily, shown himself abominably jealous, she could have under-stood him—having been brought up in an exactly the same terms as they parted the atmosphere where every one said what he day before. It seemed to him impossible or she thought at the moment, where anger, or she thought at the moment, where anger, justly shown, was accepted in a right spirit, and a storm or two in the week considered of little consequence. That Trefusis, though she knew he must be angry with her, should refrain from saying so. makes him at once even a greater stranger to her than he was before. Larry would have said so much! and then she could have explained; but he, Mr. Trefusis, he will say nothing. She feels suffocated. Suddenly a sense of anger, most honest anger, stirs her breast. She turns to him a charming face, now all frowning with her thought. (To be Continued.)

THE BABY ONCE MORE.

Serious Facts for the Consideration of

All wise people will readily admit that, for young infants, the ideal food is healthy mother's milk, but when this is out of the question a prepared infant food must be used. This prepared food should closely resemble healthy human milk.

It is now admitted everywhere that Lactated Food is the best substitute in the world for breast milk. Its basis is the same as that of mother's milk, that is, sugar of milk; and with it are combined the nutritive qualities of the great cereals, wheat, barley and oats, so prepared as to be readily digested and assimilated. The efficacy of the nutritive qualities of Lactated Food has long been acknowledged by the medical profession. No other food in the world has received such hearty recommendations and praise from mothers.

It is the only food in the world that can ward off dysentery and cholera infantum; and it can truly be said that Lactated Food saves the babies from death.

Every mother should give her infant Lactated Food if it is not progressing in health and growth. One week's feeding with the great Food will satisfy any mother of its virtues and superiority.

The doctor believes in the "give and take" motto.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruiss; cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Don't look for lost bees in the best ociety's hive.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

Opposed to Free Lumber. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 2 .- A meeting of the lumber exchange was held this afternoon to take action on the clause in the tariff bill placing lumber in a finished state on the free list. A number of letters from prominent lumber dealers in the different lake cities asking that the association take action by sending a delegation to Washington, or otherwise to protect the lumber interest of the lake, were received. Mr. Burns explained that the putting of half and whole finished lumber on the free list meant nothing more than the extinction of United States planing mills and the transfer of the industries of Bay City, Bufialo and Tonawanda to Canada. At the present time there is a duty of $1 50 on umber dressed on one side and of $250 on umber dressed on both sides.

Deceased was well known and beloved by a large circle of friends in Woodstock, Ingersoll and London, who will be sorry to learn of her death. -Friday evening was the occasion of the organ recital in New St. Paul's Church by Mr. Thomas Mitcheltree, of London. It was the first appearanse of Mr. Mitcheltree, or, as he is familiarly called, "Blind Tom," and judging from the excellence of the programme and the many expression of delight and appreciation it will not be the last. Mr. Mitcheltree, although entirely blind, is indeed master of the organ, and his numbers were rendered with most beautiful expression. He is a thorough musician, and seems to throw his whole soul into each effort of his excellent interpretation, and brilliant and artistic renderings completely caught and delighted his audlence. -[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

St. Andrew's Society To-Night. To-night (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock members of St. Andrew's Society and their friends meet at Ald. J. W. Jones' rooms, Dundas street, to arrange for their annual demonstration, which promises to be a greater success than ever this year. There should be a large attendance.

Where They Went. About 10,000 people flocked to Queen's Park to witness the school children's demonstration.

Twenty-five hundred attended both baseball games at Tecumseh Park. Port Stanley was patronized by 2,200 Londoners and 1,500 St. Thomas people.

About 700 took in the different Detroit excursions. Five hundred people pinned their faith on Wonderland and Springbank.

The shooting affair that happened on the Roman line, Biddulph, on the night of June 22, has reached the point where the inquest comes in. Cain died from his injuries on Sunday night about 11 o'clock, and Ed. Bowers will now probably have a serious charge to answer. The details of the affair have already appeared in the ADVERTISER, and the preliminary hearing of the case was reported in Saturday's issue. An inquest will be held at 11 o'clock this morning. Cain leaves a wife and seven children. Bowers, who is confined in jail here, will be taken out to the inquest. Portwood-Taylor. Miss Ada Taylor, daughter of Mr. William Taylor, city, was married to Mr. W. J. Portwood, of the ADVERTISER, at the residence of her father on Saturday at 4 o'clock. The bride looked charming in cream cashmere, beautifully trimmed with lace, rose and veil. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lillie Taylor, and the groom was supported by Mr. B. W. Dawson. The maid of honor, little Miss Gladys Langford, niece of the bride, looked very sweet and dainty in her pretty gown of cream and crown and bouquet of marguerites. The happy couple left in the evening for the west, and on their return will reside on Queen's avenue.

Fatal Lamp Explosion. Miss Lizzie Ralph, the eldest daughter of Mr. James Ralph, con. 6, London town-ship, met with a terrible accident on Saturday night, which resulted fatally on the following morning at 9 o'clock. She went to the barn at a late hour, carrying a lighted lamp. A few minutes afterward her brother heard screams, and on looking in the direction of the barn saw his sister enveloped in flames. He ran to her assistance, but did not succeed in extinguishing the flames until the girl's clothing was almost entirely burned from her body.

Miss Ralph twas frightfully scorched. her face alone escaping. It is supposed that the lamp exploded, as fragments of it were afterwards found. The barn caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

Picnic at Mount Hope. The annual Dominion Day pienie in connection with the Mount Hope Orphanage yesterday afternoon and evening was even more successful if possible than its predecessors. The afternoon was given up to unalloyed enjoyment of the little ones. Sports of all kinds were organized for their benefit, and every event was well contested. The Seventh Band was present throughout the day and played at short intervals. All over the grounds were means of entertainment. Swings were going, balls were flying and children were laughing and running everywhere. There were plenty of refreshment booths and all were well patronized. In the evening the older folks came out in large numbers and the picnic took the proportions of a promenade band concert and a garden social on a large scale. A considerable sum will be realized for charitable purposes. The volunteer committee of ladies and gentlemen worked with a will, and while special mention would be invidious, all deserve credit. The members of St. Vincent de Paul Society acted as gate keepers.

Convention Notes. The programme of the convention to snows a great list of representative Baptist names. Every section of the continent sends some of its best men. The south sends Ellis, Wharton, Gambrell. Cranfil, Taylor, McDonald, Carroll, Nash and Gov. Northern. The west sends Law. rence, Henson, Grenell, Chaffee, Pierce, Geistweit, McLaurin, Price. The east sends Bixby, McArthur, Hull, Morehouse, Mabie, Lawson, Roothe and Stewart. The forecast of the attendance shows that though the Massey Music Hall is one of the largest and best equipped for convention purposes on the continent, it will be so crowded that the convention committee will duplicate the evening services. The Toronto Baptists are looking forward with great pleasure to this meeting of the Baptists of North America, and a grand feature of it will be the coming together in large numbers of those whom national barriers have hitherto kept apart. The great attractions of Niagara Falls, Mus-koka lakes (the "Highlands of Ontario"), the Thousand Isles, apart from the programme, are having a great influence in swelling the delegations.

A Girl's Sad Plight. A girl told a sad tale to inspector Bell this morning, and punctuated it with many tears and sobs. She said that her husband worked at the brickyards. She claims to be 18 years old, but does not look more than 12 or 13. She has been in this country for seven years, and is one of Miss Rye's importations. "I had just come out from the hospital where I had been sick with inflammation of the lungs," she told a reporter. "Then the doctors said I was not to work hard, and when Lane told me a lot of lies and said I would have an easy time, I married him. He cannot afford to keep a wife and he sent me out to live with his brother-in-law near Mount Pleasant Cemetery. I have done nothing but slave ever since I went out there, and last night he turned me out of the house. I slept on a sofa at a neighbor's house last night.'

"Why don't you try and get work?" asked Mr. Bell. "Nobody will hire me when they know I am married, and-Here the poor girl broke out sobbing again as if her heart would break. Mr. Bell sent her to the chief of police.

An Abandoned Idea.

It was thought in years gone by that the stronger the remedy the better its effects and value. It was believed that nothing but the strongest physics were efficacious in curing biliary and liver troubles. Since the introduction of Eseljay's Liver Lozenges this notion is being abandoned, as people find altogether better and more lasting effects from the use of this apparently simple remedy. They are 25 cents a box, or five boxes for $1.
