The Government Candidates.

To-DAY the nomination of the several candidates who had previously been selected to contest the various Electoral Districts for the House of Assembly at the approach-General Election took place. We feel that it is but fitting that we should say a few words regarding the suffrages of the people in the interest of the present Government.

QUEEN'S COUNTY. The electors of Charlottetown nave chosen their old and faithful representatives, Hon. Neil McLeod and Patrick Blake, Esq. Two more worthy men it would be difficult to find, and the energetic and businesslike manner in which they have ded to their Legislative duties in the past, is a sufficient guarantee of their re-election with a handsome majority.

In the First District, Hon. Wm.

Campbell and Angus McDougall, , have been nominated. Mr. pbell is well and favorably known, having been a long time in public life. As Commissioner of Public Works he has proved himself a most competent and energetic official. Mr. McDougall is an inde-

The Patriot has made a startling discovery. Mr. Sallivan, in the year itself and the progression is creased that a listover when the general table plorable condition would be their restoration to the control of affairs of the construction of large public business in a straightforward economical and statesmallike manner.

Comparisons are Odious!

The Patriot has made a startling discovery. Mr. Sallivan, in the year itself and they are the parties most interested, and we shall indeed feel susprised it they do not accord to the Treasury the enormous sum of $1,837-$314 of which were moneyes and roung so and roung so adely wanthing the plorable condition would be their restoration to the control of affairs by the will show the immense saving which have been triefly the plorable condition would be their restoration to the control of affairs and among the mensulation of the guest that should be will always the restoration to the control of affairs and among the mensulation works such as the Lunatic Applan or Stock Farm Baildings, as tissed in the result of next the present Opposition were at the subjoint and the present opposition were at the proposition of the listance of the guestian and among the mensulation and the present opposition were at the pr selves to be hoodwinked by the contractors who cleverly managed to obtain from them a complete surrender of the security on the main line, so that until the Railway was finished, the Government did not possess one cent of guarantee for the proper fulfilment of the contract. This was business with a vengeance.

Of this administration of whose competence we have adduced two such conspicuous instances, Mr. Louis H. Davies was the legal adviser and Mr. David Laird one of its chief supporters. Mr. Laird, it is true, was not a member of the Cabinet at the period to which we have referred, but he took matters very coolly, probably as he found it to be his advantage to do so. It was in the seesion of 1872, while he was a member of the House of Assembly supporting Messrs. Sinclair, Beer and McLean, that he managed to perpetrate that infamous job, the like of which, had never before disgraced the Island over the proposed and provent and the construct of the contract. This was intended to the election remain unfulfilled to this day, and instead of dovoting his attention to Island interests, he has been most active in endeavoring to obstruct Mr. Sullivan and his colleagues and prevent them from obtaining a settlement of the claims which we have against the Dominion Government.

Were Mr. Davies an unselfish man, the people might be disposed to heed his advice, but knowing, as they do, that he is one of the most unprincipled and greedy of politicians—knowing that his whole public career has been marked by hypocrisy and deceit, and his public man, the people might be disposed to heed his advice, but knowing, as they do, that he is one of the most unprincipled and greedy of politicians—knowing that his whole public career has been marked by hypocrisy and deceit, and his public was in the death of the eastern coast of Nova Scotia, he nouther much larger number of votes than he had himself secured. Second Week of the Blunder Bargain, Over-Stock Sale,

WE announced last week that we bought too many Goods this Spring, in consequence of being persuaded by "commercial tourists" that his is a great country of ours, and that we would have extraordinary sales this assent and to buy too many Goods would be a moral impossibility, etc., etc. We acknowledge our weakness in this regard, but find our store heaped up with Cloths and Clothings, Hats and Capa, Prints, Ginghams and all kinds of Cotton Goods; Shirts and Drawets, and a host of other Goods too numerous to mention. To correct this error we announced last week that we would reduce our overstock at UNHEARD OF PRICES. We are happy to say that the consumers believed us, because the figures given them could not fail to have the desired result. Our store was crowded like a RUN on a Bank, with this striking difference, that in one case they were anxious to get their money OUT, but in this case they were anxious to get their money OUT, but in this case they were anxious to get their money IN, and exchange it as fast as possible for Saits, Cloths, Hats, Frints, Shirts, Gottons, etc. We mention only a few of our regular prices, which will be cut much finer: Men's Grey Oxford All-Wool Suits, $7.50.
