Please The Children

by making bread that appeals to their taste as well as giving nourishment to their system. Ask the average child which it prefers, bread or cake, and it will invariably answer, "Cake". That is because the bread is not as tasty as it might be. It lacks that delicate, sweet, appealing flavor that children relish so heartily, and that is just as easy to provide as the nourishing properties.

"Beaver" Flour

is the stand-by of every thinking mother and housewife. You need not be a brilliant cook in order to get good results with this carefully balanced blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat. You don't have to bother about one kind of flour for bread, and another for pastry. "BEAVER FLOUR" provides the ideal qualities for both—the gluten, or nourishment, of the Manitoba wheat, and the lighter properties of the Ontario wheat that go to make bread white and sweet and pastry crisp and flaky.

"BEAVER FLOUR" makes more loaves to the barrel than any other. It gives the best results in bread, pies and cakes because it adds appearance and flavor to the merit of nourishment.

Don't take anybody's word for it. Try "BEAVER FLOUR" yourself and convince yourself that good baking is easier than you thought it was.

"Tell Him I Loathe Him."

CHAPTER XIV.
ANOTHER HEART DECEIVED.
 "It is a story that I scarcely know how to begin, Bebe," he said, endeavoring to clear his throat of the emotion that seemed to cling there chokingly. "But let me tell it as quickly as I can, avoiding details. Chapman's family consisted of a brother and himself. They were as devoted as the remnants of a family usually are, but—oh, of what use is it to tell you all

There was a heavenly smile upon her face as she kissed him good night and went as swiftly as her eternal darkness would allow from the room. Lansing remained there in the library alone, fighting out a battle that he had fought a thousand times before. It was not until late the following day that Chapman sought him there. The handsome face was more haggard and drawn than Lansing ever remembered? Harold Childes, the brother of the man you know as Chapman, was hanged for murder!"

 He paused, but being answered by only a heavy shudder, he continued hoarsely:
 "Eric Childes, otherwise Edwin Chapman, was believed to have been an accomplice, was arrested and tried, but there was not sufficient evidence to convict him; still every one believed him to be guilty, and he—"

"He was not—he was not!" cried Bebe passionately, lifting herself and seeming to rip the veil from her sightless eyes. "He is incapable of that! He is incapable, I tell you! He is too noble, too good! Oh, father, surely I need not tell you this. You do not believe him guilty?"
 "No, dear, no, no!" returned Lansing with painful nervousness. "I do not; but others did, and for that reason he was hanged. He was like a leper cast out of the gates of the city. People feared to trust him, and then at last in desperation he changed his name. He determined that he would lose himself to the world, that he would make it forget the scourge that clung to him. He lived his life for a few fatal months, and then, Bebe, he met a woman whom he fancied he loved. He won her heart or its semblance. One day she discovered his deception. She could not forgive him, Bebe, but sent him from her with expressions of loathing. He believed that not even that had the power to kill his love, and nursed the affection in his heart, refusing to believe that it had wandered elsewhere. Bebe, he probed his own secret to-night! He found that in the new life that had come to him, that the old days were dead, and in the coffin lay the ashes of that other love."

She slipped to her knees, and stretching her arms across his lap hid her face upon them.
 "What showed him the truth?" she whispered, her voice smothered from its confinement.
 "You know better than I!" he answered, a tear falling upon the golden head, where the thickness of the hair prevented her from feeling it. "You know the scene that occurred here, that told Edwin Chapman in what direction his heart had wandered. Little one, next to you, next to your happiness, I desire that of Edwin Chapman. I love him as though he were my own son."

Suddenly she lifted herself, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him passionately upon the lips.
 "Dear, darling!" she whispered (there is no one in all this world so good, so true as you. If I could love you more than I have, I do now.)
 He bit his lip hard to force back their groan.
 "And your answer to Chapman?" he asked huskily.
 "My answer to what, papa?" she asked, concealing her happy, flushed face upon his shoulder.
 "Can you forget the past?" cried Lansing, with more passion than he might have shown had his pleading been for himself. "Can you cease to remember that there ever was a time when he fancied he loved another? But understanding all that, knowing the life that he has lived, are you willing to become his wife? What shall I tell him, my darling?"
 She lifted her sweet, glowing face and caught both his hands in hers.
 "Tell him that I am the happiest girl in the world!" she answered, by voice tremulous from the sweetest of the heart's emotions. "Tell him that I will try through all the years of my life to make him forget what he has suffered. Tell him that I will try to make him adore the sex that he must despise because of the weakness of one woman's love. Tell him that the bitterness of his past has given me a new heart, filled with loving sympathy, that, in addition to the old one, is all his own!"

 There was a long silence between them, during which time Lansing held her so closely to his heart that she could have counted its mad throbbing.
 "You must go now, my little one," he said at last, putting her from him. "You have made me very happy. There is just one thing more, dear. If you want to show Edwin your love, do not let him speak to you of the past. Tell him that you want him to forget it, that your father has told you all. You will do that, Bebe?"
 "I will. Good night, dear father. I did not think when I sat up to-night to wait for you that I should go to bed so happy a girl. Yet there was a time to-night when I think death would have been a pleasant relief to me."
 There were great lines beneath the eyes that told of sleepless agony, and a groan arose from Lansing's heart as he wrung the burning hand.
 "What did she say?" asked Chapman hoarsely, anxious for, yet shrinking from, the answer.
 "She said," replied Lansing, endeavoring to steady his shaking voice: "Tell him that I will try through all the years of my life to make him forget what he has suffered. Tell him that I will try to make him adore a sex that he must now despise, because of the weakness of one woman's love. Tell him that the bitterness of his past has given me a new heart, filled with loving sympathy, that, in addition to the old one, is all his own."

Boy Had Fits For 6 Years
 Druggist advised DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD—Cure complete and lasting.
 Mrs. J. D. Palmer, 38 Park St., Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "When six years of age my boy began to have fits. They came on in the night. He would make strange noises, stiffen out, froth at mouth, face would twitch and some times turned purple. After the fit he could not talk."
 "The family physician said all he could do was to keep them down some what. The second physician pronounced trouble Jeffersonian epilepsy, but could not cure him. He suffered for six years and before beginning the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food had three fits in about five days. Our druggist recommended Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. He has taken seven boxes and has not had the symptom of a fit since. His color has greatly improved; he is not nervous and irritable like he used to be and we consider his cure complete."
 Such results are only obtained by the use of the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food—Not from imitations or substitutes. 50 cents a box, all dealers. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

There is one reason why I wish women would get the vote, even if I am not a suffragette. I wish they could get it and use it to purify the press. During the recent campaign, with all the talk about "white slaves" and other horrible evils, that I, a grown woman, had scarcely ever heard of before, the papers were anything but fit for a child to read. Such things should not be printed.

That was actually said by a grown woman before a large women's club recently. I clipped it from the paper. Think of it. It almost made me an anti-suffragist. It would if I thought there were many women as dangerously narrow and shortsighted as that.

To me it is one of the most splendid signs of the times that papers are giving so much space to all this talk about white slaves and other horrible evils. I wish they gave double the more space they give, the more rapidly the betterment of conditions that is undoubtedly coming through the awakening of the public conscience, will be brought to pass.

Let me tell you, Mrs. False-Modesty Club Woman, what Eva Booth, the head of the Salvation Army in this country, a woman who ought to know as much as anyone in America of conditions in the underworld, said to me about the white slave traffic in New York.

"There has been a tremendous falling off of this kind of business in the last year, not so much through the enforcement of laws as through the fear which so much publicity has inspired in the white slave dealers and procurers.

"The Rockefeller investigation and the newspaper accounts of it have not only awakened the eyes of mothers of young girls all over the country to the dangers that lie in wait for them, but they have thoroughly frightened these wicked men."

"Would you have such things left out of the papers because of the possibility that your child might learn some of the facts of life?"

Do you know the only kind of child that will get any harm from such articles?

The child who has reached the age when children begin to wonder about the mysteries of sex and whose father and mother have not done their duty in explaining such things to him, and who is consequently trying to piece together an explanation from everything that he hears and reads.

That child will morbidly devour such articles and may be harmed by them.

But I do not think that any other child or any clean minded man or woman will derive anything from the reading of such evils, except a burning desire to try to better conditions.

I hope the newspapers will go on giving all the space they can spare to telling about such things, and for those who still disagree with me and still disapprove, I want to tell a little story that I always think of when I meet people like Mrs. False-Modesty Club Woman.

When Dr. Samuel Johnson published his famous dictionary, a woman came to him and said, "Dr. Johnson, I don't like your dictionary."

"Why, Madame?" said the doctor.

"Because there are too many improper words defined in it," said the lady.

"Madame," replied Dr. Johnson, "I see that you have been looking for them."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as strictly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. W. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—takes the advice received and be well.

Fads and Fashions.

On almost every article of dress for the autumn one sees the touch of black.

Red and blue cross-grain saffian leather, suede, seal, walrus and mottled or beaver calf are all in all the best choice for handbags this season.

Bird's-eye chevrot is one of the favorite materials for autumn suits. It comes in the fashionable tones of grape, purple, gray, blue, taupe and green.

A new departure in the manufacture of the worumbo pele cloth is a plaid back, making it reversible, an innovation that promises to be successful.

The general tendency in the suiting materials is toward roughness, showing a greater coarseness of weave and of finish than we have seen in several years.

Black satin evening wraps and cloaks for daytime wear are quite the latest thing, covering the wearer from neck to heels and even trailing slightly at the back.

Mushroom umbrella handles may be had in wood, ivory, horn; metal and in the new beaded styles. Wooden mushroom handles are sometimes carved with animal heads.

Short-neck ribbons of black moire in half-inch width are now worn for carrying the loggion, which is considered more convenient for use when it hangs only to the bust.

Applique satin is a new treatment of satin that reproduces almost exactly the high-priced brocade satins. Its design is known as applique, and it comes in all the light shades.

No gown is complete without a scarf of some kind since during the last four months they have been adapted to street wear with tailor gowns as well as more elaborate toilettes.

Much embroidery in a new kind of beads is being hand done on all classes of fabrics used for the more elaborate frocks, and these beads appear to be enamelled and given a metallic lustre besides.

A Greek bandeau that is fascinating for a youthful coiffure is made of French gilt in diadem form with a row of graduated baroque pearls around it, with two very large ones placed at either end like balls.

One of the loveliest of jeweled buttons is an olive shape, the elongated centre in various tones to match the gown, the rims set with brilliant alternating, and among which are placed rays of the colored stone.

The French are enthusiastic over the practical chiffon jumper, which, although it originated here, has been eagerly adopted by them that it is now sent back to us in charming treatments to go with their latest designs in suits.

A new bag is of dark green morocco, nine inches wide, has a mother-of-pearl frame, held on by green bands. The lining is gray calfskin with a change purse, a powder-puff pocket and a mirror. The handle is so made as to fall flat against the bag when folded down.

In the many combinations of velvet with other materials, which is a marked departure of the season, nothing further is left to be desired in the way of magnificence. There are, for instance, all-over velvet brocades mounted on changeable chiffon, which cling to the figure in long, soft lines.

Earrings have become so re-established in favor that the fashion is no longer eccentric. Circles of precious stones hung pendant from a single contrasting jewel—such as emeralds with pearls, or turquoises with diamonds—are commended by the present demands of fashion and the low set hats.

A simple hair ornament that can be easily adjusted to almost any coiffure is made from silver or gold ribbon, an inch wide, and three rows of colored beads strung side by side. Willmer's wire cut to fit the head, with loops at each end to hold a hairpin, then twisted with the beads and ribbon so that they overlap each other.

It is a pity that so many good-looking women elect to wear a flat, broad band of satin across the top of the head. Such an arrangement is trying to the most beautiful modeled features, and has a harshening effect that is anything but becoming. By putting the band under the hair at the neck from side to side one will find the result much prettier, leaving the natural softness of the hair to frame the face.

Historic House For Lord Kitchener.

London, October 4.—It is understood that Lord Kitchener is about to become the possessor of Broome ark, near Canterbury. The house as a romantic history. It was built by Sir Basil Bixwell, who found an excellent site for the mansion which he desired in the direction of Barham. He "dyked and quicksetted the great pasture fields and laid them to pasture." The result was that Broome ark now stands in a nobly timbered park of 400 acres.

The foundations were laid in April, 1525, and "it was up in the middle of November following, but although the ain-house was bulded, reared and ted by the time aforesaid, yet the work, such as ceiling and boarding, as not done till the end of the year '36, and it was September following the year 1637 before the joiners ad made any great progress in anscooting the rooms, and it was 1. Michael, 1638, before they and the ainters had finished the work and ume the house ready for Sir Basil to me into it."

The house is said to have cost Sir basil $40,000. Outbuildings were ult in the meantime, orchards and rees (a hundred walnuts among lem) planted, and walks cut in the room woods.

The vicissitudes of fate brought the state into the Oxenden family (they ere near neighbours, and dated rom the days of Edward II) by the ill of Sir Henry Oxenden, who chose Bixwell as his third wife, and who as succeeded at Broome in the eight-enth century by his grandson.

The house was given over in 1778 o James Wyatt, the architect, for en-argement and improvements, which ater are questionable.

Lord Kitchener's new home has not uch changed in the last 100 years, ut the estates have fallen away from 5,000 to 400 acres. There are many beautiful pictures in the fine house.

Only Meant to Maim.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 6.—Gunner Thomas Allen pleaded not guilty at assizes yesterday of murder of Captain Peter Elliston, commanding No. 5 Company, R. C. G. A., at Workpoint barracks, August 1.

Allen fired at Elliston from an upper window while the latter was crossing the barrack square. The prisoner had been drinking heavily for weeks and thought the officer had punished him too severely. After his arrest he said he only meant to maim. The defence most likely is that the act was committed while temporarily insane, and there was no intention to kill.

Western Notes.

(Western Star.)

Advices from Gloucester state that the usual number of American vessels will be here this fall. Most of the craft are now being fitted for the herring fishery.

The people of the West Coast and the Straight Shore will not be satisfied until a larger and better steamer than the Home is placed on the Battle Harbor route. Under present conditions passengers enjoy anything but comfort.

The Harlaw is bringing a complete equipment for the company developing Parsons' Pond Oil Wells. It includes two 3-ton boilers and attachment, heavy steel drills, an immense quantity of iron piping, derricks, timber, etc., and a large lot of food supplies.

Mr. R. Vivian Mostyn has been successful in forming a company in England to go into sheep raising and general farming in the Humber Valley on a larger scale. We presume it is the intention to bring out colonists to settle on the land they have purchased. This enterprise will, if successful, result in large and prosperous communities being established here, and will do much for the progress and welfare of the entire West Coast.

A gentleman from Boston was in Bay of Islands last week looking over the prospects for halibut fishing in these waters. He is prepared to invest a large sum of money in erecting a fishing station here, and states that some of the largest fish dealers in Boston and Gloucester are interested in the enterprise. He has already secured contracts with several hundred fishermen on the coast, to fish for him and he expects if all goes well, to have the enterprise in full swing in a short time. Halibut is remarkably plentiful around this coast, but no attempt is made to dispose of the fish. At Burgeo halibut fishing is quite a remunerative business, but in this vicinity it is entirely neglected. The promoter of the enterprise went to St. John's on Friday to consult the Government with a view of securing a 100 ton steamer for the business.

Looks Like an Inferno.

We give in this column an account of a terrible forest fire in Minnesota. Those who are responsible for the compilation of the public message evidently did not think it worth while to send it, although they sent stuff that was not nearly so interesting as human interest as this appalling story we append.

War Road, Minn., Oct. 9.—Beaudette, Spooner and Graceton, Minn., were wiped off the map by the most terrible forest fire ever experienced by Minnesota settlers this morning.

The dead bodies of 75 settlers have been found and it is thought that the death toll among the settlers will be upwards of 300.

Wagon Loads of Dead Arriving. Wagon loads of corpses are constantly being brought into the railway station at Beaudette. It is reported that many settlers crazed with grief at the loss of families and property are ransacking the woods, and searching parties are constantly going out after the injured, the dead, and demented. One family of nine, one of seven and one of five were wiped out.

Fire Attacked the Towns at Night. On Friday night at 8.30 o'clock the fire attacked Beaudette and Spooner, and within three minutes after the first alarm every building was ablaze. Within an hour they were heaps of ash. The people of these towns had just time to quit their homes with only what they had on their backs. They were placed on a passenger train standing at the depot and taken across to Rainy River to safety. The whole country east of here is a fire.

Other Towns are in Great Danger. Rosevelt, Swift, Williams and Cedar Star are in great danger. All the women and children are being moved to places of safety. The Canadian Northern Railway has stationed trains at every station at the service of the people, and is doing everything in its power to relieve the situation.

Five Thousand People Homeless. The people of Beaudette and Spooner are homeless.

Muscle Brain and Nerves are built up on

Grape-Nuts food

"There's a Reason"

er, and the settlers through the north and central part of the State, have lost everything. 2,000 are homeless and the greater part of them are destitute. Help must reach them in the next day or two, and that in a substantial way, for the greater part of them are not half-bred, and cold weather is likely to set in at any time.

Big Lumber Plant Burned. It will be impossible to get details and the names of the dead and injured before tomorrow, and some of the dead will not be found until Spring. It will be impossible to estimate the damage or casualties until later. The surviving pioneers of Northern Minnesota are in need of immediate help. This morning this town was on fire from the International Bridge to Sixth Street, a distance of half a mile. Included in the burned area are the East Portage Lumber Company's mill and lumber yard containing ten million feet of lumber, the Western Canada Flour Mills Company and surrounding buildings.

Fire Houses Were Destroyed. Fifty houses are burned and scores of people homeless. Fire is raging in the woods, as far as can be seen along the south bank of Rainy River. If the wind remains to the north it is probable the rest of Rainy River will be saved. Most of all Beaudette, situated in Minnesota and the International Bridge have so far escaped the fire, as well as the buildings of the Shelvin Mathew Lumber Company at Spooner.

War Road, Minn., Oct. 10.—Latest reports of the fire in the Rainy River region in Minnesota increase the horrors of the situation. If not the number of lives lost. The estimated number of persons killed range from 75 to 400. Several conservative men of business and authority place the deaths at more than 100. But the greater concern for the present is the rescue of the helpless, and the relief of thousands of homeless men, and women and children.

Mothers and Babies Burned. Stories of wild animals fleeing for safety side by side with human beings, their natural hostility and fear of man overcome by terror, came in today, showing the stress of the situation. Tales also came of mothers burned to death with their babies on their breast and men clained while endeavouring to shield their children.

Little Will Be Left. "It's hell down there," said engineer Smith of the Duluth express to-day, when a reporter swung into the cab after the train passed the fire zone. His train took many refugees from the scene of the conflagration to Winnipeg. "If the fire keeps on the way it is going there will be nothing left of the population of that part of Minnesota."

Fishery News. Carbonar—A few boats out 1/2 to 1 qt. hook and line, trawls nothing. Till Cove—No fishing this week. Fishing abundant.

Bonne Bay—Continued gales north and snow squalls since Monday; all fishing suspended.

MINARD'S LINIMENT BELIEVES NEURALGIA.

Discovery of Coal.

Passengers from Trinity by to-day's train bring the report that a discovery of coal was made at Hope Allard, Trinity Bay, yesterday. About two tons were dug out. The results took some of it to their homes and it proved to be excellent fuel.

There is great excitement over the discovery and several applications have been already made in the vicinity. The coal is of the same quality as that found on the West Coast.

We give the story for what it is worth. But Howley's Geological map gives no countenance to it, as the surface rock in that neighbourhood is given as Avalonian, a much older series of strata than any coal measure.

Here and There.

A CASE OF TYPHOID.—Yesterday afternoon a case of typhoid fever developed at 162 Pleasant Street. The patient is a little girl and will be nursed at home.

BRINGS LARGE CARGO.—The S. S. Shenandoah left London at 2 p.m. yesterday for this port, and will bring here about 1,000 tons of freight, mostly new goods for the fall trade.

PRESENTATION TO C. C. C.—Mr. P. F. Collins will formally present six field drums and five bagpipes Sunday morning next before the brigade starts on the march. He will make the presentation on the part of the friends and admirers of the brigade, who with himself put up the money for the purpose.

Children Had Eczema

Treatment prescribed had no effect. DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure.

Mrs. Oeser, Yanovitz, St. Antoine, Sack, writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One son, while nursing, broke out with running water sores all over his head and around the ears. Myself was prescribed to no effect. The child's head suffered agony untold. He became weak and would not eat and we thought we would lose him."

"Presidentially we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An old boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering."

As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers of Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

How is This for a P. P. Organ?

We Call the Appended Item From the Western Star of the 12th Inst.—

"The time is ripe for passing a measure to increase the salaries of our law-makers. The present compensation is pitifully small and is a direct incentive to corruption. Our legislators are not rich men, and they are but human. How can we expect to keep them honest and above the taint of corruption, if we continue to pay them salaries which an office boy would laugh at. Five hundred or six hundred dollars per year would be only modest compensation for the work they have to perform."

POLICE COURT NEWS.

In the police court to-day a drunk was released.

One disorderly was fined $2 or 7 days, and another who appeared for the fourth time this season was fined $5 or 14 days.

Another drunk was fined $1 or 3 days.

Several civil cases were tried in the Central District Court.

Joseph Judge summoned a young man for the 16th inst. Defendant through his guardian, Mr. Higgins, proved that his client had merely acted as a plaintiff for another person who would accept no responsibility in the matter, and therefore the case was dismissed. Plaintiff, it was pointed out, had case against defendant, but could claim on the livery stable who owned the horse he drove for the amount due him.

Narrow Escape.

By the schooner C. W. G. which arrived from Trinity Bay this morning we learn that Capt. Fred Mansfield, of the schooner Garnishee, had a narrow escape from being drowned last night Tuesday morning.

The vessel was blown from Hant's Harbor to new Melbourne and running free in a hurricane of S. S. W. wind with a sea ran. Suddenly the boom jibed and Mansfield, who was standing on the deck with his feet on the mast, was blown over the side and was swept overboard.

In going out the man blindly grasped and held on to the "leach" of the mainsail, but how he managed to keep his grasp on it under the conditions which prevailed is wonderful. The man was wearing heavy boots and oil skins and was almost continually under water by the labouring of the vessel as she wallowed in the waves. The vessel ran fully a quarter of a mile before the man's wits came to his aid.

He held on to the mast until this occurred. She was then brought up in the wind quickly and the man was hauled in on the deck. He vomited much water, was chilled and exhausted, but he was not hurt.

Bruce Passengers.

The Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 7.40 a.m. to-day bringing E. M. Phelan, P. T. and Mrs. Clement, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Robinson, F. J. Morris, W. R. Bowley, H. R. Page, J. A. Whitaker, J. C. Potter, Miss C. Harris, Miss E. Timmons, T. S. Isaacs, Mrs. J. J. O'Rourke, E. McMillan, J. D. Stewart, Mrs. F. LeVie, Mrs. W. Moore, Rev. R. Johnson, R. F. O'Brien, T. T. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Murphy, M. E. Mullooney, W. L. B. A. McNabb, R. J. Wersell, L. T. Winsor and W. L. Harden.

NAME AGAIN CHANGED.—We learn from Messrs. Bowring Bros. that the name of the new steamer building in England for the Red Cross Line has had her name again changed to the Stephano.

The name, like the previous one, has reference to a character in one of Shakespeare's plays.

Looks Like a Marine Tragedy.

Mr. H. W. LeMessurier, Assistant Collector of Customs, had the following wire from B. A. Brazil, Sub-Collector at Grenada:

"Large lot of spruce deals and scantling picked up along shore yesterday from Grand Beach to Point Ross."

It is the opinion of those who know the coast in that section that this points to another marine disaster in Fortune Bay, or near its mouth, and that some coastwise or other vessel which was driven to the shore in weather of the earlier part of the week and striking on one of the several islands off the coast, went to pieces, and that her crew have met a watery grave.

Mariners generally predicted that accidents would occur after the gales of last week and the beginning of the present, and it looks as if their predictions are being verified. Yesterday we chronicled the fact that the French banker St. Pierre had come to grief west of St. Pierre, where she had struck a derelict and went to bottom at once. The accident, it is feared, has been attended with serious loss of life, for one of the crew is known to have been drowned and a boat with seven other men in it is missing. That there have not been found seems to be evident, for if such had occurred we would have been informed by our correspondent. Thursday we also noted the fact that a large lot of deals had been seen floating off Lunenburg and that a vessel had been sailing for five hours through them. It is possible that some of the large ships which came from Quebec laden with deals for Europe might have been driven away and wrecked, or that the deck cargo, which they invariably carry, had been swept off in the high after the gales of last week and the storms. If this cargo is part of the freight of the derelict which caused the accident to the French vessel off St. Pierre, the varying winds must have swept a portion of them into Fortune Bay, while others were brought south of St. Pierre and swept in around Lunenburg and L'Anse-au-Loup. Two or more vessels have been wrecked, it seems very probable, and that their crews have gone down with them almost a certainty. As far as can be learned no local vessels are reported missing as yet, so that it may be that the wrecks are those of foreign bottoms.

Nutritive Hypophosphites.

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—"doesn't feel like doing anything"—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good-up-building tonic.

Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares, overstudy, etc.

Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and has restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

Grand Falls Robbery

People who arrived here by the express yesterday say that altogether over $1,000 in cash was stolen from the general stores at Grand Falls, Wednesday morning, when dynamite was used to blow open the safe there.

It is untrue that the safe was blown in pieces. The crackman, for such he was our informant says, worked in a scientific manner. When Mr. Greene went into the office on Wednesday morning to open it up, as was his wont, he was surprised to see the safe covered with rugs, and in removing these found the door of the receptacle open and all the cash which it contained when it was locked up the previous evening missing.

Amongst the monies in the safe were several amounts, some from $40 to $50, owned by employees and put there temporarily for safe keeping. One organization—the Oddfellows—had $120 in the safe and this shared the same fate as the money of the employees alluded to above. Sergt. Byrne is working assiduously on the case, and the only clue left is a slight one, this is a dynamite fuse which some boys found Wednesday morning with one of the drawers of the safe. They were discovered down by the river which is about 150 yards from the stores. The idea entertained by most of the people of Grand Falls is that it was one person only who did the job.

Sergt. Byrne is very reticent as to what his theory is, but most of the people believe that the author of the robbery is yet at the Falls and that Byrne will clear up the mystery. The reward of $100 has been offered for information that may lead to the capture of the desperado.

Prichard's Party Crosses Labrador.

Important news comes in a letter to-day from Hesketh Prichard, the novelist, cricketer, explorer, big game hunter, and aide-de-camp to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, who set out from London three months ago to reach, if possible, unexplored portions of Labrador.

The expedition has succeeded brilliantly, and for the first time Labrador has been crossed from the Atlantic to the George River, north of Nain, and many observations have been made of much importance to the future Labrador, especially as to the movements of the migratory caribou, on which the food supply of the Eskimo and the settlers off the coast to a great extent depends.

Mr. Prichard was accompanied by Geoffrey Cathorne-Hardy, a grandson of the Earl of Cranbrook. They travelled up the uncharted Fraser River, as far as it was navigable and then found themselves set in by cliffs over 1,500 feet high. With great difficulty these cliffs were climbed with loads of provisions, etc. The journey was then continued over a rocky and woodless tableland, sometimes over 2,000 feet above sea level. Across this Mr. Prichard and his party made their way carrying enough food to take them to the George River, where they arrived on August 19th.

The party visited the camps of the Nascapians on the famous Indian House Lake, where the Indians had killed many migrating deer in the spring. When the expedition left the George River to retrace their steps, the provisions were reduced to 2 pounds of flour and a little tea. The timely killing of a caribou stag enabled them to retrace the tableland and to regain their base on the Fraser River.

Apart from the fits on the high country, the explorers report a most enjoyable trip and good sport, bear and deer being shot. The success of Prichard's Party Crosses Labrador. From Nain to George River.

The journey across the nearest unexplored dominions of King George will arouse much interest in London when the news becomes known there. — Sydney Post.

Mr. Prichard is a well-known cricketer, writer and traveller. In his writings he works mostly in collaboration with his mother, and he has produced a number of novels as well as books of travel. As a cricketer he played for Hampshire County and for the amateurs in Gentlemen vs. Players during the season 1904-5. He has travelled extensively in Patagonia, Labrador, Newfoundland and Haiti. He was the leader of the Filagoffian Expedition in 1906. If we mistake not one of the articles in "Prow's Newfoundland Guide" is from his pen.

The party apparently took steam to Nain. Then made for the mouth of the Fraser River which empties itself into a fjord a little to the north of Nain. The Fraser rises in a watershed to the north of North West River, dividing the slope to the Atlantic from the great valley of George River. This river rises apparently to the north of the chain of lakes above the Grand Falls of Hamilton River, and runs roughly in a line parallel to the coast, spreading out into a great lake just as the waters roll in their northerly course past the source of the Fraser, and eventually emptying itself into Ungava Bay.

Strike Leaders Arrested.

Special to the Evening Telegram. PARIS, Oct. 13. The French Government is meeting the situation, resulting from the general strike of railway employees, with a firmness that challenges the admiration of even those who sympathize with the men in their demands for a minimum wage of $1.00 a day. This action was the instigation of Premier Bryand's promise to punish the agitators, whom he declared precipitated an insurrectionary movement at the very hour that the Premier and M. Millarand, the Minister of Public Works, were conducting negotiations for the peaceful adjustment of the differences between the railroad managers and their employees. The National Railroad Union has succeeded in thoroughly demoralizing the service on the northern and western systems, but it had less success on the eastern and southern lines, where the situation this morning showed little change from that of yesterday. The men of the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean roads are nominally on strike and the eastern system is badly hampered, but many trains are being operated on the former systems. The employees of the Paris-Orleans road and the Paris subway during the night voted to go out, but the subway lines were being operated as usual this morning. The hope of the strikers rest largely on the prospect of sympathetic strikes. The Bricklayers and Pavers have voted a general strike, beginning to-day. The Unions of other trades are meeting and are expressing similar intentions. The five strike leaders arrested this morning attempted a dramatic scene by assembling in the office of the Humanite, a socialist newspaper, where they passed the night in the company of virtually the complete socialist delegation of the Chamber of Deputies, awaiting the arrival of the police. However, when the officers arrived and the deputies began to make inflammatory speeches, the Prefect of Police cut the proceedings short and hustled the leaders off in cabs, and there was no further demonstration. The mobilization of railroad reservists decreed by the Government is proceeding. The men have responded in large numbers, but as yet they have not been ordered to take up the work of the strikers. Thousands of suburbanites were further inconvenienced by a deluge of rain, which made many of the roads leading into the city impassable to pedestrians. As a consequence many failed to report at their offices and the business of the city was upset. A number of acts of violence against the rolling stock was reported. The strikers disclaim responsibility for these and say that the damage has been done by persons not connected with the railroads. The strike is effective on the western railroad leading to Lemans, Bresto, Cherbourg and Dieppe, and on the northern road extending to Amiens, Boulogne and Calais. It has failed up to this afternoon on the southern division over which Dijon, Chalons, Lyons and Marseilles, on the Mediterranean, are reached. The western road to Belgium and German points was badly hampered.

Traffic Suspended.

Special to the Evening Telegram. BERLIN, Oct. 13. Passenger and freight traffic by railroad with France was practically suspended to-day. Sleeping car tickets are no longer sold to French interior points. The banks complain of serious inconvenience in the matter of financial transactions between Germany and France. The French newspapers arrived here a day late with Belgium postage stamps.

THE FAILURE OF THE LABRADOR FISHERY.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Seeing quite a discussion in your valuable paper, whose columns are always open to a controversy especially that which pertains to the country's welfare, I now air my views regarding the failure of the Labrador fishery and other matters in connection with the mode of carrying on the fishery down there. I was down on the coast early in June, and was struck by the fine weather which prevailed up to that time. On enquiring from the settlers how long this fair weather was, and was told you could go from one end of the Labrador to the other in a punt since April, not one clump of ice have been on the coast, and they had seen none during the winter; and in fact since last Fall not a bit of ice formed owing to the heavy sea which kept up all the winter. No ice meant for them no seals and no birds. About the middle of June the wind came up from the north east and it blew and rained till nearly the last of the month, which here in a big sea. Just as we expected the fish to come in, this gale of wind occurred. After it got settled a bit we went out and hauled our traps, and

Not a Shrimp of Fish to be had. The next two weeks it was a case of wind and heavy sea as formerly, almost a week to haul a trap, and not any shrimp landed in our bay—we got a few enough for bait on the outside, and tried for fish on the local ground but found nothing there. Next day we went off to the outer-offer ground and found fish fairly plentiful on the shoals, but nothing in the deep water. These fish did not come in at all, and did not stay long where we found it. We decided it was looking for the caplin which was not in, and so the fish would not come to land, consequently the trapping voyage was the worst on record on the coast, and equally so with the hook and line. For no bait meant no fish to catch even if you had dried squid. At the first I had my misgivings as to the voyage, for ice on the coast is generally an index of a fair fishery, especially if it comes in about the time the fish is expected. We had no ice, and got no fish. And generally that is the way it has been for years. Supposing it was a good voyage on the Labrador this season what would be the price of fish? I forgot to say the current price. I believe there is only fifteen vessels loaded on the shore this season, and we are being paid at the rate of Three Dollars and Fifty Cents per quintal. According to the catch it ought to go Four Dollars and Fifty or Over. Men bringing home their fish from the Straits and Labrador, making it soggy and damp, get from Four Dollars to Four Dollars and Thirty for it. Then the expense of the catch and labor must be taken into account, whilst we poor Labrador fishermen are paid the current price. I wish it was a raising price. And we have to stow the cargo and no pay, perhaps a drop of St. Jago to water the Alexander with (Alexander, Labrador cabbage). We will have to change our mode of curing fish and not let all hands make it together as now. I know it is hard to bring or introduce innovations especially on the Labrador, for what was good enough for grandfather is good enough for me, and the merchants are equally to blame. I believe the planters can make and ship fish on the same basis as the people home here do, and when once tried a way can be found to sell it. Let it be known and I guarantee you will see fish buyers for dry fish on the Labrador as well as the Straits and French Shore, and the chances are just as early. Now, then, that law which prohibited trawling on the Labrador was repealed and whom did it benefit? Not the poor, down-trodden race who got to go with our finger in our mouth, you know who so, but the bankers who get the wink of the word and swooped down on us, and fenced off our fishing ground with trawls. We were scraping up a few fish with salt squid and Jigger, but after the bankers came it was all over. I say these bankers have got no right to come down on the coast trawling, and the Government had no right to repeal That Act because it did not benefit the men who it was intended. Something like the salt squid that the Fiona was going down with all in a hurry, but was sent by another steamer. The planters cannot compete in this traveling business with these equipped bankers with feed, bait, and outfits. And if trawling is allowed to continue, good-bye planters from the shore. What fish is coming into the land when it can get back on the ground? Not only this is so, but the small fish is thrown away as unfit to salt as Bank fish. What effect has the killing of whales on the caplin coming in? Where there is smoke there is fire is an old saying, and it applies as well where there is whales there is bait, kill the whales and what is going to drive the bait in. Let us have a close time from four to six years and see if it will make the caplin more plentiful not only on the Labrador but on the Newfoundland coast as well. It won't affect the fisherman anything to have a close up of the whale factories, but in the end it may prove a blessing. I think it is worth a trial, unless the ring prevail so as to stop such a measure being put in force.

I am, yours,

Notes From Harbor Grace.

The s.s. Stella Maris arrived from Labrador yesterday. Master Ian Thompson came passenger by her from Battle Harbor, where he had been receiving medical treatment.

Mrs. L. Shute left last week for Montreal where she joins her husband, who had been working there the past year or so. Mr. and Mrs. Shute will make their home there in future.

Mr. James Cron is now in St. John's selecting his fall and winter stock of goods.

The Hump arrived this morning with a large whale, and mooring it in the harbor she left in pursuit of another big fish. She will then take her catch to Trinity.

Our Agricultural Exhibition takes place next week, on the 15th and 20th, and a glance at the prize list, &c., a copy of which I send you, will show that the exhibition for 1910 is not going to be behind the others here on previous occasions.

Carbonar is to have his exhibition next week and are making big efforts to out rival Harbor Grace. This is a healthy sign and something that must be appreciated, as competition is the life of trade.

The sound of the whistle at the Hr. Grace Boot & Shoe Factory at 7 and 10 o'clock each night, as all the hands are working overtime, is sufficient to show that business is rushing there, and a large number of boots are being turned out. May the orders still pour in and boots go out in a constant and increasing stream.

Whalers Capture Fish.

Owing to the very stormy weather which prevailed last week the whalers could not get out to work in Conception Bay. The big fish are now becoming scarce and yesterday was the first time the vessels could get out for a week. The Hump captured a small whale 35 feet in length and which the trawls was leaving Hr. Grace yesterday forenoon the Port Saunders was seen coming up the harbor with a large fish in tow.

Ejected From Train.

Before the Bruce express left here yesterday one of a number of men who were going out to Millertown, boarded the cars while intoxicated. He was ejected by Conductor Vitch, but again found his way into the train, and the police who were called put him off the train and might have arrested him but for the intervention of a member of the assembly who begged the man off. The custodians of the trains have now the strictest orders to prevent inebriated persons going upon the railway.

An Honest Lad.

Yesterday after coming to the city a resident of Horse Cove drank too freely and was gathered in by the police. He was driven to the station and it was perhaps well for him that he was arrested as he had considerable money in his possession. After being jailed he discovered that he had lost his purse. The police had intended to try and recover it, when the boy who drove him to the station came back and handed the officers the purse which contained a small sum of money. He is an honest lad.

Weary of Crown.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LISBON, Oct. 13.

It is learned that the suicide of Admiral Reis so disconcerted the revolutionists that it nearly wrecked their plans. It seems that shortly before the hour agreed upon for the mutiny the Minister of Marine signalled, asking the warships whether they were able to repel an attack at a moment's notice. This signal dismayed the conspirators, who refused to accompany Admiral Reis in a boat to the cruiser Santaflor to start the revolution. Whereupon in despair the Admiral killed himself. The death of the Admiral was placarded, but Dr. Comacho convened the Council and issued a denial, which saved the situation. Captain Dasa, who commanded the Royal yacht Amelia on the voyage to Gibraltar, says that during the night King Manuel discussed the situation frankly with his uncle, the Duke of Oporto. He expressed a certain feeling of satisfaction, and declared that he was utterly weary of the burden of the Crown and disgusted with the army of place hunters around the Throne. He expressed admiration for some of the Republican leaders for their courage and energy, whereas the opposing section of Monarchists had shown neither resolution nor ordinary pluck. Captain Dasa believes that the King bitterly felt his complete desertion in his hour of trial. Not a single Minister came to see him or inform him of the course of events. The members of the Cabinet all fled or went into hiding except the Premier, who was kept confined to his residence by an injured foot.

Floods in Jamaica.

Special to Evening Telegram.
KINGSTON, Ja., Oct. 13.

Heavy rains have fallen here since Monday and considerable damage has been done. The fall amounted to nine inches during the last 24 hours. The streets are flooded and the railway and street car service interrupted. The telegraph wires are down between important centres. It is feared that the squalls accompanying the rain will have a bad effect on the crop, but so far no serious damage of this sort has been reported.

No Outbreak.

Special Evening Telegram.
TEYUEIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 13.
Rumors of an outbreak at Amapala are without foundation. The Government has decided to remove General Venudars, the commandant in port, because of his attitude to foreigners. There are no foreign warships at Amapala.

Will Practice Law.

Special to Evening Telegram.
SANTA CRUZ, Mex., Oct. 13.
Dr. Jose Madrid, who was recently defeated by Estrada in the Nicaraguan revolution, has arrived here from Amapala. He is accompanied by his wife and will go to Mexico City where he will practice law.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Miss Sarah Angel, of Hamilton Street, wishes to thank all those who sent donations or in any way helped to make the dance, in aid of St. Patrick's Church, such a success.—adv.

Presentation to Bishop March.

His Lordship Bishop March, of Harbor Grace, was the youngest prelate who attended the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, with one exception, Bishop Fallon, of London, Ont. Before leaving Montreal for a run to Boston and New York Bishop March celebrated Mass at St. John's Church, Point St. Charles, and all the Newfoundlanders in Montreal attended the service. Before he boarded the train to go to the States Messrs. J. J. Hegan, J. Walsh, J. Berry, G. Butt and G. Clarke, representing the people of this country resident in Montreal, waited on His Lordship and presented him with an address and a handsome walking stick bedecked with the colours of old Terra Nova worked in enamel. Bishop March was taken by surprise and heartily thanked the generous donors for their useful and beautiful gift.

Republicans Protest.

Special to Evening Telegram.
ROME, Oct. 13.
The Republican (?) Press protests against the decision of the Italian Cabinet denying expelled Portuguese orders the right to settle in Italy. The papers say that while it may give satisfaction to the extreme parties, this action was quite unnecessary, as the Portuguese had no intention of taking up their residence in this country.

there on receipt of information that dynamite said to be the same as that found in the bomb found at the Zeehandlar home was purchased near San Francisco by men giving the names of Leonard, Bryson and Morris. General Gray Otis, Editor of the Times is protected by a body guard as are his offices and the branch office that houses the editorial and business departments of the Times and auxiliary plant, where the paper is printed.

Will Bury All in One Grave.
Many clues are under investigation to-night, and arrests are being made almost hourly. These arrests, however, are regarded as merely perfunctory.

General Otis and Harry Chandler, Assistant General Manager of the Times, are making arrangements for holding one funeral service for all the victims of the disaster. "If the families of the men don't object, we will have them buried in one grave in my plot," said General Otis, "and we will raise a monument to their memory, which will bear the names of all."

Coroner Hartnell empanelled a jury to-day to begin the inquest. After taking the nine members over the ruins of the Times building he announced that nothing further would be done until the investigation committee, appointed by the Mayor and the Chief of Police, is ready to report.

Another Body Recovered.
The seventh body and part of a backbone have been recovered from the ruins of the Times building. Several bodies are known to be pinned beneath the mass of twisted steel girders, but it will be impossible to remove them until this steel has been removed. The bodies are close together and it is believed that they fell down the elevator shaft.

It is impossible to identify six of the bodies recovered. The police are at present on a twelve-hour shift instead of an eight. The extra four hours are spent at police headquarters as members of a reserve force, which numbers one-third of the membership of the department.

Working on Pulp and Paper Schedule.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The Tariff Board is now investigating the paper and pulp question. John Norris, of New York, and President Lyman, of the International Paper Company, were examined yesterday.

There is a strong desire to hasten forward work on the pulp and paper schedule in order to get something definite in hand before the time when the Canadian reciprocity negotiations open.

These, it is presumed, the administration actually intends to take up in real earnest, as communications which have been had with Canadians would commit it to some such action. It is now too late to withdraw, according to present feelings.

Few Doses Put Bad Kidneys in Order.

In all the world there is no man or woman who can afford to neglect the slightest kidney disorder for one single day.

Kidney diseases are the most dangerous, because the first signs are seen in other parts of the body before anything wrong is noticed with the kidneys themselves.

Some of the symptoms, though, cannot be mistaken; for instance, a constant aching or misery in the back, sides or loins, or headaches and dizzy spells, nervous twitchings, disturbed sleep, inflamed or puffy eyelids, heart palpitations, rheumatic pains, weakness, bilious stomach or a feeling of languor and fatigue. Sick, unhealthy kidneys also cause thick, cloudy, offensive urine or it is full of sediment, irregular of passage and often uncontrollable or attended by a sensation of scalding.

The time to cure kidney trouble is before it settles into Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel, or Bright's Disease. The moment you suspect the slightest kidney, bladder or urinary disorder, begin taking Pape's Diuretic as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere in the world, which will effect a prompt cure. In just a few days you will feel and know that the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs are healthy, clean and normal and all danger passed.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will vouch for the responsibility of Pape, Thompson & Pape of Cincinnati, Ohio, who prepare Pape's Diuretic—50 cent treatment—sold by every druggist in the world.

C. L. B. ANNIVERSARY.—The C. L. B. will celebrate their anniversary on Sunday, the 23rd inst., by attending St. Thomas's Church, where a sermon will be delivered by Rev. Canon Danfield.

MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

From Hudson Bay.

Messrs. S. Shave and Thos. Leary, who had been in Hudson Bay the past summer with Revillon Bros., returned from Montreal yesterday by the express. They had been engaged all summer cruising around in one of the steamers buying furs. The weather was fine till the last week in September, when storms set in and the weather grew frosty. Operations were then closed down and they left for Montreal on the 26th. They were accompanied on the journey back by a French-Canadian priest and a teacher who had been down there 10 years. They were coming back to Ottawa, Good work was done in trapping furs last winter. All the other Newfoundlanders with Revillon Bros. are doing well.

Agricultural Exhibition

The Curling Rink is being put in first class condition for the coming Agricultural Exhibition. Mr. J. F. Downey who has had a staff of workmen engaged there the past few weeks has the interior fitted up in excellent condition, the decorations being in the colors of pink, white and green. The exhibition tables and stands which contain thousands of feet of spruce are tastefully prepared, and there are spacious avenues to pass on both sides of the same. The place will be lighted up with hundreds of electric lights and will present a grand appearance when all the finishing touches are added.

Fish Still Plentiful.

At Western Bay, Northern Bay and other parts of the North Shore of Conception Bay codfish are very plentiful, in fact were never more so at this advanced season. Squid is also abundant and all the people are yet on the quest of cod. When the weather is fine boats get from 2 to 4 qts, and the fish are remarkably large, evidently well fed. The weather is so bad that mostly all the fall caught fish cannot be cured this season. This will be heavily salted and stowed away to be cured next season.

At Odd Fellows' Hall.

On the observance of the "Day of Atonement" held yesterday in the Oddfellows Hall, by the Hebrew Fraternity, Mr. A. Cohen, President of the Society, who is here from Bell Island, and Mr. B. Friedman, of the city, delivered addresses. A strict fast was observed from 6 p.m. Wednesday till 6 p.m. yesterday.

Had Good Sport.

Mr. Michael Caul, grocer, and E. Neary, went to Western Bay last week partridge shooting, and found birds very plentiful on the barrens, but the weather was so stormy that they only had 3 days shooting. The birds were very wild, but the men did good work and bagged 63 partridge and several snipe, while a number of rabbits were also shot.

A Fine Photograph.

Last night many citizens were attracted to Mr. James P. Cash's upper store where a fine photo was shown of the Newfoundlanders Association dinner to the Premier. The faces of many old-time residents of St. John's are depicted there, notably: Gus Foran, Ted Furlong, John O'Keefe, J. McNamara, John Callahan, P. Outerbridge, Capt. J. McGrath, F. Finlay and T. Phelan.

College Football.

The third football match of the Inter-Collegiate series took place at St. George's Field yesterday between the B. F. C. and St. Bon's teams, the latter winning by five goals to one. The play was lively and exciting from the very outset. The winning team did remarkably good combination work. The line up being:—

St. Bous.—Kennedy, goal; Kehoe, Lundrigan, backs; Halley, Rawlins, Knight, halves; Brien, Gear, Hagen, Emerson, Leary, forwards.

B. F. C.—Pilot, goal; Rendell, Jarrett, backs; Joyce, Hollands, Shaw, halves; Knight, Trebble, Martin, Oke, Winter, forwards.

Mr. N. Vincombe was referee.

He Became Disorderly.

Yesterday afternoon a man under the influence of liquor went into the store of Barron & Co. on business, and after a while became very disorderly. The police were called but Mr. Barron would not have the man arrested. He was quickly fired, however, and was glad to get away from the minions of the law.

BODY BROUGHT HOME.—Monday last a young man named Bird, a former resident of Dunville was accidentally killed while working at Sydney mines. The body was brought home by yesterday's express for interment. Bird was quite a young chap and his parents are grief-stricken over his sad death.

Fire Alarm.

An alarm of fire sent in from box 338 at 10.35 a.m. to-day called the Central and West End firemen to Sheehan Shute. Sparks from the chimney of Mrs. Whelan's house there fell on the roof and caused a flare up. The blaze was put out in five minutes. An old brin bag stuffed between the chimney and the ceiling inside the roof caused the fire in the first place. A small hole was burned in the roof.

Accident at Bell Island

Car Runs Into Pocket of N. S. S. Co.

While running out one to the steamer on Wednesday morning an accident of a serious nature occurred which has caused the Company a considerable sum, and heavy loss. It seems that in running out the ore to the pockets, a car broke loose from the grips, and ran right through the tippler and thence into the pocket, causing a big delay in loading of steamers, and choking the riders of the pocket. Gangs of men were immediately put on, and working all night and to-day with buckets trying to empty the pocket and to locate the car. The S. S. Canada arrived yesterday for a load and was tied up, also all the works are at a standstill until the car has been raised. At an early hour this morning Manager Burrows with a gang of men descended into the pocket trying to locate the car, and succeeded in raising it at 2 p.m. About two hours after every-thing was in running order, and the loading of the Canada commenced immediately. She will sail to-night taking 4,000 tons. In speaking to a gentleman yesterday of the particulars of the accident he says that it cost the Company about $100 per hour. This is a serious loss to the Company at this time of the year when there are so many orders to fill before navigation closes.

ASTRAY IN THE WOODS.—Monday last a girl named Ellen Elford, of New Perlican, left the woman she resides with to go to her parents' home at Scilly Cove, and while on the road went into the woods, where she went astray and spent the night in the forest. She reached the road next day and travelled home. She was not much the worse for her experience, though she was badly scared when she found herself alone in the woods during the night.

Sirs,—I came across a bottle of your MINARD'S LINIMENT in the hands of one of the students at the University of Maryland, and he being so kind as to let me use it for a very bad sprain, which I obtained in training for foot races, and to say that it helped me would be putting it very mildly, and I therefore ask if you would let me know of one of your agents that is closest to Baltimore so that I may obtain some of it. Thanking you in advance I remain, Hundreds Drowned.

London, October 7.—Hundreds of religious celebrants were drowned by the sudden overflow of the Ganges River, near Agara, India, according to dispatches received here to-day. A New Discovery.

A new metal, called duralumin, has been discovered by Messrs. Vickers Sons & Maxim, Barrow. It is slightly heavier than aluminum, and as strong as steel. Mr. H. B. Weeds, the chief chemist of Messrs. Vickers, says that, in the course of investigations they had found an alloy which they believed to be superior to anything of its kind hitherto manufactured. The alloy could be rolled, drawn, stamped, extended, or forged at suitable temperatures. It is less corrodible than other high aluminum alloys and all the usual corrosive tests, and possessed altogether such valuable properties that Vickers Sons & Maxim thought there was bound to be a large demand for it. It is said that works for the manufacture of the new metal will be put up at Birmingham.

$100,000 REWARD.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 4.—Under the stimulus of proffered rewards aggregating nearly $100,000, hundreds of policemen, detectives and private citizens in all Pacific Coast cities are stretching for clues which may lead to the arrest of the conspirators who blew up the Los Angeles Times building, Saturday last, and caused the death of more than a score of persons, and attempted the destruction of the homes of General Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Times, and of J. Zeehandlar, Secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturer's Association.

Police and civil officers believe that at least three men were concerned in the outrages, and the city has placed a price of $100,000 on the head of each. The county to-day voted an additional reward of $5,000 for every man captured and convicted, and members of the Merchants and Manufacturer's Association offered a reward of $50,000, of which $25,000 has been subscribed.

$100,000 in Rewards Offered.
Upon the assumption that at least three men were responsible for the explosion, the combined offers thus approximate almost $100,000, a figure almost unprecedented in the annals of criminal history.

Chief of Police Galloway said to-day that he expected to have one or all of the conspirators in custody soon. He expected news from San Francisco, whence has come the most promising clue thus far developed. Wm. J. Burns, a detective, is at work to-night in that city with Los Angeles detectives who were sent
