Big Bear, in anticipation of the attack, selected a fine ambuscade. He had 500 fighting braves with him, most of whom had had American experience in Indian wars. The fighting being over, the men have no stomachs for the every day routine and drudgery of a soldier's life, such as escorting supplies and helping to load and unload, and are anxious to get home. The 7th battalion are very sorry they had no share in any of the battles. They have, however done their duty, and that should be glory enough for any soldier.

The Feeling Against Riel. MONTREAL, May 30 .- The chaplain of Regins, returned here to day. He says that the feeling in Manitoba and Ontario is intensely bitter against Riel, and that it will be a bad thing if he is not hanged. At first, he says, the Winnipeg people blamed the government, but that after bloodshed they put that feeling aside and looked only to the suppression of the rebellion. Winnipeg people suffered greatly through the rebellion, the 90th regiment of Winnipeg having more killed than any other battalion in the field. The government has appointed prosecuting lawyers in Riel's case, both being of Ontario where the feeling is strongly in favor of hanging the robel. The decision of Secretary Whitney ordering the release of Dumont is not unfavorably received here, much sympathy being felt for the escaped rebel.

The Manitobs farmers' union has sent a fight.

The Manitoba farmers' union has sent a full statement of their claims to the governor-general to be forwarded to the secretary of the colonies in England. The statement is in the form of a petition, which makes a volume of ninety pages, and asserts that the Dominion government, it instead of giving the signers redress, encourages rings of land sharks and incompetent officials. The charge of disloyalty is indignantly repudiated, attention being directed to the fact that many a farm in the province is even now going to weeds want of artillery, and along with the ammunition Gen. Middleton is expected to take another field gun and a Gatling gun to be operated by B battery. The rest of the contingent will likely be made up of Grenadiers, Midland and Mounted Police under Col. Lying Power of Man. Cor. Fort William Echo. Mary Ann on her way up the Kam. for a raft of timber, Capt. George McDonell told the following true story: "A few years ago when I was living on the Red river, there was a man with one leg whe was well known to all the settlers round about there—he resembles very much the man who sells newspapers in Pert Arthur. He was living at a junction of the Red river with one of its tributaries about forty miles below Winnipeg. He was anxious to get to the latter place, but waited in vain for a boat to convey him. As no boat came, he determined to make the trip the best way he could, so, securing seventeen live sturgeon which had just been caught by some fishermen there, he threaded a cord through their gills and, harnessing them to a skiff, threw them back into the river. Off they went at full speed up stream, the man sitting at the bow of the boat which he used as a whip. When one of the fish would attempt to turn in a wrong direction down would come the stick with force upon its back, and the unruly one would be compelled to keep the right course. During the trip of forty miles, which was made in something less than an hour, two of the fish had to be killed and unharnessed for their refractory conduct, but the journey was a fast and pleasant one, and when the destination was reached the sturgeon that had shown the greatest willingness to work and the greatest strength was picked from the remaining fifteen and given a place at the dinner table in the evening." the following true story: "A few years ago

MONTREAL, P.Q., May 26, 1885 .- At the anquet of the National club the toast of banquet of the National club the toast of the evening was the "Independence of Canada," which was responded to by Mr. Beaugrand, mayer of Montreal. About 150 guests were present, among whom were a number of members of the provincial parliament. The toast to "the queen" was drunk in silence, while that to Canadian independence was received with wild enthusiasm. Six mayors of cities in the province respended, the object being to give a denial to the assertion made by the opposition and English press that there were no men of preminence in Canada who favored independence. Imperial federation was denounced as impracticable, and if there was any further federation it was said that it would inevitably be with the United States.

On the contrary, if anything their execution on Saturday displayed only too vividly its weakness by the resert to such unworthy tactics as holding sticks, tripping, etc. Of absolute roughness there was very little, only one man coming in for anything like an ugly knock and that W.H. Hubbell, the Toronto point, who received a nasty accidental blow on the eye. The spectators were kind enough to raise several cries of "foul," but the referee had no necessity to exercise any of the penal powers with which he is provided.

3d, 26 mins. Will all the captains sport cucumber suits this summer? The boys couldn't stand four attack was made on the Montreal goal, but Cleghorn and J. Paterson came to the relief and the battle ground was changed to the other end of the field. The rubber's stay at the north and was but brief, for during the greater part of the 6½ minutes that the game lasted the attack was on the lower or Montreal flags. At length Fred, Dixon, who all through did grand work in home, got his shot and won the game for the Torontos.

first time secured the ball, which took a speedy flight northward, where a determined onslaught was made on the Toronto forcress. Hubbeil and Garvin, the Toronto main defence, were too much for the opposing home and by a pretty piece of work succeeded in diverting the attack. A quick journey down the field saw the ball in the journey down the held saw the ball in the vicinity of Eckardt, one of the Toronto home, and a clever shot on goal from his stick was capitally stopped by Paton. Again the phase of the game changed and Sam Martin was called upon to exert all his faculties in defence of the home club's goal. This he did most effectually, although his throwing was somewhat erratic. In this way the play proceeded for twenty-six minutes, at the expiration of which time Eckardt made the lucky shot for the Torontos that won them the game and the

The play on meither side was up to championship form. The field of both teams was deficient, but especially of the Torontos, all the work being confined to either the defence or the home. Still the Torontos did well, and although there is talk of making some—changes next Saturday, when they meet the Ontarios, the wisdom of doing so is doubtful, except in the case possibly of Hardy, who on Saturday appeared rather astray, and for whom Alf. Blight would make an excellent substitute. The great beauty of the present stitute. The great beauty of the present twelve arises from the fact that it is composed entirely of men who were almost born with a lacrosse in their hands, who think practice a pleasure and not a hardship, and whose whole hearts are cenhardship, and whose whole nearts are cen-tred in the work. For these reasons we think it would be wise to keep them to-gether, and with good coaching no fear need be felt even when they collide with the yeterans of the Shamrock club.

The Shamrocks Defeat the Ontarios.

Montreal, May 30.— The lacrosse champiouship season in Montreal was opened to day with the Shamrock Ontario match, which was played on the Shamrock grounds. During the entire game a steady rain fell, making it most unpleasant for the players on the field. The attend for the players on the field. The attendance was small, no doubt owing to the weather, only about 1500 being present, but those who did attend the match were well repaid for their trouble, as it was one of the hardest and closest-contested At 3.30 the teams appeared on the field

The ball was faced at 3.40 and at once accured by the Ontarios who sent it to the Shamrook goal, soon to be returned. The game throughout was a fine one, neither team having the advantage. After 23 minutes' play Gerry scored the first game for the Ontarios.

The second game was speedily in progress and proved a most exciting one. During this game Gerry sprained his knee, but still continued to play. Five minutes after the ball was faced Craigne scored the better checked, and it is admitted by all that the Ontario defence had the better of the game. For the champiens Prier and McGuire en the defence and Rowan and Green in the field did the best work; while for the Ontarios Wilson, Clark, Small Hull and B. Ryan were an almost perfect defence, with McPherson and Crown in the field who played a fine game, but "Pluck" Martin was hardly up to his old form. When it is considered that McGovern, the cover point, and J. Burns, the centre field, were absent from their twelve, we think the Ontarios should congratulate themselves on the result and the admirable showing they made.

Although there has been a good deal said about the improvement of the Shamrock ground it was found almost as bad as ever and in spots was little better than a quagmire.

Some Remarks that Need Revising. In the light of Saturday's matches we ther think our esteemed contemporary the Montreal Gazette will feel disposed to omewhat modify the following remarks, nade by it one day last week:

From all we can hear the Toronto club is not to be feared, and there is no getting over the fact that the Ontarios are a very young team and have to play a couple of championship matches before they know where they can swim and where their feet touch the bottom. can swim and where their feet today in bottom.

They do say it was rather hard for the Ontaries' feet to touch bottom en Saturday, while on the other hand the Rosedale grounds were in magnificent trim, the greensward presenting a picture that in verdure and evenness is rarely equalled, and cannot be surpassed.

The Montrealers, our other city team, is better than it has been for a long time, and has, in our opinion, been improving for several seasons.

They will have to improve a great dea more if they wish to be in the champion ship race at the end of July, let alone when the season closes.

Montrealers have reason to be proud of our two first-class teams. Sure first and second. It may be so and then again it may not

The visitors expressed their pleasure in loud terms of the "game," being the first witnessed by the majority of them.

Following the match a one mile race between the Captain and Davis was decided in favor of the latter, who won by a close finish in good time. After some drill movements around the track a ride through Rosedale and down Yonge street soon brought the clubs to the hotel, when the whole party sat down to supper.

The Rochester men left on the Sunday noon train and were loud in their praise of the treatment received at the Walker house and from the Wanderers bicycle club.

The Wardenship of Wentworth. A motion was argued at Osgoode half Saturday before Master Dalton, to void the election of T. H. Begue as warden of the election of T. H.
