TORONTO SEES FINEST PARADE IN ITS HISTORY

Sir Sam Hughes Rides at Head of Immense Procession of Fighting Men.

CROWDS LINED STREETS

Khaki-Clad Soldiers, Soon to Go Overseas, Receive Ovation From Citizens.

Toronto witnessed yesterday afternoon the largest and most imposing military parade ever held, not only in the history of the city but also in the history of Canada.

Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, rode at the head of the immense procession of soldiers and received an ovation all along the line of march.

The citizens turned out in scores of thousands to line the twelve-mile route of the parade and to see and cheer the troops in khaki who before very long will take their places in France with the other "boys of the line."

Several thousand people viewed the parade as it passed the saluting position in front of the parliament buildings. It was a good place to see the spectacle on account of there being enough space to take in a complete battalion at a glance as it swung, headed by brass or bugle band, down and around the curved road leading south to the University avenue.

It was also the best point to see Gen. Hughes inspect and salute each section of troops as they proudly and with steadiness marched past him.

TRENCHES PROVED SEVERE HARSHIP

Two Guelph Men of First Contingent Have Returned.

GUELPH, Ont., March 1.—Private Ernest C. Fowke, who resides on Charles street, and Pte. Frank Chilvers, Colleger Heights, road, both former members of the 24th Battalion, who enlisted at Guelph and were sent overseas with the first special draft company from that battalion, and who were subsequently transferred to the 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, on their arrival at the front, have arrived home from London. Both men were invalided home, although neither was wounded in action.

CROWN PRINCE BLAMED FOR VERDUN FIASCO

SPLIT IN HUN STAFF

Several German Generals Advise Against Continuation of Drive.

LONDON, March 2.—A Geneva despatch to The Chronicle says: "I have received the following items of intelligence from Mainz, headquarters of the German general staff: 'Mainz, Feb. 28.—A spirit of disorganization prevails within the German general staff as a result of the Verdun defeat. Several generals are advising against a continuation of the offensive, while Gen. Von Falkenhayn, chief of the general staff, continues to send reinforcements. 'It is impossible to conceive the real extent of the German losses. The wounded are pouring back in all directions. On Saturday last alone 15,000 wounded were despatched to the rear. The German losses in the fighting from Friday last to Monday are estimated by an officer of the German general staff at 75,000.'

SUMMONED TO REAR.

MAINZ, Feb. 28.—The crown prince has been urgently summoned to the general headquarters, where there is expectation of lamentable events. The crown prince will not return to the fighting front for some time. In the meanwhile the Duke of Wurtemberg will take over the command of the crown prince's army."

GERMANS MAKE NO NEW ATTACK ON VERDUN LINE

SHELLING AT FRESNES

Foe Bombards French in Woevre, Which is Being Inundated.

LONDON, March 2.—The German Emperor left for the Verdun front and returned to Germany on Tuesday, according to a Rotterdam despatch to The Daily Mail.

LONDON, March 1.—For over 24 hours no infantry attacks have been made on the French positions north of Verdun, to which they had retired on Friday last, and from which they had repelled the advancing waves of Germans, and everything remained comparatively quiet, even the German bombardment apparently having lost some of its force, and being noticeable as above normal at but two points.

The French afternoon communique today had nothing of importance to report as occurring in the region to the north of Verdun, as well as in the Woevre. The German report of today does not mention Verdun at all, but merely reports the activity of artillery along the whole French front and the absence of infantry engagements.

Berlin heard a rumor that Fresnes had been taken, but the French merely report a bombardment of their trenches at this point, while apparently all the rest of the Woevre front remained about as usual. A semi-official despatch said that the Germans gained no advantage from the capture of Manheulles, for the whole region is being flooded.

Germany May Try Again. Military writers are at a loss to determine whether the check which the Germans have received north of Verdun is temporary or permanent, whether they will renew their offensive, (Continued on Page 7, Col. 1.)

WILSON FOILS WILY DESIGNS OF OPPONENTS

He Will Not Allow Compromise Scheme to Obsecure Issue.

CAPITOL IN FERMENT

Many Whispered Conferences, Political Jockeying and General Stir.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Wilson served notice on congress tonight that he will consent to nothing less than a record vote on the anti-administration resolutions to warn Americans off armed ships of European belligerents before he goes on with the German submarine negotiations.

No compromise proposition, such as a vote of confidence in the president's foreign policy, will be accepted. Such an action, it is held, might be construed in Berlin as justification for the opinion that the president lacks the support of congress and his own party in his demand for full observance of international law, while its only purpose would be to afford members of congress a way to avoid recording their positions before the country on the straight, out and out question.

Much Jockeying. President Wilson made his position clear to congressional leaders tonight in unequivocal terms, as the climax to a day of confusion, uncertainty and political manoeuvring that marked the opening of his first real fight with congress.

DRASTIC STEPS FOR RELIEF OF WHEAT TIE-UP

ESTIMATES UNDER FIRE

Pugsley Shone in Role of Chief Sniper—Discussion on Flax Industry.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Ont., March 1.—The house of commons today passed a bill to amend the Railway Act which gives the board of railway commissioners drastic powers to deal with the wheat blockade in the west. There was also a discussion of the flax industry in Canada arising upon a resolution offered by Frank S. Glass the Conservative member for East Middlesex.

Nearly the entire evening, however, was spent in committee of supply and the government ran up against some rather clever opposition to their estimates.

Opposed to Survey. An item appropriating some $200,000 for carrying on the geodetic survey and delimiting the external boundaries of Canada came in for trenchant criticism. Dr. Pugsley moved, seconded by Charles Wilson of Laval, that the item be struck out. Both gentlemen argued that this was no time for frills and furbelows and that the money had better be expended in feeding and clothing our soldiers at the front. The motion, however, was not pressed to a vote, but allowed to stand over upon an intimation from the government that the amount might be considerably reduced.

Black the Versatile. When the Yukon estimates were under consideration, Dr. Pugsley waxed facetious over the many offices held by George W. Black, whom he dubbed the "pooh bah of the Yukon." Mr. Black is appears as acting judge of the territorial court, also clerk of the court, legal adviser to the council, police magistrate and public administrator. The regular judge is absent from the territory upon a vacation. Mr. Pugsley thought it was a sad (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5.)

WAR SUMMARY: Today's Events Reviewed

WITH the kaiser leaving the front of Verdun for the interior of Germany and the Germans making no further attacks, another confirmation is added to the belief that the check of the German armies there has been definite. Those persons who say that it is premature to expect that the Germans will make no further efforts in that direction have also good arguments to support their views, for the Prussian is a not over-intellectual, but a pig-headed man, and the Germans, therefore, being under Prussian direction and Prussian control, might decide to push forward, whatever might be the cost, in order to win a political and badly-needed success. But it should not be overlooked that the German organization is weakening. The first break in the German organization was revealed when it did not attempt to push right on to drive the British and French out of Saloniki when they were unprepared to put up much of a resistance. The second break in the German organization was revealed when the Russians defeated the Turks and captured Erzerum, for the Turks are entirely under the direction of the great German general staff. The third break in the German organization has been revealed in front of Verdun.

The experience of this trench warfare in the west has proved that certain conditions are necessary in order to break thru a hostile front. In order to break the enemy line, whether French, British or German, the front on which the attack is to be made must not be less than five miles, and, in order to ensure success at the least cost, it ought to be more than that—eight or ten miles. The attack must be pushed home and the line thoroughly broken thru the whole of the distance on which the attack is made, or else advance is impossible. When that portion of the line is broken, masses of fresh troops—army corps at a time—must be flung at the broken ends to thrust them farther and farther apart, and heavy artillery must be brought up to neutralize the effect of the artillery that was protecting the line before the breakage, and to destroy that artillery. Whether the Germans or the allies make an attempt at breaking thru, it cannot be done with less than six to eight corps. This is the minimum effort required, and it is so recognized by tactical soldiers.

In launching their attack on Verdun the Germans brought up seven army corps, which were later increased to ten at least, or 20 divisions. These broke thru the French advanced trenches on a front of eight miles, but when they reached the second and real French line of defence, they (Continued on Page 2, Columns 2 and 3.)

THREE MORE VESSELS DETAINED AT KIRKWALL

Three Others Which Have Been Held There, Are Now Released.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 3:37 p.m.—(Delayed by Censor.)—The Norwegian steamer Unita, from Baltimore Feb. 8 for Aalborg, with grain; the Danish steamer Oscar II, from New York for Copenhagen, with a general cargo, and the Norwegian tank steamer Conrad Mohr, from New York for Bergen, with petroleum, have been detained at Kirkwall.

FEW MERCHANT SHIPS ARMED, ASSERTS GREY

LONDON, March 1.—Sir Edward Grey authorizes for publication the following statement: "The assumption apparently made by the German Government that all British merchant ships are armed is entirely incorrect. Practically all British merchant ships employed in trade between the U. S. and the United Kingdom have hitherto been unarmed. 'The claim, therefore, made by the German Government to sink all British merchant ships at sight because of their armament is one which cannot possibly be justified. This is clearly proved by the statement issued last night giving a list of British and neutral unarmed merchant ships which have been torpedoed by German submarines without warning.'

LIQUOR MEN BRIBED RULERS OF ALBERTA

PAID ELECTION MONEY

EDMONTON, March 1.—In the legislature today Dr. Stanley, M.L.A. for High River, charged that improper relations existed between officials and agents of the government and of the liquor licensees. He made the following charges: First, that the government or its agents have for some time received large sums of money from the Licensed Victuallers' Association for election purposes.

Second, large sums of money have, from time to time, been paid by licensees in the province, to agents or officers of the government for the purpose of obtaining concessions from the government in connection with liquor licenses.

Third, that thousands of dollars have been paid to agents of the government to stifle prosecutions under the liquor license ordinance.

Fourth, that in the year 1914 a large number of licensees of the province paid the sum of $25,000 to the agents of the government to secure immunity from such extortion at the instance of such agents. He gave notice that on Tuesday next he would move that the Lieutenant-governor in council be requested to appoint a committee consisting of three judges of the supreme court of Alberta, to make enquiry in the administration of the license branch of the attorney-general's department, and make a report to the lieutenant-governor in council upon all such matters for the information of the legislature; the selection of council to assist in conducting said enquiry to be made by the said commissioners. No comment was made by Premier Sifton or other members of the government.

BRITAIN'S SOUTHEAST COAST WAS ATTACKED BY SEAPLANE

Lone German Raider Dropped Bombs Which Killed One Child, But Caused No Military Damage.

LONDON, March 1.—A German seaplane bombed a portion of the southeast of England tonight, according to an official statement. A nine-month-old child was killed. There was no military damage. A correspondent in an unnamed coast town sends the following: "Shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening a German aeroplane, flying in a westerly direction, passed over the southeast coast. Several bombs were dropped, killing one child and breaking some windows. The houses in this district were very scattered and the damage done was slight. 'It was already dark when the raider arrived and his previous and subsequent movements are unknown.'

CLUBBED BY POLICEMAN SOLDIER DIED AT SEA

Gunner George Snider, Who Was Beaten in Arena Mix-up, Died on Metagama.

Word has been received in Toronto of the death of Gunner George Snider of Hamilton, a member of the 40th Sportsmen's Battery, aboard the steamship Metagama, while proceeding overseas. Gunner Snider took part in the T.R. game at the arena some time ago. An attraction ensued between the opposing players in the dressing-room with the result that the police were called in. In the fight which followed, Snider was clubbed over the head by a Toronto policeman. Snider, after leaving Toronto, complained of pains in the head. These became worse, and he was operated upon aboard ship. He died later and was buried at sea. The military authorities are investigating here.

MANITOBA LEGISLATURE ASKS FOR FREE WHEAT

Resolution Was Adopted Unanimously—Want School Lands Transferred to Province.

WINNIPEG, March 1.—Resolutions in favor of free wheat and the transfer of school lands endowment to the province were adopted unanimously in the legislature today with little discussion. John Williams (Arthur) moved the free wheat resolution. He argued that great losses were sustained by the farmers of the west on account of not being able to dispose of their no-grade wheat in the American market. Grade wheat, also, he said, was usually higher in the American market than in the Canadian, and access to the American market would mean a great benefit. Supporting his argument with free trade theory, Mr. Williams evidently expressed the feeling of the house.

THORNABY WAS SUNK LOSS OF LIFE FEARED

Several of Crew Rescued, But Fate of Others is Uncertain.

LONDON, March 1.—The British steamship Thornaby is reported to have been sunk, all the members of the crew having been killed or drowned. Later advices, however, say the steamer Devereux has arrived in with Steward Cariberg, who was rescued from the wreckage of the Thornaby. The captain of the Devereux reports two other persons from the Thornaby were saved by the steamer Highgate, and that a Norwegian vessel was also in the vicinity where the Thornaby went down.

The Thornaby was owned in West Hartlepool, England. Her gross tonnage was 1782. She was built in 1889, and was 258 feet long. The Thornaby sailed on January 19 from Sunderland, England, for Palermo, Sicily.

HOUSE WILL DISCUSS SHELL BOARD INQUIRY

OTTAWA, March 1.—By an arrangement between the party leaders and whips, tomorrow has been set aside in the house of commons for consideration of the house of commons for consideration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's resolution calling for an enquiry by a committee of the house into the operations of the shell committee. This matter formed an important factor of the debate on the address, but no formal motion was made by the opposition.

RECRUITING RETARDED

Too Many Battalions Are Calling for Men, is Complaint Made.

HAMILTON, Thursday, March 2.—The question of who will be the next president of the Conservative Association as a successor to Senator John Mills, is the "needle in the stack" in the political circles.

It is estimated that the city will be required to make up the difference in the case of those who have already gone, and the cost of the new highway connecting with the city will be included under the new highway improvement act which recently went into effect.

THREE LARGE LINERS TO BECOME FREIGHTERS

NEW YORK, March 1.—The big passenger steamship "Laplante" of the Adriatic of the White Star Line will be converted into a freight carrier.

WAR SUMMARY: Today's Events Reviewed

Front had diminished to three miles, one far too narrow for success, for the effect of jumbling the whole German front together, organizations which formed a barrier of trench lines, huddling them together like sheep and making them a splendid target for the French artillery.

The French report of activity by trench mortars on their side near Point-aux-Lions illustrates a new form of trench warfare which is being tried out by the Germans.

The British fought twenty encounters in the air, with three German losses and none of their own.

The Russians destroyed a detachment of Germans in the Lake Sventen west of Friedriehstadt and on Dvina.

The Italians have occupied and consolidated a position on the west of the Gorizia zone with their artillery, which shelled Austrian shelters, observation posts and marching troops.

Earl Kitchener told a meeting at Guildhall yesterday that the war was going to be one of economic exhaustion as well as one of a conflict of arms.

According to the official communiqué on the war, issued at Berlin yesterday, the Germans did nothing but bring down allied aeroplanes.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

WOMEN'S ENTRANCE ON JOURNALISTIC CAREERS

Sir John Willison Gives Advice and Reminiscences to Press Club.

IN REPORTORIAL DOMAIN

War Will Give Gentler Sex Opportunity in the Newspaper Field.

At the Women's Press Club yesterday afternoon Sir John Willison was the speaker, and out of his experiences of thirty-five years of journalistic life gave the members some very interesting reminiscences and some very practical advice.

He recalled when the first woman, Miss Duncan, was employed on The Globe, and gave an interesting account of the fear entertained by some of the men that their established and traditional ideas might be disturbed, but no such catastrophe occurred.

The war, according to the speaker, will be responsible for the entrance of many more women into the journalistic field, and particularly into the reportorial domain.

"Suffrage, too, is sure to come, as it is now in many of the states of the Union, Wyoming and Utah being especially quoted. Many evils which had been predicted to happen when women got the vote had not materialized, and some benefits which were to have been brought about had failed to appear.

Sir John finished by some sound suggestions to newspaper women in a professional sense, which were much appreciated.

Mrs. Forsythe Grant, who had been associated with the speaker on The Globe, moved a very happy vote of thanks, which was seconded by Miss Louise Mason. Sir John will be a guest of the afternoon.

ODD USE OF RIBBON IN EVENING FROCKS

CHIC "FLOWER GOWN"

Made From Soft Satin With Full Skirt of "Spanish" Outline.

Odd uses of ribbon for trimming are displayed on a number of the most authoritative evening frocks shown at the spring openings. Not for many seasons has ribbon been so extensively employed for ornamentation in so many effective ways. Accessories of every description are made from widths of lovely brocades, blouses, hats and suits, as well as a huge number of imported indoor frocks, are given character and novelty of line by the clever arrangement of ribbons in every width.

Chief among formal frocks just now is the "flower" gown, made from soft satin, silk or crepe de chine. Tiny tabs of ribbon are attached apparently at random all over the skirt to give the much desired petal effect. The frock is developed in turquoise blue crepe de chine, poised over a silver cloth corsage and much flounced petticoat. Gathered simply to the normal waist line the skirt is full and "Spanish" in contour. Beginning about five inches below the waistline is arranged the first line of tabs, which are about three and a half inches long, made of roach-bloom satin ribbon and attached by means of tiny French nosegays in turquoise blue, amethyst and pink. At centres of silver, The bodice crosses over the shoulders in a simple outline, exposing a "v" shaped vest of silver veiled in blue, and introducing a new novelty in the short sleeve arrangement with slashed shoulder. Exquisite blue satin broche slippers, highly strapped, and ornamented in pink, have buttons of rhinestones and silver.

This letter from Mrs. Noxel is endorsed by Mr. H. J. Mahaffy, druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., as being true and correct. While it reports a most remarkable cure of epileptic fits by use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, it only goes to corroborate similar cures reported by others. Mrs. Henrietta M. Noxel, R. R. No. 1, Humberstone, Ont., writes: "I cannot help writing to you, as I want you to know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney Pills have been to my boy. He would twitch all over, his eyes would turn towards his nose, his jaws set and his lips turn almost purple. He would blench, his fits tightly, become unconscious and then go into a long sleep. After several hours he would wake up, sighing and so weak he could not stand. I was afraid he would die and took him to the doctor, who pronounced him to be epileptic. As his medicine was not effective and the fits continued, I took him to another doctor at Fonthill, but his medicine seemed to make him worse. "As the boy's nerves were in such a state that he could not get down or lie down, and the fits continued, I took him to a third doctor, who said that he would not undertake to cure epilepsy, as no doctor could very much discouraged, and when I was given my dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I gave my boy a dose, and that was my first night in weeks that he slept well. I kept on giving him the Nerve Food three times a day, and occasionally a Kidney-Liver Pill to keep the kidneys and bowels active. I can say with a clear conscience, say that he has not had even one fit since beginning this treatment. I give him no other medicine. He looks and feels well, and as there have been no returns of the old trouble for four months I believe he has been cured. I can never cease to be grateful to the manufacturers of these medicines, for I am sure I would have lost my boy if it had not been for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food." Mr. H. J. Mahaffy, druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., writes: "This is to certify that I am acquainted with Mrs. Henrietta M. Noxel, and believe that the statement she has made in regard to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is true and correct." PATRIOTIC MUSICAL DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Picturesque Minuet Danced by Military Men and Partners in Old-Time Costumes.

A charming patriotic musical took place at the home of Mrs. R. de Bruin Austin, Elgin avenue, when a number of the Sir Henry Pellatt Chapter, I. O. D. E., and their friends, enjoyed the delightful program provided. Mrs. Freeman Wright rendered several violin solos in a masterly way, and Freeman Wright delighted the audience with his vocal numbers, among which "The Trumpeter" was given with fine effects. Miss Elma Ferguson proved herself an expert pianist, and readings from Paine Johnson and Daly by Miss Lois Gibson were very much enjoyed.

A special feature was the picturesque minuet danced by Capt. Orr and families, in Dolly Varden costumes, the Misses Dasmann, Printz, Robinson, Ellis and Ong. Mrs. Austin and Mrs. W. A. Kavanagh were hosts, and among others present were: Mr. Austin, Mrs. Ambrose Small, regent, Mrs. E. L. Ruddy, Mrs. Selter, Mrs. Hoy, Mrs. Crofton Kelly, Mrs. Meelis, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, Mrs. John McFergus, Miss Sims. The men in khaki were well represented, 18 officers in all being present. Receipts will go to French material for socks for the soldiers.

The "Office," headed by Miss Swan Wood and a cast of ten capable dancers, including Carr and his capable company, including Walter P. Kelly and Grace de Mont, will present the latest and best "The Office," while Robert Everett's animal circus, containing a score of clever dogs and monkeys, will prove a mine of fun to the kiddies. Headlining the bill at the Hippodrome next week will be Tom Nawn and company, presenting his amusing pastoral comedy, "The Touch of Nature." "CROOKY" AT STRAND.

A laugh, a scream, a chorle! That is "Crooky," the greatest farce-comedy ever produced, which will be presented at the Strand Theatre today and for the balance of this week. It is the kind of comedy that is guaranteed to keep an audience in positive convulsions of merriment and mirth for something like an hour and a half. To make the laugh longer, harder, and louder than any other comedy ever saw. "The Battle Cry of Peace," which has created such a profound sensation wherever it has been shown in the United States, is coming to the Strand for the entire week of March 11.

STAR THEATRE.

To those who have seen Fanny Brice with Ziegfeld's "Follies" will be given the opportunity of seeing her double next week when Harry Hastings' "Tango Queens" will be the attraction at the Star Theatre. Eleanor Faversham, with her "Tango Queens," not only resembles Miss Brice as to size, etc., but her songs and mannerisms are identically the same, and it would be hard, indeed, to distinguish the two artists apart. The appearance here of Miss Brice is not only her initial appearance in burlesque, but a Hastings and the costumes she wears with the "Tango Queens" are direct importations from Paris.

THE GOODSON RECITAL.

When Katharine Goodson played on the continent she astonished the critics, who dubbed her "Padowski in Petticoats." This great English pianist makes her first appearance in Toronto at the Conservatory hall on Thursday evening. Katharine Goodson is one of the world's greatest pianists. She combines a rare sense of poetry with profound musicianship and possesses a temperament which irresistibly magnetizes her audience. Echoing in The New York Tribune says of her: "She is a pianist who brings a beautiful message and combines it with intense seriousness."

The "Maids of America" will be seen for the first time here Monday at the Gayety Theatre, starting with the matinee. Al K. Hall and Don Barclay, both well known in this city, are the co-stars, and much of the success of the show is due to their untiring work, which is manifested by the record-breaking business the show has been doing all season. It is claimed that the "Maids of America" is a continuous laugh from beginning to the fall of the curtain. Hall and Barclay are assisted by Miss Hostelle, May Mack, Ruth Nolan, Carrie Cooper, Harry Lang, Joe Ward, Barney Norton, Arthur Brooks, Ed. Weldon and the Temple Quartet.

JOHN E. KELLER COMING.

This being the 300th anniversary of Shakespeare, much interest is attached to the special engagement at the Grand Opera House next week of the distinguished actor, John E. Keller, who will present his three greatest successes—"Hamlet," "Macbeth" and "The Merchant of Venice." On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Monday, matinee he will be seen in "Hamlet," the role in which he made one of the record runs in theatrical history, playing over 100 nights at the Garden Theatre in New York. On Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday matinee he will be seen as Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice," a character which he presented with understanding and variety. "Macbeth" will be presented on Saturday and Sunday. Keller has achieved a distinction of being a foremost actor of Shakespearean roles and no doubt his engagement will be a notable one in local theatricals.

AT THE MADISON.

True to the life of the Kentucky mountaineer in those days when his path was beset with the dangers that revolved around familiar feuds comes "The Call of the Cumberlands," a photoplay, to be seen at the Madison Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The production presents Dustin Farnum, the popular screen star, in a role that suits him to the fullness of his talents.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 2.

Bilingualism and Prohibition

Lieut.-Colonel Price, who is the only legislator from Toronto who has gone on active service, unless we except Hon. R. A. Pynes's hospital work, moved the adoption of the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Besides the usual compliments, and a specially deserved one to Hon. Mr. McGarry as a recruiting orator, Colonel Price touched on one or two points of pressing interest.

His statement about the bilingual situation, while not exactly official, must be taken as reflecting in some measure the official views of the government. He committed himself to the view that dual language is a mistake, as the experience of Austria, Belgium, Switzerland and other places had shown.

Quebec should be satisfied with the carrying out of treaty obligations in this respect, but the rest of the country must be English. Argu- tators who chose this time to insist on concessions instead of insisting on recruiting were not properly seized of the eternal fitness of things.

Another topic which is likely to absorb attention is the proposed legislation on prohibition. Colonel Price outlined the principles actuating the Conservative party in Ontario on the temperance policy, and referred to the restrictive legislation introduced by the government, whereby 1200 licenses had been cut off.

It was only when the heart of the whole people had determined on the sacrifice to an extent, by an overwhelming body of public opinion, to justify the government taking steps to enforce new laws and regulations that anything could be done.

Then the time was reached when an effort might well be made to ascertain what the opinion was, by appointment of a license commission and the eight o'clock closing had been steps in accord with public opinion. The verdict of the last election was decisive as an endorsement of the policy hitherto followed.

The war had become a great armed economic struggle, he thought, in which thrift might count. The question had arisen, were the people prepared not only to vote to sacrifice, but actually to sacrifice, and assist the government in enforcing new laws, even to prohibition. It remained to be seen what public opinion would support. In this connection Colonel Price added that it should be considered what ought to be done either now or at the conclusion of the war to register the views of the men in khaki on this question. This is the first suggestion of the kind and is worthy of note from its semi-official character.

Colonel Price concluded with a plea for thrift, and by extending the head of fellowship to the opposition. The fight was too big in Europe to start a small one in the legislature. They could trust each other and unite as brothers in carrying liberty to the world in true British fashion.

Helping the Northern Pioneer

"A cry from the North," in a letter from a Matheson correspondent, raises a frequent plea for more consideration for the settlers in the northern portions of the province. Reference is made to the report of the sales of homesteads during last year, Matheson heading the list with 40,000 acres, and Cochrane next with 22,000. The advances for seed have led to considerable clearings having been made. Numerous settlers, however, have left their homesteads and new settlers had taken their place. The depth of snow in the bush, and the embargo on pulp- wood shipments had reduced the work in this line almost to nothing.

The point on which our correspondent lays stress is the abandonment of their homesteads by those who had been some time in the north. They come and invest all they have, and in five or six years, after spending their labor and money to make a home, they find they cannot get along farther, and have to give up. All that they have done is to clear the land, and keep alive. Their resources are exhausted, and without money to put up buildings and fences and purchase stock, they pick up the improved land cheap has his money to do what the original settler could not do, he succeeds with the extra start he gets.

To remedy this it is suggested that cash loans be made to the man who has done the pioneer work and shown that he is able to take hold of the land. No bank will do any business of this sort. The government alone has the power and the resources to accomplish anything of the kind. A great deal has been done, and most successfully done in Ireland by co-operative banks, and no loss has occurred to the authorities, while the advantage to the country and the people has been marked.

It may not be an auspicious time to bring the idea forward, but it has frequently been brought forward in the past, and the sooner it is taken into consideration as a policy which must one day be adopted, the better it will be for the province. Ontario needs settlers above everything. The population grows very slowly, and this is desirable in one way, but it is not desirable that it grow too slowly, or that it stagnate or retrogress, and there have been signs pointing in the latter direction.

We have frequently dwelt on the fact that the timber on the northern lands, unless a pulp mill is within hand, is not an asset, but a liability. People cannot afford to spend their money and their time cutting down trees to burn up, and grubbing the roots out, when they can go on prairie land and have a crop first year without any clearing at all. Any assistance that can be given to genuine settlers who have spent five years on a northern Ontario homestead and are willing to remain on condition of being assisted to stock their clearings, should not be withheld. Every such settler is a gain to the country, and in nothing more than in his power to attract others to settle alongside him.

A Great Change to Be Met

Sir George Foster, without being pessimistic, is always a prudent speaker on matters relating to the war. His expressed belief that Canada has not yet awakened to the fact that the greatest war of the centuries is going on is nothing more nor less than an appreciation of the facts. His views on the changes that are taking place in the world, and the different places the world will be to live in after the conclusion of peace, should be carefully considered by those who think, as he suggested, that when peace is signed the old stream will flow on just as it did before war broke out.

Tennyson pictures a lovely dream of "The Sleeping Beauty," and how the whole of the life around her woke up when the spell was broken, to flow along as the it had never been interrupted. But nothing of this kind is possible after the war. Life has changed its currents altogether, and even the bed of the stream will be a new one in the future. Those who are clinging to the old ideas and who think that their business and their society, their pleasure and their place in the world will be the same after the war as it was before are bound to have an astonishing awakening.

It is difficult to get the people who close themselves away from the war and its happenings to listen to anything outside their own desires. They seem to think that they have no relation to the war—that it does not concern them. They hope to preserve a strict neutrality even in Canada until the war is over. Neutrality is not possible in this earth-quaking struggle. It is not possible even in neutral nations, and it is beyond possibility in any land of the belligerents.

The future will make this clear, but those who wish to meet the future intelligently, as a part of things as they are, and not as they have been, will do well to reconsider their whole attitude to the war and the world. If they can fight they had better fight. If they can induce anyone else to do so, they had better begin their persuasions. If they can assist with their worldly goods there is a great cry in their ears which they must be very deaf not to hear.

The people of the future, who will feel at home after the great peace, are the people, and those alone, who have taken their share in the great war.

Queen Toronto's Own.

By William Henry Taylor, author of "Canadian Seasons," etc.

Come, Canadians, come! Hear the fife and drum, See Our Own parading by; With a measured tramp, from their drill and camp, Marching 'neath Toronto's eye.

They're a Spartan band, and they hope to stand, By their glorious brethren's side, Where that hero corps, war's red veins explore, Winning Honor as their pride.

Thru the Empire's bounds, where its drumbeat sounds Can its Roll of Honor show Such full bags of gold, or defenders bold, As Toronto's streets doth grow?

When Big Ben calls "Time!", then the pavements rhyme With the rolling war-drum's roar; For our army swells, as the larum bells, Chime the sixty-thousand score.

These are volunteers, and we have no fears Of their reckless nerve or pluck; When the foemen feel their Canadian steel, They're not Huns nor Vons, but Ontario's Dons, Bred to tame the Hunnish hordes;

We can dare the earth, that no land gave birth To such champions bearing swords.

Queen Toronto, hail! Glory waves her veil O'er your latest, youngest, war; They'll hear the seeds, they will reach the creeds, Of the Tree which Freedom guards.

Will Defend Roblin

WINNIPEG, March 1.—E. F. R. Johnson, Toronto, who defended Sir Rodmond Roblin at the preliminary hearing last fall on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, is coming to take charge of the defence of Sir Rodmond, George R. Coldwell and James H. Howden at the present assizes, it is stated today. The grand jury has made no pronouncement on the indictments.

E. L. BAUGH'S BAIL REVISED.

Convicted in the general sessions of having conspired to fabricate evidence, E. L. Baugh appeared before Judge Winchester for sentence yesterday morning. T. C. Robinson, K.C., on behalf of Baugh, explained that the stated case had not yet been dealt with by the court of appeal. Baugh was granted bail of $20,000 until the decision of the court of appeal is handed down.

AWARDED CLAIM IN FULL.

In the assizes at the city hall yesterday Chancery Judge Boyd awarded seven-year-old Ethel Shorbridge $2000 damages, the full amount of her claim against the Fairgrieve Metal and Stamping Company. The little girl was injured when she was struck by defendant's motor truck on November 6, 1914.

HASN'T MADE UP HIS MIND YET

A Line o' Cheer Each Day o' the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs. WANTED. (Copyrighted 1916.) 'T WOULD please me much if I could see An accurate Geography That showed the City of Cheer, And how to reach the Continent Of Happy Days thru Ports of Cheer.

The Hills of Joy uprising near Whence streams of Human Love run down, To meet the sea at Friendli- town, Where all men live in peace together.

For this, other nations must not blame us; for Great Britain has been immeasurably more to us than all others combined. On the other hand, the message of the reciprocity campaign is not that Canadians had any ill-will toward the United States. But it did show, conclusively, that if in time of peace the Canadian people could become so alarmed over a commercial treaty with a kindred people with whom they enjoyed an unbroken friendship of a hundred years, simply because in the dim future it might sever their British relations, then henceforth the imperial tie was so strong that any danger threatening the empire would call the Dominion to the support of Britain. The reciprocity campaign of 1911 was a forerunner of Canada's action in 1914.

"Canadian" sums up the matter in the following paragraph: "After a century and a half of British rule, after our bitter experience with English avarice in trade and land-rabbing in general, we silently point to the Canadian graves in Flanders. Surely we are not hypnotized fools! No, but as an expression of our appreciation of the goodness of a mother who has erred, if at all, on the side of leniency, and at the same time as a guarantee of future continuance of the liberty and happiness which we have enjoyed under British democracy, greater we believe than we could have enjoyed as an independent nation or under another foreign power—for these reasons Canadians are going to the front and they will continue to go."

TRADING STAMP MAN FINED. Judge Winchester yesterday fined Harry R. Pollock $200 in the county sessions. The conviction by Judge Winchester some time ago was upheld by the court of appeal. Pollock used trading stamps to merchants.

TEN THOUSAND MEN REQUIRED FOR FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA. The Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta require ten thousand men from eastern Canada and the United States for spring and summer farm work this year. There will be an abundance of employment for all men willing to work on the land. Owing to the big task of gathering in the record harvest, much ploughing and similar work was left undone last fall and even with the aid of modern farm machinery, now in general use throughout the west, this will call for a large army of men. In order to take care of this demand and induce desirable people to settle in western Canada the Grand Trunk System has arranged to run on Tuesday, March 7th, and on each Tuesday, thereafter until the end of October, special home-seekers' excursions from all points in Canada. Full information can be obtained from any Grand Trunk Agent.

GOODNESS AND GREATNESS OF BRITISH EMPIRE PRODUCES ENDURING ATTACHMENT. PROTECTED BY BRITAIN. NON-SUIT IS REFUSED. In Case of Verdict Against the Accused, a Stated Case is Promised.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, Feb. 22.—The first article in the current Quarterly Review is written by "A Canadian," who discusses Canada's reasons for joining in the war. He says: "Financially Canada has nothing to gain and everything to lose by her participation in the war. Had she refused to send a man, her commercial products would have been sought as readily by the allies as they are today. The military burden voluntarily assumed by Canada will add to her national debt more than $120,000,000 a year as long as the war lasts (more than $15 a head per annum). The probability is that it will reach $150,000,000 a year, or more. This may seem a small amount, but in a young country with a small population and the development of its railways, canals, harbors, industries, etc., just beginning, it is a serious matter. The capital required for the development of our Canadian west, for example, will not be forthcoming for years. Canadians fully realize all this, but they are shouldering the burden without a complaint.

"In order to understand the Canadian attitude of mind, which induces them to pour out their resources on foreign soil for the first time in their history, and to do it at a truly great sacrifice, we must know something of the transformation of Canadian national life in recent years," and briefly sketching this change, the writer continues: "Her part in imperial affairs had broadened her horizon and set before her the ideal of a place to be filled in the British Empire, in which also she had unbounded faith. A Canadian have felt for years that they depend for their national existence on Great Britain. For this, other nations must not blame us; for Great Britain has been immeasurably more to us than all others combined. On the other hand, the message of the reciprocity campaign is not that Canadians had any ill-will toward the United States. But it did show, conclusively, that if in time of peace the Canadian people could become so alarmed over a commercial treaty with a kindred people with whom they enjoyed an unbroken friendship of a hundred years, simply because in the dim future it might sever their British relations, then henceforth the imperial tie was so strong that any danger threatening the empire would call the Dominion to the support of Britain. The reciprocity campaign of 1911 was a forerunner of Canada's action in 1914."

The argument on the different counts in the indictment of the McCutcheon brothers was conducted yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice Middleton in the criminal assizes, and as a result the case will go to the jury on two of the six counts. Yesterday the jury were absent all day, but will be present this morning, when the case for the defence will be stated.

These two counts charged misrepresentation to syndicate subscribers as to the cost of land, wrong descriptions of syndicate subscribers, and the use of syndicate money for the purposes of the firm, and misappropriation of money paid by lot purchasers from the syndicates. Certain alleged misrepresentations were eliminated from the first count in the afternoon by Mr. Justice Middleton, and it is possible that he struck out the part of count two, dealing with the misrepresentation of the character of the lands advertised in pamphlets issued by the accused.

His lordship stated that he would not assume the responsibility of non-suitor, and that he would be better to let the case go to the jury. He intimated that if a verdict against the accused was returned, a stated case would be granted, so that it might go to the court of appeal.

During the argument Crown Prosecutor Davidson was asked to furnish a list of syndicates in connection with which misrepresentation was alleged. He gave the following names: Mr. Pleasant, Prince Albert, Mayfair, Bonanza, Kensington, Athabasca, Parkhill, Council Crest and Great Falls. In reply to Mr. Hollmuth, Mr. Davidson, K.C., stated that he intended to rely on part of A. K. Goodman's evidence, and he would also rely on the evidence of the solicitor had been called as a credible witness.

MAGAZINE COLLECTION FOR BOYS AT THE FRONT. "A Carload a Month" is the slogan adopted by a group of men in helping to meet the great demand for reading matter among the boys in khaki who are overseas. That this is one of the big needs of the lads, who are fighting at the front, is evident from the statement of one of the Y.M.C.A. secretaries: "From our Y.M.C.A. magazines should go forward periodically, leaving the boys to read the strain and monotony of the camp and trench life."

The second collection in Toronto will be made on Saturday, March 11, and the citizens who have a supply of used magazines, suitable for the boys, are asked to call up one of the phones given below, leaving the name of the magazine. During the last collection one Toronto lady, who phoned that she had a dozen copies of "The Boy's Own Paper," had sent her 150 from her neighbors. This is a suggestion that others might do well to follow.

This enthusiastic group of men who are back of the effort would be glad to secure the names of a few more people who could place motor cars at their disposal for two hours on the day of the collection. These will be gladly received at Main 260 or Main 257, or the military service department, Y.M.C.A., 15 Toronto street. Use phones as follows: Main 260, North 123, Main 257, North 6413.

CANADIANS GO TO WAR TO FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

Goodness and Greatness of British Empire Produces Enduring Attachment. PROTECTED BY BRITAIN. NON-SUIT IS REFUSED. In Case of Verdict Against the Accused, a Stated Case is Promised.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, Feb. 22.—The first article in the current Quarterly Review is written by "A Canadian," who discusses Canada's reasons for joining in the war. He says: "Financially Canada has nothing to gain and everything to lose by her participation in the war. Had she refused to send a man, her commercial products would have been sought as readily by the allies as they are today. The military burden voluntarily assumed by Canada will add to her national debt more than $120,000,000 a year as long as the war lasts (more than $15 a head per annum). The probability is that it will reach $150,000,000 a year, or more. This may seem a small amount, but in a young country with a small population and the development of its railways, canals, harbors, industries, etc., just beginning, it is a serious matter. The capital required for the development of our Canadian west, for example, will not be forthcoming for years. Canadians fully realize all this, but they are shouldering the burden without a complaint.

"In order to understand the Canadian attitude of mind, which induces them to pour out their resources on foreign soil for the first time in their history, and to do it at a truly great sacrifice, we must know something of the transformation of Canadian national life in recent years," and briefly sketching this change, the writer continues: "Her part in imperial affairs had broadened her horizon and set before her the ideal of a place to be filled in the British Empire, in which also she had unbounded faith. A Canadian have felt for years that they depend for their national existence on Great Britain. For this, other nations must not blame us; for Great Britain has been immeasurably more to us than all others combined. On the other hand, the message of the reciprocity campaign is not that Canadians had any ill-will toward the United States. But it did show, conclusively, that if in time of peace the Canadian people could become so alarmed over a commercial treaty with a kindred people with whom they enjoyed an unbroken friendship of a hundred years, simply because in the dim future it might sever their British relations, then henceforth the imperial tie was so strong that any danger threatening the empire would call the Dominion to the support of Britain. The reciprocity campaign of 1911 was a forerunner of Canada's action in 1914."

TEN THOUSAND MEN REQUIRED FOR FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA. The Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta require ten thousand men from eastern Canada and the United States for spring and summer farm work this year. There will be an abundance of employment for all men willing to work on the land. Owing to the big task of gathering in the record harvest, much ploughing and similar work was left undone last fall and even with the aid of modern farm machinery, now in general use throughout the west, this will call for a large army of men. In order to take care of this demand and induce desirable people to settle in western Canada the Grand Trunk System has arranged to run on Tuesday, March 7th, and on each Tuesday, thereafter until the end of October, special home-seekers' excursions from all points in Canada. Full information can be obtained from any Grand Trunk Agent.

AURA LEE ALL READY FOR JUNIOR FINAL

Defeated Belleville Fifteen Goals on the Round—Just a Workout.

Aura Lee are ready for the O.H.A. junior final. The local club made no bones about trouncing Belleville and ran in thirteen goals to the visitors' one...

It took Aura Lee twenty minutes to get warmed up to their work and after that it was a procession. The locals bunched, passed poorly and only half checked at the first round. The result was that no scores were made and the hockey was of poor order.

Nurse, in the Belleville net, proved his work. He turned aside dozens of shots from difficult angles and his work all night was smooth. Whalen, at rover, and L. Arnott, at centre, were the best of the visitors.

Wright was the bright shining light for the locals. His stickhandling was superb and he was on with his shot all thru the game. Little and Bennie worked well on the wings, but Gouinlock, while having lots of speed, looked as if he needed a game to put him on his feet.

There was no scoring in the first period and Aura Lee ran in four in the second round. Nine was Aura Lee's total in the third period and Green got Belleville's only counter here.

After Aura Lee got the bang of things they went like a mousetrap and the work of the Berlin-Collingwood round will have their work out for them to capture the kid honors.

Sudden Death Game Ordered for Monday

Berlin Union Jacks and Collingwood tied on the round in their junior semi-final games. The O.H.A. have ordered these two teams to play a sudden-death game here on Monday.

The intermediate final will be played next week. The first game will be played on Tuesday, when Sarnia will play in Belleville or Midland, and the return game will be played in Sarnia on Friday.

Montreal Star: It looks as if Mr. Melville, of the M.A.A.A., was right after all, when he warned local teams against Pittsburgh, for information from a lately reliable source states that Bawlf of the Duquesne Garden team is a professional, having played with Toronto last year.

"This is my home town and always will be, but I felt pretty badly out there tonight when the crowd and the boys Gordon Roberts, the crack Wanderer wing and a former Ottawa boy, made the above statement on Monday night after the contest in Ottawa. Roberts was above everyone else in the line that night and while he showed no outward signs of being affected, the elongated boy was greatly broken up over his reception. He alleges his case was exaggerated beyond reason.

"I admit I hit Frank Nighbor last Wednesday in Montreal, but the damage was unintentional. My record in the five years I have been in professional hockey doesn't show that I am in the habit of playing a blackguard game or wantonly injuring anybody. I have the greatest respect for Nighbor, think him a grand hockey player and a credit to the professional game. I feel the incident in Montreal was grossly exaggerated, that is, the part that I deliberately tried to hit Nighbor. I had no such intention. There are knockouts in hockey that are given and taken. And I don't think that I ever gained a reputation in any town as a bad man. I hope to get thru at McGill this spring so that I can join the British Army Medical Corps, and if I do, will be at the front by May.

That will mark the end of my career as a hockey player, and my only regret is I am finishing up my service on the ice with the undesired reputation of being a rough player."

Not Enough Sparring Partners for Willard

NEW YORK, March 1.--Now that he has got fairly under way in his training for Frank Moran, the heavyweight champion, Jess Willard, has begun to worry that his managers may be unable to dig up enough sparring partners for him. "I simply have to do a lot of heavy sparring," Willard told Tom Jones, "and I cannot do myself justice as long as there are only two sparring partners for me. Besides, I know Henkle and Alons, but so well that I am inclined to be too tender-hearted towards them for my own good. I want a lot of big men, as many as can be induced to try me out. I'll put pillows on my hands, if necessary, to protect them." "But I simply have to cut loose with

ROGERS AND BREWERS IN PACT, SAYS PIERCE

Accused Member of Saskatchewan Legislature Cited an Alleged Interview. REGINA, Sask., March 1.--H. C. Pierce, M.L.A. for Wadena, accused of accepting a bribe of $500 for his vote against the Liquor Act of 1913, today gave evidence that Frank Brunner, treasurer of the Licensed Victuallers, had told him in 1915, before the legislation abolishing the bars was brought down, that Hon. Robert Rogers and the brewers had raised a fund of half a million dollars to defeat the Scott government on the floor of the house. He said he had been offered $25,000 of that sum for his influence. He told of an interview with a short, stocky man, in a local hotel room, to which he had been directed by Brunner. So far as he knew, nothing had come of the matter. The mysterious man had told him the money was not for bribery but for campaign funds.
