WAR SUMMARY: Today's Events Reviewed

British official communiques include a British air raid by eleven machines against a German stores depot at Lesars, the dispersal of a German party by a British patrol just north of the Soume by the use of hand grenades, the dropping of French projectiles on the Boisieux Railway station on the hill south of Arras during the passage of a train, and the destruction of a German gas-making apparatus by a bombardment of the German positions north of the Navarin farm in the Champagne.

Sir Ian Hamilton's despatch on the operations at the Dardanelles, the telling of failure, makes inspiring reading. The main effort to dominate the Gallipoli Peninsula came in August. It was to seize the ridge at the centre of the peninsula as to cut off the Turkish forces confronting the Anglo-French divisions at the tip from their base at Constantinople. This operation was to be carried out by a surprise landing at Suvla Bay. The surprise was effected, but the troops failed to push on in pursuit of the beaten Turks, and a costly delay of several hours ensued. When the corps did get on and had occupied the positions that gave victory into its hands, the Turks attacked them in overwhelming numbers and swept over the ridge in great force, but they were annihilated by the fire of warships and machine gun batteries. After this rout of the enemy the troops were too few to push on and complete the victory. The primary cause of failure was thus an insufficient number of men.

Another cause of failure was the employment of new and inexperienced troops. After the landing at Suvla Bay, which took the Turks completely by surprise, the men were exhorted to push on by General Stopford, but his subordinates could not see it that way, they yielded to their impurities, and precious time was lost. Thus lack of discipline among the officers was a serious defect to the carrying out of a successful surprise blow. Men and officers fought with extreme valor, but they paid a heavy price for their early inaction. In attempting a strategic surprise great haste in movement is required. This would have been the case had old and experienced soldiers been landed. The fault here, of course, rests on lack of peace preparation for war.

Another cause of disaster was the failure of an adequate portable water supply, owing to a breakdown on a steamer detailed for this service. Sir Ian might have sent his reserves to turn the tide of battle but for the same scarcity of water.

What was required in this theatre was great ruthlessness and driving power on the part of the commanders. If the soldiers had been goaded forward with great rapidity they could have gained the two important pieces of ground that were necessary to make their victory complete. This plan would have been the most merciful after all, for holding the commanding positions, their losses would not have been so great. For a time the men were in sight of their goal.

The official statement issued from Berlin reports that a German detachment on the Riga-Dvinsk front was compelled to retire before a superior Russian force. This theatre is apart from the present area of fighting, being the extreme northern front, and it may indicate that the Russians will begin an offensive in this region also. This would prevent the sending of reinforcements to the sorely pressed Germans and Austrians near Kovel and on the Strips, near Czartorysk.

The Austrian official statement reports the making of no Russian infantry attacks anywhere on the front of Galicia and Bukovina, but records the directing of sporadic artillery fire by the Russians against their positions. In other words, the Russians, having carried the Austrian first lines of defence, are bombarding the second lines.

TORONTO CITY MISSION DOING SPLENDID WORK

Interesting Report Presented at Monthly Meeting Held at the Y. M. C. A. At the monthly meeting of the Toronto City Mission Board, held yesterday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A., the Rev. Dr. Neil presiding, the December report presented by Mr. Hall was of special interest. Although the mission has suffered seriously during the past year, the charitable departments have been well sustained. During December $1080.67 were received for the Christmas dinner and poor relief funds, with an expenditure of $718.52, leaving a balance for relief of poor. The cost of the Christmas jail breakfast was provided by Mr. Hall and workers and a few friends. On Christmas Eve over 800 persons were supplied with material for a substantial Christmas dinner to be prepared and enjoyed in the privacy of their own families. A. E. SILVERWOOD CHAIRMAN. TWENTY-ONE SCHOOLS IN RALLY OF BAPTISTS

All Churches in City Report Increased Christmas Gifts for Mission Purposes.

FOR WORK IN BOLIVIA Slightly Over Three Thousand Dollars Raised, an Advance Over Year Ago.

Twenty-one Baptist Sunday Schools were represented at the annual missionary conference at Colborne Street Baptist Church last night when each school brought in reports of the amount of money raised at the Christmas offering for missionary purposes in Bolivia, and a substantial increase was realized over the sum contributed last year. Every Baptist Church was represented at the rally, held at the church completely. As each school came forward to place its offering in the hands of S. J. Moore, the chairman of the council which has charge of the missionary work, applause broke out for the increases which nearly every church was able to report. A notable record was made by Olive Sunday School of West Toronto, which raised the splendid sum of $438, although there is only an average attendance of 100.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE IS JAMES RICHARDS

Selected by Delegates as President of District Trades and Labor Council.

For the first time this year the District Trades and Labor Council met last night in the Labor Temple. Nominations for the different offices and committees for the half-year were held. James Richards was re-elected president by acclamation and several of the other committees go in by acclamation when the elections are held at the next meeting. John W. Flett, organizer of the Canadian Federation of Labor, made an appeal that all the labor men donate one hour's pay on Jan. 28 to the United Hat Workers' Union in Canada. "For 11 years the United Hat Workers' Union have been fighting the battles of organized labor in the courts and in the streets," he said. "They have paid $300,000, stated Mr. Flett. "That is the reason why the money is being collected to help defray the cost of the reason Jan. 27 was set as the day on which the money be given by the labor men," he said, "was on account of their help in the strike of the president of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers." Mr. Flett said that a financial statement of the money collected would be published. The council decided to have all the delegates urge the members of their unions to donate to the fund.

The financial statement presented for the last year ending Dec. 16 showed the council with a credit balance of $753.32 on hand. The council has $1392 invested in shares in the Labor Union Building Co., and a $200 loan in the Industrial Labor Toy Association. The report shows ten local unions to be in arrears with the contribution of the council. The council decided to instruct all the secretaries of the trades unions to write to help defray the cost of the protest. It is not to use the union label on its goods. President James Richards, T. Black, T. Patterson, D. Hancock and O'Leary were appointed a committee to discuss the report of the industrial relations committee presented at the convention held last year in Frisco.

Following the complaint made by the Electrical Workers' Union, the municipal committee and the two delegates on the Exhibition board were instructed to work together and see that the fair wage clause is on all Exhibition contracts. Delegate J. Simpson was not present, but W. Stevenson, who spoke on his behalf, stated that Mr. Simpson would reply to the item published in an evening paper signed by a Trade Unionist at the next meeting of council.

The following are the nominations: President, James Richards (acclamation); recording secretary, T. Stevenson; financial secretary, J. J. Ralph (acc.); treasurer, W. A. Storer (acc.); sergeant-at-arms, W. Mercer (acc.); Tyler, W. Bitchey (acc.). The following were elected: James Simpson, J. O'Leary, A. Lacey and W. Brown. Executive committee, four to be elected, J. SIXTY-THREE MEN ONE DAY'S RECRUITING TOLL

Clerks Still Feel Insulted When Asked to Enlist by the Sergeants.

BIG PARADE TONIGHT Recruiting Officers Instructed to Let Munition Workers Alone in Future.

HAMILTON, Friday, Jan. 7.—The third day of this city's monster recruiting campaign by means of which the military and recruiting authorities expect to add approximately 500 men to the 120th Battalion, resulted in 63 men being sworn in by 10 o'clock last night. Despite the fact that close to 100 men were recruited in the two previous days, the sergeants were kept busy, and before noon had close to 25 enlisted at the depot of the 15th and 51st Regiments. The considerable recruiting has been done through the different offices a very low average of the clerks has enlisted. That something more forcible than word of mouth appeal is necessary to bring about a more rapid increase in the number of recruits is the opinion of the majority of recruiting sergeants. Some of the sergeants state that the average clerk is highly insulted when asked to enlist and to make it appear as if it is his good nature and tolerance that allows the sergeants to address a question. One sergeant who interviewed a clerk found that the latter did not know the difference between infantry and artillery. The sergeant was so abashed by such ignorance that as he explained later, "I don't know the heart to ask him if he knew who was fighting." The campaign will continue today, with the same staff, that is the men under the command of sergeant "Pete" Whitney, but all energies will be directed towards the munition workers. Fifty sergeants will be added, making the staff total 100. All the offices and factories will be combed again as much as possible to pick up the stragglers. The various regimental bands will likely be held during the day. In the evening, as a grand climax, a huge parade will be held. It will be composed of bands, the sergeants who worked in the campaign and all the recruits obtained by the staff.

HORSE AND MOTOR CAR DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Piece of Paper Frightening Animal is Cause of Accident.

Frightened by a piece of paper blowing across its path, a horse attached to a wagon, driven by Joseph Felman, 70 Baldwin street, bolted down Yonge street, crossing the street and colliding with a motor car 2876, at the corner of Charles street. The motor car, which was owned by Steve Hanson, 128 St. George street, was badly damaged, and the horse received a number of cuts about the head and body. After colliding with the car it continued its mad career down the street, but was brought to a stop by a policeman 46, before further damage was done. CONSCRIPT-MGN BILL IS UPPED BY PARLIAMENT

Great Demonstration in House When Test Vote Was Recorded.

IS ELECTION COMING? Government's Position Regarded as Perilous Despite Measure's Support.

(Continued From Page 1). The members between applause and laughter. This measure, he declared, was not designed to settle the military policy of Great Britain. It was for the present occasion and the present war. Face Stern Reality. "I have never favored conscription in any form," said the first lord, "but it is no longer an abstract question. We are dealing with a stern reality. First, the prime minister has given a pledge for this bill, which it would be dishonorable to ignore, and, second, the safety and success of the country is at stake. Let me say with the greatest emphasis that those of us who know the conditions in the field know that this bill is absolutely essential to the proper carrying on of the war. No Opening Wedge. "If this house refuses this bill to the government, it refuses what the government considers an absolutely military necessity. This is not a precedent for universal conscription. It is not the thin edge of the wedge, or the first drop of poison to corrupt the whole system. In truth, this bill is a tribute to voluntarism, for we have raised 4,000,000 volunteers, and now this bill merely brings in those few shirkers who have failed to respond to the volunteer system. "No future prime minister can ever use this bill as a precedent for permanently forcing on the country the taint of Prussian militarism. Militarism is an affair of the heart, and it is in the hearts of the German people to have militarism, while it is in the hearts of Englishmen not to have it. But for the moment we are proceeding with a stern necessity, and our greatest danger is not that traditions will be abandoned, but that we are letting ourselves out with a great illusion of false security. Premier Asquith, Sir Edward Grey and the other ministers warmly congratulated Mr. Balfour as he closed his appeal. O'Brien Supports Bill. Henry E. Dicks, Unionist member from Exeter, characterized the measure as the mildest form of coercion ever applied by any man in any emergency. Mr. Dicks said that parliament and the country must judge between the supporters of the bill and the "malcontents and mischievous-makers" who were not only the government, but the empire. William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, opposed the stand taken yesterday by John Redmond, speaking for the Nationalists, and gave the bill his hearty support. "I would not consent to strike a blow at this country, France or Russia," he said, "by doing anything which would wreck the bill through Ireland's Exemption Fair. Mr. O'Brien considered Ireland had a claim to exemption, "because she is a distinct, although necessarily allied, nation." He wondered what principle of democracy would be sacrificed by asking young men to perform their services at the disposal of the country in what ever capacity they might be best utilized. The most amazing thing he had heard of, he said, was that England had gone so close to a system of national defence as obsolete as bows and arrows. Samuel Wen Over. Herbert Samuel, postmaster-general, said he was driven to support the policy represented by the bill by the hard cold logic of facts, although it was against all his predilections. All were agreed that this country ought to put its whole strength into the war, but it would not be doing this if it put its whole strength into the trenches. Great Britain was the chief impulsion of the world, and the financial strength of the world. On behalf of the common cause she maintained a great fleet, necessary to keep in this country an adequate number of men for the fulfilment of these essential functions. Can Spare 1,000,000 Men. The president of the board of trade had concluded that 1,000,000 men could be properly spared from the population to take part in the military action, Mr. Samuel continued. That was the maximum figure but in his view also the minimum figure, and if the men could be spared they ought to be sent to the front. They would not be won in the way they were determined it should be won, he said, without very hard fighting. For that purpose, in addition to an overwhelming mass of artillery and munitions, there was need of great armies of men. Mr. Samuel, after examining the figures said that the outstanding fact was that for every two married men attested one unmarried man had not attested, and that of the 1,000,000 attested married men could not be called on until the 250,000 unmarried men still unattested were secured. He reminded his Liberal friends that views which were valid in normal times were not valid today. ISN'T IT SO? If it is the best in the city it is none too good for you. Try the Hotel Tack luncheon for business and professional men, served daily from 11:30 to 1:30. Romanelli's Orchestra, six to eight p.m. ALLEGE JOSEPH FINN KEPT BETTING HOUSE Policemen Massey and Kerr of the morality department yesterday afternoon raided 741 Lansdowne avenue and arrested Joseph Finn on a charge of keeping a common betting house. A quantity of slips and telegrams said by the police to have been used in betting transactions were seized. It is alleged that Finn had carried on an extensive betting trade with the employees of the Street Railway Company, the barns of which are close to his house. Finn is believed to have been working for a plumbing firm as bookkeeper. He will appear in the police court today.

AGAINST CONSCRIPTION Labor Congress Voted Nearly Two to One in Opposition.

(Continued From Page 1). His effort was insufficient to turn the tide. With the exception of the Miners' Federation, which refused to participate, owing to internal differences with the joint board, virtually every trade union of importance in the country was represented in the congress. The number of societies voting is given from one source as 499, made up as follows: Trades unions, 311; trades council and local labor parties, 84; independent labor party organizations, 15. Derby's Figures Considered. A report prepared by the national congress was submitted to the congress. It stated that a question of supreme national importance which might involve the consequences of a far-reaching character had arisen. The report included an analysis of Lord Derby's recruitment figures, emphasizing the fact that a number of single men had not volunteered. It explained that Premier Asquith's pledge bound the government, and, in order to keep faith with the married men, the conscription bill had been introduced. The resolution, on which the men voted, reaffirmed the decision of the Bristol Congress, when a unanimous protest against conscription in any form was passed in the name of 2,000,000 workers. It regretted that the unity and solidarity of the country had been gravely imperilled, and industrial and political liberty imperiled by the action of the conscriptionists. But the congress was compelled with regret to recognize that, despite the fact that the conscription bill had been passed, the results were governed by the premier's pledge. The Net Bound by Pledge. "The conference, the resolution continued, "regards the results as not yet ascertained with sufficient accuracy and certainty to warrant any momentous proposal being passed by parliament, but wishes, nevertheless, to leave the labor members to vote as they individually think fit." When the chairman reading the report came to the reference to the premier's pledge there were loud cries of "It doesn't bind us." John Hodge, member of parliament from Lancashire, before moving the resolution said that the labor movement had never faced a greater or graver crisis. He thought there had been no failure of the voluntary system, but if it had failed, the labor movement had been given, many married men would have enlisted, Lord Derby's scheme would have failed, the country would have been saved from conscription, pure and simple. Mr. Hodge asked the members to consider the future political position of labor if they refused to accept the resolution. If the bill was rejected, the alternative was a general election which, he thought, would be the worst day's experience in the annals of the labor party. The reason for the resolutions was to save the movement from such a calamity. Fearful of the Dopesters' Union, in accordance with the resolution characterized the government proposals as "the foulest thing" which had ever been heard of. They were not even limited to conscription, because the "conscientious objector" would grow until everybody would have a conscience eventually. Colds Cause Headache and Grip. RESTAURANT EMPLOYEES RESENT PAYING FEES

Will Send Deputation to Protest to Medical Health Officer Against Regulations.

At a mass meeting held by the Restaurant and Club Employees last night a resolution was passed to the effect that a deputation be sent to the M. O. H., protesting against paying medical fees under the new rule of the board of health, and state to the M. O. H. that they emphatically refuse to submit to the examination ordered by the board of health until such time as the board appoint a committee of doctors, unconnected with the department, newspapermen, and a delegation of employees, to visit all hotels, restaurants and clubs, to see conditions as they are at present in the toilets, wash-rooms and sleeping apartments of the employees.

PROPHESIES PROSPERITY BUSINESS PROSPECTS UNCOMMONLY BRIGHT

Every Indication Points to Increase in Volume Over Last Year.

AN EXPERT PREDICTION

Wm. H. Rankin, Chicago Advertising Man, Publishes Interesting Forecast of Conditions.

As the same conditions practically prevail in Canada as in the United States, the prosperity that William H. Rankin, vice-president of the Malm Advertising Co., Chicago, who is a recognized authority on business conditions, predicts for the United States during the present year should equally materialize in the Dominion. Mr. Rankin's prophecy reads:

Nineteen hundred and fifteen will pass into history as an unusual year—a year of big business. During the early months of the year business was not good. Nearly everybody was pessimistic. War orders helped a little, but taking it altogether business for the first six months of 1915 was far behind the corresponding period of 1914.

Early in the summer favorable crop reports were received from the north-west, the central west and the south-west, but the general result was splendid. Nevertheless, general gloominess continued. The weather was bad, diplomatic complications were threatened and capital was disposed to be timid.

Change for Better. After a depressing August there was a sudden change for the better. In September the wheels of commerce began to revolve once more, the pessimists gave cover and the optimists after having had an enforced vacation extending over two or three years, began to feel that business was good, healthy conditions were restored, the fog of doubt lifted.

One of the big reasons for the encouraging change in the improvement of conditions in the south. The Simmons Hardware Company of St. Louis reported that their business had recovered its normal level in August, trade in the south was nearly normal in September, while in October business everywhere—north, south, east and west—exceeded not only the corresponding period of 1914 but went ahead of the banner year, 1913, "before the war."

Increase for Year. Representatives of such houses as Marshall Field & Company, whole-sale; the Royal Typewriter Co., the B. F. Goodrich Company, Haynes Automobile Company and Hays, Schenck & Marx say that business has been so good during the past six months that they will not only show a large increase over the corresponding six months of 1914, but that they will be able to report a total increase for the year 1915 as compared with 1914.

Out on the wing. Prosperity has become as firmly established as it is in the east and central west. Prosperity there does not mean a return to the old days of the 19th century when lumber was sold for $2 to $3 per thousand feet higher than it was a year ago.

Never before was it could be operated at a profit last year, because of the low prices of lumber, were closed and have remained closed. With the increase in price and the demand for lumber, increased naturally because of the resumption in building in the home operations in the east and west.

Very soon, and the result will be beneficial to workmen and business men throughout the north-west.

Concerns financial conditions in the east, the market for California oranges, canned fruits, olives, grapes and raisins. Orange growers are getting better prices for these commodities, and business men along the coast will get their share of the general prosperity.

Good for Automobiles. It is safe to predict that in 1916 the automobile industry will have the best year in the history of its business. Nearly every manufacturer is advertising in 1915. The Haynes Automobile Company of Kokomo, Ind., for instance, A. G. Seiberling of the Haynes Company has assured me that he could have sold 10,000 Haynes cars in 1915 if the factory facilities had not been limited.

As it was, the Haynes Automobile Company made and sold more cars in 1915 than were produced and marketed by all other Indiana manufacturers combined. This coming year, the Haynes Automobile Company will double its output and is sure to sell all the cars it can make.

Nearly every automobile manufacturer underestimated the number of cars that would be bought in 1915, hence the entire industry benefited. The cars that were best advertised were the first to be sold out, but the unadvertised cars—the cars that were little known—got the best of the excess demand. It is hard to hear a finder a Cadillac, a Cole, a Hudson, a Chalmers or a Chandler, he bought the next best car on the list. The manufacturers of the Overland, Studebaker, Dodge and Hupmobile were at no time during 1915 able to supply the demands of their agents.

Concerns the tire business so good as in 1915. A protracted fall made it possible for people to drive their cars later than usual. According to The Wall Street Journal, the B. F. Goodrich Company, the leader in the production of automobile tires, in 1915 increased its total sales 35 per cent, over those of 1914. This company has brought about a reduction of 45 per cent. in the prices of tires to users during the past two years. Yet, with this lowering of prices, the Goodrich Company is able to show a big increase in its total business. Its output, as reported recently by The Wall

'Impregnable' Positions of Austrians Near Czernowitz Taken by Storm.

STEADY ADVANCE MADE

Czar's Men Cut Important Railway Line and Move Upon Other One.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Times learns from its Petrograd correspondent that the Russians have pierced the enemy's positions in the immediate vicinity of Czernowitz, compelling their opponents to fall back to their secondary line and definitely assume the defensive. The dispatch, dated Wednesday, says that the enemy's losses have been enormous in these engagements, and also in the neighborhood of Czernowitz, where he was pressed back westward for several miles.

To Force Back Enemy. A Petrograd dispatch says: It appears not improbable, according to advice from the front, that the Austro-German forces at the southern extremity of the fighting area will be forced back to the line running through Kolomea, Stanislaw and Galich in the near future, as the result of the steady continuous advance of the Russian front. The line in the direction of and along the River Stripa and the Roumanian frontier. Already the Austrians are reported to have removed the base camp from Czernowitz towards Kolomea.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Austrians are fighting courageously, the Russians, it is declared, have succeeded in taking by storm fortifications around Czernowitz that were recently described in the German press as "impregnable." The Russian advance was made from Zaleszczyki to Czernowitz, the Russians are threatening to take the city.

Communication between Czernowitz and Kolomea. The zone of the Russian offensive is extending northward, bringing into action the left flank of the central front. From Czernowitz they have pushed out on the railway line 25 miles to Kevotzia, and are reported advancing along the roads in the direction of and towards Lutsk, and also between Podcherevitchi and Kostubova.

Berlin Says Little. Today's official statement says that on the Riga-Dvinsk front, in Russia, a German reconnoitering detachment was advanced, which withdrew before the attack of a superior Russian force.

In Volhynia, the Germans attacked an advanced Russian position and succeeded in dislodging its defenders.

Usual Wolff Detail. The Overseas (Wolff) Agency says: "New agency reports from Petrograd state that the Austro-Hungarians had occupied heights dominating that city. Vienna states that it is an invention, as is clearly demonstrated by the Austro-Hungarian headquarters' report of Jan. 5."

"Vienna further states that the Russians have not advanced beyond the positions which they have occupied. It is reported that the Russian headquarters' report of Jan. 3, of the capture of a continued Russian advance is untrue."

CENSUS FOR RECRUITING LOOKS LIKE FAILURE

PHYSICALLY DEFECTIVE

Impossibility of Passing Medical Test One of Most Prevalent Excuses Offered.

Failure seems to have dogged the path of the military census as it is not meeting with the response necessary to obtain a proper estimate of the number of men eligible for recruitment in the city. Many employers have apparently concluded that Toronto is not getting a square deal in singling it out for registration, and as a result the police are meeting with difficulty in distributing and collecting the cards. Remarks of a personal nature are being made at the police station in the work. "Why are you not in khaki? your place can be filled," being a sample. Many reasons are given for not filling the cards, some declaring that it would hurt their business and that the method is wrong, while others hold that it is ineligible for enlistment as they are minus an eye or limb, while in a majority of cases short-sightedness is given as a valid reason for not enlisting, and still others declare lameness or sickness debars them. One man was bold enough to state that he did not have to enlist and that the authorities would have to go after him if he was wanted. Another stated his willingness to do his duty if the people of Quebec were made to do theirs.

When Ireland Comes Under. "I'll go when Ireland comes under the Compulsion Act," was how one man gave his answer to the question why he had not enlisted, and a single man in replying to the question "married or single?" wrote, "Single, thank goodness."

Where the cards are returned undisturbed the inspector of the police division writes on the back, "Information refused." "What else can we do?" asked one yesterday. "The people have got wise thru the newspapers that there is no compulsion to fill the forms, and we have got to take them filled or not."

Cripples Are Numerous. According to the returns there are a tremendous number of cripples and persons with physical defects in the city. Hundreds state that they are eligible for enlistment as they are minus an eye or limb, while in a majority of cases short-sightedness is given as a valid reason for not enlisting, and still others declare lameness or sickness debars them. One man was bold enough to state that he did not have to enlist and that the authorities would have to go after him if he was wanted. Another stated his willingness to do his duty if the people of Quebec were made to do theirs.

Employers Help Police. On the other hand, many employers are assisting the police readily in taking the census and return the certificates more cards, a sufficient number not having been left to cover the workers. At the street railway barns yesterday there was considerable excitement when the rumor gained ground that the employees of the company would be made fill out and return the recruiting certificates. The employees resented this attitude, holding that some of them may have physical defects which they might have had the company to them if an official of the railway men's union stated yesterday that it was not that the men did not want to enlist and that the authorities who represented the idea of the company were being acquainted with their private business. At the homes of the men being taken were made to do theirs.

Chief Grasett could not state what the next course would be in the event of the scheme proving a failure. He thinks there would be no use in making a house to house canvass, as the people could refuse to comply with the request and tear up the cards.

All the divisions in the city, with the exception of Court street, had completed the work yesterday. As No. 1 division is composed of a great number of offices the work has been found difficult, but it is insurance that Saturday night may see it finished.

WILLS PROBATED

An estate of $89,908 was left by Alexander J. Ramsay, former president of the Canada Life Assurance Co., who died on Dec. 19 at 515 Huron street, according to the will which was filed for probate in the surrogate court yesterday. The principal heirs are two daughters, Elizabeth M. O'Connell and Edith S. Ramsay. They will share the estate after legacies are paid to two sons, two grandsons, and is composed of household goods at 515 Huron street, life insurance in the Canada Life Assurance Co. amounting to $84,850, and other stocks and bonds, which make up the residue.

George J. Whyte of Mount Clemens, Mich., and Mrs. Margaret Wilson, wife of George B. Wilson, street commissioner, have applied for probate of the will of their brother, James A. Whyte, who died on Dec. 18, a few days after he had made his will. He left an estate valued at $39,591. It is made up of tailoring business with fixtures, valued at $1283, accounts outstanding, mortgages, $2238; life insurance, $2000, payable to his mother, and most of the remainder in cash. George Whyte is left one-quarter of the estate, and the testator's widow is given a life interest in the rest of the property. Mrs. Wilson and George Whyte will share the remainder of the estate after the death of the testator's mother.

Mrs. Catharine Ferris left an estate of $12,884, composed mostly of real estate and mortgages. The major part of the property is left to the testator's son, J. Elmer Harris.

An estate consisting entirely of $4000 equity in the west side of Marguerite street, was left to William A. Francis by his widow.

The widow of James J. Mercer inherits her husband's estate of $25,000. Thomas Kny, storekeeper, 250 Pacific avenue, left a life interest in his estate, valued at $2677 to his widow, and at her death to his second son, William Henry.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 7.

Conservatives and Public Rights

"One who has faith in his party," as he declares, asks why it is that the World does not find more fault with those papers on its own side of politics which are culpable either in support of the wrong side of questions, or in failure to support the right side.

"If the Conservative party does not stand for honesty and integrity in public affairs, but a lot of us don't want to be in it," he honorably remarks. He suggests further that attacks upon the Liberal press for not toiling the line on matters of public policy are not so useful as similar attacks upon papers which support the government and which are equally lacking in public loyalty.

We can only say that not only is there a limit to space, but there is a limit to the reader's patience, and even to his intelligence. Very few minds are capable of carrying on more than two or three wars at one time.

If there be newspapers on the Conservative side of politics which do not play the game for their party by serving the best interests of the people, but look after the interests of the corporations which are always on both sides of politics, and the grafters which are anywhere and everywhere, then the party will suffer according to the influence of such support.

but greater than in any part of eastern Canada. The proof of this that may appeal to Ontario is not altogether thrown out of normal operation by politico-electric currents is to be found in the figures of the representation of the provinces in the house of commons.

The Gazette is sure that Ontario will not gain in population as fast as Quebec during the present decade. This will be accounted for no doubt by the fact that the Ontario boys to the number of 200,000 will risk their lives for the flag and the empire. The Gazette, however, is sure that the electric light and power will be a more important factor in cutting down our showing at the next census.

At present the fortunate citizens of Montreal get their electric light for eight cents per kilowatt, while the unfortunate victims of socialism in Toronto are not allowed to pay as much as four cents a kilowatt for their electric light. The spread, no doubt, will increase, because that arch-socialist, Sir Adam Beck, insists upon giving to Ontario people electric light and power practically at cost. In time we may find Montreal people proudly paying twelve cents per kilowatt, while the benighted Torontonians are only permitted to pay two. When that time comes we may look for a perfect exodus of population from Ontario to Quebec.

But even admitting that the growth of population is stimulated by charging double prices for all services rendered the people, does The Gazette do full justice to the men who adorn the public life of Quebec? Few cities have been fortunate enough to secure a mayor like Medrie Martin, not to mention the gentlemen returned at the municipal election of 1914 to the board of control. Then, too, Quebec has legislators who "smore" the possibilities of developing the natural resources of their province for the benefit of their people.

Descending from the general to the particular, The Gazette argues that the radial between Toronto and London should not be built, because steam railways already go thru the same territory. But how about the network of radials or interurbans to be found in Ohio, Indiana, and other states, paralleling the steam railways every foot of the way, doing good service and making a lot of money?

The Gazette thinks if the radial road between here and London can pay operating expenses and five or five and a half per cent. interest upon its bonds, that all the railway men on this continent will come to Toronto to learn railway construction and operation from Sir Adam Beck. That is as it may be, but if the road were being built by a private corporation it would not only have to earn enough money to pay operating expenses and interest upon its bonds, but also enough to pay dividends upon its stock, common and preferred, watered and bona fide.

But is the real objection to The Gazette not based on a fear that hydro power and hydro traction will make Ontario the great manufacturing province for all Canada?

RECOVERS A PORTION FROM SISTER'S ESTATE. Mrs. Luella Ridley Awarded Two Hundred and Four Dollars by Court.

By a decision handed out by Mr. Justice Britton Mrs. Luella Ridley, of Belleville, is entitled to $204 from the estate of her sister, Mrs. Edith P. Bly, of Trenton. Mrs. Ridley claims that her sister had invited her to come and help her in a grocery store, which she was about to open in 1901. Everything ran smoothly until there was a difference between them about Mr. Ridley, who later became the husband of the plaintiff in this case, and they parted in 1912. Mrs. Bly died intestate recently, leaving an estate of $1890.

NEWS FROM THE CITY HALL

O'NEILL IS LIKELY TO BE BOARD'S VICE-CHAIRMAN

Two Out of Three Controllers Favor His Reappointment This Year.

MAYOR CHURCH SILENT

Ald. McBride Wants to Be Head of the Committee of the Whole.

City hall gossip believes that Controller O'Neill will enjoy a second term as vice-chairman of the board of control and it is generally expected that he will be the only member of the new board that should have the position. Mayor Church would not commit himself as to who he will get the appointment unless Controller Thompson and Cameron favor Controller O'Neill's appointment, so that it only remains for the controller to vote for himself to have the berth, but this he says he does not care to do. Controller Foster is the next in order, and it may be that he will get the appointment unless Controller O'Neill changes his mind.

Ald. McBride is to the front again with a suggestion that the legislation and reception committee abolished two years ago, be restored, the idea being favored by Mayor Church. In this connection Ald. Ramsden, McGuire and Singer are mentioned as likely candidates for the chairmanship.

Rumor has it that Ald. McBride is seeking re-appointment as chairman of the committee of the whole, and it is even said that he has promised to keep very quiet if given the "plum," speaking only once a week, instead of a number of times, as was his practice last year. On the other hand some of the aldermen are in favor of reverting to the old system of allowing all the members to take their turn as chairman, the position going around the board alphabetically.

HOUSTON IS ELECTED CHAIRMAN NEW BOARD

Unanimously Chosen by School Trustees at First Meeting of Year.

STEELE IN MANAGEMENT

Had Opponent in Dr. Hunter, But Succeeded by One Vote Only.

William Houston was unanimously elected chairman of the 1916 board of education at its first meeting, which was held last night in the council chamber of the city hall. The meeting was of short duration, no business other than the selecting of a chairman, the various committees and their chairmen, being undertaken.

During an adjournment of 15 minutes, a striking committee selected the personal of the several committees as follows: Management, trustees, Dr. Steele, Shaw, C. A. B. Brown, Fairbairn, McTaggart, Dr. Hunter, Dr. Hopkins and Boland. Dr. Steele was subsequently elected chairman, the vote being four in his favor and three for Dr. Hunter.

Finance: Chairmen of the management and property committees, Dr. Steele and Miles Vokes, respectively. Property: Trustees Dineen, Oakley, Dr. Noble, C. A. B. Brown, Vokes, Dr. Caroline Brown, Hodgson, and the new member, Trustee Edmunds. Trustee Vokes was unanimously elected chairman.

Advisory industrial: Trustees Dineen, McTaggart, Oakley, Dr. Noble, Fairbairn, Dr. Hunter and H. H. Mason, representative of employers, and A. J. Stevenson, representative of employees. Advisory commercial: Trustee Hodgson and two representatives engaged in commercial work namely, Charles Marriott and Thomas Bradshaw. The new chairman spoke briefly, thanking the members for the honor bestowed upon him. Trustee Hodgson asked for the consent of the board to act in its behalf in regard to arrangements for the car of feeble minded children, this was unanimously given.

The following teachers have enlisted for active service and will be given leave of absence: G. E. Macklin, Dewar Street School; R. H. A. West, Shirley Street School; W. H. Rattie, McCann School, and F. M. Scott, Queen Alexandra School.

CITY HALL NOTES. Parks Commissioner Chambers is still suffering from a severe attack of the grippe, and will be confined to his home for a few days yet.

A building permit was yesterday issued to W. A. Scott for the erection of a two-story brick dwelling at 4 Beech avenue, at a cost of $3500.

Controller Thompson was kept busy for about three hours yesterday answering telegrams and letters congratulating him on his success as the member of the board of control.

The story that civic officials objected to the distribution of military census cards at the city hall is definitely unfounded. The statement was made that objection was raised as the officials did not want the account of too many enlistments. The fact is, however, that a good proportion of the employes at the city hall are already in khaki, and the officials are prepared to let all their men go if they wish to do so.

COBOURG ELECTIONS. COBOURG, Jan. 6.—Today's municipal elections resulted as follows: Mayor, E. A. Duncan; reeve, George Greer; deputy reeve, D. Denton; councillors, H. McGuire, George Bond, William Corbett, John E. Quinn, George Gummow, W. H. A. Semple.

GENERAL ELECTION IN GREAT BRITAIN NEAR?

Conscription Bill Meets With General Disapproval of Newspapers.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Judging by all the editorial opinion expressed today the conscription bill will satisfy nobody. The voluntary papers denounce it almost as much as the conscriptionist press. The Daily News goes so far as to predict a general election in the next few weeks.

It is understood that the new bill was mainly the work of Andrew Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, and David Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, and the difficulty of reconciling the strongly opposed views of the virtual leaders of the two opposite parties is regarded as possibly accounting for the unsatisfactory nature of the compromise reached. It looks as if the conscription clause might provide food for acrimonious debates.

The criticism in the lobbies of the house of commons turns largely upon the question, "what is a conscientious objector?" The onus of proving a conscientious objection will be placed upon the person claiming exemption and will be difficult for anyone except clergymen, ministers of various religious denominations and Quakers to sustain.

FIRST JUNIOR GAME AT THE ARENA TONIGHT

Milton Will Play Aura Lee — Senior Game on Saturday — Gossip.

Toronto's crack junior outfit, Aura Lee, made their bow before a home crowd tonight at the arena. The north end club will have Milton as their opponents in the first local junior fixture. Aura Lee have several of last year's champion variety players and showed a lot of class at Margham.

Hal DeGruy turned out with F.R. & A.A. last night and made a good showing.

This Argonaut-Riverside game, which will be played at the arena Saturday night, is developing into a heavy betting fixture. Riversides are laying 5 to 2 and 2 to 1 that they will win. Argonauts will be stronger than at any time this season.

The junior O.H.A. game scheduled to be played at Midland last night between Orlia and Midland was called off—no ice.

An Ottawa despatch says: Nick Bawit, who for some time past has been negotiating with the Wanderers, returned to the Ottawa camp tonight, and although not actually signed up, will likely figure on the Senators' lineup in the Quebec game on Saturday.

Billy Gilmore, who has been getting into shape for the Montreal Old Boys' Silver Seven game on January 22, may also figure on the Ottawa lineup this season, though he will not go so, as a professional, his intention, it is being stated tonight, to play for the love of the game.

Billy Gilmore was conceded to be one of the greatest wing men that ever laced skates, and locally it is pretty well conceded that he is the only man when in shape that can give Gordon Roberts, the Wanderer star, cards and spades, and beat him playing the boards.

Ottawa will have two full teams for the Quebec game Saturday, and it is likely that the Senators' roster will be a heavy one for the remainder of the season.

Aberdeens left at 10.30 tonight on their Pittsburg and Cleveland trip and will remain away for six days, playing four games. Ten players took the trip.

SCOTT-WELLS BOUT OFF.

BUFFALO, Jan. 6.—There was no fight at the Broadway Auditorium tonight. Altho Matt Wells enjoyed the honor of defeating Charlie White in Boston on Tuesday night, he did not escape unscathed. At a late hour yesterday Dan Morgan, manager for Wells and Jack Britton, who were tonight to box Jack Scott and Fighting Zinner, respectively, notified the Queensberry Athletic Club that Wells had discovered that damage to his nose in the White bout was more serious than he had at first supposed and that he would not be in condition to box tonight.

DOUBLE BILL STAGED IN THE COMMERCIAL

Ford Moor Trounced United Drug Handily—Second Game a Draw.

The Commercial League staged a double bill at the arena last night. Ford Motor Company looked the pick of the four clubs and romped home easy winners 12 to 0 over United Drug. The Ford outfit had size and knew a little about the game. The period scores were 6 to 0 and 8 to 0. Goodyear Tire and Business Systems had a red hot argument in the second game. It ended 3 to 3 and no goal was scored. At the first rest Goodyear led 1 to 0, and it was tie, 2 all at the end of the second round. They played earnestly at all times. The teams: Ford (12)—Foy, goal; Edwards, Haig, defence; Horsfield, rover; Warwick, centre; Nicholls, right; Woodcock, left. United Drug (12)—Kennedy, goal; Lebb, Davis, defence; Oliver, rover; Douglas, centre; Miller, right; French, left. Referee—Jimmy Labatt. Goodyear (12)—Martin, goal; Couper, Marrow, defence; Anderson, rover; McDonald, centre; Dumas, right; McNally, left. Business System (3)—Howison, goal; Craig, Moore, defence; Clark, rover; Stevens, centre; Bothroyd, right; Phillips, left. Referee—James Labatt.

A Cornwall despatch says: E. N. Runions, manager of the Cornwall Hockey Club, received a message today from Harry Shannon of Cleveland asking for a series of games in this city on the 14th and 15th of January. But Mr. Runions has not yet given Mr. Shannon a definite reply. Two prominent rink managers of Montreal want Cornwall to enter a new league with them, and are also trying to get Brockville to join. They promise that a handsome trophy will be put up for the contestants. It is reported that Newry Lalonde is behind one of the organizations. Manager Runions is giving the matter his careful consideration, and the local hockey fans may expect developments in a few days.

A New York exchange says: In order to meet the conditions when Madison Square Garden is turned into an ice rink, Manager Harry A. Cochrane suggests a novelty in the form of boxing matches, with contestants on skates. The skating plant will be installed at a cost of $30,000, and short seasons of ice hockey will precede between the events which already have been booked for the Garden. Under the fight club license which Cochrane believes that it will be possible to stage boxing contests on ice, as a number of fights have fallen victims to the skating craze.

It is whispered that the Ottawa club is greatly dissatisfied with the work of one or two forwards; also that suspensions will follow unless the men in question show improvement at once. The directors are paying higher salaries than any other club in the league and they cannot continue to do so unless the puckshovers show results. Coach Smith is confident that they will show their mettle in Saturday's game against Quebec.

Unless the Ottawa defence shows a little more energy against Quebec than it displayed in the Canadian game, Joe LeBlond, who is being loaned to the Rusty Crawford will overwhelm Clint Benedict. Those Quebec forwards must be met with the body.

An Alvinston despatch says: During the initial hockey matches between the Detroit Hockey Club, two Canadian names appear as stars. One is Russel (Charles) Johnson, whose home is here, playing left wing. Johnson's team made a record of 10 goals in 10 games. Both players were previous to playing with the Detroit club. Johnson is a regular and is picking up very fast in hockey circles. He played in the first game of the season and when he visits his parents here usually gets out to practice with the local squad and demonstrates his speed.

Harrison sends the following: There is possibility of a team having a hockey team this winter consisting of players eligible to enlist. Just what the club is doing is not known, but it remains to be seen, but the general feeling in this town is very much in sympathy with the idea. Mayor Barnard, who is in town, is very much in sympathy with the idea. He is a hockey fan and he is sure to be of great help to the team. The team is composed of crickles or cowards should not be allowed to perform.

A Montreal paper says of Wednesday night's game, played with the world's champions, stood out head and shoulders above the rest of the season. He worked like a Trojan, engineering rush after rush the length of the rink, but Keating played fine individual hockey, but there was no co-operation. Keating and some good puck-carrying ability, but some of the best of the steps made by Veritas being of drives sent from well out beyond the defence. Progers was the most spectacular player on the ice. He scored the most brilliant goal of the night, in the first period when he took the puck thru singlehandedly recovered from the corner after Leamer had batted it away, circled around the entire Toronto team, and drove a long, low drive into the corner of the net.

GOOD CROWD ON FIRST DAY AT DUFFERIN PARK

Maggie Bond and Widower Peter Win Trots in Straight Heats — Pace Unfinished.

A good crowd was on hand to see the opening of the ice races at Dufferin Park yesterday afternoon, and they were treated to the best racing seen in Canada. Close finishes were the rule in most of the races and in lots of excitement.

The last race of the day was the 2.30 pace, and it is to be finished at 1.30 this afternoon. Henry Bison, a thirty grey mare, owned by Dr. Riddell of Orangeville, has two heats to her credit, but only after nine finishes. Jas. Albert won the first heat in easy manner, but after that found the going harder, and was back further the next two heats.

Widower Peter was best in the 2.30 trot, and won his race in three heats quite handily. The Montalvo and Phillip He Ha chased him hard the last two, but were not quite good enough.

In the 2.15 trot Maggie Bond showed the way in three heats and won her race nicely. Sanatell and Aley D. had a great race for second money, battling all the way, but at the finish Sanatell had the best, being the staidier of the pair.

The summary followed sharp. 2.30 class, trotting, purse $400: Widower Peter, b.h., by Peter the Great, W. H. Grosch (Shively) 1 1 1

IRREGULAR TREND TO STOCKS IN NEW YORK

Increased Selling Caused Weakness in Coppers—Rails Heavy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The one encouraging and overshadowing feature of the highly irregular and at times unsettled market, was the statement issued by Chairman Gary of the United States Steel Corporation, bearing upon present and future aspects of that important industry.

For a time coppers withstood the selling movement better than any other group, their strength being attributed to yet another high quotation for the refined metal, but these stocks were also affected by the general decline.
