DRIVE AGAINST NEW N. B. TAXES GROWS

MODIFICATION POSSIBILITY IS REPORTED

Bankers And Insurance Companies Protest Increased Levies

TRADE HANDICAP

Contention Is That Trade Must Absorb Imposts, To Province's Detriment

Canadian Press

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 30—Further reports of probable modification of the provincial government's new revenue proposals, which include the increasing of certain taxes and the introduction of new taxes, were generally circulated here again today.

Canadian bankers' association are taking the initiative in an assault upon the proposal to increase the provincial taxes upon banks, while insurance companies were said to be equally militant against the proposal to increase the taxes upon fire, life, accident and guarantee insurance companies.

General business, it is contended, will have to absorb the additional taxes placed upon banks which will place industrial and commercial activities in this province under a handicap in competing with the rest of the Dominion, while it is contended insurance premiums will be higher in New Brunswick than in other provinces as a result of the increased tax burden.

It also has become known that while the province has been promised a lower rate of interest upon overdrafts at the banks, there is no assurance that this rate will be lower than upon credit advances.

AMUSEMENT TAXES

Meanwhile, further conference expected this week in relation to the proposal to alter the plan by which an additional $50,000 can be realized this year from the amusement tax, as suggested by the theatre owners, who swooped down upon the government last week.

Proposed changes include, among other things, the raising of the tax on the moving picture theatre from 10 per cent to 15 per cent, and a similar increase in the tax on the moving picture theatre.

LUMBER REVENUE

At the same time belief is expressed that additional revenue is in sight from the crown lands in the immediate future.

Reconstruction of the whole fabric upon which leases and licenses are given and stumpage is charged will, it is pointed out, have to be made with the changing over from log lumber to pulp and paper operations on the public domain.

In government circles today it was contended that an important step had been brought out by Col. W. E. Harrison, D. S., in Saint John, in the debate on the budget in the legislature last night when he pointed out that the reduction in revenue because of the cut in stumpage rates the present government's reduction of 80 cents a thousand feet had cost the province $80,000, or about one-third of the full loss in revenue from that source sustained this year.

There will be a session of the House tonight, Premier Baxter announced. F. G. Richard, opposition member for Kent, continues the debate on the budget this afternoon. He will be followed by F. C. Squires, government member for Carleton.

FREDERICTON, March 30—Henry T. Ross, of Montreal, secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association, appeared before the provincial government at a special cabinet meeting at noon today and is understood to have filed formal protest of the Canadian Bankers' Association against the proposal to triple the tax upon chartered banks doing business in New Brunswick.

FREDERICTON, March 30—The debating team of the University of New Brunswick has arrived and will meet the U. N. B. team here tonight. The judges are to be Premier Baxter, Hon. P. J. Venier, leader of the opposition, and Austin A. Allan of Moncton.

CITY CHANGES

Although the appointment of city officials does not go into effect until May 1st for the ensuing year the city council has the matter under consideration.

The election in January resulted in the return of candidates pledged to economy and the appointments are considered with that in view. Some changes or amalgamations are considered likely.

Parents and Five Children Lose Lives In Fire Which Wipes Out Manitoba Home

Canadian Press

WINNIPEG, Man., March 30—Reports of a tragedy, which wiped out an entire family of two adults and five children, were received in a special despatch to the Free Press from Williams, Minn., last night.

The despatch states that the charred body of the father and four children were found in the ruins of the Newman home, which burned Sunday morning, and that the body of the mother and an eight-year-old daughter were found on the road a quarter of a mile from the house, where they had apparently succumbed to terrible burns after escaping from the house.

The despatch does not identify the family further, beyond stating that they moved to Williams from Park Rapids, Minn., a year ago.

READING MACHINE IS ADMIRAL'S INVENTION

Will Be Size of Fountain Pen—Fiske Says Discovery Will Do Away With Printing Presses, Typesetting and Eyeglasses.

Canadian Press

NEW YORK, March 30—A "reading machine" that folds into the size of a fountain pen, and is designed to do away with the present methods of reading bulky books, has been invented by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, retired, the Herald-Tribune says today.

Admiral Fiske has completed a working model of the invention, which he describes as likely to render obsolete printing presses and typesetting machines and to revolutionize the publishing business. The device is also expected to make eyeglasses unnecessary for many readers who now wear them.

The invention which Admiral Fiske calls the "Fiske Reading Machine" consists of an apparatus not unlike a logotype, on which are mounted a magnifying lens for one eye, a shield for the other, and a rack to hold reading matter.

TYPE PHOTOGRAPHED

The reading matter for use with the machine is produced directly from typewritten manuscript by photography and is so microscopic as to be undecipherable with the naked eye. The Admiral has had the first volume of Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" a book of 98,000 words, prepared as an example, and it appears as a 18 page pamphlet three and three quarters by five and three quarters inches in size.

He is anxious to go to Ottawa at once, but will not be able to leave until this evening. He will attend a funeral at Gloucester this afternoon, afterwards motoring to London, and will leave at 7 p. m. for the capital.

The minister pleads inability to discuss the probable effect of his election because the campaign has kept him out of touch with Ottawa. He would not confirm the report that another Ontario member was to be appointed to the cabinet, nor would he discuss the probability of an election for the province concerned. It was common talk at the West Middlesex campaign round to a close that a big majority for Hon. J. C. Elliott would be followed soon by the naming of another Ontario member for a portfolio.

NEW YORK STOCKS RALLY AFTER DROP

Some Issues Reach Lowest Point For Year Early Today

Canadian Press

NEW YORK, March 30—Three weeks of steadily declining stock prices were followed today by an impressive rally, which carried scores of issues up 2 to 10 points in the first half hour of trading.

The recovery was preceded by an irregularly lower opening, due to the execution of overnight selling orders representing the liquidation of weakened marginal accounts.

About a score of issues were depressed to new lows for the year in the first outbreak of selling. The list included such popular issues as Pittsburg and West Virginia, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Woolworth, North American Company, Consolidated Gas, Postum Cereal, United States Rubber, Learland and International Nickel, all off about one to two points.

Condition of Luther Burbank Doubtful; Patient Nervous

Canadian Press

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 30—Luther Burbank, 77, world famed horticulturalist, is waging a valiant battle against a persistent illness which has confined him to bed at his home here for the last few days.

Extreme nervousness of the patient and a seemingly constant desire to return to his work in the garden, combined to make his condition "doubtful" last night, his personal physician, Dr. Joseph H. Shaw, said.

NEAR POVERTY, SISTER OF LATE POPE PIUS DIES

Anna Sarto's Life of Devotion To Religion Ends

SISTER SURVIVES

Papal Secretary of State Among First To Pay Tribute of Respect

Canadian Press

ROME, March 30—A lifetime of self-devotion to religion has ended with the death of Anna Sarto, youngest sister of the late Pope Pius X, after months of illness and a difficult operation.

Anna, 76, was a spinster. She died, almost in poverty, in the tiny apartment facing St. Peter's Square, in which she had lived for many years with Maria Sarto, now the only surviving sister of Pius X.

Cardinal Merry Del Val, who was Papal Secretary of State under Pius X, was the first of a number of distinguished prelates to pay their respects.

KEPT HOUSE FOR PIUS

From the days when Pius X was a simple chaplain at Tombolo, Anna kept house for him, following him through the various stages of his career until he became Pope.

When she was torn between joy over his supreme honor and suffering at her separation from him, Pius X, for poor children and orphans. Condolences were expressed to the surviving sister today by both the Pope and the Italian government.

GOVERNOR IS NAMED AS STAGE ARBITER

Smith Suggested By Managers' Association to Negotiate New Actors' Contract

Canadian Press

NEW YORK, March 30—The name of Governor Alfred E. Smith for the position of arbiter between theatrical producers and playwrights, was suggested to the Producing Managers' Association at a meeting yesterday.

The proposed position was described as similar to that of Will Hays, in the motion picture industry.

Arthur Hammerstein made the suggestion in a telegram to Wm. A. Brady, and Mr. Brady voiced his approval of it, after a meeting of the producers to consider the new contract agreement with the playwrights. It was at first erroneously reported that Mr. Brady had wired the governor offering him the position at a salary of $50,000 a year.

London Amused by No-Bobbing Order of Calgary Hospital

By HERBERT BAILEY

British United Press

LONDON, March 30—The drastic action of the hospital authorities at Calgary "in confining to barracks nurses with bobbed hair" has aroused much amusement here, and the Daily Telegraph devotes one of its editorials to the problem, in which it says that the governor of the hospital, being in a position from which it was possible for nurses to be seen, was "to be expected to emerge with dignity, took the wrong course. Though it is a grievous offence for nurses to have their hair short, if she keeps it short for three months she is presumably purged of her sin."

"We do not believe either in Calgary or elsewhere it is worth while to make hair-dressing a matter of morals. The Puritans insisted that no man who wore lovelocks could be saved, with the result that post-wigs were introduced. We hope they will be careful in Calgary."

SAY WOMEN TODAY MORE BEAUTIFUL

British Artists Vote 11 to One in Favor of Modern Picturitude

British United Press

LONDON, March 30—Women are more beautiful today than at any previous time in the world's history, famous British painters have decided by a vote of 11 to 1.

The one dissenting vote was cast by a woman, Miss Heppburn Edwards, vice-president of the Royal Society of miniature painters.

Philip Connard, R., thought that there had been no change in feminine beauty.

"The eyes, smiles, trees, limbs and flowers are just as beautiful today as they have always been," he declared.

"So are the women."

Walter W. Russell, R., said that shingled heads, lineless, fashionable figures made the modern woman look less good-looking than she really was.

Witness Tells of Members Handling Insurance For Provincial Property

Canadian Press

TORONTO, March 30—It was stated by a witness at the meeting of the Public Accounts Committee of the Ontario Legislature, last night, that members of the legislature during the regime of the Drury government had done business with the government.

J. H. Ferguson, of the firm of Burns and Ferguson, when being examined about insurance on government buildings in general, said:

"During the regime of the United Farmers of Ontario, I gave the Hon. Mr. Biggs a tender for insurance. It was for the fleet of automobiles. I heard no more until Edgar Watson told me he had charge of placing the insurance on the autos. I then gave him a higher quotation than I gave Mr. Biggs. It was a joke to me that Watson got it at a higher quotation. He received the commission from my office."

W. E. Raney—"What did he get?"

"About 13 per cent," replied the witness.

LONDON, March 30—Possibility of withdrawal of Great Britain's diplomatic recognition of the Peking government was admitted here today.

Sale of Full Strength Beer Legalized In U.S. Drug Stores

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30—Two large breweries have been granted permits by the prohibition enforcement department to make accessible to drug stores medicinal beer, comparable in alcoholic content to the pre-prohibition beer. No prescriptions will be required of consumers who feel the need of more and better health.

The only restrictions on sale of the medicinal beer will be the number of cases drug stores may handle. Alcoholic content of 3.75 by volume, will be allowed, and from five to 25 cases may be furnished drug stores weekly, according to their size.

Instead of 7 to 10 per cent of malt solids as in pre-prohibition beer, the "health booster" will contain 23 per cent. As a result, officials explain, excessive drinking of the tonic will produce illness. The difference in alcoholic content is much less pronounced, pre-prohibition beer having contained from 8 to 9 per cent by volume.

Chairman Doubts Wisdom of Building Road From Campbellton To Saint John

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

Special to The Times-Star

FREDERICTON, March 30—Full investigation into the road and retaining wall work on the county side of the Reversing Falls bridge done last summer by the Maritime Construction Company, Limited, was demanded by James Lewis, M. L. A. for Saint John, at the meeting of the public accounts committee this morning here, with B. Frank Smith in the chair.

Mr. Lewis asked for production of records of this work, particularly those bearing on authority to proceed with it, and also copies of letters from J. King Kelley, K. C., county secretary-treasurer, to former Premier Venier.

Mr. Lewis claimed there was a heavy over-expenditure on this work, and he wanted to find out who was responsible and who benefited by it. Chairman Smith instructed department officials to produce such records, and it is probable the matter will be gone into tomorrow morning.

The chairman, Dr. F. Smith, informed the committee that the special sub-committee to investigate the work and report on lands and mines, had its first meeting this morning. Mr. Smith instructed department officials to produce such records, and it is probable the matter will be gone into tomorrow morning.

ROAD ACCOUNTS

The committee then proceeded to the examinations of the permanent road accounts in the comptroller-general's report. W. A. Landon, comptroller-general, submitted vouchers for Kings county.

In reply to Mr. Taylor, the comptroller-general said the Workmen's Compensation Act the public works department paid actual compensation and a proportion of administration costs. A regular assessment was not paid, the arrangement being similar to that with the Federal government.

B. H. Kinghorn, chief road engineer, appeared before the committee and was asked concerning the trunk road being constructed across Restigouche and Madawaska counties from Campbellton to the Saint John river.

The chairman expressed doubt of ever putting settlers in that country or of constructing the highway. Some millions of dollars worth of timber was burned down as a result of the settlements being there.

It was pointed out that from St. Quentin to Kedgewick the highway was constructed new. Expenditures had been $125,000.

Mrs. Darlington, Wife of Missionary, Gives Address to Stone Church W. A.

St. John's (Stone) Church Women's Auxiliary was greatly interested at a meeting yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Darlington told of her 20 years of experience as the wife of an Anglican missionary in West China. She spoke very interestingly of the home life in China, and amused her hearers as she described the formal dinner of the Chinese and the common practice of everyone dipping into the family rice bowl. Mrs. George Murray, president of the W. A., was in the chair and extended the hearty thanks of the meeting to Mrs. Darlington on motion of Mrs. Leonard Tully.

Rev. A. L. Fleming, the rector, and Rev. Mr. Darlington joined the members for the serving of afternoon tea, and afterwards Mrs. Darlington gave an address at the afternoon service in the church. Rev. and Mrs. Darlington left last night for Montreal on their way to return to China.

FIRE GRIPS HOUSE IN ROCKLAND ROAD

Building Owned By Charles Cobham and Occupied By Walter Niles

A house at 101 Rockland Road, owned by Charles Cobham, West Saint John, and occupied by Walter Niles and family was badly damaged by fire this morning. Neither the owner nor the tenant carried insurance.

About 9 o'clock the fire was first noticed and an alarm rung in from Box 813. The firemen made a quick response and found they had quite a fight on their hands. Two streams of water were soon at work and the blaze was brought under control, but not until the greater part of the roof had been burned off.

The fire was supposed to have started from a defective fuse in the attic of the building and had quite a start before it was discovered. The furniture in the lower floor was covered by the salvage corps workers, but the household effects were considerably damaged by water and smoke.

POLA NEGRI STAR AT QUEEN SQ. THEATRE

Notable Picture is "Flower of Night"—Musical Novelty Also Enjoyed

San Francisco and vicinity in 1850—the days when the discovery of gold in the hills attracted all manner of men from the four corners of the earth—the days when might was right and the quickest on the "draw" lived the longest.

Such is the scene of "Flower of Night," a Paramount picture starring Pola Negri which opened yesterday at the Queen Square Theatre.

Pola, as Carlota y Villalon, descendant of a royal Spanish family, falls in love with a young mine superintendent. The Flor de Noche mine had been wrested from Carlota's father by dishonest Americans and now one of them thinking that by so doing he will win the girl, offers to help her regain possession of it. The scenes that follow are among the most thrilling. There is a great cast in support of the star.

Warner Oland, Helen Lee Worthing and Edwin J. Brady are some names.

In addition to the picture bill a novelty musical act is being offered in the person of Einar Nilsson, a Norwegian entertainer who gives a short musical program, his chief instrument being a saw. This number was well received yesterday and much favorable comment was heard.

LABOR MINISTER RETURNED BY 2,681 MAJORITY

Hon. J. C. Elliott Gets Plurality in Practically Every Sub-Division

VOTE IS 6,520 TO OPPONENT'S 3,839

Beaten Candidate Terms Gain in Conservative Poll Good Augury

Canadian Press STRATHROY, Ont., March 30—Obtaining majorities in practically every sub-division in West Middlesex, Hon. J. C. Elliott, recently appointed Minister of Labor in the administration of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, was returned yesterday in the by-election rendered necessary by his promotion to the cabinet, by a majority of 2,681 votes over his Conservative opponent, T. A. Elliott. The Minister of Labor polled 6,520 votes compared with 3,839 by the Conservative candidate.

LIBERALS ELATED Liberals in the riding are highly elated over their representative's victory as he carried districts in today's battle. The vote polled was 11,200 or 961 more than in this contest. In that election the figures were: J. C. Elliott, 6,520; T. A. Elliott, 3,839.

ELLIOTT'S VIEWS Mr. Elliott declared that the people of the country would now realize what West Middlesex thought of the Liberal Government. The victory was not his, he said, but that of the electors who were merely going to Ottawa to do their bidding. Mr. Elliott expressed appreciation of the assistance rendered by Liberal workers, declaring that he had never before been accorded such splendid help.

Conservatives attributed the success of the Liberal candidate to the organization perfected in the constituency on his behalf, while the claim of Premier King who addressed electors in the riding on Saturday last that Ontario needed representation in the Ottawa government, was also held to have been a large factor in the defeat of this candidate.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MARCH 30, 1926.

WEST MIDDLESEX, AND AFTER.

The majority received yesterday in West Middlesex by Hon. J. C. Elliott, the new Minister of Labor, is almost as wide as a church door or as deep as a well. It is more than enough, and it will serve as a solid base for Elliott, and it would have looked like a case of Greek meeting Greek but for the history of the previous test, that in October, when Mr. J. C. Elliott, now Minister, beat both the Progressive and the Conservative by smashing majorities.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

A letter from Mr. W. E. Scully, relating to civic matters, is published in another column of The Times-Star today, and it is worthy of a close reading. Mr. Scully's first purpose is to say that Elliott, although he has been asked by a large number of the electors to enter the mayoralty contest, and while he is thankful for this expression of confidence, he feels that the duties of the office, if he should be elected, would be too onerous for him to undertake as they would demand more time than he feels he could give at present.

AS IS NOT UNCOMMON IN CASES LIKE THIS, THE LOSERS ARE POINTING TO A REDUCTION IN THE LIBERAL MAJORITY, BUT AS THE SUCCESSFUL ELLIOTT BEAT HIS OPPONENT BY NEARLY TWO TO ONE, ANY SUCH CLAIM NATURALLY SUGGESTS THE ANCIENT AND UNPROFITABLE INDUSTRY OF EXTRACTING UNSHINE FROM CUMBERS.

IT IS THE BUSINESS OF AN OPPOSITION TO OPPOSE, AND THE MORE MILITANT OF MR. MEIGHEN'S LIEUTENANTS, WHO BELIEVE THE RIGHT PLAN IS TO FIGHT THE GOVERNMENT TOOTH AND NAILED.

It is the business of an Opposition to oppose, and the more militant of Mr. Meighen's lieutenants, who believe the right plan is to fight the Government tooth and nailed at every point, had their way with respect to West Middlesex, asserting that it would be better for the party spirit to put up a vigorous fight. They had some hope, probably, that because of the Government's weakness in the House and its obvious dependence upon the Progressives, a political opinion in Ontario, riding that has long been a stronghold of Liberalism, might give something to cheer for. The result, however, would have been better.

It is to let West Middlesex go by the board, the decisive vote, which does not mean the number of the Government's supporters, does something to the Government's position in the Legislature.

Some who usually the most vigorous critics of the Liberal Government are renewing their direct and indirect attacks upon Mr. Meighen's leadership, and the editor of the Montreal Star, after a personal investigation of the Ottawa situation, recently wrote the Conservative party that their only hope of beating the Government in the House or in the next election must depend upon its ability to win over some of the Liberal protectionists in Quebec.

It was intimated that this could be done only by making it known that the purpose was to set aside Mr. Meighen in favor of some one of his lieutenants who would be persona grata to a certain circle in Montreal—a circle, by the way, that is regarded with increasing dislike and suspicion west of the Lakes.

The Star's editor, whose frank counsel is perhaps not welcomed by the conservative party at large, submitted Mr. Meighen could not hope to further gains in the Maritime Provinces, or in the Prairie West, and he already had so many seats in the little additional strength was needed from that province.

He asked, could the Conservatives, with the additional half-dozen seats necessary to give them control of public affairs? And he answered on question by saying that these seats would be secured only by divorcing a general's guard of Liberal protectionists in Quebec from the Liberal forces. To which the Liberals reply that the Hon. Ernest Lapointe will have his ideas about that.

The Star's comment is interesting in many angles. The situation is presented more reasonably than is likely to thrust upon the Government's attention—if its memory is to be jogged in this matter—the dom of placating popular opinion in the Maritime Provinces. This must be, obviously, not only as a matter of political strategy, but because of the general recognition about Canada that the Atlantic provinces have not fared well at the hands of the federal authorities and that they must have a real measure of fair play, as their due, and for the health of this Confederation.

Two steamers left Quebec opening bound yesterday, marking the outward of St. Lawrence navigation. Very shortly the liners will have access to both Quebec and Montreal, and a great deal of export wheat which should have passed through this port during the last few months will find its way overseas through the St. Lawrence ports.

A great deal more which should have come this way has been steadily going through American ports to the British and other markets.

"Yes, it was me all right," said George.

"Did you make a deposit?" "No, sir."

NYDIA'S SONG. The Wind and the Bean loved the Rose And the Rose loved one; For who recks the Wind where it blows? Or loves not the Sun?

None knew whence the humble Wind stole, Poor sport of the skies; None dreamt that the Wind had a soul In its mournful sighs.

O happy Bean, how can't thou prove That bright love of thine? In thy light is the proof of thy love, Thou hast but to shine.

How its love on the Wind reveals? Unwakened its sigh; Mute, mute to the Rose let it steal— Its proof is—to die! —Lord Lytton.

THE BEST OF ADVICE

YOUNG MEN, their minds so taken up with the present and its pleasures as to be without a thought of the future, make the mistake of seeking "soft jobs" to start out their careers.

Easy, pleasant work does not make robust minds; does not give men a consciousness of their powers, does not train them to endurance, to perseverance, to steady force of will, that force without which all other acquisitions avail nothing.

Man owes his growth, his energy, his clarity to that striving of the will, that conflict with difficulty, we call effort. Consequently, we have William Emery Channing saying that manual labor is a school in which men are placed to get energy or purpose and character—vastly more important endowment than all the learning of other schools.

RUN through the list of the great men of the nation, and note how most of them began as manual laborers on the farm or in the shop.

They are placed, indeed, under hard masters, physical sufferings and want, the power of fearful elements, and the vicissitudes of all human things. Channing observes; "but these stern teachers do a work which no compassionate, indulgent friend could do for us."

THE material world does much for the mind by its beauty and order; but it does more for our minds by the liber. Several other negroes were liberated in this manner.

The Very Idea!

LAND OF CHEER. THE trail that leads to the land of cheer is an easy road to find. There's nary a soul who is living here who needs to be left behind.

If you blaze your way with a thousand smiles and can fill the air with song, you can travel on through the happy miles and join with the laughing throng.

Your life's too short for the solemn side, and you lose your pep when blue. Hop onto the smile ship and take a ride, if your spirit can carry you through.

Be friendly with folk whom you meet each day and put out the glad hand strong. Remember that life is a portion play. When you make it all work, you're wrong.

Fall into line while the fall's good. Take the tip with your pep when blue. Be a good scout, 'cause you know you should. You'll land in the land of cheer!

The horse may be going, but a lot of married people will tell you that the old "nag" still lives on.

If they took all the women too away, what would follow? I don't know about the rest of you men—but I can answer too for myself.

Sometimes a man acquires a vocabulary simply by getting married.

They always sang duets because they flattered every tone. And neither one of them was game To take the blame alone.

NOW, HONESTLY—Easiest man in the world to overlook. Somehow or other most of us take all things he does for granted.

He's expected to be in the best of spirits all the time—we can't understand why he has reason to ever feel otherwise.

Kind of a good guy to turn to in an emergency. Always comes through with help, too. Some people call him the head of the family. In most cases that's funny. Let's see now—whadda we call this fellow?

Oh, yes—Dad!

If it weren't for the longest way around, where would the youngster go who is coming back from the store with groceries?

A rich girl is supposed to pay the charges when a poor man expresses his love to her.

Mrs. A.: Did your husband go by boat or rail? Mrs. B.: Yes!

FABLES IN FACT. THE MIND HAD JUST MOVED INTO A NEW NEIGHBORHOOD COMMA AND WITH A VIEW TO MAKING FRIENDS COMMA SALUTED HIS NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR THE FIRST TIME HE SAW HIM PERIOD THE NEIGHBOR COMMA HOWEVER COMMA PAID NO ATTENTION TO HIM PERIOD NOW YOU MIGHT THINK THAT QUEER COMMA BUT IT WASN'T A BIT PERIOD LATER ON THE NEWCOMER DISCOVERED THAT THAT PARTICULAR NEIGHBOR NEVER RETURNED ANYTHING PERIOD

WORK is not merely the grand instrument by which the earth is overpowered by its perils, which demand continual vigilance; and by its tendencies to decay.

More than one wise man has declared that difficulties are more important to the human mind than what we call assistance.

Work we all must, if we mean to bring out and perfect our nature. Even if we do not work with our hands, we must undergo equivalent toil in some other direction.

It has a far higher function, which is to give force to the will, efficiency, courage, the capacity of endurance, and of preserving devotion.

"Ease, rest, over its deliciousness to toll, and no toll is so burdensome as the rest to him who has nothing to task and quicken his powers," it is observed.

HARRISON DEFENDS BUDGET, SEES DIRECT TAX SOLUTION TO N. B. FINANCIAL SITUATION

Saint John Member Declares Passing On of Deficits to Municipalities Will Serve As Check-Rein On Over-Expenditure

PEOPLE HOODWINKED LONG ENOUGH

Legislature Told If Monetary Problem Isn't Faced Squarely, Public Revenue of Province Will All Be Used in Paying Interest; House Also Addressed by City Man in French

BY JOHN A. DUNLOP Staff Correspondent of The Times-Star.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 29.—Terminating the 1926 budget a fair, honest and courageous statement of the finances of New Brunswick and declaring that the proposals leading to direct taxation would commend themselves to every thoughtful taxpayer when the true state of affairs was made known, Lieutenant-Colonel Harrison, M. L. A. for Saint John, in his maiden speech in the House this evening, expressed the opinion that the very fact that any deficit would be passed on to the municipalities would serve as a check-rein on over-expenditure by any government in addition to avoiding financial disaster.

"Ontario," Col. Harrison said, "is grappling with this problem and, if we do not face it squarely, I say that in 20 years time it would require every dollar of the public revenue to pay interest charges alone."

Lieut.-Col. Harrison expressed his confidence in the good sense of the people of the province to give the present Government credit for its sincerity in its endeavor to lift the province out of the present financial straits.

GOING ON LIKE OTTICHI

The province, the Saint John member said, had been going on like an oticchi, sticking its head in the sand and deluding itself in the prospect that the day of reckoning would never come. The people, he said, had been educated to a system of bond-fidelity, but he claimed they had been hoodwinked in this regard long enough.

Teaching on the amendment offered by the Opposition to increase the stampage rate to 84 per cent, Col. Harrison declared it would be idle to set the rate for 1927 at this early date. The rate for 1926 had already been set and why set the 1927 rate at 84 when conditions then might be better and a higher rate than 84 might be in justice proposed? he asked.

DISAGREES WITH VENIOT

He said he noticed where former Premier Foster had seen fit to comment on the budget, but with his conclusions respecting increased revenue from the Crown lands and Valley Railway deficits, he said he must disagree. The deficit was as much due to the increase of $982,000 a year in interest charges incurred under the Foster-Veniot regime as to the two items mentioned.

Lieut.-Col. Harrison attacked the over-expenditure under the Veniot administration prior to the elections last August, mentioning bridge work at South Bay and the Reversing Falls bridge. He declared that in the former case the work had cost $28,000 and in the latter case $40,000, whereas it actually cost $46,000 after a call for tenders had been cancelled. On the bridge, he said, 103 men had been employed at a total cost of $24,000, whereas in 1921 such work had cost $8,000.

ANALYZES DEBT FIGURES

In his consideration of the budget speech, Lieut.-Col. Harrison said that since 1917 the indebtedness of the province had increased $1,000,000. He analyzed the figures making up the debt and said that for deficits alone some $9,000,000 was eaten up. Mr. Michaud, he said, had pointed with pride to the increase in revenue amounting to 122 per cent under the Foster-Veniot regime, but it was well to remember also, he said, that the debt had increased 127 per cent.

At the outset Col. Harrison departed from the usual custom and treated the French-Canadian members of the House to a short speech, delivered in excellent French, his essay in their language being greeted with much applause by the French members present.

FOR MORE USE OF FRENCH

Lieut.-Col. Harrison, who is French consul at Saint John, expressed the hope, at the conclusion of his address, that the French language should be taught more freely in the schools of the province. He said this out of respect for the 85 per cent of the people of this

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Keep the Skin Clear

By the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment

Dr. Chase's Ointment is so delightfully soothing and healing and so certainly effective in keeping the skin soft, smooth and clear that it only has to be tried to be appreciated. You may know of its value as a relief from common salt rheum and other serious skin diseases. But have you realized that as a means of clearing and beautifying the skin it has no equal in the world?

Men use Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving to relieve the irritation of the razor skin. In scores of ways it is useful in every home and soon becomes a household necessity.

NOT SEEKING POPULARITY

The Government was certainly not seeking popularity by stating the position plainly to the people, but they did hope to put the financial affairs of the country upon such a basis as would enable the price for stampage to be determined each year. Mr. Foster

ALARMING SITUATION

The measure of the debt was the interest which was paid, and that brought the province to a worrying situation. In 1916 the interest payments amounted to $281,000; in 1925 they had risen to $1,214,000, an increase of nearly 300 per cent. The per capita interest liability had risen from 80 cents per head to $8.38. Over forty per cent of the total revenue for 1925 went last year to pay interest and sinking funds.

If the provincial financing were continued as during the late Government, it would only take twenty-one years to bring the province to a point where the interest charges would equal the full amount of the present revenue. At present over 40 per cent of the revenue was required for interest, but it had remained for this Government to put the matter in a concrete form.

FOSTER MENTIONED

Before the leader of the Opposition had the chance to speak in this debate, ex-Premier Foster had rushed into print to tell the public what a great financier he was and how glad he was that the reduction in stampage and the Valley Railway were the only two reasons why the province had prospered. This was not true. These two items alone only amounted to $461,000, while the increase in interest charges amounted to $929,000.

STAMPAGE REDUCTION

Referring to this matter of stampage which has been the subject of so much of the reduction as were the Government. The late Government had reduced the rate from four dollars to three while the present Government had only made a reduction of fifty cents, which was intended for a temporary relief on the transition period in which the lumber companies found themselves, and in no way bore the burden of the rate for next year. His honorable friends had moved an amendment that the rate for next year should be $4.00.

FAIR PRICE URGED

He (Harrison) saw no reason why it should be more than $4. He claimed that the province should receive a fair price as they had had to reduce their estimate by the amount indicated.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. You can obtain a jar of Bowles' Sulphur from any good druggist.

WILD FINANCING

There had also been wild financing in connection with the auto fund, expenditure on roads, for it now required $471,000 to pay the interest, and last year the ex-Premier had made an over-expenditure on this account, however, was $764,000 before Aug. 10 last. Under the automobile fund act there was provision for the issue of $200,000 on Jan. 1 of each year if fees permitted. On this account the ex-Premier had spent $850,000.

SOUTH BAY BRIDGE

They would not be likely to throw their money away as did the late Government on the South Bay bridge, where to serve the purpose of a by-election they spent $45,000 in a day's work, job that could have been built by tender for $25,000. Neither would they be likely to put 103 men to work to paint the Reversing Falls bridge at a cost of $24,000 immediately before Aug. 10 last, when the same amount of work had been done previously for $8,000. It was robbery like these instances which was responsible for the

EASTER FASHION REVUE

Easter and the world stands on smart review, even though the day may dawn with leaden skies it will certainly seem bright and cheery, for the fashions designed to be worn for the first time on that occasion may be truthfully described as sparkling.

As they pass proudly in review one notes with pleasure that many are the intriguing wraps and frocks which declare allegiance to the flattering cape; that coats of Kasha or Cord allied with simple crepe frocks make charming ensembles, and that the tailleur of this Spring is more buoyant and dashing in its novelty tweeds than were its predecessors. A slight suggestion of molding appears here and there in frocks and, of course, each mode is topped with either Reboux's creased felt or one of crocheted straw.

Coats Prove The Charm of Capelike Lines

One might easily imagine one's back in high school, so youthifying are these coats with the gay plaids and diamond-shaped motifs of their novelty woolen fabrics. Colors, composed of a trifle of fur, lend a softening touch. Choice is offered of double-breasted models or surplice-closing styles in rose, green, navy, and tan.

The Mannish Tailleur May Be of Tweed or Twill

Unlike the tailored suits of other years, this Spring's models do not confine themselves to straight wrap-around skirts. Indeed, it is a rare presentation that does not conceal a bit of fullness with an inverted pleat or two.

The Newer Silk Frocks Mold Their Bodices

Truly it would be hard to conceive anything more typically feminine than the new Frocks with princess lines. Those intended for tea-ing hours are of silk softened with exactly matching lace in such springlike tints as boix de rose, almond green and Brittany blue. Of tweed and very business-like are the tailored princess frocks.

What a feeling of radiance a smart new costume gives one! And how easy it is to assemble such a costume when such interesting new modes are available as those described. (Costume Dept.—Second Floor.)

The Problem of the Wife Who is a Poor Housekeeper—Who Should Hold the Household Purse, Husband or Wife?—The Ideal Marrying Age for a Man.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been married more than a quarter of a century to a woman who is above the average mentally and is all right morally, but she is not a home woman. During all of this time there has never been a meal ready on time. More often than not, I have had to go to work without any breakfast, not even a cup of coffee unless I made it myself, and when I would come home after a ten-hour day's hard work I would find that my wife had not even started on dinner. Always I have lived in a house with a sink full of dirty dishes, beds unmade, floors unwept, everything highly-plagued.

ANSWER: You are just twenty-five years too late at tackling your problem, my friend. You should have begun it in your honeymoon days. The first time your bride set you down to a meal that was first aid to the Cooness.

There is nothing like getting off on the right foot, you know, and if you had made your wife understand at the very beginning that she had to toe the mark and hold up her end of the partnership just as well as you held up yours, and that you wouldn't put up with any slackness, you could have reformed her. Taking it by and large, the wife job is a pretty good one. At any rate, it is one that women desire to hold down, and if they thought that they would get fired if they didn't give good service, why, they'd give good service. That's all.

The woman who works outside of her home knows that she must be prompt and punch the time clock on the dot, and she does it. She knows that she can't loaf and idle and spend her days in work hours running the streets or lounging around reading novels and she doesn't attempt it, because if it did her employer would dismiss her.

But because a husband can't get rid of her, no matter how trifling and lazy she is, she goes back on her job if she is that kind of a woman, whereas if she were a man, a woman can play on a man who is good and kind and generous to her.

As for a woman excusing herself by saying that she is not domestic, that is all falderol. Even an idiot can be taught to sweep a floor and make a bed and wash dishes, and there is no excuse for any woman on earth who can't read and give a good cook.

The courts grant women divorces from husbands for "failure to support." Failure to make a comfortable home should be equal grounds for divorce for a man from his wife.

And, believe me, many a shiftless housekeeper would get busy if she knew that her husband had photographs of her kitchen sink and bed-room floors would be exhibits A and B and C and D in her husband's divorce suit.

When a man marries he should demand good housekeeping of his wife. If she refuses to make a comfortable home for him, he is perfectly justified in leaving her. If he doesn't care to do this, he should break up housekeeping and go to board with some woman who does housework, and then he can see how it is done. This is the only way he can save his digestion and his nerves and his soul, and I advise you, Mr. X. Y. Z., to try it, even at this late date.

There is peace in finally, in just accepting a thing and making it fit on that basis. Then you quit worrying over the impossible, over trying to make people do what they ought to and will not do, and that can never make them do it.

And perhaps your wife has qualities of head and heart that atone for her not being a good housekeeper, and that you could appreciate if you were properly fed and not continually aggravated by her shiftless ways.

So your remedy for your trouble is a good boarding house or family hotel. DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—Should the husband or the wife hold the household purse? And why? MRS. W. A. J.

ANSWER: Both. Considering that both put into it, neither one should have a monopoly of it.

Of course, the man earns the visible money, so to speak, but the money the wife earns by her actual labor as cook and housemaid and laundress and baby-tender and seamstress and scrubber and so on makes her contribution to the family exchequer of real monetary value. For if the wife did not do these things the husband would have to hire some other woman to do them.

Statistics estimate that it would cost $40 a week to pay for the services that the average woman performs for her family. And such being the case, the wife has a tangible as well as a moral right to assist in the purse-bearing.

I believe that financial independence is the basis of all self-respect and happiness, and that neither husband nor wife has the right to entice the other. Therefore a woman should not expect her husband to earn all his earnings, and he, in turn, should not expect a man to give his wife a fair proportion of his income as her own personal allowance.

The only happy couples are those who go fifty-fifty on their income proposition. DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—What do you consider the best age for a young man to marry? B. M. L.

ANSWER: Around 30.

It is dangerous for a boy to marry before he is 26 because up to that time he is unformed, his tastes are shifting, his ideals are chaotic and he does not know what he himself wants in a wife.

Nearly every man who marries before 25 outgrows his wife and grows tired of her.

It is disastrous for the average man to marry very young for financial reasons, for matrimony shuts many doors of opportunity in his face. As a married man he cannot go to many places that would be advantageous to him and to which he could have gone as a single man.

Women who continue to use their interest in him once he has a wife. He can take no chances with a family hanging around his neck, and with wife and babies to support he can save no money to launch out for himself.

All of this bars the early marriage. Against the late marriage in the forties is the fact that by then a man has grown old and wise, romance is dead in his heart. He has become selfish and wedded to his ways and lacks the ability to adapt himself to the give and take of married life.

But around 30 a man is at his prime. He has generally got sufficiently well established to afford a family. And above all, he is still young enough to be ardent and romantic, and old enough to have learned self-control and wisdom in dealing with women. DOROTHY DIX

Negligees and Undies Show Novel Features

By M. LISBETH.

THERE is no lack of originality in the garments designed for milady's boudoir. The richest and most colorful of materials are used, and if often the effect is a bit bizarre it is none the less interesting and suggestive of new ideas.

And speaking of things a bit bizarre, look at the exotic negligee (left). Heavy silver lace forms the upper part, which is cut off in front just below the hips. Behind it spreads out into a long train which is edged with black fox fur. The neck is also finished with the fur. Black princess lace covers the wearer's legs below the cutaway section. Vivian Winston posed.

A much more dignified negligee with long flowing lines (center) is fashioned of heavy shaded crepe. The sleeves are exceedingly wide and finished with tassels. Bands of silver braid form the girdle and cling to the sleeves and train. The flower posed on the shoulder is transparent wax. Anna Q. Nilsson is designer and model.

A novel set of "undies" of black and white georgette (right) is cut into points at the bottom and trimmed with a large embroidered rose at one side. The upper part of the chemise is shaped in a deep V, laced down the back and tied with a tiny black bow.

Other lingerie of interest seen in recent showings may be summarized as follows: Palanques come mostly in printed silks. Black also is featured almost invariably trimmed with some bright color. Black trousers and tunics are trimmed with black, wend under a three-quarter length coat of printed silk with modernistic tendencies and banded with black silk.

Pattern shades are favored in lingerie models with an occasional black of white. A lovely trousseau set was made of ivory satin with elaborate lace trimming. The number of lace-trimmed pieces is noticeable. Two-piece sets, chemise and step-in drawers, and combinations are shown in about equal numbers. Fullness and brevity are features of the smartest pieces.

THE budding beauty often turns out to be the well flower of the family.

ANOTHER sign of age is for people to begin telling you how young you look.

WHEN Paramount put Louise Brooks, of the Follies, under contract they also got a lot of fire. Louise may be young, but she has a lot of determination stored in the back of her head.

Recently Paramount announced she was to have the feminine lead opposite W. C. Fields, also late of the Follies, in "The Old Army Game."

When interviewed, Louise flashed those eyes of hers and said, "They may think I'm going to do the part, but I won't. I'm not going to play around with a funny man."

So that's that! The outcome remains to be seen.

When, in ever, Pola Negri, Lya de Putti, from Hungary, exploited as "the rage of Europe," and the exotic Louise go to work on the same lot there ought to be no dearth of excitement around the Famous Players' studio.

Before Miss Brooks broke into the movies, she was a Denishawn dancer, and for two years toured the country with the troupe. She joined the "Street of Forgotten Men" when she went to Paris as a dancer in a cafe. Upon her return to this country Flo Ziegfeld gave her the part of "Follies."

Louise began to make folks sit up and take notice and she was given a specialty dance in "Louise the 14th," Leon Errol's show.

One day she dropped into the Paramount studio and got a small part in "The Street of Forgotten Men." Then came "The American Venus." When the filming of Adolphe Menjou's picture, "A Social Celebrity," began, Louise was cast as a manicurist. Somehow Greta Nissen left Famous Players and Louise, still a manicurist, was given the lead and her part rewritten.

For all her sophistication Louise is still very much thrilled with life (she's only 19) and she's getting a big kick out of her cinema success.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE STARS. April Fool's day seems to be popular with the movie stars, and they don't seem to mind the fact that they made their appearance on the funniest day of the year.

Anna Q. Nilsson, First National star from Sweden, acknowledges March 30 as her birthday.

Lon Chaney, M-G-M character actor, was born on April 1, 1883.

Kathleen Key celebrates her birthday on that date. She was born in 1908.

Wallace Beery, the screen's beloved bad man, is another for whom April 1 is a milestone in life. He's 40 this year.

Is this your BIRTHDAY?

MARCH 30—You are too much inclined to search for motive underlying other people's acts, and there is danger of unhappiness coming into your life through it. You should excel in a professional career. Beware of jealousy, and cultivate contentment and hopefulness. You should be happy in your married life if you "give and take."

Your birth-stone is a bloodstone, which means presence of mind. Your lucky color is white.

A Thought

Let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.—Gal. 6:9.

FOR his bounty, there was no winter in it; an autumn 'twas that grew the more by reaping.—Shakespeare.

DEFINITION of a fool—A gamecock surrounded by mansees.

MADE opportunity is better than a found one.

IN NEW YORK SEE SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

ABOUT once a season something happens that recalls the "small town" that lies even within the greatest city of the world.

The "something" is generally an attraction—dramatic, artistic or musical—the first performance of which absolutely MUST be attended whatever the cost. It's absolutely heartbreaking if one can't crash in, somehow or other, and what it adds to one's prestige to be there. Every body important is always at such things. One simply can't afford to be left out.

The very qualities that Broadway laughs at in Main street come glaringly out at such times. It is a Roman holiday it is for the "scalpers" and the get-rich quick ticket agencies.

ONE YEAR it is the Moscow Arts Theatre, and then, again, it is the Chauve Souris—and this season it is Raquel Meller, the Spanish artist.

I saw a great throng standing in front of the box office which bore a sign reading "Seats $250."

Of course it is ridiculous to think decent seats could actually be had at that figure. Those who really cared to attend the opening night in "April" would pay a scalper at least $100 a seat and figure at getting off rather cheaply at that.

New York managers have long since learned that one of the best methods of putting over a European star is to announce $25 seats at the opening night.

However, if one is to believe the European reports, La Meller is worth $200 a seat, if you can afford it.

HARRY THAW'S visits to Broadway are now regarded as being "needed rests" from the effort of writing "the story of his life" which is reported going valiantly on in Philadelphia, New York, or "somewhere in Pennsylvania."

Harry, I am told, has at least five newspapers on his payroll, some of whom act in the reportorial capacity of running down "loose ends" while others write, edit and advise.

NOW that the various signs of spring have become commonplace, the signs of summer begin to loom.

Mike's hop on Central Park, B. V. D.'s displayed in windows; Hudson River picnic ferries getting fresh coat of paint; rain for tourists; docked kiddies and, last but not least, a sign in the subway: "For cleanliness use the open air toilet."

Keep the dough soft but add more flour, if necessary, to roll well. Roll three-eighths inches in thickness. Dredge with granulated sugar and place a pecan on each.

Helpful Hints

The proper care of house cleaning tools is true economy. If we neglect them it means constant outlay of new ones or the use of imperfect ones. To those of us who use carpet sweepers there is the right and wrong way to clean them. When the collected dirt is emptied from the pans, the brush should be slipped out and cleaned. To do this properly there is a little steel claw-like tool that removes all threads, hairs and bits of string that wrap tightly around the tufts. This must be done gently and carefully. After the brush is carefully cleaned it may be put into lukewarm, soapy water and washed, rinsed and placed in the sunlight to dry. When dry, it may be slipped back in place.

If your kitchenette has no drawer space a knife box will take care of the cooking spoons and knives. For the food chopper, fruit press, potato masher and various other utensils, follow this procedure: On the inside of the lower cupboard door place a strong wooden box supported by shelf brackets far enough below the cupboard shelf so that when the door is closed the box clamps it nicely. All you have to do is swing the door out and everything is right before you. It is easily kept clean with one of the vacuum cleaner attachments.

THE BURGLARI

"My gracious goodness, so!" exclaimed Mosey. "Neither are the flies nor mosquitoes nor skippers here yet. But they'll all come in good time. You'd better come along before the March Hare gets after you. He's putting black marks after everybody's name who doesn't go to get spring-cleaned and the Fairy Queen will find it out!"

"I'm coming! I'm coming!" said Chirk hastily, for he didn't want a black mark. All the wood and meadow people liked the Fairy Queen. She was the best friend they had.

Out came Chirk, and he got on Mosey's back, too.

Then Mosey gathered up Tommy Toad and Fied Field Mouse and about six others, and off he went to Scrub-Up Land by the path that turned off at the little secret bush.

There he met the March Hare and the Twins almost flying in their haste to get away and find out what was wrong. The burglar alarm over Rubadub's wash-tub had been ringing like everything.

"Oh, so you're the burglar!" cried Nick as they all stopped.

"Yes, I'm the burglar," grinned Mosey. "I think I look more like a burglar, don't you?"

I. O. D. E. Municipal Chapter Reviews Activities of Year; Mrs. G. Heber Vroom Regent

Gratifying Reports Submitted at Annual Meeting Here Yesterday—Many Important Matters Touched on in Addresses Given Before Members

AT ITS ANNUAL meeting in the Board of Trade rooms, last night, the Municipal chapter of the I. O. D. E. heard most gratifying reports of the year's work and listened to addresses on the work of the V. O. N. by Miss H. MacKay, the League of Nations by Mrs. D. V. White and an account of the school in the County Hospital given by Miss Bonta.

It was decided to continue its support of the V. O. N. work urging an increase in giving for this purpose, left for the decision of the incoming executive the matter of endorsement of a request that the training of kindergarten teachers be part of the vocational education program and carried out in the Saint John school; heard an outline program for the entertainment of the National chapter at its annual meeting in Saint John in June, and was informed of the installation of the radio set in the Easter military hospital.

By resolution the meeting decided to have only I. O. D. E. members and out-of-town members attend the reception for Lady Allenby which the Municipal chapter will give tomorrow afternoon in the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Officers were elected as follows: Honorary regent, Mrs. J. Boye Trav-ers; regent, Mrs. G. Heber Vroom; vice-regent, Mrs. E. B. Taylor; second, Mrs. Leonard Tilley; recording secretary, Mrs. E. Alward; assistant secretary, Miss Olivia Gregory; educational secretary, Mrs. E. Campbell; check secretary, Mrs. D. V. White.

RESOLUTION PASSED. By resolution the meeting decided to have only I. O. D. E. members and out-of-town members attend the reception for Lady Allenby which the Municipal chapter will give tomorrow afternoon in the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

NATIONAL MEETING. The tentative entertainment program for the National annual meeting in Saint John in June was announced and included a service in Trinity church on Sunday afternoon, a sail round the harbor and through the Reversing Falls in the tug Neptune, a reception at Carleton House, a dinner at the Admiral Beatty Hotel, and motor drives and afternoon tea at both the Westfield and Riverside Golf Clubs.

TREASURER'S REPORT. The treasurer, Miss Alice Lockhart, reported total receipts for the year

$4,282.88 including a balance of $107.45 $107.45 from the previous year. The accounts were audited by W. L. Caldwell.

It was regretted that not all the amounts paid out by primary chapters had been passed through the municipal treasury. Among the amounts paid out were the following: V. O. N., $125; books for the public library, $60; kindergarten teacher in County Hospital, $54; Tuberculosis Association, $10; Red Cross, $18; Health Centre, $12; Lancaster radio fund, $80; Good Fellow's fund, $80; Women's Council milk fund, $10.68; D. D. E. war memorial, $794.74.

Great regret was expressed at the illness of Mrs. A. William Hart, Echoes secretary, and it was decided to send her a note of sympathy, expressing the hope for her speedy recovery.

Miss H. MacKay, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, was asked regarding the announcement that the child welfare work of the V. O. N. was to be curtailed and it was explained that the I. O. D. E. contributed to the V. O. N. to support child welfare work.

In speaking of the routine work carried out in the city, Miss MacKay said there were, under the beginning of first rate slum conditions in Saint John, with houses having one or more rooms without windows.

In the future, she said, the program of the V. O. N. in Saint John would be limited to bedside nursing, prenatal care and social service welfare work.

REV MR BONNELL WILL REMAIN AS PASTOR OF KIRK

Declines Call To Regina—Resolution Presented To Minister

Rev. J. S. Bonnell, who had received a call from Knox church, Regina, last evening announced his intention to remain in St. Andrew's Kirk, and the congregation announced they would provide an assistant during the winter months.

At a large congregational meeting a resolution adding Mr. Bonnell to remain as pastor and a committee, composed of A. S. Allan, G. S. Bishop and J. J. Murray, appointed to present it to Mr. Bonnell.

The resolution was as follows: Mr. Allan, as chairman, read the resolution which was to the effect that the congregation asked Mr. Bonnell to remain for four reasons:

"First, that the present relations between pastor and people have existed for the short period of less than three years and the work so successfully begun would be seriously affected without the guiding hand of the present minister."

"Second, that the wonderful gathering of young men into the church and its activities would be greatly retarded and as the young age the strength and hope of the church the congregation trusted that the minister would seriously consider this aspect of his work."

Following a fracas in "Hope Hall" Chapel street, last Friday evening in which one colored man lost part of a finger, Charles Best, a native of Barbados, was sentenced yesterday to six months in the county jail with further three months if a fine of $100 was not paid.

PROPRIETRESS HEARD

Mrs. Viola Hope, proprietress of the hall where the trouble occurred, said that she saw the new man in a clinch on the floor. When they rose, Williams had blood on his hand and Best blood on his face.

Henry Williams' told of hearing an argument and seeing the fight which followed. He did not intervene as the contestants were both husky and he thought it was no place for a little man.

Later on the street the accused had drawn a revolver and threatened to kill witnesses. Witness ran and heard the revolver fired and a shot whistled past his head. Accused followed him to his house in North street, calling him names and threatening to kill him.

BASEBALL BAT USED

Witness had gone into the house and locked the door. Best broke the lock and came in. Witness hit him with a baseball bat and stunned him. Later Best attacked witness again but neighbors were aroused by his shouts for help. Best expressed regret for what had happened but threatened to kill witness if he were told.

Louis Jones told of hearing accused breaking into the Williams place and the occupants calling for help. Witness went out and found an officer.

Asked if he had any questions, ac-

TELLS OF GAS PLANT WORK AS PRICE CUT

Superintendent C. B. Ward
Speaks of Improvements—
Consumption Has Increased

In connection with the reduction in Saint John gas rates, which the New Brunswick Power Company are advertising as effective from April 1st, C. B. Ward, superintendent of the gas plant yesterday gave details regarding the work which has been carried on at the Gas Plant in the way of new apparatus and improvements.

This work was started in 1924 when a new gas holder with a capacity of 100,000 cubic feet was erected, replacing one having a capacity of 60,000 feet. At the same time a new exhaustor was installed with a capacity of 3,000 cubic feet an hour, for pumping the gas from benches to holder. A new tar extractor was also installed. This recycles all light oils and tar before the gas reaches the scrubber, the latter washing the gas, taking out the ammonia and a portion of the sulphur. Many gas plants reclaim the ammonia, but the Saint John plant has not yet large enough to warrant the installation of an ammonia still.

NEW GAS BENCHES

In 1925, two new gas benches were erected, and have a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet of gas per 24 hours. There has also been installed a new tar separator, this separating the tar from the ammonia liquor, allowing the latter to be pumped back by an electrically driven pump to the stand pipes, where the gas is washed before entering the hydraulic main. It also does away with stoppages in standing pipes.

The gas output, it was said, has increased from 140,000 to 160,000 cubic feet a day.

The present gas plant had been in continuous operation for more than 70 years, the chimney now in use being the original one erected in 1846. It passed through the great fire of 1877 with practically no damage.

HEAR OF GOOD YEAR

Members of Y. P. S. of Carleton Church Chose Arthur Long President

The Young People's Society of the Carleton United church, at its annual meeting last night in the schoolroom, heard very gratifying reports of the year's activities. Miss Florence Beatty presided for the opening devotions, conducted by Rev. F. T. Bertram.

Miss Beatty gave her report. Other reports were presented as follows: Miss Hilda Tippett, secretary; Miss Eva Adams, treasurer; LeBaron Stubbs, honorary president of the tennis club; and Clarence Beatty, president of the Young People's Society. The reports showed the society to be in a flourishing condition with a surplus on hand.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Arthur Long; vice-presidents, first, Miss Abbie Mason; second, Eldon Fletcher; third, LeBaron Stubbs; fourth, Roland Belyea; secretary, Miss Helen Henderson; treasurer, Miss Hilda Tippett; corresponding secretary, Miss Marjorie Brittain; pianist, Miss Marguerite Barrett.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Attention was drawn to the fact that the congregation had been enlarging and that the attendance of young people has also greatly increased. It was decided to organize a membership contest and the present members were divided into two groups, the reds, captained by Miss Annie Mason, and the blues, captained by Eldon Fletcher. On May 24 the side which had secured the largest number of new members would be entertained at a picnic by the losing side.

The meeting extended hearty thanks to Mr. Bertram for his leadership and for his interest in establishing the teacher training course. Cordial thanks were also extended to Clarence Beatty for his efficiency in office.

APPEALS' COMMITTEE

The appeals' committee of the common council met yesterday afternoon, and heard eleven appeals for relief. Some of the bills ran back as far as four years and others were for one and two years. Some measure of relief was granted in practically all cases.

Women Doctors In England Increase

LONDON, March 30—Out of 7,886 members of the medical profession practicing in London, about 12 per cent. are women. The public health department of the London County Council are now making their annual arrangements for the employment of part-time assistant medical officers, and of the 36 who are re-engaged for another year no fewer than 21 are women. Of the nine new-comers four are women. This preponderance of women is not due to economical reasons, for both men and women receive the same remuneration. The only difference is that if the women marry they have to resign their appointments.

WILKINS PLANS TRIP TO BASE ON WEDNESDAY

Supplies for Byrd's Trip Ready in 12 Days

SHIP PREPARES Parachutes Will Be Used To Drop Men, If Ice Too Rough For Landing

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 30.—Following a successful test flight yesterday of the Alaskan, an aeroplane to be used by Captain George H. Wilkins in an Arctic air expedition, it was announced that the initial trip from Fairbanks to a base at Point Barrow with supplies will likely be made Wednesday.

The Alaskan was damaged while landing here March 18, and today's flight was the first since the accident.

BYRD EXPEDITION

NEW YORK, March 30.—The United States Shipping Board steamer Chanler will be ready within 12 days to leave New York with equipment and supplies for Lt. Commander Richard E. Byrd's aeroplane flight into the Polar regions, it was announced today.

Parachutes, radio and Eskimos will play an important part in the expedition, according to the details now completed.

Because of the roughness of the snow and ice, when it is necessary to make a landing a man will be dropped in a parachute from the Fokker plane, in which explorations will be made. If he cannot find a suitable base for the plane, another man will be dropped, carrying a can of "Penmim" a dried beef product of Indian origin, and the only food to be taken on the air trips. Eskimos at the base at Camp Morris, Peary, will be advised by radio of the men's descent and will set out with dog teams to take them back to the base.

The Chanler, a 3,000-ton vessel, will be the largest United States ship ever to penetrate the Arctic regions, Lieut. C. D. Neville, flight engineer and second pilot of the expedition, asserted.

PLANS FOR FLIGHT

The expedition is expected to reach Tromsø on April 25, and King's Bay about May 1. About two weeks will be required to assemble the Fokker exploration plane and test it before making the first jump of 400 miles to the northern tip of Peary Land.

After an advance base has been established there, the planes will hop off directly for the pole, another 400 miles away. Commander Byrd expects to return to the United States by the latter part of June.

TESTS FOR WOMEN PILOTS DESCRIBED

LONDON, March 30.—Miss Gladys Lane, a young woman athlete, has just submitted herself to a series of tests by the medical experts of the Air Ministry, who are considering what standard of fitness should be demanded of woman pilots.

The question of licensing women as pilots is again being considered. Some are anxious to fly commercially, and the Ministry decided to test a number of women athletes.

Miss Lane says she has no intention of learning to fly, but volunteered for examination at the request of the Women's Amateur Athletic Association.

"I found the test rather stiff," she said. "I went through several nerve tests, one of which was to stand as long as possible on one leg without wobbling. I had to hold my arm in front of me with fingers stretched out to see how steady they were, and I was also asked to hold my breath for as many seconds as possible."

Easy to Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "Ironized Yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

"Vegetable Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

"Ironized Yeast" tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are underweight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "Ironized Yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fall, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package. Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

Negro Jazz Band To Enliven Moscow

BERLIN, March 30.—Moscow is going to dance for the first time since the Bolshevik revolution. A great masked ball, says a despatch to the Tag, is to be given at the Nationalist Palace, and the music will be provided by a famous negro jazz band. The despatch does not mention the fact, but it is known from private sources, that the band has been engaged by the Bolshevik government. As an inducement to go to Russia, the musicians, who are never at a loss for an engagement, were offered princely salaries, as well as first-class hotel accommodation at the expense of the government.

The Bolsheviks evidently realize that reports of frivolities and dancing in Moscow will give the idea abroad that life in Russia is normal and will be useful as Bolshevik propaganda.

BRITISH RHINE ARMY TAKES OVER HOTEL

German Papers Object; Say Action Against Locarno Pact Spirit

LONDON, March 30.—The Waballa at Wiesbaden, one of the most luxurious restaurants in Germany, has been taken over by the Navy, Army and Air Force Institute for the benefit of the army of occupation on the Rhine. A magnificent restaurant on the ground floor, where wealthy Germans once ate expensive meals, is now used only by British soldiers and their wives, and a large theatre on the first floor has been converted into a moving picture theatre and lecture hall.

"We wanted to take over this building because the facilities for the amusement of the troops in Wiesbaden were limited," said E. H. Cherry, assistant general manager of the N. A. A. F. I. "There was great delay on account of financial reasons, but now the place has been requisitioned by the war department."

"There has been considerable opposition in Germany, however, and many newspapers have declared that we have violated the spirit of Locarno."

Beauty is the governing factor in the purchase of a rug. The next consideration is "Will it wear?"... The beauty of Barrymore Guaranteed Rugs is instantly apparent to the discerning eye. Read here how their marvelous wearing qualities were proved.

EARLY in the winter a big Canadian departmental store placed a BARRYMORE Guaranteed RUG in their main entrance for the purpose of a public demonstration of its wearing qualities, and stationed a man with a comptometer to count the number of people walking over this rug each day.

For thirteen days this BARRYMORE RUG, a Wilton of standard quality and design, lay in the entrance; dirt, snow, grime and slush were ground into the pile, until the lovely pattern was barely distinguishable.

150,000 people had walked over this rug by the end of the 13th day!

The rug was then taken up and cleaned in the ordinary manner, after which it was displayed side by side with a new rug of identical pattern, fresh from the looms.

So slight was the wear after this terrific test, and the fact that the colors retained their original beauty, that only a rug expert

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF GAS

We have much pleasure in announcing a very substantial reduction in our gas rates. This will be effective on all meter readings on and after April 1st, 1926.

The new rates are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Service Charge, Plus a consumption charge of, and rates per 1,000 cu. ft.

These rates are NET after allowing for a discount of 10 Cents per 1,000 cubic feet, for payment of account within 10 days of date thereof.

We are enabled to make this reduction, entirely through economies effected in our Gas Plant, by the installation of new benches, new holder, and other new apparatus, costing in the vicinity of $75,000, which work was just completed late in 1925, and on the recommendation of the local Board of Directors, the Federal Light & Traction Co., the Managing Owners of this Company, are very pleased to concur in the new schedule, following out their policy of immediately passing on to the consumer any saving which can be made in our operating costs.

The public will note the very marked reduction between our present rate of $2.25 per 1,000 cubic feet, and the new rate effective on April 1, also that a discount will be allowed for prompt payment.

Now is the time to figure on the installation of a gas stove or water heater, and we have in our showroom, a wonderful display of all the latest models, with competent sales people to demonstrate them.

We give Free Repair and Adjustment service, our object being to see that our patrons receive the most economical operation of their gas appliances.

Stribling Winning Over Slattery

Here is the finale of the Stribling-Slattery fight staged in the New Market Square Garden. Slattery is shown hanging on the ropes—just that saved him from a knockout.

A three-string total of 411 was bowled on Black's alleys yesterday afternoon by H. F. Black who, with that magnificent total, shattered the alley record of 382 which had stood for about 11 years and had been tied by Chip Olive and C. Lunney. Mr. Black went on and bowled for a five-string total of 607 made in the three-string total he had made 136, 132 and 143 and on these tallies he added 99 and 104 bringing the five-string total to 614, smashing the previous alley record of 607 made about 1907 by A. Burk. Changing his bowling mates Mr. Black took on Foster Thurston and Robert Bonerville and notched up another five strings for 351 and making his 10-string total 1465 which beat his own record made on March 2, 1925. On March 2 Mr. Black had rolled a 10-string total of 1139. The scores of the second group of five strings were as follows: 108, 109, 111, 104, 119.

C. Malcolm, president of the club, in the chair. The honor guests were given a hearty welcome and those present had a thoroughly enjoyable time.

The four members, out of the six that represented New Brunswick, who were given a hearty welcome and those present had a thoroughly enjoyable time. The members of the team were: E. W. Givan, Moncton; John S. Malcolm, Thistle; F. W. Beattie, St. Andrews and E. R. Taylor, Carleton Curling Club. Dr. A. H. Merrill, president of the St. Andrew Club and E. K. Shives, of Campbellton, sent letters of regret at being unable to attend.

In addition to the above F. W. Coombs, president of St. Andrew Club and secretary of the New Brunswick Branch of the Royal Caledonia Club; H. E. Crouse, president of the Carleton Curling Club; Dr. A. H. Merrill, president of St. Andrew Club with others, were invited guests.

In addition to numerous addresses and such valuable information being given by the New Brunswick representatives on the games played in the past, the guests were entertained by the winning rinks in the Thistle matches for Presidents' trophies were presented. After an excellent menu had been served under the direction of John Bond, the Union Club caterer, President Malcolm, in a brief address welcomed the guests and spoke in glowing terms of the wonderful showing that the Canadian team made during their trip to Scotland and England, in which the New Brunswick men proved to be among the very best curlers in the world.

He then called on the gathering to drink to the health of the Canadian team and the toast was received with cheer.

MR. GIVAN HEARD. E. W. Givan, of the Moncton Curling Club, was the first New Brunswick representative called upon. He very interestingly outlined the trip of the Canadian team while there in Scotland and England. The Scotchmen were undoubtedly enthusiastic in the game of curling and he believed that it was good for the game to have the cup remain in Scotland. Mr. Givan said that the club had while abroad, there being one instance when no less than 300 curlers presented themselves for play one game.

Frederick C. Beattie, who represented the St. Andrew's Club, was the second to be called upon. He said that he regretted that Messrs. McKay and Shives, the two absent members of the New Brunswick team, were not present to accept the hospitality of the Thistle Club and Canadian curlers. He said that he was very glad to see the members of the team and that he was sure that they had had a very successful trip.

Edward R. Taylor, of the Carleton Curling Club, was the third to be called upon. He spoke of the wonderful work that the Canadian members of the New Brunswick team had accomplished abroad and of the reception given them by the curlers in Scotland and England. He said that he was very glad to see the members of the team and that he was sure that they had had a very successful trip.

John S. Malcolm, the Thistle Club representative, was called on by Dr. Malcolm and he presented a most interesting and well-organized reception. He said that he was very glad to see the members of the team and that he was sure that they had had a very successful trip.

Macks Figure On Battling Browns For Pennant

Lefty Groves

Sammy Gray, pitching sensation of last year until hit on the pitching wrist and forced to retire from the game for a few days, can well expect to avoid such a fate this year.

As far as general playing strength is concerned the Athletics have the best balanced club. They have the catching—and that is a vital part of any pennant winning team. Cy Perkins was considered one of the best pitchers of the year ago. Now Perkins plays second string catcher to Mickey Cochran.

Two beautiful catchers for any pitching staff. The Mackmen have the best pitching staff in the league. It was that last year, despite Lefty Groves' failure to get going, until Sammy Gray was stricken down. Eddie Rommel had ranked as one of the great pitchers of the game for several years. With a good back in luck and fair support he can win 25 or more games a season year in and year out. He is ready this year. Slim Harris, a question mark for several years, found himself last season. Groves' value is well known. Rube Walberg impressed last season, although he was not a winning pitcher. He has more confidence. And a pitching fault that may have caused some of his wildness has been corrected. Jimmy gives me reason for thinking he will deliver this year. I will offer no alibis if Connie Mack doesn't fight it out with the Browns for the 1926 pennant.

Other minor, but still important reasons are that Mickey Cochran, catching sensation of last season, entered this one with a year's big league experience behind him and a working knowledge of the Athletic pitchers. Jimmy Poole, who will have to assume Rausser's place at first in all probability, has had a year of big league work at first and now has the benefit of Gleason's help daily.

FRENCH CANUCK THANKS HE HAS EXCELLENT SHOW

Kid Gleason Picking Up Practice

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 30.—The Springfield Union today will say that Jack Delaney, rated the uncrowned light-heavyweight champion, now spending a few days with his parents in Holyoke, near here, is eager to box Jack Dempsey on any terms for the world's heavyweight title.

"I really believe I would have an excellent chance against Dempsey," the French-Canadian boxer is quoted as saying. "I know I can outbox the champion and I am confident I can hit as hard as he can. He would have a weight advantage of about twenty pounds on me, but I expect to build up to about 180 pounds within a year and at that weight could box on practically even terms."

Delaney declared he is positive he can beat Paul Berlenbach and that "so far as a Dempsey match is concerned, everything is up to Pete Reilly, my manager."

ADOLPHE MENJOU IN FRENCH ROMANCE

"The Grand Duchess and the Waiter" Makes Hit With Imperial Patrons

The latest comedy opus from the Paramount organization, "The Grand Duchess and the Waiter," which opened at the Imperial yesterday, may well be characterized as a triple triumph.

It is certainly a triumph for Malcolm St. Clair, who has taken this flimsy French stage success by Alfred Savois and transferred it to the silver sheet with the regal opulence of a De Mille and the Continental sophistication of a Lubitch.

It is a decided triumph for Adolphe Menjou, whose smooth and polished performance of the wealthy Parisian boulevardier masquerading as a waiter is the finest exposition of screen artistry the current season has produced.

It is assuredly a triumph for Florence Vidor, who looks ravishingly beautiful in her new French bob and startling array of fashionable gown creations, and who plays the role of the haughty and fascinating Grand Duchess with the charm and poise and consummate skill of a seasoned trouper.

CENTRE OF STORY

These two, Menjou and Miss Vidor, hold the center of the stage throughout the unrolling of the picture and provoke a continuous succession of laughs and chuckles. The plot, though of light substance, has been so deftly handled that it becomes a matter of

FOR WEAKNESS AFTER THE 'FLU

Pathe's John's Medicine Builds Strength Needed to Regain Health

Influenza and its grippe, like typhoid fever, take a terrible toll of physical strength. Even after the immediate danger of pneumonia has passed and the patient is "getting well," the road to recovery is a long and wearisome way.

What is needed is food and fuel to repair the wasted tissues and supply the blood stream with wholesome nourishment.

That is exactly what Pathe's John's Medicine does; and this is why this famous old-fashioned family remedy is so valuable after an attack of flu or grippe, or whenever the system is weakened by a persistent cough or cold.

Mrs. Napoleon Pelletier, Box 808, 1741st. P. O., writes: "Ever since the epidemic of influenza my family and myself have had coughs. We tried many remedies but we coughed just the same. Finally I decided to use Pathe's John's Medicine and I found that the effects of this medicine were marvelous and I cannot praise it too much."

The basis of Pathe's John's Medicine is cod liver oil, so blended with other ingredients that the rich nourishment is easily taken up without any burden on the digestive system. And it is safe for every member of the family, because Pathe's John's Medicine is guaranteed to be absolutely free of alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.

MUCH FILM THROWN INTO WASTE BASKET

Average Picture Cut From 300,000 Feet to 7,000 Feet

By LINCOLN QUARBERG. HOLLYWOOD, March 30—(United Press)—Movie-making is characterized by tremendous waste. Millions of feet of film are ground through the camera and discarded every week in the film plants.

Much of the waste is unavoidable. But the problem of cutting this superfluous film to the minimum is paramount with producers.

The average picture, as it is run in the movie houses throughout the world, runs 7,000 feet in length, slightly more than a mile of celluloid.

But before the finished picture is released, an average of 300,000 feet of film is run through the clicking camera. Each foot of film records action before the camera, meaning that the producers are paying the overhead, including salaries of players, technicians and directors, on 40 times more production than goes to market.

Most scenes are filmed from two to half a dozen times. This is a practice generally followed in the studios. Experienced directors, as a rule, take fewer "shots" of a scene than the younger megaphone-wielders. Only a skilful director knows without viewing the proofs of the day's filming whether a scene has registered properly or not.

Entire scenes, which may represent hours of time and labor by an entire expensive cast, are eliminated. Hundreds of long drawn-out sequences are shortened. Many an aspiring player may have labored for days before the camera, before a bawling director, only to find when the completed film is shown that he has been left out of the picture entirely.

GRIPPING STORY OF N. Y. UNDERWORLD

"The Street of Forgotten Men," a story of New York's underworld, featuring Percy Marmont, Neil Hamilton and Mary Brian ("The Little French Girl"), is the feature at the Palace Theatre.

After all these years of grafting, the story of "Easy Money" Charlie comes to life. Easy Money lived in "The Street of Forgotten Men." He was a fake cripple who "took" New York's crowds for hundreds of dollars outside the city he was a "successful business man" to all that knew him.

If there's ever to be another "Miracle Man," "The Street of Forgotten Men" is it!—the story of a Bowery Cinderella and a beggar who lost himself for love.

Percy Marmont, in the role of Easy Money Charlie, gives a character portrayal second to none the screen has ever seen, and Mary Brian is a real grown-up girl in this one. There is a strong cast.

STRONG DRAMA ON OPERA HOUSE STAGE

Mae Edwards Players Win Praise For Presentation of Path of Folly

Although not without its touches of comedy relief, "The Path of Folly," in which the Mae Edwards company opened at the Opera House last evening, is a drama with a heart throbbing with its tears and tribulations to the wife of the man who can't play straight.

A real play handled in a real manner. Opportunity is given for four of the company to shine brightly. Miss Edwards, the wife, who against the wishes of her family, marries the wrong type of man, adds much to her laurels as an actress and further endears herself to patrons of the Opera House. Lawrence Hayes is chosen for the part of villain and is seen in some of his best work.

Carleton Pinckney proves the worth of a true friend in the time of adversity. To Paul Linton goes much credit for his excellent character work as Captain Williams.

Miss Peggy Downes as an up-to-date mother, Miss Nita Webb as her daughter and Billy Webb as the servant, act well and make for the smoothness of the play.

The audience is treated to an ending that is different from those usually given into the life as depicted on the stage. The settings, especially that of the museum like apartment of Captain Williams, are carefully carried out.

Miss Nita Webb as her daughter and Billy Webb as the servant, act well and make for the smoothness of the play.

SEMI-FINALS FOR TITLE TOMORROW

Moncton Pavnees to Replay Contested Basketball Game With Knox

Notwithstanding previous announcements to the contrary, W. E. Sterling said last evening that the Pavnees, of Moncton, and the local Knox basketball team would positively play on the M. C. A. floor here on Wednesday night in the semi-final for the intermediate provincial basketball title.

The Knox team has agreed to waive the first game which was played here and regarding which a dispute arose.

According to the rules Mr. Sterling said the game in question should stand, as by mutual consent, the length of the playing periods could be changed and as the Pavnees did not protest at the time, their consent was tacitly given. Rather than hold up the series, Knox has agreed to waive the game and let the visitors go into Wednesday's contest with a 24 point lead.

It is understood that the final game between the winners of the game on Wednesday and the Woodstock Sheiks will take place at Woodstock on Saturday.

Amateur Meeting At Moncton Or Amherst

The semi-annual meeting of the M. P. B. A. U. of C. will be held about the middle of April, either at Moncton or Amherst. It was learned last night. All affiliated New Brunswick clubs are advised to send in, as soon as possible, all resolutions they wish to come before the meeting, to the secretary, J. G. Quigley, of Halifax.

It is necessary to get the resolutions in early so that the required fifteen days' notice can be given.

FRED THOMSON ON SCREEN AT PALACE

Stirring Picture With Silver King Tells Gripping Action Story

A thrilling and fanciful tale of a picturesque personality forms the basis of superb entertainment at the Gladstone Theatre, where "That Devil Quemoado," Fred Thomson's latest production, was shown yesterday.

The popular western star sweeps back into public favor on his magnificent mount, Silver King as if he had not recently recovered from a broken leg sustained in filming one of his daring feats of horsemanship. Mr. Thomson whisks through the scene as fast as ever, rides as well as ever; acts as well as ever, and does his stunts with the same dash and nonchalance which has always characterized and distinguished his performances.

Also in the story Silver King is given a big part.

A good cast gives the stars fine support. Gloria Hope's work is particularly delightful. Nola Luxford, Byron Douglas and Joseph Bell stand out, as do Albert Prisco, Alan Roscoe and Robert Cantiero.

UNIQUE SHOWING EXCELLENT FILM

Marmont, Stone, and Alma Rubens Score Hit in "Fine Clothes"

Those looking for something different in the way of screen entertainment by no means can afford to miss "Fine Clothes," a film version of Molnar's famous play, "Fashions for Men," which opened last night at the Unique.

This production is the first attempt on the part of the movies to picture a Molnar play, and as such will be of especial interest. Due to the complete understanding of the original by the director and adapter, Benjamin Glazer, the picture has been produced in a most intelligent manner, and very few changes have been made in the text of the story except in the matter of locale.

Percy Marmont gives one of his finest performances as Peter Hungerford, the good-hearted, trusting keeper of a London shop, in which he employs Paula, played by Alma Rubens. Paula's infatuation for the Earl of Denham (portrayed by Lewis S. Stone), and Peter's love for the girl bring out some of the finest acting that has been seen on the screen in months.

The plot has been treated in an original manner and puts across the idea in an entertaining way. Molnar sees life through a satirical eye, and the story is told in the spirit of the original. Artistically and as entertainment this is one of the finest pictures of the year. The picture is a John M. Stahl production, sponsored by Louis B. Mayer and released through First National.

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads makes the pores large and causes irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxide powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off, and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition.

Don't Squeeze Black-Heads-Dissolve Them

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads makes the pores large and causes irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxide powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off, and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition.

CAPT. GREENLAW DIES AFTER BUT BRIEF ILLNESS

Hero of Rescue of Trawler Crew Succumbs To Pneumonia

COMMANDER OF TUG OCEAN EAGLE

Was Honored By British Board of Trade At Presentation Here

A hero of the sea, Capt. A. L. Greenlaw, aged 38, died at the Saint John Infirmary early this morning, following a brief illness from pneumonia. He was taken ill only on last Saturday and removed to the infirmary that evening. While his condition was critical yesterday he appeared quite bright, last evening and friends were shocked today to learn of his death.

CAPTAIN OF "EAGLE"

Captain Greenlaw had been employed with the Saint John Drydock and Shipbuilding Company as captain of its tug Ocean Eagle when he was brought out from England at the time of its purchase by the company in 1922. He went with the company in 1919 and was very highly thought of by the officers. He spent some time for the company at the ports of Casco and Halifax and while at the former place married Miss Florence Main, whose home is there. There are no children surviving.

The captain was a native of Deer Island, N. B., and went to sea at the age of 12. He started his career in sailing boats.

HEROIC DEED

A most heroic deed was performed by Captain Greenlaw when he and members of his crew rescued several of the crew of the steam trawler Milado off the coast of Cape Breton in May, 1924. During the rescue operation, May 26, 1924, the trawler was rapidly breaking up during the storm that raged.

When Captain Greenlaw reached the spot he was unable to bring his tug near the wreck, but he, with two members of the crew, launched a life boat in which they drifted down to the wrecked vessel. They could not get alongside but were able to float a life-line down to the trawler and by this means haul up the crew. Two men were taken into the lifeboat and then transferred them to the tug. Eight of the fifteen members of the crew died from exposure before Captain Greenlaw reached the wreck and one died just as he was being lifted on to the deck of the Ocean Eagle.

RECOGNITION GIVEN

At the City Hall here on August 24, 1925, a silver cup was presented to Captain Greenlaw by His Excellency, Lt. Gov. Todd, acting in behalf of the British Board of Trade, for the heroism displayed during the rescue. He had later received medals in appreciation of his bravery.

The body, accompanied by the chief engineer of the Ocean Eagle, Ralph Riley, was taken today to Casco, the home of Mrs. Greenlaw, where interment will be made. The casket was at the depot on the sad mission of farewell.

TOUR OF WALES IS KEENLY ENJOYED

Sergt. Major E. J. Simon Gives Delightful Lecture at Fairville United Church

The young people of the Fairville United Church and their friends were favored last night with an interesting lecture by Sergt. Major E. J. Simon on Wales, his native country.

Slides of this land, famous for beauty and tradition, were shown, depicting the beautiful country along the shores of Cardigan Bay and Major Simon, at many points emphasized the heritage which Wales has given to the Empire and the World. It was through the earnest desire of a Welsh woman—Mary Jones—to obtain a Bible for herself, which later suggested the formation of the British and Foreign Bible Society. From this country came Lloyd George, who had proved one of the Empire's builders—here, too, were scenes which inspired the great poets, Wordsworth and Shelley.

Great possibilities for summer resorts were clearly evident in almost all the scenes—places enjoyable not only for their beauty, but the historic connection of the surrounding country. The ancient Castles of Cricketh, Harlech, and Aberystwyth were shown and stories connected with each related. The famous song "Men of Harlech," as well as the Welsh National Anthem "Hen Wlad fy Nhadau," were sung in Welsh, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" was also sung to the old Welsh hymn tune, "Aberystwyth." The legend of the "Bells of Aberdovey" was told and the music played by Miss A. McColgan very effectively bringing out the spirit of the legend.

Castles which were scenes of conquest of the country by Edward I, strongholds of the Welsh in the Wars of the Roses, were shown on the screen. The lecturer explained the language of Wales and the endeavors of the people to preserve it.

Bits of history and tradition were of great interest, especially of the Druids, the formation of the Mountain of Cricketh, the first Prince of Wales, and an account of the royal national, Elstedford, also the ceremony of the Gorsedd and the charring of the chief bard of the year.

The lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by all and Sergt. Major Simon's address to relate stories and to sing scenes of his home country made the address deeply appreciated.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Carter entertained at a musical in Fredericton on Saturday night when their guests were about 35 students of the English and French departments of the Normal School.

Beckwith To Dorchester; Greer and Stafford To Jail

In the County Court this morning, Judge J. A. Barry imposed sentence on John Beckwith, Jr., Edward Greer and George Stafford for offences in connection with the thefts from "The Vogue" in Charlotte street. Beckwith and Greer had pleaded guilty to the charges preferred against them while Stafford pleaded not guilty. The latter was adjudged guilty this morning.

Beckwith received a sentence of two years in Dorchester penitentiary on each of three charges, the terms to run at the same time.

Greer and Stafford were each sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail. In imposing sentence on these two, His Honor remarked that he was dealing lightly with them on account of certain circumstances brought to his attention, but he wished to make it plain that the full penalty of the law would be meted out to any others brought before him on similar charges.

J. A. S. McMONAGLE DIES IN NORTH END

Family Well Known There For Generations and Held in Esteem

A familiar personality and one inseparably joined with the life of the North End for a long time, died early today in the home of James McMonagle, son of Charles McMonagle, an early settler from Ireland. When the father landed here by sailing ship more than 70 years ago the citizen who died today was but a toddling child, and his death marks the passing away of a family of adventurous Old Country folk to whom the city owes so much, as further mentioned.

The original McMonagle family, as Saint John knows it, is now made extinct by today's death, a large number of sons and daughters having passed away. Considerable property was accumulated by the thrifty household during his career in the North End, 113 Sheriff street where Mr. McMonagle died, of which the homestead, a centre of much social neighborhood in the busy days of the Strait Shore was shipbuilding headquarters.

Mr. McMonagle was unmarried, leaving his relatives as William Gillett and his sisters of North End.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times-Star reporter, "here I be with my carpet-bag again. I went to the doctor the other day an' he listened in fer a spell with that there ear-phone of his, an' says he: 'Hiram, that old heart o' yours minds me of an ox that holds back in the yoke an' hes to be prodded every minute to keep him doin' his share o' the haulin'.' You better go 'way,' says he, 'an' forget all about the farm fer a spell—an' come back ready fer the spring work. Missus Hornbeam says you ain't much good anyway—doin' nothin' but settin' round an' findin' fault—an' talkin' about somethin' ago that's wrong with you every mornin'—so run along to a place where they'll put some pep into you.' I sat him if they'd gimme pork an' pancakes fer breakfast an' supper an' he said I wouldn't hev no fault to find with the cook—so I'm off in the next train. I just come in to say that I hope you'll elect a good mayor—an' not let them tellers up to Fredericton an' Ottaway put the taxes so high I'll hev to mortgage the farm when I come back. I'll come back with the birds."

"The other birds," corrected the reporter.

"Well," said Hiram, "I been called gander-neck afore now—but that don't make me a bird. If I knowed as much as the birds I wouldn't be goin' south this late in the season—By Hen!"

SPECIAL SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES

Easter Baptisms Among Results of Meetings Held in Recent Weeks

Following an annual custom and as a follow-up of a series of evangelistic meetings held with German street church and Sunday school "Decision Day" exercises were held in Central Baptist Sunday school on Sunday afternoon. A. E. Jensen, superintendent, presided. C. R. Meseracu conducted the choral singing and Rev. James Dunlop, pastor, delivered a powerfully appealing address.

A considerable number of the scholars of ten ages and others in adult classes made their decision for Christ at the close of the meeting. These applicants for church membership will meet with the deacons and pastor prior to the Wednesday evening prayer service. It is probable the Easter Sunday exercises of the central church will be especially marked with the baptism of most of those who have signified their desire to enter into full membership.

The congregation of the Tabernacle Baptist church, of which Rev. A. L. Bedford is the minister, have entered into the third week of evangelistic services held each evening by the minister, assisted by Rev. Mr. Quigg of Jacksonville, N. B. Mr. Quigg took for his subject last evening "Is Anything too Hard for God?"

The meetings will be concluded this week. They have been well attended and a number are preparing to enter the church life and offering for baptism on Easter Sunday.

Mr. Quigg will continue as the speaker for the remainder of the week, and plans to leave for his home in Jacksonville in time for Easter services in his own church.

Rev. C. W. Gordon continued his Passion Week services last night in David's church, his subject being "The Church Triumphant and the Church Militant." He stressed the need for faith and prayer in the church.

The Young People's Society of the Main street Baptist church attended special services last night in a body. The program consisted of a recitation, orchestra will lead the music and Rev. A. K. Herman will speak on "Is the Cross Necessary?"

The first of a series of special services was held last night in St. Luke's church. The pastor, Rev. R. P. McColgan, is speaking on the subject of the week "The Men Who Crucified Christ" and last night he dealt with Caiaphas. Solo were sung by Miss Mary Patrick and Ronald Seely.

The opening night of special services this week in the Portland Methodist church, drew a large congregation last evening. The services are being conducted by Rev. H. A. Goodwin. A choir of young people sang and Mrs. R. C. Thomas acted as accompanist.

MUST LEAVE CITY

Seven young men charged with trespassing on the C. N. R. property last night were warned by the magistrate that they were liable to two months in jail and allowed to go on condition that they left the city. Mrs. Gordon Wright Gives Talk On Bermuda

At a meeting in Orange Hall, Germain street, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. Gordon Wright, head of the Canadian W. C. T. U., gave an address on Bermuda.
