Berlin Report of Agreement of Kapp With Ebert Government So as to Avoid Railway Strike—Prediction That Revolution Will Have Short Life

Berlin, March 14.—(By the Associated Press)—An unconfirmed report was current at midnight that the new German government had reached an agreement with the Ebert government in order to avoid the threatened railway strike.

Berlin, March 15.—(By the Associated Press)—It is reported here that the south German generals and the Saxons have given their adherence to Gustave Noske, the minister of defence in the Ebert government.

Paris, March 15.—Majority and independent Socialists throughout Germany appear to be united against the military movement initiated at Berlin on Saturday, according to a Basle despatch to L'Information.

Berlin, March 15.—(By wireless to London)—The German national assembly has been summoned by the Ebert government to meet at Stuttgart on Tuesday.

(Berlin advices Sunday night reported that the old government had established its seat at Stuttgart, the capital of Württemberg.)

REVOLUTION OF SHORT LIFE? Berlin, March 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The conviction has prevailed from the start among men not identified with the present revolution that it will be short lived, as it is openly without the support of the conservatives or the reactionary leaders, and it is viewed in many quarters as a "trial balloon" which will collapse soon.

The most immediate danger is recognized as general strike affecting all public services in Germany, which has already been proclaimed in many of the principal cities, including Berlin. In the meantime, the old government is recovering its nerve, and seems to have very liberal support in the federal states.

Denies Plans for New War. Copenhagen, March 15.—The semi-official German Wolff Bureau here has issued a statement, evidently emanating from the new government, which says: "There is no truth in the defamatory rumors circulated in many quarters to the effect that the German government contemplates a compulsory military service and the existence of plans for a new war. The government desires peace generally and internally."

London, March 15.—The Bavarian government has resigned and the national assembly of that state will be summoned on Tuesday to negotiate a new cabinet, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting a telegram from Munich.

March 15.—Independent Socialists and Communists met yesterday at Mannheim and decided to take advantage of the present situation in Germany and proclaim a Soviet government, according to advices from Berlin.

Paris, March 15.—(By the Associated Press)—"We will follow Berlin," said Oberburgermeister Dietrich to the Associated Press correspondent here today, indicating that the officials of the free state of Hamburg would line up with the new reactionary government.

There are no troops in the city at present other than the police and non-commissioned officers from the army and navy who form an effective force for the maintenance of order.

Wants City Council To Oppose New Paving Bill

Commissioner Fisher Introduces Resolution—Mayor Says Too Much Loaded on to General Assessment—Discrimination Against Income and Business—What Halifax and Winnipeg Are Doing.

Commissioner Fisher reopened the paving discussion in council this morning by submitting a resolution providing that the council take steps to oppose the bill which a committee of seventeen citizens announced they would take to Frederickton, unless the council should be satisfied with the proposed improvement act.

Mr. Fisher said that the policy of local assessment should be based on benefits received which he did not think would be the case were the proposed bill put into effect. He favored general assessment to pay for the cost of street paving and the general assessment with the hope that it would lead up to the opening of the paving trusts.

He then presented his resolution, which would be especially so. "The opposition to the proposed act," he said, "is spreading and it would be better to straighten the matter out now so that a start could be made on the work."

He then presented his resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Jones, but action was deferred until a copy of the proposed bill would be forthcoming. The resolution was as follows: "That the action of certain citizens in promoting legislation to provide for the paving of street paving in St. John shall be opposed in so far as it is in conflict with the interests of the city."

Information received here would seem to indicate the utmost calm is prevailing in Germany, although the public opinion in Berlin may be responsible for a lack of detailed news from the city.

EAST AND WEST.

Whether the visiting members of parliament are pleased with St. John or not, it is pleased with them. They are a group of democratic gentlemen who make themselves at home, and manifest a very keen interest in their surroundings. The impression they will leave behind them is that of representative men from other parts of Canada who want to know about this portion of the Dominion, and whose national spirit is beyond question. It has been a pleasure to entertain them, and to note their desire to be fully informed regarding the traffic and the facilities of this national port.

When twenty-two representatives of the provinces west of the Ottawa come to this eastern port and see for themselves the situation, and investigate on the spot the claims put forth for the nationalization of the port, there is bound to be a far more intelligent discussion in the house of any matters affecting the relation of St. John to the transportation system of the Dominion.

Taking for granted the principle that Canadian trade should be carried on through Canadian channels—and Lieut. Gov. Pugsley and Hon. Mr. Meighen alike declared it to be a principle vital to the independence of Canada in trade matters—it follows that national ports have as strong a claim upon the whole country as canals, railways and steamship lines. If these latter are essential to national growth and trade, so are the ocean ports where rail and water meet, and St. John is one of them.

The true national spirit prevailed at the banquet in the Union Club on Saturday night. There was no appeal to local grounds. Lieut. Gov. Pugsley stated the St. John position when he said that there were a better winter port than St. John it deserved the first consideration of the country; and that St. John people pressed their claim because these were the principles acknowledged by all governments, and first enunciated by the founders of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Meighen agreed entirely with that principle, and showed very clearly how this country might suffer if its transportation system were in the mercy of a powerful neighbor, whose ports might at some time be closed to Canadian traffic. The principle of nationalization was held by the minister of the interior to apply to ports as well as to railways and steamship lines. This is the contention of St. John, and as the lieutenant governor pointed out, the only complaint is that the process of nationalization of ports has not kept pace with that of railways and the construction of a fleet of national steamships.

The proof of government failure in this respect was found in the great congestion at this port during the past winter when steamship lines were subjected to loss because of a lack of accommodation, and the lack of berths for the government steamships coming here must have been apparent to every visitor who inspected the east side of the harbor. The demand for more accommodation for an enlarging fleet of government steamships in the winter season is not, therefore, made in the interests of St. John alone, but of all Canada, and action should be taken before next winter's business begins. Our visitors should carry this thought back with them to Ottawa.

Possibly the west may think that general principles it does not owe anything to the east, having itself made so splendid a contribution to the development of Canada; but what St. John asks is in the interests of the whole Dominion. Moreover, if our visitors will take pains to inform themselves they will discover that the position of the maritime provinces in regard to confederation and its results is quite different from that of Quebec and Ontario. In proportion to benefits received the contribution of these lower provinces has been very much greater, as may easily be shown by the failure of the upper provinces and the west to recognize the fact that there has been a feeling of dissatisfaction due to disappointed hopes and forgotten pledges. Nothing could be more irritating to a self-respecting citizen of these provinces than to have it assumed or suggested that we go to Ottawa as mendicants whose claims are based on purely selfish grounds. If the visit of the western parliamentarians may have the effect of spreading in the west the real eastern point of view, and a knowledge of the sturdy Canadianism of maritime province people, it will have served a helpful purpose. The visitors, on their part, will leave behind them a most favorable impression of their fairness and their desire to bring east and west into closer sympathy. Hon. Mr. Meighen reminded St. John hearers that if the east has its part problems the west has those transportation; and with this view the east must now as it has in the past entertain the most lively sympathy. The whole country must move along, east and west together, to the realization of its splendid destiny among the nations.

The Standard, whose manager invited investment in its fortunes by uninitiated factors with assurance that if they can across handsomely enough they could direct its fiscal policy, appears to have begun to deliver the goods. It is quite a high tariff, anti-farmer organ today.

THE CALL TO SERVICE.

Dr. James W. Robertson's message yesterday to the people of St. John must have made a deep impression upon the minds of his hearers. Dr. Robertson speaks with the knowledge and authority of a man who has been at the heart of things, who is able to survey world conditions with trained intelligence, and who has the vision that marks the wise leader of men. When he declares that the great need today is greater production and less extravagance he is able to give the reasons with convincing force. The appeal he makes in behalf of hungry millions in Europe is based on real conditions. His contention that because Canada has so much she should with other fortunate nations come to the rescue of the needy is based on the highest motives of humanity and is withal good business for this country. Dr. Robertson points out that Canada has far more land under cultivation and is richer in cattle than before the war. Her position from the agricultural standpoint is extremely favorable, and this condition will continue for a very considerable period. Hence there is every reason for increased production, which means increased profit.

At the same time it is obvious that instead of extravagant expenditure for luxuries the people should in this transition period practise thrift, which would still further improve conditions. To lessen the importation of luxuries means a healthier condition of exchange, and in regard to the latter Dr. Robertson takes pains to point out that we have no more reason to censure the United States than Britain to censure Canada. Much foolish talk prevails in ill-informed circles, laying blame on our neighbor for something which is due to economic conditions, and in large measure to our own extravagance.

The world looks to Canada for much, because this country is so prosperous and because it made so splendid a record in the war. The Canadian people should rise to the height of their opportunity, and preserve the heroic virtues rather than fall back again into the habit of self-gratification. This is the burden of the message of Dr. Robertson, and it merits universal attention.

Montreal Gazette.—The St. John, N. B., Local Council of Women probably acted wisely in deciding not to declare for a uniform type of apparel for men. Such a declaration would have been valueless. What feminine person desires uniformity in dress? The popular idea is for change as frequently as possible, and the very seasons are outlined in such a manner. A man who is clad as his fellow. With a woman it is a difference that is sought. From a national standpoint there has never been, since the days of confederation, a more significant language than that of the Union Club on Saturday evening. Twenty-two members of parliament, representing all the provinces west of the Ottawa, sat down with the leaders in St. John's business and professional life to get better acquainted and listen to addresses breathing the true national spirit. The provincial opposition wants the government to get more money out of the lumbermen by increasing the stumpage. The old government got the money—but not in that way. An emissary went about and gathered in the shickles without bothering the legislature at all. Now did the legislature see the color of the coin. Why does Hon. Mr. Murray suggest the abandonment of that method? The Standard, in criticizing Premier Foster for not holding a session of the legislature this evening does not seem to know that its own leader could not be present, as there is no Fredericton connection with the early train from St. John. It is to laugh. The weather man made a demonstration yesterday to show our western visitors why we need the extension of that breaker. If the toughest had gone a little farther out the evidence would have been even more convincing. The honor conferred upon Mr. A. C. Skelton by the governor general in recognition of his services to the Boy Scout movement is well merited. But for his real and persistence that movement would not be flourishing as it is in St. John today, and it is one that means much to the proper development of the city. When the estimates for St. John come down in parliament there will be twenty-two western men who will be able to discuss them with an intelligence born of personal observation. If the Rotary Club luncheon sends the mediocrities away in as good humor as it leaves the members they will bring all the way to McAdam. The Rotary songs are infectious. What did Mr. Wigmore mean by saying the men from Ottawa got a wet receipt? The sun is always shining in St. John. Also the town is dry.

IN THE HOLE

If you're in the hole at present, when the times are brisk and pleasant, and the stream of seeds is flowing everywhere, its lustre showing, what will be your situation if a panic hits this nation? If a bigger bill is put running if you keep the merchants darning, now that every form of cash when the hard times come and grind you? Every gent is earning wages never known in bygone ages; situations are a-plenty, for each man can make a killing, has a chance to store the guillets, like the other fortune builders. If you cannot do some saving, now that all the world is raving in its lust for reckless spending, where, O neighbor, are you saving? To the dump where jays are carted when they're strapped and broken-hearted?

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

G. W. V. A. WILL NOT ENTER POLITICS

Decision Arrived at at N. B. Convention—New Officers.

The annual convention of the New Brunswick Command of the Great War Veterans' Association held on Saturday in the rooms of the local branch, Wellington row, brought out many matters of prime interest to returned men. The reports of committees showed much good work and provided for dealing with subjects pertaining to the well-being of returned soldiers. The election of officers resulted in the choice of N. P. McLeod, popular president of the local branch, as provincial president.

A Moncton resolution was passed calling upon the government to organize a program for the relief of Canadian-made goods in order to relieve exchange. Another Moncton resolution asked for consideration under the D.S.C. program for those who had enlisted as employed in a temporary occupation in which they were working merely to secure funds to help them through college and who were in reality, students.

The convention registered approval of the announcement that the provincial government was to develop vocational courses and loans to start in business for men who were not disabled, as it had done for those disabled, minors and students.

A resolution was passed setting forth that as the command had on file a letter from the premier of the province asking the secretary of the command to notify the veterans in the province that since this had not been done, the convention asked that the premier be requested to say why his instructions had not been carried out and what was to be the future policy of the government.

It was voted unanimously that the association not enter politics as a body. In this connection it was thought by some of the delegates that there should be a certain amount of political leverage if the interests of returned soldiers were being effected. It was decided by resolution that where members of civic, union or provincial governments fail to support the interests of returned men if consistent, the members of the association would withhold support from them as members of whatever government they might form.

The convention voted in favor of the continuance of the employment agencies in memory of those who died in service, given by K. L. Christie, of the federal agency.

A resolution of thanks and appreciation was ordered placed on record and forwarded to the various women's societies of the province for the valuable assistance they rendered the members of the C. E. F. during the war.

ST. JOHN MAN'S INVENTION A WINNER

New System for Treating Auto Tops, Perfected by Bernard Dunn.

It has just been learned that the Loon and Packard System of treating automobile tops, painting, dyeing and finishing with a waterproof, yet visible surface, is the invention of a St. John man.

Mr. Bernard Dunn, the inventor, has been at the automobile painting business for over seventeen years, and the result of his years of labor and study is worthy of the attention of the automobile world. Already it has been introduced throughout the United States from the headquarters there, New York and Chicago.

Mr. Dunn, himself, is now in this city, and intends to make St. John his home for some time. In addition to living here, Mr. Dunn will use St. John as distributing centre and hub, for introducing this big success in Canada.

He has already established quarters on City Road, to handle all sorts of contracts on automobile painting, where his own personal service will make it greatly to the autoist's advantage to visit.

Although fuller details of his invention are not yet obtainable, it is understood to be an inexpensive method of renewing auto tops, to a degree almost better than the original article when manufactured. Both businesses will be carried on together, at the City Road plant.

William Rorral Lakin, of Brooklyn, brother of Mrs. J. F. M. Appelman, of St. John, left an estate of about $11,000 when he died recently. He left no will. He is survived by five other sisters and brothers.

The store of A. E. Henderson, King street, was entered between 6 and 8 o'clock last night and clothing valued at about $200 stolen. A pane of glass was removed from a back window, and entrance gained in that way.

Broad Canadian Spirit A Feature Of Saturday Dinner

Visiting Members Agree with Principle of Canadian Trade for Dominion Ports

Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley and Hon. Mr. Meighen Heard in Excellent Addresses.

The barriers between east and west disappeared from the scheme of things on Saturday, and it was a gathering of whole-hearted Canadians who sat down to dinner in the Union Club in honor of the visiting members of parliament. Canadianism, broad and free, was the keynote of a masterly speech by Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, and the spirit was charmingly reflected by the reply of his former keen opponent, Hon. Arthur Meighen. They joined hands in the sentiment of Canadian goods through Canadian ports.

The dining hall of the club, which was tastefully decorated, was filled to capacity. A very tasty dinner was served, and attractive souvenir menu cards contained information about the importance of St. John as a national port. Mayor Hayes was in the chair, and in a neat speech introduced the speakers.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley was greeted with great applause when he rose to speak. He said that he would like to welcome the visitors on behalf of the premier as well as on his own behalf, as the premier was unable to be present. He introduced his remarks by explaining that in the old days, when an M. P. was used to be able to keep his end up (applause), but that he had got out of the way of it. He welcomed them on behalf of the whole province and of the city and lamented the rainstorm which might give them a worse impression than they already had of our climate. The west visiting the east was very desirable and he also thought the east should visit the west and if public men did this more in bodies both west and east would understand each other better. He paid a glowing tribute to the work of development that had been going on in the west. He wished that they might visit this province in the summer season when they would see the great natural beauties of it and be able to partake of the sport, both hunting and fishing, that abounded here. They would then go back saying that New Brunswick was a fair land to live in. He said that they came here at the request of one of the local members and the question would arise as to the expenditures that were necessary and they might see for themselves. He had been in public affairs for thirty-five years and he knew something of the promises held out by the fathers of confederation to the citizens of St. John. This city was only asking that the pledges of the fathers of confederation should be carried out.

In the British North America act, in order to get New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to enter the union, it was necessary for the government to agree to build the I. C. R. as a connection with the west. This was not intended to pay as a commercial road but merely to link together the east and west. The pledge led out was that every effort would be made to carry out the national idea of developing trade through Canadian ports.

National Ports.

The natural trade of the maritime provinces was through United States ports. He asked whether it was wise to enter into a policy of building up the trade of these provinces upon national lines instead of letting the trade take its natural course. He himself thought it was wise. It was important today that Canada should have her own ports both in winter and summer. Canada would never become great unless she had ports.

He took exception to an item in the facts about the port which had been printed in the programme, but he explained that it was not in a spirit of criticism that he did so. The programme said that in 1911 the government of Canada came to the assistance of the people of St. John and built piers on the West Side. It was in 1911, the lieutenant-governor said, that the people of Canada came to the conclusion that he and his colleagues had borne the weight of office long enough and had shifted the burden to the broad shoulders of Mr. Meighen and his colleagues. He said that it was in 1915 that the government responded to the claims of St. John, when it cancelled the mails to Portland and the policy of the governments since then was to carry out the national idea of making St. John one of the great winter ports.

While he was in office much dredging had been done here. In 1907, when he was minister of public works, he undertook extensive dredging on the West Side and constructed one pier there also. It was the policy of the government that no foreign port should be the port of Canada for six months of the year. He had tried continually while in office to get assistance in the work of developing the port. Some of the members were very much against this policy but his great leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, had himself said that he hoped to see the day when all Canadian traffic should pass through Canadian ports.

In 1914 Sir Robert Borden, in introducing a bill in parliament said that this bill would provide that all traffic originating on the Canadian Northern railway or any of its subsidiaries should pass through Canadian ports and that the minister of the interior would remember that the bill was not very palatable to some of the members and they did not admire the bill so much as they did the able statesman who was piloting it through the house. One clause of it, however, was very gratifying to the farmers of the west, as well as to the maritime provinces, and that was that the traffic through the United States ports should never be greater than that through Canadian ports. He asked whether this policy be carried out and not solely because of selfish interests of St. John. If any other port of Canada was better qualified to do the winter business of Canada, by all means let that port do it. But St. John claimed that this promise held out through all these years should be carried out.

Trade referred in closing, not to be conducted through Canadian ports unless accommodation was provided. He referred to the congestion during the present winter at this port when at one time a large number of steamers had to lie outside and in the stream because there was no accommodation for them. At the present time seven steamers, of which five were government boats, were on their way here and the government had only accommodation for two of them.

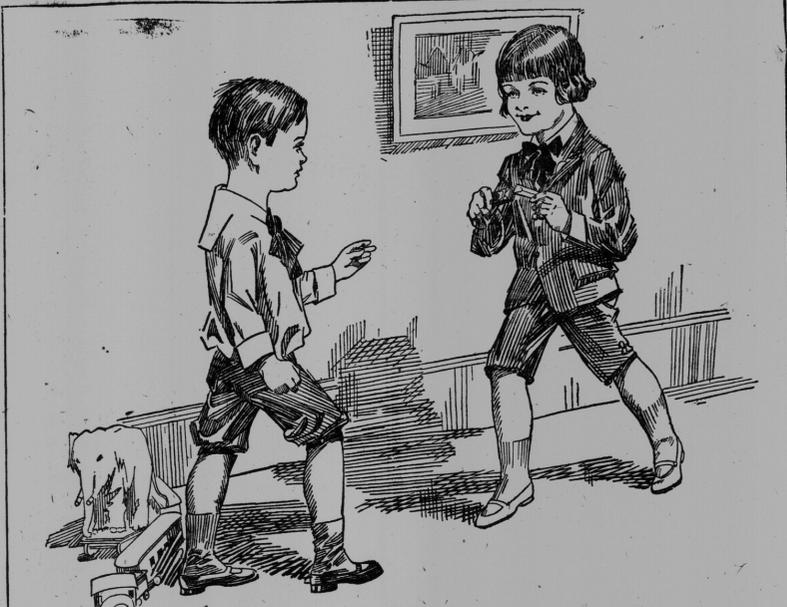

Should Act Now.

The necessary steps should be taken without delay. There were insufficient transportation facilities here and they had the right to ask the government to proceed without delay. The war was now over, the business was with Canada, and he was sure that his people would appeal successfully and that the government would inaugurate the work of development. He was also certain that the visiting members would support whatever policy was decided on when they had seen the importance of development.

He also referred, in closing, to Courtenay Bay, as "his own particular baby," and to the fact that at its christening the Hon. Mr. Reid had made a speech here in which he said that the only fault he could find was that Mr. Pugsley had not gone into the stream on a sufficiently large scale. Courtenay Bay, he said, would provide a splendid addition to the port with accommodation for fifteen or twenty ocean steamships. In concluding he asked pardon for the personal statements he had made but said it was merely done to show that there was no party spirit in the development of St. John, but that it was a thing of national importance for any government. He then proposed a toast to the closing remarks of the governor's address which was sustained when the minister of the interior rose to speak.

Hon. Mr. Meighen, in opening, referred to the amiable hospitality which the city had shown to the visitors and he thanked the officers and members of the Union Club on behalf of the members and also the members of parliament from this constituency for bringing them here. He explained that he had not been in any capacity other than that of a member of parliament. If any minister should have come in his capacity as minister of public works or the minister of marine and fisheries. They had been brought here by Mr. Wignome and he did not expect that he would have to say anything in answer to the facts about the port which had been printed in the programme, but the latter's speech brought back the time when he was in the house and the battle of wits that he had enjoyed with that gentleman in many different occasions. He recognized the contribution that he had made to the versatility, excitement and also the intelligence of that body.

He felt that his first care and duty was that he should leave behind on this occasion no trail of broken promises as a result of his speech. He spoke the wisdom of the principle of establishing, conserving and promoting the transportation independence of the country. He would preface his remarks by making clear that it was worth while that representatives from far-off portions of the country should see with their own eyes a city that was as far off, so that they might understand with their own minds and get the atmosphere of the maritime provinces, so that they might get to feel that this is their port as well as the port of the people of St. John. (Applause)

Development Necessary.

He did not think that it was a matter of party politics, both parties regarded the development of Canadian ports as absolutely necessary, but the government was limited in its financial facilities. The great debt had made the government very careful as to further expenditures and the avenues of taxation were being blocked one by one, so that the necessity of obtaining money increased the difficulty of obtaining it did not diminish. That was the principal obstacle that confronted the members from St. John. He thought this port should not forget the expenditures that had been made in years past and the commitments regarding the East Side. He acknowledged that there was necessity for more development. The members had been brought face to face with the great geographical advantages of the port and they had learned to admire the courage and enterprise of the citizens. He referred to the great increase in business that had been handled here during the years since 1900, saying that this was nothing to what there would be in the days to come.

Must Have Facilities.

The facilities of the ports were just as necessary as the railways inland. An uneconomic charge at the port reacted on the producer and was paid for, just as defective steamship or railway communication was paid for. He was glad that the lieutenant-governor had drawn home the essential interests in the transportation facilities of the country and he agreed that these facilities should be self-sufficient, intact and independent. Canada should not be in a position where she had to trade through foreign ports. To achieve her own independence in that line in a short time was more than could be hoped for, but so long as there was a separate nation here and another separate nation to the south, both governed by their own people, then so long would it be essential that each should care to preserve its own economic independence.

Transportation independence was one of the first essentials. If it was in the power of any country to deny Canada the use of any port and she would have to fall back on insufficient facilities, then there was no independence at all. It was a trait of human nature to take advantage of supremacy enjoyed by one country over another and it was necessary for Canada to learn the vital and eternal wisdom of making secure her transportation and other economic independence.

Of National Importance.

So far as he could speak for himself and those with him, he said they realized since they had obtained such a close viewpoint of the city, that while further development would be for the benefit of the city, it also meant something for Canada as a nation, and in the light of the distinct national aspect of the question, the parliament of Canada could not stand aside. The west was also interested in the development of the port. It was necessary that the west should be supplied with railways for if it were not it could not have a secure, independent and dependable means of transporting its produce, and it was just as necessary that the west should have an outlet. Both the railways and the ports were of national importance.

It was necessary that the east should get the western viewpoint and that the west should get the eastern view, and he hoped that this trip would be followed by a trip of eastern members to the west so that the western viewpoint might be secured. He had never felt that there was any special obligation either way but there was certainly a mutual obligation both ways. He concluded by thanking the people of St. John again for their kindness and said that whatever immediate results might come from this visit he was sure that the visit would be helpful to the visitors and he hoped that it would be helpful to St. John.

A splendid wash—EARLY!

Purity—complete cleanliness—garments that are unworn and undyed—with the wash-board rub-and-scrub done away with so the clothes are out early—that's a Sunlight Soap wash day. Good news!

To assist them in purchasing a home or other investment, when they become established as permanent employees.
To provide against total and permanent disablement which would otherwise mean a "pension" from the firm.
All these objects may now be established and valuable years of progress saved, by securing information about the Group Endowments of the Canada Life.

SIGNS OF SPRING
You'll see the deft touch of the artist's hand in color and pattern of our new suits.
Refined taste and bold technique are the characteristic features of our new models.
Quiet effects but not weak or commonplace.
Originality in design but nothing loud or jazzy. As Vogue says: "It's a gentleman's season." This is verified by our line at $55 in beautiful browns; interesting effects in blues and snappy greys.

The Plague of Pimples Body Covered With The
The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure, you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous, they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters. This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system, and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

CANADIAN MADE GOODS DESERVE POPULARITY
J. M. Robinson Speaks of Necessity of Supporting Local Industries.
In reviewing business conditions in general and the effect on trade of the adverse rate of exchange between Canada and the United States, Mr. J. M. Robinson, of the investment firm of J. M. Robinson & Sons, says:
"I cannot think of any possible reason for buying goods from the United States under present conditions except our inability to produce such goods in Canada. There are some articles such as anthracite coal, to cite an exceptional case, which we must buy and pay a good stiff price for, but there are many other articles coming over the line today that would not be coming if we would just stop a minute and ask the man behind the counter for Canadian made goods."
"Canadians must and will stand together, and this applies particularly to the Maritime Provinces. I don't think I am over-stating the case when I say that for every cent which has come into the Maritime Provinces from Upper and Western Canada we have produced for their development at least a dollar. The people of this end of the country have been thrifty and the flow of capital for many years has been out instead of in. Western lands were for a long time an attraction that took many hundreds of thousands of dollars from the Lower Provinces. Some of it has come back but a lot of it has not. We, as a community, are too ready to send our money outland instead of putting it to work at home. In my own business I am continually selling outside securities such as Howard Smith Paper Mills, Preferred Stock, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada Preferred Stock and other similar issues which are pay excellent, but I must confess that I prefer trying to provide capital through the public for an industry that will more directly benefit the community in which we all live and in which we are beginning to take an increasing interest."

CLARK BROS., LIMITED

Dividends payable quarterly, Feb., May, Aug. and Nov.
Price 100 and accrued dividend, yielding 8 p. c.

Clarke Bros. manufacture high grade MacKay stitched ladies shoes of such well known brands as "Supreme Lady," "Winnie Walker," etc. Shoes are of a quality as good as can be made by a factory which at all times assures a wide and ready market.

Not only does the investor assist in the development of a Canadian industry, but he has the further assurance that the material used for these ladies' kid boots is produced in the British Empire, and is tanned and prepared in a Canadian factory which has sold its entire output to Clark Bros. Ltd., at a price which gives them a saving of 18 to 29 cents a foot over all competitors. As from three to four feet of leather enter into one pair of Ladies' shoes, the saving in cost at once becomes apparent. This firm is at present producing from 700 to 800 pairs a day and the increase in capital is designed to bring the plant up to full capacity of 2,000 pairs daily. Hydro-electric power at low cost is used in operation. The factory building, valued at $18,000, is owned by the town of St. Stephen, and is rented on a seven per cent. basis.

Personality enters very largely into the success of a business of this kind, and Mr. John F. Clark, who continues as manager, has already demonstrated what grit and persistence will do. Associated with him are his brothers, James F. Clark, of Montreal, general salesman for the concern, and William E. Clark, also of St. Stephen, a practical shoe manufacturer. Insurance on the lives of these men for practically the amount of the entire issue, protects the preferred shareholders, the policies to be held by trust company.

For the benefit of prospective investors in St. John, a full line of the high class Ladies' shoes manufactured by this concern will be on display in the windows of Waterbury & Rising, Limited., on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. See them and call on us or write for circular giving further particulars of issue.

STATEMENT BY H. R. McLELLAN

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir—In retiring from the field of mayoralty candidates to accept the office of permanent secretary of the Commercial Club, I deem it necessary to afford some explanation to citizens, who may have favorably considered my candidacy.

I was a candidate for the mayoralty until last Friday afternoon and had received many assurances of support in the coming election. My candidacy was accepted solely with a desire to assist the endeavor of the improvement forces of the city, in awakening the civic consciousness to the need for improvement in home and city surroundings and the betterment of living conditions.

On Friday last I was tendered the office of permanent secretary of the Commercial Club, and after having carefully weighed the proposition and, in the process, carefully considered the status and intentions of the official executive and ordinary membership of this organization, with the possibilities of its becoming an impelling force for the general improvement of St. John, I accepted the honor tendered me.

In doing so I have not discounted the quantity and quality of the work to be performed. While somewhat in doubt as to my ability to perform the duties of the office, in such manner as to fully meet the anticipations of the Commercial Club, it will be my endeavor to do so.

To those who may have favorably considered my candidacy I wish to express my thanks for their confidence, and to all, permit me to say, that if I am able to perform the duties of the office I have accepted, in such manner as to render the necessary amount of assistance towards the Commercial Club reaching its objective, I will have rendered a greater service to the city of St. John, than if elected to the office of mayor.

I thank you, Mr. Editor for the valuable space afforded me and, believe me to be, Yours respectfully,
H. R. McLELLAN,
St. John, March 14, 1920.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF FACTORIES

Mr. Kenny Reviews the Year and Makes Suggestions

Progress in Industrial Life of Province — The Matter of Accidents — The Returned Men — Child Labor and Other Questions.

The ninth annual report of the factory inspector, John Kenny, was tabled in the House of Assembly on Friday in Fredericton. It contained much of interest in connection with industrial development in the province. An interesting passage was that at the opening of the report:

"During the years that have elapsed since my incumbency of the office of factory inspector in this province, various changes have taken place in the industrial life of our province, all of which have a tendency toward progress and prosperity. It is, therefore, with some degree of satisfaction that I sit in a position to state that the year covered by this report has kept pace with the years that have preceded it, along the lines of industrial expansion and activity. This is evident from the fact that a number of our progressive manufacturers found it necessary to enlarge their premises more or less, in order to cope with the ever increasing demand for their products. Also several of our old and reliable firms who have been until mid-1919 on Saturday five inches of rain fell. On Saturday night from 8 o'clock until 11:30, two and one-half inches was registered. The storm ended early Sunday with a forty-eight mile gale.

One of the heavy ventilators, weighing about 1,000 pounds, was lifted from the roof of the Imperial Theatre on Saturday night and part of the roof was torn away. The damage has been repaired so that today's show may be given. The repair crew were busy yesterday morning getting the theatre in order for yesterday's lecture which will be held, and much good work was done in this respect.

Furnace fires were extinguished in churches owing to the basements being flooded. At Heeds' point one of the large windows in the Elio's rooms was blown in. Many buildings in different sections were flooded especially in Little street, east St. John. Gilbert's Lumber Yard, Windsor, Gaiter street and others. Longshoremen at Sand Point had to quit work about 3:35 on Sunday morning owing to the lights going off. Two snows went drift from No. 16 shed but were picked up in the harbor.

Half a dozen street cars were derailed owing to gravel on the tracks on Saturday night and the service became limited up badly. The telephone lines were out of order in many places. Commissioner Jones was at dinner with visiting parliamentarians on Saturday night was summoned to direct operations of relief in connection with the local floods.

Joseph Murphy while on his way home on Saturday night broke his leg by a fall. He is now in the general public hospital.

The torrential rains in the Annapolis Valley and other parts of Nova Scotia submerged the railway tracks and washed out some smaller bridges besides doing much damage to private buildings. Middleton, Bridgetown and Digby particularly suffered. Near Truro an ice-jam in the Salmon River had to be dynamited to relieve the flood conditions. Quebec city was very hard hit by the storm.

MAKE BAD WORSE

Manchester Guardian Regards Lloyd George Home Rule Bill as Disrupting Measure.

(Canadian Press.)
London, March 15.—The Manchester Guardian is very despondent regarding the probable effect of the home rule bill. It accepts the fact of ex-premier Asquith having made a motion for its rejection as proof of his having reached the conclusion that the bill is only calculated to make bad worse and it not only agrees with him but declares it opens up a prospect of conflict by the side of which the present sporadic disorders will seem trivial. The fundamental difficulty in Ireland, it says, is due to a short of short of short of short of Sinn Feiners with nothing better than that the bill should pass.

SAYS SCOTLAND WILL GO DRY IN TWO YEARS

Toronto, March 15.—There is not a shadow of a doubt that Scotland will go dry in two years' time, said Captain "Gipsy" Pat Smith, evangelist, in Massey Hall here on Sunday afternoon. "Every man in the distillery business in Scotland," he continued, "is trying to get out of it as fast as the devil will let him."

HEAVY DAMAGE FOLLOWS IN WAKE OF RAIN AND WIND

Much damage was done in the severe wind and rain storm which visited these parts on Saturday. The public utility companies again suffered heavily while many private citizens and companies also sustained loss. The storm was not confined to local parts but was quite general throughout this province, Nova Scotia and Quebec. From Friday night until midnight on Saturday five inches of rain fell. On Saturday night from 8 o'clock until 11:30, two and one-half inches was registered. The storm ended early Sunday with a forty-eight mile gale.

Stanley Cup Series.

Toronto, March 14—Canadians and St. Patricks rang down the National Hockey League curtain here on Saturday night when in a listless game the Irishmen beat the once-famed Frenchmen by eleven to four. The local attempt to give the fans a run for their money, but the visitors played poor hockey.

Antwerp, March 15—Twenty-four nations have already accepted Belgium's invitation to participate in the coming Olympic games. The principal stadium is nearly completed and work has begun on the natatorium which will seat 10,000.

ICE RACING.

Amherst News: Probably the last events on the local speedway were held yesterday afternoon and, although the ice was a trifle wet, nevertheless the time was good, and the spectators who flocked to the lakeside were more than satisfied with the events of the day. Two accidents occurred—one in the free-for-all, the other in B class. Nellie Oakes stopped in a crack in the ice and wrenched her shoulder very seriously, and the veterinarians state that it will be three months before the little mare can again be driven. Stewart's Lady Be Sure did the same thing, but was not injured so seriously. Both horses were given permission to withdraw. Lady Be Sure fell after the finish of the first heat. Albert J. Flannigan and Baby Kip were the winners in the three respective events.

THE RING.

Wants to Meet McDonald.

Halifax Recorder: Young Grady, middleweight, who has met Joe Egan, Jackie Claire and others, is anxious to meet Roddie McDonald in Halifax. Hector McInnes is his manager, and he says he would like to have him meet McDonald before he is pitted against O'Dowd at Boston next month. If arrangements are completed the bout will take place in Halifax on March 25. Dick Hunt is desirous of a bout with Johnny McIntyre and the pair may also be matched.

Wide to Toronto.

Toronto, March 15—Jimmie Wilde will box "Bad News" Eber, of Hamilton, for a guaranteed purse of $6,500 at Windsor Armories at the end of this month or the first week in April. If Eber should not be ready, Carl Tremaine will be Wilde's opponent.

BASKETBALL.

Match in Fairville.

On Saturday evening a strenuous game of basketball was played in the gym of the Fairville Baptist church, between teams from the Fairville Methodist and Baptist churches. The Baptist team won, 13 to 6. The Baptist team was composed of: Aubrey Currihan, Herman Finley, Ernest Huestis, Walter Neil and Lloyd Jones. The Methodist team was made up of: Chas. Brownell, Wm. McColgan, Fred Fox, James Price and Clifford Golding. John Sime and Percy Kerrigan were referees. This is

Red Sox Not For Sale.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 15—Manager Ed Barrow of the Red Sox has made an announcement for Owen H. France to the effect that the Boston club is not for sale. Mr. France, in a telegram, stated that he had desired several stories regarding sales, but that now the club is positively not on the market.

The latest aspirant to buy the club was Francis O'Neill, an old man player and who years ago did a lot of scouting for the Red Sox on the Pacific coast. Recently he has been a lieutenant of Charles Comiskey of Chicago.

Yankees vs. Reds.

Miami, Fla., March 15—The first three days of this week should give a fair line on what the Yankees may be expected to do this season. They will try conclusions daily with the world's champion Cincinnati Reds. Pat Moran, although the Reds have been in training only a week, says he is not worrying.

The Reds are all signed for 1920 except the star southpaw, Dutch Ruether, who is here with the team. Groh and Kopf, the last of the hold-outs, surrendered on Saturday. Shawkey, Queen and Thormahlen will do the pitching.

for the Yankees in today's game against the Reds, while Laque, King and Salter will work for the latter.

Have Promising Recruits.

Columbus, Ga., March 12—Two of the most promising recruits now with the Braves are Massachusetts boys—Horace Ford of Somerville, an infielder once with Tufts College varsity nine, and Cyril Morgan of Middleboro, a pitcher who was with the Portland club of the New England League last season.

Up to the present Ford has been used at third base. He played at shortstop while at college under the coaching of Jack Slattery and played a few games in that position for the Braves last fall.

His work at that time was impressive and since coming to the training camp it has been more so. Both Grant and Stallings believe that he is good enough to remain in the big league permanently.

Morgan is a rangy young fellow with a lot of speed and a style of delivery that leads one to believe he can develop a lot more. If he can stand the training and come through all right, it looks as if he, too, will stick. He did not appear any too husky when he came south but in the last ten days his physical appearance has changed wonderfully for the better.

In spite of the fact that he has worked pretty hard he appears to have gained in weight, indicating that the "Sunny South" agreed with him.

He worked a couple of innings in the game yesterday between the regulars and the second team, which the former won by a score of four to two. The four runs were made while he was in the box, but the pitching was not responsible for them, rather to two costly "boots" in the field behind him.

Unless all signs fail, he will come pretty near up to what President Jack Donnelly of the New England League claimed for him.

Arthur Irwin, manager of the Rochester Internationals, is to make a trip to several major league training camps in the hope of getting some talent for his team.

THE Editor of PHOTOPLAY, probably the foremost authority in the country on the merits of moving pictures, says that of all the pictures he has seen this year, "BLIND HUSBANDS" is one of the three best. "BLIND HUSBANDS" has fewer explanatory titles than any big picture ever made—which means that its story is so absorbing and so flawlessly acted that explanation is almost unnecessary. The plot, involving the destiny of a wife, a husband and another man, is very simple but so absolutely gripping that once you see the deadly peril into which it is leading, nothing short of a million dollars could make you take your eyes from the screen. And towards the end of this picture you'll have the biggest surprise you ever had in your life. See it now—then tell your friends. Don't let them miss it.

Col. Worden came home last fall, but returned to England again to attend to some unfinished military business. While home last fall he was tendered a banquet at Vancouver.

The following is taken from one of the leading papers published in that city: (Vancouver Province, Oct. 27.)

Few narratives of the war are more thrilling than that which Lieut.-Col. J. W. Worden, C. B. E., D. S. O., told to some two hundred former members of the 102nd Battalion at a banquet in his honor and in celebration of the capture of Regina Trench in 1916, at the Hotel Vancouver on Saturday night. The gallant officer, whose popularity with all ranks of his former command was well respected by the vociferous cheering which greeted him on rising, paid a fitting tribute first of all to the men of the old 102nd. To them, he said, he owed any honors that had come to him and he thanked them for their loyalty and devotion in the field.

Colonel Worden traced the story of the "hush-bush" party from the time of its first gathering in London through all its wanderings in strange lands of Asia, through Egypt, Palestine, Persia, and Mesopotamia. The original object of the force, which consisted ultimately of 6,000 whites, was the organization of half a million irregulars from the tribes of Southern Caucasia. They consisted of 180 different tribes and races.

The desperate desert marches on their way across the pathless wastes of Mesopotamia to Bagdad, the Colonel described with detail. Their column was ten miles long, made up of every description of transport, and because of the heat they were forced to march at night, harassed as they went by hill tribes, who sniped at them by day and drank their coffee in friendly fashion at night. At Baku Col. Worden commanded 5,300 troops, mainly Armenians, for one month, "at the end of which time they all ran away and left me," added the Colonel.

East of the Caspian Sea they went through some severe fighting with Bolshevik troops, succeeding in driving them back several hundred miles. Col. Worden told of the appalling absence of medical equipment, of the lack of proper transport, and of the terrible suffering thus occasioned to the troops. Before concluding, the speaker spoke briefly of the best men in the world in the war. You should make the finest citizens in times of peace. I am confident that every 102nd man will show that he is still a good Canadian citizen and will never do anything to bring discredit on the name of the old battalion."

SPORT IN ENGLAND.

in Truro on March 26.

The Halifax Chronicle says that one of the biggest baseball propositions ever launched in the province of Nova Scotia will have a hearing on Friday evening, March 26. The plans call for a provincial league, which will embrace five circuits, consisting of a South Shore league, Valley league, Pictou county league, Cape Breton league and a Central league, which will embrace possibly two teams from Halifax, one from Dartmouth, Truro, Amherst and New Glasgow. A short schedule will be arranged for each of these circuits and the winner in each section will be eligible for competition in the final series for the championship of Nova Scotia. The scheme is that of W. C. Ross of Truro.

Semi-ready Tailoring

Because the clothes were called "semi-ready" most folks thought it was a name coined to define or describe clothes ready to try-on, clothes ready to be finished to fit.

Semi-ready is a registered trade mark, and designates clothes made by an English corporation called the Semi-ready Company.

The Special Order Service of the Semi-ready shops is a great modern feature of wholesale custom tailoring.

DRIVEN FROM HOME IN STORM BY FIRE

J. H. Chaplin's House on Darling's Island Destroyed on Sunday Morning.

The house occupied by J. H. Chaplin on Darling's Island, near Nauwigewauk, was destroyed by fire early on Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin did not retire on Saturday night until a late hour as one of their children was sick and needed attention. The night was very dark and they were awakened to find that the house was afire between the floors of the first and second story. The family consisted of five children and Miss M. Woodcock, a sister of Mrs. Chaplin, and it was only with great difficulty that they succeeded in escaping from the burning building. The flames had gained such headway on account of the terrific wind that nothing was saved and the occupants escaped in their night clothes and in their bare feet. They walked to the residence of Walker Appleby, a short distance away, where they sought refuge for the remainder of the night.

Mr. Chaplin had recently sold his farm to the Soldier Settlement Board and was to return to his home in England in a few weeks. The right of the blaze is unknown, but it is thought that the cause was a defective chimney. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

WAS OWNED AND COMMANDED BY ST. JOHN MAN

The three-masted schooner Leith K. Stetson, which went aground on Handkerchief Shoals, four miles off Monomy Point, Mass., and was found yesterday morning by the coast guard cutter Acushnet, was owned and commanded by Captain William Reicker of Victoria street. A report from Chatham, Mass., said that four members of the crew were drowned, and two had been rescued by the cutter. No names were available. The Leith K. Stetson was a vessel of 271 tons, and was a regular trader at this port for the last fifteen years. She was built at Brewer, Maine, 1882, by Colonel Stetson. J. Willard Smith was the local agent.

ANOTHER PROTEST RE IRISH SETTLEMENT

London, March 12. (Canadian Press)—The Times today rebukes Mr. Asquith for his intention to move the rejection of the home rule bill for "such action threatens to deluge the Irish question from its true position in great the subject of merely party controversy." Meanwhile there is published a vigorous protest to the premier by the anti-partition league against this measure which will divide Ireland and leave the southern Unionists without representation or power. As the signatories include some of the most influential peers and representatives of the business interests in Ireland, the protest cannot altogether be ignored.

FIVE YEARS FOR SHOPLIFTING

Mother and Daughter Sentenced; Latter Becomes Hysterical

Milberry Gets Four Years and Youth a Term of Two — A Case About a Dress That Was Sold for $8.

Only two arrests were made by the police over the week-end, but several postponed cases occupied the attention of the police court this morning. The case in which William and Mrs. Myrtle Cappen, charged with shoplifting, was resumed. At a former hearing the woman pleaded guilty. They were remanded for sentence. In the meantime the detectives have succeeded in recovering most of the goods, which are valued at $1,000, and these will be returned to the owners. The magistrate today reviewed the circumstances and imposed a sentence of five years on the woman, Mrs. Myrtle Cappen, and two years on the youth, who was sentenced to the penitentiary. The manager woman, Mrs. Myrtle Cappen, took the sentence very hard, as she went into hysterics and had to be taken down stairs.

A case against Gilbert Milberry and a youth, charged with stealing tools and a pair of rubber boots, valued at $20, was resumed. The accused pleaded guilty at a former hearing, and this morning the magistrate sentenced them to four years and two years respectively to the penitentiary.

In a case against Edith Hogan, charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house at 42 Richmond street, the magistrate said that at the last hearing he was disposed to allow her to go on a suspended sentence, but on inquiry the information thought to be in her favor was against her. In view of this and other information received a sentence of nine months in the Home of the Good Shepherd was imposed. Mrs. Hogan thanked the magistrate for his sentence, after which she was taken into jail.

William Perry, who has been confined in jail awaiting a preliminary examination on a charge of misappropriating money from T. Rankine & Sons, Ltd., and C. H. Peters & Sons, Ltd., was charged this morning with stealing a dress valued at $80 from the Dufferin sample rooms. William Clayton, who bought the dress, said that he had seen the accused the night he came to his residence, but was not personally acquainted with him. He said he bought the dress from him and paid $8 for it. The accused told the witness he had found the dress. The case was postponed for a further hearing.

A case against Albert Ritchie, charged with stealing a quantity of cloth from the store of A. Dreskin, Main street, was resumed, but again postponed until tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded.

PROTECTION AT SAND POINT IS INSUFFICIENT

Delegation From Board of Fire Underwriters Asks City Council to Look Into Matter — The Question of Sprinkler System.

The matter of more adequate fire protection for the sheds and wharves at Sand Point was the subject of an appeal made to the mayor and commissioners this morning by a delegation from the New Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters. The delegation consisted of M. B. Edwards, Peter Clinch, Heber Vroom, H. H. McLellan and W. W. Weston. The mayor and all the commissioners were present.

Mr. Edwards told why the delegation was present and asked Mr. Clinch to present the case. Mr. Clinch said that from the point standpoint the fire protection at Sand Point was poor. In case of fire there, the water had to be turned on a valve about a quarter of a mile from the sheds and it then ran through a cold pipe to the wharves. He said that there was great hazard and in the absence of a sprinkler system, he thought a chemical engine should be supplied. He said at the time of the big fire the wharves were insured and a company which he represented paid $40,000 in losses. He said the chemical should be placed somewhere handy to the sheds and be easily accessible.

Mr. McLellan said there was a difference of opinion on this matter as some thought that the chemical should not be exclusively used at the docks only. Mr. Clinch said the best terminals at Brooklyn were all equipped with sprinkler system which worked to perfection.

In reply to Mr. Fisher, Mr. Clinch said hand chemicals were good but in the sheds where great draught existed this fire would fly through the sheds so quickly that something more efficient would be necessary.

Mr. Clinch said that the sprinkler system was by far the best system. In 1911 the contract price was $38,000 for the system, but now would be double. The insurance rate however would be reduced from 3 per cent to 1 1/2 per cent, which should pay the interest on the bonds. He said the Leitch, etc. fire was insured for about $145,000, which was away below the value of the works. Then after was referred to the commissioner of safety and harbor for report.
