STILL GOING.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 5.—The pursuers of Tracy are proceeding on the theory that he is somewhere in the southeastern part of Lincoln county. Sheriff Cuddehe and Debolt arrived at Reardan, 15 miles east of Davenport, at an early hour yesterday, having travelled all night. Later they left for Edwall, and a telephone message from there says they left for the south, presumably for the Crab Creek country. Sheriff Douse of Spokane county and a posse are gathering in Sprague county, and Sheriff Gardiner of Lincoln is still covering the northern end of the county.

It is reported that Tracy has been seen near Odessa, in the Crab Creek country.

MURDER!

The Mutilated Remains of William Doherty Found Back of Rockwood Park.

Swarms of Flies Revealed the Place of Death. The Body Was Hidden Under Stones and Under Brush. Bullet and Other Wounds Found in the Head.

THE PLACE.

Yesterday afternoon the body of William Doherty, aged 17, was found a little beyond Rockwood park in a condition which conclusively points to murder as the cause of death.

Doherty is the son of Joseph Doherty of 78 Brussels street and has been absent from his home since Friday last. Between two and three o'clock yesterday, Harry Beckwith of Short street went to Rockwood Park for the purpose of picking berries. While walking along the path known as Lover's Lane, near the old rifle range, his attention was attracted by a swarm of flies hovering over something on the ground just to the right of the pathway. Out of curiosity Beckwith proceeded to investigate and saw that stones and shrubs had been heaped over something. He moved some of the stones and was horrified to see the arm of a man beneath. Beckwith did not wait to make further investigations, but hurried away to notify the park keeper. He first met a man by the name of Gallagher who was employed sitting in the grass, and by him was advised to find George Henry, the park ranger. Mr. Henry was found, and also Harry Knox, the park policeman. Together the men went back to the body and then Beckwith hurried to the nearest telephone and notified Chief Clark of what had happened.

The news reached Chief Clark at half-past four, and he immediately sent Officer Earle to the park and a few minutes afterwards Deputy Chief Jenkins and Detective Killen followed. Coroner Berryman was notified and in a short time he met the others at the place where the body lay. Nothing had been disturbed.

When the debris had been removed the body was revealed huddled on the side of the mound, sprawled like something thrown carelessly and unresistingly down. It lay on the left side, face downward, the head uphill toward the path and the feet pointed toward a clump of alders lower down. The face was cuddled in the hollow of his left arm, hiding the worst of the wounds. The coat was pulled up over the head and the cap—a grey tweed with a peak—was lying a little to one side. A careful survey was made of the whole neighborhood and everything that might work up into future evidence was carefully noted by the police.

Officer Earle searched the clothing on the body and found a little book and a pin with the royal coat of arms.

Not till the body had been straightened and turned over did the fearful nature of the death causing wounds become manifest. Hardly a square inch of skull or face was free from lacerations or deep jagged holes. At least thirteen wounds of varying depth and extent were evident upon the most superficial examination. The body had without doubt lain there several days, and warm weather and the work of the myriad minute scavengers had rendered the nature of the wounds difficult of determination by cursory inspection. One hole down on the right side of the body was probably the result of a bullet. A deep gash about an inch and a half long, sloping downward over the left eye, was just as certainly caused by a sharp heavy instrument such as an axe or hatchet. Other injuries scattering all over the head might have been caused in various ways. Some could have been caused perhaps by sharp stones; others, star shaped and depressed, looked like bullet wounds, or might have been due to blows from some irregular pointed instrument, and others from their situation and appearance made it almost impossible to form an opinion regarding their origin. Among the more noticeable hurts were a clean gash along the side of the head over the left ear; a horribly lacerated wound chopping through the left ear and into the skull behind; a narrow cut under the left side of the jaw; a tear under the lower lip; two jagged holes over the right eye and two of almost exactly similar nature in the region of the right cheek bone; an extensive wound almost directly in the back of the head and two smaller ones back of the left ear. After a superficial examination of the body it was placed upon a slaben belonging to the park and brought into the morgue, around which an excited crowd soon gathered.

The body remained in the morgue for some little time before being identified, but was finally recognized by two boys, Fred and Jack Goodspeed of Brussels street as being that of William Doherty. Then Joseph Doherty, father of the boy, came hurrying in, but in the darkness of the morgue, and on account of the condition of the face, he was not sure that the body was that of his son. Upon being taken to the police station and examining the cap and pin found, he positively recognized them as belonging to his boy. Mrs. Doherty had gone on a visit to friends at Red Head and news of the murder was sent to her last night.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—A despatch received yesterday by Elias Rogers, managing director of the Crowns Nest Pass Coal Co., stated that the miners strike at Fernie mines has been satisfactorily settled and the men are returning to work. SOUVENIR GOLD DOLLARS,

In Aid of the Louisiana Exposition Are Being Eagerly Looked For.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 5.—The contract for the construction of the Liberal Arts building has been awarded by the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. for $420,000. The building must be completed by April 1, 1903, in time for the dedicatory ceremonies of the exposition.

Orders are being received from various parts of the country for the souvenir gold dollars, of which 250,000 are to be struck by the United States government in commemoration of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. They are to be part of the $5,000,000 appropriation made by the government in March, 1901, in aid of the exposition. It is said that the first two hundred coins will be numbered and that a certificate of the treasury department will accompany each coin stating the order of its minting. They will be sold to the highest bidders. The other coins will be sold at $2 each. The premium on the entire issue will be devoted to the construction of the site of the exposition of heroic statues of Thomas Jefferson, who signed the treaty by which the United States government acquired the Louisiana territory, and William McKinley, who signed a bill for government participation in the supervision of the celebration of the centennial of that event.

HE GOT ENOUGH.

John Shandrow Almost the Father of His Country.

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., Aug. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. John Shandrow of South Haven have adopted a whole orphan asylum, 22 children in all. The 22 children are not all infants. Some of them are bright, rosy cheeked youngsters, already old enough to go to school. Mr. and Mrs. Shandrow have made more than a competence on their 100 acres fruit farm, and it has been their life long regret that children have never been born to them.

To please his wife, Shandrow wrote to the Smith Foundling Hospital in Minneapolis asking them to send him several children for a summer's putting, with the privilege of choosing from them in case he should want to adopt a boy.

The Minneapolis institution is a small one and the management promptly forwarded the visible supply of children over three years of age, no less than 22 boys and girls. They have decided to adopt all of them, of whom they are excessively fond.

CITY COUNCIL. Election For Alderman To Be Held on Sept. 8th. St. John Wants the Fast Line Freight Steamers—Hullax Can Have the Mail.

A large number of reports come before the common council yesterday. The treasury board recommended the payment of bills; that a deduction of 5 per cent be allowed on all taxes paid in on or before the 1st of October...

The board of works recommended that Joseph Logan and Alfred Coy, who were injured in a recent accidental explosion at the Rockland road quarry, be paid the full pay for the time lost on executing proper releases.

The water and sewerage board made the following recommendations: That the Postland street sewer outlet be extended southwardly to the southern face of the Bankin wharf at an estimated cost of $400 and a sewer laid from the water course crossing Camden street westwardly to Simonds street in diversion of the said water course, the cost to be $250.

A report was read from Engineer Murdoch and Director Cushing concerning a proposed water main from Union street, Carleton, to the ferry toll house via the new C. F. R. rd. and Rodney street.

It was moved that the report be filed. Baxter moved an amendment that it be sent to the water and sewerage board, with authority to lay the pipe if that were found practical.

The report of the water and sewerage board, submitted at the last regular meeting and laid on the table, was then taken up and reported that the investigation into the complaint that there was delay in obtaining a sufficient supply of water at the commencement of the Bourke fire on Water street, it was shown there was plenty of water by gravitation, and that there was no defect in the pipe at the fire.

YELLOW FEVER

On the Bark Birnam Wood Bound For St. John.

Three of the Crew Have Died and Capt. Swatridge and a Cabin Boy Are Down With the Disease.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—After three days of aimless drifting in the fog the British bark Birnam Wood, Captain Swatridge, from Rio de Janeiro, June 18, for St. John, N. B., in ballast, has arrived in Little Machias Bay, on the eastern Maine coast, and anchored close to Old Man Ledge, off the Cutler shore, says a Bangor, Me., despatch to the Times. Signals of distress were flying and a boat from the shore learned that the vessel had yellow fever on board and that three of her crew, including the second mate, had died. Two of the dead were buried in the bay after the boat came to anchor.

Capt. Swatridge and the cabin boy are both sick with the fever, but are expected to recover. No other cases have developed. The bark will be held in quarantine, and will be fumigated after which she will be towed to St. John.

A despatch received by Wm. Thomson & Co. yesterday stated that the bark Birnam Wood, Capt. Swatridge, from Rio Janeiro for Partridge Island, was in the North Channel at the mouth of the bay, with the second mate dead. The name of the second officer is believed to be Rosenthal. The tug Neptune was down the bay yesterday afternoon to tow the Birnam Wood up to the island.

Indirect word was received this morning from the steamer St. Croix that she had passed the Birnam Wood in tow of the tug Neptune at Little River this morning. Little River is about six miles from St. John and the bark will reach Partridge Island some time this afternoon.

62nd. FUSILIERS.

Battalion drill was held last evening when a great many spectators were present, and Major Sturdee, who was in command, had an interesting drill. Blank ammunition was freely used, the feu-de-jolie was fired, and then skirmishing drill and attack was carried out, the men moving very well in loose order. Some movements in battalion drill were executed and the men were sent to the armories to sign the rolls for pay day.

There will be a drill of the regiment tomorrow evening in field day order with the bands. There will be no drill on Friday evening, but the regiment will parade with the city brigades on Saturday for coronation and to assist in laying the corner stone of the monument.

MILITARY PARADE.

On Coronation day the 62nd Regt., 3rd Regt. C. A., No. 4 Bearer Co., and a troop of the 10th Hussars will take part in the celebration. The different battalions will assemble at nine o'clock in the forenoon and will march to the Douglas avenue Memorial Park, where the foundation stone of the monument will be laid. At twelve o'clock a feu de jolie and a royal salute will be fired from the park, after which the men will return to the barracks. The brigade will be commanded by Lt. Col. McLean, Major Sturdee and Lt. Col. George West Jones will be in command of the 62nd and 4th Regt. C. A., respectively, and Major Markham will have about fifty troopers of the Hussars. It is expected that the different companies of the boys' brigade will join in the parade. The artillery will take to the park four of the field guns and with these the salute will be fired.

SEVERELY INJURED.

A very painful accident occurred between eight and nine o'clock this morning in the Maritime Lithograph Co's establishment on Dock street, in which Harry W. Wilson, the pressman, had his left hand crushed off at the wrist. Mr. Wilson was working at the press at the time and reached in to draw out a piece of paper which had caught. His hand became jammed between some cog wheels of the machine and was completely crushed at the wrist. He was once removed to the hospital, where his injuries were attended. Mr. Wilson is a son of Edward Wilson, steward of the Union club, and lives at 43 Carleton street.

THE ROLLING MILLS.

A number of the directors of the Portland Rolling Mills leave by tonight's train for Sydney, where they will tomorrow meet with the council of that town to hear what inducements will be given for the removal of the mills to Sydney. One of the directors informed the Star today that it is not probable that a decision will be arrived at by the directors while in Sydney, but that they will hear the offers made by the town and upon their return lay the whole matter before a meeting of the stockholders. The directors expect to be back in St. John by Saturday.

THE PLATING MACHINE.

It is reported on good authority that the proprietor of the flying machine and a well known north end alderman had a rather heated argument on Friday concerning the merits of the machine. They did not come to blows, but another city official who was present at the discussion has stated that it was quite exciting.

The machine is still crawling along. A few more buckets of clay have been shifted ten feet by the labor of a dozen men, and it is hoped that by Christ mass the machine will be near the railway crossing.

ROW IN DURBAN.

Canadian Soldiers Mixed Up in the Trouble There.

Men Use Revolvers and Bricks and the Scene Was the Worst in the Annals of the City.

DURBAN, July 3.—For some time the streets have been rowdy in the evenings after the closing of the public houses. At ten o'clock last night the scenes exceeded in gravity and shamelessness anything before witnessed in Durban.

The real disturbance began while the bars were disgorging their mazy or less intoxicated customers. Somewhere in the neighborhood of the junction of Field and West streets, and between there and Mercury Lane, several Canadian soldiers, hilarious with liquor, had an encounter with the police. Soon West street was one mass of shouting and rushing soldiers and alarmed civilians, while police kept up an intermittent call for aid. Repeated whistles quickly brought reinforcements, but they also brought more rioters, who, while not attacking the police, indulged in disgraceful horseplay, charging and upsetting rickshaws and otherwise behaving most obnoxiously. Gradually the crowd moved towards the police station, and the scenes that occurred there between ten and eleven o'clock were the worst that have ever disgraced the annals of the town.

SEVERAL SOLDIERS WERE ARRESTED.

and this further aroused the ire of their comrades, whose numbers rapidly swelled. They demanded the release of the prisoners, and, on this being refused, prepared most systematically to attack the police station. Many rioters carried revolvers, and some ordered them to prepare for fire. They lined up over a hundred strong in front of the station, amid a hideous babel of shrieking, shouting and cheering. The police were ready for an onslaught, and both Superintendent Alexander and Inspector Alexander were busy marshalling the local police force of Europeans and Kafirs. The latter turned out in large numbers, fully armed with sticks, and seemed anxious to meet the expected attack. Suddenly, just when the soldiers were ready to make a rush, the fire brigade turned on a strong hose and poured a copious supply of water over the disordered ranks, for many of the men were too much intoxicated to stand. This ruse was most successful. In a few minutes the soldiers fled out of range, but set up unearthly yells and calls of "CANADIANS FIRE."

Then "bang, bang," went revolvers, bullets smashing through the police station windows. For a little while the riot abated, and efforts were made by the police to persuade the men to go away. However, many still shouted for "revenge," and matters again began to look serious. The Canadians armed themselves with bricks and other missiles, and the agitation for another attack became more heated. Superintendent Alexander stepped out and began to speak in conciliatory terms, but a howl again went up. "Fire, fire." No sooner were the wicked words uttered than more shots rang out, and two bullets whizzed past the superintendent's head through the window, and into the inside wall of a mirror. The respect of a number of aculeous escape with his life. He did not, however, get off unscathed, receiving a nasty smash on the left side of his face, causing an ugly abrasion. He was not the only person injured, although, so far as could be gathered in the general confusion, no one was dangerously wounded. Considerable damage was done to the police windows and doors, and further trouble was threatened, messages having been despatched by the rioters for reinforcements from the Point. Ultimately something like order was gained by allowing the military prisoners out on bail. Happily the colored police were KEPT IN CHECK, otherwise much personal injury must inevitably have been sustained, for the rioters showed that they were ready if the occasion arose to use their firearms. The conduct of a number of civilians was even worse than that of the soldiers. In one flagrant instance a civilian urged the men to fetch their rifles and storm the station. The two or three Canadians and Australian officers present who tried to quell the disturbance had unfortunately no apparent power over the men, and did not seem able to assert their authority. On the way down to the Point a Kafir curio shop was broken into and a number of assegais were stolen. This morning the police and the pickets were busy arresting the colonial soldiers and conveying them to the ship by which they are to sail. Four civilians were at the court this morning charged with acts likely to cause a breach of the peace and interfering with the police.

The magistrate decided that the charges were too serious for the ordinary by-laws, and ordered the matter to be reported to the clerk of the peace.

On the application of the prisoners, bail was fixed at £100 each.

THE BARS CLOSED.

Much feeling has been caused regarding the disturbances by the soldiers, and the lack of control over them. The commandant has, however, given orders for the closing of all public houses at eight o'clock tonight, and until further notice, on the representations of the police. The military authorities have now arranged for all the drafts of the irregular corps to be landed at the Bluff and wait there in camp until the closing of all public houses at eight o'clock tonight, and until further notice, on the representations of the police. The military authorities have now arranged for all the drafts of the irregular corps to be landed at the Bluff and wait there in camp until the closing of all public houses at eight o'clock tonight, and until further notice, on the representations of the police.

It is only fair to say that in Tuesday's riot the Australians were not involved.

It should be added that these Canadians are not the gallant fellows who have done such excellent work in the field. These are the last contingent.

gent, who have not reached "the front."—Ed.]—Transvaal Leader.

A number of members of the regiment now in the city were seen by the Star in regard to the story and though a few had heard of the trouble none were able to give any further information concerning it.

Several of the men state that they heard of some disturbance in Durban, but did not think it amounted to much, and believe that the above story is exaggerated. Many of the returned soldiers know nothing of the affair. The Transvaal Leader is a somewhat sensational paper, and it is quite probable that the disturbance was not nearly so great as represented.

MARTIME BOARD OF TRADE.

W. S. Fisher, as vice-president for New Brunswick of the Maritime Board of Trade has issued to the different boards throughout the province a circular letter impressing upon them the advantages of having a strong representation at the meeting of the maritime board to be held in Sydney. Mr. Fisher points out how the meeting of representatives from other places may be of much benefit to this province, and states that the opportunity of seeing the great developments in the coal and steel industry in Cape Breton as well as the meeting with the business men of that place will be of no inconsiderable advantage to merchants here. Representatives are asked from the boards in Chatham, Newcastle, Sussex, Mofeton, Sackville, Fredericton, Woodstock and St. Stephen.
