London Lad Has Narrow Escape From Drowning

Hindley Beattie, With Party of Canoeists Caught in Storm on Northern Lake.

Word reached this city yesterday of the miraculous escape from drowning of the young Hindley Beattie, son of Major Thomas Beattie, ex-M. P., of Dundas street, while with a canoeing party on Lake Temagami, in New Ontario.

With the party were also two sons of Mr. Ben Cronyn, of Toronto, the boys being grandsons of Mr. V. Cronyn, of this city.

The party was in charge of Mr. S. M. Chapman, a well-known Y. M. C. A. instructor, and who was showing the boys on a holiday trip through the new lands up north.

There were a number of canoes in the little fleet which set out on Saturday on Lake Temagami, and the weather being fine, there was no thought of danger.

Towards the close of the afternoon, however, a terrible storm came up, and before they were aware of their danger, the canoeists were caught in it.

The tiny crafts were whirled hither and thither in spite of the efforts of the occupants to guide them to the shore, and within a few seconds all were capsized.

Hindley Beattie, with the Cronyn boys and others swam to shore, but Mr. Chapman was drowned.

Mr. Chapman's body had not been recovered at last accounts, but when it is located it will be shipped to Hamilton for burial.

IRISH SEND TELEGRAM TO THE KING OF DENMARK

Meeting Last Night to Make Arrangements for the Big Picnic.

Over 40 committeemen turned out to the meeting of the Irish Benevolent Society at the city hall last night to discuss plans for the annual picnic to be held shortly. It was decided to lay the matter of selecting a place and a date for the big affair over for one week.

A lengthy congratulatory telegram was sent to the King and Queen of England, who are at present visiting the Emerald Isle.

It was decided to allow all of last year's committeemen to stand with the exception of the arrangement committee, which will be made up as follows:

John Garvey, president; W. Fulton, secretary; John Forristal, T. J. Murphy, P. Pooec, Dr. J. D. Wilson and John Stevely.

This body will have full power to make all necessary arrangements in connection with the picnic, and it is whispered that a place other than Port Stanley may be selected.

The chairmen of the standing committees are as follows:

Railway, J. Stevely; music, J. M. Daly; quelling, P. Muthall; printing, J. M. Hickey; baby show, Dr. J. D. Wilson; dancing, Wm. Brophy.

This year's outing promises to be one of the most successful this popular organization has ever held, and may even rival the one of two years ago, when over 8,000 people from all points were in attendance.

The King Pardons Lynch of the Boer War Fame

Irishman Had Been Convicted of Treason, But Was Paroled.

London, July 10.—On the eve of his visit to Ireland, King Edward has granted a pardon to Col. Arthur Lynch, who was convicted of high treason in 1902 for having fought in the Irish brigade, on the side of the Boers, in the South African war.

The sentence of death was commuted to imprisonment for life, but in January, 1904, he was released on "license."

Lynch was born in Australia of Irish parents. His father was a civil engineer in a town near Melbourne and it was there he passed his childhood. After studying at Melbourne University and Berlin University, Lynch went to Galway, the home of his ancestors, where he plunged into party politics.

After sustaining a defeat at the polls in the general parliamentary elections of 1892, he went to London and engaged in literary and journalistic work, which he followed until the Boer war broke out. He was instrumental in raising the Irish brigade which fought on the side of the Boers.

While in Paris after his return from South Africa Lynch was elected to Parliament by Galway City and returned to England with the intention of taking his seat in the House of Commons.

He was arrested on his arrival in England and his trial for high treason followed.

NOTED DOCTOR DEAD

Sir William Broadbent, Physician to Royal Family, Passes Away.

London, July 10.—Sir William Broadbent, physician in ordinary to the King and the Prince of Wales, and who for a long time attended the late Queen Victoria, and others of the royal family, died today. He was born in 1835.

TO MAKE MONDAY THANKSGIVING DAY

Active Steps Being Taken by Commercial Travelers to Secure the Change.

Thanksgiving is coming, though it is some distance off as yet, still the travelers at least are already making preparations for the day. It has been felt for some time that Thursday this national day of thanksgiving. For the wholesale houses and traveling men especially it is unsuitable, and this year a determined effort is to be made to have the day changed to Monday.

Mr. Alfred Robinson, secretary of the Commercial Travelers' Association, this morning pointed out some of the reasons for the desired change to an advertiser reporter.

"The Thursday holiday," he said, "comes just at a time that practically spoils about half of the travelers' week. All the railroads, it appears, grant the travelers' special rates from Friday afternoon till Monday morning, that the knights of the road may more easily spend the Sunday at home. Now, Thursday as a holiday means that from Wednesday morning till Monday morning little can be done, as in very few cases is it feasible for the traveler to return to his field for the one day. By this, it is seen, that Thursday is not at all a suitable day for the traveling man. Of course I'm giving for a holiday in Canada is exemplified by the large number of cities and towns that have adopted it as their civic holiday. All days almost have been tried, but by common consent Monday seems to be the day that disturbs business operations least, and is the best from an economic standpoint.

A Monday holiday is also preferable in that coming after another holiday it enables many to get home, who would be unable to leave their work if the holiday were preceded and succeeded by good working days.

The effort to secure this change has been highly appreciated."

PUNCH DINES MARK.

London, July 10.—The staff of the Punch entertained Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), at dinner last night. The guests sat down at the famous dining-room table which is carved all over with the initials of generations of the most famous of British writers. A pleasing incident of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Clemens, by little girls, of the framed original of a cartoon which recently appeared in Punch in which Punch is portrayed offering a toast to Mr. Clemens.

WESTMINSTER MAN BITTEN BY SNAKE

Mr. Geo. Flanagan Attacked by Copperhead and Serious Illness Follows.

George Flanagan, a wholesale butcher, of the third concession of Westminster, met with a serious accident on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Flanagan, it seems, went into the fields to pick some strawberries, and while there stepped on a small brown snake, probably a copperhead. The reptile wound itself about Mr. Flanagan's leg, and when he attempted to remove it, stung him.

Apparently little was thought of the injury at the time, for it was over an hour before medical aid was summoned.

Since Monday Mr. Flanagan's condition has grown worse, rather than better, and some fears are felt as to what the outcome may be.

When seen by The Advertiser this morning Mr. John L. Flanagan, of 173 William street, said that the progress his brother was making is not at all what could be wished, and that the doctors hardly know how serious the poisoning may prove.

MR. R. W. SCOTT AGAIN PROMOTED

Well-Known Freight Agent Goes From Portland to Montreal.

It is announced that Robert W. Scott, a former well-known Londoner, and who until a few years ago was Grand Trunk freight agent here, has been promoted to a most important position in the freight department of the company at Montreal.

Mr. Scott has resided in Portland, Me., since he left London, and he has added to his laurels as a freight agent, the business of the Grand Trunk having made rapid strides under his management.

Now Mr. Scott goes to Montreal, where his friends feel he will continue his record of progress all along the line.

FARMER IS CHARGED WITH BLOCKING ROAD

Complainant Says That Public Highway Was Obstructed.

The county magistrate's court this morning was filled with excited farmers, when Isaac Kilbourne, an aged farmer, appeared before Squire Chittick on a charge of having one day last week obstructed the public highway which leads over Sheppard's bridge from the river in Westminster Township. John Shore, a neighbor, was the complainant, and he swore that on the day in question he was making his way to the river to haul a load of gravel, the defendant pulled his team across the road and refused to let him pass.

"You can't go down to the river by this road," Kilbourne is alleged to have said. "And if this method does not stop you, I have something in my pocket which will." The aforesaid something appeared to be a revolver. The defense, on the other hand, claims that the complainant had no right to take gravel from the place in dispute, that no threats were offered, that what appeared to be a revolver sticking out of Kilbourne's pocket was nothing more than a pair of nicked bit checks for a harness, and that the defendant's team was stuck in the mud, and was unable to pull out just at the moment's Shore's wagon came along.

By way of counter evidence to the latter statement the complainant swore that he offered the use of his team to pull the other man's wagon loose, and that the offer was indignantly refused. The case took up the entire morning, and when it was adjourned at 12 o'clock, there remained six witnesses to be heard. The case will be continued at 2:30 this afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Meredith is acting for the defense, and Mr. J. Macpherson for the complainant.

MISS MOLLIE LAMPORT, Who Died as a Result of Injuries Received in a Gasoline Explosion.

LONDON THISTLES GET IN FINAL

Will Fight for Association Honors at the Seaford Tourney.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Seaford, Ont., July 10.—In the fourth round of the association contest in the bowling tourney here today Govenlock's London (Thistle) team defeated Rogers' rink of Seaford, 18 to 12. This put the Londoners into the semi-finals which they also won by defeating Dr. Selley's Hensall team. Govenlock's team will now play for the finals in the association match with R. S. Hayes' four of Seaford. The Thistle team is composed of W. M. Govenlock, Percy Millman, Will Matthews and Harry Powell.

The defense, on the other hand, claims that the complainant had no right to take gravel from the place in dispute, that no threats were offered, that what appeared to be a revolver sticking out of Kilbourne's pocket was nothing more than a pair of nicked bit checks for a harness, and that the defendant's team was stuck in the mud, and was unable to pull out just at the moment's Shore's wagon came along.

ARREST MADE IN ASSAULT CASE

Joseph Gray, a Teamster, Held On Four Thousand Dollar Bail.

Joseph Gray, a teamster, of this city, was arrested yesterday by Detective Nickle, in connection with the alleged assault on Mrs. Mary Ann Burton, who was found bound and gagged at her home on Dundas street on Monday afternoon. Gray was arraigned before Magistrate Love at the police court this morning and bailed to appear in one week's time in the sum of $4,000, $2,000 of his own bonds and two securities of $1,000 each.

Gray takes his arrest coolly, and maintains that he never was near the Burton residence on the afternoon when Mrs. Burton alleges that he assaulted her.

Mr. Ed. Meredith appeared for Gray.

STOMACH WILL BE SENT FOR ANALYSIS

Interesting Rumors in Connection With Death of Miss Russell.

Tonight at the police station the inquest into the death of the late Miss Agnes Ann Russell, of this city, who died at the Brown House on July 4, will be opened.

It is rumored that the young woman was in a delicate condition before her sudden illness.

There is nothing definite in regard to the cause of death beyond the fact that she did, as stated by her physicians, die from uremic poisoning.

It is said that the doctors who made the autopsy, Drs. Drake and Stevenson, will not be called upon to testify this evening, but that portions of the stomach will be sent to Toronto for further investigation, to ascertain if there are any traces of drugs in the system.

Though the police are silent on the subject, it has been learned that a large number of subpoenas were served yesterday and this morning.

Tonight several interesting stories, it is expected, will be told, and there is every probability that an adjournment will be made for a few days to allow of the examination being made at Toronto.

It was said today that the investigation will require at least three sessions of the coroner's court. The body of Miss Brown was exhumed at the request of relatives.

THE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMINATION RESULTS ON SATURDAY NEXT

Candidates Are Becoming Anxious—Inspector Edwards Spoils a Rumor.

It is probable that the results of the high school examination will be given out on Saturday next.

It is expected that a meeting of the examiners will be held on Friday night, and that an attempt will be made to have the results ready by Saturday.

For several days past, somewhere in the neighborhood of 450 children have been lying awake nights wondering how they made out in the exams.

Many times during the day The Advertiser answers anxious inquirers who want to know when the "exams" will be in the paper.

Rumors False.
Some of the candidates have heard rumors to the effect that a large number will be plucked this year, and also that it was the paper on literature that caused the fall of so many.

Inspector Edwards, while not in a position to say much on the subject, declared that the rumor concerning the literature paper is all wrong. Mr. Edwards admits the paper was pretty stiff, but he hints that it will be found that the candidates were equal to it, and that a large percentage came through with flying colors.

Population Shows Big Increase in Two Wards

Gain of 1,102 in Wards 1 and 2—Big Stride in Assessment, Too

The figures compiled by the assessment commissioner's office show that the approximate figures of the increases in population and assessment for wards 1 and 2, given in The Advertiser on Monday, were practically correct.

A statement given out by Mr. Grant this morning shows the increase in population in the two wards to be 1,102, and the increase in assessment $1,079,129.

With wards 3 and 4 still to hear from, it is confidently expected that the population of the city will show an increase for the year of about $2,000, and the assessment of at least $2,000,000, with the probability that it will be $2,500,000.

As the city is always assessed a year ahead, the figures for this year are designated 1908, while last year is termed 1907. The following is the statement given out by Mr. Grant:

Number Two Ward.

	Population	Land	Buildings	Business	Income	Total
1908	9,637	$2,156,783	$2,730,628	$329,145	$391,550	6,708,044

Three Sunday Schools Enjoy Annual Outing

First Methodist, Egerton Street
Baptist and St. George's at Play.

The Sunday schools of the First Methodist and Egerton Street Baptist churches picnicked at Port Stanley yesterday, and an excellent outing was enjoyed by each body. It required ten Pere Marquette coaches to carry the crowd to the lakeside, the train leaving at 9:45 yesterday morning. The Methodists were largely in the majority, there being about 600 of them on the train. Much of the credit due for the success of the Methodist picnic is given to Messrs. R. I. Watson, W. H. Sanborn, W. Boyd, Misses Field, Sifton, Mrs. Johnson, A. Ludwig, Dr. Crawford and W. N. Manning.

The following were the winners of the events on the sports programme: Mrs. Grogsten's Class—Boys, G. Henderson, L. Borland, F. Johnson, Girls, Johnson, D. Pearson, A. Vickers. Mrs. Smith's Class—Boys, Norman Ruddy, Ruddy, E. Rose, W. Gregory, Girls, E. Harding, I. Hodder, M. Rowe. Boys' Special—R. Sanborn, J. Hodder, M. Rowe. Girls' Special—M. Bowman, M. Hardy, M. Irwin.

Sack race—Johnson, Crouch, Johnson. Relay race—Misses Elliott, A. Ludwig, Dr. Crawford; Misses Bowman, Hunter, P. Crouch; Misses Thompson, Tambling, Fred Bridgeman.

Wheelbarrow race—Crouch and Johnson, Hooper and Barber. Throwing baseball, girls—Misses Thompson, Tambling, Elliott. Four-legged race—McGuire, Johnson and Crouch.

Ladies' obstacle race—V. Bridgeman, M. Bowman, V. Lashbrook. Jockey race—Barnard and Henderson, Hooper and Mitchell, Sanborn and Biscuit-eating contest, boys—Mitchell, Henderson, Jacobs. Young ladies' race—Misses Elliott, Tambling, Thompson. Starters—Messrs. R. I. Watson and J. Sanborn. Judges—Rev. Dr. Routledge, Messrs. W. Manning and W. B. Boyd.

Egerton Street Baptists.

The crowd mustered by the Egerton Street Baptists numbered probably 300, and like their Methodist friends, they were very enthusiastic, and managed to have a splendid time. The committee in charge of the picnic was composed of Mr. Fred McDonald and the Misses Ethel Dennis, Ruby Gray and Bella Roberts, while Mr. and Mrs. Mills took an active interest in the sports programme, and did very much to make it what it was—one of the best ever conducted at the lakeside. The following were the results:

Primary class, boys and girls (all received prizes): Miss Wench's class—1 Olive Devine, 2 Elsie Wench, 3 Gladys Roberts. Miss Hyatt's class—1 Elsie Tuphone, 2 Mary Yeo, 3 Clara Burgess. Miss Roberts' class—1 Madeline Sharrett, 2 Mabel Evans, 3 Verna Pyman.

Jockey race for Mr. Main's class—1 Leonard Smith and W. Gould, 2 Geo. Pyman and Chelsey Roberts. Miss M. Graham's class—1 Eva Sharrett and Gladys Hill (tie), 2 May Sharrett.

Miss Phoenix's class—1 Pearl Evans, 2 Eunice Roberts, 3 Odetta Warren. Miss Dean's class—1 Queenie Hill, 2 Ina Warren, 3 Ethel Fitzsimmons. Miss McDonald's class—1 John Smith, 2 Wesley Burnard. Miss Graham's class—1 Lillie Small, 2 Pearl Devine, 3 Jessie Gilmore.

Mr. Tophone's class, bun race—1 Percy Meecham, 2 Rupert Sharrett, 3 Coryell Roberts.

Shoe race, for Mrs. Nichols' class—1 Carlie Pyman, 2 Andy Graham, 3 Herbert Gould.

Miss Hayward's class—1 Lillie Potter, 2 Myrtle Roberts, 3 Lillie Earle. Mrs. Graham's class (lemon race)—1 Miss E. Tophone, 2 Miss L. Stringle, 3 Miss B. Sharrett.

Blind pig race, Mr. Cleave's and Mr. Graham's classes—1 Miss G. Stringle and Mr. George Pierce, 2 Miss A. Wench and Mr. Wm. Sharrett. Young ladies' race—1 Miss B. Roberts, 2 Miss Hyatt, 3 Miss A. Wench.

St. George's. St. George's Church (West London) Sunday school held its annual picnic to Springbank yesterday, and all who took part in the outing had a splendid time. There was a large crowd in attendance, the majority of whom returned before sundown. The following were the winners of the different events:

Girls under 6—Gladys Corbin, Edna Stephenson, Edna Saunders.

Girls from 6 to 8—Birdie Ikin, Lily Beacom. Girls from 8 to 10—Gladys Ikin, Posey Charlton. Girls from 10 to 12—Viney Charlton, Alice Andrews.

Girls from 12 to 14—Ellen Tolhurst, Mabel Dexter.

Girls 14 and over—Ethel Gidley, Mabel Thomas.

Girls, chums' race—Alice and Violet Andrews, M. Thomas and E. Gidley. Boys from 6 to 8—N. Kennedy, Roy Bogue. Boys from 8 to 10—Percy Murray, Earl Stephenson.

Boys from 10 to 12—Warren Stanton, Frank Bennett. Boys from 12 to 14—Fred Murray, Archie Andrews.

Boys 14 and over—Fred Barr, Geo. Gleed, Orville Griffiths. Boys' three-legged race—F. Merritt and A. Andrews, Percy Sherritt and F. Merritt.

Boys' jockey race—F. Merritt and F. Barr, Percy Sherritt and H. Bowman. Boot and shoe race—F. Murray, A. Andrews.

"POWER OF LOVE" BY PROF. BARNES

Interesting Study of St. Francis of Assisi—A Literary Treat.

The study of St. Francis, of Assisi, the "Power of Love," was in direct contrast with the picture given on Monday night by Professor Barnes, but through the lives of both types could be seen the subtle influence shaping the growing men. The dawn of the thirteenth century, following a thousand years of turmoil, ushered in an era which was to give to the world the new thought, for which it stood waiting.

Towering from the massive rock a feudal castle looked down upon the clustering homes and winding streets of the town of Assisi, the birthplace of St. Francis, who at 20 had faced the meaning of life in a medieval dungeon, and came forth to a life of service. The contagion of his spirit drew many to him, among them a young girl, who became the head of the Order of St. Clara, and lent that touch of pathos to the life of one on whom the breath of scandal never fell, whose life was rounded by his love of God, of his fellow men, of woman, of beauty, and more than all, of righteousness, making him a power to reach through the centuries and touch the human heart.

The Franciscan Order grew rapidly and was a power for good when the great plague swept Europe carrying death and misery in its train. San Francisco and the beautiful Santa Clara Valley, the great church erected in his memory, the work of a Giotto and a Dante, who worshipped at his shrine and used their genius for his honor, will all keep green the memory of one who went forth stripped of worldly goods and won simply by loving.

Only to the great heart is it given to reach back through the centuries and bring a life to play upon the heart strings of his audience as did Professor Barnes last night.

The lecture Thursday evening will be on the "Power of Ideas," a study of Robert Owen, and Friday evening, "The Place of Woman."

NO ONE NEED FEAR CHOLERA or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JULY 10.

UNSOLICITED ADVICE.

Conservative newspapers are busy-
ing themselves just now in reconstructing the Dominion cabinet, and bringing on a general election. They appear determined that Mr. Graham
shall leave the leadership of the Opposition of Toronto, and accept a portfolio under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and that Speaker Sutherland, Mr. Calvert, Mr. Archie Campbell, Mr. Sifton, and other leading Liberal members, shall enter the Dominion cabinet. So many names have been mentioned that to supply portfolios for them all it would be necessary for every one of the present ministers to resign, and even then it is doubtful if there would be enough places to go round. It is useless to tell these organs that what
vacancies there may be in the cabinet
—and there is only one at present—
will be filled when Sir Wilfrid returns; that he alone has the power to make such appointments, and in making them is scarcely likely to seek the advice of his opponents; that Mr.
Graham is content to remain where
he is, well knowing that the spoils-
men in power at Toronto only need enough
rope to hang themselves; that each of the other gentlemen named is quite content to remain in the rank and file
of the great Liberal party. All this is of no use; the organs know better, and so they keep pounding away at a subject which at least serves the purpose of furnishing copy. And so with regard to their general election talk. They pretend to see in the nomination of a few Liberal candidates a sure sign of the Government's intention to "spring"
such a contest on the electorate. But there is nothing out of the way in such nominations; indeed, many believe that candidates cannot be too
early placed in the field, as it gives them time to get acquainted with the electorate and place their political names in order. There is certainly nothing to be gained by any party
in the selection of candidates till the last moment. Besides, why should the Government bring on a general election at this stage? It has an overwhelming majority in the House, the country is prosperous as never before, and there is every reason to believe the people are satisfied with the present Government and its progressive
policy, and will rally to its support
whenever the call comes. The Conservative press would be better employed in endeavoring to relax the tension between Mr. Borden and the party in the west, in muzzling those mischief-making defenders of the faith, Dr. Sproule and Col. Sam.
Hughes, who are doing more harm to
their party than its bitterest opponents
could do, and in framing a better
policy than slander and scandal.

THE BICYCLE AND THE AUTO.

There has been a noticeable increase in use as compared with the past few years, but there has been nothing like
the revival of which early in the spring there seemed to be promise.
It is not so many years since almost every other man, woman and child
met on the highways astride of a wheel. At first the high prices kept them out of the reach of many people,
but the placing on the market of
cheaper machines increased their popularity until bicycling became a craze.
Then, strangely enough, there began a falling off in the use of the wheel,
until, before anyone seemed aware of
it, it almost entirely disappeared as a pleasure vehicle.

Figures supplied in a bulletin recently issued by the United States
census bureau tell the story of the rise and decline of bicycle enthusiasm.
In 1890 there were twenty-seven bicycle factories in that country, the output of which was valued at $2,- 568,826. The introduction of the pneumatic tire increased the demand for wheels to such an extent as bring into existence many new factories, which
in 1900 numbered 212, with a product
valued at $31,915,908. While figures for the intermediate years are not furnished in the bulletin it is estimated that fully 5,000,000 bicycles were manufactured in the United States, and imported from abroad during that term.
The industry gave employment in 1900
to nearly 20,000 people in production
alone, paid $10,000,000 in wages and salaries, and spent nearly $17,000,000
on materials. Then came the slump,
the direct cause of which has never been made clear. Within the next five years there was a falling off of 85 per cent, and the craze came to an end. In 1905 the output value of the industry had fallen to $5,153,240, or

nearly $2,000,000 less than the value
of bicycle exports in 1897. In 1900
there were 1,200,000 bicycles manufactured as compared with 253,000 in 1905. Exports to the value of a little over $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ended with June last, show that there is still some foreign demand for American-made bicycles.

With the decline of the bicycle has come the rage for the automobile, in the manufacture of which many of the former bicycle-makers are now engaged. For obvious reasons, this product of twentieth century genius and manufacture will never come into such general use as did once the bicycle, therefore it would be incorrect
to say that it has in any degree taken
the place of the latter. Even the much cheaper motorcycle has not done
that. At the same time, the automobile industry is rapidly expanding. Last year no less than 20,000 motor vehicles
were turned out in England alone, upwards of 70,000 were running in that country, and if the calculations of trade papers are borne out, the number will be quadrupled in ten years.
It is estimated that the market for the year was worth some $60,000,000, of which nearly $22,500,000 went to foreign manufacturers—a fact which of itself indicates the wide distribution of the business. Instead of the checks and setbacks predicted by those who regarded the auto as a fad, the growth
has been uninterrupted, and there is reason to believe the record will this year be broken. Instead of a fad, the automobile has been found serviceable
in many ways. It has opened up new possibilities in pleasure-seeking, can be put to profitable and practical use as a public conveyance, and in the delivery of light merchandise, and is found
of great convenience in business which requires much traveling about. So conclusively has its value been demonstrated that a growing demand for it seems assured.

Whether the craze for bicycling as
a source of pleasure will ever return,
it is impossible to say. But it undoubtedly has a field of usefulness of its own, and for that reason there will always be some demand for it.

The Winnipeg Tribune complains
that Mr. R. L. Borden has not presented an original idea to the people
of Canada. That is not Mr. Borden's fault. The Laurier Government has left him nothing to propose.

The London Free Press now admits
that the rumor of political interference
in the affairs of the Seventh Regiment
cannot be traced to any responsible source. Then why did our contemporary stab the regiment under the fifth rib?

Under the Maury scheme the jerk
which will be given pipes and taps by
the sudden increase of the water pressure in time of fire will make plenty of work for the plumber. The independent scheme will keep the high pressure where it is destructive only
to fires.

The Montreal Herald complains of the waste of water in that city, and advises an experiment with the meter
system. It points to the city of Cleveland, where for every dollar spent on meters two dollars has been saved in
machinery, buildings and other expenses, which the rapid increase of pumpage would have necessitated.

Allen Hazen, the eminent American sanitary engineer, laments that the results of filtration in the United States
have not been satisfactory on the whole.
Water filtration is still in an experimental stage. Twenty-five years
hence, no doubt, great progress will have been made. It will be many years before the people of London have to drink river water; perhaps that time can be postponed indefinitely. If the time does come, however, filtration
will probably be a much more efficient
process than it is today.

HARD ON THE MINISTER.

(Punch.)

Minister (on return from holiday)—Well,
Daniel, my good man, and how have things
been going on in my absence?
Daniel—Deed, sir, a' things been gann
on brawly. They said you was meening to send your men to the frontiers to
when you gang fine home, aye tak' guid
care to send your men to the frontiers to
when you gang fine home, aye tak' guid
care to send your men to the frontiers to,
sir!

JOE'S JOB.

(Toronto Star.)

Mayor Judd, of London, says he will not run again. This, no doubt, is what gives rise to the story that he will be made Lord High Executioner, with headquarters
in Queen's Park, Toronto.

THE PROPOSAL.

(Martha Young, in New York Times.)

A very shy fellow was Ducky Sam.
As slow of talk as a typical clam.
He couldn't talk love to his Angelina,
Tho' his love grew as fast as Jonah's
gourd-vine.
So his brought the telephone to his aid
To assist in wooing the modest maid.
"Miss Angelina, is dat you?" called he.
"Yas, dis is Angelina. Dis me."
"I des wanter say dat I—loves you—Miss Angelina—" "Yas." Does you love me, too?"
"Yas, yas; of co's I loves my beak—
Say, what's de reason you want to know?"
"Oh—ho! de wire. Will you marry me?"
"Yas. O's I will. Say—"
Who is you?"

THE SCHEME WORKED—IN A

WAY.

(Ladies' Home Journal.)

The proprietor of a large business house
bought a number of signs, reading, "Do It Now," and had them hung around the office, hoping to inspire his people with promptness and energy in their work. In his private office one day soon afterward
a friend asked him how the scheme ad-

ected his staff. "Well, not just the way
I thought it would," answered the proprietor. "The cashier skipped with thirty thousand dollars, the head bookkeeper
eloped with the piano secretary, three clerks asked for an increase of salary, and
the office boy lit out to become a highwayman."

IN 1920.

[Bohemian.]
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
I am wondering if you are
An astral body genuine,
Or a light along the Air-Ship Line.

THE LANDSMAN'S LAMENT.

[Pittsburg Leader.]
Saltman—Kind of sad, isn't it, to lose sight of the land of your birth?
Scamish—I wouldn't mind that. It's losing sight of everything you have ever
eaten since your birth that's worrying me!

LOVE'S STORY.

[Pall Mall Gazette.]
Love is not told in an hour
At the close of a summer day:
Time hath nor bonds nor power,
Love taketh his way,
Heedless of sunlight or shower,
Passion or pay.

Love is not told in a day,
Brief though the words may be,
Like that have elung fall away,
Right cometh to the end,
Ere that thou strivest to say,
Come, love to me.

Love is not told in the years—
Words that are sought,
Mean but a measure of fears Unworthy brought;
When thou art kind, love, to tears,
All words are naught.

Love in a life is not told
Yet thou dost give it to me:
Nothing thy lips withhold,
Yet it most tell it to thee.
Tell it till God shall unfold Eternity.

UNDYING MEMORIES.

[Yonkers Statesman.]
Redd—I see that man Finn has got an automobile.
Green—And it was quite amusing to see
him the first week he had it.
"How so?"
"Why, every time he'd blow his horn he'd stop and look around. He used to peddle
fish, you know."

ANOTHER HARD BLOW.

[New York Post.]
The "Back to Nature" crusade received
another blow when two country lads were drowned by a milkmaid who
"had lived in New York and became an accomplished swimmer at a public bath in the East River."

"HOLDIN' DE PROVIDENCE HAN."

[Atlanta Constitution.]
De hurricane blow de roofree down,
He earthquake shake de lan'
Trouble in de country, trouble in de town,
An' you dunno whar ter stan'!

You dunno whar ter stan'—
De sea take up de lan'
But we gwine 'long
Wid de courage strong,
Holdin' de Providence han'!

Sometimes hit look lak' de sky is bilin',
And de hope er de worl' gone dead,
But de big sun rise an' de worl' he find',
An' he put de dark ter bed!

Holdin' de Providence han'!

FIXING THE BLAME.

[Washington Star.]
"Don't you think automobile accidents
are inexcusably numerous?"
"Of course I do," answered the motor enthusiast. "The public ought to learn to dodge quicker."

WANTED A DECISION.

[Washington Herald.]
"Get another doctor," demanded Mr. Gotrox, "to pass on my ailment."
"Are not four physicians sufficient?"
"Yes; but I don't want to risk no tie vote."

A DISGUSTING MAN.

[S. E. Kiser.]
The most disgustin' man I ever knew—
That is, you understand, 'twixt me and you—

Was Obadiah Jenks, of Porterville—
It may be he is livin' out there still—
But headstrong! Gosh! I never see his like;
He'd talk on any subject that you'd strike;
You couldn't head him off till he was through;
He generally was right about it, too.

Some railroad people come along one day
And wanted to secure a right of way.
Obadiah said 'twould help the town;
We argued, but we couldn't talk him down;
He talked about it till the rest give in,
And let the soulless corporation win.
It seems that he was right about it, too—
The most disgustin' man I ever knew.

When Arthur Barker's baby was so sick,
Jenks claimed the child was poisoned, and
he'd stink
And stink and stink to that one point, by gum!
At last a doctor from the city comes,
'Twas then too late, of course, to save the child.
The city doctor said 'twas poison, too—
The most disgustin' man I ever knew.

You couldn't make him give up in debate;
He always was cocksure, as sure as fate;
And stubbornly he'd stick to them alone,
By George! It didn't matter what you'd say.
He'd talk and talk until he had his way.
As fer mistakes, he made almighty few—
The most disgustin' man I ever knew.

PETROLEA AND VICINITY

Petrolea, July 10.—Roydon Kirby,
commercial traveler between North Bay and the Cobalt district, spent a few days with his parents here.
Miss Maggie Crozier is spending her
holiday season with her people in this place.

Mrs. G. Kirby and her son Garnet,
of Stratford, was renewing acquaintance here last week.
Mr. Richards, one of Marthaville's
influential citizens, is on the sick list.
We hope for his speedy recovery.

We are pleased to note that two Petrolea boys, W. C. Pratt and F.
Walker, were successful in their final examinations as medical students in Toronto University. Congratulations.
The local Orange lodges met in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening
for divine service. Rev. R. D. Hamilton, pastor, paid an eloquent tribute to the order.
As the glorious Twelfth is drawing
near, the Orangemen of this vicinity

are making preparations for the day.
On July 9 they will give a lawn social
on the grounds hard by the Presbyterian Church. A fife and drum band will furnish the music.
Rev. J. A. Snell will preach the fourth sermon of his series on Psalm
xix, next Sunday evening. Subject,
"Adventures in the Dark Glen." These discourses are both interesting and instructive.

Marthaville's Civic Holiday will take place on Saturday, the 20th. The Sunday schools and the different societies will unite and spend the day
at Galley's grove. A delightful time is anticipated.

Miss Bowman, of London, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Winnie Cameron.

"BROKEN IDOLS"
HINDOO WARCRY

Natives of Eastern Bengal Are Stirring Up a Religious War.

London, July 9. — "Broken idols"
have become the subject of a war cry
of the Hindus, just as the story of cartridges greased with bullocks' fat
—another desecration of their religion
—stirred up the Sepoys to mutiny in 1857.

The native troubles in Eastern Bengal are due more to the clashing of creeds between the Hindus and the Mohammedans than to seditious agitation against the British Government.
That phrase originated in the natives
feeling themselves aggrieved because a division of Bengal, but they have now
found that they can do nothing against
the armed might of the British, and
have turned their attention to the religious differences with the followers
of the great rival faith.

The Hindus have raised a great to-
do over the alleged desecration of their gods by the Mohammedans. They have made pictures of a group of broken Hindoo idols, which they paraded in the streets to excite religious passion against their opponents. As a matter of fact, these idols were roughly made effigies of mud, decorated with tinsel, carried in procession on religious fete days and then thrown away.

Because the Mohammedans hastened the destruction of these mud-
idols a day or two ago, the Hindus
made the incident a casus belli and wrote inflammatory articles about
the act in their newspapers.
This conflict between the two religions is made more difficult to deal
with by the fact that the followers
of each faith live side by side all over India.

SOME IMMIGRANTS
CHRONIC KICKERS

This Is the Opinion Provincial
Officials in Ontario
Express.

Toronto, July 9.—Provincial immigration officials have been relating
some of their troubles with recently arrived immigrants from the old country. "Chronic kickers" is the terse
characterization given to them.

"Some of these people from London, who have lived in cellars or gar-
rets there, expect too much on landing here," said one official, who has had considerable experience with those who kick about nothing.
"There was a lot of poor stuff
among the last bunch. We gave one man a job at Kilmarnock and another a place in Belleville. Their baggage was checked and tickets made out. Before the train left they refused to go, and I had to get their baggage back and cancel their tickets. The next morning they came back and begged to be allowed to go. I again fixed them up,
but before the train went they wanted to back out again.
"I told them that their baggage was shipped—it was in the car—and that if they wanted it they would have to pay express charges to get it back.
They kicked hard, and only when threatened with arrest for breach of contract if their employers said so did
they consent to go to the work provided for them."

At the British Welcome League
last night eleven big, husky chaps stood around. A large employer of labor in this city rang up and asked
for six men to go to work. The secretary says:
"I went out and asked who wanted
a job next morning. Not one would go to work, so I bundled them out

BIG BOSHTER BILL

A Few Remarks About the Exploded Phenomenon and

These village jesters who misman-
age the first game out in Frisco have sprung another one on that dear public. They made a hit when they worked off the last gag, but now
the Bill Griggs joke was the greatest laugh-producer of them all. It was well that the fight bugs on the coast are blessed with a sense of humor, for they might have started off another earthquake in Jimmy Croffroth's arena at Colma.

We have nothing but sympathy for poor Bill. It wasn't his fault that someone told him he could fight. Overall, the crowd was a little kinder to
"Bill," which in the language of kangaroos means "Magnificent William." He was a magnificent failure.
It speaks well for the fight game across the Pacific does it not? Yes, it does not. When he landed in San Francisco and started training, the frenzied na-

agents of the flight trust went into hysterics over him and led the guideless public into thinking him was the messiah of the world. He was a Bob Fitzsimmons type of fighter, a Dan Creedon and a Peter Jackson all in one. They called him a sphinx and a clam, and held him up as a paragon of modesty, but he was not long before we knew the history of his life was the size of his collar and the length of his good right arm. He trained in strict privacy, but every detail of his life was printed daily under scarlet heads until the hot polloi began to wonder.

"This Squires guy," they said among themselves, "must be some fighter. Let us purchase pasteboards for the bludge." But he took a few shekels on this marvelous fighter, and whereupon the work of the press agents was accomplished.

Retain Faith in Squires.

There might have been some excuse for them if Squires had made even a semblance of a fight. They might have laid his defeat to the climate or to his ignorance of American rules. But even that escape is denied them. In spite of it all, some of them have the nerve to maintain that he is still the better man. They describe the gallant fight in which he stepped to the center of the ring, the fearlessness with which he showed his jaw into the track of Burns' right, the grace with which he hit the champion and the determined ring in his voice when he said, "I'm going home." It looks well in print, but it affords little comfort when the

There is something in the attitude of the good showmen which might have made a difference to get into his stride. A great many many good fighters have been stopped by a few punches before they were given a chance to make a comeback. Bob McCormick, a young man who had a very good record, was troubled that way. Jack McCormick, who played the same trick on Kid McCoy, was superior in every way, and Buddy Blevins, who fought him, was one of the best fighters. However, he had a few troubles as a fighter and had some of his right to lay his defeat to a lucky punch, except. Squire has done nothing to help him, and he is a poor fighter. He is a top, except to stop a few punches. He is over in Jack Johnson whom poor down twelve Jack Johnson stowed away later.

The official scorer of the City League has given out the batting standing of the League. It is as follows:

without the slightest trouble. Even if he was a good fighter, the fact that he let himself be knocked out so easily shows that there is something lacking in his pugilistic makeup. Fighting consists of two things—to hit and to avoid being hit. Squires did neither. And to think they spoke of matching him with Jeffries!

ASYLUM STAFF ARE EXONERATED

Result of Coroner's Inquest in the Case of Mrs. Mary E.
Wootton's Death.

At the adjourned meeting of the coroner's inquest, held last night at the asylum, to investigate the cause of the death of the late Mrs. Wootton, which occurred in that institution recently, the jury returned the following verdict:

"That Mary Elizabeth Wootton came to her death on July 4, 1907, at the Asylum for Insane, London, by taking carbolic acid, said carbolic acid apparently procured by herself by breaking open the medicine chest."

"We should suggest more secure compartments for drugs and more careful supervision exercised. We exonerate the medical staff from all blame in the matter."

The first witness called was Miss Mabel Potter, a nurse, who attended Mrs. Wootton and other patients. She said that prior to her death Mrs. Wootton had appeared to be greatly depressed. Witness had seen her when taken out for a walk, but not again, until her death. Miss Potter had been busy giving another patient a bath after 4:30, and did not know anything about Mrs. Wootton. After bathing the patient Miss Potter had been absent from the bathroom about three minutes, and could not tell whether she had locked the bathroom door or not. When she returned she found Mrs. Wootton lying on the bed in her room, dead.

On being questioned by a juror as to whether the patient would have had time to go to the bathroom and procure the carbolic acid during her absence, Miss Potter answered that she did not think that she would.

Another nurse, Miss Beatrice Campbell, said that she had noticed nothing unusual about Mrs. Wootton's condition on the afternoon prior to her death. When questioned about the bathroom, Miss Campbell said she had been in that room in the forenoon, and remembered having locked the door on leaving. She could give no idea as to how Mrs. Wootton procured the carbolic acid.

Another nurse was called, but she had only been in Mrs. Wootton's ward for about one week, and could not tell much about Mrs. Wootton or about the affair.

Miss Stevenson, lady supervisor, who gave evidence on the previous evening, was recalled, and gave practically the same account of the affair as she had on the previous night.

Before the hearing of the evidence, the jury visited the bathroom, and the room occupied by Mrs. Wootton. They also inspected the medical chest from which Mrs. Wootton is alleged to have taken the carbolic acid.

NEWS OF PORT STANLEY

Playing Franks—Mr. Stanton, jun., Gets Slight Shock.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Port Stanley, July 9.—During the severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon a tree near the schoolhouse was struck and shattered by the lightning. Mr. Wm. Stanton, jun., who was driving his ponies up the schoolhouse hill, at the time, was stunned for a few minutes.

The Center Street Baptist Church, St. Thomas, will hold their annual picnic here on Wednesday, July 17.

Miss Ada Douglass, of the Fraser House, is spending a few days at her home in London.

Miss Marion Price, graduate nurse of Harper Hospital, Detroit, is spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Price, of the village.

Mrs. Wm. Goodhue and family, of Ripley, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox and daughter Shirley, of London, and Miss Frances Fox, also of London, are registered at the Nook.

Miss Maude Payne, of Port Stanley, spent Sunday with friends in St. Thomas.

Miss Lena Clifford, youngest daughter of Mr. E. J. Clifford, butcher, is spending her holidays in Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Matthews, of London, have moved to their summer cottage on New Orchard beach.

Capt. John Price has started a 10-cent bus line between the depot and Erie Road.

Miss Julian Abry, of St. Thomas, is the guest of Miss Flossie Roache, New Orchard beach.

Mrs. Sarah Black, of St. Thomas, is visiting her son, D. D. Black, of New York City, at his cottage, Broadview, New Orchard beach.

In the eight years of U. S. occupation the Americans have sold the Philippines about $30,000,000 worth of American products and manufactures. In the years prior to 1898 they sold from $50,000 to $80,000 worth a year. Korea is probably more responsive to missionary effort than any Oriental country. A Methodist missionary writes: "It is my honest conviction that had we the proper missionary force Korea would be a Christian nation in five or ten years."

PLEASANT MEMORIES

Members of W. C. T. U. Enjoyed Visit to Napier—The New Building.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its regular fortnightly meeting in Somerset Hall yesterday, with, considering the season, a fair representation of members present. In the absence of Mrs. McDermid, the president, who is enjoying a well-earned and much-needed rest, Mrs. Thornley occupied the chair. After opening exercises the treasurer, Mrs. Black, submitted her monthly report.

The delegates to the county convention each gave her impressions of the visit to Napier. These were of such a pleasant character as may well warn the ladies of Napier to prepare for a host should they ever have the temerity to send a similar invitation. All agreed it had been beneficial, physically and spiritually, and a knitting closer the members of one sisterhood, bringing them into more earnest sympathy with each other in their mutual struggle against evil.

The reports of superintendents of the various departments were then presented, after which Mrs. Heaman informed the meeting that the plans and estimates for the new building would be laid before them at the next meeting on July 23.

Mrs. Thornley gave a very helpful and instructive Bible reading, and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

COLPORTAGE WORK

Agent and Missionary Buskin Makes His Annual Visit to London.

Geo. Buskin, agent and missionary of the International Evangelical and Colportage Mission of Algoma and the Northwest, is making his twenty-fourth annual visit to London in behalf of the work of disseminating the Holy Scriptures and Christian literature among the districts. Forty-four thousand copies have been supplied by the mission's agency in twenty-two languages, and also many more copies of which no account has been taken. Eighty various editions of books and tracts have been published by the mission for its work in five languages.

An attempt is being made to publish the second part of the Ojibwa and English dictionary, the entire cost of which will be about $1,200, of which more than $600 have been paid.

The Indians are spread over an area of 300,000 square miles in Canada, and are numerous on the American side. The donations of London to the work last year were $275, which the missionary gratefully acknowledges. The depot is still at 202 King street, East Toronto, and a stock of books for the work in twenty-five languages will be found there.

Byron Garden Party. The garden party and lawn social given on the grounds of Mr. Allan MacLean, Byron, last evening, by the Epworth League, proved a grand success from all standpoints. The crowd was large, the weather was ideal, and all present spent a very pleasant time. There were strawberries and ice cream in abundance, and Tony Tita's orchestra provided a splendid musical programme.

Holland—Pearls. A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, July 3, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Pearsall, Ingersoll, when her daughter, Janet Alma, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank C. Holland, of Brantford, by the Rev. Alfred Bright, pastor of St. Paul's Church. The bride was becomingly dressed in white organdie with lace and insertion trimmings and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was unattended, except by her niece, Little Gladys Wilson, who acted as flower girl, and looked sweet in white organdie. The nuptial knot was tied under an arch tastefully decorated with bells and bunting and banked with flowers. The bride was the recipient of many costly and useful presents, the groom's gift to the bride was a handsome mantel clock and to the bride's going-away suit with lace and insertion trimmings and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. TO ENCOURAGE DRY FARMING SYSTEM

Minister of Agriculture Favors Establishing Experimental Station.

Edmonton, Alta., July 10.—Hon. W. T. Finley, minister of agriculture, who attended the annual convention of the Associated Board of Trade of Western Canada at Prince Albert, says: "All that is needed now is a good ripening season and the crop will equal the yield of last year. The growth is wonderful and the crops are far ahead as they were at this date last year. There is no doubt about the crop now." As to his own district, Mr. Finley says that the wheat was never more promising.

Mr. Finley announced that he had directed the president of the agricultural society to prepare a report setting forth the popularity of the dry farming system with the people and send it to the department at Edmonton. There will be done in every place where lectures and demonstrations are given and a series of reports will be sent to the department. If the reports are favorable it is likely an experimental farm will be established in the south, where the methods of dry farming may be practically demonstrated.

Prof. Campbell drove 20 miles out of Medicine Hat with the minister of agriculture, and was favorably impressed with the district and sanguine of the possibilities of dry farming here. They saw a dry farm of corn which was 18 inches high. Prof. Campbell said he knew of no reason why corn could not be grown successfully in southern Alberta and form a basis for as great an industry, as in some states of the union. In some of the dryest, where employed, as much as 80 bushels to the acre have been grown, while 60 is a common average.

What is said to be one of the largest flocks in the world have been placed in the new tower at Elizabeth, N. J. It is 38 feet in diameter, with 18-foot hands. The tower, which is 320 feet high, was built expressly for the clock, which will be illuminated at night, and will be visible for many miles.

ANNUAL COMMUNICATION
 Masons to Elect Highest Officers at Ottawa Gathering.

Local Masons are manifesting great interest in the approaching annual communication of Grand Lodge, which will be held at Ottawa on July 17 and 18, and which will be attended by many delegates from London. This being the year for the election of the highest officers in the Grand Lodge, a larger attendance than usual is looked for. Mr. J. H. Burrett, K.C., of Pembroke, is the present grand master, and it is generally believed that his successor will be Mr. A. T. Freed, a prominent newspaperman, of Hamilton.

Judge McWatt, of Sarnia, is prominently mentioned for the position of deputy grand master, and a leading Ayler man for that of district deputy.

BISHOP'S JUBILEE BROUGHT TO CLOSE
 Clergy of Diocese Have Returned Home—The Address to His Lordship.

The celebration in connection with Bishop McEvay's silver jubilee were brought to a close last night, and the majority of the 65 priests who were in attendance at the address presented to his lordship, and the vestments, he was given a handsome gold chain and cross, and a very beautiful ring, by the clergy of the diocese.

The address presented to his lordship by the clergy was as follows: "To the Right Rev. F. P. McEvay, D.D., Bishop of London, Ont.:

"My Lord,—We come before you on this auspicious day, with feelings of great pride and pleasure, there is gratification in the sight of even a product of human effort when wrought out to a rounded, perfect finish. Nature presents objects of still higher admiration. Solomon in all his glory could not compare with the chaste beauties of the modest lily, and the good seed, soon sprouting into the healthy blade, to be in due time crowned with the graceful ear, and fullness of corn, is more wonderful in its completeness of perfection than the dome of the greatest cathedral. And yet this complex phenomenon is used by divine wisdom itself as but a weak similitude of the higher and nobler things found in the life of the good Christian man.

"Sprung from sound Catholic stock, a youth full of brightness and hard study, qualifying for an early ordination; then almost immediately admitted to the innermost council of your bishop; next a prelate of the Roman rite; and a brief interval, prompted to the episcopal chair, is what we learned of your lordship when God was sending you to be our spiritual ruler and head, a few years ago.

We believed it then, but now we know not only its truth, but also the reasons of this unbroken, rapid progress upwards.

"The step of sound, full health, whether of body or spirit, is free, elastic and far-reaching, making long journeys short; and this healthy and vigorous spirit, unshaken by difficulties, and accomplishing great projects, in a little time we recognize and salute in your lordship's clear and steady judgment in selecting the right means, and in pushing to completion whatever is for the great good of your flock.

"Our schools, the seed ground of the church, recognize it in the firmness with which you changed at least many of them into better schools, and in the man and divine law. The clergy feel it in the members added to their ranks, and in the special efforts, on every fitting occasion, to discover and cultivate vocations. Present always at our conferences, you have made them schools of instruction and stimulators of zeal for the local captains of Christ's host.

"We forbear allusion, for the facts are apparent, to the number of new churches erected, and of others beautified and made fit for an increased splendor of worship; nor do we dwell upon the ever-friendly and cheerful spirit in which you have answered our calls upon your time and labor, nor how you marked defects and suggested improvements and stimulated our good works by the contagion of high example. There will be another occasion for saying these things, and to-day our purpose is different.

"Napoleon said his first communion day was the happiest of his life, and without suggesting comparisons, what we may ask, must the priest think of the day of his ordination, when he was not only multiplied into many characters, as teacher, physician, pastor, but also, amazing thing, was made participant in so many of the privileges of his Creator? Made God's ambassador, able to forgive sins, and at the altar to 'evoke' as has been called, even the Eternal himself.

"There is nothing, except itself, like this upon the earth, this lodging of much of divine power in human hands, making it possible to call 'another Christ.' Twenty-five years ago this morning you were promoted to this dizzy height, and now we gather around you with warm but subdued hearts, to assist in the thanksgiving you are offering to God for so lofty a favor.

"We appeal to the sacred heart, the only true and adequate thanksgiving, to hear our prayer, and present it to the Eternal Father, that the marked blessings he has sent you so abundantly in the past may be increased and multiplied in a long future, and the gifts of the morning be forgotten in the richer brilliancy of the calm and rich evening, which we hope is so distant."

FIXING OVER THE GRAND
 Contracts Closed for the Remodeling and Redecorating.

Mr. James Cowan, of Toronto, representing Mr. A. J. Small, the owner of the Grand Opera House here, was in London yesterday, and with Mr. Lou Bow, closed the contract for the remodeling and redecorating of the Grand.

When completed, the house, already one of the most spacious in Canada, will be one of the most beautiful in the Dominion, if not in America.

Work has been going on for some time, and it is announced that the theater will reopen for business about the middle of August, when Mr. Small promises some of the best attractions ever seen here will be placed on the boards of the Grand.

"CALIFORNIA" LAUNCHED
 New Anchor Line Twin Screw Steamship Floated July 9.

This large vessel, built for the New York and Glasgow trade, was launched Tuesday, July 9, from the shipbuilding yards of D. & W. Henderson & Co., on the Clyde, Scotland, the christening ceremony being performed by Lady Ure Primrose. The S.S. California is a strikingly handsome and imposing vessel with a straight stem and elliptical stern, having two steel pole masts for fore and aft schooner rig and two funnels. She is divided up so as to insure safety, into nine water-tight compartments, and has six decks. She will be fitted with Marconi wireless telegraph system.

First Cabin Accommodation
 well amidships, with accommodation for 300 passengers on the bridge and main deck. State rooms on the bridge deck will be luxuriously fitted with couches, folding washstands, wardrobes and electric lights; have large, square windows fitted with ornamental shutters that can be adjusted at will. The main saloon will be on the upper deck; the decorations are to be bright and artistic, furniture and general appointments of the best. There will be small tables in the main saloon for accommodation of family parties. Above the main saloon on the bridge deck, the library, a spacious, well-appointed room, and the promenade deck a luxuriously fitted smoking-room with dome skylight and large windows, making it bright and cheerful.

Promenade Deck
 on the California will be a special feature. Saloon passengers will have long bridge deck and a promenade deck below, with waterproof shelters and wind screens. These decks will be lighted with electricity, which will make them as light by night as by day.

Second Cabin Accommodation
 will be situated on the main deck, with accommodation for 400 passengers, who will find that their comfort and convenience in every respect have been excellently catered to. The dining saloon for this class will be on the upper deck; furniture, all oak, and much superior in design and finish to what one usually sees in second cabin accommodation. This class will have a ladies' room and library directly above the saloon, and on the promenade deck a spacious, well-appointed smoking-room. In fact, no expense will be spared to make the second cabin accommodation on California equal to that of any other steamer on the Atlantic.

Third Class Accommodation
 will be on the main and 'tween decks. Married couples, families, single men and women will be berthed in separate compartments, consisting of two, four and six-berth rooms. Ample dining accommodation is provided for this class in a spacious dining room, aft, which extends from one side of the vessel to the other, with large side lights affording excellent light and ventilation. In this dining room separate revolving chairs are provided for each passenger. Nothing has been left undone to make this accommodation modern and up-to-date in every respect.

On the upper deck there is a comfortable sitting room for women and a smoking room for men.

California will be propelled by two sets of powerful triple-expansion engines of the latest type. A very thorough and complete system of ventilation throughout the entire vessel. This steamship will take her place in the Glasgow service Sept. 14, 1907. Hawes, Gibson & Co.

A LORD'S DAY TEST.
 Toronto, July 9.—The case against the Grand Trunk Railway for breach of the Lord's Day Act, by unnecessary moving of trains at Little York station on Sunday, the specific date mentioned before Judge Ellis at East Toronto, this morning. Evidence of train registers, showing arrivals and departures on the day in question was put in, and Attorney H. S. Osler, K. C., for the defendants, asked two weeks time to prepare his answer to the specific charges. County Crown Attorney Drayton and the magistrate consented to this, as it is a test case.
