RIVER SOON TO BE FREE OF WASTE

Disposal Plant Will Leave Only Two Small Outlets into Thames.

BUILD ON MONDAY

Will Care For the Entire City Except 40 Houses in South.

Good news for the board of health as well as every citizen of London is conveyed in the announcement of City Engineer Near today that when the duplicate outlet for the west end sewage disposal plant is completed, the raw sewage menace at the river will be a thing of the past.

Work on the west end outlet will start next Monday, the engineer states, and the work will be rushed to completion as fast as possible. "There will be two outlets of raw sewage into the river after the west end job is completed," said the engineer, "and these will be cared for in the near future. There will be one small outlet from Carrae Crescent and another at Ridout street, serving a total of about 40 houses.

Cost $65,000. In connection with the west end job, Mr. Near stated that it would be 5,800 feet in length, and would cost approximately $65,000. It will start at the Wharfedale road subway and go west to the disposal works below the cove.

The capacity of the new outlet is shown in the fact that it is expected to take care of the sewage from the downtown area of the city, north, west and south London, as well as what is known as the "middle east" section of the city.

The huge concrete sections to be used have been in the process of manufacture on Springbank drive below the lockhouses for some time. Today they are being hauled on wagons, day after day, to the scene of operations. Stop Raw Waste. "It will take care of two-thirds of the sanitary sewage in the city," said the city engineer in discussing the size of the outlet, "and it will relieve the overflow of raw sewage at River street."

When it and the other system at Wellington and High streets are completed, there will be practically no raw sewage into the river.

Two gangs of men will shortly be used on the Hale street sewer system, Mr. Near said. It will be completed in the next few days. The men are now working on Highbury avenue and are at the deepest and wettest spots. Branch work on other streets will start on Tuesday. It is expected to tunnel under the C. N. E. tracks of the St. Marys and Stratford branch on Wednesday.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN CITY CLEARS SHOWING LIBERALS IN STRONG PLACE

Little Has United and Enthusiastic Backing of Entire Party.

CONTEST 3-CORNERED

Col. Reason Drops Out, Giving Undivided Support to Candidate.

GREAT CONVENTION

Liberal Rally Largest of All Party Gatherings in London.

The week-end saw the political situation in the city made definite by the nomination of three federal candidates—E. S. Little, Liberal; J. F. White, Conservative, and John Colbert, Labor. Mr. Colbert's nomination was perhaps the least expected of the three and may be ascribed to the last minute withdrawal of Dr. H. A. Stevenson, who had been looked upon as the probable Labor representative. Mr. Colbert has stated definitely to The Advertiser that he intends to remain in the campaign to the end. The contest in London will therefore be between these three as further nominations are unlikely.

The Liberal convention on Saturday night has undoubtedly been the most interesting and remarkable feature of the local situation thus far. In size and enthusiasm it far surpassed either the Conservative or Labor meetings and proved a surprise even to Liberals themselves, who have seen no such demonstration of strength and spirit in London for a generation. The nomination of Mr. Little was accompanied by an equally important development in the decision made by Col. Clifford Reason that he will throw his support behind Mr. Little in the interests of Liberalism rather than accept an invitation to be a candidate himself.

Pendulum Is Back.
Liberals are making comparisons between the Saturday Liberal and those held when Liberalism was in flower in London. The pendulum, they claim, has swung back. It was not only the Saturday Liberalism, but also the Liberalism in general, which represents all the city's interests and sections, which was the encouraging feature. The placing of nine members in the cabinet, the election of any one of which carries a great deal of weight in this city, also added strength. All of these men have given assurance that they will support Mr. Little as Liberal candidate.

There was a very noticeable number of young men and women at the convention, which goes to show that Liberalism, as always, still makes an appeal to the young far beyond the less progressive and more reactionary policies of Conservatism. The nominating committee, a young man, was a tribute to young Liberalism, which through the country is being given an opportunity for greater service by the King government.

Statements from the men whose names were placed in nomination at the Liberal convention indicate the unanimity of the party. Without exception they are enthusiastic for the chances of the Liberal in this contest. They all speak highly of Mr. Little, and declare that they will do all in their power to elect him. They had no opportunity to express their sentiments at Saturday's convention, as all the addresses were made before the selection of Mr. Little was announced.

Reason Optimistic.
"The chances of a Liberal victory are excellent, and judging from the ardor displayed at the Saturday night convention, London Liberalism is nearing success," Col. C. H. Reason declared.

While through the country the principles of Liberalism are being sought with greater and greater enthusiasm, and everything points to Mackenzie King being returned to the helm of government. The fact that the Canadian Press Despatch.

Sparks from the Fire of the Liberal Rally

Major W. H. Kippen, D.S.O., M.C., who made a splendid chairman, shows courage in peace as in war. He was once a Liberal candidate for the legislature in North East Toronto which is a Tory stronghold. In a campaign of very short duration he reduced the Conservative majority by thousands. Liberals of Toronto would like to have seen him remain in that city as they expected to have him in the legislature the next time.

Youth mingled freely with age. There were veterans there who fought to put Charles Hyman over when campaigns were campaigns and there were men in their twenties waiting an opportunity to repeat in 1926.

James Gray was given a tremendous reception which shows the affection in which he is held by the Liberals of the city. Mr. Gray was quite modest in his altogether too brief a speech. He simply informed the gathering that he couldn't go to Ottawa because he had to stay in London to look after the ladies.

J. R. Strirett, a young man who was nominated, showed the proper deals for young Canada when he said that fidelity to country must be the first asset of a candidate. Mr. Strirett, despite his youth, has already shown his fidelity and is ready to render more public service.

Said Mr. Somerville: "The Conservatives chose the right day (Friday) to choose a candidate for the party of gloom."

Every one was disappointed that Mr. Little was not present. The crowd was all set to give him a mighty reception. However, he will appear in public many times before the election.

Col. Reason got a good reception, and when he announced that he would be the last to split the forces of Liberalism he was vigorously applauded for a real Liberal declaration.

Jared Vining made a snappy speech in nominating Mr. Little and withdrew his own name with very little comment except to boost the other fellow again.

There were a large number of women at the convention. They are rapidly taking a greater interest in politics, and in the years to come there will probably be many more women candidates, and Agnes McPhail won't be so lonely at Ottawa.

Senator Pardee of Sarnia makes a strange contrast with his fellow townsman, R. V. Lesueur, the Apostle of Gloom, over in the border riding, Lesueur, here Saturday, left the Conservatives in melancholy. Pardee left the Liberals in cheerfulness.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson wasn't present, but his name received the cheers that it deserves in the city. He is a Liberal all the time and reckoned as one of the strongest men in that party in London.

Andrew Robson is a veteran of many campaigns, and more eager than ever. He's younger every day.

Mr. Buchner likes members of parliament to be regarded as heroes. He put Mackenzie King in the hero list, and then added the Liberal candidate. The convention agreed.

When Senator Pardee quoted the official figures showing the tremendous strides Canada is making in its export trade gloom and despair just naturally disappeared. The sun of prosperity is dawning.

Col. Reason was right when he said that London was out of the infant class and should have two members.

BUS ISSUE MAY SOON BE SOLVED

Ald. Douglass Will Meet Representatives of Company This Afternoon.

SEEKS PROPOSITION

Hopes To Have Definite Proposal To Lay Before Council.

Whether or not the citizens of London and South London in particular will ride to and from their work this winter in buses in addition to the electric cars provided by the street railway, will depend in great measure on a gathering this afternoon between Ald. L. H. Douglass and transportation men outside the city who are already running successful bus lines in other cities.

"I may have a proposition to lay before the city council tonight, and may not," said Ald. Douglass early this afternoon. "I am having a meeting with these men later on in the afternoon and something worth while may develop."

The citizens are entitled to better transportation service than they are getting and if a bus system will give it to them, in all for a bus system and the sooner the better, it is service that we want and it is service that we will get if it is at all possible.

"While outside capital will be used principally, there are still some Londoners interested enough to invest their money, one being ready to put in a whole lot of money, so sure is he that it is a good proposition."

Associated Press Despatch.
Locarno, Oct. 5.—The conference here of statesmen having as its objective a security pact for the peace of Europe also is concerned with the question of security for one of its chief delegates, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Germany's foreign minister.

Stories of plots by German ultra Nationalists or Fascists against Dr. Stresemann because he failed to insist on the question of the "war guilt" being added to the conference agenda, caused the police to assign guards to his hotel.

CONFERENCE OPENS.
Associated Press Despatch.
Locarno, Switzerland, Oct. 5.—The conference of allied and German statesmen, called to consider the conclusion of a security pact, was opened here today. The sessions are being held in the cantonal courtroom, on the second floor of the palace of justice.

The inaugural meeting was formally opened shortly after 11 a.m. by speech of welcome he retired, as all the delegates in private.

The delegates arrived promptly on the hour in automobiles led by Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, who is accompanied in turn by the Italian, French and Belgian, and arrived ceremoniously on foot. Cordons of police held the crowd about the entrance of the palace.

The place of meeting is an austere rectangular apartment with big windows overlooking Lake Maggiore. A clock hangs in one end of the room and a painting of the harbor of Locarno decorates the other.

Revised Calendar Would Remove Many Difficulties, Says Western 'U' Professor

Effect Considerable Simplification in Reckoning Time, Is Claim.

OBVIATE CONFUSION
Calls For Days Falling On the Same Date Every Month.

If the steps taken to reform the calendar into 13 months of 28 days each goes into effect the result will be a considerable simplification in reckoning time. This is the opinion of Dr. H. R. Kingston, M.A., F.R.A.S., professor of mathematics at the University of Western Ontario.

Commenting on the statement of Moses E. Cotsworth, Vancouver, director of the international fixed calendar league, that the great Christian church authorities were ready for the change, Dr. Kingston said that the new calendar would obviate adjusting business and academic calendars. It would mean a tremendous saving in clerical work.

"All the days of the week would fall on the same date every month," said Dr. Kingston. "One would know that a certain day meant a given date on the calendar. When making announcements of events that were to take place the dates would be fixed by the name of the day. Thus confusion would be avoided."

Dr. Kingston said that such a calendar might spoil a lot of birthday parties, since a child born on Sunday would always have a birthday on Sunday, while a child born on the last day of the year could not lay claim to being born in any month or on any date, for the last day in every year would be called International Day, according to the proposed calendar.

"A vast amount of work has been done toward a simplification of the present calendar," said Dr. Kingston. "There is no doubt the proposed change would solve a lot of appointment difficulties and make the reckoning of time easier."

GEORGE PRIDDIS TAKEN BY DEATH
Last Member of Pioneer Family Passes Away in 75th Year.

The last of a London pioneer family, George Priddis, himself an outstanding and popular citizen of a generation ago, died at his farm home, Richmond street north, London township, this morning. He was 75 years old, a lifelong resident of the district.

For three years Mr. Priddis had been in weakened health, but his condition was not considered serious until a few days ago, when he was stricken with pneumonia. From the first practically no hope was held, and lapsing into unconsciousness two days ago, combined illnesses caused his death this morning.

George Priddis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Priddis, was born at Cromlin in 1850, soon after his parents came to Canada from England. With his elder brother, James, who died almost two years ago, he entered his father's firm, which in the early days of London consisted of a drygoods and general store. Upon the death of C. P. Priddis, James and George established the drygoods business of Priddis brothers at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets.

In those days few goods were manufactured in Canada. The necessity for the importation of garments and hockey teams, which have since been famously recorded in the history of the city's sport. He was one of the officials of the old Tecumseh amateur baseball team and Continued on Page 13, Column 6.

FRENCH LANGUAGE IN SCHOOLS URGED

Ven. Archdeacon Doherty Celebrates Eucharist at St. James' Church.

An appeal for the teaching of French in the public and secondary schools of the province, as a means of promoting national unity and concord, was made by the Ven. Archdeacon Doherty, in his sermon at the 11 o'clock high celebration of the Eucharist, in St. James' Anglican church yesterday morning.

The Archdeacon devoted a large portion of his sermon to the duty of the Christian citizen, in view of the coming federal election. He briefly reviewed the problem of national unity which faces Canada. The task of uniting the great portions of Canada into one harmonious whole was the work of the Christian church, through the individual, he declared. He referred to Quebec as almost a nation unto herself, without real affiliation with either Britain or France. Her reluctance to participate in the war was proof of this, he asserted.

The teaching in Quebec of English, and of French in this province would be a great step in uniting the races, he declared.

"We make a great mistake in not teaching our children two languages from their early days in Canada. At present Quebec is isolated from the whole world. Such would not be the case if French were taught in this province," asserted the archdeacon.

"We are approaching an election, and so many are inclined to give our leaders nothing but contumely, bitterness and ridicule. That is an un-Christian attitude. We should give the matter our real interest. It is

VETERANS OF WAR REMAIN IN CANADA

C. F. A. Volunteers Gather at Guelph To Deny Migration Stories.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Guelph, Oct. 4.—Statements to the effect that Canadian veterans of the great war are leaving for the United States, are not borne out by facts, as was evidenced at the annual reunion of the 29th Battery, when about 100 members of that unit, with men of the 35th and 36th batteries, gathered here yesterday.

Members were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Orangeville, Midland, Windsor, Sarnia, Wallaceburg, London, Kitchener and Galt, with only two registrations from the United States. The regrets of many others from different parts of the province were sent, including one from "Daddy" Dunn, of Petrolia, the overseas sage of the unit. The 29th was recruited here, and in London, under Major F. D. Coghlan, who is now in Vancouver. His nephew, Lt. Geo. Downey, of Stratford, was present, and many others of the old unit, including Lt. H. Harris, of Toronto, Lt. H. McQueen, of St. Marys, and J. Harding, of Windsor. Major Davis, of Toronto, sent regrets, as did also Major MacKinnon, of Sherbrooke, who commanded the 35th.

The retiring president, Jack Keast, of Guelph, presided at the reunion banquet, while the regrets of the absent members were read by the secretary, Paul Monroe, of Guelph. Leonard Little, of Windsor, was elected president for the coming year, and George Lingwood, also of Windsor, was elected secretary. The reunion will be held next year in Windsor. The visitors were taken for a drive of the city, and inspected the O. A. C. reformatory, and other points of interest, and afterwards banqueted at the Royal hotel.

RE-AFFIRMS FIGURES.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Figures attributed to the United States department of labor in a press despatch to the effect that 2,217 Canadians returned to Canada from the United States in the last fiscal year, are sharply challenged by the department here.

"The department knows that the United States inspectors do not examine or record people entering Canada from the United States, say Canadian officials. "Our figures are the only reliable statistics on this point, and they show the following results for the last United States fiscal year: in that period the Canadian-born citizens who returned to Canada after a residence of six months or over in the United States, declaring their intention of remaining permanently in this country, were as follows: July, 1924, 4,428; August, 4,023; September, 2,952; October, 2,847; November, 2,614; December, 2,618; January, 1,935; February, 1,641; March, 2,220; April, 2,599; May, 2,722; June, 2,514—a total of 22,568; if to these are added the naturalized Canadians and those subjects who had acquired Canadian domicile, the total Canadian returning in the twelve months is 33,173, instead of 2,217, as stated in the despatch from Washington."

The Canadian officials assert there can be no question as to the accuracy concerning these returned Canadians, as the name of every individual is on record. Also, in twelve months, 43,000 Canadians returned from the United States claiming refund of their head tax. These are in addition to those who returned after a six months' absence.

Members were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Orangeville, Midland, Windsor, Sarnia, Wallaceburg, London, Kitchener and Galt, with only two registrations from the United States. The regrets of many others from different parts of the province were sent, including one from "Daddy" Dunn, of Petrolia, the overseas sage of the unit. Toronto, Oct. 4.—The Hon. Vincent Massey, who recently entered the cabinet of the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and is Liberal candidate for Durham county in the federal election, has resigned from the presidency of the Massey Harris Company.

In a statement issued today, Mr. Massey not only announced his resignation from the board of the Massey Harris Company, but also from the boards of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Mutual Life Assurance Company.

Mr. Massey's statement follows: "During the very short time I have been in public life I have come to believe that even at some personal sacrifice I should resign from all directorships in corporations, so as to leave myself perfectly free to discuss and deal with public issues without having my actions or my motives subject to question."

"I have therefore today sent in my resignation as president and director of the Massey-Harris Company, and I have also resigned at the same time from the boards of the Bank of Commerce and the Mutual Life Assurance Company, although these institutions have no relation to the issues at present under public discussion."

Members were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Orangeville, Midland, Windsor, Sarnia, Wallaceburg, London, Kitchener and Galt, with only two registrations from the United States. The regrets of many others from different parts of the province were sent, including one from "Daddy" Dunn, of Petrolia, the overseas sage of the unit. The 29th was recruited here, and in London, under Major F. D. Coghlan, who is now in Vancouver. His nephew, Lt. Geo. Downey, of Stratford, was present, and many others of the old unit, including Lt. H. Harris, of Toronto, Lt. H. McQueen, of St. Marys, and J. Harding, of Windsor. Major Davis, of Toronto, sent regrets, as did also Major MacKinnon, of Sherbrooke, who commanded the 35th.

WINDSOR JOINS WAR ON TELEPHONE RATES

Opposes Ten-Cent Charge For Border Cities Calls.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Windsor, Oct. 4.—Mayor Mitchell and members of Windsor city council have joined with Tecumseh and Riverside in a protest to Ottawa against the ruling of the board of railway commissioners in connection with the Bell Telephone Company's rate war with the Tecumseh and Riverside subscribers, by which they are compelled to pay a charge of 10 cents for Windsor calls.

A recommendation that the city join in with the two municipalities mentioned will, it is expected, receive favorable action at tomorrow night's meeting of the city council. When the railway board accepted the role of arbitrators in the dispute, they directed the telephone company to make no charge for the Tecumseh calls pending a decision.

When they ruled in favor of the company, the latter at once billed their subscribers for all calls since February 16 last, the date of the installation of switch board at Tecumseh.

The crash was entirely accidental. Walton was proceeding east on York street, while the Woolton car was going north on Richmond street. Neither driver saw the other until they were right on top of each other.

Liberal Party In Ontario Chooses E. S. Little As Candidate

HYMAN MAYOR'S VICTORY IS UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF CITY'S GREATEST LIBERAL RALLY; COL. REASON OFFERS WHOLE SUPPORT

Hyman Hall Crowded To Doors—Accredited Delegates Come From Every Subdivision of Riding To Back Popular Candidate.

RECALLS TRIUMPHANT DAYS OF HYMAN

Meeting Shows New Support For Liberalism in London—Party Presents United Front Against Extremists.

London Liberals, in convention at Hyman Hall Saturday night, selected E. S. Little, former mayor, as their candidate in the federal election on October 29. Only two names went to the convention, and on a ballot vote Mr. Little was declared the winner over Col. Clifford Reason. Col. Reason said he would not split the Liberal forces if he did not receive the nomination, and has announced that he will support Mr. Little in the campaign. His action is commended by the Liberals of the city for its liberality and unselfishness, and leaves London to a three-cornered contest, with Liberal, Labor and Conservative in the field.

The great turnout at the convention and the enthusiasm which greeted the selection of Mr. Little as candidate demonstrated that Liberalism is today a greater force than it has been since the days when Hon. Charles Hyman carried the party banner to victory. Old-timers compared the convention to the old days and could see in it a return to the Liberalism which made such a splendid appeal to the electorate of this city years ago. There were 475 accredited delegates on the list as official, and practically every one was in his seat when the convention opened. Besides these 300 were outside, and after the ballot came in to listen to the speeches which in their condemnation of the blue-ruin policies of Mr. Meighen and their support of Liberalism in its policy of moderation and unity for Canada, were loudly acclaimed.

Ready to Accept. Unfortunately, Mr. Little was unable to be present, being out of the city, or he would have received the great ovation from the Liberals of London. Mr. Little sent a telegram that if chosen by the convention he was too good a Liberal not to accept. This sentiment was cheered by the huge crowd which filled all the seats and standing room in the hall. Every Liberal in the city, every class of its people were represented.

Plenty of Material. Nine names were placed before the convention, as follows: E. S. Little, Col. Reason, Mr. Meighen, Mr. Gray, Andrew Robson, Dr. W. J. Stevenson, C. R. Somerville, Jared Vining, J. R. Strrett and U. A. Buchner. All were in the hall, and Mr. Little and Col. Reason, a ballot was taken and Mr. Little declared the choice. Mr. Little starts his campaign with a united Liberal party, whose enthusiasm will be more apparent than for many years. All the speakers at the convention spoke most highly of the service Mr. Little had rendered to the city. The chief speakers, besides those nominated, who all spoke for a few minutes, were Mr. Meighen, Mr. Gray, Mr. Sarnia and J. C. Elliott, Mr. C. Liberal candidate in West Middlesex. Both men showed up the fallacy of Mr. Meighen's original position, and his cohorts. They showed that Mr. Little was in a much better position now than it had been when Mr. Meighen was in office, and that which prospered comparable only with that which followed the election of a Liberal government in 1896 is on the way. Major W. J. Kippen was chairman of the meeting.

Confident of Return. Major Kippen, in opening the convention, explained that he was a temporary chairman only. He indicated the gathering that although Hon. Chas. S. Hyman was unable to be present, that he had sent greetings and best wishes for a Liberal success in London. "I feel confident that the King government is going to be returned to power," said Major Kippen. "Although there is no doubt about it, we must not neglect our duties through over-confidence. London, by electing a Liberal, can help more than many other ridings. There were 475 cards issued to accredited delegates to this convention, and I believe they are nearly all here. Thus every division in the city is represented, and I am sure that the candidate selected whoever he is. A resolution that the whole convention would support the candidate getting the most votes was passed. Another resolution made Major Kippen permanent chairman. On the declaration that the meeting was open for nominations, Mr. Jared Vining, in placing the name of Mr. Little before the meeting, said that he was a man known to all. "He is a man who has been prominent in the affairs of this city for many years," said Mr. Vining. "He has demonstrated his ability as a great public-spirited citizen. He has demonstrated his ability as one who is eminently capable of looking after the affairs of this city and also this country. His family for more than a generation has been prominent in all good works in London, and he has been the highest respect and honor. He was twice mayor of London, and has been associated with every act for the benefit of the city. I am sure that the desire of this convention that if he be the candidate he will accept."

Then followed the nominations of Col. Clifford Reason, who Dr. McLeslie said in nominating, had done splendid service for this country and Mr. Andrew Robson, U. A. Buchner, C. R. Somerville, U. A. Buchner, Jared Vining, John Ross Strrett and James Gray. Mr. Vining, in his address, again mentioned the qualifications of Mr. Little for the honor. Mr. Somerville

GERMANY SUEB FOR $600,000

Claims of District Residents Are Heard by Lusitania Commission.

More than 20 claims against Germany for damages amounting to $600,000 arising out of submarine warfare and damage to property in the battlefields of France and Belgium, advanced by residents of Western Ontario, were heard Saturday and this morning by members of the Lusitania commission in session at the Belvedere hotel.

The commission completed its work in London today and left Windsor where a number of claims are to be presented. Fourteen claims were heard in London Saturday, and the remaining half dozen today.

The majority of claims presented locally were for damages suffered in the sinking of the Lusitania and Heperle in 1915 by a German U-boat, and two for property damage in Belgium. Claims entered by the Northern Life Assurance Company and the London Life Insurance Company consist of the greater amount of the $600,000.

After the hearing of evidence in more than 1,000 cases throughout Canada, the claims will be sent to the Dominion government and an account forwarded to Germany, according to Major Spencer Ralph, one of the commissioners. It is more than likely the total amount will be paid over within a few years, he declared.

1925 FISHERMEN'S RACE CALLED OFF BY TRUSTEES

It was stated, has completed her fishing season, has been laid up, and according to her managing owners it would be impossible to get her in shape to race this year. CADET TRAINING BEFORE COUNCIL

Will Tonight Consider Sending Bylaw Before Voters of London.

The city council session tonight promises to be short, even if it isn't particularly sweet. There are few matters of a contentious nature to come before the watchdogs of the city's interests, and outside of a possible flare-up over cadet matters, routine business only is scheduled for the attention of the aldermen and the mayor.

The council will be asked to approve of sending a bylaw to the people at the next election, asking the citizens whether or not they are in favor of cadet training in the schools.

The aldermanic representatives of Labor on the council, namely, Aldermen Mealy, Ashman and Gill are all in favor of asking the opinion of the people in the matter. As representatives of Labor, they are opposed to cadet training, but they are in the great majority of citizens are also opposed.

On the other hand, a great many people believe that cadet training teaches youngsters to be more manly and gives them good training in discipline and a proper respect for law. We may expect to hear a whole lot of informative discussion by the aldermen and then again there may not.

"Betting on what will happen at a council meeting is just about as hard as picking winners at the race track," declared one alderman this morning. "We may not know what will happen, and then find out later on that we didn't know a darn thing about it."

POLITICAL SITUATION SHOWS PARTY STRONG

adrian dollar is back to par, and that general trade is extremely satisfactory, points to the achievements of the Liberal government. "There is no room for pessimism in London. The Liberal party was never more solid and each addresser behind Mr. Little."

Stevenson Sees Win. Dr. W. J. Stevenson is also content and optimistic. He will lead the London party to a signal victory. He believes that the Liberals of London are today displaying all the solidarity and ardor of the best of the party.

The King government, famed for its support of all the people without exception, will be returned with added laurels, in nomination but who withdrew. "The convention was very enthusiastic and augurs a bright future for the Liberal party in London. Personally I am very confident of a Liberal victory and I believe that Mr. Little will be the best candidate for this city in the house of commons."

Vining Delighted. Jared Vining, who placed the name of Mr. Little before the convention at this time dwelt upon the qualifications of his nominee, said: "I am delighted with the size and enthusiasm of the convention and I am only too delighted with the candidate. I fully believe that if the party generally displays the enthusiasm which marked the convention Saturday night, Mr. Little will be a victor. We have a first-class candidate, thoroughly capable of representing the people at Ottawa because of his manufacturing and business interests both here and in Winnipeg. He would be a leading man in parliament."

A Worthy Candidate. "The best of feeling prevailed at the Saturday night convention which chose E. S. Little as standard-bearer," was the assertion from C. R. Somerville. "Mr. Little is a man who has done splendid work in the city and he will make a worthy member in the house of commons. The city and the people who will be in harmony with the government and there is no question of the present government not being returned."

CHURCH COUNCILS TO BECOME ONE

Former Presbyterian and Methodist Bodies Will Be Merged Thursday.

Ministers and laymen of the United church of London will hold a get-together banquet at Beecher church, formerly First Congregational church, on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

The gathering, which will include pastors and representative laymen to the number of upwards of 100, will embrace the former Methodist and Presbyterian councils. William Heaman and John Elliott were president and secretary, respectively, of the Methodist council, while Rev. W. Ed. McIntosh, D.D., and John Stuart were president and secretary of the Presbyterian council.

Thursday night's meeting will be for the purpose of receiving reports of the old organizations, merging them into one, election of officers and outlining the work for the coming year.

Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, M.A., B.D., Calvary church, president of the United church conference, is expected to preside at the banquet.

SEVENTY STUDENTS ENROLL IN COURSE

Extra-Mural Workers Swell Number at Western to Nearly 900.

Seventy students have now registered in the extra-mural courses of the University of Western Ontario, according to Dr. H. R. Kingston, M.A., F.R.A.S., who is in charge of these courses at Western.

This increases the number of registrations at the university to nearly 900 students enrolled for the year. Although tomorrow is the last official day for registration it is expected that a few more latecomers will be admitted to the college of arts. There is a possibility that the total number may reach the 900 mark.

At the present rate of increase it is expected that next fall Western will see the enrollment swell over the thousand mark. The increase this year has been considerably over one hundred. The official records of the registration will be issued by Dr. K. P. R. Neville, M.A., F.A.G.S., registrar in a few days.

BRIDGE TO COST LESS THAN FIRST ESTIMATE

Cost of Materials Has Decreased Considerably Since 1920.

There will be no report on comparative bridge costs for a new structure at Rivon street, given by City Engineer Near to the city council tonight.

Mr. Near has a report ready on the cost of two types of steel bridges, but figures on the cost of a reinforced concrete structure are not yet completed and consequently are not available for the council.

Five more estimates were prepared on the cost of a new Rivon street bridge and when the matter was sent to the people for a decision it was defeated, since the bridge conditions have changed. Materials have decreased in price some 15 per cent, and this will mean a large saving to the public's pocket-book.

London's Liberal Candidate.

The Liberals of London have chosen E. S. Little as their candidate for election to the federal parliament. Each of the nominees on Saturday night, including Col. Clifford Reason, who was the only other final contender for the nomination, expressed ready support for Mr. Little. He therefore enters the campaign, not only as the unanimous candidate of the greatest London Liberal convention in years, but also with the full approval of a party united in purpose and goodwill.

It is now improbable that London will have more than three candidates for election: E. S. Little, Liberal; J. F. White, Conservative, and John Colbert, Labor. Mayor G. A. Wenige remains the only present possibility as a fourth and independent candidate. It is now believed, however, that Mayor Wenige intends to postpone his political ambitions until the provincial by-election. This will not take place until the mayoralty campaign is over. Mr. Wenige probably concludes that if he were to announce himself as a political candidate at present his mayoralty chances might be affected by the public's feeling that he is seeking too many electoral gifts.

Of these candidates, including the fourth as a possibility, The Advertiser intends to give its support to Mr. E. S. Little, not only because he represents Liberal policies and principles in which The Advertiser believes, but also because, from a consideration of London's requirements as a community, Mr. Little appears to be best qualified to serve the city.

As a Liberal, Mr. Little is the advocate of policies which seek to promote the interests of all Canada. He is the supporter of a leader who thinks of Canada as a united whole rather than as a dependent division of east against west. He is the supporter also of principles based on the needs of the great mass of consumers rather than on the demanded privileges of a minority.

As a representative of London's municipal needs, Mr. Little must be acknowledged as more competent than either Mr. White or Mr. Colbert, whatever regard one may have for their personal attributes, and The Advertiser, it may here be remarked, has a personal respect for both men. Mr. Little has twice served as mayor of London; he has acted on numerous civic bodies; he has the training and experience of the capable son of a distinguished father; he is suited in every way to public life in London's interest.

Mr. White can not, by any stretch of admiration, be regarded as having been aggressive in London's behalf during his four years at Ottawa. It is not to be expected of Mr. White, because neither by inclination nor disposition is he voluntarily attracted to parliamentary service. Mr. Colbert has been a city alderman, but his public experience has been limited chiefly to the affairs of his ward, and he has not the youth and the energy, apart from other considerations, which Mr. Little is fortunate to possess.

Pronouncements of purpose from all three candidates will doubtless be available in due course, and these will be awaited with interest by the voters of London. In the meantime, it seems proper to observe that the city and its political parties are singularly fortunate in having in the campaign three men of the character and integrity of the present candidates. It is safe to say that no constituency in Canada has candidates who may be regarded with more deserved respect.

A Great Liberal Convention.

The convention of London Liberals on Saturday night, when E. S. Little was chosen as federal candidate, can be described only as an eye-opener, not alone to Conservatives in the city, but to Liberals themselves.

In a constituency which is perhaps regarded as traditionally Conservative in sentiment, there has been no such demonstration of goodwill, of friendliness, of enthusiasm, and of aggressiveness at any party convention for many years. Certainly London has had no more convincing revelation of Liberalism as a live and vital force and as something more real and intimate than merely a political label, since the triumphant days of Hon. C. S. Hyman.

The convention hall on Saturday night was packed. Every chair was filled; the walls were lined with people standing. Outside the doors the crowd extended down the stairway almost to the street. Men were there who have long held aloof from political affairs, to prove that the permanence of Liberal ideas cannot be discouraged by London's past reverses at the polls. Scores of young men were there for the first time to lend a tone of new vigor. Women were there in unprecedented numbers to represent the significance of Liberal policies to the home and the consumer. A true word was spoken by Col. Clifford Reason, one of the candidates for nomination, when he said that the convention could have filled the Winter Garden to accommodate those who wished to attend.

It was a splendid and inspiring night for the Liberals of London, and appreciation is due to the members of the executive who engaged in the organization of the convention, particularly to Major W. H. Kippen, who directed the work of the convention committee and who served also as the admirably aggressive and efficient chairman of the convention itself.

Everything Is Wrong.

The Free Press gets hopelessly muddled around election times. Word has been passed to all the boys on the staff to give a real political twist to every bit of news they get their hands on.

Thus when the monthly returns of customs figures were ready at the end of September the Free Press had this:

"Claims put forward by the Mackenzie King government and its followers that the country is in a state of prosperity are not borne out in the monthly customs returns for London. The figures show a decrease in total collections amounting to $22,721.22, the total for September, 1924, being $239,210.01, and that for the month just ended $216,488.79."

If the Free Press will sit down and think it over it may discover that customs collections are made on goods coming into Canada. The more goods we bring in from outside the more would the collections grow. When we use our own produce and cease buying abroad the figures drop.

Few days slip by that the Free Press does not stress the fact that we must protect our own market, that we must become consumers of our own goods. If it can't make the statement on its own account it features the words of Hon. Bob Rogers that "for four years now the King government has stood idly by and allowed our country to be glutted with cheap goods made in Europe."

Then when local figures show that there have not been so many goods brought into the country it rushes in to interpret the falling off as a sign that there is no prosperity in the land. The Free Press one bright day advised that any person who was in the dumps should have his stomach examined by a doctor. He'd probably prescribe a good dose of senna tea for the Press.

New Use For Apartment Houses.

The Manchester Guardian points out a new way that has been followed for dealing with some of the old English mansions that have, through financial troubles, come under the auctioneer's hammer. For some time the purchasers of these places have torn the old mansions and castles down, cut the estate into lots and built inferior houses.

Different treatment has been given East Sheen Lodge, at one time the residence of the Duke and Duchess of Fife. The old mansion has been left, but divided into a number of apartments, so that the tenants can have the use and advantage of the fine grounds. It is a happy adaptation of the apartment house idea, and one that leaves unmolested the grandeur of the old estates.

Figures Show Improvement.

Reports of construction in Canada, as compiled by MacLean Building Reports, Limited, show last month as having been the second largest September since 1913. Total contracts for 1924 and 1925 compare as follows:

|-----------------|--------------|
| September, 1924 | $22,506,300 |
| September, 1925 | 29,746,400 |

In Quebec and Ontario eighty-four per cent of the work was carried on, but with the splendid year experienced by Western Canada prospects are that there will be a large increase in the western provinces.

From the same source we take these figures on contemplated work for the first nine months of 1924 and 1925:

|------|---------------|
| 1924 | $285,000,800 |
| 1925 | 449,185,900 |

These are healthy-looking figures and indicate an increasing tide of business.

Ten Years After.

The navigator of a German submarine, watching through his periscope, giving directions for the launching of a torpedo on an unarmed vessel—a court of inquiry sitting in London ten years after seeking to compute claims for damage done in such warfare. It would be hard to imagine a greater contrast of environment than pictured in the two events.

The sitting of the Lusitania commission in this city is also evidence that although justice moves slowly, its progress is certain. Nations are no more exempt than individuals. There was a grievous wrong done by the German submarine warfare, and it has never been righted and never can. The presenting of claims, even if they are allowed and secured, does not remove the guilt.

Note and Comment.

Now that Mr. Meighen is out near the Rockies, we shall certainly hear that Canada is on the rocks.

Paving a 1924 city deficit in 1925 may have helped the 1924 tax rate, but it's not very sound business for London ratepayers.

Seven-cent fares in St. Catharines in January give the Standard a chance to figure out that Happy New Year will have a rare meaning to the transportation company.

The editor of the Thorold Post offers $10 for the best head of unbobbed hair exhibited at the Thorold fair. Thus to his weakness he confesses, he longs to gaze on flowing tresses.

The Canadian racing season is about over, which causes the Hamilton Spectator to remark that it may have improved thoroughbred stock but not the finances of those who followed the races.

It now turns out that the story about the finding of dinosaur eggs 20,000 years old was a fake. A few more fakes of that sort would make it extremely difficult to finance any similar expeditions.

School inspector at Galt gathering says history is still a difficult subject to learn. There will be a bit of Canadian history in the return of the King government on October 29 that should be easy for them to remember.

A Difference

I scoff at ills of other folks, and mock them in a merry rhyme; it's different when a shiver comes and lights upon this frame of mine.

How glibly do I write at times about the doctor and his pills, of how he spills them from a pill to cure the shivers and the chills. Most scornful is the tone I know, I holler as he passes by, but that is when he's off to see and regulate some other guy.

But when the fever smites my dome and when I'm badly off my feed, and when my spinal column sways and wiggles like a broken reed. And when I've read of strange disease that stalks around the countryside, 'tis then I want his nibs to come and do his stuff to save my hide.

'Tis then I want to know for sure if he's an educated jay, and if he has certificates from Timbuctoo and Mandalay—and have the folks what flock to him been joyful as they came away, and have they lived to crawl about and go again some other day?

And does he know the latest dope about the microbes in the air, and realize ten million play and dance upon a kitchen chair.

And if he knows about these things, run fast and get him now, by heck, I want a plaster on my lung, a poultice harnessed to my neck. No more I'll joke about his pills nor scoff about his senna tea, for it's no jokin' matter now when things be allin' much with me.—ARK.

Editorial Opinion

AN UNTAINTED CONSCIENCE.

(From The Vancouver Province)

ONE of the witnesses at a royal commission appointed to inquire into a case of alleged bribery in an election, stated that he had received $25 to vote Conservative, and in cross-examination it was elicited that he had also received $25 to vote Liberal.

Mr. Justice Matthew, in amazement, repeated: "You say you received $25 to vote Conservative?"

"Yes, my lord."

"And you also received $25 to vote Liberal?"

"Yes, my lord."

"And for whom did you vote at the finish?"

asked the astonished judge, throwing himself back in the chair.

And the witness, with injured dignity in every line of his face, answered with great earnestness:

"I voted, my lord, according to my conscience!"

TEMPTING SILLY GIRLS.

(From The Wilton Echo)

THE automobile, properly used, is one of the greatest of all instruments for pleasure, as well as profit. When misused, it is the devil's own machine. If young girls could look upon this great truth and hold to it, there would be fewer heart-burnings and less work for the police to do. As the devil's lure, the automobile seems to be a lodestone for the venturesome girl.

An invitation to ride is all that is necessary to complete the downfall of the girl who forgets that summer-time is the silly season and that men are just as foolish and daring as the girls themselves. There is little reason to excuse either one when an evening's ride ends in a tragedy. But there is this to say: No man, young or old, has the right to tempt a girl to her ruin. Of the two, man is the stronger willed, and must be held responsible if he leads the way to a girl's destruction. The law is plain on that score. Besides this, the parents are, in a great measure, to blame for much of the ill that overtakes their girls.

The young men of today are permitted too many liberties and thus lose their respect for warnings given by parents, or warning that is not given at all.

NOT THE USUAL SHINGLE.

A burning shingle from the barn fell on Mrs. Anna Noonan's neck and inflicted a severe burn. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.—Extract from a news item in the Worcester (N.Y.) Times.

SORRY HE SPOKE.

It is well in making a cross-examination to be reasonably sure of the answer before asking a question. Otherwise there may result the predicament of the man whose little daughter was asked by a visitor which member of the family she liked best.

"Mother," said the child.

"Who next?"

"Little sister."

"Who next?"

"Auntie."

The father, who was sitting in a corner of the room, spoke up, saying, "Well, my dear, when do I come in?"

CREDIT is the basis of modern business. Credit is that which supplies funds or goods for immediate business needs, against a future promise to pay. Credit—confidence—faith—they are largely one.

Credit is an intangible enough thing, yet some firms value the credit they enjoy as being one of their best assets. In the vast credit structure, with its many negotiable instruments, this Bank fills an indispensable place. Cheques are sent everywhere for collection, foreign or domestic drafts are discounted or held for collection, loans are made and information upon the credit standing of buyers is secured. All the many financial transactions incident upon foreign trade are conducted. More than that, the Bank makes continual surveys of business conditions, markets, transportation facilities, production and consumption figures both at home and abroad, for the use of its customers.

The Bank of Nova Scotia has been serving Canadian industry for nearly 100 years. Its experience, records and resources, the assistance of 320 branches and sub-branches—supplemented by a courteous personnel—are all gladly placed at our customers' commands.

SEEKS NEW PEACE FOR RHINE VALLEY

Britain May Become Guarantor Against War in Rhine-land Territory.

Associated Press Despatch. Locarno, Switzerland, Oct. 4.—Soviet Russia and her relations with Germany appear as an important factor on the eve of the security conference, which will be opened tomorrow morning by the Syndic of Locarno, and which will be attended by representatives of France, Great Britain, Belgium and Germany.

Austen Chamberlain, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, will take the chair for the organization of the conference. The problems for discussion will probably come up in the afternoon.

Mr. Chamberlain and M. Briand, the French foreign minister, joined Chancellor Luther and Gustave Stresemann, Germany's delegates, in optimistic statements tonight over the outcome. But that serious difficulties exist over the clarification of both Russian and German and Polish and German relations, is frankly admitted in conference circles.

Considerable curiosity was aroused when it was learned this evening that extra police had been assigned to both the hotel where the Germans are staying, and also that housing the allied delegations. This was due to reports reaching the police that German ultra-nationalists or Fascists were plotting against Dr. Stresemann when he was leaving without insisting that Germany was guiltless of the great war, despite the allies' refusal to consider the issue at the conference.

Concretely, this is the object of the conference: Germany, France, Belgium and Great Britain hope to fashion a mutual guarantee pact, whereby the Rhine will in the future be held inviolable, and any invasion of that territory by one party to the pact will be deemed an act of war, and bring automatically against him the armed force of the three other parties.

Great Britain thus might become the guarantor for peace on the Rhine and throw her power against Germany or France, should either prove the aggressor.

BOURASSA ENTERS FEDERAL FIGHT

Will Be Independent Candidate in Labelle, Quebec, in Coming Election.

Canadian Press Despatch. Mont Laurier, Que., Oct. 4.—Henri Bourassa, who has offered himself as an independent candidate in Labelle, Que., constituency, according to a manifesto which he issued here today, will, if elected, direct his energies to the accomplishment, among other things:

A thorough inventory of Canada's financial situation. Impartial and competent inquiry into the economic situation of the country.

Repeal or adjustment of British preference. Readjust the whole fiscal system with a view, among other things, of lowering the price of staple articles of consumption and machinery used in basic industries.

A thorough review of the whole system of transportation, taking into account that the western provinces are deprived of water routes, favoring the exchange of natural and manufactured products between all provinces, lowering the cost of transportation from the central regions to both sea borders and reciprocally, and providing for better use of Canadian ports.

Radio Experts Suspect Ore Bed

Inspectors Visit St. Thomas To Investigate Trouble.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Oct. 4.—A. T. Lawton and G. J. Gomm, of Toronto, radio inspectors, have been making a survey of the city on behalf of the radio branch of the department of marine at Ottawa. The inspectors are of the opinion that the difficulty in getting results from Toronto, Ottawa and Buffalo is not due to the high tension power wires, as at first believed, but to deposits of ore somewhere east of St. Thomas.

Women, Unions and Motorcycles Blamed For Fall In Enlistment

Associated Press Despatch. London, Oct. 4.—The territorial army is not being kept up to its establishment strength because of "women, trade unions and motorcycles," said Lord Raglan in the House of Lords recently. He declared that young men were not joining the Territorials in sufficient numbers and the causes mentioned had been "enemies" of the territorial army since the war.

Women, he said, did not want their husbands and sweethearts to join, and while the young man of pre-war days found the territorial army one of the best ways of getting off into the country, today he uses a motor-bicycle.

PREMIER DEFENDS AUSTRALIAN PACT

If Treaty Injures B. C. It Will Be Withdrawn, Says King.

By Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press. Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 4.—Premier King addressed an audience here Saturday night, high packed the large arena to the doors. As earlier in the day at New Westminster, the Prime Minister spoke largely on the developments of overseas trade, more particularly of trade via Pacific ports, and this phase of trade development was not only echoed through all the speech, but it found expression in the long series of political mottoes hung from the galleries, and even in the decorations of the platform.

"Building the British Empire on the North Pacific" ran one device. "Every ship that ports in Vancouver leaves $10,000 with you," ran another. "More grain, more elevators, more work" was a third. On the platform were small sheaves of grain to remind the audience of the increasing westward flow from the prairies.

On the railway rates, Premier King declared he could not see how Canada could be kept together except by a policy of rates applied fairly to the whole Dominion. He outlined the tariff policy of the government as one of moderation, destined to

SCIENTISTS FIND 'HUMAN' PILLARS

Men Who Sacrifice Themselves to Bring Good-will Are Found.

Associated Press Despatch. Tokio, Oct. 4.—Considerable interest is attached to the recent discovery beneath the corner stones of the Double-Bridge (main entrance to the Imperial Palace) of eight human skeletons. Most of the skeletons were found upright about twelve feet below the bed of the Palace Moat, which is the site of the repair work necessitated by the earthquake of 1923.

The theory of some Japanese scientists is that the skeletons are the remains of persons who, several centuries past offered themselves as "Human Pillars" for the immortalization of the corner-stones of a building. The tradition of the "Human Pillars" is an old one in Japan. In the past age it was believed that if human skeletons were placed in the corner-stones of great structures the gods would accord permanent strength and solidity to the buildings. In addition, those who thus sacrificed themselves, would become immortal.

The first traditional instance of the "Human Pillars" recorded in Japan dates back to the reign of Emperor Nintoku, more than 1,000 years ago. The Yodo river at Osaka, where the emperor had his residence, used to overflow each year, drowning many people and causing much damage. Every dike built by the hands of men was liable to be broken down. One night the emperor dreamed that the gods had advised him if he would use human bodies as pillars for the construction of the embankment, there would be no more flood troubles. The story has it that the emperor immediately caused human beings to be buried alive beneath the foundation stones of the dike and, since then, the embankment has withstood all floods.

One-Piece Pyjamas Included in Travellers' Bags.

By AILEEN LAMONT. Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Oct. 3.—However slick and patent leatherish the boyish bob may be at present, some of the hats worn above it are as fuzzy as possible. The newest combination of corset and brassiere consists of a harness of lace which is attached by hooks and eyes to the corset below it. The latter is of the step-in type specially designed for control without back lines.

British dressmakers refer to the new fitted silhouette as the waisted line, but corset makers do not think it is wasted.

The short vamped, stubby, rounded pump, so characteristic of the French bootmaker is making its appearance on Paris and New York avenues, but the possessors of feet to which this type of shoe is becoming as so few that they have not taken a serious place in the fashions. The Only Reward a Father Receives for His Years of Labor Is the Love and Gratitude of His Family.

Are you teaching your children to love and admire their father? Do you ceaselessly point out to your children their father's good qualities?

Do you hold their father up as a hero before your children's eyes? Do you teach your children to appreciate their father?

If you do not, you are not giving your husband a fair deal nor a run for his money. Fatherhood calls for just as many sacrifices as motherhood does. The only coin in which these can be repaid is affection and gratitude, and if he is defrauded of these he is poor indeed. From the time the first baby is born the average man becomes miserably the slave of his family. He sells himself into bondage so that his children may live soft; that they may have advantages that he never had in his youth; that they may enjoy luxuries he never knew. He works overtime and grows prematurely old and bent, that his boys may go to college and belong to smart clubs and have automobiles, and that his daughters may attend fashionable schools, and dress like fashion plates, and go in the right circles.

It is father who stays at home and works through hot summers and cold winters, when the family goes to Europe or to the beach. It is father who wears the shabbiest clothes. It is father who has the worst room in the house. The percentage of money that father spends on himself and in gratifying his own personal tastes and desires is negligible. Virtually all the money he has earned by a lifetime of hard toil has been lavished on his family.

Whether this pays or not, whether all of this labor and anxiety and self-denial have been worthless or not, depends altogether on his child's attitude toward him. If they love him; if they are grateful to him; if they appreciate what he has done for them, it is the best investment that a man ever made, and it makes him rich in any millionaire. But if his children are indifferent and callous; if they take all that he has done for them as no more than their due, and without even a "thank you"; if they see him nothing but a shabby little man who hasn't been particularly successful as a money-maker, then all his life work goes for nothing. His sacrifices are without reward. He is bankrupt in heart.

Now, the attitude of children toward their father is almost entirely determined by their mother; and whether they look upon him as a superior being to be adored and worshiped, or merely as a cash register that they can punch whenever they want any money, depends altogether upon what she has taught them.

There are women who teach their children to hate and fear their father by making him an teach their children to regard their fathers simply as money-making machines that exist solely for their own use and benefit. What the children want is that their fathers should be fathers, and mother undertakes to nag it out of him. The children see that mother has no consideration for father and they grow up to hate none.

Why so many women fall in this important duty is partly through carelessness and a lack of thought, but mostly because of an unconscious mother jealousy. They want to be first with their children and monopolize their love.

But is it a cruel thing to the child, and to the father. It robs them both of so much joy in each other that they miss.

Few Home Bank Depositors
Lay Claims For Savings

Not More Than Twenty Per Cent in Western Ontario Have Applied.

MORE RELIEF SEEN
Payments Available No Matter
Where Money Originally Deposited.

Not more than 20 per cent of Home Bank depositors in Western Ontario with accounts exceeding $500 have filed claims to secure 30 per cent of their savings, according to U. A. Buchner, in charge of the local depositors' association, and recently appointed assistant commissioner.

Mr. Buchner pointed out today that, regardless of in what section of the dominion a deposit was made, claims can be proved in London. Any person with an account greater than $500 is entitled to file claim, he states.

Payment of 30 per cent of savings by the dominion government to depositors who had accounts of less than $500 in the defunct institution has brought relief to many. Mr. Buchner says, "And more relief will certainly be granted to the depositors of a second sum and another expected 10 per cent dividend, he believes."

There are many cases in London and district where whole families were rendered destitute through the bank failure. Mr. Buchner declared. He cited cases where sick people, in dire circumstances, appealed for help from the city. An aged woman of 81 years was left without a dollar, and another young girl, out months, had only a few cents to her name after her account was lost in the bank failure.

Walter Jackson Addresses the Rotary Club at Weekly
Club Luncheon.

The growth of fairs since the inception of the first one in this part of the province by Governor Simcoe in 1781 was reviewed by Walter Jackson, secretary of the Western Fair board, before the Rotary club today. Special attention was paid to the Western Fair since the starting of an exhibition in London in 1865 by the East Middlesex Agricultural society. An interesting fact brought out by the speaker was that the present Crystal Palace was built of wood cut and milled on the ground.

Reference was made to the operating of wheels of chance at the fair. A recent amendment to the criminal code gave the fairs of class A standing, and the privilege of the fairs, the churches have always had, said Mr. Jackson. Amusement was an absolute essential to a properly balanced fair, he stated. The agricultural place in the exhibition scheme.

EXPECTS CHANGES IN FLOWER CITY

Indications Point To Many
New Faces in Municipal Circles.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Oct. 4.—It is generally expected that there will be a big change in the municipal offices at the coming election, especially in the aldermanic seats. Some indication would go to show that a clean sweep of the old campaigners might be made.

So far two candidates have signified their intentions of running for the first magistrature's office. They are Ald. Handford, chairman of the parks and street railway committee, and Ald. John Jago, chairman of the gas committee. While Ald. Handford has not signified his intention of running for mayor, his announcement is expected in the near future.

This means that there will be at least three new members of the council, while rumor has it that Ald. Burger will be transferred on the Pere Marquette to Windsor, making the fourth vacancy. As successors, five names are suggested, including Walter Patterson, secretary of the Independent Labor Party, has declared himself a candidate, as has Alfred Morris, builder and contractor. The others who are expected to announce their intentions in the near future are, B. F. Cascarden, of the Oswald and John Lane, all of the M.C.R.

So far as can be gauged, the four trustees will be in the running again. They will be Chairman, Mrs. McCulley and R. W. Johnson. There is a strong possibility that one or more of the members of the advisory vocational committee will contest the issue.

Rev. Father Donoghue, of Holy Angels church, was taken suddenly ill during the week, and died at St. Joseph's Hospital, London, for an operation. He is resting well.

Special Services. Rev. H. E. Thornioe, of Niagara Falls, Ont., and formerly of Grace United church was the speaker at today's anniversary services. He will remain for the old-fashioned tea-meeting and services were held at the Centre street Baptist church, where the pastor, Rev. J. E. Whitham, is commemorating the fourth anniversary of his pastorate in this city.

Officers elected to the Girls' Sport club for the coming season are: Mrs. N. Farley, president; vice-president, Miss Marion; secretary, Miss Blanche Fox; assistant secretary, Miss Helen Campbell; treasurer, Miss Helen Schellhauf; press reporter, Miss Madonna McMullen.

For twenty years they offered "open house" to their associates in farm life and business, and to many they acted as counsel and advisor in many important questions. George Priddis was undoubtedly one of the best known and most popular residents of London, and his death this morning, news of which came as a surprise and a blow to those who knew him, removes a link between the past and present, and an admirable and lovable character.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon, according to arrangements made today by the more intimate associates of Mr. Priddis. Interment is to be made at Woodland cemetery.

(SIX PREMIUM RETURN)
—an exclusive Northern Life plan
The Northern Life's 6 P. R. (six premium return) policy is one of the most popular 20 pay life policies in Canada for two very good reasons.
One is that it guarantees, at the end of 20 years, a substantial cash dividend equal to six annual premiums—in addition to other profits which accrue. The second is that, if taken out between the ages of 25 and 40 inclusive, it guarantees at the end of 20 years, a cash return that exceeds the total amount paid in annual premiums.
The 6 P. R. is the only policy that has these two outstanding advantages—advantages that largely explain its great popularity. For further information regarding this attractive plan consult your nearest Northern Life representative or write our Home Office.

Balloon's Crew Rescued From Storm-Swept Lake After All-Night Battle

Detroit Airmen Saved From Waters of Erie by Freighter.

OTHERS ARE OUT
Only One Entry in Trophy Race Braves Sunday's Storms.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—Exhausted and made ill by a perilous all-night battle with a terrific rain, thunder and wind storm and violent seas that swept Lake Erie early Sunday, two Detroit entrants in the balloon trophy race were rescued at daybreak two miles northwest of the Middle Sister Island by the lake freighter, A. M. Byers.

The rescued men are: W. C. Naylor, 25 years old, pilot of the Skylark, and his aide, K. W. Warren, 23 years old, employee of the Aircraft Development Corporation. When sighted, the men were engaged in a frantic struggle to keep afloat the small air-filled fabric craft for which they had abandoned the Skylark four hours earlier, when they decided there was more chance of weathering the perils of the sea than those of the air. Because of their condition, they were unable to give a detailed account of the accident. They had constructed the balloon themselves.

Rasmussen, was reported over Jamestown, N.Y., at 10 o'clock this morning, and, as far as is known, is still in the air.

SARNIA WORKMAN IS ELECTROCUTED

Employee of Edison Company Dies As Result of Mistaken Order.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Sarnia, Oct. 4.—Albert Baker, 39, of this city, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at Port Huron, when 4,000 volts of electricity current passed through his body while he was working on a hydro line of the Edison Company. Mistaken orders, resulting in a wrong switch being thrown on, caused the fatality. Baker, who resided at 215 Ontario street, Sarnia, was an employee of the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario when the power line was built to Sarnia, and more recently worked for the local hydro-electric commission. He left the employ of the local hydro system early this year. He had also been previously employed at Port Huron.

CONSERVATIVES NOMINATE HAMILTON CANDIDATES

Hamilton, Oct. 4.—Conservatives of this city in convention Saturday night unanimously selected Major-General S. G. Newburn as their candidate in East Hamilton in the coming federal election, and named C. W. Bell, K.C., as their standard-bearer in the west riding. T. J. Stewart, who represented the west riding in the House of Commons for about eighteen years, announced his retirement from the political arena on account of advancing age.

SLOGGETT CALLS FOR CLEAN FIGHT

Liberal Candidate Asks Electors To Keep Personalities From Campaign.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

St. Thomas, Oct. 4.—"There is no enmity between Mr. McKillop and myself," said Mayor Sloggett in a campaign speech at Southwold Saturday evening. "I want my supporters to fight clean, as I will myself. This is not a personal battle, but a battle of principle against principle. We, as supporters of a low tariff, believe in our cause as the only solution of conditions in Canada, while the other side, I am sorry to say, are just as convinced that their solution is the right one. Let us fight with our hands clean, and when we win there will be no criticism."

The meeting was well attended, and the electors pledged their support to the Liberal candidate. Mr. Sloggett spoke as a railroad man familiar with railroad affairs when he said: "The equipment of the Canadian National Railroad, their roadbed and management compares very favorably with any other railroad in America. Mr. Meighen evidently does not know this or he would find fault with the government in returning Sir Henry Thornton as its general manager."

Mr. Sloggett stated that conditions could not be as bad in Canada as the Tories paint them when the Canadian dollar is at a premium. "Was this the case under the Conservative regime?" asked the speaker. "Mr. Meighen is nothing but a scalliwag for preaching such blue ruin in the face of our present-day conditions." Mr. Sloggett quoted The Farmers' Sun to the effect that the exports of the dominion were far beyond the imports, and asserted the fact that the solution of conditions lay in the development of broader markets via the low tariff route.

FEMALE ANNOUNCERS WILL REPLACE MALES

Tokio, Oct. 4.—The raucous-voiced male radio announcer may become a thing of the past in Japan if the officials of the new Tokio broadcasting station succeed in setting a new style. In fact, women are to be employed exclusively as announcers in the new broadcasting studio. They are being chosen by examination. It is said, and only those with excellent enunciation ability will be employed. One of the requirements is that the announcer have the pure Tokio dialect, so that the station will not be mistaken for the one at Osaka. There is much difference in the speech of the two cities.
