HIS NECK WAS BROKEN

Another Trolley Fatality in the City of Toronto.

Extra Motorman Julius Epsery Got off One Car and Ran In Front of Another—Death was Instantaneous—Accident Occurred Just Opposite His House—His Wife Left on Tuesday to Visit Friends in Nova Scotia.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—There was another street railway fatality last night. The victim was one of the company's employees. At 7.30, Julius Epsery, 1273 Dundas street, jumped off a westbound car and walked in front of a car coming east. The fender caught him and he rolled off the side, half-way in under the car, which was stopped before he was touched by the wheels. His neck was broken, his right leg broken below the knee, and a cut over the left eye, supposed to have been caused by his head striking the rim of the lamp in front of the car.

Motorman Alex. Newell, 95 1-2 Fuller street, says he dropped the fender immediately and stopped his car inside or 5 feet. Newell has been a motorman for about four years. Deceased was 30 years of age, and was an extra man. He had just reported off duty at the Roncesvalles avenue barn, and was on his way home. It was opposite his house where he met his death. He was married and his wife had only left on Tuesday to visit friends in Big Pond, C.B., Nova Scotia. The chief of police there was wired by the company to notify her of her husband's death.

The body, by order of Chief Coroner Johnson, was taken to Millard's undertaking establishment, where an inquest will be commenced to-night at 8 o'clock by Coroner Wilson. W. G. Gray, a street railway motorman, fell off a car last night, broke a bone in the left arm, and received a cut on the nose. The pole on the car ahead of him was out of order. He climbed on top of the car to fix it. A bell was rung, the motorman on the car thought it was a signal to go ahead. He started the car, which caused Gray to lose his balance.

BOY SHOT DEER HUNTING.

Gun Accidentally Discharged—Body Found By His Father.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 9.—A fatal gunning accident happened at Echo Bay, 15 miles east here, Tuesday afternoon.

The 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughan, who are in the employ of the McFadden & Malloy Lumber Co., was shot through the heart with a bullet from a Snyder rifle which is believed to have been accidentally discharged while the boy was taking it from a boat in which he had gone alone up the Echo River to hunt deer. He was found lying dead on the shore by his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan came to the Soo yesterday with the body, and will have it removed to their former home at Sittsville, Ont.

SUFFOCATED IN VINEGAR TANK.

Tragedy At Norwich—Asphyxiated While Cleaning Tub.

Norwich, Nov. 9.—A sad affair occurred here yesterday morning about 3.30, whereby Mark Robinson lost his life. He was employed at Allen's vinegar works and was engaged in clearing out an empty tank.

He was overcome by the gas and before his fellow workmen could rescue him, he was dead.

He was a married man. Fearfully Mangled and Killed. St. John, N. B., Nov. 9.—Samuel Hutton, aged 25, was killed and fearfully mangled in Cushing's saw mill, Fairville, yesterday. A cast-iron wheel below the floor burst and tore up the floor. Hutton fell into the hole thus made and was mangled by rapidly revolving parts of the broken wheel.

Five Killed Overight, Many Injured. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 9.—Five persons were killed, ten seriously injured and a score slightly hurt in a head-on collision between a passenger train and a coal train on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, near Hunkley's Creek yesterday. All of the killed were trainmen.

Floating Mine Destroys Ship. Victoria, B. C., Nov. 9.—The steamer Fleides arrived yesterday from the Orient. It narrowly escaped destruction from a floating mine. The steamer Heeloo, it reports, struck one and was destroyed. Eighty-six of the passengers were rescued and 15 drowned.

London, Nov. 9.—The body of Sir George A. Williams, founder of the Y. M. C. A., and president of its London headquarters for 20 years, will be buried in St. Paul's Cathedral, Nov. 14.

The memorial requesting burial in St. Paul's included the names of persons prominent in all walks of life and was reinforced by resolutions from the council of North America, representing 400,000 members of the association, and also by resolutions from councils in many other countries.

NEW ELECTIONS IN A WEEK

Three School Board Vacancies to be Promptly Filled

Plumbing Contract at Central School Being Negotiated—Special Meeting

Nominations to fill the School Board vacancies caused by the resignations of Messrs. Paxton, Jensen and Robertson, will likely take place on Wednesday next, while, if a poll should be demanded, it will follow a week later.

Such, at least, was the decision arrived at by the School Board on the advice of its solicitor, at its special meeting last evening. Mr. Atkinson advised that under Section 59 of the Public School Act, it was compulsory to hold an election to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. Paxton, who has 14 months of his term yet to run, at once, while with the others it was optional.

Dr. McKeough moved that, in view of the solicitor's advice concerning the Paxton vacancy, elections be held for all three vacancies. It was no extra cost to deal with the Paxton and Jensen vacancies in Ward 2, and it was only fair to Mr. Robertson, if he so wished, that he also should have an opportunity to go before his constituents. He moved, therefore, that the secretary notify the City Clerk to issue the proclamation calling for the nominations on the statutory six days' notice.

Mr. H. W. Ward seconded, and the resolution carried unanimously. On motion of Mr. Drader, the Central School managers were empowered to purchase door checks and foot stools.

D. A. Ferris was heard relative to his fire extinguisher—a matter the Board will consider at its next meeting.

Mr. McArthur called attention to the fact that the plumbing contractors on the Central School were a month behind the stipulated time. "It's time to call a halt on this dilly-dallying," he firmly declared.

Other trustees agreed and were of the opinion that the work needed watching, now that Mr. Paxton was not there to inspect and follow it. The chairman was authorized to negotiate with an expert in Windsor for the purposes of inspection and overseeing.

There were present at the meeting—Chairman Morley, Trustees Dr. McKeough, Drader, McArthur, Lenfesty and Heyward, Secretary McComb and Principal Flewce.

Anti-U. S. Feeling Intense.

Hong Kong, Nov. 9.—Advices from Canton say that the anti-American feeling there is growing more intense. A lady was spat upon in the street, and the American Consul, Julius G. Lay, has received an anonymous letter, threatening his life if he imprisons boycotters of American goods are not released. The Consul has written to the Viceroy asking him to prohibit an anti-American mass meeting which it is proposed to hold in Canton, but the Viceroy has apparently refused. The Consul yesterday proceeded to Lo-chau in order to make an official investigation of the recent massacre of American missionaries there.

Hired Man's Revenge.

Quebec, Nov. 9.—High Constable Merewether yesterday arrested William Burroughs of Eden Mills, in connection with the Erasmus horse poisoning case. Burroughs, who had been employed by Dickson for two years as a hired man, confessed and said that he had the Paris green hid since June, and intended to use it in an attempt to get even with Dickson and Grasley, the latter of whom was to have driven the team at the plowing match.

Demonstration Against Turks.

Paris, Nov. 9.—The negotiations between the powers for a naval demonstration against Turkey, while agreed upon in principle, have not reached their finality owing to Russia's internal conditions, making it difficult for her to take the initiative with Austria.

Professor Drops Dead.

Quebec, Nov. 9.—Frederick De Kastner, professor of French in the Quebec high school, dropped dead yesterday morning while teaching class, from heart disease. Deceased was 65 years old, a native of Algeria, but a resident of Quebec since a young man.

Not Guilty.

Port Arthur, Nov. 9.—Lescarbo, who was on trial for a charge of arson, was found not guilty last evening. The jury were out four hours.

Crooked Work in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—Managers of the fusion party last night announced that they had decided to contest in the courts the election of Democratic municipal officers and members of the Legislature. It is alleged that in four teen precincts no election was held at all, owing to the disappearance of the election paraphernalia.

It is a mistake to suppose that all women are peace-makers who make up.

TAMMANY'S BLACK EYE

Mr. Hearst Declares He Will Have a Recount of Votes.

Confident That An Honest Count Will Eject McClellan as Mayor of New York and Put Him Into the Seat—Invs, Defeated Republican Nominee, Declares He Believes Hearst Was Elected—Jerome's Election.

New York, Nov. 9.—A campaign to defeat Tammany Hall in the Supreme Court and to declare William R. Hearst the rightfully elected mayor of New York Tuesday in place of George B. McClellan, was inaugurated at a crowded meeting of Municipal Ownership League leaders yesterday. At its close Mr. Hearst said:

"We are going to fight to-day, to-morrow, next month and next year to make it possible for a man to cast an honest vote and to prevent in the future conditions as disgraceful as they were yesterday, especially in Sullivan and Murphy's districts and we will exact every legal means to have every ballot honestly counted. We are receiving voluntary offers of money from business men to aid us in this appeal."

His lieutenants then announced evidence that 20,000 Hearst men were deprived of their right to vote Tuesday and that 1,000 election inspectors were the legal acts, and that the contest would be carried immediately over the heads of the board of county canvassers into the Supreme Court. They said the object of this plan was to secure a speedy and final answer and that money was not to be spared in engaging special counsel to make this plan succeed.

Makes Them Think Some.

That the city was profoundly stirred yesterday by the charges of fraud and the manner in which returns were brought in last night may be judged from the following extract from The Evening Post, which paper opposed Hearst throughout the campaign:

"Profrs of support have been coming to Mr. Hearst all day. Men who did not vote for him or his ticket—who, indeed, on the day before yesterday, were talking about 'anarchy'—came to pledge themselves against what they term 'an intolerable offence against order and the American form of government.' What the offence is, in detail, is being told in affidavits."

"In Williamsburgh an election official who took the ballots into a closet and locked himself in there with them to count them, has been arrested and the ballots seized and sealed up for examination later. Staten Island returns, which, showing Hearst leading, suddenly were interrupted and then showed McClellan in the majority, is being looked over. The reason for holding back 139 districts of Manhattan, with the moment when McClellan was running a thousand behind, and keeping them unannounced for two hours, is also being investigated."

Invins Says Hearst Won.

William M. Invins, the defeated Republican candidate for mayor, warmly commended Mr. Hearst's preparations to demand a recount. Mr. Invins said: "I am very anxious to think that Mr. Hearst is going to require a recount of the vote. Tammany Hall had at its command not less than a million dollars, and I believe that every purchasable vote was purchased. The shamelessness with which Tammany Hall taxed the civil servants and drew upon the resources of Wall street, has never been surpassed. One of the marked features of yesterday's election was the breaking down, through the use of money, by Tammany Hall, of the Hearst election machinery. If Mr. Hearst had had a good working organization behind him he would have been overwhelmingly elected. Mr. Hearst and Mr. Jerome have a great work cut out for them. Mr. Hearst's vote is indicative of profound and very largely justifiable dissatisfaction with political managers, and with aimless corporate management."

"I feel sure that if it were possible to eliminate Tammany Hall's corrupt vote, Mr. Hearst would lead the poll."

Tammany Suffered Severely.

The election of T. Jerome, independent, as district attorney, is a severe blow to the Tammany organization, which exerted all the force at its command to defeat him. The board of aldermen, too, is lost to Tammany, they having but 25 members of the board against 34 Republicans and 9 municipal ownership members.

Tammany also lost 12 members of the State Assembly from New York County, and the Assembly, when it meets in Albany on June 1 next, will be Republican by more than 3 to 1.

District Attorney Jerome announced yesterday that he will do all he can to see that there is a fair count of the vote for mayor. He gave orders to his assistants that the returns from the 18th and 6th assembly districts be guarded carefully. Charles F. Murphy is leader of the 18th, and Timothy D. Sullivan of the 6th district.

Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, refused yesterday morning to comment on the result of the voting.

After a secret session of the executive committee of Tammany Hall held yesterday afternoon, it directed its law committee to exert its best efforts and take such steps and institute such proceedings as well safeguard the election of Geo. B. McClellan as Mayor of New York.

The complete returns give McClellan a plurality of 2,485 votes, the smallest ever recorded for a successful mayoralty candidate, and a result which might readily be reversed by a recount of the ballots.

Jealousy is a tree that is capable of bearing fruit with very little nutriment.

BRITAIN FILES A PROTEST.

Objects to British Columbia and Quebec Tax On Travelers.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The imperial board of trade on behalf of British business interests, has directed a despatch to the Canadian Government, voicing the strong protest of old country exporting houses against the Quebec commercial travelers' tax. In its communication it gives a list of the countries where taxes are imposed on commercial travelers. This goes to show that none of the more enlightened nations of Europe put any such restrictions on international trade.

The despatch came before the Dominion Cabinet at its last meeting, and will be brought to the attention of the Quebec authorities.

The Trade and Commerce Department is understood to have reported some time ago in favor of disallowing both the Quebec and the British Columbia travelers' tax bills on the score of interference with trade. The Minister of Justice, however, is of the opinion that the British North America Act would afford the Dominion no justification for vetoing the legislation.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth of His Majesty Edward VII., and his devoted and loyal subjects in the Dominions over the Seas heartily unite in praying, "God Save Our King."

"THOU SHALT NOT STEAL."

The problem arising from the aggrandizement of wealth may be briefly stated thus: To find and mark the place in the accumulation of wealth where a man ceases to collect money fairly earned by service to society and keeps on collecting morally unearned money to use in giving him improper power over society. But to find and mark that place requires a moral and spiritual growth among the people. Perhaps a thousand or ten thousand men in America might find and mark the deadline now, but until the great mass of the population learn "Thou shalt not steal" in some other manner than by rote, until they make the commandment as much a part of their lives as they make the commandment against murder, they will not have the moral sense to find the place where a man's accumulation of wealth must stop, nor the moral fervor to stop it. The pyramid of government may not stand upon its apex now any better than it could 10,000 years ago. Until men cease to wrong one another in small private transactions, they cannot in justice demand as rights the suppression of similar large public transactions by their government. The public rights of the masses are circumscribed by the private wrong upheld by the masses.—Atlantic Monthly.

A GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IN KENT.

That there is considerable necessity for certain amendments in the Game Laws is universally conceded by every sportsman interested in the protection of our game. There may be some honest differences of opinion as to the exact nature of the changes required, but that there is room for improvement no one questions.

The Planet would suggest the formation of a Game Protective Association in Kent County for the purpose of considering these and other matters. We would like to see a representative meeting of the sportsmen called with a view to formulating such suggestions as would be decided upon and laying them before the Government for consideration. The Government would appreciate suggestions from such an authoritative and competent source and would be ready to give them full consideration. Game Warden Wigle, one of the best and most efficient officials engaged in the duty of administering the game laws, would, we are assured, be pleased to assist the work of such an Association to the greatest extent possible.

We commend the suggestion for an early calling of a meeting for organization to all those interested in the preservation and protection of our game.

GETTING AT THE FACTS.

The census taker rapped at the door of the little farmhouse and opened his long book. A plump girl of about eighteen came to the door, and blinked at him stupidly.

"How many people live here?" he began.
"Nobody lives here. We are only staying through the hop season."
"How many of you are there here?"
"I'm here. Father's in the woodshed, and Bill is—"
"See here, my girl, I want to know how many inmates there are in this house. How many people slept here last night?"
"Nobody slept here, sir. I had the toothache dreadful and my little brother had the stomachache, and the new hand that's helping us got sunburned so on his back that he has blisters the size of eggs; and we all took on so that nobody slept a wink all night long."—Youths' Companion.

BREATHE HEALING BAL-SAMS

Hyomei, the Medicated-Air Catarrh Cure, Endorsed by Physicians.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.
Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil, well known for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the throat, nose and lungs.

Hyomei is endorsed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. It is the only natural and rational way of curing catarrh.

Would it be a common sense treatment to try and cure a corn by stomach dosing? Is it not just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the head and throat by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to cure this disease and all diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write to-day for consultation blank that will enable you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

For a Boy's Room.

Mission furniture is in good taste. A brown or medium tint for the wall paper makes an attractive background for pictures. The floor could be painted brown, and with this it would be effective to have a light yellow ceiling and yellow curtains. It would be pretty also to have the woodwork stained a light brown. Have the rugs or floor covering brown, says the Washington Star. Other accessories to its complete furnishing are two straight back chairs, two comfortable armchairs, a screen, which may be of burlap. A firm table is a necessity. Low bookcases should be placed in the room, and if not enough books to fill them the collection of a library should be commenced. A plant or two are pretty, as is also a settle with a few cushions. If there is a fireplace in the room it may be made attractive. One large picture may be hung over it, and any picture must be chosen with excellent taste and individuality, and care must be exercised not to crowd pictures into a room, as it ruins the entire effect.

Don't Fidget.

Don't fidget. This is one of the cardinal points of etiquette. If inclined to be restless, girls should never admit that they are nervous. Avoid rocking chairs when you are entertaining or being entertained. Keep your feet still and never call attention to them by crossing your knees and thrusting your foot forward. Hobbies belong exclusively to the male sex and a girl need never be at a loss to know what to do with her hands and feet. Don't play with the tassels of a shade, a table cover or an ornament lying close to your hand. When at table, learn never to touch anything until you are served and the meal has fairly begun.

It's a dead town that boasts of its cemetery.

The Gentle Kidney Cure.

Don't think that Bu-Ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." The man, who talks most, does least. Kidney remedies that purge—and over-stimulate the kidneys—upset the stomach, are going to do you mighty little good.

Bu-Ju

goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine except that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urination—and enables the diseased portions of the kidneys to heal and strengthen.

Nov. 9.—The 21st annual convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church was held at Knox church here on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 7th and 8th. 48 delegates attended and were entertained by the members of the Wallaceburg auxiliary. At the afternoon session on Tuesday the minutes of the last meeting were read and reports given. A very interesting address was given by the President, Mrs. Forbes, of Jeannette's Creek. In the evening Rev. J. M. Nicol, B. A., pastor of Knox church, Wallaceburg, was in the chair and welcomed the visitors. Rev. Mr. Lindsay, of Dresden, delegate for the Presbytery, gave some very interesting remarks. Dr. Smith, of Comber, a returned missionary of India and China, was present. He is a very clever and pleasing speaker, and his remarks on the mission fields, where he had labored, were very instructive and interesting, and the society were more than pleased to have Dr. Smith with them. The convention was very successful. The reports, too, are very favorable, showing an advancement in the work of this society.
Mr. Anthony LaCoyse, Jr., entertained a number of his young friends on Tuesday evening.
Guy Brock Minstrels will be in Wallaceburg on Friday, Nov. 10.
Mrs. Chas. Wilder and children, of Detroit, are visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Wm. A. Taylor.
Mrs. Fred. Dulong and Master Von have returned to Detroit after visiting friends and relatives.
Mr. Eddie Piggott, of Toronto, assisted by local talent, gave an entertainment last night under the auspices of the L. O. L. and O. Y. B. Although there were not many present, those who did attend were much pleased with Mr. Piggott.
The Orange Lodge and Orange Young Britons attended service in the St. James church last Sabbath.
Miss Sara Jenners and Mrs. Robert Wilson have returned from Manitoba, where they had been spending a few months with relatives.

BUBBLES.

What dear delight
It is to sit
And dream at night
You've made a hit.
You see success
Within your grip
And rather guess
She's yours this trip.

Up chimney leaps
The crackling flame;
The soft heat creeps
Into your frame;
You softly purr
(Your joys augment),
Nor move nor stir,
In deep content.

Across your sight
A golden stream
Of dollars bright
Illumes your dream
For you no more
The blighting cold;
It flees before
Your stream of gold.

You see your name
In letters writ
With pen of flame—
Bang! goes a door;
You wake dead broke,
A dream once more
Gone up in smoke.

"I'll give you three wishes," said the kind fairy, suddenly appearing to the man.
"All right," said the man. "My first will be for $1,000,000."
"It is yours," said the fairy. "Now for the other two."
"Oh, never mind about them," said the man resignedly. "I'll see to the rest myself."

A Visitation.

Now come the fall elections.
Some states have 'em.
And some, more favored by Providence,
Miss 'em.
It is a good misadventure.
Once in two years is enough
To try to convince the dear ones
And your mother-in-law
That you are crazy.
States that used to have 'em
Once a year
As regularly as ague
In a swamp country
Have cut 'em out
And survive the operation
Very nicely.
This idea of saving the country
Too often
Is all wrong.
If the country appreciated being saved,
But it doesn't.

It is totally inadequate to the labor.
About all a man gets out of it
Is a cheap cigar

YOUR FINGERS.

Some Facts About Their Tips and a Couple of Tricks.

Press the finger tips of one hand forcibly against those of the other hand and open and shut the hands slightly. Shut your eyes and do this several times, and the feeling will be such that you can easily believe you are holding coins between the finger tips.

Spread the fingers of each hand, holding them far apart, and shake the hands swiftly, freely and forcibly from the wrist for several seconds. The air currents between the fingers will give a sensation as if the hands were full of cotton or some woolly substance.

Look closely at the inside of the fingers near the tips. You will see furrows running in curved lines. They appear like mere lines, but if you look at them through a magnifying glass you will see they are really slight furrows, or rub chalk or powder over them, and they will be outlined in white.

It is said that no two persons have these markings exactly alike, and also that the markings remain the same through life in each individual. You may test this by taking a print of your own. Spread some ink thinly over a piece of glass or paper; when the ink is nearly dry press the fingers on it lightly and then on a piece of clean white paper. A few trials will give you some very good prints. By taking these prints every year you may find out for yourself whether these lines remain unchanged.

Students Must Have High Ideals.

Whatever the student's bent, whatever his ultimate intention in the way of practice may be, the same simple rules will hold good. He must be earnest in his desire to learn, and he must never be contented with partially understanding. He must be methodical, working according to a plan and ready to sacrifice his personal pleasures and comforts to carry out that plan. And he must keep before him a high ideal of his professional duties, ever remembering that his mission is to prevent disease and heal the sick. He has joined an altruistic profession one where the rewards are often incommensurate altogether with the labors, but one where his power of doing good, if thoroughly and intelligently exerted, will be greater than it would be in any other walk of life.—The Lancet.

COMMON ERRORS IN SPEECH

Who does not make errors in every day speech? As a matter of fact it is very unusual to find any person whose use of the English language is absolutely correct. The following are examples of some very frequent errors or faulty expressions often heard:

"Let you and I go"—should be "you and me."

"I am as good as her"—should be "as she."

"You are younger than me"—should be "than I."

"Come to dinner with John and I"—should be "John and me."

"Between you and I"—should be "you and me."

"Where are you going? Who? Me?"—should be "Who? I?"

"Who do you see?"—should be "whom."

"If I was her"—should be "If I were she."

"Was it him?"—should be "Was it he?"

"Who was it by?"—should be "whom."

These examples of "Faulty Diction" are so common that many people look upon the proper form as being the incorrect one, and Thos. H. Russell, L. L. B., editor-in-chief of Webster's Imperial Dictionary, has done the public a great service in having written the new book, entitled "Diction, or Errors in the Use of the English Language and How to Correct Them," which the publishers have, by printing it on thin Bible paper, succeeded in getting into what may be called Vest-Pocket size.

Illustrating the comprehensive treatment that has been given the subject by the author, there are 1,017 headings treated in the book, under some of which "plurals" for instance—over fifty errors that are not at all unusual are to be found illustrated and corrected.

It is rarely one's good fortune to become possessed of so valuable a book, and especially one so compact and of as much general interest. It is handsomely bound in embossed Russia leather and will be sent postpaid on receipt of 50c. to any address by Geo. W. Ogilvie & Co., Publishers, 169 E. Randolph Street, Chicago,

CARTS IN SCOTLAND.

They Were a Cause of Wonder in the Eighteenth Century.

In Scotland at the beginning of the eighteenth century produce was carried in sacks on horseback or on sledges, or later in the century on tumblers, which were sledges on "tumbling" wheels of solid wood with wooden axletrees, all revolving together. These machines were often so small that in a narrow passage the cart could lift them bodily, for they held little more than a wheelbarrow. They had wheels a foot and a half in diameter, made of three pieces of wood joined together like a butter flin, and which quickly wore out and became utterly shapeless, so that a load of 600 pounds was enormous for the cart. LIFE IN ANCIENT GREECE.

No Remains Whatever of Grecian Domestic Architecture.

Of the domestic architecture of the Greeks nothing whatever remains, writes Joan Schooner in the Architectural Record Magazine. In ancient Greece private houses never had any architectural interest. A citizen of Athens or Sparta was too busy with state affairs to spend much time at home. He wanted to be in the public place where he could find his friends and fellow citizens. Moreover, the climate allowed him to live in the open air during the greater part of the year. It was on the agora that the citizens assembled in public meeting. It was there, from a rostrum, that the orators harangued the crowd; hence the need of a good voice and a clear enunciation; hence, too, the famous pebbles of Demosthenes. It was in the open air that Socrates and the sophists held their discussions alongside the Lysians, under the plane trees or on a public place. It was in the academy gardens that Plato patronized and in open air gymnasia that the youths practiced their athletic games. There was no reason d'être for a domestic architecture with such a people and in such a climate. It is not necessary to have palatial administrative buildings for governing a people that live in the public places. Besides, what significance would the term comfort, which is so full of meaning to us twentieth century westerners, living in cold, damp climates where fog, wind and rain prevail during half the year—what sense, we ask, would this word have for the robust Greeks of the fifth century B. C., whose children Aristophanes pictures to us on their way to school bareheaded, in spite of the falling snow, and singing as they go?

LOOKING TO WINTER.

Autumnal Renovation of Heat and Light Apparatus.

It is after vacation days are ended that the real home life begins and we wish everything at its freshest and best for the season of good cheer that is to follow. Merchants and manufacturers understand this, and infinite pains are taken to have ready the latest findings and conveniences for the autumnal shopper.

When the house has been thrown wide open to the sun and air after its whole or partial closing for the summer the first thing is to go over it carefully, taking account of stock to see what needs repairing or what should be replaced. And just here it should be remembered that it is the poorest kind of economy to put a large amount of money into the repair of something that is not good of its kind or that has long since served its purpose when a little additional outlay will replace it with something far better.

This applies particularly to the plumbing and heating. There is no middle road between good plumbing and bad. If there is the slightest doubt as to its integrity, have it attended to at once.

Range and Furnace. Are the pipes damp and rusty of either furnace or stove? Replace them and the notice from the "rattiest" of the kitchen "the pipes is busted on me" the fire won't burn" brings widespread consternation in its wake.

Is the lining to the kitchen range all right? Do the various drafts and dampers do their allotted work? Does the stove smoke or the oven fail to bake? Consider it carefully. If the cracks can be closed with cement or a new lining be put in with the assurance that nothing more is needed, well and good. If, on the contrary, you are running the chance of being inconvenienced all winter long, economize on something else and get a new, first class, guaranteed stove with all the latest improvements. If the old furnace is out of repair, now is the time to replace it with one that is new and not liable to leave you in the lurch in the dead of winter.—Ladies' World.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves. Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do. Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart strength, energy and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. THE ONLY WAY.

We are a hustling people, we—determined to arrive; To get where we the show can see We strenuously strive. We want to be of those that win. Of those that take the pay. And this creates the butter-in When there's no other way.

Of course it's nice to be of those Unto the manner born. Who are a part of all the shows And never left forlorn. But they are few who stand within Dame Fortune's favored ray, So you must be a butter-in When there's no other way.

Much talk there is of dignity, Of cultivated pride. But he who basks on these you'll see Ignobly shoved aside. There are some things you'll hate like sin, Your hair turn gray, But it's up to the butter-in When there's no other way.

The man who stands in pensive pose Is jostled by the throng; Crushed are his horns and bumped his nose. His patient wait is long. Bewildered by the clang and din, He'll in the background stay, Unless he turns a butter-in When there's no other way.

Modern Weapon.

If Cupid were up to date instead of going around with a back number bow and arrow the chubby little unadorned mischief maker would hang them on the wall as relics and get a neat little shopping bag filled with love microbes. Then when the young man was loosened ing up and buying two small glasses of red lemonade the little chap could slip up behind and drop a few microbes in each glass and they would do the rest.

Strange that as bright a boy as Cupid never thought of that before. If instead of fiddling around like an Indian he would bring science to his aid he could have the whole world married off in about four weeks. Then he could spend the other eleven months in sack cloth and ashes repenting what he had done. As it is, he is kept so busy that he gets no time to repent.

The Secret.

A Claim For Lost Beauty.

Monseur Durand, a respectable middle-aged citizen of a French provincial town, says The Figaro, is married to a charming lady of prepossessing appearance. The couple led a quiet and contented life together until, however, last month, when Madame Durand left home to go to church.

On the road an officer of the dragons came cantering along. Whether it was Madame's bright red dress or the nodding white feathers in her hat, has not yet been fully established, but the officer's horse first shied, then got out of hand, and rushing at the approaching figure, knocked Madame Durand down. The poor lady was badly bruised and became unconscious. Conveyed home, it was found that her face was badly lacerated, necessitating several stitches. A month passed, and notwithstanding the surgeon's skill, scars remained which permanently disfigured Madame's beauty.

The husband, however, instituted legal proceedings against the officer who rode the horse for damages, the claim being worked in the following quaint terms:—

"Whereas complainant, whose wife's beauty of face is now completely ruined, has suffered the loss of the enjoyment of the said beauty, defendant's culpable action, plaintiff considers himself entitled to compensation."

After this, it may cause some surprise that the value at Mr. Durand assesses his loss is—$100.

The story is told of an old Roman hero who desired to found a great city, and for a sum of gold he purchased from a barbarian tribe as much land as he could cover with the skin of an ox. By cutting the hide skillfully into one long strip, he encompassed enough space to establish a stronghold. The human skin is full of little tubes, which are called sweat-glands. If all these glands were unraveled and laid end to end, they would be long enough to fence in an area of over a square mile! When they are all working properly they rid the body of two quarts of poisonous matter every 24 hours. If the surface of the skin is not kept clean and the mouths of these minute tubes open and free, all the substances extracted from the blood will be forced back into the system. Suitable bathing and rubbing will keep the outside clean, but the inside must be kept free of impurities. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Pleasant Pellets" relieve the glands of much unnecessary work, by opening up the bowels and kidneys. The strain is relieved; the bloom of youth returns; the mind feels clearer, and the body becomes stronger and more able to resist disease.

The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, with which many a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch." The best way to get a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery until perfectly cured.

Veal Calves.—The run of calves—was a fairly heavy one. Wesley Dunn, as usual, was the heaviest buyer, and took 36 of them at an average of 75 cwt. each, or at from $2.50 to $3.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.—The run of sheep and lambs was moderate; heavy, some 2161 altogether, while the market generally was characterized by a weaker tone. Wesley Dunn bought 900 lambs, which cost $5.50 per cwt., and 400 sheep, for which he paid $4.25. Mr. Dunn's quotations are, for 50 lbs. port ewes, $4 to $4.25; bucks, $3 to $3.50; lambs, $2.25 to $2.50; medium sheep, $2 to $2.25; Thru a clerical error, Mr. Dunn was last week credited with paying $4.50 per cwt. for export sheep, whereas he had actually paid $4.25 per cwt.

Hogs.—The run of hogs, 1151, was light by comparison with one week ago, but fully as heavy as was expected. The hog market has developed a notable weakness, equal to 12 1/2 cwt. Mr. Harris yesterday quoted prices as follows: Selects, $4.50, and lights and fats at $4.25.

P. Kennedy reported the receipts at the Union Stock Yards at 400, with prices weak at the decline. Mr. Kennedy's quotations are: For selects, $5.50, and light and fats, $5.25.

The Robber Robbed.

"I remember a long time ago," said a burglar, "going late one night into a room in which there was one man sleeping. His clothes were on a chair near the head of the bed. I was bending over these clothes and about to take them out to the hall when the man suddenly woke up. Without a moment's hesitation he threw his arms around me. I was young then and strong, but this man was four times as strong as I was. I think he could have crushed me to a jelly if he had wanted. As it was he put me out of the house with the greatest ease. But before he did that he carried me over to the table and it a light as he looked at me my watch chain caught his eye, and, do you know, that man took my watch and chain and kept them!"—London Tit-Bits.

SLEEPING PORCHES.

A NEW IDEA IN THE SCHEME FOR OUTDOOR LIFE.

Eight Hours More of Fresh Air Out of Every Twenty-four—Denver Makes the Sleeping Porch an Architectural Feature.

My friend—a Denver attorney—smiled and stretched in modest appreciation of my congratulations upon his evidently fine physical condition.

"Yes," he said, "I've been sleeping outdoors for about six months now."

"Tent?" I asked.

"Oh, no; on the porch!" he explained.

"Just take a cot out there nights—no body can see me from below—and go to sleep. Have got my wife into the habit of it, too, and I don't know whether we can go back inside for the winter or not. It seems mighty stuffy there." He paused.

"Gives me eight hours more fresh air out of the twenty-four, you understand," he added. "That means a lot to a man shut up as I am in an office." Right he was; so here presented itself a fact—"fact" it might be styled—that appeared worth looking into.

Denver builds its porches both on the front and on the back of the house. However, the back porch is not delivered over entirely, as might be expected, to mop and pails and other kitchen and cleaning utensils and debris, but is apt to be a two story affair, with a railing around the second story and a door opening into it or upon it from within. Here is a splendid place for dusting rugs and clothing and for sunning whatever at the moment requires to be sunned. Here is a fine place to sit and write or read or watch the ever changing mountains, invisible, perchance, from the front porch. And here is a grand place to sleep at night.

The average Denverite when asked if many people of the city sleep out of doors is apt to confine the practice to invalids. As is well known, the chief element in fighting tuberculosis is fresh air—fresh air and pure air every moment. Therefore the invalids who are sent to Colorado have their instructions. Many sleep in tents, and it is not unusual to read the advertisement in, say, a Denver paper, "Wanted—By man and wife, a room with sleeping porch," and so on.

Thus introduced maybe by the weak, the sleeping porch practice is assuredly by extending among the strong. Denver is witnessing houses being built

CARTS IN SCOTLAND.

They Were a Cause of Wonder in the Eighteenth Century.

In Scotland at the beginning of the eighteenth century produce was carried in sacks on horseback or on sledges, or later in the century—on tumblers, which were sledges on "tumbling" wheels of solid wood with wooden axletrees, all revolving together. These machines were often so small that in a narrow passage the cart could lift them bodily, for they held little more than a wheelbarrow. They had wheels a foot and a half in diameter, made of three pieces of wood joined together like a butter flin and which quickly wore out and became utterly shapeless, so that a load of 600 pounds was enormous for the harsh animals to drag. Yet even these vehicles were triumphs of civilization when they came into use when the century was young.

Carts are a later invention still, and in 1723, first carried by the tiny id of coals from East Kilbride to Dumfries, "crowds of people," it is reported, "went to see the wonderful machine. They looked with surprise and returned with astonishment." In many parts of the lowlands they were not in ordinary use until 1760, while in the northern districts sledges or creels on the backs of women were chiefly employed to the end of the century. The wretched condition of the roads was the chief cause of the reluctant adoption of carts.

In the driest weather the roads were unfit for carriages and in wet weather almost impassable, even for horses—deep in ruts of mire, covered with stones, winding up heights and down hills to avoid swamps and bogs. It was this precarious state of the roads which obliged judges to ride on circuit, and a practice began as a physical necessity was retained as a dignified habit, so that in 1744 Lord Dun resigned his judgeship because he was no longer able to "ride on circuit."—Scottish Review.

LIFE IN ANCIENT GREECE.

No Remains Whatever of Grecian Domestic Architecture.

Of the domestic architecture of the Greeks nothing whatever remains, writes Jean Schoepfer in the Architectural Record Magazine. In ancient Greece private houses never had any architectural interest. A citizen of Athens or Sparta was too busy with state affairs to spend much time at home. He wanted to be in the public place where he could find his friends and fellow citizens. Moreover, the climate allowed him to live in the open air during the greater part of the year. It was on the agora that the citizens assembled in public meeting. It was there, from a rostrum, that the orators harangued the crowd; hence the need of a good voice and a clear enunciation; hence, too, the famous pebbles of Demosthenes. It was in the open air that Socrates and the sophists held their discussions alongside the Lysseus, under the plane trees or on a public place. It was in the academy gardens that Plato patronized and in open air gymnasia that the youths practiced their athletic games. There was no reason d'être for a domestic architecture with such a people and in such a climate. It is not necessary to have palatial administrative buildings for governing a people that live in the public places. Besides, what significance would the term comfort, which is so full of meaning to us twentieth century westerners, living in cold, damp climates where fog, wind and rain prevail during half the year—what sense, we ask, would this word have for the robust Greeks of the fifth century B. C., whose children Aristophanes pictures to us on their way to school bareheaded, in spite of the falling snow, and singing as they go?

LOOKING TO WINTER.

Autumnal Renovation of Heat and Light Apparatus.

It is after vacation days are ended that the real home life begins and we wish everything at its freshest and best for the season of good cheer that is to follow. Merchants and manufacturers understand this, and infinite pains are taken to have ready the latest findings and conveniences for the autumnal shopper.

When the house has been thrown wide open to the sun and air after its whole or partial closing for the summer the first thing is to go over it carefully, taking account of stock to see what needs repairing or what should be replaced. And just here it should be remembered that it is the poorest kind of economy to put a large amount of money into the repair of something that is not good of its kind or that has long since served its purpose when a little additional outlay will replace it with something far better.

This applies particularly to the plumbing and heating. There is no middle road between good plumbing and bad. If there is the slightest doubt as to its integrity, have it attended to at once.

Range and Furnace. Are the pipes damp and rusty of either furnace or stove? Replace them now ere the cold weather comes on and the notice from the "priestess of the kitchen" on some cold winter's morning that "the pipes is burst on me an' the fire won't burn" brings widespread consternation in its wake.

Is the lining to the kitchen range all right? Do the various drafts and dampers do their allotted work? Does the stove smoke or the oven fail to bake? Consider it carefully. If the cracks can be closed with cement or a new lining be put in with the assurance that nothing more is needed, well and good. If, on the contrary, you are running the chance of being inconvenienced all winter long, economize on something else and get a new, first class, guaranteed stove with all the latest improvements. If the old furnace is out of repair, now is the time to replace it with one that is new and not liable to leave you in the lurch in the dead of winter.—Ladies' World.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves. Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do. Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, speaks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured among them being Mr. Ray V. THE ONLY WAY.

We are a hustling people, we—Determined to arrive; To get where we show can see We strenuously strive. We want to be of those that win, Of those that take the pay, And this creates the butler-in- When there's no other way.

Of course it's nice to be of those Unto the manner born, Who are a part of all the shows And never left forlorn. But they are few who stand within Dame Fortune's favored ray, So you must be a butler-in- When there's no other way.

Much talk there is of dignity, Of cultivated pride, But he who banks on these you'll see Ignobly shamed aside. There are some things you'll hate like sin They'll make your hair turn gray, But it's up to the butler-in- When there's no other way.

The man who stands in pensive pose Is jostled by the throng; Crushed are his corns and bumped his nose. His patient wait is long. Bewildered by the clang and din, He'll in the end be glad to find Unless he turns a butler-in- When there's no other way.

Modern Weapon.

If Cupid were up to date instead of going around with a back number bow and arrow the chubby little unadorned mischief maker would hang them on the wall as relics and get a neat little shopping bag filled with love microbes. Then when the young man was loosing up and buying two small glasses of red lemonade the little chap could slip up behind and drop a few microbes in each glass and they would do the rest.

Strange that as bright a boy as Cupid never thought of that before. If instead of fiddling around like an Indian he would bring science to his aid he could have the whole world married off in about four weeks. Then he could spend the other eleven months in sack cloth and ashes repenting what he had done. As it is, he is kept so busy that he gets no time to repent.

The Secret.

No wonder that the man who sits Around the livery stable To settle the affairs of state Offhanded quite are able. They have a chance without expense To get first hand much good horse sense.

Proved It to Him.

"He has written a great play." "How does he know it is so wonderful?" "No one will produce it for him."

Theoretical Knowledge.

"He can't understand why the boys do not remain on the farm." "Was he never there?"

Help Him Up.

Oh, pity the man with a jag on. Who sees snakes and bugs and a dragon! Oh, lend him a hand And help him to land High up on the tall water wagon!

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

The reason why some people can't train their minds is because they have no material to work on.

Boys who sass back are apt to get their punishment by growing up into married men who darent.

Patience, perseverance and practice are the winning cards that widows bank on.

The man who lives in a boarding house is apt to think that the whole world is full of prunes.

The easier a man falls in love the bigger chunks of experience he accumulates.

A new engagement ring makes a girl wonderfully fond of calling upon her acquaintances.

If we could all of us reach the top it wouldn't be the top.

Some people can't take a vacation because they haven't anything to vacate.

A Claim For Lost Beauty.

Monsieur Durand, a respectable middle-aged citizen of a French provincial garrison town, says The Figaro, is married to a charming lady of prepossessing appearance. The couple led a quiet and contented life together until one day last month, when Madame Durand left home to go to church.

On the road an officer of the dragons came cantering along. Whether it was Madame's bright red dress or the nodding white feathers in her hat, has not yet been fully established, but the officer's horse first shied, then got out of hand, and rushing at the approaching figure, knocked Madame Durand down. The poor lady was badly bruised and became unconscious. Conveyed home, it was found that her face was badly lacerated, necessitating several stitches. A month passed, and notwithstanding the surgeon's skill, scars remained which permanently disfigured Madame's beauty.

The husband has now instituted legal proceedings against the officer who rode the horse for damages, the claim being worked in the following quaint terms: "Whereas complainant, whose wife's beauty of face is now completely marred, has suffered the loss of the enjoyment of the said beauty through defendant's culpable action, plaintiff desires himself entitled to compensation."

After this, it may cause some surprise that the value at Mr. Durand assesses his loss is—$100.

The story is told of an old Roman hero who desired to found a great city, and for a sum of gold he purchased from a barbarian tribe as much land as he could cover with the skin of an ox. By cutting the hide skillfully into one long strip, he encompassed enough space to establish a city. The human race is full of little tubes, which are called sweat-glands. If all these glands were unwrapped and laid end to end, they would be long enough to fence in an area of over a square mile! When they are all working properly they rid the body of two quarts of sweat every day. If they are not, the surface of the skin is not kept clean and the mouths of these minute tubes open and free, all the substances excreted from the blood will be forced back into the system. Suitable bathing and rubbing will keep the outside clean, but the inside also needs attention. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Pleasant Pellets" relieve the glands of unnecessary work, by opening up the bowels and kidneys. The strain is relieved; the bloom of youth returns; the mind feels clearer, and the body becomes stronger and more able to resist disease.

The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, with which many a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch." The quickest way back to a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery until perfectly cured.

For Lung Troubles

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures hard coughs, hard colds, bronchitis, consumption. And it certainly strengthens weak throats and weak lungs. There can be no mistake about this. Your own doctor will say so. Just ask him about it, then do as he says. We have no secret! We publish the formula of all our medicines.

SLEEPING PORCHES.

A NEW IDEA IN THE SCHEME FOR OUTDOOR LIFE.

Eight Hours More of Fresh Air Out of Every Twenty-four—Denver Makes the Sleeping Porch an Architectural Feature.

My friend—a Denver attorney—smiled and stretched in modest appreciation of my congratulations upon his evidently fine physical condition.

"Yes," he said, "I've been sleeping outdoors for about six months now."

"What?" I asked.

"Oh, not on the porch!" he explained.

"Just take as cot out there nights—no body can see me from below—and go to sleep. Have got my wife into the habit of it, too, and I don't know whether we can go back inside for the winter or not. It seems mighty stuffy there," He paused.

"Gives me eight hours more fresh air out of the twenty-four, you understand," he added. "That means a lot to a man shut up as I am in an office."

Right he was; so here presented itself a fact—"fact" it might be styled—that appeared worth looking into.

Denver builds its porches both on the front and on the back of the house. However, the back porch is not delivered over entirely, as might be expected, to mop and pails and other kitchen and cleaning utensils and debris, but is apt to be a two story affair, with a railing around the second story and a door opening into it or upon it from within. Here is a splendid place for dusting rugs and clothing and for sunning whatever at the moment requires to be sunned. Here is a fine place to sit and write or read or watch the ever changing mountains, invisible, perchance, from the front porch. And here is a grand place to sleep at night.

The average Denverite when asked if many people of the city sleep out of doors is apt to confuse the practice to invalids. As is well known, the chief element in fighting tuberculosis is fresh air—fresh air and pure air every moment. Therefore the invalids who are sent to Colorado have their instructions. Many sleep in tents, and it is not unusual to read the advertisement in, say, a Denver paper, "Wanted—By man and wife, a room with sleeping porch," and so on.

Thus introduced maybe by the weak, the sleeping porch practice is assuredly extending among the strong. Denver is witnessing houses being built

Chief of Police Holmes, who happened along, remarked:

"Well, I am 64 years old, too, but I am just 10 months older than the King. John B. Seal, of the Kent Mills, and I are exactly the same age, born in the same year and on the same day."

HIS SHADOW.

It Was Faithful to Him Even unto the Very Last, Although He Paid Little Attention Thereto.

Once there was a woman who was a shadow. She was colorless and flat and uninteresting, but she was glad to be a shadow, because she was his shadow.

He paid very little attention to his shadow. When he first noticed her he was quite interested and made experiments to verify her attachment to him, such as trying to get away from her, stamping on her, making extravagant gestures for her to follow and the like. But when he had satisfied himself that she could not be other than constant to him he ceased to notice her at all.

Sometimes on his way home at sunset he would glance at her and wonder why she never seemed to exist in the middle of the day. Sometimes in the moonlight, like an old man, and asure of the day, he would find the company of her familiar presence, or in the firelight he would smile at her fantastic evolutions with something of his old time interest, for it was by firelight that the shadow was in her glory. When he sat down to rest before the blazing logs she would dance for joy, throwing out all the fascinations of her nature in quaint shapes and rhythms, waving, bending, flickering, till he covered the fire and she slipped upstairs after him by the pale candlelight.

In public of course no one noticed the shadow. She was contented that she was his, he was used to the fact that she would always be there, and society is not lighted with reference to bringing out shadows.

Finally there came a last time for going upstairs behind him. He went up, like an old man, and asure he spied his shadow trembling behind him he stopped to wonder what would become of her when he was gone. When he was carried downstairs, long and still, his shadow followed, long and still, behind him—Atlantic.

O'Connell's Legal Wit.

O'Connell once defended a man of the name of John Connor on a charge of murder in Cork, and the principal witness for the Crown was a policeman who told the jury that the prisoner, which he left behind him in his flight from the scene of his guilt. After traveling backward and forward, as was his habit in cross-examination, from the all important question as to the identity of the hat he thus continued, "Now, then, you swear that the hat in my hands is the hat you found—very particular the same." Witness—I do. O'Connell—And inside that hat was written the prisoner's name (looking into the hat and spelling the name very slowly), "J-o-h-n C-o-n-n-o-r." Witness—Yes. O'Connell (holding up the hat in triumph to judge and jury)—My lord and gentlemen of the jury, there is no name in the hat at all. This made a sensation, and ultimately the prisoner was acquitted.

Pertinent.

Charles II. was altogether in favor of executing privately. On one occasion he asked the famous Stillingfleet how it was that he always read his sermons before him, when he was informed that he always preached without a book elsewhere. Stillingfleet answered something about the awe of so noble a congregation, the presence of so great and wise a prince, with which the King himself was very well contented. But pray," continued Stillingfleet, "will you make me give me leave to ask you a question? Why do you read your speeches when you can have none of the same reasons?" "Why, truly, doctor," replied the King, "the energy is expended in producing heat which is not needed. Inventors do not yet despair of success in imitating the firefly's economical method of producing an illumination." "A recent paper," said Stillingfleet, "says that it is well within the range of possibility that we may see the transmission of light producing energy entirely done away with and a return made to some form of portable lamp." The absorption takes place so rapidly that if the charcoal is contained in a closed vessel the latter soon becomes empty of air.

The Firefly's Secret.

The light of the firefly is believed to have an efficiency of virtually 100 per cent. of the energy expended, whereas recent tests indicate that the light efficiency of the ordinary lamp is only 2.5 per cent. The rest of the energy is expended in producing heat which is not needed. Inventors do not yet despair of success in imitating the firefly's economical method of producing an illumination. "A recent paper," said Stillingfleet, "says that it is well within the range of possibility that we may see the transmission of light producing energy entirely done away with and a return made to some form of portable lamp." The absorption takes place so rapidly that if the charcoal is contained in a closed vessel the latter soon becomes empty of air.

Babylonian Schools.

Probably the average Babylonian child who has been dead for these 4,000 years could easily have passed the examinations for our modern primary schools in certain subjects. Eminent Babylonian explorers tell us that his multiplication table, which he had to commit to memory, extended to thirty times thirty, and he was easily conversant with two languages besides his own. The school rooms have been discovered, and we can examine the school books, the tablets with the arithmetic lessons still legible upon them.

Liquid Air and Charcoal.

Liquid air and the high absorptive properties of charcoal are now used to secure high vacua. It has long been known that liquid air possesses the property of absorbing gases. Professor Dewar, the English physicist, has lately demonstrated that this property is increased many fold when the charcoal is cooled to the temperature of liquid air. The absorption takes place so rapidly that if the charcoal is contained in a closed vessel the latter soon becomes empty of air.

The Mikado in Public.

When the Mikado is seen in public he manifests no interest in his subjects, neither smiling nor bowing as he passes along. He sits seemingly passionless, the accentuated type of the Japanese, indeed he hardly seems to hear the applause of the crowds. This manner is to some extent perhaps a matter of etiquette, for the Mikado must show that he remembers the divinity of his ancestors, who were gods 3,000 years ago.

Teachers of the Central School Unanimously Pass Congratulatory Resolution to Principal Plewes

At a meeting of the teachers of the Central School yesterday, it was moved by Miss Hillman and seconded by Miss Birch, that the following resolution be tendered the Principal, Mr. Plewes:—

In view of the high honor recently conferred on our Principal, Mr. Plewes, in his appointment, by the Minister of Education, in Council, as a member of his Advisory Board, I move that we as a staff extend to Mr. Plewes our congratulations.

The appointment to an Educational Council, made up of men such as President London, of Toronto University, and Chancellor Burwash of Victoria, not only marks Mr. Plewes as one of the leading educationists of our Province, but it reflects some honor also on this institution and this staff. I think we all feel that the appointment was made wholly on the basis of merit.

That the Honorable Minister wished to secure the counsel of one who has mastered the problems involved in public school life and produced results that speak for themselves.

During the years that Mr. Plewes has been in Chatham I do not remember that we have expressed in any formal way, at least, our confidence in him, and I, therefore, beg leave to move that we, the staff of the Central School, extend to Mr. Plewes our heartfelt congratulations on his appointment to the Educational Council, our highest appreciation of his many kindnesses, and our unbounded confidence in him as our Principal.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

This action on the part of the teachers was an entire surprise to Mr. Plewes, who expressed his appreciation of the good-will of his staff in a few appropriate and well chosen remarks.

It was announced at the meeting that the teachers have received an invitation to attend the London School Fair. The invitation will be accepted.

To the Lungs.

Do you go to New York to reach Victoria? No.

There's a better and more direct way. Then why try to reach your lungs by way of your stomach? Don't.

Better go straight to the lungs at once. Just light the vaporizer and breathe in the healing, soothing vapors of Cresole.

The medicine goes exactly to the right place. Your lungs quickly heal and your cough disappears. For whooping-cough it's simply perfect.

Note The Well Dressed Man

See if he's not our customer. 'You'll find that he is in a great majority of cases. Good dressers have formed a habit of coming here. It is needless to say to them "Get the Habit", for they have already got it. There is a reason for contracting it, too. Boiled down, it's this. It's because the particular man knows full well that when he comes here his satisfaction is assured. He gets the country's best. Made in Chatham by Chatham mechanics who expend their money here.

MORLEY & CO., TAILORS.....IMPORTERS

IN A TURKISH THEATRE.

How Members of the Audience Were Scourged For Showing Displeasure With a Change of Cast.

Amongst the few theatres who cater for the amusement of the foreign colonies in the Turkish capital is the Theatre des Petits Champs, where, during the season, French and Italian companies give operatic performances.

This theatre is under the direct supervision of Redvan Pasha, the prefect of Stamboul, who fell madly in love with the leading lady of a French operatic company. The green-eyed monster of jealousy made him suspect that the fair actress was not indifferent to M. Labany, the handsome first tenor.

Redvan Pasha was not a man to tolerate a rival, so he ordered M. Labany to be superseded by M. Depere, a singer of fewer physical advantages. The young members of the French colony had, however, got used to the affair, and attended in force one evening to show their discontent. Before the curtain rose a noisy contingent started shuffling with their feet, cries of "Down with the management!" being intermittently heard.

The appearance of M. Depere on the stage was the signal for an ear-splitting din. But Redvan Pasha was prepared for all eventualities. A number of rough men armed with leather thongs had been judiciously distributed by his orders amongst the audience, and they immediately got to work. An indescribable scene followed, the innocent suffering with the guilty. Numerous persons were badly hurt by the cruel thongs, and several of the young demonstrators were marched off to prison, only to be released the next day by the intervention of the French Consul.

Time Spent Before Mirror.

German statisticians with no great burden of serious work on their shoulders have been calculating what part of a woman's life is spent in looking at herself in a mirror. She begins as a rule at six years. From six to ten she has a daily average of 7 minutes. From 10 to 15 she devotes a quarter of an hour to her glass. At 20 she certainly spends 30 minutes daily admiring herself, and when past 20, a whole hour. The statisticians are tactful enough not to say when a woman begins to take less interest in her personal appearance, but women more than 60 years old do not, they say, spend more than 10 minutes daily at their mirrors. All this time reckoned up—it is a simple sum in multiplication—makes 7,000 hours, or about ten months at the rate of the time which a man—a German man—devotes to this occupation, and come to the conclusion that his average is seven months.

Espionage in Japan.

Dr. Baelz, who was a professor in the medical department of the Tokio university for a quarter of a century and who is now back in Stuttgart, gives an instance of the espionage which prevails in Japan. One of his best friends in Tokio was the Russian Ambassador, who, one day, summoned him to his house, as he was ill. Dr. Baelz remained with him two hours. A few days later war was declared. From that moment the Mikado and his courtiers treated him with cold politeness in place of the former cordiality. He finally succeeded in discovering the cause. A local journal had denounced him as a spy. He went straight to court and explained the matter. The Mikado, convinced of his innocence, promptly begged his pardon and summoned the editor of the journal referred to, who also had to apologize to the professor.

Refused to Treat the Czarina.

The court physicians in Russia, says The London Lancet, have hitherto been almost exclusively German. Some time ago, when the Czarina was suffering from some affection of the throat, the single wash basins, it is ever gravely stated that there will be a hairdressing department. Chiropody and massage would give a finishing touch of completeness to the scheme.

The Kaiser's Notched Stick.

When Emperor William of Germany goes out shooting a keeper accompanies him and when the game is roused sticks a fork in the ground. The Kaiser, it is said, places his gun in the rest and handles the weapon pistol fashion. For everything that is shot a notch is made in the fork, and when it is covered with marks a new one is brought into use. All these forks, the emperor, who is a proof of the Emperor's skill, are carefully preserved in the Kaiser's sporting museum as a record of the bags he has made.

For Universal Two Cent Postage.

John Henniker Heaton, Conservative member of Parliament for Canterbury, known as the "father of the imperial penny postage," published recently a strong plea for a universal two cent postage. "An international halfpenny (one cent) postage on printed matter already exists," says Mr. Heaton. "If two ounces of printed matter can be sent anywhere for a halfpenny, why should not a half ounce of written matter be sent for 1 penny?"

CAN'T SAY ENOUGH IN THEIR FAVOR

Why Miss Gusty V. Campbell Recommends Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all Her Friends Who Have Stomach Troubles.

"I cannot say enough in favor of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," says Miss Gusty V. Campbell, Little Shippegan, Gloucester Co., N. B. Of course Miss Campbell has reasons for making a statement like this and here they are:

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for two months and was always getting worse till advertisements led me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured me and I can honestly recommend them to anyone suffering from Dyspepsia."

The moral of this is that if you take your stomach trouble before it gets too firm a grip it is easily cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured Miss Campbell.

But as in Miss Campbell's case, stomach trouble if neglected always grows worse. In its worst stages it takes time to cure it. But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it.

In Trunk Packing.

In packing a trunk, use heaps of paper with tailor made garments, and pack them as much like a man's suit as possible. Never forget that wrinkle, and many other wrinkles will be avoided. And of materials, remember serge and most voiles pack magnificently, alpaca always creases, faced cloth wants care, cashmere does crumple, but soon shakes out. Velvet, of course, must never be creased at all; crepe de chine travels very well on the whole; silks vary, and anyhow should be treated with discretion.

SIR JAMES WATSON'S OPINION.

He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape is Catarrh, Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catarrhazone." No case of Catarrh can exist where Catarrhazone is used; it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies fail. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catarrhazone because it goes to the source of the trouble along with the air you breathe. Catarrhazone is free from cocaine, it leaves no bad after-effects, it is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for Catarrhazone, which alone can cure Catarrh.

Vessel Ashore.

Copenhagen, Nov. 7.—The Scandinavian-American Line steamer Helligaav, from New York, Oct. 25, for Christiania and Copenhagen, touched ground on the middle ground in the Kattegat, during a storm yesterday, and was run ashore to prevent her from sinking.

A BILIOUS HEADACHE.

Is one of the meanest things in the world. To prevent biliousness use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which keep the system clean and pure, regulate the bowels, give tone to kidneys and liver. You'll never have a headache, but you will have vigorous, bracing health by taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills; 25c. per box or five boxes for one dollar.

Fashion's Echoes.

The long coat is to be extremely fashionable. Embroidered shirt waists are to be worn all through the winter, but the material will be white or tinted flannels and thin wools.

Jackets of plain cloth, with skirts of plain or fancy wool and perhaps a waistcoat to match the skirt, are an English idea in tailor modes.

Fashions for children of from five to eight still lay great stress on the long waisted dress.

Tailor suits of fancy linnage as seen in Paris are strictly practical, though, strangely enough, fancy wools, even when trimmed, are considered less dressy and better suited for the mid-season than cloth suits.

Smart little cloth capes trimmed with velvet tabs have found their way back to fashion's realm.

Take up almost any evening dress and examine it carefully, and it will be found, if not of the draped or princess order, to consist of a baby waist cleverly disguised by the scheme of decoration and a full circular, sun plaited or thirteen gored skirt.

HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.

Ninety per cent of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing power of resistance to fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of the bacilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there you find tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferrazone. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way it converts food into nutriment, the appetite it gives is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs—that's Ferrazone. It's tired and weak don't put off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers.

It's the easiest thing in the world to convince the average man that he's far above the average.

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Croscione tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

TO CONTEST ELECTION

Hearst Runs So Closely He May Upset Adverse Vote.

McClellan, Democrat, Re-elected Mayor of Greater New York, by Majority of 2,500, But Municipal Ownership Party Claims to Have Proof of 50,000 Fraudulent Votes—Jerome Re-elected District Attorney.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns to midnight indicate that George B. McClellan, Democrat, is re-elected Mayor of New York by between 3,000 and 4,000 plurality over W. R. Hearst, municipal ownership, and that Wm. T. Jerome, Independent, is re-elected district attorney by about 8,000 over James W. Oshorn, Democrat.

At midnight Mr. Hearst declined to admit his defeat, and declared his intention to contest the election. He claims that he has proof of 50,000 fraudulent votes. At that time the returns from 154 election districts had not been received. McClellan had 205,338, Hearst 203,370, and Ivins 130,326 votes.

Late a. m.—Returns at this hour are complete in Greater New York, in the majority contest, with the exception of fifty-one election districts, scattered throughout the city.

The vote gives McClellan (Dem.) 221,185; Hearst (M. O.), 218,657; Ivins (Rep.) 132,317; a plurality for McClellan of 3,155 votes.

Landslide For Reform.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Philadelphia has been swept by the reform movement, the city party winning by a surprisingly large plurality.

While returns from only six of the 42 wards in this city, had been counted up to midnight, enough is known of the result in the remaining wards to indicate the defeat of the Republican ticket from 60,000 to 75,000 plurality.

The result, has every appearance of a landslide for reform, not only on the Philadelphia, but throughout the state. Contrary to general expectations, there were no very serious disturbance in the city yesterday. The police department was kept busy with the situation, and where trouble was started it was quickly stopped.

Massachusetts Goes Republican.
Boston, Nov. 8.—Returns from Massachusetts State election for Governor from all of the 35 cities and towns give Bartlett (Democrat) 174,399 and Gould (Republican) 203,834, Gould's plurality 33,435.

Democrats Sweep Buffalo.
Buffalo, Nov. 8.—Revised figures show the election of J. N. Adam, Democrat, Mayor of Buffalo, by 3,933 majority. The Democrats have elected their entire city and county ticket, with the exception of the Republican candidate for the office of Overseer of the Poor, who is elected by 1,000 majority.

Albany's Mayor Has Third Term.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The Republicans carried Albany county and city by large majorities. Mayor Chas. H. Gaus was elected for a third term by 6,000 majority.

Out Went the Democrats.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 8.—The election in Connecticut yesterday was decided in the cities. Bridgeport and Ansonia, where the regular party was held. The Republicans made almost a clean sweep.

Turnover in Ohio.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—George B. Cox at 7 p. m. concedes Dempsey's election as Mayor by 15,000, and that Patterson carries Hamilton county by 12,000. He says Patterson, Democrat, for Governor, has carried the State by 60,000.

Labor Candidate in San Francisco.
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 8.—The indications are that Eugene Schmitz, the Union Labor candidate, has been re-elected Mayor of this city by 15,000 majority. With six precincts to hear from, the count stands: Schmitz, 42,202; Partridge, 28,180.

Anti-Mormon in Salt Lake.
Salt Lake, Nov. 8.—At 9 o'clock the American party managers claim the election of Ezra Thompson, anti-Mormon candidate for Mayor. Returns from eight of the fifty-three precincts in the city give Thompson 1,241; Morris, Democrat, 808, and Lynch, Republican, 601.

Skull Is Fractured.
Toronto, Nov. 8.—Robert Bryan lies at his home at 426 West Queen street, with a badly fractured skull, as the result of a street car accident yesterday afternoon. Dr. Lehman, who was called, stated that the man is in a critical state. Bryan was attempting to board a moving car at the corner of Queen and Bathurst streets, when he missed the handle. The body of the car struck him in the side and he was hurled backward, his head striking the pavement. When picked up he was unconscious.

Hoodoo Engine Derailed.
Sydney, N.S., Nov. 8.—One of the worst accidents that has ever occurred in the L.C.R. yards here took place at 12:30 yesterday morning, when an engine attached to the fast express was derailed in front of the new station. The track was badly torn, but no one was hurt. No. 237 is a notoriously "hoodoo" engine. She was formerly No. 239, and has a record of about a dozen men killed and maimed.

Grand Trunk Buys Ferry.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—A Milwaukee despatch says the big car ferry Grand Haven was bid in at the foreclosure sale yesterday by the Grand Trunk Railroad for $186,000. The boat cost $260,000. This is the first step toward the Grand Trunk operating its own ferry line between this port and Grand Haven.

Managerie Takes to Woods.
Houston, Texas, Nov. 8.—A train carrying a small circus was wrecked yesterday near Temple, Texas, and nearly all the animals escaped to the woods. The wreck was caused by the train breaking in two and running to gether again.

A Wonderful Tree.

In the basin of the Congo river grows a species of tree of gigantic stature, called by the natives the moabi, and belonging to the botanical family of the sapotaceae, which is very useful to man. The trunks of these trees at the height of a man's head above the ground are frequently eight or ten feet in diameter, and of them rise from 80 to 115 feet before a branch puts out. The bark is exceedingly thick, as much as five or six inches in many cases, and it contains an abundance of milky juice which stiffens into a kind of gutta serena. The large seeds of the inedible fruit of the tree are very rich in a greasy substance that can be turned into soap, while the product derived from grinding the seeds and compressing them into cakes makes a valuable manure and can also be used as feed for cattle.

A Miraculous Apple.

To divide an apple into several parts without cutting the skin pass a needle and thread under the rind of the apple, which is easily done by putting the needle in again at the same hole it came out of, and so passing on until you have got round the apple. Then take both ends of the thread and draw them tight, by which means the apple will be divided into two parts. In the same manner you may divide it into as many parts as you please, and yet the rind will remain entire. Present the apple to any one to peel and it will immediately fall to pieces.

A HELPLESS CHILD.

A weak and puny child is badly handicapped in the battle of life. It is isolated from the healthy enjoyments of its little world, and it cannot partake either of their play or their sturdy work and progress in the world; its whole life is embittered by incapacity and weakness.

A mother ought to know what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do both for her own health and safety during her time of trial and also to insure her in bequeathing a fair measure of health and strength to the prospective little one.

TABERINTO'S FATE UNSETTLED.

Jury Is Unable to Agree That He Murdered Amos Marlow.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Dominico Taberinto, charged with the murder of Amos Marlow, was taken to jail again last night, although his trial was finished. The jury disagreed.

After being out an hour, the foreman announced there was no chance of an agreement being reached. Justice Clute asked if they wished any further explanation of the evidence. The foreman did not think it would alter the opinions of any of them. One of the jurors asked to have some of the evidence read over. This was done, and they retired for half an hour more, but came back with the same result.

The jurors evidently took little stock in the evidence given by Dominico's fellow-countrymen, as they told the judge it would do no good to read that to them.

Bero Bruno, brother-in-law of Taberinto, and one of the principal witnesses against him, who was in custody as an accessory to the murder, was then discharged by his lordship. When court opened in the morning the prisoner went into the box in his own defence. He contradicted the evidence of the other Italians. He admitted the knife was his property, but claimed he had lent it to the brother, who has since fled to the States. He thought Bruno's brother committed the deed, and had tried to fasten the crime on him (the prisoner).

TRAPPED BY THE POLICE.

Murderer and His Consort Die by Their Own Hand.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Milton Franklin Andrews and his consort, Nilda Petrie, who had fled after brutally attacking and robbing at Berkeley, William Ellis, a horseman, whom they had lured from Australia, were found dead Monday night in their room at 748 McAllister street. The police had surrounded the place. Andrews was hidden in a closet when the policeman, by subterfuge, entered the room. Realizing that their hiding place was discovered, the young woman persuaded the policeman to leave the room. She locked the door and immediately afterward two shots were heard in the apartment. The policeman broke in and the bodies of the fugitives, with bullet holes in their heads, were found on the floor, while the woman rested on a bed as if asleep.

Andrews was charged with the murder of Eugene Bosworth at New Britain, Conn., with the slaying of a woman at New York, and with the slaying of Bessie Bouton at Colorado Springs. He returned with Ellis to the country last month, having selected the horseman as another victim for his remarkable record of crime.

A statement signed by Andrews was subsequently found in the stocking of the dead woman.

Alcohol Kills Indians.
St. Thomas, Nov. 8.—Nicholas Ang and his nephew, Toby Ang, two Indians, are dead at Oneida town. The two Indians were in St. Thomas on Saturday, and according to their own statements, purchased alcohol from a drug store here. This alcohol they drank, and it is believed to have produced delirium tremens and caused their death. Toby died on Sunday afternoon, and Nicholas on Monday noon.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—George Pullman, you stand indicted on the charge of manslaughter, that you did slay and kill Thomas Mahoney on March 11 last," read Clerk Nicholl to the man in the dock.

It is not economy to have too many clothes at one time. People who dress well at a moderate expense never do this. They have what they need, bestow good care upon their belongings and mend them when necessary; when their clothes wear out they buy new ones, but they never care to have relays of garments. One sometimes reads in the newspapers of wealthy brides having enormous trousseaus, fashionable hats, bonnets and dresses by the score. Such people are not to be envied. They only possess what they do not know what to do with.

They cannot wear out their own finery, and in the long run other persons—their maids or secondhand clothing dealers—are certain to get the reversion thereof. Fashionable garments very soon get out of date, and the more "stylish" they were when new the more remarkable they seem when the mode has altered.

So with regard to underclothing. Large supplies of underclothing are only an anxiety. They need constant looking after or they deteriorate in condition. If laid away for a long time they may become useless, because the figure of their owner may alter, and they are a great temptation to dishonesty.

Yet still good housewives are careful to have a sufficiency of underclothing, because it is an even greater mistake to have too few garments of one kind than to have too many. People who have exactly what they require for change and no more always get into difficulties when their clothes begin to wear, because they seem to be constantly mending or needing to mend their garments. And it should be remembered that linen, cotton and flannel wear longer when they have an occasional rest between their periods of service, just as certainly as they deteriorate in quality through being of no service at all.—New York Journal.

One sometimes reads in the newspapers of wealthy brides having enormous trousseaus, fashionable hats, bonnets and dresses by the score. Such people are not to be envied. They only possess what they do not know what to do with.

They cannot wear out their own finery, and in the long run other persons—their maids or secondhand clothing dealers—are certain to get the reversion thereof. Fashionable garments very soon get out of date, and the more "stylish" they were when new the more remarkable they seem when the mode has altered.

So with regard to underclothing. Large supplies of underclothing are only an anxiety. They need constant looking after or they deteriorate in condition. If laid away for a long time they may become useless, because the figure of their owner may alter, and they are a great temptation to dishonesty.

Yet still good housewives are careful to have a sufficiency of underclothing, because it is an even greater mistake to have too few garments of one kind than to have too many. People who have exactly what they require for change and no more always get into difficulties when their clothes begin to wear, because they seem to be constantly mending or needing to mend their garments. And it should be remembered that linen, cotton and flannel wear longer when they have an occasional rest between their periods of service, just as certainly as they deteriorate in quality through being of no service at all.—New York Journal.

HORRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

40,000 People, Including Military, Stand by and See 600 People Burned in a Theatre at Tomsk.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—The revolutionary wave continues to subside except in the Caucasus. As details of what happened throughout European Russia during the upheaval, the story grows more revolting.

At Tomsk, Siberia, the whole population of 40,000, and the military stood by while 600 men, women and children were burned in a theatre.

Children Torn to Pieces. The descent of the butchers of Moscow, with their knives and axes upon the students was one of the most horrible chapters, but not as pitiful, however, as the attack of the Black Hundred on a procession of school children carrying red flags. When the children sought to escape a cordon of police barred the way and the youthful martyrs were beaten into insensibility and, in some cases, were actually torn to pieces.

Valdimir Quits. Grand Duke Vladimir has resigned the post of commander of the guard and of the military district of St. Petersburg.

Rothschild's Contribution. Lord Rothschild, of London, and Jacob H. Schiff of New York, have each cabled $50,000 to St. Petersburg for the relief of the Jews who suffered from the recent disturbances.

Jews May Retaliate. Odesa, Nov. 9.—The City Council has taken measures looking to the investigation of the recent massacres. The council declared its intention to prosecute those responsible for the massacres and appointed $25,000 for that purpose.

Reports are being circulated that the Jews are preparing for terrible vengeance on the Christians. These reports declare that the Jews intend to blow up the churches and to distribute poisoned foodstuffs to the Christians.

Kill Cossacks by Bombs. Batoum, Nov. 9.—News received here is to the effect that there were seven hours' fighting at Nasakotral Tuesday between armed rioters and 150 Cossacks under the district governor, and that 105 of the Cossacks were killed, chiefly by bombs.

THE INSURANCE INQUIRY.

Some Light on Why Industrial Policies Are Costly.

New York, Nov. 9.—In the testimony of John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., before the Legislative Committee upon the resumption of the insurance investigation yesterday, it was brought out that industrial insurance was considerably more expensive than other forms of life insurance, and Mr. Hegeman, after classifying industrial insurance as retail and ordinary life as wholesale, illustrated the fact by an example, in which, for a stated age, it was shown that for a $1,000 policy of the ordinary life the Metropolitan charged $16.55 annually, while for $984, the nearest amount for the stated age under the industrial plan, $31.29 was charged.

To show that industrial business was more expensive than ordinary life, Mr. Hegeman said that a premium of $65 on an old-line plan is paid once, twice, or at the third of a year. In the industrial field the average premium is 10 cents a week, and for the same money 650 persons have to be called upon, and this has to be done fifty-two times a year.

At the morning session Emory McIntosh, actuary of the Mutual Life, continued his testimony on technical questions.

Asked as to the method of arriving at the amount divided to be apportioned each year, witnesses said that the apportionment of dividends for 1904 were estimated and made up in November, 1902, before it was known that the earnings of 1904 would be $6,624,670. The earnings of 1903 were $5,543,861. The amount of increase was arrived at by taking into consideration the general run of the business.

Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, has consented to serve on a committee of three trustees of the Mutual Life to investigate that company. The other members of the committee are Wm. H. Truesdale and John Auchincloss.

BURKHOLDER WAS INSANE.

Coroner's Jury Clears Wife of Accusations on Character.

Hamilton, Nov. 9.—The jury in the Burkholder inquest at Stony Creek last night had little trouble in arriving at the decision that Philander C. Burkholder last Friday night murdered his wife and baby and killed himself in a fit of insane jealousy. The jury exonerated the deceased from accusations cast upon her character by the letter left by the deceased husband.

Montreal Shoemakers Strike.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—A general strike has been declared by the Montreal Leather Cutters' Union, and yesterday the members were out in all the shoe factories, with the exception of the Ames Holden Company and the Slater Shoe Company, the J. & T. Bell Company and two or three smaller concerns.

Mr. Borden Is to Speak.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—While no dates have been fixed, it is understood that R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, will take a hand in the Ontario by-elections. He will probably leave Ottawa in the course of the next few days, and deliver speeches in North York, Wentworth and West Durham.

Revolution in San Domingo.

Washington, Nov. 9.—A revolutionary movement has developed in San Domingo and an uprising is threatened. News to this effect has reached the Government here, and the proper steps are being taken by the navy department. It is said that the leaders were financed from New York.

May Exhume Remains.

Woodstock, Nov. 9.—It is highly probable that the remains of Martha Cross Collins, who died a week ago at her home in East Zora, just north of the city, as the result of a dose of Paris green, alleged to have been self-administered, will be exhumed and an inquest held.

PHIL ROSS AND WIFE MURDERED.

Former Owen Sound Boy Killed For His Money Near Seattle.

Owen Sound, Nov. 9.—Murdered for their money and cremated in the building where they lived to hide the evidence of the crime was the fate of Philip H. Ross and his wife, the former an Owen Sound boy, brother of John W. Ross, Sr., Sydenham Town ship. The young couple were married about two years ago and lived near Kerrystown, a small town on the North Pacific Railway, 40 miles from Seattle, Wash. The deed was committed on August 27 last. For some weeks relatives here were not aware of the tragedy and it is only recently, by a great amount of correspondence and investigation, that they have had confirmation that the murdered man is Philip Ross, late of Owen Sound.

Last March Ross and his wife located about two miles from Kerrystown and the former opened up a saloon living with his wife in the rear of the place. Several large lumber camps are situated in the district, and the men have been in the habit of having their checks cashed by Ross, and in order to accommodate them he kept a large sum of money in the saloon at all times. On Sunday night, Aug. 27, he was known to have $1,100 on the premises. It is evident that when the saloon had been cleared of customers for the night that the place was entered. Ross was robbed and killed with a terrible blow on the head, while he stood behind the bar. His wife was shot down in one of the rooms at the rear. To cover up their crime, the murderers set fire to the building which of course, was burned to the ground. The remains of the young couple were so charred that it was almost impossible to identify them. The tragedy was not discovered until A. S. Kerry, head of the lumber company, had occasion to visit the place about 11 a. m. the next day. He found the building in ruins, and the charred remains in the debris. The murdered man was about 32 years of age. He left here nearly ten years ago.

MONUMENTS TO 1812 HEROES.

Deputation Asks Remembrance For Tecumseh and Lt.-Col. Macdonnell.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The United Empire Loyalists' Association through an influential deputation waited on Premier Whitney and the Cabinet yesterday afternoon to request that the Government provide monuments for the great Indian chief, Tecumseh, and for Lieut.-Col. John Macdonnell, Gen. Brock's aide-de-camp. The spokesman of the deputation were Lieut.-Col. Merritt Lieut.-Col. Denison and Rev. Canon McNab.

Mr. Whitney assured the deputation of the warmest possible sympathy held by the members of the Government with regard to the request. But provincial governments were expected to do many things the fathers of Confederation had not thought of. In a national sense it might be expected the Federal Government might do the things asked for. However, the people of Ontario, he thought, would assist in government if any decided to erect monuments to men like Tecumseh and Macdonnell. Few had greater claims to recognition, but of course the matter would have to be considered from many points of view by the Government.

C.P.R. IS NEUTRAL.

Second Vice-President Whyte Denies Premier Scott's Election Yarn.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—The following statement has been issued by Second Vice-President Whyte of the C.P.R.: Second Vice-President Whyte of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company takes this means in fairness to his company to give the public of western Canada his word that the statement credited to Premier Scott at Saskatoon, that Benoit, C.P.R. agent at Prince Albert, was impelled by the company to run as Conservative candidate for Batareah, with a promise that he would be furnished with campaign money; that his salary would be kept running through the sessions and in addition would make his salary a permanent annuity is, from beginning to end, absolutely false and without foundation.

Benoit himself has wired Premier Scott, denying the statement and informing Premier Scott that he had no grounds for making it, and, furthermore, that the officials of the company had told him that if he sought political honors he would have to sever his connection with the company.

Toronto Wins From Railway.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—According to a cablegram received yesterday the appeal of the Toronto Street Railway Co. versus the Corporation of Toronto was dismissed by the Privy Council. The railway company contended in vain that as the street (Roncesvalles avenue) was not part of the city at the time of making the arrangement they (the company) were not liable to mileage upon it. The decision carries with it a financial reward of $8,000 and the costs of the law suits. Every court which heard the case decided in the city's favor.

Shareholders Still Control C. P. R.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., made the following remarks concerning the reports from abroad that Messrs. J. P. Morgan and J. J. Hill have secured control of the stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway: "Notwithstanding the amount of authentic information which has been given to the public on the subject, the shareholders still control the situation, and will continue to do so."

Alien Labor Law Breach.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—J. G. Merrick, secretary of the Employers' Association, was in the Police Court yesterday, charged with a breach of the Alien Labor Act. J. O'Donoghue, counsel for the Lithographers' Union, claimed Merrick engaged John Panckoff in New York, brought him to Toronto and secured employment for him with Rolph and Clark. The case will be continued on Friday.
